EASTLAND, TEXAS 76448 — THURSDAY, MARCH 16, 1967

PRESSURE ON PANEL DYING COURT BILL

SESSION VISIT HERE SET MARCH 30

is being put on house sub-committee a proposed bill to move the 11th District Appeals from Abilene.

asking that the bill be referred out to the main committee, and hopefully (for Abilene) on out to the full House for a vote.

Local and area residents went to Austin en masse on Feb. 28 to appear at the committee hearing on the bill (filed by Rep. Temple Dixon of Sweetwater) and saw the matter handed to what was and is believed to be an "understanding" subcommittee, where locals hoped the bill would die a natural death.

However, due to the undo pressure being applied by the Abilenians, Musgrove believes now that it would be well for locals to follow through on an invitation to the sub-committee, issued at the hearing, to come to Eastland and look over the court's facilities and the circumstances here.

rep. Musgrove has tentatively set up an appointment with the five - members panel to come to Eastland on Thursday, March 30, for an on the - spot inspection. Arrangements are to be worked out with local people, including the transporting and hosting of the group.

The House will probably be in session until noon that day, Musgrove says, and the subcommittee could leave about 12 for Eastland, where they can be shown the town, and the court, as well as be entertained informally.

Members of the committee are Raul L. Longoria of Edinburg, chairman; Tati Santiesteban of El Paso; C. L. Ray Jr. of Marshall; Lee Duggan of Houston; and John Hanna of Lufkin.

Musgrove reported that Santiesteban told him of the heavy pressure being put on the committee members to act on the Dickson bill, that would move the court.

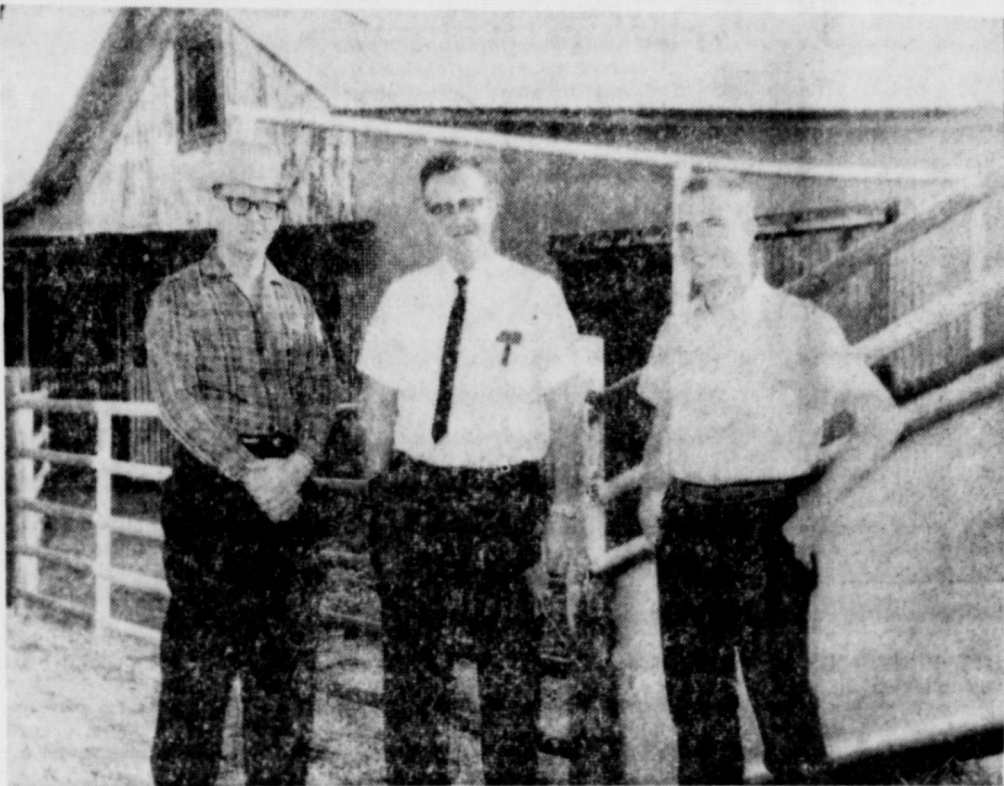

Indicative of the in-fighting going on, Musgrove said, is the fact Dickson recently asked to be put on a special subcommittee considering an anti-LSD bill, written and submitted by Musgrove.

