Miss Hilley Is Paid $682 For Shorthorn

Charlotte Hilley of Gorman was paid $682.50 for her grand champion calf of the Eastland County Livestock Show Tuesday at the show auction held at the S. Faircloth Auction Barn in Eastland.

The Gorman First National Bank purchased the prize animal, which weighed 1,050 pounds. Price paid was $65.

The reserve champion, shown by Pat Agnew of Rising Star, was purchased by the Rising Star Chamber of Commerce for $375.45, a price of $39.

Other sales prices will be published in Sunday's Telegram. The list was still being compiled at presstime.

Red Cross County Drive Nears Quota

The Red Cross fund campaign in Eastland County reached the 86 percent of its $61,150 quota this week, Mrs. E. E. Freyschlag, county chairman, announced today.

Fifty-two thousand dollars has been collected to date, Mrs. Freyschlag said. In Eastland, $1,550 of the $1,900 goal has been gained. Gorman has reached its quota of $600 and is expected to go far over the top. Rising Star, with a $500 quota, is still incomplete and Olden has $66.15, more than its $40 quota.

Carbon has gone over its $40 quota, but tabulations are still incomplete. In the rural areas, $190 of the $360 goal has been reached. Ranger raised $828.50 in its Community Chest for the Red Cross and Cisco turned in $1,900 to the Red Cross from its Community Chest drive.

Mrs. Freyschlag urged all Eastland County citizens missed in the campaign to mail their contributions in.

"We have attempted to reach every county home, but in some areas there has been no call back, and if so, the residents were still not there," Mrs. Freyschlag said.

Grand Opening Of New Conoco Station Saturday

"The Sweetest Deal In Town." That's what Faircloth's Conoco Service Station, Eastland's newest, is offering Saturday during their grand opening.

A free sack of sugar will be given with each fill-up, Cecil Faircloth, manager, said Thursday.

There will be gifts for everyone at the new station, which is located at 601 West Main.

Faircloth said, "We are pleased to announce that our sparkling new service station selling Continental Oil Company products will have its formal opening Saturday, April 2. Won't you come in Saturday to help us make our opening a big success."

John Samuels Member of New College Club

John Samuels, son of Mr. and Mrs. D. Samuels of Eastland, is a member of Senatus Romanus, men's social club which was newly reactivated on the campus of McMurry College.

The club, which has been inactive since the close of the 1951-52 year, was reorganized in March. Purpose of McMurry's nine social clubs for men and women students, according to vice-president W. B. McDaniel, is to promote social and cultural growth among their members, and to boost fellowship and school spirit at the college.

Moore Goes To Hereford Brand, Hereford, Texas

Virgil E. Moore, who has been with the Telegram the past year and a half, has resigned as managing editor to accept an editorial position with the Hereford Brand at Hereford, Texas.

He enters upon his duties there April 1. Presently his family—his wife, Frances, and their two young sons, Virgil E. Moore III and George Richard—are visiting her parents in Denton but will join him soon at Hereford. Mr. Moore came to Eastland from the Edinburg Review and he and his family have been active in various phases of community life.

"While it is with deep regret that we lose Mr. Moore from our staff, we understand his desire to accept a more lucrative position in a larger field, and our hearty good wishes accompany the Moores to their new home," said Floyd Casebolt, editor and publisher.

"The vacancy in our staff will be filled shortly and announcement of the replacement made at that time."

Program chairman for the day was Everett Plowman. He introduced Don Hart, Texas Electric representative, who presented a film on advantages of correct home wiring.

MOTHER'S LITTLE HELPER—It's the toy vacuum cleaner—not the little girl—that's going to be a big help to mother. Battery powered, the tank-type cleaner actually picks up crumbs and dust, is designed to keep Sis busy while Mother gets on with the cleaning. It's one of the many "grownup" toys manufacturers are now showing in New York City as they prepare to make a clean sweep of the 1955 Christmas trade.

Five members of the Sam McKinnon Camp 59, W.S.W.V.—the youngest being 77 years old—met in the home of Patrick H. Couch, 502 South Seaman, this week.

