Mulette Tracksters Gear-Up For District Competition

"Even though the track season seems to have just started, the Muleshoe girls tracksters are already about one week away from their district 2AAA track meet," said Coach Robert Brandon.

"This meet is scheduled April 3 in Hereford to decide the District champions and also to qualify individuals and relay teams to the Regional Track Meet later in Lubbock."

Coach Brandon continued, "The short season this year puts an added pressure on the girls to get physically ready to run. It presents a problem of working on the fine points without possibly being in 'good shape' yet.

Tornado Season Safety Outlined

With the onset of turbulent spring weather and the "tornado season" the National Weather Service has issued a special weather statement regarding tornado safety rules.

When a tornado is approaching, immediate action could mean life or death to you and your family. Advice from the NWS includes this plan of action: First, seek inside shelter, preferably in a tornado cellar, underground excavation or a steel framed or re-inforced concrete building of substantial construction. Persons are cautioned to stay away from windows and not to attempt to out-drive a tornado in a vehicle. Safety is much better in a reinforced building or at home, than in a vehicle.

In office buildings, persons are advised to go to an interior hallway on the lowest floor; or, to the designated shelter area of that building.

In factories, workers should move quickly to the section of the plant offering the greatest protection. Advance plans are a must. Plant managers should consult with civil defense and plant engineering personnel to locate the safest possible shelter areas.

Should you get caught in a shopping center, go to a designated shelter area -- not to your parked car.

In most homes, the basement offers the greatest safety. Shelter may be found under sturdy furniture. In homes without basements, take cover in the center part of the house, or the lowest floor. Try to locate in a small room such as a closet or bathroom. Do not attempt to open doors or windows -- stay away from them.

Mobile homes are particularly vulnerable to destructive winds. Proper tie downs can prevent over-Cont. on Page 6, Col. 1

11,000 Acres Filed On This Week

Since the first month of 1982, oil and gas speculators have leased over 20,000 acres of Bailey County minerals.

While a large majority of the leases involve land just north and east and immediately surrounding the Enochs area, the trend is apparently taking a run in a northerly direction toward the West Camp area. Reliable reports indicate that leases around West Camp are bringing a $50 per acre bonus, a $1.00 per acre rental per year and a 3/16 basic royalty.

Leases in the Enochs area involve some eleven thousand acres, all filed within the past week in county records. Reports reveal that some of the major oil companies such as Gulf and Phillips have purchased some of these leases. Bonus prices for leases in the Enochs area have been reported to be from $35 to $50 per acre. The majority of the leases involve what was once known as the Enochs Estate land.

Those leases filed are as follows:

O. D. Campbell to W. Wayne Gill -- All of Labor 106, League 182, Floyd County School Lands in Bailey County, Texas.

Odes L. Thompson, Sr. and wife, Rachel M. Thompson to W. Wayne Gill -- (nw14) of Section 27, Save and except 1.00 acre tract out of northeast corner, State Capitol School Lands, Block Z in Bailey County, Texas.

William D. Armstrong to W. Wayne Gill -- All of Labors 15, 16, 23 and 25, League 177, Motley County School Land in Bailey County, Texas.

John T. Moss and wife, Elizabeth B. Moss to W. Wayne Gill -- All of Labor 5 and Labor 6, League 122, Childress County School Land in Bailey County, Cont. Page 12, Col. 1

Texas Ground Water Control Spotlighthed

Among the eleven key issues being addressed in the Texas Water Plan revision, Issue II: Water Law is of keen interest to the Texas High Plains. The kernel of this issue is whether state ground water controls are needed.

The Background Statement of the report clarifies that Texas ground water is subject to the right of capture by landowners as long as the water is put to beneficial use and not wasted. It states that in many parts of Texas the value of land depends upon the quantity and quality of the water which occurs beneath it. A distinction is made between rechargeable and nonrechargeable aquifers, and the background statement reads, "At the present time, aquifers provide approximately 69 percent of the water used in Texas, and the water supplies of several mafor aquifers are being depleted.

