Truman Says 'No Secret' About FDR-Churchill Pact

'Those Entitled' Knew About Deal

KANSAS CITY, April 6—UP—Former President Truman said Tuesday the 1943 Roosevelt-Churchill agreement banning use of atomic bombs except by agreement between the U. S. and Britain was not secret "as far as those entitled to know were concerned."

British Planes Were Allowed To See Tests

LONDON, April 6—UP—Prime Minister Winston Churchill revealed Tuesday that the United States permitted British planes to inspect American H-bomb test sites in the Pacific "a few hours" after both the March 1 and March 26 explosions.

Churchill, who was under vigorous fire, even from the Conservative party press, for having accused former Laborite Prime Minister Clement Attlee of dropping a previous Anglo-American agreement to discuss development and use of atomic weapons, made his disclosure to the House of Commons.

"No British technical observers watched the H-bomb explosions," Churchill told a questioner.

"But the U. S. authorities had agreed that we should have certain facilities for collecting certain scientific data bearing on their effects."

"Similar facilities had been granted to the Americans on the occasion of our nuclear tests in Australia," Churchill said. He said an American bomber crew flew in the vicinity of the recent British tests at Woomera.

"Therefore, an aircraft of the Royal Air Force made a flight in the vicinity of the explosion March 1, some hours after it occurred. A similar flight was made on March 26 and no injury or damage was suffered by these aircraft or crews on either occasion."

He added that two British Canberra aircraft which had been assigned to the tests.

"Duke University officials have confirmed reports that Duke faculty members voted 63-2 against granting Vice President Richard M. Nixon an honorary degree, the Durham Morning Herald said Tuesday."

University officials refused to comment on the newspaper story, holding that action taken on honorary degrees was a "confidential matter."

Duke Vice President Charles E. Jordan said it was "unprecedented" that faculty members would give out any information regarding action on a nomination for an honorary degree.

Two GIs Kidnaped By Russ Soldiers

BERLIN, April 6—UP—Twenty Soviet soldiers "invaded" the U. S. zone of West Germany in daylight Monday, kidnaped two American soldiers and their jeep and held them overnight before releasing them, American officials said Tuesday.

HEIDELBERG, Germany, April 6—UP—Twenty Soviet soldiers led by an officer "invaded" the U. S. zone of West Germany Monday and kidnaped two American soldiers and their jeep in full daylight, the U. S. Army said Monday.

Two West German border policemen who went to the scene to investigate the incident some 30 minutes later also were seized, an Army announcement said.

The two Germans were released after four hours of interrogation by the Soviets. But the Americans still are being held.

The Army announcement said the Americans were 200 yards inside the U. S. zone when they were seized and dragged into Soviet territory.

Ike Wins High Praise From GOP

WASHINGTON, April 6—UP—President Eisenhower's speech on the fears besetting the nation won high praise from Republicans Tuesday but some initial Democratic reaction was cool.

Senate Republican William F. Knowland of California said the President's speech touched the "heartbeat of America."

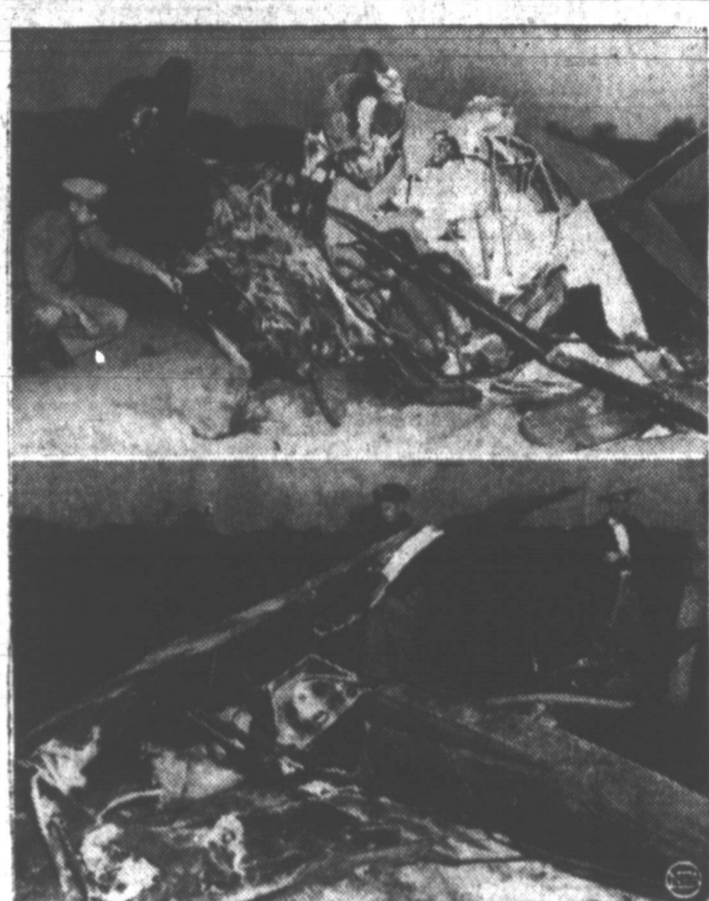

"It was one of the great speeches of his career," Knowland said. "I fully support his statement."

House Democratic whip John W. McCormack (Mass.) said the President's address was "a nice folksy speech" but "rather disappointing."

U.S. Asks Backing In Protest To Reds

PARIS, April 6—UP—The United States has asked Britain, France, Australia and New Zealand to issue a common declaration warning Red China any intervention in Indo-China may lead to a general war, official French sources said Tuesday.

The proposed declaration would climax the new U. S. diplomatic offensive aimed at showing the world that Americans — and the west in general — have a vital interest in guaranteeing against the fall to communism of Indo-China.

French sources said the U. S. proposal currently was under study by all the governments concerned.

The United States asked Australia and New Zealand to join the declaration because they are signatories of the Anzus Pacific Security Pact.

It was understood the United States wants the joint declaration to be issued before the April 26 opening of the Geneva conference on Far Eastern issues.

The sources said Indo-China's neighbors — countries most menaced by any Communist domination of the war-racked former French colony — might be asked to sign the declaration, too.

U.S. Planes Reinforce French Post

HANOI, Indo-China, April 6—UP—American planes re-inforcements have arrived in Indo-China and will be thrown into the battle of Dien Bien Phu in record time, military authorities said Tuesday.

Officials also said the vanguard of the 25 B-26 light bombers promised the French only two weeks ago started landing at airports around Hanoi Sunday. Most of the rest have now arrived, it was announced.

The B-26 Martin Marauders were ferried from Japan by Army transport planes. But French pilots and crews will replace them for the raids under way against 20,000 Communist re-inforcements rushing south to the besieged French fortress where military circles described the situation as "uneasy."

Communist artillery shelled Dien Bien Phu with renewed intensity during the day in a counter-effort to prevent the landing of French re-inforcements at the air strips, but the badly mauled Reds launched no heavy attacks during the night.

DEEP HUMOR — The drought, water shortage and dust storms in southwest Kansas have spawned some wry humor like "If you see an old hat on a dust dome, don't kick it." Story goes that a tourist found a hat beside a Hamilton County highway and picked it up. There was a man's head under it. "What in the world are you doing down there?" the tourist asked. "I'm on my horse," replied the farmer. "But what are you doing on a horse under all this top-soil dust?" asked the tourist, to which the farmer replied: "Shucks, I'm driving a hundred head of cattle." (NEA Photo)

Two-Hundred Thousand Affected Grain-Eating Rats Causing Famine In The Philippines

EDITOR'S NOTE: Recently reports came that a scourge as devastating as the pestilence of ancient Egypt was sweeping two one-third provinces in the large, southernmost Philippine island of Mindanao. Two hundred thousand people were on the edge of starvation, the reports said. The cause — not locusts, but grain-eating rats which swept out of the swamps and across the rice paddies in marshland waves.

United Press manager for the Philippines Gene Symonds went down from Manila to investigate. The devastation is a disaster he found as reported in the following graphic dispatch.

By GENE SYMONDS, THE LAMBAYANG, Philippines, April 6—UP—The youngest son of Mariano Salvador lies on the split bamboo floor and cries fitfully from hunger. His pipistern arms and legs are drawn around his swollen belly.

City Clean-Up Campaign Due To Start April 19

Pampa's annual city-wide clean-up campaign gets underway in less than two weeks and city officials today were hoping Pampangans would jump the gun by beginning their own clean-up now.

Six city officials conferred at 8 a.m. Monday in the office of James Cowan, city director of public works, to make overall plans for the clean-up, slated to get underway April 19 in Ward 4.

Cowan and Sanitation Superintendent L. B. (Bush) Haggard announced the clean-up dates: Ward 4, April 19-21; Ward 3, April 22-24; Ward 2, April 25-28; and Ward 1, April 29-30, May 1.

Others on hand for the meeting were City Manager Fred Brook, Engineer R. B. (Jiggs) Cook, City-County Sanitarian L. E. West, and Pampa Chamber of Commerce Manager E. O. (Red) Wedgeworth.

"We have four or five trucks on hand right now," Haggard said, adding that anyone who wished to donate the use of his truck — one with a large bed — could do so. "We'd be glad to have some extra trucks," Haggard commented.

If for any reason the clean-up is not completed in a certain ward by the deadline, that particular ward will be abandoned until the end of the campaign, it was decided.

At the campaign's end, wards not finished will be redone. Anyone who has an inquiry or request about trash pick-ups should contact the sanitation department at 4-8487.

Nothing that two men cannot handle will be picked up, Haggard said. That includes extra big signs and similar items. If one contains gas or other liquids, it is asked to use another.

West announced that all garbage cans would be sprayed upon conclusion of the clean-up, the first time that is to be done this year.

A mobile public address system and hand circulars will be utilized before and during the campaign with the help of Wedgeworth's office. Present plans call for the PA system to go into operation several days before the clean-up campaign begins. Boy Scouts are expected to circulate handbills to all homes in Pampa.

The clean-up will be conducted from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. each day and everything left in the city alleys will be picked up. "If you want anything, don't leave it in the alleys," city officials say.

As for getting underway early before the actual drive begins, "it suits me," Haggard said.

WAR

bulwark" of the FBI which is doing a "magnificent job."

Instead of dwelling on the 3.7 million unemployed, he said, the nation should think about the 90 million employed — "very near an all-time high." Unemployment — a symptom of the transition from war to peace — "happily shows signs now of leveling off," he said.

The massive atomic bomb tests in the Pacific have led to worldwide concern about the chances of an atomic war. But Mr. Eisenhower warned against "hysterical thinking," the "jitters" or any kind of panic.

