French Quiet Red Artillery With Planes

Reinforcements Parachuted In To Dien Bien Phu

HANOI, Indo-China, May 1—UP—Fighter-bombers supplied by the United States virtually silenced Red anti-aircraft and artillery firing Dien Bien Phu Saturday while new reinforcements parachuted into the three-quarter-mile area held by concentrated French forces.

French flyers in American-built Corsairs, B-26's, Hellcats and Bearcats attacked the Red emplacements around the besieged bastion, allowing French paratroopers to drop, unopposed by Communist fire, into the shrunken defenses of the fortress.

While every available combat plane was blasting the Red gun positions, C-119 transports, some flown by American civilian pilots, under contract to the French, dumped food and munitions into the French camp.

On the ground the French pushed out patrols to feel out the Red positions. They also dug up and re-bent up-off trenches and machinegun nests close to French lines. Small scale, but violent clashes, were reported.

An official spokesman at French headquarters in Hanoi told a press conference that the 50-day-long Red siege at Dien Bien Phu created a "serious, but not dramatic or desperate situation."

He said the press conference was called to quiet "harmful" reports in the French newspapers on the situation in the fortress.

He said Brig. Gen. Christian De Castries was more worried about the effect on the morale of his troops. By the French newspaper reports that of the Communist forces besieging him.

Newspapers regularly are included in the parachute drops to the isolated and news-hungry garrison.

Tornadoes Rip Texas Second Straight Day

Casualty, Damage List Rises Hourly

DALLAS, May 1—UP—Tornadoes and thunderstorms lashed through sections of Texas and Oklahoma for the second day Saturday as reports of casualties and property damage climbed hourly.

Two persons were killed and at least six others injured as a twister struck near Granfield, Okla., at mid-afternoon. The dead were listed as Mrs. J. W. Rubottom, a middle-aged farm woman, and Bill Scherler, about 30, of the Apeatone community near Granfield.

Three persons were injured at nearby Tipton, Okla., about the same time, and residents of Snyder, Okla., saw two black funnels sweep near that city. One of them dipped to the ground long enough to wreck two buildings and uproot trees.

Mrs. Annie-Mae Nell, a farm woman, was injured and at least four homes demolished when a twister hit the Hines community four miles northeast of Vernon, Tex. C. M. Hulme, Crowell, Tex. farmer received broken ribs when

Other Top Leaders 'Unhappy' Nixon Chides Hearing Drag

WASHINGTON, May 1—UP—Two top Republican leaders, Vice President Richard M. Nixon and Sen. Homer Ferguson, Saturday urged a quick ending to the dragging televised Army-McCarthy investigation hearings.

Another Republican, Sen. James H. Duff (Pa.) said he is "convinced the American people are thoroughly disgusted with the show going on in Washington while the whole free world hangs in the balance at Geneva."

Nixon has told friends he thinks the hearings are dragging out much too long mainly because of cumbersome rules of the Senate Permanent Investigating Subcommittee which permit almost endless cross-examination.

Speed-Up Suggested

Nixon suggested that one way to speed up the proceedings would be for both sides to agree on a limited number of "stipulations" and keep all other issues out of the questioning.

The hearing resumes Monday (See SEN. MCCARTHY, R-WIS.) was away over the week-end Army Secretary Robert T. Stevens will return as a witness Monday. Air Force Base, N. J. However, Temporary Chairman Karl E. Mundt (R-S.D.) said he saw no need to recall Air Force Staff Sergeant Herbert R. Manchester, who told the United Press he directed a photographer to take the controversial picture of Stevens, Pvt. G. David Schine, and Col. Jack T. Bradley last Nov. 17 at McGuire

Stevens "Asked for Picture"

The McCarthy side has insisted that Stevens asked to have his picture taken with Schine. They had said this is evidence he was trying to play up to Schine, former consultant to the McCarthy subcommittee, in order to get McCarthy to call off the Fort Monmouth investigation.

But Manchester told a reporter, "I honestly can't recall anyone saying, 'I want a picture with so-and-so.'"

Ferguson, who is chairman of the Senate GOP policy committee and a former Michigan judge, also blamed the extended cross-examination for the delay.

"I don't think you can run these hearings as court hearings," Ferguson said. "People who have been advocating the right of cross-examination by what amounts to the whole American citizenry are not familiar with court procedures."

New Cannon Packs Punch

SPRINGFIELD, Mo., May 1—UP—Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway, Army chief of staff, said Saturday the Army's new 280 mm cannon can fire atomic shells about as destructively as the A-bomb dropped on Hiroshima.

He said progress in developing this and other new weapons has been encouraging. But he added, in an address prepared for the Military Officers' Association, it is important for the reserve armed forces to keep pace with weapons development.

Ridgway said this is a "tremendous challenge," but nonetheless essential in face of today's Soviet menace.

In discussing weapons progress, Ridgway said the atomic cannon is the "most noteworthy" of America's new arsenal.

"It has, furthermore, the capability of firing either high explosive projectiles or atomic projectiles with a yield in destructive power approximating that of the atomic bomb dropped on Hiroshima," he said.

Dulles, Chou Parley Fails

GENEVA, May 1—UP—Secretary of State John Foster Dulles and Red China's Premier Chou En-Lai met Saturday for the first time in an East-West bargaining session but failed to break a peace conference deadlock over Korea.

Dulles and his western Allies met for two and one-half hours in a special session in the palace of nations with the top Communists in an attempt to solve a Korean stand-off.

There was a "free and informal exchange of views," a communiqué said.

All seven delegations—the U. S., British, French, South Korean, Soviet, Red Chinese and North Korean, spoke at the meeting, but no common ground could be found for a Korean settlement, informed sources said.

Reds Unshakable

The West was prepared to find a basis for concessions, the sources indicated, but the Reds gave no ground.

Although the official Atlantic conference was in recess Saturday, Chou, Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov and North Korean's Nam Il met the West in a special closed-door session.

While there was no progress toward a Korean settlement, there were indications that an Indo-China peace conference would be assembled soon.

Viet Nam Chief of State Bao Dai's foreign minister arrived in Geneva with the terms for sitting down with Communist Viet Minh representatives. The answer appeared sufficiently favorable to ensure that talks probably will get underway next week.

Viet Nam Foreign Minister Nguyen Que-Dinh met Saturday after-noon with French Minister for the Associated States of Indo-China Marc Jacquet. He met Foreign Minister Georges Bidault Saturday night and will meet the other western ministers Sunday.

Bidault is expected to contact Molotov to make final arrangements for an Indo-China peace conference.

Following Saturday's special East-West session the following communiqué was issued on Korea.

"The representatives of the seven countries who met today had a general and informal exchange of views on the Korean problem. The meeting lasted two and one-half hours."

Fog, Drizzle, Showers Hike Moisture Total

AUSTIN, May 1—UP—Tornadoes and high winds which peppered Texas Saturday affected 29 counties and left 24 persons injured, state disaster relief headquarters said Saturday.

The state headquarters office said a survey showed that 138 families were affected by the storms, with 21 homes destroyed and 67 homes damaged.

A twister lifted his pickup truck from a farm road near Crowell and hauled it into a field.

Miss Pat Jackson, telephone operator at Grandfield, said she watched the twister as it approached the city.

"It bounced and turned like a giant snake on its trail," said Miss Jackson. "It was moving east as it approached and finally it turned across the west edge of town and then back east again."

Four members of a Negro farm family were injured when a twister demolished their home four miles east of Grandfield.

City Hires 2 Policemen

Two new members have been added to the Pampa Police Department, according to Chief of Police Jim Conner.

They are Dan Lewis, formerly with the Borger police department, and Ira Thomas, a former police officer in Amarillo. Lewis will serve as a patrolman, while Thomas, who is an experienced identification man, will have charge of the identification department, Conner said.

Fort A Candidate For County Judge

L. P. Fort 49, of 129 S. Faulkner, Saturday night announced he would be a candidate for county judge in the July 24 Democratic primary.

That makes it a three-man race. Present County Judge J. B. Maguire Jr. and former County Judge Bruce L. Parker previously had announced and filed for the office.

... runs for county judge

That means he said no closed meetings of the county commissioners court.

Old Time Campaign

"I'm going to conduct an old-fashioned political stump-speaking campaign," the candidate went on. "I will have a truck and public address system. Other plans in his platform include a welfare program and a 'close' look at taxation. He said he would file formally Monday for the deadline."

A Pampa for 10 years, Fort worked during World War II with the Immigration Service on repatriation of European political prisoners; later he was with the U.S. Employment Service.

This will be his second try at political office. Last year he ran against City Commissioner W. D. Varnon. He is married and has four children: two daughters, Mrs. Bob Fish, Alanreed, and Kay, 5, Pampa; and two sons, Gene, 25, and Michael, 19, both of Pampa.

McCarty Irked Over Film Loss

McCarthy said eight pictures were snapped of Stevens and Schine at McGuire Air Force Base but only three negatives have been turned over to the committee investigating the McCarthy-Army feud.

"I will demand a thorough investigation first thing Monday morning to find out why the other five negatives were destroyed and what these negatives contained," McCarthy told a newsmen.

Worth Investigating

"I hope we don't have to spend comparable time on these negatives as we have on the others," McCarthy said. "But if the other pictures were worth two days of testimony, the other five should be worth a little investigation, too."

He referred to the two days spent in questioning witnesses about a photograph of Stevens and Schine, the wealthy young private for whom McCarthy and his aides allegedly sought an Army commission and special favors.

Charge Filed In Death Crash

A charge of murder without malice was filed Saturday morning against Henry L. Gentry, of Buna, involved earlier in the week in an automobile collision which killed Lee Rawlins, 41, of Buna.

Highway Patrolman E. J. Robertson, who signed the complaint, Saturday night reported that Gentry was arrested in the afternoon and made $2,500 bond in the court of Justice of the Peace D. R. Henry, Dist. Atty. Tom Braly filed the charge.

Gentry and Rawlins were reported riding in the same car when it collided with a vehicle driven by Oshar Goldsmith, 37, of Tyler, near 2:30 p.m. Tuesday on the Borger highway near the Portland gasoline plant.

Next thing will be the appearance of Gentry before a district court grand jury.

New Earthquakes Hit Central Greece

ATHENS, Greece, May 1—UP—New earth tremors Saturday jolted central Greece where angry storms Friday warned peasants of a six-day earthquake and saved many lives.

The ministry of security put the death toll at 19 and said that almost 20,000 persons were homeless in the second earthquake in Greece in the past nine months.

Peasants said the death toll would have been much higher if storms, feeling the first, almost imperceptible tremors had not been quietened and flow from the nests squawking and clacking their bills.

Press reports indicated the death toll may be higher than listed by the ministry. Newspapers said that in the town of Larissa 26 persons were dead.

In the Thessaly district, fabled Achilles to World War II 175 persons were reported injured. Reports listed 10 persons dead, 70 injured and 450 houses leveled in Parsala, where Julius Caesar defeated Pompey in 48 B.C.

Houses and buildings were tumbled over an area about the size of Connecticut, including the towns of Trikkala and Karditsa. In the seaport of Volos wharfs were twisted and fell into the sea.

The Greek army rushed food and medical supplies and aid into the towns that bore the brunt of the quake: Larissa, Sofades, Lamia and Domokos.

Ward One Is The Dirtiest!

There's more trash in Ward One than L. B. (Bush) Haggard, city sanitation superintendent, thought there would be.

A total of 60 loads had been taken out by noon Saturday and "I'll take Monday and the best part of Tuesday" to finish it up, Haggard reported Saturday night.

That 60 makes a total, so far, of 212 loads picked up in the 1954 citywide clean-up campaign. The breakdown: Ward Four, 58 loads; Ward Three, 46 loads; and Ward Two, 48 loads.

Lt. Fatheree Back Home

First Lt. Hobart Fatheree, 23, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Fatheree, 931 Christine, was back in Pampa Saturday, following a 21-month tour of duty—14½ months of it overseas.

To be discharged Monday at Fort Bliss, El Paso, Fatheree was at Fort Sill, Okla., for four months and traveled in the states a few more before being sent to Japan where he spent 13½ months.

In an artillery unit in Korea, Fatheree was a battery exec for two months and a battery commander from September to March.

