Ministers Busy On Eve Of Conference

PARIS, April 24—UP—The Big Three foreign ministers and other Allied leaders held urgent, last-minute conferences here Saturday on Western strategy on the Geneva Asiatic peace talks.

U. S. Secretary of State John Foster Dulles conferred for 85 minutes with British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden and French Foreign Minister Georges Bidault on procedural problems and the status of Red China at Geneva.

After the talks Dulles paid an unscheduled visit on French Premier Joseph Laniel, who personally briefed him on the precarious French position in Indo-China.

Eden also changed his plans and flew back to London for consultations with Prime Minister Winston Churchill on the position on the eve of the Geneva Conference.

Geneva Delegates Set To Go

Russ Demand May Wreck Talks Before They Start

GENEVA, April 24—UP—Russia renewed her demand Saturday night that Red China be treated as a big power at the Asiatic peace conference.

The issue threatened to wreck next week's talks before they opened because the West repeatedly has refused to accept Communist China as an equal at the conference.

The Soviet demand came as Communist and Western foreign ministers arrived here for the beginning of the talks.

The U. S. Secretary of State has flatly stated that under no circumstances will the U. S. agree to Red demands that Communist China be given big power treatment at the talks. He is reported to have warned that the U. S. delegation will walk out of the conference if the Chinese Reds are allowed to take the chair during the talks.

Molotov Speaks Up

In a formal statement issued shortly after he arrived here Saturday, Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov listed Red China as one of the great powers at the conference.

His statement coincided with a Russian reply, delivered to the western embassies in Moscow, to a Big Three note handed to the Soviet Friday again refusing to consider Red China as an "inviting power" at the Far East talks.

Contents of the Russian note, which Molotov revealed in his statement here.

"One cannot fail to note the important fact that his is the first time in the course of recent years that the representatives of all the great powers — France, Great Britain, the United States, the Peoples Republic of China and the Soviet Union — will take part in an international conference," Molotov's statement said.

"The soviet delegation to this conference will set itself the objective of contributing by all possible means to the creation by peaceful methods of a united, independent and democratic Korea. At the same time the Soviet delegation considers a particularly important task of the Geneva Conference to be the re-establishment in the shortest possible time of peace in Indo-China, while ensuring at the same time the freedom and the national rights of the peoples of Indo-China," Molotov said.

Area Scouters Win Man-Mile Award

To take top honors, the Council had a delegation of 25 adult scouters present, who were given credit for traveling a total of 16,800 miles. In second place, was Tulsa which had 27 delegates and was credited with 13,783 man miles.

In the Adobe Walls group, Pampa had 14 delegates who were flown to Houston in planes furnished by the Cabot company, Shamrock Oil and Gas company, and Halliburton Oilwell Cementing company. The delegation, which departed Friday, will return this afternoon.

500 Sign For Lawn Water Rates

An estimated 500 Pampans by noon Saturday had signed up for the lawn water rates in the city water office.

That is about one-half the number that signed up in 1953 according to Miss Ellen Keough, chief bookkeeper in charge of the water office.

The lawn rates apply only to residential accounts inside the city limits, Miss Keough emphasized, pointing out that there is no lawn rate for areas outside the city limits or for commercial accounts.

If the lawn rate is in effect now it remains that way until cancelled. To cancel, users must appear in the water office and sign a request for discontinuance. Customers can have the lawn rate both winter and summer if they choose.

Minimum for the lawn rate, Miss Keough explained, is $3.30 for 8,000 gallons. On the residential rate, the minimum is $1.65 for 3,000 gallons.

She sums it up this way: If a residential account uses as much as 6,800 gallons per month, the lawn rate is cheaper; if the consumption is less than 6,800 gallons, the residential rate is cheaper.

Eakin Wins Tractor Test

Jimmy Eakin, son of Mrs. L. P. Eakin, who lives southwest of Pampa, won the Gray county 4-H club representative in a tractor maintenance and driving contest at Pan-Tech farms, near Amarillo, on May 1.

Eakin won the right to represent Gray county by winning a similar contest at Recreation park Saturday morning, in which 14 other 4-H club boys participate.

By winning first place, young Eakin was awarded a tractor umbrella, donated by Maurer Machinery company. Other winners were Alvin Dauter, second, and Harold Studebaker, third.

Judges were Roland Dauer, Amos Harris and Don Bradford. Jerry Mobly, assistant county agent, was in charge of the contest.

Ike Winds Up Vacation In Georgia

AUGUSTA, Ga., April 24—UP—President Eisenhower will wind up his off-and-on Southern vacation Sunday and fly back to Washington and a heavy program of administration affairs.

The President takes off from Augusta for Washington Sunday at 5:30 p. m. (est.).

Saturday, the Chief Executive held work to a minimum and was out early on the Augusta National golf course in warm, sunny weather.

Only item of business reported at the vacation White House Saturday was signature of a proclamation designating Sept. 17 as Citizenship Day, marking the signing of the Constitution in 1787. Mr. Eisenhower asked special thought and consideration on that day to the rights, as well as the responsibilities of American citizens.

Press Secretary James C. Hagerty declined White House comment on the break in Russian-American diplomatic relations. He said the President hears daily from Secretary of State John Foster Dulles who is in Europe for international conferences, but that there is nothing out of routine about these daily reports.

The President faces a busy schedule back in Washington Monday. He has at least nine appointments, including one informal talk to the U. S. Chamber of Commerce convention meeting in Convention Hall.

Sometime during the day, he will sit with five southwestern governors and agriculture department officials meeting at the White House on drought and dustbowl problems. Monday night, the Chief Executive will have a dinner at the White House for governors of the states attending a special highway conference in Washington.

Three-Day Supply Of Ammo Remains

HANOI, Indo-China, April 24—UP—A French Union column pushed through the jungles Saturday night to within 32 miles of Dien Bien Phu where the embattled garrison was running low on ammunition.

The advancing French force was believed too small to break the siege on the encircled French fortress, but it appeared able to possibly relieve the pressure on Dien Bien Phu by slashing at the Communist rear.

An urgent appeal for supplies addressed to French headquarters here said the defenders of Dien Bien Phu had ammunition for only three more days of combat.

The column of French and Laotian troops reached the head in the Nam Ou River 32 miles to the southwest of Dien Bien Phu.

Red Weapons Confiscated

The force, led by Col. Jean De Crevecoeur, pushed northward through the jungles and mountains of Laos from the royal capital of Luang Prabang. In their drive, they reported confiscating large weapons and ammunition stocks cached by the Red 308th division in its abortive invasion of Laos this winter.

The French high command announced Communist pressure relentlessly building up on the north and northwestern flanks of the ground command post in Dien Bien Phu. Sources believed Red Gen. Vo Nguyen Giap would hurl his 40,000-man army into a supreme effort to overwhelm the gallant defenders before the opening of the Geneva Conference scheduled for Monday.

Clean-Up Moves To Ward Two

The sanitation department Monday begins the annual Pampa clean-up campaign in Ward Two.

Clean-up will be Monday through Wednesday in Ward Two and Thursday through Saturday in Ward One. Work not completed this week will be done the first of next week.

Ward Three was finished Friday, one day ahead of schedule. Three days have been set aside for each of the city's four wards. Ward Four took the full time, but Ward Three took only two days.

FHA Widens Probe Scope

WASHINGTON, April 24—UP—Sen. Frederick G. Payne (R-Mo.) said Saturday Senate housing scandal investigators should find out whether there has been "manipulation" of government loan appraisals of one-family homes.

Hearings by the Senate Banking committee, of which Payne is a member, have brought out charges that the Federal Housing Administration handed apartment house builders "windfall profits" totalling more than $500 million by insuring loans far in excess of construction costs.

Payne told a reporter there is a "possibility" that the same sort of thing has been happening on FHA-insured loans for individual homes. Such loans constitute the heart of the federal housing program. The FHA and the Veterans Administration together insured loans that financed about 40 percent of all new homes built in this country last year.

Monitored Phone Texts Subpoenaed

WASHINGTON, April 24—UP—Senate investigators issued subpoenas Saturday for texts of monitored telephone calls in the McCarthy-Army fight.

But Temporary Chairman Karl E. Mundt said the transcripts of the talks between the principals in the controversy do not constitute the hub of the whole investigation of Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy's feud with the military.

"We can establish the facts without the transcripts if lawyers believe they would destroy the legality of the hearings," Mundt told newsmen.

"We don't want to do anything that later would allow some lawyer to destroy the case."

The big televised public hearings were in recess until Monday, when Army Secretary Robert T. Stevens will return for more questioning.

Mundt (R-S. D.) said the Senate Permanent Investigating subcommittee has recruited the aid of outside lawyers as well as its own special staff to decide whether it would be legal to put the transcripts into the record.

So far, he said, the only clearly legal way to introduce the calls into the record is to get the consent of the principals. (See SUBPENSAS, Page 3)

NBC Halts Telecast

WASHINGTON, April 24—UP—The National Broadcasting Company disclosed Saturday it has decided to stop televising the Army-McCarthy hearings.

NBC said it will present filmed excerpts of the hearings each night next week but will no longer broadcast "live" TV coverage of the Senate investigating subcommittee's lengthy sessions.

NBC televised the hearings "live" on the first two days of the hearings.

The American Broadcasting Company here said it planned to continue live telecasts of the hearings, which will resume Monday morning.

Columbia Broadcasting System, which has not been televising the hearings, said it will continue its policy of presenting filmed excerpts for 45 minutes every evening.

One television news editor, who did not wish his name used, said "all those long wrangles among the lawyers" have made the hearings somewhat of a flop for TV.

Attorney Thinks 'Malicious' Persons Out To Ruin Rita

NEW YORK, April 24—UP—An attorney said Saturday he would demand public identification of the "malicious" persons who charged Rita Hayworth's two daughters were being neglected while she took a Florida vacation with her crooner husband, Dick Haymes.

Attorney J. Robert Bleakley of suburban White Plains said he would represent Miss Hayworth Tuesday at children's court hearing of charges that Rebecca, 9, and Yasmine, 4, were not receiving proper care.

Miss Hayworth and her fourth husband were speeding back to New York in a borrowed high-powered sports car to cope with this latest in a string of troubles. Her third husband and father of Yasmine, Prince Aly Khan, was about leaving the so-called reservation to fly here from California to help Miss Hayworth.

Orson Welles, Miss Hayworth's second husband and father of Rebecca, was out of the country and could not be reached.

Screen Star Weds Boston Socialite

NEW YORK, April 24—UP—Patricia Kennedy, daughter of millionaire Joseph P. Kennedy, married actor Peter Lawford Saturday in a wedding attended by 250 socialites and movie figures and 50 neighborhood housewives who slipped into church hours before the ceremony.

A crowd of more than 3,000 persons jammed the sidewalks outside and squealing bobby soxers mobbed the newlyweds when they left the church.

"I'm 'k' gorgeous," a girl shrieked as she and others pushed Lawford's bride aside to get closer to him.

The 30-year-old actor, one of Hollywood's most eligible bachelors until Saturday, smiled at his fans but determinedly piloted his bride into their car.

Mrs. America Is Missourian

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla., April 24—UP—Mrs. Wanda Jennings, 28 of St. Louis, Mo., a blue-eyed blonde, Saturday night was crowned "Mrs. America of 1955."

She won out over 49 other housewives from the United States and Canada for the grand prize of $15,000 worth of home products, a two-week vacation in Europe for herself and a two-week vacation for her family here at Ellinger Village.

Mrs. Jennings broke into tears when told she had won the title. Five other finalists on stage at the big ocean-side stadium had to support her and wipe the tears from her eyes as she was handed the robe and crown by Merrill Ellinger.

Her husband, Madison, a St. Louis chemist, stepped out of the audience, kissed her, and handed her his handkerchief.

Mrs. Jennings was asked to tell the audience what she thought of the honor but she was sobbing too hard to say more than, "Thank You, Thank You."

Earlier, Mrs. West Virginia won what might be considered the consolation prize.

Her husband was voted the "handsomest" by the contestants.

Flood May Hit Laredo

LAREDO, April 24—UP—Some flooding from the Rio Grande on both sides of Laredo appears likely within the next 24 hours, the Laredo weather bureau said Saturday.

It was big news in the Lower Rio Grande Valley and meant a tremendous storage of irrigation water would be available for use this spring.

The normally sluggish river that separates Mexico and the United States had been swollen by rains of early this week that measured up to five inches in West Texas.

No damage from the overflow was foreseen because the sections endangered are not inhabited.

John Hagan, chief forecaster at the Brownsville weather bureau, predicted between 110,000 and 140,000 acre feet will be added to the lake behind Falcon Dam.

Five boys and 38 girls from Pampa high school will compete today in the Pampa Junior Chamber of Commerce "road-e-o," its first safe-driving competition of its kind in Pampa.

Shoulder patches were issued to all contestants at Saturday afternoon's meeting; but, if there are any who did not get them, they will do so today, Sims said. A short briefing will be given before the competition gets underway.

Post For Boatner

SAN ANTONIO, April 24—UP—Fourth Army headquarters announced Saturday Maj. Gen. Hayden (Bull) Boatner, deputy Fourth Army commander, would leave for Washington Monday to join Gen. James Van Fleet's Far East fact-finding group.

Boatner gained fame during the Korean war when he halted a riot of Communist prisoners of war on Koje Island.

Rogers Criticizes U. S. Dole Of Money, Supplies To French

If American servicemen are sent to Indo-China, "it will not meet with the approval of Americans generally."

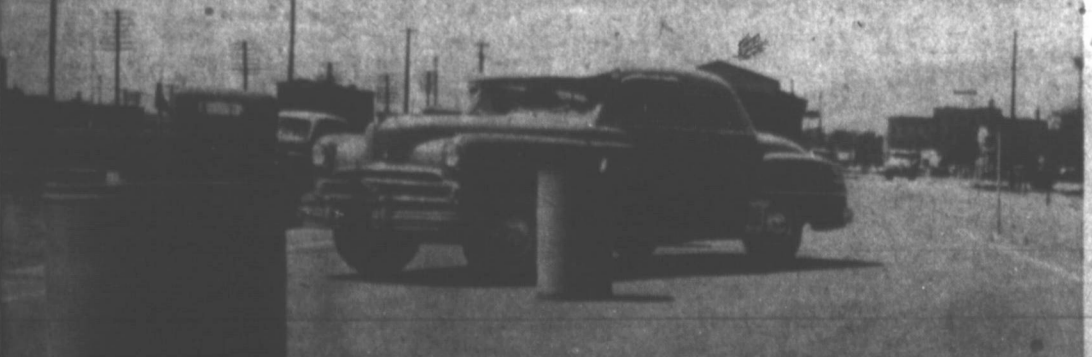

Rep. Walter Rogers, of Pampa, makes that statement in his new letter to the Top O' Texas area and, in addition, criticizes the French for wanting more money and supplies from the United States.

"The United States absorbed substantially all the cost of Korea and furnished a high percentage of outside manpower," Rogers points out. "John Q. Citizen will find it hard to understand why we are called upon to pay the freight, furnish the goods and the man-power for another war following on the heels of Korea."

Rogers recalls the time about a year ago when Washington received an urgent appeal from France for additional aid in the amount of $385 million to "increase the tempo of Communist resistance in the Indo-China war." And he remembers how at the time "we talked . . . about sending the so-called 'riot act' to France and saying, 'This is all. Show some results with this or don't ask us for further help.'"

But that approach was vetoed, the Pampan recalls, by Harold Stassen, foreign operations administrator, and John Foster Dulles, Secretary of State, on the ground that "a great power like France should not be subjected to such humiliating terms."

Estimating that the United States is paying for about three-quarters of the cost of the Indo-China war, Rogers says, "We begin to hear talk about American boys going in to save the day. Many feel that the softening-up process is working." (See ROGERS, Page 3)

DRIVING THE COURSE — Benny Waller, Pampa Junior Chamber of Commerce chairman of the committee to set up the "road-e-o" course, was trying it out Saturday afternoon in preparation for the event, at 2 p. m. Sunday on Atchison, between Starkweather and Gillespie. Sponsored by the JayCees, the "road-e-o" will feature 38 Pampa teen-agers and is designed to promote safe driving. (News Photo)

Oil Workers Merge With New Union

WASHINGTON, April 24—UP—O. A. Knight has called a special convention of his CIO Oil Workers International at Cleveland June 1 to ratify entry of the union into the new Oil and Chemical Workers International Union (I.O.C.W.U.). The new union was founded at the Philadelphia convention of oil workers in February. It is intended to bring into a cohesive bargaining unit 1 million oil and allied workers now distributed among scores of unions—CIO, AFL, and independent—but none strong enough individually to "talk turkey" to the giant petroleum industry. But Knight has denied emphatically that the O.C.W.U.'s objective is industry-wide bargaining. He and other members of the O.C.W.U. ratifying committee made that clear in a recent "statement of intentions."

13 Alpinists Found Dead

VIENNA, Austria, April 24—UP—Six students and three teachers of a party of 13 were found frozen to death Saturday on an Alpine mountainside. The bodies of the remaining four students were not found. The group disappeared April 15 during an Easter weekend vacation on Mt. Dachstein. There was little hope any would be found alive, but a force of more than 500 policemen and civilian volunteers swarmed over the mountainside for days while relatives of the missing climbers watched through binoculars from the valley below. The bodies of the three teachers, one a woman, were found huddled together under more than two feet of snow on the east slope of the mountain. The six boys were found later buried in a group about 150 feet away.

Lefors States New School Vole May 8

LEFORS — A new election has been called for May 8 on the Lefors bond issue, defeated in a previous vote. It will be held from 9 a.m. to 7 p.m. in Lefors elementary school. Action resulted from a petition signed by 48 persons requesting a new election. "We feel there was a failure to get the pertinent information to the public in the last election," advised Lefors School Superintendent Archie Roberts. The election will deal with a proposed $300,000 bond issue for repairs on Lefors schools. If passed, it would allow for a complete remodeling of the high school, and some work on the junior high school and elementary school, and for the building of a new structure to house a gymnasium, cafeteria, music room for band and choral groups, and a vocational education department. In the election, the voters will be deciding for or against the issuance of $300,000 worth of bonds against the district by the school board, and the setting of a tax rate at $1.50 per $100 property for the purpose of effecting the debt incurred by the bond issue.

sent of the parties on both ends of the wire. Pressure Charged
The calls in question are involved in the Army's charges that McCarthy, a regular Subcommittee Counselor Roy M. Cohn and Executive Director Francis P. Carr put pressure on the Army in trying to get a soft job for Pvt. G. David Schine, who used to be a subcommittee staff member himself until the draft got him. Army officials monitored some of these calls — had a third party listen in another phone and take notes in shorthand. Stevens testified Friday that his appointments secretary John J. Lucas Jr., did the shorthand work on a Stevens - McCarthy call on Nov. 7, 1953, in which the senator suggested we k e e n d passes for Schine "perhaps to take care of his girl friends."

