The county school board at a recent meeting, commended work of C. S. Eldridge, retiring county school superintendent, in a resolution which follows:

"Be it resolved that we, the County Board of Trustees of Eastland County commend C. S. Eldridge for his great work as county superintendent of Eastland County and we recommend that the same policy be carried out during the following years. We are sure that his administration is the very foundation of a system of affiliated high schools unsurpassed in the entire state. His slogan, 'Every child in Eastland County must have access to an affiliated school free' is also the desire of the county trustees.

"Be it further resolved that we express to him our sincere appreciation for the many courtesies found in the office during his term, and it is our desire that a copy of these minutes be published all the papers of Eastland county."

The resolution was signed by W. P. Roach, president of the board.

Mr. Eldridge has been employed by a book company to introduce its textbooks of the adopted list into West Texas schools. His territory will be west of Fort Worth to El Paso, and include all territory north of the T. & P. railroad. He says that this includes the counties through which the railroad passes.

ATTACK UPON FARM PROGRAM LOOMS SOON

WASHINGTON, Jan. 6.—Senate opponents of the administration farm program today prepared to seek its revision while Secretary of Agriculture Henry A. Wallace challenged both democrats and republicans to offer an alternative plan.

Chairman Ellison D. Smith, Democrat, South Carolina, of the senate agriculture committee and a critic of the new deal program, called for restoration of export markets for agricultural products.

Wallace accused republicans of dodging the farm issue by failing to offer a workable substitute. He indicated that he was not satisfied with the present farm program and invited suggestions from both parties for improving it.

Wallace conferred with Smith for an hour and said he also planned to discuss farm legislation soon with Chairman Marvin Jones, Democrat, Texas, of the house agriculture committee.

POLICE SEIZE HUGE NARCOTIC HAUL TODAY

By United Press NEW YORK, Jan. 6.—Police-men, disguised as criminals and aided by coastguardsmen and customs agents, sprang a trap on a smuggling mob today, captured three men and seized $150,000 worth of opium after a gun battle on the Brooklyn waterfront. One policeman was wounded.

The opium was brought here on the S. S. Ida, from Italy, and was transferred in the harbor to a launch at midnight during a rain-storm.

The smugglers thought that their own men were aboard the launch, but it was manned by policemen in disguise.

The climax came an hour later when the policemen took the cans of opium to the pier and kept the rendezvous with the smugglers' shore gang there. In setting the trap the who's who had been surrounded with federal and city agents. Fifteen authorities took part in the gun battle and more than 100 shots were fired.

The Ida, meanwhile, had proceeded to dock, in Hoboken, N. J., and it was reported that federal agents had boarded her and had taken off three more prisoners.

Thomas Mooney Is Expecting Freedom By Late Tomorrow

SAN QUENTIN PRISON, Calif., Jan. 6.—Thomas Mooney, sentenced to life imprisonment in 1916, for a crime he insisted he did not commit, may be set free tomorrow.

Gov. Culbert Olson was silent, but other officials, Mooney and labor organizations who have been backing his 22-year fight for freedom, believed the governor would fulfill a campaign promise and would pardon the prisoner tomorrow afternoon.

Announcement of the pardon, it was believed, will follow proceedings in the assembly chamber at Sacramento, to hear the protest of anyone who believes that Mooney should serve out his sentence.

Mooney was convicted in connection with the 1916 Preparedness Day Bombing in San Francisco.

Nazis Protest On Roosevelt Choice For High Posts

BERLIN, Jan. 6.—German nazis, criticizing the appointment of Felix Frankfurter to the United States Supreme Court as not in accord with the desires of the American people, charged today that President Roosevelt has shown that he was reconciled to leaving the office in 1940.

The official German News Agency, DNR, sounded the keynote for nazi denunciation of the appointment.

Continuing the apparent effort by nazis to isolate the president from the American people as a whole, the official news agency linked the appointments of Frank Murphy as attorney general, and Harry L. Hopkins as secretary of commerce with the appointment of Frankfurter and said that all were made in defiance of popular will.

Conferences Start On Business View About Government

WASHINGTON, Jan. 6.—Secretary of Commerce Harry L. Hopkins announced today he has started a series of conferences with outstanding business leaders to seek advice on policies to be formulated in his new cabinet post.

He said he would meet with the business advisory council Jan. 26 and 27. This council, composed of leading business men, was created to advise the department on relations between government and business.