Fatheree was graduated from Texas A&M in 1952 and received an ROTC commission. He intends to stay in Pampa and go into the cattle business.

Red Bomber Is Unveiled

MOSCOW, May 1—UP—A giant Soviet jet bomber believed capable of carrying a hydrogen or atom bomb long distances made a dramatic bow Saturday flying over massed May Day paraders in Red Square.

It was the first time the new four-jet bomber with swept-back wings was seen or even mentioned in public.

The plane underlined Premier Georgi M. Malenkov's warning a week ago that any atomic or hydrogen attack on Russia will be met with immediate retaliation.

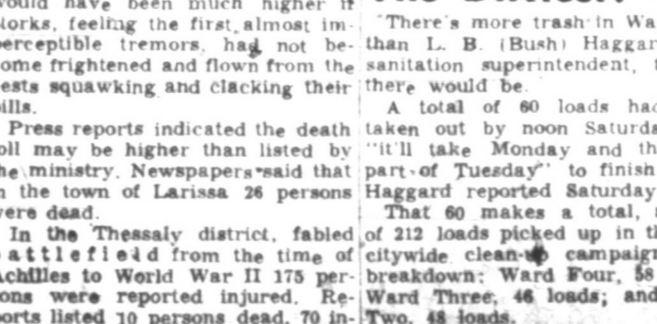

It flew in formation with 318 other Soviet military planes, including 13 twin-jet swept-wing bombers also believed to be a new type.

It it comes from a hardware store we have it, Lewis Hardware, Ado.

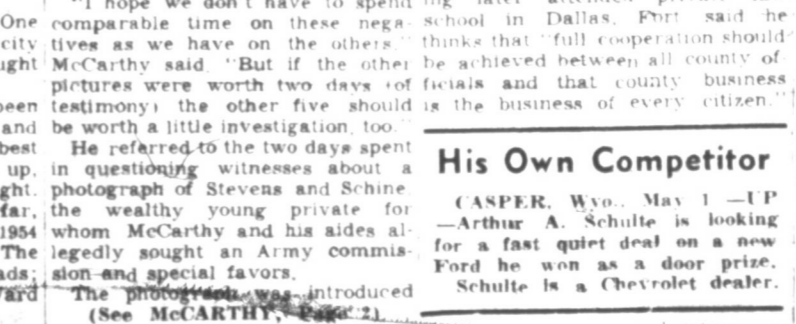

FROM WHERE? — That's the question T. E. Trostle was asking Saturday night about this deep hole in the pasture of his farm, some nine miles northwest of Shamrock. Rains a week ago washed away this part of his newly-terraced field — a chasm 30 feet long by 25 feet wide by 20 feet deep. Three sides are nearly straight up and down with south end sloping from the rim inward to the bottom. Trostle settled the land before 1909 and knows there was no such cavity there. There is no rock formation there, which would be a cave formation underground. Thursday rains filled the hole only after it had rained a good while. Trostle presumes terracing caused the cavity.

IT'LL KEEP THE RAIN OFF — But that's not quite the idea with a straw hat. Still that was the problem Saturday — STRAW HAT DAY in Pampa — for many a male. For it rained, but good. At the left, Jack Crump takes time off from his duties as city patrolman to try on a new straw hat in a Pampa haberdashery. And, with a last look at the mirror, he heads for the street where he (right) feels it literally crumple under an onslaught of rain. (P.S. This didn't happen, actually, but it might well have.) Car Theft, Burglary Reported Police Saturday were investigating the theft of an automobile and the theft of money from a cash register.

Doyle H. Hopper, 1184 Terrace, told police Friday night that his car, a light green 1952 model Chevrolet coach, license number AS-3145, was stolen from its parking place in front of Sunshine dairy on West Foster. He said he had parked the car at 1:30 p. m. and when he returned to the parking place at 7 p. m. it was not there.

George McClure, manager of the Schneider Hotel garage, reported to police that someone had taken $41 in cash from the garage cash register. The theft occurred sometime Friday afternoon, he said.

FRENCH

Cogny's spokesman pointed out that on the eve of the first assault March 13 Communist General Vo Nguyen Giap boasted that his troops would take Dien Bien Phu in five days.

But Saturday the French still are holding, and the spokesman said the concentric form of the fortress defenses make it easier than ever to hold.

De Castries' men were spread thinly over an area four to six miles wide when the enemy attack began, the spokesman said. Now they are concentrated in an area only three-quarters of a mile square.

While the fighter-bombers were blasting the Red gun emplacements around the fortress other bombers hit Communist Viet Minh supply routes blowing up Molotov trucks loaded with ammunition for the Reds at Dien Bien Phu.

The explosions of the trucks caused landslides which blocked one of the Red's main supply routes — Highway 41, the French said.

Photograph "doctored" — The Army charged that the photograph was "doctored," and McCarthy aide subsequently testified that he cut a third person, an Army colonel, out of the picture on his own initiative.

McCarthy did not say what he thought the five "missing" snapshots showed.

The pictures were taken on orders of Air Force Sgt. Herbert R. Manchester, who said he ordered a photographer to snap them in the normal course of his public relations work at McGuire.

During Friday's hearing in Washington Manchester testified that the negatives were destroyed the day after the pictures were taken because they were defective and "are not of any value."

McCarthy said that at the rat the Washington hearings are going, they will "last until about '57."

Squeaks' Spirit Subs For Paws

(By NEA Service)

This is a success story of Squeaks, a two-legged dog belonging to Mrs. Dominic Guerra, of Cleveland, Ohio. Squeaks, now five months old, was born with shoulder blades, but no front legs. On the advice of a city dog warden, Mrs. Guerra let the mongrel puppy live, and she's tickled pink. Squeaks has developed personality, as well as agility, and has become the pet and marvel of the entire neighborhood. Here's how he gets around.

If he's in a hurry, he rests his chin on the floor and drives his hind legs like pistons. Or he hops like a kangaroo, bending far forward, bouncing his chin on the carpet for balance.

He puts his chin on the third step, then jumps up one step at a time. At first this was hard and he needed help, but as he grows in size and agility it's getting easier.

Eating is no problem. Squeaks bends forward, balancing on his hind legs and gulps his food as any normal dog would. One would think his front legs were merely invisible.

More Buyers Put Crimp In New Car Bootlegging

DETROIT, May 1—US—Some money on every car he sells if he rapped knuckles and a surge in sales has put a definite crimp in "bootleg" new car deals.

With more legitimate purchasers in their showrooms, dealers have less temptation to go into the bootleg market to get rid of their excess stocks.

And if they are tempted, stern warnings have come down from the big manufacturers that things could get worse instead of better. Those who were party to bootlegging have gotten the "stop it or else..." treatment.

All the bootlegging hasn't stopped. But most of the big leaks of new cars into the used car market have been plugged or at least stemmed. Federal law being what it is, however, the practice can't be eliminated.

Little or No Profit

A "bootleg" new car is a new model sold by a regular dealer for little or no profit to a used car dealer in some other city. The used car man sells it from his lot as a new car at from $100 to $300 under what the new car dealer is charging.

The law prevents the manufacturer from telling the new car dealer to whom and for what price he could sell his cars. The dealer, in theory at least, is an independent businessman and he can lose

JOHNSON IN HOLLYWOOD

By ERIKINE JOHNSON
NEA Staff Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD—(NEA)—Hollywood on the Record: Marlene Dietrich, on Hollywood's lack of glamor.

"But Hollywood has Marilyn Monroe. She's wonderful. She's the only reason I go to the movies. Monroe! Ah!"

"She's the END, no?"

"It's kinda dangerous to generalize about sex. It's in the approach to men that women differ. The American woman years to be a real pal—a regular Joe—to the man she loves.

"In Italy, the job of being a woman is taken more seriously. Women work at being females. They don't want to equalize their sex."

Dorothy Towne, on the subject of Jack Webb, whom she'll wed when his divorce is final:

"He's a genius. I don't think Jack wants to be known as a great actor. He wants to direct."

Ginger Rogers, before she signed a contract with Columbia Pictures:

"Do a movie with Jacques? It's hard to say. I think Jacques would be happier if he didn't do pictures with me."

Jacques Bergerac, on the same subject:

"I do not think I will make more than one film with Ginger. I prefer to meet my wife in the quietness of our own home, not in a movie studio."

Eva Gabor, on marriage-as-career:

"I don't like to live, alone, doling. But to give up my career for love and marriage—no, I would be a liar to say yes. I know six minute a good script was sent to me. I would tell my husband goodbye."

Peggie Castle, bristling about people telling her, "You're right out of Spillane," after she played in Mickey's "I, the Jury":

"I don't think that's a compliment."

Mercedes McCambridge, astonished that there are some people who can't take her crackling voice:

"It comes from having had bronchitis all my life. I've never been aware that it irritated people. Even if it does, I'm not knocking my voice. I don't want one."

Grace Kelly, on the subject of romance:

"There's no romance in my life. I'm too busy working."

Eddie Cantor, explaining Deanna Durbin's absence from TV shows glorifying his career:

"I didn't ask her to be on the big reunion show last year and I haven't asked her since. It isn't a snub act with Deanna. She means it. She wants to be a housewife and a mother. She's through with her career."

June Allyson, on co-starring with Jimmy Stewart in "The Glenn Miller Story," and other films to come:

"Jimmy and I want to do at least two movies a year together. We want to be the modern Janet Gaynor and Charles Farrell. Audiences like to see a team.

"But there's no sense in trying to create a team if two people don't have something chemical together. It has to be just right.

"That's where Hollywood has gone wrong—trying to build teams when the stars don't generate anything special together."

Joel McCrea, defending British newsmen:

"I get along fine with them. British newspapermen are easier on you than the boys in Hollywood and New York. All I did was

Cowboy Preacher Believes A Man May Be 'Down', But Is Never 'Out'

By WALT SWITZER
Pampa News Staff Writer

A man who has served two terms in the state penitentiary usually returns to his life of crime, but this was not the case with A. F. (Fuller) Rhodes, 318 Schneider.

Rhodes, who Wednesday celebrated his 44th birthday, is a retired Methodist minister, who says he is not proud of the life he had lived before he was converted, but he believes that his life is true testimony of the slogan of the Salvation Army: "A man may be down but is never out."

He was born in Union Town, Pa., April 23, 1870. The retired preacher's father was operating a shoe factory at the time.

"When I was only three years old the devil got into our home and broke it up," he stated. His father and mother separated, he explained, and when Rhodes was five years old his father sold his factory and started out, with his children, for the "wild and woolly" West.

Everything went well until they reached Terre Haute, Ind. There, high water and mud slowed them down, but his father chartered a box car and loaded the covered wagon, horses and all of their belongings into the car and shipped them to Memphis, Mo., near where Rhodes' grandfathers lived on a farm and where his father owned a tract of land.

Sold Farms

During that winter, his father, grandfather and a number of neighbors sold their farms and decided to go farther west. This was in the days of Jesse James and Cole Younger.

"I think they were about the most daring set of outlaws that ever ran at large," he declared. "Bank robbing was their profession, but they didn't hesitate to take a good horse when they needed one. I was only a child, but well do I remember in the evening at camping time. Father would pick a nice place to camp, then he would tell the drivers to follow me. I was only a child, but I rode a circle, thereby forming a corral. The horses were then put inside the corral and some of the men would stand guard during the night. Good luck was in our favor and we landed in western Kansas without a mishap of any kind."

Rhodes, who is known as the Cowboy Preacher, earned to punch cattle on a ranch, his father purchased on the head waters of the Smoky Hill river in western Kansas.

He and a friend ran away from home at the age of 15 and went to Dodge City, where they put up their horses for sale at an auction, but when a detective appeared on the scene, Rhodes jumped on his horse and fled, while his friend stayed behind and was arrested.

"I was on the lookout for something to take place and the detective missed me and I rode away, but my poor friend had to spend two years in the state prison in Lansing, Kans.," he said.

Shrewd Trader

Rhodes then went to work on

Worms Ravage City Gardens

The office of the county agent has been deluged with calls during the past few days from Pampa residents whose flower and vegetable gardens have been plagued with cut worms.

County Agent Ralph Thomas said today that it is a simple matter to get rid of these pests. "All a person needs to do is to sprinkle plants and flowers with a 10 per cent solution of DDT or use a 10 per cent solution of chlorinated dust," he said.

act like a human being. They like Hollywood stars.

