WASHINGTON, August 12. (AP)—The Senate Judiciary committee considering President Truman's appointment of Attorney General Tom Clark as an associate justice today approved the nomination, 9 to 2.

Work On TESCO Plant Resumed Despite Strike

COLORADO CITY, Aug. 12. — (SPl)—Construction work was resumed this morning on the Texas Electric Service company steam-generating power plant at the Morgan Creek lake, but a jurisdictional dispute, it was understood that a closed conference was under way this morning. AF of L leaders were due here today to help iron out the squabble.

The iron workers—there are 22 of them—remained off the job, pending a clarification of the jurisdictional dispute. It was understood that a closed conference was under way this morning. AF of L leaders were due here today to help iron out the squabble.

A spokesman for the contractor expressed the opinion that the week-end would be settled over the matter. There was no grievance against either the contractor of Texas Electric Service, and as a matter, this spokesman said, for the unions to settle themselves.

Top Military Post Given Gen. Bradley

WASHINGTON, Aug. 12. (AP)—Omar Nelson Bradley, the "GI's general," has been selected for the nation's highest military post—permanent chairman of the joint chiefs of staff.

Selection of the Army chief of staff to fill this newly created position was announced yesterday by President Truman.

It had been widely anticipated and came only one day after the unification legislation which created the post.

In his new job, Bradley will not have any command authority, or even a vote with the joint chiefs—operating heads of the Army, Navy and Air Force—but he will have vast prestige.

During his 34 years of military service he has served in two world wars, commanded the largest body of troops ever to serve under an American field commander and spent three years as head of the Veterans Administration.

He became the Army's chief of staff last year.

Selection of his successor in that office had been expected yesterday but President Truman said he was not ready to make that announcement. Military men generally believed Gen. J. Lawton Collins, vice chief of staff would get the job.

WASHINGTON, August 12. (AP)—The Senate Judiciary committee considering President Truman's appointment of Attorney General Tom Clark as an associate justice today approved the nomination, 9 to 2.

The committee also recommended — 9 to 0 — the confirmation of Senator J. Howard McGrath (D-R.I.), to be attorney general succeeding Clark.

Chairman McCarran (D-Nev) at first declined to say who voted against Clark. Later he told reporters that Sens. Donnell (R-Mo) and Ferguson (R-Mich) opposed confirmation.

McCarran said he would report the committee action to the Senate at once but would not ask unanimous consent required to act upon the high court appointment today. Unless some other senator does this, and it is accepted there will be no Senate action on the matter until Monday.

In addition to McCarran, other senators voting for Clark included: Kilgore (D-WVa), Magnuson (D-Wash), McGrath, Miller (D-Idaho), O'Connor (D-Md), Graham (D-NC), Wiley (R-Wis) and Langer (R-ND).

Ferguson said later he would add a vote for McGrath's confirmation. The vote reporting the Clark nomination favorably to the Senate came after Donnell and Ferguson lost an effort to have the attorney general called for questioning at a public hearing.

Ferguson told a reporter that Donnell made a move to reopen the public hearings so Clark could be called.

This move was cut off, Ferguson said, when Sen. Langer (R-ND) offered a substitute motion at the closed-door session to end the hearings and vote immediately.

Donnell and Ferguson opposed this while the other nine senators present voted yea. An identical vote sent the nomination to the Senate.

County's First Bale Of Cotton Comes To City

Howard county's first bale of cotton came to gin here Thursday at 8 p.m.

John V. Cherry, producer, said that the bale weighed 1,700 pounds in seed cotton. At Farmer's Gin, where it was taken, indications were that the bale would not be processed until Saturday.

The bale was raised on 25 acres on the J. B. Pickle place, four miles south on the old San Angelo highway. This same field produced the first bale in 1941.

Receipt of the first bale was slightly ahead of last year when W. D. Burke brought one from the Leonard Smith place in Fairview for ginning in 1947 Tom Barber, Coahoma, had the first cotton to gin, followed closely by Morris Patterson. First 500-pound bales that, however, was turned by Charles Creighton on Aug. 29 with a pair of bales.

Centennial Stock Sales Drive Still Underway In City

The Centennial certificate sales campaign was still in progress this morning in the airport section.

A few reports from workers in that area have listed sales of several dozen certificates, said H. J. Morrison, executive secretary of the Centennial Association. Other canvassers here are purchasing certificates by mail from Centennial headquarters, said Morrison.

Among the latest received was an order for a dozen certificates placed by Judge Cecil C. Collings of Eastland. Judge Collins ordered certificates for himself, Mrs. Collings and for several other persons.

Morrison expressed hope that the certificate sales campaign would reach the halfway mark by closing time Saturday. The rate of purchases must be stepped up if that immediate goal is reached, however, he reminded.

British Novelist Uncoiling Nerves

LONDON, Aug. 12. (AP)—British-born novelist Pamela Frankau, who now lives in California, said today she has returned to England to "uncoil my nerve ends."

No Date Named For General To Be Called

Truman's Faith In His Military Aide Remains Unshaken

WASHINGTON, August 12. (AP)—Senator Hoyt Vandenberg said today Major General Harry H. Vaughan, President Truman's Army aide, had indicated his willingness to testify in the Senate's "five percenter" hearings.

Hoyt, chairman of the committee conducting the inquiry, did not say when Vaughan would be called.

Hoyt made the statement in reporters at the White House where he had called with commitments to invite Mr. Truman to a celebration in North Carolina next year.

Gen. Vaughan has indicated his willingness to testify before the committee at any time the committee wants to see him, Hoyt said.

President Truman told a news conference late yesterday his opinion of his military aide had not been changed in the slightest by developments at the congressional inquiry.

"Well, I'll be damned," was the startled reaction of Senator McCarty (R-Wis) to Mr. Truman's remark.

"The comment," said Senator Hoyt (D-Ind.), the franked-out chairman of the special subcommittee conducting the inquiry, "whether improper influence has figured in government transactions."

The committee was told by Albert J. Gross, a Milwaukee business executive, that he believed Vaughan's name was on a list of names for a news release unit four years ago. Gross said it was paid for by the Albert Verley company of Chicago. That's the perfume firm which fast-talking John Maragan, one of the key figures in the investigation, has said he worked for at that time.

Gross was all set to go on from there and name committee members said later, other Washingtonites to whom he said he sent letters for the Verley company.

But the probe set him off short after talking down the mild protests of two Republican members of the group, McCarthy and Senator Mundt of South Dakota. Mundt, who remarked that the husband-business created a "sermon of mystery," managed to get into the record before the holding everything order that it was his assumption Vaughan had not paid for the freezer.

Later Hoyt told reporters he called a halt to Gross's testimony because shipment of the freezer "might have been a perfectly innocent thing."

B-36 Discussions Will Serve To Give Moscow Whole Story

The word with the bark on it regarding the controversial B-36 superbomber has been given to the House Armed Services Committee by a man who should know, Maj. Gen. Frederick K. Smith Jr., Air Force chief of requirements.

General Smith revealed that in April of last year Gen. Lauris Norstad, chief of staff for operations, had recommended that 34 B-36s out of an order for 100 should be cancelled, a recommendation based on the failure of the proposed use of turbine engines in those 34 planes. But by June, General Smith continued, performance records had been compiled with planes which lacked that specific type of turbine engines which caused some Air Force leaders to change their minds about the B-36. These performances were called "amazing," and included an ability to climb to 40,000 feet, which led General George C. Kenney, then strategic air commander, to exclaim:

"How are you going to shoot down a bomber at night flying at 40,000 feet with a solid overcast?"

General Kenney had originally opposed the B-36, but General Smith says he changed his opinion in the face of the record, General Norstad also reversed his position, and by June it had been decided to go ahead with the full quota.

This is interesting to the public, which might have been disturbed by the fuss kicked up in Congress by Rep. James E. van Zandt, a Navy reserve officer, who has made charges against the B-36 and the manner in which the contract for its construction was handled.

It is well to have an investigation of the charges, to clear the atmosphere, if nothing more; but all this palaver about our principal arm of long-distance defense-offense reveals how very naive we Americans can be on occasion.

The performance secrets of the B-36 will be proclaimed to the world, and no doubt many of its inner workings will be publicized in the hearings. You can bet your bottom dollar Moscow is all ears.

We Must Buy From Others In Order To Sell To Others

During the debate in the Senate over the effort of Senator McClellan (D-Ark.) to write a provision into the European aid bill requiring the beneficiary nations to spend almost half the sum for American agricultural products, the leaders of three major farm groups came out flatly against it. In opposing it these farm leaders said:

"Reserving the right to pass upon and approve all plans for recovery presented by European nations, the United States has consistently demanded that formulating the plans and executing them is the primary responsibility of the participating nations. x x x Much as the farm organizations want to market our surplus crops, we feel that it would be a serious blunder for us to assume the responsibility of dictating to the European nations what they must buy, and thereby lessen their responsibility for consummating their plans."

This reveals a quality of statesmanship all too rare in this country when selfish interests are concerned. The farm organizations have a selfish interest in finding markets for their products, but their leaders wisely decided that the McClellan proposal wasn't the way to go about it.

In a speech this week Secretary of Agriculture Brannan declared this country must buy more goods and services abroad or experience a tragic loss of foreign markets for its farm products.

The American people need not be told that in order to sell abroad, we must buy abroad; in no other way, except by loan or gift, can Europeans get the American dollars with which to buy our goods.

Our failure to buy from Europeans in sufficient quantities to establish dollar reserves in Europe is one of the prime reasons we are having to keep ECA afloat. What happens when ECA runs its course in 1952? Unless meantime we increase our imports from Europe, the same conditions that touched off the worldwide depression in the early 1930s will return to drag the world down to ruin.