"Aquifers which receive appreciable recharge could perhaps be managed by limiting the quantities of water pumped to some specified quantity, i.e., restricting pumpage to the long-term average recharge. However, those aquifers which receive very little natural recharge do not lend themselves to such a management approach. For such aquifers, the question is "Over what period of time should the water stored in the aquifer be withdrawn and used?"

Little League Final Sign-Up March 30,31

The Issue Statement focuses on whether and how the State should intervene to offset ground water declines in the face of growing water demands. The options mentioned are water conservation, increased efficiency, supplemental surface supply development, ground water transfers, or a combination of these. The report also states:

"In Texas, underground water resources can be managed and controlled by Cont. Page 6, Col. 7

Trim Up Your Fashions Says Alma Fonseca

Trim up your fashions expertly with just a few guidelines, says Alma Fonseca, a clothing specialist.

Trims are everywhere -- on blouses, pants, skirts and jackets, she notes.

Fonseca is on the home economics staff of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, the Texas A&M University System.

Since many of today's new metallic trims are bulkier than most lace trims and cannot be applied easily by machine, overcast them in place with matching metallic thread or invisible thread, she recommends.

Apply cement glue to the ends of metallic trims to avoid raveling.

Then work the ends into appropriate seams by hand stitching for a professional finish.

turning and minimize damage. A warden should be appointed in mobile home parks to scan the skies and listen to radio and TV for warnings. There should be a designated community shelter where mobile home residents can assemble during a tornado warning. If none is available, residents are cautioned not to stay in a mobile home during a tornado warning. Refuge should be sought in a sturdy building, in a ditch, culvert or ravine.

In schools, the advance plans should include retreating to an interior hallway on the lowest floor, whenever possible. Hallways that open to the south and west should be avoided, as should gymnasiums, auditoriums or other structures with wide freespans roofs. If a school building is not of reinforced construction, persons are advised to go quickly to a nearby re-inforced building or a ravine or open ditch and to lie flat.

Since there is not time to find suitable shelter if caught in open country, persons are advised to lie flat in the nearest depression, such as a ditch or ravine.

Most important is to keep contact with broadcasts on the latest national weather service regarding tornado watches and warnings. They will inform the public when the danger is over.

Most of all, persons are encouraged to watch the skies, since tornadoes come and go quickly and there may not be time for a warning. Be alert for sudden appearances of violent wind, rain, hail or funnel-shaped clouds. When in doubt—take cover, as tornadoes are often obscured by rain, dust and some occur at night and are difficult to detect.

A tornado watch means that tornadoes are expected to develop. A tornado warning means that a tornado has actually been spotted. Persons close to the storm should take cover immediately. Those farther away should take cover if threatening conditions approach.

local units of government either by the creation of Underground Water Conservation Districts or by special districts created directly by the Legislature (the Harris-Galveston Coastal Subsidence District is an example). Several conservation districts have been formed; however a significant part of the ground water resources in the State are not within the jurisdiction of the six currently active underground water districts, only the Harris-Galveston Subsidence District directly regulates the quantity of water that can be pumped. Existing ground water conservation districts have promulgated and are enforcing rules to prohibit waste of water and control spacing of wells to reduce competition among wells. In addition, these districts carry out water conservation information and education programs, some sponsor and implement aquifer recharge projects, and some are participating in various types of water conservation research and development projects within their respective areas.

"It has been suggested that essentially all of the State lying outside the boundaries of an existing conservation district be placed in one or more conservation districts that would be subject to State regulations as to the withdrawal of water. Under this suggested plan, the citizens of an area could decide to locally organize and operate a conservation district. This plan would afford local control over the ground water resources in that area, but would provide state regulation should the citizens choose not to organize such a district."

The Question posed is "Is State regulation and control needed? Should the state pursue a policy of regulation and control in those regions of Texas where conservation districts are not formed and operated? Should some other course of action be chosen? What are your views and reasons regarding this issue?"

Please direct your response to Bobby Whitefield, Texas Dept. of Water Resources, P. O. Box 13087, Capitol Station, Austin, Texas, 78711.

