Roosevelt Attacked for U. S. C of C Criticism

That reminds me...

Received one of those chain letters from Kansas City and contents noted with the usual five names and instructions as to go about it to bring in the dimes and they promised many of them but it was necessary of course to send the guy on the top line a dime (and we suppose the poor boob down the line are waiting patiently for said dimes) and since the top name gets the full breaks he no doubt will get either five dimes or all of them if more. The fellow that started the thing is the money maker and was not a "chump" at all; unless the law gets hold of him. Instead of sending out just five letters, whoever started it probably sent out a thousand, with his name at the top of every one of them. That guy cashed in right now and let the rest of the "suckers" check in just an occasional dime. These dime (and some folks are getting letters to send a dollar) chain letters should be thrown in the waste basket, but if a touch of sporting blood gets the best of one's judgment, don't put your name on the bottom of the list—put it on top. Isn't that the guy that's sure of his dime or dollar? And since the writer controls where to put the names, and self preservation is the first law of nature, then put 'er on top brother and sister. But remember if you do, "Uncle Sam" is looking for dime and dollar letter writers and those dimes and dollars may become a most unpleasant and costly episode. So the moral is, don't write your name or anybody else's any request of sending any money. Better turn the letters received over to the postmaster and let them do the rest.

Thank God for the rains, wherever they fell, and it looks like most of the drouth areas received a share of rain and snow. Nitro or anything else cannot take the place of nature and its functions. When it gets ready to rain it will rain and when it don't it won't. As a fellow said the other day: the drouth begins when it quits raining and quits when it starts raining. That's good logic so there you are.

At a meeting of the committees of the celebration of the opening of Highway 89 Friday afternoon arrangements were made whereby the Cowboy Band of Simmons University at Abilene will be a feature of the day's musical program. This band will start a tour of the European nations in the near future for concert appearances. This will be their second tour for such purposes and has made an enviable reputation wherever they appeared. Other details were taken into consideration for further reference and action.

Better Homes and Music Week will hold the attention of Eastland folks during the next week. Special programs will be held opening with a special program at the Methodist church Sunday evening in which the First Methodist choir of Waco will sing. This program promises to be one of the best they have had on this occasion.

Another big feature of next week all over the nation is Cotton Week. Merchants will place on sale merchandise that has cotton as its basis and since cotton is a major product of Texas, folks should buy cotton goods for all purposes.

Trades day promises to be another big event for Eastland Monday and all kinds of entertainment are on the cards for the folks that come to the event. Merchants will have special bargains for the occasion.

Rodeo Wins Out and Rodeo
One inspection of rodeo grounds on North Seaman street Saturday was enough to convince H. C. Davis, secretary of the Eastland Chamber of Commerce, that no rodeo could be held Monday, trades day.

Water stood around chutes to the depth of six inches and indications were would increase hourly. Even if the rain subsided before Monday, the secretary concluded, a rodeo could not be held.

More than likely, Davis said, the next rodeo will be in June.

Blond Charmer Wins Oil Man

The blond charms of Loretta Andrews, above, that won for the 21-year-old St. Louis girl elevation from a Hollywood chorus to acting opportunities, have won for her a wealthy mate as well. Following the marriage ceremony in Reno, Nev., she is honeymooning in California with Frank A. Allen, Los Angeles oil man.

COMPROMISE ON BONUS IS NOW UNCERTAIN

WASHINGTON, May 4.—Senate democratic leaders conceded today that chances of working out a compromise on the soldier bonus question were doubtful.

Senator Pat Harrison, Dem., Miss., conceded that had the senate voted yesterday, administration forces would have been swept to defeat under a powerful bloc of votes built up by Senator Huey Long, Dem., La., and Elmer Thomas, Dem., Okla.

The pending question is whether the senate will accept the Vinson-American bonus payment plan as a substitute for Harrison's compromise. The vote will be taken Monday in the face of administration warnings that a presidential veto definitely awaits the Vinson measure.

