

County Reverts to Old Bounty Program

Eastland County Commissioners have run into another stump concerning predatory animals. Commissioners learned Monday that they cannot legally pay more than a $5 bounty on wolves due to a law passed by the Texas Legislature years ago.

The Court recently voted to pay a bounty of $10 on wolves, $5 on bobcats and $3 on red foxes. Last week they were questioned as to paying the bounty on foxes since the fox is classed by many as a fur bearing animal. At this time the Court agreed to hold off action on paying the bounty on red foxes until the attorney general could rule on the legality of such action.

Then Monday the Court was informed by County Attorney Earl Conner that the county could pay just a $5 bounty on wolves. That is because the Legislature in about 1920 passed a law affecting Eastland and several other counties in the state. Under the law $5 is the maximum the county can pay as a bounty.

In view of the situation, the Court Monday decided to maintain bounties now in effect instead of upping the bounties as of today as previously planned. So until further action of the Court, and possibly the Legislature, the bounty on wolves will be $5 in Eastland County and the bounty on bobcats will be $3. There will be no bounty on red foxes.

Eastland Sailor Participates In Cuban Exercise

Robert L. Harbin, gunner's mate third class, USN, son of Mrs. Emmie Harbin of 1509 S. Bassett, Eastland, is scheduled to return to Norfolk, Va., in early March, aboard the attack aircraft USS Intrepid after participating in training exercises at Guantanamo Bay, Cuba.

Savings Bonds Sales In County High In January

"Savings Bond sales for January 1960 totaled $84,097," Guy Parker, chairman of Eastland County Savings Bonds Committee, reported today. "Our county has reached 16.2 per cent of its 1960 goal of $520,000."

Sales in Texas for January were $16,537,766 which is 10 per cent of the state goal.

"When we buy our Country's Savings Bonds we are helping to save things that money cannot buy," concluded Parker.

Fruit and Nuts Can Be Good Area Crops

Fruit and nut orchards may be good crops for this area, providing food for home use and a good side income too. But, these are specialty crops, and they won't grow just anywhere.

If you plan to plant trees, take time to find your most suitable soil. Years later you'll be glad you did. Here are a few things to look for.

Fruit trees can be planted on upland slopes, hilltops or lowlands provided that the soil has a sandy surface, and a subsoil that is somewhat sandy and crumbly (but not loose, coarse sand) to a depth of three feet or more. Avoid soils with dense, heavy clay subsoils.

Pecan trees require about the same type of soil as the fruit trees, but it must be deeper. Four to six feet is the minimum depth. In addition, they should be in a low or "receiving" position where they will get benefit from additional runoff water. River and creek bottoms are best, but nearly level footslope areas where extra soil and water are deposited will also be suitable.

Remember that from 50 to 60 percent of a tree is underground. If your tree is to grow to 75-100 feet in height, it must have plenty of good deep soil for a huge root system. When any tree is planted on unsuitable soil, it will grow and do well only until the roots become restricted. Trees on restricted soil will die or partially die during dry years and won't grow vigorously even during normal years, and a tree won't produce fruit unless it is in a healthy and vigorous growing condition.

So spend some time checking your soil before planting; it will be time well spent. Then if you're not sure about soil or if you plan to plant a large acreage, consult your Soil Conservation Service Work Unit. Trained technicians will assist you in choosing the proper land for your crops.

James Everett Named on ETSC Dean's List

Two hundred and eight East Texas State College Students have been named to the Dean's List in recognition of high grades made for the fall semester.

Those named to the list have grade averages of at least 2.4, with a grade of B counting two points and an A three points.

Included on the Dean's List, as announced by Dr. Cecil Wright, chairman of the committee on student honors, is the following student:

James Cotran Everett Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Everett, Box 12, Olden.

Icy Conditions Close Schools

Eastland County got a slick paint job Monday night in the form of freezing drizzle which left the area coated with a thin layer of ice.

Schools in Eastland closed for the day Tuesday, and there was also no school at Carbon, Desdemona or Olden.

