COUPLE NEAR FORT WORTH ARE SHOT TO DEATH

Jekyll-and-Hyde Slayer Is Questioned

Gray-Haired Man Admits Cool Murder

Civil Engineer Says He Slew Woman to Get Rid of Her—Had Married Her When He Already Had Wife and Children.

By United Press.
ELIZABETH, N. J., April 12.—The strange mentality of Henry Colin Campbell, middle-aged engineer and author of engineering guide books, attracted authorities today as they attempted to connect him with crimes other than the murder of which he confessed—that of his bigamous wife, Mrs. Mildred Mowry.

Campbell was a respected engineer, married and father of four children. He just moved into a $25,000 home. He had written two guide books on the best manner of using cement in engineering. He had represented the Union Pacific Railroad at times and his studies into engineering and medicine had been deep. Police found he had written to numerous matrimonial agencies and to "lonely hearts" columns of daily newspapers. Hundreds of letters found in his apartment were in answer to these letters. Also in his apartment was a room strewn with dolls and teddy bears. A strong box was opened and it revealed more dolls and teddy bears. Their import goes unexplained.

Because of these eccentricities, police questioned him at length today on the murder of Miss Margaret Brown, a governess who was slain after she had withdrawn her savings to "marry the doctor." Her body, burned almost beyond recognition, was found in New Jersey about a year ago.

The similarity between the murders of Miss Brown and Mrs. Mowry caused the police to question the dapper, gray haired engineer.

FLIZABETH, N. J., April 12.—H. Colin Campbell, a gray-haired civil engineer, confessed last night that he had murdered Mrs. Benjamin S. Mowry of Greenville, Pa., and set fire to her body.

He also told how he had married his victim, although he already had a wife and four children. The confession came swiftly after the identification of the woman's body by friends from Greenville.

When arrested at the door of his apartment here, Campbell had an automatic pistol with him. "That's the pistol I shot her with," he told detectives.

"I did it to get her out of the way. I met Mrs. Mowry in Baltimore last year and married her bigamously on the spur of the moment. I knew it was all wrong right afterward but I couldn't shake her off then. I decided the only way was to get rid of her for good and all. I met her in Philadelphia the day before Washington's birthday of this year. Early the next day we drove into New Jersey."

"Right by Willie's Half-Acre, there was nobody around and I shot her once in the top of the head. I poured gas over her clothing, pulled it up over the top of her head and set a match to it. Then I drove home."

MAVERICKS WILL PUT UP A FIGHT
The district meet is in progress today in Stephenville. Tomorrow will be the occasion for the spectacular track and field contests and a huge crowd will be in attendance. Many spectators from Eastland will be there.

The Mavericks are being counted on to pile up a flock of points in the athletic events and local fans have hopes that Eastland's high will win the track meet, although it is realized that the competition will be keen.

2 DIE IN FT. WORTH ACCIDENTS

William C. Messer, Temple, employed by Southwestern Bell Telephone Company, died at 7:30 a. m., from injuries caused when he was run over by a truck on West 7th street Thursday.

Johnson had just put up his engine after finishing his run between here and West Texas. He was walking on a track when the box cars struck him. The body was badly mangled.

May Hold W. T. C. C. Convention In Fall

By United Press.
AMARILLO, Tex., April 12.—The West Texas Chamber of Commerce convention, scheduled for El Paso this summer, may be postponed until fall in order that President Hoover may be present, according to Homer D. Wade, manager, a visitor here this week.

Wade spent several days with the convention committee in El Paso and the committee was advised by Mr. Hoover that he could not attend unless the meeting be delayed until fall.

Wade said he would recommend to President Andy Bourland and the board of directors that the convention be postponed.

Good Program Is Given At Mangum

The Mangum Boys and Girls' 4-H club rendered a program at Mangum Thursday night, which was well attended considering the busy season of the year. The program consisted of two fifteen-minute plays giving the various phases of club work.

Following the club program, Quincy A. Main, farm bureau representative, gave a talk on farm bureau work.

Storm-Swept Area Scene of Mourning

By United Press.
NEWPORT, Ark., April 12.—In a scene of utter desolation, Northeast Arkansas hill-folk today buried the dead from a tornado which Wednesday night cut a fifty-mile semi-circle path of destruction through five counties.

National representatives of the American Red Cross were in charge of general relief work throughout the stricken area, to which Gov. Harvey Parnell had sent national guard tent supplies to shelter scores made homeless by the twister.

Six separate communities—Allicia, Swifton, Parkin, Lorado, Guilon, and Wynne—have yielded a toll of 57 dead and as rescue workers penetrated into isolated sections and checked over the debris, it was generally believed additional fatalities would be recorded.

Scores of injured were under treatment in hospitals and in private homes which escaped the storm.

Mrs. Carl Springer visited relatives in Baird today.

Big Guns Boom With Opening of Congress

With rows over the tariff, farm relief and prohibition enforcement in prospect, the big guns of political conflict are expected to rock the capitol dome at Washington during the special session called by President Hoover. Here are some of the "big guns" and their issues: left, Senator Charles L. McNary, of Oregon, and Congressman Thomas S. Williams, of Illinois, chieftains in the new fight for farm relief; center, Senator Reed Smoot, of Utah, chairman of the Senate Finance Committee and Joseph R. Grundy, Pennsylvania manufacturer and high tariff advocate, in the tariff fight; Senator Wesley Jones, of Washington state, author of the Jones "five and ten law" and Congressman F. H. La Guardia, New York, ardent wet, in the row over prohibition enforcement.

LANSING, Mich., April 12.—Five men were believed killed, two were injured and two others escaped when a cofordam at the New South Logan street bridge collapsed without warning today.

The five workmen were trapped in the crumpled timbers and dirt and were either crushed or drowned. Those who escaped were in the upper portion of the structure.

LANSING, Mich., April 12.—An explosion occurred at the Logan Street bridge over the Grand River here today. Several persons were reported killed. The bridge, a $450,000 structure being constructed by the city, was to be finished next summer. First reports said seven or eight persons were killed.

Mrs. Seilaff Says Hardy Framed Up

By United Press.
SACRAMENTO, Cal., April 12.—Judge Carlos S. Hardy, being tried on impeachment charges, was accused today by Mrs. Lorraine Wiseman-Seilaff of inducing her to "frame" a story which would tend to clear the name of Aimee Semple McPherson. It was the most dramatic point in the trial of Judge Hardy, who is accused of violating the California law by accepting a legal fee from the woman evangelist after her mysterious kidnaping in 1926.