"But they resent it when Hollywood stars poke fun at English customs, put on dark glasses and give false names."

Frank Lovejoy, holding forth on the jitters being felt by 111 stars:

"I used to think that Wall Street was a sensitive place. But this Hollywood panic is the greatest panic I've ever seen in my life. "I don't know why there has to be one. There's more employment for actors today than ever before. "It may not be as easy as the golden days of the movie industry. But it continues to assist movie pictures, actors won't have any economic problems."

Beverly Michaels, on her life in Hollywood when she's not playing a bad girl:

"I spend it trying to be a good girl. And it isn't easy."

Robert Taylor Engaged

HOLLYWOOD, May 1—UP—Hollywood's newest engaged couple, actor Robert Taylor and German-born actress Ursula Thiess, said Saturday their wedding will have to wait until completion of summer film commitments. The couple announced their engagement Friday while lunching at a studio commissary. They met two years ago and have been linked romantically for some time.

HOLLYWOOD, May 1—UP—Hollywood's newest engaged couple, actor Robert Taylor and German-born actress Ursula Thiess, said Saturday their wedding will have to wait until completion of summer film commitments. The couple announced their engagement Friday while lunching at a studio commissary. They met two years ago and have been linked romantically for some time.

472 Dog Tags Sold

Nineteen 1954 dog license tags sold Saturday brought the total number sold to 472, still far below the Pampa dog population of somewhere around 2,000.

Deadline for buying the tags was Saturday noon.

Carl Blue, city dogcatcher, gives the final warning that he is going to have to start picking them all up that don't have tags.

Navy to Draft Doctors

WASHINGTON, May 1—UP—The Navy Friday asked that 480 physicians be drafted during June and July. It will be the first time the Navy ever has relied on selective service for physicians.

The Navy said 360 physicians will be drafted in June and 120 in July.

BIRTHDAY CAKE—Each year Mrs. L. V. Grace, 1200 Russell, bakes a birthday cake for A. F. Rhodes, 318 Schneider, who is shown with the cake she gave him on his 44th birthday Wednesday. His birthday falls on the same date as that of her son, Pat, who died of polio June 18, 1937, at the age of ten. Following the death of her son, she kept up the custom of baking a cake for Rhodes, a retired minister. (News Photo) came his wife. They had three children, Johnny and Ethel, and another child who died in infancy. Johnny passed away in 1937 at the age of 12.

He, with his family, traveled in many states holding religious services. Coming to Texas he finally settled in Aspermont and went into business. At the request of the mayor and city councilmen he became city marshal.

"Aspermont was known as a whiskey and speed town," he said. "I had been instructed to warn all fast drivers about speeding. I received many threats from one driver, a bootlegger, after warning him."

Surrounded to Sheriff

"One Sunday evening while I was on the street performing my duty as city marshal, this bootlegger and his gang framed me. They created a disturbance to gain my attention. I decided to put the bootlegger under arrest. When I told him to consider himself under arrest, he drew a knife on me. I backed away from him until I saw that I was going to have to act in defense of my own life.

"He cut off my necktie and slit my shirt. It was then that I fired the fatal shot. A few minutes later I surrendered to the sheriff."

He went on trial for murder Oct. 20, 1928. He was found guilty and received a life sentence. Granted a new trial, he again was found guilty and received a sentence of from five to 20 years in prison. After a long fight that ended with a higher court affirmed the sentence, he entered the prison at Huntsville Aug. 28, 1928. On Feb. 20, 1934, Gov. Miriam A. Ferguson granted him a full pardon, restoring his rights of citizenship.

He and his wife have made their home in Pampa since 1934. He continued his preaching in Methodist revival meetings until about bootlegger under arrest. When I five years ago.

Region Political Candidates Face First Test In Primaries

By ED NASH
Pampa News Staff Writer

Approved top of Texas candidates for political office at week's end were on the jumpy side.

The ones who had no opposition didn't want any and the ones who had opponents didn't want any more.

Cause of their concern was the filing deadline for all candidates, both Republican and Democratic, midnight Monday is the deadline.

After that time, 40 candidates for 23 different political offices from constable to U. S. representative will begin showing their political wares.

The more than 6,000 eligible voters in Gray county — those who live outside the Pampa city limits are not included in the poll lists — Saturday had 11 contested races in which they would have an opportunity to choose their candidate. (The 6,000 figure includes those who paid poll taxes and those who received exemptions.)

Of first importance to the politicians are the Republican and Democratic primaries, scheduled July 24 in the county's 18 election precincts. Only one of the 40 candidates in the field is running on the GOP ticket; but, nevertheless, the GOPsters still must hold a primary.

"Last-minute" candidates can file with Don M. Conley or Ed Vicars, Republican county chairman and secretary, or with William Jarrel Smith or Bob Baker, Democratic county chairman and secretary.

One of the races is a four-man contest for representative from the 18th Congressional District in the U. S. House of Representatives. Incumbent Walter Rogers, of Pampa, and Candidates George W. Crawford, of Channing, and M. M. (Mike) Kemp, of Cactus, will be entered in the Democratic primary. LeRoy (Pete) LeMaster, of Perryton, is the Republican in the congressional race.

39 Have Filed
Like all but one of the 40 candidates, these four have filed their formal intentions with various local party officials. Exception is A. H. Doucette, candidate for re-election as county surveyor, who is expected to file by the deadline.

County Commissioner (Pct. 2) W. E. (Bill) Jarvis is being opposed by E. C. Schaffner, perennial candidate. J. W. (Bill) Graham, former county commissioner, withdrew his name from contention Friday.

Two of Gray county's four justices of the peace races have three men in them. For JP in Pampa (Pct. 2, Pl. 1) it is incumbent John Andrews and aspirants A. G. (George) Seitz and Earl Levator. For JP in Lefors it is aspirants W. V. Hix, W. R. Combs and Bill Kennedy. Incumbent E. A. Vance has never declared, one way or the other.

Seven other contests have two candidates apiece in them.

Waters, Sanderson

For district attorney, two county attorneys — Bill Waters in Pampa and Harold Sanderson in Miami — are running. Present County Judge J. B. Maguire Jr. and past County Judge Bruce L. Parker are going for that post.

Females are involved in two separate races. Mrs. Crystal Hankhouse is opposing incumbent D. R. Henry for justice of the peace in Pampa (Pct. 2, Pl. 1). And Mrs. Frankie Mae White is going after the job of County Treasurer Oia Gregory.

In other contested races: County Commissioner (Pct. 1) Arlie Carpenter is opposed by H. C. Little; McLean Constable Luke Henry is opposed by J. D. Fish; and Lefors Constable C. S. Clendennen is opposed by Bill Stracner.

Thirteen is a lucky number for some candidates — 13 of them, to be exact. For that is how many candidates, all but one an incumbent, have so far received no opponents. They are:

County Commissioners Paul Bowera (Pct. 3) and O. L. Tibbets (Pct. 4); District Judge Lewis M. Goodrich County Clerk Charlie Thut, County Tax Assessor-Collector Jack Back, County Schools Superintendent B. R. Nuckols, State Rep. Grainger McIlhenny, County Attorney Aspirant Don Cain, District Clerk Helen M. Sprinkle, Pampa Constable H. A. Doggett, Sheriff Rufe Jordan, McLean Justice of the Peace J. C. Claiborn and E. L. Pitts, Amarillo, chief justice of Court of Civil Appeals of the Seventh Supreme Judicial District.

And, if that weren't enough, there are even more persons who will have to be voted on in county primaries, 38 of them. They're the chairman and his 18 precinct chairmen in each major party.

There's no question but that this is a Democratic area, all right. The only Republican ever to win an election in these parts was Ben Gull, who went to the U. S. House of Representatives and was defeated the next time up by Rogers.

And, as well as veteran watchers of the political scene can remember, there has never been a person who ran as an independent who has won.

If some of the contested races can't be decided in the July 24 primaries — that is, if one candidate does not get more than half the total vote — there will be a second, "run-off," primary Aug. 28.

All of which leads up to the Nov. 2 general election.

One wag, the other day, was wondering why the candidates for various offices were so worried about getting some competition.

"After all," he said, "the more there are in a race, the less each of them has to pay in filing fees."

Farm, Ranch Day Planned At Kiwanis

It will be Farmers and Ranchers day at the Kiwanis club luncheon meeting next Friday.

The Agriculture and Conservation committee will be in charge of the program and more than 100 Pampa area farmers will be guests of the club at the meeting in the basement of the First Methodist church.

Bob Selby, superintendent of Amarillo schools, was the speaker at Friday's luncheon meeting, at which approximately 20 members of the downtown Amarillo Kiwanis club attended.

Selby told his listeners that Americans should demonstrate a deep faith in mankind as he spoke on the Kiwanis slogan, "We Build by Faith, Loyalty and Service."

Speaking at length concerning moral of today's youth, the speakers said that youth has not lost its morals and that youth of today are as good as those in any age. The reason for this high moral standard of youth is good adult leadership, he explained.

He urged Kiwanians to be loyal to America and to keep their faith in the institutions that made this country great.

Selby was introduced by Carl Leonard of the Amarillo club. Joe Wells, Inter-club Relations committee chairman of the Pampa club, was in charge of the program.

Joe D. Cantrell, safety engineer for Celanese, was inducted as a new member by Les Hart.

Guests included Willis Clark, Miami; Bill Steinbarth, Oklahoma City; Bob Vail and Melvin Moore, both of Amarillo; Judge Lewis M. Goodrich, Shamrock, and Harlan Case, Jim McClintock and Fred Radcliff, all of Pampa.

Writing Craze Sweeps Prisons

NEW YORK, May 1—UP—A writing craze is sweeping the nation's prisons as the result of publication of a doomed kidnaper's autobiography, a publisher said Saturday.

Word flew from prison to prison about Caryl Chessman, 32-year-old "red light bandit," who is due to end his 16-year one-man "crime wave" in California's poison gas chamber May 14, if he loses his latest appeal.

Chessman's book, "Cell 2455, Death Row," goes on sale Monday with some favorable advance notices, and other convicts in other places are eager to get on the literary bandwagon.

Prentice-Hall, his publisher, has received letters from convicts throughout the country offering to write all kinds of things. All manuscripts have been rejected so far. None of the material has measured up to the remorseless account of crime after crime described by Chessman.

Chessman's agent, Joseph E. Longstreth, said he has two other convicts as clients now. He first heard from Chessman when the musically-inclined criminal wrote him a letter about one of his operatic librettos.

Later Chessman learned Longstreth was an agent and sent him his book, which describes in detail his childhood, his crimes and life in prison and offers an analysis of legal proceedings. Longstreth spent three days at San Quentin working on the manuscript with Chessman and they have been in daily correspondence for months.

The agent's acquaintance with Chessman brought him another California convict-writer as a client. This one has written a "humorous" novel in his cell.

Sparkman Popularity Gets Test

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., May 1—UP—Alabama voters decide the political future Tuesday of Adlai Stevenson's 1952 presidential running mate and "Klansing Jim" Folsom, the six foot six inch former governor.

Sen. John Sparkman, a "loyal Democrat" who campaigns for vice-president on a civil rights platform unpopular among many southern voters, faces the stiffest reelection fight of his 16-year-congressional career from Rep. Laurie C. Battle.

Officials predicted a record vote since Alabama's voting lists have swelled from an estimated 525,000 in 1950 to an estimated 810,000 now, largely because of reductions in poll taxes. Nomination in the Democratic primary is tantamount to election.

Battle, author of the act prohibiting strategic trade with the Soviet bloc, has made a vigorous campaign to unseat Sparkman and charged the senator was in "complete accord" with Stevenson and the Democratic party on their civil rights stand.

Sparkman said he would stand on his record as a sponsor of legislation favorable to farmers and charges Battle with ignoring farmers until the present election.

Dulles' United-Front Appeal Really Three-Year-Old Plan

WASHINGTON—(NEA)—Secretary of State John Foster Dulles' much-misunderstood proposals for "a united front to save Southeast Asia" has an interesting background.

The idea is not something new. It is not a surprise package, pulled out of the hat on the eve of the Geneva conference, aimed to unite the non-Communist countries for opposition to the Soviet bloc.

