The mothers of Bonnie Parker and Clyde Barrow have petitioned the courts for an injunction restraining certain films from showing the motion picture reels of the killing of these two notorious bandits. No one has any regrets that these two have been isolated permanently from society. It is possible that these two mothers would rather see them in their grave than to know that they were still roaming the country killing and robbing. Both Bonnie and Clyde have no doubt been accused of many crimes that they did not commit. But they are dead now beyond the reach of human vengeance... beyond the reach of any hand that may have been stretched out to help them... their mothers are right... they have suffered enough... surely more than their share... It is almost unreasonable to think that a curious public should have thrown before them such gruesome scenes as the picture depicts. An injunction should not be necessary... if these two bandits had not had the publicity that they have had in their exploits... the pictures would not have been worth the ink of the camera. The selfishness is the only motive behind... the film companies pile up profits... these two mothers must be content to suffer a living hell realizing that their children are being shown in bloody disfigurement lying cold in death... with no chance to stop it... except the recourse of the law. It is hoped that their plea will be rewarded with a permanent injunction restraining any theatre from showing the films. Better that they be destroyed entirely. There are hundreds of decent ways to make money out of motion pictures without causing two mothers to suffer further humiliations. There are so many things that can place their fingers on that ring out the wonderful cooperation spirit of the people of a community. Right now... it is being demonstrated by the people of this section in reference to the banking problems which are so badly needed to get straightened out here. Each day those who have an interest in the old State bank are coming in to the committee appointed by depositors and cooperating with them in the instance of the organization of a new bank and at the same time approving the plan for division of the dividends stock. This is the one chance Eastland has to get a bank. Eastland is the one opportunity that any creditor or depositor of the Texas State bank has to get (Continued from page 4)

SPLENDID RODEO PROGRAM FOR TRADES DAY

That reminds me...

Truth Serum to Be Tried Out On Amnesia Victim

By United Press
HOUSTON, June 2.—Truth serum will be employed here to aid in the identification of a pretty, dark-haired amnesia victim. The test will be made Sunday at a hospital where the young woman was taken by police who found her wandering on a downtown street last Sunday. Authorities hoped the chemicals would revive her memory sufficiently to disclose her identity. The young woman, about 25, who believes she is a dancer, readily consented to undergo the tests.

JUDGES RULES COMMISSION HAS POWER

Reasonableness of Rate May Be Taken Up By Court On Monday.

By United Press
AUSTIN, June 2.—Natural gas rates charged by the Lone Star Gas company are subject to regulation by the Texas Railroad Commission, District Judge W. F. Robertson held here today. In so holding, Judge Robertson overruled pleas of the gas company that its business was interstate and not subject to state control. Reasonableness of a state order reducing the rate from 46 cents to 32 cents per 1,000 cubic feet probably will be taken up by the court Monday. Special exceptions taken by the gas company to the state petition for enforcement of the reduced rate remain to be heard before the merits of the rate are considered. These special exceptions can only limit the scope of the trial or force the state to amend its pleadings. They may necessitate a delay in testimony until mid-week. In overruling the company motion for dismissal of the court, Judge Robertson held that the commission is engaged in both interstate and intrastate business. He said it had been filing reports with the Texas commission for years. These reports, he said, separated the gas from Oklahoma and Texas fields. The commission's order, he said, attempted to fix a rate for the gas delivered to Texas cities and towns.

Deficiency Bill Reported Favorably

By United Press
WASHINGTON, June 2.—The $1,712,000,000 deficiency bill, carrying relief and public work funds, was reported favorably to the house today, carrying provisions which for the first time reduced the permissive power of the president to spend federal money for emergency purposes. Despite the request of the president in his message for almost blanket control over the relief appropriations, the committee definitely earmarked more than $176,000,000 of the funds and placed restrictions on other appropriations. However, $889,875,000 was allocated for the president's discretion for emergency relief.

AGED CIRCUIT RIDER DEAD

GOLD BEACH, Ore.—One of the oldest "circuit riders" in the state died here recently. The Rev. Thomas Jefferson Owens, long occupying pulpits in Lane, Coos and Curry counties, died at 77 years. He traveled about on horseback along lonely mountain trails before other transportation became available.

