MOORE about... EASTLAND

by Virgil E. Moore

Frank Striz, 68-year-old Strawn resident, was in town one day this past week buying himself a going away wardrobe.

Striz, a native of Czechoslovakia, is planning to return to his native land for a visit next month. He will take his American-born wife with him.

After watching him pick out a nice wardrobe for himself at the Men's Shop, we got in a conversation with the naturalized American citizen and found out he will leave for Czechoslovakia June 7. He and his wife plan to spend 40 days in Moravia, Czechoslovakia, where Mr. Striz has three sisters and a brother who he hasn't seen since 1912.

We asked Striz if he felt he would have a nifty trouble in Czechoslovakia since it is under communist rule.

"No," he replied. "People are people. Someone has to make propaganda."

We've got to hand it to Marene Johnson and her post office crew. We sure didn't think anything would ever come of that United States flag design Marene had planted on the post office lawn. You remember, a combination of red, white and blue verbenas, were planted. Sure enough, however, they sure look like a flag now.

Talking to Clifford Rust, who is secretary of the newly organized Upper Leon Game Preserve Association, and was interested to find out that he has spotted some wild turkeys on his place, which is just above Lake Eastland. Rust believes that the turkeys will greatly multiply in this area if given proper protection.

We don't know who wrote the following bit of verse, but it should be a good sermon for all of us:

If with pleasure you are viewing
Any work a man is doing,
If you like him tell him now.
Don't withhold your approbation.

Till the parson makes oration,
And he lies with lilies o'er his brow.

If you think some praise is due him,
Now's the time to slip it to him.
He will never know the teardrops you have shed.

And no matter how you shout it
He will never know about it.
For he cannot read his tombstone when he's dead.

We were asking Band Master Kerman Bond the other day if a band concert scheduled to be held tonight (Saturday) was a formal affair.

"Yes," he replied, "the boys are going to wear shoes."

We think a few of our fire truck chasing friends are carrying things a bit too far. Noticed the other day, when Al White's house caught fire, that the general public decided that the fire took away all of Al's personal privileges and threw the property open to the public.

We don't think private citizens have any business going through a home which has partially burned. And we think firemen and property owners alike would appreciate it if folks stayed out of the way and off of the lawn.

A fire is bad enough. We don't have to make it any worse than it is.

Ever since that Russian came in and the Abilene Reporter-News spread him over four columns of their front page folks have been trying to corner us up into making editorial comment about the fellow. Now the Reporter-News did that (and you could sure tell that Mr. Grimes didn't hear old Z. S.'s talk) and we aren't going to.

We will, with firm conviction, however, declare and exclaim that Mr. Alkinov sure did need some good old American hair oil!

Bethel Church Expansion Plans Are Announced

Bids are now being accepted by the Bethel Baptist Church for construction of an additional unit and the remodeling of the old building. Bids will be opened June 20. Plans and specifications are available at a slight fee from L. C. McCullough.

SOMETHING EXTRA—L. L. (Cotton) McIlvain is owner of this thoroughbred Yorkshire hog. He has two sows and a boar which were imported from England. Yorkshires have two extra ribs on each side. McIlvain says he plans to stand the board. (Telegram Staff Photo).

FROM OUR FILES

May 24, 1929
A card received from Mrs. Milburn McCarty at Washington, D. C., states she is having a very interesting and delightful visit that she and her son, Milburn Jr., are leaving May 29 for an European trip and will not return to Eastland until the latter part of the summer.

Mrs. Charles G. Norton was a special guest of Mrs. M. H. Hagaman and the honoree of the Nine-teen-Twenty club of Ranger, at high noon yesterday, on the occasion of their annual luncheon at Acorn Acres Tea room.

The choirs of the Eastland churches which have been massed for the musical program to be given Sunday evening at the high school auditorium, on the occasion of the baccalaureate ceremony, are doing some wonderfully effective work under the direction of the talented Wilda Drago Carton and pianist, Mrs. Charles G. Norton.

Best Rain of Year Good, Farmers Say, Need More

Rainfall Total Is Listed At 1.62 Inches

The best rainfall of the year brought 1.62 inches of rain to Eastland Friday, bringing the total rainfall for the year to 4.83.

