'Test Drive' Eastland As A Good Place for Industry

By CATHY CLARK

It may not be the raciest new model on the showroom floor, but our community is custom made by good citizens for endurance and dependability.

The chassis of our community is our school system; for from it come many important parts of the functioning community machine.

The wheels which carry your business forward are exemplified by truck and bus lines, a major railroad, an international airport and a location on Highway 80 and the soon-to-be-completed Interstate 20.

This car has plenty of trunk room and floor space for expansion of industry.

Our air conditioning system provides a moderate climate in which rarely a workday ever lost because of weather.

Our interior carpeting is graced with the presence of two country clubs, three lakes, a public park with a swimming pool, both old and new homes and office buildings, and many beautiful country scenes.

Industry would be supported by the receptive, interested citizens of this county seat city.

Through the senior citizens, our rear view mirrors, you may see the history of our community and may become proud of a fine heritage.

Under the hood we have an engine powered by a readily available work force.

Clark thanked Eastland for having served as a guinea pig in the governor's pilot industrialization program. (A five-meeting series of seminars has been held in the county several years ago.)

The speaker by-passed the five points necessary for attracting industry (which were covered at the seminars) and offered instead five motivating factors which should stir the individual to be concerned with getting industry.

These are: self preservation; economic well-being; pride; love; and using God-given talents in His Kingdom's work here on earth.

Paraphrasing a recent national news magazine's report on Texas, Clark closed by saying: "The present and future (Continued on Page 2)

Bill Proposes Adding Counties To 91st Court

MUSGROVE proposed plan, all indications the Legislature, of any party will add Calmanche Counties the 91st Judicial District, now served by Congressman O. M. Borden, Scurry and Garza Counties, 28,056 more people would be added to the 17th District, and would adjust the size of the district to a more acceptable arrangement.

I have been in touch with Congressman Burleson in Washington and he assures me that he considers it to be a good plan.

Three House subcommittee that traveled to Eastland last week was thoroughly impressed with the Eastland hospitality and with the fine facilities that are provided by Eastland County for the Eleventh Court of Civil Appeals.

The people of Eastland — Bill Hoffman, Jay Staggs, Don Russell, Jack Arrington and many others — should be commended for their work to keep this court — one of 13 in the entire State — located where it has been since 1925.

My bill allowing Breckenridge to refinance its paralyzing financial arrangement was heard last week by the House Urban Affairs Committee and an amendment to broaden the legislation to include some other governmental subdivision has been included. The bill will more than likely be sent back to the Senate side in the very near future for their approval of the amendment.

LARGE GROUP EXPECTED TO ATTEND BUDDING SCHOOL

A large group is expected to attend the annual Eastland County Pecan Budding and Grafting School at Cisco, April 14th according to Tony White, chairman of the agricultural committee of the chamber of commerce.

His organization together with the Extension Service and the county pecan growers association are sponsoring the annual affair expected to attract at least 150 people from over a wide area in central and west Texas.

The morning session will be held in the cafeteria at the Cisco Junior College is scheduled to begin at 9 a. m. The afternoon practice session where those attending will practice budding and grafting pecan trees will be held in the B. T. Graham orchard on the old Abilene highway west of Cisco.

J. M. Cooper Eastland, president of the pecan growers, will be the instructor. C. E. Smith, Rising Star pecan grower and former president of the association will demonstrate the latest techniques in grafting trees.

A supply of cold storage pecan budwood and graftwood of the Choctaw, Wichita, Apache, Comanche and other new varieties will be available as well as a supply of budding tape and two bladed pecan budding knives.

Mr. White issued an invitation to anyone, in central or west Texas, interested in learning how to propagate pe-

Council Begins Drive For $50,000 To Improve Camp Gibbons

Comanche Trail Council of Scouts of America has announced an intensive, 90-day drive to match a challenge of $50,000 offered by the Foundation for the Development and Expansion of the Camp Billy Gibbons. Council President Man-gebb announced this week. Chairman of the drive is Dr. T. C. Graves of Goldthwaite.

Spearheading the effort in Eastland County will be Council Executive Board members Frank N. Sayre, and Dr. B. B. Alexander of Eastland; John A. Bates and B. J. Collings of Ranger.

Need for the expansion and development of the facilities at Camp Billy Gibbons was shown in broad outline by the council's long-range plan, developed during 1964 and adopted by the council in December 1965.

Accomplishment of other goals of the council's long-range plan has included the addition of a member of the council's executive staff, resulting in a boy membership growth of over 10 per cent in 1966 — an achievement which placed the Comanche Trail Council third among the 35 councils in Texas, Oklahoma, and New Mexico. Boy membership growth in the council has been steady and consistent for the past three years, and is "on schedule" as set by the long-range plan.

The use of Camp Billy Gibbons, located on Brady Creek, fifteen miles from Richland Springs, as projected in the council's long-range plan, will more than double by 1970. Present physical facilities at the camp will not stand much use. Considered "critical" by the Comanche Trail Council's leaders are replacement, expansion, and improvement of the camp's water system. Also vital to simple health needs are replacement of most of the campsite sanitary facilities, expansion of the dining hall sanitation fields, and the addition of cold-water shower facilities at each Troop campsite. Most of the existing Troop campsites are too close together for proper Scout camping and should be relocated. A number of other smaller needs can be met from the funds to be matched by the Terrell Foundation. Detailed plans are now being considered by a committee headed by Paul A. Cunyus, Dean of Instruction at Tarleton College, a past President of the council, and 1967 council camping activities committee chairman.

"Camp Billy Gibbons has been a wonderful tradition for the thousands of boys who have camped there since 1932, and this tradition can be passed on to thousands more with the cooperation and support of the citizens of our council's eight-county area," Drive Chairman Dr. T. C. Graves said. "We urge all who have ever had any connection with the program offerred our boys at Camp Billy Gibbons, as well as those who will be interested simply because of their interest in building better boys, to give generously to this effort, knowing that every dollar that is contributed will be doubled."

The Licensed Vocational Nurses Association, Division No. 64, will meet in the Conference Room of Eastland Memorial Hospital at 7:30 p. m., Monday, April 10. Dr. M. A. Treadwell of Eastland will speak. All members are urged to attend. Balloon tires were first developed and perfected by the Firestone Tire and Rubber Company in 1923.
