Governor Compliments, Challenges Local Club In Visit

It simple" was the message of the Governor when he complimented the members of the Rotary club at their luncheon meeting as District Governor Jones of Fort Worth, Texas, visited Eastland last week.

Using President Hodges as an example, he said that the man retired at 52 after 30 years with the Marshall Field Co., devoted the rest of his life to public service, and served later as governor of North Carolina and top cabinet official to two presidents.

Gov. Jones complimented the club on its achievements, present projects, and urged a careful analysis of community needs for future projects.

Accompanying the distinguished visitor was Skeet Fambrough of Breckenridge, who has been named coordinator for the four-town area including Eastland, Cisco, Ranger and Breckenridge.

Outlining the history of Rotary, Gov. Jones pointed out that it began when one club was organized in one city in 1905 and that today there are 12,900 clubs in 134 countries with some 620,510 members. Growth averages one new club per day, he said, and the remarkable thing is that Rotary uses no paid organizers.

Gov. Jones also urged participation through correspondence with this district's "matched district" on the West Coast of France. "I've found that our mated district, while primarily known as a champagne producing area in France, also has much in common with our own district," the governor said.

There are 41 clubs in Gov. Jones' district.

At a Club assembly meeting last Friday night attended by the governor, 10 of 11 officers and directors were present for the meeting held at Texas Electric Service Co. Reddy Room.

Guests introduced by Secretary Joe Culppepper were Rotarians Bob Qualls and Chuck Wilson, both of Cisco, and Charles Gerard of Flat River, Mo., and Fambrough.

Attending the Club Assembly were Hallmark, Culppepper, Ralph Sittler, Jack Arrington, Haston Brewer, Charles Freyschlag, Charles P. Marshall, Frank Sayre, Roy Smith and A. D. Taylor.

PGA Champion Don January Has Big, Enthusiastic Eastland Gallery

Denver, Colo., is known as the Mile-High City and the excitement was ever bit that high in the Herman Rushing home at 303 S. Oaklawn, Eastland, Monday evening as the televised playoff of the PGA Tournament unfolded.

In Denver, Don January, a veteran Dallas pro who has shot a three-under par 69 and the Mile-High City and the excitement was ever bit that high in the Herman Rushing home at 303 S. Oaklawn, Eastland, Monday evening as the televised playoff of the PGA Tournament unfolded.

Pat January, 37, and Massengale leaped over giants like Nicklaus and Palmer Sunday to tie for the crown, each with 281.

The Rushing den-side television crowd cheered as "their Don" overcame a two-stroke deficit on the eighth and go ahead to stay on the 10th. January lost a PGA playoff title in 1961 and the victory Monday netted him $25,000 in prize money and some $50,000 in endorsement contracts, his family reported.

Tuesday, Mrs. January and her two younger children, her cousin, Mike Miller, were going to Brownwood where older brother Tim and Mike are to compete in a golf tournament.

Mrs. January and children made the June portion of the pro tour, but dropped off during July so the youngsters could visit their grandparents and cousins. They'll be re-joining the PGA champion later. He's to play in Minneapolis this weekend and in Chicago the following weekend, before he comes home for a visit. He's affiliated with Great West Life insurance Co. in Dallas.

Many others followed the play with interest in this area.

Mrs. January graduated from Eastland High School in 1949 and from North Texas State University in 1953 — the same year she and Don married.

Don called Monday night, about an hour and a half after the play ended. Pat said, "It took him that long to get out of the press room — but we didn't mind. I'm so glad he won and that they wanted him there that long."

Mrs. Rushing guested that maybe the fantastic, money-making hole-in-one he sunk a few years ago was actually more exciting, because of its total unexpectedness.

The youngest January wonders if he'd have to change his first name from Richard because of its length, in case he decides to become a professional golfer like his dad.

Greenbacks Beat Jr. All Stars, 5-3

The Eastland Greenbacks defeated an all-star team made up of players from other Junior League teams, 5-3, at Firemen's Field Saturday night, with the able assist of a powerful pitching staff.