Pacific Union's Formation Is Dependent On Truman, Acheson

WASHINGTON — Senators determined to press for a new policy to contain communism in Asia are for the first time beginning to get encouragement.

Their hopes burgeoned when the State department got its apology for China policy off its chest and announced the appointment of various special advisers of the caliber of Raymond B. Fiedick to help it find fresh paths to security in the east.

President Quirino of the Philippines has given them another boost with his unusually forthright speech before the Senate. Guests of the August body, as he said, are not often so bold. But his assertions of Filipino leadership in a self-help alliance of the free nations of the Pacific and southeast Asia fell musically on Senatorial ears. There was never a better climate on the hill for self-help talk than now.

Interested Senators hope that President Truman will be equally impressed by the Philippine president's readiness to shoulder obligations. Congress is doing much complaining about past failures in the Pacific and much talking about what must be done. But members realize that foreign policy must be initiated at the White House and that, unless President Truman and Secretary Acheson can be sold new moves, little will be accomplished.

There has always been plenty of politics in debate on Pacific policy. Some Republicans used our failures there merely to belabor Roosevelt and the administration; isolationists found them a convenient stick with which to beat European aid programs.

But genuinely interested members—including the frustrated west coast senators, Knowland of California and Morse of Oregon—have been baffled by what seemed to them willful inertia on the part of the administration. They say they are prepared to cooperate in a bipartisan foreign policy in the Pacific if only they could find out what the policy was.

It is still difficult to make Washington face west. Year after year both parties calmly refuse to put a Pacific coast senator on the foreign relations committee. Hence Senator Morse's refusal to consent to an arrangement which would have let Sen. John Foster Dulles, an acknowledged expert, move in. Morse has finally got himself text in line and he was taking no chances that the New Yorker might decide after all to run for the full term this fall.

The house foreign affairs committee does a little better by the west but not much; among 25 members it has two from California and one Montana.

Foreign Communists Play Up Fantastic Ideas About America

(For DeWitt MacKenzie) By JAMES D. WHITE

SOME OF THE GIDDIER IDEAS abroad about America are being hopped up by Communist propagandists.

Examples: A recent Moscow cartoon shows an American football game so violent that the referee operates in an armored car among players and fans with guns and clubs. A recent article in "Rude Parvo," the official Communist newspaper in Prague, Czechoslovakia, depicts America as a place where sitting on flagpoles is common.

According to AP's Prague correspondent, Richard Kasachuk, Rude Parvo's argument runs like this: America is a sort of contradictions and frustrations that one out of 30 Americans blows his top and climbs a flagpole or does something equally odd to get away from it all.

"Apparently," says Rude Parvo, "it is really hard for an average American today to keep his mental balance. Some of them—they are called pole-sitters—sit on high poles and try to keep their perch there as long as possible. Pictures are made of them and newspapers write front page stories about them."

"Then, soap, soft-drink and soup manufacturers ask them to endorse their products. Hollywood companies offer them screen tests. Political correspondents ask their opinions on the international situation."

Today's Birthday

Cecil Blount de Mille, born Aug. 12, 1881, at Ashfield, Mass., where his parents were on tour in one of their own plays. The family home was at Washington, N. C., where William, who like his brother Cecil became a movie director, had been born. When Cecil was 15, he ran away to enlist for the Spanish-American War, but was rejected. He turned to dramatic and when 17 was playing in New York, inspired by his father's playwriting, he wrote "The Return of Peter Grimm," with Jesse Lasky and Samuel Goldwyn as backers. The film and they broke the record. His "King of Kings" has been named the world's best known film.

RUDE PARVO SHOWS IT'S AHEAD of developments by reporting that Chicago "used to be" famous for its gangsters. But it says Chicago recently announced that during a single year more than 2,000 Bibles had been stolen "from the luxurious Palmer House Hotel." Hostels belonging to the Statler "monopoly," says the paper, show a loss of 70,000 towels a year.

Rude Parvo then criticizes, dead-pan, the American press for not telling the truth about Czechoslovakia.

While the American press isn't exactly troubled by an inferiority complex, at the same time it doesn't claim to be perfect. Some of it may have done wrong by Czechoslovakia, but the picture could scarcely have been as distorted as Rude Parvo's own blow-up of past or present American half-truths presented as the whole truth about America.

Top Capital Officials Embarrassed By Jap Collaborators In Quirino Party

WASHINGTON — Philippine President Elpidio Quirino received the customary formal amenities during his Washington visit but, privately, top officials breathed a sigh of relief when he departed.

Reason was a gingerly handled situation that astonished and embarrassed them.

Three leading members of Quirino's party were prominent Jap collaborators and violent U. S. denouncers. They are: Jose Yulo, chief justice of the Supreme Court in the Jap-created puppet government. Yulo was personally decorated by Emperor Hirohito for outstanding services to Japan. Yulo is now a member of Quirino's council of state.

Federico Mangahas, zealous supporter of the Japs and ghost writer of virulently anti-American speeches for top Filipino collaborators. Mangahas is now Quirino's private secretary.

Vicente Albano Pacis, leading collaborationist propagandist who poured out a steady stream of anti-American fulminations in the press and on the radio. He is press chief of Quirino's party.

President Quirino, personally, has an impeccable resistance record. His wife and other members of his family were killed by the Japs because of his steadfast refusal to collaborate. Friends explain the presence of the three collaborators in his party as due to "political necessity."

Quirino is seeking re-election this year in a very uncertain race. His leading opponent is Jose P. Laurel, who was president of the Jap puppet government. Despite his extreme collaborationist record, including a declaration of war against the U. S., Laurel was freed from prison in an amnesty proclaimed by his close friend and fellow collaborationist, the late President Manuel Roxas. Another strong candidate opposing Quirino is Jose Avelino, wily Tammany-type politician.

Quirino's friends say his three collaborationist associates are giving important help in his re-election campaign. This is particularly true of Yulo, credited with being one of the smartest businessmen and best money-raisers in the Philippines. Yulo is an intimate of Ambassador Joseph P. Kamp, who has represented his country in Washington off and on for a number of years. Eliaide is rated as the wealthiest man in the Philippines.

In Filipino circles it is claimed one reason for Quirino's visit was to promote a U. S. loan to Eliaide's extensive business interests.

Washington officials were particularly annoyed at the presence of the three collaborationists because of lack of enthusiasm about the whole idea of Quirino's visit. The plea originated with his campaign managers. They conceived it is a smart campaign maneuver. The official invitation was extended reluctantly and only after much wangling.

FINDERS KEEPERS

Washington state's Sens. Warren G. Magnuson, D., and Harry Cain, R., are at bitter loggerheads over the Tacoma postmaster's appointment. Cain is Cain's home town and he is demanding the appointment for one of his associates, William E. Patrick, former Army colonel. Magnuson is just as insistently supporting John MacMonagle, disabled veteran who has been acting postmaster for four years.

Cain took the controversy directly to Magnuson, saying, "I thought a senator had the right to recommend the postmaster for his home town?"

"Perhaps so, in some cases," retorted Magnuson, "but in this case there are two strikes against you. One is that my man was originally recommended by the congressman of his district and he has strong support in Tacoma. The other strike is that you Republicans are not in control this year as you were last. That makes a big difference, and that is why my man will get the appointment."

UNEMPLOYMENT FIGURES

Accuracy of the Census Bureau's last 4,100,000 unemployment report is sharply questioned by the Public Affairs Institute. According to Dr. Dewey Anderson, P.A.E. director, the figure is low by at least 600,000.

Anderson also sharply challenges Commerce Secretary Sawyer's contention that increase in unemployment is due largely to the influx of young new workers looking for jobs. Anderson says the statistics don't bear that out.

"A comparison of changes in the labor force during May-June," he declares, "shows that 500,000 fewer young people became active job seekers this year than during the same period last year. The official unemployment figures are not realistic. Large numbers of jobs are not being taken into consideration for various technical reasons that don't hold water on examination."

Survey Shows Well-Advertised Sweets Ring Up Biggest Sales

Newspapers and other businesses that depend upon distribution of merchandising messages as their principal sources of revenue can point with pride to results of a recent survey conducted in behalf of candy manufacturers.

Analysts who examined the results concluded that some significance is due the age-old ditty, "Sugar and spice and all things nice, such are young women made of," or words to that effect. But they also decided that a "sweet tooth" is standard equipment for most men and boys, as well as women, in the United States.

The survey involved mostly students in colleges, universities and high schools. The results showed that no less than 95.5 percent of the girls interviewed and 94.4 percent of the boys buy candy bars.

However, the candy manufacturers who have increased their advertising substantially since the war, were interested in more details, and they got them.

Purchasers of candy bars may have been content to accept substitutes for their favorite brands during the war emergency, but they went back to their original habits as rapidly as possible when ample supplies of their favorites became available.

Without fail, the favorite in each case was a well-advertised brand with quality that upheld its advertising claims. In fact, 79.9 of the girls and 78 percent of the boys indicated that they either limited their choice to one brand or to one of a few specific brands.

The candy manufacturers were happy because America's candy consumption, some 2 million pounds a year, makes this country "the candy center of the world."

The various advertising outlets can derive their own pleasure from that fact that the manufacturers themselves are crediting a significant part of their huge sales volume to advertising. — WACIL MCNAIR.

Names On Bills Sometimes Get There In Oddly Devious Ways

WASHINGTON, (AP) — CONGRESSMAN Miniver H. DeLoach goes home and tells the folks:

"Why, sure. Congress passed a housing bill for the low-income people. Now I think Congress ought to do it for you moderate income folks."

