FLYER MAY SET A NEW AIR RECORD

Has Been In Air For 30 Hours—Solo Endurance Mark Is 35 Hours and 25 Minutes.

By United Press.
ROOSEVELT FIELD, N. Y., March 28.—Martin Jensen, trans-Pacific flier, trying for a new solo endurance flying record, has already earned more than $6,000, for his attempt.
Shortly after noon, his monoplane Green Flash, her fuel tanks gradually growing empty, had been in the air 30 hours. At that time he had to stay aloft at least six hours and 25 minutes longer to break the present record of 35 hours and 25 minutes made by the late Lieut. Royal V. Thomas. Under the rules, Jensen must remain in the air one hour longer than the present record to have his flight recognized.

The Motor Fuel company, for which Jensen is flying, has agreed to pay him $1,000 an hour for every hour over 24 he remains in the air.

A little after 10 a. m., Jensen dropped a note, reading:
"I have 70 gallons of gas left. Good for seven hours in this rough air. Not tired yet. In 26 minutes, I will pass by Honolulu time. This Green Gas works good."

FAMOUS MEN NOT TO GIVE ADVICE

By United Press.
WASHINGTON, March 28.—John D. Rockefeller Jr., telegraphed the Senate agriculture committee today that he had made no study of the farm problem and therefore was insufficiently equipped to accept its invitation to testify.
Rockefeller's wire was received along with telegrams from Charles M. Schwab that he had engagements for next week and from Everett Case, secretary to Owen D. Young of the General Electric Co., that Young is in Europe and unable to testify.

These three replies followed others from a secretary for J. P. Morgan and by Paul W. Warburg, New York financier, stating they would be unable to appear. Among those not yet heard from are Henry Ford and Secretary of Treasury Mellon.
In the absence of the industrial leaders, the Senate committee along with the House agriculture committee continued to hear farm leaders expound their views as to what the new legislation should include.

Stimson Becomes Secretary of State

By United Press.
WASHINGTON, March 28.—Secretary of State Frank B. Kellogg will relinquish his office today to Henry L. Stimson after 4 years and 24 days at the head of the State department.

Chief Justice Taft will administer the oath to Stimson at 5 p. m. today.

Big Fight Tonight Will Be Broadcast

By United Press.
NEW YORK, March 28.—A nationwide network of radio stations will broadcast the Loughran-Walker fight at Chicago tonight, the main offices of the National Broadcasting company here announced today. The stations included: KWK, St. Louis; KTHS, Hot Springs, Ark.; KPRC, Houston; WKY, Oklahoma City, and WHO, Des Moines.

WILL FREE FROG FROM CONCRETE

Eastland will be represented at the "coming out party" of Rip II at Wills Point Friday when a horned frog, sealed in concrete, is to be liberated.

Cheating the Clock

"The world do move" as the eminent Ethiopian exporter declared.
At 1:15 o'clock the other afternoon, the Eastland Telegram received a dispatch that the Graf Zeppelin was over the City of Jerusalem—at 7 that evening! In other words, Eastland had received word of the event, almost six hours before it had happened. Of course, the explanation is the difference in time.
But even then, it is remarkable that small city newspapers out in West Texas are linked so closely to all the world that within a few minutes after a great event has occurred, the machine ticks the story.
Contrast this commonplace situation with conditions a little more than a century ago when news traveled so slowly that the Battle of Lepanto was fought after the peace had been signed. The battle behind the cotton bales led to the White House for "Old Hickory." In this day of instantaneous communication, Andrew Jackson might never have been president.

TO PRINT OR NOT TO PRINT IS?

Whether The Barb Will Publish Sex Questionnaire of Missouri University Seems to Be In Doubt.

AUSTIN, Tex., March 28.—The Texas Barb will appear on the University of Texas campus tomorrow minus the Missouri University sex questionnaire, publishers said this afternoon.
Instead, the paper will tell why the article has been withheld.

Editor John Woodruff, University of Texas student, was notified that he would be expelled and that all credits he has earned at the university would be cancelled if the questionnaire appeared.

AUSTIN, March 28.—Publishers of the Texas Barb are going ahead today with their plans to print Missouri University's suppressed sex questionnaire in the issue of the Barb due Friday.

Editor John Woodruff, University of Texas student, has been summoned by Dean Moore in an effort to halt the publication. That however is now in the hands of non-student backers of the Barb.
Dean Moore said today that Woodruff has been notified that he will be held responsible as a student for the publication of the questionnaire in the Barb.

This notice was given, Dr. Moore said, on the ground that another university has been caused great embarrassment by the matter and the University of Texas does not intend to be drawn into it.
Dean Moore said that at his conference with Woodruff, no claim was made by Woodruff that the publication was beyond his control.

No warning to Texas University students against filling out the questionnaire has been issued, the dean said, because it is presumed that it will not be published.

Supporters of the Barb, rallying to it, charge that the issue of the questionnaire has been magnified for the purpose of reprisal against Woodruff for editing and issuing the Little Campus Free Press prior to the student elections. The Little Campus Free Press sought fraternity nominees for student offices. Investigation of its publication and that of other non-official publications has been set for Monday night by the student council.

The Tomb of Marshal Foch

Here is the last resting place of Marshal Ferdinand Foch, Generalissimo of the Allied armies and the greatest French military hero since Napoleon. Under the golden dome of Les Invalides, pictured here, he lies near other illustrious Marshals of France, between the tombs of Napoleon and Marshal Bertrand. The solemn rites were international, for scores of nations joined in paying homage to the great soldier who commanded the armies of the eleven Allied Powers.

War Memorial In Place In Courthouse

Huge Tablet, Largest of Its Kind in the South, Contains 762 Names—Memorial Weighs 1,500 Pounds

The soldiers' memorial tablet, which the commissioners court had made to place in the courthouse, is now in place, representatives of the Model Brass Company, of Dallas, who made the tablet, having finished their work of putting it up Wednesday afternoon.

The tablet, made of bronze, is approximately 6x10 feet in dimension, and weighs over 1,500 pounds. Cut into the face of the tablet are the names of 762 young men who enlisted in the service of their country during the World War from Eastland county. In front of the name of each soldier who lost his life while in service is a star. There are thirty-three of these. The county spent $1,600 for the tablet.

The American Legion put forth every effort to obtain the names of each and every one entitled to a place on the memorial tablet, a few, it has been learned, were left off.

The huge tablet, which representatives of the company who made it stated was the largest of its kind in the South, is located on the first, or main floor of Eastland county's new courthouse. At the top of the tablet, which is fastened to the east wall of the building and to your left as you face the elevator, is a large American eagle and underneath this the words, "For God and Country." Then is a statement of the purpose of the tablet and then come in alphabetical order, the names of Eastland county's soldiers of the World War.

Special Round Trip Rate To Ball Game

Baseball fans of Eastland will have an opportunity to see stars of the big leagues perform Sunday at Dallas when the New York Giants and the Chicago White Sox will meet. A special round trip rate of $3.10 is announced by the Texas & Pacific railroad. Fans will leave Eastland at 5:31 Sunday morning and, returning, will leave Dallas at 9 p. m.

Cream Routes Add To The Farm Income

One Farmer Has Sold $1,000 Worth of Milk in 11 Months—County Agent's Work Aids Dairying.

Five cream routes covering a total of 190 miles now serve the dairymen of Eastland county. On these routes, cream is picked up daily at the farm and brought in to the cream station and producers are paid the highest market price.

The first cream route was established in the county on April 1, 1928, virtually one year ago. A number of other routes are to be established in other portions of the county within the immediate future.

Establishment of these cream routes is an outgrowth of a campaign started by County Agent Patterson more than a year ago to build up dairy herds in the county and demonstrate to the farmers the advantage, from the standpoint of profits, of dairying.

The first efforts in the campaign for better dairy herds were directed along the lines of improving the grade of cattle by the purchase of 22 fine Jersey bulls, more of which had an official record of less than 500 pounds butter fat, and the shipment of two carloads of high grade Jersey cows into the county. These bulls, ten of which are owned by "bull circles," and twelve are owned individually, have been brought into the county since Jan. 1, 1928.