Public Service Announcement From Bailey County Appraisal and State Property Tax Board

Homeowners who are 65 years of age or older and failed to receive their school district homestead exemptions in 1979 have until April 1 of this year to do so. In this way, elderly homeowners will be able to take advantage of the tax freeze associated with the $10,000 homestead exemption, said Dale Jones, chief appraiser for the Bailey County Appraisal District.

According to a law passed by the Special Session of the 67th legislature, over-65 homeowners who qualified for the school homestead "tax freeze" in 1979, but did not apply for the limitation, may file an application with the chief appraiser of the appraisal district in which the home is located.

Application must be made with Dale Jones before April 1, 1982. To qualify for their tax limitation, on January 1, 1979 a homeowner must have satisfied these requirements:

- Be 65 years or older
- Own his home
- Use that home as his principal residence

The chief appraiser will consider all applications and notify each applicant before April 15, 1982. If the application is approved, the chief appraiser will make an entry on the appropriate school district's 1982 appraisal records.

This entry will indicate the amount of tax the over-65 taxpayer should have paid in 1979, had he been granted the $5,000 general homestead exemption and the $10,000 over-65 homestead exemption. No refunds of taxes paid will be given for 1979, 1980, or 1981.

For 1982, the taxpayer's amount of homestead taxes paid may not exceed the amount of taxes the school district would have imposed on the homestead for 1979, had the taxpayer been granted his homestead exemptions. This frozen tax amount will remain in effect as long as the homestead remains the same.

For applications contact Dale Jones at the :

Michelle Finney, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bob Finney, scored a 6.2 on vault; 7.85 on uneven bar; a 6.9 on beam and 7.05 on floor exercise with an overall score of 28.

Kendra Wilson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Wilson, scored a 7.4 on vault; 7.35 on bars; 7.1 on beam and a 6.85 on floor exercise with an overall score of 28.70.

Cindy Purdy, Sheri Hawkins and Melba King accompanied the gymnasts to Lubbock.

YOUNG MODEL--Christie Phillips, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dewayne Phillips of Hugoton, Kansas, placed second in modelling in the "Our Diamond Miss" pageant held recently in Liberal, Kansas and also overall "Most Photogenic." The five year old granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Ritchie of Sudan and Mr. and Mrs. Morris Phillips of Muleshoe placed second runner up in the same contest held in Hugoton earlier this month and third in "Miss Cinderella" pageant held in Hugoton.

Microwave ovens offer another cooking appliance option to supplement conventional cooking appliances. Fast cooking has been the main advantage. Cooking on older models is completely time-controlled. Features on newer models allow both time and temperature-controlled cooking.

Microwave ovens are available in counter-top models, built-in models that may include dual oven and range top, and the all-in-one combination oven that combines microwave and conventional heat in one oven.

Microwaves are high frequency waves of energy, much like radio and television waves. Microwaves are nonionizing, a form of energy that causes a rise in temperature rather than a chemical change. The two frequencies approved by the Federal Communication Commission (FCC) for use in microwave ovens are 2450 and 915 megahertz. MHz, the symbol for mega-Hertz, means one million cycles per second. Most microwave ovens operate on a frequency of 2450 (MHz). This frequency has a shorter wave length that produces more uniform heat.

Microwaves are generated by a magnetron tube and sent to the oven cavity through a wave guide. A stirrer or similar device is used to distribute the waves evenly. Some ovens use a turntable to rotate food within the oven. As microwave energy is absorbed by food, moisture and fat molecules in the food begin to move rapidly. This friction causes heat.

Because microwaves create heat within food, the controls regulate the length of time that microwaves are produced rather than the temperature of the oven cavity. Some controls are labeled with familiar cooking terms such as bake, simmer, roast, etc., or high, medium and low power. Each of these settings cycle the magnetron tube off and on for a certain number of seconds of each minute of cooking time or reduce the power output of the magnetron tube.

For more information, attend one of the microwave schools planned for April 13, at the Civic Center.

TRU-TEST PAINTS PAINTING HELP SPOKEN HERE.

BY Bonnie Blaire
TRU-TEST COLOR CONSULTANT

Dear Bonnie:

Please suggest a fashion color for the walls of my living room. The furnishings now are primarily beige with brown accents. I would like a distinct change from my bland beige walls but one that will make a harmonious background for my present furnishings.

