MOORE about... EASTLAND

by Virgil E. Moore

Willie Speaker, the popular shine man at Siebert's Barber Shop, took quite a lot of kidding for being a Yankee fan during the World Series, but like all New York faithfuls, he did okay in the long run.

After the Braves had the Yanks down three games to one, Willie received a potted pepper plant from the florist with a note suggesting that the Yankees might need all the pep they could muster.

The highlight came after the Yankees won their fourth game, however. A telegram came to Willie, to wit: "Would like to apply for job as assistant shine boy in your shop. Can give no references as all my backers have left me. Also make room for Span in back chair. We are both quitting baseball." The telegram was signed, "Lou Burdette."

Total bank deposits in Eastland County now stand at $14,372,300. That's a high for this time of year. Cisco deposits total $4,055,684; Eastland, $3,817,80; Panger, $2,447,385; Rising Star, $2,089,304; and Gorman, $1,962,119. Eastland, Ranger and Gorman deposits showed an increase, but Rising Star deposits were lower than they were in June of this year.

We think that even the Texas Aggies were pulling for Texas to whip Oklahoma Saturday. The tea-sippers were convincing in their victory, we thought, having the ability to come from behind after Oklahoma got a key break. We think the Oklahoma trick-offensive line maneuvers hurts the Big Red more than it does their opponents.

O. M. White, who lives at Texas Electric's Leon Village, is trying to get all the yellow catfish out of the Power Plant Lake, it would appear. In the last few days White has pulled in one 26 pounder, one 25 pounder and two seven and a half pounders.

Leldon Hensley, director of publicity at Sul Ross College, writes to tell us that Coach B. C. Graves reports that Harvey Lewis, an Eastland High ex-quarterback, is "doing a good job at quarterback for the Lobo football team."

We watched Cisco play Haskell Friday night, and we were greatly impressed with the play of Duane Hale. Hale's great fakes do as much as anything to give Randall Hess the opportunity he needs to get in the open. And the Lobo full-back and run the ball when he needs to. He has speed and doesn't mind getting tackled. No one can play Cisco as though they were a one man team. For while Hess is a great runner, he certainly isn't the only lad in the Cisco backfield who can run.

Mrs. Sam Wallace was winner of last week's mystery farm contest. Mrs. Wallace correctly identified the farm as the W. T. Duckworth place north of Eastland. She will receive two free tickets to the Majestic Theatre.

The United Fund campaign got underway this morning. By tonight most volunteers will have seen most of the people they are to contact. Wouldn't it be something if we could reach our goal—including the $200 for the Girl Scouts—in just one week. It can easily be done, if all volunteers get out and work, and if all persons contacted will remember that the United Fund drive is five (or should we say six) drives, not just one.

MYSTERY FARM—Here is Mystery Farm number 25. This farm should be easy pickings for rural experts, and someone will win two tickets to the Majestic Theatre for being able to identify it. All persons identifying the farm have a chance to win. One name will be drawn out of a hat containing the names of all persons naming the farm, and that individual gets the theatre tickets. Owner of the farm will receive a free enlargement of the photo if he calls for it at the newspaper office.

District 7-AA Elevens Pair Off This Weekend

District 7-AA teams finished their playing around last weekend and this week they will get down to the serious business of playing each other.

Cisco and Winters upheld the circuit's fine name by taking victories against tough foes in the only two game involving 7-AA teams. Cisco downed Haskell, 22-8, and Winters defeated Class AAA Colorado City, 28-20.

This week Ballinger will invade Cisco, Eastland will be at Coleman and Ranger plays host to Winters.

The Ballinger-Cisco game will match the league's top two individual scorers. Randall Hess got 10 points in the Haskell win Friday to boost his total for the year to 75. Ken Wington, Ballinger's top ace, didn't play Friday, but has 44 points were enough to hold second place for him.

Fat DeBuck of Coleman is in third place and Duane Hale of Cisco moved up to fourth with a 12 point outburst Friday. DeBuck has 38 points to his credit and Hale has 32.