R. C. Detrixhe Found Dead In Commission Creek

Funeral services for Robert C. Detrixhe, 80, of Higgins, found dead in Commission creek Saturday morning, will be held at 2:30 p.m. Monday in the Higgins Baptist church. It is believed that Mr. Detrixhe suffered a heart attack about 6:30 p.m. Friday while irrigating on his father's farm and fell from a high bank in to the creek. He apparently had stopped the irrigation machinery when pumping water just before the attack. The farm is situated 7 miles southeast of Higgins. Mr. Detrixhe had lived in Higgins since 1907 and graduated from high school there in 1928. Rev. James Bryant, pastor of the Higgins church, will officiate at the funeral. Burial will be in Higgins cemetery, under the direction of Duenkel-Carmichael Funeral home.

McLEAN — The American Legion annual rodeo will be held in McLean this week. First performance is scheduled for 8 p.m. Friday. Pampa's American Legion post will be host to Ernie Davis, Veterans Administration service officer, at 8 p.m. Monday in the Legion hall. Commander Fred Sloan advised. Davis will speak on the status of V. A. benefits, followed by a question and answer period. District Commander Mike McNulty will be an honored guest.

Snider Infant Dies

Funeral arrangements are pending with Duenkel-Carmichael Funeral home for David Ralph Snider, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Snider, 2241 Hamilton. Born April 22 in Pampa, the baby died at 9:28 p.m. Saturday in Worley hospital. He is survived by his parents; one sister, Sheila Jean of Pampa; and one brother, Donald Ray of Pampa.

Randau Services Planned Monday

Funeral services for Henry Randau, 88, will be held at 2 p.m. Monday in the Lefors Baptist church. Mr. Randau died at 2:25 p.m. Saturday in Highland General hospital following a long illness. Rev. Thurman Uphaw, pastor, and Rev. I. T. Huckabee, of Higgins, Methodist pastor, will officiate. Burial will be in Liano cemetery, Amarillo, beside his wife, Elizabeth, who died May 31, 1945. Duenkel-Carmichael Funeral home is in charge of the arrangements.

Fire Damage At Dairy Queen

Pampa firemen were called to the Dairy Queen Drive Inn, 1117 Alcock at 11:10 a.m. Saturday when an overturned "bucket of gas" caused a fire, a department spokesman advised. Some supplies, stored in the room where the fire started, were burned, but the building itself did not catch on fire, he stated.

School Board Sets Last Meet

The final school board meeting of the month is scheduled for 7:30 p.m. Monday in the office of School Business Manager Roy McMullen. "I imagine we'll meet," Knox Kinard, Pampa schools superintendent, said Saturday afternoon, adding that only routine items were on the agenda. The board meets the second and fourth Monday of each month.

School Officials Meet In Amarillo

Five Pampa public school officials were in Amarillo Saturday for a special meeting on the evaluation of school instruction over the state. They were B. R. Nuckols, county schools superintendent; Knox Kinard, Pampa schools superintendent; Jack Edmondson, Pampa high school principal; McHenry Lane, Pampa junior high school principal; and Sam Berger, Horace Mann school principal. Representatives from 28 counties in the Panhandle were on hand for the session, Kinard said.

NATO Can't Relax

PARIS, April 24—UP—Gen. Alfred M. Gruenther, supreme allied commander in Europe, Saturday warned the North Atlantic Treaty Organization members against relaxing defense efforts. He said they are not yet strong enough to block an all-out Russian attack.

Braly To Attend Waco Law Session

Dist. Atty. Tom Braly plans to leave sometime tonight for Waco and Atty. Gen. John Ben Shepherd's fourth annual conference on law enforcement at Baylor University. Sessions are slated Monday through Wednesday. County Atty. Bill Waters Saturday said he didn't think he'd be able to make it. Originally, he had planned to go. Shepperd called the meeting to discuss problems and new methods of prosecutors, judges and peace officers in Texas. It is to be co-sponsored by Shepperd's office and the Baylor School of Law.

Plans Completed For Agriculture, Livestock Day

An Agriculture and Livestock Achievement Day will be observed here on Aug. 26 or 27. This was decided at a meeting of the Agriculture and Livestock committee of the Pampa Chamber of Commerce Friday, when reports from a sub-committee, headed by Jim Strawn, on plans for such an observance was heard. Strawn reported on suggestions for observance of the day, including a visitation tour of irrigation farms and to farms in the area who have made outstanding records in proper soil conservation practices; a barbecue to be held at Recreation park at noon; a clinic that afternoon with speakers on irrigation and soil conservation practices, and a farm equipment safety demonstration, headed by Jim Strawn, on plans for such an observance was heard.

Lefors Men File Intentions

Charles Clendenen, candidate for Lefors constable, and Bill Kennedy, candidate for Lefors justice of the peace, Saturday filed formal papers of intention with Bob Baker, secretary of the Democratic county executive committee. Both men are opposed. Running against Clendenen is Bill Stracner. Opposing Kennedy are W. V. Hix and W. R. Combs. Clendenen and E. A. Vance are the incumbents; but Vance has never stated publicly his intentions, the only incumbent in the county not to do so. The filing deadline for all candidates — Republicans and Democrats — is May 3.

City Commission Meets Tuesday

Agenda for this week's City Commission meeting appeared slender Saturday. Session, as usual, is slated for 9 a.m. Tuesday. The only item on the agenda that associates of City Mgr. Fred Brook knew of by noon Saturday was a discussion of the graveling program which the commission okayed a week ago. Brook left Saturday morning for the annual Texas City Managers Association convention in Austin. It is scheduled today through Tuesday and City Hall sources did not think he would be back in Pampa in time to attend commission meeting.

Doctors Invited To Cancer Meet

The Communists already hold the northern half of the main airstrip used as the dropzone and their guns control virtually the entire runway. The fate of the 11,000-man French Union garrison admittedly depends on the success or failure of air drops. Communist 81-mm. mortars and 75 and 105-mm. howitzers, supplied by Red China, pounded defenders now compressed into an area less than a mile in diameter. The massed Red artillery and black-clad elite Communist shock troops teamed up Friday to smash French Union counterattacks on a key northwestern outpost, despite the support of newly-arrived American close-support fighter planes.

THE UPSIDE DOWN MILLETTE — Comes from an old line of European circus performers and displays uncanny acrobatic agility as he swings and sways on the aerial trapeze while standing on his head. He will appear at each performance of the Bailey Bros., Christiani combined circus which comes to the Pampa Rodeo Grounds under sponsorship of the Pampa Elks Club.

Street Parade To Precede Circus, Sponsored By Elks

The Bailey Brothers and Christiani Circus, now in its 57th annual tour of the nation, makes its first appearance in Pampa this week.

A street parade at 11 a.m. Wednesday will precede the circus's four performances, scheduled for 3 and 5 p.m. Wednesday and Thursday in Recreation park, according to Quentin Williams, top Pampa Elk.

Pampa's Elk lodge is sponsoring the show for the benefit of the Texas Elks Crippled Children's home in Ottawa. Tickets are priced at $1 for adults and 50 cents for kids. Gates open at 2 p.m. and 7 p.m. each show day.

Two and One-half Hours
The show lasts for two and one-half hours and has 50 persons performing in three different rings, Williams said Saturday.

Among some of the top-light world-renowned artists are Lucio Christiani, "unquestionably the greatest of all riding comedians who was featured for 10 consecutive seasons with the Ringling Brothers circus"; the Great Zucchini, shot from the mouth of a giant cannon and landing in a net 220 feet away "after being hurtled through the air with the speed of a bullet"; and Senorita Maria Rojas, Spain's contribution to the spectacle.

Tix for Kids
It will be possible for Pampa youngsters to see the show, Williams said, through the method of Elks selling blocks of tickets to local merchants and having the merchants give the ducats to the kids.

Other acts in the 2½-hour performance are the Victor Gaona Troupe, "the greatest comedy casting act the world has ever seen"; "beautiful" aerial ballets with a score of beautiful girls; Orton's Troupe, "amazing teeter board acrobats"; Rosemary, "the golden girl in the Golden Whirl"; nine Siamese and Indian elephants; and the Chamberly Troupe, "champion somersaulting acrobats."
"Versatility and variety hold sway throughout the entire performance," the circus publicity states, "which is plainly seen in the show's big spectacle smattering of an Arabian Night's theme... will cause 'Daddies' who bring their small fry to grin broadly at the sight of the gorgeous dancing girls and promptly admit that the circus isn't just for kids after all."
"There is nothing left out," the adjective-splattered publicity concludes, "in death-flaunting thrills, salvos of riotous laughs and spine-tingling surprises."

Battle Over FHA Control Seen Behind Fraud Charges

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — A fight for control of the Federal Housing Administration is now going on. It's what's behind the FBI's investigation of charges of irregularities in two of its 20-year-old government agency's programs.

Washington housing experts outside the government offer this explanation for the surprising developments which now cast suspicion on the entire housing program and threaten its very existence.

In addition to the Administration's housing program legislation which has passed the House and is now before the Senate, there is also a housing reorganization bill before Congress. This plan would give full control of the FHA to Ex-Congressman Albert M. Cole of Kansas, housing and home finance administrator.

Guy T. O. Hollyday, Baltimore mortgage banker who has been FHA commissioner for the past year, has resisted this subordination of his agency to HHPA Administrator Cole.

Hollyday carried this fight to the White House. He was supported by the real estate, home building and mortgage banking associations. These organizations are officially staying out of the latest developments in this dispute.

But suspicion is rife in building industry circles. They claim when the fight for control over FHA got too hot to handle, the charges of past irregularities were used as an excuse for Presidential Assistant Sherman Adams to demand Hollyday's resignation.

No one in the White House has cast any suspicion on Hollyday. He is described everywhere as a fine Christian gentleman who won national renown for his sponsorship of the Baltimore slum-clearance plan. But he is now made the goat in a Washington fight for power.

Testifying before both houses of Congress on behalf of the mortgage bankers, over a year ago, Hollyday warned that the agency should have more inspectors. Congress apparently did not heed this recommendation.

This may have resulted in some of the irregularities in the home modernization and repair program for which Hollyday is held responsible.

The number of cases of fraud in this home repair program has not been indicated and probably will not be known until a full investigation is completed.

Founded By Judge J. A. Mead Miami Archeological Museum Boasts Several Famous Finds

By WALT SWITZER
Pampa News Staff Writer
Pampans do not have to go to the great museums, in this nation to see interesting archeological discoveries.
All they have to do is go to Miami, 23 miles east of here, and stroll through the corridors of the Roberts county court house.
There they can see definite proof that huge, prehistoric animals once roamed over the Panhandle and Western Oklahoma regions.
About 25 years ago, the late Judge J. A. Mead, who became interested in archeology when a group of university professors from another state came to the Miami area in search of prehistoric animal bones and other valuable relics, according to M. M. Craig Jr., county clerk.
Several years later Judge Mead purchased some grocery stores and placed them in the corridors of the court house to display his valuable collection.

Huge Tusk

One of the most interesting items in the collection is a huge tusk of a mammoth, elephant years old. The 225-pound, 10-foot long tusk was found by a drilling crew on the DeSpain farm near Kellerville on the Gray and Wheeler county line. The crew was digging a pit for a well when they struck the tusk. It measured 14 feet in length, but about four feet of it was broken off by the bulldozer that unearthed it.
"Before World War II many tourists stopped in Miami to view the collection," Craig said, "but since then very few stop here any more."
Efforts had been made at various times to have the collection moved to the museum at West Texas State College in Canyon, but it is doubtful if it ever will be moved.
Judge Mead, who died in January, 1933, at the age of 86, left up to one of his three sons, Kenneth Mead, now in California, as to what was to be done with it after his death. Craig stated, Kenneth, who was greatly interested in his father's collection, decided to leave it in the court house where Judge Mead had placed it.
A Miami young women's club recently took the responsibility of looking after the small museum. Members of the club recently completed a re-labeling job for all items in the display.

Capital Lowdown

By HARMAN W. NICHOLS
WASHINGTON, April 24 — UP — What's new in Washington:
Burrell E. Evans of Overton, Nev., is going to get what's coming to him. He can thank Lindsay C. Warren, retiring comptroller general of the United States. It seems that Evans' fellow employees of the Agriculture Department's soil conservation service at Overton were getting a tummy ache from the water at hand. Evans got some good stuff shipped in, at 10 cents per five gallons. Later, he presented a bill for $1 to the government.
Warren did a little twisting of the law and decided that even though Evans had not been authorized to make the purchase, he should get his dollar back.
The Secret Service reports that during the Civil War about one-third of the money passed about was counterfeit. The service says the percentage of bad money has dropped considerably since then. The Republican Capitol Hill Club is proud of a new brass knocker it has on its front door. It's in the shape of an elephant head. It was presented to the club by William Friedman, who bought it in England while on a trip. Mr. F. who lives in the neighborhood, said he just wanted to be neighborly. Mr. F. is a Democrat.
A Pentagon source reports that about one-third of the letters it gets about flying saucers quote the book of Revelations in the Bible.
Sen. Estes Kefauver of Tennessee was sitting in the back of the hall at a breakfast at the National Press Club when Hank Ford sang and played "Save Your Confederate Money, Boys, the South Will Rise Again." Suddenly there came a loud rebel yell. From the senator. The song, the grits, and the corn bread just carried him away.

A total of $242.00 has been contributed. Each bombing costs slightly more than $40. A small amount of money remains in the fund to help start the program next year, Mr. Schlegel said.

TIPROA Prexy Writes Congress

Jack Woodward, president of the Texas Independent Producers and Royalty Owners Association, has mailed a letter to all Texas congressmen, including Pampa's Walter Rogers.
"I am requesting," he writes, "that bills to give further encouragement to enlarged underground storage of natural gas be withheld pending a study of the degree to which such projects result from artificially-depressed wellhead prices in Texas."
"Gas pipeline companies have proposed this legislation on grounds that it is necessary to accommodate peak load requirements at points distant from producing areas," he continues. "We feel it is important to the gas industry and the nation that any other possible reasons for support of such federal legislation be determined in advance of its passage."

Simmons Bids For Public Aid In Safety Commission Program

By JESSE L. SIMMONS
Safety Commission Member
The various civic groups of Pampa recently appointed certain members of their organizations as committeemen for Pampa's Safety Commission.
Some of these delegates, like myself, were unaware of their duties and the objectives to be accomplished by this commission.
Therefore, we endeavored to learn these things, at least some of them, from various interested sources of our city, county and state officials.
Now, we've the task of presenting the commission, its functions, actions, objectives, etc., to you, the public. It is pretty obvious that a small group, such as the commission, cannot successfully secure freedom from danger, injury or damage, or maintain safety for the entire populace of this area.
Therefore, it will be mandatory that all of us go back to school in our every day motions and learn and heed the "Safety Pay" rules for ourselves and help as many others to do so as is possible.
Few, if any, organizations have survived with success within its own "Outside cooperators" are essential to the commission's success and we have solicited safety ideas from the public in formulating our program, to help keep Pampa a safe place in which to live, and eliminate the fatality rate. Complete cooperation by our city, county and state police officials has been humbly submitted. Now, we seek the public's cooperation.
Should we send memorable memos to careless drivers, light up our city and our residences more brightly, hire a new traffic police force, increase or decrease speed laws, erect more impressive signs, designate pedestrian lanes? We have a few ideas and plans to work with, but I wonder how

Safety Clinic Program Named

The program of the ninth annual Drilling Industry Safety Clinic scheduled May 13-14 in Dallas, has been announced by Harry H. Hillman, chairman of the safety committee of the American Association of Oilwell Drilling Contractors, sponsor of the affair.

It's Easy To Get Confused Over Weather

By ED NASH
Pampa News Staff Writer

So you think there's been less rain this month than there was in April, 1953?

And you're certain the April weather has been warmer than it was a year ago?

And, what's more, you're positive this has been the worst spring for farmers in three years?

Well, you're wrong.

At least, the statistics kept at Radio Station KPND, the closest thing in Pampa to a weather station, would bear that out. Admittedly, such data does not necessarily prove much — statistics have a way of getting twisted around — but, weather being the Number One topic in the Pampa area as it is, it may be illuminating to compare and contrast a bit.

No Predictions

No predictions or forecasts, though, The old Texas saying about newcomers and fools telling the weather still holds, so far as this immigrant from Massachusetts is concerned.

To take care of the three statements at the beginning of this article, there has been more rain this month than in April 1953; it has been cooler this month than a year ago; and there has been more moisture the first four months of this year than was the case in 1953.

Courtesy of the KPND weather archives, these are the facts:

The total of the Palm Sunday and Tuesday rainfalls this month has been 1.56 inches. A year ago in April it was only 1.06 inches — and it took four days of sprinkle to do it.

Statistics

The maximum monthly temperatures for the first third of this year have been January, 76; February, 80; March, 81; and April, 90 — an average of 81 1/2 degrees. In 1953 the average high was 82 degrees (from 81, 79, 83 and 91).

The low monthly mercury readings proved the same thing — the year has been one-quarter of a degree cooler so far.

The total moisture so far this year has been 4.33 inches. And while the total for the same period in 1953 was 9.21 inches, the total for 1952 was 3.38 inches — one inch less than this year. Some 23 of the 4.33 was a Jan. 9 snow.

Now what does all that prove, someone may ask. Not much, perhaps. Except, maybe, to show that it is not as it seems to appear. Including — and particularly — the weather.

Hard Dust

Remember the "Black Duster of '54"? It engulfed Pampa Feb. 19. Just "a hard blowing dust" is the way the weather records carry it. Matter of fact, that's the only item in the space allotted for "remarks" for the whole year thus far.

But go back to Jan. 22, 1953 and you find "ELZZARD" in capital letters, too. That day must have had much more of an effect on recorder, for the report goes into detail, "Rain, snow and sleet. Thunder and lightning. Roads blocked from blowing snow. School buses unable to take school kids home."

Funny, isn't it, the importance different folks attach to weather items? Look at the record for March 1952, and you find these notations for six separate days of the month: rain, fog (March 1); rain drizzle (March 9); fog (March 11); high winds, sand (March 12); windy (March 16); and rain (March 26).

Just One Word

But the record for Jan. 4, 1952, shows just one word — "snow." That was the day it snowed four inches.

A drop in the temperature is always a cause for comment by amateur sky-gazers — and those who think, but never, never say, what the weather is going to do.

High reading for this month was 90 degrees April 7. The low was six days earlier — 26. In 1953 and 1952, the figures were 91 and 26, and 90 and 20. With spreads of only three days between them.

Take February, though. This year the maximum and minimum were 80 and 23 with just three days between them (Feb. 15 and Feb. 12). The year before the high was 73 (Feb. 15) and the low was 9 (Feb. 12). But the year before that — 1952 — the high and low were 70 and 14. The dates were Feb. 2 and Feb. 25, an interim of 23 days.