Supt. Wendell Siebert said that there will be no school again Wednesday unless the coating of ice vanishes before Wednesday morning. Other school officials indicated the same thing. And according to the weatherman it will be cloudy and cold with freezing drizzle, rain or sleet all day today and tonight. The drizzle is due to turn to rain Wednesday morning, however. Parents of school children were told to listen to radio station KERC early Wednesday morning for information about the school.

High Monday was 25 and the low last night was 21. The forecast calls for a high of from 30 to 35 degrees here today with a low tonight of about 30 degrees.

The freezing rain left area streets and highways in a dangerous icy condition. Highway Patrolmen have warned of extremely dangerous conditions throughout West Texas and have urged travel only when necessary.

Early Tuesday morning 53 trucks were stalled on Thurber Hill, eight miles east of Ranger. At 10 a.m. there was still 27 trucks waiting to be pulled up the steep grade.

Eastland Lions again called off their tight bull sale due to the bad weather. The sale was to have been held tonight, but Gordon Smith, chairman, said it would be held later this week instead, weather permitting.

Harold Ewing Dies Sunday; Services Today

Harold E. Ewing, 48, died at 11:10 p.m. Sunday at his home in Ranger, following a brief illness.

Funeral services were held at 2 p.m. today at the First Baptist Church with the Rev. Ralph E. Perkins, pastor, officiating. Burial was in Evergreen Cemetery with Killingsworth Funeral Home in charge of arrangements.

Mr. Ewing was born March 3, 1911 in Olney and had lived in Ranger for the past 14 years. He was a repairman for Lone Star Gas Co., for whom he had been employed for the past 12 years. He was a veteran of World War II.

He was married to Emma Kreitzer at Frederick, Oklahoma, June 23, 1932. He was a member of the First Baptist Church.

Survivors include the wife; one son, Denny Ray of the home; one daughter, Dorothy Faye, of the home; the father, Joe Ewing of Ranger; the mother, Mrs. Lillie M. Ewing, Olney; one brother, G. G. of Azle; two sisters, Mrs. V. J. King of Megargel, and Mrs. Wade Burkham of Garland, several nieces and nephews.

Pallbearers were Furman Terrell, V. R. Murdock, Wayne Simpson, LaVoise Hale, I. E. Talley, Garwin West, Garland M. Hargus and Barnett Hale.

Perkins Visits Old Walled Arab Village

(Editor's Note: This is the second in a series of articles written for the Telegram by Joseph M. Perkins of Eastland, who is touring Africa.)

After a most interesting day I am back on board ship and have just had a roastbeef supper.

This morning, knowing we would be in port all day, we split up into three sightseeing parties, Don Parrish, my cabinmate, and I decided to walk first to the Seaman's Service Center, an English speaking institution on a non-profit basis where freighter passengers and seamen may buy the Morocco francs, postage stamps and other things. After availing ourselves of these excellent services we started on a walking tour of the oldest part of the city, the old walled Arab village of Medina, where the streets are narrow and the buildings in Moorish style, are two or three stories high and are all built of stone. The streets are crooked and narrow and run in every direction, so we steered by the sun! One street measured only a little more than seven feet in width from curb to curb. There generally is no water connection to the buildings, but at several of the street intersections there are iron pumps which look like a glorified fire hydrant. Here the dwellers and the shopkeepers come with buckets or goatskins and fill them with water.

Most of Medina's inhabitants are Arabs. The men wear turbans and baggy trousers. The women nearly all wear veils and hats that faintly resemble raincoats. Streets were paved with cobblestones and were decently clean. We saw shops of all kinds and the markets reminded us of the Toluca markets in Mexico, with many kinds of fruits, vegetables, and a lot of edibles that we could not classify. As we passed a shoe-shop I heard a rooster crow inside.

After spending nearly four hours in old Medina we went to the business district of Casablanca. Modern stores, office buildings, hotels and transportation facilities were there. We parted, as I wanted to take a bus or train to Fadsia, a seaside town 15 miles north and I went by electric train and the service was excellent. It appears to be run by the French and the timetables are printed in both French and Arabic. The country is fertile and market gardening seems to be a profitable occupation. However, primitive methods prevail with Arab men, women and children working the fields. I saw squash, peas, beans, etc. from the train. We sail at midnight tonight.

Gray Matter

By JOE GRAY

These winter days we've been having around these parts certainly something. If the weather doesn't warm up soon, I guess I'll have to go a little farther south.