In 30 non-district games, District 7-AA teams managed to win 18 while losing 11 and tying one. These losses have included setbacks by some of the best teams in the state, Stamford, Brady and Albany, to mention a few. Only Ballinger fails to have a 500 average or better in the district.

Seaberry Will Attend Meeting Of State Bar

Attorneys Virgil T. Seaberry of Eastland and George W. Leonard, Jr. of Sweetwater will attend the Fall meeting of the Texas State Bar board of directors Friday and Saturday in Austin.

Leonard represents lawyers of the Seventeenth Congressional District on the board which governs the 13,000-member legal organization. Seaberry is immediate past president of the State Bar and is a former chairman of its board of directors.

Board Chairman Buster Cole of Bonham will preside over the two-day meeting at State Bar headquarters. The agenda includes a study of the Bar's legislative program to be presented to the 56th Texas Legislature, convening in January.

State Bar officers to participate in the Austin meeting will include President Leo Brewster of Fort Worth, Vice President Paul Carington of Dallas, and President-Elect A. J. Folley of Amarillo. The board is comprised of a representative of each congressional district, the immediate past president and the officers.

Ballots Will Determine Site Of Pecan Show

Ballots have been sent out by the County Agent's office asking members of the Eastland County Pecan Growers Association and exhibitors in last year's pecan show to choose between Cisco and Ranger as the show site in December. J. M. Cooper, county agent, mailed the post card ballots enclosed with a letter, asking for a return of cards by Monday, Oct. 20.

Selection of the show, as in the past, will be determined by a majority vote of the members and exhibitors.

Associational Baptist Meet Is Set Today

Rev. B. L. Davis, newly elected moderator, will preside over the first session of the Cisco Baptist Association when it meets in the First Baptist Church of Ranger Tuesday at 6:55 p.m.

The Reverend Davis is the pastor of East Cisco Baptist Church and has been active in all phases of the association since moving into this section about two years ago. He has a wife and two children.

Program for the Workers' Conference will be preceded with a board meeting and a Woman's Missionary Union Meeting, both beginning at 5 p.m. Supper will be served by the host church at 6. The program emphasis will be on the "Training of Church Committees" which will feature conferences for:

Church Councils led by Byron Bryant of Breckenridge; Church Clerks, W. A. Lewis of Ranger; Church Treasurers, Lee Russell of Ranger; Church Ushers, Rev. Harvey Kimbler of Eastland; Deacons, Rev. B. L. Davis of Cisco; Baptism Committee, Jackie Heath of Olden; Lord's Supper Committee, James Fleming, of Eastland; Nominating Committee, E. M. Jackson of Rising Star; Pulpit Supply, Buel Bryan of Desdemona; Properties, Lewis Green and Tom Lang of Ranger; Library, Mrs. Ruby Springe of Ranger; Recreation, Rev. Charles Massegee of Ranger; Nursery, E. A. Teaff of Moran.

Rev. Benny Hagen of Olden will bring the closing message, following the presentation of the Annual Award for Town and Country Church Improvement which will be made by L. L. Trot, District 17 Missions Secretary of Abilene.

THIS IS OIL PROGRESS WEEK

County's Oil History Great

This is Oil Progress Week in Texas, and what county has more to boast of when it comes to oil than does Eastland County?

Movies have been made about the Eastland County oil boom and many books have been written about it. Even today experts call the local boom of 1917 the "most spectacular ever to occur within the United States."

It was on Oct. 28, 1917 — just 41 years ago this month — that the Texas and Pacific Oil Co.'s McCleskey No. 1 was brought in at Ranger. When the flow of the well was at its peak, daily production reached more than 1,700 barrels. News of the well spread far and wide in fast fashion, and soon Ranger was the center of oil activity in the nation.