Along with the movement for better dairy herds, farmers are building up their farms and sowing much of their lands to pasture crops for cattle, using principally sweet clover, sudan and sweet sorghums.

Each year for the past three or four years, there has been an increasing number of farmers who have had their farms terraced, and during the past winter a greater number of acres of farm lands in the county have been terraced than for the past three years. This is due to a great extent to the fact that the county has permitted the use of its road building machinery, when not in use on the roads, to do terracing work, charging only the actual cost for operating the machinery.

In addition to terracing, farmers of Eastland county are using an increasing amount of fertilizer each year. Also there is a tendency though very small, towards reduction in the size of farms and more intensive cultivation.

While the cream routes have not been in operation long enough for many of the farmers to determine their value to them, some of the farmers are now getting nice profits from the cream they are selling at their door. Two farmers on one route in the county sold more than $1,000 worth of milk during the past eleven months.

Breckenridge-Graham Pavement Soon Open

By the middle of April, Highway 67 between Breckenridge and Graham will be thrown open to the full 42 miles and traffic will then find a continuous line of pavement between the two county seat points.
The highway is already open to the Brazos river, 27 miles northeast of Breckenridge and only about three miles remain to be completed before the road will be free from all detours.

Rains Aid Wheat In the Panhandle

By United Press.
AMARILLO, March 28.—Twenty-six counties of the Panhandle and South Plains region of Texas have received soaking rains since Tuesday and, as a result, wheat and row crop estimates are soaring.

FLASHES

By United Press.
MEXICO CITY, March 28.—Announcement of the date and place for the forthcoming marriage of Miss Anne Spencer Morrow to Charles A. Lindbergh will be made shortly, it was said by friends of the Morrow family today. They denied the authenticity of published reports that the Morrow country home at North Haven, Me., had been definitely selected.

By United Press.
HOUSTON, March 28.—Search for the body of Michael Lyons, 29, who became the first victim of the 1929 swimming season when he was drowned in San Jacinto river late Wednesday, was continuing today.

Lyons was swimming with two companions. They swam across the river and were on their way back when Lyons was attacked by cramps. He grabbed a log which was floating down the river and his hold slipped. His companions started after him but he did not come to the surface again.

By United Press.
DARLINGTON, Okla., March 28.—The skeleton of an unidentified man was unearthed by officers near here late yesterday. It was buried in a shallow grave covered with brush and undergrowth.

By United Press.
MARSHALL, Tex., March 28.—Earl Aills, 30, farmer, was to go to trial today on a charge of murder of Odell Morris, his brother-in-law, last December. The shooting followed a quarrel over killing of Aills's dog, which he said was worth "about two bits." It is the second murder trial here this week. A jury Wednesday found Lonnie Madden, negro, guilty and sentenced him to fifty years in prison. Madden was convicted of clubbing to death Clifford Miles, another negro, because he believed Miles had informed officers that he (Madden) was operating a still.

Spinal Meningitis, Influenza Feared

By United Press.
SAN FRANCISCO, March 28.—With more than a score dead, others dying and hundreds under observation, fear was expressed today that ocean liners from the Orient might carry an epidemic of spinal meningitis and influenza to the United States.

In various Pacific coast ports, 1,254 persons, all steamer passengers, were held in quarantine. More than 200 persons, recent arrivals from the Far East, are ill. The Dollar liner President Pierce which brought Henry L. Stimson, the new secretary of state from Manila a week ago, was the scene of the most serious phase of the epidemic.

While the ship was en route from Manila the bodies of eleven foreigners, mostly Filipinos, were lowered into the Pacific, victims of spinal meningitis and influenza. Three hundred and eleven other passengers of the President Pierce are in quarantine.

Fiend Attacks San Angelo Girl

By United Press.
SAN ANGELO, Tex., March 28.—One suspect had been arrested today in connection with the abduction and attacking here last night of an 11-year-old girl, daughter of a well known San Angelo family.

By United Press.
SAN ANGELO, March 28.—An unidentified man who kidnaped a 10-year-old girl from the home of her parents here and attacked her in an alley was hunted by police today. The girl described her assailant as a "black man." She was sleeping when the man slashed a hole in the screen near her bed and carried her away.

BIG SHOW IS IN EASTLAND TODAY

Honest Bill and Moon Bros., dog and pony show, is in Eastland today. There will be a performance at 7:30 p. m. The show is declared to have the most interesting collection of wild animals possessed by any traveling attraction. The show is appearing under the auspices of the Retail Merchants association.

Activities Will Be In Full Swing Tomorrow, School Holiday—Ranger Is Scene—Track and Field Finals Saturday.

Nearly a thousand boys and girls will take part in the annual Eastland County Interscholastic meet, it is estimated by R. L. Speer of Eastland, director general.

The first event—the Music Memory contest—will be held tonight. The other events of the competition will get under way Friday. Finals in track and field, which attract the greatest crowd, will be held Saturday afternoon. Ranger is the scene of the meet.

All the students of the Eastland schools will enjoy a holiday Friday to attend the meet and it is likely that schools throughout the county will suspend for the day. Eastland is entering every contest with full representation, it is announced by Superintendent Bittle.

Commenting upon the county meet, Director General Speer said: "The Eastland county meet is one of the largest in the State.

"Thirty-nine schools are competing for honors. Of this number, six are Class A, three are Class B, 12 are ward schools and 18 are rural.

"In literary events, 288 contestants have entered and in track and field there are 374. For team events—tennis, playground ball, volleyball, etc.—the exact number is not available but no doubt will reach at least 300.

"With all events considered, about 950 school boys and girls will take part.

"Awards to the number of 200 will be made in the form of ribbons, banners and other trophies. "Competent judges of the meet will be drawn to a large extent from colleges and universities. The responsibility of the proper conducting of the meet," the director general concluded, "is in the hands of the various directors chosen from the different school systems of the county. They are: H. V. Negro, Cisco; director of athletics; C. S. Eldridge, Carbon, assistant director of athletics; A. M. Lemmer, Desdemona, director of declamation; Lewis Smith, Olden, director of essay; Roy Skaggs, Gorman, director of debate; Mrs. J. E. Demmer, Ranger, director of music memory; Mrs. J. N. Poe, Ranger, director of spelling; E. E. Layton, Eastland, director of arithmetic, and Miss Beulah Speer, Eastland, director of rural schools."

TWILIGHT LEAGUE IS URGED HERE

Organization of a "twilight" baseball league, which would include the teams from the various communities in the Eastland trade territory, has been suggested and is said to have met with favor from those with whom it has been discussed.

The plan is to have a pennant for the winning team of the league. All games would be played at Eastland, the central point, late in the afternoon. Full details of the plan, a schedule of games, etc., necessarily cannot be worked out until it is known how many and what teams will be identified with the league.

It is believed by baseball fans in Eastland that the games will draw large crowds and that interest in the championship would increase as the season advanced. The league would not be undertaken as a commercial proposition and should be any charge made for admission, which is not contemplated at this time, the proceeds from the game would go to the teams playing or to the community they represented.

BATON ROUGE, March 28.—"I have nothing to say," a new famous phrase—was Gov. Hoppe P. Long's reply today to insinuations concerning a rumor that would resign as governor in face of impeachment proceedings.

TEXAS RECORD OF THE YEARS.

Those who are said to be qualified to speak are certain that the life blood of the Wirtz bill will be let out by the veto knife of the governor. There is a record of all the years behind the governor. There are many precedents.

Richard Coke was ushered into office in 1873. For years and years after his inauguration 95 per cent of the white men of Texas voted the regular democratic ticket. Then came the state-wide prohibition election of 1887. The anti-women; the pros were overwhelmed. There were anti who said that a prohibitionist could not be a good democrat just as there are pros today that insist that an anti-prohibitionist cannot be a good democrat.

