LEGISLATURE MET AT NOON

at Politics
by Hugh Nugent Fitzgerald

Designation of Mrs. Willebrandt... resignation of Mrs. Willebrandt... resignation with other Coolidge appointees on March 4 of the year. Mrs. Hoover, and it was promptly accepted. Mrs. Willebrandt has been in charge of prohibition enforcement. She has a most spectacular career as an official. She loomed largely in the presidential campaign when called upon the people to make a "holy war" for prohibition. All this happened in the early days of the most spectacular presidential contest the republic has known in years.

Mrs. Willebrandt tendered her resignation with other Coolidge appointees on March 4 of the year. Mrs. Hoover, and it was promptly accepted. Mrs. Willebrandt has been in charge of prohibition enforcement. She has a most spectacular career as an official. She loomed largely in the presidential campaign when called upon the people to make a "holy war" for prohibition. All this happened in the early days of the most spectacular presidential contest the republic has known in years.

She is a Californian, a very able and successful lawyer, the most vigorous and relentless prosecutor connected with the department of justice and ambitious for years to receive an appointment as judge of the federal courts. She won for herself a niche in the hall of fame. She has been the story for several years, as fearless as well as brilliant and dearly loved that place of the limelight. She was in the news when she came from Washington that she had retired from governmental service. She was at Waco to receive an honorary degree from Baylor university.

The newspaper prophets are correct in their reading of the news. Mrs. Willebrandt has received another offer, this time from the aviation company, which is regarded as an unusual opportunity. "and the president did not feel that he could ask her to resign longer at her present post."

Mrs. Willebrandt made history in a public servant. She made history before and after the Kansas City convention—where Herbert Hoover was handed the great prize of presidential nominee and standard-bearer of the republican party.

It is said that California senators did not take kindly to the proposal to place Mrs. Willebrandt on the bench as a wearer of the ermine. They preferred a man for the place.

Now the lady is out of the governmental picture, but it is safe to predict that she will not lose her place in the limelight whenever there is an opportunity to march to the center of the stage where the searchlight glows.

The 25-year-old victim was in a serious condition in a hospital today. H. S. Skinner, 25, was treated at the hospital for lacerations on his head.

Skinner told police he and the woman had parked in an auto after attending church services. Two masked negroes, brandishing pistols, blinded the pair with flashlights.

They forced the couple from the car and robbed the woman of $3. Then they beat Skinner with pistol butts. They tore Skinner's shirt to shreds, bound him and the woman and gagged him.

While one negro stood guard with a pistol, the other attacked the woman. This attacker returned to stand guard while the other attacked the girl.

MUSCLE SHOALS ONE CAUSE POWER COMBINES—SEN. NORRIS

WASHINGTON, June 3.—Muscle Shoals is one of the causes for the "great combination of power companies," attempt to influence public opinion, Sen. Norris, republican, Nebraska, charged today in the agriculture committee's report on his resolution to authorize government operation of the properties there.

Pointing out that the Muscle Shoals question has been before congress more than ten years Norris said "it is no secret that this delay has in the main come about through the activities of combinations of great power and financial concerns which were primarily interested in getting control of Muscle Shoals for the power possibilities involved."

"It was many times charged on the floor of the Senate in the discussion of the Muscle Shoals question that there existed in this country a power trust; that it extended to all parts of the country; that it was engaged in political activities from the lowest to the highest of offices," Norris stated.

"Those who made the charge were often scoffed at and their efforts were ridiculed and condemned. Further investigation threw a little more light upon the subject with the ultimate result of finally bringing about the recent investigation which has been going on for more than a year by the federal trade commission."

"The investigation has shown that $400,000 was raised by these power companies to be spent in the city of Washington, primarily for the defeat in congress of three items of legislation. One was Muscle Shoals, one was Boulder Dam and the other was a Senate resolution providing for the investigation of the power trust itself."

"Muscle Shoals is one important element which has brought about this great combination of power companies. They did not want the government to operate Muscle Shoals. They did not want an illustration given to the country as to how cheap electric current could be supplied to the homes and the factories."

