Reds Dispute Jap Claim On Ship Sinking

By The Associated Press
Smouldering friction between Russia and Japan was fanned anew today as Moscow bluntly challenged Tokyo's claim that a United States submarine had torpedoed a Soviet merchant ship, and pinned the attack on a Japanese overseas raider.

The Soviet radio quoted survivors as saying that two Japanese submarines surfaced immediately after the 4,761-ton S.S. Angarstoi was sunk 32 miles off the Japanese coast on May 1.

Japan had charged the sinking was an American attempt "to create friction between the Soviet Union and Japan ... obviously timed for provoking trouble."

11 Candidates To Be Listed, Court Rules

AUSTIN, June 26 (AP) — The supreme court today ruled that the names of all 11 candidates for the unexpired term of Railroad Commissioner Jerry Radler, including that of James E. Kilday, must be printed on the democratic primary ballot.

The court's answer to Kilday's suit seeking exclusive listing for the rail commission post was given at 12:50 p. m.

Because of the nearness of the primary election July 25, parties to suit which originated in a Fort Worth district court will not be permitted to file rehearing motions, Chief Justice James F. Alexander ruled.

The supreme court said in effect that there was no law prescribing the methods to be followed in selecting nominees by a party under the circumstances presented in the Kilday case.

"It appears to us, therefore, that the party is free to follow any other method in keeping with its usages and customs in selecting its nominees for such office, so long as it does not pursue a method expressly prohibited by law," the opinion said.

Meet Tonight On OPA Rules

Retail dealers in cost of living items were urged for a final time Friday afternoon to attend the informational meeting at 8 p. m. today in the Settles hotel ballroom when explanations will be given once more for filing these lists before July 1 in conformance with OPA regulations.

A survey Friday indicated that few had completed their list and fewer still had them compiled correctly. The meeting was called for this evening because at best a terrific last minute rush to get these essential lists into the local ration board appeared inevitable.

Walter Wilson and Sonora Murphy, ration board clerks, and perhaps other ration board officials will be on hand to give general explanations of procedure and to counsel on individual cases.

Questions asked at the chamber of commerce during the day indicated that much confusion and general lack of understanding still existed in connection with not only the filing of this list, but with the preparation of complete invoices with ceiling prices.

Only a fractional part of the 291 retail establishments in Howard county have filed the cost-of-living lists to date, but said Wilson, all must be in by July 1 since merchants have had an extra 30 days of grace already.

Mrs Hutchens Of Coahoma Dies

Mrs. Clara Emma Hutchens of Coahoma succumbed Thursday at the age of 63. She had been ill health for several years.

She is survived by her husband, Ben Hutchens; a daughter, Mrs. Mary Conklin of Waxahatchie, and twin sons, William A. Hutchens of Big Spring and Wilbur W. Hutchens of Sweetwater. Three grandchildren also survive.

Funeral services were held at 2 o'clock Friday afternoon at the First Baptist church of Coahoma with the Rev. N. W. Pitts in charge. Interment was in the Coahoma cemetery.

Mrs. Hutchens, who was born January 26th, 1879, came with her family to Texas from Vinton, Iowa, a year ago. With her husband she owned and managed a cafe in Coahoma.

Nazi Machine Edges Deeper In Ukraine

Russians Pushed Back Before Furious Onslaught

MOSCOW, June 26 (AP) — Against powerful Red army resistance, the German offensive in the Ukraine developed today into a reinforced, major drive to the east with the Russians being forced back slowly by sheer weight of troops and tanks past Kopyansk and the Oskol river. Dispatches from the battlefield said that after abandoning Kopyansk, 60 miles southeast of Khar'kov, the Russians repulsed a series of force assaults in which the Germans tried with tanks and planes to force a wedge into the defense line.

The Russians said that by falling back slowly they had been able to maintain a straight, unbroken front against the fury of the new onslaught.

"The Germans intensified their attacks," Tass reported, "and despite tremendous losses are pressing eastward."

"Our units slowly retire, offering strong resistance to the enemy."

In its account of the withdrawal from Kopyansk, the news agency said:

"The fascist command concentrated considerable forces here, including several hundred tanks and a large number of aircraft, and attacked almost incessantly."

Fighting also flamed overnight in both the Khar'kov and Sevastopol regions.

The related push upon the inner defense of Sevastopol was pictured here as still unavailing despite sacrifice of axis manpower at a rate of five-for-one, aerial raiders losing 1,000 bombs a day and a steady shelling by the heaviest artillery.

"Our troops beat off many enemy attacks," it was said.

Heavy combat yesterday throughout the area before the Germans' southern front headquarters was indicated by a communique which said "our troops in the Khar'kov direction continued fighting against advancing German fascist troops."

Russian fliers parried Nazi aerial thrusts and hammered at armored formations. The information bureau said 51 planes of squadrons seeking to blast a path for Field Marshal Gen. Fedor Von Bock's ground forces were shot down or damaged in a single sector.

General operations of the Russian air force added to the drain upon material amassed by the German command for the summer effort.

Scott To Head New Air Unit In China

NEW DELHI, India, June 26 (AP) — A lanky, daredevil fighter pilot from Macon, Ga., Col. Robert Scott, was assigned today to command the American army's first pursuit planes in China, the 23rd pursuit group of the U. S. Army air corps.

The pursuit group will replace the American volunteer group on July 4. A small number of the A.V.G.'s ace was expected to be inducted into the group when their Chinese contracts expire next month.

Sugar Stamp No. 4 Expires Saturday

HOLDERS of sugar ration books who have not used stamp number four are reminded that Saturday is the last day sugar can be purchased on that stamp.

The stamp officially expires at midnight, and after that hour stamp number five will go into effect. Each stamp is good for a two-week allotment of sugar, but no stamp can be held over until another goes into effect.

Another Gulf Ship Loss Acknowledged

WASHINGTON, June 26 (AP) — The navy announced today that a small United States merchant vessel had been torpedoed and sunk several weeks ago in the Gulf of Mexico and that survivors had been landed at a Caribbean port.

Nazis May Reveal Aims In Few Days — War In Europe Entering Decisive Stage

WASHINGTON, June 26 (AP) — Military experts, taking a grave view of the allied situation in North Africa, said today that the war in Europe was entering a potentially decisive phase with Germany at the point of making her long-awaited all-out drive against Russia.

The next few days, one authority said, should show whether the great battle on the Russian front has in fact already begun in the operations at Khar'kov and Sevastopol or whether those were preliminary actions-in-force for the main campaign which would then certainly be undertaken by the Germans with little delay.

Germany, it was generally believed here, would try for a series of successes so smashing that by next fall or winter she would be able to follow up with either an attempt at invading Britain or a negotiated peace with her foes in Europe.

The end result of either course, if successful, would be to deprive the United States and the remaining allied nations scattered over the earth of both invaluable allies and effective bases from which to strike back at the axis in Europe in 1943.

Offsetting this black prospect, as the nazis would have the world see it, were these considerations from the United Nation's point of view:

1. The heroic record of resistance made by the Russians to date in their year-old war with Germany and the predictions of officials familiar with their fighting spirit and military efficiency that they never would be defeated.

2. Prime Minister Churchill's confident assertion, reported by legislators who conferred with him and President Roosevelt yesterday, that Egypt can and will be held.

3. Formal creation of a European theater of operations for the U. S. forces in Europe. While in itself this was purely an organizational move, it indicates the likelihood of early and powerful American action against Germany directly.

4. The fact that American and allied production is reported to have outstripped the total production of the axis powers in important weapons, especially warplanes. The problem of getting these supplies to the fighting fronts in sufficient quantities and in sufficient time despite German U-boats and bombers remains as one of the most imperative facing this country and Britain.

5. The fact that, except for her advances into the western Aleutians which are still strategically inconclusive, Japan has been thwarted in every recent attempt to crack the American-Australian position in the Pacific and has paid a costly price in ships and planes for her failures.

Major Battle In Egypt Near

Axis Sweeps Into Egypt — Heavy fighting raged inside Egypt as invading Axis forces forced the British to abandon the northwest frontier strongholds of Salum and Sidi Omar. Indications were that the British intended to make their main stand somewhere before Matruh (jagged line).

Bremen Fired By Greatest Air Assault Made By RAF

Boys Brought Before Judge

Two Big Spring youths, both confessing burglaries, appeared before County Judge Walton Morrison Thursday, and hearing on one was suspended, and the led placed on probation, while the other was committed to the State Training school.

