

$20 Monthly More For The Boys -- $50 Base Pay Bill Signed Into Law, Now In Effect

WASHINGTON, June 17, (AP)—A measure boosting the minimum base pay of the nation's fighting forces to $50 a month was signed into law today by President Roosevelt.

For most of the men, it means at least $20 more cash each month for necessities and entertainment on time-off, or to send back home to dependents. The bill carried a clause making the increase retroactive to June 1.

The measure covers ranks up to and including that of second lieutenant in the army and the comparable grade of ensign in the navy, whose base pay would be increased $1,000 to $1,800 a year.

The bill also will boost rental allowances for officers. Under existing law, enlisted men aboard or on sea duty receive an extra 20 per cent and officers 10 per cent of their monthly pay.

Meanwhile, legislation to provide financial assistance for dependents of soldiers and sailors and stating a congressional policy that the selective service should "not break up the institution of the home" was temporarily held up on capitol hill for an editorial correction to be made by a concurrent resolution.

The house approved a compromise version of the measure yesterday, in the same form that it was accepted by the senate, but a check showed that a date had been omitted from one clause where it was intended that it should be. The house immediately adopted the corrective resolution and the senate is expected to do so tomorrow, after which the legislation will be sent to the president.

The following tables show the old and new monthly base pay: Privates and apprentice seamen, $30-$50.

First class privates and second class seamen, $36-$54. Corporals and first-class seamen, $42-$66.

Sergeants and third-class seamen, $60-$78. Staff sergeant and second class petty officers, $72-$96.

First or technical sergeants and first-class petty officers, $84-$114. Master sergeant and chief petty officer, $126-$156.

Second lieutenants and ensigns, $126-$150. (A private now receives $21 monthly for his first four months, $30 thereafter, and $40 after one year in service.)

Nurses' base pay would be raised $20 monthly, to $80, for those with less than three years of service, and $5 monthly, to $135, for those with more than nine years of service. As in the case of the army and the navy, the base pay is exclusive of additional pay for longevity.

Allowances: Second lieutenant with dependents, $40-$60; without dependents, $40-$45.

First lieutenant with dependents, $60-$75; without dependents, $40-$60. Captains with dependents, $80-$90; without dependents, $60-$75.

Majors with dependents, $100-$105; without dependents, $60-$80. Lieutenant colonels with dependents, $120-$125; without dependents, $80-$105.

Colonels with dependents, $120-$120; without dependents, $80-$105. Higher ranks unchanged except for $25 increase for brigadier and major generals without dependents.

(Similar provisions for naval officers of corresponding rank.) For all officers entitled to allowances for food, the daily single ration is increased 10 cents, to 70 cents daily.

$100,000 Damage In Refinery Fire BORGER, June 17, (AP)—Damage estimated at $100,000 was caused by fire which destroyed the butane storage division at the Borger refinery of the Phillips Petroleum company yesterday.

The blaze broke out after a truck parked on an incline rolled into a pipeline containing butane, which ignited when it neared a boiler house and caused flames to spread to storage tanks, E. H. Bender, plant superintendent, said.

Two men were hospitalized. Frank Henthorn of Stillman was critically burned, and R. R. Freund was burned about the head, shoulders and on one arm. Several other workers were treated for minor burns.

R. C. Jopling, vice president of the company, said at Bartlesville, Okla., that the plant would be in operation again soon.

Key Railroad Point Yielded To Japanese

Chinese Inflict Heavy Casualties Before Withdrawal

CHUNGKING, June 17, (AP)—Shanghai, important station on the Chekiang-Kiangsi railway, has been abandoned to the Japanese but only after an all-day battle in which 8,000 casualties were inflicted on the invaders, the Chinese high command announced tonight.

Shanghai, 50 miles within Kiangsi province, fell Monday to the Japanese column which has driven westward along the railway from Chekiang province seeking a junction with a second force driving eastward from Nanchang, western terminus of the line.

With the fall of Shanghai, the Chinese admitted that the gap between the two Japanese columns was being cut to 50 miles. Sanguinary fighting in the streets preceded the abandonment of the city, the communiques asserted.

The Chinese communiques said the Chinese defenders of Kiangsi now were attacking fiercely the flanks of the Japanese columns and had recaptured several points. Chinese troops captured the Yangtze river port of Houshui in a counterattack yesterday 24 hours after its occupation by the Japanese and drove the invaders into full retreat.

Houshui lies on the middle reaches of the Yangtze in Hupeh province and was sought by the Japanese as a shipping center.

Nazis Driven Back In The Kharkov Area

Germans Hurl Heavy Forces In Assault On Sevastopol

MOSCOW, June 17, (AP)—Soviet counter-attacks on the Kharkov front were reported today to have forced the Germans to abandon several lines in one sector where they tried to dig in to new positions.

While the nazis were rolled back there, Russian dispatches told of other red army counter-attacks in several other Kharkov sectors.

In the battle for Sevastopol the fierce fighting swirled around an important highway against which the Germans hurled masses of troops, tanks and planes in six vain assaults.

Soviet dispatches said the Germans also attacked the southern defenses of Sevastopol five times only to be repulsed in every case.

The red army, the dispatches said, was still holding Balacava, the fishing town seven and a half miles south of Sevastopol made famous by Tennyson's poem "The charge of the light brigade" which occurred during the Crimean war.

More than 600 Germans were killed, two tanks were captured and an enemy defense position was occupied in a Bryansk sector, the Soviet information bureau said, reporting a gain in that region southwest of Moscow for the second successive day.

A German column was declared wiped out at a near-hill village on the Kharkov front, where the invaders generally still held the initiative.

The information bureau said yelling automatic riflemen struck toward Soviet lines in mass formation—a maneuver described as a psychological attack—and were dispersed by Red army artillery, leaving behind a large number of casualties.

The Germans lost 20 tanks and about 600 dead during futile thrusts in another sector, its communiques declared.

Pipe Line For Florida OK'd

WASHINGTON, June 17, (AP)—Petroleum Coordinator Harold L. Ickes announced today approval of plans for the construction of an 8-inch petroleum products pipe line across northern Florida, to help supply the Atlantic coastal areas as far north as Norfolk, Va.

The project was proposed by the American Liberty Pipe Line company, Dallas, Tex., to be built with second-hand pipe excavated in Texas. Ickes said the company now was negotiating financing arrangements with government agencies.

With a daily capacity estimated at 35,000 barrels, the proposed conduit would extend from Port St. Joe on the Florida Gulf coast to Jacksonville on the east coast, a distance of 220 miles.

Gasoline and other products moved through the line, according to the proposal, would be transported by barge north and south from Jacksonville through the Atlantic intracoastal waterway to supply the east coast areas of Florida, Georgia, South Carolina and North Carolina.

This, Davies explained, would permit pumping of oil straight through the plantation line to its terminus at Greensboro, from which point this line may be extended northward to tidewater near Norfolk, according to plans now under study.

Informed sources at the capitol said that it was assumed that the pipe line could be moved from Texas to Florida without legislation.

Axis-Smuggled Money Sought

WASHINGTON, June 17, (AP)—The treasury today ordered a nationwide search for and seizure of an estimated $300,000 of American money which the axis is believed to be trying to smuggle into this country for use by agents and spies.

The money consists mostly of $1,000 and $500 bills, with a few fifties and hundreds, it was said. Serial numbers have been sent to all banks and other financial institutions.

The numbers will be posted in tellers' cages throughout the nation as was done a few years ago in the search for ransom money paid to kidnapers of the Lindbergh baby and others.

The money is actually good American money that has fallen into axis hands, and whose importation into the United States is prohibited.

INJURIES FATAL COLEMAN, June 17, (AP)—Bruce Clark, 81-year-old farmer, died in a hospital today of injuries received when the car in which he was riding was struck by a Santa Fe train near Coleman Monday night.

