PRICE FIVE CENTS

Moore... ABOUT Eastland

By VIRGIL E. MOORE

Joe Cook, the guy we consider one of the best newspapermen in the business, and a product of Eastland, was in to see us Monday.

Joe, editor of the Mission Times, found himself in the middle of the governor's race when Ralph Yarborough charged Gov. Shivers with awarding state printing contracts to his own firm. The Mission Times is owned by Cook and by Gov. Shivers' mother-in-law. Shivers himself owns no stock in the company.

Cook naturally didn't like the insinuation that his firm was involved in graft. That's why he bothered to explain "just what happened." Joe freely admitted that he did get some State printing contracts last year — one per cent of all State printing. And he said the reason that he did was because he submitted the low bid on the jobs.

The freeze that killed much of the Valley's fruit trees put Cook's printing company in the State printing business. Cook found himself with a big payroll to meet and with a lot of money tied up in costly equipment. That's when he decided to enter a bid on some State printing jobs. Realizing that it would take an exceptionally low bid to get the job, Cook figured his bid on a break-even basis. That is, he wanted to get enough money out of the bid to keep his employees on the payroll, without losing money. That's what he did, and that's how he explained the situation. As for making any profit, Cook said, "You can ask any printer. You just don't make any profit out of a State printing contract."

Joe is quite naturally for Shivers. And he favors him enough to spend much of his own time aiding him.

We noticed something mighty unusual this morning. Seems that last night both candidates for governor paused long enough in their charges against each other to tell the voters something they would do if elected.

Yarborough said if elected he would do something about "the Fort Arthur situation." He said he will go to Fort Arthur and in 30 days settle the strike that is "putting neighbor against neighbor."

And Shivers told voters he would help farmers get a reduction in prices for drought relief feeds and federal planting acreage credit for land they have not put in production because of the drought if re-elected.

Couple of errors we spotted in Sunday's paper. Seems that the backshop doesn't think pictures need captions to explain them anymore. That picture on page one was of the Farm Bureau Queen and King. The girl was Miss Irma Lilly and the boy Franklin Myrick.

The other mistake was ours. In the story on garbage collecting, we said the most common charge as shown by the survey was $1 a week. Naturally that should have

Paul Brashear Says Burkett Court Enemy

"I firmly believe in the protection and preservation of your public institutions and if I am elected as your representative, I will devote every effort at all times to see that none of these are taken away from you for any reason whatsoever, and particularly, because of any personal grudge between individuals," Paul Brashear, candidate for State Representative of the 76th District, said in a radio address over Station KEEC this afternoon.

Brashear said, "I call to your attention again the fact that during the last regular session of the State Legislature, my opponent introduced House Bill 269, which had as its sole purpose, and only purpose, the abolition of the 91st Court of Eastland County, and the inclusion of Eastland County in the 90th Judicial District of Stephens and Young Counties. This bill, under Mr. Burkett's sponsorship, quickly passed through the House of Representatives. However, due to the prompt action of our State Senator and other friends of the people of Eastland County, the bill was stalemated in the Senate and was never passed into law. Later in the same session, Mr. Burkett, on April 28,

On or about 21 August he will be flown back to Dallas to muster out and return to his home.

Gorman GI Is Now In England

UPPER HEYFOZD, ENGLAND (Spl.) — Pvt. Harold G. Higginbottom, son of R. M. Higginbottom, Route 1, Gorman, is now serving in England with the 4th Anti-Aircraft Artillery Battalion.

He is a mechanic in the battalion, part of the 32d AAA Brigade, which engages in joint training exercises with the U. S. and Royal Air Forces and the British Army.

Pvt. Higginbottom entered the Army this February and completed basic training at Fort Bliss, Tex.

Jessop Joins U. S. Air Force

James Dale Jessop, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Jessop, formerly of Eastland and now of New Mexico, left this week for the U. S. Air Force.

He attended Eastland schools and was a member of the football squad, playing halfback. One of his goals is to participate in the sports program in the Air Force.

