Ex-Students Gather
 An annual reunion of ex-students of Pioneer, Liberty and Sabanno schools was held Thursday at the tabernacle in Pioneer, it was announced by Mrs. Lorena W. Brandon, secretary of the ex-students association.
 A catered luncheon was served at the noon hour, the announcement said.
 The event is scheduled one day before the Callahan County Pioneers, which was held at Cross Plains so that persons wishing to attend both gatherings may do so with ease, Mrs. Brandon said.

Efforts were made in the 1850's to naturalize camels to the arid regions of Southwestern United States.

Local's Niece Gets Scholarship From Insurance Firm

Miss Gigi Womack, 1968 graduate of Anson High School, has been awarded a 5,000 scholarship from Great Southern Life Insurance Company of Houston.

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. V. Womack of Anson and the niece of Mrs. Joe Stephen of Eastland. Her father is an agent for Great Southern.

The company, which serves a 15-state area gives two scholarships each year. The other winner was Miss Molly Moores of Houston. Graduating senior high school children of any employee in the 15 states are eligible for the awards. A panel of three prominent Houston residents, who are not connected with the company were chosen as judges. They are Robert Stewart, Jr., president of Bank of the Southwest; W. B. Arnold, partner of Vinson, Elkins, Weems, and Searls; and Ben G. McGuire, president of Ben McGuire Company. The candidates are known to the judges only by numbers. The scholarships are awarded to students who, in the judges' opinion, are the best college material.

Miss Womack plans to major in elementary education at North Texas State in Denton.

Mrs. Solora Gilkey visited in the home of her daughter, Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Poole of Jackson, Miss. recently. The family celebrated Mrs. Gilkey's birthday while she was there.

IN THE COLLEGES...
AT RJC AT CJC

by FLOYD A. WALKER
Summertime for many college students means a chance to enhance their dormant sun-tans or perhaps get a job so they won't have too many financial worries in the fall.

Many students, however try to not only pick up some extra cash, but also to pick up some extra college credits by taking advantage of the summer classes offered at RJC.

One such student is Eastland's Armando Alvarado, an 18-year-old who will be a sophomore at Ranger this fall. Armando, who lives at 317 East Olive, is taking part in the summer college work study program at RJC. For 15 hours weekly, Armando works on the campus doing in his words "a little of everything." Then two nights weekly, Armando packs his books and heads for a Class in English in RJC's newly air-conditioned Academic Building.

Armando says he sometimes has trouble getting everything done in one day—especially on the days he has classes. But he says he likes the convenience of being able to travel from home to class in less than 15 minutes, and most of all, he says, he likes the friendly atmosphere at RJC.

A pre-veterinary medicine major, Armando says he plans "probably to go later to A&M when he graduates from RJC, and he is looking forward to taking the agriculture courses RJC will be offering this fall for the first time.

Armando Alvarado is just one of many Eastland students who have found the convenience and friendliness of Ranger Junior College a welcome complement to RJC's extensive course offerings which result in making RJC a great place to go to college.

by ERIS RITCHIE
The C.J.C. campus is receiving quite a "facelift" during the summer months. Several new sidewalks have been placed in badly-needed places, including the front of the Administration building. In addition to this, a large-scale painting program has been going since early June and the dormitories and Administration building are quite improved. A pretty sky blue color was used in decorating the exterior of the Administration building. Also, a large parking lot is now being prepared immediately south of the Harrell Fine Arts Building. This should help tremendously in relieving the automobile parking problems we have during the fall and spring semesters. A final touch of facelighting to the campus will be the placement of identifying signs on all of the major buildings of the campus. Of course the landscaping that was done during the winter is helping make the campus a much nicer looking place than it has been in the past.

We are all hoping very much to see a substantial increase in enrollment, and we think for the first time our enrollment figure will surpass the 1000 mark. Should this be the case, the college population will add about 25 percent to the number of persons residing in Cisco—at last during the day! Our summer school enrollment has reached records for both six-week sessions and there is every reason to believe that come mid-September the fall semester will follow suit.

Insurance Burdens —

It has been an American custom, and it's a hard one to break. Don't try to carry the load of financial responsibility against the hazards of these modern times. Shift it to your local agent and let him do it. Your losses may be hours or years of worry, but meanwhile insurance will give you peace of mind and financial protection that is worth far more than it costs. Loss or no loss, you win either way with insurance.

THE GORDON SPOT

By DeMarquis (Dee) Gordon
 Eastland County Extension Agent

It's good to be back in Eastland County again. I attended the National Extension Summer School at Colorado State University for three weeks, June 17 to July 5. Even though I spent most of the time studying, I thoroughly enjoyed the three weeks. The family went to Colorado with me. During the week-ends we drove to the mountains. On one trip we visited Laramie, Wyoming, and the Medicine Bow National Forest. We took other trips to the Rocky Mountain National Park. It was unusual to see so much snow in July. There were areas on the mountains where snow was eight to ten feet deep. I enjoyed the courses also. I took one course titled "Human Behavior in Extension Work" and one titled "Extension Communications."
 The Texas Pecan Growers annual meeting was held in Brownwood, July 8, 9, and 10. The state pecan queen pageant and the state pecan show were held during the meeting. I wish everyone in Eastland County could have seen Joan Kelly, the Eastland County Pecan Queen, in the state contest. There were 12 beautiful girls competing for the state pecan queen crown. Joan was runner-up in the contest. The new state pecan queen is Kathy Marcum of Boyd in Wise County. We were very proud of Joan's performance in the contest.

the first place Barton entry. R. W. Merket's entry of Merket Special won first in the "other in shell" class. Mr. Merket lives in Cisco. Another ribbon was won by Earl Walker of Cisco. His Success entry won a third place ribbon.

I would like to remind all livestock owners to be on the alert for screwworms in livestock wounds. There have been more screwworms in Texas this year than any time since the Screwworm Eradication Program began.

Be sure to treat all wounds in animals, spray to control flies, and inspect animals regularly. Any time worms are found in animal wounds be sure to send a sample to the mailing vials in my office. Vials can also be found at