"In fact, I introduced a bill in Congress to do just that. I'll show you. Here's a copy of the very bill with my name on it."

Sure enough. There it is. Just as he said. But maybe he forgets to tell them how he came to get his name on the bill in the first place. For instance:

Last May a congressman introduced a housing bill for moderate-income families. A couple of months later along came another congressman who, for some reason, wanted his own name on the bill so, without changing a word in the bill itself, he scratched out the name of the first congressman and wrote in his own name in ink.

Then the bill was sent down to the government printer where new copies of the same bill were made except that now the second congressman's name was on it.

He may go home later and tell the folks about the bill, and himself, or, maybe he had another reason for doing what he did. There's a lot of that done.

IN THE HOUSE THERE'S A RULE that only one member's name can appear on a bill.

Just to show how much support that particular bill has, a whole gang of other congressmen may have the same bill reprinted with their name on it.

All this costs the taxpayers money, of course, since it's the government printer who does the printing, and the cost of printing a bill depends upon the number of pages.

For instance, the idea of a world federation has a lot of support in the House.

About 103 bills—all identical but bearing in each case the name of a different congressman—were introduced to back up world federation.

In the Senate there's no rule like that of the House. There any number of senators all can have their names lumped together on one bill.

And a congressman's name on a bill doesn't mean he had anything to do with writing it. The job may have been done for him by the bill-writing experts employed by Congress, after he told them what he wanted.

Or, maybe it was written by the lawyers in some government agency. Or even by the lawyers of some outside organization which got a congressman to introduce a bill for it as his own.

SOME CONGRESSMEN DON'T ALWAYS remember—or even recognize—a bill they introduced. For example: Representative Wolverton, New Jersey Republican, is a member of the House Interstate Commerce Committee. Sitting with other committee members this week, he was discussing a railway safety bill. It had been introduced this year in Congress by the committee chairman, Representative Cresser, Ohio Democrat. There were some things about the bill which Wolverton disliked.

He protested that the committee never had been told who wrote it. Just then William J. Patterson, a member of the Interstate Commerce Commission, spoke up.

He said he and a member of his staff had written the bill a year ago and that a year ago it was introduced for them by Wolverton. This year it was reintroduced by Cresser.

Wolverton remembered then and said he had introduced it as courtesy for the ICC although, when doing that, congressmen may not like everything in the bill.

Charleston Dance Of Jazz Age Making Sensational Comeback

NEW YORK, (AP)—JUNIOR, GET PAPA the kneecap oil—the Charleston's coming back.

What's the Charleston?

Why, son, the Charleston is the granddaddy of the jitterbug. Back in the mid 1920s, when everybody had to take shower baths because the tub was full of hand-made prohibition gin, you couldn't even deposit money in the bank unless you proved you could do the Charleston. It showed you were alive.

Do I mean it was a dance? Junior, no dance ever hit the country as hard as the Charleston. It was THE dance. If a man wasn't willing to shimmy-shabby back and forth and then risk his right tarsal bone by throwing it over his left femur, he was strictly a cad out of tune with his time.

Everybody did it. La Belle Joan Crawford started her fame as a dramatic actress as a result of a fancy prize-winning, hip Charleston movement. And Ginger Rogers was able to get her independence from Independence, Mo., because of the same swivel swing. Later some movie critic mentioned that both girls had sparkling eyes. This was a sad discovery.

It changed them from booters into actresses. And after that a gal covers up her legs, exposes her bosoms like a half-shucked corn cob, and begins emoting about socially significant themes she doesn't know from dime store jewelry.

showman he still wants to give the paying customer and particular muscular madness he prefers. The studio has a $40,000 machine to whir any desired musical rhythms to each of 34 separate dance rooms.

"There was nothing like the Charleston for popularity," Columbus said. "They danced it in the living rooms, the kitchens, the back porch, and standing up in rumble seats."

"Its popularity now is part of the current revival of old times. They show it in the movies with the music of that time—and people want to dance it again."

"But it is really a dance for people from 12 years old to 35. The people who used to enjoy it don't want it anymore, generally. They feel it is too undignified. Their bones are older."

COLUMBUS THINKS THE AMERICAN public is more dance crazy now than it has ever been. The pupils, he said, range from Eleanor Roosevelt, a longtime patron of the dance, down to gangsters.

"The gangsters," he said, "specialize in the rumba. The rumba is a showoff dance. It makes a man feel he is somebody."

Mrs. Roosevelt, incidentally, is strictly a conservative ballroom dancer. She hasn't come in to freshen up her Charleston—like she ever danced it.

First Lady Of Stage, Screen To Be Honored

HOLLYWOOD, Aug. 12 (AP)—Ethel Barrymore, now the first lady of the screen as well as the stage, will have a world-wide celebration on her 70th birthday Monday.

The great actress will be greeted by an international broadcast. Bing Crosby will sing "Happy Birthday." President Truman will say a few words. Best wishes will be added by such figures as Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt, Bernard Baruch, Somerset Maugham, Van Johnson, Katherine Cornell, Alfred Lunt, Lynn Fontanne, Billie Burke, Gregory Peck and Miss Barrymore's young grandson.

The Motion Picture Academy, which arranged the radio show, was trying to reach Winston Churchill for a message to his old friend.

Such a celebration befits the woman whose imposing figure and muted-foghorn voice has dominated the American theater for a half-century.

What is she like? Well, she lives with her son, Samuel Colt, in a cottage in the Palos Verdes hills overlooking the Pacific. She has kept no pictures of herself, except a John Singer Sargent drawing which hangs over the fireplace.

She has kept no scrapbooks. "I never forget anything," she says.

Ethel Barrymore is an avid sports fan, and her home is often noisy with radio or television commentary of baseball games. She once told me why she favored baseball over football: she was always doing Saturday matinees and couldn't get out to grid games.

Miss Barrymore has never seen herself on the screen. "Why should I?—I never saw myself on the stage," she retorts. Her favorite screen role is in the nun in the forthcoming "The Red Danube."

She chain smokes, but does not drink. She avoids all forms of exercise. Her favorite entertainment is having close friends for lunch. They include Katharine Hepburn, Fanny Brice, Lucille Watson, director George Cukor, writer Zoe Akins.

Birmingham Set To End Violence

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Aug. 12 (AP)—A blueprint for eliminating mob lawlessness by night-riding lynch welders has been prepared by a volunteer group of citizens here.

The citizen group, the "Committee of 500," was organized after a wave of floggings and cross burnings. Its steering committee of 20 made an intensive study of the problem, meeting repeatedly with elected officials and law enforcement officers.

In a report made public yesterday, the committee favored the immediate revocation of the charter of the Alabama Ku Klux Klan.

The report charged that some KKK members, their friends and sympathizers "continue to justify the taking of the law into their own hands."

"If KKK members are not guilty of lawless acts, they should have long ago been the first to take off the hoods and go help prevent lawless mobs going abroad in similar regalia to perpetrate cowardly acts of personal spite and vengeance."

Klan members deny they were responsible for the whippings. Six weeks ago, the state legislature adopted a law banning the wearing of masks or hoods in public.

Minimum Pay Bill May Pass Senate

WASHINGTON, Aug. 12 (AP)—A 75-cent-an-hour minimum wage bill seemed today to have a clear—if lengthy—road ahead of it in the Senate following House passage of the measure.

Sen. Taft of Ohio, chairman of the Senate GOP Policy Committee, told a reporter he will support the 75-cent floor. He predicted most Republicans will join him. Taft forecast eventual Senate passage of the measure in about the form it was approved by the House yesterday on a 361 to 25 vote.

Sen. Lucas of Illinois, the Democratic leader, has put the bill on the administration's "must list." It carried out a pledge made in the Democratic national platform last year, so far as raising the minimum wage from 40 cents to 75 cents an hour is concerned. However, as it passed the House yesterday, it would take perhaps 1 million workers out from under the law. About 22 million are now covered.

Lucas said he anticipates no serious trouble getting approval of the 75-cent measure when it is reached. He said, however, that the four pending money measures will have to be cleared before it can be brought up for action. He wouldn't guess when that might be.

The bill exempts some workers who have been put under the law's operations by wage-hour administration and court rulings. Among these would be some workers engaged in production for interstate commerce and employees of local and retail establishments.

The bill also would exempt seamen, fishermen, farm workers, employees of daily, weekly and semi-weekly newspapers with less than 5,000 circulation, suburban streetcar and bus operators, taxi drivers, employees of telephone companies with fewer than 500 customers, and employees of sawmills with fewer than 10 workers.

Taft said he thinks the Senate also will insist on an amendment which would exempt employees of cotton gins and small canning factories.

Democratic leaders who expressed disappointment at the numbers excluded by the House said they hoped to get a "better bill" in the Senate.

New Families To Be Moved To Colorado City

COLORADO CITY, August 12.—Ten new families will be moved to Colorado City as the operation force for Texas Pipeline company's new station.

J. R. Scott, district superintendent for the company headquarters at Midland, was in Colorado City Tuesday to see about purchasing property for the erection of ten new homes for the operating force and their families.

The new pipeline station is under construction 12 miles northeast of Colorado City, near China Grove oil country. The station, part of the giant Basin Pipeline system, should be completed by November, according to Scott. Construction has been under way for two months.

The Basin Pipeline, owned by Texas Pipeline, Shell, Empire, and Sinclair, has been referred to as "The largest independent pipeline in the world." It stretches from Jalisco, New Mexico, to the Great Lakes region in Illinois.

Capacity of the station near Colorado City will be 241,000 barrels of crude oil each day, Scott said. Originally it was planned as a booster station. Plans for its construction were changed to make it a receiving station when all play in Scurry and Borden counties was stepped up by new producers.

