This is the chance of a lifetime to show your family the thrill of flying and let them see this area from the air. A donation to the airport project will bring a free plane ride.

Soft drinks will be available at the hanger. The flights will be for a permanent paved and landing strip at the airport. The Jaycees are working for a permanent paved landing runway has been laid out toward the east boundary and will be expanded to 4000 feet by 50 feet wide. The club began the airport project in an effort to help Eastland secure new industries.

Winners Are Announced in EHS Stamp-History Event

Winners have been announced in a recent essay contest in which Eastland High School Civics students participated.

Postmaster Marene Johnson and Civics Instructor Shirley Frazier announced winners as follows:

Tied for first place were Marilyn Huckabay who wrote on Kansas Statehood, and Rhett Smith, who chose the credo stamp series.

Tied for second place were Cathy Clark who wrote on James Monroe; Sherry Carroll, who wrote on the Gadsden Purchase; and Marsha Treadwell, who wrote on America and Steel.

Honorable mention went to Lela Lee, who wrote on the Golden Magnet.

Mr. Frazier's class recently visited the Post Office where Mrs. Johnson explained details of her stamp mural there and challenged the class members to write essays on the relationship of history and stamps.

Cash awards were made to the winners Tuesday at the high school by Mrs. Johnson who also spoke briefly on the contest and the theme in general.

Ironically, there were 22 essays turned in, and there were only 17 class members present for the talk at the post office, indicating that interest in the special study was abundant.

Mrs. Johnson called all the essays "Just wonderful," and indicated that selection of the winning ones was extremely difficult for the judges.

Quarterback Club Plans Regulation Track Field

Construction of a first-class, regulation cinder track field is the ambitious project just undertaken by the Eastland Quarterback Club, according to an announcement by Joe Culpepper, public relations spokesman for the group.

The club voted at its meeting Monday evening to begin construction of the field immediately at the present practice field location, and the project is expected to require from $4,000 to $5,000 to complete. The project has been approved by the Eastland School Board, Culpepper said.

Walter Maynard is president of the Quarterback Club and Robert Lawson was elected secretary-treasurer at the Monday night meeting to replace Kenneth Thompson who is moving from the city.

Further plans and details of the track development are to be announced later, it was said.

Bridge Players, Beginners Are Invited to Game

The game is restricted to bridge players who wish to learn duplicate bridge and to players who have played some duplicate but have not won more than 20 master points, announced Lloyd London, director. Players do not have to belong to any club to play in this game, he said.

Entry fee is only 75 cents. Trophies will be awarded to players winning first and second places. Master point awards will also be given.

There will be a side game for players with more than 20 master points. Free coffee will be served. "Please attend this game and learn more about the fun in duplicate," Mr. London said as he invited area players to participate.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Wilson spent the weekend in Dallas last weekend.

Great Western Ceases Water Purchase From City

The City of Eastland lost its largest water customer, with a recent change in operations by Great Western Drilling Company here.

Great Western, which began a water-flooding project in the old Lake Eastland field in the fall of 1963, has paid the city about a thousand dollars a month since that time. March 13, the company switched to a different process and asked for a shut-off of water service.

E. V. Lippard, field supervisor for Great Western, said that the decision was made in the company's main office at Midland.

Lippard, who moved to

Great Western Ceases Water Purchase From City

Eastland in March of 1963 to supervise production, said that the company is still pumping wells at the field, but is not pumping water into the injection wells. He said that he considers this a trial arrangement, but did not know when water-flooding would be resumed.

TE CONTESTANTS—EHS Students, Marsha Treadwell and Clara June will be wearing Eastland colors at the State University Interscholastic Leagues in Austin soon. Miss Treadwell, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. M. A. Bell Jr., will compete in tennis, and Miss Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Smith, will be competing in typing competition. Both were first place winners in the regional meeting in Denton.

Letters TO THE EDITOR

EDITOR:

Just a short note to let you know how I'm doing. The Island of Guam, the largest population wise in the Marianas Islands, is called "Where America's Day Begins." We are 18 hours ahead of Texas.

I guess you've read in the papers where Guam - based bombers have moved to a new base in Thailand. Well, I'll be there with them within a month.

If anyone asks you how to see the world, tell them to join the Air Force and get married! Seriously, Diane and I both realize we are fighting a war and what my outfit is doing is helping to save American lives, so that makes it all a little more bearable.

