

Rationing In Four Months - -

People Asked To Conserve Meat

WASHINGTON, Sept. 1 (AP)—Americans will be asked by the government soon to forego the extra steaks and chops they are able to buy with their record-breaking pay envelopes, and in about four months all meat will be rationed.

In discussing the rationing design, he said: "We ought to manage the supply so that the housewife who can't get to the store until afternoon won't be forced to do without; so that everyone has a chance to buy his fair share of the total."

Cattle Move To Market In Big Volume

KANSAS CITY, Sept. 1 (AP)—Cattle owners, stampeded for the most part by the prospect of ceilings on live beef, sent a herd-record total of 32,503 animals thundering to market yesterday.

Germans Suffer Heavy Casualties At Stalingrad

MOSCOW, Sept. 1 (AP)—The Russians said today the Germans had deepened a wedge toward Stalingrad from the southwest and infiltrated that city's northwestern defenses, but emphasized the casualties suffered by the invaders all along the front.

Scattered details reported in the mid-day communique indicated Germany's loss of at least 48 tanks and about 2,000 killed.

After fighting in which about 400 Germans were killed, "one Soviet unit withdrew to new positions" before the Kotelnikowski-Stalingrad pincer claw, the Soviet information bureau said.

Allied Planes Seek Out Japs At Milne Bay

Sharp Fighting Continues In New Guinea Jungles

By MURLING SPENCER GENERAL M'ARTHUR'S HEADQUARTERS, Australia, Sept. 1 (AP)—Allied fighter planes roared above the Milne Bay jungles of eastern New Guinea today heavily strafing any Japanese remnants left by the veteran Australian land troops who were mopping up the enemy.

A severe night attack was made on the Japanese air base at Lae, 400 miles to the northwest, and skirmishes on land developed at nearby Salamaua. Other sharp fighting was reported at Kokoda at the base of the towering Owen Stanley range half way to the most advanced Allied base of Port Moresby.

The known Japanese surviving the Allied ambush at Milne Bay were pushed back into a narrow peninsula north of the bay. Day long reconnaissance flights failed to uncover any evidence of Japanese troops, installations or stores beyond in the thick jungle.

The Aussies at Milne Bay reported the Japanese abandoned large quantities of material. In one spot, 50 dead enemy troops were found.

The belief was expressed that the Japanese who fled by warship Saturday night had been hard pressed, because the enemy seldom leaves bodies, for religious reasons, and because valuable notebooks, papers and maps often are found on the corpses.

Disputed communications hid the exact strength of the remaining enemy units.

While Adolf Hitler called upon the German people for greater sacrifices than ever, envisioned at least another winter of bloody strife and hardship, the Moscow radio confidently declared: "The Allies are arraigned for the enemy's final defeat and the complete destruction of Hitlerism."

In a summary entitled "On the threshold of the fourth year of war," the Soviet broadcast commented:

"At the end of three years of war, we find the German war machine strained to the utmost, while the forces of the anti-Hitlerite coalition grows stronger and closer than ever.

"The Red army is today a historic, indestructible force in the unrelenting struggle against Hitler tyranny."

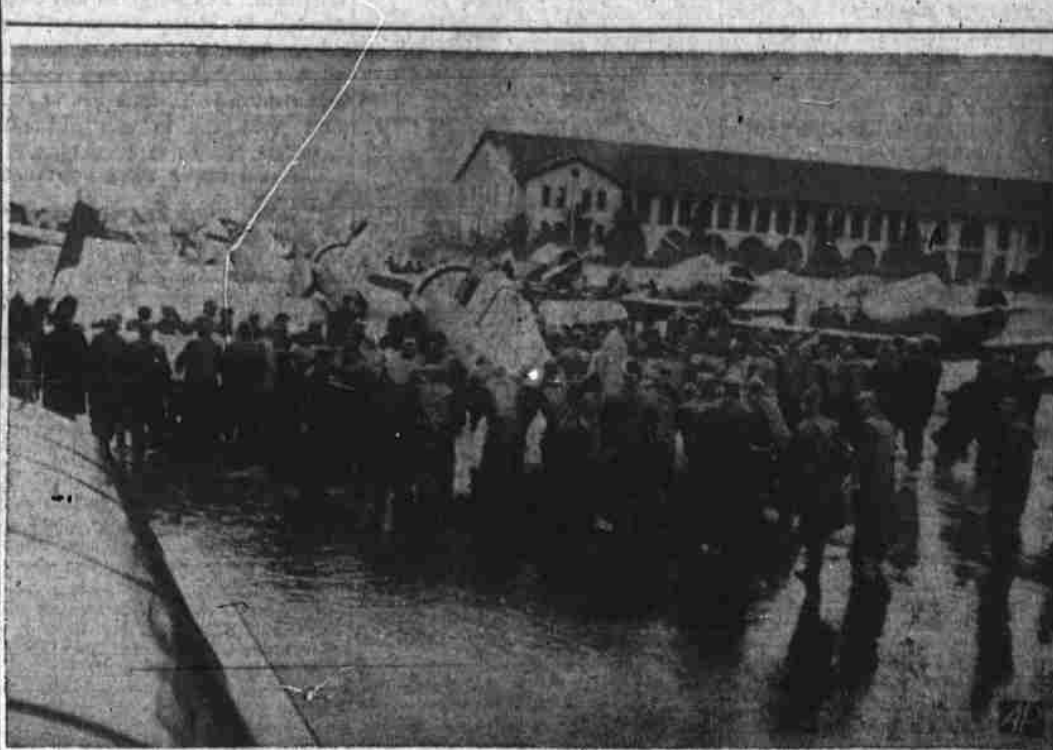

In his appeal to the German people, Hitler said: "If American and British agents maintain today that they want to establish a new and better world structure than theirs had been, it would not have been necessary for them to attack the German Reich of all nations because national socialism has solved Germany's problems long ago, or is about to successfully solve them."

Even the highest sacrifices on the home front, Hitler said, "will accomplish only a fraction of what our armed forces on land and sea and in the air are achieving."

Germans Chased By RAF Fighters

A SOUTHEAST COAST TOWN, England, Sept. 1 (AP)—RAF fighters pursued a flight of German Focke-Wulf 190's across the channel today after the Nazis bombed a small southeast coast town and machine-gunned the streets shortly after noon.

Axis Opens New Attack On British Defense In Egypt

Randolph Men To The Rescue—Damage to basic training planes at Randolph Field, Tex., during the blow Sunday, was comparatively minor, due to quick action by officers, aviation cadets and mechanics who served as human anchors when several plane moorings parted in the gusts. All planes will be checked for possible strains or minor damage and will be back at flying training on Tuesday.

