SENATE PROBE GOES BACK TO OLD RECORDS
By United Press
WASHINGTON, Jan. 10.—The senate munitions committee today sought to learn from portly 68-year-old J. P. Morgan whether chief responsibility for lifting an American embargo on loans to the allies should be placed on his firm or the Wilson administration.
Morgan denied vigorously that J. P. Morgan & Co. had manipulated foreign exchange rates in 1915 to force the government to lift the loan ban.
He sat silent, however, when committee members placed in the records a memorandum from Secretary of State Robert Lansing to President Woodrow Wilson.
The document was intended to support a committee contention the wartime administration placed greater weight on maintenance of an American war boom in exports than on continuing a policy of neutrality.
"The record shows that Mr. Lansing and Mr. William Gibbs McAdoo, secretary of the treasury, believed our export interests were superior to any consideration of neutrality," said Senator Bennett Clark, Dem., Mo.

ETHIOPIANS ARE ATTACKING ON ALL FRONTS
By United Press
DESSYE, Ethiopia, Jan. 10.—Ethiopian warriors, their fury at white heat after months of restraint, are attacking Italians on all fronts, reports to Emperor Haile Selassie's war headquarters indicated today.
Helped by rains pouring weeks before they were due, the warriors are reported to be attacking at every possible point, hoping to break the Italian morale, which is believed here to be below par.
For weeks the Italians have made no advance, while Ethiopian bands have constantly attacked outposts at night.
Reports to headquarters today told of an Ethiopian annihilation of an Italian tank and machine gun detachment on the far southern front in which many Italian killed and one officer captured. The reports said Ethiopians used tanks and these are believed the ones captured long ago and recon-ditioned for use against the Ital-ians.

NO CHANGES ARE MADE IN ORIGINAL BILL
Senate Expected To Take Vote On United Front Bill Next Week.
By United Press
WASHINGTON, Jan. 10.—Over-whelming support swept the $3,500,000,000 united front cash bonus bill to the House passage today, one week after convening of the second session of the 74th congress.
The house approved the bill by a vote announced as 355 to 69. It was one of the largest pro-bonus totals ever rolled up in the chamber.
The measure now goes to the senate, where bonus leaders are racing with neutrality advocates in an effort to bring it to a vote before the end of next week.
If President Roosevelt vetoes the bill, repassage over the veto is expected by bonus adherents.
The final vote came after supporters of the bill, which is intended to settle finally the bonus issue after 17 years of congressional strife, beat down efforts of Rep. Allen Treadway, Rep., Mass., to provide payment of the bonus from unexpended or unallocated emergency relief appropriations.
The vote to reject Treadway's motion was 319 to 89.
Republicans and Democrats united as the bill was shoved along to passage. It was untouched and unchanged by amendments.
It carries an authorization for full and immediate cash payments of veterans' certificates. It does not specify how the money shall be raised to pay them. Proponents say the bill will require only $1,000,000,000 in additional cash outlay.
Inflation forces took up the battle to force payment through issuance of new currency against huge gold reserves now in the treasury. Rep. Wright Patman, Democrat, Texas, one of the sponsors of the united front bill is leading the currency expansion battle.

Water Becomes A Barter Medium In Gold Field Towns
By United Press
SYDNEY, N. S. W.—One of the freakish results of the excessive drought in Central Australia is that water is being used as a form of currency in the gold fields.
For example, for a carpentering job at Tennants' Creek 80 gallons of water was the "sum" given in payment.
The spectacle of townpeople arriving from Tennants' Creek at dusk at the well seven miles out with water vessels, blankets and rugs so that they may be among the first to draw on the overnight soakage has become a daily phase of gold field life.
Each day with the drawing of several thousand gallons the well runs dry, but replenishes at night sufficiently to supply the early arrivals with their requirements.
The well is the only source of good drinking water within a radius of 50 miles, all the water-holes having dried up months ago.
In six months, Tennants' Creek has had only one fall of rain. Feverish attempts by the department to find water by boring have produced an abundant supply of brackish water so heavily charged with salts that it is not even suitable for washing purposes.
Four boring plants are operating at Tennants' Creek, one being privately owned and the others government owned. One of the government plants is equipped to sink at a depth of 2,000 feet and is carrying on the quest for water right in the town.