Well, the anti leaders or the more ultra of the leaders insisted that the defeated pros should be barred from the council of the party in coming elections. Harmony, instead of discord, came.

Pros were not barred. They were allowed to remain in the big Democratic wigwam. All the fact-smoked the pipe of peace. When came the Hogg era and in the greatest bolt of democracy in Texas history occurred. The backed George Warwick Hogg. Then the bolters were barred from the party conventions and the party pie counter.

An olive branch was extended. All the bolters returned to the household of Jefferson, with James Stephen Hogg the acknowledged leader of the united organization. Charles A. Culberson picked up the flag when Hogg laid it down. Thousands of democrats, known as populists, bolted the Culberson nomination. Culberson fought and conquered. Then thousands of the deserters returned to the democratic camp.

Sayers and Lanham had their day. There was no discord.

Thomas M. Campbell came in. He invited the diehards of the populist party to return to the faith of their fathers. Cyclone Davis led the diehards to the door of the wigwam and Governor Campbell gave them a hearty welcome.

This was the record behind the governor. Another page of the record is the bolt to Butte and the last page written is the bolt of 200,000 democrats, men and women, to the Hoover and Curtis camp in the memorable campaign of 1928.

Hogg accepted the olive branch and invited men who fought him to return to the fold. Culberson walked in Hogg's footsteps. Campbell invited Cyclone and his cohorts to the pie counter. Colquitt was for new recruits all the time and this was the record that he made as governor in bygone years. Hobby was for peace. Neff always waved the olive branch. Ferguson was ousted and organized a new party. He failed and his followers returned to the party of the Jeffersonian and Jacksonian faith.

Now Moody, leader of the regulars, in many political skirmishes or battles that required dash and brilliancy and courage will add another chapter to the history of political precedent and practice which have prevailed in this commonwealth since the fated day when Richard Coke drove the followers of E. J. Davis from capitol hill.

MARKETS

By ELMER C. WALZER. United Press Financial Editor. NEW YORK, March 28.—An air of buoyancy has returned to Wall Street and trading on the stock exchange went forward today with renewed confidence. There were few thoughts for the countless small speculators throughout the country who had been badly hit financially in the week's exciting markets. The stringency in call money was relieved yesterday after the 20 per cent rate had brought a sharp decline Tuesday. The National City Bank came forward with $25,000,000 for loans, and cheerfulness returned to the faces of traders whose nerves had been frayed by worry. With 15 per cent money, a rate that would have shattered a market a few months ago, yesterday's market boomed along with remarkable strength, although its turnover of 5,618,500 shares seemed quiet in comparison to Tuesday's business of more than 8,000,000. While there are those in Wall Street who think a secondary reaction is due, with another market break in the offing, traders show little alarm. Many small operators have returned to the market, buying at bargain prices after the break which drove weaker speculators, without the means of covering their margins or without the nerve to hold on when paper losses were mounting dizzily, from the field.

Annual Health Clinic To Be Held Two Days

Monday and Tuesday State Nurse Will Be in Eastland Civic League and Ward School P. T. A.'s Co-operate.

Next Monday and Tuesday, the annual Health Clinic will be put on by the Civic League, assisted by the Parent Teacher Association of South Ward School and the Parent Teacher Association of West Ward School. The Community clubhouse will be headquarters for the public health bureau.

In connection with the Baby clinic the "Summer Round-Up" may be given and it is hoped that there will be an enormous attendance all over the county of women who will bring their babies and small children to the clinic. Miss Celia Moore, state itinerant nurse, will have charge of the examinations and doctors' services will not be requested.

It is hoped there will be a large response from the rural district as there really is seldom such an opportunity as this given to have the services of an expert without cost.

Any child may be entered for a thorough examination from the ages of one month to seven years of age. You must be sure that you come in and see the pretty little nursery completely furnished which will have on display clothing especially suitable to different ages of children; children's furniture and games. Books and magazines both for mother and child.

The committee in charge is composed of Mrs. Harrell, Mrs. Earle Johnson, Mrs. LeRoy Arnold and Mrs. E. E. Sikes.

Monday morning callers will be received by Mmes. C. D. Swearingen, Roy Allen and G. C. Kimbrell.

Monday afternoon, Mmes. Geo. Glascock, T. B. Scott and Earle Johnson will be on duty. Tuesday morning, the Civic League members who will assist are Mmes. Joe Driskell, Harry Sample, and H. Kimbrell.

In the afternoon, the last reception period Mmes. W. A. Weigand, C. D. Swearingen and Jack Williamson will do their bit. Books and magazines will be on display at the clubhouse where the Bureau will be held Monday and Tuesday. Assisting in this department will be Mmes. J. C. Patterson, J. M. Armstrong, Harry Brelsford and J. M. Mouser. Pretty samples of children's clothing, the way to make them, will be exploited in the care of Mmes. Homer Brelsford Jr., Joe Jones, Earl Bender and W. B. Smith. The general equipment will be installed under the direction of Mesdames Tom Harrell, J. LeRoy Arnold and R. E. Sikes. Next Monday and Tuesday, all day, you are invited to bring your children.

DEFENDANT TELLS OF HIS GRIEF

Describes Baptist Minister As Destroyer of His Happiness—Defense in Murder Trial Closes Case At Tyler.

TYLER, Tex., March 28.—Upon the testimony of a little family broken by a Baptist minister's love making, reunited again through forgiveness and broken again by the pastor's slaying, Loys Wilson today rested his defense to a charge of murder of the Rev. Fourn Wallace of Troup.

Wilson himself was the last defense witness. Preceding him today on the witness stand was 9-year-old Harold Wilson, twin son of the garage man and Mrs. Mae Wilson, who admitted Wednesday that she had been intimate with the Rev. Wallace. The other twin, Harry, may be called as a defense rebuttal witness.

The story unfolded by father and son today was one of a broken home, of broken promises, and, finally, of how the pastor met his death in front of a Troup drug store.

The 31-year-old defendant began his testimony by reviewing his home life before the Wilsons met the Wallaces early in 1926. It revealed the picture of an ordinary East Texas home, the wife and mother doing the cooking and mending, the husband making a comfortable living for his family from his garage.

Wilson told how his wife changed her church membership from a little Baptist congregation at Arp, near Troup, to the Rev. Wallace's church, how he gave his wife and children money to give to the church.

Wallace's visits to the Wilson home became more frequent, the defendant testified, until after a while he objected because he thought they were together too much. He became suspicious.

In June of 1927, he first told his wife of his suspicions. He had been working in his garage, about 10 feet from the home, and had gone home to get a bite to eat. He saw the churchman and Mrs. Wilson standing in the kitchen.

"He looked surprised and I knew something was wrong, but I said nothing," Wilson testified. Later that week, after the churchman and Mrs. Wilson had been together again, Wilson accused his wife of having improper relations with the Rev. Wallace and she confessed.

He accused preacher. "We were both crying," Wilson testified. "It almost drove me crazy."

"The next day I went to see Dr. Wallace. I told him he had wrecked my home. He was silent a long time and finally said, 'If you know anything about it you know more than anybody else.'" "I told him I was willing to forgive although I could never forget. He extended his hand and promised to leave my wife alone. I refused his hand, adding that my confidence in the world was shaken." There followed a fight between Wilson and his wife, the defendant said, after which "we agreed to let things drop and Mae and the boys returned home. For some time, she took her old interest in us, but in the fall she again grew cold."

Wilson reached the day of the killing. "My wife came to the garage and I thought she didn't look right. She drove to town and I followed her in my wrecker. I saw Reverend Wallace wave to her and his expression said such a lot. I returned to my garage and my wife was there. I accused her of having broken her promise."

"She confessed that I was right and declared she still loved Wallace. This just got all over me. I asked for her pistol but did not get it. I took my own pistol. I don't know whether I intended to kill Mr. Wallace or not."

"I do know that I intended to have some kind of settlement. I did not see Mr. Wallace until I stopped my car near the drug store and when I did see him, a year's brooding flew all over me. I don't know whether I shot or not. I do know I returned home and told Mae I had done it."