Development spread all over Eastland County. No part of the county failed to have some production. In early 1918 the spotlight switched from Ranger to Desdemona, when the Duke well was brought in by R. O. Harvey. This well had an estimated flush production of 10,000 barrels per day. The peak of production in Eastland County came in June of 1919. In that month, 75,933 barrels per day were received by major pipe lines.

Production in 1919 reached 22,297,665 barrels. It dropped sharply to 10,141,358 barrels the following year, to 5,887,420 barrels in 1921 and to 2,283,840 barrels in 1924. Production last

Construction of New Hospital Wing Slated

Work to Begin Soon On Ten New Rooms

Members of the Board of Directors of Eastland Memorial Hospital voted last night to begin work on a new wing at the hospital "at the earliest date possible."

New officers were also elected at the meeting, which was held at the office of W. H. Hoffmann. Hoffmann was re-elected president, Parks Poe is vice president, Buda Butler is secretary and Bill Frost is treasurer.

Stockholders of the hospital voted at their annual meeting to let the Directors decide if the new wing should be built. Plans call for constructing the wing northeast of the present hospital, connecting with the kitchen and room 12. Added will be an administrator's office, nurses' lounge, therapy room, eight two-bed patient rooms and two private rooms.

The hospital has been so crowded in recent weeks that patients in some cases have had to be treated in the hall and the emergency room.

Hoffmann told stockholders that the Board has enough money to build the hospital, and said he knew it would be equipped after it was built.

The original hospital was constructed completely by volunteer labor. Contributors of time and money were given stock in the hospital.

Legionnaires and Auxiliary members from the 17th Congressional District of the American Legion will convene in Sweetwater Saturday and Sunday, for their annual Fall Convention and Post Officers Conference, according to Troy S. Bowen, 17th District commander.

Meetings will be held at Roscoe water and Roscoe, with Roscoe acting as the host post. Saturday afternoon at one registration will open at the Legion Hut in Roscoe and at the Blue Hotel in Sweetwater.

The Post Officers Conference will be held at the Blue Bonnet Hotel in Sweetwater at 2 p.m.

The Legion Hut in Roscoe will be the location of the Social Hour beginning at 3 p.m., followed by a dance at 9 p.m. for the Legionnaires and their wives.

Sunday morning at 8:30 a.m. registration will be resumed at both locations. At 8:45 a.m. in the Sky Room of the Blue Bonnet Hotel, the Post Officers Conference will meet for another session.

The joint session of The American Legion will begin at 10 a.m. with W. L. Martindale, commander of the Sweetwater Post, calling the meeting to order. Colors will be advanced by a Color Guard from the Sweetwater Air Base. Address of welcome will be given by E. K. Wills of Roscoe, and response by Dr. C. B. Cathey of Hamilton. W. S. Chennault, traffic manager of the Western Union, will deliver the principal address, and will be introduced by James S. Lee, Memorial Service will be conducted by Rev. Angus Miller.

Lunch will be served at the Legion Home in Roscoe at 12:15 p.m. to all registered delegates and guests.

Immediately following lunch the Legion and Auxiliary will hold their separate business sessions with Commander Bowen presiding over the Legion meeting. Membership will be the main topic for discussion and will be followed by an address by Gerald Turner of the Veterans Affairs Commission of Lubbock.

Refreshments will be served.

EARL LEBREDO

FACTS ABOUT YOUR UNITED FUND

Earl Lebrede, manager of the Men's Store, is one of the 10 captains working this year in the interest of the United Fund. He along with the others will be responsible for the gathering of funds to meet the $6,500 quota set for this year's drive.

Lebrede was born in Cuba of Spanish and Portuguese parents who were at the time on a trip from Spain to Cuba to visit relatives. He has lived in many interesting places, Brazil, Argentina, Central America and in many sections of the United States. He speaks five languages.

Following World War II, he came to Ranger, where he lived 5 years before coming to Eastland six years ago. He had worked for the same firm in Ranger and was transferred here as manager of their local store.

Lebrede served with the field artillery in the Pacific Theater during the war. He is an American citizen.