The rain, described by County Agent J. M. Cooper as "... just fine, but not enough," was greatly welcomed. Eastland County rainfall was fairly general, but the Eastland area seemed to get the heaviest amount of moisture.

The rain came as the county was under severe weather alerts. A tornado, or high winds, was reported at Breckenridge, but no serious damage was reported in this area.

The weatherman said scattered showers may fall today. The temperature is due to rise, however. Last night's low was 61. The mercury rose to 87 degrees Friday morning before the cold front nipped it into the 60's.

Cooper said that the main need for more moisture is to fill stock tanks. He said he expected Tuesday's rain would be of little benefit as far as filling the tanks was concerned, but said it would certainly help farmers in the area.

Average rainfall for this time of year is 7.24 inches.

Summer Session Begins June 2 At the College

Registration for summer school courses at Ranger College will be held Monday, June 1, it was announced by Mrs. Don Elliott, registrar.

Classes will start Tuesday, June 2, and continue every Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday night through July 12.

Courses offered from 6 to 8:30 p.m. are English 113, government 223 and business administration 224. Offered from 8:30 to 11 p.m. are English literature 213, general psychology 213 and American history 213.

Additional courses may be offered upon sufficient demand, Mrs. Elliott said. All transfer students must have a transcript before enrolling, and summer students only must have a statement of good standing from the last college attended.

Tuition is $6 per semester hour plus a matriculation fee of $2.50 for each six weeks.

Approximately 167 H-SU students are degree candidates this spring.

Speakers for commencement exercises at 10 a. m. Monday will be Dr. James L. Sullivan, former pastor of First Baptist Church and now executive secretary-treasurer of the Sunday School Board of the Southern Baptist Convention.

Dr. Kuykendall Is Reported In Serious Condition

Dr. P. M. Kuykendall was reported in critical condition, Friday afternoon, by his attending physician.

At that time, Dr. Kuykendall had been in critical condition for a period of 72 hours.

Suffering from internal hemorrhage, Dr. Kuykendall has received several blood transfusions from local donors.

SPEAKING OF SMALL CARS—Racer, sports car and open truck are small enough to fit on the little finger of a man's hand. Truly "baby" buggies, they loomed large as the smallest exhibits at a showing of small autos in Paris, France.

Courtney Named Upper Leon Game Preserve Proxy

Eastland County's second game preserve, the Upper Leon Game Preserve Association, was organized at a meeting this week, and officers were elected.

President of the Association is Harold Courtney. Ben Mathews is vice president and Clifford Rust is secretary-treasurer.

Annual dues will be $2. Rust said that it is hoped that some 100 members will join the group.

Objectives of the organization include provisions to provide adequate protection for game and other desirable wildlife, for the establishment and maintenance of game management areas for the increase of all game birds and for regulating the taking of game to insure an adequate supply of seedstock.

County Grand Jury Returns Nine Indictments

An Eastland County grand jury this week returned eight indictments and then adjourned. William Lawrence was indicted for "passing a forged instrument." He is charged with passing a $30 forged check at a Cisco pharmacy. Lawrence is in county jail in lieu of $1000 bond.

Lawrence is the only person indicted this week who is in jail or under bond. Capiases have not been returned for the other seven persons who were tried.

Indictments included three for burglary, two for forgery, one for disposing of mortgaged property and one for second offense driving while intoxicated.

Family Injured In Crash Near Thurber, Friday

A man, his wife and son were injured in an automobile collision about 12.5 miles east of Ranger (four miles west of Thurber) at 12:30 p.m. Friday.

Admitted to Ranger General Hospital for observation was William Powers, 38, of Iran (Texas), with bruises of the chest. Mrs. Powers and son, Jimmy, were admitted and released. She suffered abrasions on the knee and chin, and the boy received laceration of the lip.

Powers is in satisfactory condition, according to a report from the attending physician. The accident occurred when a '59 Chevrolet, driven by Leroy Tierce of Fort Worth, cut over the mid-stripe while going up a hill behind a truck. His car hit the side of a '51 Ford, driven by Powers, who was going east.

Both cars were declared a total loss by Charles White of Mineral Wells, investigating Highway Patrolman.

Tierce was admitted to Eastland County jail Friday afternoon and charged with aggravated assault.