SNOW, RAIN COVER MOST OF THE STATE

Winter spread a two-inch layer of snow over the Texas Panhandle today in a freakish late spring return to the drouth parched plains storms.

Large wet flakes of snow continued falling in the Panhandle as rains spread fanlike over the remainder of the state, drenching corn and cotton fields and pastures. Winds accompanied the rain in East Texas (damaging roofs at Van.

At Dalhart where Tex Thornton had been attempting to bomb moisture from the clouds, the snow measured two inches. Grainmen said the moisture would benefit grain crops, already practically ruined.

Precipitation at Amarillo, mixed rain and snow, measured .25 of an inch as the temperature dropped below freezing. The ground was covered two inches.

At Abilene .70, Childress .92, Quanah 1.82 of rain was reported. Rains varied from four inches to fractions in practically every section of the state.

Sixteen dead and scores injured were reckoned in the trail of rain and storms that swept over eight Mississippi Valley states.

Floods in Indiana and Illinois held threats of further losses of life and property.

Wind and rain caused 11 deaths in Arkansas and four in Kentucky. An accidental death attributed to the storm was reported in Tennessee.

At Louisville, Ky., 709,000 derby day visitors were greeted by a 50-mile an hour wind. Roofs were ripped off. Clearing skies were predicted today.

Winds of tornado force swept a broad section of Central and South states including Arkansas, Tennessee, Mississippi and Louisiana, accompanied by heavy rains and storms.

Hurricane gales destroyed houses and crops in northeast Arkansas and temperatures fell.

Honolulu Ready For the U.S. Fleet

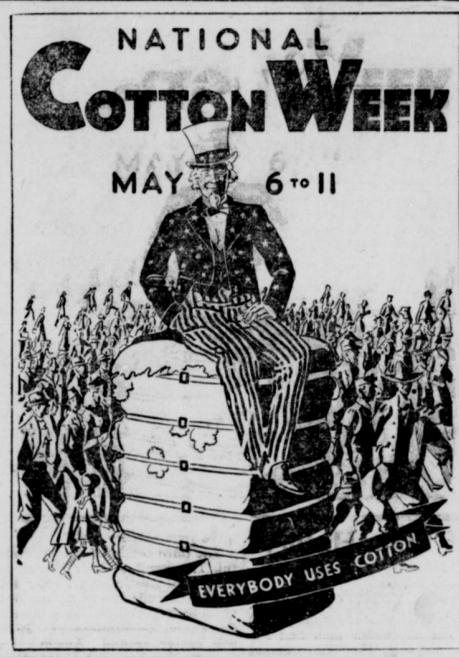

HONOLULU, T. H.—While concentration of the U. S. fleet within Pearl harbor, the nation's largest naval station, will test the ability of the base for wartime use, concentration of 55,000 officers and men promised to test the Honolulu transportation system.

Transportation facilities to handle 20,000 men a day between Pearl harbor and Honolulu, a distance of eight miles, were being prepared in anticipation of the fleet's visit here in May.

A double highway plus a double-tracked railroad will handle the sailors coming here daily on shore leave. The trains will handle 3,000 men hourly to and from Pearl harbor, 500 men to Schofield field beach at Haleiwa. Motor coaches will take care of the balance.

Four separate landing ports have been designated within the harbor proper. Boats from the warships will bring the men ashore on a regular 15-minute schedule. Each day 9,000 men will come ashore at the submarine base, 3,900 at Pearl harbor, 3,500 at Aiea and 2,000 at Waiana.

It has been arranged to put the entire transportation system into operation on a few hours notice. This was made necessary since the exact date for the fleet's arrival probably will not be announced until shortly before the war craft arrive.

REPUBLICANS CALL SPEECH VERY 'UNFAIR'

Republican Leader Says Members of Group Know of Conditions.

