

Washington Warns Don't Expect A 'Great Victory' In Solomons

WASHINGTON, Aug. 28 (AP)—An admonition against any descriptions of the current operations in the Solomon Islands as having brought a major victory for the United Nations came today from one of the highest government authorities.

This authority, who preferred that his name not be used, said that there actually had been two phases of Japanese activities since American forces launched an offensive in the Southeast Pacific. And he said he was worried lest the press lead the country to believe a great, smashing victory had been achieved.

The first phase, he said, was the landing of 700 Japanese, who were wiped out, on Guadalcanal Island, and a series of smaller attacks by planes in which we came off pretty well, destroyed 30 or 32 Jap aircraft and losing four.

The second phase, he said, should not be called a full scale offensive but a reconnaissance in force. This was the movement on the Solomons of units of the Japanese fleet.

This reconnaissance force, the authority asserted, was withdrawn. We hit some ships, he said, and we hope we sank some, but he would hate to have the people get the idea that a major victory was scored.

Enemy forces which landed two days ago at Milne Bay, home 225 miles from the strong Allied New Guinea base at Port Moresby and 430 miles from the Australian mainland, were pounded by an Allied land-air attack that destroyed Japanese planes, troops, supplies and fuel dumps.

General MacArthur's Australian headquarters reported that Allied airmen shot down 12 or 14 enemy planes during the day in fights over Milne Bay and the Japanese base at Buna, 180 miles up the northeastern coast of New Guinea. A single Allied fighter was lost. Earlier Japanese losses at the swampy Milne Bay landing included a transport, probably a carrier and six landing barges.

Meanwhile, a terse war department communique reported that "Japanese surface forces appear to have withdrawn from the vicinity of our positions in the Tulagi area."

While modern naval warfare might result in turning a withdrawal into another large scale invasion attempt in a matter of days or even hours, the enemy's appearance was regarded generally as a victory for U. S. marines and American naval and air forces.

While the navy earlier announced at least 13 Japanese warships damaged, a Reuters New Zealand correspondent reported that "Japanese wounds in the week's affair, severe and annoying as they are to the enemy, do not probably touch the main strength of the Japanese naval force."

240,000 Texans In The Armed Forces

AUSTIN, Aug. 28 (UP)—Mark up 240,000 Texans in the nation's armed forces.

Reports to Governor Coke R. Stevenson from the adjutant general's department show 140,000 volunteers and 100,000 draftees as of Aug. 15.

'Pool' Arrangement May Ease Draft Inequities

FORT WORTH, Aug. 28 (UP)—The temporary pooling arrangements set up in Washington for selective service should adjust differences among the boards of Texas in the calling of men, Adj. Gen. J. Watt Page said here today.

General Page, state selective service officer, said he had not been notified officially of the decision in Washington but that he had understood some such plan was being studied.

"It probably will mean," General Page said, "that boards with reserves of 1A men will adjust their quotas to induct them and these increased members will make it possible for other boards to slow down induction of men in other classifications."

General Page pointed out that at present at least one board in Texas is calling married men with children, while some others have reservoirs of 1A men, unmarried and without dependents.

"Carrying out the pooling plan would be a tremendous administrative job in Texas," General Page said, "but it can be done."

He predicted that the drafting of married men with dependent wives will be a "general thing" within 90 days.

Meatless Day Per Week May Be Necessary

WASHINGTON, Aug. 28 (UP) President Roosevelt, visualizing the possibility of the imposition of a meatless day each week on the American people, declared today that this would permit the freeing of 30 or 40 cargo ships now used to transport meat.

He told his press conference he did not know when the people might be asked to give up meat one day a week, inasmuch as the full effect on the difficulty of transportation still was under study.

But he said that 30 or 40 vessels now bringing meat from New Zealand, Australia and Argentina could be devoted to transportation of tanks, planes and munitions, if a meatless day were instituted.

No Rigid Plan On Wages, Says Roosevelt

WASHINGTON, Aug. 28 (UP)—President Roosevelt said today that his program to combat inflation contemplated a flexible rather than a rigid stabilization of farm prices and wages.

The chief executive also declared, in a general press conference discussion of the inflation problem, that he thought farm prices and wages should be kept within a fixed ratio to living costs.

He said he was in accord with Price Administrator Leon Henderson on the stabilization issue.

Replying to questions, the president said he had not yet received a report from the justice department on the extent of his war powers and the degree to which they might be employed to check an upturn in living costs.

He declined to say exactly what questions had been posed to the department for an opinion.

Mr. Roosevelt, who talked over the anti-inflation plans earlier in the week with Philip Murray, president of the CIO, and William Green, president of the AFL, said he thought the two union leaders were in accord with him on the general objectives.

They will see him again next Thursday, but he said he did not expect to lay before them any specific wage stabilization proposals.

He indicated that the first definite announcement of these proposals would be forthcoming in a labor day message to congress, which would be followed that night by an explanatory, fireside radio chat to the people.

Canteen Worker To Wed Royalty

LONDON, Aug. 28 (UP)—The mother of June Morris, dark-haired 17-year-old canteen worker, said today that a newspaper report that her daughter was engaged to the Hon. Gerald Lascelles, 18-year-old nephew of King George VI was correct.

"Yes, they are engaged, and there is no thought of calling it off," said the girl's mother. She added that "the way circumstances are now, they will just have to wait until Gerald is 21."

While the big bombers were sited at this root of most air-power fighters were maintaining almost ceaseless offensive patrol over Nazi-occupied France and there were indications of possible naval encounters in the English Channel and the Kattegat, through which German vessels would have to pass between the North Sea and their home bases.

German bombers, meanwhile, followed up light night attacks on northern England with a series of daylight raids on widely separated areas.

Two enemy planes bombed Bristol during the forenoon, unloading bombs which an official statement said caused some damage and some fatalities.

Four persons were killed and a number injured in a northeast coast town where the raiders dropped many high explosives and new type fire bombs. Several delayed action bombs also fell.

Nazis Blocked Before Stalingrad; RAF Widens Raids Over Germany

Bomber Range Extended To Baltic Port

Plane-Producing Center Of Kassel Also Is Attacked

LONDON, Aug. 28 (AP) In twin raids on the key plane-producing center of Kassel and the Baltic port of Gdynia in former Poland, the RAF spread the massed might of its bombers last night from end to end of Germany, the British announced today.

To carry the great onslaught to smash the Nazi war machine across the whole breadth of Germany to Gdynia, the British had to fly more than 1,500 miles round-trip from their home bases under a moonlit sky.