Billy P. Smith To Get Degree At Texas Tech

EASTLAND NATIONAL BANK
"On The Square"
MEMBER F. D. I. C.

As a Notary Public, Charles Richard Yarborough, 94, of Chandler (Henderson County) has put his seal on a great many official documents. However, the one he notarized Wednesday (December 31) held special significance. It was the State Oath of Office for his son, Ralph, who was just reelected to the United States Senate from Texas. The oath was administered in the room in which the senator was born in the Yarborough home at Chandler. The elder Yarborough, once a Justice of the Peace at Chandler and a former mayor there, counseled his son to "do a good job."

Two Eastland Students to Get TCU Degrees

Two students from Eastland are scheduled to receive degrees in commencement exercises at Texas Christian University Wednesday evening, June 3.

They are Miss Helen Ruth Flowers, daughters of Mrs. Frankye B. Flowers, 408 S. Walnut, who is candidate for a bachelor of science degree in home economics, and Miss Dorothy Jo Garrett of Eastland, candidate for a master of religious education degree.

A total of 484 degrees will be conferred in the June exercises, making this the third largest graduating class in the university's 6-year history. The record classes were in 1943 with 533 candidates and 1950 with 571. These two groups represent the peak of the World War II veteran enrollment.

Twenty-six states and four foreign countries—India, China, Japan and Korea—are represented in this year's class.

TCU Pres. M. E. Sadler will confer the degree in exercises scheduled for 8 p.m. in the university stadium. There will be no formal commencement address.

Miss Flowers is vice-president of Chi Beta, honorary home economics society at TCU.

Each year I'm a little more amazed at the multitude of new and exciting items introduced to make Christmas more enjoyable," Pittman noted.

This is the fourth show that the Pittmans have attended.

IT'S THE LAW in Texas
A public service feature of the State Bar of Texas

BUILDING YOUR HOME

When you are ready to build, you will find that the law helps in many ways to make your home enjoyable and secure.

Have you decided on the type house you want and the amount you want to spend? If so, then let's go into details!

1. Your lot: Junior's school or your church may be nearby, but find out—

(a) Whether they are planning to run a highway through the area or nearby, or make any improvements for which you can be assessed.

(b) What "covenants" or restrictions run with the land? To protect residents, the plats or basic deeds of some neighborhoods call on you to build a certain size or type of house. Do you want to and can you afford to?

(c) Easements. Either you or your neighbors may need to run pipes or string wires over each other's land or to share a driveway. Have the abstract checked carefully to disclose any easements.

2. Zoning Ordinances: For your protection the local government frequently zones some areas, for example, for single houses only, for multiple dwellings; for retail stores, for manufacturing, etc.

Unless the local government body changes its zoning ordinance, no filling station, for instance, can go up next to you in a residential area. Neither could you turn your home into a store. In any case, you should find out what your neighborhood zoning rules are.

3. Building Codes: Be certain that the plans and construction will meet the requirements of the local building code as to size, location and structure. Municipal ordinances usually impose strict standards for the building, the plumbing and the electrical wiring. In many cases only licensed building tradesmen are permitted to make the installations.

4. Financing: Financing contracts protect both you and the lender. Unless you pay cash, you will use credit to pay for your house, most likely a deed of trust or a land contract. Your installments often include principal, interest, insurance and taxes. Under a land contract the lender holds title to your house until you pay for it. If you fall behind, the holder can take the house back. With a deed of trust, the lender has a lien which he can foreclose if you default. You may get some of your money back on the principal; but you may also have to make up any loss the lender makes in reselling the house.

Well worked-out contracts can help make your dream house come true. A construction contract or a so-called "earnest money" agreement or receipt is no job for an amateur. Too many legal details are involved. Your lawyer is trained by education and experience to protect your best interests in contracting and closing real estate deals.

You know what you want. You should be careful to get what you want through careful planning and a properly prepared and executed contract.

home into a store. In any case, you should find out what your neighborhood zoning rules are.

3. Building Codes: Be certain that the plans and construction will meet the requirements of the local building code as to size, location and structure. Municipal ordinances usually impose strict standards for the building, the plumbing and the electrical wiring. In many cases only licensed building tradesmen are permitted to make the installations.

