WE STEPPED up our schedule for this issue so that most of our production people could attend a web offset printing seminar sponsored by the Texas Press Association at the brand-new Brownwood Bulletin newspaper facilities this weekend. With an eye toward the new processes ourselves we're all trying to learn as much as we can.

MRS. J. T. Berry of our town wonders a good question to us: Why don't we do a better job of keeping up with and reporting the whereabouts of servicemen from this town and area. Best answer we can give is that we must rely on the public information offices of the various services to supply us with data and they don't do a thorough job. So in most cases, we must depend on the parents, and Mrs. B. was happy to report that their son Roger is presently stationed at Schwabach, West Germany, where he's been pulling border patrol (on skis, no less) since October of last year. For those who'd like to cheer him with a note, his address is: Pfc. Roger Berry, TRP, C, 24 CAV., APO 091412, New York, New York. Tell us about your service man.

WHAT A WEEK it's been for fire-fighters, especially out in the rural area west of Eastland. Just about everybody got called in: of course the always ready Volunteer Firemen, graders (county and private, and land owners. Mr. J. H. Kendrick makes one of the best suggestions we've heard, when he suggests that a fund be started for the Volunteers. Bet just about every landowner would want to contribute to such a drift, and know the Volunteers would appreciate it. Mr. K. says, "They do such a good job and we do appreciate them. Why don't we all toss into a kitty and let the Volunteers spend the way they see fit. They know what they need."

IMPORTANT MEETING Thursday at 2:30 p.m. at the Eastland Chamber of Commerce office. Every retailer in Eastland should plan to save that slot open for this key get-together. News will be released regarding a revitalization program for Eastland and its retail center. Everybody welcome, but particularly every person who is in business in Eastland. If you can't personally be present, please plan to have a representative from your firm present.

SURE IT hasn't rained, and there's been more dust than usual, but truthfully, can you ever remember when you weren't proud we have a peanut economy?

An informal survey turned up some very interesting answers to the question: Why are people continuing to buy in Eastland even though there are slow-downs reported in other centers?

1. The value is here. Customers here know that prices are fair and that they get value for their money.

2. Employment is stable. Military, defense and aerospace industries do not make for predictable economies and Eastland's industries are geared to consumer needs for which there will always be demand.

3. People here can always count on doing better next

A COFFIN FOR OLD RIP—Arrington Funeral Home Director Dale Bakker, right, and Texas Coffin Co. Representative Fred Lewis Jr. of Fort Worth display the beautiful new solid redwood plush interior, coffin built for Old Rip which arrived in Eastland Friday. Unfortunately Old Rip is still missing, even though his new resting place awaits him. He was frog-napped in November and local citizens anxiously await his return. A Miracle of Life, Hope and Love...

By PAM PIERCE

"I think it's his little smile . . . they way he lowers his head when you tell him how cute he looks in his new boots. . . I don't know, maybe it's just because he seems so small and helpless; but to know him is to deeply love him."

Page Lee, born March 25, 1968 in the Eastland Memorial Hospital with Spina Bifida (open spine), is indeed a miracle of Life. Other deformities present at birth included, Hydrocephalic, club feet, and partial paralysis. He has no feeling from his waist down.

The doctor said his chances were slim, and gave the family no hope of ever being a normal child; the amount of fluid on his brain would determine whether he would ever be able to think, and have control over his body functions.

Two days after he was born he had surgery for the hydrocephalic, and a shunt tube was placed inside him to pump the fluid from his brain to the heart. At the age of two months he had another surgery this time on his spine. The mother, Cathy, was unable to hold the child until he was 2½ mos. old. She said "I kept looking at him through the window and ached to hold him. He looked so lonely and I knew he needed his mother."

"When we were finally able to take him home," she said, "you wouldn't believe the pains we had to go through to make sure he didn't disturb any of the healing. He had to be held a certain way, doctor-ed a certain way, even had to lay a certain way. He couldn't lay on his back, and even now is unable to lay on his back for any length of time."

Kathy and her mother Desie Hooks invented a new device by cutting a hole in some styrofoam, and laying the tender part of his back in the hole so that it did not touch anywhere. The doctor was very impressed with the invention, and plans to pass it on to his other patients.