U. S. Bombers Blast Italian Battleships

FOE NEVER MADE CONTACT WITH BIG BRITISH CONVOY

LONDON, June 17, (AP)—An Italian naval squadron in the central Mediterranean was so battered and hurt by United States army airmen and the RAF that it never made contact with the Tobruk-bound convoy it had set out to intercept, a British source stated today.

It was declared officially that convoys early this week had delivered necessary supplies to both Malta and Tobruk "at considerable cost."

What this cost was in ships and men was not disclosed, but the convoy operations were described officially as "a limited success."

There was no London comment on German reports of yesterday that a United States battleship was among the escort of one of the convoys.

The British admiralty and air ministry yesterday dismissed as fantastic the declarations of the Italian and German commands that axis forces sank or damaged 43 or more warships and merchantmen in the Mediterranean battles of Sunday and Monday.

British communiques yesterday announced the sinking of an Italian heavy cruiser (admitted by the Italians) and two destroyers and damaging of six other warships, including two Italian battleships hit and set afire by American bombers and RAF torpedo planes.

On both the allied and axis sides shore-based aircraft apparently did the major portion of damage to the opposing surface forces.

35 Direct Hits Scored; Yanks Back Safely

'Just Like Shooting Fish In A Barrel,' Says Commander

AN ALLIED AIRDROME In The Libyan Desert, June 17 (AP)—The United States army's big Liberator (Consolidated) bombers were credited today with scoring 35 direct bomb hits on two Italian battleships in operations with the RAF in the central Mediterranean and their commander said "it was like shooting fish in a barrel."

The United States fliers delivered their first blow in the Mediterranean war Monday, Maj. Alfred F. Halberer, who led the flight, said.

They concentrated first on the two Italian capital ships and turned their bombights onto accompanying cruisers and destroyers only after hitting one battleship 20 times and the other 15.

In addition they set one cruiser afire and damaged a destroyer. Halberer, a former civil airplane pilot from Lafayette, Ind., said every one of the American bombers got back safely from the attack.

(An RAF communique from Cairo yesterday, announced the American participation in the fight for the first time, said that the Americans and RAF torpedo planes accounted in all for one heavy Italian cruiser and two destroyers sunk, and two battleships, two cruisers and two destroyers damaged.)

(An RAF announcement in Cairo today said that in a second air attack Monday night an additional hit was scored on one of the two battleships which the Americans and British had left in flames.)

Back at the desert airfield where his planes are based, Halberer said tribute to his pilots and planes for a performance which he said "went as smoothly as a commercial airplane."

He disclosed that the American bombers flew to the attack so high the crew used oxygen; that a British observer accompanied each Liberator; that the Americans reached the scene first and attacked before British planes arrived; that the Italian fleet was prevented from even coming within range of the convoy it set out to attack; that the two damaged Italian warships were left so hard hit that they probably would require repairs which would take four to five months.

Youths Taken As Auto Recovered Two Louisiana youths, whose names were not given to local officers, were taken into custody by the sheriff's department Tuesday afternoon and a stolen car from Sterling City was recovered.

The boys, both about 18 years old, were transients, and had taken a car belonging to Jeff Davis of Sterling City. They were apprehended as they were just entering Big Spring, and in approximately an hour and a half after they took the car they were on their way back to Sterling City in custody of officers there.

Child-Widow Given A 20-Year Term MORRISTOWN, Tenn., June 17 (AP)—A jury of mountaineers has fixed a 20-year prison sentence for Mattie Pearl Manning, slender 14-year-old child widow, in the pistol slaying of her 35-year-old husband, Damon Manning.

The jury, in less than an hour, convicted the little girl last night of second degree murder after hearing her testify in a low voice: "I shot him. I thought he was going to shoot me. He threatened to kill me."

Dempsey To Seek N.M. Governorship WASHINGTON, June 17, (AP)—President Roosevelt accepted today the resignation of John J. Dempsey undersecretary of the Interior, who has decided to seek election as governor of New Mexico.

At the same time Stephen Early, presidential secretary, said he knew nothing about the reported resignation of Francis B. Sayre, Philippine high commissioner, when asked if Mr. Roosevelt had received it.

Fala Sacrifices—Fala, President Roosevelt's Scottie, gathered up all his rubber toys at the White House and sat by wistfully as they were put aside for the executive mansion's contribution to the rubber scrap collection.

Two Ships Victims Of The Same Sub

AN EAST COAST PORT, June 17 (AP)—A naval craft has reached port with 54 survivors from two merchant ships—one Honduran and one Panamanian—sunk in the Caribbean, both apparently victims of the same axis submarine.

Forty one seamen, including two members of the navy gun crew of one of the ships, lost their lives in the attacks. One group of survivors said that seven of their fellows, who got away safely on a raft, had drifted away and were not picked up by the rescue craft.

The first victim, a medium sized ship flying the flag of Panama, was sunk on May 31, with a known loss of 17 men. Nineteen others clung to three rafts for nearly two weeks before being found by a navy patrol plane which directed the rescuers to them. Hope was held out for seven more on a fourth raft not immediately located.

The second ship, 30 in number, drifted on rafts for six days after the June 6 crew were lost in the torpedoing of the crew. The dead members of the ship crew were both from this gun, which flew the Honduran flag. They were identified as Richard C. Dewiese, Asheville, N. C., and Fernan C. Cooper, Grantville, E. C.

Both skippers went down with their ships. They were Capt. Davis R. Kerr, of Yonkers, N. Y., and Capt. Martin Strandly, a native of Amsterdam, Holland.

RAF Bombers Hit Ruhr Area Again

LONDON, June 17, (AP)—British bombers smashed again at Nazi war plants in the Ruhr and Rhineland regions of Germany last night although bad weather which had forced a week-long lull still had not fully cleared.

Eight British bombers to return from the night's offensives, which included mine-sowing in enemy waters, the air ministry said.

Its communique added that a German fighter was shot down attempting to intercept the RAF bombers and that a British fighter also was lost on daylight offensive patrol over northern France yesterday.

Man's Burned Body Stuffed In Trunk

NEW YORK, June 17, (AP)—Stuffed in a sitting position in a home-made trunk, the burned and still smoldering body of a young man was discovered today in a vacant Brooklyn lot, 50 feet off a main thoroughfare.

Rags and papers smelling strongly of gasoline or kerosene were found in the box, and there were fresh tire tread marks nearby, indicating the body had been brought there in an automobile.

Dr. Manuel E. Marten, assistant medical examiner in Brooklyn, said there was no doubt from his preliminary examination that the man, who was about 25, had been "badly battered and bruised" before being placed in the trunk.

Wheat Allotment Put At Minimum For Next Year

WASHINGTON, June 17, (AP)—The agriculture department announced today a 55,000,000-acre 1943 national wheat planting allotment—the minimum permitted under the farm law—but asked that a portion of the allotment be planted to other crops more urgently needed in the war effort.

A reduction below the allotment was asked, the department said, because the country will be going into the 1943 crop year with approximately a two-year wheat supply. The national allotment will be allocated among farmers on the basis of a formula set up in the crop control act.

Flat 94 Pct. Tax Opposed By Nelson

WASHINGTON, June 17, (AP)—Chairman Donald Nelson of the War Production Board expressed opposition today to a flat 94 per cent excess profits tax for corporations, contending it might endanger the war production program.

Nelson told Chairman Doughton (D-NC) of the house ways and means committee, which already was tentatively approved, the 94 per cent rate, that if a tax higher than 80 per cent should be approved the excess above that level should be treated as a post-war credit, "preferably in the form of a government obligation with definite maturities."