BIBLES DISTRIBUTED

BOSTON.—The American Bible Society reported at its recent annual meeting that it distributed 7,800,766 Bibles, Testaments, and portions of the Bible during 1933 in 155 languages and dialects and in more than 40 countries.

OIL "WHIP" IS ON WAY BACK TO CAPITOL

By United Press
TYLER, June 2.—Louis Glavis, the "whip" sent by Oil Administrator Harold L. Ickes to lash East Texas merchants of hot oil, was reported to be enroute to Washington today. He left behind a shocked and underfed field. Glavis, tight-lipped chief of Ickes' division of investigation, spoke clearly but sharply to a score of his assistants gathered at Dallas, flew to Tyler, lost himself in the maze of pipelines, derricks and boilers and left suddenly. On the eve of his departure, 13 men were charged in an alleged oil theft conspiracy. One was F. A. Smith, son of Railroad Commissioner Lon Smith. Four other oil theft rings, believed to be interlocking, were under investigation.

Man Is Charged In Murder of His Sister and Cousin

By United Press
LOCKHART, Texas, June 2.—Frank Mueck, 53, charged with the murder of his sister and cousin, was arrested in a cane patch today by Deputy Sheriff Bill Sanderson of Lockhart. Mueck threw away the pistol with which he shot Miss Nora Mueck, 50, and Willie Feddige, 50, as the couple were eating dinner at their home last night. The man offered no resistance to arrest and told officers that he had shot the couple. Charges of murder were filed against him.

HATCHING DUCK EGGS

MORRISON, Ill.—Efforts of two pigeons to hatch a duck egg in an open lane on a farm near here attracted wide attention recently. The pigeons experienced considerable difficulty in covering the egg, but alternated the work of perching on the abandoned embryo of the duck. Meanwhile residents of the vicinity wondered if the birds would be successful in their efforts and if so what they would do with the duckling once it was hatched.

PLAN AIDS APPLE GROWERS

HOOD RIVER, Ore.—News France abandoned the plan of requiring each apple and pear exported to her ports be enclosed in a wrapper bearing the name of its origin, has been well received in this fruit growing center. The "wrapper plan" assertedly was to have been in retaliation for a ruling fostered by American wine interests to force French exporters to specify on each bottle wrapper the origin of every bottle of wine.

SLAIN COYOTE WORE BELL

LEWISTON, Ida.—A belted coyote, slain here recently, is believed to have been the pet of "H. H. BURNS, ORE." as that inscription was found imprinted inside the bell. Burns is 400 miles from here, indicating the animal probably traveled the distance in wandering since its youth when the sheep bell was placed about its neck.

Killer Cleansed of Sin in Bathtub

Cleansed of his many sins in a bizarre baptism ceremony in a jail bathtub, W. D. May, Texas murderer, mail robber, and dope runner, here is shown after he had voiced repentance for his crimes and had been submerged, grumbling because the water was cold, by the Rev. Almer Kelly. May then was returned to the Fort Worth death house to await execution of his sentence.

COUNTY RELIEF QUOTA IS RAISED TO $25,000 FOR JUNE BY THE STATE BOARD

On Monday, May 28, there was held a joint meeting of the members of the county commissioners' court, the county relief committee and the county relief administrator for the purpose of discussing ways and means to alleviate the distressing relief problems prevailing in Eastland county during the past two months due to the shortage of funds forwarded during this period from Austin. Figures were produced by County Administrator H. E. Driscoll, showing the extent of relief accorded as well as monies received and it was the unanimous consensus of opinion a committee be appointed to call upon C. B. Braun, assistant director, Texas relief commission in Austin, for the purpose of outlining in detail the dire need and extreme necessity of remedying the deplorable conditions in Eastland county during the past two months due to the shortage of funds forwarded during this period from Austin. All employables are respectfully requested by the county committee to refrain from applying for work relief assignments at the various relief offices. The case worker makes his contact in the home of the client.

Johnson to Take Up Steel Strike

By United Press
WASHINGTON, June 2.—General Hugh S. Johnson, fighting major strike threats that might jeopardize the National Recovery program, brought all possible pressure to bear today to avoid a labor tieup in the steel industry. He apparently had averted a similar tieup in the cotton textile industry. Terms of a quick compromise on the union plan to call out 300,000 were expected to be announced shortly. An agreement was understood to have been effected after 12 hours of negotiations. Johnson now was ready to devote his full time to the threat of a steel strike. Little as expected to be accomplished in this field, however, before Monday when union heads will return to Washington for conferences.