The youths, both 13 years old, were picked up by officers this week and when confronted with fingerprint evidence each admitted burglaries. One was charged with twice entering the home of Clyde Waite and the other with entering the Big Spring Seed and Feed store and a house on Johnson street.

Since the latter youth had more than one charge against him he was sent to the training school, Judge Morrison said, at the same time emphasizing the problem confronting the court in dealing with juvenile cases. The boy will spend a minimum of 11 months in the training school and his dismissal after that period will depend on his record in the school.

Anti-Photograph Measure Signed

WASHINGTON, June 26 (AP) — President Roosevelt signed into law today a measure prohibiting the making of photographs or sketches of military or naval reservations, naval vessels and other military property except under regulations issued by the secretary of the navy or secretary of war.

Sponsors explained that previously the espionage act barred the taking of photographs only where there was an intent to injure the United States.

Bomber Armada Numbers More Than 1,040

LONDON, June 6 (AP) — Great fires were set by the RAF last night in the big German port city of Bremen, principal target of a devastating assault which probably was the largest in the history of aerial warfare.

Indications were that the number of planes participating exceeded the flights of 1,130 and 1,036 bombers which laid Cologne and Essen in ruins on May 30 and June 1.

An air ministry communique told of one bomber force of "more than 1,000; whose main target was Bremen and reported intensive attacks on air fields in the low country by a second force of bombers and fighters."

This force was believed to have been numbered in the hundreds.

Fifty-two planes were missing, the highest one-night loss ever experienced by the RAF, but informants said this was less than 5 per cent of those involved.

(This would indicate that more than 1,040 planes were involved. The Germans, agreeing on the 52 figure, contended it represented 25 per cent of the attackers.)

In addition to the Bremen raid, hundreds of fighter planes and fighter-bombers were believed to have participated in intensive harassing attacks on German air fields.

The only American-made planes used last night were Douglas Havoc fighter-bombers, a well-posted source said.

Each of the three massive air blows has been aimed at a vital arsenal supplying war tools for Adolf Hitler's land, sea and air forces.

By centering on Bremen, the RAF evidently was adhering to a policy of making "priority targets" of U-boats, especially U-boats under construction.

Married Men To Be Called

AUSTIN, June 26 (AP) — In line with the law establishing new classifications, married selective service registrants will continue to be drafted in Texas but only as needed to fill local draft board quotas.

That procedure became clear yesterday when state selective service headquarters transmitted to draft boards copies of the servicemen's dependents allowance act which defined dependency requirements.

Earlier this week, state headquarters had temporarily halted induction of men married prior to Dec. 8, pending establishment of the new procedure.

The new law said, in part that: "National interest requires that all calls to meet the manpower requirements of the armed forces be filled on schedule and you are directed to take such steps as may be necessary to insure that result."

Confederates See A Modern Army

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., June 26 (AP) — Confederate veterans—40 strong—marveled at the modern army today as troops from Fort Oglethorpe paraded in the closing feature of the UCV's 52nd annual reunion.

At yesterday's business sessions, General John W. Harris of Oklahoma City was elected commander in chief.

The Sons of Confederate Veterans passed a resolution calling for denial of draft deferment to strikers who "refuse to arbitrate and who cease work in the production of war supplies."

Rommel Army Extends Push To 100 Miles

British Expected To Make A Stand In Matruh Sector

CAIRO, June 26 (AP) — The main armored force of Nazi Marshal Erwin Rommel had driven at least 100 miles into Egypt to confront the British Eighth Army today with a challenge to decisive battle.

Latest word from the desert was that the Germans and Italians, advancing despite bitter resistance of British covering units, had not yet smacked into the principal British force, which is expected to make its stand somewhere before Matruh, 130 miles within Egypt. Supported by mobile infantry, the axis heavy armor is rumbling along a wide natural avenue about midway between the sea and a desert plateau 25 to 30 miles inland.

Smaller enemy forces were operating along the coast.

Farther south, some were reported to have reached the western rim of the Qattara depression about 90 miles inside Egypt but were dealt with by British armored patrols.

There was scant reason to believe they would attempt to cross the depression, which is a vast stretch of soft sand below sea level.

While the swiftness of the axis advance made Egypt virtually certain that the main bodies of the two forces soon would be locked in decisive battle, United Nations sources said there was every reason to believe the enemy would be held.

Rommel, throwing everything he possesses into the advance, is operating on a shoestring fully as much as the British are. Thus far he has manipulated his string more skillfully, but as he progresses his problems become more difficult in many respects while those of the British become simpler.

The British apparently were pinning their hopes of victory largely on the geographical advantages of their defense line and on the possibility that Field Marshal Erwin Rommel's lines of communication, now extended far across the desert, may not be equal to the occasion.

Dispatches from the front indicated that the eighth army still was a formidable fighting force despite the battering it received in Libya and that it would be able to give a good account of itself.

Against this force Rommel was reported throwing into action every ounce of striking power at his disposal. This includes the German 21st and 15th armored divisions, the Italian Ariete ("battering ram") mechanized division and a great supporting mass of motorized infantry.

The axis chief of staff was reported to be filling up the gaps which were knocked in his equipment during the fighting in Libya by pressing into service recently-captured British and American-built tanks and trucks.

Gas Rationing Asked For Other States

WASHINGTON, June 26 (AP) — Temporary rationing of gasoline and fuel oil in western New York State, western Pennsylvania, Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Michigan, and such other midwest states, "and such other" to provide absolutely essential petroleum for the east was proposed to the government today at a conference of a committee of eastern mayors.

The conference was headed by Mayor H. F. La Guardia of New York, with Petroleum Coordinator Harold L. Ickes and Transportation Chief Joseph B. Eastman attending.

Practice Bombs Bring 'War' To Albuquerque

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., June 26 (AP) — The crash of bombs—dropped accidentally from an army training bomber—aroused fears of some suburban residents of Albuquerque yesterday that "a guerra" (the war) was at hand.

A group of 11 children narrowly escaped injury when 15 of the 100-pound practice bombs whizzed down to explode in a cornfield belonging to Manuel Griego. The farmer said they came from a bomber in a flight of four headed for a bombing range northwest of the city.

Authorities at the Albuquerque army air base declined to make any statement.

Juror Sick, Mesa Case Is A Mistrial

PHOENIX, Ariz., June 26 (AP) — A mistrial was ordered today in the murder trial of Victor F. Smith because one of the jurors was so ill he requested hospitalization.

The case was set for retrial October 6.

PHOENIX, Ariz., June 26 (AP) — Victor F. Smith told a jury yesterday he shot and killed Owen Brummett, 19, high school football player, in self-defense while trying to arrest the youth for attacking Smith's 15-year-old daughter.

The 43-year-old Mesa, Ariz., tourist court operator, charged with murder, testified that when his daughter came home crying and told of being attacked, he took his gun and went in search of Brummett.

"My purpose and intention at that time was to keep Brummett from getting away from Mesa, from going to Texas," Smith said. "I just simply made up my mind that this man should be apprehended and delivered to the law for the crime he had committed against this girl."

Smith said he looked for the constable, but couldn't find him. "Just as soon as I saw Brummett," Smith continued, "I asked him, 'Are you Brummett?' and he said, 'yeah, what of it?' And he came right at me. . . ."

"He was in a position to attack me as I sprang at me from the curb with his right hand up. The first shot seemed to have no effect. He kept right on at me. I stepped back about two paces, pulled the pistol from my belt and fired again, and he staggered back."

Mrs. Smith testified that her daughter returned from a ride with Brummett in a hysterical condition, and said she had been mistreated. While she was calling a physician and trying to calm her daughter, Mrs. Smith said her husband disappeared. A few minutes later Brummett was shot to death.

Troops To March In Texas Towns July 4

Units of the army will parade and stage exhibits of army weapons in 14 Texas cities, New Orleans, La., Tulsa, Okla., and Hobbs, Ariz.

This Is No Comfort To The Enemy — Output For May: 4,000 Planes, 1,500 Tanks

WASHINGTON, June 26 (AP) — President Roosevelt disclosed today that America's mighty war effort, in the single month of May, had turned out nearly 4,000 planes and more than 1,500 tanks.

Releasing official war production figures for the first time since Pearl Harbor, the chief executive asserted in a statement that this country also turned out nearly 2,000 artillery and anti-tank guns in May, and these were exclusive of anti-aircraft guns and those to be mounted in tanks.

The May output of machine guns exceeded 50,000 weapons of all types, including infantry aircraft anti-aircraft. If anti-aircraft machine guns are added on the total passes 100,000.

Mr. Roosevelt released these figures because, he said, they are going to give the axis just the opposite of "aid and comfort."