This was another long step forward in the avowed British policy to help Soviet Russia—a smash at the Baltic harbor where the $6,000-ton German battleship Gneisenau was known to have been recently and at an important base for U-boat operations against the Red navy's Baltic fleet.

Besides 80 bombers lost in what was called a "concentrated and effective" bombardment of Kassel, the air ministry announced that two fighter planes were downed in night sweeps over enemy-occupied France in which hurricane fighters-bombers left two ships burning in the channel.

The flights were part of a steady procession by airmen of the United Nations to squeeze the enemy homeland in an ever tightening grip of fire and explosives.

Keeping up the attack on a day and night basis, fighter planes roared across the channel throughout the morning, and in the afternoon a powerful force of bombers escorted by fighters swept eastward toward France.

By striking at Kassel with a force probably some 600 planes strong, Britain's big night raiders hit a source of Messerschmitt fighters and the site of the Nazis' biggest locomotive foundry.

To reach it, they speared 80 miles deeper into Germany than their home bases than the Ruhr and Rhineland regions have been hardest hit in recent months.

(Kassel may have been chosen by the RAF as a particularly vulnerable spot in the German war machine. Hitler blamed part of the Russian winter disaster on frozen locomotives and promised that this winter there would be no such failure.)

(The vast job of keeping German armies supplied from the Atlantic to the Volga and from the Arctic to the Mediterranean under the pounding of the British and Russians and the destruction by saboteurs has put a telling strain on Nazi rail transport.)

(The German high command so- knowledge "material damage in residential quarters" and some civilian casualties in the Kassel attack.)

While the big bombers were sited at this root of most air-power fighters were maintaining almost ceaseless offensive patrol over Nazi-occupied France and there were indications of possible naval encounters in the English Channel and the Kattegat, through which German vessels would have to pass between the North Sea and their home bases.

Battleship Iowa Launched—The 45,000-ton Iowa, largest battleship ever built by America, enters the East River after sliding down the ways of the Brooklyn Navy Yard. The mighty man-of-war was christened by Mrs. Ho Brown Wallace, wife of the Vice-President. It is the fourth battleship in American naval history to bear the name of the Hawkeye State.

Chinese Have Retaken Vital Air Field

CHUNGKING, Aug. 28 (UP)—The Chinese have reentered Chusien, western Chekiang province, and have reoccupied the great airfield just outside the city, most important of the East China bases from which Japan could be bombed, Chinese dispatches from the front declared today.

Chinese columns made their way into the city at 4 o'clock this morning, the dispatches said, and the air field was in their possession shortly thereafter.

A little earlier the Chinese high command had reported the Japanese attempting to put the field out of commission by systematic destruction, preparatory to their retreat from this strategic base, which they had held since last May.

The high command communique also reported that Lashui, site of the second most important "bomb Japan" base in East China, had been entered by Chinese forces which were engaged in fierce fighting within the city.

The recapture of the Chusien base was rated here the greatest success scored this far by the Chinese armies in their comeback in Chekiang and Kiangsi province, where they are keeping constant pressure on Japanese forces withdrawing from their extensive conquests of May and June.

Some 200 miles of the 450-mile Chekiang-Kiangsi railway, all of which was in Japanese hands late in June, now has been recovered and the Chinese are rapidly extending the area of their reoccupation.

New Destroyer Goes To Bottom

WASHINGTON, Aug. 28 (UP)—The fog-shrouded waters of the Atlantic today had claimed the U. S. destroyer Ingraham, a warship which was built only slightly more than a year ago.

The navy gave no details. The sinking was announced as a part of Communique 113, which had only this to say about it: "Atlantic"

"The U. S. destroyer Ingraham has been sunk as a result of a collision in a fog in the Atlantic. The next of kin have been notified."

The normal complement of the ship was 175.

Nine Former Czech Officers Executed

LONDON, Aug. 28 (UP)—The execution of nine former Czech general staff officers by the Germans was announced today by the Czech government here.

A spokesman for the government said the officers had been sentenced by a German court at Prague on charges of "committing high treason against the German reich and against the order created in Bohemia and Moravia as leaders of a high treasonable organization."

Children-Aid Funds Cut

AUSTIN, Aug. 28 (UP)—A cut averaging $9 for each family aided under the Texas dependent children's program will be necessary next month, the state welfare department announced today.

Checks were mailed this month to 19,226 families who received an average of $30.49. In September the roll is expected to total 21,000 families whose average check will be $11.50.

The smaller check will be caused by the increasing number on the rolls plus a cutting on annual payments that goes into effect during the fiscal year beginning Sept. 1.

"The state will be limited to $1,500,000 a year for the program which the federal government matches funds. The money must be divided into equal monthly installments of $50,000."

Scrap Rolling In As Army Trucks Handle Collections

Big Spring residents began to respond Friday to appeals to salvage materials around their homes and contribute to a city-wide collection.

U. S. army trucks were aiding in the drive by picking up materials residents placed in front yards or between sidewalk and curb. Boy Scout crews worked like Trojans, loading scrap into the trucks and then unloading again in the salvage depot in the center of Main street between 3rd and 4th streets.

The pen contained a large quantity of stuff, and the variety was practically limitless. There were discarded hotwater heaters, baby buggies, cooling systems, scrap galvanized metal, cast-iron stoves, bucket chains, from cistern systems, bedsteads, iron cot, car bodies, refrigerator grills, old stoves, toy wagons, rope, rags, tires, hot water bottles, aluminum pots and pans, tin plates, car doors, and scores of other things.

Although response was now more encouraging, the showing thus far was hardly representative of the city. Based on the national average, local residents have thus far contributed but a small part of their scrap total.

Big Spring people were urged by B. J. McDaniel, scrap drive chairman, to make a recheck of their homes and lay out every bit of old metal, manila rope, rubber, etc., which is not of use. Trucks will pick up that left in front of homes, or smaller amounts may be brought by the individual to the deposit bin on Main.

Dollar Day To Be Observed Here Monday

Because the city will be observing Labor Day on September's "first Monday," Dollar Day for the month has been moved up, and will be a major event in Big Spring stores this next Monday, Aug. 31.

Decision to change the Dollar Day event for this month only because of the holiday, was reached earlier in the week, and local retailers are taking advantage of the change to combine the special offerings with various "back to school" specials and other seasonal items. Schools open in Big Spring on Sept. 8.

Development of the first-Monday Dollar Day has been steady, and many merchants reported that held four weeks ago was the biggest yet held. In view of the school-opening connection, together with consumer interest in fall merchandise, next Monday's event was expected to attract large numbers of purchasers.

The city regularly observes Labor Day with suspension of virtually all lines of business, and a general closing of stores and offices is indicated for Sept. 7.