I've taken some beautiful pictures here and I understand Thailand is a lot more scenic than Guam. If you ever decide to run a travlog-type article like the Perkins' trip to Australia, let me know and I can supply you with an abundance of copy and prints.

Well, I'll bid you goodbye with the Guamanian phrase "Hafa Adai" which means "wishes for you" when post-hear from you when possible.

Sincerely, Bill.
(A2C W. S. Herridge, AF 18750305, 161st A&E Task Force, Box 7065, APO San Francisco, Calif. 96334.)

Editor:

Due to the fact that I do not have a college education my wording may not be the best, but that does not keep me from being interested in my family.

To start with I think there are some parents that are interested but do not know what is going on in the schools. I have seen and read some of the awfulest, vulgarst things that have been written in our classrooms as it says there are. I understand that our school officials have their hands full and I have all the respect in the world for them as they deserve it, but I think it is wrong for young people to get by with it.

By the way, has your child come home from Elementary with a pill that another child has given him?

Our streets are not safe to be on anymore. It seems all our policemen but one is afraid to do anything and I am sure he is given a lot of guff. When your family and home are threatened what kind of town do we live in?

When our law enforcement officers or anyone else does anything and takes it before our courts nothing is done but someday there is something going to happen that will open everyone's eyes. Some people don't want to know the truth.

I hope this touches the heart of every parent or person that is interested as what I have said is true.

Take for instance the dances on the hill on Saturday night. Check with the people that work up there and ask them what happens. Or check the records at the court house as the records should not lie if they have kept one, or better yet, be out moving around when the dance breaks up or setting out in your yard and you will be surprised what goes on.

A parent Mrs. Beth Longly, General Delivery, Eastland, Texas.

hoped that the coming show

There are 15 steers and 6
heifers that have been started on feed and there are some exhibitors who are still search-steers. If there is anyone who wants a calf to show

Longhorn Herd Has Twin Calves Born At Albany

ALBANY—Twin calves, a comparative rarity, are the latest decoration for the famous Longhorn herd at Fort Griffin State Park near here.
And Park Superintendent
Joe Shelton reports they are thriving although ordinarily one, even sometimes both,
twin calves when the only nourishment comes from the mother.
Shelton, veteran keeper of the showplace herd, tried at first to catch the calves for special feeding. But wear and tear on the twins and himself made that unwise, he said.
Now the mother cow is kept in private quarters and given a variety of feed worthy of such a VIP parent. She gorges on cottonseed cake, nutritious special cubes and the best hay available. And the twins are "getting fatter by the day", boasted the proud Joe.
The twins are not the only new born celebrities among the herd of 61. A heifer bore an albino calf recently.
"Not a red hair on it," said
Shelton.
This and the twins were sired
by a pedigreed Longhorn
bull donated to the herd by Charles Schreiner of Kerrville, proprietor of the famous YO Ranch near Mountain Home. The new male has been on location 13 months as a replacement for another genuine Longhorn presented by Schreiner who has just been elected president of the Exotic Wildlife Association of North America.

Shelton said the first bull also was a good sire but he had too many "running,
bawling fits", perhaps mimicking the notorious pioneer cowboy frolics at this entrance to the famed Chisholm Trail. He had to be replaced to avoid offending neighboring ranchers.

Fire Prevention Districts Due To Aid Rural Folks

COLLEGE STATION—Rural
citizens may qualify for reduced fire insurance rates by creation of a fire prevention district, according to Reagan
Brown, Extension sociologist
at Texas A&M University.
Such a district, the sociologist emphasized, must be approved by the State Board of Insurance.

"Once a fire prevention district is established, the district becomes a political subdivision of the state with full authority to lease, own, maintain, operate and provide fire engines, fire stations and other equipment for prevention and extinguishment of fires within the district," he
said.
Brown added that the district may also enter into contracts with other districts,
including incorporated cities
or towns, for reciprocal operations or for facilities and services that would be mutually beneficial to the district.

The following steps were listed by Brown for creation of a fire prevention district
without one county:

- 1) A petition presented to the county judge, signed by not less than 100 qualified voters who own taxable real property within the proposed district, or else a majority of voters when there are less than 100 voters within the proposed district.
- 2) The petition must contain the signed agreement of at least two petitioners obligating themselves to pay costs (not to exceed $150) incidental to formation of the district,

cost of publication notices
and election costs.
(3) Filing of and hearing
on the petition by the Commissioners Court.