The five, making up the entire membership of the organization, have a combined age of 405 years. Oldest member is Ed J. Cox, who served in Co. E, Second U.S. Volunteer Infantry. He is 86. Next in age is Mr. Couch, who served in Co. E, 23rd Infantry. He is 84.

Mr. Vermillion, spokesman for the group, said, "This was the first time we had met in three years, some one or two of us being in the hospital. Each comrade had a new or old story to tell and we paid up all dues for 1955. We met and parted without any discord, to meet again . . . when?"

The Commercial Department of E.H.S. has been working hard for the Interscholastic League Contest. The test will be held Saturday, April 2, in Albany under the direction of Mrs. Ethel Woloszyn.

Eastland Echoes

By Casey

THOUGHT FOR TODAY: "Not failure, but low aim, is a crime." — (Ernest Holmes).

Not long ago we had a brief visit with our friend, Publisher Rufus Higgs, over at Stephenville—and he told him about our coming to Eastland (which, we found, he already knew about). "Fine place, Eastland," he said. "Know you're going to enjoy living and working there." We assured him that is already the case.

"My wife was working a crossword puzzle the other night when I came in, and she said: 'What's a female sheep?' and I said, 'Ewe'—and that's how a new war started!" — (H. G. Ny)

Other day we had some mats rolled off a cut of the picture of Preacher Harvey Kimbler. Now, he says: "You've ruined me, I'm balding, but what you sent me shows me to have a full head of hair." But the fact of the matter is—we have an idea—he's "tickled pink." . . . Several of us around town probably will be looking for the same break.

Not always—but lots of times—"life is what we make it." We'll never forget what the immortal Mark Twain said: "Wrinkles should merely indicate where smiles have been."

Working with Virgil Moore has been most enjoyable to all of us here at the Telegram and we sincerely regret that he's leaving us, having resigned to take a better-paying job on a bigger paper in a larger town—Hereford. At the same time, we love to see a friend move up in the world, and he's capable and deserves it. To Virgil, Frances, "Trippy" and George Richard—lots of happiness and success.

Halkiases, Father and Son, Given Honors By Eastland Masonry

Bringing the fraternal thrill of a lifetime to Ernest J. Halkias of Wichita Falls—formerly for three decades a resident of Eastland—Eastland Masonic Lodge No. 467 sent a delegation of 28 members to Wichita Falls Tuesday night for the conferring of a master's degree on Mr. Halkias' son, John Earnest.

Not only that, but the Eastland lodge officers were present: Wayne Jackson, worshipful master; T. L. Amis, chaplain; Aubrey Van Hoy, junior warden; Darwin Miller, junior deacon; H. P. Penz, treasurer, secretary, and Hugh Mahaffey, tiler.

There were two other honors for Halkias' senior: He had the honor of participating in the ceremony elevating his son and he himself received a 25-year-membership pin.

Formal Opening Of Wayne Motors Friday, Saturday

There will be Cokes for everyone and door prizes for the more lucky individuals Friday and Saturday at the grand opening of Eastland's new Mercury-Linear dealer—Wayne Motors.

Wayne Hudson, owner and manager of Eastland County's newest dealership, said that there would be suckers for the children and Cokes for everyone. Door prizes, including large hams, will be awarded. Other prizes will include free dinners at the White Elephant Cafe and motor tune-ups.

Mr. Hudson, a graduate of Texas A&M, has more than seven years experience in the automobile business. He sold his dealership in Yokum before coming here.

Service manager at Wayne Motors is Delbert Taylor. The Mercury dealership is located at 304 East Main.

Mr. Hudson urged everyone to come by and "get acquainted, have a Coke and look at the new 1955 Mercury."

Friends of Mr. Halkias, a native of Greece who was in the cafe business at the Majestic Cafe here for many years, and who now operates a restaurant at Wichita Falls, say that he "is in business at Wichita, but his heart is in Eastland."