The boy's testimony concerned chiefly his father's desire that the boys attend Sunday school, giving them money for the church, and one incident where he saw the minister pat his mother on the back and say, "You are a very beautiful woman."

Rumored That Long May Quit As Governor

"I Have Nothing to Say," Says Louisiana Chief Executive When Asked Concerning the Report.

By United Press. BATON ROUGE, La., March 28.—Charges that impeachment proceedings against him were being "engineered" by "oil interests" were contained in a direct appeal by Governor Huey P. Long to citizens of Louisiana today.

"This is the third time in my young life in which this nefarious combination has been able to drag me before the bar to fight for my own liberty and political preservation," he said. "Oil interests, particularly the Standard Oil Company, are behind this contemptible effort to oust me from my office," the governor declared. "They are after me because I have sponsored passage of the occupational tax, a measure aimed directly at the oil industry of the state."

Leslie Barnett is in Ft. Worth on business.

Cheaney

CHEANEY, March 27.—We are having some fine spring weather and farmers of this community are very busy planting corn and preparing land for other crops. Most of the farmers who have not planted corn will plant this week.

Gardens are looking fine and with continued warm weather we will soon have an abundance of home grown vegetables to eat.

There will be considerably more cotton planted in the Cheaney community this year than was planted here last year. At the same time the acreage that will be planted here to peanuts this year will be less than was planted last year.

Much interest is being taken in the Sunday School at Cheaney. Attendance is good.

T. W. Howard and family visited Henry Gentry and family at Huckabee in Erath county last Sunday.

Miss Bertha Lucas of Stephenville is visiting her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Gentry. Miss Bertha is one of the teachers in the Cheaney school last year.

Election for school trustees for the Cheaney district will be held here April 6. Mr. Lockhart's term expires.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Blackwell gave Mrs. Blackwell's mother, Mrs. Maud Howard, a surprise birthday dinner last Sunday.

F. Potget is visiting his uncle, John Perrin, of near Anson in Jones county.

John Parish and family of Ranger were Cheaney visitors last Friday.

"Grandpa" Shannon and daughter and her family of Olden were guests at the R. R. Browning home last week. They are planning to put out an orchard west of Olden.

As a result of the bringing in of the well on the Dr. Simmons place near here a number of other wells will be drilled, we understand.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Strickler are the proud parents of a baby boy born to them recently. Mother and baby are doing well.

Eari Strickler now has a mill ready at Cheaney to grind corn and feed.

Bailey Scott and family of Eastland visited Bailey's parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. L. Scott, Sunday.

Charlie Bean and wife of Eastland visited Mrs. Bean's sister here Saturday and Sunday.

Henry Perrin and family went to Abilene last Friday, returning Saturday.

J. C. Patterson, county agent, was at Cheaney Monday and invited the club boys to meet him at Cisco Tuesday that he might instruct them in stock judging.

Miss Tyler one of the Cheaney teachers, is ill with the flu.

Carbon

CARBON, March 27.—Rev. Hollis preached two very interesting sermons Sunday morning and night at the Baptist church. Large crowds at each service and at 7:30 p. m. the O. B. Y. P. U. rendered a splendid program after which Rev. Harris delivered a fine sermon.

OIL NEWS

By United Press.

NEW YORK, March 28.—The great oil producers of the western world have agreed to limit 1929 production to the average output of last year.

Representatives from Venezuela, Mexico, Colombia and all parts of the United States met in secret session yesterday and reached agreement on a plan that will go into effect April 1. It was regarded as particularly significant that Sir Henri Deterling, managing director of the Royal Dutch Shell companies of Europe, attended the meeting and pledged his "100 per cent cooperation to the curtailment program."

While details of the meeting were not made public in the official statement, it was learned only after a stirring debate. At one time, Sir Henri came out of the meeting and made little effort to conceal the fact that he was displeased with the attitude taken by some members of the conference.

Later, however, he seemed entirely satisfied.

Persons attending the conference said price stabilization was only an incidental feature of the mittee were named for each of the five sections and upon them will devolve the making of decisions on the following points:

$60,000 WELL SPENT

OMAHA, Neb.—The northern Baptist church donated $60,000 to the Hoover for president campaign fund and figure that Hoover is easily worth that amount, Dr. W. H. Bowler, of New York, executive secretary of the board of promotion of the church, told a gathering of Omaha and Council Bluff ministers here. "Dr. Bowler said that he was revealing what happened to the $60,000 which the laymen of the church contributed last year for the missionary fund, because he was forced to come before them to ask for $75,000 to make up a deficit caused by the $60,000 donation. The deficit must be made up by May 1. The speaker told the gathering he was revealing this information for the first time but that every official of the church figures that the $60,000 was well spent because they feel that Pres. Hoover will dry up the country and oust the law-breakers in general."

Organizing A Community Farm Bureau

In the previous chapters we have seen some of the things our farm Bureau organization can do for us, and it is time now to see how they can be put into actual practice. Your Farm Bureau stands willing, yes, anxious to help form such a community organization. Just knowing a thing is good or will work is useless unless we know how to put it into practice and then do it. Sometimes we hesitate to start anything new because we are not sure we know how to work it. The needs of any community can be grouped under four great heads, social, economic, educational and civic. It is to meet these needs we organize our community Farm Bureau. The first need our club will meet is the social problem. We want to know our neighbors better, find out what they are thinking about, how he is prospering and just meet them for a little chat. City folks marvel sometimes that farmers go to town on Saturday afternoon and stand on the streets and visit but it is not to be wondered at, it is simply this craving for social fellowship that brings him in and keeps him on the street. How much better, however, to meet this social desire by holding meetings in the community to which all can come freely. Then while we are met together have a good program, something that will make us laugh or cry or think. Something we can take home with us and enjoy in the days following. We have plenty of talent every community, if we will use it. Why waste so precious a gift? The wise community is not. Then how we like singing together. So we do lots of it at our club meetings. It's good practice in cooperation too or we have to get together to sing. Besides the singing we listen to music, plays, readings, have stunts and games. Lots of us have forgotten how to play and we need to learn again, because after all we are just grown up boys and girls. We all need a certain amount of fun and no one can get any better fun than in our club meetings. But we must not forget to have some "treats" once in a while. It need not be elaborate, just something to chew on as we laugh and talk and visit together. With a club like this going on just try to keep your people at home and see what happens.

But it is not all fun, there are some economic problems we want to know about. Maybe it's something about livestock, their care, feed or diseases or better marketing facilities for dairy products, eggs, turkeys or kindred subjects. We can learn in our community Farm Bureau club, perhaps it's crops or soil fertility, or weeds or insect pests we want to know about. If it is marketing problems or buying a car or fertilizer we are all together and can get some help about it. It might be higher prices for a new school or road that we want to discuss. Let's get it organized way.

The educational side of our club takes in nearly everything. Our economic problems are all educational problems as well. There is so much for us to learn and the time so short and opportunities so few but our club will help. Among our educational opportunities should be mentioned the extension service, with our county agent always glad to under aid and especially to organize communities. Then we have our school problems, not only for the children but older folks as well. Everybody likes a good debate on timely topics. It is a fine way to get for both sides of the question without any hard feelings being aroused. Talks or speeches are often dodged when possible but make them educational and we don't mind them. They may be dry but we can wash them down with a cup of fun, a humorous song or reading. Health talks are always timely. There are essays, to be written and read at current events to be discussed, in fact so many things it is sometimes hard to decide what we want.

Under the head of civic problems there are so many things to do.

Three Days Prove That You Can Overcome Stubborn INDIGESTION

Money Back! Says Murray's Drug Store "If One Bottle Doesn't Do You More Good Than Anything You Ever Used."

After you have taken Dare's Mentha Pepsin for 3 days you will be sure, prove to yourself that at last you have found stomach medicine that won't fail.

Please don't think of Dare's Mentha Pepsin as one of those "cure-alls" that may help for a couple of hours but do no lasting good.

