Came very near being real winter again Thursday night. A cool weather kept creeping up during the later afternoon with threatening clouds and plenty of cover was in order at bedtime. Cloudy weather continued today but slightly warmer.

With several days rainless weather and if it happens so through Saturday night every indication points to a good business week for the week. From many sources comes the information that business is getting better and better. There is no question but what Eastland is becoming more and more the popular trading center of this entire community. Merchants are carrying larger stocks and a greater variety, which is all to the advantage of the trading public.

After 30 Years of Hard Work..

-Politics wants to Smash it...

It hasn't been so long ago, even in the large cities and towns, when electric lights blinked and electric service was limited. Each isolated electric plant had its own rules for restricting the use of electricity. In some towns electric irons could be used only on one day a week.

But that was the time before unified management under holding company development became an important factor in the electric industry.

Now as you drive down the highways, you see long stretches of glistening wires, stretching from pole to pole, from steel tower to steel tower. To the village, the cross-roads and the farm, these transmission lines have brought 24-hour metropolitan electric service. Thousands of small communities and rural districts in the country today would have had to wait for years to obtain electric service were it not for the inter-connected transmission systems made possible by electric holding companies and unified management. It took the holding companies, working with and aiding the local electric companies, thirty years of hard work to do this job!

Now federal politics would smash it all!

This is the aim of the Wheeler-Rayburn Bill, now pending in Congress. It would abolish holding companies which have been such a large factor in the widespread use of electricity, in the lowering of electric rates and in making electricity the great service it is today.

The Wheeler-Rayburn Bill completely ignores this fine record!

The effect of this legislation would be even more far-reaching. This legislation would ultimately ruin the privately owned electric and gas companies with their local citizenship, local tax-paying, acceptance of local civic obligations and local control and regulation. In their place this legislation would substitute "remote control" by political commissions in Washington.

If government can invade the field of one business, it can invade all. Whose might be next?

Boys Open Filling Station So Can Go To School In Fall

Opening of the Horned Frog filling station introduces to Eastland a business with a motive different from any other, it was announced Thursday.

ing Arab and Texaco gasoline and different motor oils. Car washing will also be included. The motive of the station, it was stated, is to raise money to send the operators to Weatherford junior college next fall. All profits, it was explained, derived from the running of the station through the summer months will be placed together and will in no way be divided at the end of summer.

group with Coleman as the sponsor will go to Weatherford and rent a house. They intend to do a great portion of their cooking as well as housework and washing. The house will be furnished with furniture from their homes in Eastland. They have hopes of putting three men on the football team this fall, Darrell Tully, Hart and Marshall Coleman.

"CRACKED ICE"

BY SEBE The dear old institution of learning seems to be on a slump or something along that order. When final exams are over that is the place that every student wishes to be the furthest from, but on the other hand there are some that just can't stay from summer school.

Dearest, it would be quiet a pleasure to have your company at the Carnival Thursday night, May 10, 1935. D. E.—Well, well, it looks as if Foster has gone in for note writing also. After he wrote this one he wrote an encore something like this—506 Plumber street Eastland Texas. If this isn't formal enough to suit you I will arrange to correct my mistakes as you see proper. Love D. E. The young lady that Foster seemed to be so interested in seems to be a visitor in the dear village.

When we asked Garrett if he was through with women he merely replied, "I ain't talking." As Tully and Leslie slipped near the bed of the sleeping Mahon they heard him muttering something about taking a date to that outfit. Well, Mahon if you are that hard off maby the gallant Tully would introduce you to some of his Cisco friends. Whats the chance Huff Ham?

Lost—five pound channel catfish somewhere west of the spillway at the Eastland Lake. Finder please contact Bailey Hinton and receive a liberal reward. That was his fish but he didn't catch him.

Advice to the lover—Tanner thy name is mud if you don't get Jane in a bit earlier in the future. My good friend Bobby tells me that things didn't run so smooth the other night after you kept her out until the wee hours.

I can't see why Jack Collins and Bill Doss don't meet on a back street and battle it out some dark night. It ought to be worth seeing. Get the connection, Clara. It may be a little deep but give it a little thought and things ought to smooth out O. K.

The Junior-Senior dance proved to be a big hit and I don't mean a ball game by that either. If a girl danced five steps without getting tagged someone was considered stuck. The stags were in the largest number over, but I think everyone got to dance a step or two except Tobe Hart. Just think what a sensation he'd be if he only had that big brother's technique on making love. I tell you it would be unbeatable.

Cy Perkins just can't see how it can be done, and I'm not positive but I still have hopes.

