and children of Midland were recent visitors in the home of her mother, Mrs. Viola Groves.

Mrs. Vernon Red has been a patient in the Ranger General Hospital for the past week.

The FHA mother daughter banquet was presented last Friday evening at the homemaking cottage here with their teacher, Mrs. Elizabeth Vaught in charge. The chapter mothers, Mes. Dorris Cooper, Haynes, T. M. Alford and Travis Reese, received corsages of red roses. A program was presented by five of the homemaking girls. The menu consisted of chicken and dressing, giblet gravy, cream potatoes, green beans, salad, cranberry sauce, ice tea, rolls, and coconut pie.

Mr. and Mrs. Tiny Norton and E. A. Norton of Odessa have been visiting in the home of A. B. Anderson.

Berry Elliott, who suffered a heart attack on Tuesday night of last week and was rushed to the Ranger General Hospital, is showing some improvement at this time. His son, Dean, who was in Alabama was rushed to his bedside.

Mrs. Nettie Fox is still ill at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Gordon Woods of Cisco.

Visiting in the home of Mr. and Mrs. M. S. Holt last week were Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Holt of Heaton, Oklahoma and Mrs. Winice Graham and girls of Louisiana.

Mrs. E. E. Sharp has returned home from Loving, where she had been visiting her brother and family. Mrs. Sharp also attended the wedding of her niece, Sue Parton while there. She visited in Bryson and in Holliday with her sister, Mrs. Burford Combs and family.

Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Yarbrough, have moved to the Thorp place south of Olden. Yarbrough is the Singer Sewing Machine dealer for Eastland County.

Last Monday evening at 7:30, a group of people met at the Church of Christ parsonage for a social get-together. Those from out of town were Rev. and Mrs. Clarence Brock from Moran and Mr. and Mrs. Irvin Harrison of Ranger.

Mrs. Ruth Simmes and son of Odessa returned home Sunday afternoon after having spent the week here with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. O. T. Hunt and Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Simmes.

Mrs. Lee McGuire received word last Thursday of the death of her aunt who lived in Level-land.

Last Saturday evening the Father-Son banquet was held in the Educational building near the Baptist Church, with 30 fathers and sons present. The Thanksgiving theme was carried out, throughout the evening. Rev. Carol Herring and Gilbert Copeland were the principal speakers. The WMU ladies prepared and served the evening meal which consisted of chicken and dressing and all the trimmings.

Moore About-

In fact, the press box lid almost came off a couple of times. About the only calm man up there was Don Norris, who staffed the game for the Abilene paper. (Nice coverage we got in the R-N, didn't you think?)

We hope Southwestern Bell doesn't charge us by the call this week. The phone almost rang off the wall Saturday. Everyone wanted to know where the regional game was being played. Sorry we didn't get the information in time for Sunday's paper.

If you don't like football, we know this has been a hard-to-read column. In fact it was probably hard to read even if you do like the sport. But frankly, there's little else to write about around Eastland now the way the town is keyed up.

See you Thursday.

ATTEND THE CHURCH OF YOUR CHOICE EACH SUNDAY

SUGAR DADDY WITH A SWEET TOUCH—A striking example of sugar sculpture is this 400-pound Taj Mahal, created by A/2C Julian Malek, right, of Mitchell Air Force Base, in Long Island, N.Y. Malek used sugar cubes mortared with sugar royal icing. The task took three months of evenings and weekends to complete. The work was on display at the Hotel Show in New York City's Coliseum.

Visible Gasoline Tax

Service station dealers in several states are starting to make customers aware of exactly how much of their gasoline dollar is going for taxes. Petroleum Week, McGraw-Hill publication, reports that station operators in Delaware have put up permanent signs calling attention to the eight cents tax that the state's motorists pay for each gallon of gas. Similar postings are occurring in West Virginia (nine cents) and Colorado (nine cents).

Less Colorful Hose

Men's hosiery colors have swung toward more conservative shades, reports Textile World, McGraw-Hill publication. Argyles and solid color hose are being made with a prominence of blacks, navies, browns and grays. Pattern colors follow the same trend, blending rather than contrasting with the main color.

conditions, drinking and driving, extended darkness, and pedestrian errors. Each citizen is urged to exercise the proper restraint upon his personal conduct during this holiday season, and to back the official stepped-up traffic safety program in Eastland, Texas.

Winter Care Of Evergreens

Evergreens can go through the winter undamaged if you anticipate the weather extremes and prepare for them in advance.