The changes were retroactive to 7 a. m. yesterday. The new prices for West Texas were Crane-Upton, 80 cents; Ward-Winkler-Pecos and Ector, 85 cents.

Townsend Plan Is Worrying Solons
AUSTIN.—The political phase of Dr. Townsend's old age pension plan is beginning to worry legislators from some of the larger counties, where it may be used as a campaign issue by office seekers.
Fred Harris, fiery Dallas representative, believes 50 Townsend clubs have been formed in that city alone.
Most of the club members are 60 years old or more and get a vote without the necessity of having a poll tax payment.
"My biggest trouble," complained Harris, "is to show them that the state legislature has nothing to do with the Townsend plan."

Diplomats Defeated by Own 'Peace Plan'

If you can imagine the emotions of the village atheist, who mounts his soapbox to invite God to strike him dead and is promptly obliged by a thunderbolt which knocks him over into the horse trough, you may be able to figure out how such diplomats as Pierre Laval and Sir Samuel Hoare are feeling these days.

These men summoned the League of Nations lightning down the skies. They didn't really want to hit anything with it, but they had a little job to put over and some off-stage thunder would help a good deal.

But it turned out to be real, sure-enough lightning, when they got it, and they are still wondering just how it all happened. And neither of them will ever be the same again.

This whole business of the League of Nations peace plan and what happened to it is one of the most significant things that the world has experienced in a good many years. The common people are accustomed to being taken for a ride by their diplomats; here, for just about the first time, they have reversed the process.

The plain fact is that British imperialism sought to use the league for its own purposes, and did so with an hypocrisy that would be astounding if diplomatic hypocrisy were not such an old story.

These Tory diplomats cared not a fig about Ethiopia or the rights of small nations. They were out to keep Mussolini from muscling in on a fat British racket, and the league looked like a handy instrument. Since this sort of game was dear to the hearts of the French, they took a hand, too.

So these statesmen presented the common people of the world with a great moral issue. They waved the flag of international justice, turning back their cuffs so that they could reach out beneath them to pull the proper strings; and after they figured the thing had gone far enough, they slipped the loaded dice into the game and prepared for the killing.

And then the whole thing flew up and hit them in the face.

The "peace plan" by which Mussolini would have been given two-thirds of Ethiopia in return for putting his gun away, was just too raw for the world to swallow.

Plain people everywhere—in England, in France, and in innumerable smaller nations—got up on their hind legs and announced that this particular bit of chicanery was out.

For the ordinary people, who are sick to death of wars, take this league seriously. They want to see the law of the jungle replaced by something saner and decenter, and they have at last found a way to do it.

They are capable of more intelligent, altruistic action than their rulers ever demand of them; and this impractical and idealistic League of Nations may yet be turned into one of mankind's most precious possessions.

Suing for divorce, a radio singer says she saw her husband twice in the three years they were married. She should have hidden his golf clubs.

There seems to be many men in public life who are always trying to appear as crusaders on an expedition to slay an imaginary monster.

SISTER MARY'S KITCHEN

BY MARY E. DAGUE
SEA Service Staff Writer

THE other day at a luncheon the hostess served popovers filled with creamed lobster and every woman there begged for the recipe. Probably because it was a relief to get away from the stereotyped patty shell.

Popovers make good substitutes for cream puff shells, too. You fill them with fruit mixed with whipped cream or with the usual English cream filling and serve with coffee.

Tomorrow's Menu

BREAKFAST Oranges, cereal, cream, rice waffles with syrup, milk, coffee.

LUNCHEON Popovers filled with creamed dried beef, tomato salad, apple ginger pudding, milk, tea.

DINNER Rabbit and bacon pie, creamed Jerusalem artichokes, escalote and cucumber salad, date pudding, milk, coffee.

Popovers

One cup milk, 2 eggs, 1 cup flour, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1 tablespoon melted butter.