S-Sgt. Grady Hoyle, of the Eastland Enrollment Office, made the announcement.

1955, voted for the final passage of House Bill 565, which affected the entire judicial system of the State of Texas, but in particular, called for the creation of all new courts throughout the state and the abolition of only two. It should be noted particularly that one of these two courts was again the 91st District Court of Eastland County."

Brashear, who is running for his first elected office said, "Burkett has made frantic efforts in recent weeks to justify his legislative record in this regard on the basis of economy, but the fact that he did support a bill creating 11 new courts while abolishing only two, clearly shows that economy was not the true reason why he supported such legislation. The only logical conclusion that can be made is that in truth and in fact, Mr. Burkett's efforts were motivated by the fact that the present presiding judge of the 91st District Court defeated Mr. Burkett for a seat in the State Legislature several years ago and this fact must never have been forgotten or forgiven by him."

Saying he favored the Gilmer-Aiken public school law as passed by the special legislature, Brashear said Burkett "at all times" opposed "such legislation."

"Again, the basis for his position was the question of economy," Brashear said, "but this can hardly be justified in view of the fact that the purpose was accomplished without the necessity of increased taxes. He has further attempted to justify his stand because of opposition to two or three particular provisions of the law. I will certainly not say that I consider the law perfect in every respect and will not say that I consider the law perfect in every respect and will concede that a careful study of it might suggest that certain amendments were and are necessary. As in all other matters of this type, the legislation will probably be amended and improved from time to time, but at present, I say it is right and just and good for the people of Texas, and a negative, do-nothing approach to our problems will never promote the kind of progress that we, in Texas, have always sought."

Brashear also condemned a bill Purkett introduced which would have set a minimum salary for constables. Saying the bill would have increased the salaries of Eastland County constables approximately $2,400 per year, Brashear said that in the last three years $21,950 in constables' salaries have been paid while only $1,902.30 in fees has been taken in.

Brashear also hit a bill introduced by Burkett that would have "provided for the probation of this driver's license suspension in cases where the defendant needed to drive the car in business."

In concluding his talk, Brashear said, "I want to help work out a practical plan of water conservation throughout our drought-stricken state, and I will strive for an expanded program of rural telephones and electrification."

Farmers Must Comply With Whole Allotment Program To Be Eligible For Price Supports On 1955 Crops

A compliance by farmers to all allotment requirements in 1955 to become eligible for price support of any crop next year is pointed out in an announcement by Emmett E. Powell, manager of the Eastland County office of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee.

He said that in addition to wheat, cotton and peanut allotments there will be a general crop allotment for 1955, to possibly include oats, barley, rye and all grain sorghums.

Details are not yet available he added, but just as they are received the information will be passed on to Eastland County farmers.

To be eligible for price on any 1955 crop a producer must be within all allotments established for the individual farm. Powell states that this also applies to eligibility for aid in the construction of tanks, terraces, brush control or any other practices for which assistance is offered.

"This practically eliminates the 15-acre wheat limit," he declared. "For example, a producer has a four-acre allotment and he sows and harvests 15 acres of wheat."

Rockets, Jumbos Are Honored By Their Mothers

Players and their managers of two of Eastland's summer baseball teams were honored at an ice cream supper at the city park last night.

The White Elephant Jumbos and the Don Pierso Rockets were the teams honored. Norman Guest and Gene Townsend, managers of the Jumbos, and Grady Hoyle, manager of the Rockets, along with James Wright, president of the Eastland Baseball organization, were all awarded shirts by the players.

Mothers of the players played hosts. Clyde Manning of Foremost Dairies furnished ice cream for the affair.

There is no penalty on the wheat when it is sold, but the producer is not eligible for price support on any crop grown on the farm, nor any help on soil building practices.

Powell explained that because of drought conditions producers are permitted to sow wheat in excess of their allotment provided the excess wheat is grazed out, used as green manure or hay crop and not allowed to reach maturity.

Tom Warden Is Honored By His Fellow Employees

Tom Warden, veteran right-of-way and claims agent for Lone Star Gas Company in Eastland, got a pretty fair idea Friday night of just how fellow employees feel about him.

