JOHN DILLINGER ESCAPES FROM INDIANA JAIL

That reminds me... Sunshine at last greeted happy Eastlanders Saturday. Over a thousand dollar payroll on CWA in the county should make business good, combined with the fellow that usually spends his Saturday pay check for the necessities of life that has a regular job. An outside bank should swell its deposits from Eastlanders Monday evening. We hope that it will be facturer. He says that the side walls will bulge.

'9 o'Clock Doris' Wins a Divorce Because she was just a 9 o'clock girl and didn't like night clubs, her marriage failed after 54 days, Doris Kenyon, actress, pictured here in a Los Angeles court, testified in winning a divorce from Arthur Hopkins, wealthy Syracuse, N. Y., realty man. She said he was jealous, too, and called her names.

USED WOODEN GUN TO SCARE PRISON GUARD He and Negro Steal Machine Gun and Sheriff's Car. Ernest Blunt, the guard who was intimidated by Dillinger's makeshift imitation of a gun and who was taken with the desperado in the sheriff's car, was released. Blunt was thrown out of the car and was found by a farmer who took him to town. With him was the night mechanic at the Main Street Garage here from which Dillinger had his accomplice stole the car.

Somehow in Eastland there are some old time photographs of the early days of Eastland. We would either give us a copy or bring them in and let us see them. If they are the kind wanted they will appear in a special 75 year anniversary booklet that the Great Atlantic & Pacific Tea Company is now getting ready to issue. There is no compensation for the use of the pictures but credit lines will be given to whom they belonged to and they will be returned in good order.

power in many channels. The CWA is now undergoing demobilization, with completion scheduled for May 1. For some time, however, consideration has been given to long-range planning. To give these people who have been fighting the battle a chance to work through the winter, seems to me not only a part of intelligent, but decent treatment of the unemployed, CWA, in itself, was intended as an emergency measure to meet the needs of this winter.

populations, such as families living in single-industry communities where the industry has died; and third, the unemployed in large cities. Relief funds for rural families will, in the main, be used to help them achieve self-support through agriculture, by assisting them in getting away from dependence on a single cash crop and range to the raising of commodities for their own support. Work for wages from relief funds will be provided to the extent necessary to provide limited cash income.

MEDALS TO FOREMOST CHAMPIONS OF LAWENFORCEMENT

There is a nationwide war on crime. This crusade has been endorsed by the President and approved by the department of justice. The United States Flag association is awarding a medal in each state "to the person who, during the year 1933, did the most to advance and encourage the enforcement of law in each of the 48 American commonwealths." A committee or jury of award for Texas has been appointed to receive nominations and recommend the person who is entitled to receive the medal in Texas.

"In our judgment," writes the attorney general, "the conferring of this medal will be a tremendous honor to the person entitled to receive it. The American gangster and law violator has been too much 'herozide' and that the United States Flag association is anxious to take a real step forward by endeavoring so far as possible, to offset this wave of maudlin sentiment by arousing interest in law enforcement."

The ROMANTIC RUNAWAY

by KATHARINE HAVILAND-TAYLOR

A few days later Jim Field's wife and daughter arrived at the camp.

BEGIN HERE TODAY. PABLITO a handsome 17-year-old youth, works at the postoffice Florida home of millionaire JIM FIELD. The son of a titled Englishman and a servant girl, Pablito knows nothing of his parents. When a year ago he ran away from ANGELA, the old nurse in whose care he was left, his heart and other things scattered him. Now then he has lived with NORRIS FIELDS, a mysterious individual who has been his foster father. Their home is a shack on a lonely island. Field receives word from his estranged wife that she and his daughter, ESTELLE, are on their way to the Florida home. NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY. CHAPTER III. THREE weeks later the servant-gossiped in undertones that Norma Field was coming back to her husband after an absence of more than eight years. And she was bringing with her the child a girl of 15 who doubtless, remembered little of her home in America.

Garden and Yard Hints From Club Women of County

TOMATOES IN EASTLAND COUNTY

Early tomatoes are the most profitable and in order to have the early tomatoes, I start my plants in a hotbed when the weather is still much too cold for the plants to grow in the field, states Mrs. C. B. McCoy, farm food supply demonstrator of the Romney Home Demonstration club. The hotbed is heated with manure, more practical for the weather conditions in this section. The hotbed was made by the diagram given in the bulletin "Tomatoes in Texas." This bulletin is in the office of the county farm and home agents and will be sent on request. The tomato plants are removed from the hotbed to cold frame as soon as they develop the third leaf. Transplanting is done for the purpose of hardening of the plants. Leave four inches between each plant and allow to remain in the cold frame for 14 to 20 days. These plants are large and stocky after this time and will be ready for planting in garden or field. The following varieties are good for this section: Marglobe, Break o' Day and Gulf State Market. I am using the Marglobe and Break o' Day. The Marglobe is wilt-resistant and matures in from 90 to 100 days.