An alliance of Southeast Asian and Pacific island countries to oppose Communist pressure has been a fundamental objective of Dulles' policy for over three years. It was impractical and impossible to form the alliance earlier. So it is being revived now, with better prospects.

It is necessary to go back to the spring and summer of 1950 for the beginnings of this idea. John Foster Dulles was then made a special ambassador by President Truman. His assignment was to prepare and negotiate a peace treaty with Japan.

Dulles worked on this job for 18 months. He went to Japan in the summer of 1950 to talk it over with General MacArthur and the Japanese. He was there when the Korean war broke out.

That did not stop the Japanese peace negotiations. In the fall of 1950 Dulles dealt with Russia's Jacob Malik during the United Nations session.

Early in 1951 Dulles went to Japan a second time. Then he went to Australia, New Zealand, Formosa and the Philippines, seeking their ideas on the treaty—and to sell his own.

When he came back to America in the spring of 1951, it looked as though the United States might have to make a separate peace treaty with Japan. After that, the other Pacific countries might have to make separate treaties, too.

The third step in the Dulles program was to tie everything together in a Pacific pact. The purpose of this agreement would be to fit Japan into an island screen, so that an off-shore Asian group would be a barrier to Communist penetration in the Pacific. That was the beginning of Dulles' united-front idea.

The British, French and Dutch were to be kept out of this Pacific alliance to avoid giving it the flavor of old-time colonial imperialism. Their consent to Japanese rearmament and inclusion in the alliance had to be obtained, however.

This was also opposed by Nationalist Chinese on Formosa, the Philippines, the Indonesians and the Southeast Asians who had been invaded.

For these and other reasons which seemed important at the time, the original Pacific pact proposal had to be dropped in 1951. In abandoning it temporarily, however, Ambassador Dulles won agreement for a general Japanese peace conference at which a multilateral treaty could be ratified, instead of the series of bilateral treaties that had been planned.

Dulles also salvaged two pieces of his Pacific alliance. The first was the ANZUS pact—the Mutual defense agreement among Australia, New Zealand and the United States. It was signed in

The play, "Here Comes Charlie," will be presented May 13 instead of May 14 as previously planned. The proceeds will be used to purchase band jackets.

Florida Voters Vote Tuesday

TALLAHASSEE, Fla., May 1—UP—Florida voters, who have had two governors in the past 16 months, go to the polls Tuesday to nominate a third—but chances are the Democrats will have to go back May 26 to make it stick.

Despite claims of the candidates, few observers believe Bradley Odham, Larry Collins or acting Gov. Charley E. Johns can muster the majority needed to clinch the Democratic nomination in the first primary.

The Republicans, with only 131,264 registered voters, are expected to give the nod to veteran Tampa politician J. Tom Watson over Charles E. Compton, a political unknown from Miami.

Bill and Sammie Cobery spent the evening with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Shipley of Phillips recently.

Mr. and Mrs. Guy Hedrick helped in the concession stand during the McLean rodeo.

Norma and Billy McBee returned home this week end from Bay City where they have been visiting her sister.

Mrs. Roberta Parker visited in Lefors this week end with several friends. She lives in Stuttgart.

Pampa Harvester Trainers Win Dallas Invitational Meet

Dudley Wins Both Hurdles; Lewis 100

DALLAS, May 1.—UP—Pampa, Amarillo, Abilene and Garland staged a spirited battle for the team honors in the schoolboy portion of the Dallas invitational track meet Saturday night with only four points separating the winning Pampa team and fourth-place Garland. Paced by Ed Dudley, footballer-hurdler who won both of the timber races, Pampa piled up 24 points to 22 for its Panhandle rival, Amarillo, 21 for Abilene and 19 for Garland.

Dudley was one of two double winners in this division as Garland's Jim Kennedy, swept the 440- and 220-yard dashes.

Dudley ran the high hurdles in 14.8 and the low hurdles in 19.7. Harold Lewis breezed home with a 9.3 time to win the 100-yard dash for Pampa.

Lewis also captured a second in the 220-yard dash.

Jon Cantrell placed second in the 220-yard dash, Darby ran third to Dudley in the 160-yard low hurdles and placed fourth in the broad jump.

The Harvesters' crack 440-yard relay team ran into a streak of hard luck and finished out of the money. The sprint relay team, highly favored to win this event, didn't finish the race after dropping the baton on a handoff.

All participants in the meet here Saturday will compete in the state meet at Austin next week.

UT's Smith Ties World's Record

DALLAS, May 1.—UP—Slender Dean Smith, the Olympic sprinter from Texas, tied the world's record for the 100-yard dash at 9.3 seconds with the aid of a slight tailwind Saturday night as Southern California rolled to its 67th straight triumph in a collegiate track meet.

Smith's performance with a 7.96 mile-an-hour wind to his back won't go down into the record books as equalling the mark set by Patton of Southern California set in 1945, but it provided a sparkling highlight to a quadrangular meet also involving Texas A&M and Southern Methodist.

Coch J. J. Mortenson's NCAA champion track squad, piled up 73 1/2 points to 50 for Texas, 34 1/2 for Texas A&M and 16 for SMU before a shirt-sleeved crowd of 8,000.

The Texas junior's run was one of three excellent individual performances of the night—the others being a 20.5 furlong dash by Texas' Charley Thomas and a 6 foot 9 1/2 inch high jump by Elmie Shelton of UBC.

The Texas 440-yard relay team—composed of Smith, Thomas, Alvin Frieden and Jerry Prewitt—failed to equal its world record 40.3 mark set in the Kansas Relays, but it posted a 40.8, which matches the nation's fastest time around two turns in that event.

Pampa High School Sports Activities To Hit High Gear This Coming Week

THIS COMING WEEK IS going to be a big week for the athletes of Pampa High School.

A second-state title of the year is within the grasp of the PHSians as the Harvester tracksters prep for the state meet this weekend at Austin.

Then the baseballers will be striving to keep what hopes they have finishing on top in the 1-AA race when they close out their regular schedule with a double-header against Amarillo tomorrow and a single game at Plainview Friday.

It certainly isn't impossible for the Harvesters not to win these three games even if they are meeting Amarillo in a twinned

While not on a competitive basis, another bunch of Harvester athletes will be taking the field this week. That would be the PHS footballers.

The gridlers will start spring training Monday with Aubra Nooncaster making his debut as the head man. Spring training will last 21 consecutive days under the new high school ruling. The drills won't have to start Monday if the weather isn't right, but once the drills do start, the drills must be completed 21 days later regardless of the weather.

We'd like to congratulate Weldon Trice on his promotion to the Harvester varsity staff and to Marvin Bowman for his promotion from the Reaper to the Guerrilla staff. These two fellows are being moved up to fill the vacancies caused by the resignation of Tom Tapps as the Harvester head mentor.

Both Trice and Bowman have done a yeoman job as coaches of the Guerrilla and A Reaper teams and it's good to see them rewarded for their work.

WE HAVE JUST PUT AWAY a big T-bone steak through the compliments of a Harvester baseballer. This player told us after the season opener against Amarillo way back in March that if the Harvesters didn't beat Amarillo the next time out he would buy me a steak.

Well, the Harvesters didn't win the next time, but the third time the Harvesters did pull the trick. Anybody's going to repay this Harvester player for the steak if the Harvesters win one of the two games in tomorrow's double-header. And if they win both games, it will be two steaks.

Anybody, thanks for the steak last night, RC. It certainly was delicious.

Little League Workouts Slated

The Sportsman's Store and C. M. Jeffries Little League teams will work out Monday, the respective managers of the two teams said Saturday.

Foster, White said his club, Sportsman's Store, would work out at the usual site, the old airport grounds.

Manager New Secret of the Jeffries team announced that his team would workout at 5:30 at Harvester Park.

SWC Will Be Asked To Invite Tech, OU

DALLAS, May 1.—UP—The Southwest Conference will be asked to invite Texas Tech and possibly Oklahoma into its membership at the annual spring meeting in Waco, May 14-15, Conference Secretary Howard Grubbs confirmed Saturday.

Reports have been prevalent for some time that the perennial expansion question would be brought up again this spring before the faculty governing body.

Saturday Grubbs announced the official agenda for the meeting and it included a three-part proposal submitted by the University of Texas as the subject of enlargement.

That school asked that (1) Texas Tech be invited to become a member of the conference; (2) Oklahoma be invited to join the seven-member circuit; and (3) that the conference consider any other proposals for expansion.

Texas Tech is known to be a willing prospect; but Oklahoma's attitude isn't generally known since that Big Seven Conference football power has apparently settled its grips with that conference over post-season football games.

It was only a year ago that the same proposal to admit Tech and Oklahoma failed by one vote to get the necessary two-thirds majority for approval. It was Texas then, too, that offered the proposal.

Tech, now a member of the Border Conference, has been seeking admission to the Southwest Conference for many years, and often plays three or four games with Southwest schools.

Oklahoma made an exploratory visit to a conference meeting a year and a half ago while it was at odds with the Big Seven rule banning bowl game participation. Since then the Big Seven has signed an Orange Bowl pact.

No school may apply for membership in the Southwest Conference since a ruling in 1948 which said that any future expansion would be by invitation only.

Motions to invite Tech, Oklahoma and University of Houston—any of in continuation—died for Determine, Ray York up.

Jockey Ray York Weeps With Joy After Winning The Derby

LOUISVILLE, Ky., May 1.—UP—"I feel like crying," little Ray York said Saturday after beating Determine across the finish line to win the 80th Kentucky Derby.

"My wife, Mary Ann, grabbed me and was crying, and I cried, too," Ray said as photographers and newsmen gathered around him in the jockey's dressing room.

Ray said he didn't know he had the race won "until I got under the wire."

"This horse would have won the derby trial, if I had whipped him," he said.

"Today, I beat the hell out of him."

Owner Andrew J. Crevelin led York up to the winner's circle. Crevelin hugged York and said, "Come on, boy, don't cry."

"You can have the rest, this is the big race," York said.

Asked if he thought little Determine was the best horse in the race, he shouted, "I guess he is, he won the Kentucky Derby."

York said Goyamo and Correlation gave him the most trouble. "I was in trouble an eighth from the start, but after that I wasn't too worried," he said. He explained that at that point Hasty Road, ridden by Johnny Adams, and "another horse" gave him the trouble.

"Hasty Road was on the inside and the other horse was on the outside and pushed my horse in the rear," he said. After he got Determine straightened out, he said he rode the kind of race he wanted, but was never sure of winning until he "crossed that line."

York said he relaxed in the trial when Hasty Road beat him, but added, "I knew if I had whipped that horse instead of relaxing with him, I could win, no today I beat the hell out of him."

But he was satisfied that the little gray colt had nothing left after the race. "He was all in and so was I," he said.

Ararco, who has won the Derby more than any other jockey—five times—said he had trouble with Correlation and added that "it might have cost my horse three places." Eddie said he would ride Goyamo in the Preakness, but wouldn't venture a prediction of his chances. He said he wasn't sorry that he picked Goyamo to ride in the Derby instead of Correlation.

"After all, I beat Correlation," he said. "Maybe he'll beat me next time, who knows?"

Johnny Adams, up on Hasty Road, said he had to rush his horse out of the gate. "He ran a good race, but I had to rush him too much at the start, that's all," he said.

Arnold Kirkland, aboard Hasseyampa, said he had no excuse for his horse. "He ran a pretty fair race and was picking up horses in the stretch, but not fast enough," Kirkland said.

As York headed for the showers, he was asked if he'd like to ride in the big race again. "I'm gonna take a cut at it every year," he said. "This is the race of them all."

PHS Spring Grid Drills Begin Monday

The Pampa High School spring football training will get underway Monday, weather permitting, Aubra Nooncaster, newly elected head coach, has announced.

If the weather is bad Monday, then Nooncaster will start the drills the first good day. Once the drills start, they must be completed in 21 days.

Five lettermen will return to the Harvester grid forces but two of the five won't be around this week. They are Harold Lewis and Ed Strickland, both with the Harvester track team. The Harvester centermen will compete in the state track and field meet this weekend at Austin.

The other three returning lettermen are backs Buddy Sharp and Bill Fullenwider and tackle Ben Sturgeon.