He is secretary of the Lions Club and a member of the Catholic Church. With his wife and three children, he lives at 505 South High Street.

Eastland, as usual, has her best talents available for and work toward a better community and Lebrede is doing his part.

Fine Fish Catches Made

Good fish catches were made at Lake Leon this past weekend, according to recent reports.

Boone Yarbrough and Jack Ralls of Ranger pulled in 13 bass, weighing between one and one-half and five pounds, Saturday morning with top water lures.

Another report indicated that Joe Weekes and Charlie Rose caught four bass over the weekend, weighing a total of 11 pounds and the largest weighing five pounds.

Gray Matter

By JOE GRAY

I've figured it out; I've always wondered how some of my lady friends measured their ages; now I know. They use the Awe Moore method. By that I mean they measure every 15 months or so as a year. That saves a lot of time over a period of a few years.

Awe (that's his new nickname and the first time I heard it I didn't know what it was, but this is the origin of Virgil's being called Awe. The letters A-W-E stand for "Award Winning Editor" and as he's the only editor to win an award on the Eastland Telegram he's proud of his attainments. So he got the boys down at the south side of the square calling him Awe. At first I thought this was short for awful, but it isn't. It's short for Award Winning Editor.)

Moore made a slight mistake in calculating time with respect to age in this column. These little dummies began to appear in the Eastland Telegram sometime right after the Homecoming last year, which means they must have started in June or July. I think they actually started sometime in July; that's a little over a year ago, but the way my old-maid girl friends measure time it could be called a year—or even less.

But if this is the only mistake Awe makes, he's still done all right. An editor of a busy paper is entitled to an error in time calculation now and then. Actually he can make a serious mistake once in a while. A fellow wouldn't be normal if he didn't make an error now and then.

But Awe's error is so small in comparison to another made by another editor this week that it is of no importance at all. The other though will go down as one of the biggest editorial blunders of the ages.

The editors of the Methodist family magazine "Together" this week announced the winner of their Methodist Family of the Year Award. The Eastland Methodist Church nominated the Henry Van Geem family for that award. The Van Geem family didn't win this award and for that blunder the editor of "Together" will have to bear the blame. They named a family from Burbank, California, named James Dewitler as The Methodist Family of the Year.

This family has three children, two boys aged 11 and 17, and a girl aged 15. The Van Geem family the Eastland church offered to this magazine as the most representative Methodist family also has two boys and a girl. Both of the older children in our family have been at one time or another Sunday-school teachers, and the whole flock of them are real workers in their church.

Both of the boys are students in the University of Texas and their laughter works at the Eastland National Bank. All the kidding in the choir and all of them are as active as a cat in a room full of rocking chairs in church work. None of them have to ask anybody to do a job in our church. If there is anything to be done that ought to be done they do it.

So I guess this matter of editors making mistakes now and then is something that readers have to put up with and it is certainly something that readers ought to expect.

I'm not going to use the excuse that Texas has used for these many years on Oklahoma of "we'll still next year" on the editors of "Together." All I've

United Fund Drive Is Underway Here

Eastland's United Fund financial drive got off to an optimistic start this morning at a kick-off breakfast held in the roof garden of the Connellee Hotel.

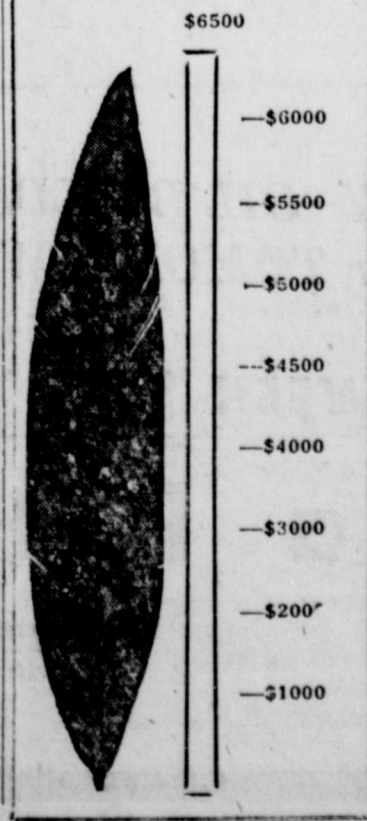

A good turnout of volunteers was on hand, and some 800 cards were handed out, each having the name of a prospective contributor listed on it.