Fight For Key City Rages To A Climax

Reds Hold Stubbornly, One German Spearhead Cut Off

By EDDY GILMORE MOSCOW, Aug. 28 (AP) Battle-grimed German forces which fought their way 400 miles from the Ukraine to the Volga valley reached the distant approaches to Stalingrad today, but Russian dispatches said they were blocked there by swarms of Red army infantry who closed in from all sides.

The situation at the great Volga city of Stalin admittedly was grave, with the fight raging to a climax, but Russian reports took the encouraging tone that shock troops of the Nazi assault had been forced to form the classic round defense and fight for survival.

One German armored spearhead was reported cut off completely and encircled on the sun-baked steppes northwest of Stalingrad.

The main German force streamed up from the rear in a desperate attempt to make good their break-through by force of numbers, and dive bombers began destructive attacks on the city.

While the land and air battle for the "city of Stalin" raged to full violence, the Red army was hammering home its own offensive in the suburbs of Nazi-held Rabev where the Germans held out 130 miles from Moscow through last winter's Russian push.

Red Star declared that the fight for Stalingrad held "the key to victory," so important was regarded the great industrial town which sprawls for miles along the low west bank of the mighty Volga.

With the stiffening of the Russian last ditch stand there, dispatches declared that in one salient (presumably northwest of the city) the Russians had hurled the Germans back in local counterattacks, recapturing three settlements.

The defenders were hardest pressed from the southwest where the Germans were reported charging over mounds of their own dead. Pravda reported that a strong force of Nazi paratroopers who landed behind the Stalingrad line and seized temporary control of a road junction had been wiped out.

At mid-day, a bulletin from a Red army headquarters announced that Gen. Gregory K. Zhukov's central armies "fought the enemy in the outskirts of Rabev," the highly important Nazi base on the north flank of the old Napoleon corridor from Moscow to Smolensk.

Then, without identifying the point by name, the Soviet communique declared: "In one sector of the western (Moscow) front, our troops encircled an enemy fortified place. The Germans, hurling in reserves, launched several counterattacks which were repulsed by our troops."

Field dispatches said the Russians had smashed through three successive lines of fortifications on which the Germans had labored six months to build around Rabev.

Investia, the Soviet government newspaper, said the Nazis threw every available reserve into the battle for Rabev, which yesterday was marked by bloody street-to-street and house-to-house fighting in the northern suburbs of the city.

"Northwest of Stalingrad, our troops are inflicting blows against the enemy by counterattacks and are annihilating his manpower," the Russian high command said.

Jap Force On Makin Island Completely Wiped Out By Marines

By WALTER B. CLAUSEN PEARL HARBOR, T. H., Aug. 28 (UP)—A force of 350 Japs—virtually every defender—was wiped out and all seaplane installations methodically wrecked by U. S. marines during the recent Makin island raid, now disclosed by eyewitnesses to have been a two-day job of slaughter and destruction.

Contrasting with earlier reports of a hit-and-run raid, the participants, including Major James Roosevelt, son of the president, made it clear that the scrappy marines even hunted for the few Jap stragglers still alive before withdrawing to ships.

And so stealthy was the landing during a moonless night on the northernmost island of the Jap-held Gilbert group, 1,500 miles northeast of the Solomons, that the marines had been ashore for 30 minutes, deployed for battle, before the Japs discovered them.

"The morning of the second day, only eight Japanese were left on the island," related Lieut. Col. Evans F. Carlson, of Plymouth, Conn., commander of the marines.

"We wiped out all we could find and, after a checkup with the natives, found only two Japanese unaccounted for. I cannot disclose our casualties, but will say the Japanese losses on land alone were more than 10 to 1 our losses, not counting the 150 Japs lost at sea or in planes."

Other dramatic episodes gleaned from the eyewitness accounts: Jap snipers, straggled to coconut trees, fired at Major Roosevelt but missed. "I fired two shots at snipers," was all the eldest son of the president would say concerning his personal activity.

The island's 1,700 natives gladly worked with the invaders and their king gave his son to Capt. James Davis, of Evansville, Ill., who lost his pants in action. Captain Davis donned it.

Sergeant Jim Faulkner, of Red Oak, Tex., caught four Jap bullets, muttered "dammit" each time, then carried on until led reluctantly away to an operating table. And there he bellowed at the surgeon that he was being pampered.

Private John Hawkins, of Southgate, Calif., killed three Japs before he was wounded so seriously that he was rushed aboard ships, virtually given up for dead. The next morning a stunned watch officer saw him hobbling about.

"I have a hunch I'll live if I walk about a bit," he said. He did.

By the second day, "there were dead Japs behind most every coconut tree," said Colonel Carlson.

"On the battlefield, I picked up a sword and pistol of the Japanese lieutenant-commandant and turned it over to Commander (John M.) Haines (of Coronado, Calif.) who presented it to Admiral Nimitz (Admiral Chester W. Nimitz, commander-in-chief of the Pacific fleet)."

Lieut. Oscar F. Petross, of Raleigh, N. C., led a group which got caught behind the Japanese lines. In a close exchange, they fought it out with a Jap patrol, and lost three men but cut in from the rear, shot down Jap runners, burned trucks and destroyers, burned trucks and destroyed a radio station.

Colonel Carlson lauded it as "one of the coolest bits of heroism." It was Lieutenant Faulkner's baptism under fire.

KATIE GILMORE tells about getting slightly tired the other morning when somebody swiped her regular parking place. However, she's ready to give it up for good now as a car caught fire right next to the usual spot and for awhile looked like it might set some other cars on fire. Was she glad she'd had to stop down the block!

Chatted awhile the other eve with DURWOOD RIGGS, who is home on furlough from Will Rogers Field in Oklahoma. So far, DURWOOD hasn't done any flying and since he's a cadet in the air corps, he's getting anxious to try out his wings, literally.

The newest in expressions to us is the private's remark to a bunch of gals. "Well," he says, "I'll see you in church if the windows are clean." To which we said, "How!"

There were a lot of excited and hot little girls out at the field day events yesterday. And especially when badges were given out for required work done by the scouts. Incidentally, those girl scouts are making their bid for town recognition by their efforts in the scrap and salvage campaign.