Strong Finish Wins For Californian

LOUISVILLE, Ky., May 1.—UP—Determine, the smallest horse in the field, ran the fastest in the stretch Saturday to win the 80th annual running of the Kentucky Derby.

The star of California's turf world beat Hasty Road in a brilliant run from the head of the stretch to take the richest Derby purse in history, $102,650. Hasseyampa was third with Goyamo fourth.

At the finish line, it was Determine by a length and one half with Hasty Road two and a half lengths in front of Hasseyampa. Goyamo another two and a half lengths behind.

Eddie Ararco, seeking his sixth Derby triumph, was up on Goyamo; Johnny Adams rode Hasty Road as he has in all his 1954 races, while Arnold Kirkland was in Hasseyampa's saddle.

York, who kissed Determine when he came back to the winner's circle, said he "beat the devil" out of Determine after they turned for the stretch run.

"We had Hasty Road beat all the way," York smiled, "although I'll have to admit I didn't know what other horses were behind me so I didn't know we had won until we went under the wire."

"This was Determine's best race and, the best race of them all."

Determine was the first out of the gate in the field of 17 horses, but soon yielded the lead to Hasty Road, who kept it until the head of the stretch. There jockey Ray York took over with Determine. In all the long run of a mile and a quarter, the little grey colt—the first grey horse ever to lead the Derby—never was worse than third.

Correlation, the Wood Memorial winner who went off as the 3 to 1 favorite in the field, was sixth behind Admiral Porter, who was a neck before Goyamo.

Determine, coupled with Allied in the betting, paid $10.60, $5.60 and $4.30 across the board. Hasty Road, coupled with Sea O' Erin in the betting, paid $8.80 to place and $5.60 to show. Hasseyampa; the long shots in the field, returned $12.00 to show.

The time was 2:03 on a fast track far off the Derby record of 2:01 2/5 set by Whirlaway in 1941.

The race was much the same as the Derby trial on Tuesday when Hasty Road, in the one mile classic, beat Determine by a head. In that one, Hasty Road led at the head of the stretch, Determine took over only momentarily, and then they

Other Purses
Hasseyampa picked up $5,000 by finishing third while Goyamo's share of the gross purse of $124,150 was $2,500.

Middlecoff Leads SF Open

SAN FRANCISCO, May 1.—UP—Dr. Cary Middlecoff retained his lead in the $10,000 San Francisco Open golf tournament Saturday by breaking par for the second straight afternoon as he carded a 36-34, 70 over the tricky Lake Merced golf course for a 36-hole total of 139.

Shelley Mayfield of Chicago, Mass., stayed in second place with 36-34, 70 for a 36-hole total of 142.

However, both the Memphis dentist and Mayfield were shoved into the background along with other pros when an unsung groom named Lido Landt, an amateur entry, tied him into fifth place with 33-35, 68. This smashed the course record of 69, which Middlecoff set in a game here Friday.

Landt's performance, after an 11th hole in Friday, catapulted him into fifth place with a 36-hole total of 144.

The tournament is scheduled to end Sunday with a final 18 holes of play.

Gromek Wins 4th For Detroit Tigers

Steve Gromek, 34-year-old right hander, became the first American League pitcher to win four games when he threw a four-hitter at the Washington Senators Saturday as the Detroit Tigers pounded out 16 hits to win 6 to 1.

The victory put Detroit into a percentage tie for first place at .667 with Chicago, which beat Boston. The White Sox, however, have a half-game edge.

Wait Droppo and rookie Bill Tuttle led the assault with four hits each. Frank Shea started and was knocked out of the box with no runs in the fourth after yielding five runs. Rookie Camilo Pasquel blanked Detroit for the next five innings when Sonny Dixon yielded the last run.

Gromek gave up only one walk, to Eddie Yost in the eighth. It marked the first base on balls he had yielded in 30 innings. The only Washington run came in the fourth 36 Mickey Vernon's fourth homer of the year.

Detroit sewed up the game in the first inning with four runs after two men were out. Harvey Kuenn singled and Ray Boone walked. Droppo tripled both home. Al Kaline singled home Droppo and then scored on Tuttle's double.

Kuenn was safe on an error in the third, moved to third base on Droppo's single and scored on Kaline's untimed hit. Singles by Droppo, Kaline and Tuttle brought Detroit's final run in the ninth.

By BUCK FRANCIS Pampa News Sports Editor

PANHANDLE, May 1.—Using only his reserves, Coach Deck Woldt's Harvester baseballers romped past the Panhandle Panthers here Friday, 9-3, with right-handers J. O. A. (Scooter) Warner and Freddy James allowing only four hits.

Coach Woldt rested his regulars for the Amarillo Sandies at Amarillo Saturday. The twinned with the Sandies, however, was postponed due to inclement weather.

Warner started for the Harvesters in Friday's contest here and hurled the first five innings with James taking over for the final two frames.

Warner struck out 11, didn't walk a man, hit one batsman and allowed three hits and one run during his tenure on the hill. James gave up one hit and one run in two innings.

Entire OF Riddled With Injuries Milwaukee Luck Changes This Year

By HARRY GRAYSON Sports Editor
LOUISVILLE (NEA)—Every thing broke for the transplanted Braves last season, including the National League attendance record.

The entire club went through the season without a single injury, not even a common charley horse. Veteran pitchers stood up. Young ones came through. Johnny Logan and Jack Dittmer arrived as a second pairing combination. Eddie Mathews manufactured 37 home runs and drove in 135 runs.

So the Braves jumped from seventh place to second and Milwaukee was delicious. But Sudaville this spring was quickly reminded that such good luck in baseball doesn't last forever, except perhaps at Yankee Stadium and Ebbets Field.

Young Henry Aaron, whom qualified judges predict will win the greatest of the Negro leagues, started in right field, anyway. Jim Fenderson, a converted short stop, patrolled center.

Third Baseman Mathews dropped back to left field, which he liked, with Danny O'Connell returning to his natural position. Mathews isn't supposed to break Babe Ruth's big league home run record of 60, by the way, because he play half his games in Milwaukee County Stadium. It's 397 feet to right center field there, that's where the Sudaville Slander has most of his four-masters.

Mathews knocked Bob Talbot out of the game. Yveck Submitts Elm. LOS ANGELES, May 1—UP—Bill Yveck reversed Saturday he will submit a plan recommending Wrigley Field here as the site of a major league park to Phil K. Wrigley, owner of the Chicago Cubs, within a month. Yveck, formerly with the Cleveland Indians and St. Louis Browns, has been studying the problems of extending major league ball to the Pacific Coast.

I had my usual run of bad luck in the 1940 United States Open at Canterbury in Cleveland.

Because I teed off ahead of schedule, I was disqualified from a play-off with Lawson Little, the eventual winner, and Gene Sarazen. That's why the ensuing St. Paul Open, with practically the same field, was one of my sweetest victories.

The last-chance shot I made on the 18th hole has been the shot I point to and say "My greatest." The last hole of the St. Paul event started with five tied for the lead and when I got down to my last shot, I found a birdie 4 on the hole would give me the tournament.

The only trouble was that my ball was in a trap off the green. The only way to play this one is to use a wedge and blast — take a shot with your shot and keep thinking, first, of getting out of the trap and, second, of winding up with some sort of position on the green. I set my feet in the sand, allowing them to sink in, then swung.

I managed to put the proper backspin on an almost impossible 80-foot shot, and the ball rolled within inches of the hole. I won and got special pleasure out of the situation.

Cardinals Nip Pittsburgh In 10th, 5-4

ST. LOUIS, May 1—UP—Rip Repulski's bases-loaded sacrifice fly broke a 10th-inning tie and gave the St. Louis Cardinals a 5 to 4 victory over the Pittsburgh Pirates Saturday.

Wally Moon singled to open the inning and moved to second on Red Schoendienst's single. Stan Musial popped up but the bases were loaded when Bob Skinner fumbled Ray Jablonski's ground ball to set the stage for Repulski.

Royce Lint, who came on to relieve in the eighth-inning and pitched a hitless ball while striking out five batters, was credited with the victory, his first of the year. Skinner's first major league home run gave the Pirates a 1 to 0 lead in the first inning, but the Cards tied it up in the second on back-to-back doubles by Repulski and Tom Alston.

A pair of singles by Jerry Lynch and Toby Atwell plus Curt Roberts' sacrifice made it 2-1. Pittsburgh in the fifth and the Pirates routed starting pitcher Stu Miller in the sixth.

Wynn Stops Yanks, 10-2
NEW YORK, May 1—UP—Early Wynn, pitching with a head cold and slight fever, limited the Yankees to six hits and drove in two runs Saturday, while pacing the Indians to a lopsided, 10 to 2 victory before 20,938 fans.

Wynn, who gulped pills for his cold until a few minutes before game time, started shakily in the first inning when the Yankees put together a double by Gerry Coleman, an infield out and Yogi Berra's single for their first run. But he settled down to even his season record at 2-2.

The Yankees mustered only three singles and Bob Cerv's ninth inning home run after the first inning as Wynn struck out five batters, walked only one and chipped in with a timely, two-run single in the sixth.

Southpaw Bill Miller, the first of four Yankee pitchers, never got past the third inning, a frame in which the Indians collected six hits and five runs.

STRONG MEN—Mary Grissom delightedly lifted Whitey Lockman's left arm after the first baseman hit a 578-foot home run that gave the veteran a 1-0 shutout. Lockman felt that it should have been the other way around when the 36-year-old right-hander qualified as a Giant starter with a three-hit performance against Robin Roberts and the Phillies. (NEA)

Why Did AL Waive Grissom; Vet Likely To Be NY Sleeper

By HARRY GRAYSON NEA Sports Editor
NEW YORK (NEA)—Blanketing the Phillies with three hits the other afternoon, Marvin Edwards, Grissom gave unmistakable evidence that he is to be a Giant sleeper.

Mary Grissom had a kind of easy season last year; not too much work, and his arm is strong again. The big right-hander can really throw, and is a very earnest, determined fellow.

A pitcher developing a new pitch requires someone to practice on, and Grissom last fall used the Japanese for the purpose of developing a screwball. In a relief stint this spring, he handcuffed Duke Snider and the Dodgers with it.

Obtained from the Red Sox on waivers last mid-summer, Grissom stopped the Phillies cold for six innings as a fireman, then tired. That gave Lippy Leo Durocher the impression that the 36-year-old was strictly a relief worker with a limit of five or six rounds. But when he breezed by the Phillies for nine in his first start this year, the Polo Grounders had an added staffer.

You now wonder why Grissom was waived out of the American League. The Giants took him because, with Sal Maglie and Larry Jansen ailing, they were desperately in need of someone who could get the ball over the plate with something on it.

American Leaguers undoubtedly suspected that Grissom had a sore arm. He has a large arm history. Grissom has been a funny kind of a pitcher. He had only one genuinely good year in Triple A, where he lingered for five campaigns, turning in 20 victories for the Seattle Coasters in 1951. He did not break into organized baseball until he was 23, and got in only one season before being taken by the military for four years.

When Grissom had it, however, he beat the tough clubs — in the minors and the majors. With the White Sox in 1952, he was one of the mighty few pitchers who consistently bothered the Yankees.

Sauer Sparks Cub Win, 4-3

CHICAGO, May 1—UP—Hank Sauer drove in three runs Saturday with his fifth home run of the season plus a tie-breaking double in the eighth inning to give the Chicago Cubs a 4 to 3 triumph over the New York Giants before 17,472 ladies' day fans.

The victory was credited to Johnny Klippstein, his first of the season against two defeats. He went the full nine innings, giving up six hits. He walked five and struck out five.

The Cubs winning tally came when Bob Talbot singled, advanced on a walk to Ralph Kiner and scored on Sauer's two base hit. Kiner was caught at the plate.

Mary Grissom started for the Giants and was charged with three of the Cub runs, though reliever Hoyt Wilhelm, who worked the last frame, was charged with the defeat, his first against no wins.

Imbros Favored in Kyne
SAN MATEO, Calif., May 1—UP—A. J. Crevelin's Imbros, with veteran jockey Johnny Longden aboard, was favored to take the $100,000 William P. Kyne handicap at Bay Meadows Saturday. Twelve of the nation's top thoroughbreds were entered for the 1 1/4 mile spin, the first "hundred-grander" in the history of northern California racing.