He said the "men in the Kremlin" are well aware of the "sobering effect that would flow from such a conflict. And of all of these, he added, none is greater than the realization that a nuclear war would be visited upon them if they were to attack any of our nation or any part of our vital interests aggressively and in order to conquer."

The two main things to remember about the H-bomb, he said, are:

1. "With respect to that bomb, we are not going to start a war. It is not going to be used by our initiative."
2. "The H-bomb is a threat to us only if a potential aggressor, who also has the secret of the H-bomb, determines to use it against us. Against that, we have to make our provisions, to make certain sensible military have done every possible thing they can to protect themselves."

In addition to the threat of U.S. retaliation, Mr. Eisenhower noted that Soviet leaders "study history pretty well and realize that when dictators overreach themselves, they wind up out of power."

Mr. Eisenhower said that in addition to the H-bomb, the United States must fashion an effective civil and continental defense "in order to make certain that we have the best possible chance to live through such a catastrophe" should the Soviets break through the barriers of judgment and start a war.

He counseled a level-headed approach to Communist infiltration of America. He said he did not want to minimize this particular threat, but that there are only about 25,000 "doctrinal communists" in America today and "the FBI knows pretty well where they are."

The President, himself, linked the fear of Communist infiltration of the government with "the fear that we will use intemperate, investigative methods, particularly through congressional committees."

"I think that there can be grave offenses committed against an innocent individual if he is accused, falsely by someone having the immunity of congressional membership," Mr. Eisenhower said.

"He can lose his job. He can have scars that will be lasting."

"But in the long run, you may be certain of this: America believes in and practices fair play and decency and justice. In this country, public opinion is the most powerful of all forces and it will stand up for the innocent."

City Wiring Contract Given Plains Electric

Plains Electric company of Pampa, will do the electrical wiring work in City Hall at a cost of $12,325.

Pampa city commissioners today awarded a contract to Plains which agreed to have the job completed by May 3.

Four bids — all local — were submitted to the commissioners by 10 a.m. today and each of them had bids on two different proposals.

Plains' work will consist of installing an underground transformer vault adjacent to the boiler room on the east side of City Hall. Another proposal, included in the specifications for the bidding, would have only made for a bigger wire electrical conductor.

Other firms and their bids on the winning proposal were Electric Supply, 115 E. Brooks Electric, $2,600; and Davis Electric, $1,985.

Necessity for a new wiring system in the city building appeared when a new air-conditioning unit was installed in the city's water and tax office.

signed to that duty were lost in transit to the American base in the Pacific.

"The House should know that the loss of these aircraft was in no way due to the risk of the special mission they were to have undertaken," he said.

He was asked if British observers would continue to inspect other H-bomb test sites.

"I have not any knowledge of new arrangements being made from those which existed at the beginning of these tests," he replied.

Churchill was greeted with a tumult of cheers and jeers as he entered Commons amid one of the greatest political tempests of his long career.

Trash Unit Expected Here July

Pampa's new trash disposal system — the Dempster Dumpster — is expected to be here by July 9.

The city commission this morning voted to ask for delivery from Dempster, Brockers, Knoxville, Tenn., within 90 days instead of waiting till Oct. 15 as originally planned.

Sid Patterson, Dempster representative, was on hand for the commission meeting and suggested the July 9 date. At the same time, Pursesley Motor Company, which will provide the truck to go with the system, will be asked to make delivery by May 10 to insure its being on hand in Knoxville when the Dumpster is received, Oct. 15 had been Pursesley's deadline, too.

Reason for the hurry-up on the order, commissioners said, was that the summer lull for the commission meeting and suggested the July 9 date.

City Manager Fred Brook recommended the action, pointing out that he didn't think paying for the trash unit early would jeopardize the city's 1954 paving program, which had been the main concern about getting the unit in Pampa early.

An associate of L. B. (Bush) Haggard, sanitation engineer, will make the trip to Knoxville when the unit is ready and drive it back to Pampa.

However, letters will be mailed to Pampa residents toward the end of the week, stating that if they did not contribute to cancer through UF, they may do so at this time. ### Farm Surplus May Not Be Problem Soon

DALLAS, April 6—UP—A top official of the Agriculture Department believes the United States, within the next four years, may grow out of the problem of farm surpluses.

J. Earl Cope, assistant secretary of agriculture, told the Texas Cotton Ginners Association Monday that about 25 million more acres under cultivation than are needed to feed all Americans.

But Cope said the population was increasing at a rate of three million a year.

"Three million persons will require seven million acres to feed them. Within four years, we will need 28 million (more) acres," he said.

"We feel today's problem is only a temporary one. The nation's agricultural plant is now larger than necessary because through wartime necessity the government asked for a larger plant," Cope said.

Juin Blast At EDC Has France Upset

By CHARLES W. MCCANN
United Press Staff Correspondent
Troubled France has another "political general" on its hands, the third in less than 15 years. He is Alphonse Juin, France's only living marshal.

The result is that France has a new political crisis. It could turn into a constitutional crisis. That is, a test between parliamentary government and authoritarian government—a dictatorship.

When Juin announced in a speech on March 27 that he opposes the European Defense Community pact one of the first United Press dispatches from Paris said:

"The blunt-spoken Juin sent a tremor through France with his unexpected assault upon the treaty."

Jun, a military officer, had rebelled against the civilian French government which is pledged to seek ratification of the pact.

Sign of Trouble
The thought of a political general always sends a tremor through France. It means trouble. And this time France had trouble enough already—a war in Indo-China, riots by the independence-seeking nationalists in North Africa, increasingly insistent demands by Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru that France give up its colonies on the Indian sub-continent. Also, a cabinet dangerously divided on the issue of ratifying the defense community pact, which is to bring German troops into a West-European Army.

Jun, at 65 retains his physical and mental vigor. He is old for a soldier but is young enough to become a power in politics. He is of medium height and powerfully built. He is not tempered and outspoken. His disposition is jovial. He likes music and dancing and bridge. He was graduated at the top of his class from St. Cyr, the French West Point, and served heroically in the two world wars.

He must have known when he made his speech and when he snubbed Premier Joseph Laniel who called on him to explain it that he was jeopardizing his army career. He has now lost all his French army posts, including the presidency of the high French Defense Council. He is on his way out as commander of North Atlantic Treaty land, air and sea forces. Juin is only one of a succession of political generals in France after World War II. Gen. Charles De Gaulle, who became provisional president after World War II, has fought for an authoritarian government. He wants France to have a president with real power instead of a parliamentary government.

Jun's friends say he will join De Gaulle in a finish fight against the EDC. It looks as if the two political generals think alike on other things.

Octogenarian Has Fathered 27 Children — One Last Week

LAKEWOOD, N.J., April 6—UP—Ephraim Horner, who will be 89 years old come May Day, is a clear-eyed, jut-chinned, God-fearing man who has not had a drink of hard liquor in 40 years nor touched tobacco in 20.

Fourteen years ago, at 75, he became a father of a girl, Shirley. Since then, he has fathered: A boy, Tommy, at 77; a boy, Clinton, at 78; a girl, Peggy, at 80; a girl, Mary, at 82; a boy, Myron, at 84; a girl, Glorystar, at 86, and—

Three weeks ago Monday, at 88, Mrs. Horner presented him with another daughter, Roseanna, 10 minutes after she entered the hospital.

These are merely the eight Horner children still at home. Ephraim has 27 living children—14 by his first wife, who died in 1918; and 13 (so far) by his second, Mary, who is 44.

Never Too Old
"Thunderation!" he said in an interview over a bottle of port laced with beer. "I say a man can have children, never gets too old. If a man carries himself right, keeps in good health, he's good for 100 years or more."

However—according to the best medical advice—becoming a father at Horner's age isn't so easy as he makes it look. If you think it is, go ahead and try, after you're 85.

Horner's oldest child will be 70 her next birthday, and, as he says, "I'm a great-grandfather twenty times."

Sea May Hold Secret
Horner has been a hand laborer and farmhand, and for 22 years was a fisherman in the Atlantic. He thinks the sea may hold the secret of his fatherhood success.

"I've lived along the shore, breathed sea air, all the days of my life. I've ate plenty raw clams, oysters, good sea food, and kept myself decent. I ain't had a headache, buddy, for 35 years. Stopped drinkin' hard liquor 40 years ago. Since prohibition, they hain't been a drink of whiskey made fit to drink. I used to drink old apple whiskey, 100 proof."

The Horners and their eight children live in a farmhouse with four small rooms. They get along on Ephraim's $28 monthly pension and Mrs. Horner's $260 monthly state relief money. Just barely get along.

Horner is unwaxed at his own profession. "Why I knew an old sea captain, at Barnegat, who left the sea when he was 93, come home, married a girl of 19, and bring up three nice children. I know 'em all."

Liberal Demos Plan Meeting

AUSTIN, April 6—UP—The liberal faction of Young Texas Democrats, who didn't attend a state convention held by the conservative wing in February, will hold their state convocation at San Antonio, May 8-9.

The conservative group, which met at Mineral Wells, has applied for recognition by the national organization. The Mineral Wells convention was designed to unify all Young Democrats, after competing delegations were refused admittance to the 1953 national convention in St. Paul last fall.

The liberals held an executive committee meeting Monday to lay plans for the meeting, and also went on record opposing a scheduled speech by Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy (R-Wis.) at the San Jacinto Battleground near Houston April 11.

Gene Tunney was the first heavyweight boxing champion to retire undefeated.

Business 'Dip' Preferred To Death In Korea, Says Weeks

FORT WORTH, April 6 —UP—The United States is suffering from a recession, Commerce Secretary Sinclair Weeks has declared, but he said he felt people preferred the business dip to "more death in Korea."

Weeks, speaking on the Republican party's weekly "Report to Texas" program, said the recession "which gloom prophets have talked up can be measured in terms of reduced expenses resulting from peace in Korea."

He said "war material costs have been cut, accounting partially for the 10 per cent dip in business under 1953, which was our biggest economic year in history."

First-quarter business in 1954, Weeks said, "is better than it was in 1952, and we can expect improvements as the year progresses. Unless the professional pessimists, irresponsible union leaders and socialist planners convince the public they cannot afford to buy, there is every reason to view the year with confidence."

The commerce secretary expressed the administration's policy of helping in business development by saying: "When you help business, you help the entire population. If the bough on which we all grow is well nourished, we will all grow and flourish; if that bough is sick, we all suffer."

He said he was against the "politically inspired" tax plan to raise the per capita income exemption to $1,000. That, he said, "would free 15 million taxpayers of their governmental responsibilities and reduce the federal income by $10 billion. I can see no justice in these plans for the rest of the taxed population."

He said the plan to increase personal exemptions by $100 per person would "cut our national income by $2.5 billion and exempt 4 million people from paying any income tax whatsoever."