Sen. Josiah W. Bailey of North Carolina, a conservative democrat and an enemy of Hopkins, was appointed today as chairman of the senate commerce committee, which

CZECHS FIGHT HUNGARIANS IN LONG BATTLE

BUDAPEST, Hungary, Jan. 6.—An official announcement tonight said Hungarian troops had driven Czechoslovak soldiers and irregulars back across the frontier after an all-day battle with artillery, machine guns and tanks, near Munjaes.

The cabinet of Premier Imredy was called for an urgent meeting in the afternoon to take measures for the protection of the Hungarian frontier.

While the cabinet was in session, military advices from Munjaes said that Hungarian reinforcements had arrived and repulsed the Czechoslovak forces, which had attacked before dawn with tanks and machine guns.

Artillery fire, which damaged eight buildings in Munjaes, was resumed at 3 p. m., reportedly from Czech territory.

The clash between the opposing forces centered at Oroszrev, a suburb of Munjaes. Official Hungarian messages said four Hungarian officers, five Hungarian soldiers and five Czech soldiers were dead.

In addition, it was said, the Czechs carried several other dead behind their lines.

The fighting is considered an outgrowth of the recent dispute over the Czechoslovak-Hungarian frontier. Officials asserted that Czech troops and the unit of the Ukrainian free corps attacked the suburb with machine guns and tanks.

AUSTIN, Jan. 6.—Attorney General Gerald C. Mann today halted pending sales of hot oil and announced he will try to work out a plan by which the state will get a fair value for confiscated production.

The stop order applied to three sales that were ordered for Jan. 7, in Rusk and Gregg Counties and to 80,039 barrels in Gregg County for which a sale notice has not yet been issued.

Mann said that he has not yet worked out a plan for disposition of the oil.

$453,897 IS SUM THAT IS TO BE SPENT

County Judge W. S. Adamson today received notice from Representative Clyde L. Garrett that President Roosevelt has approved a Works Progress administration grant of $453,897 for construction of lateral roads in Eastland county.

The grant provides for a county-wide series of projects throughout the year, Judge Adamson explained. In that manner application for projects may be made to state WPA headquarters in San Antonio and approval had without submitting them to Washington.

The blanket allotment is designed to furnish 1,000 men employment in a year's time. Funds will be spent to continue a program on which approximately half a million dollars has been expended in the past two years, Judge Adamson said.

Because of a heavy relief fund, he said, from six to eight projects are kept in operation most of the time, at least one in each commissioner's precinct.

Work consists of widening lateral roads, grading, building stone and concrete drainage structures and surfacing with gravel or caliche.

GASOLINE TAX TO PAY BONDS MAY CONTINUE

DALLAS, Jan. 6.—Expansion of purpose of the state's one-cent gasoline tax, to include payment of all county and district road debts will be sought in the next legislature, county judge Jake Loy of Grayson, said here today.

Loy, president of the 4 County Judges and Commissioners Association of Texas and originator of the plan, explained that the bill would provide for continuation of the one-cent gasoline tax fund for a 25-year period in which the repayment program would operate. Revenue from the tax would be used to apply on principal and part of the interest on county and district road debts incurred before Jan. 1, 1939.

The plan, Loy explained, would require refunding of existing bonds of counties and districts totalling not more than $50,000,000.

Rufe Davis, Movie Comedian To Make Personal Appearance at Connellee Sunday

Rufe Davis' publicity man, Bernie Davidson, arose in town yesterday, five days ahead of Rufe. Bernie is supposed to stay a full week ahead of Rufe, but he hardly ever does.

Bernie is Rufe's brother, his younger brother, and Rufe's name is really Rufus Davidson. But that don't change him none.

Rufe Davis appears Sunday on the stage of the Connellee theatre in a one man act likely to have disastrous effects on your sides. That is, if you are in the habit of splitting them laughing.

We don't know just when Rufe will get to town, but we do know that he will be here by Sunday in time to do his first act around 3 o'clock, the second around five, the third about 7 and the fourth a little after 9:15 o'clock.

After thinking it over real good, with Jackie Oakie in "Annabel Takes A Tour" on the screen in between acts, it might be a good idea to bring a straightjacket along with you... just in case.

Rufe is a country boy who made good and is still making good and his brother says he still not civilized. He came from around Mangum, Oklahoma, and not from around Ballinger or San Angelo as some of the local yokels would have it, and his family still lives around Mangum. All except Bernie, who goes along and spreads the word. Rufe is 29, and he's not married although Winchell says that he will be soon. Rufe isn't talking about it.

They say he perfects those hideous grimaces, which sends even candid camera fans scuttling, when shaving. However I think that he could have got the same effect had his mother been frightened by a baboon. Or by patronizing the peep shows in a penny arcade or trying to frighten flies off his nose with a dirty look. He hasn't broken his jaw yet, but he is still young.

