GOPsters Call for Probe Into Report Concerning German Occupation Money

Redemption of Soviet Money Is Questioned

WASHINGTON — AP — Three Republican senators called today for a full-scale investigation into reports that the United States has redeemed millions of dollars worth of German occupation money printed by Russian authorities.

The three lawmakers—Bridges of New Hampshire, Ferguson of Michigan and Knowland of California—told a reporter in separate interviews that they understand the plates to print the German marks were given to the Russians by American officials.

Among other uses for the occupation money was to pay Allied troops.

Earlier reports have said that the Russian soldiers drawing large amounts of back pay—paid fabulous black market prices to American GI's for such items as wrist watches and trinkets.

The GI's, in turn, converted the occupation money into dollars. The trade became so brisk that American authorities resorted to several methods for discouraging the marks-to-dollars conversion.

Finally, a script system was devised to replace the occupation currency.

A War Department statement on April 21, prompted by reports that the loss to the treasury on these black market dealings might exceed $500,000,000, advised that the Army has accumulated a surplus of German currency.

"The present holdings do not, however, exceed future contemplated expenditures," the statement said, adding:

"A complete report on the acquisition and disposal of these holdings is presently being prepared for the information of the appropriate committees of Congress."

No such report has come to light on Capitol Hill.

Bridges, chairman of the Senate Appropriations Committee, said "my information is that between $400,000,000 and $900,000,000 worth of this money has been or is being redeemed with American dollars."

"I have been told that this redemption is being carried as a hidden item."

Flood Waters On Mississippi At High Point

HANNIBAL, Mo.—(AP)—Floodwaters pouring into the Mississippi River, which already have made more than 20,000 homeless and have inundated nearly 50,000 acres of farm land in Eastern Missouri and West-Central Illinois, appeared today to have reached a high point.

Rivermen and U. S. engineers expressed the belief that only further rains would aggravate the situation, but they also said that several river towns in Illinois and Missouri still faced serious flood conditions, despite the promise of receding waters.

U. S. Army Engineer and the Coast Guard had every available worker on the job in the flood area and the American Red Cross had 50 staff workers and about 600 volunteers aiding the homeless.

Water was one inch to ten feet deep in the villages of Alexandria, Mo., near the Iowa line, the result of a levee break and all residents have been evacuated.

In Hannibal, a city of 20,000, the water covered nine blocks of the town's main street. Four thousand residents of South Hannibal were partially isolated. No buses were operating and at least a dozen stores were flooded.

At Canton, Mo., 30 miles upstream, the river had reached a stage of 19.92 feet—on all time high. Although half of the town is under water and a third of the 2,000 residents are homeless, relief work was reported well in hand. No trains or buses are operating out of the town and only one highway is open.

A River Land district levee, two miles north of Louisiana, broke yesterday, flooding 3,000 acres. Sixty families were evacuated.

At Quincy, Ill., where the Mississippi reached a record stage 23.6 feet, water covered the town's front. Several persons were not endangered. Several persons were forced to evacuate homes in South Quincy.

Pampans Narrowly Escape Adrian Fire

George H. Parker, Adrian rancher, died yesterday in the Northwest Texas hospital as a result of severe burns suffered in a fire and explosion that totally demolished the 66 Cafe and Service Station in Adrian around noon yesterday.

Mrs. L. P. Fort and her three children, 1317 Terrace, who are enroute to Los Angeles, narrowly escaped injury to the blaze when they stopped to dine at the cafe.

Mrs. Fort, who phoned her husband shortly after the explosion occurred, related how she and the children had gone into the cafe and placed their orders. They heard an explosion that seemingly came from the kitchen so they all ran out of the front door and down the street for almost a block, when the blaze that had spread to the rubble from a second blast.

Adrian has no fire department. Fire fighting equipment was called from Vega, which is about 14 miles distance. The truck arrived in about 14 minutes and its crew extinguished the blaze that had spread to an adjoining tourist court.

Parker is believed to have been seated in the service station drive when the major explosion occurred. His clothes were nearly burned off and he was severely burned about the body, head and legs.