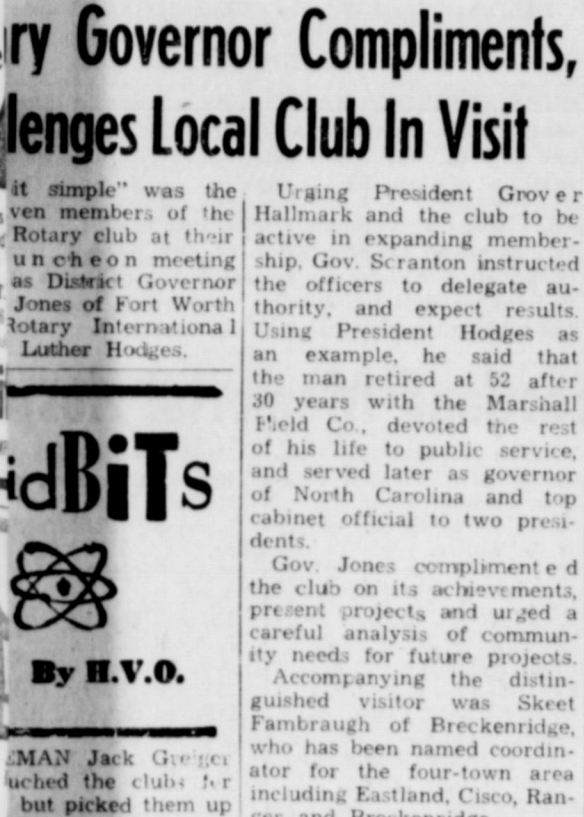

Two pitchers, Larry Don Williamson from the Ranger Hawks and Daryl Thomas from the Eastland Blue Sox, added under a winning-team bolstering rule, are expected when the Eastland team goes to the District Tournament in Coleman Aug. 2.

In the full nine-inning game each of the Greenback's three pitchers took three innings for these statistics: Grady Gregory gave one walk, struck out one and gave up one hit; Williamson struck out four, gave one hit, and walked none; Thomas struck out eight with no walks, no hits.

Losing pitcher was Mike Dawson. The Greenbacks scored four in the second and their fifth in the sixth. The All-Stars scored one in the first and two in the eighth.

Greenback Manager Ray Young and League President Joe Culppepper were to go to Coleman Wednesday night for a meeting at which places will be drawn in the tournament.

Young has a 12-man team and is rotating the winning trophy among each boy for a month so that all may share in the wins.

VICTOR'S FAMILY — Mrs. Don January, the former Pat Rushing, plays with children Cherie, 9, and Richard, 5, in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Rushing. The family saw Don win the PGA Golf Tournament in Denver, Colo., Monday, via television in the Rushing home. Son Tim is in Brownwood.

Salt Water Pits To Be Studied At Austin Hearing

A not-too-clear report out of Austin this week indicated that a public hearing will be held on Aug. 7 concerning salt water disposal pits in Eastland County, but none locally would comment on the hearing.

The report said: "The elimination of all salt water disposal pits from all oil and gas fields in Eastland County will be the subject of a Railroad Commission hearing Aug. 7."

"The hearing is set for 2 p. m. in the Commission's hearing room in the Ernest O. Thompson Building here."

"The Railroad Commission has ordered a halt on all oil field brine disposal pits — unless specific exemptions are written — as of Jan. 1, 1969. But dozens of earlier no pit deadlines have been drawn, such as that to be proposed Aug. 7 on Eastland County operations."

STAMP MURAL, POSTMASTER FEATURED IN WOMAN'S DAY

The Eastland Post Office Stamp Mural and its creator, Postmaster Marene Johnson are featured prominently in the August issue of Woman's Day a major home-interest magazine, distributed nationally through super market outlets.

Prepared and submitted by Eastland Librarian Mrs. A.E. Cushman, the article is accompanied by a black and white photo of Mrs. Johnson at the mural, and is featured in the magazine's "What Goes on Here!" section.

The article says in part: "It was, literally, a dream of Postmistress Marene Johnson - Johnson's to create a stamp mural for her post office in Eastland, Texas. The next morning, as she mused about it, she found herself doodling a design. Seven years and a half-million stamps later, in 1963, her sixty-ten-foot mural was installed in the post office lobby, sealed between layers of glass.

"Apart from the time devoted to researching, collecting and processing the stamps, Mrs. Johnson-Johnson spent nine hundred and eighty-two hours snipping and fitting them into the mural. The colorful montage depicts postal—and American—history. The blue United Nations seal at its center is made, symbolically, from Mercury stamps which show the first space capsule. For the large representation of the five-cent

Franklin stamp issued in 1847 — our first adhesive stamp—she used three-cent rust-red Lincoln stamps; for the Texas map, Alamo stamps. At the left is the first postal-card imprint, with Miss Liberty created from Martha Washington stamps. The Lincoln profile, which appears on the tenth postal card issued, is fashioned from Jefferson stamps to symbolize the Republican-Democrat party system. Nine panels of stamps represent Education, Industry, Transportation, the Presidents, Progress, Statehood, Health, Creeds and Special Services.

"With Mrs. Johnson - Johnson's perseverance in making a dream become reality, the success of almost any project she undertakes seems guaranteed. Currently, she is musing about commemorative stamps: only thirty states have issues honoring their admission to statehood. If she has any influence at the Postmaster General's Office, and she ought to, that number may soon be revised upward.