Bob Hart is the kind of a boy who will play softball until seven forty-five if he has a date for eight o'clock. Being late might make him more important, but I wonder whether they speak or not. Just think what a sensation he'd be if he only had that big brother's technique on making love. I tell you it would be unbeatable.

FLASH—D. Tully, idol of Eastland and half of Cisco (girl half), is actually planning on doing some work this summer. I can't understand what made him do it unless he saw that John Hart was going to atke a chance too.

And by the way, this has nothing to do with Lewal, Williams. Its strictly business.

Can you imagine a speech teacher making an impromptu speech? Powell did. I thought they had a speech already made out for every occasion.

Can you imagine G. W. Curry offering to play tennis with Frances. That guy surely doesn't know Slew very well.

"Peaches" Davis received the grandest compliment ever to be handed down a few nights ago. The fellow at the carnival who had charge of the baby ride told her she was too big to ride. I'll bet she hung around that guy all night asking him just so she could hear him say that.

The sleeping beauty (when he has his head covered up) of a camping trip—Bob Sikes. That guy would sleep if fish were jumping out on the bank so fast you couldn't count them.

I see Aubrey Brawner has been running around in that white puddle jumper a good bit lately. Maby he could join in with Bill and Jack and make it a battle royal.

So until I see your smiling faces around at the Horned Frog Service Station, so long.

At DeLeon they were joined by several business men who went with them to appear before the state highway commission and ask for the extension of highway No. 81 from DeLeon to Desdemona. This highway extends from DeLeon to Fredericksburg and connects with other important roads.

Sincere sympathy is being extended to David Parks on account of the death of his mother, which occurred on May 9 at Iredell. Mr. and Mrs. Parks had visited her a few days before her death and went to the funeral. She was over 80 years old.

The many friends of Mrs. Betty Vestal, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Bedford, will be glad to know that she is expected to be able to leave the Burnett sanitarium at Fresno, Calif., on Saturday after having been there two weeks being treated for serious injuries received in a head-on collision of two cars. The most serious of her injuries were a dislocated vertebra. For the past two years Mrs. Vestal has made her home in Fresno.

Navy's Pacific Flight Proves Our Security

The great ocean flight of those four dozen navy fighting planes is a magnificent spectacle and a great demonstration of the long-range striking power of the modern air force; yet it would be easy to go entirely too far in drawing lessons from the performance.

As a proof that naval warfare has been transformed by addition of a new weapon of vast potentialities, the flight is without parallel. But it does not yet prove the truth of all those excited assertions that our secure isolation is ended and that we are within easy reach of the aerial fleets of foreign powers.

A flight of this kind in mid-ocean is a great achievement, to be sure. But a great battle fleet was on duty along the route.

There were no anti-aircraft defenses to leap over, no squadrons of hostile planes to brush aside, no obligation on the four dozen pilots to return to their starting point without a stop.

In other words, this flight does not prove that a European or Asiatic power would find it simple to send an air fleet over to bomb our cities. That may be possible some day, but it certainly is not the case today.

It is rather important to keep that fact in mind. We have a preparedness group in this country which is just about as militaristic as any similar group overseas; and this group can be expected to use this navy flight as the basis for a demand that we increase our aerial armaments until they are the equal of any other such armaments on earth—on the ground that we shall not be "secure" until we do so.

A recent survey (published in the Aircraft Yearbook for 1935) shows that we rank fifth in battle planes, France, Russia, Great Britain, and Italy are ahead of us.

We have 2060 fighting planes, of which about 1600 are wholly up-to-date; and the Yearbook remarks that this is less than half the strength required to put us "on anything like an equal footing with other powers."

But the point to remember in all this is that we don't need to be on an equal footing with these other powers. The Atlantic and Pacific oceans have not yet shrunk to the dimensions of the Great Lakes.

Our air fleet may be outclassed by four others, but it would most certainly be able to overwhelm any hostile air fleet that could actually reach our shores.

That is all an advocate of national security can ask. We don't contemplate aggressive action overseas. We can be satisfied with security at home.

And this Pacific flight falls far short of proving that the airplane has been developed to the point where it destroys that security.