One Man Shot In Houston Dock Area

By United Press
HOUSTON, June 2.—One man was wounded critically when more than 75 shots fired from shotguns, rifles and pistols, swept a group of union pickets at the Houston turning basin docks today. The pickets said they were "put on the spot" by strike-breaking longshoremen. The shooting was the second major outbreak since the strike started May 1. W. A. Swan, 29, a picket for the International Longshoremen's association, was shot twice in the back. Doctors said his recovery was doubtful.

HEAT DEATH TOLL REACHES AT LEAST 40

By United Press
CHICAGO, June 2.—A death toll of at least 40 already has been caused by the burning heat wave that swept eastward today after driving temperatures in the midwest to unprecedented heights. A survey showed fatalities in 12 states due directly to the sun or to drowning incurred as the populace sought relief in lakes and pools. The heaviest toll in Iowa where six were reported dead. The total due directly to heat was 21, while 19 by drowning were recorded. Scattered rains fell in sections of the sunbaked midwest last night and more showers were predicted for tomorrow. Surveying crop reports from the northwestern region, Dean W. C. Coffey of the agricultural school of Minnesota, predicted continuation of the drought for two weeks will bring a national food shortage. "The situation is acute," Coffey said. "Conditions are becoming more alarming hourly. The truth is the United States is threatened with a food shortage. Secretary of Agriculture Henry A. Wallace denied recently a famine was possible, pointing out a 200,000,000 wheat carryover would meet any probable deficit in this year's crop.

District W. M. S. Meets Wednesday In Breckenridge

The district meeting of the Women's Missionary society, with Mrs. W. E. Barron in charge, will meet at the Methodist church in Breckenridge Wednesday, June 6, at 9:30 o'clock for an all-day session. A number of women from here will attend and these are asked to assemble at the Methodist church at 8:15 Wednesday morning where cars will be provided for those not having transportation. Following is the program: 9:30 a. m.—Song, Lead On O King Eternal; song, "The Kingdom Is Coming"; prayer; devotional, Mrs. J. T. Wilson, Caddo; welcome, Mrs. James G. Palmer, Breckenridge; Behind the Scenes in the Publicity Department, Mrs. Bert McGlamery, Eastland, conference superintendent, publicist, Larue Essery, Carbon; Good Citizenship, Mrs. J. T. Robertson, Rising Star; "How Money Talks," Cisco Auxiliary; Wesley House, Fort Worth; Felicidad Mendez, Tyler Training School, Mrs. J. V. Baird, Joshua; Children's Work, Mrs. J. K. Wilkes, Brownwood; demonstration, "A World Friendship Birthday Party," Breckenridge Auxiliary; business; consecration service, Mrs. W. Erskine Williams, Fort Worth; adjournment.

Stock Market Bill Ready for Signing

By United Press
WASHINGTON, June 2.—The battle of the stock market control bill expected to go down in legislative history as one of the stiffest of recent years was over today but for the President's signature on the act. The measure, a keystone in President Roosevelt's arch of new deal legislation, finally was approved by both house and senate yesterday with only a few final words of discussion. The chief executive will find the bill on his desk when he returns to Washington Monday. Taking effect July 1, it brings, for the first time, the nation's securities exchanges under strict federal control.

Premium Offered On Bread Bonds

By United Press
AUSTIN, June 2.—A premium of $22,875 was offered today by Donald O'Neil, O'Neil & Co., of Dallas, for an issue of $3,750,000 state relief bonds, placed on sale here. The issue will be the last of $10,500,000 authorized by the legislature. Another legislative session will be necessary before the remaining half of the $20,000,000 can be issued.