More Statistics

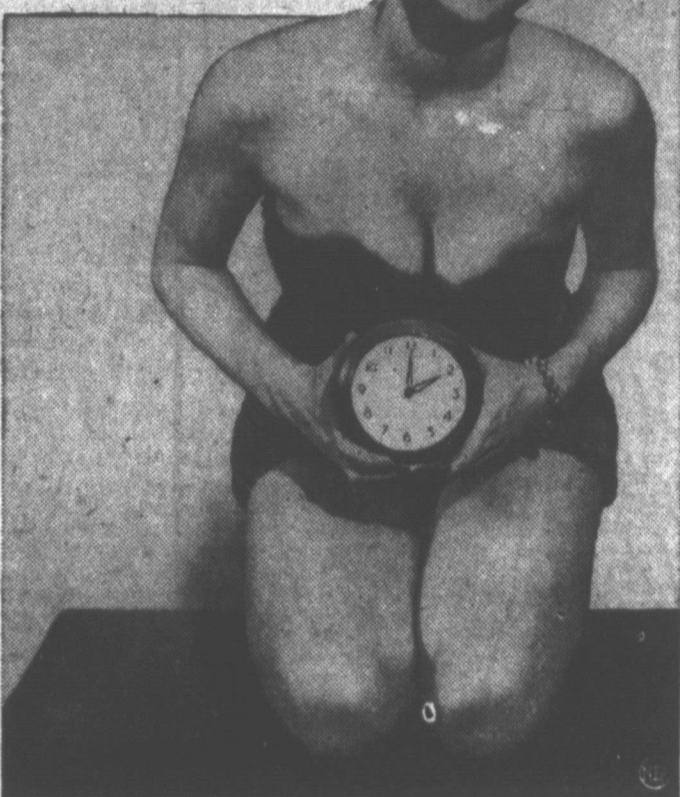

Getting tired of reading figures? We'll settle for just a few more to demonstrate that what happens, rainwise, in the same month from year to year, has no pattern. "What ever is, is," the saying goes. The rainfall totals in March for 1954, 1953 and 1952 were .02, .38 and .44 inch. For February they were less than .01, 2.52 and 3 inches. And for January they were 2.8, 5.25 and .32 inches.

All of which proves exactly nothing, you'll say. And you're probably right, too. But perhaps — just perhaps — there is a chance that such statistics can give an inkling of what the weather will bring.

Now, as for the weather this afternoon, . . . and the rest of this week, . . . let's see, . . . nope, not this reporter. . . this is Texas and he's no newcomer. . .

THE WEATHER'S FINE — Or so anyone would think when he takes a look at this pretty young miss. If you can bear to take a few seconds and cast a quick glance at the upper left-hand corner, you'll see why she smiles — that was the time and date that Pam got her 1.41-inch rainfall. The clock she holds has the wrong time. It was 9 a.m., not 2, that the rain really came. But, after all, that's just details when this gal smiles at you.

JOHNSON IN HOLLYWOOD

By ERSKINE JOHNSON
NEA Staff Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD — (NEA) — Hollywood on TV: Even Hollywood TV is saying "no, thanks" to the star system.

Like "Dragnet," "Life with Father," and other from-Hollywood offerings, another big Movietown show has turned the spotlight on what the acting profession calls "performing performers."

Talented, reliable actors — not the big names or untried faces demanded by movie makers.

The show is CBS' "That's My Boy," based on the characters in the Dean Martin-Jerry Lewis comedy. The stars are character-comedian Eddie Mayahoff, prewar glamor girl Rochelle Hudson and movie's featured player, Gil Stratton, Jr.

Behind the latest "performing performers" cast is Cy Howard who originated "My Friend Irma" for Marie Wilson. Says Cy:

"It's a thrill to give people like Eddie and Rochelle and Stratton the chance at roles that will bring out their greatness as performing performers. Hollywood is full of people like them, people who are better than the lines you give them."

"But you must have courage to cast people you believe in."

Next on Howard's TV-planning board:

"My Uncle Adam," and "Miss Ruby Stevens," a comedy series, for Gloria Grahame.

"Gloria," says Cy, "loves comedy and does it best. But every time Hollywood wants a girl to beat up, or throw hot coffee at, they get Gloria."

"For personal reasons, I want her to have a good comedy that will stop the heavy stuff."

"It's a terrible bore to sit around a movie studio and bring out a piece of trash," says "That's My Boy" star, Ronald Colman, talking about why, for three years, he hasn't accepted Hollywood offers. He's on the eve of going into TV with wife Benita Hume. (In their parlor version of "Halls of Ivy.")

"It's also the changing world of pictures," Colman told me frankly. "Pictures today are being made by, and for, young people. The opportunities to do fine pictures haven't come my way as they once did."

"I'd only be interested if the offers were for fine films. I've liked one or two scripts, but the producers weren't able to get them off the ground."

"The others I've turned down. I haven't retired from pictures. I'd do a good one like a shot if it came along."

How would you like to see Pa O'Brien, Edward Arnold, Broderick Crawford, Eve Arden, Evelyn Keyes and Ernest Truex all in the same movie? You can — on TV. The title, "Slightly Honorable." It was made in 1934!

Dan Duryn starts 26 new "Adventures of China Smith," in San Francisco, late this month. New plot twist will have the adventurer-hero hopping over the Orient from Sumatra to Hong Kong to Burma.

Sam Goldwyn, Jr., is crediting CBS' William Murrow for his decision to produce telefilms instead of theater movies.

Says Sam: "Murrow narrated an Army film I produced, called 'Alliance for Peace.' All the time we worked together, he worked on me about TV. He finally convinced me."

Rudy Vallee's making another TV try — in a musical series to be filmed in Rome. . . High cost of trick photography on the "Topper" films: Some of them cost as much as $40,000 to produce. . . Trouble-in-TV-paradise note: Over 600 pilot films, costing from $15,000 to $25,000, haven't found buyers in Hollywood. . . The William Morris Agency is reported as trying to sell 100 more of these casualties.

Alan Young, dropped by CBS because he demanded a film show, has been signed by NBC, with the network's blessing, for a filmed series.

Indication of a big network war? Jane Nigh, dropped from the "Big Town" cast because of her stock date, is packing her make-up kit for a new telefilm series for Gross-Krasne.

Comic Paul Gillbert has been green-lighted for a TV-and-radio show with NBC. He'll play "Alexander the Greatest," on radio and star as a retired prize fighter in "The Duke" for the home screens.

Hal Roach, Jr., has signed Pat O'Brien for a film series.

Letters are pouring in to CBS which presents "Championship Wrestling" every Saturday, asking if Gorgeous George is Shirley Temple's brother. Shirley's brother George is a wrestler, but he's not "Gorgeous."

Housing Probers Take On Job

WASHINGTON, April 24 — (AP) — Congressional housing investigators have tackled a seemingly impossible job — how to protect the gullible home owner from himself.

Prompted by disclosures that home improvement racketeers have been financing their operations on government insured loans, the lawmakers feel they must write new safeguards into law.

Their difficulty, however, was highlighted this week during an exchange at a Senate Banking committee hearing between Chairman Homer E. Capehart and Guy T. O. Hollyday, ousted chief of the Federal Housing Administration.

Capehart's committee is one of two Senate groups investigating the current housing scandals.

Steps Against Racketeers

Hollyday, who believes the FEHA has taken adequate steps against the racketeers, put it this way: The government, he said, "cannot stand by the door" of every home owner being approached by a fast-talking salesman.

He said "there is no possible way we can protect an individual against himself from overbuying."

But Capehart replied that "we have got to find a way" to do it. When homeowners are told the government is in the picture, he said, "they have a right to believe that they are going to be treated honestly and squarely."

As the law now stands, the FEHA insures loans for home repairs up to $2,500. A bank does the actual lending.

The racketeers take advantage of it by overcharging the repairs, taking their payment in form of the loan, and leaving the home owner to repay the loan. If the victim cannot repay it, the government must.

Loans Above Repair Costs

In most of these cases, if the home owner had taken the time to check the prices of other contractors, to read carefully the papers he was signing he probably would not have been fleeced.

Some victims actually signed certificates stating they were satisfied with the job, although the work had not even begun.

FEHA backed loans far above the repair costs because it did not investigate the loans before they were made. Nearly always, it left that up to the banks and other lending institutions.

Hollyday contended that FEHA could not do otherwise with its three-man policing staff in light of the tremendous volume of loans.

He asked Congress to increase the staff. He was given three more men — two of whom had no experience in that type of work. All this time, Hollyday and Arthur J. Frenix, head of the FEHA home improvement section, said the number of loans was skyrocketing.

In 1946, they said, the government backed up only $300 million worth of home repair loans. But last year, the figure reached $1.3 billion, which represents 2 million separate loans made by about 6,000 lending institutions.

Recent Cancer Studies Turn Up Growth Control Factors

By CHARLES S. CAMERON, M.D.
Medical Director
American Cancer Society
(Writer for NEA Service)

NEW YORK (NEA)—The exciting thing in cancer research is that scientists are beginning to learn some of the factors that control growth. The nearly 1000 researchers who are working under American Cancer Society grants have pierced the intricate veil of chemical mystery in many places. They have found that cancer, being abnormal growth, is a product of body chemistry that involves almost every minute function both within and without the cell, the unit of tissue that multiplies by dividing.

Some of this knowledge has been made available for clinical experiments. The desperate efforts to halt cancer growth in hopeless cases by removing the adrenal glands and even the pituitary, the body's master gland hidden deep in the skull cavity, were mostly met with failure.

Some believed that complete control of the glands might be a means of halting cancer. By removing these glands and administering doses of hormones necessary to maintain normal body processes it seemed, in theory at least, that the growth machinery might be strictly controlled.

It didn't happen that way. After the operations studies of the patients showed that they were still excreting hormones and upsetting the possibility of exterior control of growth.

Now from the laboratories comes the discovery that when certain animal glands are removed, apparently others take over their function. This opens the door to further research that may eventually bring the goal of endocrine control to reality.

In other areas of experimentation, science is concerned with some of the possible factors that upset orderly growth controls and start cancer.

One of these possibilities is that some cancers at least are virus-caused. One of the striking bits of circumstantial evidence for this hypothesis is the existence of a compound found only in genes of the cell's nucleus and also in viruses.

This vital substance, DNA (deoxyribonucleic acid) is being probed in scores of laboratories. Some are trying to find out how DNA takes part in cell division. Other experiments show that this nucleic acid increases as rats get fat and dyes producing liver cancer.

Actual viruses have been found that produce cancer in animals. A substance has been isolated from mouse milk that causes breast cancer in mice. A cancerous disease in chickens is known to be virus-caused. A type of rabbit cancer has been verified as resulting from a virus.

But in man the quest continues and no concrete evidence is in criminal a virus yet exists. The laboratory search for cancer's origin ranges all the way from protein synthesis to genetics. The fabulous efforts to break down the various intricate parts of protein, out of which all tissues is built, have produced some results.

Almost endless combinations of elements, intricately contrived, form amino acids which are bound with each other into peptides, and woven together into fantastic patterns making up the protein molecule. Some of these chains of carbon, oxygen and hydrogen have been analyzed. Chemists now think they can soon break down some of the simpler proteins. The remotest secrets of growth might then be solved.

What is the role of the genes? Do these sub-microscopic cell particles that blueprint the body's characteristics hold the final secret of cancer? Possibly. Scientists are learning more about mutations, sudden changes in a species that are handed on to progeny, and how they possibly are due to missing or misplaced genes. Can similar genetic "accidents" be responsible for tissue changes and cancer? We are edging nearer to the answer.

Nearly every system in the body is under experimentation. The whole process of metabolism is patiently being studied. Certain enzymes that catalyze various steps are under suspicion and may soon be acquired or convicted.

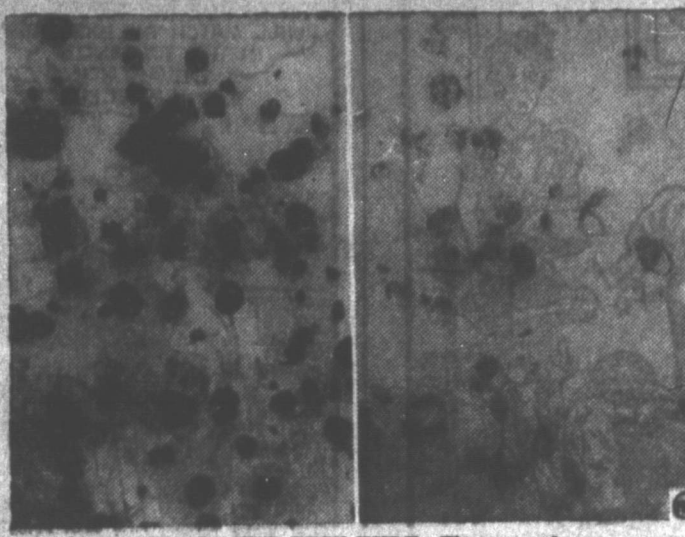

One enzyme normally occurring in tissues has been found in the blood of some cancer patients. Studies of it are continuing. Even plant enzymes that affect growth are under investigation. These are possible for the resting stage of buds and bulbs may hold clues to growth control.

The chemical attack on cancer has been more closely pressed in scores of institutions. Mass screening of compounds to find out that might halt cancer has turned up a few that have a retarding effect on growth. Some of these have been used in treating leukemias, with temporary results. But months, and sometimes years, have been added to some patients' lives.

Out of the laboratories too have come new facts about radioactive materials and new means of attacking cancer with more powerful X-rays. In addition to advances in surgery—successful operations for cancer that would have started the surgeon of 10 years ago—the means of saving more and more lives each year are steadily advancing.

These are only a few of the highlights in the wide and complex map of cancer slowly being drafted. It may be necessary to chart the last tree in the thicket forest of growth before cancer control is discovered. Or it may not. Somewhere along the way a high road, up to now only imagined in some obscure researcher's mind might suddenly loom clear and straight, leading swiftly to the conquest of man's cruellest enemy.

Amarillo Club To Entertain Kiwanians

Members of the Downtown Kiwanis club, Amarillo, will provide entertainment for Pampa Kiwanians at their luncheon meeting Friday in the basement of the First Methodist church.

Several members of the Amarillo club will be here for the program, after which the two clubs will play a golf match at Pampa Country club. The Inter-club Relations committee will have charge of the program, according to Joe Walls, chairman.

At last Friday's meeting, a film concerning cancer of the lung was shown in connection with the current cancer crusade. Preceding the showing, Dr. Raymond Laycock spoke briefly about the subject.

"I use my deep well fryer for frying French fried potatoes and for making my favorite doughnuts. Here, again, the accuracy of the electric heat control makes my French fries and my doughnuts turn out so nice," says Mrs. McCarty. She continues:

"The accuracy with which my electric range maintains temperatures is truly amazing. It is so much better—it never varies. I can depend on it every time. Another thing that comes in handy is the minute minder. My daughter, Elaine, who is 16, uses it constantly."

"The oven is unusually easy to clean. If something runs over, all I have to do is remove this unit and drip pan, then wash them just like a couple of dishes. There's just nothing to it."

MRS. McCARTY'S HOMEMADE DOUGHNUTS

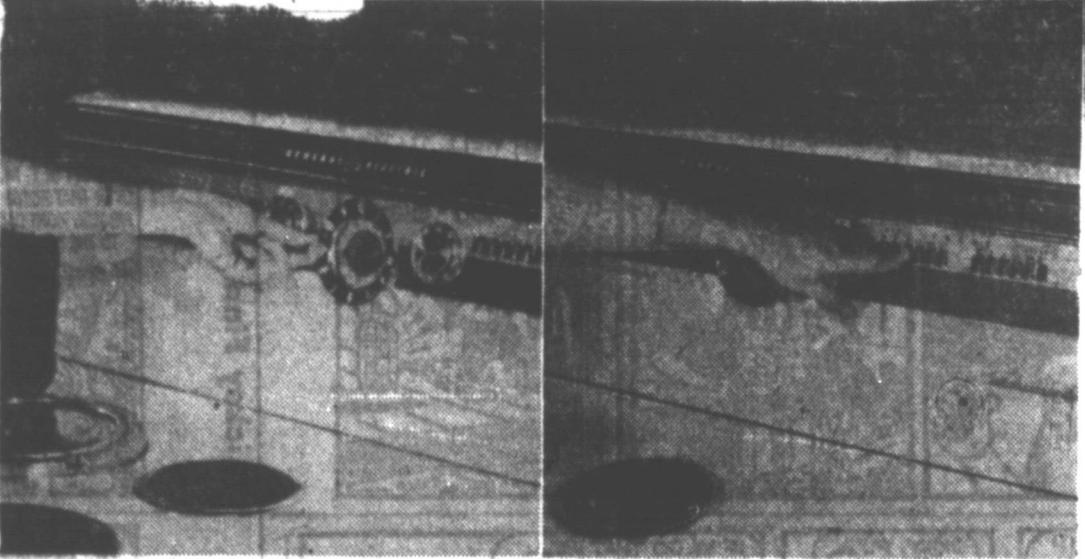

- | | |
|--------------------------|------------------------|
| 1 cup milk (scalded) | 1 package yeast |
| 2 tablespoons shortening | 1/4 cup lukewarm water |
| 1/2 cup sugar | 2 well-beaten eggs |
| 1/2 teaspoon salt | 1 1/4 cups flour |
- Combine milk, shortening, sugar, and salt; cool to lukewarm. Add yeast softened in lukewarm water; add eggs. Gradually stir in flour to form soft dough. Beat vigorously; cover and let rise for 30 minutes. Roll on lightly floured surface; cut with doughnut cutter; let stand 15 minutes. Fry in deep hot fat (375°) until brown, turning once. Drain on absorbent paper. Makes 2 1/2 dozen doughnuts.

FROSTING

- 2 tablespoons butter 1 to 1 1/2 cup powdered sugar
- Melt butter, add milk and gradually stir in powdered sugar until right consistency for spreading.

Variation

- Chocolate—Melt 1 lb. chocolate with butter or Use 3 tablespoons strong coffee, orange juice or pineapple juice instead of milk.

"One thing which I particularly like is the automatic timer on my oven. We operate a grocery and school supply store, so much of my time is taken up waiting on customers in the store. With my electric automatic oven, however, I can put meals in the oven, set the controls, and when I come back to the house, my food is all ready to serve."

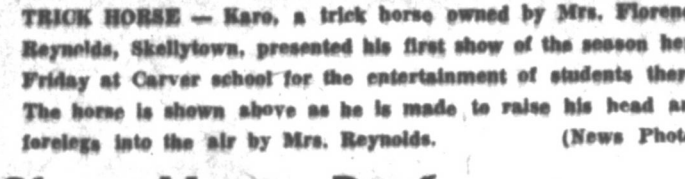

"Another feature of my range is the ease of operation of the controls. It's so easy... even my boys, Karl, 14, and Alan, 10, are able to help me here. I start my top-of-range cooking, usually on the high setting. Then, after a few minutes one of the boys will push one of the lower buttons to finish the cooking."