"The whole family together at breakfast! Oh, how wonderful! Have I missed anything exciting?"

"I'm always stepping backwards into the hoe or rake!"

Ham Custom Older Than Easter Bonnet

By GAY PAULEY
NEW YORK —UP—The Easter ham is as traditional as the new Easter bonnet. But the ham custom is older.

Some authorities say that smoked ham can be traced back to the cave man, which is more than can be said for hats.

The American Meat Institute says that the ancients were accustomed to celebrating the coming of spring by feasting, and in the dawn of Christianity, the custom was carried over to Easter. People in those days slaughtered their pigs in the fall and winter, but with an eye on the Easter feast, buried the hind legs (hams) in sand on the beach. Salt water cured the ham. Then in spring, the hams were dug up and smoked over wood fires for the feast.

Some Like Whole Pig
The ham eating custom is not universal, the institute says. The Russians and Yugoslavs usually dine on a whole roast pig, although Helen Brown, in her Holiday Cook Book, says that the Russians used to feature both the pig and ham.

Bulgaria, England, and Italy are among the countries which eat lamb on Easter.

Today's markets featured uncooked hams, ready-to-eat hams, hams which need only heating through, and canned hams. The label on the ham will tell you the type you are buying, and includes directions for baking or heating. Ready-to-eat is a misnomer. It is probably safe as is, but tastes much better if it's treated as an uncooked ham.

The glazes are numerous. Some cooks like orange marmalade or apricot jam spread over the fat with a spatula. Others prefer honey spread on with a pastry brush. Or you can use a heavy layer of brown sugar and whole cloves for added flavor and decoration. A combination of mustard and brown sugar is still another.

If you want to go all out for the Easter "look," garnish the ham with Easter Eggs. Charlotte Adams tells how in her new Easter Idea Book (M. Barrows and Co.). Shell hard-cooked eggs. Put a few drops of one vegetable coloring into one small bowl of water and a few drops of yellow into another. Dip half the eggs into each to tint them lightly. If you like, trim off the white at one end so that some of the yolk shows. Surround ham with eggs in alternate colors, separated by sprigs of parsley.

Raisin sauce is traditional with ham, but if you want a tangier one, try cherry sauce. You will need 1 can sour red cherries, 1/2 cup sugar, 2 tablespoons cornstarch, 1/2 teaspoon cinnamon and 1/2 lemon.

Drain juice from cherries into a saucepan. Combine sugar, cornstarch and cinnamon and add to juice. Cook until thickened, stirring constantly. Add cherries and thinly sliced lemon. Simmer for 15 minutes; remove lemon, and serve.

Senate Horseplay Precedes GOP Birthday Celebration

WASHINGTON (NEA)—That Ripon, Wis., ceremony on March 20 to commemorate the founding of the Republican Party 100 years ago touched off a bit of political horseplay in the U. S. Senate.

Republican Sen. Alexander Wiley from Wisconsin, was giving the celebration a little advance publicity with a speech. "A feature of the ceremony will be the lighting of the symbolic 'freedom flame,' which the enthusiastic citizens of Ripon have pledged to keep alive as long as freedom lives in America," he declared.

After Senator Wiley had finished his announcement, Sen. Paul Douglas (D., Ill.) replied: "I have been interested in hearing my friend speak of the candlelighting ceremony. Let me inquire whether it will be to celebrate a birthday or a wake?"

"I am very happy to have that very challenging question," Senator Wiley answered. "The celebration is of course to be a birthday. However, as the young cub is only 100 years old, he is full of pep and vigor, as will be demonstrated next November."

"So I reply to the question of my friend, the senator from Illinois, that the celebration will not be a wake, but it may celebrate the wake of the Democratic Party."

Cancer Cure May Come By 'Accident'

HOUSTON, April 6—UP—A veteran in the fight against cancer said Monday night that victory over the dread disease probably will come by the "try and see method," even though a vast amount of knowledge has been accumulated.

Dr. Peyton Rous, emeritus member of the staff of the Rockefeller Institute in New York, spoke at a banquet after being presented with the Burtner Award for his achievements in the study of viruses. The dinner was a feature of the eighth annual cancer symposium, sponsored by M. D. Anderson Hospital and Tumor Institute of the University of Texas.

Rous called for a greater exchange of knowledge between research workers and the doctors who are actively engaged in treating cancer patients.

"One of the big problems is the cleavage between the laboratory and the clinic," he said. "What we need is not more physical integration, we need an integration of minds."

"I know some people who work on cancer—effectively, too who have never seen a cancer," Rous said.

Rous cited as two of the outstanding achievements thus far the discoveries that cancer is not contagious, and "only in a few extreme types" is it hereditary.

Perhaps the strangest air rescue on record has been reported from Bergstrom Air Force base near Austin, Tex. An F-84 Thunderjet was practicing refueling in flight from a Boeing KC-97 tanker.

The automatic gas cap on the F-84 failed to close after one contact. The Thunderjet was in danger of losing all its fuel. Using its refueling boom as a tow rope, however, the tanker hauled the Thunderjet to the end of the Bergstrom runway, then let it land on its own power.

Nelson Rockefeller is the only American thus far mentioned as a likely successor to Dr. Alberto Lleras of Colombia, resigned secretary general of the Organization of American States, formerly known as Pan-American Union. During war Rockefeller served as coordinator of Inter-American affairs and as assistant secretary of state in charge of Latin American affairs. He is now undersecretary of health, education and welfare in the Eisenhower cabinet.

Four Latin-Americans are being considered for the top O.A.S. job. One is Galo Plaza, president of Ecuador from 1948 to 1952 and former ambassador to Washington. Another ex-president being considered is Ricardo Alfaro of Panama.

Luis Quintanilla is Mexico's candidate. He is now Mexican ambassador to the O.A.S.

Dr. Rene Leprévanché, Venezuela's ambassador to the O.A.S. and chairman of its Council last year is a fifth possibility.

Some Indian chiefs recently came to Washington to protest new policies which would remove government protection from their people. They were asked what they thought about the way their affairs were being handled. After a week of hearings and visits to congressmen which accomplished nothing, one of the braves remarked: "Heap big gertiller. No crop."

Incident Prompts Rogers To Recall House Shooting

Rep. Walter Rogers, of Pampa, deadly weapons," he adds, a bit deals with the passing of the Independent Offices Appropriations bill, a recollection of the Puerto Rican shooting, and an "interesting" debate on public housing in his weekly newsletter to the 18th Congressional District.

The bill, involving an expenditure of $5,566,118,763, provides funds for the operation of 44 agencies of government known as independent offices.

Included, Rogers points out, are the President's executive office, Atomic Energy Commission, Bureau of the Budget, General Accounting Office, selective service system, Civil Service Commission, the Hoover Commission, the Manion Commission (relationship of state and federal government), the American Battle Monuments Commission — and public housing.

It took the best part of a week, the Pampan reports, to get the bill through the House of Representatives, what with amendments, debates and points-of-order to be considered.

It was Thursday when an incident made Rogers think of the Puerto Rican shooting. Several weeks ago which sent five representatives to the hospital.

"Everything was going along quietly, as it was the day of the Puerto Rican shooting," the representative states in his newsletter. "All of a sudden there was a faint flash from the same gallery where the Puerto Ricans had fired their guns."

But it was just a high school boy who had brought his camera into the gallery and, not knowing the rules of the House, had snapped a flash bulb picture of the solons in session. Only on special occasions are cameras allowed in the House gallery.

"Although there has been much talk about security since the Puerto Rican shooting," Rogers comments, "there seems to have been very little done about it, because you can look up in the gallery any day and see everything from flash bulb cameras to small suitcases."

"I just hope that none of them contains any firearms or other

One of the representatives last week was therefore prompted to make a speech recalling the many things that had been said by opposing members on public housing, when his time ran out — just before he began quoting some of Martin's remarks in the past. But Martin requested the member be given extra time in which to conclude his speech.

Among the visitors in Rogers' office last week was Fred Haiduk, of Groom.

It's Easy in 30 Minutes Hank Can't Get Excited Over Importance Of 4-Minute Mile

By HENRY McLEMORE where, when, and who will accomplish it.

Will someone please explain to me the importance of the four-minute mile? The one by a human being on foot, I mean.

I have been hearing about the four-minute mile ever since my ears saw the light of day, and it is still good for a story whenever anyone wants to speculate on as some say it, I tried it yesterday.

Solons Are Going South For Baseball Training

By HARMAN W. NICHOLS WASHINGTON, April 6 —UP— Congressmen are going south for spring baseball training on April 15.

And the teams, one from each party, would like you to know that it isn't going to cost us taxpayers a sou. The uniforms are provided by old Clark Griffith, owner of the Washington Senators. The congressmen will pay their own transportation. Daytona Beach, Fla., will pay their keep down there for a few days.

C. W. (Runt) Bishop, an old baseball man himself, will head the Republican contingent. Albert Sydney (Sid) Herlong of Florida will mastermind the Democrats.

On June 15, in the noble name of charity, the two teams will meet here in Griffith Stadium in a game sponsored by the Washington Star. The take-home goes toward sending underprivileged boys and girls to summer camps. Last year, over 260 kids had a time for themselves.

In the ball game itself, nobody seems to care who wins, so long as the kids do.

I paged Runt and Sid. The Republicans seem to have the biggest squad.

For catchers, Runt has Thomas Curtis of Missouri, Sam Coon of Oregon, Sen. Andy Schoppel of Kansas and Sen. Homer Ferguson of Michigan. For pitchers, he is counting on Glenn Davis of Wisconsin, Harold Ostertag of New York, the old left-hander; Sen. Fred Payne of Maine, and Sen. Herman Walker of Idaho.

His infield will consist of Bill Springer of Illinois, Don Jackson of California, Harold Velde of Illinois, the old man himself (Bishop), Pat Hillings of California, Hamar Budge of Idaho, Bill Bates of Massachusetts, Thor C. Tollefson of Washington State.

In the outfield, the GOP will have Les Arends of Illinois, Steve Derounian of New York, Mel Laird of Wisconsin, Stuyvesant Wainwright of New York and a few others too numerous to mention.

Democrats Have Less Depth

The Democratic manager ran his club right down, man by man without giving the second and third team.

Herlong listed a couple of catchers, Phil Landrum of Georgia and Oren Harris of Arkansas. Don Wheeler, the old side-wheeler and veteran of many such a game, will be on the hill at the start. Back of him will be William H. Natcher of Kentucky who is supposed to be in "mid-season form."

The Democratic infield will be Gene McCarthy of Minnesota, Olin Teague of Texas, Walter Rogers of Texas, and Laurie Battle of Alabama.