SAN MARCOS GLEE CLUB SINGS HERE

Saturday Night at 8 o'Clock Under the Auspices of the Lions Club—Splendid Program Arranged.

By MRS. W. K. JACKSON.
A varied program will be presented by an organization of thirty or more voices, at the high school auditorium tomorrow evening at eight o'clock.

The State Teachers' College at San Marcos has reason to be proud of the record the Glee Club has made in its itinerary.

H. Grady Harlan is director of the Glee Club and Mrs. Grady Harlan is piano accompanist.

Rudolph Caffey, soloist, is assistant director. The entertainment presents soloists, excerpts from operatic companies by entertainers; instrumentalists, in piano, guitar, king harmonica, and harmonica, and the Glee Club proper, of which the traveling personnel is limited to 24 voices.

The selections embrace an ancient rime, of the 1571-1621 period "Praetorius"; "Now Let Every Tongue Adore Thee," (Bach); and "Hallelujah Chorus," (Handel).

The second phase of the program opens with "Annie Laurie" (Crist); "Hills of Home" (Oscar J. Fox); and "Celeste Aida" (Verdi) with Adolph Caffey, tenor as soloist.

Group three: "Ring Out Wild Bells" (Chopin); "Panis Angelicus" (Franck); "Lullaby" (Brahms); "Who Is Sylvia" (Schubert) "On Wings of Song" (Mendelssohn) by college quartette.

Group five: "Massa Dear" (from New World Symphony-Dvorak); "Swing Low, Sweet Chariot," negro spiritual, arranged by Huntley; "Song of the Volga Boatman," Russian folk song, arranged by Bantok, the Glee Club.

Following will be a series of excerpts from operas, including "Student Prince," "Pinafore," "Lilac Time," and popular selections that cover a wide range of feeling and thought.

The concert closes with the final group, "Waters of Minnetonka," (Liauranc); "Just a Wearying For You" (Carrie Jacobs Bond); and "Grace Be Unto You," Paul the Apostle (Trowbridge), sung by college quartette.

This is a very unusual and temperamental program, and will fit the musical taste of the most exacting public.

The high school auditorium should be crowded for this event. There has seldom been such a student body that concerted in Eastland, in fact the last occasion of this nature was some five years ago.

Tomorrow night 8 p. m., auspices Lions Club.

SUICIDE, MURDER IS A VERDICT

Coroner, After Investigation, Says Woman Was of Unsound Mind—Man and Wife Were Pioneers of Azle.

FORT WORTH, Tex., April 12.—A verdict of murder and suicide was returned by the coroner today in the death of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hendricks of Azle. Mrs. Hendricks, according to the verdict, was of unsound mind and killed her husband and then shot herself.

FT. WORTH, April 12.—Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hendricks, pioneer residents, living near Azle, northwest of here, were found shot to death in the back yard of their home. A shotgun was found between the couple. The bodies were found by Audie Hall, a neighbor. The Hendricks had lived at their homestead near Azle for forty years.

Southern Cross Fliers Rescue Is Next Step

Australia Aviators Are Down in Wild Region Difficult of Access—Are Believed to Be All Right.

By United Press.
SYDNEY, N. S. W., April 12.—An elaborate rescue expedition was made ready today to reach the crew of the missing airplane Southern Cross, stranded on a mud flat in a wild and almost impenetrable region 30 miles south of Port George in northern Australia.

Capt. Charles P. T. Ulm and his three companions were reported apparently safe and well by the airplane Canberra, which returned to Wyndham after discovering the missing men from the air. They were walking about and were camped near running water. The plane appeared undamaged and there was a clear space at the spot along the Glenelg River, giving hope that, if gasoline were dropped, the plane might rise under its own power.

The Canberra dropped food for the fliers who must have exhausted their scant rations soon after being forced down on March 31.

The base of the rescue parties will be established at Munja Station, which is 20 miles from the scene. The Canberra will direct operations from the air, and will give the Southern Cross instruction by radio, if her set is working.

Congratulations on the finding of the fliers were received today from all parts of the British Empire and the United States.

Great anxiety continued today for Keith Anderson, missing since he left Azle Springs for Wyndham on Wednesday after searching for the Southern Cross.

SYDNEY, N. S. W., April 12.—The crew of the airplane Southern Cross was reported sighted today on mud flats south of Port George, Australia, almost two weeks after they were forced to land during an attempted non-stop flight from Sydney to Windham, in western Australia.

Word of sighting the four air-men was flashed to civilization by Capt. Holden, an Australian aviator, who had been flying over the vast, unexplored region of northwest Australia on a search for the men.

Capt. Holden said the men were safe and apparently well.

Capt. Charles E. Kingsford-Smith, Capt. Charles T. P. Ulm, T. H. McWilliams, radio operator, and H. A. Litchfield, aviator, were aboard the Southern Cross when it took off here March 31 for Wyndham on the first leg of a projected flight to England.

The plane was forced down late the next day, Easter Sunday, after flying for ten hours in rain. The last message received from the plane was signed by Capt. Ulm and said the plane was landing in "rotten country."

THE PROBLEM OF UNEM-PLOYMENT.

One of the most puzzling phenomena of recent years has been the presence, side by side with genuine industrial prosperity, of a large and uncomfortable amount of unemployment.

Busy as our factories get, they do not seem able to take up all the slack. Constant improvements in machinery are making it possible for an even larger amount of material to be produced by one workman; thus the machine, which makes our prosperity possible, is at the same time providing us with a new problem no less pressing than the old ones which the machine wiped out.

A dozen solutions, ranging all the way from a seasonal, wholesale shifting of labor from one point to another to national unemployment insurance, have been suggested. But United States Senator James Couzens of Michigan, a man familiar with the inside outs of industry and finance,
does not think any panacea can be found.

Writing in the April issue of the Surrey Graphic, Senator Couzens
says:

"The problem should be, and in my opinion will be, solved best by industry itself. There is no panacea for curing this great 'blot' on our economic system. The most effective thing that can be done
at this time is to arouse the conscience of the employing group."

