BACKER-UP—Among the proudest of Army artillerymen are these Seventh Corpsmen in Germany who man the 280mm cannon, capable of lofting atomic shells deep into enemy lines. Developed after World War II, the gun filled the gap between conventional artillery and today's atomic-warheaded missiles.

TEC Paid Out 60 Million In State Insurance

The Texas Employment Commission paid out $60,805,305 in state unemployment insurance during the fiscal year ending Aug. 31.

In the same 12 months, the TEC's local officers filled 479,611 non-farm jobs and orders for 589,136 agricultural workers.

These, and other highlights, were announced in the TEC's annual report to the governor.

The balance in the Texas Unemployment Compensation Trust Fund on Aug. 31 was $275,052,901.83, down some 25 millions from the previous year's mark.

A total of 279,100 individuals received state unemployment benefits as compared to 150,400 during fiscal 1957. These payments averaged $23.86 per week for an average length of 9.1 weeks, as compared to $22.12 and 8.2 weeks in 1957. The average claimant, however, was eligible for 19.7 weeks of unemployment compensation.

Despite more employers covered, the Texas Employment Commission collected less taxes than in fiscal 1957. This year 69,685 employers reported taxable wages of $4,693,939,336 and paid $26,769,881 in net taxes. Fiscal 1957 saw 67,393 employers reported $4,755,552,162.27 in taxable wages and pay $32,143,812 in net taxes.

The decline in tax collections was also due partially to the increased number of employers qualifying for lower rates because of experience ratings. The state tax begins at 2.7 per cent, but most employers become eligible for a lower tax rate after 18 months. This fiscal year saw 67,316 qualifying for such reduced rates as compared to 61,903 for the previous 12 months. The result was an average lower rate for all employers — 0.64 per cent as compared to 0.67 for the previous tax year.

The number of employers achieving the minimum rate of .01 per cent also increased, from 34,204 to 36,796. Eighty-two per cent of all participating employers have a tax rate of less than one per cent, the TEC's annual report shows.

The year's balance sheet showed a drop in non-farm placements — down from 532,572 in fiscal 1957.

Agricultural placements, on the other hand, rose from 451,452 to 589,136. The TEC's total of 1,068,747 job placements outstripped the previous year's mark of 984,024.

Grant Aids Grass Study

College Station—A grant-in-aid from the National Science Foundation to the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station for $15,000 will be used to finance a three-year intensive study of sideoats grama grass. Dr. Frank W. Gould, Department of Range and Forestry, Texas A&M College, will direct the studies.

Sideoats grama is one of our most widely distributed range grasses and in southwestern United States and northern Mexico one of the most valuable for range forage production, points out Dr. Gould.

"In areas where it is most valuable, it is also most variable," he says. "It is these variables and the regions in which they are most concentrated that we will be investigating primarily." It is thought that much of the variability within sideoats grama has come from hybridization and crosses, perhaps involving other species of the grama genus.

Dr. Gould will grow a great many of the strains in a nursery at A&M where he will check plants for variability and try to establish a key for evaluating their many characteristics. A similar nursery is planned for northern Mexico. Graduate assistants in the department and a former student in Mexico will assist Dr. Gould in the research studies.

Because of the wide adaptation of sideoats grama, major attention has been directed toward its use for re-establishing drought depleted range areas. However, much additional information is needed on the basis of its variation and its reproductive characteristics before the grass can be fully utilized for this purpose. Dr. Gould in his studies will attempt to find the answers which could open the door to a widespread breeding program.

Over 30 Per Cent of Texas Oil Comes from 1950 - 1958 Fields

TULSA.—More than 30 per cent of the oil produced in Texas in 1957 came from fields discovered since 1950. The Independent Petroleum Association of America said in the current issue of its magazine, The Independent Petroleum Monthly.

The analysis of production by areas in the United States was made by IPAA'S Cost Study committee from a survey of 10,600 U.S. oil fields conducted by the National Oil Scouts and Landmen's Association.

Of the nearly 3 million barrels daily production in Texas in 1957, the survey covered fields producing 2,724,000 barrels daily. Of the total surveyed, 512,000 barrels daily came from fields found prior to 1930. This was 18.8 per cent of the total. More than 1,500,000 barrels daily produced in Texas in 1957 came from fields discovered between 1930 and 1949. This represented slightly more than 50 per cent of the total surveyed.

The association said 834,000 barrels of the oil produced daily in Texas in 1957 came from fields found between 1950 and 1957. This was 30.6 per cent of the total.

On the national level, the survey revealed approximately 27 per cent, or 1,868,000 barrels daily, of the oil produced in 1957 came from fields discovered in the last seven years. Fields discovered prior to 1930 contributed 23 per cent of the total production surveyed in 1957 and amounted to 1,601,000 barrels daily.