When the baby at 4½ mos. was finally able to live at home, he was weak and susceptible and took a bad illness and almost lost his life.

Seven months later he had another shunt. There was still too much fluid on the brain, and this second shunt was to take the fluid to the stomach.

The fourth operation was a correction to a previous one, as the body had rejected the foreign material. His mother commented that he would require more operations later.

The body, in spite of paralysis, miraculously continued to grow, and the little boy has even somehow learned to walk, with the aid of braces and crutches.

He wore numerous casts before and after he was a year old, then later corrective shoes for his club feet.

To see this little boy now, just turning three, I feel, one could only understand a spark, just a touch, of the time, love, patients, and strength, that has surely gone into making his life what it is.

"Page loves people" says his mother, "He keeps us all well entertained, and can really 'put it on' when visitors are present."

A muffled giggle, a tiny hand, a mocking echo when someone speaks, are all characteristics of a group conversation, when Page is included.

Sitting quietly on the floor, watching his mother play the piano, or visiting with his family in the home of neighbors, Page takes in his surroundings with an inquisitive, curious mind, yet still keeps his well trained, polite, ready to please attitude. One can easily see that he is a very bright, alert, little boy.

Page is musically inclined, as he has his own guitar and pick, and will sing and put on a real performance for any attentive listener. Page loves to have his picture taken . . .

"A real ham," quotes his grandmother, Darrell Emfinger. Page has a house full of rubber balls, and gets a laughing thrill from playing catch. He counts, as you throw, one to thirteen, then has a tendency to jump to 18, 32, 46. Page sometimes mentions he wishes he could ride a "bicycle."

His mother says that he has been able to communicate since he was one, and talks very well now, for a three

Celebrities to Highlight Dedication Livestock Show Barn Here Friday

Murry Cox, Harry Holt to Participate

Dedication of a new livestock exhibit barn will be one of the main events at the Eastland County Livestock Show at Eastland March 18 and 19. The new barn is the result of the idea of a Cisco rancher, Sam Kimmell, plus over $6,000 in cash donations and hundreds of man hours of labor.

The formal dedication will be made at 1 p. m. Friday, March 19. Murray Cox, well known farm reporter for station WFAA in Dallas, will dedicate the building. Harry Holt, farm reporter for station KRBC in Abilene, will introduce Cox. Grover Hallmark of Eastland will be master of ceremonies. The public is invited for the dedication.

It all started in 1967 when Kimmell, a rancher at Cisco, was president of the County Livestock Raisers Association. He approached Archie Robertson of the Lone Star Gas Company in Ranger and told him of the need for another building for the youth livestock show. Some months later Lone Star Gas Company representatives informed Kimmell that a building might be available at the Pueblo Plant where L. M. Cauley was manager. A request was made and in September 1969 Bill Brayman, Lone Star Gas Regional Manager, presented an all-steel building to a committee representing three county organizations. The three organizations were the Eastland County Livestock Raisers Association, the Eastland County Sheriff's posse, and the County Farm Bureau.