Show Horse Performs For Carver School Kids

By ORIE B. WILSON
The first show of the season for Karo, trick horse of Mrs. Florence Reynolds of Skellytown, was held Friday, April 23, at the Carver school. Mrs. Reynolds has been getting Karo ready for the summer rodeos. Karo has to get used to audiences again, so he was a little shy of the children at Carver. But they proved him a make-believe snake. They saw him dance, and roll a barrel. He picked up a handkerchief. He made love to a fan. Karo can do just about anything once he gets convinced his working days are here again! He can kneel too, for his boss to mount him, and dance "Put Your Little Feet."

17 Cub Scouts Win Awards

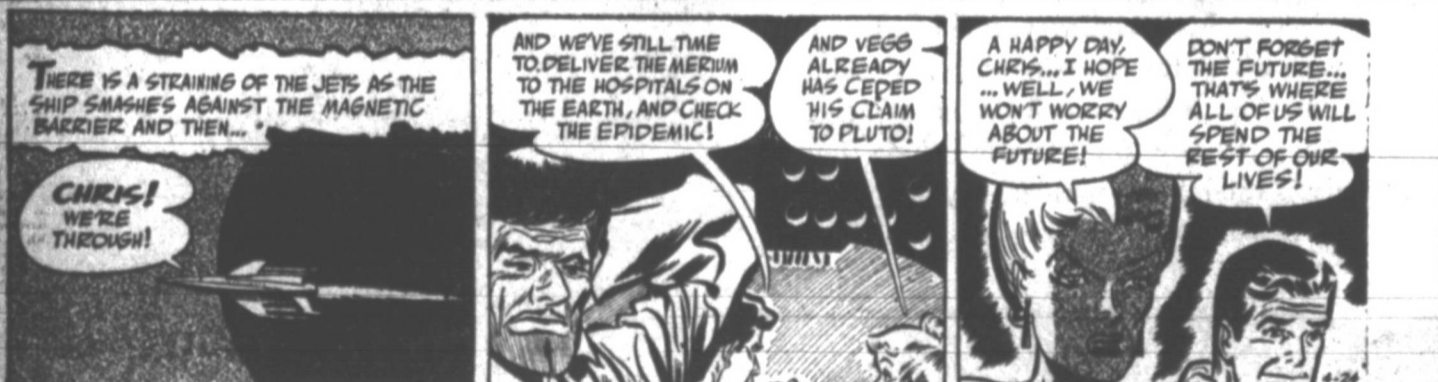

A total of 158 persons was on hand for a meeting last week of Cub Pack 50 (First Methodist church), a session that saw 17 Cubs receive awards.

Den No. 4 was the winner of mock oil field displays made by the pack's six dens. J. C. McWilliams, Art Rankin and Cecil Williams, members of the Methodist Men's organization, were the judges and Jim Fennell made the presentation to the winner. Mrs. R. A. Farrow was the winning den mother.

Boy Scout Troop 50 gave the program which consisted of an Indian dance and other demonstrations with Elmer Radcliff, Scoutmaster, presiding. R. W. Curry, committee chairman, handled the business of the pack, including the presentation of attendance awards to Den No. 8. Mrs. G. J. Walker is the den mother.

Curry and Carlton Nance presented achievement awards to Richard Palmer and Danny Hograut, "bearys"; Richard Walker, Nelson Rockwell, Des Wright, Andy Henning, Gary Hankhouse, John Long and Bobby Fennell, "wolves"; Kenneth Waters and Tommy Veale, one-year pins; Gregory Dalton, Steve Metz, Andy Henning, Roger Farrow, John Long, Mile Maguire and Bobby Fennell, "arrows"; and Larry Cantrell and Lewis Cleveland, "bobcats." Johnny Fite is a transfer from Borger.

By BUCK FRANCIS
Pampa News Sports Editor

Three Oilers were slammed by the Cassers with manager Doug Lewis connecting for a grand slammer in the seventh to feature an 8-run inning. Eddie Daniels and Don Tierney, who went the distance for the Oilers on the mound, hit the other 4-masters.

Tierney, in making good his first pitching start, struckout 10 Cassers, walked five and gave up 11 hits.

The Oilers spotted the Cassers three runs in the first inning before they found their batting eye in the third.

The winners tallied three times in the third to tie the score and then went ahead to stay in the fourth with two runs and a 3-2 lead.

In the third, Curtis Hardaway singled with one away and crossed the plate.

The Oilers will meet the Clovis Pioneers in the first game of a 2-game series today at Otter Park.

Tierney led the Oilers' 21-hit attack with four hits including a double, homer and two singles.

Lewis had a triple and homer and drove in five runs to figure heavily in the Otter attack.

By hitting their three home runs the Oilers ran their streak to four straight in which they have homered at least one time.

Savitt Strong In Buff Win

HOUSTON, April 24—UP—Dick Savitt, an unseeded player who amazed everyone by beating Gardner Mulloy in a quarter-final match, went one better Saturday and with a vicious show of strength defeated Vic Seixas, of Philadelphia, the nation's No. 2 ranked amateur, to enter the finals of the River Oaks invitational tennis tournament.

This was Savitt's first tournament appearance since last year's River Oaks tournament and he admitted having more trouble in early matches than Saturday, after he had hit his old stride.

He attributed much of his success today, though, to the fact that Seixas was far off form when it came to rushing the net, the Philadelphia's strongest point. Savitt won 3-6, 6-4, 6-0.

"He got a few bad shots and I got more confidence," Savitt said. "He began coming in to the net on bad shots and it was easy to pass him."

Sunday Savitt will play fifth-seeded Hamilton Richardson of Baton Rouge, La., for the title, 6-1.

Seixas' shot began going wild and Savitt picked up strength. It took an hour and five minutes for the first three sets.

Savitt, a former Wimbledon champion and native of New Jersey, has been only a week-and-a-half player for more than two years — while he learned the oil business here in Houston.

Savitt said he doubted that Saturday's excellent showing meant that he would ever resume his tennis career full time, and he said he did not intend to play in any more tournaments this year.

From the first game to the last, there was a complete reversal of form.

"He (Seixas) was a lot more eager at the beginning than I was," Savitt grinned. "He started off much quicker, but he began hitting some bad shots later on."

Seixas got a small measure of revenge when he and Richardson later teamed to beat Savitt and Tom Brown, San Francisco, in a doubles semi-final, 5-7, 6-3, 6-1.

Davidson of Stockholm, Sweden, but came back and took the next two, 6-3, 6-3.

WASHINGTON, April 24—UP—Hector (Skinny) Brown's brilliant relief pitching paced the Boston Red Sox to a 6-1 victory over the Washington Senators Saturday night, but the Red Sox lost star pitcher Mel Parnell who suffered a fractured left forearm.

Parnell, who started the game for Boston, was struck on the forearm by ex-roommate Mickey McDermott in the third inning.

The Red Sox outpaced lead the Senators with a triple play, McDermott had two strikes on the batter when Parnell was hit on the left arm. He was rushed to George Washington hospital where Dr. George A. Restis, the Senators' team physician, said the pitcher had suffered a "transverse fracture of the ulna mid-shaft, a small bone in the left forearm."

The arm was put in a cast and the doctor said Parnell would be out of action for from four to six weeks.

Tom Brewer came in to run for Parnell. Billy Goodman singled Brewer to second and Olson, attempting to bunt popped out to McDermott for the first out. The Senators' hurler who batted to Washington, fired to shortstop Mel Hoderlein to double up Brewer. Hoderlein's throw to first baseman Roy Sievers nailed Goodman to complete the triple play.

Brown took over the pitching chores for Boston and permitted the Senators one unearned run and four hits in seven innings.

Washington scored its only run in the eighth when Wayne Terwilliger was safe on Kell's error and scored on Jim Busby's two-out triple.

The final two Boston runs came in the ninth on two walks, a single and a passed ball.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., April 24—UP—Harvey Haddix pitched a six-hitter and Wally Moon scored him twice with clutch hits as the St. Louis Cardinals coasted to a 7-2 victory over the Milwaukee Braves Saturday night.

Haddix himself launched the fifth-inning rally which broke a 3-2 tie when his fly ball was misjudged by Ed Mathews and fell safe for a double. Moon scored him with a line single off Joe Adcock's glove and trotted home on Stan Musial's double off the right field screen.

That hit finished starter Lew Burdette and Jim Wilson came in to put on the brakes for the Braves. But the Cards got to Wilson in the seventh, scoring another pair

TOP THREE IN REGION—John Darby, left, Ed Dudley, center, and Harold Lewis, of the Harvester track team were the three top point makers in the Region 1-AA track and field meet yesterday at Lubbock. Westerners Sweep 2 From Harvester Nine, 4-3; 7-2

LUBBOCK, April 24—(Special)—The Lubbock Westerners combined a double win over Pampa with an Amarillo off-date to take back first place in District 1-AA baseball here this afternoon, defeating the Harvesters 4-3 and 7-2 at Chapman Field.

Two victories, plus the one Friday at Pampa, give Coach Tim Tillery's crew a 5-2 record, one-half game in front of Amarillo's 4-2. That puts most of the pressure on the Westerners' trip to Amarillo Friday to play the Golden Sandies. It will be the last conference meeting for the two contenders.

Neat pitching jobs by Houston Powell and George Nelson were key factors in the twin wins. Nelson came on in the second contest to lead a lead built up for Charley Lawrence.

An error, triple by Dave Allen and single by Jimmy Joe Stanford scored two runs for Lubbock in the bottom half of the first inning in the opening game. Don Powers led off with a high pop fly that the centerfielder missed and came in to score on Allen's hit. Allen tallied on Stanford's sacrifice.

A single run came in the fourth after two were out when Neil McMullen walked, went to third on Powell's single and scored on an error.

The winning run was scored after a walk to Garrison, single by Bill Dean and sacrifice by Powers. That was in the sixth and in the seventh the Harvesters rallied for two runs to add to the one they garnered in the second.

A walk and two singles brought the last two home before Powell fanned Ray Velasquez for the final out.

The Westerners started the second game just like they had the first. Powers walked, went to third on an error and came home on another after Don Hogue had walked. Hogue scored on that second error.

Two more runs were scored in the second and single notches added to the gun in the third, fourth and sixth. Hogue scored three of them and got three hits to help the first-place cause mightily.

Lawrence was doing good until the fourth when he hit a batter and walked two to load the bases. Nelson came in then, but two runs were scored on a fielder's choice through he put the Harvesters down without a hit and without a base runner.

PHILADELPHIA, April 24—UP—Slim Murray Halberg, a wisp of a New Zealander, ran an American field of three, including Mel Whitfield, into the ground Saturday as he won the Benjamin Franklin invitation mile at the Penn Relays by 35 yards in a 4:10 clocking.

Halberg, in his first start away from home and his first run on cinders, wasted no motion as he took the lead in the first stride after the gun in the nationally-televised race, and then delighted a crowd of 31,000 by turning in the second fastest mile he ever ran.

Whitfield, moving up from the half mile — where he already has gained track immortality — for his competitive big time mile, was second in 4:14.7.

FBI agents Fred Will and Horace Ashenfelder trailed in third and fourth place in 4:18 and 4:20.

Sharing honors with the little speedster from down under was a record-breaking two mile team relay and a Manhattan College mile relay team which carved out its third successive triumph in the classic mile.

Manhattan blazed out a 3:51.1 victory by three yards over Morgan State.

Fordham set the only record of the meet when it answered a challenge from Oklahoma A&M by clipping 2.5 seconds from the carnival record in the two mile.

The Fordham foursome of Terry Foley, Frank Tarsney, Bill Persichetty and Tom Courtney, ran a red-hot 7:35.8 race to win by 15 yards over the Aggies. Courtney was clocked in 1:52.1 in his anchor leg.

Michigan, shorn of its championship in the four mile and the distance medley while Oklahoma A&M won Friday, salvaged something from a rough two days when its sprint medley team won in 3:26.5 with Manhattan second and Notre Dame third.

Among placings were: Lawrence Snow, Oklahoma A&M, fourth in 1:20-yard high hurdles.

Harvesters Finish Second In Meet

LUBBOCK, April 24—(Special)—Amarillo outlasted the Pampa Harvesters here Saturday to capture first place in the Regional 1-AA track and field meet with 49 1/2 points to 41 for the Harvesters who took second place.

The Harvesters, however, led in the record breaking department. The Pampans won six first places and set a new record in four events.

And the Harvesters furnished the top three point makers, John Darby, captain of the team and who was high point man in the District 1-AA meet two weeks ago, again grabbed high point honors with 13 1/2 points. Darby set two new records and helped set another in the 440-yard relay.

The fourth record set by the Harvesters was by Jon Cantrell in the shot put.

Darby's record breaking performance came in the broadjump with a leap of 21 ft. 10 1/2 inches and in the low hurdles with a 19.2 time.

The sprint relay team, composed of Darby, Dudley, Walker Bird and Harold Lewis, set a new record with a time of 43.1. It was the 12th race for this foursome in the sprint relay this year, 11 of which they have won.

Cantrell heaved the shot 51 ft. 4 3/4 inches for a new mark.

The other two first places won by the Harvesters in the regional meet here Saturday were Harold Lewis in the 100-yard dash and Dudley in the 120-yard high hurdles.

Lewis turned in a 9.8 time to win the century dash while Dudley had a 14.5 race.

Both Dudley and Lewis compiled 9 1/2 points to tie for second in individual honors.

Following Amarillo and Pampa in team scoring was Lubbock in third with 28 points; Odessa fourth with 18 3/4; Big Spring sixth with 13; Midland seventh with eight; Plainview eighth with 3-4; Lamesa ninth with 2, and Borger 10th with one.

The Harvesters led Amarillo, 96-25, after winning the sprint relay but the Sandies came back in the late events to erase the Harvesters lead.

The Harvesters qualified six for the state meet, May 7-8. They are Darby, Dudley, Lewis, Bird, Cantrell and Ed Strickland. Strickland placed second in the shot put behind Cantrell, giving the Harvesters eight points in this event. The Harvesters will go to Dallas next week where all high school athletes qualifying for the state meet have been invited to run in conjunction with the 3-way college meet between Southern California, Texas and Texas A&M.

Art Wall Leads Pack At Vegas

LAS VEGAS, Nev., April 24—UP—Lanky Art Wall of Pocono Manor, Pa., took one of the biggest leads in PGA tournament history after 54 holes Saturday when he carded his second consecutive sub-par round to take a seven stroke lead over the field in the $35,000 tournament of champions.

Wall, a lanky young man of 30 who never before has been in contention for such money, stroked a solid 76 Saturday to add to previous rounds of 69 and 66 for a 206 total.

The final 18 holes will be played Sunday and it looks now as though it would take a miracle to catch him.

His closest competitor is Dr. Cary Middlecoff, of the Memphis dentist now playing out of Klamath Lake, N. Y., who has a 213.

Three other stars of the tournament trail are close, too, with 213. They are Lloyd Mangrum, Doug Ford and Gene Littler.

With the pressure on, it was expected that Wall would crack some Saturday, but paired with Gene Littler, the National Amateur champion, and the 40-year-old Mangrum, the man from Pocono Manor stole the show.

When the play opened Saturday these three were closest in contention for the crown. But Wall disposed of Littler on the first nine when he shot a two-under-par 34 against Littler's 39; and took an added jump on Mangrum, who had a 37.

Wall was steady coming home, going only one over par as the final hole to come in for the day, despite high winds that swept across the long desert Inn Country Club course.

Earl Stewart of Dallas continued to play fine golf with another 70 for a 214, while at 216 came defending champion Art Beaslin, who had a little trouble Saturday and came in with a 75.

Dave Douglas and Chandler Harper were tied at 218.

Behind Douglas Fred Wampler of Irlesopolis, Ind., with a 71 for a 213; Bob Toak, Livingston, N. J., with a 73 for 221; Dick Mayer, St. Petersburg, Fla., with a 73 for 228; Walter Burkamo, Franklin, Mich., with 74 for 223; and Ed (Forky) Oliver, who turned in the highest score of the tournament — an 82 that gave him a 223 total.

Red Sox Trip Senators 6-1

WASHINGTON, April 24—UP—Hector (Skinny) Brown's brilliant relief pitching paced the Boston Red Sox to a 6-1 victory over the Washington Senators Saturday night, but the Red Sox lost star pitcher Mel Parnell who suffered a fractured left forearm.

Parnell, who started the game for Boston, was struck on the forearm by ex-roommate Mickey McDermott in the third inning.

The Red Sox outpaced lead the Senators with a triple play, McDermott had two strikes on the batter when Parnell was hit on the left arm. He was rushed to George Washington hospital where Dr. George A. Restis, the Senators' team physician, said the pitcher had suffered a "transverse fracture of the ulna mid-shaft, a small bone in the left forearm."

The arm was put in a cast and the doctor said Parnell would be out of action for from four to six weeks.

Tom Brewer came in to run for Parnell. Billy Goodman singled Brewer to second and Olson, attempting to bunt popped out to McDermott for the first out. The Senators' hurler who batted to Washington, fired to shortstop Mel Hoderlein to double

Milwaukee Picks Mattick Baltimore Bullets Draft Frank Selvy

BALTIMORE — 2-36 — All-America Frank Selvy, who set more than 20 major college scoring records during his three-season career at Furman, was selected by the Baltimore Bullets Saturday as the No. 1 pick in the National Basketball Association's college draft.

The nine professional clubs drafted a total of 98 players from the past season's exceptionally promising college crop. The three-hour draft was the windup of the three-day NBA meeting during which rules changes were made to curb excessive fouling.

With each team drafting in inverse order of its percentage in the final regular season standings, the Milwaukee Hawks had second choice and selected All-America

Whooping big rains last week in the Southwest settled shifting real estate and created the merry music of tinkling water in bankfull streams. The rain is a welcome sound as it drifts across forest meadows with nourishment for starving lakes already dangerously low.

Turbulent rain squalls kept most anglers at home and under shelter last week. The only alternative to satisfy an urge to wet a line was day dreaming and anticipation of the good fishing surely to follow the freshening rains.

My Greatest Shot

By Ben Hogan

Under the circumstances, I believe that I made at the 10th hole at Oakland Hills in 1951 was my best.

It was a 2 iron shot to the 10th green.

I hit a lot more just as good, but this was a most important shot.

It was the last round of the United States Open Championship and I was two strokes back of Jimmy Demaret and Bobby Locke.

After I had gone out in 1 under par, I came to the 10th, a real tough, 448-yard par 4. I reasoned that if I could get by this hole in par and could stay 1 under for the round, I would have a great chance. I did not believe that Demaret or Locke would shoot par or one over on this final round.

The 10th hole of the Birmingham, Mich., course calls for a 10th tee shot. I hit the fairway in a good place.