To sustain this point, Senator Couzens quoted from the remarks of Daniel Willard, president of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad, who discussed the problem before a senate committee not long ago.
Mr. Willard contrasted the old conditions in which goods were produced in individual shops by hand labor with the present era of mass production, which produces tremendous wealth for the benefit of society. If society is going to take the benefits of this new system, he suggested it will have to take the burdens also. In other words, the industrialists themselves must plan their activities so as to make employment as steady
and secure as possible.

Senator Couzens inclines to the same view. True, he says, this new trouble with unemployment
may be the price of progress, but he insists that "society has an obligation to see that all this 'price'
does not become the burden of the worker."

FEDERALS MASS 9,000
MEN FOR REBEL PURSUIT

verged in the neighborhood of Naco, Sonora, for a third attack upon that federal garrison. The loyal troops, greatly outnumbered, have withstood two rebel assaults so far and were preparing to meet another one. There were only 900 federalists in Naco.
Gen. Almazan, the federal leader under whose command the government troops scored such overwhelming victories at Jimenez
and Reforma, was of the opinion today that the rebels did not have enough troops to stay in the field much longer and expressed the belief that the rebel chiefs soon
would abandon the fight.

By JACQUES D'ARMAND
United Press Staff Correspondent NACO, Ariz., April 12.—The combined Chihuahua and Sonora armies of Gen. Jose Gonzales Escobar, revolutionary commander in chief, converged today upon Naco, Sonora, where 900 loyal soldiers, greatly outnumbered, prepared to withstand the third rebel assault on their garrison.
Re-trenched behind dugouts, barbed wire entanglements and machine gun nests, the federals were greatly outnumbered by the rebel forces of Escobar and Gen.
Fausto Topete, who was repulsed
in two previous attacks.

Gen. Lucas Gonzales, federal commander, was reported to have ordered 100 gas masks in anticipation of a gas attack by the rebels. Reports from the rebel encampment, six miles south of Naco, said Escobar had obtained a supply of gas and several pieces of three inch field guns to aid
his proposed attack.
Escobar's forces consisted of the original Topete army of nearly 2,000 men, increased by the arrival of detachments from the rebel army which executed Chihuahua City.

"Here's Your Dog, Lady; Back From The Laundry, All Fresh and Clean!"

"NO TICKEE, NO DOGGIE!"

Atlanta Woman Runs Laundry For Pets. Truck Collects and Delivers the Animals.

Mrs. Helen Irene Yancey, operator of Atlanta's dog laundry, is shown above busily dolling up a member of Atlanta's canine aristocracy. Fido—or maybe it's Queenie—is soon to be returned home in the dog laundry's truck, shown below with the youngsters who are Mrs. Yancey's able assistants in her unique enterprise.

ATLANTA, Ga.—"Here's your dog, back from the laundry, all fresh and clean!"
Mrs. Helen Irene Yancey has found a new profession, and is entitled to call herself the only wa-man in the country who operates a laundry exclusively for dogs—
with a few cats and canaries also accommodated now and then.
For a number of years, Mrs.
Yancey has been conducting a pet shop. Some time ago she decided that there was a field for the person who would guarantee to keep pets spruce and trim for their owners.

So, in the basement of her home
she set aside a large room as her new beauty parlor and dog laundry. In it there are a steam bath,
a bathing pool, a fan that blows
hot air and a sizeable tub in which anything from a Pomeranian to a German Shepherd can be given a very adequate bath.

Boys Are Assistants
A staff of assistants, mostly boys in short pants, was hired next. Then Mrs. Yancey sat back and waited for business.

It came, with a rush. Stylish owners of stylish dogs got the idea at once. Now Mrs. Yancey has a great many customers who not only send their dogs in for a bath once a week, but have them come in once a month for a manicure.
Mrs. Yancey specializes in trimming and polishing the nails of dogs' feet. She does the same for cats; indeed, many women bring their cats in to have their claws dulled, so that they cannot scratch so easily. Canaries, also, get manicure treatments occasionally. But dogs provide the bulk of the trade.

"A dog really requires much attention," says Mrs. Yancey. "And a dog appreciates the care that is given him. You'd be surprised at the results that come from a thorough bath and cleaning.
"Steam baths are very popular with the dogs. Many of them don't like to be manicured so well, however. One has to be very careful, for it is a difficult task. The dog has to be muzzled while it is being done."
Some dogs, she says, resent all the attention they get at her beauty parlor. Others, however, get to like it, and act peevish and sullen
if their mistresses forget to take them around every so often.

sprinkling of cats and birds, she has a sort of private zoo in the yard behind her house, where she keeps monkeys and other tropical animals.
So far as is known, she is the only woman in the United States who is engaged in business of this kind. In London and Paris there are similar shops, but Atlanta is believed to be the only American city to have one.

Clever Book
Is McEvoy's
"Show Girl"

Reader Won't Get a Headache
Trying to Solve a Mystery
or Figure Out a Great Moral Lesson.

Delicious satire abounds in "Show Girl," by J. P. McEvoy.
This delightful volume is easy and pleasant reading. It has any particular moral to preach,
any special teaching to put over,
it escaped us—which made everything K. O. If there is anything that gives us acute discomfort, it is "a book with a lesson."
One character is a poet of platitudes
whose name is Teddy Zest.
The name, somehow or other,
seems to have a familiar ring.
There is also a chapter dealing with a convention. The songs and "inspirational speeches" are true
to life.

Several shafts are hurled at the
"fabroids"—those small newspapers, filled with pictures and reeking with sensationalism and sob
sister gush.
There is a law firm entitled
Levinson, Aaronson, Schmalz, Rechenbaum & Reilly. This name has great possibilities. However the firm stinks across the stage
only once, leaving the reader desirous of more light on this League of Nations assortment of attorneys.

Genes abound, one being an ode to Lindbergh. One line, which sparkles like a Woolworth diamond, is:
"Deathless and immortal forever
will be his undying name."
Which reminds one of Dr. Samuel Johnson's couplet:
"Let observation with extensive
view,
"Survey mankind from China to Peru."
Translated into everyday English by a critic unkind as I:
"Let observation with extensive observation observe extensively."
"Show Girl" is real entertainment.—R. H.

talkies and that the farm report
was "just good publicity."
Another held that Miss Talley
despite the allegiance of her public, is dissatisfied with her own progress in singing. Supporting this rumor were cited opinions of some critics recently that her voice was cold and inflexible and that she is unable to act.
Yet other reasons suggested intimated that the young singer had an ambitious press agent, who hoped to get her father's contracts
for the future season.
Miss Talley had a conference scheduled today with Gatti-Casazza, director of the Metropolitan Opera company, at which her contract for next season was to be discussed. The Broadway rumor factories got busy on that basis
with suggestions that perhaps her contract was not to be renewed.
Miss Talley has had six appearances this season.