4. Financing: Financing contracts protect both you and the lender. Unless you pay cash, you will use credit to pay for your house, most likely a deed of trust or a land contract. Your installments often include principal, interest, insurance and taxes. Under a land contract the lender holds title to your house until you pay for it. If you fall behind, the holder can take the house back. With a deed of trust, the lender has a lien which he can foreclose if you default. You may get some of your money back on the principal; but you may also have to make up any loss the lender makes in reselling the house.

Well worked-out contracts can help make your dream house come true. A construction contract or a so-called "earnest money" agreement or receipt is no job for an amateur. Too many legal details are involved. Your lawyer is trained by education and experience to protect your best interests in contracting and closing real estate deals.

You know what you want. You should be careful to get what you want through careful planning and a properly prepared and executed contract.

Max Hill, son of R. S. (Bob) Hill, 107 New Street, has returned to Los Angeles, Calif. after spending two weeks with his father. He is a senior engineer with Chance Vault of Dallas.

Mrs. D. L. Kinnaird Is Installed As President of Music Study Club

An impressive ceremony preceded the installation of new officers at the last meeting of the season of the Eastland Music Study Club held in the Woman's Club Tuesday evening at 7 p.m.

Mrs. Griffin Hart introduced Mrs. Frank N. Sayre who served as installing officer. Mrs. Sayre used the theme of comparing the incoming officers to players in a symphony orchestra.

The group was asked to observe the seating arrangement of an orchestra and each officer was given the mounted picture of the musical instrument that she represented.

Mrs. D. L. Kinnaird, the incoming president, was given the baton, signifying leadership.

Mrs. A. F. Taylor was represented by the first violinist, for the first vice president is close to leadership to the president.

The second vice president, Mrs. E. C. Ragland, was given the violin cello, an instrument that requires a high degree of perfection.

The recording secretary, Mrs. J. H. Lee, was represented by the bass drum, for a secretary "beats" the tempo for a club.

Mrs. David Fry corresponding secretary, was presented the picture of a saxophone, the clear deep tones representing the ideas and desires of the club.

The treasurer Mrs. N. N. Rosenquest, was given the French horn, as an artist's fingers play the valves of an instrument, so does money play an important part in the club undertakings.

The snare drum represented a valued and needed office in the critic-parliamentarian, Mrs. Myrtle Anderson.

Mrs. H. M. Hart, as historian, accepted the picture of the concert an instrument of spectacular effects, representing collections for a spectacular press book.

Mrs. A. H. Johnson, choral director, was compared to the harp, whose tones lead the members in melody.

Pianist, Miss Helen Taylor, was represented by a concert grand piano. This important office requires talent and a love for music.

Mrs. R. L. Carpenter will serve as reporter. She was presented the picture of a trumpet and promised to give the club publicity.

Mrs. Sayre closed her installation with a prayer that the officer and members be as players upon the rightly tuned instruments, who would respond to God's leading.

Preceding the installation, Mmes. Frank N. Sayre, D. L. Kinnaird, Griffin Hart and David Fry were members of the hostess committee for a buffet dinner honoring husbands and guests.

Mrs. E. C. Ragland gave the invocation and Mrs. Hart welcomed members and their guests.

Mr. and Mrs. Al Lotspeich furnished cello and piano music, closing their program with "Little Suite—Four Friends" for cello and piano, written and arranged by Ginny and Al Lotspeich. In four parts, "Emile," "Ima Lou," "Clyde," and "Marlene." The Lotspeich's stated the preceding song was "written for the four lovely ladies named to express our most sincere affection."

Those attending were Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Hart, Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Lotspeich, Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Ragland, Mr. and Mrs. Frank N. Sayre, Mr. and Mrs. Mike George, Mr. and Mrs. D. H. Russell and Mmes. Myrtle Anderson, R. L. Carpenter, R. N. Grisham, Griffin Hart, D. L. Kinnaird, J. H. Lee, B. W. Patterson, N. N. Rosenquest Misses Marjorie Van Hoose and Willene Sockwell.

Jehovah's Witnesses First Organized Locally In 1942

(Editor's Note: This is the 14th in a series of articles about Eastland churches. Next week: St. Francis Catholic Church.)
By MARIE BONEY

Jehovah's Witnesses world-wide make up a society of ministers. There is no clergy or laity class. They are dedicated to the work of "preaching the good news of God's Kingdom" in all the world as official notice to all nations that with the ending of the Gentile times, in 1914, Jehovah's kingdom has begun with Christ as King; that with the completion of the preaching work, the end will come for present world systems at the Bible Armageddon. Survivors of that "battle of the great day of God the Almighty" will start life anew under the thousand-year reign of Christ during which time the earth will grow to Edenic perfection.