"We are well on our way," he declared, "towards achieving the rate of production which will bring us to our goals."

The last announced objective of the war production program, said in the president's annual message to congress last January, were 155,000 planes in 1942 and 1943, 120,000 tanks, 55,000 anti-aircraft guns.

The chief executive, in citing the May figures, warned against overconfidence. He said: "While these figures give you some idea of our production accomplishments, this is no time for the American people to get over confident. We can't rest on our laurels. We need more and more, and we will make more and more."

"And we must also remember that there are plenty of serious production problems ahead—particularly some serious shortages in raw materials, which are receiving the closest consideration of the government and industry."

— Downtown Stroller

On a hot afternoon when a gal calls you in off the sidewalk, gives you her last cold coke and lets you take time to cool off, we'd say that is a true test of friendship. But that's the kind of a pal DORA BRIDYER turned out to be the other afternoon as we went by.

Out in her victory garden early yesterday morning was Mrs. LEE ROGERS, who claims that so far they have onions, anyway, thriving in their yard. And it takes all her spare time and a lot of water to get them to grow. But now, if folks would just raise weeds... they take no care or effort and you can't kill them out!

Went for a swim with the Jones girls. MYRTLE JONES and her two sisters-in-law, Mrs. OMAR JONES and Mrs. JAMES JONES, and her sister, Mrs. E. W. AGEE of Mobile, Ala., who used to be MILDRED JONES before her recent marriage. Also met up with SARA REIDY, HELEN DULEY and INA MAE BRADLEY, who decided the pool was the best place in town to cool off in.

Heard the other day that Mrs. TURNER BYNUM, who used to be a Big Spring resident, is working now in Rockport, Tex., on the local newspaper, as a news reporter.

Maybe you haven't been counting, but it is only nine days to the fourth of July. So begin to get in trim. There is a lot of activity scheduled for that day this year and all right here in town, too, so you can save those ribs.

Group Riding A Necessity

WASHINGTON, June 26 (AP)—A nationwide worker-transportation crisis, with potentially serious effects on the war production effort, was predicted by the Public Roads administration today as a result of the forced retirement of passenger automobiles.

After a study of the problem in a sample locality, the bureau said it now was "absolutely necessary" that universal group riding be instituted as a means of extending the usefulness of available cars and tires.

The agency suggested also that working hours be staggered on community-wide bases to increase the efficacy of mass transportation.

Argentina Shows Nazi Hostility

BUENOS AIRES, June 26 (AP)—Anti-German hostility surged in Argentina today, sparked by the first street outbreaks in the capital, as Argentine neutrality apparently swung on Berlin's response to a formal protest over the Rio Tercero.

Informed sources said Germany must give satisfaction if friendly relations are to continue.

The public, not content to await the course of diplomatic exchanges, aired its opinion emphatically by stoning the show windows of two big German-owned business houses and attempting a protest parade on a main Buenos Aires street.

A "Firecracker" dance will be held Friday, July 3rd, at the Settles hotel with C. A. Rodgers and his Romantic Rhythms Orchestra furnishing the music.

Floor show will be held and the public is invited to attend. Tables will be arranged on the mezzanine. This will mark the first appearance of Rodgers orchestra in Big Spring.

Here's A Guy Who Wants To Marry

MILWAUKEE, June 26 (AP)—A court ordered a 23-year-old man held for examination because of his unorthodox wooing methods.

Police charged him with disorderly conduct after he sat behind a girl in a theatre, introduced himself by pulling her curls and pursued her from seat to seat with two questions:

Could she cook and would she marry him.

The youth had four unused marriage licenses from various states in his pocket.

Party Given For Florence Marie Hall In Home Thursday

A belated birthday party was held Thursday afternoon for Florence Marie Hall, five-year-old daughter of Dr. and Mrs. G. T. Hall.

Florence Marie was five years old in March but due to illness her party had to be postponed.

Games were played and gifts presented to the honoree and pictures of the group were made. Favors were jacks-in-the-box and were wrapped in gold and colorful wrappings.

Punch was served and attending were Jane Watson, Joe Dawes, Myrna Jean Talley, Anna Belle Lane, Peggy and Janet Hogan, Margie Beth Keaton, Harris Wood, Tommy Tate, Marilyn Mull, Mary Winn, Sylvia and Don Brigham, George McGann.

Canadian Vessel Makes Port After Attack By Sub

OTTAWA, June 26 (AP)—The Canadian Navy announced today that a Canadian-built merchant ship had been brought safely to a west coast Canadian port after "a determined attack" by a Japanese submarine.

There was no loss of life.

The navy's statement gave no details of the attack and there was no announcement of the place except that it occurred "off Canada's west coast."

Some damage was done to the ship.

The attack on the merchantman was the first reported submarine operation against shipping off the Canadian west coast, although several attacks on shipping have occurred in United States Pacific waters.

Mrs. Townsend Given Farewell Gift By Club

AMERICA AT WAR ★ ★ ★ Cartoon by J.R. WILLIAMS

Here's How YOU Can Help WIN the WAR!

YES—there is one fast, sure way we all can help to win this war, and that is by buying our share of Defense Bonds and Stamps. The money is put to work at once to buy the guns, planes, and tanks an invincible America needs and must have to win

City Not Yet Ready For A Blackout Test

Howard county's proposed blackout test is still a long way from reality. That is the opinion of Herschel Summerlin, defense council coordinator, following a talk with Walter F. Kerr, of the governor's defense staff.

Complete plans, showing problems to be undertaken during the blackout, must be submitted, Summerlin learned, to the governor's defense staff and these in turn are sent to the regional defense office in San Antonio. This channel then directs the plans, after approval, to the army air corps of this area which will notify the city when the blackout can be held.

In addition to this procedure which precludes the city government from staging a blackout by its own consent, there is a shortage of trained personnel in air raid wardens, auxiliary firemen and other groups which are needed to attempt a test.

The five protective services needed are auxiliary firemen, air raid wardens, emergency medical service, public works and utilities and C. A. P. These services are in effect here but from these groups there must be organized and trained rescue squads, nurses aides, drivers corps, messengers, road repair crews, demolition crews, decontamination corps and fire watchers.

During a blackout, lack of lighting is not the only important thing, Kerr told Summerlin. Each sector, and there are 15 sectors in Big Spring, must have a problem to be solved during the blackout time. These problems could range from a blown-out road, a demolished bridge, to any number of situations which would have to be worked out by the various services during the time of the blackout.

CRASH KILLS TWO
BAKERSFIELD, Calif., June 26. (AP)—An army training plane crashed in a cotton patch near Minter Field yesterday, killing Lt. Clifford D. Reeder, 24, Weatherford, Tex., and George E. Peters, 22, civilian flight instructor of Bakersfield.

Letter To Editor—Air Raid Warden Proud Of Duty

To The Editor:
I am proud that I am an air raid warden. Not because I deem it an honor, but because it is my duty to my country. If we win this war, every one of us will have to do our bit. If our boys go and give their blood and lives, why shouldn't we, as true Americans, do our part. I wish every person in Big Spring could have seen the pictures at the city auditorium Wednesday evening. We cannot realize just what it is all about until we see the real thing. You folks perhaps do not know just what an air raid warden's duties are. I as an air raid warden will call at every house in my sector and meet you, so that we may know each other and our duties, so please let every air raid warden that calls upon you in and visit with you. Some day you might be thankful that you did. You may say, "Oh! What's the use. Big Spring will never be bombed." How do we know that it will not be bombed? Every town in the United States can be bombed. If Big Spring should be bombed, you would need protection so please cooperate that we may be prepared.

C. C. HARRIS, Sector 5
Air Raid Warden

Hewitt Wheelless To Be A Movie Actor

HOLLYWOOD, June 26. (AP)—Capt. Hewitt T. Wheelless, a hero of the Philippines, is going to take a brief fling at movie acting.

Wheelless, singled out for praise by President Roosevelt in a recent fireside chat, will play himself in an army air corps film "Beyond the Line of Duty," to be produced by Warner Bros. the studio announced today.

Capt. Wheelless, military career, from his training days at Randolph Field, Texas, to his exploits in the Philippines, will be the theme of the picture. It will be filmed at Randolph Field where Wheelless has arrived for the assignment.

Kiwanis Gets Report From Convention

Messages of tolerance, peace for unity and faith and prayers for Divine guidance came from the Kiwanis International convention at Cleveland, Ohio, the Rev. O. L. Savage said in his delegate's report to the local club Thursday.

One of the first and outstanding resolutions of the convention, he reported was that calling for service club men to join in a "back to church" movement and urge others to return to churches.