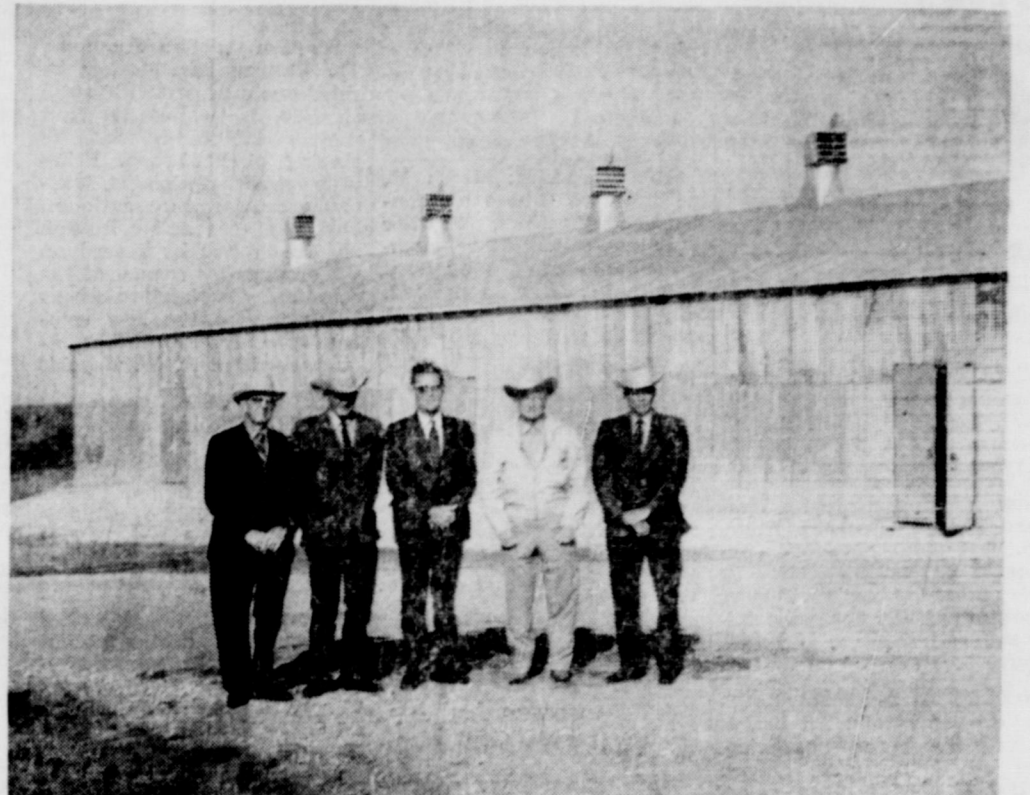

At this point a major problem was confronted by the committee. How could the 112 by 32 feet structure be moved from its location at the company's Pueblo Plant, north of Cisco to the livestock show grounds? At first it was thought that volunteer workers might move the building. After some thought this idea was abandoned and it was decided that professionals would have to be hired to move the building. Many said it couldn't be done. However, Kimmell and the committee headed by Tip Arthur were determined that the building would be moved. A contract was made with the Plains Steel Building Company of Abilene.

People and businesses from all parts of the county contributed over $6,000, to pay the cost of relocating and equipping the building. The county commissioners' court gave its full support to the effort. People from each community donated time and labor to get the barn ready for the 1971 stock show. Kimmell said it was truly a county wide effort. All expenses of relocating the building have been paid. The committee has turned the building over to the Livestock Raisers Association to be used in connection with the livestock show and other youth-oriented activities. "We now have a building valued at three or four times the amount of money spent," Kimmell said.

The new barn is fully equipped with water, electricity and tie rails. It will be used this year for the exhibits of registered beef animals. Beef breeders from Eastland and surrounding counties have been invited to exhibit beef cattle for the public to see. There will be no entry fee and no awards for these exhibits. Any breeder who would like to exhibit animals should contact county agent DeMarquis Gordon.

PROJECT PLANNERS—Sam Kimmell, chairman, and Henry Fry, Tip Arthur, Jack Cozart and Doug Fry, members of the building committee responsible for the new show barn, devoted to youth activities, at the Eastland County Livestock Show grounds in Eastland. The building, donated by the Lone Star Gas Company, is in the background.

Lenten Services To Continue at 1st Presbyterian

The pastor of First Presbyterian Church, the Rev. Robert W. Marsh, will preach on the theme "Provisions for the Journey," based on Joshua 1, at the 11:00 a. m. worship service. This is the third in a series of Lenten sermons. On Wednesday morning at 9:30, the Women of the Church will continue their study of Paul's Letter to the Romans, and will consider "Grace." On Thursday the Women of the Church will attend the first meeting of the Union Presbyterial of Central Texas at the St. Stephen Presbyterian Church, Fort Worth. Registration begins at 9:00 a. m. Since January, the First Presbyterian Church has been a union congregation of the United Presbyterian Church in the U.S.A., and the Presbyterian Church in the United States. The latter is often referred to as the Southern Church. The institutions, causes and programs of the two denominations are now of equal interest. In an effort to become more acquainted with the work of the Southern Church, a church supper has been scheduled for Wednesday, April 14th, at which time the Rev. Dr. Dan West, Director of Church Relations at Austin College in Sherman, will be the speaker.

Bethel Revival Begins March 21

"Encounter With Christ," a revival to be held in the Bethel Baptist Church is planned for March 21-26.

