PTA Council Launches City Safety Campaign

What is expected to be one of the most intensive campaigns to instill safety awareness among Pampans is being launched this week by the City Council P.T.A. it was announced Saturday by Mrs. Alvie French, council president.

DR. RICHARD P. CONDIE

Chorus To Organize Today

The Pampa Fine Arts Association will again bring Dr. Richard P. Condie of Salt Lake City, Utah, director of the Mormon Tabernacle Choir, to Pampa to conduct an all-Panhandle chorus in a program of sacred and patriotic music.

Rehearsals will begin at 2:30 p.m. today in the First United Methodist Church in preparation for the Nov. 2nd performance in the Pampa High School Fieldhouse. All local and area singers are invited to participate.

Local church directors, Morris Kille of First United Methodist Church, David Campbell of First Baptist and Randall Hendricks of Central Baptist, will get the rehearsals underway today and will continue rehearsals until Dr. Condie's arrival in Pampa one week prior to the scheduled performance date.

Tracy Cary, organist for the First United Methodist Church, will be organist and Mrs. Fidelia Yoder, organist for First Presbyterian Church, will be the pianist.

Curt Beck, PFA Musical Arts chairman, said the choir's numbers will range from Pampa's own Woody Guthrie's "This Land," to Handel's "See the Conquering Hero Comes" and will include "How Lovely is Thy Dwelling Place."

The latter number is from Brahms' "Requiem" presented by the Pampa Oratorio Chorus under Dr. Condie in 1968.

Beck said the chorus also hopes to sing "Texas, Our Texas." Beck explained "This is the 45th anniversary of the adoption of this as the Texas hymn by the legislature and the 90th birthday of its composer, William J. Morris."

Beck said all Panhandle singers are invited to attend the first rehearsal today and are urged to participate.

The campaign, Mrs. French stated, while it will be aimed primarily at protecting the lives of children, also will be geared to make adults and teenagers more safety conscious.

"The crusade, which will deal mostly with traffic safety," Mrs. French said, "must become a community-wide project."

While the P.T.A. Council is promoting the campaign, along with cooperation of the Pampa Classroom Teachers Association and individual school P.T.A. units, Mrs. French said she hoped the city's civic and service clubs, churches, schools, garden clubs, study clubs, all would get behind the program.

Boy Scouts and members of the DeMolay and Pampa High School key club also will be asked to aid the project.

"We're asking for volunteer help," Mrs. French said. "We hope officials of those organizations who want to help in the safety campaign will call us."

In addition to Mrs. French, whose phone number is 669-2160, the following P.T.A. Council steering committee members may be called: Mrs. Paul Howard, 665-5187; Mrs. C.L. Farmer, 669-7555; Mrs. Melvin Watkins, 669-7907 and Mrs. B.M. Diddle, 665-8106.

The P.T.A. Council president said during the campaign which will extend over the coming weeks, plans call for billboard posters, a bicycle and motorcycle parade, a parade of wrecked cars, handbills, stickers, and a number of stunts designed to make Pampans more conscious of the importance of safe driving.

Details are being worked out for a T-Man program in which citizens will police known-traffic trouble spots to list license numbers of vehicles involved in traffic violations.

"Pampa is a wonderful place in which to live," Mrs. French said, "but the objective of this safety project is to make it an even more safe and secure city for our children."

"If what we accomplish through the campaign is responsible for saving just one life or keeping one child from being crippled, it will be well worth all the effort," she added.

PTA Council steering committee members said they hope to get the help of Kiwanis, Lions, Jaycees, Rotary, Optimist, and Shrine clubs as well as the Opti-Mrs. Jaycee-ettes and other men's and women's organizations. Volunteers among private citizens also will be welcomed, they stated.

Smith Exercises Veto Power Cutting Budget

Governor Trims Bill By $4.4 Millions

AUSTIN (UPI) — With an eye toward economy, Gov. Preston Smith Saturday exercised his veto power 12 times to cut $4.4 million out of the Legislature's spending plans for 1970-71 before signing the $5.87 billion budget into law.

Smith said his trimming the budget will leave the state with a surplus of at least $4.4 million at the beginning of the next biennium.

"I don't think there is anything wrong with having a little surplus in state government," the governor said in a brief signing ceremony Saturday.

The items vetoed were all of Smith's own choosing, since Comptroller Robert S. Calvert certified that the state would have enough money to finance both the general budget bill and all other special appropriation bills passed by the special session of the Legislature — including a $1.2 million measure to finance 27 new district courts.

Smith had said earlier in the week the comptroller would not be able to certify the courts bill unless the governor knocked at least $1.2 million out of the general appropriation measure.

Smith said Saturday Calvert "changed his mind" about the amount of revenue that will be available in fiscal 1970-71.

Smith's signature on the bill automatically repeals an emergency 60-day budget that lawmakers had passed to avert a fiscal crisis with the beginning of the fiscal year Sept. 1. At that time, they had been unable to agree on a tax bill to support any two-year spending plan.

Smith said the record $5.87 billion budget is bigger than he would have liked — but said it is a "good bill."

The governor vetoed 12 "line item" appropriations, and declared one rider provision of the bill invalid on the advice of the state attorney general.

Opposite Stand
In contrast to former Gov. John Connally, who vetoed numerous riders, Smith said he does not think a governor has the authority to veto such provisions.

Items vetoed by Smith included: —$2.9 million for a neuropsychiatric institute in Dallas. —$225,000 allocated to the attorney general's office for use in contracting for special legal help. —$25,000 for work at Longhorn Cavern State Park. —$50,000 for drilling a water well at Lyndon B. Johnson State Park. —$172,000 for acquisition of (See STATE, Page 2)

Solons May Face Another Grueling Special Session

AUSTIN (UPI) — Texas legislators, still nursing wounds from a six-week tax battle, now face the possibility of another grueling special session on redistricting.

Lawmakers hope to have no redistricting fight until after the 1970 census, but a federal court suit pending in Houston may force realignment of House districts this year.

A preliminary hearing is expected this week before a special three-judge panel considering a motion to force redistricting in time for the 1970 elections.

Plaintiffs in the case are asking the Houston court to follow the decision of an Indiana court which declared multi-member legislative districts unconstitutional and ordered immediate reapportionment.

The Indiana case is being appealed to the U. S. Supreme Court, and the decision there probably will govern the Texas case.

Liberal Democrats, who already have forced reapportionment of the Texas Senate once, and the House of Representatives twice, will be joined this time by the Texas Republican Party.

The GOP was named as a defendant along with the Democratic Party and state officials when the suit was first filed in 1963.

But GOP chairman William Steger said last week his party plans to "realign ourselves as a plaintiff and actively seek single-member districts."

Two of the three judges on the panel, John R. Brown and Joe Ingraham, are Republicans. James Noel, the third judge, is a Democrat.

Alcatraz Destined Not To Become Tourist Attraction

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — The San Francisco planning commission has recommended the city reject all plans for commercial development of Alcatraz Island, tear its gloomy prison down, and preserve it for posterity as "open space."

The commission's rejection came as a surprise Friday. Commercial developers of all kinds have presented plans for development of "The Rock," for which the city must start paying the federal government $1,800 a month Oct. 1.

Alcatraz was declared surplus federal property when the famed federal prison was closed in 1963. The city was allowed to purchase it on the installment plan.

Marked Similarities Between Two Deaths

SHERMAN, Tex. (UPI) — There were marked similarities between the wanton killings of a 7-year-old Sherman girl and a 13-year-old Dallas boy but investigators refused Saturday to speculate upon the chance of a connection.

Chief sheriff's deputy Oscar Lyons of Grayson County even doubted that officers trying to catch the killer of Donna Marie Golish had discussed a connection between the two killings.

"Nothing has turned up yet but we are still looking," Lyons said. "We don't have any clues."

Dallas police trying to catch the killer of Robert Lawson apparently were in the same situation. A suspect was released Friday after a polygraph lie detector test.

There were these similarities in the cases: — Both children were run down by automobiles. Robert was on his bicycle and Donna Marie was on her way home at noon Wednesday from first grade at an elementary school. Robert was killed last Sunday.

The bodies of both children were moved from where they were hit and hidden in weeds some distance away.

Both bodies were found face down. Donna Marie's body was partly dressed. Robert's clothes were torn.

Grayson County Sheriff Woody Blanton speculated that "the person that picked the girl up

High Court Decision Frees Army Captain

WASHINGTON (UPI) — An Army captain who has spent five years in prison will return to duty and draw approximately $50,000 in back pay under the Supreme Court's ban on civilian martial prosecution for court-martial offenses, the Pentagon reported Saturday.

He is Stephen J. Borys, 31, of Woonsocket, R.I., serving time at Ft. Leavenworth Kan., since he was convicted by court-martial in 1964 on charges of rape and robbery.

Many more servicemen in similar circumstances are expected to win their freedom under the high court ruling.

Borys' conviction was set aside Sept. 3 by the U.S. Court of Military Appeals. The Army had 12 days to petition the court for reconsideration but decided to let the decision stand.

"The dismissal of the charges against Capt. Borys restores all rights, privileges and property of which he had been deprived by virtue of the conviction and sentence," the Army said in a statement.

"Captain Borys will be stationed released from confinement and will be restored to duty." In a 5-3 ruling June 2, the U.S. Supreme Court held that military courts martial have no jurisdiction over civilian offenses that are not "service-connected."

Maj. Gen. Kenneth Hodson, Army judge advocate general, estimated that as many as 2,000 of the 4,000 military prisoners currently serving time in disciplinary barracks and federal prisons might be affected by the Supreme Court decision.

Hodson also estimated that possibly 450,000 court-martial convictions handed down since 1951 might be set aside if the persons involved or their families chose to seek a correction of the record.

Borys' alleged crimes were committed in the vicinity of Camp Gordon, Ga., near the South Carolina border. He was tried, and acquitted on rape charges, in the South Carolina civilian courts.

Borys will be released as soon as the formal papers can be drawn up. It has not been decided where he will be stationed.

British Army Completes Peace Wall In Ireland

BELFAST, Northern Ireland (UPI) — The British army Saturday completed a two-mile "peace wall" between Protestants and Roman Catholics and called in more troops to restore calm in this smoldering city.

The stepped-up security arrangements came after another night of strife in which a band of 200-300 Protestant men used a truck-trailer to smash down the doors of Roddy's Pub, a bar owned by a Roman Catholic.

The invaders wrecked the place and pelted it with firebombs, and a policeman was burned in the flames.

Catholics marched toward the pub on Donnegall Street, but dispersed before battle was joined. Firebombs were thrown in other areas of the city and a house was slightly damaged.

An army spokesman said another 120 British reinforcements were on their way to the troubled province and that still another 800 would arrive by ship Wednesday.

Highland General, McLean Hospitals Make Bid To Become Self-Governed

By DORIS E. WILSON
News Staff Writer
Highland General and McLean Hospitals will make a bid to become a self-governed, self-sustaining hospital district in a special election called by Gray County Commissioners for Saturday, Oct. 11.

At present, the two hospitals are under the jurisdiction of the Commissioners Court and share in county tax funds.

Under the new districting plan, the hospital would be governed by a board elected by the people and would also be empowered to levy a tax rate for its operations.

The choice of Gray County voters on Oct. 11 will be to accept hospital districting or face a raise in county taxes from the current $1.25 per $100 evaluation based on approximately 12 1/2 per cent of market value. The market percentage figure has not been changed within the past 10 years.

Creation of a hospital district would mean both hospitals would be governed by the people in their choices of a board of directors and, in the opinion of Gray County Judge S.R. Lenning Jr., would make the board more responsible directly to the people.

The board's sole function would be in the operation of district affairs and the hospital. Its interests would not be diluted with other county matters, according to Judge Lenning.

In defining advantages, Lenning said the purpose of the hospital district is to provide or finance hospital and medical care of its indigent and needy residents. "The board may also determine who is needy and who is a county indigent, whereas county laws often left the definition hanging."

"Funds," he said, "would be clearly delineated and there would be no more problem of mixing general county and hospital funds."

"It would also do away with keeping a dual set of books; one set at the hospital and another with the county." The district hospital tax would (See HOSPITAL, Page 2)

U.S. Accuses North Vietnam Of 'Inhuman Treatment' Of POWs

PARIS (UPI) — The United States accused North Vietnam Saturday of "inhuman treatment" of American prisoners of war and asked the Communists to permit an impartial inspection of their prisons.

U.S. negotiator Henry Cabot Lodge, lashing out in his longest speech at the Vietnam peace talks cited the testimony of three American prisoners freed last month by Hanoi that they had been tortured and denied medical treatment while prisoners.

"You should cease this inhuman treatment" of the prisoners, Lodge told Ha Van Lau, the deputy North Vietnamese negotiator. "You cannot escape the responsibility."

Lau replied that the United States had brainwashed the three freed prisoners into making "slandorous charges" against North Vietnam and its treatment they received while prisoners of war.

At the end of the prepared statements, the two diplomats traded sharp rebukes of the prisoner issue.

Turning directly to Lau, Lodge snapped: "In order to clear this up are you ready to allow an impartial international inspection of the camps? Until you do this the greatest doubts will exist about the conditions of the camps."

According to an American delegation spokesman, Lau dismissed "the demand for inspection with a denigrating remark."

"Seeking to refute Lodge's accusations about the treatment of American prisoners, Lau said the prisoners' claims were a "contemptible maneuver" designed to cover up crimes," he reiterated. Hanoi's contention that the prisoner issue should be discussed as part of an overall Vietnam peace package.

Lodge replied, "When that time comes your policy concerning treatment of prisoners will be largely academic since the prisoners will have either been repatriated or will be awaiting repatriation."

"The point is that prisoners are entitled to humane treatment under the protection of the Geneva Convention at all times and under all circumstances — and particularly during the period before repatriation," Lodge said.