The Rev. Savage quoted Brookington's statement that the Allies are seeking to hold an order where "God is God and man is man." Dr. Lyman Bryson, in charge of a panel discussion, said that the lesson had to be learned that when one loses he should not change the rules. Roe Fulkeron declared that while there could be material rationing, there could be no rationing of spiritual things.

"Change your opinion," the Rev. Savage quoted Frederic Snyder, commentator, as saying, "Never change your convictions." Snyder urged prayers for "our boys (in the Philippines and other war theaters) who are on the mouth of hell while we are in the hip of heaven." But he added hope in that "Hitler is only a small speck in the eye of God."

To the Rev. Savage one of the outstanding parts of the convention was the conference of Christians and Jews in which representatives of the Catholic, Protestant and Jewish faiths participated in a discussion of world events. They believed that each should have representation along with statesmen and politicians at the next peace conference. He also was impressed by Stanley W. High's statement that "Pearl Harbor changed the key but not the tune."

Government Aid Recipients Urged To Find Work

Recipients of public assistance money have much to gain and nothing to lose by finding jobs they can do, according to Frances Peters, field worker of the state department of public welfare.

Those who receive old age assistance may qualify for old age insurance by working 18 months in some employment covered by the social security act, explained Mrs. Peters. Old age insurance is a form of pension and will be paid for life as an earned right upon retirement, whereas old age assistance is based only on need and the amount varies as need changes. Many aged persons, she said, have completed time on the six calendar quarters of work which will qualify them for the lifetime pension.

Similarly, mothers receiving aid to qualify for work, were urged to take employment which will enable them to better support their children.

No statistics are available to show the number of older and mothers of dependent children who would be able to take employment, but Mrs. Peters suggested that whatever the number, those affected should take private employment. If this is not for necessities, the department of public welfare will handle details for supplementing with public aid.

Gives Up Railroad Executive Position

LAREDO, June 26. (AP)—M. M. Leyendecker, 59, who entered the employ of the Texas-Mexican Railway company here 55 years ago, was relieved of the duties of general manager of railroad at his request, but will retain the title of vice-president.

R. R. Fenner, superintendent of transportation, was elected general manager at a directors' meeting here.

Japs Thrown Into Panic When U. S. Bombers Raided Tokyo

ANKARA, June 26 (AP)—An eye-witness to the United States air attack on Tokyo last April 18, who was in a Tokyo street when the raid occurred, said today the Japanese were thrown into panic and depressed by the feeble defense.

The story was told by a national of a neutral country who has just arrived here.

"The daylight raid," he said, "was a complete surprise and shook the people's confidence as the government had boasted that American planes would never be seen over the capital.

"Tokyo's close-packed, highly-inflammable buildings were spared as the planes went on to bomb targets between the capital and Yokohama and other important industrial centers."

He said foreigners were not permitted outside of Tokyo to inspect the damage which, he said, apparently was heavy.

"I was on the street when the bombers came over," he related. "Sirens sounded and red warning flags and balloons went up.

"Many persons showed panic, rushing for cover.

"I heard no anti-aircraft guns. Japanese pursuit planes were out-distanced.

"Some Japanese commented on the superiority of the American aircraft. Japanese newspapermen questioned why the Japanese could not locate where the planes came from and intercept them, replied that they flew too fast and too high.

"The people insisted that Japan was going to win the war, but I got the impression that they were very much afraid of the United States. The press spoke of a long war and some people talked of it lasting ten years."

The traveler was in Manila when the Japanese entered the Philippine capital and went to Tokyo from there by air, ultimately reaching Turkey by rail by Manchukuo and Russia.

Of his observations in the Philippines, he said the invaders appeared nervous when they entered Manila and that there was considerable looting, even of the custumhouse. He said he lost trunks and books himself.

Within Manila, he added, he saw soldiers slap pedestrians for disregarding traffic lights and heard reports that the situation was much worse in the country, where there were cases of violence and rape.

The first two days of the occupation foreigners were interned in hotels with almost nothing to eat, he said. Then neutrals were released and others, except elderly persons and those with small children, were sent to concentration camps.

"Ninety-nine per cent of the Filipinos are still with America," he said.

William Aldin Hardy, Snyder, was listed as another recruit for the U. S. Navy by S. L. Cooke, recruiter in charge of the sub-station here. Hardy went in as apprentice seaman for ship's cook.

Next interview date for foreign service construction corps in the navy, said Cooke, would be in Dallas on July 2. There is an urgent need for men in this class, he said.

ARMY AND NAVY SHIP RECRUITS

Two enlistments have been cleared through the Big Spring office, Sgt. Troy Gibson, recruiting officer, said Thursday.

Included are Thomas L. Hutto, brother of Mrs. Obie Bristow, former Texas A. & M. baseball and basketball star and later professional baseball player, who was sent to the army unassigned; and Walter E. Eubanks, Sweetwater, son of Mr. and Mrs. Erma Balch Sweetwater, who enlisted in the air corps.

Help Your Percolator Last for the Duration*

Electric percolators, like many other household appliances, are out of production due to the war. You'll want to take good care of the one you have so that it will last.

Don't let your percolator boil dry and be careful not to put it in water, for it might burn out. Use only a damp cloth to wipe the outside, and avoid letting the cord become twisted or frayed.

*This message is one of a series designed to aid you in getting the maximum benefit from your present electrical equipment.

When your percolator refuses to "perc," it may be that the fuse in the base is loose or has burned out. Stores which sell electric appliances and electric shops usually can replace the fuse in a few minutes.

Yankees, Dodgers Dominate Line-Ups For All-Star Tilt

Teams Named For July 6 Feature

CHICAGO, June 26 (AP)—Plenty of seasoned American league campaigners and a new crop of Yankees await, the National leaguers July 6 at New York when they will renew their annual mid-season feud, the All Star baseball classic.

Fourteen of the squad of 25 players announced yesterday by William Harridge, league president, were members of the 1941 winning combination, even to the leading principals—Edgar Smith of Chicago's White Sox, the winning pitcher, and Boston's Ted Williams, whose ninth inning homer brought the junior circuit its sixth triumph in nine games.

The complete squad:

Pitchers—Ernest Bonham and Charles Ruffing, New York; Alton Benton, Detroit; Spurgeon Chandler, New York; Tex Hughson, Boston; Sid Hudson, Washington; Ed Smith, Chicago; James Bagby, Cleveland; Harold Newhouse, Detroit.

Catchers—William Dickey, New York; George Teebats, Detroit; Warren Rosar, New York.

Infielders—Lou Boudreau, Cleveland; Bob Doerr, Boston; Joe Gordon, New York; Ken Keltner, Cleveland; Rudy York, Detroit; George McGuire, St. Louis; Phil Rizzuto, New York.

Outfielders—Ted Williams, Boston; Joe DiMaggio, New York; Dom DiMaggio, Boston; Tom Henrich, New York; Bob Johnson, Philadelphia, and Stan Spence, Washington.

Dodgers Dominate Line-Ups For All-Star Tilt

Teams Named For July 6 Feature

NEW YORK, June 26 (AP)—The National league announced a strong All-Star squad today with seven of the Brooklyn Dodgers in the cast that will face the American league's best at the Polo Grounds July 6.

The selections of the eight managers of the senior circuit included some surprises—such as the choice of Catcher Walker Cooper of the St. Louis Cardinals and rookie outfielder Willard Marshall of the New York Giants while passing up infielders Stan Hack of the Chicago Cubs and Billy Jurge of the Giants—but the strength of the squad could not be questioned.

Manager Leo Durocher of the Dodgers, who will lead this year's National league array by virtue of winning last year's pennant, will have all of his own regulars in the fold except First Baseman Dolph Camilli and Outfielder Dixie Walker.

Camilli, last year's most valuable player and leading home run slugger, has been far below par in batting this season although still among the home run leaders.

The complete squad in the order chosen by the league:

Pitchers—Morton Cooper, St. Louis; Whitlow Wyatt, Brooklyn; Claude Passeau, Chicago; John Vander Meer, Paul Derringer and William Walters, Cincinnati; Clifford Melton, New York.

Catchers—Arnold Owen, Brooklyn; Walker Cooper, St. Louis; Ernest Lombardi, Boston.

Outfielders—Harold Reiser and Joe Medwick, Brooklyn; Elmer Slaughter, St. Louis; Melvin Ott, New York; Terry Moore, St. Louis; Danny Littwiler, Philadelphia; Willard Marshall, New York.

