Coolidge Received Into the Fold Of Good Fishermen

BRULE, Wis., June 18.—Should President Coolidge ever be tempted to embellish his fish story a little bit, add an inch or so to the length of his catch or an ounce or so to its weight, he may do so from now on, for he has received his fish fiber's license.
Sympathetic anglers from Nimong, Wis., presented to the chief executive the beautifully engrossed parchment which permits Coolidge to "cease mildly, prevaricate, and to show recklessness with the truth in connection with all matters pertaining to fish and fishing." The license was granted to President Coolidge under the great fish seal of W. H. Murray.

are featured, as usual, by an announcement from the City Hall ceived there and will be issued to all dog owners for the sum of

WATER SUPPLY FOR BOY SCOUT CAMP IS AMPLE

Spring Has Flow of 1,000 Gallons Daily. Mess Hall Is Staked Out.
J. M. Perkins, member of the executive committee of the Eastland County Boy Scouts Council; Guy Quirk, scout executive, and Tom Foley of Cisco, spent Saturday digging out and waiting a spring on the site of the summer camp of the boy scouts. They dug it about eight feet deep and obtained a flow of about one thousand gallons of pure, clear, cool water every 24 hours. It will be ample for camp purpose with plenty to spare.
They also staked out the mess hall foundation, making it 27 feet wide by 40 feet long. Alex Clark, president of the County Council, arrived at the camp late Sunday afternoon with one of his sons and, with Mr. Quirk, stayed over until today to make a contract for the building of the mess hall. Mr.
Perkins and Mr. Foley returned to their homes, the former arriving just before midnight.
Mr. Perkins said they all took a plunge in the Llano river which is slightly high because of recent rains, and found the swimming delightful.

ment where Nobile and his com-him.

Captain Larson and Lieutenant until receipt of Nobile's message today did they know that they had flown over his encampment

TWO MEN NEAR DEATH AFTER CARS CRASH

Frank Frazier and J. H. Anderson, Both of Baird, In Ranger Hospital. Others Escape Injury.

Two men are in a dying condition in the West Texas Clinic at Ranger as the result of a collision of automobiles about five miles east of Ranger on the Bankhead highway.
Frank Frazier of Baird, 50, employee of the Texas & Pacific, was near death shortly after noon today, and J. H. Anderson, of Baird, mechanic for the Texas & Pacific, is in the hospital suffering from cuts and bruises and internal injuries. His recovery is doubtful.
W. F. Williams, pipe foreman at Baird for the Texas & Pacific, was slightly hurt.
These three men were driving from Strawn to Baird. They met and collided with a car driven by Harvey Thurman, route 3, Cisco, who was accompanied by a boy and a girl. None of these was hurt, although the force of the collision threw his car into the ditch and wrecked badly. Frazier's car turned over twice before coming to rest in the bottom of the ditch.
This car, too, was a wreck.
A third car, driven by R. A.
Brown of Throckmorton, was forced to turn into the ditch to avoid getting into the crash, but it suffered no injury.

Flood Sufferers In Oklahoma Are In Need Of Help

United Press.
ALTUS, Okla., June 18.—An appeal for $25,000 needed for the relief of 2,600 homeless persons in Jackson, Tillman and Kova counties, which were devastated by storms over the weekend, was issued to the state of Oklahoma today by Mrs. M. A.
Lassiter of the St. Louis headquarters of the Red Cross, who is directing relief work here.
The original plan of raising funds locally for the relief work was abandoned after a conference of red cross workers with local business men. Appeal was made today to the Oklahoma state health department to aid in cleaning up insanitary conditions resulting from the storm. Although no check has been made of the loss of live stock it was believed today that hundreds of animals lay dead in the pastures of the three counties.
Preparations for the attempt were made in secret and it was not until two weeks ago today
when the monopleane arrived here from Boston that it became known Miss Earhart and Stultz contemplated a transatlantic flight.
Interest in the flight has been heightened by the fact that while Miss Earhart and her companions were awaiting a break in the weather, for their hop-off, another woman, Miss Mabel Boll, with two pilots, also was poised to go in an attempt to win the honor of being the first woman to cross.

ocratic nominee, Dr. Frank Scott

FIRST WOMAN MAKING FLIGHT ALL WAY OVER

Boston Social Worker, With Pilot and Mechanic, Land In Ireland Before
Noon Today.

