MOORE about ... EASTLAND

by Dirgil E. Moore

We ran across these 11 points for any committee intent on doing nothing about a problem to

1. Profess not to have an answer. This lets you out of having any.

2. Say that we must not move too rapidly. This avoids the necessity of getting started.

3. Say the problem can't be seperated from other problems.

Therefore it can't be solved until all others are. 4. Insist that nothing be tried that has not been tried Lefore and failed. 5. Appoint a subcommittee.

6. Wait until an expert can be consulted. 7. For every proposal set up an opposite one and sondlude that the middle ground represents the wisest course.

8. State in conclusion that you have all clarified your thinking.

This obscures the fact that nothing has been done. 9. Discover there are dangers in any formulation of a conclu-

10. Point out that the deepest minds have struggled with the problem. This implies that it does you credit just to have thought of it. 11. Close the meeting by stating it has stimulated discussion, opened new vistas, shown us the way, and challenged our inventiveness.

Which somehow got us around to thinking in general terms about meetings. Some folks love meet ings (we are one of them), and come people just can't stand them. claims that most Eastland meetings are held for the sole purpose of reading the minutes the last meeting. You've probably been to some of those kind your-

For the most part, however, we think that meetings are important. Of course with TV doing most of our thinking these days, most of us don't have too much time to attend meetings. We think that when two or more persons get together something good usually comes out of such an affair. The old saying that one mind is better than

Every now and then we get with some of our old buddies who work on the larger dailies. They are always kidding us about what an easy life we have out here, not having to worry about but three papers a week. Having had some experience on the dailies, we can vouch for the fact that a paper published three times a week is harder work on the staff than a daily

For The Entire Family

by W. H. McAnally, Manager

Spring time means a lot of different things to different people—a new lease on life, planting a garden, oiling the lawn mower, etc. A lot of it adds up to getting ready for

The other day Bill Walters and I were talking about Spring and Summer. Usually, we have some storms that blow down some lines. Needless to say, when the lines blow down we work around the clock to restore your telephone service. Also, Spring and Summer means the trees will be growing. When the tree limbs grow into our lines, the limbs need to be trimmed. Limbs in the lines is another way to impair service, so we like to trim them to keep our service going without interruption. Bill Walters told me that he would be glad to trim the trees to your specifications, as long as it clears our lines.

A PART OF GOOD LIVING

Nowadays, we hear the term "good living" quite often. I have a few ideas about it, but to find out what it means to other people, I brought up the subject with a group of friends a week or so ago. Before the "good living" talk was over and the coffee served, one of the women made music for my ears by saying that the telephones in color in her home are certainly an important part of good living.

Everyone seemed to agree, and that gave me a chance point out that extra telephones in bedrooms and kitchens are low in cost, too - just $1.00 a month plus installation. For color, you know, there's a one-time charge

P. S. I sold a couple, too.

LOOKING AHEAD TO EASTER

Easter Sunday, to most of us, is a happy, dress-up, go-to-church day for all the family. And I hope you and your family will all be together for a Happy Easter.

Unfortunately, some families are scattered and won't be gathered around the table for the carving of the ham.

For these families, a Long Distance visit or two by telephone is the answer. It's the next best thing to being there in person, and everyone has fun on an out-of-town

Naturally, low Sunday rates will be in effect. And if you call station-to-station, you can talk longer for less. Call by number. It's twice as fast.