In other matters, Rep. Musgrove reports that he has submitted a bill which would permit the City of Rising Star to create a hospital district.

The young representative also reports that about 85 percent of his mail, from this district, is opposed to Gov. Connally's "liquor by the drink" legislation.

GORMAN SINGING

Gorman's regular third Sunday singing will be held on March 19, beginning at 1:30 p. m., according to Pete Tyrone. "This is a good singing and we are having many visiting singers," he reported. Everyone is invited.

BUSY WEEKEND AHEAD — This trio looks forward to a busy weekend as the annual Eastland County Livestock Show gets underway in Eastland. From left they are DeMarquis Gordon, county agent; Winiford Parr, EHS Ag instructor; and Bob Cohen, assistant county agent. Major activities get underway Friday with judging continuing through Saturday.

County Livestock Show Ready for a Big Weekend

All livestock in the 1967 Eastland County Livestock Show are to be on the show grounds and properly entered in their respective places by 10 p. m., Thursday, March 16, it has been announced.

Livestock will be judged on March 17 and 18 and the auction and presentation of special awards will be held at 7 p. m. Saturday, March 18, at the Eastland Livestock Auction barn.

This event is sponsored each year by the Eastland County Livestock Raisers Association with Sam Kimmell as president.

One of the big events during livestock show weekend is the parade in downtown Eastland. Schools are closed and many children and adults from over the county are on hand to watch the colorful parade.

Beginning at 8 p. m. Friday, animals will be judged at the county show barn. Dairy animals will be judged at 8 a. m., angora goats at 10 a. m., breeding swine at 1 p. m., market hogs at 2 p. m. and breeding sheep at 7 p. m. The 4-H and FFA Livestock Judging Contest will be at 9 p. m.

At 8 p. m. Saturday, market lambs will be judged; 11 a. m., market steers; and 2 p. m., breeding beef cattle.

Directors of the Livestock Raisers Assn., plan and conduct the annual livestock show for the benefit of the 4-H and FFA youth and the livestock industry of Eastland County.

The show is open to all 4-H and FFA members of this county who attend a public school in Eastland County. They must have fed, fitted and cared for the animal under the supervision of a vocational agriculture teacher, county agent or assistant county agent.

Adult and junior exhibitors in the county and adjoining counties are eligible to show livestock in the open show. They will be competing for ribbons only.

At the auction, no exhibitor may sell more than one lamb, one steer and one barrow at the premium price.

A drawing will be held Saturday at the auction for a dressed beef, the name being drawn from the membership of the Raisers Assn.

The public is invited to attend all these activities.

Show Dedicated To Clint McCain

The 1967 Eastland County Livestock Show has been dedicated to Mr. C. M. (Clint) McCain for his interest and work of over a quarter century for the youth of Eastland County.

Mr. McCain worked with 4-H girls and boys and FFA boys for more than 25 years. He is the only man still working with these students who started out with them.

Also, Mr. McCain is former president of the Eastland County Livestock Raisers Association, co-sponsors of the annual livestock show.

Mrs. William Spense from Midland visited in the home of Rev. and Mrs. Brewer Saturday and Sunday.

Also receiving invitations have been riding clubs in Cisco, Ranger, Rising Star, Gorman, De Leon and Breckenridge.

Trophies will be awarded to the first three place winners in the bands and riding clubs divisions. Judges will be representatives from each bank in the county and the judges stand will be in front of Jeannettes Fabric Shop.