Viet Cong Commands Strike Inside Saigon

SAIGON (UPI)—Viet Cong commandos striking inside Saigon for the first time in four months killed three South Vietnamese Saturday in a raid that heavily damaged a militia headquarters.

Elsewhere, a North Vietnamese-Viet Cong force overran a refugee camp near An Hoa 326 miles northeast of Saigon. Eight civilians were killed by South Vietnamese defenders reported hurling back the attackers and killing 66.

The war appeared to be settling back into the pattern that prevailed before the 72-hour Ho Chi Minh cease-fire and U.S. attempts to sound out Communist military intentions by stopping B52 raids. The strikes were resumed after a 36-hour bombing halt when it became clear that Hanoi was making no move toward deescalating.

The commando raid in Saigon, at 12:45 a.m. Saturday, hit a militia office in the city's outlying 9th precinct. Reports said three rocket grenades hit the building.

The hospital administrator would assume the position of county judge and the elected board members would assume the position of commissioners, as far as operations of the hospital district affairs are concerned.

At the present the hospital budget, both Highland and Melan operate in the black, is annually over 1 million and represents the largest portion of the county budget.

Total employees, at both hospitals, number over 230, which greatly outnumbers the other county employees, which averages about 90," Lenning said.

"It's becoming too unwieldy to be handled by the county commissioners court in view of other county business that comes to their attention."

Commenting on the incorporation of the two hospitals into one district, Hospital Administrator Wes Langham said, "I think the foremost advantage would be to have the book-keeping system under one roof, because of medicare and other state agencies."

"And," he added, "that percentage of our tax money, which goes to the state in ad valorem taxes, would be exempt and would remain in the county."

"Under the districting, we would have money set aside to restore equipment when it is needed. As things now stand there is no money set aside for depreciation."

"We pay our bills, but we can't keep raising room rates to keep up with other raising costs in hospital operation," he said.

Langham pointed out he was sure that within a short period of time, to keep the hospital accredited, it would be required to have a medical records librarian; a physical therapist; registered pharmacist;

"I am sure we are going to be required by the American Hospital Association, when they make their annual accreditation visit, to look to the future. If we are to keep qualified personnel on our staff. We must establish an insurance and retirement plan for our employees."

Some 3,000 participants from across Texas are expected at the convention.

South Korea's Chief May Seek Third Term

SEOUL, South Korea (UPI)—Pro-government members of South Korea's National Assembly passed a controversial bill Sunday amending the constitution to permit President Park Chung Hee to seek a third consecutive term in 1971.

Approximately 40 opposition members of the assembly boycotted the special session, staging a sit-in on the floor of the chamber in an effort to block the bill.

The sit-in by opposition legislators began at mid-afternoon Saturday when assembly speaker Rhee Hyo-Sang declared that debate on the bill had ended and that a vote was the next order of business.

The opposition lawmaker suddenly rose from his seats and occupied first the speaker's platform and then the floor of the chamber, forcing an adjournment of the proceedings.

The pro-government legislators met early Sunday in the annex while the oppositionists maintained their overnight sit-in in the main chamber.

Park announced last July he wanted a new term, explaining that it was necessary to maintain the security of the nation. There is widespread bad feeling against the soldier-turned-president, and university students have been demonstrating against him since July.

Police Question Suspect In Prowler Complaint

Pampa police have questioned one man and plan to talk to him again in connection with a prowler complaint they received from Mrs. Rose Griffin, 1208 Bond.

Mrs. Griffin told police she awakened about 4 a.m. Saturday and found a man trying to cut a hole in a front door screen. She said she told the man, described as about 24 to 26 years old, 5-8 to 5-10 feet tall and dark complexioned, if he didn't leave she would shoot him.

The prowler left. Police took a Pampa man to police headquarters after Mrs. Griffin identified him from a photo. He was questioned, then released after he denied having been at the Griffin home.

"Police say they will question the man further."

Cause Of Crime Cited By Price

Congressman Bob Price discussed the spiraling crime trend in the United States for Business and Professional Women's Club members and their guests Friday night in the Pampa Country Club.

Some 66 members and guests heard Price venture "Organized crime, by which I mean the Mafia and its subsidiaries, is one of the primary and root causes of all the varieties of crime which threatens us in our daily lives."

"It may not be obvious to the layman at first, how a nationwide crime network operating from a handful of central city locations could be responsible for a mugging that might occur in the Panhandle. Yet the link may be direct. Perhaps the offender is a drug addict and was driven to this action to obtain money to feed his drug habit."

Speed reading, according to a school representative, as defined by Accelerated Education Schools, is reading at a rate at least three times the individual's "normal" rate, or reading at 1,000 words per minute, whichever is the greater. Comprehension must be better than at the slower "normal" rate, the representative said.

Applicants must be 13 years of age or older.

Congressman Bob Price discussed the spiraling crime trend in the United States for Business and Professional Women's Club members and their guests Friday night in the Pampa Country Club.

Some 66 members and guests heard Price venture "Organized crime, by which I mean the Mafia and its subsidiaries, is one of the primary and root causes of all the varieties of crime which threatens us in our daily lives."

"It may not be obvious to the layman at first, how a nationwide crime network operating from a handful of central city locations could be responsible for a mugging that might occur in the Panhandle. Yet the link may be direct. Perhaps the offender is a drug addict and was driven to this action to obtain money to feed his drug habit."

"I am firmly convinced that organized crime is responsible for the crime spiral," Price said. "Eradication of the cancer of organized crime in our society will not eliminate all crime, but I am confident it is the place to begin and it will have a salutary effect in discouraging petty crime."

B&PW club member Mrs. H. F. McDonald introduced the guest speaker. Mrs. Charlotte Andrews, B&PW Legislative Affairs chairman, was in charge of program arrangements.

Entertainment was provided by Mark Turner, vocalist, accompanied by Donnie Jones at the piano. Joy Hawkins played a medley of dinner music.

South Korea's Chief May Seek Third Term

SEOUL, South Korea (UPI)—Pro-government members of South Korea's National Assembly passed a controversial bill Sunday amending the constitution to permit President Park Chung Hee to seek a third consecutive term in 1971.

Approximately 40 opposition members of the assembly boycotted the special session, staging a sit-in on the floor of the chamber in an effort to block the bill.

The sit-in by opposition legislators began at mid-afternoon Saturday when assembly speaker Rhee Hyo-Sang declared that debate on the bill had ended and that a vote was the next order of business.

The opposition lawmaker suddenly rose from his seats and occupied first the speaker's platform and then the floor of the chamber, forcing an adjournment of the proceedings.

The pro-government legislators met early Sunday in the annex while the oppositionists maintained their overnight sit-in in the main chamber.

Park announced last July he wanted a new term, explaining that it was necessary to maintain the security of the nation. There is widespread bad feeling against the soldier-turned-president, and university students have been demonstrating against him since July.

Police Question Suspect In Prowler Complaint

Pampa police have questioned one man and plan to talk to him again in connection with a prowler complaint they received from Mrs. Rose Griffin, 1208 Bond.

Mrs. Griffin told police she awakened about 4 a.m. Saturday and found a man trying to cut a hole in a front door screen. She said she told the man, described as about 24 to 26 years old, 5-8 to 5-10 feet tall and dark complexioned, if he didn't leave she would shoot him.

The prowler left. Police took a Pampa man to police headquarters after Mrs. Griffin identified him from a photo. He was questioned, then released after he denied having been at the Griffin home.

"Police say they will question the man further."

Lions To Sponsor 'Wonderful World Of Fantasy'

Television's "Wonderful World of Fantasy" currently one of the country's most popular live stage entertainments for children, will appear here Thursday, Oct. 16 at 4:30 p.m. in the Pampa Junior High School Auditorium under the sponsorship of the Pampa Evening Lions Club.

The show, not on a coast-to-coast tour, is produced and presented by Philip Morris, formerly a feature artist of the ABC radio network and over recent years credited with more than 700 television appearances.

Supported by a cast of talented and attractive young people, Morris succeeds in making "childhood dreams come to life."

Each of the major scenes in the show is based on the theme of a different fairy-tale or cartoon classic. The fabling characters appear on stage in living replica to sing and act out hilarious situations.

The Lions Club will conduct an advance sale of tickets by telephone asking community businesses to purchase tickets to benefit the youth in the area.

Proceeds from the show will be given to the Crippled Childrens Camp at Kerville, Hill Plains Eye Bank to provide eye glasses for needy children and a scholarship for a deserving high school student.

Beautiful Yard Awards Will Be Given Sept. 22

George B. Cree Jr., chamber president, urged members to make early reservations for what he said is expected to be "a very interesting and informative session."

One-year-old Gary D. Cahill, son of Mrs. Estella Cahill, 1208 W. Bond, has returned to Pediatric Branch of the University of Texas Medical Center in Galveston for treatment of a rare blood disease.

This is the third trip this year for the youngster, who was born with the condition and must return to the clinic every three to six months.

He and his mother left Saturday afternoon for Galveston. Gary will be admitted Monday for a week's stay at the clinic.

An autopsy performed in Dallas showed Donna Marie had not been sexually molested. The autopsy did show fractures of ribs and skull and internal ruptures. Blanton said could have been caused by a car running over her "one or more times."

Police Friday found four pennies placed in a square exactly where the boy's head was lying when the body was found in a rainsoaked field.

"The pennies had to be placed there Thursday," a Dallas policeman said. "The driver of the car apparently is superstitious and returned to the area to place them there."

"The same automobile was seen three times in the area within two days," Patrolman Robert Thompson said. "The driver's conscience is working on him."

The body of Donna Marie, in a casket, especially made coffin, was at the Dannel & Sons Funeral Home in Sherman. The funeral will be held at 3 p.m. Sunday

They Have A Yen For Colorful Carp

OJIYA, Japan (UPI)—It may sound fishy but the fact is fishermen in this resort town 125 miles north of Tokyo do a whopping business selling colorful carp.

The nishiki (brocade) carp, which come in 40 colors including gold and silver, carry price tags ranging from 10 yen (27 cents) to 3 million yen ($8,330).

The fishermen raise the carp in pounds until they grow big enough to be placed in a weekly auction visited by wholesalers and carp lovers.

An auction sells an average of 10 million yen ($27,000) worth.

Inspired by a large volume of orders placed by Japanese in Hawaii and North and South America, the enterprising fishermen are now talking about building ponds in Florida for an easy access to customers abroad.

Catholic Priest Outcast In His Own Parish

By STEWART KELLERMAN

CANADA DE GOMEZ, Argentina (UPI)—The Roman Catholic priest, his dark maroon cassock flapping in the wind, walked to the newsstand and asked for a paper.

"I don't have any left," said the vendor, ignoring the stack of papers by his side.

The gray-bearded, 67-year-old Capuccine turned from the newsstand to a nearby grocery store for food. "There isn't any for you," the grocer said. He turned his back.

The Rev. Roman Maria de Montevideo is an outcast in this middle-class community of 20,000 where religious passions have spurred usually sober-minded adults to defy bullets, clubs and tear gas to take part in campus-style demonstrations.

Father Roman's troubles began last June when he was named to replace the popular Rev. Armando Amirati, 46, at the Church of St. Peter the Apostle in this northeastern Argentine city.

Is Reformist Member

Amirati, gaunt and hollow-cheeked with a face from a Greco painting, is a leading member of the reformist wing of the church and has engaged in a heated controversy with the conservative hierarchy in the Rosario diocese.

The reformists have been demanding a head-on confrontation with the government to win social reforms. The conservatives have backed a more cautious position of working behind-the-scenes for change.

Amirati was one of 31 reformist priests who offered their resignations to Rosario Archbishop Guillermo Bolatti unless he began a "true dialogue" with them. Bolatti, 57, accepted the resignations and named replacements more attuned to his "faith, charity and discipline" directives to parish priests.

The archbishop's decision sparked demonstrations throughout the diocese in July by laymen supporting the reformists. The most serious protests were in Canada de Gomez.

Some 4,000 persons occupied the Church of St. Peter the Apostle July 4 to prevent Father Roman from entering and taking up his new post.

Father Roman surveyed the situation and decided to wait. He returned July 17 when Mayor Hildo Storni called in police reinforcements from neighboring cities to break the

Classes in Speed Reading Set This Fall in Pampa

The famous Cutler Accelerated method of speed reading, created by Dr. Wade E. Cutler who holds a doctorate in psychology, will be taught here this fall in both day and evening classes.

The average person today reads some 200 words per minute with about 60 percent comprehension—a rate inadequate to cope with today's reading demands in school, college or business.

This widely acclaimed course guarantees its graduates will read at least 1,000 words per minute with a definite increase in comprehension.

Many graduates of the nine week program far exceed the guarantee and complete with rates of 2,500 and more words per minute with far better comprehension.

Concentration, recall, study and test-taking skills show a remarkable degree of improvement.

Such achievement means

Sunday, Sept. 21 at 2:30 p.m., 4 p.m., 8 p.m.
Tuesday, Sept. 23 at 7:30 p.m.
Wednesday, Sept. 24 at 7:30 p.m.

that a person can read books of average length in 45 minutes or less, and understand, remember, and enjoy them better than ever.

This professionally conducted course boasts nearly 10,000 successful graduates due to its common sense approach to better and faster reading and to its staff of professionally qualified master teachers.

At these free one hour orientations, full details about speed reading and the unique Cutler Accelerated Method will be given to those forward-looking persons attending.

Since there is no cost or obligation by attending, you owe it to yourself to attend the time most convenient for you.

