Roads From Here To Hell, Subject Tonight's Sermon

"Gambling has the same relation to stealing that dueling does to murder," said Evangelist Flowers to a splendid audience at the Methodist revival. He flayed stock market gambling and said "one cause for the depression in money matters today was the wild gambling last fall when $15,000,000,000 was taken from circulation. Not all stock market buying is gambling, but much of it is. In the past twelve years the number of folk who play the stock market has grown in number from one million to twenty millions. We have about ruined school athletics because of the gambling orgy that has swept around the field. One little West Texas town last fall lost $5,000 in another town when her football team lost the game.

Breck Officers Capture Men In Gun Battle There

BRECKENRIDGE, Tex., June 26.—Finger prints of Marvin Smith, alias Roy Burkham, were sent to the state penitentiary at Huntsville today in an effort to verify the identity of the man who was captured in a gun battle with four officers here last night. Smith confessed to a series of local robberies and said he was an escaped convict from the Ramsey Farm of the state penitentiary at Huntsville. He said he escaped from the farm on June 10, with five other convicts, all of whom were later captured, except one, who was drowned swimming a river on his dash for freedom. Smith said he was serving a 25 year sentence for burglary.

DALLAS, Tex., June 26.—E. C. Toothman of Brownsville, for the last three years assistant secretary of the Republican State Executive Committee, was named secretary by officials of the organization Wednesday. Toothman succeeds the late Leonard Withington as secretary. He will come to Dallas about July 7 to take up his duties.

TEMPERATURE LEVELS CLIMB

DALLAS, Tex., June 26.—Wednesday's record temperature levels for the season may be exceeded today, for the mercury was skyrocketing hourly at noon. Clear, cloudless skies prevailed throughout the Lone Star State today. City dwellers by the tens of thousands overflowed parks and swimming places. Wednesday's mark of 100 in Dallas may be exceeded. It was 92 degrees here at noon yesterday, and 93 at the same reading today. Tuesday's high mark of 106 degrees in Texas was badly beaten Wednesday when Childress, in the Panhandle, reported 110 degrees. Memphis, with 108 degrees, was almost as hot. Quannah also reported 108. Lubbock and Lamesa, both on the plains, reported 106, as did Fort Stockton, on the border. Central West Texas had temperatures from 100 to 104. In East Texas, the hot spots were Fort Worth and Greenville, with 102 each, and Corsicana, which reported 104 degrees.

Southern Cross Speeds Towards Roosevelt Field

ROOSEVELT FIELD, N. Y., June 26.—Roosevelt Field was in readiness today to receive Major Charles E. Kingsford-Smith and his three companions aboard the Southern Cross, enroute from Harbor Grace, Newfoundland, to New York, after spanning the Atlantic.

Cars Required To Have Good Brakes Supreme Court Says

AUSTIN, Tex., June 26.—Adequate brakes are required on automobiles by a decision of the State Supreme Court today. The court held valid a penal statute imposing $100 fine for lack of safe brakes in violating a damage suit on the ground that "car colliding with a Houston and Texas Central railway train had defective brakes. The same law requires brakes to be set when a car is left standing.

Thomas B. Love To Speak Here Friday At 8 p. m.

Thomas B. Love, candidate for the democratic nomination for governor, will speak in the interest of his candidacy in the 91st district courtroom on Friday night June 27 at 8:00 o'clock. The State Senator is making an active campaign for the gubernatorial nomination and particularly in Central and West Texas. No announcement has as yet been made as to who will introduce the speaker.

