VOTE TAKEN THURSDAY IN UPPER HOUSE

Senators Vote 54 to Override Veto to 40 to Sustain the President.

WASHINGTON, May 23.—The senate today sustained President Roosevelt's veto and killed the Patman bonus bill by a vote of 40 to sustain and 54 to override. A two-thirds vote was necessary to override.

Champions of the $2,200,000,000 measure could not win the two-thirds majority necessary to have the senate join the house in overriding. The vote against the Patman plan definitely killed it for the session, but did not down the issue.

As debate proceeded before the packed galleries, Patman forced tried to swing votes their way. Senator Elmer Thomas, Dem., Okla., warned that sustaining of the veto would not kill the issue. Already bonus advocates have begun a plan for a new attack.

SOUTH TEXAS FLOODS ARE RECEEDING

South Texas paid for an overabundance of rain today in hundreds of thousands of dollars as the Brazos river receded from one section of cotton and corn land and inundated additional thousands of acres.

The heavy swell of flood waters rolled toward Hempstead, lapping higher and higher at outlying lowlands. Farm families moved from their homes where the rise was greatest, while others upstream returned to their homes.

Some planned to replant corn for late harvest, but there was no hope for cotton, as there was not time left for it to mature. Meanwhile Texas rivers to the west and the Sabine river in Southeast Texas offered new threats as the floods flowed toward the Gulf. Wharton reported the Colorado reached its highest point yesterday, though no damage resulted. The crest swept toward Bay City and the Gulf.

Farmer Injured By Mule Attack

SAN AUGUSTINE, Tex.—R. L. Reynolds, farmer living about 18 miles south of San Augustine, was recovering today from severe injuries received when he was attacked by a mule. Reynolds was riding the mule in the field where he had been working, when the mule threw him and put his foot on the farmer's chest, breaking his collar bone.

The farmer managed to free himself, after nearly dislocating his right arm, but the mule followed him and knocked him to the ground. The animal then bit him on the back and shoulders, inflicting painful flesh injuries. Reynolds was finally rescued by Jessie Albright, farmer, who happened to be nearby. Physicians reported the case very unusual but said Reynolds' condition was not serious.

From 2,000,000 submitted, about 500,000 are used in the publication.

SIX KILLED IN MANEUVERS BY THE NAVY

ABOARD U. S. S. PENNSYLVANIA, with Pacific Fleet, May 23.—Six navy airplane crew members were killed Tuesday night, while directing rescuers to a stricken sister plane, it was revealed today. The man died when their plane plunged into the Pacific after circling high above a second craft which had descended in distress 40 miles south of Midway Island.

The disaster was the most serious of a series which marked the fleet problem 16 in which virtually the entire sea forces of the United States are concentrated. The lost plane members were part of the defending forces of the fleet. The craft whose rescue they had gone was one of the attacking force. The plane was scouting the open sea early Tuesday evening, about 40 miles south of Midway Island, when it saw a plane in trouble on the water. The rescue plane radioed for destroyers to go to the rescue.

It circled about the spot, maintaining radio communication and directing the rescue craft. An hour later, a few minutes before the cruiser Raleigh arrived, the plane plunged into the sea. Although the agents refused to say who they had in custody it was rumored the prisoner was Alvin Karpis, one of the few remaining southwestern desperadoes. It was reported Karpis had been captured at Boise, Idaho.

U. of T. Baseball And Track Teams To Keep Their Stars

AUSTIN, Tex.—University of Texas baseball and track teams, which coasted to easy victories in the Southwest conference this spring, will return almost intact next fall. Graduation will remove Bob Hillard, regular second baseman; Capt. Buster Baebel, center fielder, and Del January, utility outfielder, from Coach W. J. Ditch's line-up, but his freshmen reserves are deemed to offset the loss. Clyde Littlefield's powerful track squad, champions four times in a row, should be the strongest in history, if all eligibles return for next season. Moody Pickett, sprinter; Frank Hubbell, javelin thrower; and Osborne Hodges, weight man, are the only losses to his team thus far. Sophomore recruits next year are the most promising in years, with sprinter H. V. Reeves, Jr., former Schreiner Institute star, likely to furnish Texas the fourth man for the nation's finest spring relay team.