A temporary station at the site now takes care of about 12,000 barrels of crude oil a day. The completed station will be one of automatic operation, a "push-button station," the district superintendent for the pipeline company said.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

God's Kindness Praised In Songs Of Festivals

Scripture — Psalms 105-107; 111-113.

By NEWMAN CAMPBELL

Every country has its Independence Day, its day of deliverance, or some festival time which it celebrates with speeches—usually—songs, or both.

The psalms allotted to our lesson today are songs to be sung by the Israelites at times of national festivity. They are hymns of thanksgiving and joy for deliverance from some great calamity—for victory in battle; liberation from bondage, etc. The Jews also gave thanksgiving for the Lord's help all through their history—as reviewed in psalms 105-107.

Psalms 105 begins, "Oh give thanks unto Jehovah, call upon His name; make known His deeds among the people."

"Sing unto Him, sing psalms unto Him; talk ye of all His wondrous works. Glory ye in His holy name; let the heart of them rejoice that seek the Lord."

Then the psalm recounts "the wondrous works that He hath done"—from the beginning of Israel as a nation—from the call of Abraham, about 1900 B. C., down to the entrance into the promised land under Joshua, about 1400 B. C.

It recalls the sale of Joseph to the Egyptians, his imprisonment and release; his promotion to lord of the house of his master and "ruler over all his substance."

"Israel also came to Egypt, and Jacob sojourned in the land of Ham."

Psalms 106 is a psalm of penitential confession; the sins of Israel are recounted and then the mighty acts of Jehovah for which they should render obedience and thanksgiving.

The 113th to 118th psalms—included in our lesson—are called the Hallel. This word means "praise." The whole book of psalms is one of praise and thanksgiving. This series of psalms, however, is meant to be sung on festival occasions—public praise—"sung in circumstances of joyous solemnity in the temple courts, at the three great feasts—Passover, Pentecost and Tabernacles—when all the men of Israel had to appear before the Lord." This is quoted from David Baron's bibliography.

The same authority writes: "According to the old rabbis, the Hallel celebrated the praises of God in connection with five things—the deliverance from Egypt; the dividing of the Red Sea; giving of the law; resurrection from the dead; and the lot of the Messiah."

Mr. Baron tells us, too, that in connection with the Paschal supper, the Hallel used to be divided into two parts: the first half consisted of the first two of the series, either sung or recited in an early part of the service.

You remember when the Lord Jesus kept the Passover in that upper room, on the night before His trial and crucifixion. He turned the ritual from the deliverance from bondage into a memorial for the spilling of His own blood for the sins of the world.

The Hallel is full of praise, and was turned by the throng of Levites and Israelites in the temple courts to one continuous hallelujah. The people would repeat the whole of the first line of the psalms after the Levites, and then respond with a hallelujah after each of the subsequent lines, etc.

The 113th psalm begins: "Praise ye the Lord. Praise, O ye servants of the Lord, praise the name of the Lord."

"Blessed be the name of the Lord from this time forth and for evermore."

"From the rising of the sun unto the going down of the same the Lord's name be praised."

"The Lord is high above all nations, and His glory above the heavens."

"Who is like unto the Lord our God, who dwelleth on high."

"Who humbleth Himself to be hold the things that are in heaven, and in the earth!"

"He raiseth up the poor out of the dung-hill; That He may set him with princes, even the princes of His people."

To make the children see this great pagan in their minds and to feel the joy and thanksgiving expressed in these psalms, is an inspiring thing for a teacher.

This is the lesson taught today—the happiness in store for those who live the Christian life, as expressed in the psalms. This also should be impressed upon the children.

Memory Verse

"Oh give thanks unto Jehovah, call upon His name."—Psalm 105:1.

Decline In Railroad Shipments Here Noted

Both outbound and inbound rail shipments declined here during the month of July, according to statistics released from the office of G. L. Brooks, general agent.

Outbound shipments totalled 525 cars, as compared to 583 in June, while inbound shipments dropped from 281 to 166.

Figures for July of 1948 show 1,602 outbound cars and 191 inbound cars.

Vice President To Entertain Friend

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 12 (AP)—Mrs. Carleton S. Hadley of St. Louis will be the guest of Vice President Barkley Sunday at Paducah, Ky., at a hometown celebration in his honor.

She will be accompanied by her 17-year-old daughter, Anne.

The vice president's son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Max Truitt, are to come with him from Washington.

Their plans for the week end were reported in Washington as confirmed here by friends of Mrs. Hadley.

The Paducah airport will be rededicated and renamed for the city's favorite son.

Ship Is Refloated

TOKYO, Aug. 21 (AP)—The 2,500-ton Panamanian freighter SS Remona seized by the Japanese during the war and later sunk by allied aircraft has been refloated and fitted and will be delivered to Panamanian government representatives at Hong Kong.

Russians Limit Truck Traffic

BERLIN, Aug. 12 (AP)—Russian army guards cut down West German truck traffic to Berlin for eight hours early today, U. S. military sources reported.

Passage through the Soviet checkpoint at Helmstedt, a small frontier post on the main road from the British zone to Berlin, was cut down without warning at 2 o'clock this morning to four trucks an hour.

Eight hours later the slowdown order was lifted and truck traffic began returning to normal. U. S. sources said more than 100 trucks were lined up in the slow moving queue during the interval.

There was no immediate explanation for the slowdown.

Russians clamped down a "little blockade" on truck traffic to Berlin for 12 days in July, closing most border crossings points and restricting truck traffic at Helmstedt.

Japanese Youths Scale Mountain

TOKYO, Aug. 12 (AP)—Kyodo News Agency reported Thursday more than 400 Japanese youths, most of them Boy Scouts, scaled 10,000-foot Mount Norikura Wednesday.

The feat was unusual in that 19 of the mountain climbers are blind students. They have been in training under Miss Margaret Miller, a Canadian missionary and Director of the Gifu School for the Blind.

Telephone Service

BERLIN, Aug. 12 (AP)—Telephone service between France and the American, British and French sectors of Berlin will resume Aug. 22 for the first time since the war, the U. S. military government announced Thursday.

Professor To Quit

WACO, Aug. 12 (AP)—Dr. Samuel Riley Spencer, chairman of the physics department at Baylor University, will retire after 40 years with the university. He will be succeeded by Dr. Sherwood Glitters, Jr., who has taught at several eastern schools.

Is Officer 60 Years

DENVER, (AP)—H. Bugg Williams, Denver's deputy police chief, is well into his 60th year in the department. He was only 17 when he became a rookie cop in 1890.

Sweetwater Pastor Due Here Sunday To Conduct Methodist Church Meet

Dr. S. P. Clark of Sweetwater will arrive in Big Spring Sunday to conduct the first quarterly conference for the present church year at the Wesley Methodist church.

Dr. Clark is the district superintendent of the Sweetwater district of Methodist churches. During the conference, reports of church activities and from the pastor will be read. Other organizations of the church will be discussed and plans will be formulated for the church future.

The Wesley Methodist church was organized in the early '30's with a small congregational group. Today the church membership totals 200 persons. Approximately 135 persons attend Sunday School regularly and 120 attend morning church services.

Sunday morning, the Rev. C. C. Hardaway, pastor of the church, will speak on the subject, "The Supremacy of the Spiritual," from Romans 8:11.

Sunday school is at 10 a. m. Young Adult Fellowship will convene at 7 p. m. and Youth Fellowship meets at 7:15 p. m. Evening worship will be conducted by Dr. Clark.

The Rev. Lloyd Thompson will discuss "The World's Greatest Wonders," during the morning worship period at the First Christian church. The evening sermon will be based on "Victories of the Christian Faith," and will be taught by the pastor. Sunday school and Christian Youth Fellowship will meet at the regular time. C.Y.F. is under the direction of Mrs. W. D. McNaire.

The Rev. Alvin E. Christian will be heard on the subject, "Advance For Christ," during the morning worship hour at the First Methodist church. During the evening, he will discuss, "Your Life Is What You Make It." Rupert Hornbeck will sing the solo, "Incline Thine Ear," by Himmell during the morning service.

In the absence of the Rev. R. Gage Lloyd, who is on vacation, the Rev. Homer C. Akers of Fortale, N. M., will serve as guest speaker at the First Presbyterian church. Special music will be offered by Mrs. Noble Kennemur. She will sing "The Lord's Prayer," by Hoffmeister. P.Y.F. meets at the church at 8:30 under the direction Sally Norton.

"The Cost of Christianity," will be discussed by the Rev. Ad. H. Hoyer at St. Paul's Lutheran church during the morning hour. Sunday school is at 10 a. m.

Dr. Roy L. Johnson is continuing a series of revival sermons at the Northside Baptist church. Dr. Johnson is from Canyon. Services will be held in the mornings and evenings throughout the week. The Rev. L. B. Moss is host pastor.

At the First Baptist church, Dr. F. D. O'Brien will speak on "Another Famous Fugitive, Moses," during the morning sermon session. The text for the service may be found in Exodus 1:1. At 4 p. m., a moving picture will be projected. The evening sermon subject is entitled "The Evangelistic Significance of the Passover," from Ex. 12:13. Baptismal services will be held following the sermon.

The Rev. John E. Koler will speak on the sermon-subject, "Unless We Have Pentecost," at the Main Street Church of God, Corner Tenth and Main, Sunday morning.

During the evening hour, he will discuss, "What Think Ye of Christ?" The Sunday evening worship is an evangelistic hour.

Sunday school is at 9:45 a. m. and Youth Fellowship at 7 p. m.