Making Surgical Dressings Is Not Hard But Takes Practice To Work And Talk At Same Time

By MARY WHALEY along a good last made up the party. However, the ladies assured me it takes a little while to "catch on." Sponges, neat little four by four squares of gauze, were the assignment. Fold one inch from the bottom, over eight inches one way, over another eight inches, fold in half and half again. Simple? Well, no, but you can do it and get up some speed too after awhile. Two ladies that morning had set one hundred each as their goal and they made it too, although they had to stay an hour later to succeed. The only hazard is accuracy. The little sponges have to come out four inches by four inches and that doesn't mean four and a half or a quarter. Once you get that through your noggin, it's easy. The others, who are in their second week of working, could work and talk too. But I had to work in stoney silence concentrating on what I was doing. Like Fulton's steamboat, I couldn't run and whistle too. When I just had to jar loose with conversation, I had to quit work. One day the ladies turned out 520 sponges, with not so many working. Whatever the total was the day I "helped" was swelled by at least four that I made. What a contribution!

With a quota of 18,000 sponges to be made for the month, any more of you females who could bear to give up your red nail polish and tie up your permanent and contribute about eight hours a week are definitely welcome. There's no welcome mat before the door, but walk right in, there's work to be done.

Organized Football Program To Be Conducted In Grade Schools

For the first time in history of the system, Big Spring schools will have an organized grade school football program this autumn.

and will be issued to youngsters making their school squads. He anticipated that there would be about 60 of these kids on football and that possibly 15 on each team could be equipped.

was a sort of league organized between them with high school stars acting as coaches, this marks the first organized extension of the grid training to the lower grades.

Establishment of the elementary school program was regarded as an important step for local grid fortunes. Not since the days when Tack Dennis, et al, were lured this way has this city gone in for grid recruiting.

Landis drew up 1942 series estimates based on last fall's classic between the New York Yankees and Brooklyn Dodgers, which teams appear headed for an encore meeting this year.

Before its adjournment after a one-day hearing yesterday the committee was informed by John J. Moore, Midland geologist and independent operator, that wildcatting for new reserves would stop unless the price was increased.

At Cincinnati, the New York Giants beat the Reds 2-0 by bunting five hits in the 11th inning after Harry Feldman and Ray Starr had labored through ten scoreless innings.

They'll decide the $10,000 Grand American handicap today—and indications were that an unknown, as in the past 42 years, would cop the clay target game's biggest prize.

Two practically unheard-of stars headed the parade today as the field hit the last lap. Out front were Everett Addy, 48, a sheet metal worker from Springfield, Ohio, and 60-year-old A. E. Ammann, a duck hunter and reed pad manufacturer from Peotoma, Ill.

When Comedians Ole Olsen and Chic Johnson invited the fight mob to a party for their scrapper, Cleo Shans, the other day one of their gags was to serve the meal without any cutlery.

Ed Carpenter of San Antonio and Jack Sellman of Houston were paired in the championship consolation final of 18 holes.

Red Cross And USO To Share In Series

CHICAGO, Aug. 28. (AP)—Baseball's offer to share $357,544 to $70,000 of its world series kitty was extended today to two organizations—the U. S. O. and the Red Cross—and needed only their formal acceptance and subsequent approval by government authorities to go into effect this fall.

In Washington Chairman Norman H. Davis of the American Red Cross declined to comment pending formal word of the offer from Landis.

In New York Paul Badger, administrative vice president of the U. S. O., declared his organization was "extremely grateful at this gesture and we will be glad to participate in the world series receipts."

Cards And Red Sox Checked Races Look Settled Again

Dodgers Put Lead Back To 5 1-2 Games

By JUDSON BAILEY Associated Press Sports Writer The world series is beginning to look safe again for the Brooklyn Dodgers and New York Yankees.

What little excitement had been breathed into the two major league pennant races in recent days apparently was expelled yesterday as the Brooklyn Dodgers bounced out of their lethargy and quelled the St. Louis Cardinals 4-1 and the onrush of the Boston Red Sox was checked by the Cleveland Indians 4-2.

The Cardinals came back last night with Max Lanier in the fourth game of the series with just two days rest since he had led Brooklyn to four hits Monday night. The stocky southpaw wasn't up to the job, however, and was shelved for five successive singles and three runs in the fourth. Then another lefthander, Ernie White, came in and was pelted for an additional single and Brooklyn's final run before getting his house in order.

It was the veteran Curt Davis, once a Cardinal, who directed the Dodger revival in gaining his 14th triumph of the season he held the Redbirds to eight scattered hits and knocked in two of Brooklyn's runs with a single.

The Red Sox' string of nine consecutive victories not only was broken in the only American league game, but Cecil (Tex) Hughes' sketch of 11 straight pitching triumphs also was snapped as Jim Bagby of the Indians hurled a five-hitter. One of the five, however, was Ted Williams' 27th home run in the first inning.

At Cincinnati, the New York Giants beat the Reds 2-0 by bunting five hits in the 11th inning after Harry Feldman and Ray Starr had labored through ten scoreless innings.

It was learned later that this was one of the most disappointing pitching losses in the long career of Ray Starr, because earlier in the day he had promised to win for his 11-year-old son who was taken to a hospital yesterday for treatment of infantile paralysis.

Hank Gornick provided a one-man show at Pittsburgh by pitching two-hit ball and hitting a two-run homer to lead the Pittsburgh Pirates to a 5-0 victory over the Boston Braves.

Waco Semi-Pro Team Advances To Semi-Finals

WICHITA, Kas., Aug. 28. (AP)—Pitcher John Laley and the tight Camp Wheeler, Ga., infield cracked after seven innings of shutout baseball last night, and the Waco, Tex., Dons marched through into the semifinals of the national semipro tournament with a 3-1 victory.

The Dons finished in the runner-up spot last year. Enid, Okla., defending champion, was eliminated earlier in the 1942 tournament.

Waco's win eliminated the Camp Wheeler team. The carefully-played game lasted three hours.

Wichita's Cessna Bobcats advanced to the quarterfinals last night with an 8-3 win over Fort Leavenworth, Kas. The Kansasans were eliminated.

Tonight's games: 7 p. m.—Wichita Cessna Bobcats vs. Hawthorne, Calif., Northrop Bombers.

9 p. m.—Fort Riley, Kas., GRCO vs. Wichita Boeing Bombers.

Robinson Gets KO In First Round CHICAGO, Aug. 28. (AP)—It took Ray (Sugar) Robinson of New York just two minutes and 41 seconds to get his 124th successive ring victory last night in Comiskey park.

The undefeated young negro parked a short left hook to the chin of Tony Motisi of Chicago in the first round of a scheduled 10-round bout. Motisi sagged to his knees and gradually flattened out on the canvas.

High Commander Views Maneuvers HEADQUARTERS, T H I R D ARMY, SOMEWHERE IN LOUISIANA, Aug. 28. (AP)—Third army troops are performing combat maneuvers under the personal inspection of Lieut.-Gen. Lesley J. McNair, commander of U. S. army ground forces, who came here with 13 members of his staff.