Rosen Says First Is 'Easier To Play'
NEW YORK, May 1—UP—Al Rosen of Cleveland Saturday insisted first base is "easier to play" than third base but he anticipates a problem when Walt Dropo of Detroit asks for his loaned-out mitt back again.

Rosen, the American League's most valuable player last year, borrowed one of Dropo's first baseman mitts when he shifted from third base to first before a game with the Tigers a week ago Saturday.

"I'm still using the glove Dropo gave me," Rosen said, fingering the yellowish, trapper-model mitt. "I guess he'll want it back again soon. When he gave it to me, he said, 'If you catch any line drives off me, I'll come right out there and take it away from you.'"

A Little Unfamiliar
Rosen admits he still feels a little unfamiliar around first base but he is no complete stranger to the bag.

"I played first for Pittsfield in 1946 and for San Diego in 1949," he recalled.

"Playing first base is no bed of roses, but I think it's easier to play than third. To begin with, you can play deeper at first. And don't forget you have the pitcher to help you cover it sometimes, too. You don't have anyone to help you at third."

For the present, Rosen says he is merely concentrating on "catching the ball." He has no aspirations to become a "fancy dandy" at his new job although he makes it clear he is enjoying the assignment.

Cleveland Manager Al Lopez says Rosen is doing "an excellent job" at his new position.

May Remain at First
Rosen never hesitated for a minute when Lopez suggested the conversion last week.

Lopez indicates that Rosen may remain at first base indefinitely, so capably is he doing the job.

Senate Hopes To Stop FHA Abuses, Not To Cripple Plan

WASHINGTON, May 1—UP—The scandals which have rocked the Federal Housing Administration have actually touched only a small part of the government's vast housing activities.

Profits to chiseling apartment house builders and home repair racketeers are estimated in the tens of millions and there are hints of new disclosures to come.

But Senate investigators, well aware that the government has been bolstering the construction industry for nearly 20 years, have made it clear they are out to eliminate abuses in the program, not to cripple it.

Local banks usually were willing to issue mortgages at no more than one-half to two-thirds of a home's value. That made a second and often a third mortgage necessary.

Interest rates on the first mortgage usually were six per cent and anywhere from six to 10 per cent for second and third mortgages. On top of that, most lending institutions demanded repayment in a lump sum.

The result was that lenders were not apt to part with their money unless sure of repayment, builders got few loans, and people got few homes.

LOOK, GALS—Kay Schaefer takes time out in New York City to show the garterless hose which she invented. The tops of the hose grip the legs in the same manner that the Chinese finger puzzle grips one's fingers. In both cases it's hard to pull them loose.

Irregularities Uncovered
Irregularities uncovered so far in FHA's offer of insurance against loss was not its only method of spurring lending activity. To qualify for government insurance, the banks were required to accept low down payments. Originally, they started at 20 per cent but have dipped as low as five per cent since.

Banks also had to permit borrowers to pay back the loans in monthly installments over 20 and 30-year periods. Interest rates were cut since 1930, the number of American home-owners has about doubled—from about 10.5 million to roughly 21 million last year.

Nevertheless, FHA is only one of the government agencies concerned with housing. Like the Public Housing Administration, it is a part of the larger housing and home finance agency headed by Albert M. Cole.

Contrary to public impression the federal government does not own public housing units. It makes loans to local communities to clear land and plan the units and then makes up the difference between the rents and operating cost to the municipalities.

Taft Senate Seat Up For Grabs

COLUMBUS, Ohio, May 2—UP—Ohio Republicans will nominate a candidate for the Senate seat held by the late Sen. Robert A. Taft next Tuesday in a contest which finds the Taft family divided in its choice.

Robert A. Taft Jr., announced this week he would back the state GOP organization and support William Saxbe, 37, speaker of the Ohio House of Representatives. However, the Taft family newspaper, the Cincinnati Times-Star, threw its support to U. S. Rep. George H. Bender, who was endorsed by the Republican organization.

The contest apparently has created some bitterness within top Republican ranks but aroused little public interest. Secretary of State Ted W. Brown said Saturday he expected about 950,000 to vote in the Republican and Democratic primaries, a small turnout in years.

Saxbe plunged into the race a week after he signed a petition to help put Bender in the race. He called Bender "the old fashioned and war-hell type of politician the Republican party has tried to get rid of for years."

Saxbe, a small town attorney, has continued his attack on Bender throughout the campaign, calling him a man who can't beat Democrat incumbent Thomas A. Burke in November. Burke is without primary opposition.

IT'S PICNIC TIME!

The time for eating as many meals as possible outdoors is here! Many Pampanos realize this and are doing just that.

LEAVING HOME — Packing up the car and taking off for "the great outdoors" is a favorite pastime of Mr. and Mrs. Shirley Nichols and daughter, Patricia, 10, of 1165 Prairie Drive. Mr. Nichols especially likes a spot where there is water and fish, so he can put his fishing pole to use.

IN THE HEART OF THE CITY — Pampa teenagers don their shorts and levis and trek to city park for after-school picnics — and a few sets of tennis. Shown being "snapped" for their school-days album are, from left to right, Ronnie Mullins, 504 Letors; Carol Foster, 711 N. Somerville; D. I. Wilkinson, 815 N. Somerville, and Marietta Archer, west of City. Sue Dodds, 628 E. Foster, looks on while Kenneth Hinkle, west of city, wields his camera.

Anne Jordan And Wayne K. McMurtry Are Married In Double-Ring Ceremony

Miss Anne Jordan of Pampa became the bride of Wayne K. McMurtry of Silverton in a double-ring ceremony at 5:30 p.m. Friday in the First Baptist church. Dr. E. Douglas Carver officiated.

Members of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Rufe Jordan of Pampa and Mrs. A. L. McMurtry of Silverton.

The couple was married before an altar arch of white gladioli and lemon leaves, flanked by bouquets of white gladioli. Two candelabra were set on each side of the arch, one of each decorated with white asters and jade.

Organ music was presented by Patsy Stovall. Donna Irwin sang "Through the Years" and "Because" before the ceremony and "The Lord's Prayer" as the couple knelt at the altar.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor-length gown of nylon tulle and rose scroll lace. Bodice of lace was fitted basque over taffeta, buttoned down the back with miniature covered buttons and coming to a point in front and in back. The long sleeves came to petal points over her hands. The full skirt of tulle over lace, with apron effect, and lace point over lace, corresponded with the high neckline motif. Her fingertip veil flowed from a sweetheart cap of shirred silk illusion, trimmed with seed pearls and imported rose-point lace.

The bride carried a white prayer book, used in her bridesmaid's wedding, topped with a bouquet of white gardenias and stephanotis. The streamers were interspersed with stephanotis.

Her matron of honor, Mrs. L. D. Griffing, and bridesmaid, Mrs. Carl D. Bomar, wore identical sky-blue dresses of nylon illusion, gathered at the shoulders, with a drape that fell in folds down the shirred bodice. The drape fell to the floor in the back in a train-effect. Their sweetheart caps were of nylon net, trimmed in seed pearls. The attendants' flowers were colonial bouquets of red garnet roses and white maline.

This candlelighters, Miss Carolyn Reeves and Miss Donna Webb, were attired in nylon illusion blue gowns, with scooped necklines, and full gathered skirts. Their flowers were necklaces of blue carnations. The flower girl, Roy Ann Bomar, niece of the bridegroom, wore a sky-blue nylon net dress with a short, full skirt. She wore blue forget-me-not flowers in her hair and carried a basket of petals. The ringbearer, Truett Brannon, carried a cushion, topped with a white callily containing the rings. The bride's mother wore an all-nylon blue dress, with box-style corsages of pink baby roses. Jimmie McLaughlin served the best man; and L. D. Griffin, Carl D. Bomar, Bill Jones and Larry Tunnell acted as ushers.

Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Lancaster of Mobeetie, announce the recent marriage in Amarillo of their daughter Betty Jean Lancaster, to Robert Haines, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Lester Haines of McClure, Pennsylvania. The couple will make their home in Amarillo.

A reception in the church parlor followed the ceremony. The table was centered with an evergreen arrangement of white asters and forget-me-nots, flanked by blue crystal candelabra with blue tapers. The table was covered with a blue net cloth over white, with sequined bows attached to the fringed ends. The cake, at one end of the table, was three-tiered with white icing, topped by large wedding bells.

Miss Donna Mayfield of Silverton presided at the punch bowl, and Miss Sue Stewart at the cake. Martha Glover of Borger, the bride's college roommate, provided the music for the reception and Mrs. Betty Cooper presided at the register. Those assisting at the reception were Meses. Claude Wilson, Charlie Powell, Orval Batson, L. H. Anderson, Rupert Orr, J. C. Young, Lamon Stovall, Herman Whately, and V. L. Hobbs.

The bride chose a navy blue dress with matching accessories for going away. The couple plans a short honeymoon trip in New Mexico.

Mrs. McMurtry graduated from Pampa high school in 1953 and is a freshman at West Texas State College, Canyon. The groom graduated from Silverton high school, spent two years at New Mexico Military Institute, and is a junior at West Texas State. Following their wedding trip, they will resume their studies.

National Music Week Is Observed By Pampa Treble Clef Organization

Pampa's Treble Clef Club has scheduled a week-long radio series to commemorate National Music Week, which began Saturday. Each program will be presented over station KPDM.

The high school A Cappella Choir will present today's program at 2:30 p.m. During the week, time for each presentation is 12:45 p.m. Monday, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Johnson will appear on the program; Tuesday Miss Elotae Lane will present sacred organ music; and Wednesday, Mrs. Lewis Williams and Mrs. Vern Wisdom, both of Pampa, will be in charge of the program.

The high school faculty trio, composed of Mrs. Louie Richardson, Mrs. Kenneth Rankford and Miss Evelyn Clayton will give a presentation Thursday. Friday's program will close the observance with recorded chamber music.

Approximately 20 years ago, the National Federation of Music Clubs designated the first week in May as National Music Week, and each year, the governor of the state issues a proclamation to that effect.

RUTH MILLET

The good listener is usually welcome in any group, but sometimes the good listener gets tired of listening and would like to do some of the talking for a change.

Here's a letter from a woman who is fed up with always being the quiet member of a group. She says:

"I can talk well — and, I think, fairly interestingly — when I am with one other person. But when I find myself in a group of even five or six, I never seem to manage to get a word in edgewise."

"If I start to say something, somebody else breaks in and takes the floor. So I give up and go back to listening, smiling and nodding — and laughing — at the right moment."

"Is there some trick in being able to break into a conversation and have your say?"

"If you are talking about getting a chance to have your say in a group of women, then you are probably just being too polite."

"When a group of women get together, the ones who do the talking aren't timid about breaking into a conversation in a loud enough voice to command attention. And, once they get the attention of their audience, they aren't too modest to hold it until it is grabbed by someone else."

"The women who do the talking in any crowd usually have several things in common. They are vivacious, and so can make even the most trivial small talk sound important. They aren't hesitant in talking about themselves, or taking up some of the time by going into detail over what they think, where they've been, and the people they know."

"And they speak fast enough and loud enough to drown out any competition."

"That's all the trick there is to it. But since nobody ever put her foot in her mouth by being a good listener — and plenty of big talkers are about just that — don't worry too much over being a good listener who is always welcome in any crowd."

What can a wife do if her husband never wants to take the family any place?

A wife wants an answer to that question because her children keep asking her, "Why can't our family ever go anywhere together, the way other families do?"

She says her husband works hard to support the family, but never wants to take the children anywhere.

Let's face it. There are some fathers who love their children and are willing to work hard to support them, but who don't enjoy doing things with them.

They shudder at the thought of a family picnic or a Sunday at the beach or even a ride with the whole family piled into the car.

If nagged into taking the family out they go unwillingly, and they not only don't have any fun themselves, but they spoil the fun for the rest of the family.

So what can the mother do? Her best bet is to plan family outings when Papa is at work or has plans of his own. If he groans at the mention of a school picnic or church supper then Mama can say gently that she'll take the children.

A family outing without the man of the family along isn't the same thing as having Dad at the wheel of the car, running the expedition, but it is better than nothing.

And who knows? Papa may not like the idea of the family's being able to have fun without him, and may decide he wants to go along after all.