Rommel Force Makes Drive On Flank

Fighting May Open Major Struggle For Eastern Front

CAIRO, Sept. 1 (AP)—Fierce fighting has been raging in the western desert for more than 24 hours with the Germans and Italians making their long-expected attack on the central and southern sectors of the El Alamein line in the early hours of yesterday.

The main attack, in the area of El Hammat, near the Qattara depression, came after a successful night raid by New Zealanders and a weak Italian attack which was repulsed with heavy losses.

LONDON, Sept. 1 (AP)—An eight-mile German drive into the minefields on the southern flank of the El Alamein line in Egypt, rimming the Qattara depression, as reported today in a Reuters dispatch from Cairo as new United States air forces went into action in what appeared to be a developing major battle.

Against another German thrust, evidently seeking a soft spot in the center, the British were said to have held firmly.

The newest American medium bombers on the North African front—B-25's like those which bombed Tokyo—went into their first action with complete American air crews in a bombardment of Axis transport columns while supporting American fighter pilots dispersed unusually large German dive-bomber formations.

Armored vanguards of the haps 141,000 axis troops before El Alamein and Bengali were said to be locked with the British forces, in what may be the opening phase of a struggle for mastery of the Nile valley, Suez and the whole Middle and Near East.

Although there was no official word here that the new assault was the opening of a new German offensive, there was no doubt in well-informed circles that German Field Marshal Erwin Rommel had begun a large-scale offensive, synchronized with the great battles in southern Russia.

It was the view of well-informed British military sources that Rommel began his offensive earlier than expected because the British rate of reinforcement had been greater than his own despite the long sea journey from the United Kingdom.

Rommel's supply line however has been constantly harried by air attack. He is believed to have resolved to attack before further Allied reinforcements made an assault impossible and his position untenable.

Prospects of checking Rommel and counter-attacking in force appear good although British official comment is guarded.

In this battle Rommel, master of maneuver, is denied space necessary for great flanking movements which played so large a part in his previous victories.

The danger to Alexandria is admitted here but there is an indication that well-informed British circles believe General Sir Harold Alexander, formerly in the East, is capable not only of stopping the axis drive but of administering a sharp defeat.

3 Sentenced As Nazi Aides

NEW YORK, Sept. 1 (AP)—Three men, two of whom were formerly with the German armed forces, were sentenced to 15 years each in prison by Federal Judge Matthew T. Abruzzo in Brooklyn today for conspiracy to transmit U. S. defense information to Germany.

They were Richard Ernest Weber, 54, ex-aviator, formerly in the German army; Richard Friedrich Freundt, 54, of Manhattan, formerly in the German navy, and Peter Frans Erich Donay, 33, of Staten Island, who once served as a soldier in the U. S. army.

All three pleaded guilty to the charges some time ago. Weber and Freundt were accused of having conveyed information to Germany by means of secret writings sent to Mexico and South America, and Donay was charged with having transmitted a U. S. field manual in Germany in addition to giving the Nazis vital shipping information.

August Rains Heaviest In 22 Years

Thanks to the month-end down-pours, August's rainfall amounted to more than that for all the preceding six months, a report from the U. S. weather bureau at the airport showed Tuesday.

The weekend rains amounted to 1.19 inches, to bring the monthly aggregate to 5.71 inches. It was the biggest volume of moisture for August here since 1920, and nearly three times the monthly average of 2 inches.

Rainfall here from January through July had totaled 5.04 inches.

Explosives Taken In Ireland Meant To Blast Yanks

BELFAST, Sept. 1 (AP)—United States Troops have been ordered to stay off the streets of Belfast tomorrow, it was announced officially today as tension mounted with a report that the outlawed Irish Republican Army was planning attacks on American and British troops in northern Ireland.

There was no explanation of the order but presumably it was issued to lessen any chance of incidents among American forces and pro-I.R.A. elements in Belfast. Neither was there any indication how long the order would remain in effect.

BELFAST, Sept. 1 (AP)—Police declared today that a great arms and explosives dump captured near here Sunday night was to have been used by the outlawed Irish Republican Army in armed attacks on United States and British forces in northern Ireland.

A police statement said the special manifesto issued by the I.R.A. calling the presence of United States forces in northern Ireland an act of aggression made it clear that "this illegal organization has been preparing for attacks on members of the armed forces of the crown, police and United States forces stationed in northern Ireland."

Police said 17 persons had been detailed for questioning as all available officers concentrated on investigation of a plot which, they said, had reached a point where the organization was able to amass explosives enough to wreck half this Ulster capital.

One man armed with a tommy-gun was killed when the arsenal was uncovered yesterday in a raid on a farm five miles from this city. Authorities said they suspected that he was an important member of the outlawed Irish Republic army.

All police leaves were cancelled amid a situation growing more tense as the hour approached for the scheduled hanging tomorrow of Thomas J. Williams, 19-year-old I.R.A. member, for the slaying of a policeman last Easter morning. Security forces were on guard against any disorder.

Farm, Ranch Areas Helped By Rains

Recent rains throughout the county have been highly beneficial to pastures and crops, except in those areas such as near Coahoma where excessive rain caused damage, County Agent O. F. Griffin said Tuesday.

Downpour Monday in the WIM Horse draw area sent it on the rampage again for the second time. Farmers in some areas reported that some of the terracing on their farms had been washed out in places.

However, except for these localities, some crops have been damaged by the rain but not many have been injured, Griffin stated.

Price Adjustments May Be Made By State Offices

WASHINGTON, Sept. 1 (AP)—Retailers seeking price ceiling adjustments may apply hereafter directly to the nearest state, district or regional office, the office of price administration announced today.

In a move to set up a faster procedure for retail price adjustments, OPA authorized the eight OPA regional administrators to extend to state and district offices the power to grant or deny retailer's applications. Now only regional offices have power.

Theatre Crowds Lead In Salute To U. S. Heroes

For the first time since World War II began, the public is being asked to join this evening in a formal, mass Salute to the nation's Heroes—and that includes every man in uniform.

Local theatres are joining in the program, with special brief events this evening marking the start of a September program of pushing war bond sales. Though no bonds will be offered at the theatres this evening, they will be available in the lobbies, where volunteer workers will preside at tables.

Speakers to conduct the Salute to Heroes this evening at the R&R houses include Rev. P. D. O'Brien, R. R. McEwan and Martelle McDonald. The Ritz will offer bonds for sale, as will the State theatre, which also is joining in the nationwide theatre program. At the Lyric and Queen, war stamps will be available.

