

Police Search Is Continuing For 3 Young Men In Kidnapping Case

Lake Cisco Park Scene Of Crime

A widespread police search was continuing in this region and over the state Saturday for three young men who held up a Cisco Junior College youth and abducted his girl companion at Lake Cisco Park early Friday morning.

David Cowley and Diana Przowski, both 18 year-old freshmen students at Cisco Junior College from Abilene. The search for the trio was being directed by L. E. (Lefty) Sublett, Eastland County sheriff, assisted by Police Chief Clyde Brymer of Cisco, state highway patrolmen and others. It was reported that officers had a good description of the three young men.

The young couple had driven into Lake Cisco Park and had parked in the Cowley car, a 1965 Chevy. Shortly thereafter, a young man approached and told the CJC student that his car was stalled and he needed a push. Cowley told officers that when he opened the door of his car, he saw two more men with shotguns. He was then tied up at gunpoint, and a gag was tied around his mouth and neck. The trio left him in the park and left, with Miss Przowski and the 1965 Chevy.

After the two cars left, Cowley soon got loose and walked to Lake Cisco Courts where he woke up a man who brought him to the police station. Policeman Charlie Moad was on duty and he called Sheriff Sublett and Chief Brymer. Highway patrolmen soon joined in the search.

After two or three hours, the girl was released near the intersection of U. S. Highway 183 and State Highway 6, nine miles north of Cisco. The 1965

Chevy was abandoned there. Miss Przowski saw the highway signs and drove to Cisco.

When she arrived in town her first thought was to hurry to Lake Cisco Park to release Cowley. Police saw the car, however, and stopped her. She was told that Cowley was at the police station and she accompanied them there.

The girl seemed dazed and in a state of shock, police reported. She said that the three youths had not harmed her but that she had been badly frightened by them. Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Berney A. Brzowski of 5526 Buffalo Gap Road, Abilene, were notified and they came for her. Cowley's parents, Mr. and Mrs. O. H. Cowley of 3019 Palm, Abilene, also came to Cisco and took their son back to the family home.

Both college students are 1968 graduates of Wylie High School and they began going together in high school. Both live in dormitories at CJC and had just completed final exams for the first semester.

Cowley was not robbed, police said. He was not injured. Police said the trio would be "in serious trouble" when they are apprehended. Charges could include kidnapping and possible prosecution under federal statutes as well as robbery with shotguns.

Test For Peace Corps Post To Be Held Jan. 18

Eastland County residents interested in putting their skills to use in developing nations around the world are invited to take the Peace Corps Placement Test at 1:30 p. m. on Saturday, Jan. 18, at the Post Office in Abilene.

The Peace Corps uses the Placement Test to determine how an applicant can best be utilized overseas. The test measures general aptitude and the ability to learn a language, not education or achievement. The test requires no preparation and is non-competitive; an applicant can neither pass or fail.

Persons interested in serving with the Peace Corps must fill out an Application, if they have not already done so, and present it to the tester before the test. Application forms are available from post offices or from the Peace Corps in Washington, D. C. 20525.

Fifteen thousand Volunteers are currently serving in Asia, Africa, Latin American and the Pacific Islands, working with the people of those nations in self-help projects ranging from food production to health to education. More Volunteers are needed for programs which will begin this spring and summer.

THE ADULTS' HOUR

(With apologies to Longfellow)

By Magdalene Boyle

Between our breakfast and luncheon,
When the stomach's beginning to grate,
Comes a pause in the day's occupations
Which is known as the coffee break.

I see in the Ranger Rexall
The pouring of thick, black brew,
As the drinkers come through the doorway
To sip and talk business, too.

There's Bagwell, the used car dealer,
And Clark from the school up the street,
Bill Bourdeau, the man with the hammer,
And Gilliam from the bank president's suite.

A handshake, and then a coffee,
And I know by their merry eyes
They are joking and laughing together—
What a fine way to advertise!