Giant Rattler Drops On Unnerved Workman

PORT WORTH—(AP)—E. A. Walls of Rockport, Tex., was bitten by a giant rattler here with a hair-raising story, a hair-raising snake and a very bad case of the jitters.

He was welding a pipeline in a ditch near Bridgeport when the snake fell on top of him. He had the presence of mind to grab the five and a half foot reptile by the neck and hold on until he could yell for other workmen to help take charge of the snake—and him.

He was awed when he got a good look at the snake and so was Harry Jackson, the zoo's snake man. It's a magnificent specimen of timber rattler, rarely seen in this part of the country.

The timber rattler is deadly poisonous but fortunately for Walls, much slower than the diamond back rattler.

Work Stoppage Reaches 22 Mines

UNIONTOWN, Pa.—(AP)—Work stoppages among soft coal miners protesting labor legislation before Congress spread to 22 mines employing 14,800 men today as AFL-United Mine Workers officials pondered their strategy in the idleness they termed "unauthorized."

The stoppages were scattered through the three counties that comprise the heart of an extremely rich Southwestern Pennsylvania bituminous section—Payette, Greene and Washington.

Two mines voted to resume work after being idle over the weekend. They were the Gates Mine of the H. C. Frick Coke Co., employing 450 and the Kyle Mine of the same company employing 600. They account for a combined daily production of 5,600 tons.

Among the closed mines was the world's largest, the famed Robena Mine of the Frick Company which employs 1,800 miners and has a normal daily production of 10,000 tons. Some of the other larger pits affected range from 2,000 tons to 7,000 tons in output.

Without exception, all of the larger mines are "captive" pits—those mines whose production goes to steel plants and never sees the open market.

The U. S. Steel Corp., one of the steelmakers involved, reported it was losing 25,000 tons of coal daily, 5,000 tons short of the total used each 24 hours at the Clairton Coking Works, which supplies 80 percent of the coke used by the company's Pittsburgh district plants.

President William Bynes of UMW District 4 called the work stoppages "unauthorized" and added:

"All I know is the miners are protesting the (Hartley-Taft) labor bill."

He said his staff was "looking the situation over, to see how to act."

The Hartley-Taft bill, expected to reach President Truman's desk soon, would presumably outlaw any coal strike when the mines pass out of government control at the end of the month.

Negotiations between UMW President John L. Lewis and operators to replace the current government contract now are at a standstill.

Communists Are Extending Purge of Foes

LONDON—(AP)—Dispatches from Budapest suggested today that the Communist-dominated Hungarian Government was widening its purge against dissident elements on several fronts.

The Communist newspaper Szabadsg said the "Resistance Certificates" of nearly 200 persons, including government and church officials, would be reviewed by a special committee under the Prime Minister's office.

Among those facing loss of these certificates—which indicate that the holders opposed the Germans during the war—were Dezso Sulyok, head of the Freedom Party whose newspaper recently was banned; Assembly Speaker Bela Varga, a member of the Smallholders' Party; and Josef Cardinal Mindszenty, Roman Catholic Primate of Hungary.

Others facing possible loss of their lands if the committee should decide they did not work against the Nazis, Szabadsg said, were Lajos Shvy, Catholic bishop of Szekesfehervar; Count Geza Teleki, former minister of education; and Bela Pedanyi-Gulyas, head of the Smallholder Party's Political Committee.

At the same time, the Hungarian Peoples' Court announced that 43 "enemies of the nation," including doctors, lawyers and professors—would go on trial late this month on charges of conspiring to overthrow the Hungarian Republic.

The newspaper Vilag said Albert Szent-Gyorgyi, a Nobel prize winner for Vitamin C research, had recommended the expulsion of 12 scientists from the Hungarian Academy of Science on the ground they were "reactionaries."

Vilag also quoted Istvan Ries, the minister of justice, as saying that a new election law was being written to govern the national election "scheduled for the first half of September" under which "enemies" of the state, and their relatives, would be disfranchised.