Workers' Program For Conference At Gorman Church

The following is the program of the worker's conference to be held with the Gorman Baptist church on Tuesday, June 5: 10:00 a. m. Devotional, Rev. B. E. Clements. 10:20 a. m. Bible Teaching of Sin, Rev. A. R. Watson, De Leon. 10:40 a. m. Bible Teaching on the Judgment of Sin, Rev. C. Z. Chambliss. 11:00 a. m. Salvation from Sin, Rev. J. F. Woods. 11:20 a. m. Business Session. 11:25 a. m. Special Music. 11:30 a. m. Sermon, Sub Heaven, Rev. H. H. Stephens. Lunch. 1:30 p. m. Board meeting and W. M. U. program. Devotional, Mrs. J. R. Coody, Caddo. Special Music, Gorman ladies. (1). How may women be an evangelistic aid to the pulpit ministry of the church? Mrs. Asa Skiles, Cisco. (2). Suggestive steps toward overcoming the summer slump in church attendance, Mrs. Wyatt Lipscomb, Albany.

Little Barbara Ellen Page Is Now at Rest

Funeral services for little 2½-year-old Barbara Ellen Page, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Karl F. Page of Eastland, who died last Sunday following an illness of a month, were conducted from the family residence Tuesday afternoon at 3 o'clock. Rev. Rosemond Stanford conducted the funeral services. Out-of-town relatives of the little girl, whose stay on earth was of short duration, who gathered at the family residence to pay respect were: Mrs. W. F. Page, Winfield, Kan.; Mrs. Mary McCall, Mrs. J. Mack and Lewis Page, Kansas; Mr. and Mrs. Ben McCall, Kansas; Mrs. Harold Peck, Horton, Kan.; and Mr. and Mrs. Walter Fiensy of Wink.

Battle to Attend A&M Conference June 11th-15th

Supt. P. B. Bittle of the Eastland schools is to attend the Texas school administrative conference at A. & M. college in College Station, June 11-15. The conference is an annual affair attended by superintendents and principals of the state who discuss school problems. Problems which are to be discussed this year include the subjects of salaries, one of the major problems of the Eastland schools. The discussions among the educators, which are listened in on by practically all high officials of the state board of education to obtain ideas for the betterment of schools, have the reputation of being free and frank. N. S. Holland, superintendent of Breckenridge schools, is a member of the executive committee of the conference.

Frogs To Meet Richland Springs This Afternoon

Eastland Horned Frogs will meet Richland Springs today on their home ground, Welch park, Eastland, at 3 o'clock. Doubt of the Richland Springs team as being fair ball players is dispelled by the fact that the team, although there is two weeks to go in the schedule, has already clinched the first half championship of the Hill Country league. Members of the Hill Country league have a reputation of being strong ball clubs and since the Richland Springs nine has already clinched the championship, it remains only natural that competition is to be evidenced against the Frogs in today's game. The Frogs are in better shape for the game than they were with the Moose Slings players from Abilene last week, as many of Eastland's charges had been sick the week before.

Fifty Million For Relief From Drouth

By United Press
WASHINGTON, June 2.—The federal emergency relief administration expects to spend $50,000,000 for drouth relief in the sun ravished west, Director Harry L. Hopkins has informed congress in estimated that adequate federal funds to prevent suffering from July 1 to March 1, 1935, will total $110,000,000 a month.

STAGE IS SET; EVERYTHING TO GO ROUND

Large Crowds Are Expected To Attend Regular Monthly Event. H. C. Davis, secretary of the Eastland Chamber of Commerce, announces that a splendid program, consisting of calf roping, goat roping, bronc busting, steer riding, barrel races, and in fact most everything that it takes to make up a full and complete rodeo program, has been arranged for the entertainment of Eastland's visitors Monday, Trades Day. The big program will be staged on the rodeo grounds between North Seaman and North Lamar streets and near the Texas & Pacific railroad depot. A group of Eastland merchants, it is stated, will be on hand to greet the visitors as they arrive in the city and to see to it that each and every guest is properly entertained. These Trades Day events are regular monthly affairs in Eastland. The entire expense of the entertainments are paid by Eastland merchants for the benefit of the visitors. Suggestions as to how to improve the programs in order to make them more pleasing to the visitors are solicited. Every effort will be made to please. Incident to Trades Day Eastland merchants are offering on that occasion special bargains on many items you will want to buy and respectfully invite you to do your shopping while in Eastland on Trades Day.

One of Quintuplets Suffers a Setback

NORTH BAY, Ont., June 2.—One of the Dionne quintuplets suffered a setback today and fears were held for her life. The quintuplets previously had thrived. Medical records, however, show survival of infants born to quintuplets is exceptional.

