BONUS BILL DEBATE BEGUN IN HOUSE TODAY

GILBERT AFTER A NG ILLNESS

By United Press
WOOD, Jan. 9.—John Gilbert, 35, died today in his home after a long illness. He was a member of the film colony. A rescue squad of a fire department was called in an effort to spark a life in his effort failed. Gilbert died from heart dis-

Case From Eastland Appellate Court In Which Student Seeks Recovery of School Fees Gets Higher Court Study

AUSTIN, Jan. 9.—An unusual breach of contract suit in which a college student seeks to recover tuition fees on grounds of fraud and recently acted on by the 11th Court of Civil Appeals at Eastland went before the Texas supreme court Wednesday when the tribunal granted a writ of error in the case styled Herman Evans vs. Southern Methodist University. The case in the lower court at Dallas turned on whether his suit was one for damages, or for rescission of contract. The lower court, holding it a damage suit, threw it out under the two-year statute of limitations. On appeal on a transfer from the Dallas appellate court district, the Eastland court held it was a contractual suit and subject only to the four-year statute of limitations. The appeal to the supreme court was made by the university from the Eastland court judgment. Evans filed suit to recover $1,917, the total of amounts he claimed to have paid in tuition and

Leaders of Outlawed AAA Face Serious Farm Problem

With the AAA structure which they had built razed by the U. S. Supreme Court decision, Secretary of Agriculture Henry A. Wallace, left, and Chester Davis, AAA administrator, are shown as they left the White House after a lengthy discussion with President Roosevelt on how to meet the situation. Wallace, commenting on the verdict, predicted that it would mean a marked decrease in farm income.

County Agent's Office Will Close Majority of Week For Extension Work Since AAA Was Invalidated

Notices advising 1400 Eastland county producers that the county agents office will be closed weekdays with exception of Tuesday and Thursday afternoons were being prepared for mailing Thursday. "Owing to the paralyzed condition of the AAA, it will be necessary to close this office during the week with the exception of Tuesday and Thursday afternoons, at which time the office will be open from one to five," stated the circular letters. "If you have a check, you can call on those afternoons and receive same—otherwise it will not be necessary for you to visit the office unless notified. "This order is issued and will be absolutely adhered to until further notified in order for the assistant and county agent to carry out their extension duties in the field. Under these duties demon-

VOTE MAY BE TAKEN LATE IN EVENING

WASHINGTON, Jan. 9.—Bitter Republican opposition to inflationary measures of paying the bonus developed today as the house debated the united front bill. Representative J. Hamilton Fish Jr., possible republican vice presidential candidate, led the anti-"greenback" onslaught amid cheers and applause of Republicans. He termed the president's budget message "pure baloney." Fish's attack came as the house approved 148 to 0 a rule permitting four hours of debate on the measure and freedom to offer amendments. Fish termed the president's assertion he was attempting to balance the budget as "phony." He demanded congress take over the $1,000,000,000 currency stabilization fund from the treasury and pay the bonus immediately as a "just relief measure." Patman thrust the inflation angle into the debate. "There will be before congress soon the question of whether we will pay the bonus by levying taxes or issuing new currency against our large gold holdings," Patman said.

and Group Cattle Club Convention Site

That the 1937 convention of the Eastland Cattle Club were in Mineral Wells day of 1937. Many attended the first and others left Tuesday evening for the banquet and auxiliary remained Thursday sessions. The bid was among those by Houston, Brownwood and directors of the organization. The convention site selection for affairs were the following: P. Mundy, John Harlow, Charles W. Estes, L. Frank Crowell, E. H. Jones, John Burke, Mr. and Mrs. C. L. C. Davis, Jack Collette, Ben Scott, C. E. Merl Self, Mr. and Mrs. King, Curtis Kimbrell, R. A. P. Poole.

TALMADGE IS ONLY OPPOSER OF ROOSEVELT

WASHINGTON, Jan. 9.—Gov. Eugene Talmadge of Georgia appeared at the convention selection meeting of the Democratic national committee and with a single word opened his campaign to prevent re-election of President Roosevelt. Talmadge uttered a firm and distinct "no" against a resolution by which the committee endorsed the Roosevelt New Deal. The resolution stated the Democratic national committee "congratulates the party on the opportunity to ratify" the Roosevelt administration and "reaffirmed loyalty to the president and endorsed his efforts to cure economic ills." After everyone had voted for the resolution except Talmadge, they turned to see what Talmadge would do. The Georgia governor said in a loud voice: "No."

France and Britain Will Have Fleets At Right Places

LONDON, Jan. 9.—France and Great Britain will have a great battle fleet ready for any emergency within striking distance of the western Mediterranean in less than two weeks. By what may be a coincidence, the fleet will be in position for quick action when the League of Nations resumes its study of the Italian-Ethiopian crisis, probably Jan. 20. Plans for the cruises and maneuvers, all emphasized as of entirely routine nature, were announced in Paris and London.