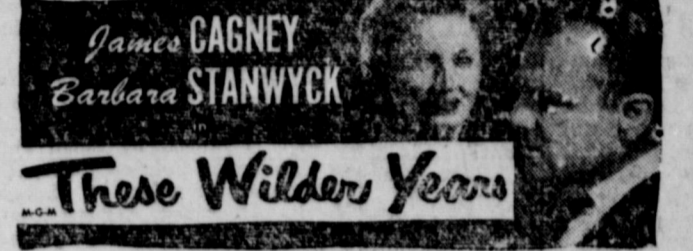

The two most common types of damage are winter burn, a drought damage, and mechanical damage by ice, snow, and wind.

Evergreens are winter burned when their needles lose moisture faster than their roots can replace it. To prevent this, thoroughly soak the root zone of your evergreens as late in the winter as possible. Mulch the plants to prevent unnecessary water loss, and screen younger plants from drying winds with temporary screens.

Strong stakes tied to the central stems of upright evergreens will keep them from snapping under the weight of snow and ice, the magazine advises. When snow comes, brush it off the plants while it is still dry and loose.

Mrs. Bill Tucker

So many people have been victims of that nasty known as a bad cold. It usually takes a week to recover the effects. And the young and old alike, have taken colds.

We were unable to attend church last Sunday, due to this.

Mrs. Richard Tucker has also been indisposed with colds. Mrs. Lee Anglin reports her share of the same malady, and others.

Mrs. J. J. Tucker who was a patient last week in the Gormar Hospital, for medical treatment, was able to be carried to the home of her daughter, Mrs. Ben Howard, in Ranger to recuperate.

Another daughter, Mrs. Eva Stone, of Coleman, visited her mother while in the hospital, and later will have her mother for an indefinite stay with her in Coleman.

Pob Love, of Odessa visited last week with his brother, Melv Love and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Ferrell Jones and Mrs. Minnie Douser, both of Sipe Springs visited in the Lee Anglin home on Thursday afternoon. They came to enroll the Anglin's in the Sipe Springs chapter of the Eastern Star.

Due to inclement weather, only a few people were present at the regular meeting of the Progressive Club at Alameda.

Mrs. Bill Tucker went to Temple on Sunday to attend the board meeting of the Texas Home Demonstration Association, held in the Kyle Hotel Monday and Tuesday, Nov. 26-27. Mrs. Tucker goes as the state chairman of education, THDA. The members of her committee will be named following the meeting.

Mrs. Bud Lay visited in the Ernest Broom home last Sunday.

Mrs. J. P. Strickler is making an indefinite stay at Carbon with her daughter, Mrs. Pearl Snell and Mr. Snell. Mrs. Strickler was feeling much better lately.

Roger Peterson, the young Canadian student of the ministry from Abilene Christian College again filled the preaching appointment at the Cheaney church of Christ on Sunday. Young Peterson and his wife stated they had never seen black-eyed peas, had never seen peanuts, or had any knowledge of how they grew. The young couple are thoroughly enjoying their stay in the United States, and especially the rural neighborhood contacts, such as his church work.

This scribe visited Mrs. Lee Anglin on Friday and watched as she took a huge fruit cake from the oven. And did it look good. She has also begun making her Christmas decorations. We especially liked the small bells of various sizes, made from tin can lids, fashioned and hung with gay colored ribbons and used as door chimes.

Don't Walk Head Down To Eternity

"Don't walk head-down to eternity!"

In those words, E. C. McFadden of Dallas, President of the Texas Safety Association, advised Texas pedestrians to do their share to make the current pedestrian protection program of the Texas Safety Association a success.

"Walking with shoulders hunched up and head down is unhealthy in more ways than one, especially when you're walking in traffic," said McFadden.

"It's one of the surest ways to walk yourself to death."

McFadden pointed out that in order to stay safe in traffic a walker must be aware of what's going on around him, and he can't do this if his eyes are focused on the ground or his face is buried in his coat collar.

"I'm constantly amazed by the traffic antics of some otherwise intelligent Texans," McFadden said. "They cross streets between intersections, dash out from behind parked cars, and disregard traffic signs and signals."

McFadden added that as long as pedestrians continue to act in this fashion the pedestrian traffic toll will continue to be unnecessarily high.

"Walkers must learn that staying safe in traffic is a serious matter," he said. "It calls for complete attention to the job. One false move, one split second of inattention can be disastrous. The wise pedestrian walks as if his life depended on his alertness—and, as a matter of fact, it does."