In Belgrade, the Yugoslav government announced that Gen. Ludwik Svoboda, Czechoslovak minister of defense, and a group of high-ranking Czech officers would arrive there.

Marshall Favors Creation Of United States of Europe

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Secretary of State Marshall has expressed general approval of a resolution to put Congress on record as favoring creation of a United States of Europe within the framework of the United Nations.

"Of course the United States wants a Europe which is not divided against itself, a Europe which is better than that it replaces," Marshall said. "Only as we can inspire hope of that can we expect men to endure what must be endured and make the great efforts which must be made if wars are to be avoided and civilization is to survive in Europe."

A similar resolution has been introduced in the House by Rep. Boggs (D-La.).

The Fulbright-Thomas-Boggs proposal, if adopted by the Senate and House, would constitute simple legislation with the Federal Public Housing Authority over an order increasing rents charged veterans occupying some 220 Comp Home Housing Project's Mayor Wendell Hayes of Brownwood said.

The mayor said he told O'Daniel that the FPHA was seeking higher rents at Camp Bowie that the government had charged civilian employe occupants during the war. Hayes asserted that FPHA had authority to increase rents only to new tenants.

Present rents for the units are $13 per month, but Marshall W. Amis, FPH Director, Region-V director, FPHA, said this would be increased to $18 a month on Sept. 1.

O'Daniel to Intercede For Texas Veterans

BROWNWOOD—(AP)—Senator W. Lee O'Daniel (D-Tex.) will intercede with the Federal Public Housing Authority over an order increasing rents charged veterans occupying some 220 Comp Home Housing Project's Mayor Wendell Hayes of Brownwood said.

The mayor said he told O'Daniel that the FPHA was seeking higher rents at Camp Bowie that the government had charged civilian employe occupants during the war. Hayes asserted that FPHA had authority to increase rents only to new tenants.

Suit Filed Against Southern Bus Lines

NEW ORLEANS—(AP)—A $65,000 suit against the Southern Bus Lines Inc. of Rapides Parish, and the firm's surety was on file in Federal District Court here today from Mrs. Lucinda Loder Wortham, Nolan County, Texas, in connection with the death of her husband in an automobile accident, June 23, 1946.

The suit alleged that the plaintiff's husband, Parker Kellum Wortham, was driving west on highway 50 near Erwinville when his car was hit by a bus. The plaintiff charged that Wortham's car side swiped another car before it was hit by the bus, and the driver of the bus had from 300 to 500 feet to apply his brakes and avert a smashup.

Measure Expected To Boost Industry

Gov. Beauford Jester this morning signed into law Senate Bill 227, fulfilling a promise he made yesterday shortly after noon to a group of Panhandle citizens that "you won't be disappointed."

The bill goes into effect 90 days hence. It permits the use of sweet, as well as sour, gas in the manufacture of carbon black.

A delegation from Pampa, Amarillo and Borger stated to the Governor yesterday that denial of the use of sweet gas in the manufacture of essential carbon black was tantamount to shutting off all market for the sweet, as well as some sour, gas contained in the wells of small producers and royalty owners.

These people did not have a market for their product because the sweet gas could be used for nothing except lighting and fuel purposes; and the pipelines refused to buy from them because the pipelines had their own gas to sell to points in other states.

Sweet gas has been denied to the use of carbon black manufacturers, mainly because carbon black had never been considered for its actual part played in the making of such items as automobile tires. It has been stated that 25 percent of an automobile tire by actual weight is carbon black.

The bill—now a law—permits either sweet or sour gas to be used for the manufacture of carbon black provided—1 recovery is made of at least 1 1/2 pounds of carbon black per thousand cubic feet; 2 that the royalty rate and price paid for such gas at the well head at least equals the royalty rate and market price paid at the well head in the immediate area for gas used for light and fuel purposes."

Gov. Jester noted, in signing the instrument today, that the bill was controversial in nature, that the Railroad Commissioners had taken opposite stands on the advisability of allowing the measure to become law.