The pin lay on the right and short on the green. There was a big bunker and an elevated green to be considered.

I used a 2 iron and cut the ball. It feathered and held about five feet from the hole. The shot was about 215 yards. I continued

Sal Yvars Paying Off For Cardinals

ST. LOUIS, April 24 —UP—A baseball Latin from Manhattan is the latest target of St. Louis Cardinal autograph fans.

Sal Yvars, a 30-year-old catcher of Italian-Spanish ancestry, was bought from the New York Giants last June in a cash deal. And he may yet prove the best buy of the August Busch-owned Cardinals.

Sal had been with the Giants since coming up to the majors in 1947 but he had never been anything but a second stringer. He played second-fiddle first to Walker Cooper, then to Wes Westrum.

When he joined the Cards and his former team mate, Manager Eddie Stanky, an aching back hampered him in his effort to displace the well-established Del Rice.

But the determined receiver is literally a new man these days—by some 30 vanished pounds.

"I sure miss mashed potatoes," Sal said. "I've laid off bread and butter, top. I just had to do it to make the grade."

Yvars, according to his fellow players, was a miserable man in spring training when his strict dieting paid off with a lissome 173 pounds. By contrast he weighed 208 when he reported to the Giants at camp in the spring of last year.

He hammered his way into the lineup, delivering a home run as a pinch batter on April 15. Stanky put him into the starting crew the next day and he has had seven hits, including two homers and three doubles in 18 trips.

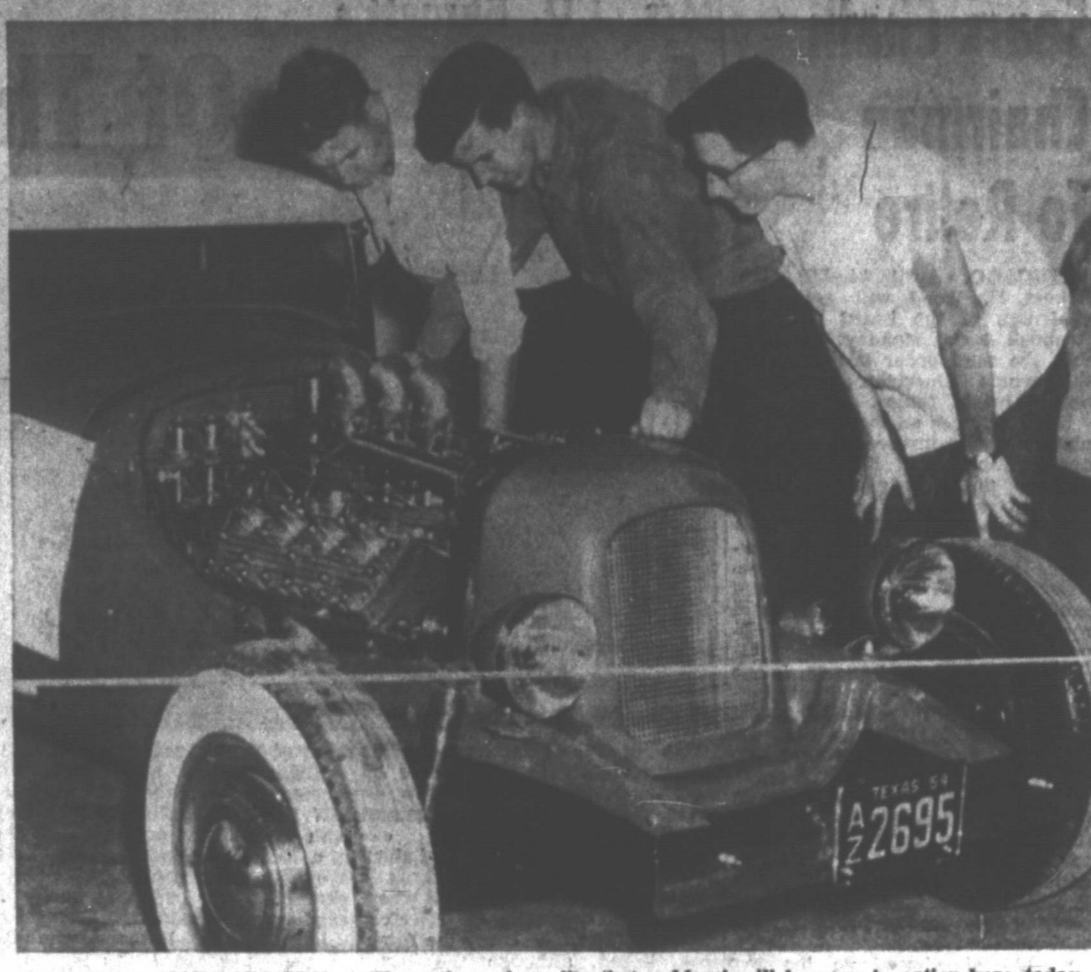

In addition, he stole his first major league base just a week ago. It was a clean theft of home against the Chicago Cubs.

Yvars said his big reduction in weight has helped his swing as well as his speed at foot.

"I can come around on a ball faster since I got some of the fat off my short ribs," he said.

About his hitting, his reaction is that of "most major leaguers.

"They're just dropping in for me, he said."

Kenneth McKechnie, left, owner of the above car, a 1927 model pickup, has been building on the car four years. The car has an estimated 250 hp. The other two shown are Roy Jones and Leroy Clark. Races today will begin at 2 p.m.

Thailand Set To Stage 1st Title Bout

BANGKOK, Thailand, April 24 —UP—The May 2 Bout between bantamweight titleholder Jimmy Caruthers of Australia and Chamroen Songkitrat of Thailand will be the first world championship fight ever held in this country and both government officials and fans plan to stage it in style.

Bangkok's national stadium is being transformed into a suitable boxing arena for the 12-round fight at a cost of 2 million baht ($100,000). The stadium will seat 50,000 for the bout, which will begin at 8 a. m.

Songkitrat, a soft-spoken police officer whose real name is Samroeng Seemad, is the first Thai boxing star to appear in a world title bout.

But whether he wins or loses, it will be a gala day in Bangkok.

C. J. Delaney, police commissioner of New South Wales, Australia, and Nat Fleischer of New York, editor of the Ring Magazine, will witness the fight as guests of Police General Phao Sriyanond, Thailand's police chief, deputy minister of the interior and deputy minister of finance.

Gen Phao's guests will stay at Mankashila House, headquarters of the pro-government parties—the current national assembly of Thailand.

For the first time in the country's history, the Council of Ministers has decided to support a boxing event. That means the government will make up any financial loss the organizers of the bout might suffer.

If any profit is made, it will go

Longhorns Eke Past SMU Mustangs, 1-0

AUSTIN, April 24 —UP— Boyd Linker of Texas and Tommy Bowers of SMU locked horns in a tight pitching duel Saturday as the Longhorns look their seventh Southwest Conference victory, 1 to 0.

Linker fanned nine and pitched his second straight shutout, running his scoreless inning skinn to 22. He allowed only three hits.

Bowers struck out eight, and allowed six hits, but was in serious trouble on three occasions.

Texas scored its winning run in the second inning when Travis Eckert got a triple on a towering fly which was caught in a heavy wind and misjudged by SMU's right-fielder. He scored when Paul Moore grounded out.

Linker allowed only one SMU base runner to reach third in chalking up his sixth win of the season. Bert Wallace, SMU first baseman, collected two hits off the Texas junior.

Score by innings:

Sears Chain Chairman To Retire

CHICAGO, April 24—UP—Gen. Robert E. Wood will retire as chairman of the board of Sears Roebuck & Co. Monday, confident that the mail order business—and the whole American economy—has a bright future.

Wood believes an increasing population should insure the nation a healthy business life at least through the next generation. By 1970, he said, the U.S. population should reach 200 million.

He warned in an interview, however, that another war could "destroy our economic system and push us into some form of state socialism, 'the very thing we oppose.'"

Wood, white-haired and 75, is one of the country's most brilliant planners of mass merchandising. He was responsible, 30 years ago, for Sears Roebuck's first venture into selling through retail stores.

Sears now operates 600 stores in the United States alone. Last year the firm's net profit after taxes totaled $117,882,302. Its catalog, with a total circulation of 30 million, list more than 100,000 items ranging from tractor parts to fountain pens.

Wood, interviewed on the eve of his retirement, looked out over his glasses into the business future. He is all in favor of the population shift from the cities to the suburbs.

"One family in a ranch house is worth three in apartments, as far as Sears is concerned," he said, "Think of all the lawn mowers, grass seed...blue jeans."

Wood is a tireless student of statistics. He is said to have a "photographic memory" for census figures and statistical reports.

He believes the United States will have to be careful if its population goes beyond 200 million. Any figure over that might tax the nation's ability to produce, and result in a lowered living standard.

Wood got interested in population trends and mass supply of living necessities during his Army service. He was a 1900 West Point graduate, fought in the Philippine insurrection and spent 10 years in the Panama Canal Zone during construction of the canal.

He served as acting quartermaster during World War I, and in 1919 joined Montgomery Ward as general merchandise manager and vice president. Five years later he moved to Sears Roebuck.

He was elected president of Sears in 1928, and in 1929 became chairman of the board. After World War II, he gambled on whether there would be prosperity in the postwar years, and won.

Pantex Lays Off Workers

Another reduction in work force has been announced by the Pantex Ordnance plant management. This reduction was made necessary by further realignment of production requirements. After the reduction is complete, total Pantex employment, including Atomic Energy commission, ordnance and the Procter and Gamble Defense corporation, will be about 425.

Plant officials believe Pantex work and employment will stabilize at this new level, stating these reductions are not out of line with similar moves at other ordnance establishments throughout the country.

Mrs. J.O. Burnett's Area Farm Of The Week

One of the oldest ranches in Roberts county is that owned by Mrs. J. O. Burnett, who now divides her time between Miami and Waxahachie.

The ranch, which is located about five miles north of Miami, is a combination cattle ranch and wheat farm. The hundreds of Hereford cattle on the ranch carry the Pitchfork brand, although the ranch does not go by that name; it is simply known as the Burnett ranch.

Jack McLaren, a native of Massachusetts, is now managing the ranch for Mrs. Burnett. He and Mrs. McLaren have been on the 2,300-acre spread for the past 13 1/2 years.

A resident of the Panhandle since 1920, the McLarens formerly lived in Pampa and also were on the J-A ranch for several years.

After spending one winter in California, they returned to this area and took over the management of the Burnett ranch in 1940. McLaren was married to the former Miss Mabel Benedict in 1917 in North Dakota, where they both were living at the time. She is a native of South Dakota. They are both members of the Baptist church. Their principal hobby is reading, they said.

Mrs. Burnett's husband, who died in 1924, purchased the big ranch about 916. McLaren stated, but he did not know from whom the place was bought.

The ranch manager is a cooperator with the Roberts county Soil Conservation district. Soil conservation practices used recently have included the use of stubble mulch tillage, deferred grazing and the planting of legume cover crops, mostly soy beans.

Former Pampa Dies In Okemah

Funeral services for Mrs. Emma Carney, 72, former Pampa resident who died at her home in Okemah, Okla., early Friday morning, will be held there at 2 p.m. Monday.

Mrs. Carney, who was born in Wheeling, W. Va., April 15, 1882, came to Pampa with her husband, Riley Carney, in the early 1930s. He worked for the Wilcox Oil company before moving to Okemah several years ago.

She is survived by her husband in Okemah; two daughters, Mrs. Velma Combs and Mrs. Hadda Moore, both of Pampa; three grandsons, Gilbert, Carl and Willard Moore, all of Pampa, and four great-granddaughters, Carlotta, Ann, Shirley and Donna Moore, all of Pampa.

Trash Code Violators To Be Fined

Gray county residents who dump trash, trees and garbage along the public highways and throughways will be fined $100 in county court.

City-County Sanitarian L. E. West Saturday said he had been talking to the county judge and county commissioners and they had advised him persons were cluttering up the areas adjacent to the roads.

"All violators will be fined," he emphasized.

A $25-$100 fine, too, awaits anyone who maintains an open-pit toilet within 100 feet of an existing sewer line, the sanitarian continued.

Pointing out that the city plumbing code prohibits it, West estimated that there were 500-600 such toilets in the area now.

Residents are really obeying the city's livestock and crowing chicken ordinances, he added. "They're coming along pretty well."

Pampa's Business and Professional Women's Club . . .

organized in May 1929, celebrates its 25th anniversary this Tuesday night with a tea and reception in the City Club Rooms.

A civic as well as social organization, B&PW club was formed to: "Promote the interest of business and professional women and bring them into close relationship and friendship; to elevate the standards of women in business and in the professions and to bring about a spirit of cooperation among business and professional women in Pampa in all causes tending to the upbuilding of our city, to good citizenship, civic pride and in general support of public welfare."

The Business and Professional Women's club ranks with Lions, Kiwanis, Rotary and other civic clubs in its scope and in the work it is doing. It is organized along similar lines and has a well defined program. It is an international organization with clubs in the leading countries.

Pampa is fortunate to have a large group of business and professional women, most of them with families, who take time from their active professional lives to work for the benefit of their community and their own position in the business world.

Busy preparing for the tea in the picture below are shown, left to right, Mrs. W. A. York, program chairman; Mrs. Marguerite Nash, national security chairman; Mrs. Hattie Holt, news service chairman; Mrs. Lucille Turner, legislative chairman; and Mrs. G. E. Tinnin, members chairman.

Mrs. Frank Lard Has Held All Offices Of B&PW Club But Vice Presidency

"I've been everything in the club but vice-president," stated Mrs. Frank Lard, charter member of the Business and Professional Women's organization here, and a past president.

In addition to her activities in B&PW, Mrs. Lard is vice-president of Altruism club, and treasurer of the American Legion auxiliary. She is also a member of the National Secretaries association.

Mrs. Lard and her husband came to Pampa in 1926 from Houston, Texas. Her home town, however, is Tulsa, Okla. Mr. Lard is a native Pampa and met Mrs. Lard in Neodesha, Kans., where she was visiting an aunt. Former Pampans, who had recently moved to that city, had talked him into staying there for a while.

Employed by the Texas Furniture company for 24 years, Mrs. Lard also keeps the books and "does the ordering" for her husband's business, the El-Ranch Motel.

Mr. Lard, himself, is almost considered a charter member of B&PW because of his years as the group's adopted "handy man."

At one time he even held a membership card.

"He kept griping because we were working him so hard," Mrs. Lard explained. "So, we gave him a membership card and told him to get back to work," she laughed.

However, he stopped working so hard for us, so we took the card away."

One of the club's main events of the year is its Fall Round-up, which is always held at the Lard home, 1101 E. Frederic. "It's really the Miami highway, as we're out of the city limits," stated Mrs. Lard.

The event is the time "we round-up the old members and initiate the new," she pointed out. "We always hold it in our back yard in the form of a rodeo. We call our place the V bar L ranch, which we print on the invitations we send out."

"When I think back over the past 25 years in B&PW, I've done a lot of work, but nothing outstanding," she advised modestly.

Mrs. Rufe Thompson Joined B&PW In '29

Although not a charter member, the Business and Professional Women's corresponding secretary, Mrs. Rufe Thompson, first joined the club in 1929 — the year it was organized.

She was a member for several years and then dropped out. She re-joined the group about five years ago. Her other offices in the club have been secretary, chairman of the radio committee and treasurer. She is also vice-president of the National Secretaries association.

She came to Pampa in 1926 from Albuquerque, N. M., but says she's a "native Texan, born and reared in Denton."

Mrs. Thompson's husband is a desk deputy in the office of another Rufe — Sheriff Jordan. Both are members of the First Methodist church. They have one daughter, Mrs. Joe Hawkins of Pampa, and two grandchildren.

B&PW Secretary Is Mrs. Homer Doggett

Mrs. Homer Doggett, a three-year member of the club, is its recording secretary this year. Previously, she worked on a number of committees.

Mrs. Doggett's other club activities include being secretary of the Adult Training Union of the First Baptist church, of which she is a member.

Until recently, she worked for Tarpley's Music Store, but now has the job of keeping the books for her husband's filling station. She has been a Pampans for 15 years.

Mrs. Doggett and her husband live at 322 N. Wynne. They have one daughter, Jan, who will graduate from Texas Tech, Lubbock, in May.

Pampa B&PW Will Celebrate Birthday At Party Tuesday In City Club Rooms

Twenty-five years as a chartered, federated club will be celebrated by Pampa's Business and Professional Women at a reception set for 7:30 p.m. Tuesday in the city club room.

Special guests expected to attend include Mrs. Glen Poole of Wichita Falls, a charter member and the club's first president; Miss Della Stagner of Hereford, district director; Mrs. Ivan Howard of Jay, Okla.; Mrs. C. Lander of Anton, and Mrs. Pearly Mitchell of Pampa, all past presidents.

B&PW clubs from Panhandle, Amarillo and Borger have also been invited. It was the Amarillo club who started the Pampa organization. Pampa, in turn, helped organize the Panhandle and Borger clubs.

Featured speaker for the event will be Mrs. Aileen Ater of Childress, past state president. Mrs. Finis Jordan, charter member and thrice president, will be mistress of ceremonies.

Special music will be provided by Mrs. Donald L. Bissell, who will present several vocal solos; and by Sue Williams, who will play background piano music.

Present officers of the club include Mrs. Hazel Jay, president; Mrs. D. C. Ash, vice-president;

Mrs. Homer Doggett, recording secretary; Mrs. Rufe Thompson, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Emmett Gee, treasurer; and Mrs. Howard Patton, parliamentarian.

Committee chairmen include Mrs. William G. Crowson, education and vocation; Mrs. E. H. Eaton, finance; Mrs. Ruby Cunningham, international relations; Mrs. Lucille Turner, legislation; Mrs. W. E. Jordan, health and safety; Mrs. G. E. Tinnin, membership; Mrs. W. A. York, program; Mrs. Lorene Locke, public affairs; Mrs. Gladys Jaynes, publications; Mrs. Hattie Holt, news service; Mrs. T. L. White, radio and television; and Mrs. G. O. Cunningham, social.

Special committee chairmen are Mrs. Harry G. Roberts, business woman's week; Mrs. D. C. Ash, club co-ordinator; Mrs. G. E. Tinnin, and Mrs. W. A. York, council of clubs; and Mrs. John Beverly, club mother.

When the Business and Professional Women's club was established in Pampa in 1929, it had a charter membership of 36. After 25 years, it now boasts an enrollment of 73. Its members are listed below:

Ethel Anderson, Flossie Anderson, Frances Craver Appleby, Alma Ash, Katie Beverly, Mrs. Milo Bird, Dovie Breeze, Viva Burgess, Mrs. W. C. Chapman, Mrs. M. A. Mrs. Emmett Gee Is Treasurer Of B&PW

In charge of Pampa's Business and Professional Women's Club finances is Mrs. Emmett Gee, serving her third term as treasurer. Her other terms were in 1946-47 and 1948-49.

