THIS IS LAST ELECTION WITH 25 VOTING PRECINCTS

County Citizens Vote On Nine Amendments

Tuesday is General Election day and Eastland County voters will be making history. For the last time, county voters will do their balloting in 25 different voting precincts. Next year, by an act of the Commissioners' Court, 12 of the county's precincts will be abolished.

From a standpoint of close races, none are expected in this county. A full slate of candidates will be on the ballot under the Democratic Party label and a sprinkling of Republican Constitution Party candidates are listed. Democrats are expected to carry the country with ease, however.

Most interest has been shown in nine proposed Constitutional amendments. County Democratic Chairman Jay Blevins has urged all Democrats to vote in the gubernatorial race, too, so that Eastland County can have full strength in the next State Convention. The number of delegates each county has is determined by the number of votes cast for the Democratic candidate for governor in the preceding General Election.

County officials emphasized that all 25 county voting precincts will have elections. It was revealed that voters of one precinct, Alameda (10) will vote at the Chaney Church of Christ building this year instead of the Alameda church building. Reason for the change is that the Alameda church building has been moved.

Voting places for this election will be as follows:

- Precinct—Voting Place
- 1—Eastland Courthouse
- 2—Eastland City Hall
- 3—Ranger City Hall
- 4—Ranger Young School
- 5—East Cisco
- 6—West Cisco
- 7—West Rising Star
- 8—East Rising Star
- 9—Pioneer

Directors Will Plan Pecan Show

Plans for the Annual Pecan Show to be held in Ranger will be made by officers and directors of the Eastland County Pecan Growers' Association in a meeting with the agriculture committee of the Ranger Chamber of Commerce and a special committee this Wednesday night at 7:30.

The groups will meet in the Ranger Chamber of Commerce office to discuss the show.

R. V. "Rip" Galloway, manager of the Ranger Chamber, announced that the show would be held in the Joseph Dry Goods Store Building this December.

Galloway said that pecan entries should be turned in to his office as soon as the best harvested pecans are selected by growers.

Ranger placed 16 pecan entries in the show at Cisco last year. Eastland placed two entries, and R. W. Beck took second prize with an Eastern Schley pecan entry.

Amendments to be voted on, as listed on the ballot, are:

1. Providing for annual Sessions of the Legislature, prescribing the compensation and expenses for members thereof, limiting the per diem for each Session, and authorizing temporary residence of the Lieutenant governor and speaker of the House.
2. To authorize each county to establish, after approval by its voters, a retirement, disability and death compensation fund covering the elective officers of the county or precinct, as well as the appointive officers and employees.
3. Provides that vacancies in the office of county judge and justices of the peace shall be filled by the Commissioners' Court only until the next general election.
4. Provides that any district, county or precinct official serving a four-year term must resign before announcing for a different office if there remains unexpired more than one year of the term for which he was elected.
5. Provides that Home Rule City may provide by charter, or charter amendment, and a city or town operating under the general laws may provide by majority vote, for a longer term of office than two years for its officers, with 85.4 percent of its total goal received.

Sales in Texas during the first nine months of 1958 were $132,257,457 which represents 75.6 percent of the 1958 goal of $175,000,000.

"Under a recent change in Treasury regulations, individuals who hold F and G bonds that mature after September 1, 1958, may invest the proceeds from the maturing bonds in E and H bonds without regard to annual purchase limits," Guy Parker, county chairman, announced. This information should be of interest to people in this area who hold maturing F and G Bonds, he concluded.

The chart below shows a comparison of Eastland and other counties:

County	Total Sales	Pct.
Callahan	$201,793	96.5
EASTLAND	572,640	112.9
Fisher	42,545	39.4

Shackelford	207,801	90.3
Stephens	252,155	57.0

Boxes to be eliminated next year are Eastland City Hall, Ranger Young School, Staff, Alameda, Long Branch, Romney, Cook, Sabanno, East Rising Star, Pleasant Hill, Dotham and East Cisco.

Cisco Gets Cinch For District Crown

Fighting all the way, the Eastland Mavericks fell before the Cisco Lobos Friday night, 28-6, to give the visitors a cinch for a tie for the District 7-AA crown.