More than 100 of them and their wives and husbands attended a picnic and dance in his honor at City Park. And they presented him with a $75 gift certificate for a brand new pair of cowboy boots.

Tom retired August 31, under the Company pension plan and following 27 years in the same job. Present, including Mr. and Mrs. Warden and their children, were Lone Star families from Athens, Groesbeck, Sulphur Springs, Abilene, Dallas, Ranger and Eastland.

Burford Jordan of Eastland was master of ceremonies. Mrs. Clara Cooper helped with arrangements. A barbecue supper was served followed by dancing in the American Legion hall.

A congratulatory telegram was read from Gerdes Rice, manager of the right-of-way and claims department of the company, who was unable to attend due to illness in his family.

FORT BLISS (Spl.) — Private Reed P. Hugh, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Reed, Route 2, Eastland, has been assigned to the Antiaircraft Artillery Replacement Training Center in Fort Bliss, Texas, for his second eight week cycle of basic training.

Having recently completed his first eight weeks' of training in fundamental infantry subjects at another post, he will now take up the skills of antiaircraft artillery.

During this second phase of basic training he will be expertly schooled in the firing of light and medium antiaircraft artillery weapons at low-flying and high altitude targets on the one-and-one-half million acre Fort Bliss ranges. Wilson Attends Colorado U. Banking School

BOULDER, Colo. (Spl.) — Tom Wilson, president of the Eastland National Bank, is one of 75 bankers who attended the Colorado School of Banking at the University of Colorado, August 8-20.

The school runs a complete three year course designed to give bankers intensive training in bank operations and management and in understanding the position of banking in the nation's entire economic structure.

Students in the first year study business law, fundamentals of economics, public relations, and bank machine operations. Second-year students expand into such subjects as accounting, bank management and loans and discounts. Senior students study investments and forecasting, insurance and auditing, and bank regulatory law.

The school is open to all bankers but enrollment is limited to 75. It is run jointly by the University of Colorado and the Colorado Bankers Association.

And the 47 eager prospects were at it again this morning almost at the crack of dawn. Shelton called for an early morning workout that saw the Mavs hard at work by 7:30. Two workouts a day are set until school starts — one in the morning and one in the afternoon beginning at 5.

Both Shelton and Blair were pleased with the opening day drills, although it was hard to get either to admit it. The young coaching pair have a big job facing them, getting the Mavs ready for their opening game of the season with their traditional rivals,

Crop Measuring Is About Complete For County Farms

The Eastland County Agricultural and Stabilization Committee has about completed work of measuring acreage for peanut and cotton farmers, according to Emmett E. Powell, county office manager.

He said the committee would be glad to hear from any farmer whose cotton or peanut crops may not have been measured in order to determine the planted acreage.

Powell also said the committee has been aiding several producers in the terracing of their farms. He suggested that this would be a good time for terrace work before the planting of fall grain crops.

From Out Of The Chronicle Files—

Eastland - As Seen By Writer In 1918

(Editor's Note: The following story was taken from the Jan. 25, 1918 issue of the Eastland Chronicle. The article was entitled "Eastland — Its Past, Present and Future." We are grateful to W. B. Ferrell for the use of his copy of the Chronicle. The story will be continued in Thursday's edition.)

More than a half century ago, Feb. 1, 1858, the county of Eastland, along with several other counties, was created by the Seventh Legislature of Texas. It was named for Captain William Eastland, who died a prisoner in Mexico.

February 1875, 15 years after the creation of the county, an election was held to locate and name the county town and as a result of this election on the county site was located where Merriman now is and was called Merriman.

About Jan. 15, 1875, thru the efforts of C. U. Connelley, Jack

Daugherty and others, a townsite was laid off here and called Eastland, which was the name provided by the Legislature for the County town.

In May of 1875 a survey of the town of Eastland was completed, a log house was put up on the lot at the northwest corner of the square, a frame store building was erected on the lot where the City National Bank is now located and in this building was placed a stock of general merchandise, the material for the building and the merchandise being hauled from Dallas, the nearest railroad point, via Grandbury, Stephenville, Devdemona and Merriman along the old Fort Griffin trail.