As a personal note in bond purchases, those who buy through the theatres may address cards to friends in the service, advising them that the bond is acquired as a tribute to their heroism for their country. These cards are available at the theatres.

Too, purchasers of bonds will have a right to put their signatures on a plaque which will go into North American planes used by the air forces. These names are to be left with the theatres which will in turn forward them to the proper North American plane plants.

Rural Schools Start Terms

County school teachers in the county superintendent's office Monday afternoon for supplies and books, reported students enrolled on time and except in a few areas the teacher shortage had been met.

An exception was Gayhill school that so far has not secured teachers for opening day. Most students were in number Monday. Anna Smith, principal, reported, due to the fact that the bus got mud bound and was unable to get pupils to school.

Hartwells with Mrs. C. H. Neely as teacher, and Midway with H. F. Malone as new principal, were off to a good start. Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Bass of Martin county have accepted teaching position at the Elbow school, thus solving the teacher shortage there.

Remainder of the schools will get underway Monday, the superintendent's office said. Students of R-Bar and Vincent will attend Coahoma schools this year and Morris students have been divided between Gayhill, Coahoma and Big Spring.

Victory Group To Meet Here

Community victory leaders and neighborhood victory leaders will attend a meeting of the Howard county Victory Council at the courthouse in the district courtroom Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

The meeting is for discussion on rat eradication, scrap collection from Howard county farms, and for increased sale of war savings bonds.

E. J. McDaniel, chairman of the Civilian Defense scrap drive will speak at 3:15 o'clock on the collection of scrap. Ira Thurman, county chairman for defense bond sales, will speak on how to help keep down the high cost of living and Dr. M. H. Bennett, city health officer, will discuss how rats cause typhus and will also talk on the general health situation.

The meeting will close with a general discussion on a plan to do away with the rats.

After Three Years Of War Land Bridge Of Middle East Is Key To Strategy

By The Associated Press LONDON, Sept. 1—Three years after Hitler hurled his war machine against Poland and sowed the seed of global war, a key to Allied strategy lay today in the great Middle East land bridge from the Egyptian desert to the Caucasus.

Fighting rages at both ends of the bridge—on the sands west of the rich Nile delta, where Field Marshal Rommel has opened a new campaign, and around Stalingrad, where the Russians are fighting to save their arsenal city of the lower Volga. That bridge must be held, in the opinion of qualified but unofficial and unidentifiable observers, if the United Nations—in the midst of plans for invasion of Europe and an amphibious campaign for control of the Pacific—are to make the fourth year of the war a year of great offensives leading to ultimate victory.

Should the Allies hold in the desert and the Red army keep the Germans in check until spring, and draw enough strength from Allied factories to mount an offensive in 1943, the prospects for a successful invasion of the continent are regarded as extremely good.

The crippling of Soviet Russia through the fall of Stalingrad and Baku, these sources said, would force the western Allies to reconsider plans for such an invasion and lengthen the war considerably.

growing might of Allied air forces in western Europe, Africa, India, China and the southwest Pacific.

Officials say there is nothing to indicate the swift collapse of Germany or Japan, through military defeat or internal revolt, and both are conceded to be capable of tremendous offensive drives.

But it is considered obvious that the power of the axis has passed its maximum.

General Wladyslaw Sikorski, premier of the Polish government-in-exile, in a statement marking the anniversary of the invasion of Poland, said he thought a "period of gradual exhaustion" had started for the Germans that would "prepare the way for final triumph."

The attention accorded the Middle East does not dim the importance of the great battle for control of maritime communications.

The industrial output of the United States and Great Britain will be the basic factor in the eventual defeat of the enemy.

But the axis in operations by sea and air has drastically limited distribution.

Unless maritime communications with Russia are improved, observers find it difficult to see how the Soviets can achieve an offensive in eastern Europe.

A union of German forces from Africa and Russia in Iraq or Iran would almost completely isolate Russia and India and would foreshadow a junction of the Japanese and Germans in a vast military structure.

The Nazis then would be able to transfer at least 150 divisions to western Europe.

Chances Fading For Upset In The Pennant Scramble

Roden To Play In B'Spring Tourney

Red-hot Red Roden, Glenrose stick artist, will be on hand for the 12th annual Country Club Invitational golf tournament here this weekend, it was announced Tuesday.

Fresh from a triumph in the Midland tourney and from his conquest which carried him to the semi-finals of the state junior tournament, Roden is expected to be one of the outstanding favorites in the current country club chase.

If the weather clears by mid-week, the club course is expected to be in the best shape it has ever been for any of the tournaments. Rains of the past two weeks have converted the greens into velvety surfaces and restored greencovering to the fairways.

Carl Strom, named captain of the host team in the Hall-Bennett trophy play, said Tuesday he was shaping up his team and that he had received word from W. W. (Bill) Barker, Midland, captain of the invading team, that he was doing likewise. Neither expected to complete the line-ups before Wednesday or Thursday.

With some of the better local golfers away in the service, Strom may be hard-put to line up a team that can turn back the invaders as was the case last year when Big Spring club-wielders snatched up the cup for the first time with an 8-4 victory.

Says Oil Price Must Go Up To Spur Drilling

AUSTIN, Sept. 1. (AP)—If the government wants new oil reserves three years from now, it should allow the price of crude oil to increase to a point where it will attract the wildcatter, asserts Chairman O. Thompson of the railroad commission.

The oil discovery rate three years hence depends on the present price of oil, he explained yesterday in an interview. "Raise the price of crude and you'll get explorations and a frisky play of economics and we will retain our reserves."

The chairman of the state's oil regulatory agency declared that the hearing of the senate public lands committee at Midland "showed conclusively that the little and big independent oil producers of Texas are not making any money drilling and producing oil at the present low price of crude."

Detroit Out, Pirates Due To Follow

By JUDSON BAILEY Associated Press Sports Writer.

One by one the also rans are bowing out of even a mathematical chance at the pennant as the September sprint starts in the major leagues.

The Detroit Tigers dropped by the wayside yesterday, leaving only the first division in the American division in the American League still contending with the New York Yankees. The Pittsburgh Pirates may go today, leaving the National league with the same situation, and even the Cincinnati Reds, picked for the pennant by some observers last spring, may meet their doom this week.

The Yankees took care of the disposal of Detroit with an 8-3 triumph that was Atley Donald's first over the Tigers in five years of labor in the American league.

The Pirates, within half a game of being eliminated from a pennant chance, were nosed out 5-4 in 11 innings by Brooklyn and the Dodgers have a chance to apply the finishing punch today. This boosted the Dodger lead over the St. Louis Cardinals to 3-1-2 games.