Out in the pasture we'll find these Democrats: Hugh Addison of New Jersey, J. Wendel (Oleo) Rivers of South Carolina, and Al Sieminski of New Jersey.

FRIEND OR FOE?—Jody, the eight-week-old parakeet, looks warily at the mouse as it ponders whether this stranger is friend or foe. Jody finally decided to put the intruder in his place with a sharp peck at his tail. Jody is the Christmas-present pet of Mrs. Walter Armstrong, of Fort Scott, Kan. Armstrong caught the mouse in a friend's barn, where he stores oats. Another, similar, mouse bit his finger and ran. The mouse is unusual because it does not have the pink eyes of a true albino.

terday, I reversed the normal procedure of training, since those who have gone to bed with the chickens, consumed gallons of milk, spurned the weaker sex even to the point of not rolling their eyes at them, have always failed in their efforts.

I spent a week eating lobster thermidor at four in the morning, winking at every girl who passed, lacing my milk with a good grade of formaldehyde, and generally bating the be-daylights out of what system I have left after 47 years of playing hearts with strangers, making speeches to civic clubs, and dancing the two step.

The first thing I did was measure off a mile by the speedometer of my car.

Downhill, naturally. A mile is a mile, whether it's a mile coming down or going up. I challenge anyone to prove me wrong. A mile is still 5,280 feet. If it isn't my parents wasted money on arithmetic books.

I had little favoring wind. Not much, but just enough to make me grab my hat every once in a while. Why was I wearing a hat? You haven't heard the hat of it. Not only did I wear a hat, but a single-breasted sharkskin suit, brogues, socks, shirt, underpants and tie. I even had a flower in my lapel.

The answer to my correct dress seems obvious. If a man ever runs a four-minute mile he certainly must be in a hurry to get some place. And what kind of a place would a man choose to arrive wearing shoes with spikes, a pair of next-to-nothing pants, and smelling like a liniment bottle?

Plus this: If he arrives after a four-minute mile he is not only going to look nearly naked, but he is going to be so exhausted that he will collapse into the arms of his hostess (which is a sure thing to get him in trouble), or gasp out a request for his host to revive him.

I ran my mile in about thirty minutes, give and take a minute or two. But I crossed the finish line poised, suave, nice appearing, and heartened by the fact that I had great company in those who had never run the mile in better time than I.

Gilbert Chesterton never saw the day he could beat my time, or William Howard Taft, Thomas Edison, Tolstoy, Beethoven, or Hammerstein. There are ten thousand others to be named, all of whom will be remembered when the man who turns the four-minute mile, or the three-minute mile, or the mile in nothing flat, will have been forgotten.

It must be remembered that all a man needs, never to have to try to run a four-minute mile, is a watch. If it's a bus he wants to catch, or a train, or a plane, or a date with a gal, then all he has to do is give himself a few more minutes' leeway. If he gets there early, by running a four-minute mile, what does he get? No bus, only a hard bench. No train, only a bench just as hard. No plane. No girl. It's plum silly, in my book.

CAIRO, Egypt, April 5—UP— South Africa's Bobby Locke looked ahead to his appearance in the forthcoming U.S. Open golf championship with renewed hope Monday following his easy victory in the Egyptian Open tournament. Locke finished the 72-hole championship Sunday with a 274, 18 strokes ahead of his nearest rival, Dai Rees of Great Britain.

Condition Of Our Defense Ability To Strike Back Best Defense Against Air Attacks

Editor's Note: This is the first of four dispatches on America's ability to cope with an H-bomb attack. This dispatch tells the condition of our defenses.

By CHARLES CORDDRY
WASHINGTON, April 6—UP—America's ability to defend itself against air attack has improved rapidly in the last four years and will rise sharply in the years ahead.

To be sure, military authorities find no cause for boundless optimism when they weigh the American defense problem against Russian ability to "press an air-atom" attack. There is no complete defense, and one H-bomb can wreck a city, incinerate its people.

Neither, however, do those familiar with the gigantic tasks see any justification for hysteria. Undoubtedly moved by Russian H-bomb developments, the administration has determined to "enhance and accelerate" continental defenses.

More Air Power
Significant evidence of that is the decision to devote a larger portion of the Air Force to the Air Defense Command. Under the old 143-wing plan, 29 wings were to be air defense units. Under the military's retaliatory capacity is overwhelming. There are both atomic and hydrogen weapons that can destroy cities and America has superior air power to deliver.

Immediate Retaliation
Adm. Arthur W. Radford, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, has told the Senate Armed Services committee a purely defensive system therefore will not get an undue share of our military resources. The "greatest single deterrent" to Soviet attack is the counterattack the Strategic Air Command would deliver at once.

The Air Defense Command, which would have to blunt the first blow, now mounts about 1,000 interceptor planes, many of them heavily armed with rockets. They are deployed along all the approaches a bomber attack might follow. The radar warning net, still sketchy considering its vital importance, is improving and is arrayed in some depth from the far northern avenues to North America down to major individual targets.

For last-ditch defense, the Army anti-aircraft command operates radar-aimed 90 mm and 120 mm guns in target areas.

Strung through the continental defense system are 333,000 part-time civilian members of the Ground Observer Corps, spotting unidentified planes and funneling information to Air Defense Command centers.

The immensity of the problem is clear when it is realized that a few atomic bombs, fewer hydrogen bombs, can do as much as an entire campaign in World War II. That puts a premium on early detection of attacking planes, instant warning to interceptor stations, and aircraft that can climb like rockets and track down their quarry with radar eyes.

More to Be Automatic
Progress now is toward making much of this operation automatic. For point defenses, the big anti-aircraft guns will be supplanted by the Army's Nike guided missile, a rocket which reaches 1,500 miles an hour and ranges out about 30 miles from the launching site.

A little later will come pilotless fighters. But the power of the offense will march apace too, so that what 50 bombers might do today, two possibly can do on a not too remote tomorrow.

(Wednesday: What civil defense would do if an attack got through.)

"What's protocol for this Ginner we're giving, Smedley? Do I seat the senators and representatives according to the number of investigations they've held?"

NOTORIOUS Pair Back In Solitary

GRANITE, Okla., April 6—UP—The notorious Davenport brothers were back in solitary Tuesday at the Oklahoma reformatory here, awaiting transfer to the state penitentiary instead of going on trial for escaping prison.

The brothers, Norman, 26, and Chester, 31, of Wichita Falls, Tex., won a five-month delay in their trials Monday when their attorney argued that they could not get a fair hearing now because of "inflammatory and false publicity" by newspapers and television and radio stations.

District Judge W. P. Keen, who had docketed the cases this week at nearby Mangum, postponed the trials until Sept. 6. The Davenports will be taken to the penitentiary at McAlester to await their court appearances.

Norman Davenport is charged with escape, kidnaping and armed robbery, while his older brother faces only escape charges.

Greer County Attorney Jack Sasseen said Monday a "missing witness," former Granite guard Luther Brooks, has been found in Texas. Brooks was kidnaped, along with inmates, when Norman escaped in the guard's automobile. All the hostages were released unharmed.

TRAFFIC STOPPER—A squirrel gets the "VIP" treatment from policeman Eugene Barratone, who stops traffic in Washington, D. C., to let the animal cross the street. The squirrel was in search for new feeding grounds.

Why don't they get on that before during all the years they've stuck me down here?

The Long Road

Peace, it's wonderful! We hear a great deal about it these days, but nobody appears to have any sensible idea on how to achieve it.

Some would fight for it. Some would try to talk the Communists into it. Some think that if we just sit around and live long enough peace will come of itself.

Peace is a lot like rain in the Panhandle: when there is none everybody talks about it and wants something done; at other times we all forget it.

Did it ever occur to you that you have to earn peace just as you have to earn freedom. You have to deserve them, too, and know how to use them.

The longing for peace is as old as mankind, for there was war of man against man and man against beast along the rivers and in the forests where man began his long struggle for existence.

It is quite likely that was man's first efforts to achieve peace that lost him his freedom. Some fellows in adjoining caves made a mutual defense pact, elected a commander... and there began the first dictatorship.

As time went on, the population of the world increased, civilization advanced, wars were continuous and no man could call himself free. For most of mankind the desire for liberty came to overshadow the craving for peace.

History is filled with the record of carnage and death as here and there man battled to throw off the yoke of slavery. Some of these struggles were successful, briefly because it took man a long time to learn to use and keep freedom.

Here in the United States we have the most successful development of freedom, probably because two oceans separated us from the forces which would have ruled us.

But even we have not yet proven that we have earned our freedom, that we know how to use it, or that we know how to keep it.

Meanwhile, the vast majority of the peoples of the world are still yearning and at times fighting for even a small measure of the freedom which we possess.

We dream of peace and flirt with the economic slavery of socialism. They dream of freedom and peace can wait.

While this state of affairs exists, our dreams of peace will be vain indeed. For the forces and ideas which hold men in bondage will continue to struggle to retain and spread their grip.

It is the clear duty of the people of the United States to maintain and perfect our freedom, to set an example to all the enslaved people of the world and to encourage the fight for liberty, wherever it may arise.

And even when all the peoples of the world have thrown off their oppressors, the goal of peace will not have been reached, for all mankind will still have to learn how to use and keep the lamp of liberty alight.

Freedom for all men is the road men must travel to reach the elysian valley of peace.

Socialized Farms

The New York State Association of County Supervisors recently held its fourth annual meeting, with 200 members attending. It passed a number of policy resolutions on important problems and controversies at the moment. One of these dealt with electric power development, and it deserves national attention.

The Association specifically opposed the proposal to have a state agency, instead of private enterprise, develop hydroelectric power on the Niagara River. And then it made this statement of principle: "Government has no more business in the field of power production than it has in the operation of farms or production of automobiles."

What rational argument can be made against that view? The production and distribution of power — like the production and distribution of food, autos, clothes, or any other service and commodity — is a commercial enterprise. In the case of power, the terms of sale to the public are stringently regulated by state public service commissions and, in some instances, by federal agencies. If it is proper for government to actively engage in the commercial enterprise, in competition with private citizens, it is equally proper for it to engage in any and all.

Moreover, from a purely economic point of view, power is an extremely minor item to most people. In 1952, the last year for which official figures are available, household electricity accounted for a trifling less than one per cent of average expenditures. Its total cost was about half that of the national expenditure for tobacco, and less than one third of the national expenditure for liquor.

Why, then, all the uproar on the "power issue"? The answer is simple — the socialists want a government power monopoly as a prelude to general socialization of American enterprise.

Are Our Immigration Laws in Agreement With The Golden Rule?

I recently listened to a talk at a Freedom Club in which the speaker attempted to defend the McCarran-Walter Act on immigration.