(4) A called election submitted as a single proposition to the qualified voters living in the proposed district.
In fixing the boundaries of a district, the Commissioners Court shall exclude all incorporated cities, towns, or villages in the event any one or more of them should fail to cast a majority vote in favor of the district and a tax levy
not to exceed 3 cents on each 100 valuation.

(5) Issuance of a co-
order after electoral app-
val.
Brown said that in cert-instances, it appears that potential reduced premium may offset a tax levy. If real savings from rural fire prevention will be realized
terms of property and liability when a county gains
the ability to fight fires quickly and efficiently.
He said more detailed information on rural fire prevention districts can be obtained by writing to Judge
J. Davis at the Attorney General's Office in Austin.

COMMUNITY THEATER AND HOW IT GROWS

Writer by a Reporter-News Staff Writer

EASTLAND — "The theatrical tradition is not new in Eastland," says the director of the Eastland Civic Theater's Bell Hurst Playhouse.

Virginia Weaver Russell was recalling the old Connellee Theater of the oil boom days here around the 1920s. That theater was host to Broadway touring plays and other professional companies during those bustling "black gold" days in Eastland County.

The theater, in a sense, has returned to Eastland in the form of an amateur playhouse that once "entertained" chickens. But times have changed... something like the Connellee Theater which played "the top of Broadway," said Mrs. Russell, and has long since been converted to movie theater's downtown Malestic Theater.

"This used to be an incubator where they raised baby chicks," she said of the 1966-founded Bell Hurst Playhouse. It is a frame building, 50 paces and 10 paces wide, and retains the ventilated tin roof under which thousands upon thousands of chickens began walking.

THE YEAR 1958 was the last time chickens hatched on the ranch, as the "fowl business" was discontinued on the place then.

"We don't have a chicken on the place," she said. However, Mrs. Russell noted: "It still could operate as a chicken farm."

Mrs. Russell and her husband, Donald, a lawyer, live on the Bell Hurst Ranch where her late father, Joe Weaver, owned and operated the chicken ranch as an avocation. He was president of States Oil Co. Mr. and Mrs. Russell have two sons: John of Houston is a school teacher and Joe is a senior at the University of Texas, Austin.

The oblong chicken hatchery has been remodeled inside, and its straight-down-the-line units include, in order, a foyer, a slanted, downhill seating area; the proscenium stage; and the prop and costume room.

OF THE "picture frame" proscenium stage, Mrs. Russell said, "I think that this is more universal."

"It's far easier for non-professionals to act on a proscenium than on a theater-in-the-round," she explained. The audience-to-stage proscenium arrangement is akin to that of the conventional movie house.

The playhouse's costume-dressing room behind the stage at rear of the building was the site of "marking, packing and candling eggs," she said. From about rear of the back stage and forward was the incubation section.

THE PLAYHOUSE seats 71 in permanent chairs that once belonged in Eastland County school auditoriums. Some of the chairs have the lettering "MVS," signifying Morton Valley School, Mrs. Russell said.

The seats, which originated at MVS, later were used at a now-closed Eastland Negro school before finding their apparent third home at the playhouse.

The seats were gifts, as was much that made the chicken house convert into a playhouse: labor and materials. Some things required money, however.

"We went to the rummage sales," Mrs. Russell said, explaining the sources of costumes, many of which were donated.

HISTORY OF the Eastland Civic Theater started in February of 1965 following presentation "An Evening of One Acts" directed by Mrs. Russell in the Eastland Elementary School. Following the showing, jointly sponsored by the Eastland Civic League and the Garden Club, the Eastland Civic Theater was founded and organized.

"They wanted to make some money and they asked me if I wanted to direct" the plays, Mrs. Russell said. Of that moment she recalled: "I didn't know what I was going to find in the way of actor."

The organization has about 250 charter members. But she found the performers. The following play was "The Nutt Family" presented in June 1965 in the Eastland High School Auditorium.

THEN, CAME along the idea of turning the vacant chicken barn into a playhouse. In February 1966, the Bell Hurst Playhouse was "christened" with the play "Junior Miss," which was followed by "Dial M or Murder," a "Second Bill of one-acts," and the playhouses most recent and fourth production, "Seventeen."

Dick Dixon was the civic theater's first president, and its second and current president is Ralph Stevens.