The Sheriff's Posse, sponsors of the parade each year, will ride in their colorful attire. Also, they will provide a watchman at the show grounds both Thursday and Friday nights and will patrol the parked cars at the sales barn on Saturday night, it is reported.

It may be surprising to learn that some of the world's fighting cocks are born and trained in Cross Plains. Mike Ratliff, who is engaged in that business here, together with his professional football playing brother, proved it last week in Phoenix, Ariz. Their birds, flown to the Grand Canyon State for world championship events, won 14 of 17 encounters. Cross Plains - raised cocks were bought and are now being booked by sportsmen from as far away as Honolulu and Manila.

Raising fighting cocks is as much a business as breeding Hereford cattle or blooded Appaloosas and possibly a great deal more profitable. The right kind of roosters sell for as much as $1,000.

RJC Instructor Gives Lions Look At U. S. S. R.

An extraordinary look behind the Iron Curtain was afforded members of the Eastland Lions Club Tuesday as Mrs. James P. Morris, American History instructor at Ranger Junior College brought a program at the regular luncheon meeting. Using beautiful color slides, and descriptive narration, Mrs. Morris described her impressions of the Soviet Union gained on a recent visit there. The most impressive point? The size of the Soviet Union, she said. Its area covers one sixth of the earth's land area, and its population is near 230 million people. Obie Duncan was program chairman and introduced Mrs. Morris. Describing the Kremlin itself, she said that it's made up of 65 acres with 40 buildings, including nine cathedrals "no longer in use," she said. The most vivid testimony to free enterprise, she said, is the fact that 80 per cent of the Soviet Union's food stuff, is produced on the one-acre "free" tracts of land granted to the individuals. President El Ethridge presided, and announced that plans are formulating rapidly for the 45th Anniversary Banquet to be held in Eastland Tuesday, March 21, at which the International President Edward Lindsey will be guest speaker. Representatives of the Eastland, Cisco and Ranger clubs will meet at the Village Hotel Coffee Shop Thursday to finalize plans. Clint Bray has tickets in Eastland, and these must be purchased before Thursday that a report may be made to the caterer. Guests last weekend in the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Hassell were her sister and family, Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Ryer of Dallas. Visiting last weekend in the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Davenport were Mr and Mrs. Joe Johnson of Corpus Christi and Mr. and Mrs. Joe Bob Davenport of San Antonio.

Mrs. Foreman died Sunday night in Austin. He had been a patient in a nursing home there for three and a half years. He was a member of Northwest Bible Church in Fort Worth. Pallbearers will be L. V. Foreman of Odessa; three cousins, Rosie Lee Morse of Austin, Clyde Woodliff of Waco and Mamie Alvis Smith of Nebraska; five grand nephews; one grand niece; three great grand nieces; and two step nieces, Mrs. Sylvester Myrick of Moran and Mrs. Frank Crowell of Eastland.

No matter what price car you are planning to buy, you owe it to yourself to consider Cadillac. First, there is the great new 1967 Cadillac. Noticeably more agile in its handling, smoother and quieter in its operation, more luxurious in its appointments... it is by far the finest Cadillac in history. However, if a new Cadillac is presently not feasible, your authorized dealer now has a wide selection of previously owned Cadillacs at just about any price you wish to pay. And that price will buy more luxury, distinction and motoring pleasure than a similarly priced car of lesser stature. For example, both the 1965 and 1964 models shown provide you with a big 340-horsepower V-8 engine... Turbo Hydra-Matic transmission... power brakes and steering... cornering lights... and many other conveniences. So when you think of your next car—think of Cadillac. Church of God Men's Fellowship Meets On Sunday

Camp Inspiration, on Highway 30 west of Eastland, was the site of the spring business meeting of the West Texas District Men's Fellowship of the Church of God on Saturday, March 11.

Some 50 persons attended the meeting which began with lunch at the dining hall. Missionary ladies from local churches prepared the meal.