He told Doughton that should the committee retain an excess profits rate above 80 per cent without post-war credit, he strongly urged "through exploration of possible exemptions" designed to encourage through preferential tax treatment increased efficiency in war production and savings in the use of scarce resources.

Blue Bonnet Class Holds Election Of Officers At Meeting

Women Have An Important Job To Do For War

The women of America have a job on their hands! Not a dramatic, nor a heroic job. It's a housecleaning job, but this time it's crammed with excitement, because it's a housecleaning that will help win the war... keep the production wheels turning... speed on their way the implements of war needed to hurl disaster at the enemy.

The government's rubber salvage campaign is under way, and to make it a success women must rally to the battle cry: Get Your Scrap in the Scrap with the Jap!

Not one bit of rubber is too small, too worn, too old to enlist in this drive.

Our Army needs rubber. Just one little scout car, using out the terrain, uses 330 pounds of it.

Our Navy needs rubber. The 35,000-ton battleship pointing its guns at Tokyo uses 75 tons of it.

Our air force needs rubber. One of those pneumatic rafts which have already saved so many of our flyers requires 25 pounds of it.

But Japan now controls over 90 per cent of the world's rubber plantations.

So it's up to the women to pounce on every ounce of rubber scrap in their homes. The children can work at it, too. Kitchens must be ransacked for rubber gloves, aprons, rubber-covered dishes, drainers, drain board mats, faucet sprays, sink stoppers, preservers, jar rings, dish scrapers and ice cube trays.

Bathrooms must be searched for shower caps, for soap dishes, drain plugs, rubber sponges and old shower sprays. Even the tiny rubber bulbs from the droppers in the medicine closet are worth reclaiming. The oldest hot-water bottle must not be overlooked, nor the syringes and the ice bag.

Out in the hall closet may be hanging a rubber raincoat no one likes the looks of. With the outgrown or worn-out rubbers and galoshes, it will make a fine show in the scrap pile. From the wicker of tennis balls and tennis shoes, the youngsters can salvage many a piece of valuable scrap.

Even the nursery can yield its quota of baby pants, crib pads, bibs, nipples, pacifiers, teething rings and toys; while the bedroom should turn out to be a veritable treasure house of rubber hair curlers, girdles, combs, dress shields, garters, suspenders and run-down rubber heels.

Many a rubber salvage crusader may find that last year's rubber bathing suit doesn't fit so well this year, or that the bathing bag got too dried out in last summer's sun. Into the scrap pile with them, along with the water wings Johnny learned to swim on and the big rubber duck he paddled about the pool!

Not a single corner of the house should escape this essential housecleaning. Up into attics, down into cellars, through desks, trunks and cupboards the search should extend. Every stubby pencil eraser, every chewed dog's top, every last inch of elastic tape deserves rescuing.

Remember—a hot water bag and a pair of galoshes use as much rubber as a pair of rubber hip boots for the Navy!

Officers took part on the program in paying tribute to the flag. Mrs. O. L. Nabors read a poem, "May as Grand as You Are, Old Glory." Mrs. Tom Baker, Mrs. William Sullivan, Mrs. Jim Allen and Mrs. Nabors were in charge of the program.

Visited with CHUCK MCGIBBON, who was downtown to attend the scrap rubber collection meeting. CHUCK'S working so hard and long these days with construction of the new school here that he doesn't even have much time off to take a peek at that new baby out at his house, he says.

This trying to get a cokes about mid-afternoon is developing into a treasure hunt. Promised to buy BILL DAWES one the other day but didn't know it was going to take all afternoon. But we found the hidden treasure after the fourth stop. Funny, we never thought much about cokes before. Now it's practically a contest of wits, an endurance contest, and two hour job to find one small bottle.

Just thought we'd put in a plug for father. (Unpaid advertisement). But you'd better get the old man something pretty nice this year. ## 4 J's Club To Have Basket Picnic And Theatre Party

All over the country women are learning to step into places formerly held by men to release them for military service. A member of the Herald staff—who tries anything once—has tried her hand at learning some of the weapons of production—Ed.

Entertainment slated for the 4 J's club members is a basket picnic to be given in the park Saturday night at 7:30 o'clock. Following the supper the group will attend the show.

While it's hard work, it's definitely different from standing behind a counter, beating on a typewriter or doing something else that doesn't seem quite such a part of the war effort.

By MARY WHALEY
First I visited the welding school where Eric flashes of light, tremendous noise and the "men from mars" were learning how to be good welders. Dressed in leather suits that cover them from top to toe, their ensemble is crowded with a metal hat which reminded me of a divers helmet. When I coaxed one man to raise his hood, he looked as if he had been diving, for he was bathed in perspiration. Girls, it's a hot job.

But in the sheet metal department, you'd feel more at home. It's noisy too, but not to compare with the welding department. Incidentally, it is cleaner than your kitchen floor, I betcha!

I was introduced to two tools, one a rivet gun which puts the rivets in airplanes and the other a drill, which takes them out. Run by electricity, they aren't very heavy and after practicing a while, you might get good at it. I didn't stay that long.

First, I used a drill and took out a few rivets. But on the wall are many signs which say, "Scraped alclad is scrapped alclad." Since alclad is the aluminum alloy you work on, my efforts were scratched and so destined for scrap. Maybe you get better at this after awhile, too.

But on putting the rivets in with a rivet gun, well, I really struck my stride there. Someone stands on the other side with a metal bar bucking the rivet. You give the gun the juice, about a rat, tat, tat's worth and the rivet is in.

I shuddered when I looked at the "Scraped alclad is scrapped alclad" signs again but after several blunders I got one in even with surface unscratched, and definitely on the beam. It's a wonderful feeling of accomplishment.

If and when Uncle Sam's production men crook their fingers toward the fairer sex, there ought to be a rush to the school house.

Will Use Wood For Smaller Patrol Craft

WASHINGTON, June 17, (AP)—In a war of metals, wood took a new important place today for use in construction of small patrol craft to combat the submarine menace and protect vital coastwise shipping.

Chairman Vinson (D-Ga.) of the house naval committee disclosed that a big percentage of the 1,000 small craft envisioned in the navy's $3,500,000,000 fleet expansion program would be made of wood.

While the provision for the 1,000 small vessels came as one of the navy's answers to the submarine challenge, the greater part of the vast expansion program was devoted to the philosophy of attack.

To carry out that philosophy, Vinson declared that the navy planned to concentrate on construction of plane carriers on the ground that the Midway Island and Coral Sea engagements had demonstrated that they were "the backbone of the fleet."

Use of wood for patrol boats would serve the triple purposes of holding down costs, speeding construction of light, fast craft, and preserving metal for other uses.

Moreover, Vinson reported that hundreds of smaller craft would be built inland, with the probability that the navy was contemplating widespread development of the Great Lakes building facilities.

He said that the navy had become so convinced of the importance of air supremacy that there had been a "deferral" of work on "four or five" battleships to make ways available for carrier construction this year.

The new measure, which won the naval committee's approval yesterday, called for 500,000 tons of aircraft carriers, 500,000 tons of light and heavy cruisers and 900,000 tons of destroyers and destroyer escort vessels, in addition to the 1,000 small craft.

On Second Anniversary Of Armistice—

Petain Still Holds Hope For Eventual Salvation Of France

VICHY, June 17 (AP)—Discontent is growing, Chief of State Petain admitted today in a brief broadcast to the French people on the second anniversary of his suing for peace with Germany.

The 88-year-old chief said, however, that he hoped to realize his country's salvation "even after my death."

Ruling Due By Tomorrow On Kilday Ballot Controversy

By The Associated Press Double-barreled legal action to settle a dispute over which candidates shall be listed for one of the railroad commissioner posts was pending today as the Texas political campaign came to a slow boil.

District Judge A. J. Power at Fort Worth announced he would rule no later than tomorrow on James E. Kilday's contention that he should be the only candidate on the democratic ballot for the unexpired term of Commissioner Jerry Sadler.