The New York Giants bagged their sixth straight conquest with 7-6 decision over the Chicago Cubs. But it took a two-run pinch single by Buster Maynard to turn the trick.

The weak-hitting Reds surprised their followers by manufacturing a five-run inning and overpowered the Philadelphia Phils 8-1 in a night game.

The Boston Red Sox kept within eight games of the yanks by setting down the St. Louis Browns 8-6, but they had to stave off a five-run rally by the Bronies in the ninth inning. Three of the tallies came on Chet Laabs' 23rd home run.

The victory went to Cecil (Tex) Hughson, giving him 18 successes and putting him in front of all pitchers in both leagues in total triumphs.

In the day's only other American league action the Chicago Philadelphia Athletics 3-1 and White Sox swept a double bill from 5-0.

Rebels Drop 18-Inning Go To Sports

By The Associated Press

The last place Dallas Rebels played their hardest game of the season against Shreveport last night, battling eighteen innings only to lose 3-2 despite the remarkable pitching of Eddie Marleau, who already had broken the Texas league record for the most games pitched during a season.

Marleau gave one of his best performances in going the full route for the Rebels and limiting the visiting Sports to seven hits in the equivalent of two full games. It was his sixty-fifth game this season.

The Houston Buffs were only a game behind the fourth-place San Antonio Missions as a result of a 1-0 win over the Oilers at Tulsa. Taking advantage of the fact that the Missions had no game scheduled, the Buffs capitalized on a two-hit pitching job by Paul Dean to score their lone run in the eighth inning—Dean drove in the run.

At Fort Worth Hank Oana lengthened his victory string to 16 at the expense of the league-leading Beaumont Exporters. The Cats won 2-1 to split the four-game series.

TODAY'S SCHEDULE:
 San Antonio at Dallas (twilight doubleheader).
 Houston at Fort Worth (twilight doubleheader).
 Beaumont at Tulsa.
 Shreveport at Oklahoma City.

Net Tournney In 3rd Round

NEW YORK, Sept. 1. (AP)—The national tennis championships began to get down to cases at Forest Hills today with a couple of promising third-round matches on tap. In one, Sidney Wood, Jr., the veteran New Yorker who won a Wimbledon championship a decade ago in short pants, ran into Alejo Russell, champion of the Argentine.

In the other, Harris Everett, former University of North Carolina star, faced Pancho Segura, the jitterbug from Ecuador.

N. M. Univ. Would Drop Scouting

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., Sept. 1. (AP)—New Mexico University suggested to its football opponents today a mutual agreement against scouting of games this fall. George White, director of athletics, said the move was made in the interest of economy during the national emergency.

School Stars Clash Tonight At Wichita

WICHITA FALLS, Sept. 1. (AP)—Speedy Bill Bowman, Burkburnett star, all-district back, replaced Stanley Williamson of Wichita Falls in the starting backfield of the North Texas team in the annual Oil Bowl classic to be played here tonight.

Williamson, slightly under the weather, probably will see some service in the game. Other North backs include Louis Burris, fullback, and Gordon Brown, halfback, Masonic Home, and Bury Baty, Paris, quarterback. Bowman will play a halfback position.

Coach Leo (Dutch) Meyer of Texas Christian, and his assistant, Ted Jefferies, North mentors, said the squad as a whole was in excellent condition.

The west backs include Marion Fianagan, Sweetwater, quarterback; Milner Thorne, Lubbock, and Mick Mason, Plainview, halfbacks, and Pete Stout, Throckmorton, fullback.

A capacity crowd of 10,000 was expected to see the game. The Maskat Temple, sponsors of the contest, reported a record had been set in advance sales.

Bobo Joins The Dodgers

NEW YORK, Sept. 1. (AP)—Brooklyn's two-tones baseball ensemble of Leo Durocher and Larry MacPhail becomes a trio today with the arrival of Louis Norman (Bobo) Newsom, one of the American league's most traveled and articulate pitchers.

Newsom, who has played for 13 clubs in eight leagues, became a Dodger yesterday just 12 hours before the world series player deadline and less than 24 hours after Manager Durocher publicly announced he wasn't worried about the St. Louis Cardinals, now only three and a half games in back of the Dodgers.

In return for Newsom the Washington Senators acquired cash and Jack Kraus.

The Newsom transfer to Brooklyn will make the third time in a Dodger uniform for the big right-hander. This year he won 11 and lost 17 with the seventh place Senators.

Thompson Leads Pros To Victory Over All-Stars

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 1. (AP)—Thomas Pryor Thompson, a slender, fast-stepping gentleman who left Tulane University three years ago to play football for cash, paid dividends for the Philadelphia Eagles—and charity—last night.

With a series of bullet-like passes, Thompson led his National league teammates to a crushing 16-8 triumph over the college all-stars in a charity game that drew an estimated 75,000 to Municipal stadium.

A 35-yard aerial from Bob Moser, Texas A. & M. star, to Fred Meyer, Stanford, gave the all-stars their only touchdown in the last 15 seconds of the first half.

Bowl Winners Start With A Skeleton Crew

CORVALLIS, Ore., Sept. 1. (AP)—The blossoms are withered, in the Rose Bowl bouquet but Oregon State's coach, Len Stiner, refuses to sob over the thorny remains of last January's 20-16 football triumph against Duke.

Eight of his 1941 starting players are missing, as are eight other lettermen. Bob Dethman and Don Durdan, his flashy halfbacks, are gone. So, too, is Quentin Greenough, his play-diagnosing center and field captain. His line is riddled from end to end and the backfield is shot at every post.

But still Stiner refuses to shed a tear.

"I won't make any predictions," he said, "but our prospects are average. We used a lot of replacements last year and the 16 returning lettermen may hold up fairly well. Only actual game conditions will answer that, but in the meantime, let's just plug along, knowing that every other school has been hard hit by losses to the military services."

Oregon State's running attack may be built around Joe Day, a hard-hitting fullback who played 43 minutes against Duke and averaged an even four yards to try in nine games last year. Choc Shelton is another fullback who was used freely last season and Stiner has a pair of lettermen for each halfback post, but only one with more than 20 minutes' playing time in the season's 600 total.

Williams Keeps A Firm Hold On Top Batting Position

NEW YORK, Sept. 1. (AP)—The American league seems about ready to concede the batting title to Ted Williams and let the National league provide most of the hitting competition as well as the pennant race for major league fans during the last month of the season.

During the last week the slender star of the Boston Red Sox maintained his .346 average while Joe Gordon of the New York Yankees slipped four points to .333.