Better take it for what it is—pleasant to take elixir that gives instant relief tones and invigorates your weak, distressed stomach so that in a short time be able to eat the heartiest meal without gas, sourness, belching or flatulency.

Remarkable sales of Dare's Mentha Pepsin prove it to be the remedy you need for indigestion.

Always Safe

When your Children Cry for It

Here's relief and comfort for crying, fretful, feverish babies or children that you don't need to urge or command them to take. They love the delicious taste of Fletcher's Castoria. Your doctor will tell you it's absolutely safe, so you can give it as freely and as often as needed to keep your children happy and well. A few drops is all it takes to quiet fretful, feverish, colicky babies; relieve their biliousness, gas on stomach, constipation, etc.; soothe them to sleep in a jiffy. For like disorders in older children, you simply use a little larger dose of the same reliable Fletcher's Castoria. Don't use grown-folks' medicine; with babies or children, specialists say. Ninety per cent of them recommend Fletcher's Castoria; and thirty years of steadily increasing popularity proves they're right. To protect you from imitations, the Fletcher signature is on every bottle of genuine Fletcher's Castoria.

Announcement Is Made By Jordan

J. Y. Jordan, who has filed as a candidate for city commissioner, has issued the following statement concerning his candidacy: "I have offered as a candidate for city commissioner because I believe I can be of some service to the taxpayers of Eastland. As to my qualifications, I am a graduate of John Tarleton College at Stephenville. I also graduated as a court stenographer and write one of the recognized systems of shorthand. I served two years with the United States government during the war, having charge of construction work on cantonments and other government buildings."

TEXAS LEAGUE TRAINING CAMPS

DALLAS—The Dallas Steer camp at Corsicana will be closed immediately and from now on, the Herd will do its training on its own park here. The program of exhibition games for the Chicago White Sox, who have been using the Steer park for their training, will keep them away from Dallas practically all the time from now on and the Steers will be able to train here.

MINERAL WELLS—The Fort Worth Cats were unable to pull themselves out of a loss Wednesday to the St. Paul Saints despite homers by Cox and Bryan in the seventh inning. Meadows and Sullivan pitched for the Panthers. St. Paul won by a score of 7-5.

SHREVEPORT—Manager Art Pheasant's ports resume hostilities today with the Minneapolis Millers of the American Association, after a stiff workout in all departments Wednesday. So far, the Sports have a big edge over the Millers in the pre-season games.

LAREDO—The San Antonio Bears broke camp here last night and will return to San Antonio today to be ready for the opening of Texas League hostilities. The Bruins began their spring training here March 1.

WACO—Manager Del Pratt Allowed his Waco Cubs to take today will start the polishing off of a little easier Wednesday but process for the Cubs' three-game series with the New York Giant Yannisians, beginning here Friday. Pratt appears well satisfied.

KIMBRELL HARDWARE CO. West Side Square Phone 139

NEW YORK, March 22 — After a break of more than a dollar a bale in the initial session of the week, cotton futures rallied this week on a bullish ginning report and the weekly letter weather report showing conditions in various sections hindering crop preparations.

The early declines were brought about by a sharp break in the Liverpool market and a turn for the better in weather conditions. Stop cents threw blocks of contracts on the market. Near months were subject to pressure on execution over Sunday selling orders and there was considerable commission house liquidation.

Although operations in the immediate subsequent session were restricted by uncertainty over the ginning figures and continued favorable weather in the south steady covering of March obligations and a decrease in the general pressure of the preceding day were stabilizing factors and all months, with the exception of December closed with gains ranging up to 9 points.

The issuance of the ginning report and an unfavorable weather report on Wednesday precipitated an upturn and the market held generally steady thereafter. The ginning figures, although about 50,000 bales less than the figures considered probable, due to the large output during the previous period, the equivalent in 500 pound bales of 14,450,000 exceeded the December estimate by 77,000.

Large orders were on both sides of the market in the latter part of the week and a quiet and steady tone prevailed. Demand came principally from commission houses. Trade sentiment, however, was somewhat reactionary, due to the failure of outside demand to develop readily on the breaks.

GREAT GO EXPECTED IN "CHI"

Tonight Will See Rushes of Smaller Walker Matched Against Speed of Loughran—World's Title At Stake.

By BERT DEMBY United Press Staff Correspondent CHICAGO, March 28.—Walker by a knockout, or Loughran by a decision.

That opinion was the consensus today as Tommy Loughran prepared to defend his light heavy-weight championship against Mickey Walker before the largest indoor crowd in history here tonight.

Confident of victory, both men were in fine condition and it seemed reasonable to assume that each will resort to his particular style of fighting.

Walker's style is the bulldog rush, designed to knock out an opponent. Loughran prefers to box and his ability in this respect indicates he will take the decision if he can avoid a knockout.

Mickey with a chance to achieve an honor field by only one other man, was expected to again be the bulldog, rushing and slashing in the hope of a knockout.

Mickey probably will weigh no more than 165 pounds. Loughran must weigh in at 175 by 3 o'clock this afternoon and he will take on two or three pounds by the time the fight starts.

Tommy at first was a favorite at odds of 5-5, but Walker's knockout ability now has placed him in the favorite position. If Mickey ever gets a bid to land on Tommy's jaw, the fight probably will be over.

Apparently Walker's best chance will come during the first three rounds. Mickey is a fast starter and Loughran begins slowly. In several fights it has taken Tommy three or four rounds to reach top speed and Walker may get to him before he gets under way.

A great left hand appears to be Loughran's best bet to avoid a knockout. Tommy hopes to jab Walker away with the left and use a right cross for damaging punches.

Approximately 25,000 people were expected to see the fight, which will be held in the new Chicago stadium, the building which a year ago was but a dream of promoter Paddy Harmon and now has become a reality.

PLEGGED TO BETTER DELIVERY for 1 SAFER STREETS 2 LESS TRAFFIC CONGESTION 3 MORE ECONOMIC DELIVERY

This PLEDGE actively works to the advantage of EVERY MAN who buys a GENERAL MOTORS TRUCK

1929 PONTIAC-powered LIGHT DUTY Equipment

Advancements in the famous engine bring 10% to 30% greater actual performance. Huskier trucks throughout. Strikingly fine lines and appearance. Models of 7 different basic STRAIGHT RATINGS. (Prices, chassis only, F. O. B., Pontiac, Mich.):

TRUCKS of modern efficiency call for methods equally modern. Pledged to further the cause of Better Delivery (better truck transportation) General Motors Trucks match efficiency of vehicles with modern standards in methods of selling—and in co-operation between buyer and seller.

Prices of General Motors Trucks are not "padded". No unsound "excess allowances" on trade-ins are made. Extra value is given, instead. The advantages of unusual manufacturing facilities are fairly shared with the man who buys.

STRAIGHT RATING is a sane new method, giving the buyer exact, advance information—and a guarantee that means something. It clarifies the problems of wise truck investment. And brings new economies to actual operation of equipment. It is based upon the maximum allowable total gross weight under which any given model will operate with top efficiency, year in and year out. It is simple, accurate; an advancement of the most practical value.

THE FUTURE LIFE

Luke 24:1-12; John 14:1-6. Golden Text—"Be thou faithful unto death, and I will give thee a crown of life."—Rev. 2:10.

Introduction Sixty-three years before John wrote the text here recorded, he testified with Matthew, Mark and Luke that Jesus had broke down the bars of hades, and had come forth victoriously bearing the keys of death. Now, he records a message from the crowned King of kings, that Christians will be crowned with eternal life beyond the grave.

The Death of Jesus The tragedy on Calvary was fraught with such scenes, that the finite mind staggers with reverential fear as it scans the account of it. "Father, into thy hands I commend my spirit." A tremor shook the tortured body; and the mission and earthly life were over. The sun was westering as darkness rolled away from the completed sacrifice. They who had not thought it a pollution to inaugurate their feast by the murder of their Messiah, were seriously alarmed lest the sanctity of the following day—which began at sunset—should be compromised by the hanging of the corpses on the cross. And, horrible to relate, the crucified often lived for many hours, even days, in their torture. The Jews therefore begged Pilate that the victims legs be broken, and their bodies taken down. The wish was readily granted. The soldiers broke the legs of the two robbers first, then coming to Jesus they found the great cry had been His last, and that He was dead already. Yet instances had been known in which men apparently dead had been taken down from the cross and resuscitated. As death was the penalty if the soldiers allowed any irregularity in this connection, one of them to make sure of the matter, drove the broad head of his spear into His side. The heart was pierced and in His death He shed His blood for the redemption of man.