Signed, Bored with Beige

Dear Bored:

Consider a spicy bright brown or a brownish copper like the middle colors on cards B12 and B11 from the TRU-TEST Custom Color Selector. They are medium dark colors that should make an effective setting for your beige and brown furnishings and a definite change from beige walls. Paint woodwork to match your wall color or paint it with one of the lighter beige colors on the same strip card.

Repeat the wall color by distributing some copper accents in the form of sofa pillows, chair coverings or other accessories.

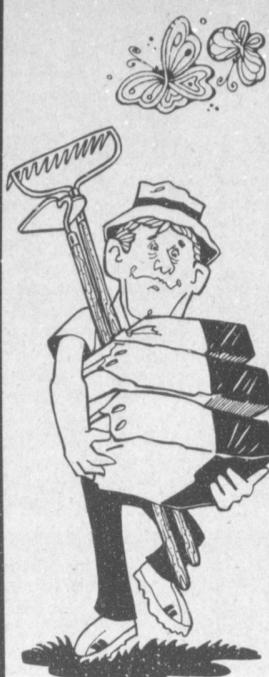

The spicy and coppery browns are among the most useful of the new deep colors. Earth colors, blend well with all the natural neutrals, with the rough textures and raw fibers of unbleached linen, raw silk, wicker, reed, cane bamboo and also all natural wood, stone and brick.

New York: Koch to run for governor.

The Sandhills Philosopher

Editor's note: The Sandhills Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Sandy Creek takes a puzzled look at the world this week.

Dear editor:

As everybody knows, the airlines are in financial trouble. One company lost $140 million last year, another $160 million, and one even $400 million.

As a result airline officials are tossing in their sleep worrying about how to avoid bankruptcy.

That's because they haven't had proper training. Had they farmed for awhile before going into the airline business they'd have found out how to operate at a loss year after year and still keep going.

The airlines aren't the only outfits in financial trouble. The Communist government of Poland owes $28 billion, much of it to United States banks, and can't pay it back. Russia is way short of cash and is selling gold and diamonds at marked-down prices in order to keep supporting Cuba. England is head over heels in debt. France's answer to its financial problems is to drink more wine. Israel couldn't get along without help from the U. S. Italy needs help. El Salvador shouldn't even be mentioned. The United States is facing a $100 billion deficit. All three major American car companies are losing big money. Savings and loan companies are shuddering at their plight. Some 100-year-old big city newspapers have closed down. Prince Charles needs more money now that a baby is on the way. The housing industry is in deep trouble due to high interest rates. Unemployment all around the world is up. You can't get waited on in a store. Repairmen don't know how to repair. American trains haven't run on time in years. Appliances break down a week after the warranty runs out. Congress doesn't know which way to turn.

Do you sometimes get the feeling that nobody knows how to run anything anymore? Can you send somebody out here to help me change the ribbon on my typewriter?

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

Experimental Ranch Plans Field Day

Report on a year's testing of a short duration grazing system and results of intensive research on range animal nutrition, control of pricklypear cactus, and the response of livestock and vegetation to grazing management will be featured here on Thursday, April 8, at the field day of the Texas Experimental Ranch at Throckmorton.

The program begins at 8:30 a.m. with registration, said Dr. Earl C. Gilmore, resident director of research with the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station (TAES) at Vernon. The experimental ranch, 11 sections on the Throckmorton Ranch of the Sven R. Swenson Cattle Co., is on U. S. Hwys. 183 and 283 between Throckmorton and Seymour.

Tours will begin at 9:30 a.m., with a barbecue lunch served at noon, said Dr. Rod Heitschmidt, TAES associate professor of range ecology.

One tour stop will be at the cell-designed short duration grazing (SDG) system, Heitschmidt said. Commonly known as the Savory Grazing Method, for its developer, Allan Savory of Albuquerque, N.M. this management method has gained wide interest for its potential of increasing livestock production while maintaining or improving the forage resource of the range.

"I was glad when they said unto me, LET US GO INTO THE HOUSE OF THE LORD"

"... in thy presence is fulness of joy ..."