WASHINGTON, May 4.—President Roosevelt's criticism of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States for its stand against the new deal, brought a lashing attack against the president from house Republican Leader Bertrand Snell today, who said it was "absolutely unfair."

Snell assented the president had accepted the chamber's support during the first two years of the administration as that of business generally "and he certainly didn't find fault with the chamber until it started to criticize the new deal."

"The president in his fireside chat, said he welcomed constructive criticism," Snell said. "The members of the Chamber of Commerce comprising representative industrialists of every state, are certainly in a position to know much about the practical effect of the new deal as any other body of citizens."

Oil Men Oppose Federal Control at Chicago Meeting

CHICAGO, May 4.—The oil industry today announced a program opposing any effort to establish a federal petroleum board, classifying it as a public utility, but admitting a need for control of crude oil production.

The program was drafted by 40 oil men, governors of the American Petroleum Institute, in an effort to harmonize attacks on the entire NRA oil code and a contention of the producers that they have profited by federal and state control.

A resolution was prepared for submission to congress referring to the Thomas bill as an "economic straight jacket."

Hitler Has Won Back German Confidence

European politics is never easy for an American to understand, and the understanding is made a good deal harder by our habit of classifying the rulers of Europe as good men and villains.

We see a man like Hitler, for instance, we add up the insanities of Jew-baiting and concentration camps which he has given Germany, and we assume offhand that he is a dark and unholly scoundrel.

And then, when we see Germany giving him almost unanimous support and cheering him with wholehearted fervor, we cannot understand it; and we take it for granted that the Germans have willfully and perversely deluded themselves.

It would be better if we should take the trouble to realize that Hitler's immense popularity with his people is a perfectly natural thing with an entirely logical explanation.

Milton Bronner, veteran European correspondent, points out that Hitler is above everything else the man who has enabled Germany to forget the humiliations of a lost war and a disastrous peace.

For 16 years, he remarks, Germans lived in a sort of nightmare. The glorious war that they were to have won so easily had been lost. Instead of a victorious peace, with a triumphal march down the Champs Elysees, there was Versailles, with the German delegates forced to sign on the dotted line like so many criminals.

After that, Germans saw allied armies on the Rhine. They saw French troops in the Ruhr. When Germany wanted anything her statesmen had to go to London or Paris, not as equals, but as suppliants.

Always it was the Germans who were summoned to foreign cities to be told what the victors had decided on. Even when Germany was released from certain treaty obligations, the release came not as a matter of right, but as a boon.

Hitler simply put an end to all that. He thrilled his countrymen by announcing that they would have army, navy and aerial forces as they saw fit and not as some foreign powers decided.

He made the foreign statesmen come to Berlin to confer. Under Hitler, Germany ceased to be a suppliant for favors; instead, foreign powers were begging her to help preserve peace.

A change of this kind, coming suddenly, does something to the national morale. As Bronner points out, Hitler has enabled the Germans to stop feeling like inferiors. Consequently, they idolize him—and small wonder!

We cannot hope to have an intelligent viewpoint on European affairs unless we first understand that Germany follows Hitler for the most natural human reasons imaginable.

Romance Has Not Died With Square-Riggers

The day of rip-snorting romance at sea is supposed to have ended about the time when the steamboat shoved the last of the square-riggers off the main sea lanes.

But romance doesn't depend on the trappings of tradition. As long as there are oceans to be crossed and men to cross them there will be adventure, and romantic things can happen to a seaman today just as well as they did 100 years ago.

Consider, for instance, the surprising things that befell a young man named J. Ancil Bayette, who went to sea for a lark last June after graduation from the University of Florida.

Bayette shipped on a four-masted schooner for St. Vincent, in the Cape Verde Islands. The schooner had a load of lumber and automobiles, and it immediately ran into very heavy weather—so heavy that it took 114 days to make the trip, whereas even Columbus did it in 90.