In addition Taff Wright of the Chicago White Sox, who attained second place with a .337 mark, has been eliminated from consideration. He will be inducted into the army within a few days.

The National league, on the other hand, has a merry scrap between Pete Reiser of Brooklyn and Enos (Country) Slaughter of St. Louis in prospect.

Reiser has been ill and in a slump, skidding eight points to .328 and finally going to Johns Hopkins hospital this week for treatment. He is expected back by the end of the week and the rest may do him good but at present he is only three points ahead of Slaughter.

Football Hopefuls Of Assorted Sizes Get Down To Work

More than two score youngsters of assorted sizes with inexperience as their common denominator turned out Tuesday to grab their equipment, don sweat shirts and shorts and make the first brisk workout of what may be a fast and furious series before this week is over.

These were the boys who will make up the 1942 Star football squad. Some were big huskies, including the three returning lettermen, and several were lightweight bits of courage and determination who normally would be on the "B" squad. But this year, due to the shortage of coaches, there will be no "B" and junior squads as such, and the little boys were turning out with the roughness and toughest of the lot.

Tuesday morning Coach John Dibrill put his charges through a fast routine of loosening up exercises and tossed in a liberal amount of running for good measure. During the afternoon, there was to be a skill practice, followed by more calisthenics plus some passing and kicking, weather permitting.

Wednesday and succeeding days were to bring double workouts with a skill drill set for Wednesday night and possibly others before the week is over. By Saturday, Dibrill may be ready to let the boys get in a little body contact and mix it up.

Practically everybody Dibrill expected turned out—and some besides. There were some additions with enough size to make them possible contenders. Many of the lads had put on weight during the summer and if it doesn't turn out to be all fat, the coach can well use the added poundage.

Among those issued equipment during the morning were John Ulrey, Woody Baker, Peppy Blount, Wayne Dearing, Thomas Newton, Kenneth Rust and Bill Phillips, ends; Glenn Brown, Bob Boykin, Lee Christian, Nolan Hull, I. E. Bryan, Ed McConnell, Nolan Brunson, Gene (Laf' Dopey) Anderson, Clifton Cook, Tippy Anderson and Wesley Rogers, tackles; Darrell (Duck) Webb, Bob Coffey, Marlan Morgan, Lee Rusk, guards; Barkley Wood, Billy Bob McDonald, Benny O'Brien, centers.

Alas! No Men!
 CARTERSBURG, Ind., Sept. 1. (AP)—The girls in this town of 300 population are finding the "pickings" slim because there are only four single men in town and they're awaiting calls from draft boards.

Twenty-two Cartersburg men already try in the armed forces.

All Set for School

...but ARE They?

SUMMER vacations are over, and it's school time again. Books, pencils, lunch kits, clothes and other needs for students have been assembled. They are all set for school... but are they?

Proper light while studying is as important to your children as the right books. The right amount of glareless light safeguards their eyesight and enables them to read and study easier and faster, for they can see better.

Most homes now have desk lamps or other study lamps which are suitable for students, but here are some points to check, now that boys and girls are going back to school. Be sure to remove the diffusing bowl and lamp bulb to clean off the dust that has accumulated during the summer. Be sure the lamp has a bulb of the correct size to provide enough light. Most study lamps should have 150-watt bulbs.

Another way to increase the amount of light at small cost is to refine dark shades with white paper. Put the lamp shade on a sheet of good white paper and mark the outline as you roll it around one time. Then cut out the strip and trim to fit inside the shade, fastening it with Scotch tape. A good light and a quiet place to study make homework easier for students.

KEEP SPARE FUSES on hand to save you time and trouble if a fuse blows. First, turn off the main switch and pull the cords out of wall outlets. Then replace the blown fuse, but don't reconnect any lamps or appliances suspected of having caused the fuse to blow out until they have been repaired.

Miss Laneous Notes

By MARY WHEALEY

Maybe some people never grow up or maybe they just happen to be afflicted in some way but deep in our heart we admit we can't understand some of the miracles of civilization. Lots of inventions baffle us like radios, automobiles, and electric lights. We know how to work them but we don't understand just how they ever got to be. But in public we never mention this out loud. How ever, there's one invention that we'll never get used to and like the man who thought the horseless carriage was just a fad, we can't quite believe this product works. And that's the long distance telephone. If perchance someone calls who is just a block away, we don't think much about it but if we get a long distance call then our blood pressure goes up. The thought keeps running through our mind that the person is miles away, in another town or state and we fight being so far off probably can't hear. The further the distance the louder we shout that none of our conversation may be missed. People hold the phone away from agonized ears and call attention to the fact that there is no need to yell at them and get red-faced to be heard. But there's always a little lingering doubt that we ought to talk loud. The result is that we have no secrets and our conversations can always be heard blocks away.

Editorial --

It's Grandpa's War, Too

What has become of the old-age pension issue which used to sweep United States Senators, Representatives, and State legislators into office every year? The answer seems to be that the proponents of various social security plans for men and women of mature years have by no means abandoned objectives for which they have long contended, but that exigencies of global warfare have eliminated the immediate need for so great an amount of Government assistance. The point is, this is Grandpa's war, too. He may have done his bit in '08 or '18, but he's not going to let his grandsons—and his granddaughters—do it all this time. So Grandpa is sticking to the job—half a million grandpas, in fact. Social Security Board records at Washington indicate that although approximately 790,000 persons are eligible for old-age pensions, only about 268,000 are receiving checks. Moreover, 20,000 of those who have been receiving such pensions have written in to ask that their names be removed from the pension rolls, as they have gone to work in war industries. That's Grandpa for you! There was a time, we grant you, when Grandpa may have felt frustrated and bewildered, because there seemed to be no place for him in the busy world. Youth, youth, youth was the demand of industry keyed to a tempo of maximum demand. Then came Pearl Harbor, Johnny and the youngsters went off in uniforms, but Grandpa, his dandy up, got out his dinner pail and overalls and signed up at the employment office, then sat down and wrote the Social Security Board. Grandpa has heard of rugged individualism, and, perhaps, without realizing it was always his, he is now proving it to be his immediate possession.

Manhattan—Lanny Ross Is One Who Really Likes To Sing

By GEORGE TUCKER
NEW YORK—Lanny Ross is the sort of singer who bats out his own broadcasts, then when he's off the air, faces the audience and says, "Come on, gang, now we haven't got anything to worry about! We can relax. Let's have some fun."
The guy simply hates to stop singing. I saw this happen at a benefit broadcast for the Father Duffy Canteen, and when it was over Lanny cried, "Okay, now we're going to have some real fun—and he led the mob in mass renditions of "Deep in the Heart of Texas" and "Jingle Jangle Jingle."
Later I asked him about it, and he said, "I'm not happy when the going gets stuffy. I like it informal, in shirt sleeves."