A year ago last February, Marion's earnings in her brief career were estimated at $334,000 and the New York World today said that it was probable her wealth
at this time is about that figure.
The New York Telegram said that friends of the singer estimated her wealth at from $500,000 to $750,000.

NEW YORK, April 12.—Marion Talley, who had her triumph at the Metropolitan Opera house at an age when most girls are just starting voice lessons, is to give it all up and go back to the farm.

RICH GIRL POOR GIRL

By RUTH DEWEY GROVES

HAS HAPPENED

ED LAWRENCE, stenographer at the Judson Hotel, has been stolen from her in a STEPHEN ARMITAGE. He is a thief and returns the asks to take her home. He seems ungrateful, and she is to dinner. The evening is spoiled when JUDSON, daughter of the lawyer, phones Mildred to duty. Stephen escorts her to the hotel where Pamela is waiting for him as the salesman. She snubs him and tries to lure Stephen. He pretends she wants to go to her car. Then she meets DONNOR, who becomes intimate with her, and she amuses herself playing with both men. Stephen favors Mildred, but the manager warns her that Pamela will have her. But this may not be true. HAROLD JUDSON is in love with Mildred. He is a rich man and Mildred permits him to keep her from her work. However, he says she cares more for Stephen and refuses to go with him and refuses to go with him when Stephen comes to her room one evening when Stephen comes to her room.

When he returned half an hour later, his arms were laden with packages.

Two weeks pass Mildred realizes Pamela is winning Stephen and that Harold is tangled with Huck's. She asks Harold to come but he refuses unless she goes out to dinner with him. She goes by her dress and they go to her mother's house. Then Mildred saw him.

Something," she immediately took care of Connie. She got the ammonia bottle and fainted. "No, no, she's dead! She's dead!" she shrieked. "She can't! Rub her here, put this under her chin!" Mildred removed the handkerchief from under her mother's chin and thrust it at her sister.

She took it and did as she was told. Harold stood by helplessly. He saw Mildred start to faint and he rushed to her and found the bath-tub. He filled a glass with water and dashed back to the room to throw the water on the unconscious woman, but Mildred stopped her and reached for a towel on the bed and wet it. Then she dabbed her mother's face vigorously.

Harold and Connie obeyed her instructions. She held the glass to her mother's face and forced a few drops down her throat. A moan of pain accompanied Mrs. Lawrence's consciousness while Mildred dabbed her forehead with a handkerchief with a drop of ammonia on it under her mother's chin.

"The doctor came in then and Harold told Mildred hurriedly that he would wait in the living room. Connie came to him soon and told him the doctor was dressing the burn. She couldn't bear to watch it.

"How did it happen?" Harold asked. "Mother was preparing dinner," Connie explained, "and she tipped over a pot of boiling lard. Her hand and arm are frightfully burned. I don't know what I'd have done if Mildred hadn't been here. It happened just after she came upstairs. Oh, dear, there's the telephone. Will you answer it please? I'm too upset to talk."

Harold went out and Connie soon heard his voice raised in angry argument. "No, I won't call Mildred to the phone," he said. "You've no business bothering her after office hours. Besides, she's not working for you. No, I won't tell her what you want. Her mother is ill and the doctor is here. What? Well, that's none of your concern. Yes, of course I'm going to stay. They need me."

He hung up with a bang just as Mildred appeared in her mother's doorway. "What was it?" she asked, not having heard Harold's end of the conversation. "Pamela," he said crossly. "I suppose she wanted me," Mildred said. "Did you tell her what has happened?"

"I told her you couldn't be bothered. Isn't there something I can do, Mildred?" "Yes, will you take this prescription down to the druggist on the corner and have it filled?" She handed him a slip of paper and Harold hurried out with it.

When he returned half an hour later his arms were laden with packages. While he waited for the prescription to be made up he'd bought everything he could find in the neighborhood that he thought would be conducive to the comfort of a sick person. Connie helped him unload them while Mildred took the medicine to her mother. Already she was beginning to worry over the problem that faced her. The doctor had said that her mother would have an uneasy night; someone should sit up with her, or at least sleep near at hand. That someone could not be Connie. And who was to stay at home during the time that it was necessary for their mother to be kept in bed?

Mildred knew that it would worry her mother to have Connie out of school. "I suppose I'll have to take a few days off," she decided, wondering how a deleted pay envelope could be made to meet the present emergency. Her worry did not show in the tenderly sympathetic face she showed to her mother, however, and presently the restive figure on the bed grew quiet, the spasms of pain passed less frequently across the pinched features and Mildred knew that the mercifully induced sleep had come.

ed that she must forever be the recipient, and recipients, she was certain, knew better than other how much more blessed it was to give than to receive. No one, she thought irritably, would take food to Pamela. Orchids and French chocolates, perhaps, but not pate, de foies gras and almond-stuffed olives.

True enough, Harold had brought a large pot of pate and a jar of truffles, but there were more substantial viands as well, which Connie and Harold appeared to enjoy. Mildred ate sparingly. Somehow the food had no savor for her.

She left the table several times to slip in and see that all was well with her mother. Connie, assured now that the accident was not a tragedy, was her own self once more and led Harold a gay verbal dance.

Mildred would have preferred to have him enjoy himself less, for he stayed much later than she liked. And Connie stubbornly resisted her sister's efforts to send her to bed. Harold might have minded her hanging on in the living room, but he could see that Mildred was not in a mood to listen to him. And Connie was lively. She was all right when you had something to forget.

But when 11 o'clock came Mildred firmly put him out. And it was not until she curled up in the big arm chair that she and Connie had hauled into their mother's room that she remembered she hadn't found out why Huck Connor could bring that look of mingled fear and hatred to Harold's countenance.

Well, she'd have to let that go for the present. She had other things to think about. The doctor had warned her that the shock of the accident had been bad for her mother. The patient must be kept as quiet as possible for a while, and there was the matter of the doctor's fee. Her mother would object to calling him again, Mildred knew, but there was danger of crippling if the burn were not properly cared for.

Mildred slept fitfully and uncomfortably. She was up many times during the night and when morning came she was wan and tired. But she got Connie off to school on time and managed to keep up a cheerful appearance through the morning for her mother's sake.