Club Boys And Girls to Meet Here Fri-Sat.

Legislators Will See Prison Views

AUSTIN, June 3.—Texas legislators will get a bird's-eye view of the penitentiary properties of the state. Gov. Dan Moody is having photographs made from the air. These will show the penitentiary lands under flood.

Decision to make these photographs is taken as the final proof that Gov. Moody intends to veto the prison concentration bill passed at the last special session of the Legislature and ask for a new law moving the prisons from lowlands.

Coastal Counties Menaced By Flood

HOUSTON, June 3.—Residents of coastal counties who have not already fled to their homes were prepared to move out today as major streams bore their flood crests to the gulf.

Waters were spreading to the lowlands, inundating plantations on the Brazos and Trinity rivers. Farmers were busy all Sunday moving live stock and household goods.

Highways were rapidly disappearing under water which was isolating entire villages. The river crest which passed Navasota and Hempstead was expected to reach the coastal counties today. The stage at Hempstead was nearly fifty feet higher than the waters of 1922 which flooded the lowlands of the coastal county.

A six foot rise was expected in the Brazos at Richmond today. The river rose 6 inches Sunday night. Waters have backed into bayous and covered the lowlands at Rosenberg. Buses were still moving over the highway as far as Eagle Lake.

Freeport, at the mouth of the Brazos is isolated, but the town is protected by a high levee where the river empties into the gulf. In Houston the city rapidly was getting back to normal with the water supply expected to be at par by noon. The body of Houston's only flood victim, Arturo Avendaño, 19 year old messenger, was to be buried today.

Jake Garrison Killed In Car Accident Sunday

J. S. (Jake) Garrison, 48, Eastland automobile salesman and painter, died in the Payne-Carter hospital here Sunday afternoon at 3:15 o'clock from injuries sustained earlier in the day when his car quit the road and struck a banister of a bridge on the Bankhead highway a few miles east of Strawn.

Garrison's right hip was broken and he was injured internally. His wife, daughter-in-law and seven months old granddaughter, with him in the car, were not injured. The car was badly damaged.

Garrison and his party were returning to Eastland from Mineral Wells about 11 o'clock Sunday morning where he had been to visit Bob Bevel, Garrison's brother-in-law, who was lying at the point of death. A passing car, traveling in the same direction of the Garrison car, which was being driven by the young Mrs. Garrison, is said to have caught the front wheel of the Garrison car with its rear bumper.

The passing car was driven by Mrs. Ann Lemon of San Angelo, according to information at the sheriff's office in Eastland where Mrs. Lemon stopped. Mrs. Lemon stopped at the time of the accident and then came to the hospital in Eastland.

Mr. Garrison was born in Palo Pinto county and made his home there until about three years ago when he moved to Eastland. He was married to Annie Swearingen at Mineral Wells on June 5, 1899. They have eight children as follows: Mrs. Will Francis and Mrs. E. A. Carr, Eastland; Mrs. D. F. Ledbetter, Amarillo; Miss Laura, and John, "Pete," Seaman, and Jake, Jr., of Eastland.

Mr. Garrison is also survived by four brothers: H. R. W. F., R.H., and H. O.; and two sisters, Mrs. Poque and Mrs. Morrow, all of Palo Pinto county.

Funeral services will be held Tuesday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock, Rev. W. T. Turner, pastor of the First Baptist church of Eastland, officiating. Burial will be in Eastland cemetery.

Honorary pallbearers will be Frank Lovett, Guy Parker, Bob Murray, Joe Tow, Oscar Harris, Joe H. Jones, C. B. Wellman, Tom Jones, "Dug" Barton.

EIGHT ITEMS SUBMITTED BY GOVERNOR

Session Will Last Thirty Days. Many Bills Other Than Those Submitted, Expected to be Submitted.

AUSTIN, Tex., June 3.—The third session of the Texas legislature for 1929 opened at noon. Despite flood conditions in a large part of the state few members were absent.

