Beta Upsilon Chapter Enjoys Book Review at Eastland Meeting Nov. 17

Thirty members of Beta Upsilon Chapter of Delta Kappa Gamma listened as Verna Johnson narrated and Opal Little projected slides to illustrate Bill Hoest's A TASTE OF CARROT booklet at their meeting at Eastland Elementary School on November 17 at 9:30 a. m.

"You may read into a book what you will," explained Miss Johnson, "for reading is a dialogue between author and reader. You may consider this story fantasy, philosophy, satire, allegory, or pure nonsense—depending upon your point of view."

As Mrs. Little projected various bunny pictures, Miss Johnson paraphrased from Ibsen to Shakespeare, from Thomas Wolf to Voltaire, to Mark Twain, Stephen Crane, Byron, and Keats to give the different impressions that might result from reading such a book.

Home-baked pineapple tarts, spiced tea, and coffee were served from a table covered with a hand embroidered table cloth centerpiece by a cornucopia of autumn flowers and fruits. President Lois Marshall poured from an antique, hand painted tea and coffee service. The meeting was hostessed by Opal Hearn, Ruth Herring, Beulah Smith, and Ruby Frazer, all teachers in Eastland Elementary School.

During the business session, secretary Opal Hearn read the minutes and distributed news letters outlining plans for the Christmas box to be sent to Abilene State School, and mentioning the attendance of eleven from the local chapter at the area meeting in Brownwood on October 5 where a Shakespearean parody skit written by Lela Lloyd had been given by seven members.

THE GORDON SPOT

By DE GORDON, County Agricultural Agent

November 22 through 28 is National Farm-City Week. This is a good time for us to appreciate the advancements of American agriculture. These advancements are largely responsible for the standard of living we enjoy today.

When the consumer went to the retail food store during the 1920's and purchased a pound of beef steak, one pound of pork, a quart of milk, one dozen eggs, a loaf of bread, a dozen oranges, and a ten pound sack of potatoes and based upon average wages at that time, he had to work about four hours and twenty-nine minutes to buy these groceries. This would leave him only three hours and thirty-one minutes out of an eight hours work day to earn money to pay for his shelter, clothing and other needs of his family.

Today, it takes only about one hour and thirty minutes of labor to buy these same groceries. As a result, he has about six hours and thirty minutes left out of an eight hour work day in which to earn money to buy such items as clothing, homes, television sets, automobiles, tile bathrooms, air conditioning, dishwashers, weekend cabins on the lake, or other items of his choice, depending upon his wants and income.

Adam Smith, an economist of the eighteenth century, said "When the time comes when one farm worker, through the improvement of cultivation of land, can provide food for just two people, the labor of half of the society will be able to provide food for the whole society. Then and only then can the other half of the people be employed in providing the other wants and fancies of mankind."

Today one farm worker in the United States provides the food not for just two persons, as Adam Smith dreamed about, but for himself and about 42 others. Our efficient agricultural industry has helped Americans to have the highest level of living in the world.

The peanut crop alone will bring about five and one half million dollars to Eastland County this year. The money will be multiplied several times as farmers spend it for fertilizer, chemicals to control weeds, diseases, and insects, machinery, fuel, electricity, and good for the family and home. So a sound agricultural economy will affect everyone, both farm and city residents.

The first step in controlling brown rot of peaches and plums is orchard sanitation. Now is the time to remove any decayed fruit which has dried and still hanging on the trees from last year's crop. Also, the decayed fruit left under the tree should either be removed completely or should be plowed under. If the fruit is left exposed to the air next spring, they will serve as a source of disease for the blossom blight stage. This practice of orchard sanitation is as important for the homeowner as for the commercial fruit grower.

WANTED BY THE FBI

John William Clouser, a Florida mental hospital escapee, who has vowed not to be taken alive, is one of the FBI's "Ten Most Wanted Fugitives."