After he had finished his talk, I asked him if I could ask three questions. I should have asked him if he would answer three questions. It is necessary to ask three questions in order to show inconsistency and contradictions.

Here is one of the questions I asked: Would it be a violation of the Golden Rule or freedom under God for A to use force to prevent B from coming on C's property when B is coming on C's consent?

This question the speaker refused to answer by saying that he must have a specific question. Of course, any person who wants his ideas tested by questions would have to say that it would be a violation of the Golden Rule.

Evidently the speaker, who was a lawyer and a retired admiral, would not answer the above questions because he would be embarrassed when a second question was asked — Does the state doing a thing that is a violation of the Golden Rule when done by an individual make it in agreement with the Golden Rule and freedom under God as set forth in the Declaration of Independence?

To contend that the state can make an act moral that is immoral for an individual to do is in effect to contend that morality or ethics or justice is not based on individual acts but is determined by the state or the majority. It is in effect to contend that there are no eternal principles that an individual, when acting as an agent of the state, needs to obey. It is in effect to contend that our will be done, not "thy will be done."

This propagandist for statism, or it might be called subversivism, contended that the guide for right and wrong was the general welfare.

Welfare Individual

What he did not seem to realize is that the general welfare is made up of individual welfares and that taking from some individual his inalienable rights is no more promoting the general welfare than it is increasing a quantity when one subtracts from it. And since the general welfare is made up of individual welfares, any act of government that violates the Golden Rule cannot promote the general welfare. With that axiom, it is also true that our welfare cannot be promoted by violating the Golden Rule.

And when a nation like the United States, that was based on the philosophy that all men are endowed by their Creator with certain inalienable rights, attempts to take away from foreigners their inalienable right to life and liberty and the pursuit of happiness, it is in effect contending that rights and liberty and justice come from the government of the United States rather than from God.

His Arguments

He used the usual fallacious arguments that it is necessary to limit immigration so that we can assimilate the immigrants and that ideas would bring communistic ideas into the country. As if we could build a barrier to keep ideas out of the country! That is the philosophy of every tyrant and every collectivistic government. The way to sell the world on the blessings of liberty and a limited government is to do it by example. And if the people in the United States live more nearly in harmony with the American way of life, — the Golden Rule, they need have no fear of foreign ideologies taking us over because we permit foreigners to enter our land.

This country was built by foreigners entering the land. Our motto on the Statue of Liberty is "... Give me your tired, your poor, Your huddled masses yearning to breathe free, The wretched refuse of your teeming shore, Send these, the homeless, tempest-tossed to me, I lift my lamp beside the golden door!"

Now we are discarding these great moral principles and adopting a collectivistic, totalitarian form of government. Another argument the speaker used was that by 1970 we would have 200,000,000 people in this country. The inference was that we would have more people than could exist on a high standard of living and that letting more people in would reduce our standard of living. The Indians, when we had 500,000 people in the United States, believed exactly like that. They thought the United States wouldn't support any more than 500,000 people.

But here we have in the United States a surplus food problem. We are paying higher prices to restrict production. We are not using all our natural resources and yet we want to build a fence around our country and keep other human beings from having the right to these great gratuities of God.

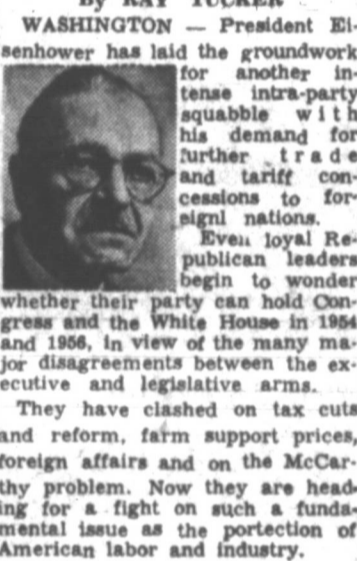

What the speaker evidently did not understand is that any man who comes to our shores and who produces enough wealth to support himself is benefitting every other human being in the United States and the world over. That is true because in producing wealth the gain of one is the gain of all and the more we divide labor the greater the possible production.

Men who believe in freedom need never fear foreign ideologies coming into this country if we use as a guide for whom to believe and have respect for whether or not a man will answer questions without

National Whirligig... Proposed Tariff Concessions May Cause Big GOP Squabble

By RAY TUCKER

WASHINGTON — President Eisenhower has laid the groundwork for another intense intra-party squabble with his demand for further trade and tariff concessions to foreign nations.

Even loyal Republican leaders begin to wonder whether their party can hold Congress and the White House in 1954 and 1956, in view of the many major disagreements between the executive and legislative arms.

They have clashed on tax cuts and reform, farm support prices, foreign affairs and on the McCarthy problem. Now they are heading for a fight on such a fundamental issue as the protection of American labor and industry.

OPPOSITION IN SMALLER CITIES — Eisenhower recognizes the latent hostility by asking authority to reduce duties by only 15 per cent over a three-year period, and for softening the buy-American provisions of the Battle Act. He had been expected to suggest discretionary power to make a 50 per cent reduction.

Principal opposition comes from Republican members in smaller cities and towns, where factory closings and layoffs have produced severe setbacks already. Ike will probably get major support from Democrats from the South, who seek expanded exports of cotton, tobacco, etc.

THE TARIFF CONTROVERSY, basically, will be a struggle between Eastern internationalists and the economic isolationists of the Middle West and other sections. It will also pit the heads of the two great labor organizations, the AFL and CIO, against their local units.

According to their complaint, Eastern banking, shipping and industrial interests want freer trade for selfish reasons. Manufacturers of autos and trucks, heavy machinery, utility equipment and other durable goods anticipate a rich foreign market, if only we let overseas customers and countries earn dollars by selling more to us.

But there are scores of relatively small industries and local units which will be affected adversely. Their areas, in many instances, have been classified as "depressed" already, with large labor surpluses. They extend all across the country, including such products as textiles, carpets, shoes, paper, wool, wines, metals, rubbers, coal mining, fishing and shipping. Lacking the resources of the great corporations, more than 50 organizations have combined into a united front known as the National Committee of Industry, Agriculture and Labor on Import-Export Policy. They testified on behalf of innumerable small centers of employment in opposition to the manufacturers, bankers, exporters and shippers, who have enjoyed profitable years during and since World War II.

EMOTIONAL FACTORS INVOLVED — As in several other differences between the White House and Congress, emotional factors are involved in this "trade versus aid" dispute. These anti-tariff groups begin to suspect that the administration shows excessive partiality to financial and corporate interests along the Atlantic seaboard, or to the "legions" of the GOP.

It is in this area which clamors for tariff reductions, greater aid to Europe, possible involvement in Indo-China, lower farm supports, private versus public power, condemnation of Senator McCarthy and other White House moves not too popular west of the Hudson River. It is, in a sense, a revival of the Dewey-Taft pre-convention strife.

F.D.R. and Cordell Hull thought that they had buried the tariff issue with their system of negotiated and reciprocal agreements. Instead they have split the Grand Old Party more violently on this question than in many a year.

Can the American people any longer be called self-governing? On March 4, Senator Bricker, speaking in Atlanta, described his failure to secure the passage of the Bricker Amendment in the following words: "To my utter amazement, the administration insisted that THE PRESIDENT SHOULD HAVE THE POWER TO MAKE DOMESTIC LAW BY EXECUTIVE AGREEMENTS NOT APPROVED BY EITHER HOUSE OF CONGRESS."

The Nation's Press

THE CURE THAT FAILED (Chicago Daily Tribune)

The Committee for Economic Development, a business men's organization, issued a report Monday declaring it to be "essential" that the government adopt deficit financing whenever a serious recession in business develops. The committee says that to get out of a bad slump the treasury should try not to raise enough revenue to pay for what it spends. Rather, it should reduce the income as the outgo mounts.

Other steps are also proposed; the main ones of which appear to be expansion of the supply of money and credit thru the federal reserve system, loans to state and local governments to finance pub-

Fair Enough... Death Of Union Business Agent Probably Will Not Be Solved

By WESTBROOK FEGLER (Copyright, 1954, King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

NEW YORK — The Criminal Labor in Las Vegas, Nev., produced a murder a couple of weeks ago which should be a shocking incident but may be filed away as a routine matter.

James Hartley, business agent of the Sheet Metal Workers' Union, Local 45, was found dead on March 1 in the conventional "shallow grave" of the wire services, in Paradise Valley, near a farm owned by Ralph Howard Alsup, a master-criminal with a long record in the Carson prison who was for some years president of the Clark County Federation of Labor and vice-president of the Nevada State Federation.

Nobody familiar with Alsup's career would doubt his willingness to murder in view of his past performances with guns, including the wanton shooting of one unarmed and inoffensive union painter who was naively demanding his "rights." However, there is no reason to suspect that Alsup killed Hartley. The job might have been done by any of a large number of persons for a great variety of reasons. An employer might have knocked him down if he were a union member. Many of the employing contractors in that area, where union exhortation on "defense projects" is a major item of commerce, are no less crooked and brutal than the unionists. The man who worked might have done it. But speculation is idle.

Sheldon De Witt Rich, who recently took Hartley's place as business agent of the Las Vegas local of the sheet metal workers, has been held in the Clark County jail while Bill Peyton, the chief deputy sheriff, investigates. There has been a shortage in accounts of the local. Some of the unionists say it is a small matter of $5,000 which might have occurred when an honest trustee reached into his official pocket instead of his personal one during an evening of craps or faro. The sheriff says the shortage may amount to $30,000.

Tom Hanley, the estranged estrang of the metal workers in Los Angeles, but formerly of Las Vegas, recently was relieved of his official duties in Los Angeles by order of the grand headquarters of the union in Washington. Hanley has been business agent in Las Vegas for some years but was "kicked upstairs" into Los Angeles job when Alsup and AF of L generally in Nevada caused a great ruckus a few years ago. The matter consisted of the re-election of Alsup, the gunman, to all his high offices, including that of business agent of the Plumbers' Union for Clark County, even while he was under indictment for shooting the football player away behind the clock on the mantle of Mr. Durkin's office. President Eisenhower later picked Durkin for secretary of Labor and Durkin presently called him a lying double-crossing at the St. Louis convention of the AF of L, and resigned.