A member of the group for 11 years, Mrs. Gee has also served as chairman of the finance committee "several times." When not treasurer or chairman, she always "worked on that committee."

Mrs. Gee came to Pampa 33 years ago from Oklahoma. Her hobby she states, is "keeping up with the Gee-men — her husband and her son, Richard, who has just been discharged from the armed forces and is residing in Oklahoma. She is a member of the First Christian church and lives with her husband at 417 Hill.

Mrs. Gee is also a member of the Civic Culture club. She has been employed as office manager for the Pampa United Fund since it began here. Expert Says Wall Colors Influence The 'Spacious Look'

By KAY SHERWOOD
NEA Staff Writer

Furnishing the first home is one of life's exciting highlights. Without any effort at all it can recall the happy, exhausting confusion of deciding what furniture to buy, what colors to use and what fabrics offered the most for the slim budget.

You study so many pictures and shop so many stores that you go cuckoo trying to balance what you want with what you know darned well you can afford.

A chance conversation on the subject with Paul McCobb, nationally known designer of contemporary furniture, lamps and accessories led to his putting down on paper his suggestions. Because his designs, beamed to the small home or apartment, have proved so popular with young marrieds, his ideas on decor are worth a review.

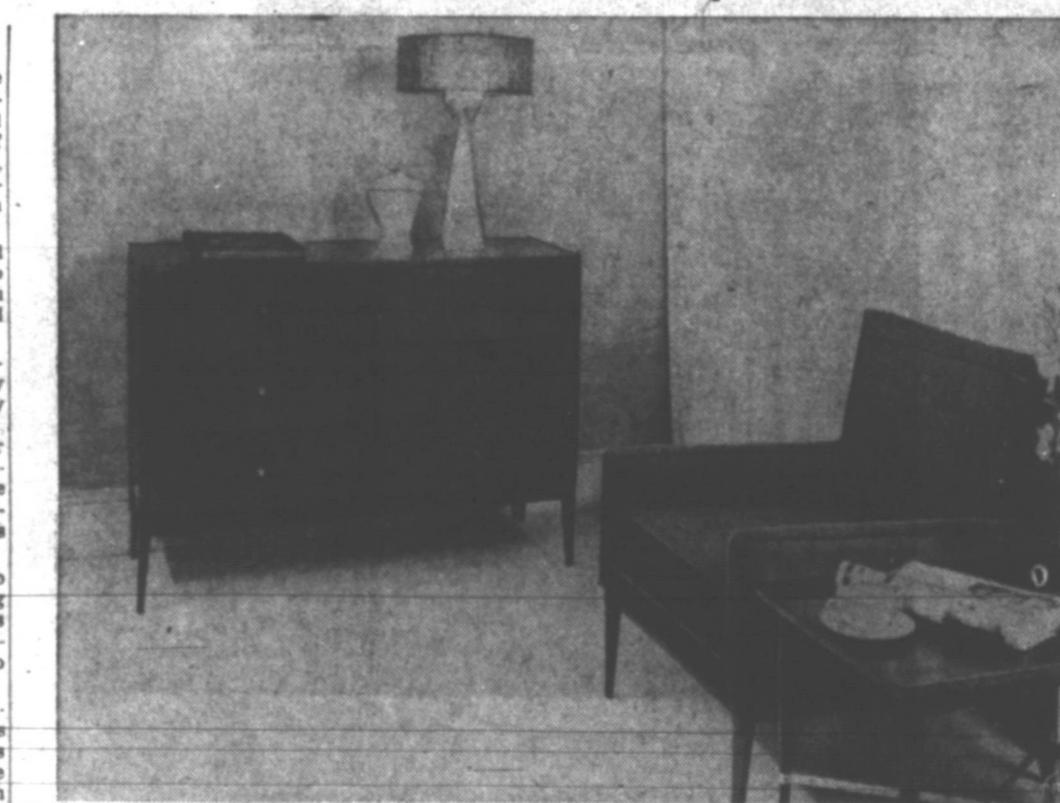

"Buy key pieces first," McCobb advises, such as "one imposing unit and only a couple of chairs that are absolutely necessary — the big one first, and you can go on from there."

Mixing contemporary and traditional furniture is a trick, thinks this designer. "Don't try it unless you can do it right. If you have some old-fashioned accessories such as china figurines or even a collection of sea shells, keep them all in a bookcase or cabinet. Don't scatter them all around the room," he adds.

McCobb interprets surveys, showing that many prospective brides want to buy modern furniture, to mean that they like "the spacious look" that the simple, clean lines of most modern furniture help to create.

"To keep the spacious look, avoid clutter in a room and watch the colors you use," he advises. "Color is of vital importance for an airy feeling. You can take three or four feet of visual space away from a room by using the wrong color on the walls.

Lighter shades, such as the paler tones in the greens, beiges, grays, whites and off-whites, add darker shades cut it down," he observes.

He cautions the amateur decorator to be careful about using wall colors that are too hot or too cold. "The best rule is to avoid them, and if you use shades like burgundy or those in the blue family, be sure it's in moderation," he says.

If old-fashioned windows or a bad wall are clobbering your contemporary plans, McCobb makes another suggestion. For the windows, he suggests panels of polyplastic attached to vertical struts running from floor to ceiling.

Plane Search Continues
HONOLULU, April 24 —UP—A search for a missing twin-engine plane with five men aboard began anew Friday after a shining object on the slopes of Haleakala Mountain turned out to be an abandoned shack with a metal roof.

Mrs. Finis Jordan, Charter Member Of B&PW, Believes In Keeping Busy

"I keep busy, and it keeps me happy," advised Mrs. Finis Jordan, charter member of the Business and Professional Women's group and active clubwoman. "I believe it keeps you feeling young."

With the B&PW in its 25th year in Pampa, Mrs. Jordan recalls when she was one of 18 women who started the ball rolling to get the club started. By the time the group was organized, it had 36 charter members, Mrs. Jordan explained.

"I've held every chairmanship and have been president twice," she pointed out. "When I wasn't an officer or chairman, I worked on every committee."

"Purpose of the club is to bring about a spirit of cooperation among business and professional women of Pampa in all causes tending toward the upbuilding of the city, to good citizenship, civic pride, and in the support of public welfare," she explained. "Its object is to promote the interests of business and professional women. Its motto is 'Better Business Women For a Better Business World.' The club is non-political, non-sectarian, self-governing, and self-supporting. Only women actively engaged in business or the professions are accepted as members, although those retiring from business may continue their membership if they desire."

Mrs. Jordan came to Pampa from Lubbock in 1928 when she began working for the Pampa Buick company, "located where Cornelius Motor company is now." Five years later, she began working for Tom Rose Ford company, for which she is now office manager.

Shortly after coming to Pampa, she met her husband, and they celebrated their silver wedding anniversary in January of this year. In fact, this is her 25th year for several things — her marriage, her arrival in Pampa, and her helping to start B&PW.

Her other club activities include being a charter member and first secretary of the League of Women Voters, which she also helped organize. She is a charter member and past president of the National Secretaries' association, and has just finished a one-year term as president of the Gray County Tuberculosis society.

In the past, Mrs. Jordan served three years as secretary of the Red Cross chapter here, and for one year as president of the Council of Clubs. She has served on a citizen's committee dealing with bond issues and on a city-appointed group which investigated the feasibility of starting a United Fund in Pampa.

"I also belong to the Country Club," Mrs. Jordan added. "I love to dance and play cards." And in her spare time, she works "on flowers" in her yard.

In recognition of her many activities, Mrs. Jordan was named the "business woman of the year" in 1953.

A "native of West Texas," she was born in Sherwood and attended business college in Lubbock. She carried on her education through correspondence courses and is now a licensed public accountant.

Mrs. Jordan lives with her husband at 712 N. West. Mr. Jordan is a drilling superintendent for the Texas company.

MRS. EVERETT E. MCNUTT — formerly of Pampa, is a charter member of Pampa's Business and Professional Women's Club. Although she moved to Houston this fall, she still maintains her membership here. A past president, she was one of the club's most active members. Because she is president of the National Dental Hygienists Association which is holding a convention in Dallas next week, she will not be able to attend Tuesday's 25th anniversary celebration here.

The record shop: Glenn Miller's records keep rolling along. The fabulous Limited Edition album of RCA's sold 115,000 copies at $28.95 per. And there were 50,000 unfilled orders when the supply ran out. If you missed out, start saving for next fall — RCA is planning Volume 2, an entirely new set. This one will be limited, too. But so, unfortunately, is the supply of Miller numbers.

It's amazing what goes into the making of a record album. You'd never think it, but among the ingredients are things like nostalgia curves and caprice. At least those are two of Goddard Lieberman's raw materials.

Lieberman, over at Columbia records, directs the re-creating of musical comedies. His latest, "The Boys From Syracuse," is a good example of his art.

"You can't go back too far for musicals to record," he says. "Otherwise you go beyond the nostalgia curve, and people won't buy what they don't remember. But I don't select them all on such a philosophical basis. Often it's just caprice — I make something I like."

Lieberman tries to get the original orchestrations when he finally picks a show. Those are sometimes elusive.

"You'd be surprised," he says "at the shambles most of the music is. I think this series is what prompted Dick Rodgers to reorganize all his own original scores into good shape."

National B&PW Formed In 1919

In Pampa, the Business and Professional Women's club is 25 years old. Nationwide, the organization dates back to 1919.

During World War I, it was found that men in nearly all businesses and professions could easily be reached in case of an emergency, but there was no central organizations through which business women's services could be utilized.

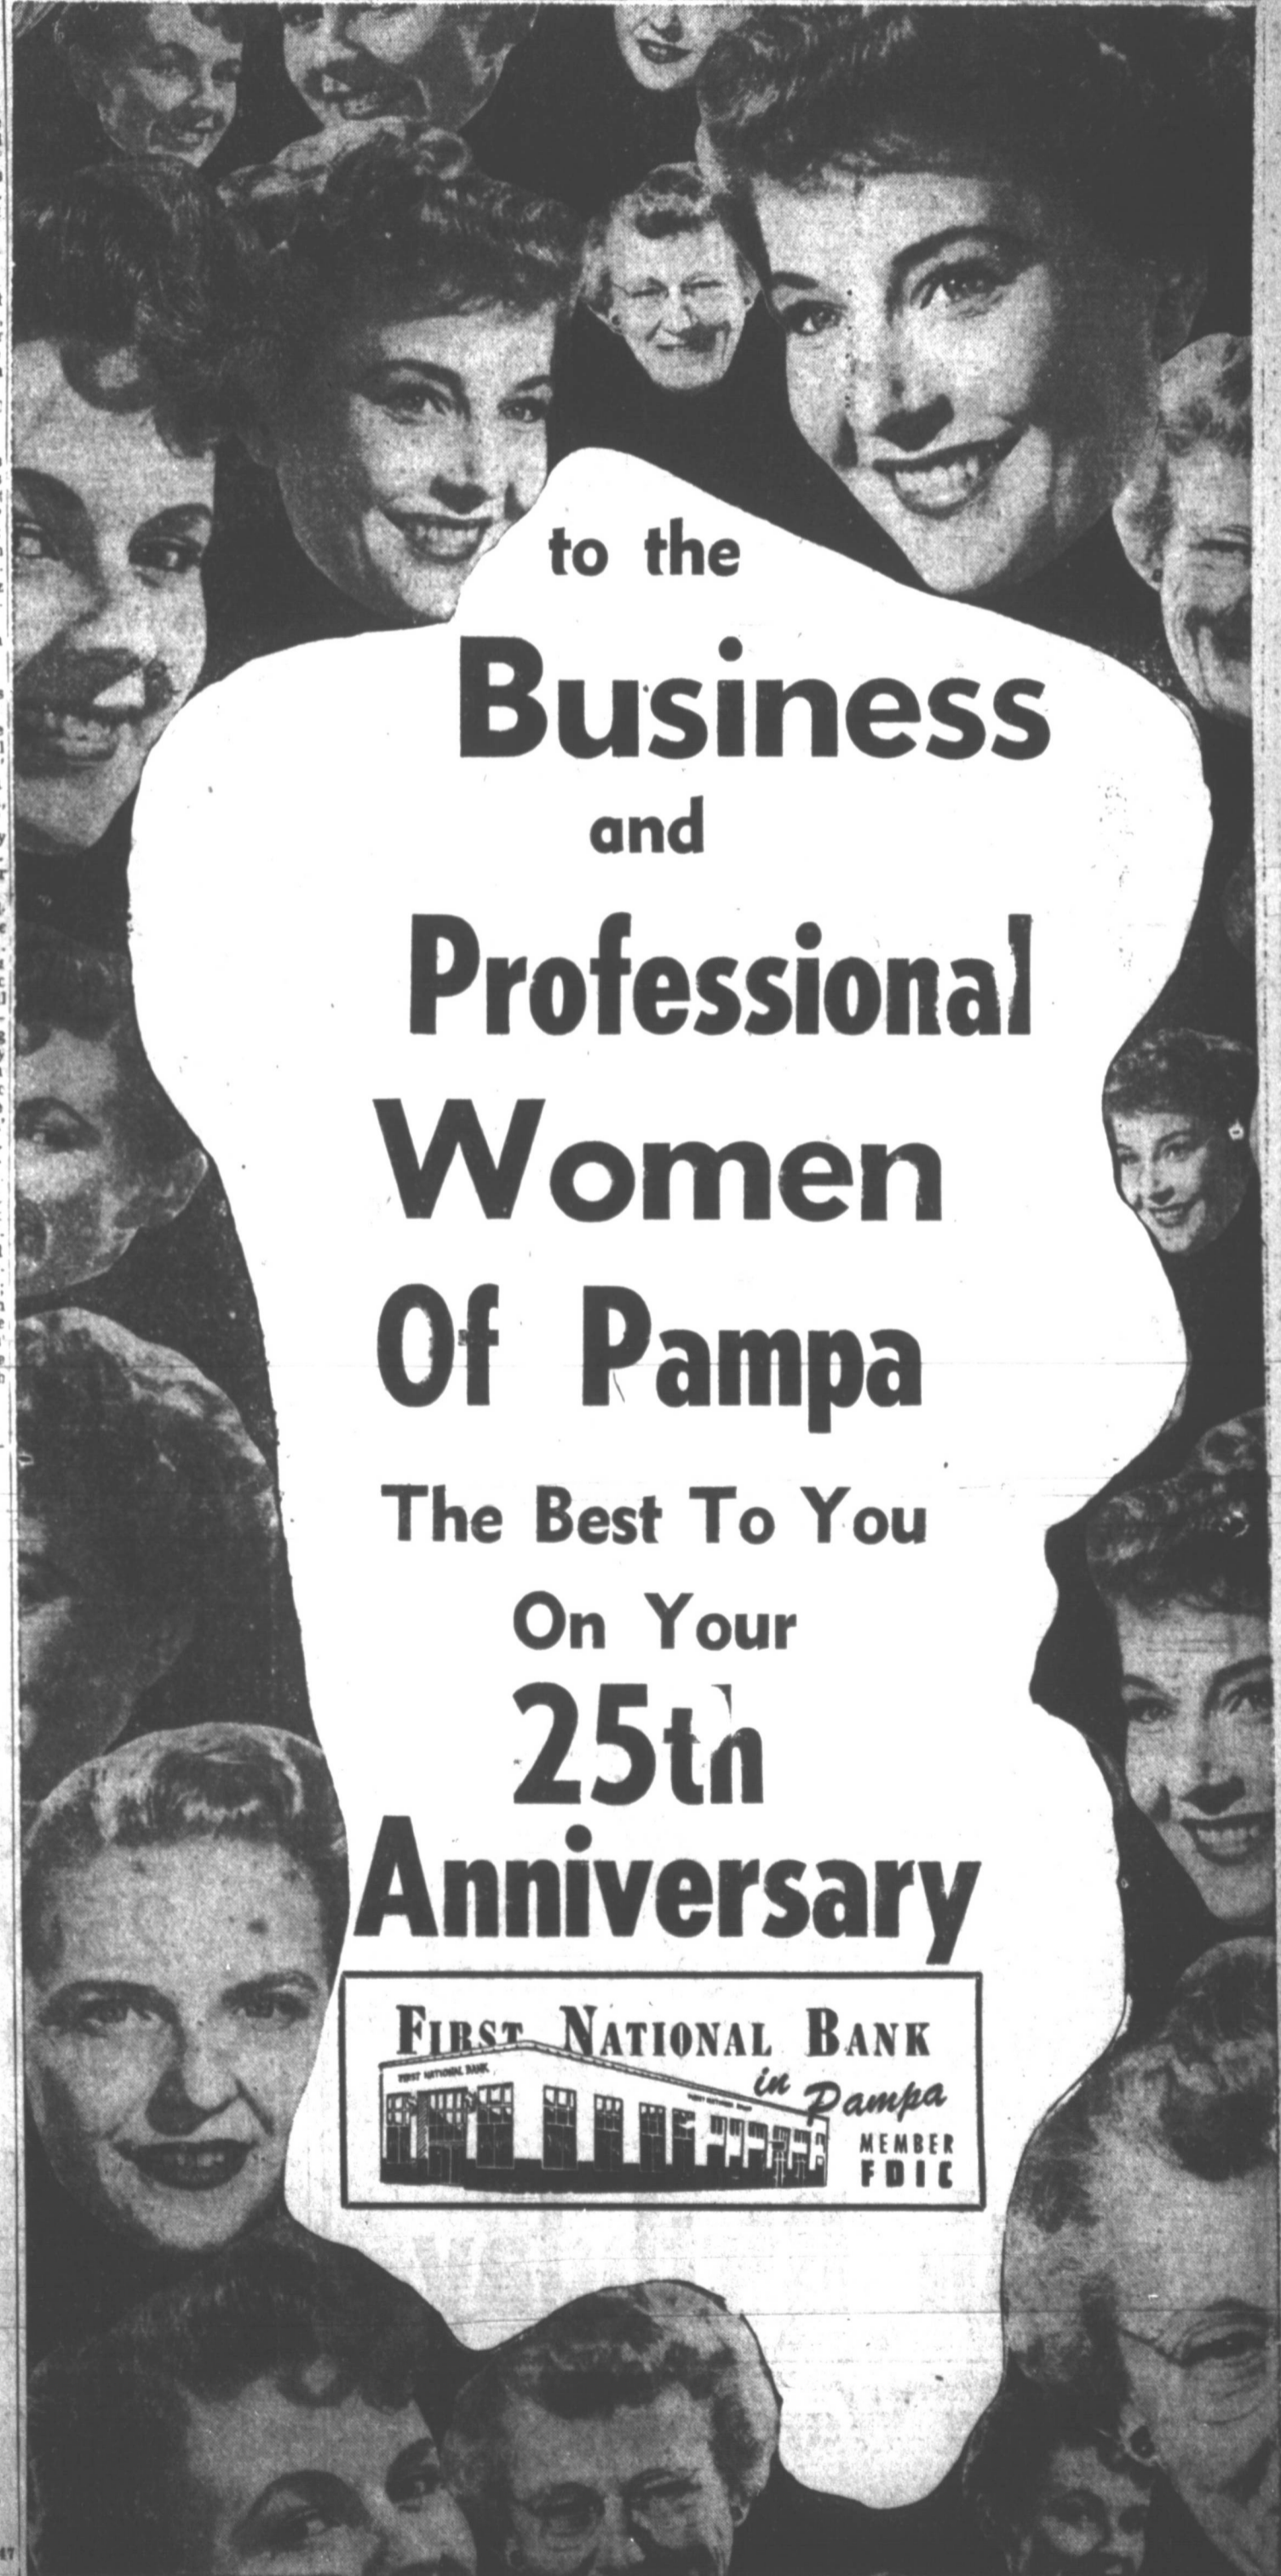

In response to this need, the Young Women's Christian association made an appeal for representative women from cities east of Denver, Colo., to attend a conference in New York, May 11 and 12, 1918, to discuss the feasibility of such an organization. One hundred women attended.