Southern Cross Pilots Describe Flight Across The North Atlantic

Copyright, 1930, By United Press HARBOUR GRACE, Nf., June 26.—The hazards of the westward crossing of the north Atlantic ocean, which have baffled so many fliers in the past, were recounted to the United Press by the four aviators of the Southern Cross on their arrival here from Ireland yesterday. Capt. Charles E. Kingsford-Smith and his three companions were the first fliers to reach the North American mainland after a flight from Europe. They agreed it was a "wonderful experience," but all added that they would not try it again. "The Atlantic flight from east to west is a most uninviting adventure, trying human courage and endurance. Capt. Kingsford-Smith said, "I doubt it will ever become a practical commercial venture, as storms race in some sections of the route several hours out of the 24, besetting the trip with inconceivable dangers. "The first half of the trip the plane averaged 90 miles an hour. When we ran into headwinds and were buffeted for five hours by heavy gusts from many points of the compass. "We made only about 75 miles an hour, but the plane behaved splendidly, the crew discharging their duties admirably, fearlessly and coolly under the utmost strain and amid the greatest dangers. "J. W. Stannage, the 25 year old New Zealand radio operator said he had flown as radio operator on many flights, but that he would not have missed the thrill and adventure of the Southern Cross' trans-Atlantic hop for all the rest. "But I don't want to repeat it," he added, laughing. "Once is enough." (Continued on last page)

Trapper Gets A Big Gray Wolf

Wyatt Williams, government trapper, brought a large timber wolf to town today that he trapped north of town near the Henry Skinner and C. L. Garrett farms last night. The wolf, which was chained in the back of William's car, was a lean, gray, female timber wolf that appeared to have been mothering about six puppies. Henry Skinner said after the wolf was captured that he had lost approximately $50 worth of chickens and turkeys in the past few months and that he believed the loss was attributable to the wolf which the trapper had caught. Other farmers who live within a short distance of the place where the wolf was captured have reported that predatory animals have been killing their poultry recently.

Interest Grows In Revival Here

"A Country Man Who Moved to Town and What Happened to His Wife and Daughters," will be the theme of the Thursday night sermon by Evangelist R. E. Day at the Baptist revival. It is expected that the largest audiences yet assembled will be present to tonight's and Friday's services as the interest continues to increase with each service. The Thursday morning service was a deeply spiritual one according to Pastor W. T. Turner who states that two men joined the church Thursday and two men and one woman joined at the Wednesday night service.

Man Has Throat Cut SAN ANTONIO, Tex., June 26.—His throat cut severely, a man believed to be Albert Reichman of Lafayette, Louisiana, was in a hospital here today. Doctors said his condition was serious. He was taken off a Southern Pacific train yesterday that he boarded in Los Angeles. Train men said he made several attempts to jump off the train, and that they finally locked him in a compartment where he was later found with his throat cut. A woman thought to be his wife and a baby with her did not leave the train, but went on to Louisiana.

The Line Forms On The Right, But Don't Crowd

POINT ISABEL, Tex., June 26.—Promoters of a Fourth of July celebration here have gone out of their way to provide excitement. They have imported 150 rattlesnakes from Mexico—all more than five feet long—and are ready to receive entries in a snake catching contest. Rules will require contestants to pick up the rattlers with bare hands and deposit them in a box. Snakes will not be extracted, but the promoters have assured prospective contestants a physician will be on hand to provide medical treatment for any who may be "inadvertently" bitten.

Firemen Lose In Fight To Save Life Of 8 Weeks Old Baby

OKLAHOMA CITY, June 26.—An eight weeks old baby, wan and thin from double pneumonia, closed its eyes today and ended an eight day fight by firemen to save its life. The baby, Willis Hicks, son of a fireman, died on the day that was to have been a turning point of his illness. Until early today he seemed to be recovering. Comrades of Hicks had stayed at the infant's side for more than a week to administer oxygen, several times when the supply went low, they mixed their own chemicals.

