Moore...

ABOUT Eastland
By VIRGIL E. MOORE

We have been simply amazed at the number of persons who have sat through the trial just ended in 91st District Court. An average trial of this sort would attract little attention in an average town. Maybe the interest has been shown because this is the first murder trial to actually be tried here in about five years. We like to think, though, that people of Eastland County are just a little more interested in what goes on in their public courts than the average person is.

And speaking of the 91st District Court, we are sure that you have been keeping up with Rep. Paul Brashear's bill which would add another county to the local court. The bill is an excellent one, and one which would greatly benefit the 91st District Court. We urge local citizens to write Brashear and State Senator Floyd Bradshaw asking their utmost support of the bill.

There is an air of optimism in the county these days. Recent rains—despite the fact that they haven't left much moisture in rain gauges—have done a world of good. Just drive out in any direction and look at the green grass. It's really something to see. We haven't seen it this green in Eastland since we came here in 1953.

The drought is not broken, of course, but at least we have started off on the right foot this year for a change. We honestly feel that this is the beginning of the end of the worst drought in the history of this area.

Have you heard about the mishap out at the auction barn the other day? The fellow engaged to conduct the auction out there was ill and a substitute was required post haste. Wayne Huff on happened to be standing there, and someone volunteered for him. Wayne did okay for a while, but finally he was asked to auction off a buck goat. He raced to the telephone in desperation and phoned County Agent J. M. Cooper. "Mr. Cooper," he moaned, "I'm out here at the auction barn trying to serve as auctioneer and now they have brought a creature in I don't know what it is. I never saw the likes of it. It has a gray coat, a mean and nasty look, gray whiskers, and it smells to high heaven."

"Holey mackerel," shouted Cooper. "Don't auction that. That's a farmer."

See by the big city press where the Post Office department plans to curtail postal services, possibly lay off some employees and probably end Saturday delivery of mail. Why all this? Because the department is facing a $50,000,000 deficit for this fiscal year. We laugh up our sleeves every time we read remarks made by the PO experts on how to cut expenses. It is always by limiting service to the average man and woman on the street. We are no expert, but we can tell the department in a hurry that they could break even, and probably even cut the price of postage stamps instead of jumping them if they would merely halt the delivery of junk mail. Just think yourself, how much mail do you throw in File 13 yourself each week which is marked "bulk mail." The word bulk has become a disgrace to the department.

Eastland Rotary Club Observes Golden Anniversary of Rotary

Eastland was linked today with more than 9,200 other cities and towns on the six continents as the Rotary Club of Eastland commemorated the 52nd anniversary of the founding of Rotary. The birthday of this world-wide fellowship of business and professional executives was celebrated by the local Rotary Club at its meeting in the White Elephant Cafe.

In commenting on the program of Rotary, Tom Wilson, President of the Rotary Club, said: "Rotary activities throughout the free world are based on the same general objectives as those of our own Club—the development of fellowship among business and professional men, the betterment of communities, leading boys and girls into good citizenship, the promotion of high standards in businesses and professions, and the advancement of international understanding, good will and peace."

"The one basic objective of Rotary," he continued, "is its 'Ideal of Service' which is to be thoughtful and helpful to others. To attain this objective, Rotary seeks all that which brings people together and avoids all which separates them. This is the reason why Rotary has become a world-wide institution, whose ideals have been accepted by men differing widely in language, customs, and historical backgrounds."

In tracing the growth of Rotary, President Wilson said: "The first Rotary Club was organized in Chicago on February 23, 1905, by Paul P. Harris, a young lawyer, who suggested the idea to a group of his friends. The name 'Rotary' was selected because the first meetings of the club were held, in rotation, in the offices of its members. The Rotary ideas of fellowship and service to others soon spread from city to city in the United States and Canada and then crossed the oceans to every continent."

"For more than half a century, Rotary has grown in numbers and strength. In the last 12 months, for example, more than 400 new Rotary Clubs have been organized in 50 countries, and six new countries have been added to Rotary's membership roster—Iraq, Jordan, Netherlands New Guinea, and Ruanda-Urundi and Swaziland in Africa."

"Today, Rotary is a world-wide organization of more than 439,000 business and professional executives who are members of 9,286 Rotary Clubs on the six continents."

Referring to one of the projects in which all Rotary Clubs around the world are participating, President Wilson said that the Rotary Foundation Fellowships program was inaugurated as a memorial to the founder of Rotary, Paul Harris. "These Rotary Fellowships enable outstanding graduate students to live and study for one year in a country other than their own, as ambassadors of good will, on grants averaging $2,500," he said.

"More than 900 Rotary Fellowships have been awarded to students from 60 countries in the past ten years for study in 40 countries and Rotary International's grants in this field of international understanding have amounted to $2,250,000. Through this program of other country student fellowships, Rotary is endeavoring to foster better international relations by increasing the personal contacts with the nations of the world have with each other."

Dr. E. R. Townsend, county health officer, today reminded all Eastland County citizens interested in bringing the state x-ray unit to their city of a meeting to be held Tuesday morning at 10 in the Texas Electric conference room in Eastland.

Dr. Townsend explained that he had been asked by the Texas State Health Department to hold the meeting. Representatives of civic clubs and anyone else who is interested from each town in the county has been urged to attend.

The x-ray survey has not been made in Eastland County for about three years. Plans call for bringing the unit here in early April.

A chairman will be named for each city which indicates it would like to have the unit brought there, Dr. Townsend explained.