In winning over Eastland, while Winters upset Coleman in another district encounter, Cisco won the right to represent the district in the state playoffs, unless they should drop both of their remaining games while Ballinger goes undefeated for the rest of the year.

Eastland came out on the short end of the score in the all-important contest played at Maverick stadium, but even the staunchest Cisco rooster would admit that the sickness-plagued Mavs gave it all they had.

Cisco had to go to the air in the first half to overcome a 6-0 Eastland first quarter lead. Only some sensational pass catching by amazing Randall Hess kept Cisco from being on the short end of the score at halftime. Hess scored both touchdowns in the initial period on unbelievable catches.

While Hess was the boy who caught the fans' fancy with his great showmanship, it was Duane Hale who punched Eastland to death. Hale accounted for 176 yards rushing by himself, and it was he who kept the Eastland defense drawn in tight so that Hess could streak into the endzone on the long pass tries. Without Hale in the backfield, Eastland could have held their own.

The game was a complete sell-out, with standing room only, and fans were still in their seats when the contest ended. Eastland gave local fans their money in a "never give-up" performance. With just two minutes left on the clock, the out-classed Mavs picked up a first down on the Cisco 22 yard line.

Cisco couldn't score in the first period, but early in the second quarter the mighty Lobos got their first touchdown. Getting a first down on the Mav 25 via a penalty, Lipey went back to pass. He threw the ball straight down the middle and Hess ran under it just as he ran out of the back side of the endzone. Hale tried to run over the extra points, but was smothered. The score: 6-6.

Eastland punched the ball out from their own 24 to the Cisco 49 before having to punt. Hess was smothered on the 11 by Eastland's hard charging ends, but the Lobos settled down to get what turned out to be the winning touchdown.

Delbert Schaefer, who makes all the difference in the world in Cisco's attack when he is in the game, teamed with Hale on power plays to bring the ball out to the Cisco 46. Then Lipey faded back and threw toward the goal line. The ball was apparently out of the reach of Hess, but the speedy youngster stuck out his fingers, tipped the ball into the air and ran under it. Hess juggled the ball, but the touchdown was his. This time Schaefer got the extra points on a keeper play.

Cisco scored the second time they got the ball in the third period. Hess and Hale brought the ball from their own 34 to the Mav 34, then a 15 yard penalty against Eastland gave Cisco a first down on the Mav 19. Lipey failed to gain, then Hess showed local fans what folks have been talking about as he wiggle for 19 yards and the counter. The try for points failed.

Cisco got their final tally in the fourth quarter on a six yard plunge by Hale. The drive was the longest of the night, 69 yards, and it was Hale who did all of the damage. Cisco stuck to the ground on the drive, then Schaefer ran over the extra points.

Eastland threatened four times in the game, and Cisco had one hitting locals slashed the ball out of the hands of Hess and recovered of the pigskin in the endzone.

Around the district, Ranger was humbled by Ballinger, 48-14, and Winters upset Coleman, 14-12.

David McClure Completes Course

FORT RUCKER, ALA.—Pvt. David M. McClure, 19, son of William T. McClure, Route 4, Cisco, recently completed the eight-week airplane maintenance course at the Army Aviation School, Fort Rucker, Ala.

McClure was graduated from Cisco Plains High School in 1957. He entered the army last June.

He entered the district, Ranger was humbled by Ballinger, 48-14, and Winters upset Coleman, 14-12.

"They either buy 'em or we trick them," Kinard explained.

County Peanut Crop Outlook Best in Years

Wet and adverse weather conditions in Eastland County have held up the harvesting and shelling of peanuts, thus far, but the best crop of county peanuts within the past eight years is expected.

Ross Wilson, general manager of the Southwestern Peanut Grower's Association in Gorman, said that Texas and the region is lagging behind Oklahoma due to unfavorable weather. About 45,000 tons of peanuts have been marketed in Oklahoma, he said, while about 30,000 tons have gone to market in Texas.

Wilson indicated that he had heard of yields running from 30 to 40 bushels per acre, in the vicinity of Gorman and DeLeon, and he expects the average county yield to exceed 20 bushels per acre. (The County average for the past 15 years has been 20 bushels.)