Arguments by Kilday's counsel and that of the other ten candidates were completed last night. Kilday asserts that he was the only candidate to file within the Saturday time limit.

CAP Service Is Voluntary

Ordering of the Civil Air Patrol into active duty in Texas will not involve indiscriminate uprooting of enlisted personnel over the state, Dr. F. W. Malone, squadron commander for the Big Spring district, said Wednesday.

In response to previous requests from D. Harold Byrd, Dallas, wing commander, his squadron had furnished information gained from a survey of members on their qualifications and ability to serve for specified periods of time.

Service at the present time, the squadron commander said, would be on a voluntary basis. Those who can serve in places where they are needed may arrange to report for periods ranging from one week to as much as 90 days. So far as possible, duty will be rotated between squadron units in order to spread training and experience.

All types of personnel will be required, he said, pilots, mechanics, communications men, etc. All over the state a check has been made of the CAP and of when and how much its membership could serve in active duty.

country's salvation "even after my death."

"Frenchmen," he began, "on June 17, 1940, at the tragic hour of the armistice request, I summoned you to silence your anguish so as to hear only your faith in the destiny of your country."

"A year later, on June 17, 1941, I declared to you that the trail would be long and hard. Today I cannot speak to you in different terms."

He went on to say, "I do not at all hide from myself the feebleness of the shoes my appeals have met with . . . the workman suffers—and his enforced passivity cannot be taken for resignation; the peasant grows impatient."

Petain admitted also "the all-too-real deficiencies of the state," but said individuals likewise were to blame "if sometimes discontent is growing, if anger is rumbling."

He insisted nevertheless that "the weariness, the neglect, the reproaches have not disheartened me . . ."

Refraining from mention of the international situation or of politics, the marshal castigated profiteers and "the vile powers of money."

He concluded with one of his first public references to his own mortality:

"Chase doubt out of your spirits, dear friends, and if you can banish bitter criticism from it, stop to think of the chief who loves you and who for your sakes still stands up under the storm . . ."

"He should like to do still more for you. Let him at least on this second anniversary of one of the cruelest dates in our history make you share the great hope which still animates him for the salvation of our country, which he asks God that he may be able to realize even after his death."

"Long live France!"

With WACIL M'NAIR

With loud-voiced and prolonged enthusiasm, sports writers in Minneapolis are jubilantly singing the praises of Pat Stasey, a substitute outfielder with the Millers' baseball team in the American association.

Golf Honors Distributed Over Texas

The top prizes of Texas golf for the year have been won, the schedule is two-thirds finished and honors are evenly distributed, but there still are some high spots left before they call it a season.

Never before has there been such a wide field of winners. No one person has yet managed to take more than one tournament.

Ray Kenny, Dallas schoolboy, won the major award when he grabbed honors in the Texas amateur at Dallas last week.

Jimmy Gaunt of Longview captured the Texas PGA title some time ago. Mrs. C. W. Robertson of Terrell has just finished winning the Women's State Public Links crown.

Other tournament champions have been: Glen Lakes, Dallas—David Goldman, Dallas; Corsicana Invitation—Jack Munger, Dallas; Odessa Invitation—Dick Martin, Dallas; Sweetwater Invitation—Ed Adams, Lubbock Flying School; Gladewater Invitation—Phil Stroud, Kilgore; Greenbelt championship—L. S. Walker, Quanah; Ranger Invitation—Charles Royer, Fort Worth; Greenville Invitation—Leonard White, Dallas; Phil-Pe-Co Invitation—Private Frank Stieda, Camp Bowie; Cisco Invitation—Jimmy Phillips, Coleman; State Lettenders Tournament—Allan Mitchell, San Antonio; Monahans Invitation—Rufus Ryan, Monahans; Wichita Falls Junior Chamber of Commerce Tournament—Ray Ferguson, Electra.

The Women's West Texas tournament opened today at Mineral Wells. Other tournaments on the schedule: June 17, 18, 19—Breckenridge Invitation; June 18, 19, 20, 21—Stamford Invitation; July 2—Abilene Invitation, Galveston Invitation; July 23—Glen Garden Invitation (Fort Worth); Aug. 18-21—Lakewood Invitation (Dallas); Aug. 24-28—State Junior Boys, San Antonio.

Stanford Coach Into Navy Before Team Ever Plays

SAN FRANCISCO, June 17. (AP) James Lawson, Stanford's head football coach, gave up his position today without ever seeing his team win a game.

Commissioned a lieutenant, senior grade, he left for Annapolis to become an instructor in the physical education department.

Lawson, assistant coach at Stanford for many years, was named head coach to succeed Clark Shaughnessy. It was the big break he had waited for, but he was head coach only through spring practice, never in the playing season.

Top Netman Barely Wins

HOUSTON, June 17. (AP) — Although Ted Schroeder still is regarded as the chief threat in the Texas state and sectional tennis tournament, he just managed to squeeze out a victory in the opening round at Golfcrest courts.

Schroeder, ranked number five nationally, had to pull out all the stops to nudge out Warren McMillan, Fort Worth youth, 6-6, 7-5, yesterday.

Second-seeded Larry Dee, who with Schroeder is a member of the Stanford team, took a 6-0, 6-1 win from Dan Carr, Fort Worth.

Among those who moved into the second round were George Lyttleton Rogers, former Irish champion, seeded third; George Ball, El Paso, Emery Neale, Stanford; John Hickman, University of Texas; Jack Rodgers, Rice Institute, and Dan Canale, Notre Dame.

Jackie Blanton, 14, of Houston, defeated Dick Williams, El Paso, top seeded in the boys' singles, 6-2, 6-3.

Bernhard Barton of San Angelo eliminated Bob Goldfarb of El Paso, 7-5, 6-4.

Stars Wind Up Practice At Ridgemoor

CHICAGO, June 17. (AP) — The easy Ridgemoor Club course got a final preliminary going today as the nation's golf stars completed their practice for the 79-hole Hale America benefit tournament starting tomorrow.

From early morning to dusk the more than 100 selected linksmen were scheduled to dissect the 6,519-yard layout in preparation for the four-day tournament. All incidentally, will go the full distance, with no reduction of the field at the halfway point as is customary in medal tournaments.

Providing there was no slip-up in transportation, Captain Bobby Jones of the air corps and Bob Hope of the air lines were to play a special 18-hole exhibition match today, starting in mid-afternoon. Jones was on hand, looking slim after two months of strenuous dieting, but it was problematical whether Hope would make it from Connecticut, where he appeared in a show last night.

Practically all the big stars were present, the one prominent exception being Sammy Sneed, the Professional Golfers' association champion. Sam is in the navy, and he has sent no word whether he had been granted a furlough to play.

But even Sam's absence couldn't dull the lustre of the field of goldfom's big shots, all shooting at the top prize of $1,000. For Jones it will be the first big tournament appearance outside of the annual Augusta Masters' event since he retired from active competition.

There is no particular sense in trying to pick the winner, or in fact, to name a dozen of the hottest contenders. About 108 players will tee off tomorrow, and almost any one of them could win the Hale America title. The meet is especially wide open because of the simple, easy course.

Colorado Tournery In Second Round

COLORADO CITY, June 17.—The Colorado City annual golf tournament is well under way with all the first match scores in and a number of the second matches completed.

In the championship flight James Pritchett took Blue Goodwin 7-6; Jake Merritt won over J. W. Shepherd, 3 up; Bob Battle defeated Percy Bond 4-3; Gene Smith won over John Basse after a 20 hole battle in the rain 1 up; Bob Grantland defeated Walter Henderson 7-5; Bill Craig took out Jim White

5-2; Charley Smith won an upset victory over E. C. Nix Jr., one of the favorites picked to win the tournament, by defeating Nix 3-1; Jimmie Cook knocked out Ronald Pritchett 6-5.