Sift flour into mixing bowl. Add eggs and milk and salt and beat with a Dover beater for five minutes. Add melted butter and beat about a minute longer. Put 2 tablespoons batter in each custard cup and bake forty minutes in a hot oven (400 degrees F.).

Perhaps the luncheon menu my hostess served will appeal to your guests, too, so here it is:

Creamed lobster in popovers. Fresh vegetable salad in lettuce cups, tiny whole wheat rolls, olives and pickles, paradise cream, coffee.

Paradise Cream

One tablespoon granulated gelatin, 1 cup cold milk, 1-2 cup powdered sugar, 1 cup blanched almonds, 1 cup candied cherries, 1 dozen marshmallows, 1 pint whipping cream, few grains salt, 1-2 teaspoon vanilla.

Heat 1-4 cup milk and add marshmallows. Let stand while mixing pudding. Soften gelatin in remaining cold milk. Stir over hot water until dissolved. Add to marshmallows with sugar, nuts coarsely chopped, cherries cut in quarters, salt, vanilla and cream whipped until firm. Turn into a mold and let stand in refrigerator for twenty-four hours. Unmold and serve with a garnish of whipped cream and whole cherries.

Creamed Lobster

Two cups lobster meat, 3 tablespoons butter, 2 tablespoons flour, 1 cup milk, 1-2 cup cream, 1 teaspoon salt, 1-8 teaspoon pepper, 2 tablespoons sherry, yolk 2 eggs.

Melt butter without discoloring and stir in flour. Cook and stir until bubbly and gradually add milk and cream, salt and pepper. Cook and stir until boiling. Beat egg yolks with sherry and add with lobster meat to sauce. Cook until thick and hot, stirring all the time, but do not let boil again. Serve in popover shells with a sprig of parsley topping each.

Wedges of tomato, cubes of cucumber, thin slices of radishes, wide slices of celery and an occasional paper-thin slice of onion combine to make a refreshing salad for a January luncheon. Serve with a well seasoned French dressing.

New transports are being built by the company to go into service soon. They are designed to carry 24 passengers as day planes and 16 passengers as sleepers. The new planes per hour and each will weigh 24,000 pounds.

Music As Art Called Waning

By United Press

PARIS. — Real music is an art is almost finished, in the opinion of Reynaldo Hahn, well known French composer and orchestra leader, who has recently completed a new opera and a new ballet, as well as having just published a long volume of his memoirs.

"This is the beginning of the end," said Hahn, as he strode nervously up and down his study. "Music as an art is dying and won't be born again for another century. The public of today does not know what it wants. Critics of today are ignorant and lack all sincerity."

McCollum lives on tight land on which the run-off is excessive. His plan was to "checkerboard" his field by cross furrows every 10 to 12 feet. These furrows were made by removing the wings on his single row lister and the soil was plowed to a depth of eight to 10 inches.

FRANKLIN—"As sweet as taffy" was the phrase used by Bassett Davis, Robertson county farmer, in describing sweet potatoes taken from his kiln and cooked for a recent meal, according to V. L. Sandlin, county agricultural agent.

Davis had graded, packed in crates, and cured 200 bushels of No. 1 sweet potatoes. His curing house is made of oak logs, cut from the farm, and mud chinking, and is equipped with a small wood stove to supply heat for drying.

The curing process has just been completed and required keeping the temperature of the house at 80 degrees for 13 days.

Aviation Forsee More Progress in The Coming Year

CHICAGO.—American aviation enters 1936 with a bright outlook. Recovered from the shock of losing airmail contracts in 1934, and stimulated by mechanical improvements and intense competition, the industry has made long strides during the past 12 months, a survey discloses.

"More passengers and express were carried by the four major lines in 1935 than ever before in history," W. A. Patterson, president of the United Airlines, said.

Nearly half a million travelers were carried by the four major transport companies during the year, the survey shows. Planes of the American Airways, Transcontinental-Western Air, United Airlines and Northwest Airways flew approximately 36,896,000 miles over domestic routes extending from coast to coast.

Meanwhile the Pan-American airlines blazed new trails across the Pacific.