On the night of April 2, 1964, Clouser and three other inmates escaped from the Florida State Hospital in Chattahoochee and reportedly forced two hospital employees to drive them to the Columbus, Georgia, area. The hostages were robbed but released unharmed. A Federal warrant issued at Montgomery, Alabama, on April 9, 1964, charges Clouser with transporting a stolen car from Georgia to Alabama, where the stolen car was recovered abandoned.

A former police officer, Clouser was admitted to the Florida State Hospital in February, 1964, after being adjudged mentally insane. He was then facing numerous criminal charges and had earlier been convicted of participating in the robbery, kidnapping and beating of two theater managers. His conviction was appealed, however, due to a state error, and he was released and granted a new trial.

He is a white American, born at Chicago, Illinois, on March 29, 1932. He is 5'9" tall, weighs from 165 to 180 pounds and has blond hair, blue eyes, a stocky build and ruddy complexion. He is tattooed with a feather on his right shoulder and a heart pierced with an arrow on his left shoulder.

He is described as a sadist who would not hesitate to beat a victim to death, is an expert pistol shot, exercises and lifts weights regularly and is proficient in Judo and Karate. Consider him extremely dangerous.

Should you receive any information concerning the whereabouts of John William Clouser, you are requested to immediately notify the nearest office of the FBI, the telephone number of which may be located on the first page of local telephone directories.

AUSTIN — General election day was a rosy one for statewide Democratic contenders. Not only did Texas endorse liberal presidential candidate Hubert Humphrey but also all statewide Democratic standard bearers. No incumbent congressmen lost their jobs and the partisan lineup in the state legislature remained just the way it is.

Preston Smith of Lubbock won the gubernatorial race with about 57 per cent of the votes over his opponent and first-time candidate GOPer Paul Rogers of Wichita Falls. Ben Barnes, 30, of DeLeon will become the youngest lieutenant governor in history by virtue of his overwhelming triumph over Republican Doug DeCluitt of Waco. Barnes was the top statewide vote-getter on the ballot.

All incumbent statewide officials seeking re-election won handily.

In congressional races, three Republicans seeking new terms had no great trouble, but none of their colleagues seeking to unseat incumbent Democrats was successful. Congressional lineup remains 20 Democrats to three Republicans.

Eight Republican state House members were elected — four incumbents, four newcomers. Three incumbent GOPers were defeated. Two GOP state senators were re-elected. Lineup remains 142 Democrats to eight Republicans in the House, 29 Democrats to two GOPers in the Senate.

Boasting that no other state can compare with Texas "regarding its support of, loyalty to or victory for the Democratic party," former State Democratic Committee Chairman Will D. Davis observed:

Texas is the most populous state to have a Democratic governor and only one of 10 largest to have solid statewide Democratic administration.

Texas was the only one in the southern and southwestern regions to give Humphrey plurality; and only Texas, Washington and Hawaii west of the Mississippi voted for the Democratic presidential nominee.

Voters showed they are in an economy frame of mind in their decisions on 14 proposed state constitutional amendments.

They voted November 5 to cut out the state property tax, but they refused to go along with raising the state's public welfare ceiling from $60 million to $75 million a year or to increase legislators' salaries from $4,800 to $8,400 annually.

Approved were changes in state employees' pension system, university fund investment liberalization, removal of the $504 a year ceiling on contributions to teacher pensions wiping out the property tax and clarification of a legislator's eligibility to run for other office by virtue of the termination date of his elective term.

Texas turned thumbs down on tax exemption for warehouse-stored property, El Paso local governmental consolidations, Dallas road bonds, tax aid for Texarkana tobacco merchants, state contract changes, tax benefits for anti-pollution equipment purchasers and industrial bond issues.

Gov.-elect Preston Smith announced as his first staff selection James P. Oliver, formerly of Caldwell, to serve as executive budget director after the new administration takes over in January. Oliver currently serves as assistant director of the Legislative Budget Board.

