

How Often Do You Clean Your Henhouse?

Much of the "grief" that sometimes visits poultry flocks is invited by lack of proper cleanliness and sanitation. A good many folks have the impression that cleaning out the henhouse once a month constitutes poultry cleanliness. It is cleanliness, to be sure, compared with the semi-annual cleanings which some houses get, but it still falls short of the mark and there is no real danger of any house being cleaned too often or too thoroughly.

Most folks would find their flocks more healthy and profitable if they would keep their henhouses clean all the time instead of only periodically. This takes a little more time and effort, but we have seen this difference in flocks time after time, and know that it pays in dollars and cents. It is not merely a matter of keeping the poultry house neat and clean, but also free from filth and vermin at all times.

The matter of sanitation, according to Nature's standards, is another prime reason for removing the droppings frequently. Let us consider the fact that in the wild state chickens roosted in trees sufficiently high that the fumes arising from their excrement would not reach them. Now, on the other hand, when fowls are forced to sleep in domestication on perches only a few inches, or feet at the most, above the gathered filth of many nights, it stands to reason that sooner or later the hen's throat and lungs are going to get out of order and this leads to germs and infections that soon sap her strength and vitality.—Iowa Homestead.

A Cure for Reckless Driving

Reckless driving on our city streets and public highways is a disease easy of diagnosis. It is not incurable although it requires a remedy rather drastic in nature—a bitter dose to swallow, but entirely without danger to the patient. The remedy has been suggested in Farm and Ranch heretofore. We repeat it: License every driver of a motor vehicle. Make the fee nominal and the penalty for driving without a license or permit, a term in jail. Cancel the license of every driver, who violates the traffic and highway laws, for terms varying from thirty days to twelve months. Enforce the law to the letter. This prescription, if filled and the remedy applied, would reduce violations to a minimum and save several hundred lives which are annually sacrificed in Texas and other Southwestern States, to the speed maniac and other drivers who are indifferent to the rights of others.

It is said that crime is a disease of the mind. Reckless driving is a crime. It is indulged in by brainless idiots, gin headed young squirts, who try to show off, and irresponsible men and boys with smart-Aleck dispositions. In cities and towns the most dangerous drivers are boys piloting laundry cars and other delivery vehicles, including some big truck drivers. Why should men and boys of this character be allowed to endanger the lives and property of others? License all drivers and cancel the license of law violators. It will cure the disease.—Farm and Ranch.

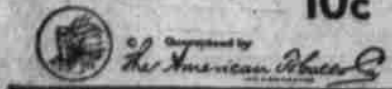

The Klu Klux Klan may be alright if the membership can be restricted to honorable, upright men who would violate no law. The great danger is that irresponsible persons will use it as a cloak to seek revenge for some fancied wrong or have some spite to vent. The grand jury at Beaumont has been instructed to investigate the activities of the Klan in Beaumont and return indictments.

Times are better, but we are not through the woods yet. Times will be better still if we keep the sober lessons learned in the months of depression. A generation is like a young man, he dissipates until he gets his bumps, but if he learns his lesson it will make a man of him. One hopeful sign: not only have the workers gone back in such large numbers to the job, but men who did not work during the "prosperity" have also gone back to the job. Prosperity always raises a small army of speculators who keep themselves above the necessity of toil by inducing honest working people to invest in things that never produce a return. Society's burden in carrying that crowd has largely been relieved; they are now producing what they use.—Henry Ford.

Railroads Waking Up
Reduction of freight rates to meet water competition has been decided upon by the Southern Pacific railway, it was announced in Chicago, Tuesday. The reductions approximate 20 per cent.
Permission to make the reductions will be sought of the interstate commerce commission immediately. The proposed reduction in freight rates will affect all transcontinental carriers.
The inability to pay the excessive freight rates is keeping freight from being transported and its a question of the railroads lowering rates or going out of business as far as transcontinental shipments are concerned.

Methodist Notes
We had a splendid attendance at Sunday school last Sunday 256 being present. The Beginners' department were made happy over the arrival of a "really truly" sand table, which was gay with flowers and trees and shimmering blue lake. We are greatly indebted to Mr. Corree for the gift of this table, and to Mrs. Hughes for its decoration. We now have all the sand table paraphernalia, pasteboard cut-outs in colors of all Old Testament illustrations of stories the little folks delight in. This department is a veritable joy to its superintendent and her assistants. We regret to lose two of our best teachers, Mrs. Pittman and Miss Stoker, who leave at close of school. We have two excellent young women who will take their places, however, and we hope to have them both back next fall. Our presiding elder from Sweetwater, Rev. G. S. Hardy, was with us at Sunday school and gave a splendid three minute appeal for religious education. He will be back with us the first Sunday in June, at which time Mr. Willis will make the picture of the S. S.