I move on now out to Eastland,
To Toombs and Richardson's Store,
Where the sheriff all but arrests me
For loitering, nothing more!

I soon escape in good standing
And rush over to Central Drug,
Where I see some of Altman's ladies
Wearing styles that deserve a plug.

As I linger a moment longer
To sip from my own steaming cup,
U.S.D.A. men surround me—
McAlister, Meredith, Boyle sidle up.

Soon I wander three blocks on farther
To Burlison's small Donut Shop,
Where I spy some of the courthouse ladies
Dunking donuts with frosting on top.

Then to Eastland Drug on the corner,
Where Jack Frost has his morning drink,
And ladies from Perry's and Harelik's
Sit down to relax and to think.

By the time I drive on to Cisco,
The hour is almost past
For the coffee drinkers to gather
In Dean's Drug where I stop off last.

But in walks tall Heidenheimer,
Hardware Collins and Bob Elliott, too,
Then the mayor sits down to join them—
Quite a business rendezvous!

And then the coffee break's over;
Yes, till another morn,
When the clock shall again point its fingers
To the time for a drink that is warm.

Let's be glad that we live in a country
Where a man can relax from his job;
The coffee break is a custom
That helps business to tick and to throb.

Certain Death by Ora Lee Woods

Some things die with a bang
After a big commotion;
And a bad taste and a stink will hang
In the air that is charged with emotion.

Other things die with a sigh,
Just a whimper of passing on;
And one hardly knows, or questions why —
Like a fire when the fuel is gone.

But regardless of how, or when, or where, or why,
Know this: All things die.

State Cabins At Lake Brownwood Get Face Lifting

BROWNWOOD — The renovation of 17 cabins in Lake Brownwood State Recreation Park, located 16 miles northwest of Brownwood in Brown County, is about 70 per cent complete, according to Paul Harris, regional parks supervisor for the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department.

Harris said the $40,000 project includes new electrical systems, water systems and new cabins. The grounds around the cabins will be landscaped, and grills and picnic tables for each cabin will be added.

The 538 acre park is located on the shores of 10,000 acre Lake Brownwood near the geographical center of Texas.

Presently available to the public are 35 picnic sites, five screened shelters, two group camps, 19 cabins, boat ramp, children's play area, fishing pier, and two group lodges.

Activities in the park include tent camping, trailer camping, water skiing, fishing, swimming and hiking.

The price for the cabins range from $5.50 for one person to $9.50 for six persons.

INDUSTRIAL OFFICIALS—The Texas Industrial Commission has elected new officers to guide the state's industrial development. Chester C. Wine, left, of Corpus Christi was named chairman, succeeding Ray H. Horton of Houston, who is retiring after six years. Claude W. Brown of McCamey, center, was named vice-chairman and Warren G. Woodward of Dallas, right, was elected secretary-treasurer.

Purpose of the meeting is for the county leaders to get a better understanding of state and national issues affecting agriculture. They will also discuss most effective ways of implementing Farm Bureau policies relating to those issues.

Governor - Elbert Preston Smith will address a banquet meeting on the evening of Jan. 22. All high state government officials and legislators have been invited to this dinner. The state Senators and Representatives will be given a personal invitation that afternoon by county leaders who will tour the State Capitol and visit their elected representatives.

Rodger Fleming, Washington, D. C. secretary-treasurer of the American Farm Bureau Federation, will speak to the conference on the final day. His subject will be, "County Leaders - The Key to Effective Participation."

TFB President Sidney Dean of Victoria will open the conference Jan. 22 with a brief discussion on the purpose of the meeting. Cliff Laywell, Austin, TFB assistant legislative director, will outline the TFB's objectives during the 61st Legislature. Ed McKay, Waco, TFB legislative director, will discuss major national issues of 1969.

Following this, the TFB Organization Department will hold a membership report session. Counties that have outstanding achievements in membership acquisition during the statewide drive will be recognized and honored.

The final activity planned for that afternoon is a tour by county leaders of the State Capitol. The farmers and ranchers attending will contact their elected representatives at that time.