M. Connelley and his associates, founders of the town, encouraged settlement in Eastland by offering to deed a lot to anyone that would build either a residence or business house on it. A number of people availed themselves of this opportunity, came to Eastland, went into business and built homes.

In the summer of 1875 the founders of the town of Eastland made the citizens of Merriman a proposition to move the County town to Eastland, agreeing to erect a two-story stone building, the County to have the use of the upper story for a courthouse, as long as desired. The proposition was accepted and the building now occupied by Eugene Witt's drug store and the Masonic Hall is the building that was built at that time.

Now that the court had a home and offices, a number of lawyers came to Eastland and with them many others who went into various businesses.

Daugherty, Connelley and Ammerman offered the Texas and Pacific Railroad Co., which was building, one-fourth of the lots in Eastland if they would build through the town, and in October 1880 the first engine rolled into Eastland, which remained the terminus of the T&P for several months.

Eastland was now the distributing point for all towns north, south and west and also the starting place for numerous stage and United States mail lines during which time it was a flourishing western town.

Later Cisco, which had taken on some growth and was, as she is now and has been ever since, ambitious to become the County site, brought on an election in an effort to move the County site from Eastland to Cisco. This election was held August 2, 1881 and resulted as follows: Eastland 854 and Cisco 324.

The question of moving the County site settled, a contract for a courthouse to cost $57,000 was let by the Commissioners' Court and a three-story building of native stone was built in 1883. Prior to this time the County, aided by citizens of Eastland, had erected a stone jail building on the square at a cost of $5,000.

On Sunday morning at 3:30, Nov. 26, 1896, the courthouse burned to the ground, the county's loss being about $50,000 with $30,000 insurance.

Two months later, Jan. 26, the question of moving the County site was again voted on. Cisco offering to donate the land and erect the buildings free of cost if it was voted there. As a result of this election Cisco received 940 votes; Eastland 553; Carbon, 355; and other places 18. Thus Cisco failed to receive the necessary two-thirds vote and her cherished ambition to become the County site was not realized.

*After this election contracts for a new courthouse and jail were let and the present three-story, fire-proof courthouse and jail were built at a cost of $60,000.

Eastland has thus grown from a one-room log cabin in the woods to a substantial little city of some 15 or 18 hundred people and with many modern conveniences such as waterworks, electric lights, paved streets and sidewalks, churches, public school, sewerage system, library, telephone system, some of the most modern business establishments in this section of the country, banks, garages, and a citizenship that is not to be excelled in anyway, anywhere.

Three Main Dish Quickies For Lunch Or Supper On Summer Days

Minimum effort and maximum goodness are represented in these three summer main dish quickies — cris-cross corned beef hash patties, hamburger skillet dish and Texas hot dogs. Besides being easy to prepare, they're economical.

- Hamburger Skillet Dish
 - 1 pound ground beef
 - 3/4 cup uncooked rice
 - 1-2 cup chopped onion
 - 1-2 cup chopped celery
 - 2 1-2 cups tomatoes (No. 2 can)

 - 1-8 teaspoon pepper
 - 1 teaspoon sugar
 - 1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
 - 1 cup bouillon or meat stock
- Cris-Cross Hash Patties
 - 2 (1 pound) cans corned beef hash
 - Catsup or chili sauce
 - 12 (1-2 inch) strips processed cheese

Brown rice slowly in 2 table-spoons hot lard in a heavy skillet, stirring frequently. Add onion, celery and ground beef; brown lightly. Add rest of ingredients. Cover and simmer until rice is tender, about 45 minutes. Season to taste. 4 servings.

Chili hash then remove both ends from can. Push out hash and cut each piece into 3 slices. Place patties on a shallow pan and broil until lightly browned. Spread each patty with chili sauce or catsup and top with two strips of cheese, placed cris-cross. Broil until cheese is slightly melted. Garnish with olive slices. 3 to 4 servings.