Thos. Davis Case To Be With Jury This Afternoon

Testimony Closed and Arguments by Counsel Started This Morning. The defense closed in the Thomas Davis murder case earlier today than had been anticipated by the State, and after offering rebuttal witnesses in an attempt to impeach part of the testimony of Woodrow Davis, the State also closed. Chief of Police Miller of Cisco was put on the stand by the State in an effort to disprove part of the testimony given by the younger Davis because of an alleged variation from that given at the trial hall in Cisco shortly after the arrest of the three boys implicated in the crime. The defense offered the confession signed by Clyde Thompson, who is alleged to have slain Lucian and Leon Shook in the presence of Woodrow and Thomas Davis. The court overruled the objection of the State and the confession was read into the record. Three hours to the side will be allotted for presenting arguments in the case and it is anticipated that it will go to the jury late this afternoon. The State rested Wednesday afternoon and the defense began calling witnesses in an effort to prove that the defendant was of sub-normal mentality and did not know right from wrong. R. N. Grisham, defense attorney, stated that substantially all the defense testimony would be along this line, and although the defendant would not plead insanity, he would, through his attorneys, plead sub-normal mentality. Sam Davis, father of the accused boy, took the stand in his son's behalf. He stated that Thomas had always been weak minded and that it was his opinion that the boy did not know right from wrong. Several other witnesses and physicians have given similar testimony. A little humor was thrown into the trial late Wednesday when Frank Judkins, special prosecutor, in questioning a witness who had testified that he was of the opinion that all children who were subject to convulsions and fits in infancy grew up into weak minded men and women, asked the witness if she had ever heard of a man by the name of William Shakespeare. The witness admitted that she had, amid the laughter of the followers of the trial. The question was stricken from the record because the witness had no personal knowledge of the fact that Shakespeare was subject to fits. The only sensational testimony offered in the trial was the questioning of Woodrow Wilson Davis, younger brother of the defendant, who was on the witness stand for several hours Wednesday. He gave a graphic description of the slaying and described the actions of the three boys implicated in the killing, from the time they left the Davis home on the night of the murder until the arrest of Clyde Thompson and Thomas Davis.

'Radio Trust' So-Called Is Sued For $30,000,000

KANSAS CITY, Mo., June 26.—The Grigsby-Grunow Company of Chicago, manufacturers of radio receiving sets, sued the so-called "radio trust" for $30,000,000 damages today on charges of illegal competitive practices. The action was filed in United States district court here with former United States Senator James A. Reed of Missouri, and Ernest R. Reichmann of Chicago, as attorneys for the plaintiff. These five companies are named defendants: Radio Corporation of America, General Electric Co., Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing Co., RCA-Victor Co., Inc., and RCE Radiotone Co., Inc. Grigsby-Grunow manufactures "Majestic" radios and claims to be the world's largest independent maker of receiving sets. Its petition charges that the defendant companies caused Grigsby-Grunow to suffer actual damages to the extent of $10,000,000 by enforcing competitive measures which were in restraint of trade.

McKee Is Denied New Trial Today

LAMESA, Tex., June 26.—Judge Gordon B. McGuire, of the 106th district court, today overruled a plea for a new trial for Ira McKee, convicted and sentenced to death for the killing of W. R. Billingsley. The court allowed defense counsel 90 days in which to prepare a statement of facts and bills of exceptions in order to make a plea to the Court of Criminal Appeals at Austin.

$10,000 Is To Be Spent Here Soon By Government

Field Will Be Emergency Landing Field On Fort Worth-El Paso Air Mail Route.

At a meeting of the Airways committee of the Dulin-Daniel Post of the American Legion held at the Connellee Hotel at noon today, it was announced by Russell Jones, chairman of the committee, that the Legion post had secured an emergency landing field for the city of Eastland. The announcement, which followed the receipt of a telegram from the Department of Commerce at Washington, D. C., was to the effect that the government will start work on grading and lighting the field sometime in July and that $10,000 will be spent on improvements and lighting.

The Legion has secured this field for the city after several months of work on the project and the $10,000 donation toward the completion of the field has been pledged by the Department of Commerce in order to make Eastland an emergency field on the Fort Worth-El Paso air mail route.

The members of the Airways Committee and the entire membership of the Dulin-Daniel post are elated over being able to put over a deal of this kind. During March 1930 the Dulin-Daniel Post of the American Legion, with Russell Jones as its chairman, quietly went to work for the purpose of obtaining

Hoover Vetoes Veterans Bill

WASHINGTON, June 26.—Acting with record speed, the House late today passed a modified World War veterans bill within two hours after it had sustained President Hoover's veto of the original measure.