At noon a neighbor came in, bringing a bowl of hot soup and an apple dumpling. Mildred fed the soup to her mother and saved the dumpling for Connie's supper. She was too tired to eat, but she drank a glass of hot milk which made her feel sleepy. Finding her mother slumbering, she decided to take a short nap. But just as she entered her room the doorbell rang and Mildred's heart jumped into her throat. She knew that ring.

There's a dirty ring around your washtubs

It comes from the hard water you use to wash clothes in. Soap and hard water combine to make scum. The scum collects dirt. Part forms a dirty ring. Much gets into the fabric of the clothes. It makes them hard to wash snowy white.

But soften the water with Melo and no scum forms. No dirty ring. No grayish white clothes. Melo and water is a wonderful cleaner, with or without soap. It saves soap, too, from 1/2 to 1/2 the amount ordinarily used. It makes soap more effective. It makes clothes white. Get it at your grocer's.

ONE NAMED FOR STAFF NEXT YEAR

RANGER, Tex., April 12.—E. A. Ringold, school tax collector and assessor, will be retained in that capacity, according to a decision reached at a meeting of the board of trustees Wednesday night.

The meeting was held in the office of Dr. L. C. G. Buchanan, president of the board, and all of the members were present.

John M. Gholson moved that Ringold be retained and Dr. Walter L. Jackson seconded the motion. It carried unanimously.

It was not definitely decided by the board members whether the city and school tax departments would be separated. It is thought a decision will be reached by Tuesday night when the city commissioners meet.

Ben Whitehouse, vocational agriculturist, was the only instructor named for the 1929-30 school term.

Whitehouse, who is serving his first year, was re-elected unanimously to the head of the agricultural department.

He works jointly with the school and the Chamber of Commerce.

The Junior college question was brought up for discussion and present plans call for a joint meeting of members of the Lions club, Rotary club, school and city bodies and the Chamber of Commerce, for the purpose of discussing the status of the college.

The time of the meeting has not been set. Teachers for the 1929-30 term were not elected at Wednesday night's meeting.

Now Looks 30 Years Younger

"I am eighty years old—and just think—I have actually gained eight pounds since I started the Sargon treatment. Not only that, but it has given me new life and strength so that no one would hardly take me for being eighty now because I am on the go all the time. Never a day passes that I'm not down town and all around to see my friends.

"The other day when I stopped by the drug store to get another bottle of Sargon, some women were there and they talked so much about Sargon treatment that I couldn't get a word in edgewise. But I knew just how grateful they felt because Sargon certainly put me back on my feet and restored me to good health.

"I suffered with stomach trouble for ten years. I had indigestion all the time and everything I ate disagreed with me. I had heartburn all day long. "My liver was sluggish, my intestines were clogged with poisons, and I suffered terribly from constipation. I took all sorts of strong purgatives but they gave me no permanent relief. I could hardly sleep at nights.

"Sargon is different from anything else in the world, and as a strengthening, invigorating tonic it has no equal. It just made my stomach like new with its soothing effect and I don't have an ache or pain in my body. My nervousness is gone and my sleep is sound and restful. The Sargon Soft Mass Pills were just the thing to tone up my sluggish liver and put it back to work. Their laxative action is gentle but thorough and I am entirely relieved of constipation.

"Everybody says I am looking thirty years younger and I'm feeling as young as I look."

The above statement was made a few days ago by W. M. Blow, well known retired farmer who lives at 2708 Avenue F. Ft. Worth, which has been his home for the past eighteen years.

Sargon may be obtained in Eastland from Texas Drug Store; in Rising Star at Star Drug Co.; in Desdemona from City Drug Store; in Carbon from Dixie Drug Co.; in West from Old Corner Drug Store; in Gorman from Corner Drug Store; and in Olden from Central Pharmacy.

Ranger Youth Soon on Way Back to 'Pen'

(Ranger Times)
Metlin Brown, 24-year-old Ranger youth, will soon be on his way to the penitentiary again.

The youth was brought back to Ranger Wednesday night by Chief of Police Jim Ingram and Constable C. C. Hamilton, who went to Kermit for him yesterday.

He was given a five-year term in the penitentiary on an Eastland county charge. He escaped.

Later he was charged with stealing an automobile in Winkler county and Wednesday a jury sentenced him to serve four years in the penitentiary.

Hardly had he received the sentence before Ingram and Hamilton were bringing him back to Eastland county to stand trial on a charge of robbing the Webster Wholesale Grocery at Cisco.

According to Ingram he has agreed to make a statement and plead guilty, provided the judge will allow his sentence to run concurrent with the Winkler county sentence.

His wife and small son visited him at the Ranger jail this morning.

"Who is that, mother?" the boy asked.

The prisoner was taken to Eastland this morning by Hamilton and Ingram.

Winkler girl asked to see it. When she took hold of the barrel the gun discharged, the bullet striking the girl in the neck. The gun was to have been used in the play and was supposed to be unloaded.

Old Pahwah Is Gone To Long Rest

Famous White Elephant of Ringling Bros., After a Refining Influence of Years on the Herd, Dies.

By HARRST FERGUSON, United Press Staff Correspondent
NEW YORK.—Pahwah of the pink ears is dead, but up at Madison Square Garden where the circus gives two performances a day, rain or shine, his memory lingers on.

When Ringling Bros. and Barnum and Bailey pitch tents in your city this summer there is no use looking for the dignified white elephant under the gilded canopy who formerly led the parade. Pahwah has gone the way of all flesh and it is whispered darkly where press agents gather that the Hindu curse clung to the mighty beast until he went down to dust.

Now Goliath, who is a conventional slate colored elephant, leads the parade, but who is there to deny that the spirit of Pahwah lingers in the vanguard, exercising a refining influence on the rest of the herd.

The elephants have become genteel, and take it from Dexter Fellows, who makes it his business to report on such matters, it is all Pahwah's fault. Pahwah spurned peanuts; he never squirted water through his trunk, not even when Omar the whirling dervish streaked by. Pahwah waited patiently for his food, he chewed thirty times before swallowing and on the rare occasions when he trumpeted, his music was rich with dignity. No one was ever known to trap Pahwah by putting red pepper on a peanut shell.

Pahwah departed these shores last summer for a tour of England and it was there that the curse of the Hindus got to his dirty licks. The keeper, who cherished and fed Pahwah, died. Knowing persons shook their heads and insisted such was the fate of any man who took a sacred white elephant out of India.