Melvin Shell, president of the Gorman Peanut Co., Inc., reported that over 10,000 tons of Spanish peanuts from Texas and Oklahoma had been received by Thursday. Shell is connected with one of the largest plants in the nation.

T. C. Wylie, vice president and general manager of Ranger Peanut Co., Inc., agrees that the average yield of the county is between 23 and 25 bushels per acre. Wylie said that the grade of peanuts, now being received, has improved over early peanuts. The early harvested peanuts were graded in the 50's and low 60's, as compared with the high 50's and 60's now. Highest grade this season has been 68.

A few scattered peanut fields, on irrigated land, should produce even better grades and a higher yield, Wylie said.

The Ranger plant is running about 30 tons of peanuts during an eight-hour day during time of peak production.

Both Wilson and Wylie stated that a lot of peanuts are on top of the ground before being thrashed, others are thrashed and drying before going to market, and a lot of others are yet to be dug. Wilson said that about 60 percent of the peanuts have been dug and about 15 or 20 percent has been thrashed, but less than five percent has been marketed. Most of it is in the drying stage, Wilson indicated.

Peanuts are now being sold at prices above the government loan advance, said Wilson. He expects to come more into the picture when the prices come down on the loan level. The Association, operating in Texas, Oklahoma and Eastern New Mexico — will then start storing peanuts in government warehouses.

At the present, about 1,200 tons are stored in 12 Oklahoma towns, but a few tons are stored at Rising Star, Santo and Talor, Wilson indicated.

The Oklahoma peanut crop is estimated to total between 60,000 and 70,000 tons while the slower Texas crop is estimated as high as 100,000 to 115,000 tons. Oklahoma is farther along on harvesting due to warmer weather conditions.

The Southwestern Peanut Grower's Association has warehouses across Central Texas ready to take the crops when prices are lower. Several thousand bushels are expected to be stored by the Association in Texas.

Why Must We Have Ministers?

Why must we have ministers? They stay dressed up all the time, read lots of books and make life hard by their preaching. Why should we have preachers anyway? So spoke a hard-working man recently in caustic tones. It is a good question. Why should we have ministers?

The New Testament answers this question by stating that God intends for us to have ministers. The Bible plainly says that God "gave some, apostles; and some, prophets; and some, evangelists; and some, pastors and teachers" (Ephesians 4:11). The Bible also calls it "a good work" (1 Timothy 3:1). In this good work the pastor preaches in the worship services, officiates at weddings and funerals, administers baptism and the Lord's Supper, visits the sick, comforts the bereaved, counsels with those who seek his help, guides the young, encourages the aged, and directs the varied activities of the church. He co-operates with the laity in the work of the church.

The pastor is not a priest to act as a mediator between man and God; only the Lord Jesus Christ can do that. "There is one God, and one mediator between God and men, the man Christ Jesus" (1 Timothy 2:5). The pastor cannot forgive sins, nor can he act as God's agent in the forgiveness of sins. He can only point to Christ as the one who can act. "Being justified by faith, we have peace with God through our Lord Jesus Christ" (Romans 5:1).

In dedicated, God-called preachers, Baptists have found men who are friends, counselors, and guides; men who have fed "the flock of God... taking the oversight thereof, not by constraint, but willingly; not for filthy gain, but of a ready mind" (1 Peter 5:2).

Amendments Stir Up More Dust Than Candidates in Nov. 4 Voting

By Vern Sanford
Texas Press Association

AUSTIN — More dust is being stirred up over issues than over candidates, in the build-up to the General Election, Nov. 4.

Texans will vote on nine proposed amendments to the Constitution. One of them, providing for annual sessions and salaries in the Legislature, is the subject of hot debate.

A condensed outline of the amendments and arguments being presented for and against follows: (Numbers correspond to the order in which amendments will appear on the ballot.)

1. Would provide for annual sessions of the Legislature. Odd-year sessions would be devoted to all matters, as before, and even-year sessions would attend to budgeting and emergency matters. Legislators would receive an annual salary of $7,500 (instead of $25 a day for a 120-day session) and an unspecified amount for "expenses of office."