A FEDERAL DRIVE AGAINST HOT OIL RUNNERS IN TEXAS

Federal Oil Administrators Harold F. Ickes dispatched Louis R. Glavis, chief of the division of investigation of the interior department, to East Texas oil fields, "to begin a drive expected to result in criminal prosecution."

Chief Glavis made the journey by army airplane after notifying the Texas field force to meet him in Dallas. Before he boarded the airplane, he said his agents would "come armed with reams of oil code violation evidence."

Speaking of the New Orleans federal circuit court of appeals decision which upheld the constitutionality of the oil code, Secy. Ickes said: "Glavis will gather around him all of our special agents in Texas. He will instruct them to prosecute, relentlessly, every producer and shipper of hot oil who has flaunted the code and endangered the stability of the oil industry."

Hot oil runners as well as the producers of hot oil had their day in court. They violated the proration orders of the state railroad commission. They violated the federal code requirements. They won their injunctions from the lower court—minor federal courts. They lost their cause when the circuit court of the fifth district upheld the constitutionality of the federal code requirements as well as the proration orders of the state laws and proration rules.

It was a magnificent vindication of the rights of the commonwealth, regardless of the grumblings of the critics of state proration and the petroleum code of the national recovery act.

MUSSOLINI AS A BUILDER OF NEW BATTLESHIPS

Mussolini is one of the most remarkable men walking the stage of action. Italy will construct three large battleships with general specifications similar to those of the French battleships, which are said "to lead all the rest."

Merchants who want to hold their own against outside competition must advertise persistently in local newspapers.

BEHIND THE SCENES IN WASHINGTON WITH RODNEY DUTCHER

BY RODNEY DUTCHER

WASHINGTON—Little bugs are flying through the office window and getting on my neck. Unimportant! Well, not insignificant, anyway.

When the little bugs get on the necks of the New Dealers, it certainly doesn't help the country. Not that the little bugs bite. But no man can concentrate and do his best work when he has to keep brushing them off his neck.

It is also sharply to the point that the little bugs are harbingers of summer, and summer, in Washington, means many waves of blazing heat.

The president is always happy when he hears about the little bugs, because heat is his strongest ally when he wants to get rid of Congress. The president himself sits in the air-cooled White House and doesn't have to go out.

Congress has air-cooling, too, but it has to go outdoors sooner or later.

So the hotter it gets, the faster Congress works to clean up and get away.

WEATHER, rather than little bugs, is responsible for such senatorial repartee as this, which occurred during consideration of the food and drugs bill: Senator Copeland: "I hold in my hand the photograph of a beautiful woman and I submit it to the senator from Illinois."

graph of the beautiful girl, let me inquire if this bill contains any inhibition against excessive use of lipstick."

Senator Copeland: "No, I am glad to say that it does not."

Senator Neely: "I should be much more enthusiastic about the bill if it contained such provision. The excessive use of lipstick has greatly increased the world's troubles. Lipstick is not healthful for women. It is not safe for men."

Senator Copeland: "Does the senator wish to testify on the subject at any great length?"

Neely declined. The photograph was one of a woman who had been blinded by an eyelash cosmetic such as Copeland's bill seeks to bar. The Senate showed little interest in that phase of the matter.

DECORUM still seems unchallenged at the Library of Commerce, thanks to Martin A. Roberts, superintendent of the reading room.

While the staff was preparing the great Volbehler collection of incenseburns for exhibition and shelving, an employe spread open an ancient book at what seemed to him an excellent wood-carving and placed it in a showcase.

Roberts promptly insisted the display was immoral and had the carving turned. For the wood-carving portrayed the devil chasing a monk! When Dr. Otto H. Volbehler himself came in and started to pass a box of liqueur chocolates among the boys and girls, Roberts told him he mustn't. Visitors to the library might smell alcohol on everybody's breath.