Safety Trend Marks Hunting Season So Far

Cold fatality statistics relayed straightaway by all news media were credited by the Executive Secretary of the Game and Fish Commission for "stopping cold, at least temporarily," an alarming hunting casualty rate for this year.

He said that the first two weeks of the waterfowl hunting season "apparently had a perfect record so far as concerns hunter deaths." At that time, he added, "not even a serious shooting accident had been reported to our office. But Texas is a big state and some details might not have reached us."

The Executive Secretary authorized statement before the major shooting seasons opened on ducks and geese stating bluntly that the fatality rate, including fourteen gun deaths in the field, indicated potentially more casualties than last year when Texas unofficially led the nation in hunting deaths with thirty five.

"The causes behind the fourteen first tragedies, stated without floss, pointed up the dreadful hazards involving a loaded gun, carelessly handled, said the Executive Secretary. "The result must be a victory for straight forward statement of facts—or plain every day education through the news media. Frankly, we hated to emphasize hunter casualties and be guilty of spoiling fun for so many potential hunters. But the risk seemed justified in view of the trend of that time. After all Texas with its tradition for gun savvy can very well do without the distinction we unfortunately gained last hunting season."

ATTEND MEETING

Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Jones and Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Burton attended a transmission meeting at the Worth Hotel in Fort Worth last week.

VISIT DAUGHTER

Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Urban and Kaye, of Waynoka, Oklahoma, visited their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Horn and Debra during the Thanksgiving holidays last week.

Texas vs. A&M On Television

Probably one of the biggest football audiences in Texas history will see the Texas-Texas A&M game Thursday afternoon over TV with Kern Tips and Alec Chesser. More than 20 TV stations and 65 radio stations will carry the traditional Turkey-Day battle.

Protection of Memorial Stadiums sacred tradition will be the aim of Texas University as A&M hasn't won a game there in 32 years.

Only in 1948 were the Aggies able to get so much as a tie with a freak pass enabling them to finish the game 14-14 in the last seconds.

RJC Player Is On Second Team

Ewing McLearn, speedy RJC halfback, was picked as one of the backs on the All-Pioneer Conference football second team. The first and second teams were selected by the coaches, and McLearn was the only man from RJC to be named to any post on either team, or in the honorable mention column.

CARD OF THANKS

We would like to express our sincere thanks to all of the ones who helped with the Benefit Recital and donated personal checks for our grandchildren and to the public in general. All donations have certainly been appreciated. A special thanks to the Women's Missionary Union of the Bethel Baptist Church for the Thanksgiving basket. Everyone has been so kind.

Check Now And Prevent Farm Fires Later

Officially, winter is still a few weeks away but colder weather has arrived. When temperatures drop and all forms of heating equipment are brought into use on farms, the chances for farm fires increase. Every year in the nation more than 100 million dollars worth of farm property is lost to fire and members of the Texas Farm and Ranch Safety Council say most of this vast loss can be prevented.

W. L. Ulich, extension agricultural engineer and secretary of the Council says studies made at many of these destructive fires shows that defective chimneys, carelessness with combustible materials or misuse of petroleum products rank high as causes of farm fires.

He says the Council recommends that a check be made now of all heating equipment used on the farm whether in the home or in connection with water systems or in other farm buildings. Cracks or other chimney defects should be repaired and rusted or burned out stove pipes should be replaced. Petroleum products should never be used to start or hasten a fire. Make sure, emphasizes the engineer, that combustible materials are protected and stored away from heat sources. He suggests using a metal or asbestos floor covering under wood or coal-burning stoves and a spark arrester on the chimney to eliminate the risk of a roof fire. Care should be taken to see that stock water tank heaters, brooders and other types of farm heating equipment are installed safely and kept in good operating condition. Make sure, he adds that dampers in stoves or furnace pipes are never closed so tightly as to force carbon monoxide or other gases out into a room. To, he cautions against running combustible motors in closed shops or garages. If farm machinery is being repaired in a closed shop, make sure the ventilation and heating systems are safe and in good operating condition. Keep combustible materials away from heat whether it comes from a stove or a torch being used in connection with the repair job. Care can prevent waste.

Watch Vitamin 'A' Deficiency, Stockmen Told

Feed containing a good source of vitamin A should be provided this winter for cattle on drought-stricken pastures, suggests P. T. Marion, animal husbandman for the experiment station at Spur. Such feeds as cottonseed meal and hulls, sorghum grain, dry sorghum bundles, prairie hay and weathered Johnsongrass hay contain little or no vitamin A.