Board of Cisco College Enlarged

CISCO, Jan. 9.—Board of trustees of Randolph college has been enlarged to 25. The institution's president, J. T. McKissick, announced he will continue and advise with friends on a drive for 50,000 for retiring the $25,000 mortgage, putting the building in repair and paying current expenses.

Debt Adjustment Body Is Formed

The Eastland county farm debt adjustment committee with three members—W. R. Ussery, chairman, Felix Boland and A. M. Hearn—was organized at Eastland this week. George I. Lane, county supervisor of the resettlement program, is executive secretary to the board. The farm debt organization was formed to assist distressed homeowners getting their debts refinanced and readjusted. H. L. Tweedy of Waco, district 7 supervisor, assisted in the organization. First Tuesdays in each month were fixed as meeting dates. "The adjustment administration acts as a conciliation board, working out a plan whereby the debt-burdened man can handle his obligations with a reasonable rate of interest. The program is even more beneficial to the creditors because it increases the value of their paper, as the debtor becomes able to liquidate," Tweedy said. It has been announced that a farmer wishing to adjust his obligations or refinance them through means that will be available may make application to the committee and fill out the necessary forms.

Huge Estate Swindle Charge Being Fought

CHICAGO, Jan. 9.—The government believed today it had exploded the myth that Sir Francis Drake, Elizabethan buccaner, left a large estate which gullible midwesterners expected to share. Last of the more than 200 prosecution witnesses was ready to take the stand in the trial of 41 on mail fraud charges. The government contends the defendants have taken $1,350,000 from 70,000 "investors" who expected to realize as high as $1,000 for each dollar invested.

Self Defense Plea Heard at Trial In Murder Case

SHERMAN, Jan. 9.—Claiming self defense Richard Rehm, 30, testified today he wrested a pistol from Luke Bell, Dallas policeman, and shot the officer. "I thought I was going to suffer bodily harm or even be shot, the way he was handling his gun," Rehm, New York prison parole violator, said. The present trial is Rehm's third on a murder charge. He was the only witness called by the defense.

Church Forces of Texas Will Hold Religious Rallies

A state-wide committee representing the Methodist, Presbyterian U. S., Presbyterian U. S. A., Nazarene, Episcopal, Baptist and Christian Churches of Texas, composed of Rev. Patrick Henry of Fort Worth, Rev. R. N. Huckabee and Rev. C. E. Matthews of Fort Worth, have designated the week of March 9-13 as Centennial Revival Rally Week, and will direct the holding of an interdenominational rally in each of the following cities: Texas, Sherman, Tyler, Houston, Harlingen, San Antonio, Austin, Waco, San Angelo, El Paso, Abilene, Lubbock, Amarillo, Wichita Falls, Dallas and Fort Worth. The combined membership of the co-operating churches is 1,200,000 people in Texas.

Of 17 Schools In State Finals Only Three Undefeated

DALLAS, Tex.—Of 17 high schools which have played for the Texas Interscholastic league football title since 1920, only three have perfect records—Bryan, Tyler and Corsicana—each having won a game. The present champions, the Amarillo Sandstorms, were third, having been victorious twice in three games for the state's highest football award. Their victory over Greenville High, Dec. 28, gave that team an average of .500. Bryan won its only start in 1921, defeating Oak Cliff of Dallas, 35 to 13. Tyler won from Amarillo, 25 to 13, in 1930. Corsicana tied with Masonic Home of Fort Worth, 0-0, but was awarded the championship on penetrations. The all-time standings:

Companies Raising Crude Oil Prices

DALLAS, Jan. 9.—Magnolia Petroleum Company, one of the larger purchasers of crude oil in East Texas, will meet the price increase of Humble and Sun companies to $1.15 a barrel, it was announced today. The price will be effective today.

HOUSTON, Jan. 9.—The Texas Company announced today it would follow other major oil companies in raising the price of crude oil. Officials said the company would post prices with those previously announced by Humble except for a flat increase of 10 cents barrel in West Texas and New Mexico.

Safety Campaign Among Children Is Being Planned

AUSTIN.—A safety campaign among Texas' 1,558,855 school children and 42,000 teachers will be inaugurated immediately by State Superintendent L. A. Woods. In a personal letter to each school, Wood addressed teachers and pupils, with special warning to the 200,000 Texas children who ride school buses to and from their homes. He pointed out that 35 per cent of the injuries received by school children occur on the campus or in the building; 32 per cent in homes; 9 per cent while going to and from schools and the remaining 24 per cent on streets and other places. Wood stressed safety education as a factor in reducing children's accidents and lauded the work of junior safety councils, school boy patrols, and safety clubs. Precautions advocated by Wood were:

1. To put things in their proper places, avoiding trash fires.
2. Not to lean out of windows.
3. Helping parents see that homes do not contain worn stair treads, loose or torn carpets, unguarded steps, poorly lighted halls and stairs, loose banisters, slippery floors, worn lighting connections, or cans of gasoline and benzine.