WASHINGTON, June 26.—President Hoover vetoed the liberalized world war veterans compensation bill today, and sent it back to congress with a vigorous message re-stating the objections he has raised previously. House leaders were to take up the measure today after the message was read, confident the veto would be sustained, thus killing the bill in this form. The veto upheld, house leaders planned to take up immediately a modified measure which met the President's objections, and attempt to pass it before night and send it to the Senate. Before the message was received House republican leaders proposed a resolution waiving all rules of the House for the remainder of the session in order to pass speedily a compromise measure. Democratic floor leader Garner protested vigorously for this rule.

WASHINGTON, June 26.—The House voted today to sustain President Hoover's veto of the world war veterans compensation bill, thereby paving the way for a substitute measure which would meet with the President's approval. The veto was sustained shortly after Mr. Hoover's veto message was read in the House.

CANDIDATES MUST FILE EXPENSES THIS WEEK Today is the first day for candidates to file campaign expenses with the county clerk. Three separate filings of expenses must be made, the first of which starts today and continues for five days.

"You've had no time for me, Judy." There was something akin to madness under the ardent of his splendid eyes. "That rich man has taken up all your time."

"How could Mr. Gideon know whether I could dance unless he saw me?" was the cool reply. "You are prejudiced, Bastien. Mr. Gideon was very nice to you all—quite a sport, I thought him that night, because he must have felt a bit out of it."

There was nothing more for Bastien to say. He could only grit his teeth and swear a violent oath that if a hair of Judy's bright head were harmed, this meddling millionaire should reckon with him.

TEXAS
 Buffs made five errors, the Indians four. Stout, Huston hurler, was credited with the victory although Payne relieved him in the fifth inning.
 Fort Worth pounded out a 15 to 8 victory over Dallas. The Cats made nine runs in the third inning to drive George Murray off the mound.
 Beaumont defeated Waco, 5 to 4. "Muleshoe" Vaughn, Shipper pitcher, staved off defeat when he was rushed into the game in the ninth inning to halt a Cub rally that already had netted two runs from homers by Molesworth and Peit.
With The Majors
 The Chicago Cubs and Brooklyn Robins met today in the first contest of a four-game series which may decide the National League's July 4th leader.
 Baseball has a tradition that the club leading the league July 4 will win the pennant. The Robins still held a one game lead over the Chicagoans as the series opened today.
 Chicago gained a full game yesterday, defeating Philadelphia, 13 to 12, while Brooklyn was losing to Pittsburgh.

 Pittsburgh backed Ray Kremer's effective pitching with timely hitting and beat Brooklyn, 5 to 1.
 Cincinnati defeated New York, 11 to 3, in the only other National League game.
 The New York Yankees gained half a game on their American League rivals, winning a double bill from St. Louis while Philadelphia broke even with Chicago and Washington won a single game from Cleveland.
 Home runs gave the Yankees both victories. Tony Lazzeri homered with a mate on base in the first inning of the opener and gave Ed Wells a lead which he never relinquished, the Yanks winning 5 to 4. Babe Ruth, Cooke, Dickey and Gehrig homered in the second game, and the Yanks won 16 to 4.
 George Earnshaw pitched the Athletics to an 8 to 1 victory over Chicago but Walberg, Shores and Quinn were ineffective in the second game and the Sox won, 7 to 2.
 Washington scored 11 runs in the seventh inning to defeat Cleveland, 13 to 5.
 Detroit battled Jack Russell for 4 runs in the eighth inning and defeated Boston, 4 to 3.