United Press.
SOUTHAMPTON, Eng., June 18.—Capt. H. H. Bailey, agent for Miss Amelia Earhart, announced today that the plane Friendship had landed undamaged in Barry Inlet in Wales at 12:45 p. m.
The crew had been taken ashore in a motorboat and the plane had been moored. He said the party probably would continue to Southampton.
With Wilmer Stultz as pilot, and Lou Gordon, mechanic, Miss Earhart has succeeded in becoming the first woman to fly across an ocean.
Three women lost their lives in the attempt—Mrs. Anne Lowenstein Werthem, the Hon. Edith MacKaye and Mrs. Francis Grayson. Miss Mildren Doran disappeared in the Pacific on a flight to Hawaii.
From the time she left Boston, 15 days ago, Miss Earhart had shown supreme confidence in the ability of her plane to make the flight. Bad weather conditions and inability to leave the surface of the water at Trepassy Bay with a sufficient supply of fuel, had not disturbed her.
The monopleane Friendship sailed from Trepassy, Newfoundland, at 9:51 a. m. Sunday, eastern standard time. Miss Earhart is the first woman to fly across the Atlantic. Three women have lost their lives and a fourth was forced down at sea and picked up by a ship in attempts to be the first of their sex to make the hazardous crossing.
The Friendship is a trimotored Fokker monopleane, equipped with pontoons for taking off from and landing on water. The ship carried approximately 700 gallons of gasoline. Two radio sets, one operating on a 600-meter wave length and the other a low wave length emergency set were installed in the plane.
Preparations for the attempt
were made in secret and it was
not until two weeks ago today
when the monopleane arrived here
from Boston that it became known Miss Earhart and Stultz contemplated a transatlantic flight.

CLIPPING FROM STOW NEWS-ENTERPRISE The Stow News-Enterprise of Friday, June 1, published in Massachusetts, carries a most complimentary story entitled, "Eastland Music Week," which brought a great surprise to Eastland Music Club members, when they saw the paper, which had been sent to Mrs. Joseph M. Perkins of this city.

At a late hour Mrs. Hightower, assisted by her sister, Mrs. Gene Andrews, served delicious refreshments of red lemonade and individual cakes in fanciful shapes of "old hens" and "flappers," with the maiden name of each guest on the flapper. Dainty Japanese fans were presented to each guest as favors. Those enjoying the hospitality of the charming hostess were: Mesdames, George Glasscock, Ray Birmingham, Milton the Music Club of Eastland, which through its general chairman of "Music Week," Mrs. Joseph M. Perkins, has prepared an observance that will include church societies, schools, clubs, and also the sponsoring of the operetta, "Pirates of Penzance," to be given by the Randolph College Conservatory. The primary purpose of the Music Club at this time is for the promotion of a greater love and appreciation of the best in music. This is the sixth annual observance of "Music Week." The club believes that the influence of music is constantly growing more effective, and its study and appreciation more general, and that its influence in human affairs is universal.

The Music Club is a real study club of not more than forty active and ten associate members. Mrs. Perkins, formerly Emily Gleason, is vice-president of this society. She is also chairman of the Sixth District, Texas Federation of Women's Clubs. Literature, art, drama and music are divisions in her department, and it is possible for her music federation work; for she is president of the sixth district, Texas Federation of Music Clubs, and during the past year has traveled extensively through the district. There are forty-five counties in the district. She has urged the observance of "Music Week" throughout her district, hoping that again Texas will take the lead among the states in having the greatest number of towns observe "Music Week"; thus emphasizing the use of music as a community asset.