At the Sunday School hour Miss Martin, in charge of young peoples' work with the Chautauque, will give a story.
There is to be a special service at the church next Sunday at 11:00 o'clock to which every Methodist is invited. We should be glad to have you attend Sunday school first, and be sure of a seat. The Circle meeting Friday at the home of Mrs. Neal was greatly enjoyed by the large crowd present. No meeting this week due to 5th Monday.
If everyone of our citizens who heard Plattenburg discuss "Loyalty to the Home Town," would make a resolve to join whole heartedly in every movement for the up-building of Big Spring, we could make ours an ideal place to live. It's worth our every effort to make ours a real home town.

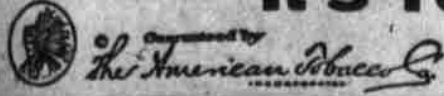

The Texas & Pacific Railroad issued an order to remove all small revolving fans in the coaches. This is done, it is further reduce the cost of fuel and to cut expenses. It seems that railroads are doing their best to encourage the traveling public to continue riding on passenger trains. They had sense enough to reduce passenger rates to the old level, set income would show a improvement over the present. They think the public can be handled such maneuvers as the one discussed.

A New Swindle

Mr. O. B. Rollins, county agent in Bexar county, reports the following incident to the Extension Service, which should prove interesting to farmers having cotton to sell:

"A farmer called at my office last week and stated that a group of men were trading two German city bonds, 1000 marks (present value $16 each) for one bale of cotton. The buyers claimed they were sending the cotton to Germany. The banker whom I interviewed about the matter told me the cotton is not shipped to Germany, but is sold here instead at from 10 to 12 cents a pound, or about $50 to $60 a bale. Thus the speculators were making from $18 to $28, less cost of hauling on each bale."—Extension Service Farm News.

Although railroad managers have been offering some pessimistic testimony before the interstate commerce committee, a Wall street financier reports that the incomes on the railroads have on the whole become better. Whether cuts in rates can be promptly adopted, as has been urged in many quarters, is another question, says the same authority, and whose answer will probably depend in no small measure upon the income position of the carriers as affected by the wage reduction now determined upon, effective July 1. All the going concerns, industrially speaking, are moving onward, and the signs of the times are very encouraging.—Fort Worth Record.

Home-School Club Meeting

The Home-School club met in regular session in the Central school building Friday May 20.

Mrs. Stripling gave the invocation. This being the last meeting of the club year the program was dispensed with and the time given to the closing of all unfinished business of the year and the election of officers.

Mrs. Lees gave the following report of the financial standing of the club:
Balance on hand.....$232.40
Dues Collected..... 37.00 Skovgaard Concert Courtesy... of the Lyric..... 20.25
Total.....$290.65
Disbursements..... $98.78
Balance.....$190.89

In looking over the year's work of the club we find the following: A reception at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Moss as a welcome to the faculty and to give the patrons an opportunity to meet the teachers.

Invited Miss Blanton to visit us, staged a rally at each of the schools and extended an invitation to the children to attend the meeting at the court house. She addressed the children in the morning and the citizens in the afternoon; Donated $15.00 to the Domestic Science department; gave a ball to the South ward children; installed lavatories in the North and South ward buildings; presented a book each month to the room having the most mothers present at the meeting; appointed a committee each month to visit the schools and report the progress the rooms were making; voted to give the necessary amount to collect and put together the play ground equipment for the Central school building but as this term of school was almost over before the parts could be assembled it was decided to store them until next term of school.

In the interest of the election for the raising of the tax rate to give the schools enough money to maintain them properly, a committee, with the assistance of the teachers, Band and Transfer men put on the best parade of school children ever held in Big Spring; They procured tags and induced the voters interested in Better Schools to wear them as a reminder to others to vote and the last but not least was to vote to present to the Science Department two telescopes and one skeleton. Prof. Flaniken was instructed to attend to this matter so this equipment would be here in plenty of time for the opening of school.

It was brought before the notice of the members of the club that the Department of Education at Austin sent out each year College Entrance Examinations to the County Superintendent and any one can go and take them and receive credits for the work he is able to do regardless of whether he is attending school or not.