"Soul" is the subject of the lesson sermon which will be read in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, and in the local reading room, 217 1/2 Main, Sunday morning.

The Golden Text is: "Thus saith the high and lofty One that inhabiteth eternity, whose name is holy: I dwell in the high and holy place, with him also that is of a contrite and humble spirit, to revive the spirit of the humble, and to revive the heart of the contrite ones" (Isaiah 57:15).

Among the citations which comprise the lesson-sermon is the following from the Bible: "Unto thee it was shewed, that thou mightest know that the Lord he is God; there is none else beside him." (Deuteronomy 4:35)

The lesson sermon also included the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "A mortal, corporeal, or finite conception of God cannot embrace the glories of limitless, incorporeal life and love." (Page 238)

Sunday masses at St. Thomas Catholic church, 508 North Main, are at 7 and 9 a. m. Confessions are heard before the daily mass from 7 to 8:30 p. m. Saturdays. At the Sacred Heart Catholic church (Latin American) Sunday Masses are at 8:30 and 10:30 a. m. and week day mass is at 7 a. m.

Sunday announcements for the Church of Nazarene include the morning sermon at 11 o'clock. The subject topic is "The Goal of Human Living," and will be presented by the Rev. Lewis Patterson. Text for the sermon is from Matt. 5:48. During the evening hour, the Rev. Patterson will discuss "The Missing Link" from Ezekiel 22:30. The Young People will meet at 7:30 p. m. for a study of the book, "Torch Bearers For Christ."

The Rev. Robert Snell of Midland will conduct the evening service and Holy Communion at St. Mary's Episcopal church Sunday, Otto Peters, Jr. will preside during Church school at 9:45 a. m. Young People's Service League will convene at 8 p. m.

Concluding sessions of the open-air revival will be held at the Trinity Baptist church Sunday by Pastor Marvin E. Clark. Pastor Clark will be heard over KRST at 8 a. m. Sunday on the subject of "The Mark of the Beast," from Rev. 13. At the Trinity church, he will expound on "Grieve Not the Holy Spirit," from Eph. 4:30-32. Sunday school will meet at 10 a. m. A study of the 13th chapter of Exodus will be offered at that time.

The evening sermon will conclude the revival series and if weather conditions permit, the meeting will be held at the corner of 5th and Johnson streets. The Young People will meet at the church at 7 p. m. under the direction of Donald Hayworth.

The Rev. James Parks, pastor of the local East Fourth Baptist church will be heard in a series of revival sermons at the Salem Baptist church, located 11 miles Northeast of Big Spring.

The revival will begin Friday, Aug. 19 and will continue through Aug. 28. Services will be held at 11 a. m. and 8 p. m. The Rev. Roy O'Brien is host pastor. The public is invited to attend.

Revival services will begin at the First Baptist church in Stanton Sunday morning and will continue throughout the week. Both morning and evening services will be held. The morning hour is 10 o'clock and the evening session will meet at 8 o'clock. The Rev. S. Ross Smith of Brownwood will serve as the guest evangelist and J. T. Davis will direct the special music. The public is invited to attend.

The Rev. R. L. Bowman, pastor, will conduct revival services at the Chalk Methodist church beginning Friday evening, Aug. 12. Morning services will convene at 10:30 and evening sermon topics will be discussed at 8 o'clock. Some messages to be discussed are "The Twenty Third Psalm," "The Christian Soldier," "Repentance Urged," "At the Post Of Duty," "The Jesus We Must Find," and "The Soul That Was Not Ready." The public is requested to attend the services.

Dr. Glen Walker, returned medical missionary from Africa, will fill the pulpit at the East Fourth Baptist church during both worship services Sunday. The Rev. James S. Parks is the host pastor. Sunday school will convene at 9:45 a. m. and Training Union will meet at the regular hour.

BRASS TACKS

What does a man mean when he says, "Let's get down to brass tacks"? He means that he thinks it's time to discuss the real issue.

And that's always a good idea! Nothing is gained by "beating around the bush." Wise men seek the issue . . . and settle it!

In America there are millions of people who attend and support the Church. There are other millions who do not. What is the real issue on which these two groups disagree?

This is the issue: Is man the self-sufficient master of his world, able to overcome every problem by his own strength . . . OR is man the noblest creation of an all-powerful God, weak in the face of life's turmoil when he stands alone, but strong when he joins heart and hand with God?

You're a man and you've seen something of life! Getting down to brass tacks . . . are you stronger WITH GOD or without?

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake (2) For his children's sake (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Shine Philips Is Guest Speaker For Epsilon Sigma Alpha Sorority

Shine Philips, guest speaker, discussed the history of the big spring when it was Comanche Indian territory at the model meeting of the Alpha Chi chapter of Epsilon Sigma Alpha at the Hotel Settles Thursday evening. Philips told how the Comanches wintered at big spring in-between raids to Mexico. There they captured the Mexican women and children as slaves. The Comanches always married the Mexican women and killed the Mexican males. Philips told of the intelligence of the Comanche tribe. He discussed their form of government and said that "the Comanches did not go to war unless voted on by the council. They had courts and laws." "Murder and thievery was punishable by death or by 'drumming' the victim out of the camp. In closing, Philips pleaded for more tolerance among the people of today. He said that '30 per cent of the population of the world today is not of the white race, therefore we should dare not be tolerant of our fellowman." Ruth Webb, president, welcomed the new rusher into the club. She gave a brief history of the local Alpha Chi chapter and of the national Epsilon Alpha sorority. Announcement was made that an informal banquet will be held in the Maverick room of the Hotel Douglas, Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock.

Silver Tea Scheduled At Wesley Methodist

United Council of Church Women members will be entertained with a tea to be held at the Wesley Methodist Church on August 20. The silver tea will be held in connection with the regular fifth Monday meeting scheduled by the council. Plans for the tea and the new study course were discussed at a meeting of the executive board held in the home of Mrs. J. D.

Benson, president, Thursday afternoon. The new study course will include facts concerning leprosy patients in Japan and the various phases of mission work which is being carried on in Japan. "Buttons and Bows," new project of the council, was discussed briefly. An announcement concerning the undertaking will be made at the tea. Mrs. Arthur Pickle reported on progress at the Westside Nursery. Those attending were: Mrs. Arthur Pickle, Mrs. D. T. Evans, Mrs. W. A. Laswell, Mrs. Frank Wilson, Mrs. J. D. Benson and Mrs. Brown Rogers.

Mrs. W. E. Mann Leads Devotional

Mrs. W. E. Mann brought the devotional from the eighth chapter of John at the meeting of the TRL class of the First Baptist church in the home of Mrs. J. L. Haynes, 1100 Gregg, Thursday. Mrs. Beatrice Mittel presided during the monthly business session. The Lord's prayer was repeated in unison by the group. Mrs. Velma Cain reported on her trip to the Palsano Baptist Encampment. Refreshments were served to Mrs. Velma Cain, Mrs. J. E. Brown, Mrs. W. E. Mann, Mrs. Stewart Womack, Mrs. C. E. Reed, Mrs. Beatrice Mittel, Mrs. R. D. Ulrey and the hostess, Mrs. Haynes.

Amateur All-Star Night Set Today At Colorado City

COLORADO CITY, Aug. 12 — All-star night is set for the weekly amateur program here this evening. Winners of the previous non-professional talent shows during the summer will be packed into one fast-moving program today. This week's program will feature all prize winners for the summer. One of the most popular numbers this year proved to be dancing of six-year-old Sharon Ruth Shropshire of Mission, Texas. Granddaughter of a former chary her president here, Dale Warren, Sharon Ruth is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Willis T. Shropshire who lived here before moving to Mission several years ago. Other prize winners who will appear on the All-Star night program include Eddy Long of Big Spring; Janell Smith, Pete Hamlett, Bud Morgan, Gene Griffin, and John Billy Koonman, all of Snyder; Mary Nell Moss, nine-year-old folk song soloist; Frankie Dearen, the blind pianist who has won prizes for herself each summer for nearly a decade; John Worrell, violinist; Charlene Buchanan, Wanda Vowell, Goodwin Simpson, Ivan Barber Jr., Jimmie Pickens, and Creighton White who compose a male quartet; Bryans Mahon, baritone soloist; Adele Hutchinson singer and pianist; and a group of Negro dancers whose names were not available. Mary Richardson has been program director this summer and the series has been unusually well received and well attended.

RIBBON RAMBLINGS By Mildred Young

Starting in Sunday's Herald is a new feature entitled "Stories of Famous Hymns." This new addition to the Herald's special feature department is devoted to the people who wrote the great gospel music of our times and the story of how famous religious songs were inspired. "Jesus' Lover of My Soul" will be Sunday's presentation. The stories are illustrated. There are many interesting stories concerning many of the hymns we know and love. Some of the narratives will probably be familiar to some while others will be read for the first time. We feel that church school teachers and others will find this new feature useful as well as interesting.

Read a newspaper account of a bride who was left waiting at the church. The groom was there, too. The person forgot that he was to marry the couple. It took an hour's frantic search before the person was found and the ceremony read.

Just finished an interesting book, "The Trembling Years." It's the story of a college girl, very active and popular, who found herself in a world of pain and seemingly helplessness because of an attack of polio. It tells of her trials during the illness and of her great struggle to find a new way of life. It's a powerful and moving story, simple story. It gives handicapped and able-bodied persons alike something to consider. It not only brings out the idea that life goes on regardless of no matter what happens, we have a part in it as long as we have life itself, but it tells of crippled spirits as well. There's something heart-breaking about crippled bodies, but, after all, the important thing seems to be whether or not the spirit is crippled.