Editor's Note: Olin Culbertson is known to have been firmly against the bill. He said yesterday in a private conference and in the presence of the author of the bill, Senator Grady Hazlewood of this district, that it "is a bad bill."

Col. Ernest Thompson is known to have been in favor of the bill. Commissioner Bill Murray, recently appointed to that office by Gov. Jester, has not expressed an opinion.

The bill, actually, is a local measure, with the exception of one small provision. At the present time, at least, the bill affects only the Panhandle, inasmuch as this is the only part of Texas now known to have sour and sweet gas coming from common reservoir.

The Governor said today: "If it turns out that this bill is applicable to the other parts of the state and we find any objection to it in the next two years, the next legislature can review the situation."

The Pampa Daily News, in an open letter to the Governor, said Sunday on its Page 1:

"We of this section of the state feel that you (Jester) have at this time a chance to fulfill one of the campaign promises you made when you were elected."

Texas Production Of Oil Increases

TULSA, Okla.—(AP)—The United States' crude oil production averaged 5,071,140 barrels daily during the week ended June 7, an increase of 36,895 barrels over the previous week's output and an all-time record high for domestic crude production. The Oil & Gas Journal reported today.

An increase in Texas output of 62,100 barrels to 2,288,950 barrels accounted for the gain.

Louisiana's production was up 5,300 barrels to 426,200. The Eastern area increased 3,500 to 66,500. California gained 1,600 to 918,600. Illinois was up 1,600 to 138,000 and Mississippi increased 1,000 to 93,500.

Notable declines were: Kansas, down 26,000 barrels to 264,900; Michigan, off 6,900 to 138,850; Montana, down 3,110 to 19,740; and Indiana, down 1,100 to 16,800.

Reducing Remedy—Use Broom Vigorously

DALLAS—(AP)—Here's a reducing remedy that M. E. Beckler of Desher, Neb., claims will sweep women's weight worries completely away.

Just take one broom and use it vigorously.

It's one of the surest ways, Beckler avows, for a woman to reduce her hips and waistline.

Not only that, Beckler says, it's a double morale builder—she gets the twin satisfaction of cleanliness for her house and streamlining for her figure.

Of course, his statement might be pure propaganda.

He sells brooms.

Beckler is here to supervise a broom exhibit at the United Wholesale Grocers Association convention opening today.

Broadcast Funds Termed Essential To U. S. Policy

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Secretary Marshall told Senators today it is "essential to the conduct of our foreign relations that the State Department have funds and freedom to make foreign language broadcasts and conduct a world-wide information program."

"As I have said before, one effective way to promote peace is to dispel misunderstanding, fear and ignorance," the Secretary of State Subcommittees said.

"Foreign people should know the nature and objectives of our policy. They should have a true understanding of American life. We should broadcast the truth to the world through all the media of communications."

The subcommittee is considering the question of how much money the State Department needs for operations in the 12 months beginning July 1. President Truman asked $279,000,000 for it, but the House voted only $219,000,000.

The House acted entirely on an item of $34,201,100 for broadcasting and information program.

Marshall asked that the Senate restore it and other items which would put back into the appropriation legislation $55,297,388 of the $30,000,000 the House cut out.

Taking note of criticism of past conduct of the information program, Marshall said:

"I assure you that the program will be carefully administered in the future."

Senator Bridges (R-NH) asked whether the recent events in Hungary, Bulgaria and other Balkan countries has "changed the picture in any way" regarding appropriations.

Marshall replied that it raised a question as to the wisdom of "whittling down appropriations at this time."

The secretary said with a smile that he believes the department has done "a pretty good job" of absorbing some 6,000 employees of the office of War Information and other "alphabetical agencies."

"That's pretty hard to do without indignation Marshall told Bridges. As Senators smiled, Marshall noted that Congress itself was going through a reorganization under a new act and said he had heard some "complaints about indigestion here in Congress."

Benedum Might Have Another Rich Field

PITTSBURGH—(AP)—Michael L. Benedum who is said to have found more oil than any other man in the world, has discovered what may be another oil bonanza in East Texas.