The credits are good for five years therefore a High School pupil could take the examinations each year in the work he has covered that year and when he completes the high school work he could enter any State school in the class his credits entitles him to. A person may take the examinations in any subject that the State send out examinations in regardless of whether it is taught in his respective school or not. This could be a great assistance to pupils coming here from rural or unaffiliated schools in getting the required amount of credits to graduate and would prevent a great deal of disappointment on the part of the parents and pupils owing to the fact that they do not have enough credits to entitle them to receive their diplomas with the rest of the class altho they are able to do the work, as a school can only give credits for the work actually done in that particular school, but will recognize credits given by other accredited schools or the State Department of Education.

Plan to Fund Huge Foreign Debts to United States
Washington, W. C., May 26.—Foreign loans approximating $10,000,000,000 made to the allies during the war will be funded this year, secretary Mellon said today. Accumulated unpaid interest, he added, probably would be funded also and payments spread over a period of years.

Commenting on president Harding's recent New York speech in which the president expressed the hope that the present form of foreign obligations might be changed in a reasonable period and distributed among the people of the country, Mr. Mellon said that no plan of that kind had yet been formulated. All that the treasury has in mind now, Mr. Mellon explained, was that these bonds should be put into shape to use in exchange or to take up Liberty bonds. There was no intention, he added, of placing foreign obligations on the market in place of other indebtedness.

It was thoughtful and nice of J. A. Rountree, director general of the National Bankhead Highway Association, to send The Reporter a copy of a personal letter he has written to our townsman, Judge J. M. DeArmond. It is a nice letter, too, and we publish it with pleasure: Birmingham, Ala., May 12, 1921

Judge J. M. DeArmond, Director Bankhead National Highway Association, Midland, Texas. Dear Judge: I am delighted that you attended the fifth annual convention of the Bankhead National Highway Association which met in Greensboro, N. C., April 21 and 22.

It was your suggestion, at the meeting of the board of directors in Birmingham, January 3rd, that the constitution be amended, and also the by-laws of the Bankhead National Highway Association be amended so as to designate the main line of the Bankhead highway from Washington to San Diego, as well as the various branches that have heretofore been adopted. It was a splendid suggestion, and one in which the board of directors immediately recognized the wisdom contained in it.

Your suggestion, and the action of the revision committee in carrying it out, and the adoption of the same by the association and convention assembled forever settled the disputes over the main line and branch lines of the Bankhead highway. You did a splendid service to the organization and the highway by making this suggestion and in leading the fight in the committee and securing the adoption by the association in convention assembled. The people of Texas should be proud of your splendid work, and I know they will after they have learned in regard to same.

Again allow me to thank you in the name of the association for your patriotic and splendid work, and congratulate the people of Texas on having you as a member of the board of directors of this great highway.

With very high personal regards, I am, yours very truly, J. A. ROUNTREE, Director Gen. Bankhead National Highway Ass'n.—Midland Reporter.

Power Farming with the Fordson

The Fordson Tractor is taking care of every power job; it is taking the drudgery out of farm work and solving the labor problem. Power farming with the Fordson reduces the cost of preparing land to almost one half what it would be with horses, and saves a third to a half of the farmer's time. What machinery does for the factory, the Fordson Tractor is accomplishing on the farm—it is increasing production at lower costs and making farm life attractive.

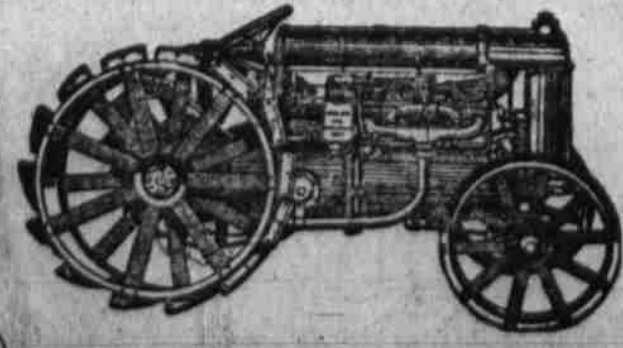

Apply this power farming idea in your threshing. More and more farmers are making themselves independent of unfavorable conditions by using the Fordson tractor linked up with a light thrasher. By setting the right moment and being able to do the job without waiting and in quick time, crop losses are avoided and profits increased.

The Fordson operates with kerosene. When used on belt work, running at full power at 1,000 R. P. M., the fuel consumption does not exceed 23-4 gallons per hour. It will run the electric light plant, operate the milking machines and straw baler—will take care of every kind of belt work.

The Fordson plows 6 to 8 acres in a 10-hour day, handling two plows with ease in the average soil. It requires an average of only 1-2 to 2 gallons of kerosene to the acre.