Joseph, as he observed the cross, bore the lifeless burden went to Pilate on the very evening of the crucifixion and begged that the body be given him. Pilate was amazed at the speed with which death had supervened, and sent for the executioner and asked him if Jesus was really dead. Being assured that He was dead, Pilate allowed Joseph to take the body. About sunset the body of Christ was taken down from the cross and buried. The tomb was sealed and guarded by the authority of the apostate church of Moses and civil government.

The Resurrection Life beyond the grave is untaught in the Old Testament. Job raised the question, "If a man die, shall he live again?" David said when his child died, "But now he is dead, can I bring him back again? I shall go to him, but he shall not return to me." The idea of life beyond was a problem to the ancient worthies. No doubt hope was expressed and many happy anticipations indulged, but there was no foundation for any of it until Jesus came. The Sabbath past, the night gone, the faint streaks of dawn began to silver the darkness of that first great Easter day. The passionate love of those women who had lingered latest by the cross, made them also the earliest at the tomb. Carrying with them their precious spices, but not knowing of the guard or seal, they anxiously inquired among themselves, as they groped their way with sad and timid steps through the glimmering darkness, "Who should roll away for them the great stone which closed the sepulcher?" Their difficulty was soon solved, for they discovered the grave was opened and two angels in white apparel informed them of the event. They hurried back in a tumult of rapture to tell the disciples. An angel had announced the conception of Jesus, an angel announced the birth of Jesus, an angel announced the resurrection of our Saviour, Matthew, Mark, Luke, John, Peter, Paul, and Jude, all testify with the angels and women that our Lord is alive forevermore.

The resurrection of Christ is the center of all ages. All that has since transpired has been molded by it. Whether men deny it or confess it, they fail to realize that belief of it has transformed the world. The opening of Pandora's box overwhelmed the world with sorrow, in the heathen myth; the opening of Christ's sepulcher let loose upon the world a whole flight of birds of joy. There was nothing that Satan dreaded more than the resurrection of Christ. God assured Adam's race that the seed of the woman would bruise the serpent's head. The devil's "head" mentioned in this connection, is his power over death. "Forasmuch then as the children are partakers of flesh and blood, he also himself likewise took part of the same; that through death he might destroy him that had the power of death, that is the devil." (Heb. 2:14). The devil had wielded the scepter over the grave since death was decreed against sin in the garden of Eden 4000 years before. The resurrection broke his power over death, and ever since he has battled against overwhelming evidence both from heaven and earth that Jesus Christ holds the "keys of hell and of death." In his bruised and weakened state he can do so to lead poor faltering man to disbelieve the Bible and all the testimony contained therein, especially the resurrection of Christ. The devil with all of his evil forces are unable to lead men astray when they examine the tremendous evidence of God. Man has too much heavenly sense when the words of Christ dwell in him richly in all wisdom to allow the devil to cheat him out of eternal life in heaven.

After His resurrection, Jesus was seen eleven times by human eyes. He was seen at one time by more than 500 people. Finally, after mingling with his disciples 40 days, He assembled them around Him and commissioned them to go into all the world and preach this good news to dying man-kind. Breathing upon them a blessing, and escorted by angels, taking a cloud for His chariot, he returned to the bosom of His Father. Ten days after His ascension the Holy Spirit bears testimony in favor of Christ's resurrection. It was the testimony of the apostles that Christ arose, and became "the first fruits of them that slept." To sustain the proposition, they suffered untold privations, and dedicated and consecrated the idea of the resurrection with their own blood. If Christ did not arise the conduct of the apostles is as great a miracle as the resurrection. They certainly noticed whether He arose, to know He did not, and then be maltreated, crucified, beheaded, rather than confess the truth, is about as miraculous as any recorded miracle.

The early growth of the church is a strong argument in favor of Christ's resurrection, especially when we consider the intense opposition, and the small beginning. Jesus had gained only a few disciples, and they were illiterate and unknown. He, Himself was unknown outside of Palestine. He was condemned by the Jews and Gentiles. His disciples forsook Him. The persons who were to carry forward this scheme of Christianity, it would seem were inadequate to the task. And yet the first announcement of the resurrection and coronation of the Messiah in Jerusalem, and but 50 days after the crucifixion resulted in the conversion of 3000 souls. The next sermon increased the church to 5000. Such wonderful growth from such small beginnings, in the midst of deadly hostilities, was either a miracle or the outgrowth of undying faith in Christ's resurrection.

Without the resurrection life is a joke, and not worth the living. Without it, death is an eternal sleep, the church is fishing without bait, Christianity is a myth and the universe has no purpose. "But now is Christ risen from the dead, and become the first fruits of them that slept. For since by man came death, by man came also the resurrection of the dead. For as in Adam all die, even so in Christ shall all be made alive. But every man in his own order; Christ the first fruits, afterward they that are Christ's at his coming." (1 Cor. 15:20-23).

RUTH DEWEY GROVES

THIS HAS HAPPENED MILDRED LAWRENCE stenographer of the Judson Hotel, has fox fur snatched from her through the train window as car leaves the station. Rush back on the next train, she finds a crowd gathered on the platform and learns that the thief has been caught by PHEN ARMITAGE.

Pamela was showing Stephen the latest in dance contortions.

An officer takes them all to the lion house where Mildred identifies her scarf. After the routine is disposed of, Stephen demurs but does not wish to be ungrateful, so finally asks home to dinner, where he is in favor with the mother by being her home cooking. Mildred's young sister CONNIE promptly decides for Stephen and that her old-fashioned sis will mix enough pep and mod-methods with her usual quietness to hold the newcomer.

What promised to be a quiet evening at home was spoiled when MELA JUDSON, daughter of Mildred's employer, phones and asks on her coming back to the Junior ball. Stephen escorts her and tells her that he had sold an auto to Pamela a short time before, and just as he is leaving Mildred in the lobby, Pamela comes up and recognizes him.

W GO ON WITH THE STORY CHAPTER II As I exist, if it isn't my high-sure salesman," the girl in red dress exclaimed, coming to Stephen and grasping him by both hands. Her eyes sparkled brightly, and even teeth flashed white when her carnation red lips. "I've seen you in and out of the all winter," she went on anxiously, "but I never could catch you. What are you doing here?"

Stephen turned to Mildred. "I'm in with Miss Lawrence," he said. Pamela, for it was she, looked less over her shoulder. "Oh," she said to Mildred and her eyebrows. Then, smiling, "I understand why you want to come," he added. Mildred's expression did not change but there was impatience in the way she turned to Stephen and said good night. "See you tomorrow" he reminded, and though he held her a second longer than was necessary his eyes did not follow the conspicuous passage down the lobby. Pamela seemed instantly to abate. Which was the usual effect Pamela exerted over the males of her acquaintance. A girl, with round blue eyes that she tried to give an oriental appearance to by using eye shadow, pouting lips and really beautiful hair, she needed only the things her father's wealth provided for her to create a picture that could not fail to attract the eye.

"Come up to the party," she invited Stephen cordially. "You can wear my brother's things—no, I guess you couldn't—you must have grown up in California," she laughed. "But come up anyway. We can have a dance or two before anyone gets down." Stephen glanced down at his business suit. "Thanks but..." "I want to talk about a new car," Pamela baited him. "Business is business," Stephen responded unflatteringly. "But I'll get out before the racket starts." "The musicians are here now," Pamela said as they made their way to the rooms that were reserved for the Junior dance. "Something peppy?" "But not too noisy if we're going to talk business," Stephen suggested.