He still owns two or three buildings here and, they say, when he retires, he'll be coming back to Eastland to spend the last years of his life among his old friends of yesteryear.

Making the trip, besides the degree team, on a chartered bus were: George Ford, E. M. Gattis, J. A. Coplin, Don Hart, C. W. McAdams, Ray Laney, Lee Horn, M. S. Dry, Henry Pullman, H. L. Jackson, J. A. May, Don Hill, C. B. Miller, C. H. McPee, Jack Hall, D. E. Vermillion, C. H. O'Brien, J. V. Cox.

The bus trippers were a sleepy-eyed group, when they got home—for it was 4 a.m. because of a delay en route due to the gears on the vehicle locking.

But with the joy and gratitude Ernest Halkias fresh in their recollections, it was well worth the travel experience—many times over.

HAZARD TO NAVIGATION—A "sap" at the helm has imperiled many a ship, but this is perhaps the first time that tree sap has proved a hazard to a steamship's progress. The 49-year-old Ticonderoga, making a 9000-foot overland journey from Lake Champlain to the Shelburne, Vt., Museum, is encountered by Farmer Denny Waller, who is making the rounds of his sugar bush with his sap-collection rig. Maple sap running free means "spring thaw," and spring thaw means that the last of the Lake Champlain sidewheelers may hang up on a mud bank before she can complete the journey to her final berth on the museum's grounds.

Moore... SPORTS
by VIRGIL E. MOORE

Our favorite hate is saying goodbye. But there comes a time, when a season in a man's lifetime, that the farewells must come forth. For Moore about the time is now. We leave today for Hereford to be a spring here with the Reginald Brand. We hate to leave, for we have enjoyed our stay in Eastland more than we have in any other place we have ever lived in. It includes the old home town.

We have, however, been offered a job that we feel that we cannot turn down. Promotions in the newspaper field do not come to often, and to turn them down is hard. For us it is almost as hard to take it as to turn it down, however. We appreciate all the kindness Eastland has shown us. We have received much more from the town than we have returned.

The Telegram is being left in the hands of a man far better qualified than Moore About. You have, no doubt, already noticed the improvement in the newspaper. We are sure that Mr. Casebolt will be bringing in some prizes for Eastland in the near future, for he puts out that kind of newspaper.

Yep, there's no more Moore About Eastland.

Mystery Mocha Cake - Dessert with a Touch of Abracadabra!

Do you find, somehow, that an air of mystery is just about the hardest thing in the world to impart to your baking activities? Cockeyed, these days, is a brisk and business-like affair. But sometimes, it's fun to baffle the family with a muttered "abracadabra" and a mysterious culinary effect. When this Houdini-like mood steals over you, that's the time to set the stage for a Mystery Mocha Cake.

Begin your act by inviting everybody into the kitchen and showing them that you have nothing up your sleeve. Then let them observe you pouring a perfectly plain cake batter into an everyday, unmythical ring mold. Sprinkle sugar and cocoa on top before their very eyes. Then boldly pour a cup of coffee over all before you pop the cake into the oven.

When the baking is finished, just turn the cake out with a dramatic flourish. There's the cake, and lavishly and deliciously distributed over it is a thick, rich mocha sauce. Who made it? You didn't, and they didn't! It made itself! In addition

Classified Ads.. Remarkable Record

Let's take a look at a major production of the oil industry. But, first, let's consider: The prices, back in 1925, for example. Remember? When you could get a new small car for $500; a good cigar for a nickel; a reliable watch for a dollar? Gone forever, perhaps, those days. Yet, believe it or not, there are a few commodities in general use still selling around the 1925 figure. We have in mind, just now, gasoline—the oil industry's principal product and, thus, of much interest to our oilbelt. Other than taxes, over which the industry has no control, and which we are up 250 per cent, gasoline now costs only slightly more than it did in 1925. Why? Such factors as vast consumption, scientific research and intense competition. It seems to us that the industry is to be congratulated for (exclusive of the huge taxes) holding the price line, which, of course, is to the distinct advantage of a vast number of people.