The Rev. Don Nail, pastor of the East Side Baptist in Pine Bluff, Ark., will be the evangelist. Frank Park, chairman of the deacons at the Bethel Baptist, will direct the singing. Services will be at 7:30 each evening Monday through Friday.

The Rev. Nail is presently pastoring a church which he helped to organize into a church from a mission.

"The public is warmly urged to attend," says Rev. Goff, who will be the speaker.

READY FOR EASTER—Kendrick Easter Pageant Director Phil Kendrick puts the Pageant's newest cast member through its paces in preparation for the Sunday, April 11 Pageant to be held at the Kendrick Amphitheater between Eastland and Cisco. The new camel arrived Monday and becomes a permanent resident of Eastland County as the Kendrick family purchased it to use in their production. This one, as yet unnamed, is smaller, but much more cooperative than the one rented each year in the past out of Fort Worth. This one leads well and is expected to become a seasoned performer for the Pageant which is now in rehearsals. The Book of Samuel will begin this year's production, which will follow the life, death and resurrection of Christ.

year. By its very nature, a farm economy "always" looks forward to a better year. That's the name of the game for farmers.

4. There is a sense of security here. It's a home-folk sort of feeling. People own their property and in owning land there's a feeling of "owning a part of the action." Property values remain stable.

5. The free enterprise system is alive and well here. Confidence in the public utilities to provide service economically and efficiently, and the assurance that "your friend at your store" will take care of things should an appliance, an auto or any other big ticket item, break down.

He, and his beautiful 18 year old mother, as a result of his handicap, have become closer to being one, than the actual two. It is a heart warming sight to observe as he sits with his arms around her neck, and his tiny fingers, entangled in her long blonde hair.

What can be said about a small boy who has been through so much pain and discomfort, and has yet come out of it a bubble of life and happiness to everyone he meets? I say he is an inspiration.

A picture of Hope, Life, and Love, this little boy has a way of wrapping himself right around the heart of everyone he meets.

Your Problems are our Business
... or at least some of them are. For example, we Americans can't get along without the automobile. As a consequence, we have problems some of which may be very grave and expensive. So we look to insurance — which is strictly American — for what relief it will afford. It can't solve all of our troubles, but over the years, it has saved our customers an untold amount of money by simply having the kind of insurance that paid off when needed. Are you adequately insured?

Carbon Student Wins 2nd In Conservation Contest

Theme written by Sandra Thomas won Second Place in Area Competition of some 200 entries and is re-printed here: Our Natural Environment — Preserve and Protect It

In a time of over-population and unnecessary pollution, the need for conservation is great. The factors which necessitate conservation are man-made. Man took what he had for granted and began the destruction of a nation rich in natural resources. Behind himself as usual, he is discovering the need to conserve the land, animals, water, and air of our nation.

The need of conservation does not deal with only one phase of the problem. It would do no good to protect one and allow the other three to be ruined. One is no good without the others.

If man would stop and think before doing something, many of the problems would never develop. He kills an animal because it ruins his crop. Because he killed that animal, another animal becomes too prevalent. If this cycle is continued, all the animals in the area are destroyed. Having no animals is worse than having too many.

Air and water have been abused too long. Man has polluted them to the extent that he is beginning to worry about the air and water of the future. This unnecessary pollution must be stopped before it stops us.

Our land is the richest in the world. This wealth should be worth working to keep. Our land is fertile, and the farmers are proud of it. They have worked at preserving the land, have studied erosion and found ways to prevent it. Man has done more to preserve and protect his land than anything else.

If the natural resources were not needed for future life, the wasteful destruction would still be useless, but the resources are needed which makes their destruction murderous. With the population growing, the resources will be required more than they are now. What will happen if the resources are not here?

Thursday Afternoon Club Observes Texas Day at Meet

The Thursday Afternoon Club observed its annual Texas Day program on March 4 with a luncheon at the Women's Club. Guests were seated at tables decorated with a Texas motif of flags, arrangements of yellow roses and bluebonnets and place mats depicting scenes of interest in Texas. Mesdames Herman Hassell and Charles Terrell were luncheon hostesses.