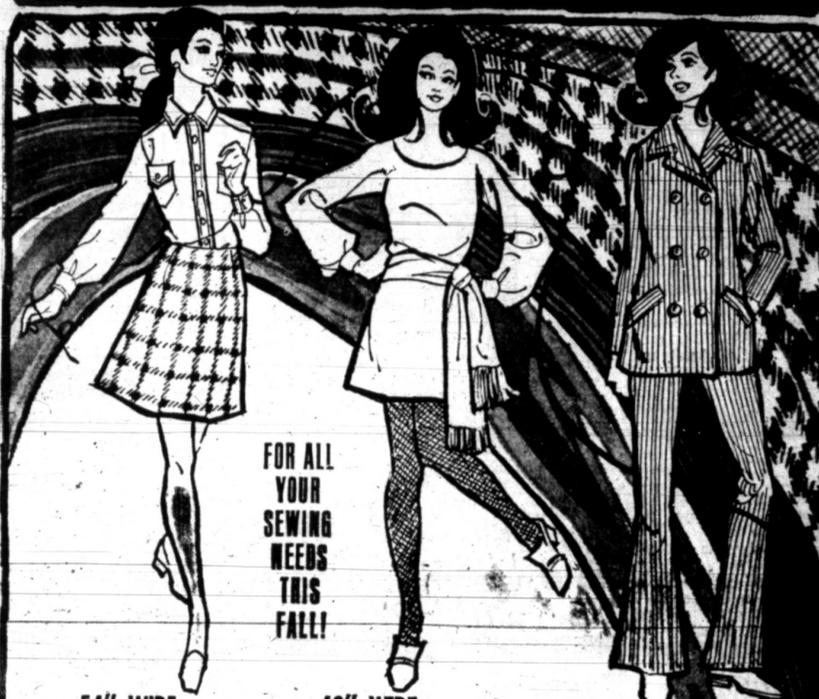

Drop in and find out how you can make 1968 a more successful year.

Venezuela's New Prosperity Comes From Discovery Of Oil

CARACAS (UPI)—Few Latin American republics, faced with the two-pronged dilemma of booming birth rates and shrinking income, are willing to experiment with over three quarters of their basic resources.

Venezuela, however, is doing just that with its oil industry. In less than six months, the Venezuelan government will sign agreements with foreign oil companies under a novel system called "service contracts" which replace the old foreign concession set up.

Venezuela's present position of prosperity in Latin America is the result of the discovery of major oil deposits some 40 years ago. Foreign oil companies turned this nation, larger than France and Italy combined, into the world's top exporter of crude oil.

As sole owner of the country's subsoil, Venezuela's government awarded large slices of its territory—mainly in Lake Maracaibo and in the eastern part of the republic—to the highest bidders under 40-year concessions.

Until the mid-1940s Venezuela was content to watch its oil produce dollars with little or no native intervention, much like some Middle Eastern sheikdoms today.

In 1945, a militantly nationalist political party, Accion Democratica, came to power through a coup of young army officers. Its founder and leader, Romulo Betancourt, boosted Venezuela's share of oil income up to 50 per cent and posed the elimination of concessions.

It was more than a decade before Betancourt, in 1950 as Venezuela's freely elected president, could follow through with the junking of concessions, sidetracked by a decade of military dictatorship under Gen. Marcos Perez Jimenez.

The long lapse between the announcement of no further concessions and the debut of service contracts has put Venezuela's reserves at a dangerously low level. At its present daily production rate of over 3.5 million barrels, Venezuela can continue the flow for less than 15 years.

More than simply a replacement for concessions that would improve the government's share of oil income—now over $1.2 billion yearly—service contracts are aimed at giving Venezuela a major voice in operations now carried out by giants such as Standard Oil of New Jersey, Royal Dutch Shell, Gulf and Mobil.

"It's the next best thing to outright nationalization," one veteran oilman snorts.

As the system's very name indicates, the Venezuelan government, through its state oil company, will hire oil companies to seek, extract and market oil in new areas assigned. The oil companies will be paid in a share of the oil.

Top secret negotiations between the government and oil companies bidding to win service contracts for five 30,000 blocks in lake Maracaibo, only presidential and congressional approval of contrasting bases is needed to get under way.

The contracts will boost government income to between 80 and 90 per cent and give the state oil company the right to overlord in any operational decision. The government can approve or veto exploration plans, decide production rates and even dictate prices for oil in world markets, under the new system.

Panhandle Water

By FELI W. RYALS

Several years ago I read a news story about a West Texas irrigation farmer who returned from a camping trip in New Mexico and Colorado, in a sadder but wiser frame of mind. Seems he had returned by the horse racing and for all practical purposes had "lost his shirt" betting on the wrong horses. Imagine his reaction when he drove up in the field to start his irrigation well and found it gone. The pump and motor were gone. As he approached the site of the well he could see a large hole in the ground. He went back to his home and phoned a friend with a wrecker. The wrecker hoisted him out over the hole and he could see his pump, motor and several joints of his column pipe and casing down in the hole some seventy-five feet. Water from several hard rains had worked down outside the casing and washed the earth into the underground water formation. The pump and casing had snapped off and pulled the motor into the hole.

In the Gray and Carson County area the water level will be from 300 to 400 feet beneath the surface. In some instances in drilling a well the driller does not find sufficient water and pulls out of the hole and does not properly fill it back up. We have found some of these improperly filled holes washed out by the rains. We found one last week in which a full grown man could fall in and disappear. The laws of Texas are very specific about plugging old abandoned wells and test holes. We are quoting the law as follows: All abandoned wells must be closed in accordance with Article 1721, Texas Penal Code, being Acts of the 51st Legislature (1949) page 509, Chapter 281, violation of such Article is made punishable by a fine of not less than $100 nor more than $500.

Can you imagine a modern city of 6000 people without a sewer system? In 1968 there was at least one city in the U.S. that large that had only septic tanks. That city was Evansdale, Iowa. As of August 1969 the city had installed 20 miles of sewers and at long last

Red Cross News

By LIBBY SHOTWELL, Executive Secretary ARC.

The Red Cross Board meeting was one of the largest we have had in some time, with 19 members and five guests present. Stirling Gipson was introduced as the new Red Cross youth chairman, and Mrs. Aline Winegart, nursing service chairman, Mrs. Winegart presented Pauline Newman, Zora Moore and Aline Childers with their IAN pins. All three had worked with the Red Cross to make up their 20 hours. We're very proud of these girls. The program was on the Camille disaster presented by Warren Hassel, Ted Gikas, and John Skelly. The board thanked the United Fund for their donation of $1500 to the Red Cross for hurricane Camille and for the donations of our citizens in Pampa to make up our quota of $2250.00. The Pampa chapter is happy to report we are 6 chapters in the Panhandle of Texas who have made their quota. Others in the Panhandle are: Castro County, Deaf Smith County, Hutchinson County, Ochiltree County and Gray County.

A late report from National Red Cross gave the following areas of damage with which the Red Cross will be asked to assist: 5,660 homes destroyed; 13,155 homes with major damage; 26,069 homes with minor damage; 1,442 mobile homes destroyed or with major damage. The Red Cross will continue to work with families when all other organizations return to their towns, the Red Cross remains and tries to put families back into living again. Our work is with families alone and we are the only organization working to rehabilitate families.

Water, Inc. Resolution presented governor

First place prize is $8,000. Maxwell and amateur partner Richard Ellis, of Pampa, picked up five birdies on the first eight holes but went nine holes on the backside at even par before picking up the final bird on the 17th. Both missed putts under 15 feet for birdies at the 18th which would have moved them into the lead. Dill and attorney Bill Penn,

Mets Rip Bucs On Swoboda Hit

National League Mets 5, Pirates 2. WASHINGTON (UPI) — Ron (Rocky) Swoboda, the erratic freewinger who's somewhat of a symbol of the New York Mets' past frustrations and present success, hit the first grand slam homer of his career Saturday to give the Mets a 5-2 triumph over the Pittsburgh Pirates. Swoboda's blast snapped a 1-1 deadlock in the eighth inning and helped Tom Seaver become the first 22 game winner in the National League this season. Seaver, who's lost seven, pitched a six-hitter as the Mets won their 10th straight game to remain in command of the Eastern Division race in the National League.

Reds 6, Giants 4. SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Lee May's two-run eighth inning homer, his first in nearly three weeks, snapped a 4-4 tie Saturday and carried the Cincinnati Reds to a 6-4 victory over the San Francisco Giants. As a result, the Reds moved into second place in the tight National League West race, three percentage points behind Atlanta, and the Giants dropped to third, a game off the pace.

Expos 7, Phils 5. PHILADELPHIA (UPI) — Coco Laboy drove in three runs with a single and his 18th home run of the season Saturday night to lead the Montreal Expos to a 7-5 victory over the Philadelphia Phillies.

Cards 7, Cubs 4. ST. LOUIS (UPI) — Joe Torre's bases-loaded single with two out in the eighth inning drove home two runs Saturday night and gave the St. Louis Cardinals a 7-4 win over Chicago that knocked the fading Cubs 3 1/2 games out of first.

Braves 3, Astros 2. ATLANTA (UPI) — Wade Blasingame walked pinch-hitter Bob Aspromonte with the bases loaded in the 13th inning to give Atlanta a 3-2 victory over the Houston Astros Saturday night after Larry Dierker had held the Braves hitless for the first 8 2/3 innings.

Shockers Rout Perryton, 24-6

PERRYTON — Pampa's Shockers opened the 1969 season on a happy note, here Saturday night by blasting Perryton's Junior Varsity, 24-6 after a sluggish first quarter. Quarterback Dale Ammons accounted for two Shocker touchdowns and Greg Shultz and Greg Wilson tallied the other two scores for Pampa, who went in at halftime tied, 6-6. Ammons got Pampa on the scoreboard in the first period when he climaxed a 60 yard Shocker drive by going in from three yards out. The extra point try was no good and the score was knotted, 6-6. Ammons 13-yard run in the third period put the Shockers in front to stay at 12-6. Pampa tallied twice in the final quarter when Shultz intercepted a Perryton pass and raced 13 yards untouched for the score to make it 18-6. The final Pampa tally came when Wilson went in from four yards out to climax a 70 yard Pampa drive. Ammons and Darrell Nipp led the Pampa rushing and the Shocker defense played outstanding football after the first period.

BULLETIN Air Force was out in front of Southern Methodist 26-13 with just under 13 minutes left to play Saturday night in their nationally televised football game. King causing the Whitefaces no end of worry. John Jenkins, a rookie in his position, did, I thought, a very good job of running the team and his passing was good, considering it was his first game. The receiving is still a mystery. Steve Scott caught all eight Jenkins completions so we know he can catch and will only have to guess that somebody else can too. The front of offensive line did their jobs well for just over two quarters. Almost every time Willis or King cracked the line there was a hole, both on the left and right sides. The pass protection was exceptional with

Rams Strike Early To Nudge San Fran, 31-28

ANAHEIM (UPI) — Clancy Williams intercepted a pass and ran it back 86 yards to a touchdown Saturday night and the Los Angeles Rams grabbed a 24-0 lead in the second quarter but then had to hold on for dear life to beat the San Francisco Forty Niners 31-28. The Rams' defense accumulated the early lead, capitalizing on two recovered fumbles and a blocked kick after Williams opened the scoring with his interception of a John Brodie pass at 8:31 in the first quarter. The Rams led at halftime 31-7 but Brodie threw two touchdown passes in the third period to narrow the gap. During his hot streak, when the Forty-Niners staged two 80-yard touchdown marches, Brodie completed 10 of 11 passes in the final exhibition game of the year for each club. Brodie's first payoff was a 6-yard toss to Clifton McNeil at 6:39 in the third quarter. At 2:51 in the same period, the San Francisco quarterback connected to rookie receiver Gene Washington for a 23-yard touchdown pass. In the fourth quarter, Brodie engineered a 75-yard march which was capped by a 12-yard touchdown pass to Eob Windsor with less than a minute to play.

Packers Pounce Atlanta, 38-24 CANTON, Ohio (UPI) — Travis Williams, running 57 yards for one touchdown and catching a 13-yard pass from Bart Starr for another, inspired the Green Bay Packers to a 38-24 victory over the Atlanta Falcons in the annual Pro Football Hall of Fame exhibition game here Saturday. Lee Speeds Past Reapers Pampa and Lee Jr. High ninth grades hooked up in a thriller on Harvester field Saturday night and Lee got the most from a lot of speed to score a 24-20 victory. Lee jumped to a 12-0 first quarter lead on a three yard run by Rick Musgrave and a 70-yard touchdown scamper by Rick McGuire. The Reapers came back to cut the margin to 12-6 at halftime when Richard McCampbell fished in from 40 yards away. Neal Curry set up the next Lee touchdown when he rambled 84 yards with the second half kickoff to the Reaper three. Musgrave then ran it in. But Bill Lemons pulled the Reapers back to 18-14 when he went in from six yards away and McCampbell ran in the conversion for two points. McGuire scored the clincher when the speedy freshman sped 35 yards for a fourth quarter marker. Fred Wilson blocked a Lee punt in the final periods and Alan Keeton felt on it in the end zone for the final Reaper score.

Harvesters Prove The ory: Mistakes Can Beat You

Pampa's Harvesters proved a theory Friday night, the one about mistakes and how they can cause a football team to lose a game. The Harvesters made a few against Hereford, the White Faces recognized them and took advantage of them. Hereford made mistakes also but Pampa took advantage of only one. Too, it must be pointed out that Pampa did not play a good second half, which is something in itself. Usually the second half is our game. The blocking and tackling by the Harvesters was exceptional to a point. The running game was excellent with Don Willis and Scotty

Jenkins thrown for a loss just once in the first two periods. Tackles Larry Kotara and Mark Watkins, guards Jay Roth and Chuck Lanehart for hereford up the first half, and most of the second half. Defensively the Harvesters were either nervous or mixed-up or a little of both on the first series of downs. Hereford moved 35 yards the first time they had the ball to score. They had no trouble. But the Whitefaces had only 46 yards rushing at halftime so that tells you how Pampa "toughened up" the rest of the half. Pampa logged 163 yards on the ground the first half. But in the final two periods things were different. Pampa mustered only 40 yards on the ground, the same amount through the air and threw the ball three times less. Jenkins was tossed three times for losses in the final two periods. It could be a number of things. Hereford played harder the last 24 minutes. Pampa let down. The receivers were covered better or Jenkins was taking longer to throw. Hereford rushed for 147 yards the final half and completed its only pass of the night, good for 29 yards, with a 15-yard penalty tacked on the Harvesters for grabbing the face mask.