SPORTS ROUNDUP

NEW YORK, June 26 (AP)—The big problem for the major league all-star managers will be how to keep from starting too many Yankees and Dodgers. . . . Joe McCarthy ought to make that all right—he had plenty of practice—but Leo Durocher has Wyatt, Owen, Herman, Reese, Vaughan, Reiser and Medwick from his own club. How are you going to pick any players ahead of them?

Today's Guest Star
Deak Morse, St. Johnsbury (Vt.) Caledonian-Record: "Nice fellow that Ben Hogan. He kicked par around for three days and on the fourth day, of all days, Father's Day, he gave par another for stroke lacing."

A rodeo and "thrill circus" is scheduled to take over the Polo Grounds for a week in July. It should provide the infielders with a whole season's supply of alibi for booting grounders. . . . Art Heenan, former assistant to Jim Decker on the Syracuse U. publicity staff, recently suffered a broken arm when his merchant ship was torpedoed. Then he floated around for two days before he was rescued. Writing home from Jamaica, E. W. L. Art said: "To think I used to think things were tough when the alma mummy blew a football game."

Sportsmen
When the Norfolk Piedmont league club jumped from Asheville, N. C., to Greenville last week, manager Buzz Doyle and several of his players had to stand up in the bus all the way. . . . In Morrisville, Tenn., Fred Hartman runs a mail route, sits in court as a judge, owns a farm, a filling station and restaurant and is business manager and right fielder for Newport in the Appalachian league.

Service Dept.
Father Richard E. Carberry, brother of "Judge" Carberry, the Fordham line coach, has been decorated for gallantry at Bataan. As chaplain of the 46th infantry, he crawled 40 yards under heavy fire to administer the last rites to a dying Filipino sergeant. . . . The marines won't be represented on the all-star service team at Cleveland, but they could pick up a pretty fair club from such guys as Joe Marty of the Phila. Jimmy Dorsett, who belonged to the Indiana, Hank Wayton, a Cardinal farmhand, Pat Harder of Milwaukee, who soon is to enter an officers candidates class, and Hal Hirschon, former U. C. L. A. football captain who played for Beaumont.

Looking 'Em Over

With WACIL M'NAIR

It's mighty hot weather to be talking football, but they're getting ready to put tickets on sale at Abilene for the all-star clash which will wind up the coaching school there on the night of August 8. Indications are that about 300 high school coaches from over the state will attend the school, which is a large number, considering travel difficulties, etc. Most of the top name players of high school football during 1941 will be in the lineup for the all-star game.

Sgt. Julian Alsbrook, the former state AAU heavyweight boxing champion recently won a sharpshooter's medal at Camp Blending, Fla., where he is now located with the 98th division. Alsbrook was prominent in all West Texas boxing events a few years ago when he was in school at Abilene Christian college. In fact at about that time, 1936-37-38, West Texas had a monopoly on amateur heavyweights in the state with Alsbrook and Trust Fulcher both at Abilene and Babe Ritchie operating out of Lubbock. All three held AAU or Golden Gloves championships during their careers.

The Waco Dons have come to be the most widely known semi-pro baseball team in this part of the country, and naturally any other teams in the state considers it a fair test of strength when they go against them. The Dons have many fans, largely because their lineup carries some names that have made history on the diamond and their individual followers run well into the hundreds. Ash Hillis, a former Texas league pitcher and always a good one, has many fans, especially in West Texas. Two other Texas league greats on the lineup are Pitcher Earl Oberman and Lee Stebbins on first base. These old heads form the nucleus for a good team dotted with college stars and other youngsters just starting out. The Dons won the state semi-pro title last year and were runner-up in the national tourney.

Mel Hein, the veteran New York center, finally settled all the speculation on his future career by accepting the coaching position at Union College. Although he will be remembered in pro-football for years to come for being chosen all-America pro center for eight successive years, it has been known for some months that he was considering a change over to the coaching profession. For a time some thought he might take a job as assistant coach at one of the larger ivy-clad institutions in the east. Since 1933, after he was graduated from Washington State, Hein has been snapper-back for the Giants, which is a long time for a star to remain at the top in pro football.

Because of blackout rulings along the coast, the football game between S.M.U. and Hardin-Simmons slated for October 9 will not be played in Corpus Christi as planned. It will be transferred to either Dallas or Abilene.

Unknowns In Final Play Of College Golf

SOUTH BEND, Ind., June 26 (AP)—The National Intercollegiate golf tournament has simmered down to its most colorful semifinals in a 45-year history.

With Earl Stewart of Louisiana State, the defending champ, and Ray Brownell of Stanford, last year's runner up, upset yesterday, four comparative unknowns were free to drop over the Chain O'Lakes links in a wide open chase for the championship, which will be decided tomorrow in a 36-hole playoff.

The semi-finalists:

Manuel de la Torre, Northwestern sophomore, born in Madrid, Spain.

Harold Gjolme of the University of Washington, winner of the national collegiate skiing championship two years ago.

Frank Tatum, Jr., valedictorian of Stanford's senior class.

Bob Kuntz of Yale, former winner of the New York metropolitan junior title.

CONSTRUCTION MAN DIES
HOUSTON, June 26 (AP)—James P. Miller, 66, well-known construction superintendent, died in Memorial hospital yesterday.

He was in charge of building many structures in Houston and other Texas cities.

Nothing Stops You In A Tank, Writes Robert Winslow

"You just go and go, and nothing stops you."

This is the description Robert Winslow gives of action in one of Uncle Sam's tanks. He likes it, adding "I sure get a thrill driving a tank."

"Every now and then," admits Robert, you get a "slight bump, which leaves a small knot, the size of an egg. Except for the sore heads, there are no complaints."

However, it apparently is strenuous work, for "after we get back from putting the tanks through the paces, you can't tell which end is which as both men and tanks are slightly muddied."

"Being here is just like being in a big city," he writes from Fort Knox, Ky. "There are all kinds of recreations, shows, skating, swimming, golf, dances, baseball and just but not least the service clubs where you can play pool, dominoes, checkers and table tennis."

Not Too Big To Pitch In Majors, Says 218-Pound John Whitehead

BEAUMONT, June 26 (AP)—Big again pitching winning ball.

He was with the Browns this season but stayed only about five weeks, not starting a game but turning in a one-run exhibition in a seven-inning stint. St. Louis shunted him to Toledo, where he didn't want to go, and then to San Antonio, where he did, since it was close to home.

In the Texas league he has won three, lost one and pitched one tie. All he asks is a run or two. And that's all he's been getting. He has won by 1-0, 2-1 and 3-2.

Winegarner, who has played with Whitehead, says John has as much stuff as ever and that the big fellow has a fine chance of returning to the majors with the war laking the youngsters. Whitehead, now 33, will be eligible for the baseball draft.

Whitehead pitches today against Beaumont, one of the best clubs ever seen in these parts.

Chicago Cubs Give Up Rubber Mats

CHICAGO, June 26 (AP)—The rubber salvage campaign is the richer today for more than 8,000 pounds of matting from Wrigley Field, donated by the Chicago Cubs. The huge mats, made from tire casings three years ago, were laid in runways leading to the box seat sections.

Soccer is the national sport of Costa Rica.

Exports Lose To Missions In The 14th

By The Associated Press

If Texas league officials were passing out awards for trying, one certainly would go to Fitcher Clarence Gann of the Beaumont Exporters.

Intent on his tenth victory of the season, Gann held the San Antonio Missions to one run for 13 innings last night, but tired in the 14th, and the Missions scored five tallies to win 6-1. Until the final frame the only run Gann let in was a homer by Frank Mancuso in the second. The game was played at Beaumont.

At Fort Worth the Cats swept a doubleheader with Oklahoma City, 5-3 and 2-0, Tulsa lost 7-1 to the Rebels at Dallas, and the Shreveport Sports displayed their appreciation to a large crowd of home fans by signing out Houston 5-2.

Fort Worth won the first contest on Catcher Ronnie Rolinson's two-bagger with the bases full in the fifth. Marc Beddingfield's four-hit pitching job gave the Cats the nightcap.

For once, everything went right for the Rebels. Marc Connors slugged two homers and batted in two more mates with a double; Gordon Maitberger hurled a four-hitter, and Nick Gregory broke into the lineup with two hits, including a triple, and did some fancy fielding besides.

Veteran' Gal Golfers Play Youngsters

CHICAGO, June 26 (AP)—"It doesn't seem quite fair," said Marjorie Row of Detroit, one of the semi-finalists in the women's Western Open golf tournament. "Just because I'm playing a 17-year-old today, and just because Betty Jameson is playing one 18, we're being called veterans."