Mrs. Russell gave an indication of the playhouse outlook based on its brief existence:

"They've just loved it. Apparently, the choice of plays presents "tried and proven plays" of British and American origin, she said, and "all ages and families are represented" in the theater's activities.

THE THEATER'S director is equipped with years of professional experience: "I've done all kinds of directing," Mrs. Russell said.

Formation of Eastland's theatrical group and playhouse is described like this by Mrs. Russell: "Everything just came so beautifully. We just kind of felt our way." To which she adds, "We had some good friends."

"It (the playhouse) represents a tremendous amount of work," Mrs. Russell said. And thanks to the chickens for their contribution.

Four Accidents Investigated By Highway Patrol

Vehicle accidents investigated by the Highway Patrol include:

April 18: An Angus bull was killed 4.7 miles west of Eastland when struck by a car driven by Clarence Deeds of Midland. Jack Therwanger investigated. About $200 damage was reported to the car.

April 19: A 1961 Ford station wagon driven by Charles Moon of Eastland struck a cow 1.7 miles south of Eastland. The cow ran away. Minor damage was reported to the station wagon.

April 21: At 10:05 a. m. a 1962 Oldsmobile driven by Stephen Newark of Strawn and a 1955 Chevrolet driven by Ola Robinson of Eastland were in an accident east of Ranger. Gloria Newark, a passenger in the Oldsmobile, was taken to Ranger General Hospital according to Ken Perry, who investigated.

April 23: A 1963 Brockway truck tractor semi-trailer driven by John Berry Douglas of Knoxville, Tenn., overturned twice, seven-tenths miles west of Cisco. Douglas, 34, was apparently killed instantly. Officer Ken Perry reported that the body was taken to Rust Funeral Home in Cisco.

Mayflower Voyage, Election Officers Is Lion Meeting

The construction of Mayflower II and the recounting of its journey from England to the United States in 1957 was film program for the Eastland Lions Club at its regular luncheon meeting Tuesday.

Idea for the re-enactment of the Pilgrim's Journey was the brainchild of an Englishman who wanted to cement Anglo-American relations. The "typical" 17th Century Square rigger was re-built and sailed to Plymouth Rock by a 30-man crew, duplicating in every detail possible, the original New World Seekers.

Two presentations were made during the meeting and a slate of officers elected for the coming year.

An official visit delegation from Cisco presented the Eastland Club a hand-made gavel, made from pecan wood by R. W. Merket. Visitors included Cisco Club President Tom Stark, Merket, H. H. McCannies, Charles Clark, T. C. Williams and O. L. Stamey.

Mr. Stamey presented Eastland member J. B. Arther a 7 1/2-watt light bulb, symbolic of the Eastland's Club's present light-bulb sale. (The Cisco club recently held a sale and had been accused by Eastland members of having sold bulbs 'out of their territory'—that is, in Eastland.)

Members E. O. Moore, Wendell Siebert and C. W. Hoffmann Jr. were announced as volunteers who will host a foreign exchange student in their homes this summer as part of the Lions program.

Moore was in charge of the showing of the film for the Tuesday meeting.

Officers elected unanimously who will be installed in July for the coming year are:

to re-print the winning essays and maybe we can, following the industrial essays and music essays now in progress. Did you know that statistics show that 95 per cent of all business is small business. National Small Business Week is, May 21-27, so maybe we in the majority should plan to celebrate.

LION BULB sellers were out in mass Tuesday night and were met with Eastlanders' usual response to help work toward cripple children work and providing eye glasses for needy children here. There are still bulbs available.

NEW PAINT at the City Hall and Fire Station sure looks good, making a very attractive city facility. Mr. Frank Crowell has redone his big, big sign out at Crowell Lumber and it looks very good. Note too that the EASTLAND flashing sign atop the Exchange building is as pretty as every since its recent repair and refurbishing.

MONEY-SAVING is the key in buying advance Kiddy carnival tickets from the sponsoring Jaycees. They're selling 'em for a half dozen for $1, and these same tickets will be 25 cents each at the carnival next week at the Wagon Yard. Word is: "It won't rain during the carnival." Increased in value in worthiness are the prizes which will be given this at the Jaycee booths, scouts report, so we'll all want to make plans to have fun at the annual J.C. carnival.

OUR SCOUTS attending the big golf meet in Dallas the other day enjoyed renewing acquaintances. Rives McBee, former champion of three county golf tournaments (Lone Cedar, Lakeside and Cisco) as well as other tournaments in this region, is now a touring pro.