Second matches in the championship flight to date left Bob Battle victor over Gene Smith 5-4; Bill Craig 3-2 winner over Bob Grantland, Colorado City high school champion who was eased out of the medalist crown by James Pritchett after an extra nine holes. Charley Smith who eliminated Jimmie Cook with a 2-1.

In the first flight matches, Mrs. Walter W. Walphey with her first two matches by beating H. E. Grantland 4-3 and J. T. Pritchett 4-3; Bill Coffey Jr. won over R. H. Barber 4-3, and over A. Hauman 1 up; E. E. Mitchell defeated J. Lee Jones 4-3 and then wrangled a 1 up victory over Harold Berman; Howard Taritt did away with Ross Dixon to the tune of 6-8 and won over John Adams 5-2.

Play goes along more slowly in the second flight with Dr. O. E. Rhode winning over Neal Pritchard by default; Joe Edwards over Mrs. A. L. McSpadden 5-4; Mrs. R. H. Barber over A. L. McSpadden 4-3; W. L. Doss over Roy Dossler by default; Dr. Bill Rhoad over Mrs. John Baze 7-6; E. L. Graves over Mrs. Neal Pritchard 7-5; Bob Rose over Henry Hilberry 9-7; and Mrs. Jim Cantrill over Mrs. Henry Doss 5-4.

ROUNDUP SPORTS

By HUGH FULERTON, JR. Wide World Sports Columnist

Exports Drop One To Lowly Dallas Rebs

The top-dog Beaumont Exporters not only lost a game last night, but to add insult to injury, they dropped it to the lowly Dallas Rebels. Moreover the 6-3 victory was earned by the last-place Rebs.

Lefty Clyde Humphrey's pitching, excellent as it was, for a time appeared hardly enough to give Dallas the game. The Rebels edified the home fans by driving in all six of their runs in the second inning, but the margin was threatened when an error by Rabbit Rigby put Humphrey behind the eight-ball in the ninth. Humphrey was forced to pitch to Dick Wakefield and Hoot Evers, the Texas league's top hitters, before he was able to make safe of the win.

Houston moved into second place by pounding out 10-3 victory over the Indians at Oklahoma City while the San Antonio Missions were losing a 1-0 decision to the Oilers at Tulsa. In the other contest the Cats bested the Shreveport Sports 12-0 at Fort Worth.

The Buffs ran up 17 hits off three Oklahoma City twirlers. George Klein, although he yielded 10 hits, went the route for Houston.

The Missions were able to get but one hit off Glen Gardner. Sidney Peterson, the other party to a tight pitching duel, gave up five hits in eight innings before he was yanked for a pinch hitter in the eighth inning.

Earl Caldwell did the mound work for Fort Worth, holding the Sports to five hits while his teammates were collecting 15 safe blows off Ted Hoemann and Al Bronkhurst. Alex Hooks, who joined the Cats yesterday, got four hits in as many times at bat, drove in three runs and scored four others.

Volunteer Pitcher Shows His Stuff

FT. LEAVENWORTH, Kas., June 17. (AP)—Lacking a pitcher, the reception center baseball club of this army post called for volunteers.

Japs Stunned By Sudden US Blow, Pilot Relates

HONOLULU, June 17. (AP)—Pilot Lt. Edward Steedman of Shreveport, Texas, described the desperation of Japanese airmen as they attempted futilely to refuel from their crippled aircraft carriers during the recent battle of Midway Island.

Steedman and his co-pilot Lt. D. K. Carpenter of Monroe, Ore., said yesterday that the Japanese were stunned by the suddenness and ferocity of the American attack.

Steedman said that his flying fortress "contacted the enemy the afternoon of June 3. We selected a transport for the target and dropped all our eggs, scoring several direct hits, and did not draw a single burst of ack-ack."

Steedman credited his bombardier, Staff Sergeant R. M. Colleton of Elizabeth, Pa., with spotting the Japanese fleet the following day through a hole in the clouds under him. Collision dropped the bombs through the opening, hitting a larger carrier on the port side of the bow despite terrific anti-aircraft fire.

Enemy planes returned from their attack on Midway Island not long after this bombing. Steedman recounted, and found the carrier ablaze.

Among Steedman's crew was Corporal James L. Gamble, Mexico, Texas.

Sailor Son Follows Letter

RENO, Nev.—Leland Jenkins received a letter from his sailor son, L. E. Jenkins, in Australia stating he had just received 47 newspapers, 15 letters and three pay checks in one mail. A few days later the son showed up for a three-day visit to his father.

of their last 17, they are strictly not an outfit to be brushed off like a blonde hair on your coat lapel.

At any rate, the season's first "cross-hair" series is cooking up to start Thursday, when the used-to-be Gas Housers wheel their circus into Ebbets Field. The Cards are into 4 1-3 games away, having disposed of the Giants, 4-3 yesterday on the strength of Enoch Slaughter's tenth-inning homer and some fifty relief elbowing by Nig Beasley, the kid who is making the rest of the pitching staff look good.

And taking another chunk out of the same steak, it might be pointed out that the Red Sox, over in the American league, also can still make trouble, even if the New York Yankees are bouncing along on a nine-game lead after splitting their five-hour twin bill with Detroit yesterday. For, the Red Sox, sparked by Lefty Judd's six-hit curving, knocked off the Browns from St. Louis 4-2 last night to run their winning streak to eight.

The Brooklyners were idle yesterday as the Cards started their eastern swing against the New Yorkers. For nine innings it was a tight affair between Carl Hubbell on one side and first Howie Pollet and then Beasley on the other. Nig took over in the sixth, after it became evident from two batted homers that Howie had brought his boom-boom ball along.

In the American league, the Yanks and Tigers put on something new—starting a double header in Detroit at 3 p. m. The Bronx boys blew the first game 7-6 on Rudy York's 14th homer of the year and Jimmy Bloodworth's eighth. And they were on the way to kicking the afterpiece away when the Detroiters loaded the bases on Hank Borowy in the ninth inning. But Fireman Johnny Murphy arrived with his hook-and-ladder curve as usual to save a 5-3 decision and keep Borowy among the season's undefeated elbowers with five wins.

Completing the American league picture, Rookie Orval Grove and husky Bob Harris hooked up in a tight tussle at Chicago under the lights, and Grove won out 2-1 as the White Sox nipped the Athletics on a ninth-inning run to climb into sixth place in the league standings. The Washington-Cleveland party was postponed.

Johnny Vander Meer had his "swift" and his slants just right at Boston and pitched the Cincinnati Reds to a 5-0 victory over the Braves with a seven-hit performance. Another of the day's neat twirling jobs was the seven-hitter served up by Johnny Podajny. The result was the Phillies ended their nine-game losing string by pounding the Pittsburgh Pirates 5-1.

WOW Drubs Scout Team; Score 19-1

Protecting their first place position in convincing fashion, the W.O.W. trounced the Boy Scouts 19 to 1 last night in the city softball league.

Army, Too, Is Cutting Down On Rubber

WASHINGTON, June 17 (AP)—America's scrap rubber pile mounted steadily today as deflated beach alligators, discarded tires and punctured football bladders dropped onto it by uncounted thousands of tons.

Specific reports indicating the total that might be collected in the full two weeks of the president's drive were lacking, but the general comment across the country in the second day of the campaign was that it was off to a good start. Undersecretary of War Patterson gave it an official push with a statement that the army itself was cutting its use of rubber in clothing and equipment by 25 per cent. Army tires will have 12 per cent less rubber; tanks will be made with one-third the rubber formerly used, army vehicles will carry only one spare tire, and soldiers will wear oil-treated instead of rubber raincoats.