Rufe will go into his act, which lasts around 20 minutes, with out benefit or makeup or sets. He won't even wear that bung-looking wig which he wore in "Mountain Music," but he will have on the checked cap. He will give you a few songs, hillbilly and other wise, along with "Mama Don't Low No Music in Here." Then for the imitations, everything from a zooming airplane to his impression of an Oklahoma farmer siccing the dogs on a hog in the "later patch. His act interspersed with a line of patter about his best girl friend and a little mountain gossip.

In addition to "Mountain Music" Rufe has been featured in "Cocanut Grove," "Blossoms on Broadway," and many other big hits. This is his first personal appearance tour since he became a movie star and will be the last one for sometime as he has enough parts waiting to keep him busy for a year.

The Circle 'S' Ranch Cowboys and Girls, a K. Lee Williams Roadshow Attraction will appear on the stage of the Connellee today and Saturday at 3, 5, 7 and 9 o'clock, in a program of songs and music of the Old Cattle Trails. This is their eighth annual tour of the United States and critics hail their act as being one of the best of its kind on tour today.

Next Wednesday and Thursday, Jan. 11th and 12th the Eastland Little Theatre will present another one of their famous one act comedy hits "Good Night Please," at the Connellee Theatre along with the feature attraction "The Great Waltz" starring Louise Rainer. You can get your tickets for this show from any member of the Little Theatre or at the Lyric box-office.

Walter Wanger's "Trade Winds" Scores As Thrilling Adventure Story of Love and Romance

One of the most provocative and exciting motion pictures to reach the screen within recent years will be unveiled Sunday at the Lyric Theatre under the title of "Trade Winds." Producer Walter Wanger for United Artists release with a capital cast headed by Fredric March and Joan Bennett, the new film is a fast-moving, romantic melodrama, smartly fashioned to contain all the elements of fine entertainment.

Miss Bennett, portraying the role of Kay Kerrigan, flees San Francisco after a murder of which she believes herself guilty. Dyeing her blonde hair black, as a disguise, the girl travels half-way around the world in her flight from the law. Her steps in and through the fascinating Orient are dogged by Fredric March, appearing as Sam Wye, a blase detective with a grand sense of humor and an excellent appreciation of the beautiful female. Ralph Bellamy and Ann Sothern, teamed as the second romantic leads, contribute rich comedy performances—he as a stolid, book-trained sleuth, she as a scatter-brained but stunningly garbed secretary.

Among the varied and colorful backgrounds against which the action unfolds are included such countries as Hawaii, Japan, China, Indo-China, the Malay Peninsula, Ceylon, India and the little known Laccadive Islands. Tay Garnett, director of "Trade Winds," spent two years taking the unusually impressive "location shots" revealed in the picture, and Art Director Alexander Toluboff did a magnificent job of designing the 79 different sets which dovetail with Garnett's original photography.

But perhaps one of the most interesting and arresting contributions to the filming of "Trade Winds" is the introduction of Joan Bennett as a vivid and flashing brunette. This reviewer found that dark tresses not only made the actress seem somehow a much more mysterious personality but added considerably to the force and sincerity of her performance throughout. Also, one must hasten to add, Miss Bennett as a brunette is even lovelier than she was as a blonde.

NEW COMEDY TEAM Hugh Herbert and ZaSu Pitts have been signed as a comedy team to support George Raft in "The Lady's From Kentucky," story of the race track, at Paramount.

Hollywood's 14 Luckiest Young Players

The fourteen luckiest young actors in Hollywood signed their names on the dotted line recently. They were the male members of the drama class chosen for "Dramatic School," opening Tuesday at the Lyric Theatre with Luise Rainer and Paulette Goddard in the starring roles.

The selections ended a search of three weeks, during which two hundred ambitious young actors were interviewed and tested for the coveted roles. The final choice of Director Robert Sinclair were:

Edward Arnold, Jr., who has chosen to follow in his father's footsteps, William Stelling, William Tannen, son of Julius Tannen, Arthur Gardner, Kenneth Stevens, Louis Adlon, Lyle Moraine, Warren McCullon, Jack Daniels, Ray Bush, Eddie Price, Bob Parrish, Eric Efron and George Travell.

As "Dramatic School" actually served as a dramatic course for those assigned to student roles, Leroy insisted that the youngsters chosen must possess the fires of ambition to carry them to greater heights in motion pictures.