Special guest for the meeting was Frank Sayre, Eastland Division Manager of Texas Electric Service Company.

During the business session, jobs were outlined that must be completed before the next camp meeting on May 12-14. Dates set on which to do this work were Saturday, April 1, and Saturday, April 29.

Immediate plans were made to build the first addition of a new dining hall with facilities for approximately 300 people. It will be constructed so that a second addition of equal size can be added later.

Other matters discussed as immediate needs were improving the water system and construction of a fence along the highway frontage.

Long range plans called for addition of more cabins and rest rooms, a trailer park, tennis court, swimming pool and general landscaping.

Development of this camp was taken as a project of the "Men of the Church of God West District" in 1962. Since that time, some $16,000 has been spent on its development along with untold man hours and mileage.

The men's fellowship is made up of men from the district churches. Towns included are Odessa, Lubbock, Midland, San Angelo, Big Spring, Coleman, Ballinger, Abilene, Wichita Falls, Ira, Sweetwater, Cisco and Eastland.

Officers are Ray Taylor, Odessa, president; Marilyn Jackson, Midland, vice president; Jim Horn, Big Spring, secretary; and Darrell Baham, Eastland, treasurer.

Presently, the camp has sleeping facilities for 80 people and dining area for 125. Its purpose is to provide a suitable place for camp meetings, youth camps and prayer retreats for all churches in this area.

The camp is also available for family reunions when church activities aren't in progress. The camp overseers are Rev. and Mrs. T. N. Minix, Jr.

Future activities at the camp include a weekend meeting, May 12-14, two youth camps during the first two weeks of August and several family reunions have summer reservations.

Myrtle Collins, sister-in-law of Mrs. Adel.
Mrs. Dietz, Ethel Keith and Mrs. Stella Joiner of DeLeon planned the party and Mrs. Adel was quite surprised when the group unloaded at the home of Mrs. Collins and began singing "Happy Birthday."
The day proved to be a very enjoyable one for all concerned.

Passing motorist to man passing small sports car: "You're wasting your time buddy—that thing won't grow any more."

Cheaney Farmer Is Named Most Outstanding In Leon District

A. J. Rogers of the Cheaney community has been named most outstanding conservation farmer by the supervisors of the Upper Leon Soil and Water Conservation district. He has lived on the same farm since 1942.

Half the land, at the time he bought the place, was in cultivation and the balance in post oak brush. He planned a gradual improvement program and with the help of his wife and children, he launched his improvement program 25 years ago.

Cover crops and strip-cropping were installed, followed by the application of all the crop residue and litter to the soil. Blown-up fence rows were spread, which was a long hard process.

In 1951, Rogers asked for assistance from the Upper Leon Soil and Water District. The soils were mapped and a plan developed.

In 1963, after having raised their children, and with aged parents to care for, the Rogers decided to do less intensive farming. He revised his conservation plan, and signed a contract under the Great Plains Conservation Program. The contract expired Dec. 31, 1966, leaving a job well done on the land.

In the revised plan, Rogers planted the new land to peanuts, while the older crop-land was put into Coastal AUSTIN—Legislative redistricting reared its ugly head suddenly and furiously for Texas House of Representatives A. U. S. Supreme Court decision invalidates the carelessly-stuck-together reapportionment act of 1965 for representative districts.

The unexpected "court actor" has changed redistricting from a routine cleanup chore into a major task. It could very well mean the end of the political line for some representatives and possible shaking of House unity.

Court found population variances among representative districts up to 26 per cent, too great to meet its one-man-one-vote standard and sent the 1965 districting plan back to Houston federal judges for recheck.

Representatives had figured all that was necessary this year was elimination of the 11 electoral districts criticized by the Houston federal district court. Now, they are faced with wholesale redrawing of lines to equalize population discrepancies state-wide.

Speaker Ben Barnes acknowledged "It is a difficult situation."