MORE LUXURY OUTSIDE
You'll be understandably proud of the long, low, flowing lines of your new Plymouth. Its 17 feet of shining steel make it the biggest car of the low-price 3 (8.4 inches longer than one car, 5.3 inches ahead of the other). And its glamorous new Full-View windshield, with swept-back corner posts, gives you wider, safer visibility than either of the "other 2" low-price cars.

MORE COMFORT INSIDE
Plymouth's greater over-all dimensions also mean more interior roominess. You get the widest front seat (by up to 2 inches), the greatest front and rear leg room (by up to 3.7 inches). Plymouth's door openings are higher and wider, too, permitting the easiest possible entry and exit. What's more, Plymouth's new trunk is mammoth—with far greater capacity than the "other 2."

SMOOTHER BIG-CAR RIDE
Only a truly big car like Plymouth can give you the luxury of a big-car ride. Plymouth's longer and stronger frame, wider rear springs and Oriflow shock absorbers provide the smoothest ride in the lowest-price field. And Plymouth's great new 6-cylinder PowerFlow 117 gives you the smoothest, thriftiest performance. Another top engine: Plymouth's new 167-hp Hy-Fire V-8.

Enlistment In Overseas Bound Unit Possible

"The U.S. Army will accept 70 young men each week through May 3 from the Fourth Army units for direct assignment to the 10th Infantry Division under the Army's new and revolutionary Operation Gyroscope, which allows direct enlistments into Army units bound for overseas commands," Sgt Edward G. Lows, Army recruiter, said in a visit here this week.

The 10th Infantry Division, now stationed at Fort Riley, Kansas, is scheduled to replace the 1st Infantry Division in Wurzburg, Germany, this summer.

Technically known as the Unit Rotation Plan, the term "Gyroscope" has been applied to punctuate the "rotation with stability" phase used to describe the result of the plan. The plan calls for rotation of units up to division level to replace similar sized units currently stationed in overseas commands. The 10th Infantry Division is the first unit selected for "Gyroscope" type rotation with more units scheduled to follow in the near future.

Sgt. Lows may be contacted in Eastland each Tuesday or at the courthouse in Breckenridge.

Tax Problem Is Clarified By Government

The Internal Revenue Service, today clarified the new provision of the Federal income tax law which permits a taxpayer to treat as one property any separate mineral interests which constitute all or part of an operating unit.

A taxpayer electing the benefits of this provision is required to submit certain evidence in support of his election, and some misunderstanding has existed as to the evidence required.

Temporary rules published on December 31, 1954, require the taxpayer taking advantage of this provision to attach to his return property maps and other explanatory data necessary to identify the operating unit and the properties in such operating unit which are being aggregated, as well as the properties which are being treated separately.

It is not necessary to submit maps and other detailed information for any mineral interests which are not within an operating unit for which the taxpayer has exercised an election to aggregate. The detailed information is required, however, for all interests within any operating unit for which the election has been exercised, including those interests within such unit which the taxpayer has elected to treat as separate mineral interests.

We enjoyed a chat with a former Cheaney resident, Wesley Elliott and his wife, Wanda while in Ranger Saturday afternoon. Wesley told us he is employed by the Fort Worth Star Telegram. The couple visits in Ranger quite often with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Levi Cozart, and his mother, Mrs. Lewis Mitchell.

The Bill Tuckers and their guests visited Mr. and Mrs. Sam Wallace at Gorman Sunday afternoon. They also visited the site of the old Johnson school house where the Wallace children attended school long ago, and the old farm where they once lived near the Liberty Baptist church.

The Charlie Millers and John and Betty Tucker enjoyed a fish fry Sunday night. We never could see how some people can catch fish — turtles always detach our special bait from the hook, seems like.

Mrs. Lura Bell Hines and sons visited the Sanford Lemey home while here from East Texas to see her mother, Mrs. Ethel Ramsey in Gorman.

Mrs. Ann Love suffered an arm injury Tuesday morning when she fell at her home. She was taken to Ranger for treatment, but the seriousness of the injury has not been determined.