Pampa was lucky in this respect. Two other times it appeared they had tackled by the face mask and weren't caught. Then there was the time in the third period Hereford's Lyons fumbled a pitchout and could have been thrown for an 11 yard loss. Instead he picked up 16 yards on the play when two Pampa tacklers ran right by him. And it couldn't have happened to a nicer guy. Scotty King carried the ball 25 times, gained 154 yards but fumbled once. The fumble came in the first period when Pampa had driven 54 yards to the Hereford 34 and it looked like a touchdown was coming. But King was bounced hard, his helmet went one way and the ball another. Hereford recovered after a Pampa player stood and looked at the ball for a short time. In the third period another drive was stopped short when Jenkins was twice thrown for losses and Pampa was tagged with two, 5-yard penalties. The final Pampa drive bogged down when a pass was dropped, another was lucky to have been thrown and a holding penalty cost

The punting game was far short of what it should be. Swede Leeb said so last week but I didn't believe him. Now I do. Wyatt Earp was one of the best punters in the district last year. He had low, not high punts that allow runners to get down the way quick, short punts Friday night. They went for 25, 44, 33, 16 and 18 yards. The short ones helped score touchdowns. But Wyatt, like the 10 other starters, is a senior and he and they know that one loss doesn't make a season. There's always next week.

Reagan Gets '69 Season On Good Start

By United Press International
Austin Heagan, champion in Class AAAA the past two years, started off Friday night where it left off last year, kicking off the Texas high school football campaign with a 35-0 drubbing of San Antonio Churchill.

It was the 30th straight victory for Reagan, the longest winning streak in the state. Winning was a habit for all four defending state champions on the opening night of the season.

Class AAA champ Lubbock Estacado opened the defense of its title with a 50-0 massacre of outclassed Brownfield. Daingerfield, the Class AA titleholder last year which has since moved up to Class AAA, made an impressive debut in its new classification with a 34-7 decision over Paul Hewitt.

Sonora, which upset Poth to win the Class A crown last season, started off right Friday night by downing Class AA Winters 21-0.

Poth, however, showed it had not lost much of its scoring punch in bombing Natalia 70-0. An old familiar name—Pflugerville—fopped up on the first night of the football season. The Pirates, the terror of small town football during the early 1960s, also ran up a 70-0 score in whipping Hutto.

Two key games were unveiled Friday night—one in West Texas and another on the Gulf Coast.

Ablene Cooper, touted by some as a potent offensive finalist this year, tangled with Class AAA powerhouse Brownwood, and came out on top of a wild scoring duel—42-22.

Two Class AAAA coast titans—Beaumont Chabron Pollard and Houston Kashmere—opened the season Friday night with Kashmere winning it 25-0.

Other top Class AAAA games saw Odessa Permian whip Amarillo Tascosa 27-12 and Port Arthur shut out Houston Waltrip 33-0.

State finalist Refugio was another big winner in Class AAA. Monahan bested Odessa Ector 28-7 in another key AAA game.

Two annual favorites—Iowa Park and San Antonio Randolph—got started right in Class AA. Randolph defeated Pleasanton 28-6 while Iowa Park breezed past Burk Burnett 44-7.

Three Rivers, one of the better South Texas Class A teams, opened its season with a 50-6 triumph over Kenedy.

Death Of Marciano Makes McLain Think

NEW YORK (UPI)—The Rocky Marciano tragedy made Denny McLain stop and think. Not about tearing up his pilot's license and selling his plane, but about life in general. "I never met him and didn't know him, but everybody who did says he was a great guy," reflects McLain who, because he flies his own plane, probably puts more time in the air than any personality in sports except maybe Arnold Palmer.

"When I heard about it, I was stunned and sorry," says the Detroit right-hander about last week's crash which killed Marciano and two others flying in a private plane over Iowa. "You're losing a fine human being when you lose a Rocky Marciano. Besides that, you're losing a personality. Sports can't afford to lose a Marciano."

There aren't enough like him to go around."

Add Impact
Did the disaster have some added impact for McLain because he's always hopping around the country himself or possibly because he felt some kind of athlete-to-athlete kinship with Marciano?

"No, that wasn't it," McLain says. "Look, things like that are gonna happen. That doesn't mean I'm gonna be afraid to fly. I don't think of it in that connection. One thing has nothing to do with the other. Who knows what went wrong there? It may have been a weather condition. I don't know if it was pilot error or not. He may have leaned his engine out, which means he may have not had the proper fuel, a rich enough mixture, and that could have caused a stall. But I'm sure the FAA already has checked that out.

Flying is simply common sense. What I'm saying is that there are proper procedures for flying and when you vary these procedures, you're liable to get into trouble. You don't go out there and challenge thunderstorms. I don't, anyway."

McLain has logged more than 600 hours piloting time since April, and he has been as busy on the ground as he has been in the sky.

As president of Denny McLain Enterprises, Inc., he has a hand in the operation of seven different companies. When the Tigers are at home he's at his office desk at 8:30 in the morning and back there again at night after the ball game. McLain has put in as much as 18 hours a day with his various businesses and some people have kidded him about winding up the richest man in the cemetery. He's not worried about it though.

Money Is Incidental
"The money is incidental," he insists. "Sure, you want to make money but there's much more to it than that. My prime ambition is to be a success, not just baseball-wise but business-wise as well. I love all the businesses I'm in. Take my paint business, for example. We've got a quality product. We don't just throw whitewash at em."

Fine. Now what about his other business enterprise, you know, the eighth one? Baseball, where he has won 22 games so far even though many expected him to fall on his face following last year's 31 victories.

"I'd say it hasn't been too bad," McLain says, about his pitching.

He's right. His pitching hasn't been bad at all.

Among other things, he has proven he wasn't a one-year fluke and that it was possible for him, anyway, to mix business with baseball and still come out ahead both ways.

What has all this brought McLain in addition to money? "Satisfaction," he says, without being smug about it. "You'd be surprised how that's more important than money in some ways."

Denny McLain won't win as many games this year as he did last. Still, it might surprise you to learn he's a better pitcher. Smarter, too.

Bears Feel Ready For '69 Opener

By United Press International
The Chicago Bears didn't win Friday night but they feel that they'll be ready to do just that when the regular season opens next Sunday. The Bears think Gale Sayers is as good as ever.

Even though the Bears lost a 37-31 game to the St. Louis Cardinals in their final exhibition game Friday night, they weren't too disappointed. They were 109-busy beaming about the play of Sayers, who had his best exhibition game and seems to have completely recovered from his knee injury of a year ago.

If Sayers is ready to go, the Bears will be a challenger in the Central Division.

In the only other exhibition game Friday night, the Detroit Lions finished with a 5-1 mark by blitzing the New Orleans Saints, 42-7.

In the final two exhibition games, today, Washington will be at Philadelphia and Baltimore is at Dallas.

Although Sayers sat out most of the second half, he dashed 70 yards over tackle in the first quarter to set up a 26-yard field goal by Mac Percival and he returned a kickoff 39 yards to set up a four-yard TD pass from Jack Concannon to Brian Piccolo.

Quarterbacks Charlie Johnson and Jim Hart paced St. Louis to the triumph. Johnson tossed a 23-yard TD pass to Jackie Smith and tossed 17 and 25 yard scoring passes to Dave Williams and also ran one yard for another TD.

Hart came off the bench in the fourth period and hit Smith on a 55-yard TD pass that won it for the Cards.

Bill Munson passed for two TDs as the Lions routed the Saints. Munson completed eight of 14 passes for 228 yards. Detroit jumped to a 21-0 lead in the first 11 minutes and coasted to the triumph.

Mets Widen Lead, But Braves Take Over West

By United Press International
Leo Durocher's round of frustration finally came to a halt Friday night when the Chicago Cubs broke an eight-game losing string by beating the St. Louis Cardinals, 5-1.

The Cubs needed that victory because the New York Mets took a two-night doubleheader from the Pittsburgh Pirates by identical 1-0 scores to move 2½ games ahead of second-place Chicago in the National League's Eastern Division. A Chicago loss would have dropped the Durocher men 3½ games off the pace.

"We finally go one tonight," he exclaimed to wide-eyed baseball writers who for days had tried to get a single comment out of Durocher. "We finally got a hit with some men

Takes Over Lead
Atlanta took over the Western Division lead by edging Houston, 4-3. San Francisco shut out Cincinnati, 1-0. Montreal whitewashed Philadelphia, 4-0, and Los Angeles topped San Diego, 5-3, in other National League action.

In the American League, Baltimore clinched a tie for the Eastern title with a 2-1 victory over Cleveland, Washington shaved Detroit, 4-3, Oakland ripped Chicago, 12-4, Minnesota beat Kansas City, 3-0, Boston beat New York, 4-3, after losing 5-3 and Seattle beat California, 4-1, but the second game of their doubleheader was called after 9½ innings because of rain with the score tied, 1-1.

Banks drove in four runs. His single behind Ron Santo's double in the seventh inning tied the score at 1-1. Bill Hands, who twice previously braked five-game losing skids, won his 17th game against 13 losses. St. Louis scored its only run in the third inning when Brock singled, stole his 50th base of the season, went to third on an infield out and came in on Vada Pinson's sacrifice fly.

Met pitchers accounted for the winning runs in both games. Jerry Koosman, tossing a three-hitter, gained his 14th triumph in the opener when he singled home Bobby Pfeil in the fifth inning. Don Cardwell's second inning hit in the nightcap followed Bud Harrelson's double and gave the 33-year-old righthander his seventh win and the Mets' ninth in a row.

Stone Hits Homer
Southpaw George Stone's first extra base hit in the majors; two-run homer, carried the Braves into first place. He needed the insurance margin because Houston scored three runs in the eighth inning. The win was Stone's 12th of the year.

Juan Marichal tossed a one-hitter—a third inning single by Tommy Helms—as San Francisco dropped Cincinnati from the Western division lead. The Giants scored the game's only run in the second on a walk to Jim Davenport, a wild pitch by Gerry Arrigo and Hal Lanier's single. Marichal won his 16th game as the Giants supported him with a weak three-hit attack.

Gary Sutherland drove in two runs with a second inning single and Bill Stoneman scattered five hits in Montreal's triumph over Philadelphia. Sutherland, who no-hit the Phils last April, struck out 12 men in accomplishing his fifth shutout and 10th victory.

Maury Wills singled home the go-ahead run in the eighth inning to beat San Diego and provide Bill Singer with his 19th win of the season. Nate Colbert homered for the Padres.

NFL Opens For 50th Time Next Sunday

NEW YORK (UPI)—The National Football League, opening its 50th anniversary season next Sunday, will now begin the task of trying to catch up.

As Joe Namath likes to say, it may only take a year or two before the NFL is on a par with the American Football League.

The NFL—they didn't start calling it that until 1922 (although George Halas and his buddies set up the American Football Professional Association in 1920) has been able to claim for a half century that it was the best in pro football.

That ended last January in the Super Bowl when the Baltimore Colts were busy admiring their 15-1 record against NFL teams and lost to the New York Jets.

Now in the first season before three current NFL teams switch to what will be known as the American Conference of the merged NFL, the senior league will attempt to win back the top honor. The NFL had a 19-13-1 mark in exhibition games between the two leagues this season and has a 42-29-1 edge three years of competition. But that doesn't change the fact that an AFL team is the defending world champion.

There was no expansion in the NFL over the past season and the same 16 teams will return to action although there are three new coaches. They are Chuck Noll of Pittsburgh, Jerry Williams of Philadelphia and, of course, Vince Lombardi of Washington.

Lombardi's return will probably be the single key feature of the season.

the new season. His success of failure at Washington, after bringing Green Bay five world championships and two consecutive Super Bowl triumphs, will be watched closely throughout the league.

Lombardi isn't expected to be an instant success. His club is generally rated second to Dallas in the Capitol Division. However, there are two factors which can't be overlooked.

Washington has always played well against Dallas even before Lombardi came and Lombardi's clubs at Green Bay always managed to handle Tom Landry's Dallas team.

Add the facts that Dallas sometimes seems to be missing those "intangibles" that make the difference in the "big" games and the retirement of Don Meredith and injury to Craig Morton and it adds up to the conclusion that Dallas could be had. Roger Staubach, who missed the last five seasons in the Navy, is the No. 1 Dallas quarterback and Bob Beiden, who was No. 3 at Notre Dame for three seasons, is suddenly No. 2.

Agriculturally Speaking

By FOSTER WHALEY

Rainfall the past week over the country varied a great deal. I've heard some reports that ran up to over two inches. Most farmer reports in and near Pampa show less than one-half inch. Most farmers had their wheat planting interrupted. If they could have had their way, they would like to have delayed the planting until another week. You should never turn down a good rain in the Panhandle.

However, the Eastern half of the state is much, much drier than the Panhandle of Texas. They have had soaring temperatures all summer and little rainfall.

CATTLE MARKET

The Fat Cattle Market is in a slide and has been since it topped out in June. After a sudden and severe break from a $35.00 high in June, the market broke pretty severe for two to three weeks. The market stabilized a while around $28.00 on fat heifers and from $29 to $30.00 on fat steers. For the past five weeks the fat market has eased from 25 to 50 cents per week.

The stocker calf market slides to some extent. However, it hasn't adjusted in line with fats.