The new session which is to last 30 days was called for eight purposes. They are: State appropriations, taxation, and revenue, public utility control, educational matters, highway regulation, court reforms, a stronger blue sky law on sale of stocks, and priority of water rights.

Other matters will be submitted by Gov. Moody later. Penitentiary legislation will be among them. He decides, as now seems likely, to veto the prison location bill which was passed at the recent special session.

Rep. T. N. Mauritz is here again to urge passage of a state income tax law and other laws and other bills seeking new sources of revenue.

While many other bills already have been sent to the clerks to file there is no prospect of the (Continued on Page 2)

TEXANS IN THE AIR

Reginald Robbins and James Kelly, native born Texans, were in the air seven and one-half days listening to the roar of a motor making 1300 revolutions per minute. They broke all endurance records by 22 hours. They landed to receive the plaudits of 20,000 Texans half-crazed over the wonderful performance of their idols who had won international fame in aviation circles.

Reggie and Jim are in the big air league now. They are first page idols wherever a first page is printed. They rode to fame and perhaps wealth. A fund raised by the Fort Worth Association of Commerce passed the $12,000 mark on the day they landed. Subscriptions are pouring in. This sum will be divided on a 50-50 basis.

Air transport magnates promoted Reggie and Jim $50 each for a city tour they stayed aloft. They split $2200 on this tour. A correspondent of the Associated Press let it be known that Reggie and Jim "already have opportunities to clear up many thousands of dollars on newspaper and magazine serials and vaudeville tours—all this in addition to any bonuses they may receive from the manufacturers of their equipment."

Reggie and Jim are not products of Main street. They came from the rural shades. Reggie came from a small hamlet; Jim rode broncs as a cowboy until the flying fever caught him two years ago. Fort Worth and Dallas are rival cities. They are 30 miles apart. Fort Worth is on the map wherever people read English or foreign language newspapers.

All this happened just in advance of the convention of the International Rotary association in the city of Dallas. It will require the writing ability of the most versatile of publicity correspondents for the Dallas boomers to do for their city in the publicity line what Reggie and Jim achieved for the place where the Panther laid down civilization stepped in and moved the frontier line to the city known to Mexicans as the Pass to the North. This is the flying age. Texans appear to be making the most of it.

A TEST OF HUMAN STAMINA Reginald R. Robbins and James Kelly, native born Texas flyers, who made the remarkable endurance flight of the monoplane Fort Worth have let it be known that the flight was conducted primarily to discover how long a plane and engine could hang together. Also furnish an excellent test of human stamina.

To make the tests the world's record for sustained flight was boosted almost a full day or to 172 hours, 32 minutes and 1 second. When it was all over the men were found to be in better condition than the plane. Their blood pressure was normal, Robbins' pulse was 82; Kelly's 84. Physicians said this is a trifle above normal. Examination of the plane showed that the motor was still in good condition, and probably could run any more hours.

In the not remote past all the aeronaut world was said to be on clogs on the ground. In the distant future all the American world is moving from place to place in the air. De sun do Brother Jasper.

for Shreveport's two defeats by Wichita Falls. The Spudders took the first 7-5, and the second 9-4. The double loss caused the Sports to give up the lead they held for two days.

Houston, a title contender when the season began, hit seventh place in standings today, the result of their 12-0 loss to Beaumont. Estill, Beaumont twirler, pitched brilliantly and led the attack with three hits, including a double, against the league champions. He was supported by brilliant fielding.

San Antonio won a double header to capture every game in the series from the faltering Waco team. Hobo Carson, former Texas Christian pitcher, held Waco in the first game, 3-1. The score of the second game was 7-6.

Yesterday's hero—Larry Benton, New York Giants' star right-hander, who regained his 1928 form and pitched his team to a 4 to 1 victory over the Chicago Cubs. Benton allowed but five hits, two of them of the scratch variety. McMillan's homer in the ninth was the only run made off him. Six hits and four runs off Blake in the seventh won the game. It was the Giants' tenth victory in the last 11 games.