Walter N. Corrigan of San Antonio is new chairman of Texas Research League. C. L. Wall of Amarillo is vice-chairman, and Grogan Lord of Georgetown was named secretary-treasurer.

C. C. Miller of Dallas is chairman of University Inter-scholastic League Legislative Council and B. E. McCollum of Port Neches is vice-chairman.

Gleen Biggs formerly of Abilene and one-time executive assistant to House Speaker Barnes, has been appointed president of National Western Life Insurance Company.

Texas is due to get $1.7 million of 45.7 million in funds for acquisition and development of outdoor recreation facilities approved by Bureau of Outdoor Recreation, U. S. Department of Interior.

Allocation are made largely on basis of population, federal resources and programs and out-of-state visitor use. State must match the grants $0.50.

Presiding judge in each precinct has responsibility of determining validity of irregular ballots, Atty. Gen. Crawford Martin has held.

Eighth grade students across Texas will get a closer-than-usual view of their government and how it works with a new 16 class-hour unit "You and the Law," developed by the Texas Education Agency.

Savings and Loan Commissioner has set hearings on applications for new loan concerns, one for February 11 on a Longview application and one February 18 on a Brenham application.

Shifting Insurance Burdens -

... has long been an American custom, and it's a good custom. Don't try to carry the load of financial risks yourself against the hazards of these modern times, but shift it to your local agent and let insurance do it. Your losses may take hours or years away, but meanwhile insurance will give you peace of mind and financial protection that is worth far more than it costs. Loss or no loss, you win either way — with insurance.

Scientists' Topic

"Why art thou cast down, O my soul? and why are thou disquieted within me? hope thou in God: for I shall yet praise him, who is the health of my countenance, and my God."

This confident expression of faith from Psalm 42 is included in the Bible Lesson-Sermon titled "Soul and Body" to be read in all Christian Science churches Sunday, November 24.

Among related passages to be read from the denominational textbook is the following: "Knowing that Soul and its attributes were forever manifested through man, the Master healed the sick, gave sight to the blind, hearing to the deaf, feet to the lame, thus abridging to light the scientific action of the divine Mind on human minds bodies and giving a better understanding of Soul and salvation." (Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures by Mary Baker E. J.)

Services begin at 11 a. m. in First Church of Christ Scientist, in Eastland. All are welcome.

Conservation Is Urged In LBJ's Proclamation

President Johnson has proclaimed Nov. 22 thru Nov. 28 as National Farm-City Week. Never before in the history of mankind have so many depended on so few for their very existence.

As of this moment there are only 2.5 acres of cropland per person; by 1975 there will be only 2.2 acres; by the year 2000, we will have 1.6 acres per person.

United States population, according to the census bureau, is increasing at a rate of one person every 12 seconds. That's 5 each minute—50,000 a week 300 each hour—216,000 a month 7,200 a day—2,600,000 a year.

Every year we are losing acres of cultivatable land to non-agricultural uses such as highways, urbanization, airports, factories, etc. Another 400,000 acres are being lost to erosion, both wind and water, alkali formation, poor drainage, and other soil depletion. Interstate highways take 50 to 60 acres per mile. Ordinary first class highways require about 25 acres per mile.

Because of the so-called "agricultural commodity surplus," the general public is lulled into believing the United States has an inexhaustible supply of land for food and fiber production.

The fact is, it takes about 2.5 acres to produce the average diet of today. About 3.03 acres of cropland are required to produce the diets for the highest income groups and about 1.9 acres for the low-income groups. We would actually have to increase production now to give everyone as good a diet as our upper class income group has.

In 1822, one farm worker in the United States fed four people. In 1922, the number he fed raised to eight. Latest reports show he feeds 38. Between 1935 and 1950 farmers increased production 38 percent; from 1950 to 1960 production increased another 38 percent. Secretary of Agriculture Orville Freeman said that "if other fields of technology had increased as much as agriculture had, we would have a scuttie service to the moon by now."

