GOV. LANGER OUSTED FROM OFFICE

Gov. William H. Langer of North Dakota was ordered by the state supreme court to vacate his office. This just after the governor had declared martial law for the entire state and called out the national guard.

"We want Langer" was the war cry of North Dakotans in the recent republican primary. They renominated their favorite for governor by a large majority. He has called a special session of the legislature. A majority of the senate and the house, it is said, are followers of the fighting political leader whose face has been in the gallery of notables in recent months. He was recently convicted of federal felony, and his was the first conviction under the new law. His aides or agents solicited contributions from federal relief organizations in North Dakota for the support of the newspaper which the governor published. Langer has appealed his cause to the federal circuit court. He has a mighty following in North Dakota. He has "gone all the way" for his people. He was responsible for the state moratorium act. He was responsible for the state embargo on the shipment of wheat. He is in the picture and he will remain in the picture until the court of last resort declares him to be a violator of the federal laws of his country or the goat of his political enemies in the commonwealth where he has ruled as chief magistrate.

There are nine lonely old men in Washington. In the last analysis they carry the government and will be the interpreters of all the recently enacted federal laws or set-ups devised to bring about sanity and safety in future for the American people. History has been made. More history, and more history vitally important, in an economic sense, than ever before in the same time since the foundation of this government.

A whole lot of people in every city always have unlimited advice to offer on affairs about which they know nothing.

You can buy quality merchandise in your own home city—goods that you can see before buying, and if not as represented the matter can be easily adjusted at home.

Enlightened men should cooperate together to success; not a selfish success, but a success that ignores selfishness and works only to the common good of the whole country.

injured. They feared, however, that most of their instruments had been damaged badly.

Before the balloonists leaped they had thrown overboard the most valuable instruments which they had attached to a parachute.

The fliers landed and rushed to this parachute and retrieved the instruments.

The wreckage came down in a heap of rags and ropes in a corn field about a quarter of a mile from Ruben Johnson's farm house.

"It looked like it exploded," Johnson said. "But there was no fire nor was there any noise. It just twisted and flapped and dropped like a pile of rags.

Within a half hour several thousand persons went into the field and watched the aviators working about the wreckage. They almost ruined Johnson's corn patch.

MOONLIGHT VALLEY, S. D.

July 28.—Three army balloonists soared aloft today in a quest of an altitude record of 15 miles or more—higher into the sky than man has ever reached.

Major William Kepner, Pilot Capt. Orvil Anderson, his aide, and Capt. Albert Stevens, scientific observer, comprise the crew for the flight.

They shot upward at 5:45 a. m., EST, in the U. S. Army National Geographic society balloon "The Explorer" largest free balloon ever made.

With their enormous gas bag, having a capacity of 3,000,000 cubic feet inflated with only 200,000 feet of hydrogen gas, the men were lifted over the rim of this peaceful, sheltered valley at a speed of more than 500 feet a minute.

At 12:15 p. m., EST, they reported an altitude of 16,000 feet. They were held stationary more than two hours at 14,000 feet.

The balloon height at 1:05 p. m., EST., was 40,000 feet, or nearly eight miles. The balloon was drifting south and slightly east.

GERMAN NAZI GROUP LINKED WITH REVOLT

By United Press

VIENNA, Austria, July 28.—Police reported today the discovery of documentary evidence linking Nazi plotters of Carinthia to interests in Germany.

Letters found at the home of the director of the state school of engineering and mailed from Germany, were said to have given instructions for the uprising.

With the letters were handbills ordering a mobilization of the Carinthian storm troops, an organization under government ban, dated July 26, and printed instructions for a broadcast to go out from a secret radio station ordering the uprising to begin at noon on that day.

Police regarded the letters as a belated effort to take advantage of the disturbances caused by the coup of July 25.

Nine Nazis were killed and 16 were arrested, according to reliable reports when troops attacked 100 insurgents last night in East Carinthia. The remainder of the rebels fled, leaving two machine guns behind.