Eastland is to be congratulated in having a cosmopolitan citizenship, composed of men and women from various sections of the United States, who have come and united their efforts with pioneer fathers and the brilliant sons and daughters of the Lone Star State. "We are all citizens here together and have associated our interests in the Eastland of today, and look forward to the Eastland of tomorrow." This brief account of "Music Week" in Eastland, beginning with twilight recital, Sunday, May 6th, with special program for each day of the week, and ending Sunday, May 13th, with twilight vespers for beautiful Mothers' day, was compiled from eight pages of the Eastland County Index, by a reader, who congratulates the fair editor, Mrs. W. K. Jackson, for her attractive paper; finding it quite one of the most interesting she has read for many a day.

WILL STUDY AESTHETIC DANCING Little Miss Florence Perkins left for Dallas, Friday morning, where she will be joined by her aunt, Mrs. S. P. Stevens of that city, who will accompany her to Houston and Galveston, with a longed stay in New Orleans, where Miss Florence will take special work in physical training and be coached by the best teachers there in aesthetic dancing.

Miss Perkins is inately rhythmic, and has created a deep and most pleasing impression on the occasions of her several public appearances, in benefit performances, when she has interpreted such themes as "The Wild Rose," "The Spanish Senorita," "The Sailor Laddie," and other charming creations, original with this young girl.

McS. HIGHTOWER ENTERTAINS AT HOME Mrs. L. A. Hightower entertained at her residence, 1009 South Seaman Street, honoring her sister, Mrs. George Christopher of Prescott, Arkansas, on Friday night, June 15th, with an old-fashioned "hen party," the guests being girlhood friends of the honoree.

As the guests arrived each was asked to compose a verse pertaining to old times and friends and write it in an autograph book which was presented to Mrs. Christopher. The spacious Hightower home was beautifully decorated in baskets of red carnations dahlias and ferns, carrying out the color scheme of red and green.

On entering the living room, to the surprise of the guests, they were confronted by photographs of their own selves taken many years ago when long hair, long dresses and large hats were in vogue, quite in contrast to the short, cool, airy creations of today which caused much laughter and amusement.

Lawrence, George Brogdon, Nora Andrews, Paul McFarland, Guy Parker, Ruth Hague, Ed Sparr, Frank Day, Frank Castleberry, George Parvin, Manson Sue, R. E. Sikeks, Faye Taylor, Clyde Garrett, June Kimble, Claude Lowe, Rawley Fairbairn, Will Martin, Gene Andrews and Misses Johnnie Hightower and Beulah Frost. Out of town guests were: Mrs. Bob Courtney and daughter, Kathryn, of Fort Worth, and the honoree, Mrs. George Christopher, of Prescott, Arkansas.

MRS. HAMPTON ENTERTAINS FOR HOUSE GUEST

Mrs. B. D. Hampton was at home Saturday afternoon to a number of friends, and the Trefoil Club, which she entertained very beautifully at her attractive home, adorned with bouquets of nasturtiums, the yellow color one being carried out in the bridge appointments of hand-painted terra cotta and floral tulle.

Miss Mary Coyner, of San Antonio, the honoree, was presented with a lovely framed tinted picture of Texas wild flowers. High score favor for club members, a bad pin in silver setting, was awarded Mrs. Donald L. Kinniard. Most high score, favor, a similar one with amethyst stone, went to Mrs. Curtis F. Corzelius.

The cut-for-all, a copy of "Silver in the Sunshine," poems of Mrs. Crowell, Texas poet, was awarded Mrs. J. P. Finley Little. At close of a pleasant afternoon of dainty refreshments on green crystal service, were enjoyed. Delicious biscuit cream with ice fruit punch, with bouquets of nasturtiums as plate souvenirs, all carrying out the soft tones of gold and green. Out-of-town guests of the afternoon were: the honoree, Miss Coyner of San Antonio; Miss Bartley of Fort Worth; Miss Norma Frizzell of Goldthwaite; Meses, Hamrick, Livingston and Cooper, all of Ranger; and Perry Coyner, brother of the honoree, who joined the party for refreshments.