With Lou Gehrig hitting his twelfth homer of the season and George Pincus allowing only six hits, the New York Yankees beat the Chicago White Sox 6 to 1.

Washing beat the St. Louis Browns in the ninth on a squeeze play, 2 to 1. Hadley held the Browns to five hits.

The Boston Red Sox beat Cleveland 12 to 3. Morzan, Cleveland outfielder, was badly hurt in an effort to scale the right field wall in going after Scarritt's homer.

CISCO WILL HAVE AMATEUR BASEBALL 9 Former Loboes Are Included in Lineup of Team.

CISCO, Texas, June 3.—Baseball fans will have the opportunity of seeing a local club in action during the coming weeks when the local amateur team recently organized swing into action. Cisco has several very good players and games will be matched with as many neighboring teams as is possible. The team has been working out for the past three weeks. Only one played so far. In this game Cisco was leading the West Texas Utilities team of Abilene by the score of 8 to 0 when rain halted the game in the third inning. The personnel of the Cisco team is made up principally of ex-Loboes and college players. Bill Smith, former Lobo catcher, is doing the receiving for the Cisco crew. "Cotton" Phippen and Charlie Bryan are doing the hurling. They will probably be assisted by Red Moore, former Lobo who has just returned from Texas Tech where he was one of their leading pitchers. Brit Phippen, another former Lobo will hold down first base. O. C. Ray, second base, Geo. Van Horn, short stop, Jack Phippen third base and Lanham Bucey, W. L. Goughlyigh and Leroy Purvis serving in the outfield.

This line-up should give Cisco one of the best amateur organizations of any of the teams in the Oil Belt. They will play their first home game next Wednesday afternoon at Chesley Park when they meet the Breckenridge Dynamons.

In this day of seven-day celebrations, why not pause for seven days and celebrate a "Play-Your-Own-Shot-Week," dedicated to the golfers who are always giving unasked-for advice?

Here we have John H. Dubb with just a simple 120-yard pitch to the green to make. That is, it was simple before Bill reminds him the wind is blowing and it is and Henry reminds him that he has the wrong club—that Walker Hagen used a six; Watrous put it on with a 17, and Diegel ran a two iron up to the pin. Bob also chirps up that his favorite club is a spoon.

The boys start him worrying about what should be a simple shot and, as a result, his mind is filled with indecision and the air with turf. He makes his swing—worrying about the distance, the choice of clubs and the wind. The result is he hits one of those aggravating shots where you look in one direction and the ball goes another.

Advice should be very seldom asked for and when it is asked the caddy should supply it. Don't form the habit of trying to play the other fellow's shots for him. If he asks you the distance, condition of the green or approach, tell him, by all means, but don't go around the course letting out unasked-for remarks about the clubs, distance, wind and what-not.

ARABS 9; MAGNOLIAS 5 The Eastland Arabs defeated the Breckenridge Magnolias by a score of 9 to 5 in the game at Breckenridge Sunday afternoon.

NEGRO K. P.'S MEET DALLAS, Tex., June 3.—The spirit of the Old South was revived at the state fair grounds here today where thousands of negro Knights of Pythias assembled. Tents to house the delegates were being pitched today.

RANDITS GET $1,800 DALLAS, Tex., June 3.—Climaxing a series of hold week-end holdups, two men forced I. L. Douglas, employee of the Dallas Milk company, into a milk-cooling plant at the plant here today and stole $1,800 from the safe.

LIGHT

The following poem was contributed to the Texas Electric Service company, who have just opened new headquarters in the city: Do you ever think As the lights gleam bright, Of the power plant That produces light?

Of the men who toil In the noise and heat, That the modern home May be cool and sweet? Our electric stoves, Our electric fans, And the radio That all distance spans Are the handmaidens Of that pulsing power From the dynamo In its throbbing tower.