It is the ideal year-round tractor. It will pay for its fall and winter keep in many ways such as road work, hauling grain to the elevator, pumping water and moving granaries.

JUDGE J. D. BARKER OF CISCO, TEXAS, ANNOUNCES HIS CANDIDACY FOR SENATOR OF THE 28th SENATORIAL DISTRICT

"To the Voters of the 28th Senatorial District: I take this method of soliciting your support in the coming election on June 4th, at which time the vacancy caused by the resignation of Senator John A. Russell will be filled. To those who do not know me, I will state that I am a native Texan, born in Collin county, forty-four years ago. In 1899 I made my home in Fisher county. For the last three years I have resided in Cisco, Eastland county. I know the needs of West Texas; I know the people of the West—their hopes and aspirations. The time has come when the West should assert herself, when she should demand justice in the solution of her pressing social, economic and industrial problems; when she should demand less of politics and more of plain business and common sense; when she should demand leaders who know her needs and are capable of giving her adequate representation. MY OPPONENT "What can West Texas gain by electing my opponent to the office of senator? He is now representative from this district, and has the same opportunity to serve the people in the house as in the senate. He has refused to resign from his present office. Should one man try to hog all the offices in the district at one time? "If he should be elected, he would have to resign from the office of representative. The special session is called for July. After June 4th, it will be almost impossible to elect a man to fill such a vacancy and West Texas will be minus a representative during that important session. And, God knows, she will need every vote she can get at that critical time, when so many issues will arise that will vitally concern her interests. SOME PROPOSALS FAVORED All measures designed to advance the rural free schools and of the entire public school system. Immediate redistricting of the representative and senatorial districts of Texas. A well equipped West Texas Agricultural and Mechanical College, with all political appendages removed. An amendment to the suspended sentence law, with the aim of restricting its use and preventing its abuse. Protection of our citizenship from criminality by more rigorous enforcement of the present law, rather than by multiplying the number of laws. Economy in state government by the elimination of unnecessary officials and by the consolidation of duplicating departments. In view of the fact that West Texas practically donated the capitol building to the state and built the asylum for the blind by contributing its fertile prairies, and that she has given thousands of acres to the railroads of the state, at the same time, she has borne an unequal share of the burden of taxation, I THEREFORE FAVOR A MORE UNIFORM TAX LAW THAT WILL RELIEVE WEST TEXAS FROM THE PRESENT UNEQUAL BURDEN. Immediate and substantial relief for all soldiers wounded or otherwise incapacitated during the World War. If elected I will concentrate my untiring efforts to the policy of less politics and more business in the administration of government and strive sincerely to forward the interests of the farmer, laborer, stockman, business man, to the end that they may have a part in developing the limited resources of the West entire state. Sincerely yours, J. D. BARKER

JUDGE BARKER IS ENDORSED BY BAR

To the Voters of the 28th District of Texas: We, the undersigned attorneys of Cisco Bar, take this method of giving our approval and endorsing the candidacy of Judge J. D. Barker of Cisco, as the logical man for the responsible position of state senator in our district. He is an exemplary citizen, a sound broad judicial experience, and qualified in every respect to represent the people of West Texas in 1899. He is thoroughly conversant with the industrial and economic conditions of the west, and will be a voice of her legitimate legal requirements, yet sane and conservative in procuring and promoting measures which will best meet the demands of our section and entire state. #### First German is Given 8 Months for His Cruelty Leipsic, May 26.—Serg. Heyne accused of having ill-treated British soldiers who were prisoners of war at the prison camp at Herne, Westphalia was sentenced to 8 months imprisonment by the high court here today. He is the first German officer to be tried on criminal charge arising from the conduct of the war.

In his summing up address the prosecuting attorney general demanded that Heyne be sent to prison for two years. Reviewing the testimony, the prosecutor declared that while prisoners of war "could not be expected to be handled with 'kid gloves' Sergeant Heyne was shown to have exceeded the requirements of his position as guard over British prisoners in 28 instances"

Attorneys for the defense declared the sergeant was constantly beset with difficulties due to the hostile attitude of the British prisoners at the camp at Herne, Westphalia. The next case to be tried will be that of Captain Mueller, who was accused of ill treating British prisoners at the camp near Karlsrup.

South African Croesus Buys Canadian Town to Make English Village

Nicola, B. C., May 26.—This entire town, courthouse, postoffice, stores and residences has been purchased by Maj. Charles Sydney Goldham, South African capitalist and former member of the British house of parliament and is to be converted into a model English village.