ELKS OFFER LOVELY FRIDAY EVENING PROGRAM

The Eastland Elks unblushingly declare that the orchestra which they will feature at their regular Friday evening dance, in their clubhouse, will be not only a musical surprise, but a delightful novelty as well.

The dance begins at 9:30 p. m., and as it is on Friday night, will run into the wee small hours beyond the two. These regular Friday evening dances at the Elks have proven very popular, and will be continued indefinitely.

There are two snappy girl entertainers with the dance musical organization, Miss Marie Dwiggins and Miss Marion Mendenhall. These young artists attended the Abilene convention, and their novelty numbers added greatly to its musical program.

The little group of musicians was organized about two months ago in Breckenridge, with Clark Wynne as manager, and played at the Druggists' Convention, in Abilene, June 12th and 13th, the greatest gathering of prominent druggists ever held in the south. Clark Wynne and his Jolly Boys are wonders—and winners.

When A Girl Loves

NEA Service

BUTH DEWLY GROVES

HAS HAPPENED
Dann is engaged to Fredderick Dean and Clarissa persuade her temporary home
becomes unhappy me and resolves to tell Mrs. Farley to get him.
The words poured out like a torrent and they seemed to Virginia like debris being heaped upon her, the debris of a broken friendship.
She wanted to turn and run, but the sight of Clarissa, flaming and raging, fascinated her. She ceased to hear what more was being said.
Her mind was echoing the accusations already made against her. She understood now why Clarissa had been so eager to have her in the house. Her face burned with shame. It was too dreadful that Clarissa should have thought she wanted to marry her father.
And Clarissa had been willing to have the marriage take place if only because she did not like Mrs. Farley.
And now Clarissa thought Virginia had sought to lure Russell away from her because of fear that Mrs. Farley would prove a successful rival for Mr. Dean's fortune.

The whole thing passed baldly through Virginia's mind as she stood there, overcome with humiliation and wounded pride. Tears that she was too proud to shed smarted
at the back of her eyes and her hands clenched until the nails bit into the palms.

"You don't seem to have anything to say now that you know you can't pull the wool over my eyes," Clarissa flung out, taunting her with her stricken silence.

Virginia's lips parted in an attempt to speak but she succeeded only in uttering a queer, unintelligible sound of protest.

Clarissa laughed harshly. It was such a thoroughly contemptuous laugh that it stung Virginia to a retort. "If you believe what you've just said you don't deserve to be answered," she declared in a voice that held as much contempt as Clarissa's own. She was as angry now as the other girl, but still the thought of a quarrel was as repugnant to her as it ever was. With her head held high and disdainful light flashing from her expressive eyes, she turned to leave the room.

Clarissa stopped her. Virginia could not ignore what she said. "You'd better go down and complete your work with Russell. For I'm sure when father hears of this your chances with him won't be anything to celebrate."

Virginia came back and stood face to face with her.

"I'm ashamed—for you," she said, so simply and coldly that Clarissa had to give ground. The sneer left her lips and a dull flush spread over her cheeks.

"It does not matter to me now whether you believe me or not," Virginia went on, speaking slowly and with perfect control. She had recovered from the attack Clarissa had launched upon her; she had brought herself to a state of cold calm for a few minutes at least, and it was now Clarissa's turn to flinch.

"I don't think I should care to have you believe me—to want to be friends again," the stern young voice carried on. "You have changed so horribly since you spent so much time abroad. I've heard you were rushed by fortune hunters over there, Clarissa; perhaps that is why you are so suspicious and worldly. You seem to think that everyone is ready to sacrifice decency for money. And you would have preferred me to ruin my life rather than have your father marry Mrs. Farley. But you've made a big mistake if you've thought that I feel as you do. You can go down and tell Russell Waingould that I don't consider him worthy to speak to the man I'm going to marry—that's how much I want to take him away from you. And as for wanting to marry your father—I'd hate myself if the idea had been mine."