Although the Carinthian authorities reported "all quiet" from private sources it was learned insurgents were in control at Feldmsee, while Nazi bands were roving through the Drau Valley occasionally sniping at loyal troops.

While government forces were busy crushing the rebellion, chancellor Dollfus, victim of political hatred and assassination, was accorded a royal funeral today.

Police Sergeant Martin Zarkovich of East Chicago, above, saw his comrade avenged when John Dillinger died in a Chicago ambush. Zarkovich, given major credit for blowing the trap, had devoted months to trailing the outlaw, after the sergeant's pal, Policeman W. P. O'Malley, had been killed by the Dillinger gang in an East Chicago bank holdup.

Cattle Buying In Eastland County Will Start Soon

Eastland county has been designated as an emergency drought relief county and the purchase of distressed cattle will begin within the next few days. County Agent J. C. Patterson and Administrative Assistant R. F. Lawrence will attend a meeting Saturday in Mineral Wells and receive instructions for handling the purchasing of cattle. It is presumed that the work will begin immediately thereafter.

There is no limit to the number of cattle that may be sold by any one farmer nor any definite information as to how long the purchasing will continue.

Those wishing to sell cattle under this plan should inform the county agent's office as soon as possible listing the number of cattle owned and the number desired to be sold. This listing places the producer under no obligation to sell in case he does not care to accept the appraised value.

Prices to be paid including the benefit payment are $12 to $20 for cattle two years of age and over, from $10 to $15 for ones to two, and from $4 to $8 for cattle under one year of age. The minimum price in each class is paid for condemned cattle. The purchase price is paid to the lienholder if there is one, otherwise to the producer. All benefit payments go to producers. Cattle are appraised on the farm and delivered to shipping pens by producer when notified of shipping date. Condemned cattle are killed on the farm by veterinarian, producer being given the hide for destroying the killed animals. It is said that payment for cattle will be received in about two weeks after delivery.

R. F. LAWRENCE, Administrative Assistant.

Ranger Junior College to Have Its Own Bus Line

Quite an interest has been manifested on the part of students and parents who are seeking college opportunities for another year in the matter of the operation of a college bus from different sections of the county.

The Ranger school board has signified its willingness to operate a bus from the extremes of the county if sufficient guarantee can be had that the patronage for the college will justify it. Looking to that end a canvass is being made both in the north and the south sections of the county and in the Breckenridge territory to determine the demand for transportation to the college.

It is contemplated that a bus would start at Gorman each day and come to Ranger by way of Carbon, Eastland and Olden, reaching Ranger in time for school. Anyone interested in this proposition should communicate with Supt. R. F. Holloway, who will look after this territory. Dean Von Roeder is making a canvass of the north territory. It is hoped that many students of the outlying territory will thus be able to attend the college that otherwise would be deprived of college advantages.

During last session a number of students received aid from the federal government in paying their way through Ranger Junior College and application has been made by the school authorities for a larger amount of federal aid for another year and it is hoped that this will be secured. Those desiring to take advantage of this fund should make application to R. F. Holloway, president of the college.

Cattle Breeders Confer With Relief Officials

KANSAS CITY, July 28.—Federal drought relief officials continued conferences today with members of the American Hereford Cattle Breeders association in an attempt to save herds of pure bred stock as well as lower class cattle threatened by drought. A plan for saving the herds was introduced by Dean W. C. Coffey of the University of Minnesota, but no action was taken by the breeders.

ST. FRANCIS XAVIER CHURCH Mass on Sunday will be at 7 a. m., by Rev. J. Fernandez. Sunday will be the tenth Sunday after Pentecost. The epistle read on that day is taken from the First Epistle of St. Paul to the Corinthians 12-2-11; and the Gospel is from St. Luke 18:9-14. This Gospel tells about the publican and the Pharisee who went into the temple to pray. The Pharisee represented the law and boasted about his good works even to God and he condemned the publican, who was a tax collector. The publican was humble and admitted to God that he was a sinner. He went out freed from his sins, while the Pharisee went out worse than when he entered. We need humility, "the highest virtue, mother of them all."