The business section is to be replaced with a village green and the 20,000 acres surrounding the town, which are included in the purchase, will be laid out in model farms. A summer resort to be built on Nicola Lake, is included in the plans of Goldham, who during construction work in town, makes his home in the courthouse.

Jap Diplomat Scores Rulers in Yap Tangle

Osaka, Japan, May 26.—Viscount Takaaki Kato, former Japanese minister of foreign affairs, blamed the Japanese government for developments arising over the mandate to the island of Yap during a speech before a meeting of members of the Kensei Kai, or opposition party, here yesterday. He said, however, that Japan should now insist upon her acquired rights.

Lieutenant-Governor Lynch Davidson may yet outshine the chief executive. In an address before the Houston Press club last week he opposed the drastic law taxing trucks and said it would be better for Texas to build roads to accommodate trucks rather than to pass laws taxing trucks for making their own roads. The proposed law taxing trucks would prove pernicious to say the least, and would be of no ultimate benefit except to probably increase the salaries of railroad lobbyists.—Stamford American.

The Chairman is not sure that this is the only Circle to meet; but he makes apologies here for not calling up to find out about the meetings; because of many other duties calling for his attention. The Chautauqua is claiming some attention this week, and it is emphatically worth while, and then the school closing claims our attention too and so we have a busy week; but next week we can again turn our attention to the Circle meetings, and not forget the assembling of ourselves together.

Mayday
 your X-Ray, let us penetrate people's skin and see if they don't a Sun Bath; as our English bro-says, a bath.
 first service God rendered the born human race was to give them bath.
 down the stream of time, has smothered and shaded his body by heavy and too much thick black clothing. Humanity is almost uniformly in some way afflicted. any limited way (limited, owing to no conveniences) I have been experimenting on the sun bath, and been in touch with some friends have carried the experiments even further, and we find great possibilities benefits from the sun bath, and I promise to become one of the greatest healing forces of modern medicine.
 It is simple, practical and medical.
 must be taken gradually and in small amounts, just as we start an engine cold. If we throw on too strong a fire we will blow a cylinder head. believe that it will benefit any person afflicted with a suffering from a kind. I believe it will cure any disease or illness. of no business chances, nor difficulties, that offers so much for investment and risk, than means ven blessing—the sun. This may

Mineral Water
 McKinney Examiner: An oil well has been "spudded in" at Tioga and there is great excitement. Colonel Rudolph of the Herald is now called on to explain if it is intended to "mix oil and water" up there. We have always been told you could not mix oil and water. But we suppose that Tioga brand of water is different.
 Let not him boast who putteth his money in as he whotaketh it out.
 That, summed up in a sentence, is the wisdom of long months of waiting in connection with the Lizzie Fluke. The Lizzie Fluke was spudded in, but all the oil that ever came from the Lizzie Fluke wouldn't pay for a single spud of the size requisite to cork a machine oil can. Colonel Rudolph should restrain himself. Spudding in doesn't mean a thing in creation except a hole in the ground too small for planting a reasonably sized post. State Press speaks in sadness, but not unkindly.
 He is a game loser and never speaks of his losses, but if that Tioga well strikes a gushing, rushing, sparkling liquid fountain of high-grade asphaltic base mineral water he doesn't wish anyone to point an accusing finger at him and declare that he, S. P., might have spoken a warning word and yet maintained a compromising silence. Put not your trust in spudders in, Colonel.
 State Press in Dallas News.

Odessa's New Hotel Completed
 The new two-story hotel which has been under construction at Odessa for some months is about completed and will be furnished and ready for occupancy about June 1. This modern brick building was constructed to meet the needs of the tourists over the Bankhead highway from central Texas to El Paso. $230,000 will be spent by the county, state and federal governments on the 25-mile stretch of this highway that passes through Ector county. The bonds have already been voted and the matter is now in the hands of the highway department. This road will connect up several of the more sparsely settled counties of West Texas and will be an important link in the highway system of the state.

Astray
 A brown mare, 14 hands high, roach mane, natural pacer; anyone seeing or knowing the whereabouts of this mare, please notify
 R. E. TANNEHILL, Big Spring, Texas.