Quite a number were in De Leon Monday afternoon to attend the funeral for Charlie Browning who passed away Sunday afternoon in the Gorman Hospital following a long illness. He was a brother-in-law of Mrs. Ray Guthery.

INDUSTRIAL THEME...

SILENCE IS GOLDEN

By SHIRLEY REID

Shirley Reid, 17, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Underwood. She plans to attend Cisco Junior College and Sul Ross. She will major in elementary education.

Shirley was a member of the library staff, an officer in F.H.A. in the Junior and Senior plays and a member of the Thespian Club. She lettered in basketball, was captain of the basketball team, and an officer in the Girls' E Association.

She is a member of Bethel Baptist Church.

When we think of industry we usually think of a city or a large town. These ideas we get are not always right, however. For instance, I went to an old woman who has a gypsy wagon down by the river. She and I became friends and she showed me her crystal ball and began to tell me what she saw in it. She told me that might not be to tell what she saw but it is too good to keep a secret. As the old woman looked into her ball, she said she could see men that were of great importance in the business world trying to decide where they wanted to build a factory. She said she could see them reading reports on many different towns and communities and she said, as she smiled, that they were very well pleased with a small town by the name of Eastland. As the woman looked further, she said that the men had all the statistics that they wanted but they did not know how the people felt. Then the old woman said it was getting late and she was tired. She told me to come back the next night and we would see what else she could find in her ball.

When I returned the next night, she began to look into her ball again and she said she was curious as to why these committees would be interested in Eastland. She said she could see the people. They were like any other normal community. They were usually friendly to everyone. She remarked at the things there were for the teenagers and other people to do for a town of its size. She named a few of them off to me. They consisted of the following: a recreation hall, a very good swimming pool, a very nice park, a good theater, two drive-ins, which are just outside of town, three lakes, clubs and club-houses, such as the Country Club, for people to relax at and have fun, tennis courts, and she was amazed to see that there was for the young people to go to dance if they wanted to. There was a fireman's hall at the park where live bands played regularly. As the old woman continued, she was shocked to find out about the excellent school system the little town had. She said they had a new elementary school building where the latest teaching methods were used and also the old-fashioned ways now and then. There was a high school and a junior high on a hill overlooking a portion of the town. The school buildings were not new but they have the foot prints of many generations of students who could not have been happier anywhere else. She could see a short, stock, man standing on the front steps with a stern yet proud look of content on his face as he gazed over a group of students as they gathered to go to classes. The woman was amazed to find that there were many different things which the young people could participate in. She mentioned such things as the Beta Club, which was made up of the students which has a certain scholastic standing, a Thespians Club, which consisted of the students who were in the speech class. She saw the activities of the students in sports, such as football, basketball, tennis track, and she gasped to think that girls took part in the sport of basketball. She mentioned such honors the school had and could win for their school like contests in speech, F.F.A., F.H.A., and others in sports. Besides the very good school system the town of Eastland offered, she could see that the two neighboring towns of Ranger and Cisco had junior colleges which gave students a chance to go to school and still stay home for an additional two years, and the colleges had many young people who help the popularity of Eastland. The old woman noticed the job facilities which could be had by anyone, including young people, such as in the court house, at one of the four drug stores, at the Hollywood Vassarette factory, at many of the department and dry good stores, at the bank, at the highway department, the theater, and of course there are always odd jobs like mowing lawns. She also said that there were two very good construction companies where jobs could be found and an egg and chicken farm near Cisco.

As the old woman looked further, she could see the new housing districts and how the town was growing.

The woman finally looked into her crystal ball again and then after she read some tea leaves, she expressed her idea on the whole thing. She said that she could not be certain but if she were head of a company she could not ask for anything better in a site for a factory.

Now I do not know about you but I just could not wait to tell someone who knew about this town named Eastland so he people could make even a better effort toward being a good place for industry. I think you would do the same thing unless you are "pure gold."

Rep. Musgrove Talks On LSD For Lions Club

Twenty-six major areas are being observed today in the state for illegal LSD manufacture and distribution, Rep. Burke Musgrove of Breckenridge told members of the Eastland Lions Club at their regular luncheon meeting on Tuesday.

Rep. Musgrove introduced legislation during the past session and worked for its passage, which makes possession of LSD (and other hallucination drugs as defined by the drug officials) a "half" misdemeanor with punishment of up to one year in the county jail and/or fine of up to $1000. The bill further makes manufacture and distribution a felony. Texas became the 7th state in the nation to adopt LSD laws, he said.

Outlining the dangers of the drugs, Musgrove said that they are relatively simple to make and that a pound of LSD was enough for some four and a half million people. Citing examples of LSD traffic, Musgrove explained that he got in the position of being accused of singling out the University of Texas, but in fact, the drug traffic extends throughout the state, even onto high school campuses, in fact.