Detroit Chinese Start New Deal

DETROIT, Mich. -- A "New Deal" of Oriental conception is being inaugurated here by leaders of Detroit's depression decimated Chinatown.

The Chinese new deal is to provide for the steady employment of every Chinese adult in the city who wants employment and to re-establish the once thriving chain of restaurants and laundries that flourished before 1929.

It is estimated by Chinese leaders here that a bare 500 Chinese of whom are women, remain in the colony of more than 1,400 of a few years ago.

There are in Detroit at present 32 Chinese restaurants, 21 having closed during the depression. On the chain of 300 laundries in the city, only 200 remain in operation.

Chinese business men, say Frank Lee, restaurant proprietor, have taken to heart the lesson taught by the depression and have placed their businesses on a scientific basis.

In 1928 there was owned collectively among Detroit Chinese $2,500,000 worth of business enterprises in the city. They consisted principally of restaurants and laundries, with a sprinkling of import houses dealing in Chinese wares and foodstuffs.

White Shirts Plan Crusade Against Reds

By ED WERKMAN United Press Staff Correspondent ATLANTA, Ga. -- George W. Christians shouts for Americans to arise and destroy the gold standard, replacing it with a monetary system based on human effort so that economic liberty may be gained.

With headquarters in Chattanooga, Tenn., Christians, one-time successful engineer, has organized the Crusaders for Economic Liberty, known as the White Shirts, or White Crusaders.

Word of Caution If necessary, Christians advocates force to gain the Crusader's patriotic-economic program of destruction of the gold standard, non-inflation, and repudiation of the public debt.

In a general order to his White Shirts, however, he cautions no positive action should be taken until the units have been drilled and officered perfectly.

After this, preparations should be made for the march on Washington. This should not be undertaken, however, until generous donations, obtained from most people by appealing to their patriotism, have equipped the Crusaders. Fully outfitted, the Crusaders are to report to the Chattanooga headquarters, but are not to move until ordered.

The greatest strength of the Crusaders is in the northwestern states of Washington, Oregon and Idaho. The membership has been estimated at 35,000 although Christians, who sports a Hitler mustache, claims several times that number.

Program of White Shirts The organizations program opposed to Socialism would have been established if Congress had passed "H.R. 4747, a bill to establish Economic Liberty in the United States of America, and for other purposes."

But despite a bombardment of letters and telegrams, Congressmen weren't interested in the bill. The White Shirts is steadfastly opposed to Socialism and Communism. Christians feels the "socialistic program of the Roosevelt administration will regiment out people and finally take away their freedom, eventually leading to Communism which is tyranny in its worst form."

He advocates a subtle way of dealing with the Communist. He has an organization for them--The American Inds. This, he says, a "real, live American organization under capable leadership and with a definite constructive patriotic program. Once we get the Communists in the organization we give them plenty to do and handle them easy."

AMARILLO--Amarilloans who thought Jay Lloyd Brubaker went to Hollywood to sell tires were surprised recently when he returned to town in a talking picture.

His name changed to Jay Lloyd Brubaker appeared in a minor role in "Operator 13," a Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer release.

The story from Hollywood was that Brubaker visited the studio hoping to sell some tires.

"We can't use your tires, but we might use you," studio officials told the handsome Amarillo youth.

And that's how a tire salesman crashed the movies.

Border Patrol May Work with Mexico

By United Press JUAREZ, Mex. -- Leopoldo Verdugo, customs collector, has devised a plan to divide border patrol work between Mexican and American officers to reduce smuggling and border killings.

Verdugo suggested that Mexican and American customs officials reach an agreement on dividing the work to provide more vigilance along the Rio Grande.

At present, patrols on both sides of the river often guard the same sections, while other sections go unguarded. He suggested that American officers guard one section, while Mexican officers guard another.