"I'm only 20, and Betty is only 24."

Marjorie opposed Phyllis Otto of Atlantic, Iowa, and Betty faced Jeanne Cline of Bloomington, Ill., in today's next-to-last round over the Elmhurst course.

Miss Otto, youngest survivor in the six-day tournament, is as much entitled to the name of veteran as any of the others. She's been at it seriously since the age of 12, when a mastoid operation forced her to give up her favorite sport—swimming—and turn to golf.

Calf Roping Match Scheduled Sunday At Colorado City

COLORADO CITY, June 26—Sunday at three p. m. at the Frontier Roundup grounds in Colorado City Toots Mansfield of Big Spring and James Kinney of Comstock will meet in a calf roping challenge match. Also scheduled for the event is a contest between Sonny Edwards of Big Spring and Lanham Riley of Snyder.

Each contestant will rope eight calves and the average time will determine the winner. Another feature will be jackpot roping open to all larist twirlers.

Mort Cooper In Great Form To Add 6th Shutout In Row

By JUDSON BAILEY
Associated Press Sports Writer

The success story of the year in baseball concerns Morton Cecil Cooper of the St. Louis Cardinals, who is most likely to be the National league's starting pitcher in the all-star game in New York June 6.

Cooper captured his 10th victory and sixth shutout yesterday, 4-0 with a stunning two-hit performance against the Boston Braves in an Army-Navy relief game that raised more than $2,500 at Boston. It was only the third victory in the last nine games for St. Louis and Cooper won all three with shutouts—stretching a skein of 23 consecutive scoreless innings.

One of the most remarkable aspects of the big righthander's success is that in four previous seasons in the National league he obtained just five shutouts and did not administer a single whitewash last year when he won 18 games and lost nine.

Apparently the arm operation he had early last season changed him from a good pitcher to a great one. He had several bone chips removed from his right elbow and "most pitchers who have had similar operations have taken a year or more to regain their old form, but Cooper was out of action only about a month.

When he returned to the mound he quit relying so much on his fast ball and started pitching to hitter's weaknesses. This result has been his fine work this summer, when he has been beaten only three times and on each occasion by one run.

The Brooklyn Dodgers hushed the Cincinnati Reds 4-0 in a twilight game by rallying for five successive hits after two were out in the third stanza.

Big Bill Lee pitched five-hit ball as the Chicago Cubs cuffed the Phils 7-1 to sweep their three-game series at Philadelphia.

In the American league the Chicago White Sox shut out the Washington Senators for the second straight game 2-0 in a spectacular hurling duel between Lee (Buck) Ross and Sid Hudson.

Lefty Al Smith of the Cleveland Indians achieved his fourth straight triumph with a five-hit pitching job that stopped the Philadelphia Athletics 4-1.

Detroit downed the Boston Red Sox 7-3 with a six-run rally in the eighth inning sparked by Jim Bloodworth's two-run homer.

Pritchett, Cook In Final Round Of Colorado Tourney

COLORADO CITY, June 26—Next week will see the finish of the Colorado City golf tournament which opened June 7th at the Country Club. The championship flight matches have all been completed leaving the final match a duel scheduled for July 4 between James Pritchett, medalist, and Jimmie Cook. Pritchett defeated Bob Battle 1 up after 18 holes, and Cook took young Bill Craig 6-4.

In the first flight Bill Coffey, Jr., beat Mrs. Walter W. Whippley 1 up, 20 holes, to leave him in the final play with the winner of the R. E. Mitchell-Howard Tartt match which has not been completed.

R. P. Rose, who eliminated E. L. Graves with a 6-5, will meet the winner in the O. E. Rhoda-Mrs. R. H. Barber contest for the second flight championship.

Editorial - - Love Of Country Comes First

The story is told of a 13-year old boy who sat down to write President Roosevelt after the nation's leader appealed for a round up of scrap rubber to help our fighting men.

"I love my country and fly the American flag up here in the north woods in Minn.

"I am 13 years old and I have a 4-H Victory garden."

Thrill you? If you love your country like this lad loves it his letter is bound to thrill you.

What a pity that this spirit does not prevail on everyone! Unfortunately, we have men—and some of them in pretty high places—who love the interest of their companies and of their organizations more than they love their country.

Not a few Pulitzer Prize dramatists were targets of the season-end scolding. Maxwell Anderson was upbraided for "Candide In The Wind," which after all the bad words against it served Helen Hayes with a highly profitable tour.

Still another, Marc Connelly, author of the memorable "The Green Pastures," returned after a long absence with a disappointing play, "The Flowers of Virtue." Like his honored fellows, he was severely dealt with. Dramatists never blessed with Pulitzer honors, yet celebrated as first rate workmen, discovered the scornful side of criticism for their efforts.

The general hostility extended to distinguished players, not for their own lack of skill as actors but because they had chosen their vehicles unwisely.

To give a brighter survey, it may be pointed out that not all the dependables failed. Noel Coward, for example, contributed the biggest success of his career to the season in "Billie's Spirit."

Man About Manhattan— Post Mortem On New York's Stage Season: It Was Nearly All Bad

By GEORGE TUCKER NEW YORK—Recent summaries of the drama season have blamed the stalwarts of the theatre, mostly playwrights, for the unsatisfactory year that has just come to its unhappy and unprosperous end.

But this deficit must be noted. No author of glittering promises crossed the horizon into view during the year.

Washington Daybook— Here's Answer On Beet Sugar

By JACK STINNETT WASHINGTON—Over in the Department of Agriculture, sugar has lost its sweetness.

The reason: an avalanche of letters, the like of which the department has rarely seen before on any single subject.

But this deficit must be noted. No author of glittering promises crossed the horizon into view during the year.

growers NOT to raise sugar in this country, and if so why?"

What about the annual report from a major western sugar firm, which contains the statement, "Sugar beet acreage allotments to farms in company territory in 1941 were restricted by the secretary of agriculture to a total of 12 per cent less than 1940?"

Here is the agriculture department's answer, as set forth by Joshua Bernhardt, chief of the sugar agency:

"The 1941 beet acreage restriction was required under the Sugar Act of 1937, which provided that federal payments to any domestic area may not be made on more sugar than is needed to fill that area's quota and establish normal reserves. At the time that the need for 1941 restriction was announced, that is late in 1940, there was a tremendous ever-normal granary of sugar in this country and in Cuba. . . It was then that sugar beet growers who wished to receive federal payments were informed that it would be necessary for them to reduce their 1941 plantings. Incidentally, this was the only time since the federal sugar programs started in 1934 that the continental beet area, as a whole, had to restrict production. As a matter of fact, since these programs began, beet sugar production has increased 22 per cent, while that the mainland sugar cane area, comprising Louisiana and Florida, has more than doubled.

"This year, of course, there are no federal restrictions whatsoever on sugar production in any domestic area.

MRS. MURDOCK TAKES A CASE by George Harmon Coxe

Chapter 11 The Apartment The detective opened the door of the rear apartment, opposite the one they had just left. It was a duplicate of Clarke's, the air heavy with mustiness and the smell of stale tobacco.

"Well?" Bacon said, voice blunt but plenty of interest twinkling in his gray eyes.

"The guy that rented it," Malloy said, "rented it yesterday morning and paid a month in advance."

"Who to?"

"The janitor. Lavine's downstairs with him now."

"Keep him here. I'll talk to him later." Bacon pushed back his hat, took the cigar from his teeth and ran a palm over his toony face.

"A stake-out," Malloy said. "By the looks of things somebody spent a lot of time in this chair. And it wouldn't be up here by the door unless—"

"Yeah," Bacon said. "That much was obvious to Murdock and he knew it had been to Bacon, and yet the lieutenant had the good sense to know that it never did any harm to let his men explain their theories."

"Okay," he said. "Keep your hands off things until we go over it. No phone here, huh?"

"They went back across the hall and closed the door. The examiner's physician was just getting up."

"Go to it," he said. "I'm done."

"What about time?" Bacon asked.

The doctor shook his head and grinned, his voice dry but not sarcastic. "Sometimes I hope I'll have a case that got shot through the watch so I can give you follows a fast answer."

"Sure, I know," Bacon said. "From an hour to an hour and a half as a guess, and I doubt if I can come any closer than that after the autopsy."

"That puts it between ten forty-five and eleven fifteen," Bacon said. "We got the call at twenty-seven. All right, Doc, thanks."

He watched the man shrug into his coat, examined the end of his cigar which had gone out. "Didn't die right away, did he?"