Crosbyton Wedding Is Announced Here

CROSBYTON, Aug. 12 — Mary Jane Ruffner became the bride of Temple Keith Brashear in a double ring ceremony performed last Friday morning at 8 o'clock at the First Baptist Church by the Rev. Carl Grissom. Mums and greenery decorated the candle-lit altar. The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Vina Ruffner of Big Spring and W. S. Ruffner of Washington, D. C., and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Brashear of Crosbyton and Petersburg. Given in marriage by her cousin, John R. Haney of Rockwall, the bride wore a dress of white French organdy and Chantilly lace styled with a high neckline. Her head-dress was a halo of green ivy with an illusion bow, and she carried a bouquet of gardenias and white mums. Her dress and lace mitts were made by her maternal grandmother, Mrs. Reneau Scott of Abilene. Mrs. Roy Whitt of Monroe, matron of honor, wore a pale yellow dress of French organdy, with white gloves and shoes. Her bouquet was of yellow mums encircled with white, and she wore a halo of green ivy. Mary Starr and Mrs. Martha Freeman, candlelighters, were dressed identically in green organdy. They wore mums and ivy in their hair. Jack Brashear of Plainview attended his brother as best man. Ushers were Jimmie Flemmons and Jack Drew. Wedding music was provided by Mrs. Jack Davis, soloist, and Mrs. Bill Blackwood, organist. A reception was given after the ceremony in the R. S. M. Carter home. Afterwards, the couple left on a wedding trip through New Mexico and Colorado. Mrs. Brashear is an honor graduate of Peabody High School at Pittsburg, Pa., and is employed at Citizens National Bank in Crosbyton. Brashear graduated from Petersburg High School and attended Texas Technological College and served three years in the Navy. He is associated in an appliance business with his father in Crosbyton. Out-of-town guests were from Abilene, Lubbock, Plainview, Lockney, Big Spring, Monroe, Minnesboro, Petersburg, Rockwall, Baird, Fort Davis and Falls.

Church Retreat Held At Coahoma Thursday

Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Young were host and hostess to the Big Spring Church of God WMS for an all-day, out-door missionary retreat held at their Coahoma home on Thursday.

"Alone With God" was the theme of the sessions which were directed by Mrs. John E. Kolar. After the meeting opened with an accordian prelude, "Close To Thee," the group sang "Blessed Quietness." Mrs. E. L. Herring read John 17. The Rev. John E. Kolar led the opening prayer. Mrs. Richard Reagan, Mrs. Ike Reidel and Mrs. John E. Kolar sang "Take Time To Be Holy." Mrs. Truett Thomas spoke on the subject, "Value of Prayer." After a covered dish luncheon was served, a "sharing" period followed. Members told of those who had influenced their prayer life. "Blessed Be Thee That Bids" was the closing prayer. Those present were: Mrs. Betty Hill, Mrs. G. R. Smith and Bernadine, Mrs. Ike Reidel, Mrs. E. G. Hardy, Mrs. E. L. Herring, Mrs. J. W. Phillips, Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Young.

Dr. and Mrs. W. J. Lloyd of Plainview, are visiting Big Spring relatives. They were accompanied here by Mary Jane Hamilton, a teacher in the local high school.

Stage Is Set For All-Star Cage, Six-Man Grid Games

Football Tilt To Be In Forsan

The stage is set for Saturday night's historic all-star six-man football game between East and West at Forsan at 8:30 p.m. Saturday.

The contest is the first of its kind ever arranged in Texas. Last year, a game between the best athletes of District Seven and Five was played but this time the entire state will be represented.

Frank Honeycutt, Forsan's capable mentor, will handle the West team, which has players from Mossie, Van Horn, Novice, Dickens, Patton Springs, Grandfalls, Darrowzett, Three Way and Pyote as well as four boys representing District Seven in the ranks.

Eastern coach is T. M. Dunn of New Caney, who'll call on boys from his own school (near Houston), O'Brien, Prairie Lea, Knox City, Fannett, Staples, High Island, Slaton, Tarkington and Wilson for his lineup.

Three boys from the great Forsan team of 1948 will help make up the West's lineup. They are Dan Fairchild, Hood Parker, Jr., and Eldon Frater. Jack Turner of Merton will be another District Seven player in uniform.

Thomas Hudgins, Mossie; Joe Burchard, Van Horn; Chaslie Atchley, Novice; Johnny Koonman, Dickens; Muri Bengs, Miami; C. W. Smiley, Patton Springs; Cino Lujan, Grandfalls, James Pendergast, Darrowzett; Don Price, Pyote; and Bobby Jo Newman, Three Way, are among others who will see action.

The East will build its hopes around Bill Bodenhamer, New Caney; Herman Smith, O'Brien; Charley Thompson, Prairie Lea; Roland Willie, Knox City; Joe Rodenberg; Kenneth Fender; Tommy Bednars, Slaton; and Harry Hicks, High Island.

The two squads went into training Wednesday, the West drilling at Forsan and the East at Sterling City.

Forsan's athletic field is due to be jammed to the limit for the contest, which will climax the Six-Man Coaching school now in progress in Big Spring. Last year, an estimated 1,000 persons saw the District Seven and Five struggle on the same site.

Tonight, basketball teams representing the East and West play a game at Sterling City starting at 8:30 p.m. A. C. Teter, Darrowzett, is the coach of the West team while Hubert Parks, Tarkington, is mastering the East.

Making up the West's squad will be Gusie Fincher, Girard; Ted Kingery, Roring Springs; Ted Leonard, Mossie; Jimmie Laurie, Darrowzett; Mike Rueda, Clint; Sonny Clune, Fabens; Kenneth Baker, Forsan; Billy Gans, Novice; Blaine Mitchell, Sterling City; Bob Copeland, Merton; and Charley Holt, Pyote.

Parks will have such boys as Billy Wilkerson, Porters; Albert Lum, Tarkington; Jack Smith, Luling; Bill Barber, Fentress; Bob Winger, Winnie Stowell; Charley Hutchinson, O'Brien; Dennis Walling, Sunset of Monday; and Jimmy Coleman, Wilson, around whom to work.

Aussies Face Eyefies Today

RYE, N. Y., Aug. 12. (AP)—The big guns of Australia's Davis Cup tennis team open fire on Italy's netmen today in the interzone final to determine a challenger for the United States.

Italy's best chance to upset Australia in the best-of-five series opening today at the Westchester Country Club would appear to lie in getting a flying start. That could happen, for Italy's top player, the colonial little Gianni Cuculli, is pitted against the erratic Billy Sidwell in one of the two singles matches. In the other, young Frank Sedgman, Australia's best, tackles Marcello del Bello.

Seas Calming Around Dover

DOVER, England, Aug. 12. (AP)—The seas off Dover began to calm down today, causing Shirley May France to hope she can attempt to swim the English Channel within a few days.

The husky girl from Somerset, Mass., just turned 17, took a walk this morning and planned a tune-up swim this afternoon against the tide.

Skies were clear and the weather was warm throughout Southern England. The Air Ministry Weather Bureau said it would continue fine Saturday and perhaps throughout the week end.

"Shirley is just marking time and keeping her edge," said her father, J. Walter France. "She is almost ready. But her coach Harry Boudakian, who will have the final say, hasn't said her training was finished. It won't be long now."

Fifty more telegrams and letters arrived this morning. Most of them contained greetings for Shirley May's birthday yesterday.

Shirley intends to attempt the channel crossing from Cap Gris Nez, France, to Dover.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With Tommy Hart

The lighting system at the local ball orchard needs a refurbishing job, although it is doubtful anything will be done to correct its faults before the end of the Longhorn League campaign.

The bulbs in some of the reflectors have grown dim and, in others, have gone out entirely. As a result, shadows dance all over the field when there is animation among the players. It's especially difficult for the left fielder to level his sights on the flight of a ball coming in his direction.

Perhaps there should be a meeting of the school board, which controls the property, and the Bronc management, which rents it, toward improving the entire arc hookup before the 1950 season rolls around.

This reporter must have been looking forty ways to Sunday when he wrote that the Vernon Dusters were playing here the final time this season, Tuesday night.

In reality, Bob Huntley's crew doubles back here Sept. 6 for two games.

Big Spring is one up in its season's series with the North Texas, by the way. They've won eight of 15 games, have five contests remaining with the Dusters.

Pittsburgh defeated the Chicago Cubs, 2-2, in the rubber tilt of their three-game series. A single by Stan Rajek followed by Johnny Hopp's triple and Ralph Kiner's fly gave the Bucs two runs in the eighth.

The New York Giants and Boston Braves had to settle for a 7-7 tie when rain halted proceedings in the last half of the eighth.

Adrian Zola, Giant pitcher, took sick during the fifth inning and was taken to a hospital. It was learned he was pitching with a fever of 101.

All other teams enjoyed a day off.

Eagles Regain First Division

DALLAS, Aug. 12. (AP)—Dallas jumped out of the second division in the Texas League last night into a third place tie with Shreveport.

The Eagles made the jump from fifth by beating Beaumont, 5-3, as Oklahoma City lost to Houston, 0-3, and Shreveport bowed to Fort Worth, 2-5.

In the other loop tilt, San Antonio brushed off Tulsa, 5-3.

A two-run home run by Ben Guentel in the eighth inning clinched Dallas' victory. It was Beaumont's seventh straight licking.

Eddie Green blanked Oklahoma City on two hits as his Houston mates picked up single runs in the first, fourth and seventh innings.

Bob Milliken pitched seven-hit ball as Fort Worth won. Bob Bundy, Cat third baseman, ran his hitting streak to 18 straight games with two singles. Al Masur homered for Shreveport in the ninth.