M. H. Perry, master of ceremonies for the breakfast, told the volunteers that the success of the drive "... is in your hands." He said that the drive would again go over the top "... if you all do your part."

The breakfast was arranged by Clyde Young. Steve Potts, campaign chairman, outlined the new bank withdrawal plan, and told volunteers that the plan was the easiest way for Eastland citizens to help the five United Fund organizations. Sharing in the drive are the USO, the Boy Scouts, the Salvation Army, the YMCA and the Red Cross. If the fund is oversubscribed, the Girl Scouts, a new organization here, will be given $200.

Larry Kinard, president of the UF, was introduced, as were all team captains, and David Fry, auditor.

ing farm mechanics skills in welding, electrification, shop farm building, conservation of soil and natural resources, and farm machinery. Too, instruction for young and adult farmers is provided for those people who are new engaged in farming.

Such scientific training in agriculture is no doubt largely responsible for the high degree of perfection we have reached in Texas and the United States in producing farm commodities. This important contribution to our national economy and to the national leadership the United States is able to demonstrate among world powers. History has demonstrated that for a country to be world leader, she must have a strong program of agriculture. Consequently, it is important that we train an adequate number of scientific farmers to produce the food and fiber needed by our people. And even though we will need fewer farmers in the future, these farmers that are needed must be highly trained in the science of agriculture.

GEPCO REMOVES YOUR GYP DEPOSITS

In many wells, abnormal production declines results from Gyp deposits, Calcium Carbonate, and Sulfate clogged formations. These deposits make frequent workovers necessary, increasing your production costs. To solve this problem GEPCO Gyp Remover injected into the producing formation returns in the produced water slowly to give long term protection.

It can be squeezed into the formation, Oil or water based fluids may be used as the carrying medium.

With GEPCO Gyp Remover you get sustained protection instead of just temporary relief. Some wells that had required monthly workovers to remove Gyp, now give good protection after a treatment with GEPCO Gyp Remover. The use of GEPCO Gyp Remover is recommended in any well where Gyp deposits are the suspected cause of rapid or unusual decline rates. The formation may be plugged with Gyp even tho the tubing is free from scale.

Where you just have pump trouble inject GEPCO Gyp Remover periodically in the well.

GEPCO Gyp Remover is also very effective in increasing production in any well at a very reasonable cost to you.

got to say about it is that those Chicago based editors don't know a good thing when they see it. Little Henry Van Geem is as happy as a small boy with a new box of cracker-jack about Texas' defeating Oklahoma Saturday in their annual football entanglement with the Big Red from north of the Red. The trouble with Oklahoma this year is that the Sooners don't have as many Texans on their football squad this year as they have in the past. About three or four of their best players Saturday came from Texas, though. The fellow that grabbed the hand-off and raced 24 yards for a touchdown is from Tyler. Price Daniel ought to file state treason charges against him for going to Oklahoma and giving aid and comfort to the enemy. And as far as I'm concerned as long as Oklahoma refuses to honor letters of intent from Texas boys to Texas schools, Oklahoma is an "enemy." As a result of this Oklahoma defeat I'll be busy all week acting as nurse for a lot of Indian friends of mine. All of the Oklahoma McCurtains from McCurtain County, Oklahoma are sicker now than a seasick sailor with gas on his stomach. Those Indians seemed to think the Big Red was unbeatable at football. They might have been until they ran into some fellows from Austin. But if Oklahoma had to play the scheduled year in and year out, week in and week out, that Texas does they wouldn't have nearly as impressive a record they do have now. My Indian friends are of course, taking this matter worse than normal individuals would under like circumstances. One reason they are taking it so hard is that they talked so much about it in the past weeks. All these Redskins have talked about since football season has opened is how great the Oklahoma football club is and about it's going through another season without really having to open up. Perhaps that's what happened to them Saturday. Perhaps they forgot to open up and when they found time to try it they found the competition too stiff. Or perhaps they weren't able to practice football this past week. One of the Oklahoma bandmen told me that the football team didn't suit out Wednesday, Thursday and Friday of last week before the Texas game. I asked, "why." He said they were so busy reading the article in the Saturday Evening Post about Oklahoma football and Bud Wilkinson that they didn't have time to come out for football and go to classes too. There ought to be a moral here of something or other. Perhaps it pay to read one's press clippings.