"If you mean instantly, probably not. Might have thought the two shots were about four inches apart and one just missed his tucker. You have the one you dug out of the door? Good, I'll give you the other tomorrow."

Slip Of Paper The doctor went out and Bacon brushed ashes from his cigar and proceeded to re-light it. Sergeant Keogh was emptying Clarke's pockets and when he had collected the contents on a table, Bacon began to look things over.

From where Murdock sat he could see a wallet, some keys, coins, a cigarette case and lighter, a small address book. Bacon went through this, put it aside, and started in on the wallet.

"Well, he wasn't broke," he said presently.

Murdock rose and went to the table, conscious now of his weariness but reluctant to leave.

"A hundred and thirty bucks," Keogh said.

Bacon was pulling out cards and papers, putting them in a little pile when he glanced at them. He went along casually enough until he came to a certain bit of paper while he unfolded it, then his lips tightened on the cigar and his glance darted to Murdock and held there.

"Look," he said, and smoothed the slip out on the table.

Murdock bent over it. Four names had been scribbled here. The first was Hester. Opposite was a dash, followed by $10,000.

Next was Raaburn and the figure $25,000. Below this were two names followed by question marks. The names were Allen and Nason.

Bacon removed his cigar and worked his lips around it. "Hm," he said. "This could be something. Hester's that first wife of yours, isn't she? Who's Raaburn?"

Murdock said he didn't know. "Was he at the party?"

"Didn't I just say I didn't know?"

As soon as he heard his voice Murdock was annoyed for letting so much irritation creep into his reply. Seeing Allen's name on that paper had given him a solid jolt because the implication of the question mark which followed it was so obvious.

"If he was I didn't meet him. I don't know anybody of that name."

"Okay," Bacon said. "You don't know him. Maybe Hester does. What's her last name? Losado?"

Hm. Well it looks like this lead was lining up some customers. Maybe we can find out for what. He summoned the fingerprint man.

"How you doing, Harry?"

"There was a dame up here sometime," Harry said, a round, sad-looking fellow with rimless glasses. "I got a slice of a print on the bedroom doorknob and I think it might match with the ones on that glass."

He pointed to a tray which stood in one corner. A cheap, lacquered affair, it held a bottle of Scotch, partly full, glasses, a bowl of ice, mostly melted now, and a pitcher of water.

"He brought somebody a drink," Harry went on. "His prints are on both glasses and the bottle, but there are a couple of others on one glass—a woman's."

"That's always a help," Bacon said dryly; then bending a brow at Murdock: "How do you figure it?"

"I don't figure it," Murdock said. "I'm going home—after I stop by the office."

"Lucky you."

"Yeah," said Keogh. "If I could be a photographer."

"We haven't got a hell of a lot," Bacon said. "But maybe we will after we've checked up on your cocktail party crowd. We'll probably go calling in the morning. Maybe you'd better figure on being there; you'll have plenty of com-

Four Colorado FFA Members Honored

COLORADO CITY, June 26—Four Colorado City F.F.A. boys have been awarded the Lone Star Farmer degree by the state Future Farmer committee meeting at New Braunfels. They are James Hart, Wallace Hestand, Max Cowell, and Garland Strain.

Instructed at Colorado City high school by F. C. Shillingburg, vocational agriculture teacher, the boys were among the 175 Future Farmers chosen from 28,000 members in Texas to receive the highest degree awarded yearly by the state association of F.F.A.

Heavy barges plying the Rhine might stop at Mannheim, while light barges can proceed upstream to Switzerland.

Murdock stopped, his hand on the doorknob, his grin wry and without much humor.

"Whatever you say. Just as long as you don't forget who gave you your start tonight."

New Problem Joyce Murdock put aside the telephone. Della had finished with her coat and was putting on her hat.

"Who was that?" she asked. "Kent?"

"Yes," Joyce sat down on the divan. "Come here a minute," she said, and when Della stood in front of her: "Sit down."

"I really should run," the girl said. "I've decided about those clippings. I'm not going to translate them. Now anyway. But you'd better keep them for me until—until we know what we should do with them."

She spoke thoughtfully, and without seeming to realize it, perched on the edge of the divan. Joyce reached out and took her hand. She still felt weak from Kent's announcement, and for all the icy hollow at the pit of her stomach, her mind was smothered by the hot flood of doubt and dismay. She wanted time to get a grip on herself, to be alone until she could think things out and yet, in the light of what Kent had said, she had no choice.

Crossword Puzzle Completed? Your Work Has Just Started

(Second of Two Articles) By J. VAN CLEFF COOPER Wide World Crossword Expert

Let us suppose that the crossword puzzle builder, by dint of force, perseverance, and a fair amount of luck, has completed his puzzle. He is then only at the beginning of his troubles. Much still remains to be done, far before reaching the newspaper in which they appear, crosswords must undergo not less than 50 separate and distinct processes, and perhaps more.

First, all the words in every puzzle must be arranged alphabetically and inspected to see that the same word does not occur twice in the same puzzle—a cardinal sin.

Next they must be defined—some 75 words to each puzzle—and the definitions must be short and accurate.

The puzzles must then be arranged in the order in which they are to be published. Care must be used here, otherwise some word is likely to make both itself and the builder obnoxious by bobbing up for several days at a stretch.

Then the "empty" diagram which is printed with the definitions, must be numbered—correctly, of course, and a solution diagram prepared.

Work Must Be Checked All this work must be carefully checked before the copy goes to the editor. The numbers of the definitions must be examined to see that they agree with those in the diagram. Perhaps nothing is so annoying in solving a puzzle as to find a 42 across definition with only a 40 or a 43 in the diagram.

Further, the "empty" itself must be verified to see that the black squares or "stops" are in their correct positions and not one space off horizontally or vertically, thus offering a six-letter nook for such a word as INK, or something else equally as dire. The solution itself must be checked to make sure it agrees with the original puzzle.

After several other mechanical processes, the "empty" and the solution go to the engraver, who makes cuts of them. The copy for the definitions, meanwhile, proceeds to the composing room to be put into type—itsself a somewhat intricate job which differs considerably from the run-of-the-mill setting of the ordinary newspaper columns.

Definitions are then proofread and later assembled with the cuts of the "empties" and the solutions. Again much care must be exercised here to get the cuts on their proper days, for a wrong cut with the definitions or an incorrect solution the following day would drive thousands of fans from the paths of rectitude and would be little short of a national calamity.

Finally—More Checking Finally comes another proof-reading, just to check and double-check, after which "mats" or paper-mache impressions are made and the precious documents, in this form, are ready to be consigned to the care of the postal authorities, ultimately to appear in your newspaper and to consume time which might better be developed to working in the victory garden or to finishing Johnny's sweater.

Probably no other newspaper feature offers so many pitfalls to the fallibility of human nature or greater opportunity for error as does the crossword puzzle. And once a mistake creeps in, everybody concerned immediately goes blind, fails to spot it before it is too late, and lets it proceed blithely on its way to a mystified and irked public.

So if your pet paper some day prints "Conjunction" and you find the word is WHOM instead of FROM, or if you find WATER defined "Irrigate" instead of "Irrigate," or TEE called a "Gold term" rather than a "Golf term," you might remember there is a reason. You can console yourself you need only to solve them. And you don't have to finish that!

Hollywood Sights and Sounds— Errol Is A Fightin' Man

By ROBBIN COONS HOLLYWOOD—Errol Flynn is "Gentleman Jim" (Corbett) in the movie, but it's Mushy Callahan who has the belt.

Mushy, the fight trainer on the Warner lot, the man who turns actors into convincing pugilists, brings it around sometimes. It's the diamond-studded Tex Rickard belt he won that night in Madison Square Garden.

It was early in 1927, and Mushy had just knocked out the main contender for the title of junior welterweight champion of the world. And afterward, Mushy got the belt. He brings it to the lot on occasion, nonchalantly enough, to show a few special friends.

They are allowed to feel the diamonds while Mushy, ordinarily a very practical fellow, indulges himself in a bit of day-dreaming, of basking again, for the moment, in the warm light of fame.

Errol Flynn, currently the prize-fightin' man in town, fighting all the corners in his march to Jim Corbett's heavyweight title which he will win by script and history, has no belt on display or on the record. Errol fought, true, as a member of the Australian team in the Amsterdam Olympic games, but he didn't win. He did some fighting, roustabout variety, along the west coast of Australia for a short time, but he gave up any notions of a ring career when he found himself being roused about too much for his peace of mind.