Lt.-Col. Murphy has congratulated the third army's commander, Lieut.-Gen. Walter L. Krueger, on his command, saying: "The country can be very proud of your men. Their fitness, courage and spirit is inspiring and should make every American want to do his utmost to win the war. No sacrifice is too great beside that being made by these magnificent youths."

California Has New Net Star

NEW YORK, Aug. 28. (AP)—The national tennis championships have been going on only one day at Forest Hills, but it is obvious that California is not going to let the war interfere with its normal production of outstanding young stars.

The latest from out that way is George Richards, a left-handed, 19-year-old from Montebello, a suburb of Los Angeles.

In his opening match yesterday Richards swarmed all over one of the east's best junior players, Irvin Dorfman of New York City and Yale, 6-3, 6-4. Those who saw him operate already were looking forward to his second round match against George Ball of El Paso, Texas, tomorrow.

The west coast already had the two tournament favorites, Ted Schroeder of Glendale, Calif., and Louise Brough of Beverly Hills. They won their opening matches as scheduled in straight sets.

Wyatt Gets Assist In The Bullpen ST. LOUIS, Aug. 28. (AP)—Credit Whitlow Wyatt with an assist in Brooklyn's triumph over the Cardinals yesterday. At his own request, Wyatt pitched batting practice before the game for the first time this year, to "get the boys started."

After hitting against Wyatt, the Dodgers, who had dropped three straight to the Cards, went out and salvaged the finale, 4-1.

Bears Favored Over Stars In Game Tonight

CHICAGO, Aug. 28. (AP)—One of the finest teams of college all-stars in nine years is figured by football wisemen to be about three touchdowns shy of matching the Chicago Bears tonight in Soldier field.

George Halas ran his national professional champions through final practices last night under the lights of Soldier Field, where a record crowd of 101,200 persons will flock tonight. The customers will have paid approximately $300,000 for their seats from which at least $180,000 will go to army and navy relief funds.

Both teams are in peak form and confident of victory. A triumph for the all-stars would break a three-year monopoly held by the champions of the national professional football league and would be the third win for the collegians in the nine years of the series. Two games ended in ties.

Halas, the mastermind behind the Bears' famous T formation, thinks the game will be a lot tougher than last year, when the Bears defeated the Collegians 37 to 13.

Bob Zupps, noted for springing upsets, has coached the Collegians into a highly fighting mood during the last month, filling them with ultra-fancy, fan-pleasing plays along the way. After more than 30 years in the coaching business Zupps is giving the sport his farewell after tonight.

Latest story hereabouts is that Leo Durocher may return to the active list so as to be eligible for world series play in case he's needed. . . . The Blue and Gray Credit association, which puts on the North-South football game at Montgomery, Ala., has received an OK from Washington for a 7,500 seat addition to the stadium. Material has been on hand since last November.

Bull In The Woods Folks up around Charlevoix, Mich. figure they know now why Bull Karola, assistant coach of the Detroit Lions, got his nickname. . . . Bull went fishing one night with Line Coach Duggan Miller and George Strickler, the National league grid league tub thumper. . . . They had the idea of catching some brown trout, but after Karola threw out three hand lines, each with a horse shoe for a sinker, the fish were so scared that no one in the 40 boats on the pond got a nibble all evening.

Service Dept. Fort Knox, Ky., may shift its Oct. 4 grid game with Xavier U. at Cincinnati to Saturday night, Oct. 3, so service men and war plant workers will have a better chance to see the clash. . . . Sgt. Dave Smukler, former Temple U. and Philadelphia Eagles fullback who returned from Iwo Jima a few months ago, is serving as an instructor at an officers' training school at Princeton. . . . and probably no one is more surprised than Dave at his landing in the toy Learus.

Last Laugh When Comedians Ole Olsen and Chic Johnson invited the fight mob to a party for their scrapper, Cleo Shans, the other day one of their gags was to serve the meal without any cutlery. . . . It fell very flat when several beachcombers, eating as usual, didn't notice the difference until the knives and forks arrived with the coffee.

Junior Golfers To Compete For Title SAN ANTONIO, Aug. 28. (AP)—The championship of the 16th annual state junior golf tourney will be decided today in a 36-hole match over the Brackenridge park course between James McNair of Brownsville and Travis Bryan of Bryan.

Ed Carpenter of San Antonio and Jack Sellman of Houston were paired in the championship consolation final of 18 holes.

McNair won his way into the finals by disposing of Herbert Neyland of San Angelo, 5 and 4, and Bryan erased Jack Berry, San Antonio, 3 and 2.

Carpenter yesterday defeated Carl Gustafson, Austin 3 and 2, and Sellman eliminated Chester Drabe, Jr., Austin, 1 up.

Target Champ To Be Named Today VANDALIA, Ohio, Aug. 28. (AP)—They'll decide the $10,000 Grand American handicap today—and indications were that an unknown, as in the past 42 years, would cop the clay target game's biggest prize.

Work To Stop Flow Of Mexicans To US MEXICO CITY, Aug. 28. (AP)—Mexican and United States labor organizations are cooperating to halt an illegal flow of Mexican workers to the United States, Fidel Velazquez, head of the Mexican labor federation, said today.

Velazquez told a press conference the workers, badly needed in the United States harvest fields, were being passed across the border with the connivance of minor immigration officials of both countries.

To block this, he said, the Mexican federation and the CIO of El Paso, Texas, have formed an international control committee to make sure Mexican immigrants are protected and that they do not displace United States workers.

It's No. 15 For Hank Oana As Cats Win

By The Associated Press. The Fort Worth Cats' late-season winning streak stretched to ten games last night when they beat second-place Shreveport 3-1 for the second time in a row, while at Dallas the first-place Beaumont Exporters toyed with the still-swelling rebels to the tune of 4-3.

In the Oklahoma sector of the Texas league the Indians and the Houston Buffs divided a double-header at Oklahoma City, and at Tulsa the Oilers turned back San Antonio 3-3 and climbed to within one game of the Padres.

Fort Worth's converted outfielder, Hank Oana, gave up a grudging three hits to the visiting sports and scored his fifteenth win. Houston squeaked out a 1-0 decision over Oklahoma City in the opener, and the Indians won the nightcap, 6-3. Elmer Rummans of Houston yielded only three hits in the first contest. The Indians collected a mere two hits in the nightcap, but pushed over a half dozen runs in the sixth.

Joe Berry won his nineteenth victory for the Oilers this season. Today's schedule (all night games): Beaumont at Dallas. Shreveport at Fort Worth. San Antonio at Tulsa. Houston at Oklahoma City, open date.