The speech was almost too long for her composure. The last words came with more of natural feeling than the first had held. It proved a relief to Clarissa, who preferred a touch of temper to the quiet thrusts of truth.

But she was too spoiled to accept all of Virginia's statements as truth.
Her innermost conviction was that she had acted a fool but she was affronted at the worldly-minded, jealous, scheming person. She lifted her chin with a great show of spirit and turned her back, accompanying the gesture with a shrug of disbelief that caused Virginia to turn and leave the room in full knowledge that the break was final.

She knew she must leave the house as well. It would be intolerable to spend another night under a roof that harbored anyone who had insulted her so grossly as Clarissa had. She would pack a few of her things and leave immediately.
The thought of seeing Mr. Dean bothered her. She would have to do it, though. He couldn't be held to answer for Clarissa and she owed him an explanation as to why she was leaving his house.

In her room she rang for a maid and asked if Mr. Dean had left. A few minutes later she was on her way to the library, where her host was waiting to see her.

But as she approached the door a thought as staggering as anything Clarissa had said crossed her mind and she halted abruptly, as though a physical barrier had been thrown up before her.

Miss Bernice Johnston, artist musician, and student of Grover C.
Morris, will be presented in piano program, at the community clubhouse tonight, and friends of the family, and of Miss Johnston are cordially asked to attend.

catch. Well, that was all right with me. I didn't want Mrs. Farley to get him.

The whole thing passed baldly
through Virginia's mind as she
stood there, overcome with humiliation and wounded pride. Tears that she was too proud to shed smarted
at the back of her eyes and her hands
clenched until the nails bit into the

VICTROLA AND RECORDS GIVEN TO POOR FARM

The Eastland Music Company has given a Victrola and an assortment of records to the Eastland County poor farm for the entertainment of the people making their home there. It is also suggested by Mrs. L. D. Hillyer of the music company, that persons having records of which they are tired or which they never use might do a kind act by presenting them to the poor farm.

Mr. and Mrs. Kline Manly and daughters, Nora, Molly and Gay, spent Sunday with Mrs. Nora Andrews.

LEGAL NOTICE

AN ORDINANCE

An ordinance providing traffic rules and regulations for the operation of vehicles within the corporate limits; requiring the public to comply with the directions given by the members of the police force; prescribing what vehicles have the right of way; prohibiting the use of sirens; prescribing a speed limit; forbidding the reckless operation of motor vehicles; forbidding the operation of motor vehicles with defective brakes and steering gear; providing for the creation of stop signs; prohibiting the malicious driving over of said signals; requiring all traffic to come to a full stop at said signals; fixing an age limit for drivers of vehicles prohibiting double parking; prohibiting parking in reserved and restricted space; prohibiting the driving over fire hose; prohibiting the driving through blocked or closed street; prohibiting parking near fire plugs; prohibiting the parking of a car with motor left running; prohibiting the obstruction of side walks; defining the manner of parking; prohibiting the holding on to moving vehicles; providing that this ordinance shall be cumulative with all other traffic ordinances except where in direct conflict with the provisions hereof, and providing that all prior conflicting sections or portions of ordinances shall be and are hereby repealed in so far as such conflict exists; and providing a penalty for violation hereof; and providing that the holding of any portion hereof to be invalid shall not affect the validity of any other portion or provisions; and creating an emergency.

WHEREAS, the constant increase of vehicular and pedestrian traffic in the City of Eastland has made traffic conditions so congested that it has become imperative as a police regulation to protect the life, safety and convenience of its citizens to enact rules and regulations for the operation of vehicles within the corporate limits, according to the terms and provisions of the following ordinances:

Now, therefore, be it ordained by the City Commission of Eastland, Texas:

Section I. - Unless it appears from the context that a different meaning is intended, the following words shall have the meaning attached and applied to them by this section:

(a). The term "curb" shall mean the edge of a roadway or street, marked, designated or otherwise commonly understood to be such.