In his arms she suddenly wanted very much to dance with him. "Hung up," a petulant voice cried, and suddenly, "Oh!" Stephen and Mildred danced a few steps. Then the music stopped abruptly. Mildred looked over at the musicians and saw that Pamela was there saying something to the leader. She moved out of Stephen's arms. Pamela whirled toward them. "Would you mind going to the door now, Miss Lawrence?" she said coldly. "Someone might slip in."

"I'll trundle along," Stephen said quickly to cover the awkwardness that hung about them. "Got a busy day tomorrow." His glance was for Mildred. She did not see it. She had turned away with her chin in the air. Pamela came over and hung on Stephen's arm. "Don't go," she coaxed. "There won't be anyone here for another hour."

"I have to write a letter to Santa Claus," Stephen laughed. "Sore because I stopped your dance with Miss Lawrence?" Pamela challenged outright. "I dare say we'll have another," Stephen retorted, but who shall say that he was angry? To have a girl like Pamela interfering in his affairs was nothing to shrivel his pride. He did not say this to himself but he felt it. "Well, I really do want to talk to you about a new car," Pamela urged. "I think I've burned out the bearings."

ed sharply at Mildred. "Lunching with your hero," she said, and laughed. (To Be Continued)

LABOR BUREAU OPERATES TO END SLAVERY

BY HENRY WOOD United Press Staff Correspondent GENEVA.—Pending the worldwide abolition of slavery and forced labor, victims of the two institutions should at least enjoy the advantages of the eight-hour day, according to the International Labor Bureau here. The problem of slavery is one that comes more under the control of the League of Nations which has already launched an international convention for its gradual abolition. A commission of experts appointed by the International Labor Bureau has just completed an investigation into the whole problem of forced native labor and the question has been placed on the agenda of the next International Labor Conference that convenes here May 30. The investigation to date has shown that forced and compulsory labor still exists in a large number of African and other states both at the hands of local governments and of large industrial enterprises who exploit the native labor. In many of these half-civilized states forced labor is recognized by local laws and the natives are obliged to work on private plantations, on public works and in special lines of labor such as portage, and the loading or unloading of ships. Reforms in Report The report which has been prepared by the commission and which will be the basis of action by the next International Labor Conference is intended to prevent forced and compulsory labor from becoming virtually slavery. World-wide abolition of the latter institution would be almost useless, it is insisted, if forced labor is allowed to operate under almost the same conditions.

The report of the commission of experts insists that in those semi-civilized states where forced labor is recognized that the authorities must never permit the use of the latter by and for individual enterprises, commercial, mining, rubber growing, etc. In addition it is insisted that when forced labor is necessary on behalf of the state for public works that it shall never exceed more than 60 days a year, or in cases where the labor is imported from a long distance, for a period of six months. In addition all such labor should be done on the eight-hour basis and when the hours are longer than that they should be remunerated at higher rates than for normal working hours. The wages are also to be paid directly to the workers themselves and not to

HOW TO FIGHT EXCESS FAT

There are hard ways, like starvation, but fewer and fewer employ them. There is a pleasant way, modern and scientific, which combats the cause. A vast number of people now use it. And the slender figures now seen everywhere are largely due to that. That method is embodied in Marmola prescription tablets. People have used them for 20 years—millions of boxes of them. And everybody, in almost every circle, sees the change. New beauty, new health, new vitality. Each box of Marmola contains the formula, also the scientific reasons for results. So users have no fear of harm. Learn the facts about Marmola, because of the good it has done. Ask your druggist—now—for a $1 box with the book. Then decide.

TALK ABOUT THE SILVER SPOON —the youngster who has a RED GOOSE shoe in his mouth is getting his first taste of pride!

His smile was all for Mildred, but she thought it was inspired by Pamela. She smiled back at him with understanding, she believed. The truth was that Pamela dazzled Stephen, but Mildred had begun to interest him. He had interested her too, until she told herself there wasn't any likelihood of their becoming friends after Pamela had once attracted his attention. She and Pamela had nothing in common. She had come up from the lobby determined to forget him. Certainly that ought to be an easy thing to do. Why he was a perfect... an utter stranger to her, really. "You know, I wish you'd have lunch with me to..." Stephen was saying when he was interrupted by a call from Pamela. "Hey, don't you hear my pleading voice? Come on and dance." "To..." Stephen started again, but Pamela was upon him with a rush. He looked rather startled at first but Mildred noticed as the two twirled over to the ballroom entrance that he was abandoning himself to the spell of the moment.

Five minutes later she went in to call Pamela to the telephone. Just inside the door she stopped short and, used as she was to the high life of the Judson heiress and her friends, she was shocked at what she saw. The latest in dance contortions. A cross between the Black Bottom and the Charleston combining the most active features of each. Stephen stood by, accompanying the music with handclapping and foottapping. Mildred got over her "Victorian feeling" as Connie called her reaction to certain things, by reminding herself that it wasn't Pamela who was wrong; it was she. Connie always told her she had no snap. "Oh, bother," Pamela exclaimed when Mildred told her someone wanted to speak to her on the telephone. "Tell them to go fry ice." She danced on until the music stopped. Then she skipped away. Pamela never walked except on the street. "Let's have a dance," Stephen said to Mildred. "Go ahead, boys, give us a good number." Mildred protested that she didn't feel like dancing, but when the music began to whine and coax and Stephen came over to take her and Mrs. H. A. Collins, to the convention in Beaumont, were given and made a very favorable impression. Some further matters pertaining to the membership contest were discussed. This contest has the "Red Side," Opal Hunt, captain, vs. the "Blue Side," Stella Lou Butler, captain. Guests from Ranger were: Misses Laura Hilton, Lena McDough and Anna McEver.

FRIDAY SECOND SERVICE OF WEEK OF PRAYER:
The annual Week of Prayer of the Christian church is nearing its climax in the sunrise prayer service, 6 a. m., at the church Sunday. The intermediate program to be given tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock will be led by Mrs. Smithson, president of the church society.

Subject of prayer service: "I Cannot Bear to Live In A World That is Un-Christlike." Hymn, "I Gave My Life for Thee." Bible reading from 15:10-16. Hymn and Meditation. "Father Forgive Them, for They Know Not What They Do." "Is It I Who Am Failing Him Today Who Am Cruelizing Him?" "Is He Saying to Me—What? And can ye not watch one little hour? Is thirty minutes a day too much of my time to call His hour? Do I speak of such a Cross when I have never compared it to His Calvary?" Hymn, "In the Cross of Christ."

Intercession: "That America May In Its Government and Business Life Reflect True Christianity." For Americans scattered abroad that they may be true to Christian principles and understand something of what it means to represent a Christian nation.

At this service the members are expected to make a thank and self-denial offering for the missionary work of the church done through the United States Christian Missionary Society.

The public is invited to attend these prayer services.

tic league meet Mrs. C. C. Ligon announced that the luncheon which the cafeteria chairmen were to have held today was postponed until some future date.

CIVIC LEAGUE COOK BOOK TEA APRIL 3:
The Civic League of Eastland has announced the date for their big tea which will be in reality a very brilliant reception held at the Community Club House on April 3 from three to five p. m. The tea will also feature the new Civic League cook book which will be a thing of beauty and a joy forever both in content and outer appearance, and the clever arrangement of reading matter, which includes original sketches by Mrs. Seaberry, poems by Norma Mahon Hefley and nursery rhymes. Possibly no book of this character has been issued in recent years that will arouse so much interest as the Civic League cook book.

Invitations to the tea in the form of miniature cook books are now being mailed to local and out of town women. Every Civic League member is expected to assist in entertaining. A program committee of which Mrs. O. C. Funderburk is chairman, is arranging a program by the fine talent in Eastland. A cordial invitation is extended all those in the county to attend the reception and come prepared to take one of these unusual cook books home, with other good impressions. You are invited.

JORDAN-WEBB:
The marriage ceremony of Jas.