WASHINGTON—Ten million illiterates, five million of them aliens, are the potential raw material of Hitler's threat to make the conquest of the United States an inside job.

South Has Most Illiterates are concentrated in large industrial states. New York has more than 1,000,000; Pennsylvania, Illinois, and Texas around half a million.

Only about 700,000 aliens are illiterate in any language, signing their names with "X," about 1,800,000 can't handle any English.

State Fairs Are Submerged By The War

By JACK STINNETT

WASHINGTON—In recent years there were approximately 2,900 state and county fairs held in the country every summer and autumn.

Now the war is giving them an awful beating—but not for the reasons you think. Joseph Eastman, coordinator of war transportation, made an appeal a few months ago to cancel all fairs and expositions.

What has happened as a result is best typified at Chicago, where the National Livestock Show has been called off. Always held with it was the National 4-H club convention, which has drawn from a thousand to 1,400 delegates.

But in many other sections, the reported reason for cancellation of fairs and expositions has nothing whatever to do with transportation. It is based on the simple fact that the armed forces have taken over the fair and exposition grounds for quarters, training fields, and warehouses.

One of the biggest eastern fairs is the Eastern States Exposition at Springfield, Mass. Five states participate and have buildings there. The Army has taken over.

The Raleigh State Fair in North Carolina has been cancelled at Army request. Some western coast fairs and expositions have been cancelled on Army orders.

The Florida State Fair at Tampa; St. Augustine's "A Day in Old Spain"; the Edison Day Celebration at Fort Myers; and the Festival of the States Sun Celebration at St. Petersburg, all have been ruled out.

On the other hand, Maine, Michigan, Minnesota, Wisconsin, Kansas (except for a couple), and almost all the big Canadian fairs, to mention only a few, have been given the green light.

CHAPTER 17 Haunted Land They talked little, saving their energies for the physical effort required to keep going.

"Which way now?" he asked Tyra, for it was dark and the night was filled through the dense foliage, and orchids filled the air with fragrance.

"After casting about for a short time Tyra found the trail, and they started forward once more. "One more river to cross," Gil called it.

It was heavy jungle, even for Chiapas bush country. The machetes slashed away at the creepers, for even a game trail was clogged with vines.

Advancing slowly Sandy became conscious of a quality of vast age in the scene. Those hardwoods that towered so high into the tropical sky were only part of it.

"Did you expect your father to meet you here?" Sandy asked her. She shook her head. "I would be practically impossible since he doesn't know just when I'm coming."

"He's probably worried about you, too," Sandy said. "I'll bet he has been out to the edge of the plateau with his field glasses every day for weeks trying to get a glimpse of you."

All the next day they worked around the base of the precipice and, late in the afternoon, reached a cave hung with glistening stalactites which drew exclamations of wonder from Sandy's party.

Tyra told them the cave marked the foot of the fault-line, so they pitched camp in the mouth and began the climb early the following morning. It was tedious work, made more grueling by their impatience to be at the end of the journey. They were hardened to the rigors of the country now, however, and kept going steadily over the huge boulders that clogged the rift in the rocks.

Then, at last, with a final effort they stood upon level ground. Sandy breathed deeply of the higher air. He faced a dark wall of jungle, much like some they had already crossed. Butterflies and birds flitted through the dense foliage, and orchids filled the air with fragrance.

"A game trail leads to the ruins. Our camp isn't far from the Mayan city." After casting about for a short time Tyra found the trail, and they started forward once more.

Cagney Goes On His Own

By ROBBIN COONS HOLLYWOOD—Jimmy Cagney is looking ahead to a day when Jimmy Cagney's name on a movie marquee won't draw in weary vagrants to snooze the night away on plush seats—free.

That's a funny piece of forward-looking for Jimmy Cagney today—for a Cagney who now has his potentially biggest hit fresh on the stands, for a Cagney who after "Yankee Doodle Dandy" could write his own ticket on any lot he chose.

But that is exactly why Jimmy Cagney, as clever a fellow as he is dynamic, is doing what he's doing. Out at Warner Bros., where they made "Yankee," they sigh hopefully, muttering invocations which add up to a gentle hope that United Artists will dissolve maybe, or that the government will freeze people in the jobs they held last January 1, or—better yet—vagrants to snooze the night away on plush seats—free.

He won't. He's going into his own company, his and brother Bill's, in United Artists. They're going to make pictures, Jimmy the star, Bill the producer, just as on "Yankee." Shades of Charles Ray, Gloria Swanson and other stars who came a-cropper doing their own productions! But the Cagney deal isn't like that. Only a Crosscut can gamble his own money on his pictures nowadays. The Cagneys aren't doing it.

Jimmy told about it out at his house the other day—between telephone calls. He had a few of those: he's chairman of Hollywood's War Activities committee, which is some job; he had a call to lead a shipyard community sing, which he accepted; he had others about the local bond-sell-premiers of his picture—for which he couldn't use his best $25,000 bond ticket because he's off on a bond-selling tour. He would jump up, with George M. Cohan vitality, chin into the telephone, come back and take up the talk where he left off.

He's been at Warner's a dozen years—except for the couple of films he did elsewhere after winning his release in court. "How many stars can you name today—stars who were here 10 years ago?" he asked.

I named a few but I got him point. I had to admit that those I named had seen their better days. But Cagney himself? "There comes a time," he said, "and it's smart to plan for it before it comes. Right now is the time for me. If you like the business, and want to stay in it, you plan to go into production—before you have to."

They're going to make first-rose light story—with a pertinent message punched home under the lightness.

Swimming Course Is Completed

SERVICE MEN AT HOME ON FURLONGS

COLORADO CITY, AUG. 28. (AP)—Men on leave from service with the armed forces are becoming familiar visitors on their hometown fronts. to reassure Mr. Fleming. He addressed Sandy in clipped tones: "Want to explore the ruins, do you? Did my daughter lead you here?"

Tyra answered hastily. "Yes, Dad. I'll tell you all about it, later."

Mr. Fleming continued to examine the strangers and their equipment.

"Where do you plan to make camp?"

"We haven't looked around," Sandy said. "Maybe you could point out a good spot, Mr. Fleming."

He jerked his head toward the opposite bank of the stream. "Better go over there. We can't be too close together. We'd get in each other's way."

Since it was scarcely possible for less than a dozen persons to create a serious traffic hazard, this statement had a bizarre effect upon Sandy. But he grinned with good nature.

"Looks all right. And we haven't much time if we want to be settled by nightfall."