During a brief business meeting, Mrs. James Horton, vice president of the club presided. Reports were heard from committee chairmen. Mrs. Joseph Perkins, chairman of the library committee, reported the addition of several new books and an increase in the number of books being checked out by adult readers.

Announcement was made of a gift from Mrs. J. E. Hickman, a past president of the club, of an autographed copy of Lady Bird Johnson's book of her life in the White House. Announcement was also made of a check received from Las Leales Club to purchase a set of books to be added to the children's books division. Members were reminded of the annual Heart of Texas convention to be held in Ozona on March 25, and 26.

The program on Texas was opened with the pledge to the Texas flag. Mrs. Horton, program leader, introduced Mrs. Arthur Murrell, who gave an informative and entertaining survey of the numerous shrines and parks located in Texas. She presented reasons why we call our state "American's Fun-ter."

Mrs. Austin McCloud was a guest of the club. Members present were: Mesdames D. L. Childress, Turner Collie, Cecil Collins, Pat Crawford, Fred Davenport, A. E. Ethridge, Herman Hassell, James Horton, Iran Inzer, Arthur Murrell, Joseph Perkins, Grady Pipkin, E. G. Rice, Charles Terrell, E. R. Townsend, R. L. Young.

Pageant To Be Meet Topic

The Thursday Afternoon Club has planned a very interesting program for this week's meeting. It will be a special religious program presented by Mrs. Ben Hammer. She will tell about the Passion Play in Oberammergau, Germany, which she and her husband attended last summer.

AMERICAN HERITAGE THINKING

by Eastland 6th Graders on the 8 Principles which have made America Great!

EVERYONE IS IMPORTANT
Everyone is important because he or she is a person. Even though everyone isn't rich, it doesn't make us no good.

Everyone's rights end when another person's rights begin. Just because we all aren't white people, doesn't make us a failure.

Everyone is important because one is free to say what ever he wants.

Everyone can't be president of the United States or a company. Just because everyone isn't wealthy, doesn't mean that he can't do anything.

—Jessie Jiminez.
EVERY AMERICAN IS IMPORTANT

I know that everyone is important, no matter what he does. If everyone didn't have something that he's supposed to do, why did God make so many people? A person may cause one side to lose because he didn't vote. If animals have a job such as keeping nature balanced, then all people must. These are some reasons that make me think everybody is important.

—Vicki McCormack

IMPORTANT
I think every American is important because his vote could change an election. Every American has many rights. One person is no better than the next. When God created man, he made them all equal. One person, no matter how small, is important. An old story tells how a boy stuck his hand in a hole in a dam and saved a town. He was small, but important. You don't have to be rich to be important. In our pledge it says "With liberty and justice for all." That means everyone.

—Ricky Simmons

WE KNOW THAT EVERY INDIVIDUAL IS IMPORTANT

Everyone in the United States is important. Anyone has the right to say what he wants to, so long as he is truthful in all he has to say, and does not tell any falsehood about other people. Everyone should be heard in the United States and he is. Each person has the right to run for office in the government. Each person should respect the rights of others. Your rights end when others' begin.

—Emily Perkins

Now there's a new, small Pontiac with a small-car price for small-car lovers.

Upper left, Ventura Coupe with special Sprint package you can't find. Foreground, Ventura Coupe (4-door). Sedan also available.

Wouldn't you know it would be fun to drive, stingy on gas, quick to service and built to last.

Of course you would. We wouldn't build a small car unless we figured it would give you more of what you want a small car for.

Take that low price. Ventura II is a small car, so it has a low, small-car price. But it's what you get for that small price that makes Ventura II worth a close look.

Ventura II is fun to drive. It should be, it's from the Wide-Track people. Which means you get a smooth, comfortable, Wide-Track ride.

The handling's quick. There's a nifty 111-inch wheelbase for easy parking. And both the 250-cu.-in. six and available 307-cu.-in. V-8 respond beautifully in city traffic or on the expressway.

Ventura II is stingy with your gas money. Both the standard six-cylinder engine and the V-8 you can order run beautifully on regular gas or the new low-lead and no-lead fuels. The carburetor on the six is an economical one-barrel, and the transmission for both six and V-8 is a practical 3-speed manual.

Ventura II is quick to service. If you're a do-it-yourselfer, you'll like fiddling around with the new Ventura II.