Precautions while on school buses included:
1. Urging grown-ups not to pass school buses which are loading or unloading children.
2. Against alighting from buses while they are in motion.
3. Against riding fenders or on the outside of buses and cars.

MORE VIEWS ON WAR GIVEN INVESTIGATORS

WASHINGTON, Jan. 9.—House neutrality hearings opened today with the presentation to the foreign affairs committee of a charge by Edwin Bochar, Yale professor, that executive incompetence rather than trade entanglements led the United States into the World War. Testifying on the neutrality bill he charged it would make the strong nations stronger and the weak weaker in war time. He charged American citizens traveled on the Lusitania and Sussex, both British ships, despite German warnings. "The state department consented to this. The Lusitania note should not have been sent. It put President Wilson out on a limb and forced his hand. There is no statutory way to prevent executive incompetence," he said.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 9.—The senate munitions inquiry showed today American war materials contracts handled by J. P. Morgan for the allies zoomed upward 1,465 per cent in a three-year period when the United States munitions industry was being developed "to meet the allied needs."

At the same time the committee brought out that all private loans for the foreign nations at war, which J. P. Morgan & Co. managed, were repaid with the exception of Russia.

Similar loans to the nations by the United States government have never been refunded. The committee reviewing events leading to American entry into the World War to provide background for new neutrality legislation, laid emphasis on development of the munitions exports from almost nothing before the war to a huge trade in 1917. The Morgan firm handled 84 per cent or $1,943,495,000 worth of war material. The Morgan firm received about $30,000,000 for acting as the purchasing agent.

Roosevelt Plans Forceful Campaign

WASHINGTON, Jan. 9.—No doubt remained today that President Roosevelt plans to lead a forceful, aggressive campaign to continue the New Deal in power at the polls next November. For the second time in two weeks he struck at enemies of his administration with stinging remarks. His talk to the $50-a-plate Jackson Day diners officially opened the Democratic side of the 1936 campaign. To confirm the beginning of the Democratic heavy artillery, the Democratic national committee met today.

CASES TRANSFERRED
Cases against J. E. Benson, John Proctor and Ruby Williams, against whom indictments were returned Jan. 2 by a district court grand jury for an alleged aggravated assault, were transferred to county court Wednesday.

Farmer Who Lived Near Dublin For 77 Years Buried

W. F. Gilbreath, 82, who lived in the Edna Hill community on his farm since he was five years old, was buried at Barbee cemetery eight miles from Dublin Tuesday afternoon. Gilbreath, the father of Jim Gilbreath of Eastland, came to Texas with his parents from Arkansas when two years of age. Edna Hill community was 10 miles from Dublin. The Rev. Bradford, pastor of the First Baptist church of Dublin, officiated at services at the home and at the cemetery. Survivors include the widow, five sons, W. S., Edna Hill; E. B., Edna Hill; N. E., Grand Falls, Texas; A. L. and Ulmer, Ryan, Okla.; three daughters, Mrs. Elmer Holden, Beatty community; Mrs. E. J. Dawkins, Ryan, Okla.; and Miss Mattie Gilbreath, San Antonio.

Well known in Eastland county and Eastland because of frequent visits with his Eastland son, Gilbreath's funeral was attended by County Judge Clyde L. Garrett, Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Wood, Rev. Charles W. Estes and Jim Gilbreath.

'Dirtiest' Campaign Is Being Predicted

WASHINGTON, Jan. 9.—Chairman James Farley warned the Democratic national committee the forthcoming presidential campaign will be "the bitterest and dirtiest political struggle any of us here can remember." As the committee met to consider the coming campaign and choose the national convention city, Farley told his party leaders they would have to combat "a simple effort to break down the faith of the people in the president."

Strikers Clash In Texas Cotton Mill

EL PASO, Texas, Jan. 9.—Strikers who attempted to prevent a group of 100 workers from returning to work at the Lone Star Cotton Mills, clashed today. One man was injured. The cotton mill was operating today with 100 employees at work. Five police were guarding the plant. The cotton bill was closed Monday after employees refused to accept the company's proposal to either increase working hours one hour a day to nine or reduce wages 10 per cent.

Smith-Roosevelt Tiff Is Gain To Politics

Every so often the American public has to get its blood pressure raised by some argument that isn't very important, and today the question at issue seems to be: was Al Smith invited to sleep at the White House or was he not; if so, what of it?