Mr. Fleming agreed with almost too much alacrity. "It gets dark as ladies under these trees."

Sandy felt the necessity of making some farewell gesture to Tyra. He thrust out his hand awkwardly. "You've kept your word to the letter, Tyra. We're all grateful."

She appeared to find the moment difficult, too. Her eyes dropped before his gaze. "I hope you find what you're looking for."

Sandy addressed both of them. "We'll see more of you people, of course."

Mr. Fleming answered, "No doubt."

Sandy, Gil and Helen turned away, then. When they had gone a few steps, Sandy glanced back. Tyra and her father had not moved, but stood watching them.

All Enlistment Offices Busy

Lieut. Joe Founcey was here Friday to conduct interviews with men who wished information about opportunities for enlistment with the maintenance battalion of the 10th armored division at Camp Perry, Ohio.

While men were contacting him at the office of Sgt. Edwin R. Turner, army recruiter, in the postoffice basement, the recruiter announced the acceptance of Olan A. Griffith, Forsan, for the army unassigned, and two Colorado City men for assignment to the army flying school here.

The U. S. navy recruiting sub-station here announced the acceptance of James Ray Woodard, Snyder, and Jesse Williams, Evert, Hermleigh, for V-4 (hospital apprentice 2C), and A. J. Johnson, Stanton negro, for V-6 (mess attendant).

Construction workers clearing through the station for interviews in Dallas were Thomas Lawrence Boyd, Hermleigh, Henry Littleton Smith, Midland, Ned Noel Smallwood, Big Spring, and Charles Lyman Upham and James Nelson Box, both of Odessa.

Through selective service headquarters came word that Joseph Lesley Christensen, 700 Nolan street, had enlisted with the United States Marine Corps. His brother, Edward Griffin Christensen, enlisted in the army here Thursday.

Education Must Adapt Self To Wartime, McNutt Says

WASHINGTON, Aug. 28. (AP)—Paul V. McNutt, federal security administrator and war manpower commissioner chairman, called on the nation's 31,000,000 teachers and students today to shoulder "new and heavier war duties" and asked school boards to reconsider their programs and responsibilities in the light of war needs.

"I urge you to put aside any thought of education as usual," he said in an address prepared for the opening of a four-day institute on education and the war sponsored by the U. S. office of education wartime commission.

McNutt announced yesterday that every able bodied college youth was destined for the armed forces and should realize that he cannot have assurance of remaining in school "for any specified period of time."

Mindful of a prospective serious shortage of teachers, McNutt urged particularly that teachers stay at their posts unless drafted by the army or navy or war industry for "work of higher priority rating."

"It is not only a teacher's duty to stay at his post," he added, "but he must expect to carry heavier work loads than in peacetime."

As for college students, McNutt said there was no excuse for any young man or woman preparing for any profession not directly useful to the war effort.

"Through the ROTC and through student loans to accelerate training in certain technical fields," he declared, "we have the beginning of a national college war reservist program. I hope to see this expanded to the point that every college student is formally enrolled as a reservist."

He said every high school student should regard himself as in the "reserves" and called on elementary school children to enlist in the salvage campaign and on other people and students to help in the victory savings drive.

Mitchell Countian Nominated As A Typical Soldier

COLORADO CITY, Aug. 28.—According to word received in Colorado City this week, training in bulldozing and branding steer stands a man in good stead in the fighting forces. Pfc. Earl Currie, son of Mrs. C. L. Kiser of route two, was pictured in the Golden Gate Guardian, magazine published by and for the harbor defense forces of San Francisco. Pfc. Currie had just run the difficult Commando course in one minute flat.

Raised on a Mitchell county farm and ranch, Pfc. Currie enlisted in the coast artillery last October and at present holds the post of gun pointer. The magazine account nominates him for a typical soldier and an all-around athlete.

Heavy Water Receipts Hike City Balance

Heavy receipts from the water department during July boosted the city's general fund cash balance to $36,813, a gain of $6,604 for the month.

According to the financial statement presented to commissioners by J. D. McWhirter, city secretary, total general fund revenues for the month amounted to $23,411 including $478 in current taxes and $870 in delinquents.

Interest and sinking fund disbursements totaled $5,864 for the month, there being $5,000 for bonds and the balance for interest and exchange. Cash balance of the fund was $12,822.

Water billed to the consumer (accounts paid mostly in August) amounted to $19,157, or $5,530 more than for June and $9,322 more than for July a year ago. Water meters sold totaled 66,683,000 gallons, over the previous peak by 21,542,000 gallons.

Electric and gas franchise payments for the month ran to $2,158. Disbursements from the general fund amounted to only $16,807. This, of course, did not include payment of $18,815 from the water and sewer bond fund during July, leaving this unit with a balance of $21,315.

Balance for the non-tax revenue swimming pool and park fund climbed to $2,115, a gain of nearly a thousand dollars for the month. Backbone of the gain came from the swimming pool. No less than 2,604 adults paid $651 for swimming and 780 youngsters planked down another $417. This does not include $30 in adult seasonal swim tickets and $253 in child seasonal tickets. Nine-hole golf cards netted $112.75 from 461 enthusiasts and 95 others paid out $47.50 for 18-hole tickets. In addition, there was $44.50 from monthly cards.

With receipts of only $10 against expenditures of $288, the cemetery fund level dropped to $2,007.

Departmental reports showed that the sanitary officer inspected all local packing plants, checked groceries and markets, cafes and hamburger stands, and continued checks of dairies, bakeries, etc., and collected and delivered 140 health certificates.

The police docket showed fines assessed in 60 drunkenness cases. Eleven years from driving drunk to window peeping were transferred to the sheriff. There were a variety of others, such as vagrancy, affray, gaming, captured escapes, etc., ran the total cases to 56. Traffic tickets issued in July ran to 121, but 64 were to out-of-county cars. Only two cases were dismissed and two suspended. The rest were ordered paid.

Limit Fixed On The Price Of Ginning

Big Spring and Howard county ginners left little doubt Friday that they would operate under the first of the three alternatives offered by OPA in establishing price ceilings over the cotton ginning industry.

In announcing that a ceiling had been placed over the industry in which 2,000,000 farmers of the nation annually spend $60,000,000 with some 10,000 ginners, OPA gave three choices to the ginner in arriving at his charges, but specified that once a choice had been made, it must be his only method for all transactions. Alternative procedures are:

1—105 per cent of the highest price charged by the ginner for the same or substantially similar services in the period from August 1 to October 31 last year.

2—25 cents per hundredweight of seed cotton for ginning picked cotton, 27 1/2 cents per hundredweight of seed cotton ginning bolls or snapped cotton, and $1.50 for bagging and ties, for which prices the ginner shall render such other ginning services as sold in the base period.