The light weight stocker market has made a two-dollar gain since the good general rains over most of New Mexico and the Southern Great Plains. Volunteer wheat in Kansas is ready to graze on a vast acreage. This, and a lot of all kinds of forage crops, improving since the rain, has touched off a keen demand for wheat pasture cattle. Heavier feeder cattle in the five to seven hundred and fifty pound bracket are feeling the effect of the lower fat cattle market. A large number of steers for Fall delivery were contracted last Spring at a nice price. The remaining steers and heifers that were not contracted earlier is definitely going to run into a dull market unless there should be an unexpected upturn in fat cattle prices.

Some of the so-called experts think we will see the bottom of the fat cattle price in October. There are some good reasons behind this thinking. Recently I ran into a packer buyer from the Corn Belt. They are becoming more active in this area. The reason for this is because of the extremely tight placements on feed in the corn belt during the nasty weather they were having in late winter. I believe many observers have overlooked the strength that the Corn Belt packer might put into the market over the next 60 days in a effort to keep their killup. Another very encouraging factor is seeing more grocery ads featuring meat, which is still a bargain when compared to other items.

HOW TRUE

I noted a sign on the mud flaps of a farm truck in the Dumas area. On the left mud flap the sign read "Crime doesn't pay"; on the right mud flap the sign read "Farming don't either."

CUTWORMS ON VOLUNTEER WHEAT

We have had numerous calls about cutworms on volunteer wheat. Parathion sprayed at one pint per acre should do an excellent control job I would recommend spraying late evening since these rascals feed mainly after the sun goes down. They hide under a clod in the daytime.

Soil Conservation

By JIM ROACH

Gray County is being invaded by a dangerous plant, which if not stopped now, will cost the land owners and operators thousands of dollars to control, just a few years into the future. This invading plant is MESQUITE!

It is present in Gray County at the present time only in small isolated spots. This is already adequate mesquite to cause control problems for the next 20 years, mesquite seed will lay dormant in the soil over 20 years before they germinate. Cattle readily graze the mesquite beans, or seeds, after they are mature. These seeds germinate very rapidly after being exposed to the acidity of the cows' stomach. Cattle brought into this area from infested areas bring large amounts of ready to germinate seed.

We need to stop and think back just a few years to realize what a dangerous invasion we are now faced with. It has been only a few years since mesquite first appeared north of the Canadian River in the western Panhandle. Now there are some very serious infestations in this region. There are heavy infestations of mesquite in Donley County to the South. These infestations are rapidly moving north. If we do not take action in the immediate future, our rangeland will soon be choked with mesquite.

The most effective control method on the small scattered trees is either by grubbing or basal treatment with diesel. A few dollars spent today will save thousands of dollars in the years to come.

NOISE REGULATIONS

WASHINGTON (UPI) — John A. Shaffer, head of the Federal Aviation Administration, says the government may have to subsidize the airline industry for reducing the noise of jet airplanes. He gave no details on what a subsidy program would cost. Shaffer said the FAA's noise regulations for the planned generation of jumbo jetliners are nearly ready, but he said, it would be "next year" before noise regulations on jetliners already in service would be published.

Washington Window

WASHINGTON (UPI) — When it comes to climbing the ladder of success, a politician has about as much control over his ambitions as a sweet-toothed kid in a candy store. Even when there is a death in the family.

And so it was when Everett McKinley Dirksen died and bequeathed to his Republican brethren a vacancy in the post of Senate GOP leader which he coveted and protected for 10 years.

Despite the delicate and dangerous nature of the lung cancer operation he underwent, Dirksen's death was unexpected. The shock and grief, for the most part, were genuine. But protracted and uninterrupted mourning—when a Senate leadership post is vacant, can leave a candidate out of sight by the time his grief simmers to a tolerable level.

So in the Capitol this week, politics and prayers took their cyclical turns. Not, of course, in public. The prayers were in private; the politicking in private.

Questions put to some senators, inquiring if they were candidates for Dirksen's post, were met with frowns and such comments as "unseemly" or "inappropriate."

JEANE DIXON

SUNDAY, SEPT. 14, 1969
Your birthday today! The first six months float by comfortably. You have the opportunity to learn new skills. Romantic interests grow. Then in midyear many phased changes come about which bring the necessity for applying the new things you have learned. Today's natives are normal in their taste and talents. Many of them are gifted with exceptional foresight.

ARIES (March 21-April 19): This Sunday go amidst your community, its rituals and entertainments. Do your share, make the rounds with cheerful comments, skip nothing that would add to the satisfaction of all.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20): Your Sunday program should include as little physical exertion as you can arrange. Your own people are the most difficult to please. Include the humoring of them in your schedule.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20): Aggressive attitudes come easily now, both for yourself and in your response to other people. You will be pleased, with the results if you remain untouched by anger. Allow for unsettled conditions at home.

CANCER (June 21-July 22): If you have been putting off some strenuous home chore for an odd moment, do it early today. Work with care. Check your home for fire hazards; do something about any that you find.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22): A happy day for you. People around you will be making lively conversation. Ask repayment of anything owed to you.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22): Today your emotional ties show strength and clear. Temporary changes around you may bring new social contacts. Make a good impression on your community by appearance, behavior.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22): Let your feelings show today, and be closer to loved ones. Gather good friends and go for an adventure. Somebody will have a bright idea and much fun follows.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21): Physical pastimes may be too much to add to this Sunday of activity. Quietly attend to health. Plan for a long evening of study and meditation.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21): Your Sunday is fortunate in the way spiritual matters exert a strong influence. There is much good news to share. Exert a strong influence. There is a strong influence. There is a strong influence.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19): Put yourself out to be your best. Pleasure travel for short distances is promised. Be an astute listener; your friends will let fall many unwitting clues to things you may not yet know.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18): Make sure everybody knows where to find you, as there may be some unexpected arrivals from far places. Friendships develop readily. All types of mental pleasures and pursuits are favored.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20): Take the initiative this Sunday. Start early before others have their resistance organized. Ask directly and immediately for help as soon as you see the need. An older person shares luck with you.

close attention to your health; get a professional opinion.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20): Nobody is willing to move as quickly as you Monday, so have patience. Your work may be delayed by older people by some hindrance you set up yourself without conscious intent. Think!

CANCER (June 21-July 22): Be positive, take the initiative early, but focus on the easier tasks first. Feel flattered, not concerned, by the talk behind your back.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22): Take the middle course Monday and organize throughout as far in advance as you can manage. It is so easy now to become bogged down by trifles. Active collaboration is hard to come by. Cheer up your loved ones at night.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22): Be serious and active in putting forth your firmest efforts and most candid statements about what you want. In retrospect you may identify today as one of the turning points—shown now in fundamental but very subtle ways—of your life.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22): The temptation now is to put too much of your strength and thought into your work at too heavy a pace. Leave the initiative to others; avoid the impression of being desperate or ambitious.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21): There is no simple way through Monday other than just being patient. The will to meet others halfway, plus care with details, is important. Relax early in the evening.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21): If you are content to proceed slowly and take certain advice with a grain of salt, this is a fairly satisfactory day. Whatever you want you will have to earn, but this should be no surprise.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19): You must keep at your regular work using as much diversity as conditions permit. New projects are more in spring and susceptible to faster progress.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18): This slow business day gives you time and space in which your thoughts can wander. Avoid going in worry circles. Plan for a quiet evening of study.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20): Put in full steady work, but don't give away your earnings. Put something in your savings, however inconvenient it may be at the moment.

Experts advise that when purchasing shoes for children, have both feet measured and the larger one fitted. Proper measurement is done with the foot up on the fitting stool and the leg at a right angle. Make sure the salesman holds the child's foot down while measuring, says Jane Speece, textiles and clothing expert at the University of Nebraska extension service.

To clean marble, mix soft soap and whiting to a thin paste and apply with a soft brush. Let stand until dry and wash off with lukewarm suds.

MONDAY, SEPT. 15, 1969
For your birthday Monday. Opportunity comes before you are ready and is larger than you feel able to tackle. The requisite is to grow up from where you are very quickly. Limitations pile up early, have to be rapidly overcome somehow. Matters you had thought hopeless may suddenly move into high production. Monday's natives have a strong imagination and can tell good stories.

ARIES (March 21-April 19): There is no easy alternate now. It's just a heavy Monday, and you simply must get to work with it. Your self-discipline is now the essential factor.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20): Your opposite number, knowing full well you are too stubborn to change without pressure, is apt to find flaws in all you do or say. Pay

Civic Culture Members Sponsor Fall Luncheon

The Civic Culture Club opened the 1969-70 year with a luncheon in the home of Mrs. A.D. Hills, 911 N. Russell, recently. Mrs. Hills, president, presided over a short business meeting. Mrs. A.B. Cross, presented Mrs. Emmett Osborne who brought the program on "Leadership Faces a Challenging World."

In her address, Mrs. Cross said "the purpose of the General Federation is to unite women's clubs for consolidated efforts to improve communities of the nation and the world. This is achieved by furthering education through scholarships and support of school bond issues; understanding social problems and ways clubwomen can solve them; enhancing the meaning and practical application of religious faith; promoting the meaning and economic welfare of individual communities by increasing community services."

Other ways federated women's clubs can work for community improvement are through active programs to attract business and industry to the community, preservation of natural resources and working to strengthen the American home, she said.

General Federation has memberships in 54 countries and territories. About 800,000 club women are members of more than 14,000 clubs in the United States.

"To be eligible for membership, an organization must show that it requires no partisan political test for membership, that it is not a secret society and that it does not tolerate any violation of state or national laws," she said.

Individual involvement is stressed in the six department and international clubs as well as in the special Texas Heritage Department of Texas Federation. The other departments of work are conservation, education, fine arts, home life, international affairs and public affairs," Mrs. Cross said.

Members present were Mmes. Emmett Gee, Irvin Cole, C.V. Forsman, A.B. Cross, A.G. Houchin, John McKeerney, George Neef, Emmett Osborne, D. A. Rife, Katie Vincent, H.W. Waters, Chester Williams, C.F. Pennington, J.B. Townsend, A.D. Hills; and one guest, Mrs. Carl Axelsson.

Housework is made easier if you rest a few minutes every hour or so during a long job. This practice is more likely to prevent muscle exhaustion than lying down for a couple of hours after the job is completed. Try lying flat and relaxing for two minutes every hour.

PTA City Council Has Fall Meeting

Parent Teachers Association City Council members attended their first meeting of the new year recently in Carver Educational Services Center with Mrs. Alvie French, president, presiding, and Mrs. O.C. Stewart presenting the devotional, "Parents' Responsibility to Their Children."

Mrs. Paul Mitchell introduced Supt. Dr. James F. Malone who spoke on the PTA yearly theme, "Confrontation with Realities." In his address, Dr. Malone said "We have about 400 people on the Pampa Public School payroll. The school system is not the largest industry in Pampa, but we are trying to make it the best."

After presenting long range plans for use of Carver Center, Dr. Malone discussed the progress of the bond issue improvements which voters approved in March.

L.C. Davis introduced Aubrey Jones, city tax assessor and collector, who spoke on safety program for Pampa. Four volunteers who will serve on the PTA's new safety committee, which was originated at this meeting, are Mrs. Paul Howard, Mrs. C. L. Farmer, Mrs. Bill Diddle and Mrs. Melvin Watkins.

Mrs. French announced a school of information is slated for Sept. 30 with the Fall workshop planned for Oct. 20.

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: Recently you answered in your column that it was better for children to learn the facts of life from an "informed, responsible education" than in the home where the parents equated sex with sin, etc. In other words, you were pushing sex education in the schools.

That sounds all right but how do we know that the school teachers are "informed and responsible"? Some friends of mine said they are sure their sixth grade daughter is being taught by a Communist teacher who is trying to break down the morals of our youth by telling them there is nothing wrong with "sex." I heard, too, that one 12-year-old boy had his head so filled with sex at school he went home and tried to "practice" on his little sister.

It has been proved that sex education has been the ruination of the Scandinavian countries. Do we want that to happen here?

ALSO CONCERNED DEAR CONCERNED: I recently returned from Copenhagen, Denmark, and noticed no "ruination" there. In fact their sex crime rate is far lower than ours, and declining steadily.

I, too, heard the tale about that 12-year-old boy, but thus far no one has been able to provide me with his name.

Recently I have been deluged with material from anti-sex education organizations. One in particular sent a questionnaire that supposedly was being used in our Junior High schools. I, too, was appalled to see such "advanced" questions. Upon investigation, I learned that this questionnaire was not used in our public schools. It was used for pre-marital counselling! Quite a difference!

Why don't you check out what you hear? Go to school and ask to see the material being used, and talk to the teachers who teach the course. They will cooperate and you will be much relieved.

And don't worry about the quality (or political persuasion) of our schoolteachers. In a class of 36 students, the teacher has 36 "watchdogs." For children go home and tell their parents everything.

DEAR ABBY: The young married woman across the hall from me accepted $500 from her father-in-law for having "given up" smoking. (She is pregnant.) Yet she comes over here at least once a day and begs a cigaret off me. I like this person a lot, and hate to refuse her, but I don't like being a party to this sort of deception. Any suggestions?

A FRIEND DEAR FRIEND: Tell her! but be prepared to see your friendship go up in smoke.

DEAR ABBY: My husband has an 83-year-old great aunt who is a darling woman. Most of her friends are gone now, and we are her only relatives within the immediate area, so on Sundays she cooks Sunday supper and invites us. Her cooking isn't what it used to be, but we can stand that. It's the roaches! She isn't careful about her housekeeping, and the bugs are everywhere. Crawling up on the table, in the sugar-bowl, etc.

I just cannot accept another invitation to eat at her house! My children have positively refused to go there. She is a very sensitive woman and I hate to come right out and tell her the honest truth, so I've been making excuses until I am blue in the face.

Can you offer a suggestion for handling this very touchy situation in a diplomatic way? I told my husband that she is his great aunt, and he should tell her, but he refuses as he's afraid she wouldn't take it very well.

