Mrs. Hoffmann Issues Statement

My announcement as a candidate for school board trustee is a simple and understandable one. First, it is my sincere desire to give to my community any service which may prove beneficial. Second, I at present time have the time to devote and study for the improvements which we all strive for and at the same time present the views of parents and citizens of our community. Third, I feel that a woman's point of view should be represented and that it will be a privilege to become a better and more useful citizen through this service.

I would like to make it clear that I feel no antagonism toward any person and I will strive for coordination and harmony for all who are concerned with our Public schools. The people have a right to voice in its advancement; the trustees have the responsibility to adjust and progress to the best interest of all. I will have an open mind to any problems that confront us and will be loyal to my ideals, with full support to the Board. Included in my college curriculum were extended courses in child psychology, child development labs along with arts and crafts for both children and adults, thus I feel that I can cope with a teachers viewpoint.

I would genuinely appreciate your vote and will welcome any questions you may have regarding my candidacy.

HOMEMAKERS' HINTS

By JANET MEYERS
Home Demonstration Agent

Home Demonstration Club women throughout central Texas are looking forward to the District Texas Home Demonstration Association meeting to be held in Stephenville on April 13 and 14. Some 20 counties will be represented at this time. All the meetings will be held on Tarleton State College campus during the two day convention. Delegates attending from Eastland County are: Mrs. W. V. Fenter, Rising Star; Mrs. Genoa Brown, Eastland; and Mrs. Kay Gordon, Ranger. Eastland County delegates along with the delegates from Comanche County will conduct the recreation workshop during the session. Mrs. W. V. Fenter of Eastland County is chairman of the recreation workshop.

One of the most revolutionary ideas on the clothing industry today is paper apparel. The ultimate goal in easy care is the disposable garment. Imagine a label which says wear but don't wash, just throw away. Shorten with scissors. Press with a cool iron.

Disposable apparel is made from a thin netting of rayon or nylon sandwiched between layers of specially processed cellulose. The materials, before being made into apparel, can be treated to make them fire-retardant, water and abrasion resistant — or even luminous, as in jackets for highway workers.

You might be wondering exactly how these garments are being used. Women and girls enjoy the novelty of disposable garments as well as the ease of care. Some women are using them for maternity apparel. Others find them ideal to wear while doing messy household chores etc. For the bride, disposable bridal gowns are available as well as bridesmaid dresses and flower girl dresses. It is thought that dresses which are copies of original Paris designs will soon be available.

Men and boys are also enjoying disposable garments. Probably the biggest success story is the disposable swim suit for men. It is available at many hotels which either sell or give them to the traveling man who would like a swim but hasn't brought his suit. These garments are made of Olefin and resemble lightweight vinyl.

One of the greatest potentials for disposable merchandise is in the medical field. Medical people like disposable textiles not only for convenience, but also for hygienic reasons.

Large paper manufacturing companies calculate current expenditure for disposable goods at $50 million per year. The success of disposable-textile merchandise rests primarily on the convenience factor. As of yet, cost has not played a dominant role. Disposable clothes at the present time cost about $1.75 for a shift dress, $5.00 to $15.00 for an evening gown, 40 cents for a child's pinafore.

In the future, disposable garments may be taken for granted. But for the present, many disposable items are available only in certain areas and others are available only in large department stores.

Easter Pageant Draws Big Crowd History Next

The Kendrick Family, which staged the 3rd annual Easter Pageant for an appreciative audience last Sunday morning at their ranch midway between Cisco and Eastland, will present the history of Eastland County as a special July 4th program.

This announcement was made by J. H. Kendrick, head of the family of well known entertainers, during the Easter program. The county history will be presented in pageant form to trace the progress of the area from early settlers to the present. The crowd for the 1967 Easter pageant, which includes some 10 scenes that portrayed the life of Moses as well as more than 40 scenes that depicted the birth of Christ, his life and resurrection was smaller than anticipated due to a cold rainy and stormy night. More than an inch of rain fell in this area. The audience was entertained by the Kendrick quartet, Don Nicholas and the Inspiration Quartet of Carbon, and the Frances Lancaster Trio of Rising Star with gospel music prior to the beginning of the pageant. Members of the Kendrick family expressed their appreciation for the help of the some 135 people in the cast plus those who helped on various production committees. Many expressions of visitors said that this year's pageant was the best to date. Explorer Scouts of Eastland served as ushers.

The host and sponsoring families include Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Kendrick, Phil Kendrick, Mr. and Mrs. Pierre Kendrick and Mickey, and Mr. and Mrs. Bill Kendrick and Stacy and Ron.

Those with the major roles in the pageant scenes included the following:

Mr. and Mrs. Jimmie Warren, Linda, Carol, and Morris of Comanche.

Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Casten of Hamilton.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Currie, Suzan and Jeff of Abilene.

Mr. and Mrs. Everett Harris of Rising Star.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Mitcham, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Westfall and Daird, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Floyd, Miss Dixie LeFevre, all of Cisco. John, Beverly and Anne Harris of Breckenridge, Ivan North, Steve May and Gary Barlow, all of Mineral Wells.

Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Campbell of Carbon.