Summer Sweethearts By Mabel McElhott

BEGIN HERE TODAY Katharine Strykhurst, daughter of wealthy Victor Strykhurst, is deeply attracted by Michael Heath-eroe, who runs a riding school. Katharine is discontented and restless under her stepmother's rule. Thrown from a horse, she is taken to the home of Violet Merser, who once was in love with Katharine's father. Violet is drawn to the girl and they become friends. Dr. John Kaye, just back from Europe, visits the Strykhursts. Zoe Parker, Katharine's closest friend, is in love with Gibbs Lark-in, and persists in seeing him in spite of her parents' objections. Katharine asks Dr. Kaye to help her keep Zoe from eloping with Gibbs. Now Go On With the Story CHAPTER XIV Katharine said miserably, "I don't know what to do." The enormity of her offense in helping Zoe make a rendezvous now struck her with full force. But she couldn't tattle, even if she had unwittingly overheard Zoe's plot to elope with Gibbs Larkin. "There's just nothing we can do, I suppose," she said to Dr. John Kaye. "But I feel—oh, terrible about it all!" "Bad business," he commented quietly. "You think so, Johnny?" He shrugged his shoulders. "I've known Larkin quite a while." "He's such a rotter," Katharine burst out angrily. "And Zoe's honestly the sweetest thing." "But she's grown up," the man reminded her. "I really don't see how you can interfere. You didn't eavesdrop intentionally..." "Oh, of course not," Katharine flamed in some indignation. "What we might do," pursued John Kaye quietly, "is to find them and stick to them like limpets all evening—not let them out of our sight. And perhaps balk it this time anyhow." "John, you're marvelous!" "But would it do any good?" demanded the man. "Wouldn't she dash off at the very first chance and marry him?" Katharine shook her head de-

Fourth Week of May Festival of Hits at Lyric Theatre

Four Outstanding Attractions To Be Presented During This Week

The fourth week of the "May Festival of Certified Entertainment" opens at the Lyric Theatre today. Four outstanding attractions will be presented during the coming week.

Opening Friday and continuing its run through Saturday, the attraction "Sequoia," will be presented. This Metro Goldwyn Mayer unprecedented drama of wild animal revolt is something totally out of the ordinary in motion picture entertainment. "Sequoia" is something more than a motion picture. It is a document that will bring out the better side of mankind—that makes the soul revolt against man's inhumanity to other creatures of the earth. In every theatre where "Sequoia" has been shown it has held audience breathless with its thrills. Jean Parker and Russell Hardie have the romantic leads in the picture.

On a midnight preview at 11 p. m. Saturday night and for one day only Sunday, the attraction, "G-Men" will be shown. James Cagney in the starring role in the production has the best role since his outstanding success in "Public Enemy." The picture is said to be the most thrilling and dramatic picture ever presented—based on sensational newspaper headlines which have covered the front pages of newspapers all over the country. While the picture presents no names of the public enemies, nor emphasizes any time or place of the actual battles, few will miss the actual connections that take

Stars in New Comedy

That superb screen team, Guy Kibbee and Aline MacMahon, stars of such recent film comedies as "Rabbit" and "Big Hearted Herbert," return in their latest picture for the Warner Bros. cameras, "Mary Jane's Pa." It will open at the Lyric theatre on Wednesday.

"CLIVE OF INDIA" AT THE LYRIC MONDAY and TUESDAY

The great pictures of today are war pictures—without war. Darryl F. Zanuck, who recently completed "Clive of India," with Ronald Colman, his first million-dollar production for 20th Century Pictures, makes this seemingly paradoxical statement.

"I selected 'Clive' " he goes on to explain, "because the background has the sweeping breadth and dramatic brilliance of war without the roaring of cannon.

"The success of my previous production, 'The House of Rothschild' proved the popularity of this type of film. The story centered around Napoleon's campaigns and his final downfall at Waterloo, yet Napoleon and his soldiers were seen and heard for only a few seconds on the screen.

"Wars are not so important of themselves, for defeated people rise to fight again. The effects of war on those people is the significant thing, the thing which makes great drama. Looking back over the big pictures of the past, we find not only 'The House of Rothschild,' but 'Cavalcade,' 'Seventh Heaven' and even 'Smilin' Thru' with war as an undercurrent.

"'All Quiet on the Western Front' and 'The Big Parade' were significant not so much for their big battle effects as for their protest against the inhumanity of war. The actual fighting scenes could have been eliminated to the extent that we minimize them today, and the pictures still would have been great.

"Similarly in 'Clive of India,' which exploits the daring and dramatic manner in which Robert Clive rose from the position of humble clerk to become the greatest hero, the scenes he obtained his victories on the battlefield are confined to flashes.

"There is in the life of Clive a greater dramatic stirring scenes of his battle. I wanted to tell Colman a story of breadth. When I saw on stage that private Robert Clive, with a rattle and pomp of which I had found the looking for. That is what I had in mind for my first production for 20th Century.

Loretta Young is as lovely as Colman as the lovely spirited Clive's bold wife. Joseph M. Schenck, which Richard Boleslawski from a script by W. P. and R. J. Minney, and London stage hit, and name, "Clive of India" through United Artists.