STUMPED IN INDIANA DEAR STUMPED: It is highly unlikely that an 83-year-old woman is going to change the quality of her housekeeping at this late date, so if you refuse to eat with roaches (and I don't blame you) continue to decline her dinner invitations, saying you like to cook on Sundays, and invite her to your house.

Marijuana Study Reveals Need For Youths To Change Direction

NEW YORK (UPI)—It is high time the nation set about turning on young people with something else besides drugs. Direct them instead to serious purpose, with concern for others, with social commitment.

"Many have this already," says an indepth study of the use of marijuana, especially among the nation's growing-up generation. "Others should not be too hard to convince that preoccupation with their own sensations, drug-induced, is unworthy of them, when there are so many things to be done in the world.

"The generation struggling toward maturity must be convinced that giving up marijuana use, or never starting it, is a step toward maturation," says Jules Saltman, a well-known writer on medical and health subjects. Saltman is author of a new publication, "What about Marijuana?" from the Public Affairs Committee, a New York-based nonprofit educational organization.

Saltman says the grownups need a look at themselves too—when the young people say, "but grownups have to have their cocktails, are hooked on cigarettes, swallow tranquilizers by the bushel. What's the difference from smoking pot? Are they mature?"

"No they are not," says Saltman. "This is one of the honest admissions that must be made. Then youngsters may be willing to accept a definition of maturity that means facing up to the harsh world as it is, without evasion or escape, and with determination to meet its difficulties without the assistance of a mind-intoxicant such as marijuana."

Its use is on the upswing, Saltman says, and school officials agree. But gathering accurate information is difficult. Police estimates, based on records of marijuana arrests, tend to be high; such arrests have more than doubled since 1960.

Authorities don't agree on the effect of the drug's usage, although aside from psychic change, one claim is that long use of it unravels the personality, destroys "normal" values, induces lassitude, leads to neglect of hygiene and nutrition, makes the user a "dropout."

"All sides of the several contending forces against the use of marijuana have labelled the confusion," says the author. "They have employed both exaggeration and outright misrepresentation. . . . There is no doubt that what is badly needed (is) a taking stock, an attempt by all parties concerned to learn the facts."

MRS. STEVEN J. TRAUT nee Prudence Bancroft Skelly

Prudence Skelly, Steven J. Traut Pledge Marriage Vows In Pampa Episcopal Church

In an evening candlelight ceremony in St. Matthew's Episcopal Church Aug. 30 Prudence Bancroft Skelly, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Scott Skelly, Jr. and Steven James Traut, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alvin J. Traut, Hastings, Neb., were united in marriage. The Rev. H. DeWitt Seago, First Methodist Church, Pampa, performed the double-ring ceremony. James McCarroll served as acolyte.

The church was decorated with bouquets of white gladioli, white lilies and baby's breath placed in tall brass urns on either side of the altar. Upon the altar were two five-branched candelabra bearing white tapers. The pews were marked with single candelabra holding white tapers.

Mrs. John Gill, organist, presented an organ recital before the ceremony. The procession was "Trumpet Voluntary" by Purcell and the recessional "Psalm XIX" by Marcello. A hymn "Praise to The Lord, the Almighty" was sung by wedding guests.

Given in marriage by her father with the "Her mother and I" avowal, the bride wore a gown of white silk organza over white bridal satin. The fitted bodice featured a scoop neckline, empire waistline and long, full sleeves of organza gathered at the wrists to form a self ruffle. The formal-length gathered skirt of white silk organza over satin was embellished with satin embroidered flowers and appliqued rosebuds.

Her tiered mantilla of English illusion was edged with Chantilly lace and attached to a Chantilly lace bow headpiece. The bride wore a single strand of matched pearls, a gift of the bridegroom and carried a white Bible topped with a cascading arrangement of yellow roses.

Karen Shuman, Lincoln, Neb., was maid of honor and Stephanie Alexander, Superior, Neb., bridesmaid. Both are sorority sisters of the bride. The attendants were dressed identically in floor-length gowns of yellow silk organza over yellow satin patterned after the bride's gown. Their headpieces were circles of yellow organza trimmed with yellow ribbon bows and streamers. They carried styrofoam balls covered with leather fern and yellow daisy type pompon mums suspended by yellow ribbons.

Serving the bridegroom as best man was James D. Brooke, Omaha, Neb. Groomsman was Perry Schafer also of Omaha. Seating the wedding guests were ushers David Bruce Wolf, Hastings, Neb., and John Scott Skelly III the bride's brother.

Mrs. Skelly chose for her daughter's wedding a beige lace dress fashioned with a cowl neckline and wore matching accessories. Mrs. Traut was dressed in a green silk sheath dress with complimenting accessories. Both wore green cymbidium orchids.

A reception was held in the parish House immediately after the ceremony. Members of the houseparty for the reception were Mrs. Walter Colwell, Pampa; Mrs. Dolph Crawley, Houston; Mrs. Burdett Edgren, Ft. Hood; Mrs. Dennis Stephenson, Amarillo; Phoebe Skelly and Gretchen Skelly, Pampa, all sisters of the bride.

The bride's table was covered with a white satin floor-length cloth caught at each corner with white wedding bells and a nosegay of yellow daisies and white pompon mums. The centerpiece was a silver epergne with white tapers and a floral arrangement of yellow roses, white pompon mums and baby's breath.

The three-tiered wedding cake, white with yellow roses and topped with white satin wedding bells, was served with wedding punch.

The bridegroom's table was covered with a gold cloth from which dark fruit cake and coffee were served.

Departing for a wedding trip to Atlanta, Ga., the bride chose for travel an orange and white gabardine dress. Her corsage of yellow roses was lifted from her bridal bouquet.

The couple is at home at Callaway Garden Apt. No. 304, Athens, Ga., where the bridegroom is an Ensign in the Navy.

The bride has completed two years at Nebraska Wesleyan University in Lincoln, Neb. and is a member of Alpha-Gamma-Delta social sorority and Mu Phi Epsilon honorary music sorority. She plans to continue her studies at the University of Georgia in Athens.

The bridegroom is a graduate from Nebraska Wesleyan University, Lincoln, Neb., a member of Phi Kappa Tau social fraternity and Phi Kappa Phi scholastic honorary and a graduate of Naval Officers Candidate School, Newport, R.I.

Pre-nuptial events were a shower in Lincoln, Neb., given by Karen Shuman and the rehearsal dinner hosted by the parents of the bridegroom, Mr. and Mrs. Alvin J. Traut in the Quivira Room at the Coronado Inn.

Out-of-town guests were Mrs. J. Scott Skelly, Monongahela, Pa., grandmother of the bride, Mr. and Mrs. Don Wolf, Judy and Tim Wolf, Hastings, Neb., Richard Kahle, Long Beach, Calif., Louis Kleager, Omaha, Neb., Dolph Crawley, Houston; Capt. Burdett Edgren, Ft. Hood and Dennis Stephenson, Amarillo.

Groom WMU Meets GROOM (Sp) - WMU of the First Baptist Church met recently with Mrs. Bertha Knight, Mrs. Alvin Hiltbrunner was in charge of the program and Mrs. Donald Ritter was in charge of the business session. Others present were Meses D.A. Watson, Viola Harrell, Eulice Monroe, Jeff Gray and Rudolph Tucker.

Miss Tibbs is a graduate of Cheyenne East High School, Cheyenne, Wyo., in 1966 and is employed with Marie Foundations. The couple will exchange vows at 2 p.m. Sept. 27 in Sacred Heart Church, Alva, Okla.

A super-souful idea in a new kind of pantyhose heralds a delightful difference in the playroom, patio or even, later in the year, for after ski. It's pantyhose with sole. The nylon tights have both an inner and outer sole of sturdy, manmade fibers that will last through many a pattering wear. It stands on its own, without shoes or boots, for your most playful moments. And if you simply add an artist's smock or your pantsuit tunic, you have a great lounging costume. Colors are black with white sole, silver with black sole and gold with white sole.

POLLY'S POINTERS

Two Ways To Remove Odors From Dishwasher

By POLLY CRAMER

DEAR POLLY—I think I can help Mrs. J. L. remove the odor from her dishwasher. The man who installed mine suggested that ever so often a cup of vinegar be put in and the washer turned on to run a full cycle. I have done this many times and it does freshen it up.

DEAR POLLY—Check the food strainer often at the bottom of the washer. Food becomes attached there and can cause an odor.—POLLY.

DEAR POLLY—I hope some of the readers can suggest something to do with long petticoats with hoops in the bottom that were worn under formals. Mine is white cotton with no trimming.—MRS. E.S.

DEAR POLLY—Baby sitters are always told where people are going, who the doctor is and so on but parents usually fail to show the sitter where the fuse box and extra candles are. It is very hard to keep small children from crying when lights go out, to say nothing of the sitter's nerves when she does not know where the candles, flashlight or fuse box are and neither do the kids. We should all make a point to inform our sitters.—JAN

J. L. Etheredge, 1100 McCullough St.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor-length empire look dress of white bonded crepe with stand up collar, long lace sleeves, lace front and back panels and train. Trimmed with ruffled lace and self-material bow on the back, the two-tiered shoulder-length veil of illusion was attached to a cluster of beaded pearl nylon petals. She carried a cascade of white carnations and white pom poms with white gamelias and greenery.

The bridal attendants were

Vicki Cobb, sister of the bride, maid of honor. Barbara Etheredge, sister of the bridegroom, and Linda Pankey, cousin of the bride, were bridesmaids. The maid of honor was dressed in red silk lace fashioned after the bride's dress. She carried a nosegay of white carnations with white streamers. The bridesmaids wore identical red bonded lace Wedding selections, sung by Ralph Exater, were "The Twelfth of Never" and "The Wedding Prayer." Organist was Kay Upshaw.

For the couple to exchange vows, the altar was decorated with a column of white mums with spiral candelabras of gold and red candles with greenery. The bride and bridegroom knelt at the altar while the "Wedding Prayer" was sung.

For the reception in Fellowship Hall, the bride's table was covered with a white satin cloth covered with white net. The table was centered with two three tiered crystal candelabras with red candles and white nosegays.

The three-tiered white cake was accented with red taffeta ruffles and red and white carnations with streamers. Ellen Bagwell, Amarillo, assisted at the crystal punch service and Mrs. Kirby-King served the cake.

The bride graduated from Pampa High School in 1966 and attended West Texas University one year and is employed at an Amarillo bank.

The bridegroom graduated from Pampa High School in 1968, and will continue his studies at West Texas State University where he will be a sophomore. He is employed by Phillips Petroleum Co.

"Think With Wings" will be the theme for the 1969-1970 year for Varietas Study Club, whose first meeting was held in the home of Mrs. R.W. Lane recently with Mrs. Otis Nace, Mrs. Luther Kirk, and Mrs. L.B. Penick as co-hostesses.

Mrs. Kirk gave the invocation. Refreshments were served from a table appointed in silver and crystal and centered with a bouquet of assorted garden flowers.

Mrs. H. Price Dosier Sr., new president of the club, spoke of "Winged Thoughts of the President," outlining her plans and hopes for the coming year. Mrs. Lane, yearbook chairman, presented yearbooks.

She discussed the beginning of the first club for women and traced the growth and progress through the years, down to the present membership of federated clubs which is the largest group of organized women in America.

"Many resolutions made by Federation, some 50 to 100 years ago or longer, are now laws. We should read the entire booklet on the groundwork by Federation for present-day reforms on local, district, and state levels," she said.

Other members present were Mmes. W.E. Abernathy, F.A. Cary, Cec's Dalton, H. Price Dosier Sr., Clyde Ellis, N.B. Ellis, S.C. Evans, Lee Harrah, J.E. Kirchman, Luther Pierson, H. Dewitt Seago, J.R. Spearman, Aubrey Sprawls, Ralph Thomas, W.A. Wagoner, and Sherman White.

The Pampa Daily News

A Watchful Newspaper
EVER STRIVING FOR THE TOP OF TEXAS
TO BE AN EVEN BETTER PLACE TO LIVE

The Pampa News is dedicated to furnishing information to our readers so that they can better promote and preserve their own freedom and encourage others to see its blessing. Only when man is free to control himself and all he produces, can he develop to his utmost capabilities.

Our Capsule Policy

The News believes each and every person would get more satisfaction in the long run if he were permitted to spend what he earns on a volunteer basis rather than having part of it distributed involuntarily.

Money And Poverty

"Poverty," so the argument goes, "is caused by lack of money. What we have to do, therefore, if we're going to whip poverty, is to get some more money."

How to go about it? One suggestion (the Keynesian "solution") is for the government to print up more bills like the ones we sometimes have in our pockets (or to authorize the banks to make more loans with checkbook money, which amounts to the same thing). This is inflation. It is also counterfeiting when done by the illegal criminal.

What, then, is money? Money is a commodity having a genuine value, that happens to be widely used; both as a store of value and as a "medium" of exchange. In old Scotland, nails were once used as money. In parts of Africa, tobacco is used as money even yet, as were cigarettes in Germany after World War II, and so are cattle. Gold and silver are the two most widely used money commodities. What it all amounts to is that real money is something that will retain an intrinsic value which you can trade to somebody else in exchange for something you want more.

Very well, then, back to the Williams is Back Home. The news dispatches report that Robert F. Williams has arrived back in the United States. This is the same Robert F. Williams, a black, who faces kidnapping charges. It's not the alleged kidnapping that has soured many a mind against Williams but his continued attacks on the United States from his sanctuary in Cuba. Williams fled to Cuba when the criminal charges were lodged against him several years ago. Since that time, Williams had been trying to worm himself back into this country, all the while making it no secret that Nixon Sees The Light? The Nixon administration has indicated it will call a halt to various federal and federal-state projects in effort to check inflation. This certainly is a step in the right direction, and should do far more than increasing taxes and raising interest rates to slow the inflationary spiral. As The News has pointed out there always are a great many things that those in government want to do in the way of construction projects. But in times of rising prices and inflation, it may be necessary to hold off on governmental spending, no matter how valuable the projects may appear to the spenders.