Pahwah, uncomfortable in alien hands, languished and went to eternal rest, completing the tragic cycle and depriving Ringling Bros. and Barnum and Bailey of one of their prize attractions. But now it develops that Pahwah died a martyr to the cause of elephantine etiquette. The rest of the herd has become docile, and even old John, the noblest rebel of them all, is unmoved by the spectacle of Professor Zachini, the human projectile, hurtling out of a canon's mouth. All the tumult of feeding time is gone. The elephants marshal themselves into orderly lines for the parade and never a one breaks for freedom as in years gone by.

And they do say that Goliath, who stood closest to Pahwah in the old days, is turning a shy shade of pink around the ears.

Texan Urged For Alaska Governor

By United Press.
AMARILLO, Tex., April 12.—
W. H. Holmes of Amarillo, former Republican candidate for governor of Texas, has been tendered the indorsement of four of the five Republican members of the Alaskan Senate for the appointment as governor of Alaska.
Holmes received a copy of a letter sent to President Hoover in which his appointment was urged. The letter states that Holmes is "regarded in Alaska
as a man of superior ability and broad vision and that his early nomination to the position as governor would be received with deep gratification by the people of Alaska."

HICKEY BACK FROM SCHOOL

RANGER, Texas, April 12.— Wayne S. Hickey, secretary of the chamber of commerce, has returned to his office after attending a joint session of the Texas
Commercial Executives Association, and the Southern Commercial Executives Association.
The school lasted for three days
and was concluded Wednesday night. W. D. Conway, president of the Ranger organizations, was present at a number of sessions of the conference school.

Amazed At Improvement

"Orgatone Beats Any Medicine I Have Ever Tried, It Has Certainly Been a Relief to Me," Says Abilene Farmer.

W. Jones, living on rural route
3, Abilene, Texas, is still another who has cause to be glad he was induced to try Orgatone. In discussing his benefits, Mr. Jones said:
"Orgatone is building me up fine and is the only thing I have been able to get that has given me any strength and energy," he continued. "I was extremely nervous and had no appetite and just felt so badly all the time that I could hardly keep going. Food soured on my stomach and would cause a hard lump to form in my stomach
that would hurt me something terrible. At times, I had gas on my stomach and dizzy, bloating spells. My sleep didn't do me any good, and I would get up in the mornings just as tired as on going to bed at night. And I hardly got over four hours of sleep at night.
I was badly run-down and weak.
"Seeing Orgatone recommended
so highly I decided to try it, and now can say it is just wonderful.
I have taken two bottles now and am feeling stronger and better in every way. I don't have that tired worn-out feeling any more and my appetite is just splendid. I eat anything I want and am not bothered at all with stomach trouble.
I enjoy a good night's sleep and feel refreshed and ready for a day's work in the morning. I don't believe there is another medicine
like Orgatone and I have recommended it to many of my friends and neighbors, and since it has done so much for me I can understand why so many others are praising it."

As has been stated before, there is nothing more invigorating to a run-down system than Orgatone and it has proven invaluable to thousands suffering from the same troubles, stomach ailments. Orgatone begins its work by stimulating the digestive and assimilative organs, thereby enriching the blood and invigorating the whole system.
It overcomes, it is said, that great exciting cause of disease—
weakness. It renders the body vigorous and elastic, keeps the mind clear and energetic and throws off the symptoms of nervousness and indigestion.
Genuine Orgatone is not a so-called patent or secret remedy but a new scientific bile treatment and sold in Eastland exclusively by Toombs & Richardson Drug Company who are direct laboratory
agents.

Cold Control Is Demonstrated Now

Interest created by the new Frigidaire cold control, an invention that opens a new realm for the housewife in menu planning,
is evidenced by the large crowds
that have visited the local Frigidaire dealer's display room at the Texas Electric Service company,
since the national cold control
demonstration of the General Motors subsidiary opened Tuesday.

The demonstration, which is being held in all large cities
throughout the country to accuse the public with this outstanding refrigeration perfection,
will close at 10 o'clock Saturday night, it was announced.
Many tempting frozen desserts
made possible by the cold regulator are being prepared and served by domestic science experts at the demonstration. Souvenirs and literature of value to the hostess
and housewife will be distributed to visitors during the remaining two days and nights of the demonstration the dealer said.
"The simplicity of cold control,"
Mr. Johnston said, "has impressed all who have visited our show rooms. To operate it, one merely turns a small lever around a dial. Various degrees of cold may be obtained in the Frigidaire freezing compartment without materially affecting the temperature in the food-storage cabinet. Frigidaire's self-sealing ice trays, which confine the severe cold within the freezing section, help make this possible."
Different degrees of cold, the dealer explained, are needed in freezing different desserts, just as various degrees of heat are required in baking; it was this need that led to perfection of the temperature control.
Besides making possible 115
new desserts and many salads,
cold control has greatly reduced
the time required for freezing icecubes, the dealer explained. The new regulator is now a part of all household Frigidaire.

Written for the United Press
Once Josh Devore visited me
in my home in Columbus around Christmas time. He had just been released by some club like Zanesville. I asked him to go to the movies with me but Josh never did care for the films.
"No, I'll go home and go to bed," said Josh. "What's the picture?"
"Twenty Thousand Leagues Under the Sea," I replied.
"Well, you go on and see if you can get me a job in one of them."

WARNER UNIVERSITY CLUB:

The Warner University club met at the home of Mrs. J. T. Wilson yesterday afternoon for the continuance of their work, which they are making and selling to colleges and institutions for the financial benefit of the university. The last orders have been filled and dispatched, some as far away as Arizona, show the success of the little group, who embroider monograms and college shields on bedding, sweaters and aprons, mark linen for colleges, and do other needle work of this character, that commands a good price. At yesterday's session they began working on door stops, fanioned of oil cloth and silk, for which novelties they will be glad to take orders.

At close of meeting the devotional was led by Rev. H. M. Sell. Those present were Mrs. H. M. Sell, Mrs. Shumaker, Mrs. Gano, Mrs. Evans and Mrs. J. T. Wilson. The society adjourned subject to call.