DONNA of the BIG TOP by BEULAH POYNTER

BEGIN HERE TODAY DONNA GABRIEL, circus performer, falls from the trapeze and is injured. To please her partner, MADELINE SIDDAL, Donna goes to Madeline's home to recuperate, pretending to be the other girl. She is ashamed of this deception but keeps it up, even when BILL SIDDAL, Madeline's cousin, asks her to marry him. AMOS SIDDLER, Madeline's brother, who owns the farm, is blind. MISS PLANTER, a nurse, is married to a man who is blind. CON DAVID, circus animal trainer, and takes part in the animal act.

Amos Sidal has a stroke. His New Orleans Madeline goes into the cage alone with the tiger and is killed. Renfro, discharged from the circus, goes to work. Con decides to go to the Sidal farm. He arrives on Thanksgiving day and sends a note to Donna. NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER XXXIII DONNA opened the door of the farm house and faced Pete Rader. She had never seen him before and greeted him with a bewildered, "Yes?"

"I got a note for you, Mis' Sidal, and I'm to fetch an answer back."

The moment she saw the envelope an icy chill passed over the girl. She opened the door a trifle wider and asked the boy to come in. Then, making sure she had closed the door through which she had passed and that there were no witnesses, she tore open the envelope. Her hand shook so violently that the folded sheet slipped to the floor.

Donna stooped quickly and picked it up, conscious that the eyes of the boy were filled with curiosity.

"He's that circus feller that went into the 'Horn' cage," Pete volunteered. "I recognized him."

"Yes," Donna said huskily. She read the curt little note again and then tore it up. "There is no answer," she said.

"But—"

"I'll telephone—tell him that."

Rather reluctantly, Pete rose. At the door he repeated, "He said I was to get an answer. You'll be sure to telephone, won't you?"

"I'll phone," Donna promised. She waited until she heard the outer door slam and then fung the scraps of paper into the fireplace.

She watched them slowly crumple into ashes, wondering what she was to do. How could she telephone? There was only one telephone in the house and it was in the hallway just off the dining room. Every word she said could be heard by those at the dinner table.

SHE glanced at her reflection in the mirror over the fireplace and saw that her face was pale. She pinched her cheeks to bring back their color, smoothed her hair and returned to the dining room.

"What was it?" Bill asked as she took her place at the table.

"Some—some inquiring for the Lawrence place," Donna lied. Fortunately Bill was not looking at her and did not see her deep flush that accompanied her words.

Throughout the long meal, which had lost its favor for Donna

Grandfather Sidal and Miss Perkins and Bill kept up gay chatter. Donna tried her best to join in the conversation but her thoughts kept returning to the man at the hotel in Lebanon.

The more she thought about it the more dismayed Donna became. Her first reaction, upon receiving the note, had been fear of what Bill would say or do if he knew the man he believed to be his rival were in town. Now Con himself became a menace.

She must telephone him and learn what he wanted. How could she wait until the next day? If only there were some excuse to leave the house, and go to a neighbor's! But the nearest neighbor lived half a mile away and there was no excuse anyway.

At last the meal came to an end. Bill pushed his chair back and stretched in lazy contentment. Then he and the nurse took the old man back to his bedroom. Evening prayers were said, a chapter from the Bible read, and Donna went into the kitchen to help Minnie with the dishes.

"You didn't eat nothing," Minnie said. "Reckon you spent too much time fixing 'em to enjoy your victuals."

"I suppose so."

"Sure did my soul good to see the way Grandpa relished his food! Ma says as long as a person can relish their food they got some comfort in life. My Grandfather lived till he was 95 and to the day of his death he had an appetite like a farm hand. Ma says the reason he lived so long was because—"

"If you are going to spend the afternoon with your family," Donna interrupted gently, "you'd better work faster and talk less."

"Reckon so. My sakes, it's three o'clock! Job'll be coming along with my second now."

JOB was Minnie's "steady." For two years they had been "keeping company" and the probabilities were that they would be keeping company for several years more.

"Run along and change your dress," Donna said. "I'll finish this—"

"I don't like—"

"That's all right."

Alone in the kitchen Donna dabbled with her work. As though her conscience were really guilty, she dressed being alone with Bill. It was dark when the last dish had been placed in the cupboard, the last pot polished and hung on its hook behind the great iron cook stove.

Donna dried her hands and started towards the living room just as the pantry door swung to behind her she heard the jangle of the telephone bell.

She stood as though frozen into stone, absolutely certain that Con David was at the wire.