CRACKS IN THE DOME
 By The Political Analyst
 AUSTIN, July 26—Capitol comment at Austin:
 If Rep. Alfred Patsch maintains his record for guessing right, in saying that Gov. Moody will take the stump in behalf of Ross Sterling for governor, then a guess may be made that he has defined one-half the run-off race.
 He would leave the question: "Who will be his opponent after the first primary—Small, Love, Mayfield, Ferguson, Miller, Young?"
 Mr. Patsch's previous record of telling what would happen before it happened is 100 per cent.
 But one may venture to offer another conclusion as to what Gov. Moody's course may be.
 That Gov. Moody will hold his fire for two or three weeks, that he then will take the stump, but take it in a vigorous drive against somebody, rather than definitely for Mr. Sterling.
 This view implies the weight of his support would be for Chmn. Sterling.
 But there's lots of difference in campaigning directly in support of an individual, and hammering down those opposed to a set of principles under which that individual may rest.
 Some of Gov. Moody's other close friends agree with Mr. Patsch that the governor's cue is a fight, vigorous and continued, in behalf of Mr. Sterling. Others have expressed the view that his most effective work to the end he announced in withdrawing his own name, will be to direct a fight upon those against whom he has declared war already.

aging fire marshals and other officials to keep up the work of weeding out this type of criminality.
 Barry Miller is starting in upon his 9000 miles of campaign travel. He has made few speeches so far, restricting his efforts to meeting individual voters or small groups and picnic and convention crowds. He has not great faith in the formal campaign speeches; from what has changed so little while everything else has been changing; but from here out in the governor's race, he is going to do as the other candidates do, and put his trust in oratory.
 Mrs. Laura Burleson Negley, daughter of former Postmaster Gen. A. S. Burleson, will be missed from the San Antonio delegation in the next legislature. She decided that one term was enough for her, and stayed out of this year's race.
 Marshall O. Bell, former Austin lawyer and brother of the famous Berkeley-Bell, tennis champion, has offered in San Antonio for member of the legislature. He is opposing Harold Kayton, incumbent.
 An interested politician has figured out that one-half the votes of Texas are within a circle within a radius of 100 miles of Dallas. And that one-third are in the block of counties south and east of the I-G. N. railroad through Longview, Austin and Laredo. That calculation would leave only one-sixth the votes in the Northeast corner outside those areas, and in all the tremendous sweep of territory from Austin and Laredo west and north through Central Texas, the Far West Texas, and Panhandle regions.
 This dopester coupled with his analysis of the vote distribution his view that the Dallas candidates will mostly influence the first primary election, and that R. S. Sterling now stands to dominate the Southeast Texas region.
 However correct his views as to relative strength are concerned, his view as to the heavy voting areas, if accurate, must have a big bearing on the state campaign this year.
 The same interested politician declared that information coming to him from the strong German and Bohemian countries of mid-South, western and of South Texas shows that the Ferguson are far short of their normal strength in what had been their stronghold for a decade. Strange as it may seem, this individual said, considerable numbers of former Ferguson voters are turning to Sterling. He said these were the reports from scattered areas, and that he knew of no reason to explain why, in leaving Ferguson they would have chosen the man who represents the antithesis of everything that Mr. Ferguson has stood for.
 It is claimed by opponents of the Box amendments to put Mexican immigration under quota, that the stringent present methods of enforcing the immigration laws have had practically the same effect as the Box amendment. That is, it is claimed Mexican entries into Texas have dropped from around 43,000 a year to a rate of between 10,000 and 12,000 a year. During recent months the government has rounded up many in this country after expiration of temporary permits, and has sent them home. Several months ago there was a tightening of entrance regulations that turned thousands back. Others have been discouraged by fear and uncertainty, from trying to come to Texas for seasonal labor.

OIL NEWS

Southern Cross

First West Bound Plane

The Southern Cross was the first trans-Atlantic plane equipped with radio, and Stannage said the instrument worked perfectly throughout the flight, giving the four men boxed up together high over the ocean a feeling of comradeship with the outside world.

"We experienced unusual difficulty working with Cape Race during the night," Stannage said, "but we picked up many ships during the hours between midnight and 6 a. m. Transmission was exceedingly difficult, and we felt the cold very much."

The Irish member of the crew, Captain John Patrick Saul, navigator, gave a detailed account of the aerial voyage.