PETROLEUM—basic to the needs of our time

Oil and natural gas have powered most of the great technological advances of modern times; petroleum hydrocarbons have transformed the dreams of inventors into the realities of engineers... Today, in the United States, oil and natural gas provide about 75% of the country's energy requirements; and large quantities of oil, available for production beyond immediate need, are necessary to the national security.

An obvious example is the gasoline that powers our automobiles; another is the diesel fuel burned by post-war railway engines. But do not overlook electric power plants, the airplane, whether jet or propeller driven, factory power plants, farm mechanization, and the revolution since World War II in home heating devices. Oil provides the energy that moves the trucks, airplanes, ships and tanks of our Armed Forces.

But petroleum as a source of energy is only part of the story. In the past two decades, the petrochemicals have supplied the country with a vigorous new industry; already most of our rubber is made from petrochemicals... the ubiquitous plastics derive from petroleum products... paraxylene, a petrochemical, is the raw material for one of the most useful of the new fabrics. In this area, wonders never cease; the petrochemicals contribute more each year to the efficiency, comfort, and convenience of modern living.

Thus, oil's progress has made other progress possible all along the front of American industry... Petroleum is the American resource that is basic to the needs of our time... that is essential to our national security.

The Humble Company, established in 1917, has developed with the industry. Humble's exploration activities extend from Florida around the rim of the country to California, Oregon and Washington, and beyond to the new State of Alaska... The Company is a leader in the production of oil and gas in the United States... Humble Pipe Line Company is a public carrier transporting not only Humble's oil but that of many other companies and independent producers to Gulf Coast terminals... Baytown refinery is one of the nation's great manufacturing plants... And Humble is a marketer in the Southwest, supplying the needs of motorists in modern service stations.

The Humble Company believes strongly in research, maintains two outstanding research facilities, and annually budgets considerable sums for this activity... Humble research has made substantial contributions to the discovery, production, and utilization of petroleum.

Enjoy the ECONOMY of Electric Cooking

Electric cooking is economical cooking because it utilizes heat with maximum efficiency. Electric range surface units concentrate heat directly into cooking utensils. The sealed electric oven keeps heat where it belongs, in the oven and out of the kitchen. As soon as the oven reaches the temperature you select, it uses electricity less than half of the cooking time. Here is real efficiency, real economy—the modern, automatic electric way. See your electric range dealer soon... learn how little it costs to enjoy cooking electrically!

Reduction in Crude Oil Imports Offset by Higher Refined Imports

WASHINGTON (Spl.)—Reductions in crude oil imports under the voluntary oil import program have been largely offset by higher imports of refined petroleum products, the Independent Petroleum Association of America said today.

In its monthly Supply and Demand Outlook, IPAA reported that while crude oil imports in the May - July period were 230,000 barrels a day below the same months last year, imports of refined products were up 185,000 barrels daily.

Total new crude oil supply during the latest three months, the association stated, averaged 8,683,000 barrels daily — down 843,000 barrels daily from the corresponding 1957 period. "Domestic production accounted for most of the decline, being down almost 800,000 barrels daily," the Outlook noted.