Big city lawmakers said they soon would introduce a bill to give Bexar, Dallas and Harris Counties one more representative each. (The high court held they were entitled to that) and adjust other variances.

Sensing that congressional reapportionment also might be struck down, redistricting acts in this area were introduced by Reps. R. L. Vale and Jake Johnson of San Antonio and Rep. Frank Cahoon of Midland.

A bill to legalize sale of liquor by the drink in Texas was introduced last week.

Reps. John Fields and Dick McKissock, both of Dallas, are House authors. Sen. Joe Christie of El Paso is the Senate sponsor.

Highlights of the bill are: Open saloons (banned by constitution) are defined as places devoted exclusively to sale of liquor for on-premise consumption. Bill would legalize mixed-drink permits for qualified hotels, private clubs, restaurants and lodges—businesses or organizations NOT engaged exclusively in the business of selling liquor.

Measure would authorize mixed drink sales in some 122 counties where on-premise consumption of beer and wine and package store sales already are permitted. Provision is made for local elections in these areas on specific issue of mixed drinks. Failure of election would not affect status of other alcoholic beverages. In other areas, affirmative vote would be required for mixed drinks.

Drinks would be subject to five-cents-an-ounce tax, plus two-per-cent sales tax. Retail drink permits would cost $1,000 at state level. Cities and counties could assess fees of $500 each. Beverages served would pay an annual fee of $12. Private clubs in wet areas must operate under the same regulations as retail drink establishments and pay the permit fee. Those in dry areas will pay a

Sen. Don Kennard of Fort Worth is sponsoring a bill to provide free public education for five-year-olds, with the state sharing the expense with local school districts on a 50-50 basis.

Kennard said the program would cost $34,500,000 for the first two years and that 80 per cent of the five-year-olds would attend classes next year, 80 per cent the second year and as many as 80 per cent by 1970-71.

"A kindergarten program established under rules set up by the Texas Education Agency, is the most vital step Texas should take in improving our school system," the senator said. "There is abundant evidence that six years is too late an age to start children in school."

SHORT SNORTS

Texas travel exhibit, designed to attract tourists to the state, has won top honors in the first of six North American travel shows in which it entered.

Gov. John Connally named Harry Jernigan, San Antonio brewing company head, to the State Parks and Wildlife Commission, succeeding A.W. Mourning of Johnson City who did not seek re-appointment.

Albert Allison of Dallas is new executive director of the Republican Party of Texas, succeeding Marvin Collins, formerly of Corpus Christi, who held the job since 1963. Legislation to stiffen Sunday closing law (improving emergency purchase provision) cleared Senate committee.

Ground has been broken for $10,000,000 Institute of Texan Cultures building at San Antonio HemisFair '68.

Senate passed a bill to outlaw job discrimination in state and local government due to race, religion, color or national origin.

Senate committee approved proposed constitutional amendments to extend veterans land program and authorize local revenue bonds to finance industrial plants to be operated by private interests.

AUSTIN—Three pieces of major legislation passed by the House now have landed on the Senate's doorstep.

These include: Local option authority for financially distressed Texas cities to levy a one-per-cent sales tax. (Vote: 85 to 63).

A staff code of ethics for legislators and other state officials and employees. (Vote: 140-6).

Repeal of "emergency purchase" provisions to put teeth in Sunday closing laws. (Vote: 132-14).

Before passing the city sales tax bill, sponsored by Rep. John Traeger of Seguin, the House spent nearly three hours of continuous debate and waded through more than 30 amendment attempts.

Advocates predict a majority vote in the Senate, too. But no action is expected across the rounds until after rules suspension eases with passage of the session 60 day mark.

Code of ethics bill by Rep. Jim Nugent of Kerrville, made its third trip through the House. Substantially the same bill has been approved by representatives in two prior sessions but died in the Senate. Same fate is anticipated this time for what advocates term "one of the strictest codes in the United States."