Years to Build, Seconds to Destroy—

... is a tragic reminder to those who are unfortunate in losing their worldly possessions without adequate insurance protection. Years of effort, savings and accomplishment... wiped out in a single catastrophe. It may be only an explosion, a fire, a tornado, or something worse if we can imagine such a thing. It can happen anywhere, any time, to any one, without warning. Insurance is the only answer. So why be unprepared when the cost is so reasonable?

FOOD FARE

"Potatoes In Popular Ways" is the title of a U.S. Department of Agriculture booklet which points out important facts about this nourishing, but often undervalued vegetable.

"Penny for penny," says the booklet, "they have more energy-giving value than any other vegetable." When you eat them daily, you get "a goodly portion of your Vitamin C quota, besides B vitamins, iron and important minerals." And, it points out, potatoes need not be fattening.

"A medium-sized potato has about 100 calories — no more than an apple. If you are watching your weight, watch the gravy, butter or other fat that you put on the potatoes. It's those that pile up the calories," says the Department.

To get most food value from potatoes cook them in their jackets. Boiling is preferable to baking—retaining more vitamins and flavor. So start with potatoes boiled in their jackets, even if you ultimately intend to serve them creamed, mashed or any other way.

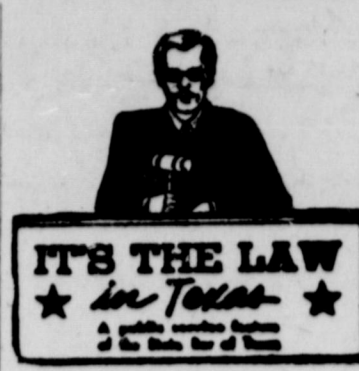

Good potato values come in Union Bag and Paper Corporation's mesh window paper bags. They are well ventilated and protected from light burns and excess condensation. Clear printing on paper bags lets you see at a glance the grade and size of potato you are buying.

In baking potatoes, wash and dry them, then bake in a hot oven (425° Fahrenheit, 40 to 60 minutes). Rubbing a little fat on the potato before baking will keep the skin nice and soft. You can save fuel by baking potatoes while you overcook other foods. If the other food requires a moderate oven, allow a little extra time for the potatoes to bake.

In boiling potatoes, first scrub them, then drop them into a kettle of boiling water. Put lid on and, when finished, drain at once so the potatoes don't get water-logged.

Buy potatoes in quantity, they are cheaper that way. And keep them in a cool, but not cold temperature — preferably in a dark place.

A valuable list of tasty recipes using potatoes is offered by the Bureau of Home Economics, Agriculture Research Administration, U.S. Dept. of Agriculture, Washington, D. C. Write for it. It's free.

FORE!

"Fore!" yelled Glen Glibb as he sized up the fairway in front of him. "Petter wait," cautioned another member of his foursome. "Those people aren't out of range yet."

"Well, they're too slow," growled Glen. "I'll just crack one over their heads—that'll speed 'em up a little."

There was a resounding crack as Glen drove, and the golf ball out low and hard along the right side of the fairway. As the players watched, admiring the fine shot, the ball began to curve to the left, hooking toward the two men and two women in the fairway. "Fore," Glen yelled frantically, and one of the women moved desperately to one side, ducking her head. The ball struck her on the arm.

Warning Necessary

In all of his conduct which might result in harm to another player, or to a caddy, the golfer must exercise reasonable and ordinary care, according to the circumstances. It is well known that driven balls do not always travel in the straight course intended, but the player must reasonably foresee the likelihood of injury to others from his driven ball, and use the care necessary to prevent such injury.

One duty of a golfer is to give timely warning of an intended drive if the other player is not aware of such intention, but in some cases a mere warning is not enough. The golfer is not necessarily an insurer of the safety of others with references to the balls he drives, nor is he guilty of negligence merely because the ball deflects from its intended course, but he must have in mind the possibilities of dangers to others.