Lucre Pittman was program chairman and Musgrove was introduced by Dick Dixon, who made arrangements for his appearance here. Slides were shown to explain the potency of the drug and the horrible effects it often has on users.

"The thing that got me interested in the problem," he said, "was when I learned that we had had a serious case of LSD use in this district."

President C. W. Hoffman, Jr., presided and guests introduced by Tip Arther included O. L. Stamey of Cisco, Joe Dennis of Ranger, Scott Bailey of Cisco, and Foreign Exchange Student Marriane Landgraf.

Visiting with Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Dalton last week were their two grandchildren, Leigh Ann Jeffcoat of Snyder and Caucky Martin of Abilene.

Steve and Karen Smith of Dallas are visiting with their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Homer Smith, this week.

Former Rangerite Receives Plaque

Shelby Parnell, formerly of Ranger and counselor for alcoholic patients in Big Spring State Hospital, was awarded a gold and mahogany plaque Wednesday during the 10th annual Institute on Alcohol Studies at the University of Texas.

The award marked Parnell's 10th anniversary on Big Spring State's staff.

Macin Freeman, executive director of the Texas Commission on Alcoholism, which provides alcoholism counselors for state mental and tuberculosis hospitals and prisons, made the award.

Freeman commended Parnell for his work with both men and women committed to the hospital for alcoholism over the past 10 years, and told him the state will hire a counselor to work with women patients in September.

Marsha Griffin, Teresa Hertridge, and Janie Miller are at Glen Lake Methodist Camp in Glen Rose for several days. They left Monday and will return Saturday morning.

COURTHOUSE SERIES — No. 2

Duties of DA, Sheriffs Offices And How a Crime Becomes a Case

TEXAS CONSTITUTION Article V Section 21

"A County Attorney, for counties in which there is not a resident Criminal District Attorney, shall be elected by the qualified voters of each county...."

The 91st Judicial District is composed of only Eastland County and the County Court does not hear contested criminal cases. The offices of County Attorney and District Attorney are combined and Perry T. Brown of Rising Star is County -District Attorney.

Mrs. Oletha Barker of Ranger is his secretary. She handles telephone calls, schedules personal interviews, and does typing and filing. Duties of the county attorney are to attend the terms of court in his county below the grade of district court and represent the state in criminal cases under examination.

The district attorney is to represent the state in all criminal cases in the district court and when any criminal proceeding is had before an examining court.

Article 201, Code of Criminal Procedure, says: "It shall be the primary duty of all prosecuting attorneys, including any prosecutors, not to convince, but to see that justice is done."

Mr. Brown said, "A District Attorney is actually a defender of the public because enforcement of the law is one method of defending the public."

The district attorney is not required to attend sessions of the Grand Jury, but he may do so, and Brown customarily does. He is expected to go before the grand jury and inform them of offenses liable to indictment at any time except when they are discussing the propriety of finding and indictment or voting upon the same. He may examine witnesses before the grand jury and the jurors may send for him and ask his advice upon any matter of the law.

The grand jury foreman has the authority to issue summons or attachments for witnesses within the county or to ask the district clerk to issue them for witnesses in other counties.

The district attorney hears complaints, reduces them to writing and has the complaint sign them. They are then filed with the proper magistrate: misdemeanors with the county court and felonies with the justice of the peace or county court. The magistrate refers the complaint to the grand jury. If an indictment is returned, the district attorney represents the state at the trial in district court.

Article V Section 23

"There shall be elected by the qualified voters of each county a Sheriff...."

The Eastland County Sheriff's Department is composed of Sheriff L. E. (Lefty) Sublett and Deputies L. O. Williams, Ott Erwin, and Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Shook.

Sublett says, "Our main duty is the protection of life and property in this county. Since cooperation is the key to successful law enforcement, we work very closely with all departments of law enforcement or investigation."

The sheriff listed game wardens, lake keeper, Highway Patrolmen, Texas Rangers, officers of the Cattle Raisers Association, Liquor Control Board, City Police.

The department works with city policemen on crimes above the grade of felony; with the highway patrolmen in setting up road blocks or standing during investigation of highway accidents (the sheriff does not, however, actually investigate motor vehicle accidents); with the Liquor Control Board on raids; and with officers of the Cattle Raisers Association on cattle thefts.

Other departments listed by the sheriff were Texas Rangers, State Narcotic Board, federal investigators for the State Medical Board, FBI, postal inspectors, treasury department, other sheriffs, and insurance investigators.

Deputy Erwin works inside the office, answering the telephone and two-way radio and keeping a complete, accurate record of all that is handled by the department. This record includes a list of civil papers served by the sheriff.

Mr. Shook is the jailer and keeps a file containing picture, fingerprints, and date on each prisoner. Mrs. Shook serves as matron and cool at the jail.