(b). The term "vehicle" shall mean and include any automobile, truck, wagon, cart, buggy or conveyance of any kind or character, motorcycle or motor vehicle, and shall also include a horse.

(c). The term "to park" as herein used, means to stop, stand, remain or occupy a certain position on any portion of the street designated.

Section II. Each member of the City police force shall be furnished with a distinctive uniform and a traffic whistle, said uniform to be worn while on duty, and each member of said police force shall at all times be charged with the duty of enforcing these regulations while on duty.

Section III. Drivers of all vehicles at all times must comply with any directions by voice or hand of any member of the police force as to stopping, starting, approaching or departing from any place, the manner of taking up or setting down passengers, the loading or unloading of goods in any place, and the failure to comply with any of such directions upon the part of any driver of any vehicle shall be a violation of this ordinance.

Section IV. Police, fire department, emergency repair vehicles of the public service companies, United States mail vehicles and ambulances shall have the right-of-way on any street and through any procession when in the regular course of their proper duty.

All vehicles going in an easterly or westerly direction shall have the right of way over all vehicles going in a northerly or southerly direction.

Section V. It shall be unlawful for any person to use a siren on any vehicle except those used by the fire or police department or ambulances on emergency calls.

The driver of any vehicle upon hearing the siren of any approaching fire or police apparatus or ambulance shall immediately drive said vehicle as near as possible to the right hand curb and bring it to a standstill, and remain stopped until such apparatus or ambulance shall have passed.

Section VI. All vehicles must keep as near to the right hand curb as possible at all times. Any vehicle overtaking another and seeking to pass same shall first signal and then pass to the left, and shall not pull over again to the right until entirely clear of the vehicle passed.

Section VII. There shall immediately be installed, at the following street intersections, a rubber "Stop" sign, placed in the center of the street on the line of intersection, to-wit:

(a) The West line of South Lamar at Commerce.

(b) The South line of West Commerce at Lamar.

(c) The South line of West Commerce at Seaman.

(d) The East line of South Seaman at Commerce.

(e) The East line of North Seaman at Main.

(f) The North line of East Main at Seaman.

(g) The North line of West Main at Lamar.

(h) The West line of North Lamar at Main.

(i) The South line of West Commerce at Daugherty.

(j) The North line of West Commerce at Daugherty.

(k) The West line of South Seaman at Plummer.

(l) The South line of East Main at Roswood.

Section VIII. All vehicles approaching a "Stop" sign shall come to a full and complete stop before passing such sign. This stop must be within ten feet of the white line marker placed at such intersection. It is not enough to slow down an automobile and change gears. Every vehicle must come to a complete stop.

Section IX. It shall be unlawful for the driver of any vehicle or any other person to deface, molest, damage or maliciously drive over the "Stop" signs herein provided for when installed.

Section X. Any person in charge of an automobile or motor vehicle on any street shall drive the same at no speed greater than is reasonable and proper, having regard to the traffic and use of the public street or drive way by others, or so as to endanger the life or limb of any person thereon, and in no event shall any motor vehicle within the city limits be driven at a rate of speed in excess of twenty-five miles per hour.

Section XI. Any person in charge of a motor vehicle shall drive the same on no public streets, the brakes and steering mechanism of which vehicle are not in good repair and capable of keeping said vehicle under the absolute control of the driver at all times and at all speeds.

Section XII. No person under the age of sixteen years shall operate a motor vehicle within the city limits of Eastland, and it shall be unlawful for the owner of any motor vehicle to permit the same to be driven or operated by any one under the age of sixteen years. The fact that an older person is with the driver does not prevent a violation of this section.

Section XIII. No vehicle shall be driven over any street where there is a sign that said street or a part thereof has been closed by the police or the street departments.

Section XIV. It shall be unlawful for any vehicle to drive over a fire hose.