China Clipper Writes History

One of the outstanding accomplishments in last year's commercial aviation history was the spectacular flight of the China Clipper inaugurating regular service from the United States to Honolulu, Midway Island, Wake Island, Guam and Manila.

An example of the progress in the domestic aviation field was the report of the United Air Lines. Their planes flew an estimated 15,000,000 miles, or 30 per cent of all of the passenger miles flown in the country during the year, as compared with 13,608,659 miles in 1934.

Revenue passengers totaled 185,000 as compared with 147,139 last year.

The company carried 6,600,000 pounds of air mail as compared with 3,245,742 last year. Last year, however, the company carried no mail from Feb. 19 to May 8 because of the cancellation of contracts by the Post Office Department.

Air express tonnage showed nearly a 100 per cent increase over a year ago. During 1925, 900 tons were carried as compared with 547 a year ago.

Lines Reduce Fares

During the year the company spent $1,500,000 for modernizing its equipment. United, along with other companies, reduced fares during the year.

During 1935 all major air lines plan to offer transportation books enabling travelers to save, from 15 to 20 per cent on fares.

American Airways reported an increase of approximately 80 per cent in passengers during 1935 as compared with 1934.

Planes of the company flew an approximate total of 11,600,000 miles, carrying 185,000 passengers.

During October the company carried 17,854 passengers, ap-

"Why do people go to hear Toscanini conduct a concert?" he expostulated. "I know that Toscanini is one of the world's greatest musicians, but does the public know it? Of course not, the public attends because everyone says he is good, although they don't really appreciate him."

"This is a great century for money," he continued. "It is a great century of sport, which is electricity, for mechanics and for science, but it is not a great century for music. Because the world has gone scientific and mechanical, people think they must like ugly and complicated music."

Hahn was equally explosive regarding "mechanical music."

"You must see music, feel music and get the atmosphere of music really to appreciate and get the most out of it. You can get the sound from a phonograph or a radio, but you don't get the real thing. The radio is fine for educational purposes, I suppose, but it is causing the decay of the concert and the theatre. Real music will start up again in about 100 years, when people have become more used to scientific and mechanical things and can again genuinely appreciate and understand real music."

Hahn, a Venezuelan by birth, has lived in France since he was a child of two and has become a naturalized French citizen. A student of Massenet, Hahn has been composing since he was a small boy. When he was only 23 his "Nuits d'Amour Bergamasque" was played at one of the Concerts Colonne in Paris. His musical career was interrupted during the four years in which the composer saw active service in the war, but since then he has been working constantly.

His most recent work is an opera, "Le Oui des Jeunes Filles," from Moratin's book. The music for this opera was written in collaboration with Rene Fauchois. He has just composed a ballet with Abel Hermant, contemporary French author, which will be given shortly at the Paris Opera House.

Taylor Recital Brilliant Success

The recital by students of Mrs. A. F. Taylor, assisted in their program by the glee clubs of the Junior High and South Ward Schools, presented Tuesday night in high school auditorium was a brilliant success both from a musical and artistic viewpoint.

The stage was massed in ferns and begonias, with tall floor baskets of chrysanthemums by the grand piano, colorful in a Spanish shawl drape.

A living-room setting furnished the stage. Mrs. Taylor made a pleasing introduction to the program, and the glee clubs, totaling 80 young girls presented their choruses, in delight and rhythmic harmony to a most appreciative audience.

The program was given as published in the Telegram, and all piano solos were exceptionally well played.

Hand-made programs were distributed by Joyce Newman, Josephine Murphy, Anne Jane Taylor, Ruby Lee Pritchard, and Katherine White, in pretty evening frocks, and who also ushered the patrons.

In spite of the inclement weather there was a very good attendance.

Stunt Night Tonight Those who haven't entered the list of stunts for the stunt show tonight at high school auditorium are surely missing a good opportunity to put their talent across, or to have their club represented, on a program that promises to be of diversified attractiveness.

Some 20 entries have been made to date, but there is still room for pleasing introduction to the program, and the glee clubs, totaling

Local Movie Stars As Film Actors

Local people impersonating movie stars—can you? You can now tell, this may be your opportunity—some of the screen's most prominent names got their start by winning beauty and talent contests in their home town.