As a result of this meeting a National Business Women's committee was organized to make a survey of the number of women's business and professional clubs in existence. Organizers were then sent to various parts of the country to establish more clubs.

In July 1919, 200 delegates from these clubs met in St. Louis to form the National Federation of Business and Professional Women.

Since that time, the movement has grown until there are now 165,000 members in 2,300 clubs in the 48 states, District of Columbia, Hawaiian Islands and Alaska.

History Of Pampa B&PW Club Records 25 Years Of Service To The Community

By MRS. FINIS JORDAN
B&PW Charter Member and Past President

Three members of the Amarillo Business and Professional Women's club met with 16 prominent business women of Pampa April 23, 1929, in the home of Mrs. W. C. Mitchell to organize a Pampa B&PW club.

Mrs. Finis Jordan was elected temporary chairman, and organization was completed at a dinner meeting April 29 in the Schneider Hotel. Thirty-six charter members were enrolled, of whom Mrs. Jordan, and Mrs. Frank Lard are still active in the club.

That first year B & PW joined the Council of Clubs. It added 19 new members, who were also accepted as charter members. Among those who are still active are Mrs. Roy Chisum and Mrs. Ruth Sewell. In 1930, Mrs. Grace Pool represented the club as delegate to the International Forum in Geneva, Switzerland, when a group of American business and professional women made a Good-Will tour of Europe.

Under the leadership of Mrs. W. C. Mitchell, a No-No club for girls was organized in 1930 in the local schools. It corresponded with the Not-Hole gang organized for boys by the Rotary club. B & PW sponsored this group until the Girl Scouts were organized.

Throughout its 25 years, the club has sponsored many events to raise money for charity. Dances were sponsored, and annual style shows were held. Other activities were bridge and bingo tournaments, and rummage sales. More recently, street decorations were sold for the annual rodeo, and orders taken for fruit cakes during Christmas season.

Numerous public forums have been sponsored in the public interest. These included a tax forum in 1933 to urge the collection of delinquent taxes; a public forum on housing conditions in 1934; a School of Citizenship luncheon in 1935 to secure the united attention of men and women to civic problems; an open forum that same year to discuss community beautification; and a public forum in 1946 to attempt to solve the shortage of teachers in Gray county.

This club has cooperated with the Chamber of Commerce and Board of City Development in many special projects. For the Pre-Centennial celebration, B&PW was asked to sponsor a street dance and to take charge of novelty concessions. The following year, the club served as hostess to the Pioneer Women of the Panhandle. Members acted as registrars for Citizens Registration Day in 1941. Members volunteered their services for the USO club. Furniture was donated to the airbase hospital for nurses' rooms, and three members served on the Post-War Planning Committee set up by the C. C. In 1948, it cooperated with this group in obtaining a petition for an election authorizing a bond issue to equip Highland General hospital.

Since 1949, we have had charge of the Christmas Home Decorating contest and have entered floats each year in the Santa Day Parade. Members have also assisted with room registration for rodeo visitors. During Pampa's 50th birthday anniversary, all members sold hats and sun-bonnets to advertise this fête.

For several years a safety campaign has been held, with prizes for the most courteous women drivers during Business Women's week. Prizes have also been awarded in the schools for the best essays on safe driving.

At the time of the Higgins tornado, members helped collect clothing for the victims, and several women donated their time during this disaster. Clothing has been collected and given to needy school children, and many boxes of clothes and other items have been sent to war orphans overseas. A Belgian orphan was adopted and money furnished for her subsistence for one year.

During the war, members gave one evening each week for rolling Red Cross bandages, and all took RC first aid courses. Entertainment was provided numerous times for patients in the airbase hospital.

When Pampa maintained a Child Welfare Board, the club cooperated with the planning and financially. Furniture and money were generously donated to the Girl Scout house. A student loan fund, established in 1935, has been used several times to aid students going to business college. Several hundred dollars were given to the school cafeteria fund to provide lunches for needy school children.

Each Thanksgiving and Christmas, baskets of food have been given to destitute families. B&PW has cooperated with Pampa's recreational council and provided chaperones for numerous teen-age entertainments. A merit award is given each year to the highest top ranking senior girl in the commercial classes. Prior to the organization of the United Fund, the group cooperated in every community drive and gave $100 to the United Fund this year.

Mrs. Hazel Jay Is President Of B&PW

Heading the Business and Professional Women this year is Mrs. Hazel Jay, 512 E. Browning.

A native of Valley Mills, Texas, Mrs. Jay has lived in Pampa for 14 years. She has two daughters — Mrs. John Campbell of Pampa, and Miss Gloria Jay, a physiotherapist at the Cripple Children's school and hospital, Sioux Falls, S. D. She has two grandchildren, and is a member of the Central Baptist church. A member of B&PW for five years, Mrs. Jay has been active in the club as social chairman, public affairs chairman, international relations chairman, and vice president.

She has been employed for three months by the Credit Clearance corporation. Prior to that time, she worked for the Pampa Clinic for five years.

Stephen Ames Succumbs
MALIBU, Calif., April 24 —UP—Funeral services pended Friday for film producer Stephen Ames, a one-time leading New York stock broker who died at his home here after a heart attack. The former MGM and RKO producer died Thursday while an emergency aid squad attempted to revive him. His widow, former Mexican actress Raquel Torres, said he had been under treatment for a heart condition for several months.

Business and Professional Women of Pampa On Your

Silver Anniversary

MISS DELLA STAGNER — of Hereford, district director of the Business and Professional Women's club, is expected to be an honored guest at the Pampa group's silver anniversary celebration Tuesday. The event will take place at 7:30 p.m. in the city club room. A special anniversary purchase of a silver tea service has been made, and will be available for use by members of the council of clubs.

Top Offices In B&PW And Many Other Organizations Held By Mrs. Roy Chisum

"Many times a president" sums up the club participation of Mrs. Roy Chisum, a charter member of the Business and Professional Women's Club.

In addition to holding the top office of B&PW for one year, Mrs. Chisum has been president of the VFW auxiliary two years and district president of that group for another two years. She was president of the Art Club last year; and for two years she headed the Council of Clubs.

Her other activities include being a member of the Salvation Army board for eight years, and serving on the Girl Scout board for a number of years. She also found time to teach a Sunday School class.

On top of her "outside" activities, Mrs. Chisum kept house for her husband and son and worked for 18 years, 15 of them at Murfee's department store.

Mrs. Chisum's first acquaintance with Pampa came in 1918 when she visited here, after spending some time in Miami with Mr. Chisum's family.

"All the Cook-Adams addition was all wheat fields," she reminisced. "I spent my first night here in the house that is now the Pampa School of Business." The old red brick school building was just a few years old and "way out of town."

Born and reared around Fort Worth, Mrs. Chisum and her husband, a native of Miami, came to Pampa to stay in 1928. Before that they lived in Amarillo for three years.

Mrs. Chisum became a charter member of B&PW in 1929. During the years, she has held every office, she advised.

"We have so much fun in B&PW," she related. One of the highlights of her experiences while a member is a national convention of the group in Fort Worth.

"At the time, I believe they said it was the first national convention ever held in Texas," she pointed out. She told of delegates reserving a whole hotel floor, several rooms of which were used for displays of industry in their state.

"When you registered, they gave you a big shopping bag, which you filled several times a day with samples," Mrs. Chisum related. "One of the women from the East told me that several women in her club, (all were judges or lawyers just getting started) went without permanent and new clothes so they could attend the convention."

Despite her many activities, Mrs. Chisum manages to have a hobby — ceramics and china painting. And on nice days, she likes to work in her yard.

Mrs. Chisum's family consists of her husband; her son, now stationed at George Air Force Base, Calif., who accompanied Admiral Byrd's South Pole expedition while in the Navy; Peaches, her Manchester dog; and Cherry-boy, her parakeet, who sometimes calls himself Boy-cherry. The Chisums live at 406 N. Russell.

MRS. HOWARD E. PATTON
 . . . B&PW Parliamentarian

Mrs. Howard Patton Serves B&PW As Parliamentarian
 Among the top six officers of Pampa's Business and Professional Women's organization is Mrs. Howard E. Patton, parliamentarian.
 A Panhandle-ite since 1939, Mrs. Patton and her husband lived in Skellytown before coming to Pampa in 1932. They built a home at 1333 Williston, of which they did the interior almost entirely themselves.
 A native of Electra, Mrs. Patton is employed in the office of Dr. H. H. Hicks and Dr. Charles A. Brauchle, Hughes building. She is a member of the Church of Christ.
 Her other activities include being a member of the Panhandle Dental Assistants association, and last year, she headed the Gray County Cancer Crusade. Her husband has been employed with the Texas company for 20 years.

Prime Objective Of B&PW Is A Better Business World

Prime objective of Pampa's Business and Professional Women's club is to do civic work and to promote a better business world, advised Mrs. Hazel Jay, president.
 During the year, the club has sent money and food to Gristown, as it does annually. The members have "adopted" one girl whom they support at Gristown and to whom they send gifts at Christmas and on her birthday.
 The club has helped promote safety in Pampa by sponsoring a "safety code of ethics." During Business Women's Week in October, which the group also sponsors, an award is presented to the most courteous woman driver. It also sponsored an essay contest in the schools on safety.
 B&PW aided the program of the Chamber of Commerce and Board of City Development by selling bunting at the time of the Top of Texas Rodeo, another annual project. At Christmas-time, it helped promote the Yuletide spirit by sponsoring a home decoration contest, for which a prize was awarded. This it also does each year.

 The club cooperated with the Beta Sigma Phi table-setting contest, from which the proceeds went to the March of Dimes, and took third place honors.
 To finance their many activities and charities, members sold fruit cakes during the Christmas season. And to gain more members, the club held a Fall Round-Up, a yearly event.
 B&PW has always done "leg work" for drives in Pampa, and this year, continued this service for the United Fund.
 At the end of the school year, the organization presented an award to the outstanding senior girl commercial student, and to the outstanding junior high school girl student. These citations are given each year.
 A fete of cake and coffee was given for the local publications during National Press Week in October.
 Between "helping-others" projects, B&PW manages to have a few purely social affairs each year.
 They are a Christmas Party, Thanksgiving banquet, a Mothers Day breakfast, and an end-of-the-year picnic in early summer.

Two R's Secret Of Lovely Walk

By ALICIA HART
 NEA Beauty Editor
 Two words give the cue for the final stage in this program for graceful walking. They are: Relaxation and rhythm.
 Get your whole body in tune with your stride. Take special note of your shoulders, knees and head.
 To banish tension from your shoulders, do this before starting to practice walking: rotate them up, then back and down until they feel perfectly relaxed.
 Then, to loosen the kinks in your knees, hold onto a chair and kick either leg back and forth bending and straightening the knees. As your shoulders lose tension and drop into a natural position, your chest will lift somewhat. To further this improvement, breathe deeply, lifting your rib cage high out of your waist.
 Note how you hold your head. It should be straight but not stiff. When it's held correctly, the earlobes are directly over the shoulder bones.
 Now that you know the function of the parts of your body in walking and how to control it in a relaxed manner, you have just one more step to perfect your walk.
 Awareness of rhythm is as essential to graceful walking as it is to good dancing. It marks the difference between a beautiful walk and a contrived one. It's the chief factor in bodily poise.
 So, when you have a rhythm in your walk; that is, when your timing is right, you feel self-confident.

MATURE PARENT

Carl, says his mother, is a whiner. In school, he does not apply himself to his fifth grade work as he could. If lessons or chores require any sustained effort from him, he becomes impatient and begins to complain.

"I don't understand him," writes his mother. "What's the matter with the child?"

What's the matter with Carl's mother? Why is she complaining to me? Why does he make her impatient? Isn't it because Carl makes her feel helpless and overpowered?

Carl may be whiny and impatient for the same reason. He, too, may feel helpless and overpowered.

Human beings often react with such feelings when they are overburdened with too much pressure. Suppose my morning mail brings me a bill I thought I had paid.

Then, as I'm making Carl's bed, I find that his mended top sheet is ripped again. As I tear it into dust cloths, I recall that two of my teeth need dental attention.

Now I must plan for new sheets. I remember how badly the kitchen linoleum needs replacement, how I shall have to wait for a spring hat, how my husband refuses to increase my budget.

If I am not an alert person, I may begin to whine to myself or anyone who will listen. I may become so impatient with the sustained effort of preparing supper that I serve a careless and ill-cooked meal.

What's happened is that submission to too many pressures has scattered my strength and disordered my thinking. This submission makes it impossible for me to focus on my present job or to bring order to future ones.

Children are not different from us. Accumulated pressures can make them feel helpless and overpowered, too.

If their resulting whining and impatience irritates us, it may be because we don't recognize in their behavior our own symptoms of pressure-resentment. And indeed be quite unaware of how often it manipulates us.

So I wonder if Carl's mother is herself harassed by many disorderly demands on her. If she hasn't learned how to regulate them, her impatience with them might easily drive her to make too many such demands on Carl.

Nearly always we treat others the way we treat ourselves. And if we have not discovered how to protect our productivity by putting first things first, we would, of course, not understand Carl's need to discover the same thing.

His whining and impatience would be mysterious to us.

Maharajah Derby Doubtful
NEW YORK, April 24 (UP)—Greentree stable's Maharajah may not run in the Kentucky Derby because of a "minor" injury the colt suffered in a workout at Belmont Park Friday. The colt apparently had thrown a stifle during a half-mile prep and then apparently thrown it back in place. The mishap left a soreness which may mean he will be declared from the Derby.

TO BE JUNE BRIDE — Mrs. A. T. Parton, east of Lafors, announces the engagement of her daughter, Arvilla Dee Potterson, to Charles Henry Carpenter Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Carpenter of Cochratuate, Mass. The wedding will take place June 5, in the First Presbyterian Church, with Dr. Douglas Nelson officiating. Miss Potterson was graduated from Pampa High School in 1949, attended Texas Tech College in Lubbock and is presently employed in Amarillo. The prospective bridegroom is a graduate of Cornell University, Ithaca, N. Y., and is associated with the Washington office of the American Automobile Association.

Distinguished New Jersey Musician To Preside At Pampa Piano Auditions

On Wednesday of this week the National Piano Playing Auditions will get underway in Pampa, when William O'Toole, founder and director of Trenton Conservatory of Music, Trenton, N. J. arrives to preside at the hearings sponsored by the National Guild of Piano Teachers. These Auditions are held locally at the First Methodist Church from Wednesday through Saturday. 175 judges, selected for their sympathetic approach as well as for their achievements, hear approximately 35,000 young people in 450 centers in the United States and Cuba.

In addition to his work at the Trenton Conservatory, Mr. O'Toole has been a Guild judge since 1940. Besides being a distinguished teacher, he is a composer of note and the author of many magazine articles. He has given his workshop courses on "Creative Piano Technique" in Juillard summer sessions, at De Paul University and at Mac Phai School of Music, and for teacher's associations in many large cities.

On Friday evening he will present one of these courses in a workshop session for the piano teachers in Pampa and surrounding towns. His presentation of this course is sponsored by the Pampa Piano Teacher's Association. The lecture will be given in the home of Mrs. H. A. Pampa Eastern Star Members Attend Day-Long School In Canadian Canadian Chapter of the Order of the Eastern Star was hostess Monday to an all-day school with all the 15 Chapters of District 2, Section 1 participating.

Grand Officers began arriving Sunday afternoon and were greeted by members of Canadian Chapter. The first courtesy extended to the Grand Officers was a six o'clock dinner in the spacious new home of the Harry Kings, on Furcell Street. Guests were Grand Officers Mary Ella Schoverling, Worthy Grand Matron, Houston; Fred Dewald, Worthy Grand Patron and Fred Dewald, Grand Marshal; Martha, Dallas; Pauline Smith, Associate Grand Conductress, Lubbock; Mollie Goodpasture, Grand Examiner District 2, Brownwood; Elizabeth Elliott, District Deputy Grand Matron, Colorado City; and Katherine Harbour, Deputy Grand Matron, District 2, Section 1, Shamrock; and local members: Mary Gross, Worthy Matron, Wm. Flewelling, Worthy Patron, and Lenore Flewelling; Maudaline and Preston Hutton, Lola and Paul Bryant, Lola Carol King, and the host and hostess, Grace and Harry King. Decorations for the table and entertaining rooms, as well as the menu, carried out the Easter motif in the Worthy Grand Matron's chosen colors of pink and blue.

The school was held in the gymnasium of the Canadian High School, which had been decorated to represent a garden. White arches, entwined with pink roses and fern, marked the stations in the East, West, South, and North. Other stations were marked with miniature pink trees on which perched blue and silver butterflies. Garden flowers, potted plants, and trellises were used to complete a beautiful garden scene.

The school was called to order at nine o'clock Monday morning, and the welcome given by Katherine Harbour, Deputy Grand Matron. The response was given by Elizabeth Elliott, District Deputy Grand Matron, who was the official instructor of the school. An elaborate drill by all the Worthy Matrons of the Section, assisted by six pages, was next on the program. This drill featured the Worthy Grand Matron's theme of the "Open Door." The drill honored both the Worthy Grand Matron and the Worthy Grand Patron, who were escorted by their pages through the "Open Door." The officers were in identical blue dresses with silver sandals, while the pages wore dresses of pink with silver sandals.

The Grand Officers were then welcomed and introduced by Mary Gross, Worthy Matron of Canadian Chapter, who presided during the day. This was followed by the morning and afternoon sessions of school, which featured study of Eastern Star work, all of which was exemplified by the Grand Officers, with the assistance of the Worthy Matrons who filled the stations. A total of 268 persons were registered for the school.