Measure would require lawmakers to disclose personal interest in legislation, force legislators and state officials and employees to reveal substantial interests in private businesses and require identification of relatives on the state payroll.

Surprisingly, the strengthened Sunday closing law, introduced by Rep. Willis J. Whitley of Houston, cleared the House in seven minutes. Only one comment was made. Smooth sailing also is anticipated in the Senate. (What this law will do to tourist spending has never been mentioned.)

County auditors and precinct officials would make substantial money gains under a pair of bills being sponsored in the House by Reps. Vernon Beckham of Denison and Dick Cory of Victoria.

Beckham's bill would let county commissioners courts pay mileage reimbursement to county auditors for travel in their line of duty. House Committee on Counties referred that measure to a subcommittee for further consideration.

Cory's bill would allow commissioners courts to raise the salaries of justices of the peace and constables up to 20 per cent over what they now earn. Committee favorably reported this one back to the House floor where it now is awaiting action.

Sen. Wayne Connally of Floresville and Rep. Charles Jungmichel of La Grange have introduced legislation to place greater emphasis on encouraging the construction, development and expansion of services and facilities of livestock markets in Texas.

Connally's bill would establish a charter-fee system to govern livestock markets and to create a seven-member Public Livestock Board in the state government to grant charters and supervise the markets where livestock are auctioned.

"We have seen in the last 10 to 15 years a vast improvement in bank facilities and an expansion of their services," the Senator said. "The same results can be obtained by providing the proper basis for establishing and developing livestock markets."

Every incorporated city and town in Texas would be required to set up a "Motion Picture Classification Board" to preview every movie to be shown in that city and classify it as "suitable" or "not suitable" for persons under age 16 by a bill introduced in the House by Rep. Cordell Hull of Fort Worth.

Hull said that cities now have the authority for such regulation, but his bill would make the board mandatory and would provide guidelines for classifying movies. Board would be composed of five members appointed by the city's governing body for two year terms.

Rep. Ralph Wayne of Plainview has introduced a bill requiring public schools to offer courses in Spanish to students in the second, third and fourth grades.

Wayne's bill, now in the House Education Committee, would require that within five years after passage of the bill, every elementary school in the state begin teaching Spanish to students in at least those three grades.

It also provides that the State Board of Education furnish textbooks and recorded Spanish exercises to the school districts without cost to the students.

SHORT SNORTS

Governor Connally has appointed Sherman Birdwell of Austin as chairman of the Governor's Committee on the Status of Women and Mrs. Mary Ann Faust of Beaumont as vice chairman.

Department of Public Safety is reminding Texas motorists that only six weeks remain before the April 15 deadline on the 1967 vehicle inspection stickers.

House Parks and Wildlife Committee favorably recommended a bill introduced in the House by Rep. Leroy Wiesting of Portland authorizing the Parks and Wildlife Department to negotiate with the federal government for the eradication of vegetation in Texas streams and lakes.

Water Development Board withdrew a $15,000,000 bond offering because of an "unsatisfactory" market.

Lindsey Enderby of Gainesville has been designated chairman of "Opportunities Unlimited," a career-political education conference set for April 22 on the UT campus. Sen. John Tower and GOP National Chairman Ray C. Bliss are sponsors of the conference.

Sen. V. E. (Red) Berry of San Antonio has proposed constitutional amendments to take Texas either "all wet" or "all dry" for liquor sale.

Bills by Rep. Joe Allen of Baytown would ban the use of oyster shell in road construction and restore the old shell dredging line at 1,500 feet from live reefs; Allen also recommends enlarging Parks & Wildlife Commission from three to six members.

Heart and Blood Vessel Disease As Real National Problem

The problem of heart and vessel disease one that only to the other feels it a national problem and not a local one? Is it a vague abstraction, rather than a hard reality?

Three of these questions are answered in the new book, "No individual is immune. A good address is no protector. It is a sizeable bank. The cardiovascular system are no respecters of color or ethnic background. Here are some figures..."