Mr. Smith has been invited frequently, says the White House. Mr. Smith has been invited very rarely, if at all, says Mr. Smith. The one sure thing seems to be that, regardless of the number or the warmth of the invitations, he has not been sleeping there and doesn't propose to.

This set-to, of course, puts the final stamp and seal on the beaking of a distinguished friendship. It was a friendship that had important consequences for the nation, while it lasted; for if it had not been for the urgings of Mr. Smith, Mr. Roosevelt would not have become governor of New York state, and if he had not been governor, he likely would never have gone on to the presidency.

But the friendship has gone sour, long since, and all that is left of it today is an undignified squabble which is entertaining, but hardly constructive.

The reason it has people talking, of course, is that the break is a symptom of an important change which is coming over American politics.

It would be a mistake to suppose that mere personal reasons are at the bottom of the row. They may enter into it, of course, but they are not fundamental.

At bottom, the quarrel is indicative of a strong new current which, running through the Democratic party, is bearing some men in one direction and sending others off in another.

Whatever the New Deal may or may not amount to, and whatever its virtues and its faults may add up to, one thing at least is obvious; in a more or less confused way it does represent a definite political philosophy, a definite view of the place which government ought to occupy in the nation's social and economic life.

By the same token the opposition to the New Deal, as exemplified by the non-White-House-sleeping Mr. Smith, represents an equally definite opposing philosophy.

The mere fact that this cleavage is taking place is a good thing for politics. It should eventually bring back the sort of reality that infused American political struggles in the days of Jackson and Lincoln.

Modern campaigns, too often, have been mere scrambles for jobs, with the opposing candidates embodying much the same set of principles, if any.

Back of the Smith-Roosevelt row lies a revival of politics' old-time health. When political disagreements can be heated enough to turn good friends into bitter enemies, it is a pretty good sign that the electorate has stopped shadow boxing and is concerned with something really serious.

BEHIND THE SCENES IN WASHINGTON WITH RODNEY DUTCHER

BY RODNEY DUTCHER NEA Service Staff Correspondent WASHINGTON—Neutrality legislation is certain to bring on a log fight almost as soon as the new Congress convenes.

The present neutrality law, admittedly a stop-gap, is going to get a very thorough comb-over at the hands of such men as Senators Nye, Bone, Vandenberg, and Borah.

This debate will be complicated. The only way to keep it at all straight is to remember two principles:

1. The league principle is to find the aggressor in any war, and to punish that aggressor by sanctions, that is, by refusing to sell certain war materials to him.

THE thing that is worrying senators is: what do we want to accomplish? President Roosevelt, inclined toward letting the president have some discretion. But

THUS in the present American plan, it is entirely a matter of chance whether American action supplements league action in punishing an aggressor.

U. S. SURVEYS JOB DECLINES DATING TO '20

WASHINGTON.—The new deal is hiring 24,000 jobless to determine to what extent the modern machine is responsible for more than 10,000,000 persons being dependent on the government for food and clothing.

Results of the nation-wide survey will be used in shaping the administration's future employment policy, now taking form around a $500,000,000 public works appropriation for 1936-1935.

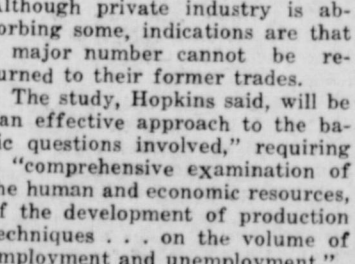

Financed By Relief Fund Administrator Harry L. Hopkins financed the project from his current $4,000,000,000 employment fund after Federal Emergency Relief Administration economists pointed out that:

"During the period from 1920 to 1929 the physical volume of production in manufacturing industries increased 37 per cent while employment dropped around 2 per cent.

First Newspaper Published in Texas 123 Years Ago

AUSTIN.—The first newspaper in Texas was published 123 years ago, it is the opinion of Ike Moore, University of Texas instructor in history.

In an article, "The Earliest printing and First Newspaper in Texas," in a recent issue of the Southwestern Historical Quarterly, Moore discusses evidence of the publication of a newspaper in 1813, six years earlier than the date other records have shown and 23 years before Texas gained her independence.

Moore gives an account of the struggles against the Spanish government which resulted in the publishing of three newspapers: "The Republic," 1817; "The Republic," 1819; and "El Mejicano." It is the last which Moore believes was the paper published in 1813.