Sublett and Williams handle criminal investigation in the rural areas of the county or inside a town in cooperation with the local police; serve as bailiffs for the courts; escort convicted persons to the penitentiary; and carry on a great deal of work not connected with crime. This includes serving civil papers, delivering death or emergency messages; escorting funeral processions from town to town or from town to a rural cemetery; carrying mentally ill persons to a state or veteran's hospital; and making "blood runs" — carrying blood needed for transfusions across the county in relay runs with other sheriff departments; and helping in all drownings and suicides.

The office also receives many letters requesting help in locating a person who has lost contact with friends or relatives.

Criminal investigation is the most time-consuming duty. One hundred burglaries were reported between Jan. 11 and June 23 of this year.

When a burglary is reported the sheriff's department gets all the information possible from the one reporting. Sublett and Williams go immediately to the scene and investigate the mode of entry, look for any item left or dropped, take pictures, lift fingerprints, and check for footprints or tire tracks. All this is combined to form a "method of operation" which is checked against files kept in the office. Sublett explains, "Practically every burglar has a standard method of operation) which he will use with each burglary. If we don't have his file perhaps another county will have."

The owners, employees, neighbors are interviewed. A description of a person or a car is obtained, if at all possible. If a car license is given, it is checked and, if the owner lives in another area, officers there are contacted.

When the investigation leads to an arrest, the suspected criminal is taken before a magistrate (possibly a county judge, but usually a justice of the peace). The suspect is warned of his rights, obtains a lawyer if he desires, and makes his plea. If the plea is not guilty, the magistrate sets bond and if the suspect fails to make bond, he is jailed. Assuming this takes place in another county, the suspect is carried before an Eastland county magistrate prior to jail. Sublett and Williams prepare the evidence which will be presented to the District Attorney. They also testify and present evidence before the preliminary, the Grand Jury, and during the trial.

TEXAN AT WAR

Former Area Man Wants to Go Back

"It was one hell of a fight," says Texan at war Ray E. Sue recalling a bloody Viet Cong attack in which two of his buddies were killed.

He said that by the time his unit was taken out of the area, only two of 16 men had not been wounded.

Sgt. Sue, 25, a Ranger High School graduate, had been at Darnell Army Hospital at Ft. Hood since February 1966, recuperating from injuries suffered in the skirmish.

Son of Mr. and Mrs. Ray T. Sue, formerly of Ranger and Cisco, now living in Mineral Wells, Sgt. Sue joined the Army Dec. 15, 1959.

After training at Ft. Carson, Colo., and Ft. Ord, Calif. Sue was sent to Korea for a 13-month stay. He then spent a year at Ft. Hood and six months in Hawaii before his first Viet Nam tour.

He recently visited his parents in Mineral Wells and recently flew to Washington to attend military ceremonies for a fallen companion.

Sgt. Sue has a grandmother, Mrs. Winnie Sue, and an aunt, Mrs. Alice Lawless, living in Eastland.

Sue was at the White House April 6 when President Johnson presented the Congressional Medal of Honor posthumously to Spec. 4 Daniel Fernandez of Loving, N. M.

Fernandez was killed in Viet Nam when he threw himself in a grenade to protect his fellow soldiers.

As Fernandez' squad leader, Sue recommended him for the nations highest military award for valor.

Sue said the squad was on a raiding patrol when it was surrounded by about 200 Viet Cong.

In the fierce fighting that ensued, two Americans were killed and four seriously wounded, including Sue, whose left leg was shattered by a machine gun bullet.

He was also peppered by shrapnel from the grenade that killed Fernandez.

Sue went to Viet Nam in May 1965 with the 501st Aviation Battalion and later served with the 5th Infantry. He earned 11 medals. Still a bachelor, he wants to return to battle.

"I got mad when I got shot in Viet Nam and I want to go back and do some more shooting of my own," he said.

ASCS Measuring Peanut Crops

The Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service Office is in the process of measuring 1967 peanut crops where measurements are required.

Jesse G. Meredith, office manager, has announced that Bill C. Caraway, Roddy M. Carter, Kenneth Foreman, Dan Griffin, Gary Harris, Mike Moseley, Landan Reynolds, Danny Schaefer, Bobby Simpson, Macky Williams, David Rogers, Larry Snyder, and Bobby Little are helping with the measuring.

Mr. Meredith also said there are indications that this will be the last year for the crops to be measured. He said the farmers would go under a Producers' Certification.

When measurements are completed farmers will receive a notice of the measured acreage which should be reviewed carefully. A re-measurement service is offered which may be secured by making a deposit of the cost of the service with the ASCS Office within 15 days from the date of the notice of acreage.

Visiting with Mrs. Susie May last weekend were her son and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Richard May of Midland.