At their ordered desks, Must the city's hum, Our efficient men Do a daily sum. That a system fine, With a service rare, May respond to needs That all classes share. —Nora Hefley Mahon EIGHT ITEMS SUBMITTED BY GOVERNOR (Continued from page 1) session reaching the record of either the regular session or the first special session in number of bills. At the regular session 1368 bills were offered of which 353 were passed. At the first special session 373 bills were offered and 12 passed.

There is $16,000,000 difference in round figures between the appropriations that will be recommended by the Senate finance committee and those that will be reported by the House appropriations committee. Chairman John F. Wallace of the House committee said the appropriations recommended by the Senate finance committee said his committee will recommend $58,083,000 from tax sources. Thirty-five cents is the maximum tax possible under the constitution. When Pollard was asked where the additional $10,000,000 is to come from he replied: "That's up to the House." The House alone can begin legislation to reach new sources of revenue.

MOODY URGED FOR THIRD TERM AUSTIN, Tex., June 3.—Gov. Dan Moody should announce for a third term with a state road bond issue as his platform, W. T. Wheeler of Fort Worth is proposing here. Wheeler is head of the Texas Highway association. He says that a state wide bond plan such as that defeated at the regular session of the legislature this year is inevitable if Texas is to have adequate highways. If Governor Moody will run again and make a state bond issue for roads his chief plank he will win, despite the third-term bogie, Wheeler said. When finally revised by committees ready for presentation to the Legislature the Senate and House appropriation bills had increased their difference to more than $11,000,000.

BOY HERO

Battles Mad Dog in Schoolroom and Saves Children.

DALLAS.—Battling a mad dog barehanded and locking it up after a schoolroom of children had been thrown into a panic, Thomas Singleton, 14, hero of Rosemont public school here, a sixth grade pupil, heard the screams of children in the second grade room and rushed in to find a dog, frothing at the mouth, snapping at the panic-stricken children. One 9-year-old boy had been bitten on the leg after he took refuge on a desk.

Grabbing the rabid dog by the nape of the neck, Thomas carried the animal outside the building. Before the boy could get the doors closed, the animal lunged back into the building, where Thomas seized it again and carried it to the basement where he locked it in the furnace room. The dog's head was examined and found to be rabid. Thomas was not bitten.

AVIATORS ARE KILLED

GRAND ISLAND, Neb., June 3.—Myron Robb and Orville Wittwer, aviation students, were killed and Harold Wilson, pilot, were injured critically when their plane went into a tail spin, fell on a power line and caught fire here Sunday.

KING GEORGE IMPROVES WINDSOR

WINDSOR, Eng., June 3.—The usual ceremonies and celebrations attendant upon the birthdays of the Kings of England were missing today as King George V. was forced to spend the 64th anniversary of his birth confined to his sickbed in Windsor Castle. The condition of the King seemed satisfactory and many persons in court circles were so optimistic that they expressed the hope the king soon would be able to leave his bed, although he probably would be confined to his room for some time yet.

Great crowds, including many American tourists, visited Windsor yesterday. Large areas of south and west Cheyenne were under water today as a result of a cloudburst which sent diminutive Crow creek over its banks. One woman was drowned in the sudden inundation, three motorists narrowly escaped death and several persons were unaccounted for.

CLOUBURST AT CHEYENNE

CHEYENNE, Wyo., June 3.—Scores were rescued from their homes by firemen in boats after they had failed to heed flood warnings. Nobody believed the creek could do any damage.

TWO KILLED AT LONG BEACH

LONG BEACH, Cal., June 3.—Two members of a visiting Shriner party were killed at midnight in an automobile collision on the outskirts of the city. Twelve others were injured, several so serious they may die. Both automobiles were reported to have been going at a terrific speed and each overturned several times after the collision. ## FIFTH SUCCESSFUL YEAR VACATION BIBLE SCHOOL

The Presbyterian church auditorium presents a busy scene this week with the vacation Bible school, a school of vocational training, and one that has four consecutive years of successful service in the background.

The Presbyterian church initiated the type of vocational school for Eastland with a success that has continued to the present time.

Many branches of needle work will be taught; also embroidery, modeling and boy scout manual.