The publisher of "El Mejicano" is believed to have been Jose Alvarez de Toledo, Moore says. Included in his article is a statement from "The North American" by Henry A. Bullard, secretary and aide-de-camp to Toledo and later a prominent Louisiana citizen. Bullard writes that Toledo, a Cuban who came to Texas to aid the filibustering expedition of Gutierrez-Magee in 1813, carried with him a small printing press would find a good woman to help and they could manage to get Miss Dana married without her. Mrs. Osborne, passing through the hall, heard the colored maid say: "Well, maybe Mrs. Osborne would let me off to go tell her."

"You may get off awhile, Lili, of course," Mrs. Osborne said. She went into the dining room and joined her husband "Richard," she said, "all that gossip about Scott Stanley's divorced wife marrying Ronnie Moore is true. They're going to be married tonight." Dr. Osborne frowned.

"I'm sorry to hear that I have an idea it will hit Scott mighty hard." "You think he's still in love with her?" "Not a doubt in the world of it. And she's in love with him. It's one of those things that happen—two people breaking for some petty reason and never getting back together again. That's why I trumped up an excuse when they called me to Mrs. Cameron. I thought if those youngsters were thrown together, something might work out."

"Scott's one hundred and fifty miles away. He drove up to Easton yesterday for the state medical convention. He's due to read a paper there tonight." "Don't worry any more about it," Mrs. Osborne said.

"We are confronted with a serious danger in this overbuilding," S. R. Rowson, president of the British Cinematograph Society, said in discussing a statistical survey of what he called "one of the sociological wonders of the century." "We can escape this danger only if we can obtain a balance by a national drive to create more cinema-goers. The cinema business cannot be said to be in a prosperous situation when one theatre seat is provided for every 12 persons in Great Britain, whereas large numbers of persons are not patrons of this form of entertainment." Last year British movie-goers spent $204,750,000 on theatre tickets, the attendance being about

January and October being the top months. Between 21,000,000 and 22,000,000 persons attend the movies each week in October, but the attendance falls off to about 17,000,000 in November, when amusement budgets are cut in anticipation of Christmas shopping. Immediately after the holidays, when the pantomimes draw heavy patronage, the figure goes back up, holding over the 18,000,000 mark until warm weather. The revenue of British movie houses, particularly the neighborhood houses, is held to a lower level than American motion picture theatres because of the almost standard practice of showing two feature films. The continuous performance idea of the United States is followed only in the large theatres of the theatrical districts. In the others, the first feature starts about 8 o'clock in the evening and the second feature ends about 11 o'clock.

Hunters Spend $1 On a Seven-Pound Wild Game Bag
INTERNATIONAL FALLS, Minn.—American hunters who entered the United States from Canada at this city have shouldered almost 100,000 pounds of wild game across the border, it was indicated in figure released by the local customs office. The sportsmen paid $3,886 for the privilege of killing Canadian moose, deer, bears and ducks during the recent season, it was shown. Besides hunting fees, Canadian wardens in the territory surrounding this port estimated that 100 non-residents spent $10,000 for room, board, lodging, equipment and guides while hunting. It was further calculated that approximately seven pounds of game was bagged for every dollar spent.

Smith-Roosevelt Tiff Is Gain To Politics

Every so often the American public has to get its blood pressure raised by some argument that isn't very important, and today the question at issue seems to be: was Al Smith invited to sleep at the White House or was he not; if so, what of it?

Mr. Smith has been invited frequently, says the White House. Mr. Smith has been invited very rarely, if at all, says Mr. Smith. The one sure thing seems to be that, regardless of the number or the warmth of the invitations, he has not been sleeping there and doesn't propose to.

This set-to, of course, puts the final stamp and seal on the beaking of a distinguished friendship. It was a friendship that had important consequences for the nation, while it lasted; for if it had not been for the urgings of Mr. Smith, Mr. Roosevelt would not have become governor of New York state, and if he had not been governor, he likely would never have gone on to the presidency.

But the friendship has gone sour, long since, and all that is left of it today is an undignified squabble which is entertaining, but hardly constructive.

The reason it has people talking, of course, is that the break is a symptom of an important change which is coming over American politics.

It would be a mistake to suppose that mere personal reasons are at the bottom of the row. They may enter into it, of course, but they are not fundamental.

At bottom, the quarrel is indicative of a strong new current which, running through the Democratic party, is bearing some men in one direction and sending others off in another.

Whatever the New Deal may or may not amount to, and whatever its virtues and its faults may add up to, one thing at least is obvious; in a more or less confused way it does represent a definite political philosophy, a definite view of the place which government ought to occupy in the nation's social and economic life.

By the same token the opposition to the New Deal, as exemplified by the non-White-House-sleeping Mr. Smith, represents an equally definite opposing philosophy.

The mere fact that this cleavage is taking place is a good thing for politics. It should eventually bring back the sort of reality that infused American political struggles in the days of Jackson and Lincoln.