Women Have Equal Rights--But Their Pay Is Only 44% Of Men's

In spite of the gain in women's rights in the United States over the last half century, the shocking fact is that the average woman worker is paid only 44 percent as much as the average male worker. Besides sex discrimination, there are other factors working against the principle of equal pay for women, according to the editors of Redbook Magazine. In a hard-hitting editorial for the September issue, they put the fate of the struggle to raise women's wages in the hands of each and every American citizen, and, in addition, they point out the benefits that would result from such a change:

"Progress toward raising women's wages to the level of men's is discouragingly slow, even though the list of champions for equal pay for women includes such groups as the Republican and Democratic parties, the National Association of Manufacturers, the United States Chamber of Commerce, the American Federation of Labor, the Congress of Industrial Organization and almost every prominent women's organization. "The startling difference between men's and women's pay is not the result of sex discrimination alone. There are other causes: Many women have jobs which pay low wages even to males; women have only limited experience in many fields; many women work only part-time; women have less seniority and less opportunity for promotion. But taking all this into account, it is still clear that women's incomes are much lower than the value of their work. "Because of prejudice and fear, many people continue to resist the principle that it's the work done, not the person who does it, which should determine the rate of pay. There are those who want to discourage women from competing in the labor market. Some men resent having to work with women, and also are afraid women will lower the entire wage scale. Some

Because of Dimes-- Ranger Lad Starts To School Sept. 1

On Sep. 1, a 6-year-old Ranger lad will enter school for the first time. So will scores of other Ranger children, but the case of little Bobby Matthews will be different. Without the aid of funds from the March of Dimes in the past he might not have any hopes of ever being able to go to school.

Stricken with polio in July, 1950 at the age of two, Robert James Matthews, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred W. Matthews, 1208 Division, Ranger, his body was completely paralyzed below his shoulders.

It was necessary that he receive extensive treatment, both at Hendricks Memorial Hospital, Abilene, and at Gonzales, Texas, Warm Springs Foundation.

Mr. and Mrs. Matthews state that without the aid and assistance from the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, all of his treatment would not have been possible. At the time the child was stricken four years ago, the family carried a $1,000 insurance policy. This was soon absorbed. Likewise the family funds were quickly exhausted. Within the past four years the family has spent $1,500 on treatment and expenses in connection with the care for Bobby.

Records of expenditures on the part of the National Foundation, both from the local chapter and from higher levels, show over $4,000 for the case of Bobby Matthews.

Expenditures are not yet over for the treatment of this child. There is an indefinite period of treatment ahead. During the time he was at Gonzales his condition was such that he averaged four hours daily in an iron lung.

"The remarkable part of this story," said M-Sgt. Jess Cole, county chairman of the Emergency March of Dimes drive, "is that the child can now walk and will be able to go to school. He is able to walk a part of the time without the aid of leg braces, although he has to wear a body brace all of the time.

"Without the aid of funds from other March of Dimes fund raising drives, it would have been impossible for the child to have had the extensive treatment which definitely has given him a chance. Proper treatment as no doubt been responsible for saving his life and partially restoring the usefulness of his limbs and body.

"This is only one of the multitudes of case aided by the March of Dimes constantly. It is to help others who have suffered and are suffering that additional funds are needed now. Preventative programs and the heavy drain of case loads have combined to cause national funds, and funds in many local chapters to become exhausted. Contributions now will mean that we can carry on the work of saving lives and rebuilding bodies, and possibly prevent thousands from being stricken."

The parents of Bobby joined Cole in emphasizing the fact that they would have been unable to provide the proper treatment without assistance from the National Foundation.

"So much has been done with such little individual donations as dimes, that we feel compelled to appeal to everyone to respond to the present call for emergency funds," they said.

Weighed and Found Wanting

Agriculture in America still has a long way to go in conserving and building its soils. Cotton yields continue low in spite of all our efforts toward soil building and insect control. Feed crops for poultry and livestock hit a low ceiling in yields when they do not have a fertile foundation for their roots. Research with legumes have shown that yields can be doubled where crops follow a year or two of legumes. These kinds of practices tip the scales in favor of heavy yields of agricultural products.