A stepped-up program of research, education and community service conducted by the American Heart Association and its affiliates will score new victories on this front. You can help by giving generously to the Heart Fund this month.

Six Flags Will Begin New Year On April 29th

Six Flags Over Texas will begin its 1967 season on Saturday, April 29.

The announcement came from Angus G. Wynne, Jr., President of Great Southwest Corporation, owner-operator of the famed 115-acre, historical-theme entertainment park located midway between Dallas and Fort Worth.

During the Spring, Six Flags Over Texas will be open on Fridays from 5 p. m. to 11 p. m. and on Saturdays and Sundays from 10 a. m. to 10 p. m. Starting May 26 and continuing through Labor Day, the Park will be open seven days a week from 10 a. m. to 10 p. m. Following Labor Day and until the season closes October 29, Six Flags will operate on Saturdays and Sundays only from 10 a. m. to 3 p. m.

The Run-A-Way Mine Train ride, key project in the $1,000,000 expansion of the Boom Town Section of the Park which was begun last season, has been completed over the winter months. The ride, one of the most exciting ever developed, was introduced to visitors on a limited basis near the end of last season, while work continued on the project.

An attendance milestone will also be reached during the forthcoming season, as Six Flags anticipates welcoming its ten-millionth visitor sometime during the month of August. The Park, which opened in 1961, has already counted over 8.5 million visitors.

Washington

WARREN BURELESON
 Congressman
 17th District

WASHINGTON, D. C. — This office will probably average six to eight long distance telephone calls a day from people in our 24-County Congressional District. Sometimes more, sometimes less.

Usually, when it is the other person's nickel, an inquiry is made about the weather back home. As everyone knows, weather is always an important subject in West Texas.

Unfortunately, reports in the last several weeks describe a drought situation which is becoming more acute by the day.

This is one thing we cannot do very much about by legislation, although Government has tried to cure about everything else. Even weather control is receiving a great deal of scientific attention.

Conditions of drought bring to mind a friend, Judge Frank Wilson who relate a story about a trip he made with his father from Dallas to the Texas Panhandle where they owned a ranch.

It was a hot summer day and their model T Ford was suffering severely from the lack of water when they reached Anson. At that time we had one of the finest horse troughs to be found anywhere, located on the North-west corner of the Square. It was fed from the town standpipe, equipped with a float valve in the center which kept it at a constant level. This was a great invention and no finer equipment could be found anywhere.

The water, however, was for horses and not for automobiles, so my friend, who was then a boy of seven, remembers his father being advised by the City Marshal.

It was dry and hot and this new fangled automobile from the big city had no business using up our water.

That horse trough has long been gone, having been paved over in the early 1920's. There must be very few horse troughs any place now, except Washington, D. C., where you can find just about anything, including a horse trough.

The very last one, however, is soon to be the victim of "Mr. Clean."

Ever since the mid 1800's, the Nation's Capital was equipped with horse troughs, but now they have all been removed except one because it was decided they were a health menace. The one remaining is deep in Rock Creek Park and the purpose of it is explained to children.

No inquiry has been made as to where the horses of the mounted Park Police are going to get a drink of water, but it will probably be frowned upon if they try to drink from fountains provided for people. They could drink out of Rock Creek but the water in it is not fit for man or beast because of its contamination.

The original cast iron troughs were placed around Washington in 1870 by the Washington Humane Society. The present 70-year old President of the Society says that the organization bought the troughs and the City installed them. The ownership is still in the Society, and feeling no choice, they permitted their removal. Five or six may be up for sale soon from $35 to $40. One very fancy trough was located in the downtown business area adjacent to the site of the new F.B.I. building soon to be constructed. It was also donated to the City in the early 1800's. Pictures show it to be quite elaborate, designed as a fountain to serve horses, birds and humans. It was only removed last year and is now in storage in the City warehouse. It is the property of the City of Washington, and the District of Columbia being the property of all the people of the United States, everybody owns a little bit of a horse trough. No disposition has been made of it and there is a question whether it will be put in a museum. If so, it will probably be equipped with the same valves, pipe and other paraphernalia that originally made it work.