At the noon hour a luncheon was served in the home of Mrs. Catherine Bryant, a Past Matron of Canadian Chapter, with members of Canadian and Shamrock Chapters as joint hostesses, honoring the Grand Officers and Officers of the School. The rooms and tables were beautifully decorated with cut flowers, and favors were small corsages in the Worthy Grand Matron's colors of pink, blue and silver. Fifty persons were present to enjoy the lovely occasion.

Additional Grand Officers who arrived to attend the School and the Fraternal Visit were Lillian Barnard, Past Grand Matron, Decatur; Effie Black, Grand Representative of Saskatchewan to Texas, Miami; and C. E. Barfield, Grand Sentinel, of Clarendon. A banquet at six o'clock in the evening at the School Cafeteria honored the Grand Officers. The table was in the form of a huge "E," and was exquisite with the dainty pink roses bordering the tables and on which were arranged tiny gardens typifying the "Open Door." The dolls were dressed in formal of pink and blue net over tulle, ornamented with silver sequins and corsages. The dolls were arranged in gardens enclosed with white picket fences, silver lava furniture, and miniature bridges completed the table decorations. Hand painted booklet placecards, containing the menu and program, pictured an open door with pink roses and the Texas Blue Bonnets entwining the blue columns.

The invocation was given by joining hands and repeating the Lord's Prayer in unison. Reverend W. L. Porterfield, pastor of the Methodist Church of Canadian, acted as master of ceremonies and led the group in singing welcome "ingles," especially toasting the grand officers. Evelyn Schrader of Gruver chapter accompanied on the piano. Mary Gross, Worthy Matron of Canadian chapter, spoke words of welcome and introduced the honor guests, Effie Black, Grand Representative of Miami Chapter, responded. The Worthy Grand Patron, Fred Dewald, sang "My Garden," accompanied by Lenore Flewelling on the piano. A trio composed of Velma Matthews, Toy Hobby and Doris Wilbur, all of the Canadian Chapter, sang "Christ Stayed on the Cross for Me," with Lenore Flewelling accompanying. Canadian Rainbow girls served the tables at which were seated 240 persons.

The Fraternal Visit opened at the school gymnasium at 7:30 p.m., and featured an elaborate drill again by the Worthy Matrons of the section and the Pages, this time all dressed in white floor length formal with pink and blue corsages. Corinne Landrum, Worthy Matron of Pampa Chapter, presided and called the meeting to

Wife's Clothes Help Husband

By ALICIA HART

There's more wisdom than appears on the surface in the old adage: "Clothes make the man" (and the woman, as well). For while it may be true there's a heart of gold beneath that grumpy-spotted shirt, who's going to bother looking for it? Grooming plays a big part in a person's advertising of himself. The trimly-suited secretary, the crisply-frocked housewife, the regally-robed judge, the Homburg-hatted statesman all illustrate the effectiveness of dressing for one's role. And, notwithstanding their complaints about clothing bills, many men appreciate their wives dressing the part for them. Among other things, it relieves the men of the burden of taking extra time and effort with their own grooming, and builds up their reputation for generosity. In a recent article, columnist Ruth Millet wrote: "Mama gets the money for the kinds of clothes that will tell the world her husband is a successful man, and Papa goes in for comfort and the unbeatable personality of the successful man who is as 'plain as an old shoe.'"

Sun-loving, sea-loving Jo Lathwood of California has designed a "Beachcomber" for those who must be chic at the shore. If one plans to take to the highways and byways via Jaguar, Clare Potter has done a worldly white motor coat, while Tina Leser has designed a special costume for the non-seasonal sport of "Man-Hunting."

For those who have lots of yachts, Sydney Wragge has been persuaded to put down his golf club and pick up the shears to put high fashion on the high seas. Bonnie Cashin has considered for a moment the woman who might mount Mt. Everest and has done an engaging leather costume that would be becoming on a mere mole hill. If there is an inclination on the part of anyone to follow the ups and downs of the Hemingways on the Dark Continent, the competent Claire McCardell has done a safari suit that would startle a unicorn or survive a plane crash. For sporting around 20 thousand leagues under the sea, Carolyn Schurer has done a "Snorkle Swimsuit" that could scarcely fail to interest Neptune, and A. die Masters plans that the female speleologist be truly splendid as she explores her caves. Work Of Junior High Art Classes Exhibit Tomorrow

According to Miss Roy Riley, art instructor at Junior High School, "You may be astonished, amused, disgusted or delighted, but you'll not be bored" at the exhibit of work of art students to be held tomorrow afternoon in the Public Library. The exhibit which opens at 2:30, is being sponsored by the Pampa Art Club, in an effort to encourage art work in the schools. Pupils exhibiting will be from ten eight-grade classes. "A real piece of art," Miss Riley says, "must be an honest expression of the artist himself, whether he be a pre-school youngster, teenager or an adult. He cannot copy a picture of someone else and call it his own any more than he can copy a poem or an English theme and call it his own. When you see to view the work of this group of youngsters, see it not through the eyes of an adult, but through the eyes of a child in his early teens if you would understand and enjoy it."

Manners Make Friends

The wife who accompanies her husband on a business trip, or to a convention, is duty-bound to be gracious and friendly toward all of her husband's business associates and their wives. The wife who isn't prepared to do that ought to accompany her husband only on pleasure jaunts — never on business trips.

RUTH MILLET

With June just around the corner, a number of mothers of engaged girls have written to ask help with planning their daughters' weddings.

Here are a few hints they may find useful:

Either buy, or borrow from the library, a standard book of etiquette. In it you will find the answer to everything from who pays for the bridesmaids' flowers (Papa or the bride), to who sees to it that the groom gets to the church on time (the best man).

Consult with a mother whose daughter has recently been married — she'll give you some useful hints on what NOT to do.

Take Papa into your confidence, at least to the extent of asking him how much you can spend on the wedding, instead of snowing him under with bills he doesn't expect.

DAUGHTER HAS FINAL WORD

Don't forget that though the responsibility is yours, it is your daughter's wedding, and let her have the final say-so about anything important.

Don't worry if you can't give your daughter a "big wedding." A small wedding with only the families and close friends present can be as wonderful for a girl to remember as the most elaborate wedding of the social season.

Above all, try not to get so bogged down in plans and details that you are unable to share your daughter's happiness. And you'll not get bogged down if your aim is simply to give your daughter a lovely wedding to remember.

It's when a woman decides that her daughter's wedding is her chance to impress her own friends that she runs into trouble.

McLEAN (Special) — Mr. and Mrs. R. Earl Stubblefield are announcing the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Donna Gail, to Don B. Light, son of Mr. and Mrs. O. Z. Light of Panhandle. The date for the nuptials is to be announced later. Donna Gail is a graduate of McLean High school and is a student at West Texas State College at Canyon. The prospective bridegroom is a graduate of Panhandle high school and is, also, a student at West Texas State College.

The students played solos and discussed points upon which they will be rated in the coming National Piano Auditions next week. In addition to final announcements concerning the Auditions, Mrs. Yoder stated that her spring recitals would be given on May 20 and 21 in the Church of the Brethren.

The following pupils were present for the workshop: Francine Forrester, John Campbell, Jocelyn and Cecily Morgan, Donna and Becky Walsh, Betty Lou McWilliams, Joe Fischer, Lou Ann Taylor, Linda Andis, Susie Fillman, Johnlyn Mitchell, Richard Halpain, La Vonna Andrus, Sara Nan Delashaw and Martha Lou Kelley.

Circles one and two were entertained by Mrs. Paul Brown and Mrs. Robert Knott, with Mrs. Knox Kinard leading the study of "That the World May Know." The devotional was also led by Mrs. Kinard. All members joined in singing, "Jesus Shall Reign." Those attending were Mrs. Arthur Teed, Aubrey Steele, Ed Williams, Knott, Kinard, Thelma Bray, Clarence Peters, George Newberry, Sandy Brown, Joe Black, Kenneth Meaders, Nan Brown, Lloyd Hicks and Raymond Harrah.

Mrs. R. I. Davis assisted by Mrs. W. C. Hutchinson, entertained circle seven in her home. Mrs. W. R. Campbell gave the opening prayer and conducted the business session. Mrs. Hutchinson presented the last lesson on "Within These Borders." She discussed the history of Puerto Rico using as her material Frank Mead's Book "On Our Own Doorstep." It is found that others are making adjustments and becoming good citizens. The meditation was given by Mrs. Sherman White who used as her topic "The Light of the World." Mrs. A. Elder gave the closing prayer. Those present were Mrs. A. B. Carruth, Campbell, Joe B. Williams, A. C. Stealy, R. K. Ekins, W. G. Eller, George Casper, George Walstad, White, H. F. Barnhart, C. E. In fact, her new book, "The Art of Hungarian Cooking," containing 22 recipes, will enrich any American cook's menu vocabulary. So let's take two of her Hungarian recipes and enjoy ourselves.

FEELING A BIT CONFUSED TODAY but so happy to be with you another Sunday morning. Confusion, did I say? It's one of those days. The middle-little one eyes her junior by one and a half years with a cold and disdantful eye and says, "Why can't you be neater with your messes?" . . . , meanwhile wiping the table clean of mounds of sugar right onto the floor! . . . We were making candy. . . It looked lovely in the pictures. . . Now we're making ice cream so we can use all the gooey butterscotch sauce we've ended with.

AH, WELL, SOME DAY our girls will grow up to be lovely bright-eyed brides-to-be. . . like Joyce Harrah, Berenice Homer, Ann Sidwell and Betty Scott. . . Testimony to the fact that this poor jaded world hasn't lost all of its illusions is a gathering of women of all ages banking dreamily in the light of a young woman's happiness. . . At the various receptions lately we saw. . . Eulaine Ellis in a just-right navy blue suit and short uncurled toif. . . the attractive Mrs. John Schofield wearing a blue and white hat. . . Mrs. Jess Clay's daughter, JoAnne, over from Amarillo, beige linen suit and picture hat. . . Mrs. Rayburn Thompson, always neat. . . she's a tireless worker in the Methodist Church. . . Mrs. Hampton Waddell, excited as a bride herself. . . going from one thing to another. . . Frances Fatheree, as charmingly nonchalant at a formal gathering as she is at the swimming pool. . . The very gracious Mrs. Walter Dean who composed a clever poem for Berenice Homer's luncheon at the Country Club. . . Mrs. Ham Luna, pretty in pink linen. . . Gladys Harvey dressed in white. . . she knows how to keep the conversational ball bouncing. . .

MY WASN'T PAMPA EXCITING the day the Boosters from Wichita Chamber of Commerce came to town? The genial men with their big sunflowers and little cowbells seemed to be enjoying themselves. Word on the club car of the special train was that Pampa gave the group the best reception they'd had yet. . . Also heard they were disappointed that the pretty girls at the train (Betty Wells was one) weren't to be taken back to Kansas with them.

WONDER IF MRS. ESPAR STOVER who has reservations for the Metropolitan Opera production "Lucia," May 8 in Dallas, knows that Miss Elsa Plants has tickets for two the same night? Could be they're going together. . . Elsa will also see "Traviata" the next day. . . lucky gals. . . Peg's knowledge of music only embraces the lighter opera but am willing to expose myself in the hope that some of it might penetrate. . . Ever notice the rapt expression of a music lover listening to a favorite record. . . Come to think of it, it's similar to that of a teen-ager in the throes of bebop affliction. . . Depends upon what sends you, I guess.

OUR IDEA OF A PERFECT place to meet your ex-minister after many years is at an Easter service 1900 miles away. . . When Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Hawkins, Jr., and Mrs. Wesley Kleth (she's the former arly Ellen Hawkins and Wesley was on the Harvester team in 48) and their other daughter, the popular, Mardelle, and her baby, now of Duncan, Okla., went to church in San Diego Easter they met Rev. and Mrs. Henry Tyler, formerly of Pampa's First Christian Church. . . "Thirty-second" Tyler they used to call him in Pampa. . . a nickname he always took good-naturedly pertaining to the length of his blessing at the banquet table.

MRS. BOB WESTMACOTT and little daughter Linda of Casper, Wyo., are (or were last I knew) in Pampa visiting Mrs. Westmacott's parents, the Clarence Kennedys, on Frost street. Also in Casper are the K. E. Thorntons with their lovely daughter, Pam. She's the former Gloria Kennedy, you remember. Mr. Thornton is district superintendent for Sinclair there. . . Pampa's Anna Marie Cox, accuse me, Reed—is working on the newspaper there.

WILL SOMEONE BE KIND and tell us if, and if so where, lady-fingers may be bought in Pampa or hereabouts. . . Magazines are full of dreamy concoctions using them and they're just a memory of the past it seems. . . New Pampans. . . to Peg that is. . . are Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Sinise, formerly of Lubbock.

CANT WAIT TO HEAR details of Parent Education Club's treasure hunt Tuesday night at the Country Club. . . The smart young matron I heard tell about it said maybe it was a scavenger hunt, she couldn't be sure. . . Remember once in college days when one item on the list of things to bring back was a live male with a small mustache. . . This sort of thing can lead to complications, believe me! . . . Such things are not just for kids. . . They're grand ice-breakers 'cause usually the party is split up into small groups and it's impossible to remain formal on a foraging expedition together.

HAD A REAL WIERD inspiration the other day when I spied little plastic boxes of tiny crawfish (I think). They're real little sea animals anyway, dried I spose, about an inch and a half long and a lovely bright shade of red. They look just like miniature lobsters and are used for fishing bait. . . Wouldn't little boys love these for party favors? May sound macabre to you but our youngest would be pleased no end. "El Toro," we call him. . . He's that—well masculine.

CONGRATULATIONS to the Business and Professional Women's club which is having its 25th anniversary tea Tuesday night at the City Club Rooms. It was always a source of wonder to me that this group of women could be so active a civic club when they work all day and invariably come home to another job at night even if they don't have families. They're a wide-awake progressive group — the sort of organization that Japanese women have dared hope for only since the emancipation granted them by General MacArthur with a stroke of the pen. . . Reminds me of something I read somewhere lately about an old Japanese woman who had attended one of the first meetings Japan has ever had for women to get together and discuss problems as full-fledged citizens. . . "Before I came here," she said, "I'd planned to commit suicide. Now I think I'll wait awhile. . . . Gladys Howard is planning to come from Oklahomá for the tea and Mrs. Glenn Pool from Wichita Falls. Mrs. Pool was the first president. . . There is speculation that Lillian McNitt may come up from Houston for the affair. . . B&PW work was always dear to her heart.

Back next week. Have fun,
PEG O' PAMPA

Be Gentle With Glove Sudsing

By ALICIA HART
NEA Beauty Editor
Gay in design but gentle in color, gloves have new importance in this spring's fashion picture. Women are finding the distinctive detailing and fragile shadowing irresistible.

And almost everyone knows that no outfit is complete without gloves, even in warm weather. Here's how to keep the new gloves as fresh as spring itself. Cottons and nylons that ordinarily would be washed in very warm water, often include features that require more gentle sudsing. Use of elasticized shirring to promote neater fit in such gloves, for example, calls for warm, but not very warm, water to preserve the resilience of the elastic. When leather palms are combined with sheer nylon backs, the gloves should be washed very quickly in warm suds to prevent the loss of the natural oils that keep leather soft. You can preserve the tone of pale pigskin by bleaching it with a little lemon juice after sudsing. Whenever possible, remove the trim from gloves before washing. And, to make sure crocheted cuffs or gussets dry back to shape, smooth and straighten them gently with your fingers when you lay them on a towel to dry. Fringe trim should be fluffed a few times during drying.

Color's Right At Any Age

By ALICIA HART
NEA Beauty Editor
Traditionally, women's hats reflect the color and gaiety of spring. But many women respond in other ways to the most feminine of seasons.

The important thing is that you do respond. Whether you are 18 or 80, add color to your wardrobe this season. It's unfortunate that some mature women limit their costume colors to the neutral shades. Wearing only black, gray and brown season after season can't help but injure any woman's morale. If you've become so accustomed to these background shades that you hesitate to plunge into color now, use it only in tiny touches. You don't even have to go so far as to buy your hat and gloves in a bright color. Instead, select a black straw hat trimmed with little colored flowers, or with white flowers centered with a flash of color. Then buy plain, white cotton gloves, and trim the wrists with bits of chiffon in the same bright shade. And confine your jewelry to just one or two pieces that also carry out the gay color note.

TCU Has Big Plans For Summer Season Of Little Theatre

FORT WORTH, April 25—Five famous plays, ranging from "Angel Street" to "Candida," will be presented during the summer season of the Little Theatre of Texas Christian University. To be known as the first annual "Horned Frog Community Summer Theater," the event is being staged by the drama division of the school's Department of Fine Arts in co-operation with the leading theater groups of the Fort Worth area. To last from June 7 to Aug. 27, the program will provide an opportunity for all interested to study acting and to work in all phases of theater. Eligible are all members of Little Theatre organizations, college students and high school seniors. A sale of season tickets to the program's five productions will be conducted during May. Members of the Delta Phi Delta chapter of Fort Worth will have charge of the campaign. Season tickets will be $4 for the five productions. The TCU Little Theater is air-conditioned. It has a seating capacity of about 300. Each production will run six nights. The schedule is: "Angel Street" June 15-17, 24-26; "The Silver Whistle" July 1-3, 8-10; "January Thaw" July 15-17, 22-24; "Candida" July 29-31, Aug. 3-7; "Goodbye My Fancy" Aug. 12-14, 19-21. Courses to be offered during the program include theater workshop, stagecraft, scenic design, lighting and special problems. Dr. Walter Volbach, director of theater at TCU, will be in charge. The work may be taken for university credit or for non-credit. There will be two terms of six weeks each, June 7 to July 15 and July 19 to Aug. 27. From 1 to 12 semester hours of college credit may be earned over the 12-weeks term and from 1 to 6 hours in either of the short terms. Tuition fees are $13 per semester hour. Thus the cost can range from $13 for one semester hour of work to $156 for the maximum of 12 hours. For those taking the work for non-credit, the usual college entrance requirements do not apply. Many of the students will live in the dormitories on the TCU campus. Enrollment dates are: For credit, first term June 7; second term, July 19. For non-credit enrollment may be made any time after May 15. Information on the program may be obtained by writing Director of Theater, TCU, Fort Worth, Tex.

Shamrock 'Exes' Plan Homecoming

SHAMROCK—(Special)—"When do you want the first Shamrock Ex-Student's Homecoming" is one of the questions now being asked of all ex-students whose names and addresses can be obtained. Among other questions to be asked the "exes" is what time would be more convenient for them to attend the first annual homecoming, planned this summer.

The list of association officers completed this week when members elected A. B. Wischkaemper Jr., second vice president, and Mrs. Clark Bumpers, publicity chairman. Officers elected earlier are: Selbert Worley, president; Harry Wofford, vice president; Mrs. Viollette Cantrell, secretary; Miss JoAnn Parrish, recording secretary; and Jack Roach, treasurer.

Any person who attended Shamrock high school and would like to join the association may pay his $1.00 dues to Jack Roach at the Farmers and Merchants bank.