Wallender, Rockhold, and Grunstein, fastest of the record-breaking relay sprinters this season, all return for competition. The decedent was the wife of C. H. Adams of Borger, and was formerly Miss Myrtle Ellen McNabb, a member of a pioneer family of the Lacasa valley. She died of pneumonia.

Oil Well Flows But Does Not Pay

PALESTINE, Tex.—An oil test into which he sank his lifetime savings 30 years ago still mocks John Nemer, a native of Syria. Nemer drilled the well, known as the John Nemer No. 1, to 1,100 feet, using crude equipment of that date. Several shallow sands were found, but none in profitable quantities. The well was abandoned because, when a plentiful supply of oil was discovered, there was too much water mixed with it. After unusually heavy rainfall the well still flows oil over the ground.

But the only use made of it is to lubricate farming machinery of those living in the Jarvis area in which the John Nemer No. 1 is located. GIRL MARBLE CHAMP CANTON, Ohio.—Virgil Kidder recently won a marble tournament in Minerva public schools near here. Girls had been left out of the tournament, and they protested to the principal, who finally arranged an event for them. Betty Mae Whitacre, 11, won it, challenged Virgil, and surprised all concerned by besting him.

It was reported Karpis had been captured at Boise, Idaho.

Relief of the Needy Is Service To All

The public relief problem that has been with us for the last five years has been a good deal like Topsy. It just grew, and it grew so fast and so unexpectedly that we never had time to chart our program very far in advance.

As a result, the transition from private charity to public funds was upon us before we realized it, and we made the change as a matter of necessity rather than choice.

Today, with all indications pointing to a progressive decline in the relief rolls, it might be profitable to re-examine the whole question and see what attitude should be taken in the future.

Homer Folks is secretary of the State Charities Aid association of New York City, and in that capacity has had long experience in the matter of giving relief to the needy.

In a recent speech before the Philadelphia Welfare Federation, he suggested that the greatest danger is that we shall lose our "instinctive belief that kindness to a person in need is not only a service to him, but a social service to the community."

A few years ago Elihu Root declared that the most notable change he had seen in America during his lifetime was the growth of the spirit of compassion. A generation ago, he said, people were not always moved to pity and action by the sight of suffering; today they are.

This new quality of active sympathy he thought a most important factor in American life.

Mr. Folks suggests that whatever the change in our relief methods may be, it is supremely important for us to retain this attitude.

If we turn from the thought that it is an obligation of the community to see that need is relieved, that distress is averted, are we not unconsciously turning away from the democracy itself?" he asks. "Are we not turning away from rule by persuasion, by group thinking, by patience, and to a rule that inevitably must be coercion—by the strong arm and, in no distant time, by mass force?"

This, then, is perhaps the fundamental point at issue in our mapping of a future relief program.

This, then, is perhaps the fundamental point at issue in our mapping of a future relief program.

The mechanics of the program may vary. We may even return to the old idea that in ordinary times private charity can carry the load, with the state taking it over only in emergency.

That is not so important. What really matters is that we continue to realize that the relief of want is a community responsibility—that when some of us go hungry, all of us are made to suffer.

There's a big health secret in Electrical refrigeration

Constant temperature under 50° safeguards food. Then it is safe for the family health.

NO WOMAN will serve food to her family that is the least bit tainted—if she is aware of it. But often it is impossible to tell whether food is as fresh as it ought to be. Food may look all right, it may smell all right and may even taste all right, yet might be unfit to eat and even harmful to health because it has not been refrigerated properly. Only a bacteriologist can detect the early stages of spoilage.

BE SURE WITH AN ELECTRIC REFRIGERATOR

It is not practical to inspect every bit of food with a microscope, nor even necessary if food is kept at a low enough temperature to prevent the growth of bacteria. Years of experience have proved that a temperature of 50 degrees or less is required to keep perishable foods fresh and wholesome, and that temperatures over 50 degrees might allow food to spoil.

The modern electric refrigerator is designed to safeguard the food you serve your family by maintaining a constant cold of less than 50 degrees, even on the hottest days. It is entirely automatic and removes all doubt as to whether milk, meat, left-overs or other foods are perfectly fresh, even after they have been kept several days.

