Moore... ABOUT Eastland

By VIRGIL E. MOORE

Getting to be just pretty near Christmas. We know that's so because of two facts. One, we received our first letter of the year to forward to Santa at the North Pole, and two, Doc Davis has started decorating his store.

The letter to Santa came through the U.S. Mail. It was postmarked Eastland, Nov. 4, and for postage it had one of those S&H Green stamps. The letter itself was written in North Pole code — just a series of scratches — and wasn't signed. We got it right off to Santa, though.

And when we commented on Doc Davis being a bit early with his decorations he put us to thinking, but quick. He kinda believes Eastland has been a bit slow in getting the decorations up in the past years — letting the big cities get the jump on us, so to say.

How about it. Let's let the big city folks drive out to see us this year instead of the other way around. Sure, you can buy it here.

Have you noticed the Seniors' new rings? They arrived recently and the Class of 1955 is now proudly wearing them. Real nice looking too.

A while back, Robert R. Gros, an executive of Pacific Gas and Electric Company of San Francisco, told Beeman Fisher, a Texas Electric executive in Fort Worth that he would sure like to have one of those Eastland horn toads like Old Rip. Fisher forwarded the request to Frank Sayre, head of the Eastland TESCO office, and Sayre in turn turned over the order to H. J. Tanner, Eastland Chamber of Commerce manager.

After a check on the horned toad situation, Tanner fired this letter at Fisher.

"Mr. Sayre called the other day concerning your suggestion that we secure some horned toads for Mr. Gros.

"We had several of the top-notch horned toad hunters seeking them, but they have all gone in for their winter's rest.

"I might have called in Trader Horn or Frank Buck to assist in the search, but upon second thought, I believe neither of these gentlemen are longer with us in this mundane world.

"Will you please send me Mr. Gros' address and title and I will see that his youngsters receive some of Old Rip's descendants as soon as they stick their necks out in the early spring.

"We are loath to admit failure at this time, but it is due to the toads and not to the efforts of the Chamber of Commerce."

A few days later Herb received a copy of a letter Fisher had forwarded to Gros. It reads:

"Attached is a letter I received from Mr. H. J. Tanner, manager of the Eastland Chamber of Commerce. Perhaps I told you that Eastland is the horned toad capital of the world. You will note they carry an illustration of a horned toad on their letterhead. You will note that Mr. Tanner is sufficiently embarrassed because the horned toads had gone underground for their winter's rest, and he was unable to deliver the toads for your youngsters. We assure you that as soon as they come out of hiding you will receive a package from Mr. Tanner. I am sending a copy of this letter to Mr. Tanner, and I will also request that you send him your home address because I am quite sure you will prefer to have them sent there instead of at the office. Also I would like to suggest to Mr. Tanner that he send you some information about the Horned Toad Derby which they hold in Eastland each year, and if possible, a story about Old Rip. I assure you that this is a most interesting story, and you can understand why Eastland is the honored toad capital of the world."

So you see Eastlanders, we need some horned toads bad. If you spot one of the creatures let's have him, even if you can't wake him up!

Three birthdays today. Listed on the Band Boosters' Community Birthday calendar are Melvin E. Maynard, Doug Chaney and E. La Joy Walker.

COMPLETELY NEW CHRYSLERS GO ON DISPLAY NOVEMBER 17

The completely new, long and lean 1955 Chrysler will be shown publicly on Wednesday, Nov. 17 at Blevins Motor Co. in Eastland, A. J. Blevins announced today.

"The 1955 Chryslers are totally new from bumper to bumper with a fresh concept of styling that initiates a trend in automotive design," said Blevins. "Chrysler stylists have created a slim, vigorous motor car whose power of attraction matches its power of action."

"Two V-8 engines — a more powerful 250-horsepower Fire-Power V-8 in the New Yorker Deluxe and an entirely new 188-horsepower Spitfire V-8 in the Windsor Deluxe — offer outstanding performance. For 1955 we offer fully-automatic Power-Flite transmission, new Power-Flite range selector on the dash, fulltime coaxial power steering, a new double-width-pedal power brake, rigid frame and new suspension, and many other chassis improvements."