Aside from his duties as master of ceremonies for one of the big weekly cigarette broadcasts, he kicks about the country from Army camp to Army camp, singing to the boys before he becomes one of them himself. Lanny is 3-A. "What amazes me is the tab these high ranking officers keep on their men. I mean, I am astonished at how much the officers know about the men, their individual talents and aims. One general, who has 15,000 men under his command, turned to a private who was passing, called him over and introduced him by name. He said, 'Mr. Ross, this boy has written a great song.' Imagine a general taking the trouble to learn something his men was a budding composer."
"On another trip I arrived with my tuxedo so rumpled that it looked like a fatigue uniform. I like to sing in evening clothes when I face the men, because they are tired of uniforms, and anyway, when a man is in a dinner jacket he is strictly on his own. "But my jacket was so wrinkled I knew I couldn't wear it as it was. Fortunately, a hostess learned of my plight and provided me with an electric iron. What happened to the tux? Nothing. It was the sweetest pressing job you ever saw."

"Going to army camps is a magnificent experience," Lanny Ross believes. "Scratch an entertainment officer and you'll find a

Chapter 20
THE HIDDEN MENACE
Descending to the next level they found themselves in a corridor with stuccoed walls and a cement floor. A faint examination showed nothing of special interest. More stairways and corridors and alcoves and narrow chambers. Sandy had lost count of the levels they had descended, but presently he became conscious of a breath of air against his face. He halted at once.
"Is it my imagination, or do the rest of you smell something?" "Smoke, maybe," Tyra said. "Only it is more pungent."
"Snap out your lights and let's stand here a minute."
At once they were enveloped in a darkness so complete that they could feel it pushing against them. Even their breaths seemed to come from beings outside themselves. Sandy did not know why he listened but he passed obediently. And he thought he heard a sound, far off, an echoing sound—but it was gone before he could identify it. He pressed his torch switch for the darkness had become unbearable.
"There is certainly a current of air. It could hardly come from above unless there is a system of air-shafts and that is unlikely. We didn't notice any drafts on the higher levels."
"Another thing," Gil remarked. "For being so low in these catacombs the air is surprisingly fresh."
Another flight of steps lay before them. With more than usual caution Sandy descended. At the bottom was a vestibule, but larger than many of the ones passed above. Sandy's light played upon a door space ahead. His pulse quickened. Another half dozen steps and he stood in the door itself. He peered into the darting shadows singer," he said. "You're always met by entertainment officers and they usually turn out to be men who know all about show business and can anticipate any artist's needs. They know that the piano is in good order. They take care of you and see that everything goes as it should."
What time is left from the cigarette broadcast and the Army shows are spent with his cows. Ross is a farmer at heart, he swears, and pines for the alfalfa and the corn. All available time is spent on his country place.

Hollywood Sights And Sounds—

Foreign Actress Can't Go For Temperament

By ROBBIN COONS
HOLLYWOOD— I had the unusual experience today of hearing a pretty little movie star refer to herself as a "lemon," a reference which bore out, though she wasn't aware of it, her thesis on temperamental foreign movie stars.
The actress was Martha Eggerth, Miss Eggerth is blonde and fastidious, and she sings with the high ease and lift of a bird. In European pictures she was a big star, in the days when European pictures were not devoted to Hitler propaganda, and recently she was a star in New York in the musical "Higher and Higher." In Hollywood pictures, so far, she is a very little star but quite an authority on temperamental foreign actresses.
In her two pictures here to date, "For Me and My Gal" and "Presenting Lily Mars," she has played temperamental actresses who get in the way and hair of Judy Garland.

She says she doesn't mind that, except that she wonders why foreign actresses are all supposed to be temperamental.
"You must have had some unusual foreigners here at one time to give Hollywood that impression," she says. . . . (Shades of Pola Negri, Jettie Goudal, and the other old-time exotics! Yes, they were unusual.)
"But the truth is," says Martha Eggerth, "in Europe the players never had time to be temperamental. We had to work fast. No actress could throw things, and tear her wardrobe to shreds in a fit of anger. If she did, there wouldn't be any more—and we all knew it."
"I think some foreigners get that reputation because they do not make themselves understood clearly. They do not know the language so well, and they do not understand what is said to them either."
Miss Eggerth is Hungarian-born, and married to Polish singer Jan Klepura. When Klepura made movies here some years ago he had an A-1 reputation for temperament—but Mrs. Klepura says it isn't so. "Our best friends," she declares conclusively, "are the people we work with—that should prove it, shouldn't it?"
As for Martha herself, she sang all morning in a "zyppy number," part of a stage show which Judy Garland is watching from a box. She sang and sang, for one rehearsal after another, smiling and dancing as she sang before the camera, and kept it up, fresh and bright, for the take.
"Mind it," she says. "I would like to do it a hundred times, to make it better. I would like to be treated like a—lemon. So that by the end of a day they would squeeze all the juice from me and I would have nothing more to give!"
To Martha, you see, a lemon is a citrus fruit and nothing more. A lemon is not a sour apple, a flop, a flat tire, a busted back, or a goon. Martha, with her smile and her accent; does not know the language so well. You can see how this really treated like a "lemon."

If she intended to speak again, then closed firmly.
Sandy bent again to work at the mortared slab with his machete. It had not been disturbed for a long time, he knew. Carefully he worked around the edge, chipping away at the mortar. There was an urge upon him to hurry, he did not know why.
Gil held the light. The girls stood back. There was no sound but the metal of the machete against the stone.
It was coming loose? Sandy could feel it give a little beneath his strokes. In a few minutes he could lift it out! Then he would know whether the inscription on the tablet had been true or false!
"Listen!" Tyra interrupted the silence again. "There is something!"
Sandy heard it now—an echoing sound that might be someone running through the corridors overhead, or might be rocks tumbling down a slope.
He stood up, tense, not breathing. There was menace in the air, palpable, vibrant.
The Guardians of the codex? Maybe. It didn't matter. They couldn't be caught here. He couldn't let Tyra and Helen in for God only knew what danger.
"Come on," he shouted, and started across the cavern floor.
He thought he was heading for the doorway, but all sides looked alike in the shadows. His torch played upon the wall before him and found a gap, and it was not until he had plunged through it that he realized it was not the entrance.