Anyway, on arrival at St. Vincent, the skipper got into difficulties with the owners and was dismissed. And then, by a freak of chance, young Bayette, fresh out of college, was put in command, and the schooner took on a new cargo and cleared for the west coast of Africa.

Old Man Trouble was still on the prowl. More storms came. The old schooner sprung a leak—or, more accurately, a whole set of leaks. And the young collegian who went to sea for a lark found himself commanding a foundering hulk in an Atlantic gale, with his frightened crew putting in 24 hours a day at the pumps.

Finally the pumps clogged. The schooner became waterlogged. The young skipper found his brief career of command climaxed by the necessity of abandoning ship.

And at last, with food and strength and hope vanishing together, they managed to land on the tip of the island of Brava, in the Cape Verde group, where they slept in caves on a rocky beach until one of their number was able to walk to a settlement and summon help.

So the romance of the sea is dead, is it? If you think so, you might ask this young college lad from Florida.

'WANTA GO FOR A RIDE?'

'Dusting the Covers of Texas History' For the Texas Centennial Celebrations of 1936

The report of the first committee to select a site for the seat of government was accepted. Instead, another commission was appointed, Patrick C. Jack, ardent patriotic citizen of Brazoria.

Veto of that particular tract was a blow to the men, but persistent Congressmen sent out a third commission April 14, 1839. West of the Brazos was favorable. Perhaps that section of the country would be better than somewhere along the coast. The Colorado and Brazos were being settled rapidly.

This time the three representatives and two senators were commissioned to select a site "some place between the Trinidad and Colorado and above the old San Antonio road." The place was to be named Austin, and there was to be enough room available for a university. Fur leagues of land, at least, were to be purchased, for not for more than $3 per acre.

Congress voted with a majority in favor of this Elbin's tract. San Antonio received one vote; Mound Leogee and Grove's Retreat received none at all, Black's Place, Bastrop, San Felipe Nacogdoches, Comanche, Richmond were others possibilities that received from one to four votes apiece. Confidently the bill was turned over to Houston.

BEHIND THE SCENES IN WASHINGTON WITH RODNEY DUTCHER

BY RODNEY DUTCHER, NEA Service Staff Correspondent WASHINGTON—Republicans go into earnest huddles with increasing frequency. Each time, they play "Button, button—who's got the button?"

Privately or publicly, they tell each other that the G. O. P. must have an issue, must formulate a program, must unite in connection with principles with which it can lure wayward voters from the false gods of the New Deal.

Definite suggestions are few and lame, and the state of popular opinion is such, according to some observers, that almost any position the Republicans might now take would be strategically impossible.

In reality, their position is similar to that of the Democrats after the Hoover landslide of 1928. Only a business slump can give the Republicans the ammunition they need.

The G. O. P. is not so constituted that it can be more radical than the New Deal. It can't find room on Roosevelt's zigzagging middle road. It must land somewhere between Rooseveltism and Hooverism, which is what many of its leaders have in mind.

Leaders in Washington are praying for some means of keeping Hoover cloistered in Palo Alto, for they know that Hoover and Ogden Mills are at this time not any too useful in lining up popular votes.

PRESUMABLY it is this baffling state of affairs which leads National Chairman Henry Fletcher to drag out the old "red" issue with such statements as: "The planned economy of the Wallaces, Warrens, and Tugwells (and the president is responsible for their acts and must approve

Stern Roosevelt Maps Works Plan

A more stern phase of President Roosevelt's manner of addressing the nation was manifest in his latest "fireside chat" in which he called on all to help make the $4,850,000,000 public works program effective. He's shown speaking from his desk at the White House, hailing the new state of

One of the high lights of the program the choral group presented by Miss Wilma Beard, delighted their audience with their rendition of "Mammy's Lullaby" and "Prayer Perfect." The shading in these selections was unusually good. Thirty-five girls formed the group, very attractive in their costumes of navy blue with white buttons. Elbeteen Bagley, had a charming voice solo, in one of the numbers. The glee club numbers from both ward schools brought big applause, and deservedly so. Their attractive uniforms were bright spots in the recital.