CLOVER LEAF CLUB:

Mrs. W. J. Peters was a delightful hostess to the Clover Leaf club at her residence yesterday afternoon, when three tables, arranged for auction bridge, had appointments in tallies and score books, in yellow rose designs. Yellow and white, the color motif, was noted in the graceful bouquets of yellow jasmine mingled with the bridal wreath that adorned the rooms. Club favor for high score was a set of rose-marie iced teas. Guest favor, an embroidered linen towel, was presented Mrs. Ensminger, who is the house guest of her sister, Mrs. Manus.

A dainty two course tea of perfection salad, chicken sandwiches, cut in clover leaf form, Russian tea and marshmallow parfait, carried out the color note. Those present: Mmes. Thomas, Harry Manus, C. M. Hayes, Roberson, C. M. Root, R. L. Perkins, Ensminger and Miss Kirkland. The club meets in two weeks with Mrs. Root.

SUSAN STEELE BIBLE CLASS PLANS MONEY MAKING WAYS:

The Susan Steele Bible class met in their class room in Methodist church yesterday afternoon with session conducted by their president, Mrs. W. A. Cathay. Ways and means for making money for the Susan Steele's part of the church obligations were discussed.

It was finally decided to stake each member with a small sum from the class treasury, which, in turn, the holder is to increase through means at work of an individual nature.

An elaborate tea was served at 5 o'clock from a table decked in flowers and laden with good things.

Personnel: Cathay, T. M. Johnson, J. B. Steele, Elliott, Van Geem, Mari Hill, Huddleston, Cornelius, O. O. Mickle, Mary Hughes, Wright, Dulin, J. A. Caton, Susan Steele, R. F. Jones, and Rev. and Mrs. Shearer.

BAPTIST CHORAL CLUB REHEARSAL TONIGHT:

The Baptist Choral club, formerly known as the Eastland Community Choral club, will hold their regular choral rehearsal tonight at eight o'clock in the old high school building, and every member of the Choral club is expected to be present.

The director is Prof. Reed of Randolph college at Cisco, who very generously has agreed to continue his personal conduct of the choral club, for the opening of a new Baptist church, when the choral music will be featured.

After this event, the choral club members will decide about the future continuance of the choral club work, as a concert body.

ST. FRANCIS ALTAR SOCIETY:

Mrs. Peter Clements was hostess to the St. Francis Altar Society Wednesday afternoon, with session conducted by the president, Mrs. George Wilkins.

Some minor business was disposed of and arrangements made for a fruit booth, at the Piggly Wiggly store tomorrow.

Mrs. Wilkins and Mrs. William Root will be both hostesses. In the contest provided for amusement, high score favor, a hand embroidered apron, went to Mrs. Wilkins.

The next meeting will be held with Mrs. W. C. Dorsey. The hostess served a dainty ice and cake course to Mmes. Lemmert, J. E. Brady, W. C. Dorsey, A. D. Norcop, Paul Brown, Frank Bida, D. P. Leary, George Wilkins and Miss Maloney.

MRS. J. O. EARNEST HOSTESS TO BLUE BONNET CLUB:

The Blue Bonnet club was entertained very charmingly by Mrs. J. O. Earnest, at her home in the Norwood addition yesterday afternoon.

The rooms were artistically decorated with snapdragons and pink roses in many vases, while the bridge table appointments were in rose designs.

High score favor, a hand embroidered linen luncheon set, was awarded Mrs. Roy Allen, and cut-for-all, a perfume bottle and pin holder combined, of delicate amber crystal, went to Mrs. J. Howard.

At the tea hour a prettily composed plate of fruit salad with lettuce and mayonnaise topping, cheese balls, wafers, olives and fruit cake, with whipped cream and coffee was served.

The next meeting of the club will be with Mrs. S. M. Gamble. Personnel: Mmes. W. Z. Outward, George E. Cross, E. R. O'Rourke, G. C. Kimbrell, Guy Patterson, S. M. Gamble, James Watson, Roy Allen and hostess.

HIGH SCHOOL P. T. A. HOLDS ANNUAL ELECTION:

Following a fine report of the past year's activities, the report of the nominating committee, Mrs. B. E. McGlamery, chairman, and W. D. R. Owen, the election of officers for the coming year of the High School Parent-Teacher association was held, with following results:

Mrs. J. LeRoy Arnold, president; Mrs. B. E. McGlamery, first vice president; Mrs. Ligon, second vice president; Mrs. J. S. Grisham, third vice president; Mrs. T. J. Cunningham, recording secretary; Mrs. S. P. Rumph, corresponding secretary; Mrs. B. L. Mackall, treasurer.

The office of press reporter or secretary is filled by the president, by appointment, later.

Mrs. B. J. Raines, the present incumbent, president, has made a wonderful, successful officer and has inaugurated several new features in the P. T. A. regime, which have proven most beneficial.

Mrs. Raines declined a second term, as she will probably move to Cisco following the close of school, on account of Mr. Raines having business established in that city.

Mrs. Raines was absent on account of illness and the session was presided over by Mrs. B. E. McGlamery, first vice-president.

The program as published in the Eastland Telegram was presented by the Juniors, and was a very delightful entertainment.

The association will entertain the class before school closes and the committee named to plan for this event includes Miss Ivie Wilson, Miss Belle Wilson and Mrs. W. A. Martin.

The report of the district meeting in Stephenville was submitted by several members of the P. T. A., who attended the convention Wednesday.

The delegate, Mrs. Bittle, was unable to be present and make her report.

Very interesting talks were given by faculty members, Miss Mauldin, Mr. Hayes and Superintendent P. B. Bittle.

There was a splendid attendance of members. Mmes. J. P. Laurens and B. L. Mackall were hostesses to the session and, at its close, served a delicious tea plate, with a variety of cake.

The next meeting will be held the second Thursday in May, the last session for this year.

Government Wins Its First Victory

By United Press. WASHINGTON—The Supreme court's action in upholding the conviction and three-month jail sentence of Harry F. Sinclair constitutes the government's first victory in the criminal oil cases.

The contempt sentences which grew out of the jury-shadowing episode during the trial of Sinclair on charges of conspiracy with Albert D. Fall in the Teapot Dome affair, is to be argued soon before the Supreme court.

Sinclair was acquitted of the conspiracy charge. Fall and E. L. Doherty also were acquitted of conspiracy charges growing out of their Elk Hills naval reserve transaction.

The government has yet to try pending indictments against Fall for alleged conspiracy with Sinclair, and separate indictments against Fall and Doherty for alleged bribery.