"Yes, this is the Sidal farm," she heard Bill say. "Yes, she's here. Who wants her?"

Donna crushed one hand against her mouth to stifle the cry she felt must escape her. When Bill said, "Mrs. Planter wants to talk to you," her relief was so great she giggled hysterically.

"What in the name of time does she want?" Bill said, scratching his head.

"Can't say," Donna took the receiver and spoke into the phone "Yes."

"It's me, Madeline," the harsh voice came over the wire, softened with an attempt at sweetness. "Be ing's it's Thanksgiving and we're most the same as kin. I thought I'd telephone and wish you a happy day."

"Thank you," Donna answered. "That's kind of you. I wish you the same."

"I s'pose it's a nice surprise to you to know your friend's in town?"

"I—I don't understand."

"Land sakes, don't tell me you don't know the feller that you claim you never married is in town—"

DONNA snapped the receiver back on the hook and leaned against the wall. Her aching cheeks informed Bill that something was wrong, though fortunately he had not heard anything the housekeeper had said.

"What's the matter, honey?"

"That woman—she's a devil! A regular devil! Wishing me a happy Thanksgiving when—"

"What did she say?"

"I won't repeat it. I shouldn't be upset, but Bill, she hates me. Whether it's true or not that she wanted to marry Grandfather, she's never forgiven me for staying here and she's so eaten up with spite she wouldn't stop at anything to ruin our happiness."

"A fat chance she has of doing that!" Bill laughed. He put an arm around her shoulders and rubbed his chin against her head.

"I wonder, suppose—suppose she came to you and tried to convince you that I—"

"Great Scott, lover, do you think I'd listen to any of Lizzie Planter's tales? Don't forget I've known her longer than you have and I know her reputation as a gossip. I'm surprised at you, Madeline. If you put so little faith in me you think I'd be influenced by what anyone could say."

"It isn't that I haven't faith in you—"

"Honey, Mrs. Planter predicted a thousand calamities when she knew we were going to be married. All the rot she could think of against cousins, etc. You know that as well as I do. If what she said then had had any weight with me you'd have some reason now to wonder how I got bothered—why, you're trembling! It's the most ridiculous thing I ever heard of. What did the old snake say, anyway?"

"Just insinuations. But, oh Bill, you are jealous and you do get suspicious without provocation! If you had real provocation—"

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

"Ancient and Modern Necromancy, alias Mesmerism and Hypnotism, Denounced," is the subject of the lesson-sermon which will be read in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, today.

The Golden Text is: "Oh let the wickedness of the wicked come to an end; but establish the just: for the righteous God trieth the hearts and reins." (Psalm: 7:9).

Among the citations which comprise the lesson-sermon is the following from the Bible: "Regard not them that have familiar spirits, neither seek after wizards, to be defiled by them: I am the Lord your God" (Leviticus 19:31).

The lesson-sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Christian Science goes to the bottom of mental action, and reveals the theodicy which indicates the rightness of all divine action, as the emanation of divine Mind, and the consequent wrongness of the opposite so-called action—evil, occultism, necromancy, mesmerism, animal magnetism, hypnotism" (page 104).

One of the most remarkable pictures taken during the Toledo strike riots is this one, showing a rioter an instant after he had caught a smoking gas grenade flung by an Ohio guardsman and hurled it back into the troops' ranks. The picture plainly shows the grenade just after it had left his hand. This graphic shot was taken by George Blount, Toledo News-Bee photographer, an aerial cameraman overseas during the World War. With another photographer, who is shown foreground getting a dose of gas, Blount braved bullets and stones to snap this startling action. In the left, through the trees, is shown part of thousands watching the affray.

AT LYRIC SUNDAY

Sylvia Sidney, in the title role of Paramount's "Thirty-Day Princess," the picture coming Sunday to the Lyric theatre, learns how becoming and uncomfortable a crown can be.

THIS CURIOUS WORLD By William Ferguson

Illustration of a village with a well and a house. Text: 'THE VILLAGE SMITHY. OF LONGFELLOW'S FAMOUS POEM, WAS NOT A MAN! THE SMITHY REFERRED TO THE BUILDING IN WHICH THE BLACKSMITH WORKED... BEING AN OLD ENGLISH WORD FOR A SMITH'S WORKSHOP.'