A substantial balance in a checking account will lift the weight of burdensome debts, and our personal loan department can assist you to scale them down.

Lewisville Ceremony Unites Miss Stockard, Meredith Sides

Wedding vows were repeated Friday evening, August 18, at the First Methodist Church in Lewisville, Texas, by Miss Dora Anne Stockard and Ollie Meredith Sides. The Rev. W. J. Hodge, pastor, officiated at the double-ring ceremony before an altar banked with gladioli.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Allie Stockard of Lewisville and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. O. F. Sides of Ranger.

Miss Betty Stewart of Lewisville, pianist, provided traditional wedding music, and also accompanied Miss Sue Doss of Paris who sang "Eternally" and "At Dawning."

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a waltz-length gown of ice green nylon organdy with a full skirt. The bodice featured short, cuffed sleeves and tiny self-covered buttons down the front. She wore matching shoes and her shoulder-length veil was topped with pearls. She carried a single green orchid.

As maid of honor, Miss Mary Davis of Sherman wore a brown organdy street-length gown.

House Veterans Affairs Group Clears Disabled American Vets

The House Veterans Affairs Committee in executive session gave the Disabled American Veterans a clean bill of health when it adopted a report submitted by a sub-committee which had been appointed to make recommendations based on the evidence submitted to the committee during public hearings in Washington, D.C. in January and February.

Following is the report of the sub-committee which was adopted Wednesday, June 2:

"Whereas the Congress of the United States has duly incorporated a veterans organization known as the Disabled American Veterans, and

"Whereas, certain newspaper articles have appeared alleging that the Disabled American Veterans has been engaging in fund raising activities which have violated their public trust by improper expenditure of funds, and;

"Whereas, the Committee on Veterans Affairs of the House of Representatives held extensive hearings upon this subject.

"Now, therefore, the Sub-Committee on Veterans Affairs of the House of Representatives held extensive hearings upon this subject.

"Now, therefore, the Sub-Committee on Veterans Affairs, appointed to make a report on these charges, make the following recommendations:

"1. Your Committee is convinced that the Disabled American Veterans has rendered a valuable service to the veterans of the United States and that it is continuing to render such valuable service.

"2. Your Committee is convinced that the national officers of the Disabled American Veterans are honest, capable and sincere and earnestly working to carry out the mandates of the organization as expressed in its charter and by its delegates in national convention.

"3. That the only fund-raising activity operated exclusively by the Disabled American Veterans, the national veterans organization, is the Identio-Tag project.

"4. That the Identio-Tag project is well managed, profitable and renders a real service to disabled American veterans and to the owners of motor vehicles throughout the nation.

"5. That the Disabled American Veterans National Service Foundation is a separate corporation organized under the laws of the State of Ohio and is not under the direct management or control of the national officers of the Disabled American Veterans.

"6. That the Disabled American Veterans Service Foundation has conducted various fund-raising campaigns, the success of which have varied greatly with the type of campaign conducted.

"7. That the Disabled American Veterans National Service Foundation did make unauthorized use of names of prominent persons in some of its fund-raising campaigns.

"8. That no financial dishonesty or misuse of their funds was shown by the Disabled American Veterans National Service Foundation.

"9. That since the hearing the National Executive Committee of the Disabled American Veterans has appointed a committee to consider what should be done with the Disabled American Veterans National Service Foundation.

"10. That the Disabled American Veterans National Service Foundation has acted unanimously to stop fund raising activities until the situation could be re-evaluated and the National Convention of the Disabled American Veterans takes some action."

Bacon Spiked Creole Onions Are Delicious And Fit For A King

The lowly onion is fit for a king when it is fixed this way! Tender, yet just crisp enough to be interesting, the onions are smothered in a Creole sauce to rival any Creole sauce ever to come out of a southern kitchen.