Among the requisites to win the roles, each young actor had to be a good enough actor to portray novices who do not know how to act. They had to be good gymnasts, fencers and experienced in reciting Shakespeare. Too, they had to have voice and diction training, know the secrets of makeup and know the history of drama.

Eden's Reception More Important Than His Words

What Anthony Eden has had to say on his visit to America has not been nearly as important as the way he has been received.

It is a long time since a visitor from overseas has been greeted with the interest and the enthusiasm which have met Mr. Eden. From the moment his ship docked in New York he has been the center of an intense and eager expectancy which has gone far beyond ordinary friendliness or mere curiosity.

And the significance of that fact ought not to be lost on anyone.

For Mr. Eden has come to be regarded on this side of the Atlantic as the one great idealist of Europe. He is looked upon, that is, as one man who weighs the actions and policies of the day in scales other than those of mere expediency; as a man who somehow stands for the best that there is in democracy and freedom as they face the threat of a revived and greedy tyranny.

It may well be that this is not an accurate picture of the man. It is entirely possible that it does less than justice to his former colleagues in the British government. Yet these things are, for the moment, beside the point.

What matters is that a European who does seem to stand for something beyond and above the "practical necessities" of power politics has drawn from America such a response as has been given to few visitors in recent memory.

Why should this be? Why have so many people vested this dapper young statesman with the attributes of a plumed knight; and why, having done so, do they give him such an eager welcome and wait so anxiously to hear what he has to say?

It can only be because the mass of the people, here and elsewhere, are waiting desperately for someone to tell them how and where they can make a stand for the civilization, the scale of values, the free and orderly way of life, which are nowadays so greatly threatened.

We grew up in a society which took certain things for granted: freedom, the sanctity of the individual's rights, the assumption that the race has enough of a common fund of intelligence, decency and good-will to find its own way out of its troubles, the belief that might does not and cannot make right. Today's world actively threatens all of those values. Scores of millions of people are the enthusiastic followers of men who loudly deny that the ideals we have lived for have the slightest validity.

So when a man who does seem to have a positive answer appears—a man who seems to represent a rallying-point around which the ideals of a free society may be defended—he gets an amazing response. And the chance that we may have an unreal notion of what Mr. Eden really stands for does not in the least alter the significance of that fact.

Recipe for a Happy New Year

Take twelve fine, full grown months, see that these are thoroughly free from all old memories of bitterness, rancor, hate and jealousy; cleanse them completely from every slinging spite; pick off all specks of pithiness, and littleness; in short see that these months are freed from all the past, have them as fresh and clean as when they first came from the great store house of Time.

Into each day put twelve parts of faith, eleven of patience, ten of courage, nine of work (some people omit this ingredient and so spoil the flavor of the rest), eight of hope, seven of fidelity, six of liberality, five of kindness, four of rest (leaving this out is like leaving the oil out of the salad—don't do it), three of prayer, two of meditation, and one well-selected resolution.

A Morning Prayer The day returns and brings us the pretty round of irritating concerns and duties. Help us to play the man, help us to perform them with laughter and kind faces, let cheerfulness abound with industry.

JOKES Bright Game Hunter: "Oh, yes I've been nearly eaten by lions many times, but life without a little risk, would be very tame."

Little man: I agree! Many times when the weather has seemed doubtful I have deliberately gone without my umbrella. All American Stranger: "Can I get a room for three?" Clerk: "Have you got a reservation?" Stranger: "What do you think I am, an Indian?" Change of Name A negro cook came into a northern Missouri bank with a check from the lady for whom she worked.

SERIAL STORY

SKI'S THE LIMIT

BY ADELAIDE HUMPHRIES

CAST OF CHARACTERS
SALLY BLAIR—heroine. She had everything that popularity could wish for, except...

BUT there was no use thinking of Dan now, she told herself grimly. Dan, whom she might never see again...

throwing back the hood of her parka to listen. She heard it again, a long, high call—could someone else be lost in the storm, too?

CHAPTER XXIV

IF they had missed the trail they might, with one misstep, plunge over the side of the canyon, 5000 feet in depth. Sally shivered.

Dan would never have given up, she thought. Not until there was absolutely no hope. She had resolved she would not think of him, yet it was this thought that made her struggle on...

Corey thought he heard it too. They listened together. Again it came. It was a human voice! And it had sounded nearer.

"Yoo-hoo! Yoo-hoo... here we are! Hi, there!" Hope gave them fresh impetus. They plunged on again, pausing every now and then to lift their voices...

"There's a snowshoe track!" Corey cried. He pointed at the ground with trembling fingers. There on the driven whiteness was a wide, well-like print.