Modern campaigns, too often, have been mere scrambles for jobs, with the opposing candidates embodying much the same set of principles, if any.

Back of the Smith-Roosevelt row lies a revival of politics' old-time health. When political disagreements can be heated enough to turn good friends into bitter enemies, it is a pretty good sign that the electorate has stopped shadow boxing and is concerned with something really serious.

A GOURD CHANGED THE ENTIRE HISTORY OF THE SOUTH SEA ISLANDS.

BY SIGHTING THROUGH HOLES IN A WATER-FILLED CALABASH GOURD, ANCIENT POLYNESIAN NAVIGATORS WERE ABLE TO TAKE READINGS FROM THE SUN AND THE STARS, THUS ENABLING THEM TO ROAM OVER THE WHOLE SOUTH PACIFIC OCEAN.

IN NORTH AFRICA, SOAP IS MADE FROM LOCUSTS!

OUR SOLAR SYSTEM CONTAINS ABOUT 50,000 PARTICLES LARGE ENOUGH TO BE CALLED PLANETS.

THE "Sacred Calabash" was made by cutting off one end of the gourd and boring four holes equidistant from the upper edge. The gourd then was filled with water which ran out through the holes if it were tipped in any direction. This made it possible for the navigator to keep the instrument level.

BEHIND THE SCENES IN WASHINGTON WITH RODNEY DUTCHER

BY RODNEY DUTCHER NEA Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON—Neutrality legislation is certain to bring on a log fight almost as soon as the new Congress convenes.

The present neutrality law, admittedly a stop-gap, is going to get a very thorough combing-over at the hands of such men as Senators Nye, Bone, Vandenberg, and Borah.

This debate will be complicated. The only way to keep it at all straight is to remember two principles:

1. The league principle is to find the aggressor in any war, and to punish that aggressor by sanctions, that is, by refusing to sell certain war materials to him.

2. The American principle, in the present law, provides no attempt to determine which party to a war is to blame. It simply provides that the United States will trade in certain articles with neither. The aim here is not to punish either side, but simply to withdraw from dangerous waters.

THIS in the present American plan, it is entirely a matter of chance whether American action supplements league action in punishing an aggressor.

In the case of Italy, because cutting off war materials from Ethiopia means nothing, the American course in cutting them off from Italy did correspond roughly with the league action.

But there is no reason to think it might in another case.

THE thing that is worrying senators is: what do we want to accomplish? President Roosevelt, when the present law was passed, inclined toward letting the president have some discretion. But Congress did not permit this, nor is it likely it will this winter. That means only one thing: the working of the neutrality law may find us in direct opposition to the league instead of roughly paralleling its efforts, as now.

THERE is considerable new worry at American Federation of Labor headquarters over the "revolt" of the Radio Workers and Allied Trades Union.

This new industrial union in the radio and electric refrigerator industry has built up some 55,000 members under the aggressive leadership of James B. Carey, a young man who jumped into a field in which the old-line electrical craft unions had largely failed.

Now Carey, with a large and going organization, demands an international charter as an industrial union. The Radio and Allied Trade is now merely a federal union under direct A. F. of L. supervision.

If the international charter is granted, it will mean that this new union in a growing field will be independent.

BUT with the aggressive Lewis pushing for industrial organization, it is harder to laugh off demands like Carey's, and harder to delay.

Carey, firm in the saddle after a recent convention of his organization in Pittsburgh, waits for no one. He hasn't yet said "—or else!" But it's always in the background.

Which is just another reason why the meeting of the Federation's executive council in Miami next month is going to be one of the hottest that it has held for many a long year.

NEW YORK.—John Roxborough says that if Isadore Gastanaga, the other Basque, hasn't yet come to his senses, Joe Louis will make it as painless as possible in Detroit, Jan. 31.

Roxborough is being considered for the embalming job in Tiptown are old Johnny Risko and young Abe Feldman of Schenectady, who finished in front of John Henry Lewis at Coney Island last summer.

Louis' only other start prior to his meeting with Max Schmeling at the Yankee Stadium next June is listed for Chicago, Jan. 17. Charley Retzlaff is the condemned man.

The only pain Senor Michael Strauss suffered in San Cristobal de la Habana was in the vicinity of the bucks office. The Cuban mistake cost Senor Jacobs $6500, and the promoter considers himself fortunate after surveying the situation and checking the advance sale.

Senor Jacobs made a down payment on the rent of Tropical Stadium, where Louis was to have put the slug on Gastanaga on Sunday afternoon Dec. 29. The New York ticket broker, who became the new Tex Rickard with the arrival of Louis, but who did not look or act the part on this occasion, transported a high-powered publicity staff, headed by the veteran Senor Walter St. Denis, to the Calle de Prado.