Frank Lloyd Wright Uses Masonite Siding in Prefab

A feature of the prefabricated house designed by Frank Lloyd Wright for Erdman Homes, Madison, Wis., is the sturdy exterior siding, Masonite Ridgeline, a linear-textured hardboard. Wood battens, painted in contrasting color, give the house a sweeping horizontal look. Wright, the acknowledged leader in contemporary architecture, created a distinctive modular design using stock materials available at all building supply dealers. The Wright prestige connected with the prefab industry is expected to increase the growing stature of this one-time stepchild of the building industry.

Fathers and sons filled up the Fellowship Hall of the First Methodist Church here Friday night. The occasion was the 28th annual Father-Son community banquet sponsored by the 9:45 Bible Class of the Methodist Church.

They heard Lawrence Melton, Dallas banker, insurance man and Boy Scout leader, speak on the dangers of communism "right here in your own Texas."

Melton, who single-handedly captured 42 prisoners in the last war, told the fathers and their sons that the United States is "the greatest nation in the world." He told of an occasion when he had the opportunity to sit in the White House in Washington and talk to the late President Roosevelt.

"Where else," he asked, "could you find a country where a cotton picker country boy like me could go up and talk with his President?"

He condemned the communist movement, saying, "You better be on guard, these people are trying to ruin the 'United States.'" He explained how he became interested in the problem while serving as special investigator for the government in Texas.

The speaker declared that the basic problem in America today is that parents are too busy. "Spend more time with your boy," he urged.

Melton was introduced by Bruce Pipkin, who explained his father, Grady Pipkin, was to have made the introduction, but came down with a sore throat. M. H. Perry served as master of ceremonies.

The oldest father present was 75 and the youngest was 25. The youngest son was two years and six months old.

Following graduation from cadet training at Kelly Field, he went to the Middle East where he served with the 9th Air Force in Egypt, and with the 12th in Africa, Sicily, Italy, and England. He was with the 1st Airborne Army in France, Belgium, Holland and Germany. During this assignment, he served on the staff of Hq. SHAEF.

He participated in eight airborne invasions as a Path-Finder troop passenger pilot. Later he flew 50 combat missions in the Air Resupply operation for paratroop units.

In 1945, he was assigned to Polk Field, N. C., where he was a squadron operations officer. He flew B-26s with the 47th Bombardment Wing, Biggs Field, El Paso, Texas, in 1947 and served as a squadron operations officer. While at Biggs, he was appointed as 1st lieutenant in the Regular Air Force.

The Major attended the Air Tactical School at Tyndall Field, Fla., in 1949 and from there went to Headquarters, 12th Air Force, San Antonio, Tex., as Operations Officer.

From March 1950 to May 1953 he served as Assistant Professor of Air Science and Tactics at the University of Arkansas.

Following this assignment the Major went to Japan where he was Staff Operations Officer, 5th Air Force. He participated in the evacuation of the Tachen Islands, Formosa.

Returning to the U. S., Major Lee was assigned to the Inspector General's Office, Hq. USAF, from February 1956, until January of this year.

He has been awarded the Air Medal with three Oakleaf Clusters, Commendation ribbon, ETO with eight battle stars, American Theatre, WW II Victory, United Nations, Korean, China Navy Service, and Korean Victory Medals.

Major and Mrs. Lee, formerly from Eastland, are building a home in nearby Big Spring. They have an eight year old son—William W. Jr.

George To Return To Homeland Soon

I have been thinking for sometime that I would visit my homeland and have at last decided to do so. I have secured my passport and will, at an early date be leaving; however I am not closing the door behind me but may temporarily as passport is for 2-year period and can take advantage of that and stay or return as I wish. I take this method to say a few words to you and other friends and thank each and everyone for your wonderful friendliness to me since I have resided here. I have been 50 years in the United States, the past

38 a resident of Eastland, so, it is with much regret that I leave you. For the past 2 years I have been idle as far as employment or business is concerned, just fishing, visiting friend hereabouts and trying to regain my health. I very much appreciate the kindly attitude all have shown towards me as one of your citizens and have tried to live up to the confidence and do my part in the affairs of our community. I am humble grateful to those I feel closest to in going out of their way to make things easier for me. Without that confidence and help of friends and associates, indeed the going would have been very difficult.

During the depression years in the late '20's, I tried to do my full part in helping many unfortunate and hungry people, pay or not, and have throughout my stay in Eastland never departed from looking on the human side of life and especially the elderly and unemployed. I am very happy that in this, my eventide of life I helped all I could.

I am indeed grateful to the peace officers of Eastland county and in each precinct and city; the sheriff and his deputies. I "take off my hat" to our city police and our local Constable who were so kind to me, always making me feel secure late night and holidays and on special occasions when larger crowds than normal were with us; so with this short statement, due appreciation and thanks to all, I am always,

Your Friend,
Jim George

Hung Jury Possible In Trial

A 91st District Court all-male jury began deliberations again Saturday morning after failing to reach a verdict Friday in the George Crawford murder with malice trial.

The jury of all whites, reported to Judge Turner Collier at about 5:30 Friday afternoon that they were deadlocked. Judge Collier sent them back for further study, however. At 7 p.m. last night the jury reportedly took one more vote, still failed to reach a verdict and then adjourned for the night. It meant the fifth night to be spent in the courthouse by most jurors.

Christian Science

How spiritual understanding of God as divine Mind opens the way to greater abilities and opportunities will be brought out at Christian Science services Sunday.

Readings in the Lesson-Sermon entitled "Mind" will include the following from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy (128:14): "A knowledge of the Science of being develops the latent abilities and possibilities of man. It extends the atmosphere of thought, giving mortals access to broader and higher realms. It raises the thinker into his native air of insight and perceptivity."

The Golden Text is from Romans (12:2): "Be not conformed to this world; but be ye transformed by the renewing of your mind, that ye may prove what is that good, and acceptable, and perfect, will of God."