After Mr. Hanley was relieved in Los Angeles he remarked that Hartley was talking too much about socialism, such as the unfortunate discrepancy between the book-figures and the amount of dough in the damper of the Clark County local. There were reports of a shakedown by officials of the metal workers' plant being built by Morrison-Knudsen, contractors, from Minnesota. The dump is part of a great "top-secret" bomb and guided missile undertaking. Rich, the man being detained in the jail, was steward of the construction job at the dump, with from 700 to 1,000 workers under his jurisdiction. Their average pay is about $2.50 an hour. Two years ago Hanley demanded $40,000 subsistence for construction employees in addition to pay of from $400 to $650 a week. These were typical of built-in costs which run up the price of the slum and slums. During Alsup's reign, by authority of his temperamental gun which was often brandished and not infrequently fired, Hanley was secretary of Clark County Building Trades and Construction Council of the American Federation of Labor.

Alsup had a long spell of wife trouble and at one stage the wives of union plumbers and other handiworkmen were invited to run their homes and do for the children. The husbands were socked with assessments to pay for Alsup's defense and appeals in the shooting case and other obviously fair and normal expenses of his office. If they didn't kick in, they didn't get work. The most important plumbing contractors and suppliers were on Alsup's side so they kicked in. This marriage was terminated by divorce and Alsup married a lady whom he had met in his selfless struggles for the Common Man of the Labor Movement.

It is a pleasant duty to report that a reliable informant has told me that brother Alsup has neither shot nor threatened nor shaken anyone down lately, as far as he knows, and seems to be leading a sedate and orderly life. He still constructs, and advances out of the treasury to state unemployment funds which are hard pressed.

The CED seems to have reviewed all the steps taken by the New Deal to bring about business recovery in the 1930s and concluded they were the right ones to head off economic adversity. The CED forgets that these remedies failed utterly in bringing back good times.

Epsilon Sigma Alpha Reviews 7 Years In Pampa In Preparation For Rush Week

April is rush month for the Epsilon Sigma Alpha sorority in Pampa and members have been reviewing their aims and ideals, accomplishments and future hopes for their own benefits as well as that of prospective members. Part of the fun and instruction planned for rush month is an informal breakfast under the direction of Mrs. O. J. Payne to be held in the near future.

A Lorene Mitchell and Bruce Parker will direct a model meeting and program this Thursday. Mrs. Florence Reek will be in charge of a mad hatters party the 22nd of this month when members will create and wear bonnets of any material at hand. The season will be climaxed by a presentation dance April 30, with Mrs. Nora Pulps heading the planning committee.

One of the foremost women's organizations in the nation with chapters in 45 of the 48 states and members throughout the world, 25 thousand members wear the red and white sashes of Epsilon Sigma Alpha. The stated purpose of the educational and social organization at the time of the installation of the first chapter in Jacksonville, Tex., in 1929 was "to achieve an ideal of sisterhood achieved through the close association of young women, studying together to develop qualities of graciousness, self-expression and leadership and to put those abilities to service for the good of the community and the nation.

The local chapter was organized in 1946 with Mrs. O. J. Payne, president; Mrs. Bruce Parker, recording secretary; Mrs. Rose Givens, corresponding secretary and Mrs. Herman Foster, treasurer. Other members were Mrs. Margaret Dial, Mary Lane, Mrs. Guy LeMond, Mrs. Parks Brumley, Mrs. Bill Ragdale, Mrs. Tom Lindsey, Mrs. Charles Wars, Mrs. Burton Doucette, Mrs. Lillian Benedict and Helen Jo Johnson.

Two meetings are held each month on the second and fourth Thursdays. The emphasis is on fun for the first meeting and on an organized study plan and attention to benevolent activities for the second.

This year the sorority will hold its seventh annual style show which is a highlight of Pampa's fall social activities. In the past few years the proceeds have been used for a special enterprise.

In 1951 the sorority bought an audiometer to be used by the public schools and in 1952 a sight screener was purchased and presented to the schools of Gray county. Last year, through the efforts of the club, Carver School was equipped with athletic equipment.

The club flower is the jonquil which is also the name of the group's international fraternal magazine through which members may exchange ideas with other members all over the world.

ESA members include Meses Bert Arney, Parks Brumley, Albert Doucette, Burton Doucette, Herman Foster, Norman Pulps, Gwen Gray, Guy LeMond, Tom Lindsey, Lorene Mitchell, John Nutting, O. J. Payne.

National Secretary Of Women's Work To Be Guest Speaker At Presbyterial

Miss Elsie Penfield, secretary of the Department of Women's Work of the Board of National Missions of the Presbyterian Church, will speak Thursday morning at 10 o'clock at the opening meeting of the Amarillo Presbyterial in the Educational building of the First Presbyterian Church in Pampa. The meeting will be preceded by a coffee and followed by a luncheon in Fellowship Hall.

She came to this work in autumn of 1949 from experience on two college campuses. After her own graduation from the University of Kansas, and taking her Master's degree, Miss Penfield became director of Social Education and Social Activities at Syracuse University in New York State. From that position she went to Waukesha, Wis., to become Dean of Women at Carroll College. It was partly her experiences with college-age youth, in wartime and peacetime both, that made her ready to enter a field of service that is so closely related to family and home life as is the Department of Women's work. Here she is in contact with the leaders of women's groups throughout the country, and links them to the nation-wide work of National Missions with its task of helping to make America Christian.

Horses To Perform Square Dances At Dallas Festival

Speakers and square dancers converging on Dallas for the National Square Dance Festival April 8, 9 and 10 are in for some unusual entertainment besides square dancing. One of the highlights of entertainment scheduled will be the Honey Grove Mounted Square Dancers of Honey Grove, Tex., who will be included in the three hour long Parade of States scheduled for downtown Dallas, Saturday, at 10 a.m., April 10. The square dancing will be featured at the Live Stock Arena, Fair park, among other events at 2 p.m. after the parade.

Honey Grove Mounted Square Dancers are directed by Mrs. Martha Bybee, who is the 1952 National Champion women square dance caller. Mrs. Bybee is the only caller the AAUW, shared in leadership training of church groups, and done her part in the week-in, week-out work and worship of her own church in Waukesha, before moving to New York. She has visited Cuba and several mission areas in the Southwest. Cheerful, friendly, and competent, Miss Penfield is excellent as speaker, administrator, and church leader.

In neither the Dean's office nor a Board administrator's office does Miss Penfield shut herself out from the ordinary run of community affairs and daily problems. She has been active in the League of Women Voters, the Business and Professional Women's Club, state chairman for Wisconsin of the Status of Women Committee under the AAUW, shared in leadership training of church groups, and done her part in the week-in, week-out work and worship of her own church in Waukesha, before moving to New York. She has visited Cuba and several mission areas in the Southwest. Cheerful, friendly, and competent, Miss Penfield is excellent as speaker, administrator, and church leader.

Piano Pupils Have Workshop Party

A group of the younger pupils of Mrs. H. A. Yoder met in the home of Mrs. Emmett Forrester recently for one of the usual workshop parties. Mrs. J. C. McWilliams assisted as co-hostess. Before the program began Mrs. Yoder announced that the National Piano Auditions would be held here in the First Methodist Church on April 18 to May 1. Judge for this year's Auditions will be Mr. William O'Toole, composer and teacher, and director of the Trenton Conservatory of Music, Trenton, N.J. Pampa is one of the 400 cities in the United States in which these Auditions are held annually.

GRACE FRIEND

Dear Grace Friend:

I read your article every night and think you give great advice. Here is my problem. I've been going out with a boy for two months and think a lot of him.

At a recent party he met my girl friend. She became very friendly with him and he took her out.

Well, I found about it. Meantime, his best boy friend had been coming over quite a lot. He asked me to go out with him after my girl friend had been going out with my boy friend.

I did, just once. Then he started spreading things about me, and told my boy friend that they weren't true — which they aren't. Now my boy friend believes they are. I have told him differently, but he chooses to believe his boy friend, because he has known him so long.

I wonder if you could advise me on what I should do to get everything straightened out.

We see each other almost every day, and are still speaking. But I believe that if I knew what to do I could make the first step. I do believe it was my fault.

I will try to follow your advice. Hoping that other girls which have the same problem could follow, too.

Thank You,
Desperate.

I both my head about a boy so willing to think such rumors are true. If his opinion of you is slight that it is affected by the slightest gossip it cannot be based on the kind of respect which would lead to a very happy friendship for you two.

Try to forget about him and also about the boy who would talk about you in such a way. Neither is worth the slightest consideration.

Straighten the matter out by dropping both boys and dating boys who are courteous and have enough sense of honor not to lie about the girls they date.

INVOITATIONS
Dear Miss Friend
I and a friend are planning to give a luncheon in a month or two.

We want to know how far ahead it is correct to send out the invitations.

Oilers Prepare For Clovis In Next Exhibition Tilt

Face Gassers Here Friday In Next Home Game

The Pampa Oilers will resume their spring exhibition slate tomorrow night when they take on the Clovis Pioneers at Clovis.

It will be the second outing for the Oilers who dropped a 10-3 decision to Amarillo in their only start to date.

Manager Doug Lewis is expected to go with three hurlers in tomorrow night's game at Clovis, each going three innings. Jack Hanson, Roland Rodriguez and Ike Rios are due to divide the pitching chores tomorrow.

The remainder of Oiler lineup will be just about the same as one that took the field against Amarillo. Joe Mangrove will be behind the plate but he may divide the backstop duties with Mouse Calzada who reported in Sunday.

Lewis will be at first base; Karl Heron at second; Curtis Haraway at third; Gene Hausman at short; Tom Smith in left field; Eddie Daniels in center and Mutt Allen in right.

Plenty of batting occupied most of the time in yesterday's workout at Oiler Park. The Oilers came up with only four hits against Amarillo.

The Gold Sox used their top three hurlers against the Oilers including their ace, Eddie Locke, but Lewis still wasn't satisfied with the Oiler hitting and he spent most of Wednesday's workout stressing hitting.

After tomorrow's game at Clovis, the Oilers will go to Borger Thursday night and then return home Friday night to meet the Gassers in an 8:15 contest. The Lewismen will go to Amarillo Sunday in a return game.

The complete Oiler spring slate is as follows:

April 7 — at Clovis.
April 8 — at Borger.
April 9 — at Borger, here.
April 11 — at Amarillo.
April 13 — Lubbock, here.
April 14-17 — Clovis, here.
April 18 — Oilers vs. Ex-Pro in Little League benefit game.

PBV Predicts Harvesters Will Crash Win Column Today Against Bulldogs

WE'RE PREDICTING THAT the Harvesters baseballers will crash the win column today at Oiler Park. Coach Deck Woidt's charges were to have met the Bulldogs in a non-district tilt, starting at 3:30.

We were very well pleased with the showing of the Harvesters in their game last Friday against Borger. Although the Green and Golds came out on the short end of a 2-0 score.

The team showed more form, especially in the pitching and fielding departments, than they have shown the past two years.