Pro: Supporters say annual sessions will allow more time for consideration of important matters. State financial planning could be done for one year at a time. No more having to "guessimate" financial needs for two years ahead. Better pay would be a step toward attracting the best qualified persons to lawmaking. Such influential and hard-working groups as the Texas Junior Chamber of Commerce are pushing this amendment.

CON: Equally outspoken are the opponents who say it would cause needless expense when money is already short. More time in session means more chances to spend money. Proposed salary still is not enough to attract top-notch talent, but "expenses of office" could open the door to "fattening" with public funds. Sen. Dorsey Hardeman of San Angelo is the recognized spokesman for the "antis" which include some other lawmakers and other groups.

2. Would allow counties to extend participation in their retirement, disability and death compensation plans to elective officials of the county and precinct.

PRO: Present arrangement covers only appointive officials and employees of the county.

CON: It sets no requirement for length of service. An official might serve one term - or less - and receive benefits.

3. Would allow the County Commissioners Court to fill vacancies in the office of County Judge and Justices of the Peace only until the next general election. Presently such appointments are for the remainder of the unexpired term, up to four years.

PRO: It would give voters the right to choose their own replacement to office as soon as possible.

CON: Since campaigns are so costly, there would be less incentive to run for the office for only a two year term.

4. Would provide for automatic resignation of a district, county and precinct official who announces for any other public office more than one year before the end of his term of office.

PRO: It would keep officials on the job rather than out campaigning of some other office.

CON: It would discriminate against district, county and precinct officials since other officials - U. S. senators, state senators, railroad commissioners and others with more than two-year terms - can run for another office in mid-term.

5. Would allow Home Rule cities to extend terms of their elective and appointive officials from two years to four years.

PRO: It is permissive; each city can make its own decision. Two-year terms hardly allow an official time to get a program started before he has to get out and run again.

CON: Elections every two years give voters more control, build up citizen interest in government.

6. Would provide pensions, not to exceed $80 a month, for retired Texas Rangers and widows of Rangers who retired before the 1947 State Employees Retirement System was established. Money would come from the Confederate Pension Fund.

PRO: Since funds are available, it would put no extra burden on taxpayers. Protective dating clause would prevent marrying for pensions.

CON: It would allow ex-Rangers to receive pensions for as little as two years' service and with no payments on their part, a more generous arrangement than is provided for other state employees.

7. Would allow Legislature to appropriate money for advertising the advantages of Texas in nationally-circulated publication. Use of the name or picture of any living state officials would be prohibited and public funds would have to be matched by private funds.

PRO: Texas is one of only three states without a state program to attract tourists and industry. Proponents say it would pay for itself many times by bringing new money into the state.

CON: This should be handled by the businesses who would benefit through their trade associations, chambers of commerce, etc.

8. Would allow the Legislature to appropriate money to pay for medical care for people who receive old age assistance, aid to the blind and aid to dependent children.

PRO: It would provide help for people whose small monthly checks cannot possibly cover medical emergencies. Since payments would be made only to the vendor (doctor, hospital of what not), the money could be used only for its intended purpose.

CON: It would cost the state an estimated $9,000,000, with no limit on how much it could drain from the Treasury. It would mean double taxation for cities and counties already providing medical care for their need.

9. Would allow the Legislature to authorize creation of hospital districts in Amarillo, Wichita and Jefferson County.

PRO: It is permissive. People in the affected areas could decide what they want to do with it.

CON: Proposed amendments is long (1,000 words), detailed and so complicated that few voters can even understand it. If such provisions are needed, they should be made in statutes rather than by adding to our already-long Constitution.

Latest reports by the State Tax Study Commission list several possible new tax sources the Legislature could turn to for additional revenue.

They include (1) new selective sales taxes, (2) a general retail sales tax, (3) a personal income tax, (4) a "value-added" tax levied on difference between selling price and cost to seller, (5) a gross income and receipts tax on business and (6) a corporation net income tax.

The Golden Text is from Matthew (7:21): "Not every one that saith unto me, Lord, Lord, shall enter into the kingdom of heaven; but he that doeth the will of my Father which is in heaven."