"Whoever it is must have crossed here a short while ago, for no track could last. We'll turn here," Sally directed. "Try to follow them. There was a curve of tracks, fresher and deeper, though some were already blurred."

They floundered on, 400 yards or so, through the thick timber. It seemed to Sally that the storm was lifting a bit. There was a break in the leaden sky...

His face was crimson from the cold, his lashes frozen, but his eyes were grave and steady and his blue lips parted in a smile as he came up to them.

With a little cry, forgetting Corey, forgetting the storm, forgetting everything, Sally fell into his arms. She buried her face against his strong chest. She was no longer weary, ready to drop from exhaustion, weak with fear.

THE GUARDIAN ANGEL

priations sub-committee, in which all spending authorizations must originate, asserted that relief funds hold the key to possible reductions in the government's outgo.

The new Congress meets, however, under the necessity of providing more funds to continue relief for the rest of the current fiscal year, which ends June 30. Last year's pump priming bill carried $1,425,000,000 for relief only until March 1.

Last year's appropriations set a peace-time record of $11,361,815,653. House subcommittees have been working for several weeks preparing bills which will make up the total appropriation for fiscal 1940, which begins July 1st.

On the tax side of the ledger, advance indications were that the one important change in the existing structure, which brings in slightly more than $5,000,000,000 a year, may be an attempt to tax future issues of federal, state and municipal bonds.

Congress could maintain the present tax system merely by passing bills extending the life of the "nuisance" taxes which now bring in about $500,000,000 a year, and the corporation tax, which because it carried an undistributed profits feature, was made temporary last year.

Texas Elks Plan To Welcome Head of Order at Houston

Texas Elks will gather in Houston January 24 for a gala welcome to Dr. Edward J. McCormick of Toledo, Ohio, grand exalted ruler of the order, who is making special trip to the Bayou City to greet the lodges of the South-west.

possessing unusual importance for all Texas lodges. Dr. McCormick is ranked as one of America's outstanding surgeons, and has received many honors for his work in the fields of medicine and surgery.

The order of Elks is based primarily upon the patriotic motif, and upon direction of Dr. McCormick each lodge of the order this year conducted an Americanism night program, and are making plans for a more elaborate presentation of Flag Day programs later in the year than were ever held before.

The tremendous amount of charitable activities of the order have been speeded up also, with indications that the order's expenditures for charity—which have averaged more than $2,000,000 a year for a score of years, even including the depression years—will climb well past the $2,500,000 mark.

Spending Curb Is Seen As Unlikely

WASHINGTON.—Administration plans for appropriations and taxes indicate that the new Congress probably will maintain the present ratio of approximately $2 spent for every $1 of Federal income.

After four successive years of appropriations averaging more than $10,000,000,000 a year, even economy-bloc leaders see little hope for substantial reduction in expenditures. They believed potential savings would be more than offset by President Roosevelt's contemplated national defense program.

JOHN T. FLYNN

BY JOHN T. FLYNN

WHEN Col. William Donovan of New York was assistant attorney general in the Coolidge administration, he had a bright idea for reorganizing the Federal Trade Commission and the Interstate Commerce Commission.

His plan was to divide the functions of each commission into regulatory and judicial. He proposed the Federal Trade Commission, for instance, should have no power to institute proceedings against business enterprises; that the power to do that should be lodged with an officer of some sort who would act as part of the executive branch of the government.

The commission would be a mere tribunal which would hear the case and render a decision. He also proposed the same procedure with reference to the utility regulatory commissions.

The plan was hailed with great satisfaction by the utilities, the railroads and industrial corporations which do not like regulation and are always happy at any proposal which tends to cripple it.

Invest a little money in casseroles, cups and saucers which are oven-proof or top-of-the-stove-proof and good looking enough to be brought to table. You'll find them in heat resistant glass, scientifically treated pottery and china, aluminum, and various modern materials.

Stewed Chocolate Pudding (8 puddings) One-fourth cup shortening, 1 cup sugar, 1 egg, 2 cups cake flour, 1-2 teaspoon salt, 2 teaspoons baking powder, 1 cup milk, 3 squares chocolate (3 ounces), 1 teaspoon vanilla extract.

Only Regret at 100 Is Inability to Drive

LONDON.—Mrs. Julia Hames of Bournemouth, who has just celebrated her 100th birthday, has only one regret in the world—she is no longer able to drive her own car.

She learned to drive when she was 90 and held a license for several years. Then relatives thought it wasn't good for her. "But I can still walk," she said, "and a lot better than I could 100 years ago."