The 1955 Chryslers are offered in two lines this year — the Windsor Deluxe and New Yorker Deluxe. Both lines have a wheelbase of 126 inches. The Windsor Deluxe is available in a six-passenger sedan, Nassau hardtop coupe, Newport hardtop, convertible and Town and Country wagon. The New Yorker Deluxe models are available in a six-passenger sedan, Newport hardtop coupe, new St. Regis special two-tone hardtop coupe, convertible and Town and Country wagon. They are available in a choice of 17 solid colors and 26 two-tone combinations.

The 1955 Chrysler's high styling stems from clean, low lines; taut, sleek metal work and careful proportioning.

The long hood sweeps downward between sharply defined fenders and projecting headlights with a feeling of power and assures a close-in view of the road and fen-

NEW 1955 FORD TRUCKS GO ON DISPLAY HERE FRIDAY

Twenty-four series, including 190 models of 1955 Ford trucks ranging from 30-ton tandem-axle "Big Jobs" down to F-100 pickups, all designed to make money for operators on every hauling job, will be introduced Friday in Eastland by the King Motor Co.

L. D. Cruse, Ford Motor Company vice president and general manager of Ford Division, in announcing the new truck models, said:

"A truck should be bought with the same consideration for low cost operation as any machine tool. Actually a truck is a capital goods item and when we design them we think of them that way. All of our new trucks have greater durability, more gas economy and lower maintenance expense built into them."

Ford's five truck engines, built exclusively for the truck lines, include Six and V-8 engines. Three engines have increased horsepower and compression ratios.

The 1955 models have new larger parking lights and larger, shield-shaped tail lights adaptable to class "A" turn signals. They are manufactured in five lines and 24 series which include: nine conventional series, six cab forward series, four school bus chassis series, two tandem axle series, two parcel delivery chassis series and a new Courier custom delivery truck styled like the 1955 Ford passenger cars. GVW ratings run from 4,000 to 40,000 lbs. and GCW ratings to 60,000 lbs. There are 15 wheelbase lengths for custom-built bodies from 5 1/2 to 19 ft. long.

Ford has designed its 1955 truck cabs for even greater driving ease and efficiency than current models which paced the industry. The optional custom "driverized" cabs, available in all models, have a new full foam-rubber seat — five-inch deep cushion and three-inch seat back. It provides buoyant, restful support for the driver's body under all driving conditions and will keep its resiliency for the life of the truck.

The new seat accommodates three men comfortably and is covered with long-wearing, woven plastic upholstery which keeps cooler in hot weather because air can pass through it. Cab doors which are almost a yard wide, let the biggest driver slip in and out easily, while weather sealing around the doors and body joints keep out dust, fumes and moisture.

The big, one-piece curved windshield, deep side windows and a rear window which is almost as wide as the cab, provide full range vision for safer and easier driving. Ford truck cabs have more area than any competitive trucks.

The morning session will open at 10 o'clock at the First Baptist Church. Mrs. A. F. Taylor, president of the Eastland Music Study Club, will preside. The Rev. Jim Hicks will give the invocation and Mayor George L. Davenport will welcome the group to Eastland. "Smile a Mile" will be the theme of the luncheon at the Christian Church, honoring Mrs. Moss. ### Better Than Average Scholars Chosen For Southwest Grid Units

How good a student is the average Southwest college football player? Is it possible that a number of this area's most talented gridiron performers are also among the best students at their universities?

A new breed of football scout is scanning the Southwest Conference lists to try and answer these questions. These sleuths are out to pick an all scholastic team that is as well equipped under the helmet as it is under the shoulder pads.

"We believe that the better than average athlete may also be capable of being a better than average scholar," says Franklin J. Meine, editor of the American Peoples Encyclopedia, who is heading the search from Chicago. "The only trouble is that the good athlete seldom gets any recognition for the performances he gives in the classroom five days a week—and we think he should. After all, football players should be going to college primarily for an education, just like anyone else."

Meine's belief that many football players may be paying as close attention to the professor's blackboard sessions as they do to the coach's chalk talks has more foundation than a lot of critics of the sport seem willing to concede.

He points out that the encyclopedia's board of editors made a similar search among Big Ten players last fall and found an excellent scholarly team that won praise on sports pages all over the country.