ELECTRIC REFRIGERATORS $81.50 INSTALLED

These new "Lift-top" electric refrigerators were designed to give the maximum of refrigeration value at a low price. The frills and gadgets that add to the appearance, but not to the refrigeration qualities, have been omitted. They keep food as fresh as the most expensive electric refrigerators, they make ice-cubes, 20 or more at a time, and have ample food storage space for a small family. And they can be bought on convenient terms of only a few dollars a month!

Secrets of the wild things of the great American forests and animal scenes never before witnessed by human beings are now to be seen on the screen in "Sequoia" (pronounced "See-quo-yah"). Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's startling and "different" picture, which will open Friday at the Lyric theatre.

Struggles to the death between male deer during the mating moon, the unceasing warfare of mountain lions and other wild animals have been captured by the camera after one of the most unusual series of expeditions in the history of motion pictures.

For months in the spring and summer, until heavy snows blocked the roads and trails, M-G-M's little band of adventurers penetrated the great mountain wilderness of the West. With camera and sound truck they went into governmental game preserves where the sound of a gun is never heard, and where wild life exists as in the days when the white men first came across the prairies. Day after day and night after night they lay in wait beside game trails and water holes, little by little recording in scene and sound the life-and-death adventures of the animals. The result is a thrilling and breath-taking record of life in the American wilderness.

Jean Parker, one of M-G-M's youngest and most sparkling players, and Russell Hardie, who scored on the New York stage before achieving outstanding notice in pictures, have the principal roles, although the center of interest is held by the animals. Others in the cast are Samuel S. Hinds, Paul Hurst, Ben Hall, Willie Fung and Harry Lowe Jr.

Based on the novel, "Malibu," by Vance Joseph Hoyt, the unusual picture was filmed under the direction of Charter M. Franklin.

Sensational Tire Hunt Finished By Noted Detective

One of the most unusual and spectacular surveys ever conducted by an American manufacturer has just come to an end in New York City with the arrival there, following a two-months' "tire hunt," of Joseph A. Faurot, one time Deputy Police Commissioner of that city and the man who first used fingerprints as evidence in an American courtroom.

News of Faurot's sensational search for tire evidence from one coast to the other has just reached C. T. Lucas, local Goodyear tire dealer. The famed detective's inquiry has revealed overwhelming national approval of the new "G-3" All-Weather Tread tire, it is stated by Mr. Lucas.

Setting out from New York with James Cannon, ace Manhattan newspaper man, who had just completed work on the Hauptmann case for his afternoon daily, Faurot visited parking lots, gas stations, garages and back yards from New York to San Francisco and from Winston-Salem, North Carolina to Detroit. Wherever he paused, he "three-degred" car owners for tire clues. They interviewed thousands of tire users and the results of this inquiry, according to Mr. Lucas, produced evidence of the outstanding performance of the "G-3" in all parts of the nation.

"I have been gathering evidence for a long time," Faurot stated on his return to New York. I guess I have worked on every kind of case that comes into a big police department's jurisdiction. But never have I seen a clearer case than that in favor of the 'G-3'. My notes contain cold facts I gathered in Whitesville, W. Va., Kansas City, Mo., Royal Oak, Mich., Albuquerque, N. M.—and hundreds of other places. I say they are cold facts. That's the truth. Every leaf out of my notebook shows satisfaction in the ownership of G-3's."

Faurot is present Chief of the Department of Identification of the Commercial Crime Commission. Formerly, as Deputy Police Commissioner of New York, he headed all detective activities for Greater New York. He is widely known as the man who introduced the Bertillon system of fingerprint identification to America. He was chosen by The Goodyear Tire & Rubber Company as the ideal man to gather facts on the nation's response to the new All-Weather Tread.

According to P. W. Litchfield, president of The Goodyear Tire & Rubber Company, who greeted Faurot on his arrival in New York, the trip has already registered results. "It is the most successful inquiry into consumer demands and consumer reaction that we have ever undertaken," said Mr. Litchfield. "Our new G-3 tire had been subjected to the most elaborate tests at our factories, but we wanted the real facts showing how it was performing in the hands of tire users. Mr. Faurot has brought us our answer—a report from the country at large. His reports more than ever confirm every claim we have made of the tire. We are highly gratified."