Section XV. No vehicle shall be parked where there is a police department sign prohibiting parking. All reserved spaces shall be plainly marked with white paint on the curb, and a plain stenciled sign with letters at least four inches tall shall be painted over the white paint, as follows, "No Parking Here," "One Hour Parking Limit," or words of similar import.

Section XVI. No vehicle shall be parked abreast of another vehicle.

Section XVII. No vehicle shall be parked within ten feet of a fire plug.

Section XVIII. No vehicle shall be left parked on the streets of Eastland with its motor running, unless some person capable of driving the same be left in charge thereof.

Section XVII. It shall be unlawful to leave any vehicle parked in such a manner as to block or obstruct any public alley, street or sidewalk within the city limits of Eastland.

Section XX. All vehicles shall be parked with the right front wheel and the rear right wheel not more than twelve inches from the curb except where there is a sign allowing head-in parking, in which case, the front of the vehicle shall be against the curb and the body of the vehicle shall extend at an angle of forty-five degrees from the curb.

Section XXI. It shall be unlawful for the rider of any bicycle, tricycle or motorcycle, or any person on skates, to hold or hang on to any moving vehicle.

Section XXII. It shall be unlawful to throw ticks, nails, broken glass or trash in and upon any street, sidewalk or alley of the City of Eastland.

Section XXIII. Any person who shall violate any of the provisions of this ordinance shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and, upon conviction thereof, shall be punished by fine of not exceeding Two Hundred ($200.00) Dollars.

Section XXIV. This ordinance shall be cumulative with all previous ordinances, except in so far as such previous ordinances or sections thereof shall be in direct conflict with this ordinance, and as to such portions, sections or ordinances which are in direct conflict the same are hereby repealed in so far as such conflict exists.

Section XXV. Should any section or part of a section of this ordinance be declared to be invalid by any court of competent jurisdiction, such decision or judgment shall not affect the remaining sections or parts of sections, but the remaining portions, parts or sections shall continue to be in full force and effect.

Section XXVI. Whereas, the facts set forth in the preamble to this ordinance are such as to create an emergency to the extent that the rule requiring ordinances to be read at three separate and several meetings of the City Commission should be suspended; said rule is hereby suspended, and this ordinance is placed on its third and final reading and finally passed, and the same shall be in full force and exist from its passage and publication as required by the City Charter, and it is so ordained.

Passed by unanimous vote on the 6th day of June, A. D. 1928.
I, E. W. Craig, Clerk of the City of Eastland, Texas, hereby certify that the above and foregoing is a true and correct copy of an ordinance passed by the Commissioners of the City of

PROGRESSIVE AND PROSPEROUS CITY IN SOUTHWEST EASTLAND COUNTY HAS RICH RESOURCES

Rising Star is one of the most progressive and prosperous towns of Central West Texas. Situated near the southern border of Eastland county and almost in the southwestern corner, Rising Star has oil fields, gasoline plants, carbon black plants, cotton, peanuts, pecans, poultry, truck farming and dairying contributing to its prosperity.

The Hickman pool, a few miles southwest of Rising Star, is proving one of the finest shallow fields in Texas. The greatest well in the pool was the Gilman and McMurry No. 3 Hickman, which produced 1,200 barrels a day. The pay is struck at 1,240 feet. The Midland Oil company has completed a trio of producers on the Butler, on west of the Hickman, each good for 200 barrels a day. The Phillips Petroleum company has been quite successful as has the Kone Production company. Incidentally the pool is being extended and gives promise of providing a scene of activity for a long period.

Tests are drilling in various directions around Rising Star and the oil possibilities have barely been touched. Another pool as rich as the Hickman or the Blake—which produced big fortunes for many companies and individuals—is likely to be uncovered by at least one of the wells now drilling in unexplored territory.

Many Drilling Tests.
There are four gasoline plants and two carbon black plants in the Rising Star territory—giving a large industrial payroll.