McBee reported that he attended the pro school for young fellows interested in making the tour in Florida last year, and as a result of his showing he was given permission. Ten Midland men backing him on the tour by guaranteeing him $1,000 per month for expenses if he does not earn enough. McBee registers out of Midland where he was assistant pro for a year or so.

McBee has almost earned $1,000 per month this year. He failed to make the cut for the final two rounds at Dallas but began practicing immediately for the next tournament.

Another name known in these parts is John Lively, Jr. He lived in Eastland for several years while his dad was operator and professional at the Lakeside Country Club. John hits the ball well and you'll be hearing from him in a few years.

Don January, whose wife is a native of Eastland, played in the Big D tournament as he does in virtually all of them. He is a native of Dallas and played in area tournaments for several years while attending NTSU.

State Capital NEWS

By Vern Sanford

Legislature showing quick response to
Gov. John
to postpone writing
until next year and a state government budget for only half biennium.

Both House and Senate budget-writing committees will scrap their biennial appropriations measures and have one year bills ready for action
this week.
In an unusual night speech
to a joint session of the House and Senate, Connally pledged to call a special session

next year to pass a 1969 appropriations bill and consider necessary new taxes. Overall purpose was to break legislative logjams on major legislation.
State financial picture appears to be this: Under the $137,000,000 in additional one-year budget plan, about spending can be done in the year starting next September
out of the general revenue fund. Because in past year's estimates of Comptroller Robert S. Calvert have been conservative, there generally is a surplus left at the end of each year. Connally thinks a surplus of $50-60,000,000 might be in sight a year from now.

Thus the size of the tax bill to be passed could be that much less than it would have to be if it were passed now.
This $50,000,000 or so would not actually be "saving", since Connally expects the Legislature to spend the same amount

on two one-year budgets as on one two-year budget. However, the Governor figures that if business growth continues to gain, revenues from present taxes will bring in more than had been expected, and thus make it possible to get by with a smaller tax increase.
Lt. Gov. Preston Smith, after initial doubts on wisdom of the procedure, urged the Senate Finance Committee to go along. Smith cautioned the legislators not to take the new financial procedure as an invitation to spend more freely and to clear up any legal questions at an early date.

Lieutenant governor, who contends that no new taxes
are necessary, viewed Connally's proposal as "at least partial recognition that our financial salvation does not necessarily and exclusively lie in passing a big tax bill at this time."
Bill by Rep. Billy H. Williamson of Tyler to make more cities in Texas eligible for grants-in-aid for community mental health centers has passed both House and Senate.

State now may make such grants-in-aid to cities of 100, 000 or more population. This bill would lower that minimum to 75,000. It also would allow grants-in-aid to a center serving less than 75,000 population, if the state commissioner of mental health and mental retardation declares it eligible.
House of Representatives passed two measures of the education package sponsored by Rep. Alonzo Jamison of Denton.

New Chemical In Production For Control of Pecan Aphid

COLLEGE STATION—Texas commercial pecan producers who have awaited a simple, economical aphid control may have their answer in disulfoton (Di-Syston), a systemic insecticide now cleared by the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

A systemic insecticide is a chemical which can be absorbed into a plant's sap system. When an insect feeds on the plant, it gets a dose of the poison.

John G. Thomas, Extension entomologist at Texas A&M University, says disulfoton has proven effective against the black pecan aphid and the yellow or honeydew aphids. But the material will not work on nut casebearers, tent caterpillars or other foliage feeding pests.

The chemical has been cleared at the rate of 15 to 30 pounds of the 10% granular material per acre.

"We recommend use of 20 pounds per acre under Texas conditions," Thomas said. "The higher rates are required on the heavy, muck soils in the southeastern states."

The entomologist recommended that the granular chemical be applied in 6-foot bands to the soil on both sides of trees under the main drip areas. Fertilizer applicators or grain drills can be adjusted to spread the granules. Next, work the insecticide into the upper 2 to 3 inches of the soil at distribution time, or by subsequent discing when a broadcast, surface application is made.

Thomas emphasized that adequate soil moisture is the key to getting top benefits from disulfoton. Otherwise, tree roots cannot absorb the material.

"Application should be followed as soon as possible with irrigation where water is available. If irrigation water is not available, it's important to time application so that probability of rain will be excellent. This may mean applying the systemic earlier in the season in areas of the state where April is the highest rainfall month," he explained.