Also visiting with Mrs. May last Wednesday were her two cousins, Mrs. Pat Berry of Lampasas and Maggie Smith of Texas City.

State Capital NEWS
Buvern Sanford

TXAS — Newsreaders throughout the state will be seeing long columns of amendments to the constitution as Secretary of State Hill begins to add his six proposed amendments to the constitution on Nov. 11. An additional amendment will be on the 1968 ballot.

The 20 amendments are mostly to specify (eg: legislators or employees). Eight would provide local government with new powers or affect most Texans.

The amendments to be voted on will appear on the House Joint Resolution to amend the constitution in a single rather than divide among separate funds as is now.

HJR 37, allowing other government mental health and retardation commu- nities.

HJR 17, reviving the land program and a total of $400,000 to finance purchase of farm land by veterans, those who have served in Southeast Asia during hostilities.

HJR 6, authorizing to pay medical, dental and professional officers line of duty.

HJR 12, authorizing 1,000 state revenue bonds for the development of state parks and recreation areas. Bonds are to be financed by a state or U. S. gov- ernment where there is no interest and where might benefit.

enlarge the bond authorization were rejected at elections in 1963 and 1965. Oppositions came mainly from Dallas and Houston.

Proponents emphasize that while thousands of veterans have benefited from the program, it has cost the state no money and actually has turned a profit of $2,500,000 a year while providing an expanded land market.

Opposition has adopted the argument that it is not the function of the state govern- ment to engage in the business and that veterans have had plenty of time to participate. Some also contend that "cheap money" invites purchases of land not needed and which will not be put to productive use.

Amendment No. 2 specifies that the legislature, in providing for creation of hospital districts, does not have to require that the districts assume full responsibility for community mental health and retardation centers and services. It would permit cities and counties to levy taxes and issue bonds for such services. Subdivisions within existing districts would be authorized to do so unless statutes creating the districts expressly prohibit. An attorney general opinion held that the constitution does not allow political subdivisions within the boundary of a hospital district to levy taxes for medical and hospital service. Under that ruling, cities and counties located in such districts were restricted from participating in establishment of community health centers. Therefore, only hospital districts could establish such centers, a key part of the mental health program.

Amendment No. 6 is aimed are self explanatory and apparently non-controversial. Amendment No. 6 is aimed primarily at permitting educators, who are paid from funds, to serve on federal advisory boards.

The soil of Eastland County is largely sandy and sandy loam, some black and gray. Mesquite, post oak, black-jack and cedar are on the hills of Eastland County and pecan and elm are in the bottoms.

Eastland County population, in 1960 Federal Census, was 19,526.

The Eastland County Dress Revue was a big success, Friday night, July 21. Forty-two girls modeled their garments before a large audience of parents, friends, and relatives, in a circus atmosphere.

The subjunior division — ages 9 to 12 — consisted of Marilyn Bibb, Saralyn Butler,

Bebbi Callaway, DeLynn Chambers, Dottie Chambers, Tareanna Chambers, Marilyn Clark, Sharon Clark, Janna Hubbard, Nancy Medford, Debbie Nunally, Inell Teague, Nelda Teague, Judy Underwood, Billie White and Jerilyn Winfrey, all of Rising Star. Others were Teresa Browder, Gorman; Pam Claborn, Jo Ann Green, Sicily Heyzer, Caddy Lee, and Carolyn Lee of Cisco.

Subjunior girls from Morton Valley were Mila Kincaid, Becky Miller, Theresa Tankersley and Elaine Skinner. Renee Pierson, Patti Young, and Susan Young from Olden were subjunior girls also.

The Junior Division was made up of girls 12-14. They were Brenda Browder, Gorman; Donna Callaway, Martha Callaway, Debbie Chambers, Brenda Coker, Cynthia Housnel, Mary Jane Kizer, Cindy McCutchen, Barbara Ritcher, and Carol Strobel, all of Rising Star. Others were Katie Capers and Suzanne Harbin of Eastland; and Patsy Kincaid of Morton Valley.

Girls ages 14-19 are Seniors 4-H Club members. Those participating in the Dress Revue were Kay Green, Sandy Ingram, and Lynne Pippen of Cisco; Sharon Stedum of Eastland; Barbara Williams of Gorman; and Kathy Kincaid of Morton Valley.

Miss Brenda Browder of Gorman, first place junior division, and Miss Kathy Kincaid, first place senior division will represent Eastland County at the District Dress Revue, Thursday, July 27, in Stephenville. Lynne Pippen of Cisco was runner-up in the Senior division and will serve as hostess at the District Dress Revue.

Other winners were Caryn Lee of Cisco, first place subjunior Sicily Heyzer, Cisco, runner-up subjunior; and Patsy Kincaid junior runner-up.