But even if he doesn't the children will get some pleasure, at least, out of these fatherless-family outings.

BRIDAL SHOWER

Dear Miss Friend
My cousin and I are going to give a shower for a friend who is going to be married next month.

We are not sure whether we should discuss it with the friend to find out what kind of shower she is apt to want.

We know that she is going to have a kitchen shower and a miscellaneous one and we thought of having a linen shower but we hesitate to ask her as we aren't sure it is correct. Someone said that the honoree should be surprised when she comes to the party and starts to open the gifts.

Will you tell us how to handle this?

Jane and Marie

Dear Jane and Marie
Of course discuss the matter with the honoree.

Otherwise she might end up with three kitchen showers or three linen showers.

It is wise to consult her first of all as far in advance as possible so that you can choose a date which is most convenient for her as brides-elect always are busy young women and must plan their calendars carefully.

You will want to give the kind of shower that she would prefer. Imagine giving her a linen shower if she has chests of sheets, table cloths etc. already!

Once you have decided on the kind of shower and the date, mail out your invitations so that the guests will have a chance to prepare for the event also.

Annual AAUW Tea For Senior-High Girls And Mothers Held This Afternoon

Pampa's American Association of University Women will hold its annual tea honoring High School senior girls and their mothers, this afternoon in the City Club Rooms at 4 o'clock.

Highlighting the afternoon will be the announcement and presentation of the senior girl chosen as recipient of the A.A.U.W. Scholarship Award. Points taken into consideration in selection of this girl were: a senior girl who is a member of the Pampa High School graduating class who ranks in the upper ten per cent of the class scholastically; one who shows leadership ability; and one who intends to attend college this fall.

Mrs. Charlynn Court will entertain the girls by reading their horoscopes and discussing astrology. Mrs. Court, secretary to the Selective Service Board, became interested in astrology a number of years ago. She has won national recognition with her literary contributions in the field of astrology.

Special music will be presented by the Faculty Trio: Mmes. Lonnie Richardson, Kenneth Lankford, and Miss Evelyn Clayton. Background music will be played by Miss Eloise Lane.

Reverend Porter Brooks will give an inspirational message. Reverend Brooks, although a newcomer in Pampa, is well known for his interest and work with the young people of Pampa. He served several years abroad as chaplain in the armed services before coming to the Pampa Episcopal Church.

Mrs. Roy Sullivan and Dr. Emily

Hicks arranged the program to be presented this afternoon. Hostesses for the tea will be Mmes. M. E. Lamb, Otis Nace, F. E. Leech, Perry Gault, and Miss Helene Hull.

All senior girls and their mothers are urged to attend this tea.

Girl Scout Activities

Leaders of "fly-up troops" made an overnight trip to Camp Mel Davis recently. For the evening meal, a large trench was dug in which a fire was built for reflector cooking. Later, the coals were used for foil cookery. A foil cooked evening meal consisted of stew, pineapple upside down cake (cooked in reflector oven), salad and coffee. During the evening a "Scouts Own" ceremony was held, with Mrs. Joe Wells relating the Indian legend about the big dipper. An hour of songs and storytelling was held around the campfire.

Those attending were: Mmes. S. Graham, Dorothy Conrad, Mary Jane Bryan, Ivy Clark, Bess McGlothlin, Edwina Atkins, Margaret Wells, Marilyn Wells, Jean Andrews, Dorothy Brown and Dorothy Statton.

A trip, en masse, to the circus, was made by 20 Tenderfoots of troop 39, and their guests. Mrs. Don Riley accompanied them. The troop is under the leadership of Mrs. P. Massey.

SOMEONE ONCE SAID if you need a job done give it to a busy person. Stand back, Betty Craig, for I've got you on my list next time I need a job done. Most of us would hold our heads and groan just to have three itay boys to care for, but Betty does this, plus turning out all sorts of clever things on the sewing machine. A special friend told me about the unusual denim and ticking place mats she gave for prizes at her bridge club last week. Something she whipped up while watching TV!

GANG WAY, HERE WE COME! was the club cry when the Parent Education husbands and wives got together on Tuesday evening for dinner and a treasure hunt. The members and husbands met at Mrs. Bill Heakew's for one of her superb meals, and then took off in a cloud of dust to track down clues which were written in poetry (apologies to all poets living or dead) Frances Hoffmann hollered long and loud when she tipped off competitor Dr. J. B. Veale as to the location of the clue that had 'em all stumped. Was a lucky moment for the Veales and their co-hunters Betty and Mayron Marx, for they were first to reach the Country Club and copped the treasure.

ONE THING I CAN SAFELY SAY in regard to the very controversial Senate Investigating Committee, they've certainly awakened the politically lazy minds of a whole heap of people. I've even seen gals lay down their bridge hands to discuss the pros and cons of the issue, and recently two couples at a nearby table were spending their evening out in a heated argument concerning Senator Joe's policy. This I like to see.

FOR YOU FASHION-MINDED FEMALES there's a new book on the market, "Western World Costume" by Carolyn G. Bradley (Appleton-Century-Crofts) which traces in detail the manner in which men and women have chosen to clothe themselves from the crude skin garments of Neolithic man to the TV lounging jacket of today. According to Miss Bradley, there's nothing new under the fashion sun, even our wrap-around skirts and costume jewelry date back to the days when man was drawing pictures on caves and pulling wife around by her golden locks.

HOUSTON PROBABLY DIDN'T NOTICE but Pampa families were buzzing in and out of the big city last week end. I overheard Bob and Alieth Curry telling Betty and Cliff Whitney that they were there at the same time.

WHILE BENDING MY EAR to hear all about these recent journeys to South Texas, I heard the Cliff Whitneys give a glowing account of the Texas Lions Camp for crippled children which they visited in Kerrville. They were telling me about the wonderful facilities the camp offered—all new building, bunk houses, mess hall, arts and crafts building, and swimming pool in a picture-book setting of trees and hills. All equipment is designed for the handicapped, even to a miniature golf course that can be played in a wheel chair. These kids are offered a normal active camp life in which they have opportunity to develop self reliance and independence. Best of all, it's absolutely free for all handicapped children, and the camp is supported by the Lions clubs all over the state.

I TOOK A TRIP to Borger on Thursday afternoon to see the Japanese movie (I can't pronounce the name much less spell it). The show depicted five different versions of a murder, then they threw in a wringer and left the correct decision up to the audience. Hate to admit it, but I still haven't figured it out. Wonder if Bubs Lang and Bev Fancher found the answer? Maybe Judy Russell, Barbara Calkins, or Colette Dow did, for I saw them too rushing in at show time.

CIRCUS TIME IS A GAY TIME and when I hear the band, my right foot starts right in tapping. At the Wednesday afternoon matinee, I took time out from my cotton candy to spy Ruth Goodwyn with her two darling blond children, Betsy and Garland, sharing a bag of popcorn with Mary Lou Frick and Doug and Patty.

THE HOME HANDYMAN OR WOMAN is big business today, and the do-it-yourself trend is the popular thing in all the home magazines and trade publications. These new wrinkles not only apply to new home construction, but work on those remodeling jobs too. Here's some ideas I picked up recently:

Short lengths of hardwood flooring, too short to include in standard length bundles, are now being marketed by lumber dealers because of the unusual patterns they make possible. The laying of the short lengths involves no more trick than any hardwood floor laying, and free pamphlets on the proper procedure are available. One thing is necessary, however, and that's a smooth solid subfloor.

There's a new calking compound for squeezing into cracks and crevices around sinks and tubs. It looks and feels like white tile, but comes in a tube. They claim that it won't shrink, crumble, or discolor with age. Another thing in its favor is that it can be painted to conform with the decorating.

KIND THOUGHTS AND TENDER WISHES go to Miss Maureen Hickman, sweet young daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hickman, who recently fell and broke her leg. We'll be looking you up and about soon, Maureen!

THE JOINT WILL BE JUMPING next Thursday night when the famous band of Freddie Martin plays for the annual spring formal at the Country Club. I'm getting my dancing shoes out and working over last year's party dress. When I get my hair curled, I'll be ready to go.

REUNIONS ARE THE MOST FUN and Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Kirchner are eagerly preparing for the return of their daughter, her husband, and son sometime in May. This young family has been in England for the past two years.

A WISE WORD TO HOMEMAKERS was given last week by Dr. M. T. Harrington, chancellor of the Texas A&M College system when he spoke on the campus of the Texas State College for Women. Dr. Harrington said, "On the shoulders of the homemakers of our next half-century will rest the burden of matching the outer chaos of the world with the inner peace of the home." Sounds like a large order for us mothers, but a pretty important one for producing confidence and stability of character in our children during this time of world turbulence.

'Tis a new month and a new day — here's my best for a happy week.

Always,
Your Peg

Texas Border Casserole Is Tasty

By GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Food and Markets Editor
How does this sound for a beautiful one-dish meal — spicy pork sausage, ripe tomatoes and plenty of onions combined with corn meal? The idea comes from Texas and is good for taking on picnics kept hot.

Baked Border Casserole
(Yield: 6 servings)
One pound sausage, 2 cups canned tomatoes, 2 teaspoons chopped onion, 2 teaspoons salt, 1/2 cup corn meal, 1/2 cup sweet milk, 3 beaten eggs, 1/2 cup sausage fat used, omit salt.

Note: If self-rising corn meal is used, omit salt.

Saute sausage until brown and cooked thoroughly. Heat tomatoes, onion and salt to boiling point. Stir in corn meal and cook until thick. Stir in milk. Add beaten eggs, sausage and sausage fat and mix thoroughly. Pour into a quart casserole and bake in a moderate oven (375 degrees F.) for 45 minutes.

Boastin' bread is a variation in corn meal muffins. Very good!

Boastin' Bread
One cup corn meal, 1 tablespoon flour, 1 teaspoon salt, 1 cup boiling water, 1 tablespoon shortening, 2 eggs.

Combine corn meal, flour and salt; add boiling water slowly to dry mixture, stirring until smooth. Add shortening and cool. Separate eggs and stir yolks into mixture, then fold in whites. Bake in hot buttered muffin pans in hot oven (425 degrees F.) for 20 minutes.

Cook's Nook
By GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Food and Markets Editor
We think San Francisco is one of the best towns to eat in in this well-fed country. One proof could be this oyster last recipe we acquired on our last visit to the city of the Golden Gate.

Oyster Loaves, Russian Hill
(Serves 4-6)
Three tablespoons butter or margarine, 3 tablespoons flour, 1-3 cup cream, 1-3 cup oyster liquid, 1-3 cup wine for an additional 1-3 cup cream), 1 teaspoon lemon juice, 1 teaspoon grated onion, salt, pepper to taste, 1/2 cup finely chopped celery, 2 tablespoons chopped parsley, 4 to 6 long French rolls, additional butter or margarine for spreading on rolls, 1 1/2 cups fresh or canned oysters, drained. Save liquid.

Use whole if small, cut in bite-sized pieces if large.

Melt butter and stir in flour. Add cream, oyster liquid and wine or extra cream. Cook, stirring constantly, until mixture boils and thickens. Add lemon juice, onion, salt and pepper. Stir in celery and parsley. Set aside while preparing the rolls, as follows:

Cut a thin slice lengthwise from the top of each roll. With fingers, follow out and spread inside with butter. Toast rolls and top slices in a hot oven (450 degrees F.) just until golden brown. While rolls are toasting, add oysters to sauce and saute in other white table and heat gently. To serve, place roll shells on individual plates; fill with the oyster mixture; put top slices in place. Serve at once.

New Hampshire has its good recipes; too. Here's one for cabbage, now so plentiful:

Cabbage Rolls
(Serves 6)
One-half cup rice, 1 teaspoon salt, 1/2 teaspoon pepper, 1 cup raw beef, chopped, 1 head cabbage, 1 tablespoon chopped onion, 2 cups tomato sauce.

Wash rice, mix beef, rice and seasonings. Cook cabbage leaves in boiling salted water until the leaves are limp enough to roll. Put some of the beef and rice mixture on each cabbage leaf, and roll up. Place rolls in a casserole and pour tomato sauce over them. Cover.

Bake at 350 degrees F. for one hour or until rice is tender. (To hasten cooking, partially cook the rice first.)