But climbing even to an imitation championship, assured by the script, is a hard job, and Mushy Callahan has taken very seriously his own task of preparing Errol for it. So, unexpectedly enough, has Errol. Unexpectedly, of course, because a fellow who seizes pirate ships single-handed, and takes on a million Indians at the Little Big Horn with only a quick glance at script, shouldn't be expected to bother about a little thing like a heavyweight title.

Mushy and Errol get together each workday morning in the camera range against Errol's chin for a close-up, he called for Mushy's arm.

So Mushy gladly offered his left arm. And you know what? It wasn't right. Oh, it looked fine enough, and muscular, but it still wasn't right. Since Mrs. Callahan took over the job of keeping their victory garden, Mushy has gone a little pale around the wrist. He had to stand still—and grimace—while a make-up man added a touch of outdoor color.

last December, it increased the rate of payments (one third) to domestic sugar producers so as to enable them to grow sugar under wartime conditions. Secretary Wickard has expressed the hope that these increased payments, coupled with higher sugar prices and the absence of production limitations would result in an expanded sugar output this year.

There you have the agriculture department's answer to one of the most widespread rumors that has been leveled in their direction since this war began. If sugar growers anywhere this year are not getting their government payments, it's because they have failed to comply with other provisions of the sugar act.

Price Regulations Explained To Club

Information on the maximum price regulations was given by Walter Wilson with the local ration board was given for the American Business club at luncheon Friday.

Wilson spoke of methods to be used in making our inventories and of the deadline of price inventories on July 1st. He discussed some of the problems met by the board and announced a mass meeting for tonight at 8 o'clock at the Settles hotel ballroom when discussion of the price control will be held.

Harvey Wooten, delegate to the national conference in Cincinnati, Ohio, reported to the club on the one day meeting and announced the next convention to be in Grand Rapids, Mich.

Loy House had charge of the program. Other guests present were C. S. Edmonds and J. D. Sitchler.

No Intent To Violate, Says Cosden Chief

If there has been any violation of the Connally act in producing oil from the corporation's holdings, it has been purely technical and without intent, Raymond L. Tollett, president of the Cosden Petroleum corporation told The Herald Friday.

This was his only statement regarding the return by a grand jury at El Paso of a federal indictment against the corporation alleging violation of the Connally "hot oil" law.

Tollett was apprised of the action only upon his return from the East Thursday evening. He said he was not familiar with the charges and had not seen a copy of the indictment. He could not make further comment, he said, pending receipt of further information on the case.

The El Paso allegation was that some 18,000 barrels of oil were produced illegally on a lease in the Penwell field, the corporation being charged with having produced from three wells the allowable for five wells.

Half Of Side Blown Away, Vessel Manages To Make It To Gulf Port

A GULF COAST PORT, June 26 (AP)—A sturdy American cargo vessel—with half her starboard side blown away by an Axis torpedo—has completed an incredible 12-day voyage home, the Eighth Naval District revealed today.

Even the officers were amazed at the craft's performance when they viewed the damage in a gulf port drydock. However, the ship will sail again as soon as the gaping hole in her steel plates is repaired. The officers and men of her crew are ready to take her out.

Joe and Jack Hardesty, brothers of Mrs. J. D. Elliott, are both serving in the United States armed services. Jack, who was formerly employed at the Elliott and C & P Drugs, is in the navy and took his preliminary training at the naval station at San Diego. He received the rating of hospital apprentice, second class and was sent to the U. S. Naval hospital at San Diego for duty. Mrs. Elliott has received word that he will be promoted to apprentice first class within a few weeks.

Joe Hardesty joined the army in February and was sent to Camp Roberts, Calif., and later entered radio school where he was graduated this June. He is being sent to officers training school at Fort Sill at the present and will soon receive a commission as second lieutenant.

Mrs. Jack Oliver and son, Jack, Jr., have gone to join Mr. Oliver, who is in the air service at Harlingen. They have been visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Oliver.

E. T. O'Daniel, chairman of the board of supervisors for the Martin-Howard County Soil Conservation district, R. L. Warren, member of the board, and O. P. Griffin, Howard county agent, will attend a meeting of the state board of supervisors at San Angelo Saturday at 10 a. m. The state board, which meets monthly, has a practice of rotating the parleys to the various district offices in the state, making it easier for local supervisors to confer.

Vaughn, Radford Softball Winners

Two wild, high scoring games were reeled off in the city softball league Thursday night when Vaughn's turned back the State Hospital 11 to 1 and Radford's beat the Scouts 25 to 8.

All of Vaughn's tallies came as a result of errors and ragged play in the field by their opponents, and scoring 11 times they had only one hit which was of the scratch variety.

Frequent home runs featured the Radford-Scout tussle. Abernathy connected for two four-basers and Barton got another for Radford's while Berry hit for the circuit for the Scouts in the second. Radford's had a total of 21 hits.

Tonight in the church league the First Baptists will meet the East 4th Street Baptists. No games are scheduled in the city league.

18-Year-Olds May Sign Up Saturday

Pre-registration of youths 18 years and above, who have not been listed in any previous registration, will start here Saturday. Bruce Frazier, selective service chief clerk reminded today.

Facilities for the pre-registration will be maintained in the office of County Treasurer Ida Collins in the Howard county courthouse both on Saturday and Monday.

Regular registration date is set for Tuesday, June 30.

All men born on or after Jan. 1, 1922 and on or before June 30, 1924 are required to appear for the registration.

Plans call for the Texas Defense Guard to assist in the main registration on Tuesday. The company members have helped in two other registrations of manpower.

In order to facilitate registration, registrants are advised to have answers to these nine questions:

Registrant's name, place of residence, mailing address (if other than place of residence), telephone, age in years and date of birth, place of birth, name and address of a person who will always know the registrant's whereabouts, his employer's name and address, and the place of his employment or business.

Farm Labor Shows Gain

AUSTIN, June 26 (AP)—Showing a seasonable increase of 20 per cent over May 1, Texas farm labor population on June 1 totaled 995,000, the U. S. department of agriculture reported today.

Of the total, 680,000 were family workers and 315,000 were hired workers, marking seasonal increases of 16 per cent and 31 per cent, respectively, over the numbers on May 1.

Women and girls constituted 15 per cent of the total number of workers.

To meet the competition of other localities and industries and to obtain the help needed to catch up with farm operations previously delayed by heavy rains, Texas farmers continued to increase their wage rates.

Average wage rates paid to Texas farm laborers were boosted from $31.50 a month with board on January 1 to $34.50 on June 1 from $42.00 without board to $45.75 on those dates.

The average cotton chopping rate paid in Texas on June 1 was reported $1.03 per acre.

A negro was being held in the city jail Friday for questioning on a receiving and concealing charge as officers continued cracking juvenile burglary cases.

Meanwhile, a 14-year-old boy was being checked after he had admitted to breaking into the American Railway Express office here and making away with some tobacco among other things.

The negro was being held on the strength of the boy's statement that he had sold a gross of sack tobacco to the black for $1.

Police Chief J. B. Bruton said that the possibility of the youngster's connection with some other cases was being investigated.

Water Line Work Starts Next Week

Work will start Monday on extending water lines from the city park reservoir to the U.S. Army Flying School storage tanks, B. J. McDaniel, city manager, has announced.

Works Projects Administration, agency through which the city is working for extending the line, has given the work order for labor operations, namely digging ditch for the 12-inch line.

McDaniel said that 6,000 feet of 12-inch steel pipe were reportedly in transit from Youngstown, Ohio for use on the job.

Meanwhile, French & Fruit, construction engineers for the job, are completing project details. Their plans will include expansion of the disposal plant and the filtration plant facilities as well as for installing the water mains and laying three miles of new 12-inch sewer tile.

The manager is due to go into Dallas the forepart of next week to confer with army engineers concerning a water contract for the flying school. The army indicated in preliminary negotiations prior to designation of Big Spring as a site for the school that prevailing rates would be paid. However, a "production cost" rate is now being sought by the military, it was learned.

Crime Escapade Ends In Death

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich., June 26 (AP)—Madcap James McCortee Leonard, 22, who was reckless to the end, paid with his life for his spree with stolen guns and automobiles.

Trapped in a hotel room here yesterday, the Cheboygan youth was shot to death by City Detective Frank Breen in a typical wild-west climax to his 24-hour escapade.

The detective, unharmed, won a gun duel during which he and the Great Lakes seaman, a fugitive from the FBI, exchanged more than a dozen shots.

Authorities traced Leonard to the hotel after he had been sought since Wednesday, when he had tormented employees in the federal building in Detroit with wild shots while fleeing from an FBI agent trying to question his wearing of a U. S. Navy uniform.