Songs will be learned, and special stress will be laid on the music.

Rev. Ross, the pastor of the church, is general superintendent; Mrs. M. C. Hayes, superintendent; Mrs. Charles D. Hubbard, primary superintendent; Mrs. James Horton, junior superintendent; and Misses Garrett Bohning and Clifton, department work.

Those assisting in class work are Misses J. LeRoy Arnold, J. J. Tableman, C. J. Sparks, Moorehead, Bond, Johnston, and Miss Genevieve Meredith, general secretary.

The students gathered at 8:45 this morning and were assigned to the various rooms according to their age by Miss Meredith.

Additional assistants will be announced later, and a list of the students enrolled will be published.

The school will be in effect for two weeks excepting Saturday and Sunday. Any child of any church from four to 14, is invited to attend.

FLOODS PREVENT VISITORS' COMING

On account of a heavy rain, there was no train service between Dallas and Henderson on Friday and Saturday, and on account of the flooded condition, even motor traffic was out of the question.

This prevented Miss Lillian Hancock filling her engagement to sing at the opening of the Baptist church yesterday, so a wire received by her sister, Mrs. P. B. Bittle, on Sunday morning, stated.

NEW EXPRESSION TEACHER COMING

Eastland will have a new teacher in expression for the public schools next year, instead of Miss Mary Sue Rumph, the talented and delightful young woman who had such success in this work in Eastland this season, and who tendered her resignation to the school board some time ago much to the regret of her countless friends and students.

But in Miss Ely there promises to be a satisfactory replacement. Miss Ely has taught in Baird, and for two years gave private instruction in Sweetwater, in which her work was affiliated with the public schools.

She is a graduate of both the full course at McMurray college in Abilene, and in Expression also, and was a student of Expression of Albert H. Johnston, of Horner Institute and Kansas City conservatory of Kansas City, Mo.

Miss Ely will read for the Lions club at their luncheon tomorrow noon.

She leaves Wednesday for Sweetwater to spend the summer with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Ely.

SUNBEAMS HAVE PRAISE SERVICE

The Sunbeam Band were the very first to hold a meeting in the new Baptist church, where they assembled for their praise service, Saturday morning at 9:30 o'clock, with 65 children present.

A very beautiful praise service was conducted under the leadership of their teacher, Mrs. W. T. Turner. The devotional period included several verses of praise, from the Bible.

There was a large number of visitors for whom there was a 45-minute song period.

The lilted young voices made a very keen of praise.

Mrs. Turner related to them the story of the first temple erected to God.

The Sunbeams were so interested and impressed with the service, and so very quiet and grown up in their demeanor, that several working in other parts of the church stole in, to see if they were all right.

JUNIOR INTERMEDIATE MISSIONARY SOCIETY MEETS

The Junior Intermediate Missionary Society of the Presbyterian church held an enjoyable meeting at 1:30 p. m., Saturday, when a study of Chosen was conducted by their director, Mrs. James Horton, with a talk about Horace Underwood who established the first Presbyterian church in Korea about 1885.

PERSONAL PARAGRAPHS

Mrs. James A. Jarboe is in Dallas to attend the graduation exercises of St. Mary's college, her alma mater, and to be with her sister, Marjorie, a junior at that school.

Mrs. O. C. Funderburk is entertaining her little nine-year old niece, Pauline Strickland, who arrived with her father, J. J. Strickland, on Friday. Pauline will be here about a month, but Mr. Strickland returned Sunday.

Mrs. L. C. Alexander and children of Waco are the guests of Mrs. Alexander's sister, Mrs. W. Beall Smith, for a several days' visit. Mr. Alexander spent the week-end here.

Miss Clarice Gardner, who has been one of the faculty of Eastland high school, leaves tomorrow for Mexico City where she will stay with Miss Frances Agnew, a college chum. Miss Gardner will attend the University of Mexico and specialize in Spanish. She has been teaching commercial work about four years. Her success with her department and students has been most pronounced as well as her popularity. She was the sponsor for the junior class this year.