THE SUN and the moon appear to us to be almost exactly the same size, but of course we know that this is not the case. The moon has a diameter of only 2160 miles, while the sun measures 864,000 miles across, but it is about 387 times farther away than the moon.

Sylvia Sidney, figuratively speaking, has emerged from the cocoon and now is a butterfly. "Thirty-Day Princess," her new Paramount film, coming on Sunday to the Lyric theatre, with Cary Grant as her leading man, gives Sylvia more than thirty changes of modern, fascinating clothes which fairly scream with luxurious newness.

Usually her screen wardrobe consists of prison uniforms, carnival dancing girl's outfits, drab cheap clothes of a poorer class of working girl; but here in "Thirty-Day Princess," for the first time in her screen career, she abounds in exotic hostess gowns, afternoon frocks, rich dinner gowns and luxurious evening gowns, with smart beautiful accessories and jewels.

Directed by Marion Gering from an original story by Clarence Budington Kelland, the film version was written by Preston Sturges, noted Broadway playwright, and Edwin Justus Mayer adapted and wrote additional dialogue. B. P. Schulberg is the producer.

The story, a satirical comedy, presents Miss Sidney as the actress who is hired to impersonate a royal princess, who has come to this country to front for a large bond issue, but falls ill with mumps.

The bankers' enemy, a man they've sworn to ruin, is a young newspaper publisher. Their plan is for the actress to cause him to fall in love with her and then denounce him publicly.

But what they don't reckon with is the possibility of the girl falling in love with the publisher. She does, and for 30 days she's a princess with a nation at her feet, but also a girl wanting only one man. How the romance finally is completed brings the picture to an unusual climax.

By HARRY GRAYSON

CLEVELAND.—Bob Grove, Wesley Ferrell, and George Farnham may go on for some time, and win more games than they lost. Walter Johnson doubts that any one of them ever again will regain the form that made them the American League Big Three. Johnson is dubious about pitching apparatus once it starts to rebel.

Half a Pitcher Better Than Most of Them
THE Big Train says Ferrell will help the Boston Red Sox if half as good as he was during the four-year stretch from 1922 to 1932, when he bagged from 21 to 25 engagements a year Cleveland big breaking sticks.

Ferrell Not Trouble Maker as Supposed
FERRELL has been painted a contentious cuss, not above pulling the back when things broke against him. But if that reputation ever fitted the Guilford Guide, the big, handsome hander turned over a new leaf in June, 1933, when Johnson came chief of the Tribe.

Quickly Convinced He Was Not a Ruth
FERRELL made up his mind that he was through as a pitcher last August and finished the grind in left field. But when pitchers got to working on Wesley dilly, weakness developed. This convinced him that he must pitch to remain the big show, and he was optimistic in regard to 1934 when he was late last season revealed that his shoulder was loosening up.

IMPRESSIVE CAST SUPPORTS NORMA SHEARER IN 'RIPTIDE'

With Robert Montgomery and Herbert Marshall sharing leading man honors, one of the most impressive casts ever assembled is seen in support of Norma Shearer in "Riptide," her glamorous new Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer starring vehicle which opens next Monday at the Lyric theatre.

Montgomery, playing the part of Miss Shearer's play-boy sweetheart, makes his fifth appearance with the star in this film. He also played with her in "Their Own Desire," "Divorcee," "Strangers May Kiss" and "Private Lives." His last roles were in "Fugitive Lovers" and "Mystery of Mr. X." Marshall, popular English stage and screen star, was last seen in "The Solitaire Man" and "Four Frightened People." He plays the part of Lord Rexford, Miss Shearer's husband in the new film.

Mrs. Patrick Campbell, one of England's most distinguished actresses, famous for her great triumphs in "The Second Mrs. Tanqueray" and other famous hits, makes her screen debut as Aunt Hetty, eccentric dowager. Lilyan Tashman plays the part of Miss Shearer's sister. Skeets Gallagher is cast as Montgomery's New York chum and other famous personalities included in the cast are Ralph Forbes, Arthur Jarrett, Earl Oxford, Helen Jerome Eddy, George K. Arthur, Baby Marilyn Spinnert, Phyllis Cochran, Howard Chaldecott and Halliwell Hobbes.
