President Roosevelt's address Sunday night over the radio was void of the usual highlights in former addresses.

President Roosevelt has already demonstrated that he could handle most of those who have attacked his policies but as they are coming a little faster and more of them his usual habit of ignoring them has come to the point of paying some attention to them.

COLORADO RIVER FIGHT GOES ON

The fight for the Colorado River Authority bill has only begun. Its defeat in the closing minutes of the special session Wednesday morning was closely followed by revelations which can be counted on to make a great difference when it is resubmitted to the next legislature.

The fireworks were set off later a majority of house conference committee members had refused to sign the report.

Rep. Van Zandt attacked The Austin American and The Statesman for having urged passage of a bill vital to more than half a million citizens of Central Texas and to every Texan who uses power, a bill which the house had voted 90 to 13.

Van Zandt's speech inspired another by Greathouse of Fort Worth. He charged that arguments made to him by utility lawyers against the bill before the session began had been repeated on the floor by Rep. Hughes and fully reported by the Chicago Tribune, arch enemy of Roosevelt and the New Deal.

Greathouse's charges were backed by Rep. Graves, one of the conference committee.

Both men charged that the fight on the bill waged by Texas democrats was being inspired and encouraged by a republican paper in Chicago in the interests of the utilities.

Such leadership, had it been exposed a few hours earlier would, in the judgment of many house members, brought about a far different result. Because of the expose it will be useless when the legislature next meets.

A DIPLOMATIC PROBLEM

The high naval official whose duty it is to keep his country's fleet in shape to meet any emergency has a rather tough row to hoe, when you stop to think about it. Its toughness is revealed, indirectly, by dispatches from Tokio revealing that Japanese newspapers are all in a lather because the United States fleet is to hold its 1935 maneuvers in the vicinity of Hawaii.

These maneuvers, says the Japanese, can be nothing else than preparation for war with Japan. Thus Japanese fears and suspicions are heightened once more, and the harassed American naval authorities seem to be at fault.

But what is a poor strategist to do? He has to look ahead to possible war; he has to train his staff in the program that must be followed if some specific nation is the foe. If he doesn't, he isn't doing his duty properly.

In many cities you will find a bunch of "Calamity howlers." They spend all their time trying to tear down and no time at all in trying to build up.

"OUT OUR WAY" ———— By Williams

Sidelights on Legislators Is Given By An Austin Correspondent

By GORDON K. SHEARER United Press Staff Correspondent AUSTIN, Tex.—Rep. Bob Long, Wichita Falls, had the recent special session of the Texas Legislature under his thumb.

Long came to Austin early with a relief bill already drafted. He slapped it into the House bill hopper the moment he arrived and it became House Bill No. 1.

The session dragged through the usual 30 days of time-killing. In the last week the rush began to get bills through. Long's No. 1 bill had right of way. It was also the all-important bill of the session. Legislators had to act on it before they went home.

Among the other bills for which action was sought was the new "hot oil" bill. That, too, was Long's "baby." As author of the relief bill, he had the upper hand. All he had to do (and he did it) was to keep the relief bill back until members consented to act on the oil bill.

Whether it was all thought out in advance, or Long was just smart enough to see the opportunity as it developed, the result was the most clever maneuvering seen at a legislature in Texas for many a year.

Rep. W. E. Pope of Corpus Christi, holds Dallas largely responsible for opposition to mandatory suspension of tax penalties on city taxes. Insistence on making it optional with cities, Pope believes, defeated his bill. Now he has a plan to get even.

When Dallas asks for funds for the Texas Centennial celebration there, it is so much in favor of local option that I am going to propose that it be optional with counties whether they pay a centennial tax."

Rep. Joe McCullough, McKinney, accompanied a party of legislators who visited the Texas prison properties. Eastham Farm is the one to which "bad" convicts are sent. It is the one from which Raymond Hamilton and Joe Palmer escaped, with Clyde Barrow's aid. One 35-year convict at this "Alcatraz" of the state prison system raised canaries. At Huntsville where the solons attended a prisoners' vaudeville show, they heard a convict with two 99-year sentences sing, "Daddy, Dear Old Daddy, I'm Coming Back to You." They wondered when.

The song recalls former Gov. Pat M. Neff's experience on his first tour of the prisons as governor. Intrigued by the melancholy appearance of a negro prisoner, the Governor asked: "How long are you in for?" "From now on," answered the negro.

How the pendulum swings in legislative affairs was illustrated at the last special session. Business men who have been active in forming organizations to promote economy and keep down taxes, besieged the session with pleas for more spending. The lawmakers chuckled as they contrasted the plea heard at the "economy session in Jan. 1933, and those of the last session.

Polls having become popular among newspaper correspondents at Austin, one was taken on the relative chances of Coke R. Stevenson, Junction, and R. W. Calvert, Hill-Cro, to be speaker of the 44th Texas Legislature. One offered to bet two to one that Stevenson is re-elected. Calvert, he withdrew the strong talk. One thought Calvert a cinch and others called it a toss-up.