Clara Bow was a Brooklyn contest winner. Joan Crawford received her first part by sending in a photograph, and Kathleen Burke won the coveted "Panther Woman" part by means of a nationally conducted contest. It will be recalled by movie fans that Joan Blondell received her start to fame by a contest sponsored by the Dallas Dispatch.

All Eastland people who resemble any movie star are invited by W. D. Patton, contest manager, to take part in this "Gala Premiere." It will be presented at the Saturday night at the Connellee Theatre at 11:00 p. m. in conjunction with the feature picture. A reception will be held in front of the Connellee at 10:30 p. m. of the same night. Following the reception, with the impersonators being presented and greeting the crowd over the "mike" they will appear on the stage of the Connellee in entertainment all their own.

GLASSES OF WATER!

Suppose someone threw a glass or two of water on your walls and furniture every hour. Literally, this happens in your home if you are troubled with "sweating" walls during the heating season.

All air contains some moisture and "sweating" walls are caused by too much moisture in the air of the room. Water vapor is exhaled by everyone at each breath and additional water vapor is given off by the fuel as it burns in your heating appliances. The water vapor from these sources combines with the moisture already present in the atmosphere and when the room air reaches a super-saturated condition the excess moisture or "sweat" collects on walls, doors, furniture and other cold surfaces.

"Sweating" walls are most commonly experienced in homes that use open flame types of individual room heaters exclusively but fail to provide adequate ventilation. This type of equipment is rarely vented to a flue and all the water vapor from the burning fuel is expelled into the room air. The unvented open flame heater is practical for quick heat in one room and can be used with great satisfaction if sufficient ventilation and circulation of air is provided to keep the room air from becoming over-loaded with moisture.

Moving air favors evaporation and helps prevent heat stagnation by keeping the temperature within normal limits. Therefore, open the window nearest the heater in each room slightly at the top and bottom. Keep connecting doors open so that a natural circulation of pure warmed air prevails throughout the house. With these simple and healthful methods of winter air-conditioning you will be able to reduce "wall sweating" to a minimum.

For your health's sake, and to obtain the greatest value from the fuel you are using, heat your entire house during the short winter season and provide adequate ventilation.

room. Aunt Ellen's blue eyes looked as though they were being perpetually washed with tears. It was easy enough to understand why Aunt Ellen looked unhappy. She believed romance had reality, when really it was only a trap. But why should Nancy who had so much to profit from this marriage withdraw from the plans with such cold hostility?

Her traveling cases were packed. Her traveling outfit was on a hanger. Hat, gloves, the new pocketbook, daintily outfitted, were on the bed.

An orchid shoulder bouquet was in the icebox. A big, beautiful one. But not bigger or more beautiful than the one Scott had sent on that other wedding day.
She wished Ronnie had sent something else—anything but orchids. But then she couldn't have known that orchids were going to make her miserable Aunt Ellen and almost caught her splashing tears all over Ronnie's orchids.

Nancy would probably smile
cynically when she pinned them
on her shoulder.

It was 5 o'clock now. Just
5. The hours seemed leaden.
Not even sighted fires, recklessly blazing all over the house and the prodigal waste of electricity
were bringing a cheerful aspect.
She would feel differently, perhaps, if Nancy were friendly, if the place, and if Ronnie were here.

He was so dear and considerate. When she was with him, some of her doubts fell away.

"Dana, dear, Miss Burton has come. Are you ready for the manicure?"

Aunt Ellen opened the door and put her gray head in.
Then she closed the door behind her quickly: "Dana, you're crying!"

"It's a cold, Aunt Ellen."

"I guess I know tears when I see them." Aunt Ellen answered with surprising spirit. Her own tears fell on Dana's bright hair,
as she took her niece in her arms.

"Dana, there's something I want to tell you."

But her words were interrupted. Mrs. Cameron had opened the door. "Dana, here is Miss Burton."

Aunt Ellen had whisked a handkerchief from somewhere and dabbed Dana's cheeks quickly, and then her own.

"So this is the little lady who's getting married?" Miss Burton's eyes were fixed, admirably, on Dana. "Ready, dear?"