This has been a good year for our clothing projects. The success is due to the hard work of the trained adult leaders. Thank you, adult leaders for all of your work and time.

Where do juicy tender pork chops come from? Ask any Eastland County 4-H'er working on a swine project and he will tell you that they come from the back of the hog. The 4-H'er will tell you further that the hog provides three kinds of chops: loin, rib, and shoulder. These boys and girls know that pork chops from properly fed hogs today have less fat and therefore fewer calories than ever before.

But that's not the complete story. In a swine breeding

IN THIS AREA Results Are Showing From Neighborhood Youth Corps

What is the Neighborhood Youth Corps program?
The Rev. Dr. Billy Graham said, in an address to a Congressional luncheon in June, "It is not a live-away program. What it is doing is helping people help themselves."

Tip Arther, area coordinator for the program, said, "It is an opportunity for some 160 students from 22 high schools in Eastland, Palo Pinto, Shackelford, Throckmorton, Stephens, and Young Counties, to work while they are attending school."

But perhaps the best explanation of the program comes from a young girl who is employed on the first job which offers her a chance to gain experience in a trade. She said, "NYC is a job. I don't know if I'll become a fulltime office worker or not. But if I choose to do so, I will have some training and experience. I know now, for the first time in my life, what it is to be employed; to get up and get to work on time and do a job once I'm there."

"I am treated as any other worker. They expect me to do a job and, maybe mostly for this reason, I do it. And they pay me. The money is very important to me, but the job is also important. I know that I would not have gotten this job any other way."

Perhaps the girl is right. Only school, government, and other nonprofit organizations are eligible to hire NYC workers, who are paid with a federal grant. If the office budget had included salary for an additional employee, some one other than the girl might have been hired. The question is not really important, because "might have" is in the past.

And the future is what holds importance, for the girl, for the county.
Here is what the girls employer said: "We're asking for a full time office clerk in next year's budget. And if we get it, if we can hire someone through regular channels, this girl will be hired. She has shown us she can handle the job and she has a wonderful attitude toward life and toward work."

The following is a copy of a letter received from Cong. Omar Burleson, sent to Farm Bureau President Jack Cozart: "Your telegram has just been received, regarding H.R. 6383, the original bill for the sale and transfer of peanut allotments. This bill has been superseded by H. R. 11222, and even this measure may be substituted before it leaves the Agriculture Committee."

"The bill was up in the Committee today, but no action was taken on the insistence of some of us that it not be brought out under present conditions."

Cong. Burleson Expects Delay On Crop Transfer Bill

"Whatever measure is voted will be limited to transfers or sale within the county, based, not on acreage, but history of production, and probably a limit on the amount that can be transferred by one or to any one person. Other changes are also possible, but it will not be brought out of the committee within the next few days."

"Thanking you again for writing me, and with good wishes, I remain
Sincerely yours,
Omar Burleson

THE GORDON SPOT

By DeMarquis (Dee) Gordon
Eastland County Extension Agent

Annual State Pecan Association's Conference was held at the Green Inn in Fort Worth July 26-28. I attended part of the conference. The Pecan Queen and State Pecan was held during the conference.

Miss Morgan, Eastland Pecan Queen, represented this county very well in the queen pageant. All entries from Eastland County were very proud. The Coryell County queen was winner of the pageant.

Eastland County growers had twenty-four entries in the pecan show. You might like to know an entry of pecans from the state show. The pecan must first place in the county show. These are then sent to one regional show. Our entries go to the Abilene regional show. Next the top winners in each variety regional show go to the state show.

Eastland County won a nice pecan for getting most points in the state show. Eastland County Saba Counties tied for second place in this contest. All three of these counties competed with each other in the Abilene regional show.

show. The Comanches won first at the regional and were sent to the state. At the state show the entry placed second among the top nine Comanches from all over the state.

There were many other winners from Eastland County in the show. Mr. Freeman also won first place with his entry of Choctaws. C.E. Smith of Rising Star won four ribbons. He had the first place known cross, the second place Apache, second place Choctaw, and second place McCulley. W. V. Fenter of Rising Star won second place with an entry of Altman's. M. M. Parmer of Cisco won third with Apaches. Cisco growers had the top three winners of the Market Special. They were R.W. Merket, Roy Camfield, and C. E. Moates. The Leon Valley Pecan Company at Seranton had the second place Variety Seedling. This pecan has not been officially named but is much better than many of the named varieties. It is now called the Texas 60. The nut is large and shelled 61 percent kernel.