In addition to the inflation which is caused by government spending beyond its income, increasing the amount of circulating paper money and increasing the amount of credit available, prices are pushed up by higher wages for workers in short supply. It was to be expected that the big spenders would become upset when it was disclosed that the Nixon administration is planning a cutback in spending of federal tax money on construction projects. Objections are coming from original question. How do we get more money to alleviate poverty? Well, gold must be dug; silver, likewise, must be mined; nails must be manufactured; cattle must be raised; tobacco planted, cultivated, harvested and cured. The net idea is that money is the mixing of human energy (labor) with natural resources (material substance) with the aid of tools in such a manner that the end product becomes something that somebody else would rather have instead of something he does have.

Economics, simply stated, is merely making things (goods services, ideas) for trade to other people. The amount of trade that can be carried on and, consequently, the net wealth of the world, depends upon the amount of exchangeable goods, services and ideas in existence at any given time. The amount of these commodities on the market represents the thought and work done and capital expended to put them there.

When you figure it all out, therefore, the amount of real money available to reduce poverty depends upon the amount of work individuals are willing to do. Intelligence, of course, enters the picture, too; that is, the more wisely a person uses his energy the more he can produce. Governments and banks can no more create real money than can the counterfeiter. Want to end poverty? Work harder and more intelligently for yourself. Make more and better things to trade to other people.

There just isn't any shortcut. That which has not been produced cannot be consumed. Williams is sympathetic to Castro, communism and conflict. This country needs Williams back in this country about like it needs a hole in the head. Yet, according to the report an agreement had been worked out by which Williams would not be arrested upon his return. But the FBI nabbed him in Detroit yesterday. The only way Williams could return to this country and not be prosecuted was for him to land in some state and receive the blessings of the governor of that state to the extent that the governor would refuse to extradite him. It didn't work out that way.

The same state and local government officials who are demanding more and more of that "free" money from Washington so they can continue their profligate spending. They are the same ones who at the conference of state government demanded that the federal tax payer be made solely responsible for financing welfare programs. The big spenders at the state and local levels have been eyeing the idea of getting more tax money from Washington so they can continue spending in the way to which they have become accustomed. Naturally, they get upset at the idea that there may not be all that "free" money flowing into their hands.

It would appear that Mr. Nixon's administration is beginning to get the message that the people are becoming weary of ever increasing taxes and rising prices. It is to be hoped that local and state officials also begin to see the light.

The Rearview Mirror

By TEX DEWEESE Editor

THE TRAFFIC safety crusade being launched by PTA associations of the Pampa Independent School District is a campaign especially designed to protect children of the community.

It is hoped through this special PTA project that every citizen, civic group, luncheon club, fraternal organization, school, church and law enforcement agency will become actively involved in a move to make Pampa safety conscious. Officers and members of the steering committee of the Pampa PTA General Council deserve the well wishes of all Pampans for the efforts they already are putting behind the campaign.

Although the project has been conceived with special emphasis on safety for children, it also can be made to serve as an educational agency for adult and teenage motorists. In the realm of safety and safety precautions there could be no more important educational crusade than this PTA project to make each of us "safety conscious"—especially when behind the wheel of an automobile.

THERE HAVE BEEN several visitors to our office recently who came in from nearby towns to say they will not "cotton to" paying a one-penny sales tax to help defray Pampa's city operating expenses. A man from White Deer said he will trade in Clarendon for what he can't buy at home in case Amarillo and Pampa adopt the statement of the former Pampa mayor who said Pampans only had a choice of the hangman, the firing squad or poison.

Aside from what nearby neighbors think of the sales tax, Pampans will get slugged one way or another. The choices are the sales tax or a 50-cent increase in the property tax. Of the two alternatives, The News already has recommended an increase in the ad valorem tax and rejection of the sales tax. Pampans should pay for their own services and not expect the people of White Deer, Gloom, Clarendon, Miami, Wheeler, Lefors and other area communities to help foot the bill.

Like the man said, there is a choice of the hangman's noose, the firing squad or poison. Maybe we should choose poison. There might be some hope of an antidote. THIS IS Constitution Week. There is supposed to be a nationwide observance starting with citizenship Day on Wednesday. So far, if the President or mayor has proclaimed the week for national and local attention, we've missed it. The local Las Pampas Chapter of the D.A.R. always issues a reminder, as it has this year, asking Pampans to give recognition to the memorable day 182 years ago when the Constitution was adopted and what the founding fathers had in mind when they wrote and adopted it.

The Constitution states at the beginning that it was designed to "secure the blessings of Liberty for ourselves and our posterity." Certainly that is an historic phrase to keep in mind in these days when there is so much afoot that would destroy Liberty—and especially individual freedom. IT'S THE first time it has come to our attention—but did you know that Congress appropriated $375,000 and gave it to LBJ to help him adjust to civilian life? Mr. Johnson is the first ex-president to get such a sum for that purpose.

It never had occurred to us that a president leaving office and going back home would need such a big roll of bills to get himself straightened out again on just how to run things back at the ranch. It will be real cozy if that gets to be common practice and the Congress votes to give you and me a bundle when we finally leave the job. We'll just have to try to adjust ourselves the best we can to doing nothing while our hard-working taxpayer friends keep us in golf balls, caviar, pheasant under glass and champagne.

Does Soviet 'Hate China' Crusade Portend Attack?

By LEON DENNEN Foreign News Analyst

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (NEA)—"My dear loving mother, let your heart be at ease," writes a young Russian soldier who serves in a Red army unit somewhere on the Chinese border. "We are constantly vigilant. Not an inch of our Fatherland is unprotected. We are making sacrifices, but we shall not let our soil be under the enemy's foot. If anyone attacks us, we shall blow him to pieces."

The letter, which was printed under a bold five-column headline in the newspaper Soviet Obekistani, is another sample of Russia's ideological campaign against Red China—a campaign which would lead to a "preventive" strike against Red China's atomic energy base. Its entire tone and patriotic appeal is strikingly similar to the war propaganda employed by the Kremlin after Hitler broke his pact with Stalin and invaded Russia.

East European diplomats who just returned from Moscow report that the Soviet Union is in the grip of another psychosis. The influence of the Red Army's marshals and generals has been rising steadily since the invasion of Czechoslovakia in 1968. Yugoslav observers opposed to Moscow's brand of communism even fear that Russia

Your husband needs a lot of rest," the doctor told the wife. "Here's some sleeping powder."

"When shall I give it to him?" she asked.

"It's not for him," the doctor said, "it's for you!"

When a woman stopped at a gas station, the attendant advised her to get some antifreeze.

The Doctor Says

Gland Extracts—A Boon to Mankind

Volumes have been written about the hormone-producing glands:

The pineal, located in the brain, produces melatonin which regulates the female reproductive cycle. What it does in the male is not known.

The adrenals, located just above the kidneys, produce (1) epinephrine or adrenalin, which increases the heart action and the blood supply to the muscles in the presence of danger, and (2) cortin, from which the anti-inflammatory drugs, cortisone and hydrocortisone, and the diuretic, aldosterone, are derived.

The pituitary, located just under the brain, produces (1) ACTH, a cortisone-like compound; (2) gonadotropin, which regulates sexual development during puberty; (3) prolactin, which promotes the secretion of milk in women; (4) pancreatropin, which regulates the production of insulin by the pancreas; (5) somatotropin, which controls bone growth; (6) thyrotropin, which regulates the production of thyroxin by the thyroid; (7) oxytocin, which stimulates the contractions of the uterus and the release of milk from the breasts; and (8) vasopressin, which controls the blood pressure and water excretion.

The thyroid produces thyroxin, which regulates the rate of metabolism.

The parathyroids, lying adjacent to the thyroid in the neck, produce parathormone, which controls the use of phosphorus and calcium by the body.

The thymus, located under the upper end of the breastbone, produces thymine, which stimulates the immune reaction to germs and other foreign matter in the body.

The pancreas, located below the stomach, produces insulin, which regulates the body's use of glucose.

The ovaries produce estrogens and progesterone, which together control the development of female sex characteristics.

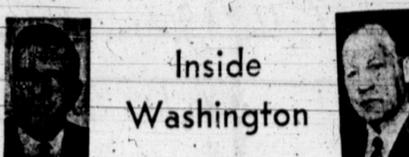

The testicles produce androgens which control the development of male sex characteristics.

In the treatment of various disorders in these glands and some diseases that do not appear to be related to them in any way, extracts from the glands or synthetic counterparts have become some of the greatest boons to the practice of medicine. Many young doctors and patients wonder how the human race survived before the discovery of such drugs as insulin, cortisone and ACTH.

WIT AND WHIMSY

A 7-year-old boy fat in church on a recent Sunday idly rolling his Sunday school paper into a tube. As the minister stepped to the lectern for the invocation, a hush fell over the sanctuary.

The lad lifted the tube to his lips and in a clear treble broadcast, "Now hear this."

Weakness in Okinawa 'Means Disaster' —Bray ROBERT ALLEN

WASHINGTON — The administration is being put squarely on the spot on the highly volatile Okinawa issue by a ranking Republican member of the powerful House Armed Services Committee.

With Foreign Minister Aichi due to come to Washington later this month to vigorously press for the early return of Okinawa, Rep. William Bray, R-Ind., is bluntly demanding "instant and solid reassurance to the American people" that Japan's clamorous agitation will be disregarded.

Characterizing Okinawa as "probably our most important overseas military base," Bray warns, "If our military position there is crippled in any way, we would be hamstringed in the Western Pacific."

These forceful views are voiced by Bray, a World War II decorated tank officer who fought in the Pacific in a letter to Secretary of State Rogers.

They are bound to carry weight in White House and State Department policy councils. In addition to serving his 10th consecutive term in Congress, Bray is an authority on Asian and Russian military affairs.

His emphatic insistence on the retention of Okinawa is known to largely represent the views of the 40-member Armed Services Committee (23 Democrats, 17 GOP).

It is very likely these background facts will be noted in the forthcoming discussions with Foreign Minister Aichi. They will most probably be cited as a significant manifestation of strongly held sentiment in this country on this issue—that has caused violent uproars in Japan.

These largely propaganda tantrums are singled out by Bray for caustic depreciation. "Unreason and inconsistency on the part of Japan," he pointedly advises Rogers, "should not be matched by weakness on the part of the United States over Okinawa, for it bears directly on our national survival, where weakness means disaster."

DOUBLE STANDARD — Rep. Bray is particularly indignant at Japan's ambivalent stand regarding Okinawa on one hand, and the Russian-occupied Kurile and Sakhalin Islands on the other.

While vehemently agitating for the return of Okinawa, the Japanese are doing little more than twiddling their thumbs concerning the Kurile and Sakhalin Islands.

First, there is the completely phony Japanese issue of alien rulers on Okinawa. Bray vigorously informs Rogers: "The island, once independent, was annexed by Japan in 1874. In no sense is Okinawa—or its people truly Japanese in origin."

Second, there is the relative lack of Japanese attention to concern about the Soviet occupation of the Kurile Islands and Sakhalin Island seized by Russia at the end of World War II. Soviet occupation in this area is dangerous not only to Japan but to the entire non-Communist world.

"Japan should not be allowed to force us from Okinawa while going through the relatively limp motions of the 'protesting' Soviet Kurile occupation."

Other "major inconsistencies in the Japanese attitude" forcefully stressed by Bray are: "Japanese trade policy is aggressively protectionist when it comes to U.S. imports, yet the United States buys over 30 percent of Japan's exports. The Japanese economy is large but shaky. Congressional retaliation in the form of legislation aimed at Japan's U.S. export market would be a poor substitute for Japan's winning administrative control over Okinawa, and possibly neutralizing a vital U.S. base which has cost American taxpayers billions of dollars."

"The Japanese need and welcome the U.S. nuclear umbrella. It is most logical, reasonable and fair that if this protection is to be provided, weapons should be on Japanese soil."

MORE STRONG REASONS — With equal bluntness Rep. Bray emphasizes Okinawa's immense cost in blood and money to the U.S. and what its retention means.

"Okinawa was captured from the Japanese in 1945 at a cost of 12,500 dead and 50,000 other casualties," says Bray. "Under American control since that time, it has become an integral part of the entire U.S. military shield in Southeast Asia. Tactical nuclear weapons buried deep in Okinawa, rock are targeted on North Korea and Red China. It serves as a prime staging area for B-52 bombers and other aircraft. Due to its size and location there is absolutely no other geographical substitute in the entire Pacific."

Similarly, Secretary Rogers is strongly reminded of a House Armed Services Committee report published exactly two years ago this month sternly warning against giving up Okinawa. Bray quotes the following key finding of this study:

"Loss of Okinawa would induce a chain reaction, which would affect not only every aspect of our defensive and offensive capabilities in the Pacific, but would require major modifications in military establishments far removed from Okinawa and the Pacific itself. Its importance to the United States from a military standpoint cannot be over-emphasized."

Repeatedly the court has struck down efforts at censorship so it may be that the Americans with most to lose—those housewives—may have to do a little "demonstrating" of their own.

It's women who are being downgraded when sex, flaunted, results in "sex boredom." Harvard theology Prof. Harvey Cox says if he were a woman he would be insulted by the Playboy philosophy which identifies sex as a plaything and any woman as the playmate.

TOM JONES

Jones Sings Way To Success

NEW YORK—The sudden success of a rugged looking young gentleman from Wales named Tom Jones, due to his weekly exposure on ABC TV and his best-selling recordings, has done absolutely nothing to change the manner or outlook of the singer.

His flock is much handsomer than any picture he has ever had taken, has a warm smile and a magnificent set of teeth. His speaking voice is husky and musical with the Welsh lilt which is so appealing.

A few years ago, Tom appeared at a New York night club. He was known through his recording and did decent business after getting good reviews. Just recently he appeared in another club where every night was riot-time, let's get-a-souvenir-time and he looked—at-me-I-think-I'm-going-to-faint-time.