Throughout the earth Jehovah's Witnesses use many corporations. Their principle corporation is the Watch Tower Bible and Tract Society, of Pennsylvania, U. S. A. This corporation was set up in 1884 under the name of Zion's Watch Tower Tract Society. This was changed to its present name in 1896. The corporation maintains a registered headquarters at Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania where its annual meetings are held. At the October 1, 1958 meeting of the board of directors, of which there are 440, there were 1,047 in attendance from several continents. In 1909, the staff of the corporation was transferred to Brooklyn, New York.

The Watch Tower Bible & Tract Society of Brooklyn, N. Y., is a non-profit organization. It supervises the Bible education activities and ministerial work of Jehovah's Witnesses in the United States. It sets up, wherever necessary, branch offices in foreign countries. It sends missionaries all over the world. These include the graduates of the Watchtower Bible School of Gilead, an institution owned and operated by the New York corporation.

In August, 1942, the Watchtower Society sent two of such missionaries to Eastland, Mr and Mrs. John Mack Winston. After six months of intensive ministerial service to the people of this locality, a small congregation was organized in Eastland. Jehovah's witnesses met in the home of Mrs. Zetty Parrack, 209 Neblet, until the Kingdom Hall was built in 1957. Located at 204 North Dixie, it was valued at $4,500. Plans are being made for the dedication of the new hall in the near future. There are 25 associated. Of this number 15 have symbolized their dedication by water immersion. Women are eligible for leadership positions of overseers until such time as male members qualify. Qualifications are a spiritual mature person, well grounded in the Bible and acquainted with the techniques of preaching. Until recently the congregation committee was made up of women, with Mrs. Zetty Parrack acting as congregation overseer.

Newly appointed congregation overseer by the Society is Joe W. Watts who moved to this vicinity recently from Fort Worth. Mr. Watts was associated with the Polytechnic unit of Jehovah's witnesses in Fort Worth, before coming here, and acted in the capacity of assistant congregation overseer. Mrs. Zetty Parrack is acting now as assistant congregation overseer with Mrs. Rosa Taylor as Bible Study overseer. These three make up the congregation committee.

The congregation meets Saturday and Sunday mornings for group witnessing and after prayer each one goes forth to preach the message from door to door. Jehovah's witnesses conduct a regular schedule of five weekly classes in all their congregations. Their object is to develop each believer into a teacher. After a new student expresses his willingness he is assisted in practical field ministry.

"Since their beginning Jehovah's Witnesses have been a preaching fellowship," Watts said, "the faith of each believing Christian in the organization is tested by his participation in the most important Christian activity—propagation of the faith."

"By plying this method, Watts continued," during the past 10 years the witnesses have more than doubled their numbers in North America, multiplied more than five times in Asia, more than six times in the Pacific Islands, more than seven times in Europe and Africa, more than 12 times in the Atlantic Islands and fifteen times in South America.

Jehovah's Witnesses observe two ordinances. Baptism is by immersion in the name of the Father, and the Son, and of the Holy Spirit. It is an act of confession that he has dedicated himself to do the will of Jehovah God. The Lords supper is taken once a year at the passover season, as a remembrance of the death of Christ Jesus. The scriptures do not teach Jehovah's Witnesses to celebrate the resurrection.

Jehovah's Witnesses have no organizational objective similar to any orthodox church. The difference stems from a basic approach to the Bible. They see the Bible as a truly coherent story with its main theme being God's vindication by His chosen means, His Kingdom By Christ. To Jehovah's Witnesses the Bible reveals that originally God purposed to perform a great work, that it was interrupted by a challenger, that God set to work a strategy by which He would throw down the challenger, and bring to fulfillment His purposes. How God accomplishes this victory is what is meant by His vindication. Jehovah must prove himself supreme sovereign, winning universal domination after the rebellion in Eden. Individual salvation is secondary to God's vindication, being a means to that end.