Rising Star ships more cotton than any other city in Eastland county. It is the center and trading point of a splendid farming country that produces in addition corn, peanuts and truck products.

The population of this thriving city is 3,000. Excellent schools have an enrollment of more than 600 students. Rising Star has a Chamber of Commerce and Retail Merchant's association, with Frank Robertson as the highly capable secretary of the two organizations. There are two Boy Scout troops. A luncheon club, with a membership of 50, meets once a month to discuss community problems. Rising Star has an American Legion post.

Industries include a bakery, laundry, ice plant, mattress factory, cotton gin, and printing office.

Work For Rising Star.
The Rising Star Record, of which M. S. Sellers is editor and publisher, deserves a paragraph all to itself. The Record is one of the best assets that Rising Star has. It is a newsy, well-edited paper that is constantly working on specific projects for the advancement of Rising Star.

Paved highways are of priceless value to the city. Rising Star is on State Highway 23. This paved highway and the paved road that links Rising Star to Pioneer, seven miles west, are two important parts of the magnificent $4,500,000 highway system of Eastland county.

The traffic through Rising Star, due to the oil fields as well as other activities, makes that city the scene of an endless line of cars through a considerable part of each 24 hours.

And the farming population, well represented on the streets and in the stores each day but turning out of course in great numbers on Saturdays, gives Rising Star the appearance—which it is in reality—of being one of the best business towns in West Texas.

The Missouri, Kansas & Texas railroad provides Rising Star with excellent railroad facilities.

Eastland county is famous as "the egg basket of Texas." The poultry industry early reached in the Rising Star territory a strong position and in many respects the Rising Star section has set the pace for the remainder of the county in poultry development.

The Chamber of Commerce purchased a hatchery of 10,000 capacity and the operations of this hatchery gained newspaper fame for Rising Star all over Texas.

Typical of the progressive outlook of Rising Star along the lines of "living at home" is J. B. Eberhart who has a flock of 1,500 hens and 2,500 baby chicks. He is aiding in the better dairying movement as he has the sire for a bull circle.

The pecan possibilities of the section will soon begin to be demonstrated impressively as three large commercial pecan orchards will be bearing in the near future. T. H. Landon and W. H. Hughes have 40 acres each, set out in pecans and Dr. W. L. Allen has a pecan orchard covering 20 acres. The trees have been out several years, and it will not be long until these orchards will be producing in earnest.

As an evidence of the pep and enthusiasm that Rising Star people have, it is significant to note that when the state Highway department recently announced it would widen the paved highways if added width was obtained for the right-of-way, Rising Star got busy, obtained the necessary right-of-way and the stakes were run and the fences moved back in the Rising Star precinct before some precincts had obtained all the right-of-way.

It might not be out of place to point out the great advantages the widening of the highways will bring. The plan is to place a concrete shoulder, a foot and a half wide, on each side of the present paving and to provide a dirt shoulder 10 feet wide on each side of the pavement. This will enable cars to get entirely off the paved road when it is necessary for them to stop; it will widen the margin between cars as they pass, thereby reducing chances of accident, and it will enable a greater volume of traffic to be accommodated.

Exhibits At State Fair.
Eastland county has had a prize-winning exhibit each year at the state fair. Rising Star is one of the four cities that pays the expenses of such a display and it is entitled to a goodly share of the honor for the publicity that the county has received and the prizes the exhibits have won. The city has likewise cooperated in the county's exhibit at the Fort Worth Fat Stock show.

The annual pig, poultry and pecan show in Rising Star is a revelation to the man who is not thoroughly familiar with the possibilities of the territory.

Rising Star has handsome churches and schools, one of the strongest Class B football teams in West Texas, pavement, electric lights, natural gas and all the conveniences that make life thoroughly enjoyable.

Progressive merchants who do their part toward public enterprise, maintain stores where excellent stocks of goods at reasonable prices are offered and the banks of Rising Star are conducted in a conservative yet always constructive way that contributes vastly to the development of this splendid region.