Just imagine the taste of this very low cost dish — delicious smoked bacon, pieces of tender ham, crispy green peppers — and tender, white onions — smothered in a rich tomato sauce. But none of this wonderful sauce is lost because it is served on hot, fluffy, white rice. Yes, here's your answer to the "what to serve" question.

- 8 medium white onions
- 2 slices bacon
- 1 tablespoon flour
- 1-3 cup chopped green pepper
- 1-2 cup chopped cooked ham or luncheon meat
- 1, 8 oz. can tomato sauce
- 1-2 cup water
- 1 small clove garlic, minced
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 1-8 teaspoon pepper
- 3 cups hot, cooked white rice
- 1-3 cup finely grated American or Parmesan cheese

METHOD: Peel onions and cook in boiling, salted water until tender, about 15 to 20 minutes. Drain onions. Cook bacon in a saucpan until crisp. Remove the bacon, Blend the flour into the bacon fat and cook several minutes. Break the bacon into pieces and return to the saucpan. Add the green pepper, ham or luncheon meat, tomato sauce, water, garlic, salt and pepper. Mix well. Cut the onions in half and add to the tomato sauce. Cover and cook over a low heat for 10 minutes. Stir occasionally.

Arrange the hot cooked rice on a platter. Pour the onions over the rice. Sprinkle the cheese over the rice.

This recipe makes seven servings.

Cadillac

You Know So Much About Its Owner!

Of course, you don't know the name of the gentleman who holds the title to this beautiful automobile.

We can't tell you ourselves who he is. We don't know his name, or his occupation, or the mission that brought him to this particular spot.

And yet, we feel—as you undoubtedly do—that we know a great deal about him!

We would surmise, for instance, that he is a well-known and widely respected member of his community—and a prominent figure in his daily profession.

We would guess, with reasonable certainty, that he is a person of sound judgment and excellent taste.

We would be willing to venture that he places great value on the comfort and safety and well-being of his family and his friends.

And we would feel safe in saying that he is the sort of person you would like to know.

For anyone who has enjoyed the privilege of daily contact with Cadillac owners—as we have—understands that the vast majority of the men and women who drive this distinguished car share a great common bond in all these respects.

Owners, the world over, will testify that the wonderful things a Cadillac says about you constitute one of the finest rewards of Cadillac ownership. But it is important to remember that Cadillac's eloquence is essentially a by-product of Cadillac's quality.

And this quality has never before been so manifest as in the Cadillac creation currently in our showroom. It is beautiful . . . and distinguished . . . and luxurious . . . and fine in performance—to a degree unprecedented, even for the "Standard of the World".

Why not stop in and see us soon for a personal inspection and demonstration? You'll be a most welcome visitor at any time!

Eastland Gets Slight Rain

A light shower gave Eastland and surrounding areas a slight relief Monday, but the heavy rain fell in other areas of the state. While many points reported five inches of rain, Eastland recorded only five one-hundredths. The mercury dropped to 68 degrees.

WHERE'S 'VENUS'?—Esther Ralston, blonde beauty of the silent screen, is shown above as she appeared in one of her pictures. Called by Flo Ziegfeld "the American Venus," today she's Mrs. Esther Lloyd, and a grandmother, and is in charge of the office for the Seventh Church of Christ, Scientist, in New York City.

FORD IS FIRST IN SALES

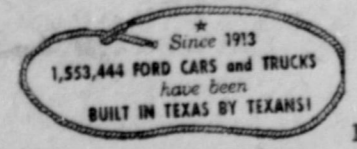

-by thousands

National new-car registration figures* for the first six months of 1954 prove that Ford leads the industry in sales! In fact, ever since car production has been free of restrictions, more and more new-car buyers have been swinging over to Ford. That's because Ford offers more things for more people than any other car. In today's Ford, for example, you get the matchless benefits of owning the only car in the low-price field with a V-8 engine (the new Ford Y-block V-8) . . . the only car in Ford's field with the smooth ride of Ball-Joint Front Suspension . . . the only car in Ford's field with truly modern styling . . . the only car in Ford's field with such high resale value.