Domestic and export demand for September - November, is expected to average 9,120,000 barrels daily, 180,000 barrels a day or 2 percent higher than this time last year.

Domestic petroleum consumption during the May - July period this year reflected the "best percentage" increase for any three-month period in more than a year," the national petroleum organization stated.

Such consumption during that period averaged 8,285,000 barrels daily, an increase of 184,000 barrels a day or 2.3 percent over the same months in 1957.

Reflecting the increased domestic demand and depressed domestic production during the latest three months, U. S. inventories of crude oil at the end of July were down about 41 million barrels and total crude oil and product inventories were down 44 million barrels to about 775 million barrels, from July of 1957, IPAA stated.

"Assuming the above demand estimates and seasonal changes in inventories, the total new supply required during the next three months, September - November, is expected to average about 9,300,000 barrels daily. Based on schedules submitted to the Texas Railroad Commission, total imports are expected to average 1,500,000 barrels daily. Domestic production of natural gas liquids are estimated at 800,000 barrels daily. Market for domestic crude oil, therefore, is expected to average about 7,000,000 barrels daily during the September - November period — approximately the same as estimated production in August," IPAA concluded.

Every one of us, every man, woman and child in America, owes a load of thanks to our oilmen. This is Oil Progress Week—a good time for us to put our thanks into words.

By their continuous, faithful service to this community and to the nation, America's oilmen prove daily that your progress and Oil Progress go hand in hand. You can measure that progress yourself—by the improved gasolines that power your car, the efficient new fuels for home heating and the hundreds of other new oil products that make living more comfortable every day.

America's oilmen are working extra hard these days getting ready for the future. America's future growth, in both prosperity and population, will be so great, that all phases of the oil industry must prepare today to meet your oil power needs of the future.

Petroleum, power and

PROGRESS

The oil and the electricity supply industries have long played important roles in the growth and development of West and Northwest Texas.

Oil and gas are important factors in the production of electricity... and electric power performs an equally important function in oil well pumping and in refining and moving petroleum products to market.

And just as the oil industry has expanded and improved its facilities to provide more and better service for its consumers, Texas Electric Service Company has planned and built ahead to assure abundant, low-cost electric power for the area served.