Intern the Gossips
 "They say", "It is rumored," "I have been told," and kindred expressions have caused more heartaches, blasted more characters and thrown into bankruptcy more business institutions than any other combination of words in the English language. To destroy confidence either in an individual or in a business institution by circulating unfounded rumors, maliciously or not, is a most reprehensible practice.
 Those who indulge in it should be interned on some island in the middle of the sea where their uncontrolled tongues could have play without making victims of the innocent.
 Recently an unconfirmed rumor that a large bank in the city of Dallas was in trouble was circulated. The report spread throughout the city and within an hour depositors were crowding the lobby and extending out into the street, each one intent on fighting his or her way to the window, there to retrieve their savings before it was too late.
 Fortunately the run on this bank was made by small depositors only, but had not the financial interests of the city, through their representatives, addressed the crowd and issued statements through the newspaper extra extras showing that this particular institution was solvent beyond a doubt, the run might have been more serious. Even though this institution found it possible to satisfy all demands easily and without embarrassment, financially, there is no way of estimating the injury done by destroying or weakening the confidence the thousands of depositors had in the bank and in its officers and directors.

Confidence is necessary in business.
 A good reputation is often better security than lands or bonds. At this period in the history of this Nation we need to restore confidence in our fellow men, in our business institutions and in ourselves. It is a time when men and organizations should work in harmony and lend a helping hand where needed. The practice of the Golden Rule would do much towards restoring peace and prosperity throughout the world.—Farm and Ranch.

FACTS, FUN AND FOOLISHNESS
 By Austin Callan
Just A Thought For The Morning
 You have reached the dawn of a new day. Before you each golden hour stands as a tablet that has never been touched. Will you chisel something useful to humanity, something beautiful to look upon, with the tools that God has placed at your disposal, or will you but leave a mass of quarry rubbish as you pass along?
 Somebody needs your smiles and cheerful words and helping hand between now and night. Somebody, right here where you live, not in a faraway land. And you can make life more joyful for them and more satisfying for yourself, by supplying these things in a bountiful measure.
 Be great in thought today, be great in love and great in serving. You can do it as well as a king who wears a crown. You can do it by keeping your heart in tune with the hopes and aspirations and feelings of others. And then when the shadows of eventide have come the world will be a little bit sweeter and a little bit better for what you have done.
 It is nobler to live such a life for just twelve hours, a real help, a sure enough neighbor to those you meet and dwell among, than to camouflage thru all the years. In this way you can paint as a master upon the canvas, leaving along the path something worth while for fellow-travelers to gaze upon and enjoy.

"The People That Want Your Business"

Our old grass-widower friend says that while he has married twice and one of the women broke his heart and the other one broke his head, he still won't contend that marriage is a failure and will try it again.

Some people take pride in being hard to approach, but after a man is thoroughly educated in that line of animalism, any wild mule can beat him at the game.

Even the bravest man feels that there is a streak of yellow in his make-up when his wife announces that she has cooked her first pie.

Speaking about a fat stock show, what do you think about the big hog who occupies two seats on a passenger train, while two gentlemen are compelled to stand up?

We used to know when spring came by reading the hock beer signs, but we suppose now that we are going to be forced back to the almanac.

The greatest objection that most of us find to anybody is that they think with their heads and talk with their mouths, when we want to do these things for them.

What has become of the old fashioned farmer who was so persistent in his efforts to keep the government from going to the dogs, that he left his cultivator to rust in the field?

C. F. Hathway returned Monday from a visit in Fort Worth.

L. B. Russell in the Comanche Enterprise: When I was born, which was in Texas in 1850, the state had only 212,562 population. Seventy years later it had 4,963,223, or about twenty-two times as many, doubling itself four times, with a million and a quarter to spare. In 1850 there were only seventy-seven counties, of which Harrison was the most populous, containing 11,822, while Cooke county was next to the smallest in numbers having only 220, San Patricio being the smallest with 200. Bexar, of which San Antonio was then as now the county seat, had 6,052; Harris had, 4,968, Galveston had 4,520, Nacogdoches 5,193, Rusk, 8,148, Washington 6983; Dallas 2,743. Texas has now 253 counties, four unorganized, in which San Antonio, Bexar county, has alone within its city limits, 161,379; I haven't the number for the county; Dallas has within 2,600 of as many people as the whole of Texas did in 1850, being 210,551, and is the most popular county in the state, with 248.1 persons per square mile. When I was born there was not a foot of railroad in Texas. There was but one banking institution reported, which was the old Commercial and Agricultural bank of Galveston. It may be interesting to know that for two years ending June 31, 1850, among the crops reported in Texas was 66,897 pounds of tobacco, rice, 87,918 pounds; ginned cotton, 57, 596 bales of 400 pounds each or 46,076 bales of 500 pounds; 1,048 pounds of flax; 41,689 bushels wheat; twenty-two pounds of silk cocoons, and fifty-nine bushels of buckwheat. The exports from foreign countries were valued at $24,958, and imports $26,650.