Patterson warned that rubber for civilian use would not be available until 1944 at least. One thing that slowed the collection in many points was the lack of scales in filling stations to weigh the rubber citizens offered. However, filling station operators reported that in many cases adults refused to accept the penny a pound.

Three negro women riding with Young were hospitalized and later released. Local officers placed one of the uninjured negro men in jail on a charge of drunkenness.

Stanton Man Honored For Gift To Methodist Home.

STANTON, June 17.—Tribute to F. A. King for benefactions shown their institution was paid by Rupt. Hubert Johnson and 20 children of the Methodist home at Waco when the group visited here.

Johnson and Music Director Smith supervised a program at the church, which included musical numbers by an all-girl string ensemble and talks by both the students and the officials.

Following the program, the visitors with several local people were served a picnic lunch at the King home, and pictures were made there.

King has been a valuable friend to the home, assisting it on occasions with gifts, and occasion here was in appreciation for his philanthropy. Recently, King gave the institution $4,000 for its endowment fund, the gift being sent to Dr. J. W. Torbett, president of the board of directors.

The Sunshine Monthly, magazine published by the Waco home, had this to say about Mr. King's gift: "The generous gift is a sturdy stone set in the foundation of the endowment fund—a foundation that will add strength and permanence to the home's future. At a time when the world is reeling with war and uncertainty, it is steady- ing to know that men are thinking of the home and preparing for the future. By such gifts we can and we will continue to serve the needs of humanity by carrying forward the work of the home."

New Warning Comes From Australia

MELBOURNE, Australia, June 17. (AP)—Australian Prime Minister John Curtin, declaring flatly that "Australia can be lost," warned today that if the commonwealth fell to the Japanese, Hawaii and the whole North American coast would be open to Japanese attack.

In a radio address appealing for war loan subscriptions at the rate of $9,000,000 a day for the remaining five days of a current drive, Curtin based his statements on confidential official telegrams.

He declared the axis was engaged in three powerful separate thrusts against the United Nations and that each was of vital importance to Australia. The dynamic operations now proceeding, said Curtin, are the powerful German onslaught against Russia, the thrust in Libya and the sustained and widespread submarine attacks on Allied shipping.

"Australia is irrevocably linked with the war in Libya and Russia," he said. "It is vital to the allied cause that Japan shall not take Australia," the prime minister told its people in a dominion-wide broadcast.

"That viewpoint is now recognized in places where it is vital that it should be recognized. "The war against Japan can only be won if Australia is held. "If Australia is lost then Hawaii and the whole of the North American coast will be open to Japanese attack."

Editorial - - Results Of Twin Campaigning

Collaboration of W. Lee O'Daniel, candidates for re-election to United States Senate, and Hal Collins, making his initial bid for the office of Governor of Texas, is quite commensurate, not to say an equal, if you will excuse our French. Both are experienced radioactors, both are poets, of a sort. O'Daniel smiting his in rhyme while Collins relies on prose. Their joint appeal to the voters, though for different offices, will be a feature of the campaign.

Citizens in towns they visit will have to lay down their occupations but once, farmers will need to come to town only one time, to hear how these two candidates propose to serve their country. It will be something like two chickens in every pot or two cars in every garage, though perhaps not quite equal to the three-ring circus. It is a combination that is calculated to draw crowds wherever they appear.

Real purpose of the forensic association is said to be the conserving of rubber and gasoline, a most commendable idea, and one that will have its appeal to some people.

Whether the double attraction will result in votes for both men or either, will not be known until late in July, when the ballots are counted. It is an unusual association and may have some unusual effects. Some friends of other candidates in the hectic Senatorial election assert that O'Daniel was elected by votes cast for him in West Texas, which section wanted to get him out so Coke Stevenson could be Governor. If that was true (and it is not unbelievable) how will that section vote now that the Senator is teamed with a Stevenson opponent?

That is just one of the complications that appear to be connected with the dual campaign. There will be others, which will develop as the campaign goes into the home stretch, and which promise to give Texas her usual political excitement, second perhaps only to the war.

Washington Daybook—CONTRADICTIONS, PLUS

By JACK STINNETT
WASHINGTON — One of the mysteries of the war effort, even to some of the most observant veterans on the capital scene, has been the many, many contradictions in official statements on almost every phase of defense.

It started as far back as the first gasoline rationing threat on the eastern seaboard, when it involved available tank cars, tankers, gasoline stocks and consumption, and a good many other statistics that Americans have prided themselves on having so accurately at their fingertips that any sophomore economist or engineering student could add them up and get the right answer.

In the second place, the war, production, shortages, diplomacy and a good many other things have developed too fast for even the heartiest mental digestion. Today's truths become tomorrow's errors.

No democracy has ever moved as fast as the United States is moving today. It may have to move even faster. It would be a miracle if such movement didn't create contradictions.

It spread to the shipbuilding program and the possible conversion of the automobile industry to war production. For more than a year, this wildfire of contradiction has run amok in the aluminum and rubber production possibilities.

In recent weeks the President has intimated that some solution to the tire problem may be worked out before we are reduced to running on our rims. A New Jersey manufacturer testified before a congressional committee that he had a formula for making all the recapped tires necessary to keep all the cars in the country rolling and that formula would need only reclaimed rubber and two ounces per tire of natural rubber. Other high government officials in position to know declare that only nation-wide gas rationing will save us from a tire shortage disaster.

A friend of mine, a Washington newspaper man, wrote a book called "Confusion on the Potomac." It was published three days before Pearl Harbor. It contained political viewpoints that made it unpopular after Pearl Harbor.

He should have scrapped the book, saved the title, and written under it the mass of conflicting statements that have been issued from the offices of official Washington since the national defense effort really got under way.

Thousands of bewildered citizens are asking: what is behind it all? I have talked to dozens of government officials and observers, some of them guilty of contributing to these very confusions. None, perhaps, has been able to give the whole answer, but the sum of their observations certainly is part of it.

In the first place, statistical information which used to be available to the whole world is now restricted and for military reasons can not be given even to all those officials whose departments are interested.

Hollywood Sights and Sounds - - No Curtain For Barrymore

By ROBBIN COONS
HOLLYWOOD—His twinkling yet. Twinkling, and taking a curtain call. With a low, deep bow and a courtly gesture, he's taking a curtain call for an unparalleled 60-year run in a great role—John Barrymore.

You don't have to be a dabbler in the metaphysical to know that. You need only to have known John Barrymore. The rascal, the delightful, unforgivable rogue—who didn't need forgiveness—and the actor who had forgotten more tricks than most of his contemporaries will ever learn.

Forgotten? He never did forget. Tricks, or anything. He never did forget his youth, or the Barrymore that was. Proof? A picture called "Playmates," in which John Barrymore, the clown, had occasion to recite a bit of Shakespeare. It was a bit of Shakespeare in the midst of clowning, of comedy. The camera caught what happened: Barrymore, the clown, cried.

The critics, some of them, called it a maudlin scene. Perhaps it was. It happened as it was filmed, and the tears were not in the script. It may be that the sequence should have been cut. But it was true, and those who self-righteously condemned the John Barrymore of the later days may still take solaced in it.

But I think John Barrymore, himself, if he ever saw that scene on the screen, must have passed it off with a wisecrack—or a cynical belch.

There was never a man who lived so gaily, so completely, for the shining moment. Nor a man who took the consequences with such superlative control of the actor's greatest asset, front.

The first time I saw John Barrymore he was still John the Magnificent. Nearing 50, he was still the Great Lover, the Great Profile. He paraded magnificently, in his doublet and hose for "General Crack," discoursing with dignity and never a flash of ribald humor. This was the actor playing a part, a role in which there was no room for an outsider, even John Barrymore, to intrude.