This Monday morning, for example, I was looking at the temperature reading on my back porch while it stood at a cool 19, degrees. The weather must have been freezing or lower every morning this week.

At that, though, some of the old timers seem to think the winters aren't as cold these days as they used to be. The kids did get out of school a day or so in some parts this past cold spell on account of the snow, but that is not like it was several years ago.

Now you take the winter of 1928-29. That was a winter. As I remember it, one morning I woke up to a four below zero on my back porch, and the thermometer is just about as accurate as any non-official thermometer you'll find anywhere. That was the first year we held school in the present high school building. It got so cold they had to turn because of no heat.

With all of the town's kids playing on all of the lakes, which of course were frozen as solid as the bank vault's door, things got to be some sort of a problem.

The water pipes leading to Eastland High School were frozen by the weather in 1929. The pipes weren't buried deep enough to accommodate real cold weather and before school officials discovered that fact, the pipes had frozen solid. So, no water no steam, and no steam no heat. That's one advantage ye kids liked about steam heating.

Several of the boys dug out ice skates from their closets. I never saw an ice skate until this freeze, but there turned out that several families in Eastland had skates stashed away at home. Lake Eastland was frozen so solid that you could easily drive a car across the lake, and many people did. I remember reading in one of the Fort Worth papers that the police there were having trouble with the traffic jams on the lakes. The police wanted to keep all the cars off the frozen ice but you know how people are at times like that.

It was several days before the pipes leading to our high school thawed enough for the water supply to reach our boiler, so we kids spent the meantime entertaining ourselves instead of being entertained by our teachers. It was several days before school took up again.

One of the ponds we played on was the one just south of High School hill, which we used to call Lyeria's Tank. I guess at one time during this cold spell there must have been three or four shinny games going on on the ice. Shinny was our form of ice hockey, which of course we didn't know a thing about.

To play shinny all a boy had to have in the way of equipment was a stick and something to use for a puck. We used old tin cans for something to hit. Before the game had grown very old the tin can looked like it was anything but a tin can. But we did get a lot of fun out of playing.

After the weather began to moderate the ice began to melt. About third or fourth day the tank's surface was covered with a thin skin of water over the ice and when one walked out on the ice it sagged considerably in every direction around the walker. The question in all of our minds was how long it would be before the ice would no longer hold anyone up.

Jack Nelson, whose father was the pastor of the First Baptist Church at the time, was one of the more adventurous of our time as well as one of the heaviest boys in high school. He weighed about 200 pounds even then. He said he wasn't afraid to walk about the tank in the melting condition of the ice. Someone offered to bet that he was, but Jack took the bet up for 50c, I think it was.

Jack won the bet. He did it the hard way. He went through the ice and if it hadn't been for some pretty good help he might of drowned right there. A bunch of the boys fished him out before he went under and got him to a fire to thaw out. Actually the water wasn't chest high where he broke the ice, but he thought it was several times deeper than he was tall. It scared him about as bad as it hurt him. But he got his 50c, even though that was a very hard way to earn a half dollar.

Since then school kids in Eastland haven't had an opportunity to get out of school for cold weather alone as we did. The school board promptly had the water pipe laid deeper in the ground so that they wouldn't freeze after that so some of the joy of living was taken out of the schoolboy delights of all of us.

But, looking at it another way, the weather hasn't been that cold here since. That was the coldest spell of weather I ever remember here. I think it did get to about zero about 1931 or 1932 once, but I don't think it got below zero as far as it did in February of 1919. That was a cold spell then.

But as for me, I'm looking forward to the time we can have a little more warm weather here. I've had about all of this winter business I think I need. I thought the ground hog said winter was over. What ever happened to his forecast?

Who Discovers the Discoverers?

"A professor can never better distinguish himself in his work than by encouraging a clever pupil, for the true discoverers are among the comets amongst the stars."
CARL LINN

Somewhere in this mighty land of ours, a gifted youth is learning to see the light of tomorrow. Somewhere, in a college classroom or laboratory, a dedicated teacher is gently leading genius toward goals of lofty attainment. Somewhere the mind of a future discoverer—in science, engineering, government, or the arts—is being trained to greatness.