READS OF SLAYING WINS S. Regis Toomey was the article concerning the Department of Justice gangsters, when he was made to all in the First National offer. Next day he was to play in "G Men" as the trip of the storm trip home brought to Eastland modern of cor mees and heares take and combin the best service c the citizenship of a group of the of the Hamn service which indi or everything we the most valu

Leading The War On Crime

James Cagney and Margaret Lindsay, fresh from their triumphs in "Devil Dogs of the Air" have the greatest roles of their career in the first film to show the exploits of the Department of Justice's battle against organized gangs of crooks. See them in "G Men" at the Lyric theatre, 11 p. m. Saturday night, and Sunday.

"Sequoia" Depicts Revolt of Animals Against Mankind

place. An all-star supporting cast headed by Ann Dvorak, Margaret Lindsay and Robert Armstrong add much to the attraction.

On Monday and Tuesday the attraction "Clive of India" will be presented. Co-starring Ronald Colman and Loretta Young, this million dollar production from the 20th Century Studios, presents this popular pair in the greatest picture of their career. The story is taken from actual chapters of the life of Robert Clive, who rose to greatness only to be dragged down and broken by his enemies. This production has received the highest awards from critics all over the country including a four-star rating from the Liberty Magazine.

On Wednesday and Thursday the attraction, "Mary Jane's Pa," will be shown. Rollicking humor, pathos, fast and intense action, romance, all are contained in this light comedy-drama. Co-starring Guy Kibbee and Aline MacMahon, this inimitable team have made a worthy successor to their last outstanding comedy success, "Big Hearted Herbert." Others in the cast include Betty Jane Haney, a winsome child actress, Tom Brown, Nan Grey and Robert McWade.

"Sequoia" Depicts Revolt of Animals Against Mankind

Secrets of the wild things of the great American forests and animal scenes never before witnessed by human beings are now to be seen on the screen in "Sequoia" (pronounced "See-quo-yah"), Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's startling and "different" picture, which will open Friday at the Lyric theatre.

Struggles to the death between male deer during the mating moon, the unceasing warfare of mountain lions and other wild animals have been captured by the camera after one of the most unusual series of expeditions in the history of motion pictures.

For months in the spring and summer, until heavy snows blocked the roads and trails, M-G-M's little band of adventurers penetrated the great mountain wilderness of the West. With camera and sound truck they went into governmental game preserves where the sound of a gun is never heard, and where wild life exists as in the days when the white men first came across the prairies.

Day after day and night after night they lay in wait beside game trails and water holes, little by little recording in scene and sound the life-and-death adventures of the animals. The result is a thrilling and breath-taking record of life in the American wilderness.

Jean Parker, one of M-G-M's youngest and most sparkling players, and Russell Hardie, who scored on the New York stage before achieving outstanding notice in pictures, have the principal roles, although the center of interest is held by the animals. Others in the cast are Samuel S. Hinds, Paul Hurst, Ben Hall, Willie Fung and Harry Lowe Jr.

Based on the novel, "Malibu," by Vance Joseph Hoyt, the unusual picture was filmed under the direction of Charter M. Franklin.

HOW ANN DVORAK KEEPS HER FIGURE

Ann Dvorak whose dancing thrilled audiences in the Rudy Vallee picture, "Sweet Music," and who has one of the leading roles in which she both sings and dances in the James Cagney Picture, "G Men," which will open at the Lyric Theatre at 11 p. m. Saturday night, keeps fit by a series of exercises she invented herself.

Wearing shorts and a sweater, Ann begins her day by jumping up and down from a crouching position. Then she does shoulder exercises and high kicks, in order to gain suppleness and strength of the stomach and back muscles.

Ann takes her exercises in the center of a bare room, shunning all apparatus, and her slenderness is the envy of her girl friends. She is five feet, five inches in height and weighs only 110 pounds.

CRIME EXPERT USED FOR MAKING "G MEN"

So that no technical error could creep into sequences of "G Men," the First National picture showing at the Lyric Theatre Saturday night and Sunday, the company engaged Frank B. Gompert, criminologist of the Los Angeles county sheriff's office, one of the country's leading experts. James Cagney has the stellar role in the picture, which depicts the U. S. Department of Justice men's battle against crime.

LEARNS TO SHOOT SUB GUN IN DAY

Barton MacLane, who plays "Public Enemy No. 1" in the Warner Bros. picture, "G Men," which comes to the Lyric Theatre on Saturday night, became a proficient gun marksman in a single day. Despite his many years as a stage "heavy," he had never seen an actual machine gun until his assignment to the role of a gangster in "G Men."