Model Home of Electric Age Is Placed on Display

MANSFIELD, Ohio.—A model "home of the future," more completely electrified than ever before has been attempted, has been opened here for public inspection. It represents what engineers of 20 different departments of the Westinghouse Electric & Manufacturing company conceive will be available to the average householder five or 10 years hence. If all the switches are turned on at once it represents electrical capacity equal to 864 servants at work, say the engineers. The house consumes 30 times more electrical energy than the average home of today, but its designers point out that already there is on over-production of power in the United States, and when the gigantic government projects now under way are completed the availability of low-cost power in homes should be practically limitless. The house is completely "air conditioned." That is, warm air in the winter and cool air in the summer is circulated through the house from a "weather room" in the basement. The lighting is all "shadowless." Sunken panel lights around the windows will give the effect of daylight streaming in at any hour. This modest home is equipped with seven radio sets. One of them is an all-wave affair. Another is installed in the family automobile, and it works one of the most marvelous automatic contraptions of all. Mother, driving home from bridge or tea in the family car doesn't have to get out and open cumbersome garage doors. As she approaches, she simply turns on her radio. The garage doors open, as though by unseen hands. She drives in, shuts off the radio, the garage doors close automatically. The kitchen is one of those "straight-line production" affairs. The electric range heats up in a jiffy. The broiler broils a steak or chops on both sides at once. Food mixers, egg beaters and gadgets of that sort are permanently installed, and all operate merely by turning switches. The dishwasher not only washes the dishes but rinses and dries them. Ultra-violet rays and infra-red rays are provided in bedrooms and bathrooms. Garbage and waste paper is automatically dumped into outdoor receptacles. There are no fuses to burn out, and the electric meter is outdoors.

France May Get Set of Blue Laws

PARIS.—A crusade has been launched in France to institute a set of Blue Sunday laws "to restore the Christian Sabbath." While no one expects the movement to meet with success, it proves that the puritanical instinct, supposedly dead, exists in the country celebrated for its spirit of freedom. For a third of a century, French Protestants have been crusading for a more religious observance of Sunday, but since the crusaders represent only two and a half per cent of the population, their efforts have consistently met failure. Now, however, the campaign is taken up by the Roman Catholics, headed by Mgr. Mignen, Archbishop of Rennes, primate of Brittany. In his official paper, he sounds the tocsin against the pagan Sunday. His appeal concludes with the following remarks: "May our frivolous century finally understand the benefits of the Christian Sunday. A nation which no longer respects the Lord's Day is doomed to every decadence, to scepticism, to selfishness, to anarchy. Let us all work to restore the Christian Sabbath. Let us suppress every unnecessary activity, even the buying of goods and making of voyages on Sunday. To the Festivals of Hell let us oppose the Festivals of Heaven until the Great Sunday dawns which shall continue the eternal glory of the chaste and saintly joys of our pious Sundays on earth." The movement is gathering force, and the participants of the truly Continental Sabbath continue to enjoy their liberty against the day when their freedom may be curbed.

with the police, down with the thieves, brigands, assassins!" When attention of the police is riveted on the main body of the demonstrators, squads of these break away and proceed to pull down trees, pull up shrubbery, overturn street cleaners' huts, smash the glass in "iron bungalows"—the convenient sidewalk lavatories—and carry benches into the middle of the road. Sidewalk grills used to cover the sod around the trees also are thrown into the street and slipped into the slots of the street car cables, causing short-circuits which light up the scene for convenience of photographers and interrupt trolley traffic. Rioters Beat Police Sometimes an overzealous Camelot is collared by two or three policemen and fights back. A good whack on the head generally reduces the youth to reason. On one or two occasions, however, these tactics have excited the public to fury and on one night a half dozen "flics" were swamped by about 50 demonstrators and bystanders, led by a woman, at whose hands they received what the French papers described as "a severe correction." Reserves quickly cleared the street. Toward midnight, after standing in the damp cold listening to insults for several hours and going without dinner, the police are apt to lose their temper. They charge the Camelots, who scamper away in all directions. It is wise for pedestrians to follow suit, because the police use blackjacks freely on most mature persons in their way, who might conceivably be Communists. When the Communists demonstrate, of course, it is a different story. It is seldom they do, the last major riot being the Sacco-Vanzetti incident of 1928, when several miles of Paris streets were strewn with debris and many heads broken. When Communists march, they mean business. And the police do, too.