A few years later the clown, the self-debunker, the chronic creator of comedy relief headlines, had taken over. Once I went up on the hill, to that typically Barrymorean house with its totem poles, its tropical bird sanctuary, its roomy lounge-bar full of old western souvenirs. I had been asked for lunch. There wasn't any. John explained that he'd just fired all the servants. With no more ado, and graciously, he offered to share his own lunch—which was quite liquid. It turned into a memorable interview, at which I heard most of the vast repertory of John's yarns, gleefully told, and came away with virtually nothing that was printable.

A couple of days before his death, John had been told that this was it—final curtain time. "You stay around," he told an attendant, "and I'll give you the damndest death scene you ever saw."

That was John, looking back on a full rich performance, cocking an eye at a long anticipated, unfamiliar script.

MRS. MURDOCK TAKES A CASE by George Harmon Coxe

Chapter Two
Too Absent-Minded
Joyce had, of course, heard about Hester, and although she had never felt any real doubt about her husband's love, she was also aware that no woman could live with a man without leaving some lasting impression. Now she found herself wondering how much of a niche this first wife had carved in Kent Murdock's heart.

She had never met Hester. The woman had been in Paris when Joyce was married, and so far as she knew, Kent had never heard from her but once—a card on that first Christmas. At first he had told her many things about that hort-lived marriage, and she had made guarded inquiries now and then, to see if any of that previous affection remained with him.

For the past year or two there had been no mention of Hester, but even so there had been times, after those infrequent misunderstandings and quarrels, when she asked herself disquieting questions. Now, if Hester was in town, if she had taken a house, Kent would be bound to see her.

Suddenly Joyce was curious to see Hester and to find out for herself what manner of woman her husband had first married.

The waiter came back with the change. Della began to gather her things.

Shaking Clarke
"You'll have to excuse us," Ward Allen said. "We're seeing a show and I'm afraid we'll have to run."

"Of course," Clarke rose with them. "I'm sorry, though, I'm expecting Hester in a few minutes. I know she'd like to see you, Allen. But then you'll be seeing her anyway, I suppose."

"Probably," Allen said.

Clarke bowed to Joyce and Della, and continued to Ward Allen.

Nervous
"I may be stopping in to see Thorndike in a day or two, but I'm planning to go to the coast shortly. We must get together," he paused, a mirthless smile touching his lips. He made his voice deliberate and measured. "Some time soon. We can have a drink and—talk over a few things."

He turned then, and started back for the bar, walking very straight as small men do, hair gleaming on his narrow skull. Joyce noted again the exaggerated width of his jacket, the extra high heels on his shoes, and an involuntary shiver passed through her before she could throw off the feeling of distaste his presence had created.

Aware that she was staring, she turned and saw that neither Della nor Ward had moved. The girls' eyes were wide and troubled. She was not looking at Clarke but at Ward Allen.

He was standing by his chair, his fingers still resting on the back. He was leaning forward a little, as though about to take a step. Yet, for that second or two, he was quite still, and there was something in his face that Joyce had never seen before. The tan had faded across his cheekbones, leaving his skin pale and taut, so that his lips were thin and tight and colorless. His gaze was steady upon the back of Clarke's neck.

"Well—"

Della Stewart's voice was husky and she cleared her throat and laughed shortly. It wasn't very genuine, that laugh, but it served its purpose and the awkward silence fled.

Allen turned and said: "What? Oh—sorry, I was thinking."

He stepped quickly to Della and helped her with her coat.

Chapter Three
Something Wrong
They waited in the foyer while Allen claimed his coat and hat, and no one said anything until they were on the sidewalk.

"Who was that?" Della asked, very busy with the fitting of her gloves.

"Ferry Clarke?" Allen was watching the doorman signal a cab. "Oh, just a guy I used to know in South America. Nasty little bouncer, isn't he?"

"Then he isn't really a friend of yours?"

"Hardly," Allen laughed. "As a matter of fact when I left Caracas I think I promised myself I'd kill him the next time I saw him."

"Ward!"

"But that was quite a while ago," he laughed again. "It's all right, Dee. He's not worth the bother now."

The cab drew alongside and he opened the door and handed them in. They made room for him in the center.

"It's an eight-foot curtain, we'll just about catch it," he said. His voice was right now; so was his smile. There was no outward indication that seeing Ferry Clarke had upset him, and yet, somehow, Joyce could not forget how the man had watched Ward Allen, nor the look of grim hatred on Ward's face when the other had moved away.

All the way to the theatre she wondered about it, trying to recall the things that were said. She wondered, too, about Hester Lozada, and no matter which way her thoughts moved she found them strangely disturbed.

Strained Relations
When Ward Allen had cased the coupe into the open space in front of her apartment house, Della waited for him to turn off the ignition and dim the lights. She sat there, not looking at him, until she felt his eyes upon her and knew that he was about to open the door; then she said:

"No cigarette?"

"Oh—I'm sorry."

He reached for his case and she leaned forward and turned the ignition key. When he had given her a cigarette and a light they settled back and smoked in silence.

It was part of a long practiced routine. When Ward brought her home late he never came up to the apartment; instead he had adopted the practice of spending the last few minutes here in the car.

Always there was the cutting of the motor, the dimming of lights, the cigarette; then they would sit and talk—about the evening or themselves, sometimes for five minutes, sometimes for half an hour.

It was very quiet now, and dark. There was no traffic on this side street and no pedestrians, although now and then she would get a glimpse of a car as it sped by the intersection up ahead. She waited a minute or so for his arm to slip around her shoulder and when it did not come, her mind went back to the first time they had done this.

"Nothing, I Guess"

Six months ago, almost to a day. Before that he had never so much as touched her except to help her in or out of a car. In the beginning she had met him because he worked for Dean Thorndike, and when her father had gone to London, insisting that she remain here, Thorndike, her father's cousin, had assumed the responsibility for her.

She knew why there had been no offered cigarette. He was not thinking of her, but of something of which she had no part. She put her hand on his arm.

"What is it, darling?"

"Oh—I don't know." He looked at her, smiling a little, his voice light. "Nothing, I guess."

Her fingers touched his face, tracing the hollow of his cheek and the line of his chin.

Man About Manhattan - - Dempsey Knows How To Kid 'Em

By GEORGE TUCKER
NEW YORK—It's like this. . . . A woman who will never see 60 again is having dinner with her husband and with some guests in Jack Dempsey's restaurant on Broadway. . . . After awhile the Mauler comes in and the woman leaves her table and goes up to him. . . . "Mr. Dempsey," she says, "will you shake hands with me? I once saw you fight when I was a little kid." Dempsey takes her hand and gallantly says, "Why, Madam, you're still a kid."

Three sailors pause in front of a studio in 6th avenue, and gaze at the photographs that crowd the windows. . . . They are joined after awhile by a couple of soldiers and presently, they represent the snake's head of a long line of gobs and soldiers, waiting to have their pictures taken, at 10 cents a throw. . . . These pictures are for their families. . . . The windows in front of the studios are all crowded now, with photographs of guys in uniform. . . . You see wide, honest wheatfield grins. . . . You see guys with high, thin eastern noses. . . . You see curly hair, and Irish eyes, and frank, open countenances with Texas bluebonnets in their eyes. . . . They must have reasoned, when they had those 2 1/2 x 2 1/2 prints taken, "Well, I better do it now. . . . I'll have it taken now, and send it to Mom. I mightn't have another chance, not for awhile, anyway."