The final morning session on Jan. 23 includes talks by leaders of the Texas House and Senate. Senator William Patman of Ganado will discuss "Effective Contracts With Elected Officials." Senator J. P. Word of Meridian will tell how a bill becomes a law. Rep. W. S. Heatly of Paducah will speak on the topic, "The Money Story - Taxes and Appropriations."

The bi-annual conference will be adjourned at noon following an open discussion period.

Letter From Thailand

Well, I'm about settled here at Korat and have grown accustomed to Thailand. How's the newspaper business doing? Hope everything is going smoothly. I'm sorry I haven't written sooner but we've been working pretty hard here. Since my outfit deals with reconnaissance, bombing halts and trucks mean that much more work for us.

I'm sending along the first in a series of stories about this fascinating country hoping they can be of use to you. If you decide to use it feel free to edit or re-write any portions you feel necessary. I don't quite know how to explain some of the things I've seen or encountered to a small community like Eastland, but I think most people can understand most of the things I've written about. Again, use your judgment as to what to use.

I appreciate the article you did on my activities at Muang Nakon Ratchasima School. About the only other reward I've gotten from teaching has been the personal satisfaction I've attained from seeing those 35 bright, shiny faces looking at me in eagerness to learn. At least I feel I'm doing my part to improve the image of the American serviceman in the eyes of the Thai.

I've also become involved in orphanage work here. I haven't devoted much time to the orphans because between work and teaching and my college courses I've been kept pretty busy. I think my sister, Teresa, has a project going at school to help "my kids" out. I know it is a lot of trouble and time-consuming for people to devote some time to a bunch of little brown skinned, slant-eyed youngsters 12,000 miles away, but I feel that this is one of the most urgent problems ver here. Although Thailand has made tremendous strides in progress in the past decade, several areas are direly lacking, and children are really suffering here. I've been reading about the bad weather in the States in the Stars and Stripes. We had a cold snap here two days ago, when it got down to 74 one night about 11:30. This may sound ridiculous, but after the hot weather we've had ever since I arrived I was actually cold. You can imagine how the Thais felt.

The immortal Bob Hope has come and gone. It was a once-in-a-lifetime experience but I can truthfully say that I hope I never see Bob Hope again, at least not in Southeast Asia. Not that I didn't appreciate his coming, but that if I ever see him again it will probably be one of his Christmas tours. And I'm not planning to stick around for another four years for another chance.

I won't bother telling you about generalities concerning Thailand, since you can read them in my humble offerings enclosed. There are some interesting facts about this particular area that might interest some though. For instance, the Korat Plateau, of which I now sit in the approximate center, is the most highly populated area in the world, King Cobra-wise, that is. They are everywhere but usually shun humans, so I've only seen two so far. There are numerous other varieties of deadly snakes here too. The small, green krait, one of the most deadly in the world, is found in abundance here, as well as the Bamboo Pit Viper. The latter two species possess a nerve poison of which there is almost no recovery. Death usually follows a bite within 30 seconds to two minutes. Again, these snakes avoid humans, and there have been no human deaths reported here. A sentry dog did on patrol close to the base from a krait bit last week, though.

There is a species of cats here, too, along with the proverbial Siamese cat, that is worth noting. It is called simply the Korat Cat and according to the Bangkok Post is an extremely rare animal. It is born tailless, with chocolate fur and bright yellow eyes, much like the Burmese cat. I guess you can tell from all this that my wife has turned me into a cat fancier.

The people here look down on dogs as the lowest form of living matter in existence, and I can't understand why. These dogs here crave affection and are some of the best looking mongrels I've ever seen. Most look like mis-shapen Scotties, with colorful coats.

Well, I guess I'd better close and get a letter off to my wife. Let me hear from you when you get a chance. Hope the new year, "Sawadde Pie Mie" in Thai, finds you and your family healthy and prosperous.

Sincerely
Bill Herridge