Three unearned runs in the eighth following Johnny Lane's wild throw to first enabled San Antonio to hand Tulsa its third straight loss.

Tonight, Dallas plays at San Antonio, Fort Worth at Houston, Oklahoma City at Shreveport and Tulsa at Beaumont.

Zack's Clinches Bowling Crown

Zack's keglers clinched championship laurels in the Women's Summer Bowling league last night, winning one of three games from the Douglas team.

Second place Leonard's won two of three games from Cornelia's to drop that group into the last position. Dot Caudle at Zack's had high game score for the evening with a 190. Elsie Caudle, second in game high scoring, with a 179, was first in series scoring with a 322 while Dot Caudle was second in series play with 468.

Play for the season will be concluded Thursday evening.

Cayuses To Play In Wigwam Tonight

The Big Spring Broncs invade Midland tonight, where they will tangle with Harold Webb's Indians in the wigwam.

Big Pancho Perez may climb the mound to face the tribe. If Pancho isn't ready, Pat Stacey may call on Eddie Noriega, a new right-hander who has joined the Bronc pitching staff.

Noriega arrived here during the Odessa series. He came from Orlando, Fla., where he had fashioned a record of eight victories and six defeats.

The 299 score posted by Sam Parks in the 1935 U. S. Open was the highest winning total for the tourney in the last 25 years.

Indians Death On Extra-Round Baseball Games

By JOE REICHLER AP STAFF

The Cleveland Indians have hit upon a sure-fire pennant formula—extra inning games. The only trouble is they can't get the opposing teams to go along with them as often as they would like.

The Tribe is in second place today, first and a half games behind the pace-setting New York Yankees, but they're easily the overtime champion.

Including last night's 13-inning marathon with the Chicago White Sox, the Indians have played 14 games that went beyond the ninth inning this season. They've won 13 of them. They copied last night's 9-5.

On the other hand, the Yankees own the poorest overtime record in the league—only three victories in 11 such games. No club is even close to the Indians. The next best record is held by the third place Boston Red Sox, who show an unimposing 4-3 mark.

The Red Sox helped lighten the race by knocking off the Yankees, 7-4, in regulation nine innings. Although for a while it looked as if their game would also move into extra frames. A single by Bobby Doerr in the last half of the sixth scored Ted Williams from second, broke up a 5-4 deadlock, and cut New York's margin over the third place Sox to five and a half games.

Williams wielded the big bat for the Bronx. He hammered his 39th home run and added a couple of singles besides a base on balls.

Joe DiMaggio accounted for the first three Yankee runs with a home run over the left field screen, with two mates aboard. It was his 11th in 42 games and his sixth against the Sox hitting.

Cleveland Manager Lou Boudreau used 20 players and six pitchers to down the Sox. After overcoming a 5-3 deficit with two runs in the eighth, the Indians won in the 12th when Chicago second baseman Cass Michaels threw wildly to first in an attempt to complete a double play. Johnny Beardsley scored from second on the error. Bob Feller, last of six Cleveland hurlers, was awarded the victory, his 11th and fifth straight.

Luke Easter, the Pacific Coast Negro star, made his first appearance with the Tribe, grounding out in a pinch-hitting role in the eighth.

Brooklyn broke a four-day deadlock for first place in the National League with St. Louis, by outslugging Philadelphia. The victory put the Dodgers a half game up on the Cardinals, who were idle.

A home run by Lee Wee Reese with two mates aboard in the top of the eighth, snapped a 7-7 tie. A pair of four-baggers by catcher Andy Seminick had kept the Phils in the game up to then.

Pittsburgh defeated the Chicago Cubs, 2-2, in the rubber tilt of their three-game series. A single by Stan Rajek followed by Johnny Hopp's triple and Ralph Kiner's fly gave the Bucs two runs in the eighth.

The New York Giants and Boston Braves had to settle for a 7-7 tie when rain halted proceedings in the last half of the eighth.

Adrian Zola, Giant pitcher, took sick during the fifth inning and was taken to a hospital. It was learned he was pitching with a fever of 101.

All other teams enjoyed a day off.

GARCIA GAINS TENTH

Hosses Sweep Two-Game Set From Odessa With 16-2 Win

Bert Garcia coasted to his tenth pitching success of the 1949 season over the Odessa Oilers here as his Big Spring mates reared to a 16-2 victory and a series sweep Thursday night.

Garcia gave way to Bert Beer in the eighth frame, but not because he was in trouble. Rather it was due to the fact that Manager Pat Stacey wanted to have him in shape for the invasion of the San Angelo Colts here Monday night.

The Hosses were waiting for Jess Grimes, the Odessa righthander who had beaten them in three starts. Felix Gomez, a thorn in the opposition's side all evening, started things off in the first frame with a rousing triple and subsequently scored on Jorge Lopez's fly to center.

Grimes escaped real trouble until the fourth when the Steeds picked up two more runs. He departed in the fifth when the locals opened up a barrage, high lighted by Gomez lowering home run with the sacks populated.

Everett Veach came on to spell Grimes but couldn't get a man out and Marty Diaz reported to finish up. Grimes managed to get out before Gomez came to bat that last. It was Veach who loaded the sacks to set the stage for Gomez's round-tripper, his sixth of the campaign.

Diaz clinched the knob and proceeded to work two strikes past the feet-footed left fielder before Felix tied into one.

Gomez had two doubles in addition to his three-bagger and homer, driving in six rallies in all.

Pat Stacey also hit for the circuit for Big Spring while Diaz bashed one of Beer in the ninth for Odessa. The four-strike win Stacey's eighth of the campaign. Diaz has now clouded three.

The circuit play was one of four safeties Stacey collected during the long evening. He enjoyed a perfect evening with the mace, having walked on another appearance.

GLEANNINGS — Garcia struck out the side in the first inning and, in so doing, brought to a halt Les Palmer's hitting streak. Les had collected six straight blows hit change-ups for his homer in the sixth, his fourth time he has done that this year. Feisty umpiring made quite a ceremony of stopping Garcia from applying resin to his hands in the middle frames. Two great throws on the part of Big Spring fly chasers cut down Odessa runners at the plate.

In the second, a heave by Ace Mendez retired Dick Murphy a foot from pay dirt while Stacey tossed a curve to Al Valdes to get Palmer out the fourth. Palmer crashed into Valdes heavily but Al held onto the ball. Alex Monchak drew applause from the crowd for going far to his left to get Ray Vasquez's ground ball, then straightening in time to throw out the runner. Mendez caught the defense sapping in the seventh when Frank Mormino threw wildly into center, trying to catch Ace off second. Mendez never slowed at third, moving all the way to the plate. Les tried a suicide play in the seventh in an attempt to build the Hosses' lead but popped to Diaz — Grimes seeking his 12th win, was charged with his eighth loss.

Grid Extravaganza Slated For Chicago Field Tonight

By JAN HARTNETT AP Staff

CHICAGO, Aug. 12. — Football's gaudy, glimmering extravaganza—the 18th annual All-Star Classic tonight will pit a squad of 70 collegians against the Philadelphia Eagles before upwards of 90,000 spectators in Soldier Field.

Coches Greasy Neale's National Football League Champion Eagles were reeled last night as 19 point favorites over the all-star collegians coached by Bud Wilkinson, the split-T mentor from Oklahoma. However, the records show that the collegians have sometimes won when few thought victory was possible.

In the 1948 lake-front football show, the Chicago Cardinals, coached by Jimmy Conzelmann, romped to a 38 to 6 triumph over an All-Star team coached by Notre Dame's Frank Leahy. The overall series stands at eight victories for the pros, five for the collegians, and two ties. The first game of the series between the all stars and the Chicago Bears in 1934 wound up in a scoreless tie.

Although the hot weather apparently favors the Eagles in downing the collegians, the champs probably won't hit pay dirt through the star's line. Both all star players and coaches are pretty confident of that.

The collegians' line will be just as big, just as tough and just as speedy as anything the Eagles might display.

The probable starting lineups:

ALL STARS: Quarterback—Gus Mizer; Running Back—Bob Taylor; Fullback—Bill Wingo; End—Bill Wingo; Tackle—Bill Wingo; Guard—Bill Wingo; Center—Bill Wingo; Linebacker—Bill Wingo; Defensive Back—Bill Wingo; Wide Receiver—Bill Wingo; Tight End—Bill Wingo.

CHICAGO CARDINALS: Quarterback—Sammy Winder; Running Back—Bill Wingo; Fullback—Bill Wingo; End—Bill Wingo; Tackle—Bill Wingo; Guard—Bill Wingo; Center—Bill Wingo; Linebacker—Bill Wingo; Defensive Back—Bill Wingo; Wide Receiver—Bill Wingo; Tight End—Bill Wingo.

Duke Fans Give Polio Victim Big Donation

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., Aug. 12. (AP)—Purses opened wide today for a baseball player critically ill with polio.

The gesture was for Frank Orie, shortstop for Albuquerque in the West Texas-New Mexico League. He was stricken with infantile paralysis Wednesday and is fighting a long lung in a Lamesa, Tex., hospital.

Contributions have passed the $2,000 mark.

Eight-year-old Dorothy Cramp-ton said she had no money. But she offered to sell her prize possession — a ball autographed by the 1925 world champion Detroit Tigers, and Orie and his family could have what she gets from the sale.

A ball bearing the name of the greats of the 1915 New York Yankees was offered by 64-year-old C. H. Baird.

Albuquerque fans organized a radio appeal for financial aid for the family last night. More than $2,000 was pledged in the first three hours. Contributions continued pouring in throughout the night. A "Frank Orie" night already is being planned at the Albuquerque Park.