His nephew, Paul C. Benedum, said the new well is about 100 miles west of Shreveport, La., and in territory oil scientists considered dry. The well, known as Johnson No. 1, is producing 200 barrels a day of 46 gravity oil and the output is expected to increase. The well is 8,000 feet down.

The younger Benedum, who is president of the Hawatha Oil Co., which owns three-quarters of the well and the Bentex Oil Co., which owns the remainder, said the digging is on a 9,700 acre tract of ground. The two Benedum-owned companies have leased an additional 50,000 acres in the area, he added.

The well is about 160 miles from where "Magnificent Mike"—as his friends call the 76-year-old pioneer—opened the famous Caddo Oil Field in Louisiana in 1920.

THE OILERS HAVE SHOWN plenty of improvement in the field since the first couple of weeks, which makes much better ball games but we are still getting some error-stricken reports on the Oiler management.

The latest comes from L. D. "Manzy" Simms, secretary of the Clovis Sports Association and business manager of the Oilers. He informs us that he was more than a little provoked when he was forced to pay to see his own club play at Oiler Park, even though he presented his pass and a bill-fold full of credentials. The pass, incidentally, is signed by George Trautmann, head of the Minor Leagues Association, and is probably a duplicate of the one Mr. Edmondson, himself, carries.

Finally, after much argument, Simms paid the way of his wife and himself. Before the game started he reported the incident to the Oilers' field boss, Jack Riley, who in turn told the Oilers' manager, Seitz and someone brought the money to Simms' box and attempted to return it.

But, by this time Simms was so irritated that he finally left the box. Simms returned to Clovis swearing that exactly 15 Oiler players would be admitted at the Pioneers Park at their next meeting.

John Pesky got a pair and Ted Williams got the other.

Jaycees Defeat Texas Elf 17-13
The Jaycees beat the Texas Elf Carbon Company, 17-13, in an Industrial League softball game last night, behind the pitching of Gathier and Bridges.

Fans saw the Carbon Club net one homer and the Jaycees banged out three to keep the lead swinging hands.

Gather, doing the Jaycees' moundwork, went into the third with a four-run lead but had control trouble, walking three batters, hitting four and then allowing several hits to give the Carbon Company team a big nine-run inning.

The Jaycees came back for nine runs in the fourth however, and retained their lead the rest of the game.

Hubbers Beat Oilers 11-2; Fortin Suffers Broken Ankle

LUBBOCK—Pitcher Paul Hinrichs notched his fifth mound decision of the season here tonight as he pitched the Lubbock Hubbers to their fourth straight triumph over the Pampa Oilers, 11-2.

Hinrichs struck out seven and gave up six scattered hits to best Pampa's George Fayette in what started out as a tight hill duel, but later developed into a hitting spree by the Hubbers, who nicked the Oiler rookie for 11 safe blows, nine of them in the last three frames after Fayette had whiffed nipe.

Seven walks and four errors affixed the last Fayette in hot water during the first four innings. The loss was costly for the Oilers who lost hard-hitting outfielder Joe Fortin in the eighth inning when Fortin fractured his right ankle in four places and a dislocation of the ankle joint on a slide into second base.

Some 3,500 fans who tuned out for the game chipped in $512 for the injured outfielder in a collection during the last inning.

Fayette, who leads Pampa batters with 367 average, scored both runs before being sidelined, rapping a homer in the second inning. Virgil Richardson, Lubbock first baseman, hit for the circuit in the eighth with two mates aboard.

Attending physicians at West Texas Hospital where Fortin was rushed by ambulance, expressed the belief that Fortin would be sidelined for the remainder of the season.

SHAMROCK HAS SUMMER Recreation Program
SHAMROCK (Special)—Approximately 500 youngsters are enrolled in a summer recreation program which begins in Shamrock Monday under the direction of Jack Dillon.

The program, purpose of which is to give the youth of Shamrock a clean recreation, will continue through late August. Activities consist of tennis, golf, softball, horse shoe pitching, play ground games, swimming, boating, commanding maneuvers and girl camping.