New twist-lock lamp sockets let you make changes in seconds.

The engine is uncomplicated, and there is plenty of engine-compartment space, especially with the six.

If you ever need to have somebody else work on your car—well, you'll like Ventura II, too. Both the standard six and available V-8 are tough, time-tested designs. Same goes for transmissions. The standard 3-speed manual and the available 2-speed automatic, Turbo Hydra-matic or floor-mounted 3-speed are all rugged, dependable units.

Ventura II is built to last. There's nothing lightweight about this car. It's welded—not bolted—at hundreds of strategic points to help keep it tight and quiet.

The body is heavy-gauge steel. And it has double paneling in the deck lid, hood and doors. You could probably sum it up best with three little words. Body by Fisher.

So, come on. If you're a small-car lover, stop by your Pontiac dealer's today. Tell him you want to see the new Ventura II. It's the small car that gives you more of what you want a small car for.

Ventura II — It's Pure Pontiac!

CWO BOB BUNTON

Director of "Airmen Of Note" Is Talented Arranger of Music

Washington, D. C. — Chief Warrant Officer Bob Bunton, personable leader of the Official United States Air Force Dance Orchestra, the Airmen of Note, is also of the most talented arrangers in military music. The orchestra will appear in a free concert at Cisco Junior College March 21.

An Air Force band leader since 1953, Mr. Bunton was the leader of the Air Force's popular European jazz-dance orchestra, the U. S. Air Force-Europe "Ambassadors," as well as Air Force musical units in Minnesota, Missouri, Japan, Virginia, and California, prior to his present assignment to the Air Force's premier dance-jazz orchestra.

Born in Detroit, Michigan, Mr. Bunton studied trumpet with Otto Kurt Schmeisser and the world renowned cornet virtuoso, Leonard B. Smith. His arranging tutors have been Michael Bistrizky of the Detroit Institute of Music and William Stegmeyer, of the NBC arranging staff in New York City.

In 1943 Mr. Bunton became a featured trumpet soloist with the Michigan Theater Orchestra in Detroit. In 1945 he joined the ABC-Detroit staff orchestra. In addition to performing with this outstanding professional organization, Mr. Bunton also arranged for the orchestra and conducted occasionally.

An opportunity to tour with the Jimmy Dorsey Orchestra in 1947 gave Mr. Bunton additional valuable professional experience prior to his Air Force assignments.

Mr. Bunton's formal musical training was accomplished at Baldwin-Wallace College in Beria, Ohio. Following his college experiences he was commissioned a Warrant Officer-Bandleader in the United States Air Force in 1953.

During his Air Force career Mr. Bunton has featured his experience with various civilian musical organizations. He played first trumpet with the Norfolk and Newport News, Virginia, Symphonies and appeared as a trumpet soloist on network television programs in America, Japan and Europe.

As a composer and arranger he has gained recognition within the music profession for his published symphonies.

Supporting commentary from Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures by Mary Baker Eddy includes this citation: "Take away wealth, fame, and social organizations, which weigh not one joy in the balance of God, and we get clearer views of Principle. Break up cliques, level wealth with honesty, let worth be judged according to wisdom, and we sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. get clearer views of humanity. Joe and all of King."

and dance band selections and is a member of ASCAP. Included in his published selections are three major symphonic band works and numerous jazz arrangements presently being performed by outstanding name bands throughout America as well as by the Airmen of Note. Kitchen cleanups made easier.

It's true. You'll have easier clean-ups, fewer routine cleaning jobs, when you start cooking with flameless electric heat.

You'll find out in a hurry that flameless heat is the cleanest heat of all. There's nothing about it to blacken the bottoms of pots and pans, so these utensils stay shiny-bright with less scouring.

Wall to wall, floor to ceiling, flameless heat helps your kitchen stay clean and fresh-looking longer.

If you want to do yourself a real kindness, get a self-cleaning oven. Then you can set the controls in a matter of seconds, and electricity will clean the entire oven completely and automatically.

Make it easy on yourself by buying a new electric range, as economical or as fancy as you like. Buy it now and save money.

For a limited time only, your appliance dealer is offering a special wiring allowance on the free-standing electric ranges he sells to customers served by Texas Electric. See him for the details right away.