Our nation has been richly rewarded by the quality of thought nurtured in our colleges and universities. The caliber of learning generated there has been responsible in no small part for our American way of life. To our college teachers, the selfless men and women who inspire our priceless human resources, we owe more than we will ever be able to repay.

Yet how are we actually treating these dedicated people?

Today low salaries are not only driving gifted teachers from other fields, but are steadily reducing the number of people who choose college teaching as a career. At the same time, classrooms are beginning to get overcrowded. The face of this, college applications are expected to drop 1967, if not sooner.

This is a severe threat to our system of education. The way of life, even to our very existence as a nation, depends on what we do—and they need it now!

If you want to know more about what the college crisis means and what you can do to help, write for a free booklet on EDUCATION, Box 36, Times Square Station, New York 26, N.Y.

Deffebach-Cribbs Vows Read Saturday, Feb. 20 In Ranger

In an impressive double-ring ceremony Saturday evening, February 20, at 7:00 o'clock in the First Methodist Church, Ranger, Miss Mary Ellen Deffebach became the bride of Jimmy Alton Cribbs of Big Spring. Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Arthur S. Deffebach, 400 Blundell, Ranger and Mr. and Mrs. Alfred N. Cribbs of 2008 W. 11th, Plainview.

The Reverend Lively Brown, pastor of the First Methodist Church, Ranger, was officiant. The vows were read before a tall lighted cross which was flanked by baskets of white gladioli and candelabra holding white lighted tapers. Family pews were marked with white satin bows.

Nuptial music was presented by Rev. David Benningfield of Wingate, vocalist, and Edmond Lewis of Breckenridge, organist. Musical selections before the ceremony were "The Wedding Prayer", "I Love Thee", and "Clair de Lune." As the bridal party entered the church, the "Bridal Chorus" from "Lohengrin" by Wagner was played; the "Wedding March" from "Midsummer Night's Dream" by Mendelssohn was played as they left. Other selections were "The Lord Is My Shepherd" by Tschai-kowsky; "O Perfect Love" by Barry; and "The Lord's Prayer" by Malotte.

Miss Bonnie Neal of Groom, attended the bride as maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Curtis Stephens of College Station, cousin of the bride, and Miss Nancy Crawford of Hereford. The attendants wore identical street length dresses of sapphire blue delustered satin, fashioned with V necklines and bouffant skirts. They carried colonial bouquets of feathered white carnations.

Gene Bob Cribbs of Plainview, brother of the groom, served as best man. Don Deffebach of Ranger, brother of the bride, was groomsmen. Ushers were Rev. Tommy Gleaton of Progress, Rev. Ralph Cooper of Putnam, and Don Cook of Big Spring.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of white silk taffeta, designed on princess lines with a molded bodice and long tapered sleeves. The neckline and bodice were accented with appliques of Alencon lace. The very bouffant skirt was caught in back with a medallion of the lace, which extended into a chapel train.

Her fingertip veil of illusion fell from a lattice crown of pearls. She carried a bouquet of gardenias and feathered mums, atop a white Bible. Her only jewelry was a single strand of pearls with matening earrings.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Deffebach chose a sheath dress of wedgewood blue silk shantung. The groom's mother wore a sheath of beige brocade. Both wore corsages of white gardenias.

Immediately following the ceremony, a reception was held in the Community Club House. The bride's table was covered with a white cutwork cloth. The four-tiered white wedding cake was topped with a miniature bride and groom. A row of blue net around the base of the cake carried out the bride's chosen colors of blue and white. Silver three-branched candelabra holding lighted blue tapers stood in the center background. The attendants' bouquets formed the centerpiece. The silver punch bowl and silver compotes holding mints and nuts were also on the table. White napkins were imprinted with the names of the bride and groom in silver.

The bride's bouquet formed the centerpiece on the registry table, which also held the white bride's book. Those in the house party were Dannie Price of Pettit; Nita McKelvain of Moran, Christine Bonney of Malaya; Jean Murakawa of Hawaii, Dorothy Matton of Sweetwater, Shirley Garrett of Plainview, and Mrs. Luther Summerfield of Abilene.