"I knew the success had to come sometime, someday," he said. "It had happened in Europe. I figured it would happen here and thought it would be through either TV or films.

He looks as strong as a Welsh pig. He is much more powerful than films. You're on every week. With films, in order to have impact, you have to keep making hits."

His appeal is broad, from young adults through those on the dark side of the generation gap. "I do not have a big teen age following. If you appeal to adults, you have something more real. What is my appeal?"

Cageless Zoo Draws Tourists

THOIRY, France (UPI)—Never look a gift lion in the mouth. Not to mention zebras, giraffes and rhinoceros.

That has become a sort of unofficial motto for the some 500 human inhabitants of this tiny village, outnumbered for the past year by about 557 animal residents.

Because the beasts roam in the woods of the Chateau de Thoiry, have become one of the biggest tourist attractions in France and in a sense, are helping feed their two-tooted neighbors.

Since the opening of the game reserves to motoring tourists 14 months ago by the chateau's hereditary owners, Count Antoine de la Panouse and his Viscount Paul, more visitors have come to visit Thoiry than to tour the world famous Chateau de Versailles.

And the tourists not only pay out francs to enter the reserves, they also spend cash all around the surrounding area.

"It's a blessing," said Madame Catherine Alloune, the stout owner of a small inn which has been doing a thriving business ever since the first carload of tourists drove through the reserves' double gates.

Farmers in the neighborhood agree. The count allows them to set up stands adjoining the woods and they do a big business selling fresh fruit, vegetables and dairy produce, particularly with Parisians who drive out to spend the day.

Supporting role—HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—Pernell Roberts, formerly a "Bonanza" regular, landed a supporting role in ABC-TV's movie-for-television "The Silent Gun."

Guest star—HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—Robert Conrad, whose "Wild Wild West" series was cancelled this season, will pop up as a guest star in "Mannix" next season.

Co-star—HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—Michael Gough will co-star with Joan Crawford in the science-fiction thriller, "Trag" for Warner Bros.

So what's new?—HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—Lawrence Welk has been renewed for his 15th year on television by ABC-TV.

New Fall Series May Produce Bright Stars

NEW YORK (NEA)—It can happen to anyone of them, to Tiffany Bolling or James Brolin or Zoëy Hall. Then again, it may not happen to any of them.

It's that elusive thing called stardom and it's within the realm of possibility for anyone who can be seen regularly on a TV series.

One whole show is composed of nothing but newcomers. The show, on ABC-TV, is properly called The New People and is a microcosm of today: one shaggy-haired female (Jill Jarens), one long-haired female (Tiffany Bolling), one black (David Moses) and three young men with varying lengths of hair and complexions (Peter Rattray, pronounced "Rahtray", Dennis Oliveri and Zoëy Hall).

Bracken's World on NBC TV, about a Hollywood film studio and the people who inhabit it, has a lush blonde (Karen Jensen), a cool blonde (Laraine Stephens) and a sensuous but shy brunette (Linda Harrison).

James Brolin, who plays the assistant on the Marcus Welby, M.D., on ABC-TV, got a lot of fan mail after the two-hour version of the series was telecast.

Lloyd Haines and Karen Valentine on Room 22, also on ABC-TV, are newcomers although Haines has appeared in some fairly good roles on other shows.

The oldest of John Forsythe's three daughters on CBS-TV's To Rome With Love is pretty Julia Menges, 39, but acting younger in the series.

The Virginian has a new cast member, baby-faced Tim Matheson, a native Californian who is 21, married and looks maybe 17.

Personal choices for stardom, based on years of experience, hunches and guesswork, are three: Teresa Graves, a long-legged, black beauty joining Rowan and Martin's Laugh-In; Peter Haskell, who plays a film director on Bracken's World, and Don Chastain, who will be Beken's World role, which is seen as Debbie Reynolds' sportswriter husband on The Debbie Reynolds Show on NBC-TV.

Teresa, a native of Houston, was a member of The Doodletown Pipers for three years. "We were the highest-paid second act in the history of show business," she says. "Everyone thinks we're rich, but there were 20 of us."

She was a regular on Turn-On, that collector's item which was history's only one-shot "series" where she met George Schlatter, who decided she would be right for Laugh-In. She has a recording contract and can't wait to get into night clubs with her own act "and have live people staring at me." Did she hesitate, then, about joining Laugh-In?

"Are you kidding?" she asks.

Peter Haskell is tall, sensitive-looking and a proven actor. He brings a Boston-Harvard dignity to his what he has in real life, coupled with an enthusiasm for life and a pretty wife, Ann.

He's a Harvard man who eventually graduated cum laude in English, after being what he calls "a professional dropout."

It took him nine years to complete four years of college. His background includes off-Broadway acting, classical acting in a Boston stock company, followed by appearances in about 40 TV shows.

Therefore, to get him back means CBS-TV will have its cake and eat it too, for it will have not only the old, established Griffith series (retitled), but a new one too.

Griffith, who quit his series last year when it was No. 1 in the ratings, will return to CBS-TV in the 1970-71 season in a new weekly half-hour situation comedy.

CBS-TV said it was "absolutely delighted" about the agreement, and you can take the network at its word. For Griffith, with his country-honed humor, is as close to money in the bank as you can get on television.

Therefore, to get him back means CBS-TV will have its cake and eat it too, for it will have not only the old, established Griffith series (retitled), but a new one too.

Therefore, to get him back means CBS-TV will have its cake and eat it too, for it will have not only the old, established Griffith series (retitled), but a new one too.

The Lighter Side
 By DICK WEST

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The U.S. Agriculture Research Service has been at work for several years trying to develop substitutes for chemical pesticides and fertilizers that cause environmental problems.

Thus far there have been no major breakthroughs, but I recently read an article that looked extremely promising. It told about a farmer in Florida who plays soft music to his mango trees.

The farmer said he had heard that corn in Iowa grows faster when music is played to it. So he had Muzak piped into his mango grove on the theory that it would increase the yield.

After reading this article, I went home and began installing a stereo record player in my backyard victory garden. My wife rushed out of the house and said, "What in the name of Luther Burbank do you think you are doing?" I told her about the mango grower.

"That's ridiculous!" she exclaimed.

"It certainly is," I agreed. "That farmer should know better than to expect insipid Muzak schmalz to stimulate a mango tree. Mangoes obviously need something lively, like the '1812 Overture.'"

Then I finished hooking up the vegetable garden stereo. I put one speaker in the tomato vines and the other in a row of collard greens. If you stand over by the okra patch, you get a perfectly balanced tone.

My okra hasn't been doing well lately. A late summer wilt has caused many of the stalks to droop and drop their leaves. I am hoping the music will perk it up.

But I'm not making the mistake the mango grower did. Rather than serenading my okra with background slush, which is a scatter-shot approach at best, I'm carefully selecting the songs that okra loves best.

Unfortunately, the science of horticultural harmonies is still in the experimental stage. You can't just walk into a garden-supply store and pick up an album of all-time okra favorites.

A seed dealer can tell you the type of fertilizer and bug spray to buy for a particular plant. But ask his advice on asparagus fungus or broccoli ballads and you only get a blank stare.

In a small, diversified garden such as mine, the trick is to pick tunes that will bring out the best in an okra plant without offending the neighboring squash.

Chamber To Decide On Protesting Railway Freight Pullout Here

A decision on whether to protest the Fort Worth & Denver Ry. intention to abandon freight runs into Pampa is expected to be reached by Chamber of Commerce directors at their September meeting scheduled for 10 a.m. Monday in the chamber conference room.

The railroad recently filed notice with the Interstate Commerce Commission of intention to discontinue the local service. Chamber officials said the matter will be discussed at Monday's session and directors are expected to make a decision then on whether to protest the action.

No date has yet been set for a hearing on the railroad's notice of intention to abandon service.

The Fort Worth & Denver currently runs one or two freight hauls a week into Pampa.

Chamber directors also will make final plans for institution of new officers and directors on Oct. 22 and for the annual membership banquet on Oct. 30.

Wall Street Chatter

NEW YORK (UPI) — If earnings are to fall only moderately in the months ahead, says the Neill Letter of Contrary Opinion, the stock market need not fall greatly to discount a small drop in prices, "but obviously a sharp drop, or a strong deflationary trend, would send prices into a tailspin." The analyst finds the 75 per cent new construction indicative of the Nixon administration's intentions "to accept a recession if necessary to stop the inflation and prevent run-away prices."

Investors should never sell a stock just for the sake of establishing a tax loss unless the tax deduction is very substantial, say Wright Investors' Service. "If the stock that you own is as likely to go up as the one which you would replace it with," the firm says, "a tax-loss sale accomplishes little more than to reduce your capital by the costs of a buy-sell transaction."

Thomson & McKinnon Inc. sees a well-defined base area for the market between 800 and 840 and feels that the odd-lot ratio's upward trend implies that "there is a good chance the 700-800 support area will hold."

The firm says its intermediate-term prognosis is neither bearish nor bullish, but that for the short-term it is bearish.

Airline Agrees To Fly Black Separatist Back To U.S.

LONDON (UPI) — Robert F. Williams, a black separatist wanted in the United States on an eight-year-old kidnapping charge, today accepted an offer from a U.S. airline to fly him alone on a special flight to Detroit on Friday.

Trans World Airlines (TWA) reversed a previous policy banning Williams from traveling on its planes and said it would fly Williams to Detroit aboard a plane carrying security guards and no other passengers.

Several airlines had refused to carry Williams, apparently out of fear the plane might be hijacked to Cuba where Williams lived for a time during his self-imposed exile.

Williams arrived from Cairo about 10 days ago en route to the United States and was detained in Pontonville Prison as an undesirable alien in Britain when he found he could not travel aboard U.S. airlines.

He at first agreed to return to Cairo aboard a United Arab Airlines flight, but changed his mind and went on a hunger strike at the prison in an attempt to return to the United States. TWA said it had changed its mind because of a request by the U.S. government.

Church Increases Membership In Past Four Years

Membership of the Pentecostal Holiness Church during the past four years has increased at a higher rate in overseas countries than the American churches of the denomination, and yet the 8.6 percent increase in U.S. membership exceeds the 6.6 percent national average of all churches in this country.

This statistic was cited by retiring Bishop J.A. Synan in his "State of the Church" address to delegates and visitors attending the 16th quadrennial session of the Pentecostal Holiness Church in Memphis, Tenn. The overall membership, now nearing the 100,000 mark, increased 12.4 per cent. Overseas churches showed an increase of 22.19 percent.

The Bishop also indicated the giving of the church for the support of its world-wide ministries totaled $40 million, representing a jump of more than $10 million.

Elected to succeed Dr. Synan as General Superintendent was the Rev. J. Floyd Williams of Franklin Springs, Ga.

Rev. and Mrs. Albert Maggard, who attended the conference as delegates, returned this week to their Pampa pastorate at the First Pentecostal, Holiness Church, 1700 Alock.

Baptist Register August Receipts

DALLAS — Although Texas Baptist receipts for the month August were lower than at this time last year, the total picture is encouraging according to the latest report from the Baptist General Convention of Texas.

The amount is $108,063.48 less than the total amount received in August of 1963, but the figure represents an accumulative increase of $149,861.08 since January of this year.

The BGCT has reported gifts of $9,006,473 for 1969 thus far.

Texas Baptists are now more than $6,000 ahead in their attempt to fulfill the record $13.5 million budget approved last year in Fort Worth.

In addition to Cooperative Program receipts, the BGCT reports special gifts for August of $250,342, bringing the total mission giving amount for the months of January through August to $13,660,112.52.

LOSE 10 LBS. IN 10 DAYS ON NEW GRAPEFRUIT DIET

This is the revolutionary new grapefruit diet that everyone is suddenly talking about. Literally thousands upon thousands of copies have been passed from hand to hand in factories, plants, and offices throughout the U.S. and Canada. Word of its success has spread like wildfire because this is the one diet that really seems to work for most overweight people. A well known Toronto columnist recently praised it to the skies. He reported losing 20 pounds quickly and easily, long after he despaired of ever getting down to his wearing weight of 165 pounds. As this without cutting out the occasional beer. If it is followed exactly, the average person should lose 10 pounds in 10 days. There will be no weight loss the first four days, but you will suddenly drop 5 pounds on the 5th day. Thereafter, you will lose one pound a day until the 10th day. Then you will lose 10 pounds every two days until you get down to your proper weight. Best of all, there should be no hunger pangs. Now revised and enlarged, this new diet lets you stuff yourself with foods that were formerly "forbidden." Such as: big steaks trimmed with fat, fried chicken, rich gravies, mayonnaise, lobster swimming in butter, bacon, fat sausages and scrambled eggs. You can eat until you are full, until you cannot possibly eat any more. And still you should lose 16 pounds in the first 10 days, plus 10 pounds every two days thereafter until your weight is down to normal. The secret behind this new "Quick weight loss" is not generally known. Fat, it has been theorized, does not form fat. Perhaps fat fights fat. And the grapefruit juice in this new diet might act as a catalyst (the trigger) to stir the fat burning process. You stuff yourself on the permitted food list in the diet plan, and still lose unsightly fat and excess body fluids. When the fat and blast are gone you will cease to lose weight and your weight will remain controlled. A copy of this new and startling successful diet plan can be obtained by sending $2.99 to:

P.O. Box 524
 Lincoln, Nebraska 68501

Unconditional money back guarantee. If after trying the diet plan you have not lost 5 pounds in the first 7 days, and another 6 pounds in the next 7 days, and 10 pounds every two days thereafter, simply return the diet plan and your $2.99 will be refunded promptly and without argument. Remember this message as a reminder. Decide to regain the trim attractive figure of your youth, while still enjoying hearty breakfasts, lunches and dinners. Order now before others snap up the limited supply.