When the State Board of Control studied the next Texas Relief Bill to ascertain their duties under it, they found this, "To seek the co-operation of the federal relief agency so that changes may be procured in the federal rules and regulations so funds can be spent more economically and judicially."

Rep. Joe E. Merritt, Snyder, does not use strong language. His exclamation is "Down the country."

Committee Saved State $285,770 In Cash This Year

By United Press

AUSTIN, Tex.—The Senate Investigating Committee, created to keep a watchful eye on the state's welfare during interims between legislative sessions, has saved the state $285,770 in cash, thousands of dollars more in future savings. The committee made a preliminary report to the third session of the 43rd legislature just ended.

It showed that the committee's inspection of oil and gas fields of the Texas Panhandle had resulted directly in the payment of $80,770.66 in additional taxes.

Correction of public school rolls accounted for a savings of $205,000 more for the state.

The savings effected this year are applicable also to future years.

State Comptroller George H. Sheppard said tax payments increased by $80,770 from one operator in the Panhandle field following the committee's hearing at Amarillo last April.

Sheppard also said that additional tax assessments will follow the committee's investigation, "and the benefit for the state concerning future payments will far exceed our first expectations."

State aid to public schools is based on the number of pupils enrolled. For many years legislators suspected that some scholastic rolls were "padded" to increase the school's allotment of state funds.

The committee looked into the matter. When school officials submitted their new scholastic rolls this month, State School Superintendent L. A. Wood estimated there would be 7,000 children's names than were of year's scholastic rolls.

The State Department of Education joined the Senate Committee in ferreting out fictitious invalid names on the school rolls. The work of both will mean a saving of $550,000 to the available school fund, Superintendent Wood has estimated.

Members of the Senate Investigating Committee serve only part of their term. They are reimbursed only their actual expenses. They are Senators J. W. E. H. Beck, Kalb, John S. Redditt of Lubbock, Will Martin of Hillsboro; W. Pong of Waco; Grady Wood of Denton; George Purl of Las; Walter Woodward of man.

The hotel manager announced that besides the first $5, a similar amount will be deposited on birthdays of each of the children until the age of 25.

Accumulated principal and interest at that time will amount to $155.13. The original $5 and all additional deposits must be left intact in the bank, the manager said.

Hasten to Sign Artist's Model

There was dirty work at the crossroads when Phyllis Brooks, above, beautiful artist's model of New York, was discovered by two movie studios almost at the same time. One company took a screen test of her, but the other got her name on the line by scrapping the screen test.

SISTER MARY'S KITCHEN

BY MARY E. DAGUE NEA Service Staff Writer

HOW about borrowing an idea from the tearoom and serving your family with tasty double-deck sandwiches for luncheon or a supper snack?

If the materials are thoughtfully selected, this type of sandwich may provide an entire, well-balanced meal with the addition of coffee, milk or other beverage. Protein may be supplied in the fillings, fat in the form of butter or mayonnaise and carbohydrates in the bread. Top this off with a dessert of fresh fruit and you have a fine meal.

Open sandwiches offer special opportunity for appetizing combinations for hot days in early autumn. Toasted or untoasted bread may be used for the foundation. Nut bread might be covered with fruit salad. A fruit bread is particularly good with a cheese and nut mixture.

Several kinds of breads often are combined in layer sandwiches. Whole wheat, white and rye are delicious with two kinds of fillings. For instance, you may combine marmalade and chopped nuts for one layer and a mixture of cream cheese and chopped sweet pickled watermelon rind for another, or use cucumber rings instead of the watermelon pickle.

Sections of tomato, radish, roses, pickles and parsley make attractive sandwich garnishes. All sorts of olives—stuffed, plain or ripe—sweet spiced pickles; carrot straws and celery hearts make pleasing garnishes for open fruit salad sandwiches or those made with fruit or nut breads.

Cottage Cheese Sandwich Trim crusts from whole wheat and white bread, allowing a slice of each for a sandwich. Spread one side of each slice with creamed butter. On one slice put a leaf of lettuce, spread with salad dressing and cover with slices of tomato. Spread tomato with salad dressing and sprinkle with a mixture of finely chopped celery and carrot. Cover with a second slice of bread, buttered side down.

A ball of cottage cheese rolled in minced parsley is placed on top of each sandwich. Serve on individual plates.

A Pledge For Patriotic Texans

A hundred years of freedom and progress is to be celebrated in 1936. Our progress as a State has been phenomenal. It is a source of pride to the Nation. Texans, true and unafraid, pledge themselves to the unparalleled success of their State's hundredth anniversary. "Men of thought, be up and stirring." Put this purpose before you. Let every Texan burn the Centennial pledge into his heart:

I will think—talk—write... Texas Centennial in 1936! This is to be my celebration. In its achievement I may give free play to my patriotic love for Texas' heroic past; my confidence in its glories that are to be...