The association stated the committee survey revealed that of the fields surveyed throughout the United States nearly 50 per cent of the production in 1957 came from fields discovered between 1930 and 1949.

Thus, the analysis confirms previous findings of the IPAA Cost Study committee that "the domestic oil industry is selling oil from its reserves which cannot be replaced at anything like original cost."

Three-fourths of the oil produced during the year 1957 came from fields found and developed twenty or more years ago "when finding costs were considerably less than they are today."

With crude oil prices in many areas of the United States depressed and total production remaining about at the same level as last year, current income to producers continues to drop as the cost of finding and developing oil and gas reserves increases, the association pointed out.

THUMPER AT WORK—One of the newest devices aiding the search for oil is the "thumper." The "thumper" is a truck, carrying a concrete slab weighing 6000 pounds. The truck moves across country, dropping the slab—at intervals—from a height of 12 feet onto the ground. The shock waves produced by the "thump" and reflected from underground formations are recorded on graphs after being picked up by sensitive microphones buried along the route of the truck. Although the thumper is a seismic operation, it does the job without the usual explosions used in conventional seismograph work.

Peanuts

the entire peanut plant from the land.

2. Take care of soil. Peanuts will outyield other major crops on poor soil, but greater yields come from land that has been properly handled. Soil fertility can be built up with legumes, crop residues, and fertilizers.

3. Plant good, properly treated seed. Best available seed of recommended varieties and of sufficient quality should be planted. Maximum yield cannot be made with poor stands.

4. Control diseases and insects. The worst disease is southern blight, which attacks the roots and nuts and results in leaving many healthy as well as diseased nuts in the ground during harvesting. Leaf spot reduces yield, especially during wet weather. Among the insects, the leaf worm is probably most damaging.

5. Make labor count. Labor is one of the biggest costs of peanut production. Increased yield per acre and use of improved machinery will lower per acre labor costs. Employment of proper fertilizers, seed improving crops, cultural methods, and disease control methods also cut down on labor costs.

6. Harvest and thresh for high grade. Many peanuts are of low grade because of improper harvesting methods. They should be harvested as soon as mature, especially when southern blight is present. If windrowed, thresh them as soon as sufficiently dry to reduce splitting of kernels.

7. Know and sell or grade and variety value. There is a big difference between the value of low grade and high grade peanuts. Clean, well-filled nuts bring more money than shriveled, diseased, and trashy ones. Plant only recommended varieties.

By following these seven steps, County Agent Clark says, farmers in Hill County or any other section of the state can increase peanut production and profits.

Mr. and Mrs. Jess Riggan spent Christmas with their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Morris Lee Riggan, in Midland.

Mr. and Mrs. Ross Parrish, Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Ross Parrish and Miss Sue Jo Parrish of Fort Worth visited Mr. and Mrs. E. N. Waldrip Sunday.

...Have Twins Win Gifts...

(Editor's Note: Local residents — some of them, at least — will have a chance to win part of $500 in gifts in this unusual Baby Derby. Details are given below.)

How many lucky parents in the U. S. will start off the New Year '59 with twin additions to their families? They'll be doubly lucky if their newcomers are twin girls and if they arrive between midnight and noon January 1.

Each qualifying set of girl twins will be a winner in the Eleventh Annual Toni Twin Baby Derby and will be awarded $500 in gifts, including 768 containers of Gerber's Baby Food; Trundle Bumie infants' wear; Kantwet inner-spring crib mattresses and four-rod beds; a Hedstrom twin sleeper stroller; an assortment of Play-scool toys; a special selection of Love dresses; a Trimble kiddie-bath; an automatic step-fold Abbott play yard and three-piece sleep-and-play Nappies ensembles.

In this race with the stork, the odds are surprisingly favorable for those expecting a New Year's bundle of joy. On January 1 last year, 22 sets beat the derby deadline to win a jackpot of gifts. In the ten-year history of the nationwide Derby, parents of 160 sets of timely arrivals collected a total of $85,000 in wonderful baby gifts. During this time, Derby winners were reported in a total of 41 states, with Pennsylvania, California, Michigan, Texas and Minnesota producing the greatest number of lucky newcomers.

Parents of girl twins born anywhere in the United States during the first 12 hours of the New Year should send collect wires immediately to the Toni Twin Baby Derby, Merchandise Mart, Chicago. Wires must reach Baby Headquarters by 2 p. m., Central Standard Time, Jan. 1. All entries must be received by Jan. 7, the deadline set for the 1959 Derby. The winners' names will be announced as soon as births are confirmed.

Science finds healing substance that relieves pain—Shrinks Hemorrhoids

For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids and to relieve pain—without surgery. In case after case, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction (shrinkage) took place. Most amazing of all—results were so thorough that sufferers made astonishing statements like "Piles have ceased to be a problem!"