The 27-year-old player is a former infantry sergeant with the Purple Heart received in the Battle of the Bulge. He was on his way to a possible league playing record. He was considered a threat for national fielding honors. At the halfway mark, his fielding percentage was .948.

He is from a baseball family. A brother, Fred, is utility catcher for the Washington Senators.

Born in Detroit, Orie played in the Evangeline and Cotton States Leagues before the war. Signed by Little Rock in the Southern Association after returning from Europe, he was optioned to Amarillo in the West Texas-New Mexico League. He later was tied in Albuquerque.

Chinese Red Armies Menacing Kanhsien

CANTON, Aug. 12. (AP)—Three Chinese Communist armies totaling 75,000 men are closing on Kanhsien, gateway to Kwangtung Province and Canton, official Nationalist reports said today.

GETS NEW SUPPLY OF BLOOD
 — Marjean Miller, 14, of Delta, Utah, is reported recovering in Salt Lake City from a rare blood disease after a unique treatment. Physicians ordered her entire blood supply drained off and replaced with 12 1/2 pints of new blood. The transfusion required 12 hours to complete. (AP Wirephoto).

Another Red army was said to be pressing south toward Kanhsien along the Kan River Valley. A third Red army was reported operating to the East. Liu is supposed to have three more armies in reserve.

Fighting on the front due north of Canton was confined to skirmishes north of Hengshan, mountain stronghold 25 miles north of Hengyang.

Hengyang, 265 miles north of Canton, earlier was reported in a press dispatch to have been abandoned as headquarters for Gen. Pai Chung-Hsi, commander-in-chief on the south China front.

Another official dispatch said that Gen. Chen Yi, Communist commander in eastern China, was preparing an amphibious assault on the Chu Shan Islands about 100 miles southeast of Shanghai.

The islands provide important air and naval bases for the Nationalist blockade of Shanghai and other Communist-held ports.

The report said more than 1,000 junks had been commandeered and two armies were massed at Chinghai and Siangshan, on the east coast near the islands.

Kanhsien is 215 miles northeast of Canton. It lies in the valley of the Kan River, natural highway to this refugee capital.

The Nationalists admitted the loss of a town only 12 miles northwest of Kanhsien.

(It was on this part of the front north of Canton that the Nationalists were boasting only Tuesday that 11,000 Red troops were surrounded.)

Wuyuehsiao, was seized by one of the three Red Armies which the Nationalists say have been committed by Gen. Liu Po-Cheng, famed Communist commander.

Another Red army was said to be pressing south toward Kanhsien along the Kan River Valley. A third Red army was reported operating to the East. Liu is supposed to have three more armies in reserve.

Margaret Mitchell Has Narrow Escape

ATLANTA, Aug. 12. (AP)—Margaret Mitchell, the little southern lady who made the high courage of a lost cause into "Gone With the Wind," was nearly killed last night by a speeding car.

Police said the quiet, middle-aged author of the fabulous romance of the war between the states was knocked to the pavement by a drunken taxi-driver and dragged 15 feet.

She was taken to city hospital where physicians and nurses said she was too gravely hurt to be moved even for X-rays.

She was placed under an oxygen tent and was given a blood transfusion early today, after her blood pressure fell. Attendants said she responded satisfactorily.

Miss Mitchell — in private life she's Mrs. John Marsh — received a possible skull fracture, internal injuries, and an injury to her right leg. Her face was badly bruised.

After nearly four hours of unconsciousness, the 43-year-old novelist was able to mutter, though incoherently, when internes queried, "Peggy."

Another friend said Miss Mitchell and her husband were en route to a neighborhood theatre to see the British film "A Canterbury Tale" when she was hit.

Her husband, victim of a heart ailment for several years, said he was about a step behind his wife.

Otherwise he, too, would have been injured.

Marsh was advised by a physician to leave the hospital and go home and rest.

One interne said it might be as much as 72 hours before X-rays could be taken, though there was chance they might be made later today.

Here's Proof 13 Unlucky Number
 PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 12. (AP)—The case of Jerry Johnson, police say, is pretty good proof the No. 13 is unlucky.

Detective Nathan Thompson said yesterday the "13" Johnson has tattooed on his left thumb led to his arrest on robbery charges.

A soda fountain attendant and two young women, all recent robbery victims, reported they were held up by a man with a "13" tattooed on his left thumb.

Johnson tried to get rid of the tattoo number by burning off the tattoo with a hot knife, but wound up at a doctor's office with an infected thumb. The doctor reported the incident to police and Johnson was arrested.

Thompson said Johnson told him he had the 13 put on his thumb when he was serving in the U. S. Navy "because I thought it might bring me luck."

AMERICAN OFFICIAL'S AUTOMOBILE IS WRECKED BY BOMB IN PRAGUE

PRAGUE, Czechoslovakia, Aug. 12. (AP)—An American embassy official here reported that a home-made bomb had wrecked his automobile early today.

The official was Capt. John Childs, assistant air attaché at the embassy, whose home is Lewiston, Maine.

He said the automobile was unoccupied and parked in front of his house at the time of the explosion. Nobody was injured but windows of buildings in the vicinity were shattered by the blast.

Capt. Childs said he had parked his auto in the street in front of his residence at about 11:15 o'clock last night and retired about midnight. Some five minutes later, he said, he heard an explosion.

He was summoned by his maid who reported his auto had blown up. In the street a crowd had gathered around the vehicle. The car's radiator and front parts had been blown apart.

Childs said that Czech police experts who investigated found remnants of a fuse and pipe and metal container in which the explosive was packed.

"It looked like a home-made job," he said. "I have no theories about who might have planted it, nor do the police. I believe the explosive must have been planted between 11:15 when I parked the car, and the time of the explosion."

Another Italian Seized For Ransom
 PALERMO, Sicily, Aug. 12. (AP)—Armed, masked bandits kidnaped a 62-year-old baron today, the fourth rich Sicilian to be seized for ransom in the past few days.

Police blamed the kidnappings on Salvatore Giuliano's bandit gang which has terrorized Sicilian mountaintops near Palermo for more than two years.

The baron, Gabriele Dera, was kidnaped while riding in a bus with some 20 other persons about 30 miles from Palermo. The other passengers were not harmed.

Dera's seizure was followed by a ransom note demanding 100 million lire ($17,000).

Ecuador Rocked By New Quakes

QUITO, Ecuador, Aug. 12. (AP)—More earth tremors were reported last night as residents of Ecuador's richest agricultural area still removed their dead from the debris of last Friday's earthquake.

Col. Gabriel Nunez, military commander of the Ambato area—the hardest hit—said the tremors were not strong, but were intense enough to terrify the inhabitants and tumble quake weakened walls.

"Our greatest problem now is the prevention of an epidemic, but everything possible is being done," Nunez said. "Stores have reopened at Ambato (largest city to receive the brunt of the quake), the Ambato electric system is functioning, water is available and food is being distributed by a fleet of 10 military trucks circulating continuously throughout the Ambato region."

Engineers are studying the possibility of shooting a cable line into the still isolated village of Patate to bring out survivors and injured.

The town is across the river from Pelileo and isolated because of the tremendous sinking of earth which produced a landslide, wrecking bridges and highways and leaving steep precipices on both sides of the river.

Eye witnesses said it appeared that the sinking of the earth in Pelileo caused an almost complete loss of its 2,500 inhabitants.

Unusual Data On Heat Released
 NEW YORK, Aug. 12. (AP)—An enterprising reporter has dug up some unusual data about New York City's heat wave that the weather bureau doesn't supply.

While the official reading atop the Whitehall Building in Lower Manhattan stood at a record high of 98.1 degrees yesterday, the reporter went roving with a thermometer and recorded these temperatures:

- 103 degrees inside a policeman's shoes.
- 130 degrees on a tiled rooftop.
- 85 degrees in an air-conditioned elevator.
- 37 degrees in a plane 17,000 feet above the city.

After a quick thundershower sent the official temperature down to 81, the reporter said, the city was as cool as a cucumber — in fact, cooler. A vegetable stand cucumber was 95.

27 ESCAPE SAFELY Stewardess, 23, Is Air Crash Heroine

PORTLAND, Me., Aug. 12. (AP)—A pretty and plucky stewardess was heroine of a Northeast Airliner crash from which 27 persons escaped safely last night.

Miss Patricia Donnellan, 23, of North Quincy, Mass., a rookie at her job, calmly herded the passengers out a rear door—a scant two minutes before the plane was enveloped in flames on Portland Municipal Airport.

The new, $400,000 Convair—from New York and Boston—was a total loss.

Capt. Roderick Cote, 40, of Melrose, Mass., the pilot, said the propellers of the twin engine plane accidentally reversed 15 or 20 feet above the runway "and we started to plow straight down."

"Then our landing gear collapsed and the sparks began to fly." The big plane alighted on its belly for several hundred feet in a shower of sparks. Then the right engine caught fire.

Shouting, "follow me," Miss Donnellan led the way to the rear door when she couldn't open the front door — the hydraulic system wouldn't work—and flames blocked an emergency exit.

Thomas Clab, 50, of Palmouth, a passenger, said "all hands got out inside of a minute."

"That wattle stewardess was grand," he said. "She did a grand job."

"The burning plane was evacuated without panic. Miss Donnellan said there was "only a little natural confusion."

Mrs. Cora Connors of Portland thought that "it was amazing."

"The people in the ship were the calmest I ever saw," she said.

Among the passengers were A. J. Spant, retired dean of Akron (Ohio) University, and William S. Newell, "resident of the Bath Iron Works, which built destroyers for the Navy in World War Two."

Northeast said the crash came on the 16th anniversary of a perfect safety record. The line has flown 26 million miles without a fatality, officials said.