PERFORMANCE SHOWS VALUE OF V-8 ENGINE

The most important part of any automobile is the engine. Other features may contribute to your comfort and convenience, but it is the engine that runs the car. Performance, economy, reliability and long life—all these depend on what's under the hood. . . . The New Ford V-8 is an unusually fine car because it has an unusually fine engine. Millions of miles of use have proved the efficiency of its V-8 cylinder design. We invite you to ride in it and let it tell its own story of performance, comfort and all-round motoring satisfaction.

The New Ford V-8 is the only car under $2000 with a V-8 cylinder engine. It combines eight-cylinder speed, power and smoothness with unusual gasoline economy. Dynamometer tests show that the Ford V-8 engine delivers more horsepower per gallon of fuel than any Ford engine ever built.

Thursday Afternoon Club Meeting
 "Know Your Texas" program presented by the Thursday Afternoon, March 1, brought an interesting discussion by Mrs. D. L. Childress of the mineral resources of the state, and a wide knowledge of the manufacturing industry, as stated by Mrs. J. E. Hickman.
 The agricultural products presented the farm life in a pleasing fashion by Mrs. W. A. Whitley, and the talk on "Ranching in Texas" given by Mrs. Ira L. Hanna, included stories of the dude ranches, workday ranches, all in the Texas atmosphere most interestingly given.
 The program closed with a voice solo, "Wild Geese," by Guion, words by Grace Noel Crowell; Mrs. Grady Pipkin, with Mrs. D. L. Kinnaid as accompanist.
 The various talks by the women were given in connection with charts, maps and exhibits.
 The session was opened by the president, Mrs. F. M. Kenney, and the business brought, the Thursday club going on record as favoring cooperation with health projects of State Sanitary Supervisor Fleming Waters, and that a committee be appointed to confer with the city commissioners in regard to health projects. The chair appointed as committee to cooperate with CWA, Mmes. W. A. Martin, Leslie Gray and Julius B. Krause.
 Roadside beautification project was taken up with instructions to corresponding secretary, to get in touch with Mr. Gib Gilchrist, state highway beautification chairman, with request to speed up roadside beautification of Eastland county.
 Mrs. James Horton reported the interview held with the project supervision of the Civil Works Administration.
 The club allowed for 100 prescription to the Texas Federation News, and for the county federation dues, as well as a penny a person for the 6th district art fund, in line with other clubs of the district.
 A large sum of money was allowed for the purchase of new library books.
 Mrs. McGhee of Brownwood, who will be presented by the club sometime late in March, will give a review of Dickens, Life of Our Christ, and chair appointed as a committee on arrangements, Mmes. W. P. Leslie, Wayne Jones, E. R. Stanford, and Hubert Jones.
 Mrs. Clyde L. Garrett was unanimously elected to club membership.

Busy Bee Sewing Club
 An informal and delightful afternoon was spent by the Busy Bee Sewing club and other guests at the home of Mrs. Argye Fehl, Friday.
 With needlework in hand the hour passed swiftly, to the undertone of radio music.
 At 5 o'clock a dainty tea plate was served of sandwiches, potato flakes, olives, nickles, cake with whipped cream topping, and coffee, to club members, Mmes. Ira L. Hanna, Roy L. Allen, Joe Kramer, J. M. Beale, and hostess.
 Guests were Mmes. John Fehl and Jack O'Rourke.

Artistic Recital Well Attended
 The recital by the piano students of Mrs. A. F. Taylor, assisted by the students in expression of Miss Loraine Taylor, on Thursday night in the colonial room of the Gholson hotel, Ranger, was given in a beautiful setting of flowers with decorations done by Golden, the florist.
 Guests of the recital were received by Mrs. Taylor, her daughter, Miss Loraine, and Mrs. Robertson of Ranger, and ushered by John Thomas Scott and D. R. Robertson of Ranger.
 The recital was well attended. All the numbers presented by the young students were given from memory in smooth and musicianship fashion.
 The work of the students in expression of Miss Loraine Taylor was outstanding in grace and beauty.

Local Club Women in Texas Federation News
 Interesting pictures and news stories of Mrs. J. M. Perkins, president of Sixth District, and Mrs. James Horton, secretary of T. F. W. C., are shown in the district department of the last issue of Texas Federation News.
 The stock exchange spent a million dollars for publicity in five years. Now it gets plenty of publicity free, and doesn't want it.