"Limiting their choice to players maintaining better than 'B' averages, they selected a squad that included two All Americans, six all conference stars and three 'most valuable.'"

"From what we have already learned, it seems reasonable that the quarterback who can come up with a game-winning play on a second's notice, may also be a scholar who can zip through an algebraic equation or a chemical formula with the best in his class," the encyclopedia editor declares.

"If that's the case we think the public should know about it," Meine believes that it is entirely possible that his scouts will be able to develop an all scholastic team here in the Southwest that would be able to hold its own with any college team in the country. And he emphasizes that this squad won't include players who are earning their A's and B's in Basket Weaving and Folk Dancing. He can see no reason why an engineering student, or a future doctor or lawyer who consistently makes the Dean's List can't also be a top athlete if he has the physical equipment.

"A lot of people have been telling us for years that brains and brawn are like oil and water. A program like this ought to answer that question once and for all," the encyclopedia editor says.

Naturally, college and university officials greet a program like this with a great deal of warmth. It gives promise of providing them with the best argument they ever had that education and athletics can go hand in hand—that there isn't anything in a collegiate athletic program that puts it forever at odds with a school's academic program.

Meine expects this undertaking to become a permanent part of the encyclopedia and is setting aside a section of its yearbook for a discussion of the editors' findings.

Why Business Hates War

PITTSBURGH—The Kremlin's accusation that the American business man is a war-monger is the greatest canard of the twentieth century, Clem D. Johnson, President of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, pointed out in a recent address before the National Defense Transportation Congress here.

Actually, he said, a peaceful world is the greatest hope of the American business community.

"If we laid all other considerations aside," Mr. Johnson asserted, "logic alone would dictate our hope for peace. Our industry would be the prime target for attack in the event of another war—as every thinking person knows.

"In a third great war, there would be no dividing line between the battle front and the

Fall season Brings Whooping Cough Increase

AUSTIN, November 11, 1954. This is the time of the year usually marks an increase in incidence of whooping cough. Henry A. Holle, State Health ficer, said today that strenuous efforts should be made to control the spread of this debilitating childhood disease.

"The only source from which whooping cough may be contracted is another case of whooping cough, and isolation of cases is universally practiced to prevent its spread," Dr. Holle stated.

"The infectious agent of whooping cough is transmitted by droplets expelled in coughing, sneezing, or speaking," he declared. "The discharges from the nose and throat are dangerous; the need for early recognition and care isolation of whooping cough obvious."

The first sign of this disease usually a dry cough, which persists night and day and tends to become increasingly severe. The disease is fully developed when vomiting of food, and whooping accompany the paroxysm of cough. Dr. Holle stressed the fact that children who have whooping cough should not attend school or come in contact with other children until three weeks after the appearance of typical signs of the disease.

"Prevention and control of whooping cough, especially among infants and small children, may be accomplished through use of approved vaccine and convalescent serum," Dr. Holle asserted, "and it is important that such measures be taken to protect them. Neglecting to do so may seriously impair the child's health."

The motoramic Chevrolet for '55

Great new 8

It's the valve-in-head V8 as only the valve-in-head leader can build it!

You'd expect Chevrolet to out-V8 the field—and it has! Chevrolet's new "Turbo-Fire V8" puts a brand-new kind of excitement under your foot. The excitement of 162 horsepower! The excitement of an 8 to 1 ultra-high compression ratio that squeezes more pure fun out of a gallon of gas than you ever dreamed possible! The new "Turbo-Fire V8" is so wonderfully efficient that it requires only four quarts of oil instead of the usual five or more. And it has the shortest piston stroke in the low-price field, for longer engine life. But we can't even begin to give you the whole story here. Come in and let the new "Turbo-Fire V8" speak for itself. You'll like what it has to say!

Two new 6's 6

With enough new advances to fill a book!