And the potential batting ability of the Harvesters is good. As soon as the boys get to where they can relax at the plate, they'll start hammering that apple more. Their main weakness in batting, as we have noted, is that they tighten up at the plate.

However, they're improving in this phase all along. They should be pretty well settled down by Saturday when they open their District 1-AA slate against Plainview in a doubleheader at Oiler Park.

Our guess on today's game is Harvesters 6, Borger 3.

The eight Little League managers will stress fundamentals in most of the tryout sessions. These eight skippers, all ex-professionals, will be looking over prospects during this time and will make note of them for the player auction to be held following the tryouts.

The Little League managers are as follows:

Eastern League
Oz Engle (Tom Rose Ford),
Bill Ridgway (Cabot),
Lloyd Summers (Daily Spokesman).

Foster White (Sportsman's Store)

Western League
Max Melberg (Utility Oil and Supply),

I. L. Timms (C. E. Hoffman Oil Co.),
George Payte (Your Laundry and Dry Cleaners).

Two teams were switched from the previous arrangements announced. Cabot was transferred to the Eastern League with Your Laundry being moved to the Western League.

After Beating Cards Castoff To Stick With White Sox

By MILTON RICHMAN
United Press Sports Writer

Don Johnson, a pitching flop with the Yankees, Browns and Senators, is with the White Sox merely "on a look," but Manager Paul Richards says he has seen enough already to convince him that the cocky youngster will be a consistent winner for Chicago this year.

"Johnson is a changed pitcher from the fellow who used to try to fog the ball, pass every hitter," Richards said. "He's pitched his good ball and he's a much smarter pitcher than he used to be."

"As a matter of fact, he hasn't had one bad outing this spring. He certainly has learned a lot about pitching since Washington sent him to the Indians two years ago."

The 27-year-old, happy-go-lucky Johnson, whose trial period with the White Sox expires when the American League season opens next week, became a pinch hitter Monday when he yielded only four hits in eight innings to beat the St. Louis Cardinals 6 to 2 at St. Antonio.

Johnson Goes Eight
Johnson, who posted a 15-12 record with Toronto of the International League last year, struck out three Cardinals batters while pitching the White Sox to a 5-1 triumph in a doubleheader at St. Louis.

Johnson went on to pitch the first Chicago hurler to go eight innings this spring. He had a shutout until the sixth when Rip Repulski led off with a homer.

Little League Shantz of the Athletics also turned in a fine effort at Mobile, Ala., limiting the Pirates to three hits but unfortunately for him one of those hits was Frank Thomas' ninth homer of the season, enough to give Pittsburgh a 1-0 decision. Rookie Bob Purkey went the distance for the Pirates and gave up six hits.

Detroit rapped Robin Roberts to six hits and five runs to beat the Phillies 8 to 2 with Ray Herbert being credited with the victory and the Tigers turning in a third inning triple play.

Johnny Klippstein, in his best appearance of the spring, held the Orioles to one run and two hits in a 2-1 triumph at New Orleans. Ertz hit was the only one allowed by Klippstein during his seven inning stint on the mound. Joe Coleman was the loser.

Baby Filly Doing Fine
OCEANPORT, N. J., April 6—UP—The baby filly who surprised the racing world by surviving although she weighed only 15 pounds at birth, continued to show progress at Woodland Farm Tuesday, and farm manager Ed Feakes said "only bad luck can keep her from living now." The nine-day old filly may even develop into a race horse, said Feakes, but I would have to bet against it."

In Grapefruit Play Bums Even 8-Game Series With Braves

RICHMOND, Va., April 6—UP—Manager Walt Alton announced Tuesday that Carl Erskine, a 20-year-old veteran outfielder, probably will pitch the opening game for the Brooklyn Dodgers when they face the New York Giants at the Polo Grounds, April 13.

Big Don Newcombe, the returning GI who won 20 games in 1951 before leaving for the Army, will pitch the second game of the series which will be played at night at the Polo Grounds.

"Since I have my choice, I'd rather pitch Newcombe under the lights," Alton said.

Three hits by Jackie Robinson and the smooth seven-hit pitcher of the Brooklyn Dodgers, Jim Hughes and Ery Palica, helped the Dodgers to a 6 to 0 triumph over Milwaukee at Chattanooga, Tenn., Monday. It marked Brooklyn's fourth victory over the Braves this spring and gave them an even split in the series.

"I'm glad to see Jackie Robinson and the Dodgers get going again," said Alton.

LYNCHBURG, Va., April 6—UP—The Cincinnati Redlegs trimmed three players from their squad Tuesday, optioning outfielder Bob Hazle to Indianapolis, releasing pitcher Jack Crimian to Toronto, and sending pitcher John Stewart to Tulsa.

Cincinnati, which meets Washington here again Tuesday, defeated the Senators 9 to 4 at Winston-Salem, N.C., Lloyd Merriman hit two homers for the Redlegs while teammates Ted Kluszewski, Wally Post and Jim Greengrass each hit one as did Erv Palica and Roy Sievers of Washington.

SHREVEPORT, April 6—UP—Don Johnson, who failed to make the grade with the Yankees, Senators and Browns, appeared Tuesday to have clinched a pitching berth with the White Sox.

Johnson became the first pitcher on the White Sox to go eight innings this spring Monday when he held the Cardinals to four hits during that stretch and paced Chicago to a 6 to 2 triumph. It marked the White Sox third straight victory over the Cardinals.

HATTIESBURG, Miss., April 6—UP—Right-hander Johnny Klippstein drew warm praise Tuesday from Stan Hack, the Chicago Cubs new manager, for his fine pitching against the Baltimore Orioles Monday.

Klippstein buried no-hit ball for six innings against the Orioles until Vic Wertz opened the seventh with a single. It was the only hit Klippstein allowed during his seven inning stint as the Cubs won 2 to 0 at Hattiesburg, and the shutout marked Baltimore's first of the spring.

Jim Hegan's three-run homer against John (Windy) McCall in the ninth gave the Indians a 10 to 8 triumph over the Cincinnati Reds at Shreveport, while Harry Byrd and Johnny Sain combined to pitch the Yankees to a 12 to 3 victory over the Charlotte Hornets of the South Atlantic League.

Memphis of the Southern Association rallied for three runs in the seventh inning off Hector (Skinny) Brown to beat the Boston Red Sox 6 to 4.

The clubs continued pruning their rosters, Pittsburgh optioning pitchers Elroy Fack, Bob Schultz and Larry LaSalle and third baseman George Freese, who had batted .317 this spring, to New Orleans of the Southern Association.

Question: Player chases a foul pop near the dugout, grabs it, then his momentum carries him down into the dugout. However, he does not fall, merely steps down. Are base-runners entitled to one base on this?

Answer: Not automatically. If they go, they are on their own. The base is automatic only if the fielder falls into the dugout.

Q. Is there any ruling on how late a night game may end?

A. The American League has a ruling this year which states that no inning of any night game can be started after 11:36 a.m.

Q. Do home clubs have to gain the permission of the visiting team when scheduling a night game?

A. No, only if the game is on "getaway day" of a series. No day will be scheduled on this day if the traveling club has a game scheduled for the next day.

'Tiger' Jones In Easy Win; Challenges Champ Gavilan

BROOKLYN, N. Y., April 6—UP—Rugged Ralph (Tiger) Jones came away from his latest comeback victory Tuesday holiering for another shot at welterweight champion Kid Gavilan.

The world's fourth-ranked middleweight contender from Yonkers, N.Y., hammered his way to a unanimous 10-round decision over rugged but inept Billy McNeene Monday night in a widely-televised and broadcast bout at Eastern Parkway Arena.

It was the Jones boy's second straight triumph since he returned to the ring ways a month ago. He injured his right hand in dropping a 10-round decision to Gavilan in a non-title bout last August, treated for seven months, and then launched his comeback with a sensational 10th round knockout over Bobby Dykes at the Parkway last month.

"Now Gavilan knows how it is to fight with one hand," Jones pointed out, alluding to the Kead's abortive attempt to claim Bobo Olson's middleweight crown last week. "I had to fight Gavilan with one hand for five rounds in our fight last year, but now I'd like another shot at him with two good hands."

Jones never looked stronger against McNeene, gaining a wide margin on the score cards of all three officials, although he failed to floor his young opponent from Central Islip, N.Y.

Referee Barney Felix awarded Jones six rounds, gave three to McNeene and called one even, while Judge Joe Eppy turned in a 7-3 card. Judge Artie Aidala favored the Yonkers Negro, 8-2, matching the United Press scorecard.

McNeene, a 22-year-old former Army paratrooper, suffered a cut on his left brow in the second round and it bled profusely the rest of the way.

Rain May Slow PCL Openers Today; Stars Flag Favorite

SAN FRANCISCO, April 6—UP—They're off and running in the 32nd renewal of the Pacific Coast League Tuesday—but it looks as though the form chart will have to be made for a muddy track.

I don't know just how the athletes shape up as "mudders," but they have had plenty of practice in the goo this spring. Particularly the teams from Sacramento, Oakland and San Francisco, they trained in the Monterey Bay area and got caught in the unseasonal late winter wet.

On the assumption that it finally will quit raining and the PCL clubs will be able to play a full schedule, here are my nominations for the 1954 campaign:

The finish: 1—Hollywood; 2—San Diego; 3—Los Angeles; 4—Oakland; 5—Seattle; 6—Portland; 7—San Francisco; 8—Sacramento.

Actually, it is a little bit sillier than usual making selections in the PCL this year, because most of the teams are just sitting back waiting for the major league cut-downs to get players on option.

Some of the men holding down regular positions for the opening week may be as far away as the Class D Sooner State League by the first of June. By that time the

Rickey's Faith In Alston Saved Dodger Pilot In 1944

(Fifth of six articles written for NEA Service by WALTER ALSTON, manager of Dodgers, as told to Harry Grayson, NEA Sports Editor.)

VERO BEACH, Fla., (NEA) — The low point of my life had to be the time I was released outright by the Rochester Red Wings with two-thirds of the 1944 season gone. All I had to show for 10 years of baseball was a bad knee and no job.

My first thought was of the man who put me in organized baseball in the first place, Branch Rickey. He had moved from St. Louis to Brooklyn.

I walked past the Western Union office, then backtracked to it and wrote the telegram which most certainly marks the turning point of my life.

It read: "Would like to start managing again. Have you an opportunity?"

Brooklyn had a working agreement with Trenton, N. J., of the Class B Interstate League. The club was in last place, July 27, and in poor shape. Rickey sent me there as playing manager.

My knee came around quicker than I expected, and I hit nine home runs and batted .348 in 82 games. The club caught fire and finished second.