Ordinary Care Needed

In the case above, Glen was at fault. The players were obviously in a danger zone, and the mere shouted warning was not sufficient to protect them, especially since their backs were to Glen, and they were proceeding ahead of him, in a place where under the rules of the game, they had a right to be.

On the golf course, remember, use just ordinary reasonable care to see that other players are protected. Be sure they know when you are going to drive, if they are in a danger zone, and don't deliberately drive into the people ahead of you.

Dust, Cooler Air Due From Mild Norther

Gusts of southwestern and western winds are expected to kick up some dust and a few scattered clouds along with cooler temperatures this afternoon.

However, before the temperatures change for the cooler, it's going to crawl to about 82 here. The cooler temperatures are expected from a mild norther forecast to blow into this area near nightfall.

Chances for rain in the area are not likely. The push of cool air from the Pacific isn't likely to set off any showers until it nears East Texas sometime during the night. Most of the state experienced warm and sunny skies Wednesday and similar weather is expected Thursday until the norther strikes. There has been no report of rain anywhere in the state during this week.

The Livestock Show was a great success even though the weather was freezing. Eastland boys won in every class. Eastland was well represented at the show. The Eastland Agriculture class worked long and hard cleaning up the barn and building pens for the event. Monday they started cleaning it out and tearing down pens again.

There were 82 head of grown hogs and 68 head of unweaned pigs. The sheep division had approximately 85 head of fat lambs and 18 fat calves.

Next year the Livestock Association expects to build a larger hog barn and expand the entire show. The show is growing every year.

KLONDIKE QUEEN

CHICAGO — Mae West was unanimously selected by the residents of Dawson City, Yukon Territory as "Queen of the Klondike," a title authorized by the Yukon Territory Chamber of Commerce and its mayor, John R. Colbourne. The title was bestowed on Miss West at ceremonies in the Chez Paree here by John Baker, president of the Klondike Big Inch Land company, sent as a representative of the people of Dawson. Baker presented Miss West with an official deed to one square inch of land in the Klondike and a real gold watch.

The title was given to Miss West because, according to a telegram received from Mayor Colbourne, Miss West "so magnificently typifies all the romance and excitement of the fabulous legend long associated with the gold rush country."

FOUR YEAR MILK FIGHT—The first of three $500 checks is being presented to Ernest Stewart of Brownwood, after he sustained a $1500 loss in 1950 when a milk plant refused to buy his product when he joined the Central West Texas Milk Producers' Association. Presenting the check is W. K. Frey, manager of the dairymen's association, whose office is at Abilene.

Dairyman Gets Cash Following Milk Dispute

At least one dairyman in central west Texas is mighty happy right now in spite of the drouth and high priced feed.

Ernest Stewart of Brownwood was presented the first of three $500 checks last week in a dairy meeting in Brownwood.

The check, presented by W. K. Frey, manager of the Central West Texas Producers Association, was for losses incurred from Feb. to Sept., 1950 when a milk plant to whom Stewart had been selling milk refused to buy his product after he joined the Central West Texas Milk Producers Association, and encouraged others to do so.

Purpose of the Association is to guarantee a market for the milk of its members, and to assure a reliable supply of good milk for the consuming public at a price they can afford to pay, and at which the dairyman can afford to produce.

More than 85 percent of the dairymen in Central West Texas are members of this association, and every member is guaranteed a market for his milk.

J. P. Herrington of Ranger is the local representative on the board of directors of the association.

Mrs. T. M. Alford visited in Fort Worth Monday with her husband who is working there temporarily for Texas Electric Company with whom he is employed in Eastland.

SEX OF ONE'S WORTH HALF DOZEN OF THE OTHER—And that's why chicken sexors can earn as much as $100 a day, according to George Sugano, second from left, president of the National Chicken-Sexing Association. Sharp Increase In Gas Rates Threatens Area Consumers

Lone Star Gas Company's 700,000 customers in Texas and Oklahoma are threatened with sharply increased costs of gas service by the announced plan of Natural Gas Pipeline Company of America to take large quantities of gas from Jack and Wise Counties, Texas, to Chicago, Illinois, D. A. Hulcy, Lone Star Gas Company President, said today.