Chevrolet offers two new highstepping sixes for 1955! There's the new "Blue-Flame 136" (teamed with Powerglide as an extra-cost option) and the new "Blue-Flame 123." Both bring you new, higher-rated power—the zippy, thrifty high-compression kind. Both have new, more efficient cooling and lubrication systems . . . new engine mounts that result in almost unbelievable smoothness. And, like the new "Turbo-Fire V8," both are sparked by a new 12-volt electrical system for finer performance and faster cold-weather starting. All in all, they're the liveliest, smoothest sixes Chevrolet ever put into a passenger car. As you know, that covers a lot of territory. And so will you—with either of these two new sixes!

Mother Goose In Texas

By Ray Wood

I had a little dog, his name was Buff,
I sent him to the shop for a hap'orth of snuff.
He broke the bag and spilt the snuff;
So take one cuff, and that's enough.

The "little dog" was a common subject for rhyme in the old World Mother Goose lore, being represented by numerous rhymes, only a few of which ever became known in this country. To say that the rhyme quoted above or similar rhymes in the classic inspired pioneer kids in America to make rhymes about their "little dogs," as well as the "houn' dog," would be just guessing. It would have been strange if they had not done so.

Best known of all "little dog" rhymes in American childlore is:
I had a little dog, his name was Rover;
When he died he died all over;
All but his tail and it turned over;
Over and over and ten times over.

The little dog, like the houn' dog, was generally a subject for ridicule, being always affectionate, loyal and somewhat stupid, as well as being often more than a little of a nuisance. This rhyme seems of recent origin:

I had a little dog, his name was Tim;
I put him in the tub to see could he swim.
He drank all the water and et all the soap,
And he blame near died with a bubble in his throat.

Next Week: "I Had a Little Pony."
Variants of these or similar rhymes will be recorded in the permanent collection of Mother Goose in Texas if sent to Ray Wood at Raywood, Texas.

(Copyright 1954, by Ray Wood.)

Quarter Million Set For Big Game

AUSTIN — Reports to the Game and Fish Commission headquarters indicate that an army of about a quarter of a million deer hunters is ready for the annual fall venison derby.

The executive Secretary of the Commission said indications point to "a very good season considering the ravages of the long drought," and estimated the combined bag will be "about 40,000 bucks."

The statewide season in areas covered by the General State Law ranges from November 16 through December 31. The twenty-eight county regulatory Panhandle area has a ten-day season beginning November 14. The West of the Pecos regulatory area, comprising nine counties, shoots from November 20 through November 25 inclusive. A nine-county, Possum Kingdom grouse hunts from November 16 through November 30, inclusive.

There are so many local county seasons that the Executive Secretary advises hunters to study a Game Law Digest, available through license dealers, or contact their local Game Wardens, or both.

Two buck deer may be taken under the General State Law but the other periods provide for only one male deer per person per season. A legal buck deer is described as one "with a pronged horn."

Hunters were cautioned to know their horns since late reports from the Hill Country, which comprises the main deer area, show an unusual population of spike bucks, or one year olds, running to as high as 40 per cent of the entire deer herds in most areas. A feature of this year's overall deer harvest will be the taking of more than 2,000 antlerless deer in Mason, Gillespie and Llano counties in a move to reduce overpopulation and the herd dieoff caused by shortage of food from the drought. Dates for this hunt are December 1 to 15, inclusive. Special permits are required. Interested hunters should write the Chamber of Commerce at Fredericksburg, Mason or Llano.

Another innovation will be the harvest of fifty surplus buck deer on the Kerr Wildlife Management Area near Kerrville. A drawing was held to determine eligible hunters for this free shoot from November 16 through November 20, inclusive.

The Executive Secretary said landowners and ranchers reported "a normal interest" in deer leases. He urged hunters to observe the law requiring tags attached to their licenses to be affixed to their bucks.

Coinciding with the deer shoot, is the wild turkey season under the General State Law and under assorted county laws. The General State Law limit is three gobblers. The limit varies under regional and county laws. Deep South Texas reported the best turkey population.

There is no Such Thing— as a "bargain" in insurance. Along with every other commodity you get what you pay for and no more. John Ruskin once said "there is hardly anything in the world that some man cannot make a little worse and sell a little cheaper and the people who consider price only are this man's lawful prey." Ruskin was right. Whatever you buy, buy the best. If it's insurance you can't go wrong by buying from a local agent who is as near to you as your telephone when you need him.