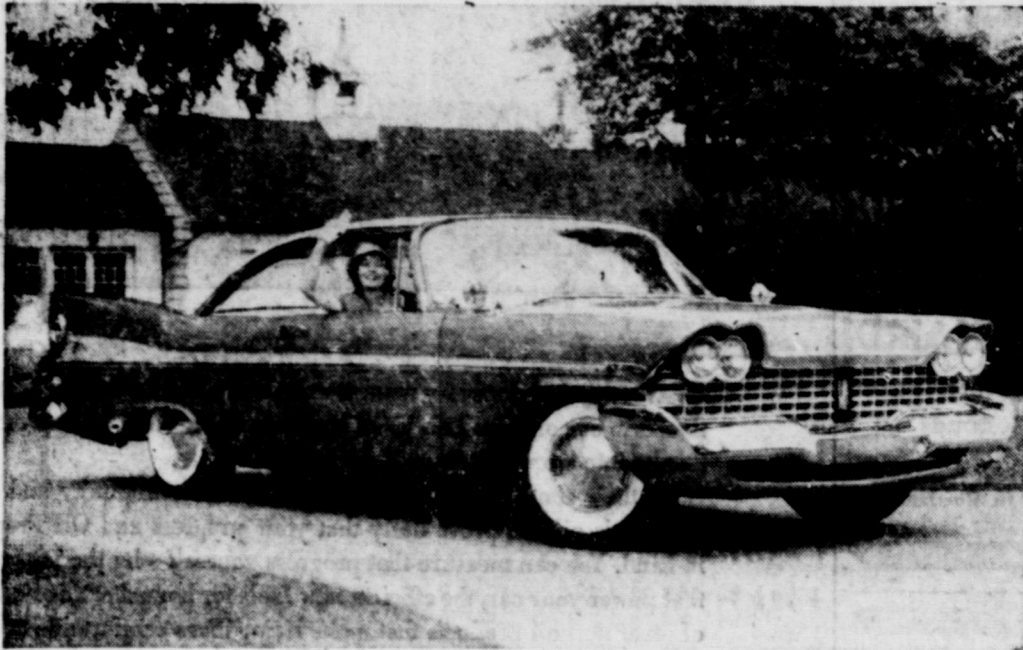

So, Texas Electric Service Company and its 2,600 employees salute the men and women of the oil industry as partners in progress... working together to help build for the future.

Plymouth Adds New Line of Luxury Cars

Plymouth's new line of luxury cars, the Sport Fury models, will be shown to the public for the first time October 16 in dealer showrooms throughout the country. This new Sport Fury 2-door hardtop has styling innovations from the massive front bumper and the smart grille all the way to the new, outward-canted tail fins. The new compound windshield curves into the roof as well as wrapping around the sides. The Sport Fury models introduce to the low-price field swivel front seats as standard equipment. Swivel seats are optional on four other models. All Plymouth models have improvements which reduce operating costs and at the same time improve performance.

Swivel Front Seats on 1959 Plymouth

A major development in automobile seating arrangements is the introduction of swivel front seats in the 1959 Plymouth. Driver and front seat passenger can now pivot the seats outward when entering or leaving the car. Each seat pivots independently of the other. The seats swivel when a lever is lifted in the seat shield, releasing a spring which swings the seat outward on rollers a full 40 degrees. The seats automatically lock in place when returned to normal position. An arm rest between the driver and front seat passenger may be folded back when three persons wish to ride in the front seat.

General Medaris is the first commander of America's new Missile Command. He has been a member of the Armed Services since 1918, when he enlisted in the U.S. Marine Corps at the age of 16. Prior to that he worked as a newspaper boy in Springfield, Ohio—and supplemented this with another job; turning gas street lamps on and off along his newspaper route!

A salute to America's newspaper boys from a former member of their ranks — Major General John B. Medaris, Commanding General, U. S. Army Ordnance Missile Command

"You're a mighty important young man. First, because you keep us supplied with one of the most vital needs of our day: news of the world. We know we can depend on you for that. Second, because you are one of America's future leaders. And we already have evidence of your ability to "sell 'America" in the way you and your fellow carriers have helped sell Savings Stamps and Bonds ever since 1941. Today thousands of carriers are investing part of their weekly earnings in Stamps and Bonds—saving for the future.

This is more important today than ever. Every U.S. Savings Bond or Stamp sold helps strengthen America's Peace Power, by providing money to keep our country strong, to advance science and education, and to keep our economy healthy.

So—in honor of Newspaperboy Day, 1958, I salute you. You and your circulation managers are doing a great job. Keep up the good work."

Eight New Members of Morgan G. A. Are Initiated Wednesday

Eight girls were initiated into membership in the Morgan Girls' Auxiliary in an impressive candlelight service Wednesday at the First Baptist Church. Those who were initiated were Marsha Trendwell, Andrea Rhodes, Judy Morris, Dixie Young, Brenda Cook, Mary Herrera, Reggie Cook and Anna Kay Smith.

A table centered the darkened room, bearing a large gold star with candles at each point. As the girls were led to the five star points the Star Ideals were discussed and each candle lighted.

Mary Ann Manning played musical selections during the ceremony and Wanda Lane served as guide. Sally Perkins welcomed the candidates.

Others participating in the service were Ernie Mae Lane, Sharon Sayre, Sharon Chick, Brenda Jenkins, Janice Dendy, Donna Kay Ford, Lois Ann Sims, Janet Kimbler and the counselors, Mrs. Gene Rhodes and Mrs. Herbert Ekert.

Refreshments were served and the meeting was closed with a prayer of dedication by Mrs. Harvey Kimbler, G. A. Director.