"Natural Gas Pipeline Company of America proposes to purchase this gas in the fields of Jack and Wise Counties at a comparable price more than 50 per cent higher than the average now being paid in those counties," Mr. Hulcy said. "Should Natural Gas Pipeline institute such high prices it would mean that Lone Star, in order to continue to insure a supply of gas adequate for the future needs of its more than 700,000 customers in Texas and Oklahoma, would have to meet this price not only in Jack and Wise Counties, but, ultimately, all over its system."

"This would serve to increase Lone Star's annual expenditure for gas purchased in Texas and Oklahoma by more than $10 million, and this increase, as a part of the necessary cost of service, would have to be paid by our industrial, commercial and residential customers."

"Lone Star's average price for gas purchased has almost doubled since 1950. The producer received 31.2 cents out of every dollar received for gas service by Lone Star in 1954 from its customers, practically every one of which is served at the burner tip after completion of transmission and distribution operations. Nearly 1-3 of the customers' dollar paid for gas service goes to the producer on Lone Star Gas system."

"Historically, Lone Star has always met its obligation to protect its customers against any unwarranted rise in the cost of gas service. Our customers and regulatory authorities, as well, have the right to expect this to be done. We are, therefore, opposing Natural Gas Pipeline Company of America's proposal with every facility at our command."

"The Federal Power Commission has granted our petition for leave to intervene (in opposition) in the hearing before the Commission on Natural Gas Pipeline Company of America's application to construct and operate a 350-mile pipeline extending from Wise County, Texas, through Oklahoma to the Texas Panhandle to deliver gas to Natural Gas Pipeline Company's pipe line system serving the people of Chicago."

"Lone Star is not alone in opposition to this threatening proposal. Other gas service companies operating in this part of the country have taken positive steps in opposition. These companies are Oklahoma Natural Gas Company, serving a large area in Oklahoma; Consolidated Gas Utilities Corporation, serving parts of Oklahoma and Southern Kansas; State Fuel Supply Company, also serving a portion of Oklahoma and Upland Gas Company, serving a number of towns in North Texas, including Mineral Wells and Weatherford. The problem of these companies and their customers in this connection are obviously the same as Lone Star's.

"It may be," Mr. Hulcy further stated, "that some producers will criticize Lone Star for taking this action of opposition to Natural Gas Pipeline Company's proposal. In this case, and in all cases, Lone Star must and does consider the long range best interest of its customers and of its producers, as well. Both groups are essential to the business of offering a complete gas service from the producer to the consumer. Any producer who criticizes our action in this case is placing himself in the position of supporting a large increase in the cost of gas service to our 700,000 customers which they unquestionably would think unwarranted.

"Lone Star has always been, is now, and expects to be in the future, a strong partisan of the true and realistic interests of the producer. Lone Star has proved this over the years by its purchasing of oil well gas when no one else would; by its laying of millions of dollars worth of gathering lines to provide a market to all gas producers along its system; and by paying reasonable field prices.

During the last few years field prices in this territory have skyrocketed. Lone Star's field prices have skyrocketed, too, though not to the heights proposed by Natural Gas Pipeline Company of America.

"Lone Star's field prices must have been encouraging to the producer because he has developed in

Doug Williamson Gets Cage Letter At Ranger College

Douglas Williamson is one of twelve members of the 1954-55 Ranger Junior College basketball team who earned varsity letters, Coach Stan Burnham announced.

Used Semi-Trailer Makes Ideal Civil Defense Office

CHARLOTTE, N. C.—Fruehauf Trailer Company recently sold to the local Civil Defense authorities here a used trailer which has been refurbished and made into an economical but ideal Civil Defense headquarters.

The unit is lettered "Charlotte-Mecklenburg County Mobile Control Center." The trailer provides a complete office with such items as tiled floor, fluorescent lighting, complete insulation throughout including plywood in roof, and jalousie type windows.