For a brief wedding trip, the bride wore a wood avocado sheath dress with brown accessories. The couple are now at home at 1601-A Lexington in Big Spring, where the bridegroom is general manager of T & T Welding Supply and T & T Supply. A 1953 graduate of Paducah High School, he received his degree in business administration from McMurry College in the summer of 1959. He was a four-year member of the McMurry Band and a member of Senatus Romanus social club.

The bride graduated from Ranger High School in 1956 and finished requirements for a degree in Music Education at McMurry College in January. She was a member of the McMurry Chanters for four years and a member of Alpha Pi Alpha social club.

Out-of-town guests included: Mrs. T. M. Williams and Mr. and Mrs. Valton Redurine, Thomas and Mary Lou of Denison; Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Clark, Carolyn, and Mark of Sherman. Mr. and Mrs. Bill Williams and Dianna, Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Deffebach, and Mr. and Mrs. T. M. Deffebach, all of Snyder.

Mr. and Mrs. Cribbs, Gene Bob Cribbs and Miss Garrett, all of Plainview; Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Cribbs, Jan, Billy and Bryce of Clyde; Mr. and Mrs. John McClung, Mr. and Mrs. Gary Allen and Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Hill of Dallas; Mr. and Mrs. Monte Booser and Mr. and Mrs. George Sides of Dimmitt; Mr. and Mrs. Franklin Holt of Willow, Oklahoma; Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Dillahunty of Granite; Mr. and Mrs. George A. Bagwell and Miss Crawford of Hereford.

Mr. and Mrs. Al Hinds and Larry of Paducah; Mr. and Mrs. Aubra Knox of Arlington; Mrs. Bryan Gleaton of Lubbock; Mr. and Mrs. Irvan Lewis and Edmond Lewis of Breckenridge; Mrs. Gaudie White, Mr. and Mrs. L. K. Somerville, Dr. and Mrs. Richard C. vonEnde and Terry, and Bryan Tatum, all of Abilene.

Rev. and Mrs. Benningfield of Wingate; Rev. and Mrs. Cooper of Putnam; Mr. and Mrs. Cook of Big Spring; Mrs. Dennis Baughman of Houston; Miss Bernice Ashcraft of Arlington, Virginia; Lyle Miller and Merle Gulick of Dyes Air Force Base, Abilene; John Samuels of Fort Worth; Ray Rochelle of Littlefield; Don Minick of Albuquerque, N. M.; Rev. Gleaton of Progress; Miss Neal of Groom; Miss Price of Pettit; Miss McKelvain of Moran; Miss Patton of Sweetwater; Miss Bonney of Malaya; and Miss Murakawa of Hawaii.

Rehearsal Dinner
The bridegroom's parents hosted the rehearsal dinner which was held Friday evening at 7:30 in the home of the bride's parents. Attending were the bride and groom, their parents, Gene Bob Cribbs, Shirley Garrett, Edmond Lewis, Bryan Tatum, Bonnie Neal, Nancy Crawford, Rev. and Mrs. Benningfield, Rev. and Mrs. Cooper, Rev. and Mrs. Brown, Mrs. T. M. Williams and Tommy Gleaton.

50th Anniversary Observed by Mr. and Mrs. J. Ward

Relatives and friends gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James Ward, 303 N. Daugherty, Eastland Sunday afternoon, Feb. 21 in observance of their 50th wedding anniversary.

Their daughter, Mrs. Eldress Gattis and Mrs. Ward's sister, Mrs. C. D. Kirkland of Dallas, had planned the arrangements perfectly in every detail.

The guests registered in a lovely guest book to the music of the "Anniversary Waltz" with Mrs. Mae Gattis in charge of the register.

The house was decorated throughout with lovely flowers, all gifts from far and near. Mrs. Earnest Whitfield and Mrs. J. D. Stephens ushered the guests into a room where the many beautiful gifts were displayed.

The serving table was laid with a golden satin cloth overlaid with dainty net, medallions and a centerpiece of yellow mums in a gold container set off by the huge golden wedding bands.

Mrs. Ruth Manne, Mrs. Ruth Harris, Miss A'lene Culpepper and Mrs. N. O. Whitfield alternated at the serving table.

During the appointed hours over a hundred friends and relatives called to congratulate the couple.