The true god has a personal name to distinguish Him from all other Gods. That name is Jehovah. His first creation was His son, who was called the Word before coming to earth as a man. Jehovah's Witnesses therefore reject the doctrine of the Trinity.

After Adam sinned he was sentenced, not to eternal torment, but to death. According to the scriptures, lower animals as well as man are living souls. For these reasons, Witnesses do not believe in eternal torment or the immortality of the human soul.

Jehovah's Witnesses do not believe the Bible is only past history, but was written for this generation that will see the settlement of the great issue of universal domination for the vindication of Jehovah's great name and word.

There are three different types of paradise. The first earthly paradise was lost when Adam sinned. The next paradise Jesus mentioned to the penitent thief on the stake. This is the paradise under the Kingdom, which will be restored to earth after Jehovah is victorious at the battle of Armageddon. A spiritual paradise was begun at Pentecost. Beginning with the twelve Apostles God has been selecting a "little flock" of 144,000 that will share Heavenly life and rulership with Christ. Only a remnant of the Heavenly class are on earth today. However there are a great multitude of "other sheep" who will inherit the earth coming into the new world society of Jehovah's Witnesses.

Those who die faithful will have a resurrection to life under perfect conditions in a paradise earth. There will be no more Adamic death. The world's end is near. Christendom will be judged for looking toward the United Nations for peace instead of expecting God's Kingdom as mankind's only hope.

Mr. Watts adds, "briefly other beliefs of Jehovah's Witnesses are, that Christ did not on a cross but on an upright stake. The earth will never be destroyed, just this wicked system of things. Prayers must be directed to Jehovah through the Son. A Christian can have no part in interfaith movements. The seventh-day Sabbath observance was done away along with the old law covenant. Christians today keep every day a Christian Sabbath."

Consuming blood through mouth or veins would be breaking the everlasting covenant concerning the sanctity of blood. All human laws that do not conflict with God's law should be obeyed. "Our purpose is to carry out the final work of preaching 'This Good News of the Kingdom' that is to precede the universal war of Armageddon, directing the people of good-will to the Kingdom of God as mankind's only hope."

Jehovah's Witnesses

Mrs. Zetty Parrack, minister

Fudge Is Fancy, but Method Is Simple

Fancy fudge is easy to make, delightful to eat. "Secret ingredient" that turns the homemaker's kitchen into a master candy chef's cookery is contained in cans of evaporated milk.

Here are fudge recipes—wonderfully good ones—that require no strong-arm methods, no thermometer-gazing and no cold-water tests.
It's all done with evaporated milk, and preparation takes only five minutes.

Make fudge in two flavors and colors if you like: golden caramel and rich, dark chocolate. Combine them in checkerboards, two-toned squares or bull's-eye design.

Installation of Officers Is High Light of Final Wesleyan Meeting

Installation of officers for the Wesleyan Service Guild was held under the direction of Mrs. Taylor Smith, co-ordinator at the home of Mrs. Harold Durham during the final meeting of the year.

Officers for the ensuing year are: Mrs. Charles Marshall, president; Mrs. R. P. Haun, vice president; Mrs. E. O. Everett, secretary; Miss Loretta Morris, treasurer; secretary of promotions, Mrs. Joe Anderson; co-ordinator, Mrs. Taylor Smith. The chairman of the study courses will work with Mrs. H. J. Bulgerin, incoming president of the local WSCS, in preparing the year book for next year.

Rev. Harvey Kimbler, pastor First Baptist Church

Hearts are rejoicing at First Baptist this week over the achievement of beautiful new robes for the Chancel Choir and the installation of carpeting in the church auditorium, which will add much to the worshipful atmosphere of the services. Christian Science

The spiritual identity of the man of God's creating will be brought out at Christian Science services Sunday in the Lesson - Sermon entitled "Soul and Body."

Initial selections to be read from the Bible include these verses from Psalms (90:1,2): "Lord, thou hast been our dwelling place in all generations. Before the mountains were brought forth, or ever thou hadst formed the earth and the world, even from everlasting to everlasting, thou art God."

From "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy the following will be read (280:25-30): "Rightly understood, instead of possessing a sentient material form, man has a sensationless body; and God, the Soul of man and of all existence, being perpetual in His own individuality, imparts and perpetuates these qualities in man — through Mind, not matter."