College-Plus War Work

By JACK STINNETT
WASHINGTON— The attention of the Capital has been called to the war effort of little College of William and Mary in historic old Williamsburg, Va., and Congress, civil service and the War and Navy departments are applauding.
William and Mary is setting a pattern which government manpower officials hope will spread to universities and colleges all over the nation.
The William and Mary war work plan, as reported by Rep. Schuyler Otis Bland, in whose district it is located, is briefly to provide that students may work three days a week in war industries and attend classes the other three days.
The plan provides a much-needed supply of first-class labor for war industry; it gives financial assistance to ambitious youngsters; and it helps the school keep up enrollment at a time when nearly all colleges are suffering from the loss of men students.
The students work in selected industries. During the summer months, some work full time. They earn about $35 a week. They live in the college dormitories and pay around $15 a week for room, board and laundry. Some students will have saved enough by fall to pay their tuition fees before they go on the three-days-a-week schedule.
Candidates must take both the college and civil service health examinations, must be at least 17 years of age, and be American citizens.
Students at William and Mary are working at the naval mine depot at Yorktown, the Newport News shipbuilding yard, and on construction jobs at Fort Eustis.

There is no academic distinction between war work students and others. The war workers naturally are unable to take as many courses as full-time students, but there is no limitation on their selection of subjects and by attending summer school they can be graduated in the regular four years. Working out this four-year course is one of the curricular masterpieces which makes H. D. Carey, director of the war work plan, justly proud of the faculty's cooperation.
The war work plan does not constitute in itself a basis for deferment from the draft, but students registered under the program are subject to the same deferment privileges as others working for college degrees.
An interesting factor is that college war workers will have the same privilege of post-war readjustment that is provided by law for full time war workers. That is, their jobs will be assured for six months after the war ends.
In addition to everything else, the plan is hailed here because it goes to the root of providing solutions to two major problems: (1) How to build up a backlog of future officer material for the armed forces, if the war is of long duration; and (2) how to get certain of a stockpile of youth for the post-war reconstruction period.
The William and Mary war work plan has been operating only a month and the college is not a large one. But it is pointed out here, the college's achievement cannot be measured in numbers. What is much more important is that it has pointed the way.

P. O. Receipts Still Soaring

Postal receipts continued to rocket during August, setting another all time record for the month. Postmaster Nat Shick reported here Tuesday.

At the same time building activity showed the faintest signs of reviving and new passenger car releases as shown by registrations were steady.

Shick said that receipts at the postoffice went up to $7,555.91 for August, a gain of $1,531 over the $5,724 shown for the same month a year ago. It was down from the record July of $8,007.05, however, but together July and August showed a $3,015 gain for the third quarter. If the rate of increase holds for September, the quarter gain will set an all-time record for the office.

Twenty-six building permits were issued during the month, totaling $4,456. The largest single permit was for $600, the smallest $35. Included were certificates for six new houses, all of them small affairs, costing an aggregate of $1,373.

New passenger car registrations totaled nine for August, which was down from the 12 in July, largest number for this year of registration and war. There is, of course, no point of comparison with a year ago.

James P. Anderson Dies; Prominent Howard Rancher

James Pettit Anderson, 77, prominent Howard county rancher and a pioneer producer of small grains in this immediate territory, succumbed at a local hospital at 9:15 p. m. Monday.

Mr. Anderson was stricken 10 days ago while walking about his ranch north of Luther and declined steadily from effects of the stroke. Born at Putnam, Ill., Mr. Anderson had spent virtually all his adult life as a stock farmer. When a young man of 24, he met and married Miss Alfretha Mapel at Tiswala, Ill. Due to illness of one of their children, they moved to Texas in December of 1909, settling at Canyon. In 1915 he moved to a ranch 20 miles northeast of here and operated it until a few years ago when he more or less retired and leased to his sons. Mr. Anderson, however, maintained his interest in farming and the raising and breeding of stock.

Perhaps impelled by the influence of his early farming in the mid-west, he lost no time in experimenting with the production of small grains here, and in some years made bountiful crops. His persistence in this venture induced others to plant wheat, rye, barley and oats, and helped in a measure to popularize them as winter cover crops.

He and Mrs. Anderson were honored by an affair in 1939 on the occasion of their golden-wedding anniversary.

Services were to be at 10:30 a. m. Wednesday at the Eberly chapel with the Rev. H. C. Smith, First Methodist pastor, in charge. Mr. Anderson was a member of the First Christian church, which has no pastor on the field currently. The First Christian church will furnish the music. Burial will be in the city cemetery.

Survivors include his wife; three daughters, Mrs. Pat Thompson, Bay City, Mrs. C. P. Sanders, Kilgore, and Mrs. Norman Spencer, Asperment; and two sons, Walter Anderson and Lawrence Anderson, both of Luther.

Casketbearers were to be Norman Smith, Lloyd Brannon, Wayne Brown, Bill Hogan, Cecil Westerman, Charlie Lawrence, Sam Buchanan, and Akin Simpson.

It's Second War Of Sergeant At Glider School

One war is not enough for Staff Sgt. Edward C. Clifford, 41-year-old student in the Big Spring U. S. Pre-Glider school.

In World War I, Sgt. Clifford arrived in France about the time the Armistice was signed and went with the army of occupation into Germany. After several months there, he was sent back to the states in 1919 and liked army life so well that he enlisted for another hitch.

It took only about a month for him to get back into the fight, for Clifford signed for his third enlistment at Albany, not far from his home in Schenectady, N. Y. in January of this year.

A private first class, he was able recently to transfer to the glider program, despite his age, probably because of his aeronautical experience. Sgt. Clifford held a private pilot's commercial license for 12 years and is a flying enthusiast.

His experience has counted much since he has been here, for he has acted in the capacity as squadron commander. He had his choice of becoming either a liaison service pilot or a glider pilot. It didn't take an old warhorse long to make up his mind.

City, County Buy Colorado Building For Joint Use

COLORADO CITY, Sept. 1.—Colorado City and Mitchell county officials announced this week the purchase by the city and county of the Herrington building on the corner of First and Elm streets in Colorado City. Mayor J. A. Sadler and the county officials negotiated the purchase through H. M. Roper, administrator of the H. N. Beakley estate. Purchase price was $8,000 cash.

The building, a one-story brick structure, was erected at an original cost of $65,000 and covers 24,500 square feet of floor space. It was built and first occupied by the A. J. Herrington auto agency and farm stock shows, and other community enterprises. A lounge for visiting shoppers will be furnished and opened when the building is ready to be occupied.

The purchase was pointed out as an economy move as the plan for its use included the housing of the county board and office, an indoor exhibit building for community fairs and farm stock shows, and other community enterprises. A lounge for visiting shoppers will be furnished and opened when the building is ready to be occupied.