Woman's Club Is Scene of Game Tourney Thursday

The Woman's Club was the scene of another much enjoyed Game Tournament Thursday night.

Mrs. Cecile Collings and her committee, Meses. W. F. Deaton, L. C. Brown, Turner Collie, N. N. Rosenquest, R. L. Carpenter, James Horton, Joe Stephens, O. M. White, and Frank Castleberry were hostesses and served refreshments of home made cookies, coffee and hot punch during the games of "84" and bridge. Home made cakes were given for prizes.

Those attending were: Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Deaton, Mr. and Mrs.

Doyal Rhodes, Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Davenport, Mr. and Mrs. Guy Sherrill, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Bales, Judge and Mrs. Cecil Collings, Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Graham, Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Murrell, and Mrs. Tom Harris, Ben Hamner, James Horton, J. F. Collins, Jack Carothers, Milburn Long, Joe Stephens, H. T. Weaver, R. L. Carpenter, N. N. Rosenquest, Turner Collie, W. P. Leslie and Carl Jones.

The money from the sale of tickets to these game tournaments will be used for the purchase of an air conditioner for the Club House. The next game tournament will be held on Friday, March 11th, at 7:30 p.m.

VISITS IN TEMPLE

Mrs. W. A. Teatsorth and Mrs. Jack Lusk spent the weekend in Temple where they visited in the home of Mrs. Lusk's daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. James LeFan.

A Very Serious Card Player

Dear Mrs. Post: Will you please tell us how to cope with a member of our bridge club who loses her temper when her partner makes a mistake? This person is a very serious player and will hold the bidding up a long time while she studies her hand. We have a club which is many years old and we are all fairly good players, but we all make mistakes occasionally. This is one of our newer members and we have never had anyone act this way before. She is ruining an afternoon which has always been such fun.

Answer: I suggest that you explain to her that she is taking the game much too seriously and is spoiling the pleasure of the other players by doing so.

Three To Send One Present

Dear Mrs. Post: My mother does not live with us but she does live in town. We've all three been invited (separate invitations) to a wedding and wonder if mother could send a present with my husband and me? How should we write the card?

Answer: No reason why not, especially if this would mean you sending a particular nice present. Enclose both visiting cards or write on a plain card: "Best wishes from Mrs. John Elder and Mr. and Mrs. David Younger." Or, "Best wishes from Aunt Mary, Alice and David."

Elbows On The Table

Dear Mrs. Post: Is it good manners to put one's elbows on the table?

Answer: It depends very much upon the where. The most usual place, and also the most excusable, is when two people are lunching or dining on either side of a narrow restaurant table. It is much easier to talk between courses leaning partly on the table, and in this case on an elbow. Otherwise there is small excuse.

Thanking Members Of One's Own Family

Dear Mrs. Post: I would greatly appreciate your telling me what is the correct procedure in regard to acknowledging wedding presents from members of the bride's own family. I am referring to married brothers and sisters who are not living at home. Must thank-you notes be written to them? A sister-in-law of mine was highly indignant because I did not write a note of thanks for the wedding present she and my brother sent.

Answer: As your brother and his wife do not live in the family house, and you do not see them every day, you should have written them a thank-you note—unless of course they handed you the present personally and after opening it you thanked them appreciatively. In this case a thank-you note would be unnecessary.

Mother

Dear Mrs. Post: Will you please tell me what is the proper way for the groom's mother (a widow) to entertain the bride's family before the wedding. Is it up to her to give a dinner party after the rehearsal, and for whom?

Answer: The groom's mother has no actual obligation to entertain in any possible way. If she would like to have a lunch or supper for the bridal party or for the bride's family she may do so of course but it is not expected.

Too Much Lipstick

Dear Mrs. Post: I have a pet peeve that I wish you would write about in your column. Every day when I go out to lunch I never fail to see women who leave large red smears on cups and glasses and sometimes even on the upper part of fork prongs, with their lipstick. This is sickening to say the least. I have no objection to the use of lipstick, but I certainly think that excessive lipstick should be removed before eating.

Answer: All I can say is that I agree with you. To see red smears on cups or glasses or other utensils, is revolting.