If not put to use, we may try to get it for the Northwest corner of the Square in Anson.

WASHINGTON, D. C. — This space has been dedicated to a discussion of law enforcement on a great many occasions. This appears an appropriate time for another.

The preservation of law and order is a first and fundamental function of government at any level. Every citizen has a right to expect, and is entitled to expect, his government to protect his person and property. Laws from city ordinances to the Federal Government are made for this purpose, but laws not enforced, not respected and the criminal not punished for violations, are no laws at all.

Since 1790, Congress has authorized the revision of criminal statutes on three occasions. The first revision began shortly after the Civil War, in 1866, when the criminal laws were scattered through 14 volumes of Statutes at Large.

President Andrew Jackson, with the Congress assenting, empowered a commission to examine criminal provisions to eliminate obsolete provisions and to collect the statutes for republication in a body.

In 1879, Congress again authorized a commission to revise and codify penal laws of the United States. These were updated in 1909, and 39 years passed before another study was made to modernize the Criminal Code.

At the present time the President is appointing another commission to revise, clarify and codify.

Many of our laws have been complicated by Federal Courts which render decisions in some 30,000 cases a year. Loopholes need to be closed as an excuse for some of the "do-gooder" opinions which have recently been decided. In many instances the Courts have in effect rewritten sections of our criminal laws and have acted more like a legislative body than a judicial one. The public is becoming more and more aware of these actions and certain police and other law enforcement officials are more so. They are finding their tasks and responsibilities to be exceedingly difficult.

It is well that the President of the United States is calling for revision in our criminal statutes but what we need immediately is to stop coddling criminals and give greater regard for the victim of crime. There are advocates of the idea that the victim of crime should be compensated from public funds but the real need is the enforcement of law to make "crime not pay." Law abiding people have a right to expect protection from criminals. Good intentions are worthless.

It is encouraging that community and civic authorities, educators, religious leaders and people from all walks of life are speaking out, demanding justice.

Law enforcement will be effective if they are permitted to do the job they are capable of doing. The detecting and apprehending of criminals is not the whole answer. The criminal must know that

Deadline Near For Boat Owners To Fix Exhaust

AUSTIN—Time will be up within three months for pleasure boat operators given an extra year's time to adjust potentially hazardous ventilation systems in conformity with Coast Guard requirements, according to the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department.

This was one of the accommodations allowed aquatic enthusiasts in 1966 when joint Federal and state safety regulations became effective.

For example, Texas game wardens stood instructed until late summer not to cite boating buffs for routine infractions.

Literature and friendly counsel were issued at first as a means of courting cooperation on the waterways.

Now, the Coast Guard cautions that further liberation of the boat ventilation rule beyond June 1 would not be advisable.

This regulation, according to the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department, applies only to persons with inboard boats or inboard-outboard craft and outboards with closed fuel tank compartments.

A Department spokesman said the minimum natural ventilation is required by the Coast Guard for closed engine and fuel tank compartments as a means of avoiding possible explosive conditions. Coast Guard regulations, strictly enforced by Texas game wardens, specifically call for at least one inlet duct fitted with cowl or equivalent, and at least one outlet or exhaust duct fitted with cowl or equivalent.

Ducts must extend from the open atmosphere to a point at least midway to the bilge for the intake air duct and to the lower portion for the exhaust.

Current industry standards will satisfy the requirements and are recommended.

Pleasure boating operators in doubt about the requirements effective June 1 are invited to contact their local game warden or the nearest Department office.

his destiny includes prompt prosecution and substantial punishment. He must know that the Courts are for the protection of people against criminal acts and not alone furnishing technical procedures behind which the violator can hide.