 I have not the figures for all these for last year, but when we remember that millions of bales of cotton alone are exported now every year in normal times it is apparent that the wealth and commerce has far outgrown the increase in population. It has been my lot to watch Texas grow for nearly seventy years and it has been an interesting sight.

Maxwell Prices Reduced ---Now $845

New Organization, Taking Full Control, Turns Prices Back Three Years

The last step in the Maxwell reorganization was the sale of the Maxwell properties to the new and powerful organization, May 12. The first step of the new organization was to raise the value of the good Maxwell still higher, by restoring prices to the former low level of 1918. The reduction is $150 on each of the four models, effective at once. This is the second price revision made by the new organization; and the total reduction from the high level, since Sept. 28, 1920, has been $310 on open cars and $350 on closed cars. The new organization now owns the great Maxwell plant outright. Its way is clear to carry out in full its larger plans and policies. It pledges itself never to stop working for the further betterment of the good Maxwell, and for the greater satisfaction of present and future owners of this good car.

Egyptian Cotton Cannot Be Grown in Texas

Washington, D. C., May 19.—Egyptian cotton cannot be grown successfully or with profit in Texas, the department of agriculture has announced. It has been tried in the state and proved unsuccessful. In Arizona and New Mexico in limited areas, it has been successful. The department says that Durango cotton, somewhat similar to the Egyptian staple, can be grown with profit in most of the Texas cotton areas.

The cotton speculators are beginning to realize that the reduction in acreage and lack of fertilizer may easily result in an undersized crop. They are hoping that a large surplus and political and social occurrences will give them an opportunity to work their usual manipulations.

The world might owe you a living, but you will find that a lazy man is an awful poor collector.

An Explanation

Since its organization the B. P. O. E. has been rather lenient in the matter of having its friends enjoy the social features at B. P. O. E. Hall, but for the reason that a few seemed inclined to abuse these privileges it will be necessary to make some restrictions which may cause inconvenience to a few but will be for the best.

The Elks Hall is maintained for the members; and the social features on Saturday nights and on special occasions are for the pleasure of the members and their families. Friends, when accompanied by members of the B. P. O. E., are always welcome. However, some Elks have not yet learned that men residing in Howard county who are not members are not eligible to attend any occasion in the Elks Hall. Until the members become more fully acquainted with the rules it will be necessary to make all social features, invitation affairs for all except members and their families.

To avoid any inconvenience and aid the doorkeeper, the ladies and minors whose husbands, fathers or brothers are members, should be provided with identification cards to be used when unaccompanied. In the future the doorkeeper will be instructed to refuse admittance to all persons not accompanied by a member of the B. P. O. E. or not having an invitation or identification card. (adv. 2t)

By order of,
HOUSE COMMITTEE B. P. O. E.

Cook Rice By This Masterful Receipt.
Follow this famous old recipe of the South. It is so simple that any one using it can successfully boil rice the first time.

Wash rice thoroughly in a strainer. Use a deep porcelain or agate-ware kettle. To six cups of boiling water add one level teaspoonful of salt. Then add one cup of washed rice so slowly that water continues to boil. Lift rice occasionally with fork, and shake kettle so that no kernels stick to bottom. But—this is important—NEVER STIR THE RICE. Boil twenty minutes. Then pour water off, if any, and place in open oven where it will finish swelling without burning. Each grain will stand alone, plump, tender and delicious.

One of the best loved Americans is John Temple Graves. His reputation as an orator is international. He has a command of the English language that is most remarkable. In the past twenty years he has numbered as his friends the great men of the Nation in both great parties. As a newspaper man he handled for years twelve newspapers of national circulation and reached twenty million readers daily. The Redpath-Horner Chautauquas have been extremely fortunate in getting Colonel Graves this year. Only last March he appeared before the Academy of Arts and Sciences of Pittsburg, Pa. Henry T. Rainey, Congressman from Illinois sums his speech up in saying, "As an orator there is nobody like him. He is in a class by himself—exquisite, charming, convincing, irresistible."

"Cotton is Credit"

"For more than a century we have heard the cry, 'cotton is gold,'" writes a Wall street financier. "This was because the producer was poor and the European buyer was comparatively wealthy. He was willing to pay the grower the cash because he had the money and because he needed the product. The situation is now changed. The South may have suffered somewhat from the decline in cotton but it is immensely wealthy compared with the European buyer. Cotton therefore is no longer gold. The South will have to work for a few years on the principle, cotton is credit."