Mrs. Post offers readers leaflets on a variety of subjects concerning etiquette. If you would like to have her leaflet E-12, entitled, "Model Notes," send 10 cents in coin to Dept. E. P., care of (this newspaper), P. O. Box 99, Station G, New York 19, N. Y. Mrs. Post is sorry she cannot answer personal mail.

Kindergarten
News

The children at the Green Kindergarten have completed another busy month. There are so many colorful things taking place in the month of February.

They added a number of interesting pages to their scrap book including silhouettes of Lincoln and Washington; A Lincoln log cabin and a hatet and some cherries representing the story of George Washington cutting down the cherry tree. Also added was an American shield, a page of gay valentines, a picture of President Dwight D. Eisenhower that appeared in our weekly kindergarten reader.

This picture along with Miss Helen Taylor which appeared recently in our own Eastland Telegram paper was put on display in the kindergarten room on their bulletin board.

Clinton Lovelace celebrated his sixth birthday Feb. 6, his mother served miniature birthday cakes and punch to the group. After Clint blew out all six candles the group sang happy birthday to him.

Mrs. Jack Germany came and served valentine refreshment. She was assisted by her daughter, Lisa. Then the children had a valentine exchange and played valentine games. The mystery smelling game always proves a big success with the "small fry."

There was special interest put on the Girl Scout movement as Kim Collins and Becky Max Jackson brought and served the group Girl Scout cookies.

Mrs. A. E. Cushman and Mrs. Howard Upchurch were thrilled to see the interest the children took in Mrs. Cushman's new bird number domino game. It was surprising the skill they used to match birds and numbers. This is teaching them to have a greater interest in bird life and beauty.

Snow did not keep the children from attending. Fourteen out of the 16 were present. Kindergarten will close their second semester March 31.

The following will receive their kindergarten diplomas: Robin Alexander; daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Bob Alexander; Steve Bulgerin, son of Dr. and Mrs. H. J. Bulgerin; Jolly Brown, son of Rev. and Mrs. Lively Brown of Tanager; Kim Collins, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bill J. Collins; Chris Frost, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cyrus Frost.

Carolyn Frost, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Billy Frost; Rickey Harrell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Travis Harrell; Becky Max Jackson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Max Jackson; Larry Kinard Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Larry Kinard; Allen Leslie, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Leslie; Lisa Germany, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Germany

Craig Lund and Paula Lund, son and daughter of Dr. and Mrs. F. H. Lund; Clinton Lovelace, son of Mr. and Mrs. Chas Tot Lovelace; Nancy Jane Seaberry, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Seaberry; and Darryl Adams, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Adams.

The children's home assignment for Wednesday is to bring this newspaper article to be placed in their scrap book.

Shower Friday

Mrs. Billy Adams was honored with a pink and blue shower Friday in the home of Mrs. Gene Williamson from 7 to 9 p.m.

Hostesses for the evening were Mmes. Gib Copeland, Benny Hagan, Paul May, Jarl Cagle, Jack Tyrone, Gene Woods, Dan Woods and J. C. Foreman.

Shower favors were miniature baby diapers with a "thank" you poem attached to each.

Refreshments of cookies, mints, coffee and tea were served to those present.

Card of Thanks

Mrs. Marguerite Welch and the McDaniel family wish to express heartfelt thanks and appreciation to all who came in their hour of sorrow. They especially wish to thank Dr. Treadwell and Rev. James Campbell.

Remodeling to Begin

A complete remodeling project has been approved for the Eastland National Bank building. We're going to have a new front and a new interior real soon, but first

We're Moving
ACROSS THE STREET TO
108 East Commerce
(Next door to Texas Electric Service Co.)

Complete banking service as usual
(Well, Not Quite as Usual)

Your Friendly
Eastland National Bank

Our banking facilities may not be the most modern during the next few months, but we can assure you that we will continue to offer all of the services you need and expect. Please do not hesitate to come by with any of your banking problems.

We think that Eastland will be proud of the improved appearance of the Eastland National Bank in the near future, and we think all of you will agree that our remodeled building was worth the efforts.

And remember, it will be banking as usual. So if you need a loan, safe deposit box, a new supply of checks, or anything else, please call on us.

P. S.—Mr. Businessman: Our night deposit box will be in use as always.