Trenton fans gave me an appreciation night. I got $75, a $50 war bond, a $15 gift certificate and a batch of assorted stuff, including two pairs of pants worth $12.60 each, a sports coat, a pair of $11.45 shoes, a hat, free dinners, 72 cakes of soap, a set of china, pie plates, 10 haircuts and shaves, two photo albums, a console set and three boxes of shotgun shells.

That was when I definitely made up my mind that managing was for me.

I managed Trenton another year and was assigned to Nashua of the Class B New England League, where I was the first manager in organized baseball of the greatest of Negro ballplayers, Don Newcombe and Roy Campanella.

When I was tossed out of the game one night in Lawrence, Mass. for arguing too strenuously with an umpire, I put Campanella in charge of the club. When Roy needed a pinch hitter with the score tied in the ninth inning, he called on Newcombe and Don hit the ball over the center field fence.

Newcombe had the same tremendous speed that he has now, but no curve to speak of and, like practically all young fireballers,

Cardinals, popped up near first base and rammed into me as I was about to catch the ball. The first thing that hit the ground was my head. Then I was up and climbing all over Yarns, looking back. I realized that Sal was just acting the part of an aggressive ballplayer.

The fact remains, however, that my back bothered me from then on, which is why I retired as a player at 37 after helping Pueblo, Colo., of the Class A Western League win the playoffs in 1947.

Teacher Pay Raise, Revenue Bill On Legislature Agenda

AUSTIN, April 6—The Texas House takes up again Tuesday Gov. Allan Shivers' proposal to give Texas school teachers a 400-year raise, with the Senate tackling the $30 million tax increase needed to pay for that plus a hike in state employees' wages.

Administration floor leaders in both chambers were fighting against time — and opposition amendments that would eat up the program — since the 30-day special session must adjourn a week from Tuesday night, on April 15.

The Senate's State Affairs committee, making on major change in the administration tax bill, voted it out unanimously, but opponents of various features of the three-part revenue raising measure promised a floor fight against the administration to get their way.

Stronger in House
The House, where the Shivers' forces had a clear majority, defeated two proposals to change the teacher pay plan as it came from Shivers.

One by Rep. Barefoot Sanders of Dallas, rejected 50 to 32, would have eliminated a proposed change in the formula of state aid. Local districts now pay a total of $45 million a year, and the administration bill would change that to 20 per cent of the total cost, with the state paying the remaining 80 per cent.

The other amendment was by Rep. Charles Murphy, Houston, in the form of a substitute for the entire bill. He lost, 121 to 21, on a move to give local districts power to allocate merit raises averaging $400 a year.

Shivers attacked the Murphy bill as a "cleverly conceived smoke screen" to defeat the administration program, but Murphy said the governor was "grossly misadvised."

Would Reduce Levy
Sen. A. M. Alkin Jr. of Paris successfully proposed that gas production be taxed at the 5.08 per cent figure only for the first year, with the tax dropping to 3.06 per cent the second and to 7.06 per cent for the third and succeeding years.

He said the historical trend of rising gas prices and increased production would mean a constant additional revenue of $24 million annually from the tax increase.

The Senate committee last Friday deleted a 10 per cent tax on trading stamps that had been inserted in the administration bill by the House.

The House was in a position, once it completes action on the teacher pay question, to take up immediately the other portions of the governor's spending program — a $120 million raise for state employees and an $11 million emergency construction program.

The total bill for the special session — if it passes Shivers' program as he recommended it — was estimated at $37 million. But only $28 million in new taxes was needed, since the governor indicated an expected $12 million surplus in the state treasury could be used for the emergency building at the Southwestern Medical School, Dallas; University of Texas Dental Branch, Houston; Eastham Prison Farm, and the State School for the Deaf, Austin.

Other developments yesterday in and about Duval county included two injunctions which Broadfoot issued against misuse of public funds by county officers and a speech by Attorney General John Ben Shepperd on what the state's six-week probe had accomplished and why it was made.

Broadfoot also received a 28-page motion from attorneys for the Duval county jury commission and jurors whom he dismissed. They asked for reinstatement.

Was Comment
Broadfoot refused to comment on the commissioners' move, but indicated that Thomas was the auditor although the office was "abolished." He said Thomas had 15 years experience and was quitting after four years as Brown county auditor to do his "patriotic duty."

Broadfoot himself is an outsider in the Duke of Duval's hailiwick, having been appointed as temporary district judge by the Texas Supreme Court after it ousted C. Woodrow Laughlin from the bench for showing partiality in his official acts. Broadfoot, a retired judge, is from Bonham.

Broadfoot held hearings on three suits brought by taxpayers against county officials. One of the injunctions restrained officers from making illegal transfers of funds from one statutory fund to another, and the second forbids officers of the San Diego school district from making illegal payments.

In the third hearing, on a suit alleging officials had made illegal salary advances to county employees, defense attorney Manual Raymond said the practice had been stopped, and the taxpayers' attorneys agreed. The suit was passed for the present.

Broadfoot said he didn't know how soon he would be able to rule on the jury commissioners and jurors' request for reinstatement. The grand jury normally would have been empaneled yesterday, first day of the April term of court, but the judge said he could legally name a jury panel any time during the term.

One of the 10 reasons he cited for dismissal of the officials was that the grand jury panel was so closely connected to county officials it would be impossible for the jurors to act fairly and impartially.

Shepperd, who directed the first phase of the investigation in Duval county, spoke at a service club dinner in San Marcos. He said there was a "new look" as the result of the probe, and the Duval citizens are "not afraid any more."

"A great change has come over the county in the six weeks since our investigations and findings were first made public.

No More Fear
"I believe violence has been stopped," Shepperd said. "The people are not afraid any more. The county has a new look."

Water Issue
Tops Election
WICHITA FALLS, Tex., April 6—Wichita Falls voters will select a new mayor and three aldermen in a municipal election Tuesday, but most interest centered on a referendum to end fluoridation of the city's water supply.

Mayor Kindel Paulk was not a candidate for re-election, and R.P. Willis, Lloyd Thomas, K. C. Stel and Ervin L. Wahl were in the mayoralty race.

There has been considerable controversy over fluoridation of the water, in an effort to decrease tooth decay, since it was begun in 1951.

DUVAL COUNTY ABOLISHES COUNTY AUDITOR POSITION
SAN DIEGO, Tex., April 6—UP—The Duval county commissioners, apparently in no mood to let about the bloc voting in Duval county during the last 40 years "began to fade when conditions in the 'free state of Duval' began to cost human lives and affect national elections, and when evidence of the misappropriation of public funds began to pile up."

The attorney general said Texas' "smiles of amused tolerance" during the bloc voting in Duval county during the last 40 years "began to fade when conditions in the 'free state of Duval' began to cost human lives and affect national elections, and when evidence of the misappropriation of public funds began to pile up."

"The situation in Duval county has finally been recognized for what it is," Shepperd told the San Marcos Rotarians. "a hotbed of political and economic despotism, moral degradation and fear."

He said the state had a right to intervene because "there was no local government under the constitutional laws of this state."

"There was no ulterior motive, nothing in the closet and nothing under the bed," Shepperd said. "The people of Duval county have the right not to be afraid."

He cited the "filling of six taxpayers' suits as an example of the new lack of fear, and the formation of new anti-Parr organization such as the United Mothers of Duval County."

New Jobs for Texans

Texas industries have been providing new jobs for Texans at the rate of about 70,000 a year. That's about 200 new jobs every day.

All kinds of jobs... in offices, on construction work, in manufacturing plants, in the development of the natural resources of the State. Jobs for riggers, for secretaries, for engineers, for truck drivers, for accountants, for lawyers, for crane operators, for decorators, for sailors... all kinds of jobs.

And the reason why these new jobs have been, and continue to be available is this: Texas industry is expanding, and industry makes jobs.

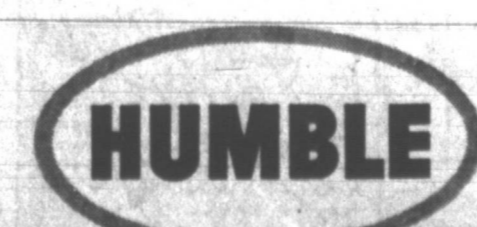

On the average, each new job created in Texas requires the investment of $12,000 capital*. Thus, Texas industry invests over three-quarters of a billion dollars each year in new plants and in plant expansion to create 70,000 new Texas jobs.

Much of this annual investment in new jobs for Texans is made by the oil industry itself and industries which depend on oil and natural gas for fuel and raw materials. Every year a wider variety of industries put to profitable use a larger number of the resources of the State, and call on a broader assortment of available Texas skills.

Forecasters predict an even greater industrial development in Texas, and an even larger number of new jobs, as more industries recognize the advantages that Texas offers: good markets, raw and manufactured resources, trustworthy and dependable people, efficient and abundant fuel, a mild climate, and a good state government... In that list of advantages, the Texas oil industry provides raw materials for processing, and the world's finest industrial fuel—natural gas.

*In the oil industry, the required investment for each new job is over $50,000.

McCarthy Settles Tax Dispute

GALVESTON, April 6—UP—Glenn McCarthy and his wife, Faustine, settled a $200,000 tax suit with the government Monday for $88,882.33.

The government charged that when Mr. and Mrs. McCarthy transferred their assets to a corporation in 1947 it was a taxable transaction and the McCarthy's should have paid $200,000 in taxes.

The suit, pending in federal tax court for two years, was settled with McCarthy paying $8,433.37 and his wife $88,449.01.

In another case, a $246,681 suit between the government and R.A. Josie, Inc., was settled for $110,305.30. The government charged the Josie corporation built up an unreasonable surplus during 1945 through 1948.

A government suit for $523,812.49 involving the Lichtenstein Department Store of Corpus Christi was scheduled to come up Tuesday, but observers said it probably will also be settled.

The suit against Morris L. Lichtenstein, Selma L. Levy, Annie Lichtenstein and Albert W. Lichtenstein, involves taxes for 1945, 1947 and 1949.

Baby's third year is a fascinating one, if a bit exhausting for you. It's the age of doing. He runs, jumps, climbs; he molds clay, builds blocks, draws with crayons. And he will help to dress himself, delighting in learning how to use buttons and taking pride in his neatness. He will eat without many accidents, too, and will drink from a cup with enthusiasm.

"PEACE" HORSE — President Eisenhower admires a bronze model of the 18-foot statue called "Peace" which Yugoslavia will present to the UN. Presenting the model to Eisenhower is Vladimir Popovic, left, Yugoslavian ambassador, who paid a farewell visit to the White House before returning to his country.

Nella Lloyd, rear, who'll be 100 next year, and her sister, Leticia Shumway, 101, of Westminister, Mass., believe they're the only sisters in the U. S. whose combined ages total 200 years.