In Toots Shore's 51st street restaurant, a familiar figure shows up. His name is George Raft. . . . A shade taller, perhaps, than you expected. . . . Eyes that can drill right through you, hard eyes, in a way, but interested. . . . He's in town only for a week. There's a luncheon for him, and among those on hand are Bill Stern, the Jimmy announcer, and Jimmy Walker, the ex-mayor of NY and Jimmy Johnston, boxing manager. But Raft is an actor, and these are all sports figures. . . . What has Raft to do with sports? . . . "You may not know it," Bill Stern reminds, "but George is a graduate of the big leagues. It's a fact. . . . He used to be bat boy for the NY Yankees. . . . No, I didn't know that. . . . But he was. And it's true. . . . When I come upon Bill Stern, I'm always a little startled to remember that Bill has only one leg. . . . The other was lost in a motor accident. . . . You don't think of those things when you hear him on the air, when he is broadcasting a football game. . . . All the old Army & Navy stores have come into their own, now that there's a war. . . . They're an education in themselves, in a way. . . . If you stand there a few minutes, you can memorize all the insignia, and how much they cost, and what they mean. . . . Their windows are filled with them. . . . Two snakes twined around a staff (the Medical Corps). . . . Propeller blades growing out of a pair of wings. . . . You won't have to guess what that one is. . . . A pair of crossed sabers (the Cavalry). . . . A pair of crossed cannon (the Artillery). . . . A pair of crossed rifles (the Infantry). . . . That's they way it goes.

Warden-Firemen Course Started

Tuesday night about 30 men and women met in the city courtroom for the beginning of the second training for air raid wardens and auxiliary firemen.

E. R. Bethell, chief air warden, fingerprinted each member of the class and made some announcements concerning the first aid class that will begin Friday night for this group. Anyone who has not had the training for air raid wardens or auxiliary firemen is invited to join this class, which will meet each Tuesday night for the next five weeks at the city auditorium.

E. C. Gaylor, head of the auxiliary firemen, was the instructor for the first lesson. Fire prevention was discussed, along with methods of fighting fires and fire bombs. The class period was closed with a discussion of war gases, how to detect them and what treatment should be administered for each gas. Gaylor announced that the lesson next week will deal with the use of ladders in fighting fires.

The U. S. Looks Good To Him—
Tom Collins Tells Of Rescue Work
By Transport Plane In Far East

To really appreciate the United States, you ought to spend seven months in Africa, according to Tom F. Collins, former Big Spring man, who is now a pilot for Pan-American-Africa Ltd.

Collins, son of Mr. and Mrs. O.
D. Collins of San Angelo, was here Tuesday afternoon for a brief visit. He is home on short leave of absence after seeing duty as rescue pilot in war zones.

After experiences of seeing the Jap war machine in action, experiencing the deadly tropical heat, the misery of the refugees of the war, Collins says there is nothing to compare with the United States. "I thought I'd seen this country before and liked it, but I never appreciated it quite so much before," he stated.

One trip Collins mentioned of his war experiences was bringing refugees from Rangoon to the comparative safety of India.

Between air raids the big Pan American ships, stripped of every excess piece of weight and carry-

New Boy Scout Executive Is Appointed

Ben W. Newhouser, formerly of Hermleigh, has been selected as field executive of the Buffalo Trail council to succeed Stanley A. Mate.
It was announced Wednesday from council headquarters in Sweetwater.

He will be assigned to the Snyder,
Big Spring, Colorado City and Midland districts.

An experienced scout leader whose most recent contact with the program has been in the capacity of scoutmaster, Newhouser has just completed the training course at national headquarters in New York.

Whether he would establish headquarters here as did Mate was not known immediately. Mate left recently for Winchester, Virginia to become executive in charge of that council.

Pace Slackens Some, But All Types Of Items Showing Up In Stockpiles

While the rate of collection faltered, stories of ingenuity and sacrifice to contribute to the nation's currently most pressing salvage campaign increased Wednesday.

At noon the total rubber collected by local oil companies and junk dealers stood at 66,387 pounds, about 18,000 pounds more than for the same time Tuesday.

However, some dealers felt that organizations and individuals were collecting the salvage rubber in amounts such as would make a sale worth while and that the rate of collection would soon pick up again.

Troy Gifford Tire Co. and the Westex Oil Co. reported in 1,500 and 2,800 pounds respectively, and each contributed its supply.

Humble Oil headed companies of its type with 25,000 pounds on hand, and C. L. Rowe, agent, said he had at least another 1,000 pounds to add to this total. Charles Morris, scrap dealer, reported approximately 30,000 pounds. Conoco had 1,925 pounds, Magnolia 1,400, Cosden 300 and Texaco 300, Howard County Refining Co., had around 3,000 Tuesday.

One man, who preferred his name not be used, gave action to President Roosevelt's approval of the suggestion rubber floor mats be surrendered.

"I made my neighbor a proposition that I would turn in my car mat if he would match it—and he did," said the patriot. "I think it would be a fine thing if neighbors all over town challenged each other to give up this rubber. We have around 80,000 pounds of this rubber lying around in Howard county cars. Just pull up the mat and tear it in two to prevent further use."

Every conceivable type of rubber goods was showing up in the stock piles. One enterprising youngster had a 10-pound sack of rubber heels and rubber shoe soles.

Another batch yielded baby's bottle cap, more familiarly known as the nipple. There were old hot water bottles, raincoats, rubber hose, cushions, golf balls, rubber diapers, gloves and aprons.

But where there items were being gathered from spotted households, leaders of the campaign felt that there should be a greater realization on the part of all that the collection is a job in which all Americans should share.

We're Getting Ahead In War,
Club Is Told

"The advantage is changing and changing fast," declared Judge James T. Brooks before the Lions club Wednesday in answer to the war question of "how are we doing?"

This, the speaker warned, did not mean that the war was won, for he cautioned that it could be lost. There will be no middle ground in the struggle, he added.
"If we win we preserve our way of life and our precious liberties; if we lose, we have lost everything," said Judge Brooks.

The American soldier, asserted the one-time captain of a Big Spring company in the first World war, "is the finest soldier in the world, and we owe it to him to put the finest weapons in the world in his hand when he goes forth to battle."

Looking ahead to the day when a victory shall have been won, Judge Brooks lashed against idle pacifism. Preparedness would mean prevention of war in the future, just as it could have in the past, he contended.

He paid tribute to the stand of Russia, saying "I don't care how bad they say Russia is, she's not half as bad as Nazism—the cruelest and most barbaric rule the modern world has seen. Every day she holds the Germans, she is saving the blood of our boys."

"To those who criticize England, I say that England is fighting in every part of the globe in the face of threat of invasion. If she goes down, we will have the hardest time in our history to keep from going down with her."

Sack Containing $800 Is Missing

Officers were investigating the loss Tuesday of a change sack reported to have contained nearly $800.

The sack disappeared sometime during Tuesday afternoon or early evening, reported employees of the Beverage Sales Co. at 100 Nolan street.

As nearly as could be ascertained, there was $377 in cash and around $415 in checks in the sack at the time. No clues were left, said officers.

Approximately 80 per cent of the fluid market milk in the United States is pasteurized.

H. D. Agents Meet Here

Home demonstration agents from four counties were here Wednesday for a one-day demonstration on food preservation.

Winifred Jones, Texas A. & M.
extension service food preservation specialist, was in charge of the demonstration, which dealt principally with drying as a method of preserving foods.

"We are recommending this method more as a supplement," she said, "and particularly so because of material and supply shortages produced by the war."

Agents attending the meeting were shown the results of drying green vegetables and fresh fruits.
Corn and okra were particularly recommended, although results of green beans and other vegetables were shown.

Here for the parley were Fern Hodge, Stanton, Martin county demonstration agent; Alpha Lynn, Midland, Midland county demonstration agent; Vera Crippen, Colorado City, Mitchell county demonstration agent, and Fontilla Johnson, Howard county demonstration agent.

SAN DIEGO, Cal. — Police Sera fifth-story window ledge was dangerous.

He told her she was always in more, the crowd of men that had ed landing on Drane Field.

Three other officers and four en-