Why not state the real facts? Is the European cotton buyer poor? Factory lords of Great Britain, the manufacturers of cotton fabrics made the largest profits in their history during the world war. When did they lose their fortunes or their war profits?

For a hundred years the American cotton producer has been poor but never the buyer of raw cotton. The situation is changed to this extent: The European buyer of cotton goods is poor. He is idle. There are 4,000,000 idle workmen in Great Britain and these, with their dependents, represent twelve to fifteen million wearers of cotton goods.

It is not the foreign buyer of cotton that's in financial distress. It is the foreign buyer of cotton goods. Of course the slogan, "cotton is credit," is very attractive. It is attractive because it contains truth.

If the Germans for instance were given long time credits they would take 3,000,000 bales of the crop of 1920 and other Europeans who would buy if given long time credits would be in the market for the fleecy staple.

There must be confidence before there is credit. France is backing the Poles, who grabbed Upper Silesia. Great Britain is backing the agreement of the allies' council. France has its hand on the gun and the Pole, instead of going to work, is sharpening his sword for bloody strife.

A man or a nation with money to loan must have confidence in the borrower, must realize that there is a stable government to deal with or a stable individual before he will buy bonds or create credits.

For every purpose for which a liniment is usually applied the modern remedy, Liquid Borozone, will do the work more quickly, more thoroughly and more pleasantly. Price, 30c, 60c, and $1.20. Sold by J. L. Ward Jewelry & Drug Co. (adv)

Sick War Burdens.

(By W. M. McAdoo)

Disarmament or bust seems to be the alternative the world is facing today. The excessive taxation which all nations are forced to bear from wars already fought cannot be escaped; but excessive taxation in preparation for future wars that need not be fought if there is any intelligent statesmanship left in the world, can not be excused.

Prompt agreement between the leading nations for disarmament would lift a terrible burden from the backs of the common people and rapid improvement in the economic situation would speedily follow.

There has never been a time when the world was so sick of war burdens and so willing to limit them, as now. The United States can do more than any other power to bring about a prompt reduction and limitation of armaments. This was one of the great things the league of nations sought to accomplish but, as the senate refused to ratify the treaty we must look to some other means of getting the result.

Senator Borah's proposal for an agreement between Great Britain and the United States to stop competition in naval armament and to reduce naval expenditures offers a partial remedy. The Borah resolution ought to be adopted and the United States should be glad to take the lead in this sane and humane effort.

Here is a chance to demonstrate to the world the sincerity of our professions in favor of world peace and to bring about an annual reduction of several hundred million dollars in our naval expenditures.

We should not, of course, pursue a policy of independent disarmament which would place America at a disadvantage, but no valid objection can be urged to an immediate agreement tax burdens without imperiling the to reduce armaments and lift nation's safety or power of defense.

The Christian sentiment of the world demands that prompt measures be taken to stop the criminal waste of money on needless armaments with their cruel exactions of human sweat and toil and misery.

YOUR TEETH

By REA PROCTOR MCGEE
M. D., D. D. S.

The Magic of the Teeth

No other person has ever seen a picture of a landscape or a beautiful face or a sunset just as you see it.

No one has ever heard a piece of music or a thunderstorm just as you hear it.

When you and your dearest friend read the same book or hear the same story you will always differ a little in your understanding of it.

This is because every impression that comes to you is moulded by your own personality. Your personality is like an export and import tax: it touches every act of life—it affects every impression, both coming and going.

Personality is the sum of all of your experiences and of your ideas and of your memories, plus your physical condition. Your appearance is a large factor in your effect upon other people; it is one of the great factors in your effect upon yourself.

We all love magic and the supernatural because the everyday humdrum of solid facts gets upon our nerves.

Fairy tales are not for children, they are for grown-ups.

We call them "novels" and we always expect the magical power of good to overcome the sorcery of evil.

Our heroes and our heroines we always endow with beauty, health, energy or youth, because in our experience these conditions give a desirable personality and contribute to a happy present and a genial old age.

Our villains we endow with forbidding faces, crooked bodies, often with ill-health, because we know that these things warp the disposition and frequently change a pleasant personality into an unpleasant one.

Did you ever hear of a beautiful heroine or a manly hero whose smile showed a row of decayed teeth or inflamed gums? Do you remember how quickly "Dr. Jekyll's" even and beautiful teeth changed into protruding snaggle teeth when he became "Mr. Hyde"?

Your mouth and teeth make up seventy-five per cent of your facial expression. Who wants to look like "Mr. Hyde"?