"I Was Almost In Despair," She Says

Cisco House Wife Suffered From After Effects of 'flu Orgatone Brings Relief.

Another wonderful endorsement for Orgatone that will be read by thousands of frail, suffering women, was given recently by Mrs. M. S. Mann residing at 1709 Eighteenth St., Cisco, Texas. In describing her troubles and failure to heretofore find relief, to an Orgatone representative, Mrs. Mann said:

"I have been in very poor health for the past several months ever since I had an attack of the 'flu' last winter. My condition has been wretched for many months and I had to stay in bed some of the time until I began taking Orgatone several weeks ago. I suffered from stomach trouble, nervous indigestion and terrible headaches. I was a mighty sick woman, and only those who are afflicted as I was know how I suffered. I paid out a lot of money for treatment and medicines of different kinds, but I kept getting worse. I was willing to try anything when one of my friends who had been so wonderfully benefited by Orgatone begged me to try it.

"Oh! I can't tell you how glad that I listened to my friend and took Orgatone. The two bottles I have already taken have given me more relief than all the other treatments and medicines that I took put together. My indigestion is so much better that I hardly notice it any more, my nervousness don't bother me anything as much like it did, and my awful headaches are broken up. Orgatone has saved me a whole lot of suffering, and I have improved wonderfully in every way and feel that in a short time my troubles will be relieved entirely. Only those who have experienced the great relief I have can realize the joy I feel over what Orgatone has done for me and I gladly recommend it to others suffering as I did."

Genuine Orgatone is not a so-called patent or secret remedy but a new scientific bile treatment and is sold in Eastland exclusively by Toombs-Richardson Drug Store who are direct laboratory agents.

TO BE READY FOR USE BY SEPTEMBER 1

One Story and Basement to Be Erected at This Time.

CISCO, Texas, June 3.—Excavation for the Southwestern Bell Telephone company's relay station building in Cisco will be started Monday, according to plans made public Saturday. Representatives of the Johnston Construction company, of Fort Worth, which has the contract for the new building, were in the city Friday looking over the site at the intersection of A avenue and Seventh street and approving final arrangements for the work.

The building will be one story and a basement at present with the foundations laid sturdy enough to support as many additional stories as may be necessary in the future development of the business of the company in West Texas.

The building will face on E avenue and will be 68 feet in width by 104 in depth. It will be built of brick and steel, fire-proof, while the architectural design will be charming and impressive. The business office will be located in the front, convenient to the public.

Eventually it is expected that the local exchange will be moved into the structure although no announcement has been made with regard to this.

The structure is expected to be completed and ready for use around the first of September so that the long distance underground cable now building into Cisco from Fort Worth may be tied into the station without delay.

Repeaters and long line equipment will be installed in the new building for the use of the underground cable.

The conduits through which the long distance cable will enter Cisco are now being laid and this work should be completed within the next few weeks. This conduit will be used for local lines as well as for the long distance cable. This means the gradual removal of overground lines from certain parts of the city and the use of underground cables in their stead.

MOSQUITO AND FLY SEASON IS HERE NOW

Plants Harbor Insects and Cause "Hay Fever"

CISCO, Texas, June 3.—Cut weeds at once, is the urgent advice given the people of Cisco by Dr. John H. Brice, city health officer.

Weeds and high grass harbor and furnish food for mosquitoes and flies, he pointed out. They also cause so-called hay fever and some forms of asthma.

Much suffering will be saved if such vegetation is cut while young and kept down.

"On account of the daily rains we will have mosquitoes if the people are not careful to empty all vessels containing water, such as cans, barrels, cisterns and puddles of water," he said.

"No water means no mosquitoes. Also take care of the garbage, do not throw it on the ground but place it in the can with tight fitting top, for flies and mosquitoes thrive upon food.

"If everyone will do his or her duty we will have none of these pests. The town will be inspected and the health department hopes that no one will have to be forced to do these things to protect themselves and their neighbors. Anyway that the health department can be of assistance it will be glad to do. Help us keep Cisco clean!"