3—If a ginner is unable to fix his maximum price in accordance with the second formula, he may charge up to 65 cents per hundredweight of lint cotton, gross weight bale, for ginning picked cotton, 71 1/2 cents per hundredweight of lint cotton, gross weight bale for ginning bolls or snapped cotton, and $1.50 for bagging and ties.

Local ginners said that plans were to establish a charge of $1.25 per hundred lint, plus $2 for bagging and ties. This would run the cost of ginning to $3.25 on a 500-pound bale. This is comparable with last season when ginners generally charged $2 on the ties and bagging and fluctuated between $1.00 and $1.25 per hundredweight lint. Those who reached the top figure at any time between specified dates could charge this, and those who maintained a dollar would be able to charge only $1.05 per hundred lint and $2.10 for bagging and ties.

Under the second alternative ginners could receive only $3.25 per 500-pound bale on picked cotton, and only $4.75 per 500-pound bale on picked cotton under the third plan.

Connally To Fight Anew For State's Community Laws

WASHINGTON, Aug. 28. (AP)—Victorious in an earlier fight against the mandatory filing of joint federal income tax returns by husbands and wives in community property states, Senator Connally (D-Tex.) said today he would seek to eliminate from the new revenue bill a house-approved provision which would cancel community property rights with respect to estate taxes.

"The amount involved in the estate taxes is less than the income taxes which recur year after year," Connally said, "but the principle involved in the proposed tax is perhaps even more important."

Eight states have community property laws—Texas, Louisiana, Arizona, New Mexico, Idaho, Nevada, Washington and California.

Connally took the stand that if only half the property belonged to the husband in life, certainly no more than half of it belonged to his estate after death.

Cooperation Asked In Campaign To Exterminate Rats

All community and neighborhood leaders of the Howard County Victory council have been asked to cooperate in giving demonstrations on rat killing during the next two or three weeks, County Agent O. P. Griffin said today.

Griffin has notified all community and neighborhood leaders, calling special attention to demonstrations given at the Cosden refinery and by 4-H clubs.

"If other demonstrations were given by the community and neighborhood Victory leaders before the date when everybody will be required to expose poisoned baits, it would help the people to get better results," Griffin said.

"Our time for these demonstrations would be the first and second weeks of September, as a conference of extension agents is called at College Station for the third week. Therefore Victory leaders should act quickly and see that we are notified of arrangements for a demonstration by Sept. 1 if possible."

A special meeting of the Victory leaders has been called for Sept. 5 to complete final arrangements.

Govt. Files To Break AP 'Monopoly'

NEW YORK, Aug. 28. (AP)—The government, depicting the Associated Press as premier among news services of the United States and contending that a newspaper without it suffers competitive disadvantages, asked federal district court today for an order to force the "AP" to serve any newspaper willing to pay the cost.

The Chicago Sun was mentioned specifically as having been unable to obtain membership in the Associated Press; likewise the Washington Times-Herald.

A civil complaint filed by the government in the southern New York district court dealt with corporate matters solely. It paid high tribute to the operations of the Associated Press and emphasized its reputation for impartiality, accuracy, thoroughness and speed.

The government's complaint, in brief, made these allegations:

1. Those provisions of the AP laws which exclude competitors of existing members from membership and the AP news, illegally restrain and monopolize interstate commerce in news and illegally restrain the interstate commerce of newspapers which are prevented from obtaining AP news;

2. The provision of the AP by-laws requiring each of nearly 1,300 members to furnish local news gathered by its own staff exclusively to the AP illegally restrains and monopolizes interstate commerce in news.

The petition asked that the Associated Press be permanently enjoined against further enforcement of the by-law provisions referred to.

Martin Test Abandoned

Once more prospects for commercial production of oil in Martin county have been dealt a severe blow with announcement of plans to abandon and plug the Magnolia No. 1 E. B. Powell.

Drilling at 8,318 feet in black shale, the test had cored from 8,306 with 12 feet of black shale and lime, and was possibly still in the Permian. It was 818 feet below contact. Location, eight miles north of Stanton, was in section 18-35-1N, T&P.

After reporting spudded Wednesday, the Ray Albaugh No. 1 Higginbotham, extreme northern Dawson county wildcat, came in with the report of having reached 1,000 feet in redbeds. For a scheduled cable test this was regarded as some pretty tall tool handling. Location is in section 5-H, EL&RR.

First WAVES Go Into Training

NORTHAMPTON, Mass., Aug. 28. (AP)—WAVES rolled into Northampton today, bringing with them impressive records of achievements, well-powdered noses, and a strong desire to do their bit for Uncle Sam as this country's first salariedettes.

The first arrivals included a registered medical technologist, a private secretary, a college English teacher, an advertising expert, and the attractive daughter of Irene Rich, movie star, who has been doing engineering illustrating in a west coast airplane factory.

This first group, expected to number about 60 over the weekend and 125 by Sept. 28, has been dubbed the "high-brows." But no photographers were heard complaining that there were no pretty girls to photograph among the first comers because they are an eligible selected unit of highly qualified women to get the WAVES program started. They hold probationary commissions.

Glider Instruction Explained In Talk To Business Club

Information on the Big Spring Pre-Glider school and on the training requirements of a glider pilot was given by Capt. W. E. Grass, commanding officer of the pre-Glider school here, in a talk before the American Business club luncheon Friday at the Settles hotel.

Capt. Grass pointed out that a prospective glider pilot must take training in making dead stick landings with light airplanes such as is given at the local school. Then the pilot must go to an actual glider school such as the one located in Lamesa. Instrument instruction and then advancing glider training are the next steps before the glider pilot wins his wings.

Capt. Grass also discussed the future of glider planes after the war which he believes will be used for cargo transportation due to the lower cost involved in using the gliders.

Jake Morgan was in charge of the program and Leon Lederman was named to have charge of next week's program. A. K. Miller was appointed as next week's bulletin editor.

Prompt Appointment For Trades Groups At Army Air Field

Men who can qualify in almost any of the trade classifications open likely will receive immediate civil service appointment to the Big Spring army flying school, Lt. T. Lee, civil service representative, said Friday.

The term "immediate appointment" was used in reference to those who can qualify as a helper (six months experience or having completed training course), a journeyman (two years experience) or a journeyman (four years experience).

Lee said that appointments for stenographic work at the field would be comparatively slow, but that there were still not enough applications on hand to fill the positions which eventually must be filled. He urged those who have applied but who have had no word of appointment to be patient, for in time most of these will be made.