Open up your heart, sing praises joyfully unto the Lord. The feeling of being and sharing with others in worship is at its highest in the Lord's house. Hear a message from God's dedicated servant. Know the satisfaction of praying to the Lord with others. Attend church regularly and ... "Praise the Lord; for the Lord is good; sing praises unto His name; for it is pleasant."

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

Council Plans April Elections

The Student Council 1981-82 members and officers have begun planning for the soon coming elections which will be held Tuesday, April 20. There will be a meeting Tuesday morning, March 30 in the DECA room for all interested persons who may desire to run for an office or may help others campaign. All present officers will attend and help explain the duties of each office and what Student Council is all about. They will also give in detail the purpose of each activity carried out through the school year. Petitions may be picked up at the Tuesday meeting or any time during the week from Mrs. Pylant or Keith Taylor. These petitions need to be handed back no later than April 8, the last day students have school before the Easter break.

Everyone who is interested is urged to be present at the meeting March 30. The success of next year heavily depends upon the officers elected so a great deal of thought needs to be given to this election.

Caspar Weinberger, Secretary of Defense, about visiting Jordan: "What is important is that the United States have more than one friend in the Mideast..."

The Consumer Alert

by Mark White, Attorney General

AUSTIN--As consumers look for ways to save money, one method being tried by some Texans is the food-buying cooperative. This is a non-profit group of individuals or families that buy groceries together directly from wholesalers.

Because co-op members do all the work of shopping, loading, transporting, sorting, bagging and collecting money, because each member agrees in advance to pay a certain amount per week, and because there is no operating expense for a store, co-ops are able to charge less than most supermarkets for some grocery items. The percentage of savings varies with the type of item, with produce savings frequently the greatest.

One nationwide directory of cooperatives reports that there are an estimated 3,000 food co-ops in operation around the country. Most of them have from 10 to 60 families as members and buy mainly produce and perhaps eggs, milk and cheese. A few have several thousand members and operate much like regular supermarkets, with complete stock of all kinds of goods.

Our Attorney General's Consumer Protection Division lawyers caution that not all consumers who have become food co-op members have been happy with the experience. They suggest that anyone who is considering joining or forming a co-op find out in advance what is involved in the project and determine whether or not the savings will be great enough to offset the demands of time and labor.

The main thing to remember, our attorneys point out, is that with a co-op you will be trading your hard work, time and convenience for savings. Only the individual consumer can decide if such a trade is a fair one.

Many experienced and successful co-op organizers recommend that beginners start small by limiting the number of members to 10 or 12 and by purchasing only produce. This will be a large enough group to buy items in bulk, but small enough that a station wagon can be used to transport groceries.

Advance planning must be done to get the co-op off to a smooth start. This involves locating the wholesalers' market and visiting it to see how it operates, checking to find out if your city requires a special license for food co-ops, and deciding on a central pick-up point where members will go each week to get their groceries. For some co-ops, this may be one member's garage or driveway.

The U.S. Office of Consumer Affairs lists savings, fresher fruits and vegetables and the companionship that comes from working together with other co-op members as some of the advantages of a co-op.

Some of the disadvantages may be the hard work, early hours you will need to appear at the wholesalers' market and the limited choice of goods. You may find that some members complain about the kind of produce selected by their buyer of the week, saying they either have to eat things they don't like or waste money by throwing them away.

So before deciding to form or join a co-op, it may be wise to talk with members of an established co-op, perhaps even to observe them in action for a few weeks before making your decision.

If you have a consumer complaint, get in touch with the Attorney General's Consumer Protection Division, your county or district attorney or your local Better Business Bureau.

He has shown outstanding leadership as captain of the Muleshoe High School team throughout the 1981-82 season. Ronnie has been involved in Muleshoe's athletic program his entire four years of high school and has proven to be a great asset to the program. He is a competitor who shows fine leadership qualities both on and off the basketball court. Ronnie was chosen as an Honorable Mention All-district basketball player his junior year and also served as a football captain this year. He is an all-around athlete who is now enjoying the golf season.

Ronnie Cox, another devoted athlete, has been granted the "honorable Mention" status among the players. He enjoys all types of sports and being involved competitively in school activities. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. David Cox.