The piano solos were brilliantly performed and the violin solo by John Allen Mouser was one of the best performances given in his appearance on Eastland programs.

A lovely reading was given by Miss Betty Perkins, and an unusually good reading by Jerry Bailey, from Ammerman studio.

The keynote talk of the program, "Music in the Home," combined both the Better Homes, and the Music Week teaching, was the brilliant contribution of Mrs. Hollie Bennett.

Mrs. Arthur Vaughn was in pink evening frock, and the ushers, members of the Junior Music club, Miss Jo Earl Utz, was in yellow satin; Miss Ruby Lee Pritchard in red taffeta; Miss Clara June Kimble, green satin; Miss Carolyn Doss, pink crepe; Miss Louis Flack, pale pink taffeta; Miss Olivette Killough, pink taffeta; Miss Marie Plummer, green taffeta.

Band Concert Huge Success
The high school student band concert given Friday night in the Methodist church was heard by a good audience that half filled the auditorium despite the stormy night.
This is the second concert of the Better Homes-Music Week series, was opened by Mrs. Nora Hatley Mahon, presiding chairman, in a feature talk on Music in the Homes, concluding with the introduction of Bandmaster Collum.
The program given as published in the Eastland Telegram, had a charming number by Leo Wolf, and Katherine Collum, a flute duet, of Mr. Collum's composition.
This is said to have been the best band concert Eastland has enjoyed.

Professor Collum, in his talk on "Influence of Music on the Youth of Today," dwelt on the beauty of music in the home, and the interest it aroused in the youth of the family, keeping them from undesirable things. He thanked all for the fine co-operation he was receiving, and all those who have contributed towards the purchase of the bass drum for the orchestra, including the generous gift of the Music Study club.
Mrs. H. O. Satterwhite, president of the club presented an outstanding talk on "The Influence of Music in the Home, and the interest it aroused in the youth of the family."
The program was varied, and appealed to all tastes. The closing number, "Home on the Range," was a fitting finale.

PIECE OF CAKE EIGHTY YEARS OLD

By United Press

CASTLE ROCK, Wash. — Mrs. J. G. Elderkin retains a piece of cake baked by her mother's sister which has been kept in the family for more than 80 years.

Cost of Food Per Family Increased

AUSTIN, Tex.—Average cost of adequate weekly food allowance for a family of five in Texas has increased 16 cents since October, 1934, it has been announced by Mrs. Helen Swanson, consultant dietitian of the Texas Relief Commission, who recently completed a study of reports from 212 Texas counties.

Average division of the food dollar, if an adequate food allowance is to be provided at low cost, is 30 per cent for milk, 30 per cent for fruits, vegetables and legumes, 15 per cent for cereals, 13 per cent for fats and sugars, 9 per cent for meat and eggs, 3 per cent for coffee, soda, salt and other foods.

Average cost of milk in Texas in March was slightly more than 11 cents per quart, and very slightly less than six months ago.

Milk, fruit, vegetables and eggs show an expected seasonal decrease in price and relief clients have been urged to use more of these "protective foods."

Chief significance of the analysis, Mrs. Swanson said, is that although the price of some foods has increased appreciably, the low cost foods in the quantities sufficient to provide an adequate diet have shown only a slight increase in cost. In other words, the foods which have shown the greatest increase in price are not necessary in any considerable quantity for an adequate food allowance.

Mrs. Swanson stated that the food cost survey was taken in order that the social welfare department might have an itemized index to use as a guide in setting up food budgets, in adjusting prices for school lunches and in making specific recommendations to individual counties regarding economy of certain items; to guide the field administration department in appropriation of funds; the commodity distribution department in making available larger quantities in counties where the article being distributed costs more; the rural rehabilitation department in choosing counties by taking into consideration cost of food along with other factors influencing designation of the areas for the rehabilitation centers.