The usual recommended application period is May 1-15. Thomas pointed out that only one application is permitted per season, and this must be made at least 60 days before harvest. Season-long control is most often the rule when proper application and moisture conditions prevail.

Aphid damage most commonly occurs in mid or late summer, so the systemic needs to be applied to prevent this summer build-up and protect the pecans during the late summer period," he said.

Disulfoton also comes as a 65.7 percent liquid concentrate and can be sprayed on the ground, worked into the soil and irrigated the same as for the granules. Application rate is 2.5 to 3 pints per acre of the material in water.

Thomas cautioned that the 10 percent granular and the 65.7 percent liquid concentrate forms of disulfoton have been USDA-cleared for use only by commercial growers and professional applicators.

"The formulations should not be used by homeowners because of hazard."

THE GORDON SPOT

By DeMarquis (Dee) Gordon
Eastland County Extension Agent

The thrill of producing the largest tomato or the first ear of corn in the neighborhood may be responsible for many home gardens, but other reasons are more important.

A home garden can be a real contribution to the family food supply and a means of stretching the food budget. This is especially true if the family has a freezer.

Home gardening is an excellent hobby. Satisfaction and pride results from watching plants grow and produce. And who doesn't like good fresh garden produce.

Vegetable gardening is not as strenuous as it once was because of such work savers as garden tractors and tillers. Black plastic film mulch can be used to eliminate most of the weed problems and pesticides are available which give very effective control of most insects. New fertilizers that are quickly soluble enable the gardener to do an even better job than before.

Too a garden can be a real challenge to the younger members of the family. My five year old son Marq planted his garden last week. He did the planting himself and no one else knows exactly where he planted his squash and lettuce.

You may like to have a little more information on vegetable planting. We have a supply of new publications available which are titled "Useful Information for Planning the Vegetable Garden." It contains helpful information even for the experienced gardener.

We also have publications on insect control in the vegetable garden. It is very important to know the kinds of insecticides to use and when to use them to control insects in the garden.

Insecticides come in several forms such as dusts, wettable powders, liquid emulsifiable concentrates and aerosols. Be sure you know how these should be used. Always read the label information on the container.

Medals Galore Await Veterans

Millions of unclaimed medals earned by World War II and Korean War servicemen are stacked up in warehouses around the country, according to the Veterans Administration.

Jack Coker, Manager of the VA Regional Office in Waco, revealed that the Army alone has some 800,000 pounds of medals in a Philadelphia warehouse.

Among the medals there are over one-and-a-half million Victory Medals, a decoration earned by almost everyone who served in World War II.

The VA Manager said that veterans interested in securing medals to which they are entitled should write a letter to the military branch in which they served.

Letters should contain full particulars about their military service, units to which assigned, and above all, the letter should contain the veteran's complete name and serial number.

To write for medals, Coker said, see the following addresses:

ARMY: The Adjutant General, Decorations and Awards Branch, Department of the Army, Washington, D.C. 20300.

AIR FORCE: Director of Military Personnel, Attention: Awards Branch, Headquarters, U. S. Air Force, Washington, D. C. 20300.

MARINE CORPS: Commandant, Headquarters, U.S. Marine Corps, Washington, D.C. 20300.

COAST GUARD: Commandant (PMM), U.S. Coast Guard Headquarters, Washington, D. C. 20000.

NAVY: Commandant, Headquarters, U. S. Navy, Washington, D. C. 20000.

Action Needed By Those Who Will Reach 65

Persons who will reach age 65 in the next three months are reminded to sign up for Medicare before the age 65 month by Social Security.

"Although the law provides a seven month period," stated R. R. Tuley Jr., district manager of the Abilene Social Security office, "only those who sign up in the three month period ahead of age 65 have their doctor bill in insurance part of Medicare effective with the first day of that age 65 month."

"Signing up in the month 65 is reached makes protection effective the first day of the following month. Signing up in the three months after reaching age 65 delays the protection for up to two months after enrollment," he added.

A representative of the Abilene office of the Social Security Administration will be in Eastland on May 1, 15 and 22 at the County Court Room at 10 a. m. or, such sign up action may be taken in the Abilene office, located in the post office building, from 9-5 on Mondays through Fridays, with extra open hours from 5 p. m.-8 p. m. every Tuesday.