Beginning at 4 p. m., the association is offering conducted tours of the old Army Fort and the site of The Ghost Town of Fort Griffin, 15 miles

Fort Griffin Centennial Program Is Planned At State Park Saturday

ALBANY—A troop of mounted riders, representing members of the U. S. Cavalry who in 1867 established the frontier outpost of Fort Griffin, still stand at attention for a reenactment of the event when the centennial of the founding is celebrated at Fort Griffin State Park, Saturday, July 29. A detail of Airmen from Dyess Air Force Base, representing the present day armed forces, will raise the flag.

The centennial celebration is being sponsored by the Shackelford County Historical Association which is issuing an open invitation to the public to attend the late afternoon events and to be the association's guests at a barbecue supper afterwards.

The Centennial observances at Fort Griffin State Park will include an exhibition of Fort Griffin relics housed in a special van and, as examples of modern instruments of warfare, a static display of helicopters from Fort Wol-

Countians Plan To Attend State AMERICAN LEGION CONVENTION

Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Collier and Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Jackson plan to attend the 49th convention of The American Legion, Department of Texas, to be held in Dallas July 27-30.

Mr. Collier is commander of the local post, and Mr. Jackson is adjutant. Mrs. Collier is president of the Cisco

Auxiliary. Some 2,000 delegates and alternates are expected for the American Legion convention, and the Auxiliary anticipates approximately 1,000, according to C. K. "Cap" Lawson, general convention chairman. Department Commander Jack W. Flynt of Dimmitt will preside over the Legion conclave. Heading The American Legion Auxiliary will be his wife, Mrs. Jack W. (Mary) Flynt.

U. S. Senator John G. Tower is scheduled to deliver the key note address during the joint session on Friday afternoon.

Outstanding speakers on Saturday will include the National Oratorical Contest Champion, Alan L. Keyes of San Antonio, who will deliver his winning oration, and Texas' Boys State Governor Samuel Hopkins of Richmond. Both were delegates to Boys Nation in Washington, D. C.

The second annual "Carl L. Estes Outstanding Citizen of Texas Award" will be presented Friday.

Friday at 5 p. m. the Parade of Champions Contest for Uniformed organizations, J.C. (Jake) Mann, chairman, will take place at the Memorial Auditorium. More than $3,000 in prizes will be awarded the winners of the colorful contest. This will be followed by a barbecue for registered delegates and guests. A bathing beauty pageant will follow where Miss American Legion of 1967 will be crowned.

Aside from the color and entertainment the Legion and Auxiliary have mapped out a full four-day program of serious business pertaining to the vast Texas programs of the Legion and Auxiliary. The Executive Committee, Board of Trustees and key standing committees and commissions will be busy throughout the convention.

The Memorial Service, under the direction of Rev. M. L. McNabb of Fort Worth, Department Chaplain, is scheduled for 9 a. m. Sunday. The election of Department Officers for the ensuing year will conclude the convention.

Eastland County was named in honor of Captain William M. Eastland, who participated in the battle of San Jacinto.

...and here's why we are able to make our famous money-back guarantee

Every day, the meat cases at every Safeway store are stocked with top quality meats. All day long, as our customers make their selections, the displays are replenished with meats of the same fine quality. This is the only kind of meats we have — the best!!
When your reputation has been built on perfect-eating meats, you don't compromise methods that assure top quality. These are the reasons we know every cut will be right and why we can back every sale with our guarantee of complete satisfaction:

GUARANTEE
If ever a purchase of Safeway fails to please for any reason whatsoever, just tell us. We will refund money promptly, courteously. There is no need to return the meat.

EXPERT MEAT CUTTING AND TRIMMING
Our method of trimming meat gives you more good eating meat on the table for your money, because excess fat and bone are cut off before the meat is weighed. In preparing meats for sale, we also make sure that each cut will be just right for its cooking method. The meat on every Safeway steak, for example, is all steak meat. The less tender end portion has been trimmed off to be sold at a lower price per pound. Similarly, a Safeway roast is roast meat.

USDA CHOICE BEEF & LAMB
(Only top grades, too, in pork and baby beef)
At Safeway, every steak, every chop, every roast of beef and lamb is of USDA Choice grade. This is meat graded by U. S. Department of Agriculture experts who judge strictly and impartially. USDA Choice is awarded only to meat that will deliver tender, juicy, flavorful cuts. It is the most popular grade of beef.
In order to feature lower prices, some other stores buy meat of lower grades. Some others mix USDA Choice and lower grades. Some coin fancy names for the lower grades they sell. But at Safeway every cut of beef and lamb is USDA Choice.

USDA CHOICE
SCIENTIFIC MEAT AGING
Even the finest quality beef and lamb reach peak flavor after proper aging. In vast air-conditioned aging Safeway holds meats under controlled temperature and humidity the exact time required to assure full tenderness and flavor.
Extra storage space with expensive air-conditioning is required to do this job correctly. Some stores claim to age meat do not even have the facilities to aging.