"For the first ten hours out across the sea, the weather was moderate," he said, "but the visibility was bad and it got worse."

"Throughout the whole flight we had not a single hour of good visibility. We got sight of the sun twice after midday—once for ten minutes at 2 p. m. Greenwich time,

Flew Through Fog

"From that time on we flew through dense fog and darkness against a strong westerly wind. It got cold, and the temperature was exceedingly low all through the night."

"We got sight of the stars for a minute or two twice, but had no opportunity to discern our position while dashing onward. During the early hours of the morning, we discovered our compass was at variation, and a check-up showed it had failed."

"From that hour we flew blindly, trying to keep on our course by wireless. We realized we were flying erratically. This continued until daylight when, through drifting clouds at an elevation of 5,000 feet, we got sight of land."

"We supposed this was in the vicinity of Cape Race, and shaped our course north without knowing in what direction exactly Harbor Graie was. We flew for three and one-half hours and got sight of a village which was apparently Bay Roberts, four miles west of here."

"Mist developed the fields, and we could not sight the fields, and continued flying for nearly two hours during which we passed over Harbor Grace airport and flew several miles west."

"Returning, flying low, we sighted a group of people on the field, and were convinced it was the airport. So we landed."

Everett Van Dyk, the Dutchman who was co-pilot on the flight, told his story in a broad, Dutch accent.

"We had one dam-hell of a time for 23 hours," he said, grinning. "We reached clouds, and then rose through them to the sky, but there half-way between the clouds and the sky the wind was blowing in a circle. The old Southern Cross plunged onward with all cylinders hitting."

"It was cold; almost froze the last ten hours, and didn't know where we were, but we had to keep going anyway. After the compass failed, we flew wholly by guessing."

Captain Kingsford-Smith revealed that after arriving in New York he would fly to Oakland, Calif.

"But I will not fly the Atlantic again, either east or west," he said. "I will take a steamer home and quit all hazardous adventures."

Captain Kingsford-Smith is to be married in the fall to Miss Mary Powell, of Melbourne, Australia.

Sunburn And Freckles Can Be Prevented With Care

SUMMER is dreaded by many women, for they know it does unpleasant things to their faces. Many skins are quite lovely until summer comes, when they suddenly become very temperamental, and look shiny and spotty soon after powdering. Some women even complain that their faces feel hot and irritated after the least exposure to the sun.

The change a hot summer works in your skin often is so gradual that you may not notice the damage until it is done. Neglected skins suffer most, so it is wise to accept the fact that hot weather may spoil the texture and color of your skin, and then try to prevent this.

In the inquiries that come to me at this season, I often find that women do not know how to care for and protect their skins during warm weather. "After all," many of your letters say, "I can scarcely step outside my door without getting freckles. Now what am I to do about that? I cannot stay inside all summer!"

No—you certainly should not stay indoors too much, for fresh air and sunshine are excellent skin tonics. Instead, you can learn to take a few precautionary measures, and then safely enjoy being outside as much as you wish.

Foundation cream has very good protective qualities. Spread plenty of it all over your face and with a wipe off the surplus cream with clean tissues, and then pat on your face powder. Or, if you prefer a liquid foundation, apply a generous coating of powder lotion. Wipe off the surplus lotion with a bit of cotton, and then put on your powder.

Naturally, these simple preparations will not protect your skin from burning if you insist on staying out in the sun for hours at a time. But if you are sensible, and expose your skin no longer than necessary, you will not need to be in despair about sunburn or deep freckles. Many women's skins are so painfully sunburned. And it is difficult to get rid of these deeply-laid freckles, for they have formed under severe conditions, and almost seem to be there to stay.

Of course it is best to start the summer with a good, clear complexion. Then if the sun or wind burns and smart your skin, this can be corrected by a good soothing cream or lotion. If your skin is not in good condition, but is irritated, and shows blackheads, pimples or annoying little freckles, use of a home treatment will keep your perspiration and oil glands working normally, and will help to protect your skin from undue burning or irritation.