BOOKS OF THE DAY

NEW YORK—Donald Ogden Stewart, who of course became a bond salesman after graduating from Yale, but who later repented and went humorist, now has turned his attention to the field of tragedy.

In "Father William" (Harpers), he tells the tear-laden story of Austin Seabury, a widower at the age of 45 and the despair of his intelligent son and daughter who regard him as much too frivolous.

Perhaps because of his loneliness and perhaps because of his need for youth Austin becomes to Pussie Whitehouse, a madcap contemporary of his children. To complicate things a bit further the Seabury son also is attracted by that young lady. And to cap it all Pussie cares for neither.

With such a scant notion of the plot you might call "Father William" a comedy and indeed that is the name the publishers apply to it. But to a reviewer who finds his hair thinning a bit and whose waistline will never be 30 again, the book is sheer, unadulterated tragedy and we'll thank Mr. Stewart to write no more like it.

Moving with a single jerk of the space bar from things ridiculous to things sublime we find here "While Peter Sleeps," by E. Boyd Barrett (Ives Washburn).

Barrett, a former Jesuit priest, herein analyzes the Catholic church with particular attention to conditions in the United States. Were we to swallow his theories whole we would look forward to eventual establishment of an American Catholic Church disassociated from Rome.

It is quite possible that Barrett is open to the charge of bias but he is hardly guilty of rancor. Indeed it is likely that "While Peter Sleeps" will find its most interesting audience among the Catholic clergy and devoted communicants.

Man's incessant defense against the inroads of disease is an absorbing story. It now has been put together by Dr. Richard H. Hoffman has rested from his labors as a specialist in neurology long enough to write "The Struggle for Health" (Horace Liveright). In surprising few pages, considering the scope of his material, he has summarized the battle to prolong life—which raged just as fiercely at history's dawn as in the modern day of the laboratory and test-tube.

With the able collaboration of Gilbert Swan, Dr. Hoffman has prepared for the lay reader a breathless presentation of the march of science and hygiene, which first had to rout superstition and custom before directing their fire against the cankerous germs that beset mankind.

More or less personal: Nancy Hoyt's current choice in liquids is milk and brandy.

Dr. Robert Briffault, whose schizoid would drive Jimmy Durante to tears, was twice awarded the military cross for conspicuous bravery. . . . It was after that he went to Dartmouth to lecture.

Malcolm Ross ("Penny Dreadful") was once a miner's mucker, whatever that is.

Vina Delmar's husband—what IS his name?—is an expert surf fisherman.

Pierre de Hohau owes this correspondent a lunch as the result of a wager on the spelling of "piccolo."

John Vandercook's famous

whiskers saved him from jury duty. "They thought I was a hol-sherrick and would award too much to the plaintiff," he explains.

Tom Davin introduces him as "Samuel Schmalhausen, Why We Misbehave." He doesn't look like that type.

It turns out that Elizabeth Deane ("Easily Persuaded"), whose literary charms we admire, is the nom de plume of a young actress who prefers to remain incognito. . . . And her publishers insist she's in Spain.

Lee Poe will accompany the shipment to Fort Worth Tuesday, June 11. The following Saturday a committee from the association will go to Fort Worth to examine the stenciling after the hogs have been killed.

CISCO, Texas, June 3.—Three cars of cattle and hogs will be shipped by the Cisco Co-operative Livestock Shipping association next Tuesday, it was announced by O. P. Weiser, president of the association, following a meeting yesterday afternoon at which time the livestock was pooled for this shipment.

There will be about 160 hogs and 38 head of cattle for this shipment.

Mr. Weiser asked that the thanks of the association to the chamber of commerce for its generosity in paying for the hog stenciling equipment which the association secured, be expressed through the newspaper. With this equipment it is possible to mark each hog so that its identity may be known after it has been slaughtered and dressed. Thus it will be possible to keep an accurate check on the source of all "soft" hogs, a condition hitherto impossible.