Joy Ride Results in Usual Headache

THE affair was arranged as a joy ride and wound up like so many of them—a headache. Roxborough and his partner, Julian Huck sought to rive Louis and themselves a variation at a sizable profit.

Senor Sam Tolon, San Cristobal de la Habana automobile dealer, and Senor Luis Gutierrez, who managed Kid Chocolate, painted roseate pictures of a $150,000 gate.

Senor Jacobs' high-pressed bullyhoo bureau got busy.

The show couldn't raise drawing more than 40,000 people. The 270,000 members of the Spanish colony had sublime faith in their countryman, Gastanaga. President Mendietta also lent an ear. Bankers, rich sugar planters, and influential citizens practically were being trampled upon in the rush to make reservations.

Rush Was On, but It Wasn't a Gold Rush

AND then Senor Jacobs arrived to make an astounding discovery. It was that the Isle de Cuba is not populated by Cubans at all, but by Chinese, the Battery-to-Bronx term for Annie Oakley.

The rush was on all right, but it wasn't a gold rush. There were enough ex-presidents of the Isle de Cuba alone to fill Tropical Stadium, and the assistant to every assistant to who demanded that Senor Jacobs punch more holes in his ticket than Louis could possibly punch in Gastanaga.

There was only $2000 in the damper and there would be accommodations for no more than $10,000 worth of paying guests if that many had the price.

So Senor Jacobs suddenly learned that Louis was out of condition. Senor Jacobs didn't like to be where he required a bodyguard of machine-gunners. There was grave danger of Louis or one of his managers being snatched.

Senor Jacobs doesn't care if he ever has another vacation.

JACKSON DAY DINNER

U. S. SURVEYS JOB DECLINES DATING TO '20

WASHINGTON.—The new deal is hiring 24,000 jobs to determine to what extent the modern machine is responsible for more than 10,000,000 persons being dependent on the government for food and clothing.

The $12,000,000 study will seek to answer this specific question: "To what extent is the present volume of unemployment the result of recent changes of industrial technique?"

Results of the nation-wide survey will be used in shaping the administration's future employment policy, now taking form around a $500,000,000 public works appropriation for 1936-1935.

Financed By Relief Fund

Administrator Harry L. Hopkins financed the project from his current $4,000,000,000 employment fund after Federal Emergency Relief Administration economists pointed out that:

"During the period from 1920 to 1929 the physical volume of production in manufacturing industries increased 37 per cent while employment dropped around 2 per cent.

"Freight car loadings increased 6 per cent from 1923 to 1929, while employment on steam railroads declined 10 per cent.

"The production of coal increased 10 per cent from 1919 to 1929 and was accompanied by a decrease in employment of about 14 per cent.

"Despite an increase in the production of agricultural commodities, 800,000 agricultural workers were displaced between 1919 and 1927."

Job Changes Necessary

The workers who lost their jobs during the so-called 1919-1929 "boom" period, relief officials said, are those now on relief rolls. Although private industry is absorbing some, indications are that a major number cannot be returned to their former trades.

The study, Hopkins said, will be an "effective approach to the basic questions involved," requiring a "comprehensive examination of the human and economic resources of the development of production techniques . . . on the volume of employment and unemployment."

The project will be under active charge of Corrington Gill, assistant to Hopkins, and David Weintraub, the relief administration's "director of study." Work will be conducted from branch offices in Philadelphia.

How to Grease Skillet

Panned chops are cooked in the frying pan on top of the stove. Trim off enough fat from the edges of the chops to lightly oil the frying pan. In other words, rub the bit of fat over the surface of the pan until it looks very shiny but there is no surplus of fat. Add chops and sear lightly on both sides after searing, allowing about 1-4 teaspoon salt for each chop—1-3 teaspoon to a side. Now cover the spider, reduce heat and cook slowly until done, about twenty minutes for single chops and thirty minutes for double ones.

When a meal is built around pork chops, it's a good idea to include one vegetable in a cream sauce unless there is milk gravy. Creamed celery is a good vegetable to serve with pork. Use the coarse outer stalks for cooking

Judge and Mrs. Leslie Entertain Methodist Board

The home of Judge and Mrs. W. P. Leslie sent out a gleam of welcoming light to the members of the board of stewards of the Methodist Church, entertained at supper at 7 o'clock, Monday night by nine host, the Judge. The group was served tomato juice cocktails in the dressing-rooms on the bedroom floor, and were then escorted to the dining-room, living-room and breakfast-room, to their various assigned table places.

The four tables were surfaced in cut-work Italian linen with the large table in the dining-room centered in a reflector, in which was shadowed a miniature forest scene through which tiny white deer were glimpsed.