Our land and water remain constant while our population and its needs multiply. As per capita share declines, each body of water, each acre of land, and each renewable resource must be used for more than one purpose — and must not be destroyed. We are reaching the point when planning the use of all resources will become an imperative need. An urgent task is to complete the job of identifying the land that can best produce our food

MISS JUDY COLLINS Engagement Announced

Mr. and Mrs. Dean N. Collins of Carbon announce the engagement of their daughter, Judy Lanell, to James West, son of Mr. and Mrs. Darwin J. West of Eastland.

The bride-elect is a 1968 graduate of Carbon High School and is attending Cisco Junior College. The prospective groom, a 1966 graduate of Eastland High School, is attending the University of Texas at Arlington.

and fiber and meet other needs with the highest degree of efficiency.

There are many untapped frontiers in the resource development field. We have just begun to tackle the problems of soil erosion and silt pollution associated with urban and suburban development. If our metropolitan areas are to survive, soil and water conservation must become accepted in suburbia as it is on the farm.

Unplanned urban development brings with it a host of problems such as homes and schools built on unstable soils, floods, pollution and sedimentation damage caused by disruption in watersheds, hydrostrips, junkyards, and ugliness. In many areas our once lovely countryside is now an embarrassment. But land mis-use is not our only extravagance. We are also the world's most lavish users of water.

Farm Bureau Has Seminar

EASTLAND

A Citizen's Coffee Break At Eastland County Courthouse

By MAGDALENE BOYLE

Great patches of oak and cedar hang onto the hillsides. Among the rocks, sheep and goats nibble their fare and deer sniff at man's presence. In a thicket of brush, a whir tells me that a covey of quail has just taken off. The quiet here is of the kind that makes my footsteps sound like intrusions.

However, in minutes I am spinning along on a ribbon of noisy highway under a sun that heats the harvested-peanut fields and stripes the wide meadows. The water of an ever-changing lake — sometimes gentle and blue, sometime rough and green — stretch to my left. In the distance ahead, the skyline is punctured by a building that cuts an imposing figure against the autumnal blue.

Soon I drive into the town. Parking places are at a premium, but I finally find one to dodge into.

Now for a tour of this massive tan brick structure in the square. But first a peek at the persimmons, heavy with meat and desperately clinging to the mother branch. Nearby, pecan hulls, bereft of their nuts, lie forlornly on the ground. In their circular niche, the summer flowers droop with age.

I swing up the expense of concrete steps. "Slick Floors" leers at me as I tug on the heavy glass door. Tentatively, I slide my right foot forward. Instantly, I'm STUCK! Somebody's gum. I wiggle back through the resisting door and spend five minutes scraping my shoe.

Another try, I'm in. The spacious lobby invited me to stroll around staring at me, so I take the stairs two at a time. This exertion brings on a thirst. I head for the fountain. But wait! A sign on the wall blares in bold black: "Please do not spit in the drinking fountain." I draw back and carefully examine every inch of the cold water contraption. Yes, quite clean — but I decide cold water is not good for me on a cold morning.

There are more floors. I walk silently and unobtrusively up and down the halls. The court rooms pulse with life and law. Office doors, flung wide, bespeak a welcome. Men and women are deep in daily toil. In one roomy office, I spy a table draped and looped with tendrils of lush green ivy. Unwittingly, I gasp in admiration. Two of the office clerks drag me cordially through the door, introduce me around, and invite me back soon. If I just had a peanut allotment coming due, I could accept that invitation tomorrow.

Afraid that I might further upset the tranquility of this law infested establishment, I quietly slither toward one of the four doors on first floor.