"Yes, I'm ready," Dana answered stately.

Miss Burton was fussing busily with her paraphernalia, keeping up a constant stream of conversation that scarcely pricked Dana's abstraction.

"Sorry to be late," Miss Burton said, "but I had a hard customer. She wanted a deep red and then when I was on, she decided she wanted pale pink."

"I suppose you do have some irritating people," Dana said.

The Newfangles (Mom 'n' Pop)

By Cowen

"From 1932 to date, the fundamental problems of agriculture have not changed other than to become more malignant," Dr. Cox asserted. "I grant you that because of dollar devaluation, government bonuses, and some other measures, most farmers, especially land owner producers of the so-called 'political crops' are temporarily better off than they were,
and that the bracing effects of these 'shots in the arm' will last for a little while longer. On the other hand, the agricultural industry as practiced in the United States is fundamentally much sicker than in 1932 because of a loss of world markets, so-called social legislation, and the stimulus of synthetic fiber production caused by attempts at artificial price boosting.

"The basic modern agricultural problems have developed out of the commercialization of agriculture and the fact that most agricultural products have become industrial raw materials. The beginnings of modern agricultural problems, therefore, date with the advent of the industrial revolution. It was the inventions underlying the industrial revolution which made the factory system possible.

"Commercial cotton production
not only paved the way for regional specialization of production in the United States, but the perpetuation of specialized cotton production or cash crop substitutes on an undiminished scale is essential to prevent the collapse of our system of production on its present scale. This cannot be done for some time, at any rate, without the restoration of foreign markets for American cotton to the extent of more than 50 per cent of our raw cotton production."

Dr. Cox described the trends of agriculture during the last several years including the mechanization of industrial revolution, the transformation from subsistence to commercial production, development of synthetic production and other phases.

"Agricultural planning in the United States is not a theory; it is a necessity. Unfortunately, planning in the minds of many means more or less regimentation
and, if that is what it means, then
I want as little of it as possible.
On the contrary, constructive planning for agriculture does not and should not destroy individual incentive and initiative; it should rather be directed toward making these more effective and to increase opportunities. Correct planning should be concerned with eliminating the necessity for government interference rather than hatching new schemes for control.
The care of correct planning is in making possible action based on intelligently interpreted facts.
Farmers as well as men in trade and industry will use data intelligently when research agencies provide intelligible facts. With all

Solution Of The Farm Problem Is Urged By Speaker

MINERAL WELLS, Jan. 10.—
With the Agricultural Adjustment program of the United States government finally disposed of by the recent decision of the United States Supreme Court, solution of the agricultural problem must be considered along lines which will not involve restriction of crop production, it was declared by Dr. A.
B. Cox, internationally known agricultural economist and director of the Bureau of Business Research at the University of Texas,
in an address here today before the Texas Agricultural Workers association, in convention assembled. He said that curtailment of production is a step toward subsistence farming, and that dries up markets.

"The supreme court has killed
what I believed to be a detrimental piece of legislation, but that has not solved the agricultural problem," Dr. Cox said.

He advocated regional agricultural planning as part of a program for betterment of farm conditions.

INSTANTLY YOU CATCH COLD DO THESE 2 THINGS

1. Take 2 BAYER Aspirin Tablets. Make sure you get the BAYER Tablets you ask for.
2. Drink a full glass of water. Repeat treatment in 2 hours.

Instead of using fancy priced "cold remedies" try the new-day cold treatment pictured here. Your own doctor will approve it. It will start easing the average cold or sore throat almost as fast as you caught it.

The Bayer Aspirin you take will start combating your cold internally at once; if throat is sore, crush and stir 3 Bayer Aspirin Tablets in a third of a glass of water; gargle twice. Do not rinse mouth.

When you buy, though, be sure to get real Bayer Aspirin.