Green feed was not available in much of Texas this year and cattle could not store in their bodies enough of this essential vitamin to supply their minimum requirements until grass turns green next spring.

Vitamin A deficiency symptoms in young cattle are night blindness followed by swelling of the joints, watering of the eyes and a tendency toward respiratory ailments. Under severe long-time deficiency conditions, calves, yearlings and two-year-olds may become day blind, have convulsions and eventually die.

One to four pounds of this year's alfalfa hay will provide a minimum supply of vitamin A, Marion said. Twenty pounds of sorghum silage daily per head will do for cows. Short grazing periods on good wheat pasture or similar crops also are good.

Commercial feeds fertilized with synthetic vitamin A may be fed. Cows weighing 1,000 pounds can be fed fortified cottonseed cake or protein pellets at a cost for the added vitamin A of one cent per head daily, Marion said.

If fish oil products are used, Marion suggests that only a month's supply be bought at a time because this form of vitamin A is not as stable as other synthetic products.

Wintering experiments conducted at the Spur station show that some protein supplement should be fed with silage. Cows receiving silage alone had a lower calf crop and the calves were lighter than when fortified or unfortified cake was fed.

TWO GIRLS, A CHEVY AND A RECORD!

A meaningful achievement in automobile performance

Most automobile performance records you read about these days are set on a track or closed course. The results are usually pretty difficult to relate to the kind of day-in, day-out driving most of us do. Running at safe and legal speeds, a '57 Chevrolet recently chalked up a new coast-to-coast record on the road. And the way it set this record is even more important than the record itself!

A new '57 Chevrolet recently proved it has the qualities most people look for in a car—and proved it on the roads you travel, under the same conditions you drive in every day. It broke the record for the coast-to-coast run from New York to Los Angeles (certified by NASCAR). It was a strictly stock, V8-powered Chevy. It was driven by two young ladies.

This last fact, we think, is even more important than the impressive new record set by Chevrolet. Oh sure, it's nice to know that a Chevrolet can cross the country in one uninterrupted span—and do it in less than 57 hours. It's a tribute to Chevrolet's great-hearted V8 engine and solid road-worthiness that it could travel day and night for 2,913 miles at safe and legal speeds—and better the existing record for the trip by more than three hours. But it's only when you consider that all the driving was done by 98-pound Betty Skelton and her friend Caroline Russ that the true significance of this record run becomes apparent.

When a pair of young ladies step into a car and drive it round the clock to a new transcontinental record, you know that car is easy to drive. You begin to see what we mean by smooth-cruising comfort . . . by nailed-to-the-road stability by sweet-feeling sureness of control . . . by quicksilver responsiveness.

We'd like you to get to know this new Chevy. Stop in and see how beautifully it does all the things a car should do.

RAIN A PARAGUAYAN ROADBLOCK

For 24 hours after it rains in Paraguay, it's illegal to travel on almost every road, reports Fleet Owner, McGraw-Hill publication. There are only 50 miles of hard-surfaced roads in the Latin American country—slightly larger than the state of California—and the roads are little better than trails. Almost all land travel in Paraguay is by horse and wagon. Only a few people in Asuncion, the capital, have automobiles. There, the streets are paved with cobblestones.

America made good roads and built concrete bridges in all parts of Santo Domingo.

Forgiveness Is Hard, Tough, Rough, Charlie Marshall Tells 9:49 Class

"Forgiveness is hard, tough and rough, and a bitter dose to swallow," Charlie Marshall told the Men's 9:49 Bible Class at its regular Sunday meeting. "But we've got to do it," he went on.

Marshall was discussing the International Sunday School lesson on the Prodigal Son, which, Marshall said, could well have been titled "The Forgiving Father" as forgiveness is the central theme of the parable.

God's forgiveness is available to all of us, but we've got to make a move to get it. We've got to go part of the way with Him and he'll do the rest, provided we come to Him with a forgiving heart, Marshall said.

This week's lesson is the third of three parables Dr. Luke relates in the same chapter. The first is about the shepherd with 100 sheep who loses one. He went out looking for that one that was lost. This is an example of what God does; he looks for lost sinners and goes after them.

The next parable is about the woman and the lost coin. She turned the house upside down looking for that coin, and there was great rejoicing when she found it. There is likewise great rejoicing in God's Heaven when a lost sinner is saved.

In the Prodigal Son parable (Luke 15:11-24) the son, after wasting away his inheritance, comes to his senses, arises and decides to return home. His father, seeing him coming from afar, runs down the road to meet him.