Manners Make Friends

When writing a business letter to a person whose name you know, it is better to begin the letter with "Dear Mr. Jones," rather than with "Dear Sir." The close, "Sincerely yours," also has a freer sound than "Yours very truly."

There's no need for stiff-sounding formality, even when writing

MATURE PARENT

By MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE
I've just finished reading seven enchanting stories for children. They appear in Story-A-Day, a new weekly magazine for youngsters.

It's the production of a brave editor. For the tales he offers give children No Useful Information. They do not provide Jimmy with a thinly disguised geography lesson by reporting the Market Day experiences of those Mexican twins, Juanito and Juanita. They attempt to instruct him on the operation of modern dairies by recounting the adventures of his morning Milk Bottle.

They just content themselves with reciting Jimmy joyous entertainment.

I couldn't believe it. And sure enough I found that someone had indeed felt guilty at asking me to comment on stories that offer mere joy to the young.

In a letter that accompanied my copy of them, I was asked to note that their occasional Big Words would "extend Jimmy's vocabulary." And that by reading them to him, his parents would "build a healthy family relationship."

With this reassurance, I presume we are expected to relax. Remembering that we are extending Jimmy's vocabulary and cementing our family relationships, we can settle down to share joy with him with a clear moral conscience.

I think that this distrust of joy that serves No Useful Purpose is quite typical of many of us, affecting many of our attitudes toward children as well as toward ourselves.

It is, for instance, what closes our eyes to a small one's delight in buttoning his own coat, because he is slow. It's what makes impatient interruptions of a just-emerging crayon picture because supper is ready.

It's what drives us to overwork resentfully in the kitchen while others are enjoying television. It accounts for much of our morbid self-sacrifice to children and for a great, great deal of jealousy.

Canned Food Doubles

CHICAGO — UP — Americans are eating twice as many canned and frozen vegetables as they did 25 years ago. M. F. Cortlet, vice-president of a large can-making firm, said farmers harvested more than 13 billion pounds of vegetables for canning and freezing in 1953, compared with 6 billion pounds in 1928. The present total provides 82 pounds for each person in the country.

Paula Browning, Billie Lee Stephens Married In Double-Ring Ceremony

Miss Paula Browning, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. P. Bowerman, former Pampa now residing in Amarillo, and Billie Lee Stephens, daughter of Mrs. Alice Stephens, Borger, were married Tuesday with a double-ring evening ceremony in the bride's home in Amarillo. Vows were read before an archway of jade leaves, plumose fern and white anemones, flanked by tall white tapers in candelabra.

The bride, who was given away by her father, wore a ballerina length gown of white embroidered nylon. The off the shoulder bodice culminated in a bouffant skirt. While satin opera pumps, a white nylon hat and white nylon gloves completed her ensemble. She carried a white Bible topped with an arch.

Her only attendant, Mrs. Don Carter, wore a navy nylon dress with white accessories. Dale Stephens, nephew of the bridegroom, served as best man.

Mrs. Bowerman was attired in navy linen with navy accessories. The mother of the bridegroom wore a beige crepe gown with brown accessories.

Doris Qualls served punch and Mrs. Buck Lewis of Amarillo, sister of the bridegroom, served cake from a white linen-covered table at a reception following the ceremony.

The wedding cake was iced with white and wreaathed with yellow and white sweet peas. The bride chose a tangerine suit with white accessories for traveling. Following a wedding trip to Mississippi, the couple will make their home in Kansas.

The bride was graduated from Pampa High School in January. The bridegroom attended Borger schools.

Transform Dishes Into Flower Pots

By KAY SHERWOOD
NEA Staff Writer

Inexpensive glassware and ordinary dishes lifted from the kitchen shelf make charming containers for garden flowers. The maker uses two cruet for daisies.

who wants to make the most of every flower she can find for her home. Few of us have a shelf of fancy glasses for flower pots.

Use your ingenuity to create charming arrangements with goblets, ash trays, refrigerator dishes, sugar bowls, flat casserole lids or relish dishes, to name a few.

To hold flowers in place, you can use a dab of the children's modeling clay or a block of florist's snow. This porous plastic holds water well and can be dried out and reused.

Dime store glass ash trays, big and deep enough to hold water, make simple and effective bases for flowering branches. Stamped goblets used as vases pick up light and add sparkle to a small bouquet.

The graceful shape of cruet I bought in a variety store recently has induced me to keep four or five little flowers in them instead of the oil and vinegar for which they are intended.

This points up the only drawback to doubling the function of everyday dishes: You're apt to have a casserole ready to pop in the oven only to realize the lid is supporting a dreamy arrangement of floating pansies.

The bright, clear colors of glass ovenware make a perfect foil for punched wild flowers. Or try clear or colored ramekins or custard cups for a candle-flower centerpiece. Anchor the candle with modeling clay in the center and ring it with short-stemmed pansies, violets or sweet peas.

Tiny, red, rose clusters placed in each of three opaque yellow glass ramekins make a colorful and space-saving centerpiece for a small dining or buffet table. Colored glass refrigerator containers, packed with plastic snow, make "planters" for straight-stemmed tulips or daffodils. If tulip heads droop over (as mine so often do), just clip off the stems, curl back the petals over your finger and float the blossom in a shallow candy dish.

VARIETY OF JOBS

She is a purchasing agent, interior decorator, a hostess, often a chauffeur, a baby sitter, a child-guidance expert, a nurse, perhaps a gardener, and so on.

No one can measure the thought and effort she puts into such things as keeping peace in the family, building self-confidence in her children, seeing to it that no one in the family feels inferior or unloved, keeping friendships alive and encouraging her husband.

Any man is foolish who doesn't at least glimpse the importance of the wife's contribution to the family.

And any man who thinks of a homemaker in less than those words simply deserves to spend the rest of his days in a rooming house, eating his meals out, and sending his shirts to a laundry. Sure, he could exist like that, but he would be getting just what he paid for — a mere existence.

Eniwetok's General Clarkson He Calls The Shots For H-Bomb Show

By DOUGLAS LARSEN
NEA Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON (NEA)—When the last bit of radio-active ash has fallen from the Pacific hydrogen bomb tests, a comparatively unknown, fatherly-looking man nicknamed "Perk" will shoulder all the blame for anything that went wrong.

On the other hand "Perk" is sure to get a minimum of public acclaim for successes achieved, despite the fact that he has been in charge of a great historic mission.

"Perk" is Maj. Gen. Percy William Clarkson. As commander of Joint Task Force Seven, the organization running the tests at Eniwetok, he is the big chief of that whole nuclear pow-wow.

Clarkson is a foxhole near the front he took time to jot down a half-dozen bits of homely philosophy. One of his notes read:

"A small success by you is lost in large successes elsewhere. A small failure by you is lost in large failures elsewhere. But a small success or failure assumes unwarranted importance higher up if nothing else is going on."

Career Boost Mends Star's Marriage

By ALINE MOSBY
HOLLYWOOD, May 1 (UP)—What causes a Hollywood marriage to break up? Rhonda Fleming said Saturday a boost in her career helped bring her and Dr. Lew Morrell back together.

The red-haired actress and the handsome young surgeon called their marriage quits a month ago, and Rhonda filed a divorce suit. But this week, the doctor moved back into their home and the actress confessed an upswing in her working life was partly responsible for the reconciliation.

It's Perk who tells the scientists if they can, or cannot, push the button on the big bang. When there's a 20-hour question on the weather being good or bad, it's Perk who must make that grave decision. Even when the chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission, Lewis L. Strauss, is at the test site Perk is still the big boss and Strauss merely his "guest."

Despite the tremendous respon-

MAJ. GEN. CLARKSON: A philosophy about success and failure.

"Everyone has ups and downs in show business. I was keeping busy, but I was dissatisfied with what I was doing. I was terribly unhappy."

During the separation, the Beverly Hills doctor tried to win her back in a scene stolen from a movie comedy. Rhonda went to Palm Springs to think over their marriage. One day Morrell hopped into his private plane and all day circled over the swimming pool where she was sitting.

Another day, he visited their home to plead with her. They walked to the back yard to get some firewood. Morrell fell, broke his leg in three places and was hauled off to a hospital.

Then Rhonda got a break in her career. Jane Russell, Beryl Davis and Connie Haines asked her to take Della Russell's place in their spiritual quartet that had been making hit records.

"I came to Hollywood to sing, but I never had a chance," said Rhonda. "It's what I've always wanted to do. We have recording days, television — it's wonderful."

She then realized, she went on, how much more important her marriage was than a job. "I didn't appreciate his flying over that pool at the time, but now I understand that if he loved me that much I'd better not let him get away," she said. "He's more important than any old career, and the career can go down the drain if it has to. We're going to try being married for another 40 years. I'd rather have him than anyone else."

chemistry and electronics at West Point for five years.

Clarkson also loves to go deep-sea fishing and is one of the nation's best skeet shooters. He's an avid reader in bed of non-fiction books dealing with government and national affairs.

One of Clarkson's special talents is smoothing out personality conflicts. On a complex project like the one at Eniwetok, with crews of brilliant and individualistic civilian scientists working closely with military brass, this ability is essential.

Many months ago when personnel for the current series of tests began assembling, he heard reports of trouble brewing between a colonel and a scientist over the storage of some instruments. He promptly called both men into his office, gave them a cup of coffee and asked each one to explain his side of the difficulty. A half-hour later the general had the trouble ironed out and the two men the best of friends.

Another qualification which has kept the general on two of these Eniwetok tests, despite an agreement to rotate the job among the services, is an excellent technical background. He has an electrical engineering degree from Texas A&M College and taught both Division. Clarkson won praise from General MacArthur for the spirit of the outfit and its performance in combat. Military experts agree that Clarkson's development of night-fighting tactics was a major factor in the war in the Pacific.

During the first half of the Pacific fighting U.S. forces had been content to move during the day and dig in after dark. The Japs took advantage and planned most of their activity for night. But after Clarkson turned their night combat technique against them, the Japs never were able to adjust to the new situation and ended up being licked at their own game.

An hour before the first big-scale night attack was attempted by the 33rd, Clarkson moved silently among the assembled units listening to what the men were saying. Just after the troops moved out, Clarkson said to an aide:

"This thing is sure to succeed because the men aren't afraid and think it's a good idea."

The general received the Distinguished Service Cross during the crucial battle for the island of Morotai. Forward units of his division had been halted in a grim fight for a vital hill. In a full day of walking over tortuous terrain and under heavy enemy fire he reached his front troops, helped the commander revise his tactics and spurred the men on personally to a great victory.

General Clarkson is married and has one teen-age son. He was officially retired from the Army several years ago, but is being kept on active duty for the Eniwetok assignment.

Gas Stations Fall Down On Free Service

WASHINGTON, May 1-UP—Some gasoline filling stations are falling down on free service to the motorist but the car owner is partly responsible because he doesn't demand it.

The result is that the station operator is missing lots of sales and the average motorist isn't taking very good care of his car.

These are some of the highlights of one chapter of a six-part study of the auto owner's buying habits made by National Analysis, Inc., Philadelphia, for the petroleum chemical division of E. I. du Pont de Nemours Co.

The results were made available to sales offices of the petroleum industry to help guide them in future relations with the motoring public.

Services Not Requested

The survey showed that motorists want free service—windshield wipers, car battery, water and tire checks—but that less than one-third request it. If the station attendants don't volunteer it.

And some attendants aren't too anxious to help guide them unless they're driving a big, expensive car or a new one in the lower brackets. Those old jalopies apparently fail to inspire their business acumen. This means loss of many gallons of gas.

The findings were based on 3,100 household interviews supplemented by 21,000 observations at 1188 service stations in major gasoline outlets.

One big item of interest to all motoring tourists was not touched upon. This has to do with clean restrooms. The writer of this dispatch, in casual talks with hundreds of motorists, has found another big selling asset of a gas station's biggest selling survey.

Much Desired

Motorists want services more frequently than they are offered by the dealer.

Almost 90 per cent consider the motor oil check one of the most important of the free services.

Three quarters of motorists list one of the most important paid services.

The receipt of services was far less than what the motorist wanted or considered important.

Core Laboratories, Inc., international petroleum service firm, which has recently established facilities in Pampa to serve the Pampa area, announced the appointment of William L. Horner as manager of reservoir engineering operations and his election as a vice president of the company.