Save Your Eyes with I.E.S. Approved Lamps

FLOOR LAMPS
These lamps serve two purposes. They give a good light for reading, and yet are tall enough to provide general illumination throughout the room.
$9.95 up

Lounge Lamps
Lounge Lamps, sometimes called "floor reading lamps," are not as tall as floor lamps, for they are designed to be placed by a chair or lounge to provide the proper light for reading. These lamps have translucent glass bowls which prevent glare.
$6.45 up

Study Lamps
Reading-Study Lamps are like the lounge lamps, except they are designed to be placed on tables, desks or low stands to give the lamp the same height from the floor as the lounge reading lamp.
$5.95

Penny Wise Says:
"Good light is one of the cheapest household expenses. On your low electric rate, the difference between Good Lighting and poor lighting amounts only to a few cents an evening."

Read in Bed... If You Have a Good Light

Don't be afraid to read in bed if you have the right kind of light. The old idea that reading in bed is harmful to the eyes was based on the lack of suitable light, free from glare and contrasting shadows.

Read in bed to your heart's content if you have a new Better Sight lamp, either a reading-study lamp or a lounge lamp. The translucent glass bowl removes glare and at the same time throws a portion of the light to the ceiling to give a general illumination throughout the room to make seeing easier and reduce eye strain.

"Ah Wilderness!" Poignant Story Of Family Life

"Ah Wilderness!" Eugene O'Neill's great stage drama, brought to the screen in elaborate form by Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer, is the current attraction at the Connellee Theatre.

A smashing triumph for both Wallace Beery, who stars as the lovable, alcoholic, Uncle Sid, and Lionel Barrymore, who plays the father role enacted on the stage by George M. Cohan and the late Will Rogers, "Ah Wilderness!" tells the story of an American family in an intensely human manner and with characters every person in the audience can recognize.

There is hilarious comedy in it, charming romance of both youth and middle age, and moments of dynamic drama that holds the audience in its spell. In it O'Neill has brought to the screen a great American drama, and a literal cross-section of American life.

Barrymore rises to dramatic heights in the scene where he tells his son what every father must inevitably tell his boy on the threshold of manhood. Beery's love moments with Aline MacMahon add poignant pathos to a genial comedy characterization.

Head Stars, Songs, Drama Picture

About the love drama of these three—Warner Baxter, Mona Barrie and Alice Faye—the gay new Fox picture, "King of Burlesque," weaves its colorful story. It has a dozen stars and a dozen tantalizing song hits. At Connellee today and Saturday.

The youthful romance is charmingly carried out by Eric Linden and Cecelia Parker, and Mickey Rooney, Spring Byington, Charles Grapewin, Frank Albertson, Edward Nugent, Bonita Granville and Helen Flint are others who deserve mention for excellent performances.

Brown, with his famous human touches, and the splendid photography by Clyde De Vinna add greatly to the human charm and dramatic appeal of the picture. Its quaint location scenes in the New England town of Grafton, Mass., its Fourth of July celebration, its high school graduation and other slices of typical American life add a striking reality to the production.

Baxter Plays Romance Lead In Musicomedy

"No pretty faces for me. I've seen them all my life. What I want is something with class!"

As a master purveyor of entertainment in his role in "King of Burlesque," now at the Connellee Theatre, Warner Baxter utters that speech, before he launches into the search for "better things." Assisted by his two faithful friends, Jack Oakie and Alice Faye, Baxter has cut a swath in the theatrical world, rising from a 14th Street burlesque, to become a producer of Broadway extravaganzas.

But when lovely Mona Barrie of Park Avenue proves responsive to his suit, Baxter forgets all his old friends in the pursuit of the elusive beauty.

Two Brothers-in-Law Enjoy a Laugh

Wallace Beery and Lionel Barrymore head a distinguished cast in the film transcription of Eugene O'Neill's great American play, "Oh Wilderness!" which comes to the Connellee theatre Sunday. Treating of the heartbreaks and aughter which occur in the bosom of a typically American middle-class family, the drama has been transferred to the screen under the distinguished direction of Clarence Brown.

Of course there are surprises and disappointments for Baxter in the absorbing drama which culminates, surprisingly enough, with a romantic attachment between himself and Miss Faye.

Prominent members of the supporting cast include Fat Waller, sepia songster; Dixie Dunbar, Nick Long, Jr., Kenny Baker and the Paxton Sisters, dance specialists.