It can be moved to a rural area, miles from possible targets, as these mobile offices carry two-way radio equipment. In a way it has the same principle as the recent elaborate equipment installed by the City of Los Angeles in which three Fruehauf trailer units formed mobile communications centers which could, if necessary, ring the entire metropolitan area of the city and each one could become the main office in the event that the headquarters located in the city were knocked out.

Jet Specialists Get Intensive Training In AF

"A medium jet bomber wing today includes 942 aircraft maintenance men," according to Sergeant Grady Hoyle, local United States Air Force recruiter.

Many of these men are expertly trained technicians specializing in jet engine maintenance and repair.

Where do these top-flight maintenance men receive their training? The Technical Training Air Force, a new and important subdivision of the Air Training Command, is responsible for the training of these and other technicians of the Air Force that handle the 199 technical positions.

If an airman is to become an airplane mechanic, he enrolls at Sheppard Air Force Base at Wichita Falls, Texas, where students learn maintenance and repair of jet and reciprocating engine aircraft.

The prospective jet engine mechanic enters training at Amarillo Air Force Base in the Texas panhandle region. Amarillo is the Air Force's first all-jet mechanics school.

The courses at both are complete and the instructors are armed with the latest in training devices as well as a first-hand knowledge of their subject. Utilizing the "learn-while-doing" method of teaching, practical training is the keynote in every classroom and on every airstrip.

The success of Technical Training Air Force may be measured by the fact that in their first three years of operation, they have graduated over one million technicians, many of whom are currently serving in all part of the world with the Air Force.

Qualified young men, interested in jet mechanics and other technical courses offered by the Air Force, are urged to visit Sergeant Hoyle at the Courthouse in Eastland each Monday.

Your New SOCIAL SECURITY

(Editor's Note: This is another in a series of articles prepared for farm families by R. R. Tuley, Jr., District Manager of the Social Security Administration office in Abilene.)

The self-employed farmer, rancher, or cotton ginner will begin to have in 1955 the same sort of protection for himself and his family against income loss by reason of old age or death that other self-employed persons gained in 1951.

The old-age and survivors insurance provisions of the Social Security Act have a purpose that might be summed up in this short phrase: "Replacement of a portion of a lost income where the loss is caused by old age or death. Later articles will deal with how large a replacement is possible, and to whom such payments are made."

Large corporations have intricate profit and loss statements and batteries of accountants busily engaged in compiling them. Most merchants maintain rather detailed records of inventories, receipts, losses, etc. What sort of records must the farmer keep in order to know whether he must make a special social security report in 1956 on his 1955 earnings?

There are no set rules or particular bookkeeping systems prescribed by the law. However, the records, of whatever nature they may be, must be sufficiently complete to support a finding that there was or was not a net profit for the year. And, to keep his social security protection in force even though drought or other bad years, the farmer who has a gross income of more than $1800 may claim credit for either his actual net income or a special figure of $900 if he failed to net that much. The farmer whose gross income is below $1800 may also take social security credit for either his actual net income or one-half of his gross income, but here that figure must be at least $400 or no social security credit is possible. Farmer A grosses $3700 but his true net profit is only $500 — he can legally report $500 or $900. Farmer B grosses $1700, but nets only $500 — he can report either $500 or $850. Farmer C grosses only $799, and nets less than $400 — he can have no social security credits for that year.

Later articles will give more details, or if you prefer to write us a card or letter, we'll send you our free booklet, "Facts for Farm Families." Our mailing address is Social Security Administration, Abilene, Texas.

Remember, the records of the self-employed farmer must be complete enough to show his gross income from his farming operations, his operating expenses, and finally, his net profit. Income from renting out a pasture, or a part of the farm itself, on a true rental agreement does not count toward Social Security credits for the farm owner. Only income traceable to actual operation of the farm or ranch can be used in building up a social security account.

Completing and mailing the coupon below will bring you even more details on just what this new Social Security coverage will mean to you and your family. Social Security Administration, Abilene, Texas.

Please send me the free booklet, "Facts for Farm Families."