The government won its two big civil suits growing out of the oil cases when the Supreme court held both the Elk Hill and Teapot Dome leases fraudulent.

A collateral case which grew out of the Senate oil investigations, the perjury indictment against Robert W. Stewart, then chairman of the board of the Standard Oil of Indiana, resulted in Stewart's acquittal.

Rioting in Southern Textile Strike

Rioting, minor injuries and arrests came thick and fast in Gastonia, N. C., when workers of one of the nation's largest textile mills went on strike and five national guard companies were sent to quell mob violence. The upper photo shows rioting in front of the mill as officers sought to drive back the crowd. Hundreds of women took part in the demonstration and lower left you see two of them trying to disarm a guardsman. At the right is shown the arrest of a woman strike leader. Center is George Pershing, sent as a representative of the Communist Party to Gastonia to organize a local of the National Textile Workers Union, repudiated by the A. F. of L. He claimed to be a cousin of General John J. Pershing.

CHURCH OF GOD

H. M. Sell, pastor. Corner Velez and Lamar. Again we look toward the Lord's Day with the anticipation of another glorious waiting before the Lord. The Lord hath great things in store for them that love Him. We must look higher than the pulpit for our inspiration and help. The power of God cometh from on high. To him who cometh to the House of God seeking His blessings, His wisdom, His love His companionship, to him be power and gladness. Sunday School at 9:45. Let us strive to be on-time so as not to miss the opening exercises. The lesson will be brought by the various teachers in their classes. The pastor will be in the pulpit Sunday. The message will be founded on the separation of Abraham from his home land. Everybody invited.

Sunday evening the Stamps Quartet will have a large part on the musical program. We are expecting a house full as these wonderful singers will draw from all parts of the country. The song service will start promptly at 7:30. Come early if you want a seat.

Rev. Mr. Sell will fill the pulpit and will speak of the "Christian religion as a singing religion." The public is invited to all services.

BAPTIST CHURCH

"Enlisting Our Feelings in the Interest of Religion" will be the theme of the sermon at 11 a. m. "Our Friends in Heaven" will be the theme of the sermon at 7:45 p. m. This message will be of interest to those who have lost loved ones, and to those also who are in doubt concerning their hope of heaven. Sunday School meets at 9:45

B. Y. P. U. meet at 6:15 p. m., Mrs. Iva Moore-Jones, director. T. J. Pitts, pianist. —W. T. Turner, Pastor.

CHURCH OF CHRIST

H. W. Wrye, Minister. Sunday School 9:45 a. m., R. L. Speer, superintendent. Communion 11 a. m., elders in charge. Preaching 11:30 a. m. Subject, "The Raising of Lazarus." There are three points that will be emphasized in this sermon: 1. The Lord's profound sympathy with human feelings; 2. The Lord requires cooperation of men in His greatest work; 3. The effect of the raising of Lazarus on the people. Evening service 7:45. Theme: "The Word Power of God." A careful scrutiny of the Scriptures will reveal the fact that God has always done things through the agency of His word. Words are expressions of ideas. Taken together, they constitute the intelligible expression of thought. The word of God is the expression of infinite thought in terms of human comprehension. Let us see what God has done by means of His word.

The preparatory work of the protracted meeting campaign is swinging into full action. A special business meeting looking towards enlisting every member in a soul-winning campaign, will be in order immediately at the close of the noon service. Every member is urged to be present and assist in organizing the congregation into an army that will go over the top.

ST. FRANCIS XAVIER CHURCH

This is the second Sunday after Easter. Mass will be at 10 a. m. by Rev. M. Collins. The gospel read in the mass is taken from the Gospel of St. John X.11-16. Christ had given sight to a man born blind—John IX. This miracle, which caused a great sensation, had come to the ears of the Pharisees who summoned the man to appear before them. When he attested the miracle and defended Christ against their unfounded accusations, they became so angry and enraged that they cursed and expelled him as an impostor from the Jewish church. By this action, the Pharisees showed themselves to be bad shepherds, who, instead of keeping the sheep together and protecting them, scatter and kill them. From this, the divine Savior took occasion to bring before them the parable of the good shepherd. He shows in this parable that He is the good shepherd, whom the prophets had already foretold, and that He was not like the leaders of the Jews, seeking His own interest, but the welfare of His sheep, and that He was about to lay down His life for them. Let us see how Jesus proves Himself to be the good shepherd and let us try and prove ourselves to be good sheep.

CHRISTIAN CHURCH

Had the largest attendance of the year last Sunday. The Sunday School and church attendance was larger than on Easter Sunday. A fine spirit in all services. Next Sunday we hope to have a larger number present. The Robey orchestra was a great help and attraction. The orchestra will be with us next Sunday. It is a mighty fine thing for the members of the orchestra to give their time and talent to the upbuilding of the Lord's work. We appreciate it more than words can tell.

Judge N. N. Rosenquest will speak for us Sunday morning at the 11 o'clock church service. He will have as his subject, "The Trial and Crucifixion of Christ," viewed from a legal standpoint. It is a rare privilege to hear him speak to us. He is a talented and brilliant speaker. You should plan to be there to hear his great message. Bro. L. L. Gattis will speak at 7:45. He is one of our own men and respected by all who know him. Come hear him at 7:45. You will enjoy his message.

The pastor received a good substantial "pouring" Wednesday night, the same being his birthday. Such expressions of love make life sweeter. It was sincerely appreciated. —P. W. Walthall

Mr. C. F. Redlich, the successful expert says: "The Perfect Retention Shields" hold the rupture perfectly, no matter what position the body assumes or how heavy a weight you lift. They give instant relief, contract the opening in a remarkably short time and strengthen the weak tissues (the real cause of rupture) so that they frequently recover their previous natural retaining power, needing no further outside support. Stomach trouble, backache and constipation often caused by Rupture promptly disappear. Truly remarkable and prompt results have been obtained not only with recent and not fully developed ruptures but also with old, long neglected ones. Ingenious, recently perfected devices are now holding ruptures firmly which heretofore never had been retained. No elastic belts nor filthy leg-straps are used. I guarantee to hold the rupture and also the durability of my absolutely sweat and moisture proof, sanitary appliances. 75% of ruptured children recover completely through expert mechanical treatment according to statistics. Do not waste your money on widely advertised mail order contraptions. You cannot fit yourself. C. F. REDLICH, Rupture Appliance Expert, Home office, 535 Easton Block, Minneapolis, Minnesota.