Postoffice Opens At Air Base

Operating in temporary quarters in a section of post headquarters, the Big Spring air base postoffice opened for business for the first time Tuesday.

Hardly had James F. Howard, clerk in charge, made available a stock of stamps and money orders than soldiers began availing themselves of the service. Pvt. Edward J. Caservia was the first to take out a money order, and before the morning was over, Howard reported many more had followed.

Postmaster Nat Shick said that the office would operate in the temporary location until the regular postoffice building is opened. Regular hours will be from 8 a. m. to 12 noon and from 1 p. m. to 5 p. m.

Soldier Vote Free Of Tax

WASHINGTON, Sept. 1. (AP)—House conferees agreed today to senate amendments to the soldiers' absentee vote bill, including a controversial provision exempting members of the armed services from payment of poll taxes required by some southern states.

Senator Green (D-Rio), chairman of the joint conference group appointed to reconcile differences between the senate and house bills, said the house conferees voted to accept all senate amendments over the protest of Representative Rankin (D-Miss.).

As it left the senate, the bill not only waived the poll tax payment by soldiers and their families, but also required that extended the absentee voting privilege to voters and general elections for senators, representatives and presidential electors.

A third amendment, extending the absentee voting privilege to members of the armed services, men and women, serving outside the United States, likewise was approved, Green said.

The army and navy had contended that insurmountable legal difficulties would impede the bill's passage and enable the enemy to learn locations of enemy troops.

Yanks To Stage A Dress Parade

LONDON, Sept. 1. (AP)—United States armed forces in Great Britain will parade through London tomorrow for the first time since the A. E. F. landed in Britain. About 350 soldiers, sailors and marines are to be received by the lord mayor of London at a luncheon and official municipal welcome at the Guildhall.

Soldier Convicted Of Manslaughter

WITH THE UNITED STATES ARMY IN NORTHERN IRELAND, Sept. 1. (AP)—A United States military court convicted Private William E. Davis of Cleburne, Tex., today of manslaughter in the fatal knifing of a British soldier in a dance hall brawl and sentenced him to eight years' imprisonment.

Gardening Pays If You Know How; Walter Bishop Is One To Prove It

Folks who have tribulations with their Victory gardens ought to take a lesson from Walter Bishop, one of those grand old fellows who has the knack for inducing a dead stick grow and make a profit.

Mr. Bishop, for a quarter of a century a farmer-rancher, came to town back in the early '30's, victim of a depression that wrung from him the accumulations of a lifetime for want of a paltry thousand dollars at the right time. Friends pleaded with him to take bankruptcy, salvage what he could and at least come clear. But not Walter Bishop.

"I didn't buy anything in bankruptcy court," he said, "and I am not aiming to pay it back there."

Maybe that's another story, but that's why he came to town. At the meeting, organizational in its nature. It will be at the city hall.

Navy Recruit Drive Goes On

Having assurance that the August quota of 108 men had been exceeded substantially, U. S. Navy recruiters warmed up Tuesday for another big drive for September.

Monday there were 21 applicants, and 12 were accepted and cleared for enlistment at Dallas — all counting on the September quota. The office Tuesday was a beehive of activity.

S. L. Cooke, recruit in charge, said that there had been a marked increase in the number of young men between the ages of 18 and 21 who are taking advantage of the navy's trade school opportunities. Since there is no assurance that these openings will continue to be held open, many are enlisting now, he said.

At the present time, the Big Spring district has its greatest backlog of 18-21 year old men on file, and more are applying daily.

Accepted Monday were Gerald Dean Mabry, Lamesa; Charles Franklin Spencer, Lamesa; John Howard Wood, Odessa; Wayne Betha Turney, Big Spring; Bill J. Holden, Odessa; all for V-6 (general service); O. C. Alvin Mauls, Lamesa, V-6 (hospital apprentice 2c); Fred Monroe Williams, Odessa; Thomas Lawrence Bowen, Hermleigh, and Ira Odie Lawman, Hermleigh, all for V-3 (aviation groundwork).

James Odie Casey, Hermleigh; James David Smith, Big Spring, and James Marion Tidwell, Big Spring, all enlisted for V-5 (aviation cadet). These, however, do not count toward quotas.

Former Teacher Here Receives Doctor's Degree

DENTON, Sept. 1.—Thomas E. Pierce, director of elementary education of the Big Spring public schools, 1935-38, has been notified by the Teachers College of Columbia University that he has been granted the doctor of education degree.

Now director of the Texas State College for Women demonstration school, Dr. Pierce completed his residential work in 1940-41, his dissertation project being, "Organization of a Laboratory Elementary School for TSCW." The demonstration school work is being shaped on the basis of this study.

Scrap Drive Must Improve, Says WPB Man

In an effort to stimulate more enthusiasm and response to the scrap collection campaign, Louis Huff, district war production board representative, spent Tuesday here contacting leaders in the salvage drive.

Frankly critical of the response Big Spring has made thus far, Huff spent the morning with E. J. McDaniel, chairman, and other members of the salvage committee, seeking to map out plans to inject new force to the collection.

Huff declared that the job was far more important than most could realize and said that it was vital that every bit of scrap be gathered as quickly as possible.

He was contacting dealers during the afternoon, urging them to seek more from sellers. One dealer, C. L. Rowden, 304 Young street, said he was renewing his bids for scrap, and was particularly anxious to buy scrap rubber.

Draft Calls To Be Balanced Between Various Localities

WASHINGTON, Sept. 1. (AP)—Maj. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey today instructed state selective service directors to arrange induction calls so that married men would not be drafted in some localities while single men were still uncalled in others.

The selective service director said state officials should arrange their calls on local boards "so as to place the heaviest load right now on boards having the most single men, or men with collateral dependents only."

Hershey's memorandum to state directors also instructed local boards to complete by Oct. 16 the initial classification of all registrants.

This speed-up must be made, he said, because "the serious military situation" requires that the selective service system be prepared to fill calls in 1943 which "will be equal to or in excess of the monthly calls made in August, September, and October of this year."

This procedure, Hershey added, will tend to level off inductions with "the ultimate objective of calling men from the small town and from the city on an approximately uniform basis."

Hershey reiterated a selective service policy to "follow the order of dependency deferments" established in the dependents allowance act.

Registrants having wives and children, or children alone, with whom a "bonafide home" is maintained, and who were married before Dec. 8, 1941, at a time when selection for service was not imminent, will not be placed in class I-A, available for immediate induction, Hershey assured.

He declared, however, that as