The table in the breakfast room bore a charming New Year's Day scene of snow and reindeer, reflected in the mirror centering the table.

The two small tables in the living-room had small bowls of spring flowers.

A delicious menu was served of creamed chicken, in pot toastie shells, string beans, dried carrots, creamed onions, and hot rolls.

A salad course, and last course of combination fruit jello, with whipped cream topping, fruit cake and coffee.

Mrs. Leslie was assisted by Mrs. E. R. Stanford, in her duties as hostess, during the serving of the menu.

After dinner the board meeting was held, with Neil A. Moore, chairman of the board, presiding.

The affair was one of the most delightful ones in the social life of the church, and Judge Leslie proved a fine and affable host.

WHETHER you call it "rabbit" or "rarebit," the Welsh rarebit is a concoction that always is greeted with delight when it appears as the piece de resistance of the evening.

One of the nicest things about a rarebit is that you make it at the table. Everybody at the party can help—comes to the aid of the party.

I know of no better beginning for a menu featuring cheese than a frosty, fruity cocktail made quite tart and accompanied by the enticing salty tang of herring and anchovy and caviar.

Then after the rarebit, serve a crisp green salad with a tart dressing. French endive, escarole, romaine, head lettuce, cress, parsley and chervil, and arrange them in a big wooden bowl.

Perhaps you prefer an English monkey to a Welsh rabbit. Here are recipes for both.

English Monkey One cup dry bread crumbs (stale but not crisp), 1-2 cup evaporated milk and 1-2 cup water or 1 cup whole milk, 1 tablespoon butter, 1 package Liederkranz cheese, 1 egg slightly beaten, 1-2 teaspoon salt, few grains cayenne.

Soften bread crumbs in milk and water which have been blended. Melt butter in blender of chafing dish over hot water. Add cheese cut in pieces and cook and stir until melted. Add crumb mixture, slightly beaten egg and seasonings. Cook until thoroughly blended and thick and smooth and serve on crisp toast.

Here's the recipe for Welsh rarebit.

Welsh Rarebit One-half pound mild cheese, 1 tablespoon butter, 1-2 teaspoon salt, 1-2 teaspoon powdered mustard, few grains cayenne, 1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce, 1-2 cup ale or beer, 2 eggs.

Melt butter and add cheese and seasonings. The cheese must be cut in small pieces as in the preceding recipe. Cook and stir and as cheese melts gradually add ale or beer, stirring constantly and vigorously. As soon as all the ingredients are added, stir in eggs well beaten and continue to cook and stir until thickened and smooth. Serve on crisp hot toast. The rarebit is cooked over hot water.

Blind Man Does Finer Adjustments As a Mechanic

BEAUMONT, Tex. — Paul Wampler, 42, is able to see only the blurred outlines of objects, but garage men consider him a "top hand" at automobile repairs, especially on jobs which require delicate adjustments.

His eyes never were strong, but he could see well enough as a youth to play baseball and indulge in other forms of athletics at his home in Mexico, Texas.

He gained experience as a blacksmith's helper at Mexico, then worked as an automobile mechanic at Center and Beaumont. Later he was employed at an iron foundry here.

At first he became discouraged and wandered over the country until travel became too dangerous because of his blindness. Taking heart anew, however, he returned to Beaumont and obtained a job as a mechanic.

Wampler works by touch. This sense has developed to the point where he can detect maladjustments to the most delicate auto instruments. He has become so expert that his work is confined wholly to the finer jobs.

Couple Wed Despite Border Separation

ST. ARMAND, Jue.—Canadian Immigration officials stopped John Graveline, Glens Falls, New York, from entering Canada. The United States immigration officials stopped his bride-elect from entering the United States.

Graveline stood on one side of the border, which is Highgate Springs, Vt., and his bride, whose name the justice of the peace who performed the ceremony refused to reveal, stood in Canada. The ceremony performed, they embraced, being careful not to step across the line, and then parted.

Advertisements ARE A GUIDE TO VALUE Experts can roughly estimate the value of a product by looking at it. More accurately, by handling and examining it. Its appearance, its texture, the "feel" and the balance of it all mean something to their trained eyes and fingers. But no one person can be an expert on steel, brass, wood, leather, foodstuffs, fabrics, and all of the materials that make up a list of personal purchases. And even experts are fooled, sometimes, by concealed flaws and imperfections. There is a surer index of value than the senses of sight and touch . . . knowledge of the maker's name and for what it stands. Here is the most certain method, except that of actual use, for judging the value of any manufactured goods. Here is the only guarantee against careless workmanship, or the use of shoddy materials. This is one important reason why it pays to read advertisements and to buy advertised goods. The product that is advertised is worthy of your confidence. Merchandise must be good or it could not be consistently advertised. Buy advertised goods.