Marshall said a man can be in a "far land" as far as God and His Kingdom is concerned and be in sin every Sunday. Because, unless a man comes to God with a forgiving heart, and is willing to forgive all who have sinned against him, he won't be forgiven.

This is a basic principle of the entire Christian philosophy. In the Lord's prayer Christ brought out this point: "Forgive us of our sins as we forgive those who sin against us." Marshall said we can sin without being fully aware of it. For example, the brother who stayed at home in the parable. He was somewhat jealous when he came in from the fields to find the house all lit up, the fatted calf killed, and great rejoicing going on in his father's house. He asked his father why he didn't make a big to-do over him who had stayed on the place and didn't go off on a wild spree, spending all his money and making a fool of himself in general. We 49ers can easily see the brother's position in this matter. We are often in just about the same situation ourselves. And under those circumstances it is very easy for us to get a little self-righteous.

Marshall taught the class Sunday in the absence of Frank Sparks, who was scheduled to teach, but who is now on a tour of Cuba, Jamaica, and other Caribbean ports.

It's good to know that the good attorney will be in Jamaica about the same time the British prime minister will. Perhaps he can give the noted Englishman the benefit of his experience and wisdom and help free the Prime Minister of the jitters of the Kremlin grimins that have been bothering his administration the past few weeks.

Class vice president Leonard Florence presided in the absence of ailing president Travis Harrell. Florence announced that Chief Justice Hickman had definitely accepted a formal invitation for him and Mrs. Hickman to be special guests of the class June 9, 1957. This will be the Sunday of the Eastland High School Homecoming. And with this announcement Earl Bender felt heir to another chore — providing ushers for the balcony.

Next Sunday the lesson will be Unit 9 of the thirteen-lesson series on "Great Passages of the Bible." This one will be from John 14:1-14.

Remember that passage you learned as a kid. "In my father's house are many mansions; if it were not so, I would have told you." This is in next Sunday's lesson. And the central theme of that lesson is that Christ was God on earth, the Incarnation of God.

Charles Marshall will again teach the lesson next Sunday and vice president Florence says it'll be interesting to hear how he will handle this subject. And Florence would like to invite all men of Eastland to come out and see what Marshall does with this subject. Marshall demonstrated last Sunday to the 9:49 Class that he had missed his calling. He should have made a preacher instead of a school teacher, as he can preach better than a lot of preachers.

Garland Hargus let the class know that he was going on a deer hunt this week and that he would furnish the venison for a barbecue when he got back from this hunt. Arrangements on this barbecue will be completed when the Hargus party gets back. But he'll furnish venison even though they should fail to make a kill in the hill country where they're going hunting.

If they don't kill one, they'll buy one from the San Antonio zoo, so everyone can whet his venison appetite and be ready to sink a solid tooth into some choice venison — free.

Never Mind the Weather—

... Once said Mark Twain, as there is little or nothing we can do about it. True, we can't, but we must take into consideration the effects of weather on our daily lives and on our material possessions. For example, weather has a lot to do with fires, explosions, collisions and burglaries especially winter weather. In summer it's hail and wind and the dreaded Polio—all effects of weather, directly or indirectly. So let's mind the weather by keeping prepared—keeping insured.

Cadillac

Surpasses its Own Great Reputation!

You're looking at a mighty surprised man.

Almost all of his adult life he has owned Cadillac cars. And so, when he came in to see and drive the new 1957 Cadillac, he thought he knew about what to expect.

Well, here he is—barely under way in the city's traffic—and already he is learning the startling truth.

He is learning that nothing could adequately prepare a man for the new "car of cars"—not even Cadillac ownership itself!

He suspected it, in fact, the instant he caught his first glimpse of this newest Cadillac creation. This was an entirely new kind of Cadillac beauty—brilliantly fresh in line and in contour.

And then he opened the door and swung into the driver's seat—and found added evidence all around him. On every side were new miracles of interior beauty and comfort and convenience.

And when he turned the key and put his foot on the accelerator, his sentiment grew to conviction. The car was incredibly nimble and quiet and smooth of ride.

Surprised, did we say? Well, just wait until he hits a stretch of open highway.

That great new engine is incredibly responsive. There is new balance and ease of motion. And the car is so easy to handle that it seems almost to know the road.

No question about it—this is the Cadillac that literally surpasses its own great reputation!

We suggest that you come in soon to see and drive this surprising new Cadillac. It's an experience you shouldn't postpone—and one you'll not soon forget.

You'll be welcome at any time.