Jordan and Miss Mattie Webb was performed last evening at the home of the bride's father, south of Eastland, by the Rev. T. D. Wilmett of Eastland. Only a few relatives and friends were present.

ROYAL NEIGHBORS OF AMERICA:
Tuesday evening the Golden Rule camp of the Royal Neighbors of America had a delightful meeting, in which suggestions to raise funds for charity were discussed. Easter cards will be sold by women members of the R. N. on Friday and Saturday for this purpose.

The protection committee reported that Mrs. Gertie Williams' small son has a broken arm. The older son has just returned from the hospital but is doing nicely. The report from Delegate Gussie Tucker to the state convention was most interesting. The State Oracle and Supreme Delegate were both elected from this district. The Supreme Convention will meet May 20 in Minneapolis, Minn.

BIG BRILLIANT BAZAAR:
Embroidered linens, sheets, napkins, towels, and doughnut rings—oh! there's lots they've got and got to sell.

They're having a plate lunch with the tables in the middle of the assembly room of the Methodist church and bright walls flashed from all kinds of embroideries hung on screens around the assembly hall.

BETHANY CLASS ENTERTAINS:
The Bethany class enjoyed a very interesting meeting in the parlors of the Presbyterian church yesterday afternoon when hostesses were Mrs. M. C. Hayes, chairman, assisted by Misses J. H. Ashley and John Maloney. The refreshments were served by Mrs. Hayes and the Forgy-McNots were most stimulating and gratifying. It was stated that eighteen class calls had been made in March. This shows a busy spirit among the Bethany class. The session was conducted by Mrs. W. J. Thomas, the president. Devotionals were led by Mrs. F. W. Hummel. The report was approved as submitted by Mrs. Siebert, secretary.

A very delightful episode was the remembrance by Mrs. Logan, who had forwarded from her distant home a lovely hand knit shawl made of different colored wools which the Bethany members had given her when Mrs. Logan left them more than eighteen months ago, as material for the knitted piece. The shawl was extravagantly admired. And then came the message that the shawl was to be sold by the class and the money given to the class. This beautiful gesture was appreciated and the generous instinct that prompted it. The Bethany's will send their orphan girl at Reynolds her usual Easter box.

The church and church parlors were prettily dressed with sprays of peach blossoms for the meeting. Refreshments were served on small tables covered in pink and white crepe paper streamers, centered with pear blossoms, and refreshments of fresh peaches with whipped cream, cakes and coffee were served by the hostesses.

The next meeting will be held April 24 with Mrs. Lewis Pitzer at 2:30 p. m.

Guests of the afternoon were: Misses Thompson and Disney of Ranger, Mrs. Bob Murray and her guest Mrs. Granger; members present: Misses J. Leroy Arnold, George Cross, J. H. Hart, M. C. Hayes, Pangburn, E. L. Perkins, C. W. Stokes, J. J. Tableman, J. W. Thomas, W. J. Peters, M. B. Wheeler, C. C. Ligon, Ross Moorehead, E. R. Johnson, F. W. Hummel, D. J. Finny, M. G. Taylor, J. Meredith, F. W. Cortis, Bob Murray, Sparks, Snow Frost, J. S. Snyder, and Miss Mabel Hart.

BEGINNERS' DEPARTMENT:
The Beginners' Department of the Methodist Sunday School are invited to the home of Mrs. Claude Stubblefield, for an Easter egg hunt Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock. The children are to meet at the Methodist church at Eastland at 3 p. m., and will be taken in cars by Methodists to Mrs. Stubblefield's.

DELIGHTFUL SESSION:
The McDowell Junior Music club was charmingly entertained by Mrs. E. B. Baldwin and Mrs. W. G. Doughty, co-hostesses, at the Baldwin residence yesterday when a large number of young girls met and held a round table discussion and musical study directed by Mrs. Joseph M. Perkins. A contest written in musical terms was won by Maurine Davenport who was presented a lovely kerchief case by her hostesses. One particularly interesting study was "The Relation of Poetry to Music."

The McDowell club will take up for a special line of clothing in several new features and will have as a special treat a voice solo from Mrs. B. B. Bickerstaff at their next meeting. The club complimented Miss Maurine Davenport by asking her to represent the McDowell club on the occasion of the Music Club of Eastland annual luncheon next Friday, one p. m., Connellee Hotel roof garden. Miss Davenport will play a solo during the luncheon.

The pretty home was charmingly decorated with violets, and fruit blossoms and a dainty Waldorf salad was served with macaroons, bon bons and hot tea at five o'clock.

NOTES AND PERSONALS:
Earl Conner arrived home Wednesday night from Oklahoma University to spend the Easter holidays with his parents, Judge and Mrs. Conner.

Miss Lillian Shick of Big Spring who spent the past week with her aunt, Mrs. Joseph B. Leonard, has returned to take up her studies at Simmons University.

Mr. and Mrs. John McLarkey left for California last night, called by the serious illness of his mother.

MRS. BRELSFORD ENTERTAINS CLUB AT HER HOME:
Mrs. H. P. Brelsford, Jr., entertained the Wednesday, Bridge Club at her residence yesterday when three tables were prettily appointed in springtime colors for tally cards and score books for the game. Many bouquets of peach blossoms were used in decoration throughout the home and at close of game a delicious salad plate was served. Guests not members, were: Misses Dan Garrett, Van De Venter, and O. C. Funderburk. Members attending were: Misses Bryan Brelsford, Harry Brelsford, Frank Beatty, Walter Clark, L. E. Edwards, Theo Ferguson, W. K. Hyer, John Knox, Jr., Frank Weaver. A handsome guest towel was awarded Mrs. Van De Venter. The club does not award prizes to members at close of session but continues the score until the season is ended when the totals are turned in. Adjourned to meet with Mrs. Horace Butler, April 11.

MANY ENTER THE YARD CONTESTS
The National Garden Week started with verve in Eastland and continues on tip-toe with zeal unabated. Several entrants have been added to the original list of those who will compete for the various phases of yard beautifications. National Garden Week has as chairman and general committee in charge, Mrs. Tom Harrell, Mrs. Eugene Day and Mrs. J. L. Laurent.

paign, include, Mrs. C. I. Swearingen, Mrs. Harry Sample, and Mrs. John Knox Jr.

These yard contests during National Garden Week have very appreciably increased the appearance of the premises of Eastland homes and buildings and have decidedly changed the complexion of the old back yard with its tin cans, trash barrel, and city ash container to a little park wrought by children's faithful hands which also planted the round or square flower beds in their competition last year.

The entrants in the children's yard contest include to date: Carolyn Cox, Eleanor Ruth Ferguson, Elizabeth Anne Harrell, Elva Lee Jones, Mary Francis Hunter, Laurene Brawner, Guida Jane Harbin, Johnnie Harrell, Ruby Nell Bean, Madge Hearn, Alice Jones, Mary Jane Harrell, Doris Lawrence, Francis Harrell, Caroline Doss, Elizabeth Perkins, Jeanne Johnston, Bobbie Perkins, Lucy Beall Smith, R. L. Perkins, Jr., Edna Clark, Elizabeth Anne Sikes, Nelda Bess Wood.

In the yard contest enrollment:

Mmes. G. W. Bohning, Jack Williamson, J. S. Grisham, L. V. Witcher, Earl Woody, R. S. Cotulla, Earle Johnson, J. M. Armstrong, W. H. Mullins, Janet Horton, J. P. Leslie, J. M. Perkins, Clell Hart, W. E. Chaney, Earl Bender, Tom Harrell, J. M. Mouser, W. A. Martin, Harry Sample, Perry Sayles, Joe Griskell, and the Methodist Church.

Landis May Find Some Opposition

SARASOTA, Fla., March 28.—Disgruntled representatives of American League clubs affected by the recent ruling of Judge Landis, high commissioner of baseball, declaring nine well known players free agents, may meet here today to confer upon the matter.

Phil Ball, owner of the St. Louis Browns, is understood to have been flying in his airplane from one Florida training camp to another, soliciting support for a movement to oppose Judge Landis.