"Could I help you, lady?" I jerk to a halt as though I've been lassoed and mumble apologetically to the ever-alert elevator man, "I don't need anything, thank you." What can I do? I can't say I'm after a marriage license with a wedding ring already on my finger, and I can't remember what the other courthouse offices are for. Besides, I already look suspicious, don't I? My best bet is to make a quick getaway.

But not without the powers snaking one last finger at me read: "Fine to spit on steps or walk. Law enforced."

Gluing my lips together, I make it to my car — unmolested, unpunished, unspat upon!

During this Thanksgiving week, I am grateful to be a part of Eastland County, Texas, U. S. A. where this beauty of nature, kindness of fellow humans, and bit of fun can be enjoyed within the limit of minutes. But mostly, I am grateful that when I go to pay

Here's the expert.

She's your telephone service representative. To many telephone users, she is the phone company. She answers questions, provides personal number booklets, directories and duplicate bills. She helps you get new phones installed. As a service representative, she has to be something of a lady executive, a bit of a diplomat and an expert in phone service. And she is. She was hired from a select group of applicants and put through an extensive training program. And she attends regular meetings to discuss customer service. Next time you need help on a telephone problem, just call the telephone business office. Your service representative will take it from there.

Country Club To Meet on Friday

CHICAGO, ILL. — Visit with youth gangs, multimedia presentations, dramatic skits, Bible study, and unique worship services characterized the quadrennial District Superintendents Convocation ending a four-day meeting of 1-200 United Methodist Church leaders here Sunday noon.

Bishop James K. Mathews, Boston, Chairman of the Quadrennial Emphasis Committee outlined the denominations proposed guidelines for the four year program. Highlighting the emphasis in the 11,000,000 member church will be the study of the Sermon on the Mount and the Fund for Reconciliation. The study in each local congregation is designed to discover ways to implement Jesus instructions to feed the hungry, heal the sick and care for the needy. The Fund for Reconciliation is the church's commitment to respond to this need in specific terms.

Bishop Kenneth W. Copeland, resident Bishop of the Houston Area of the United Methodist Church, was elected vice president of the General Committee on Family Life. Bishop Copeland was also named chairman of the committee planning the sixth National Conference on Family Life, October 8-11, 1970.

Other action taken included the selection of the Rev. Robert L. Robertson, director of the United Methodist Communications Council in Texas, as the new secretary of the United Methodist Press Association.

Dr. Floyd E. Johnson, Cisco District Superintendent, was in attendance.

Scientists' Topic

The traditional Thanksgiving Day service in First Church of Christ, Scientist on November 28th, will include a period for testimonies of gratitude to God from individuals in the congregation. The service is at 11:00 a. m. and the church is located at the corner of Plummer and Lamar, Eastland.

A brief Lesson-Sermon, consisting of reading from the Bible and the Christian Science textbook, relates gratitude to an understanding of God's goodness and love. The Lesson-Sermon will be read by the First and Second Readers of the church. The public is welcome to attend this service.

"Thanks be unto God for his unspeakable gift" (II Corinthians 9:15), the Golden Text of the Lesson-Sermon, states the opening theme of the service.

The Responsive Reading includes passages from Psalms, two of which are:

"Truly God is good to Israel, even to such as are of a clean heart (Psalms 73:1); "And they remembered that God was their rock, and the high God their redeemer" (Psalms 78:35).

The following are several of the passages to be read from Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures by Mary Baker Eddy:

"The loss of earthly hopes and pleasures brightens the ascending path of many a heart. The pains of sense quickly inform us that the pleasures of sense are mortal and that joy is spiritual" (page 265).

"The rich in spirit help the poor in one grand brotherhood, all having the same Principle, or Father; and blessed is that man who seeth his brother's need and supplieth it, seeking his own in another's good" (page 518).

Beethoven's first paying job was as an assistant organist at $63 a year.

Attending from Ranger were Mmes. G. A. Fyffe, John Ivy, O. R. Criswell, Virginia Rayfield and Miss Mary Kohler and Mary Frances Higginbotham.