Scenes of the activities are the City Park on East First Street, the softball diamond near Denver field and the City Swimming Pool.

Softball is the main attraction for boys at the present time. The kids are being divided into two age groups, those up to 13 years of age and those over 13.

Tennis holds interest for both boys and girls. Tennis classes are held from 9 a.m. to 10 a.m. on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays, while the boys practice during the same hours on Tuesdays and Thursdays.

Golf courses for boys are held from 9 a.m. to 10 a.m. on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays.

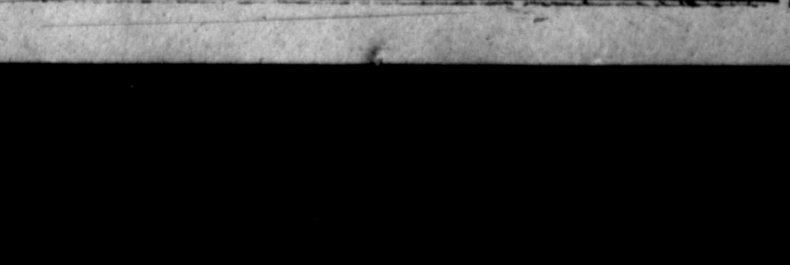

Suits for the American Legion baseball team have arrived. Lads on this team work out each afternoon at 5 o'clock on the diamond near the football field. To be eligible to play on the team, a boy must have been born since January 1, 1930.

Gate Receipts Are Heavy in Texas League

DALLAS—(AP)—The third season in the 52 years of the Texas League to draw more than 1,000,000 paid attendance is indicated as the campaign rolls to the two-fifths mark.

There also may be an all-time record, surpassing the 1,592,967 of last season.

A survey of the eight cities shows that with a little better than one-third of the playing dates gone 688,186 paid admissions were recorded. The figures are up to date as regards Tulsa, Dallas, Oklahoma City and Fort Worth, which now are on the road. Figures for the others range from June 1 through last Friday.

President George Sleppe of the Dallas Club said if the Rebels continued to draw as they have to date Dallas will have more than 350,000 home attendance—an all-time record for one club. Through 29 playing dates the Rebels had packed in 126,692. The all-time home attendance mark for one club was the 295,103 set by San Antonio last year.

Houston also is aiming at the record. The Buffs in 30 home dates through last Friday night, had brought out 118,444, compared to 72,323 for the same time last season.

Fort Worth, in 28 home dates, drew 90,933. Oklahoma City in 27 registered 81,327 and Tulsa in 26 reported 46,233.

Shreveport, in 29 home dates showed 69,784. Beaumont in 32 had 64,593. San Antonio in 26 recorded 40,180.

There have been 30 dates lost because of bad weather which brought postponements. Tulsa, for instance, lost seven and so did Oklahoma City.

An unfinished ball park, inadequate seating facilities and second division play have contributed to San Antonio's slump.

Official attendance figures from the Texas League office, due to be released at the half-way mark, may differ some from those coming from the clubs direct. The league counts attendance differently in some instances. However, every indication is that the final total will not only be above the 1,000,000 mark but should give last year's all-time record a tussle.

Cooper Blasts Two Homers as Giants Defeat Pirates 13 to 10

(By the Associated Press)
A $175,000 bust last year, big Walter Cooper is proving to be a quarter of a million dollar beauty this season.

The husky New York Giants' catcher, who couldn't get out of his own way last season following his near record purchase from the St. Louis Cardinals, has been one of the leading factors in the club's surprise showing this year.

Big Cooper, Johnny Mize and Willard Marshall have been banging the ball at a terrific clip. Cooper currently is hitting at .303 and ranks fourth in the league with 33 runs batted in. Mize had batted in 42 and Marshall 39.

Cooper blasted two home runs yesterday as the Giants slugged out a 13-10 victory over the Pittsburgh Pirates at the Polo grounds. The win, coupled with Cincinnati's Field last night, gave the Giants undisputed possession of first place.

In the National League, the Dodgers dropped to second place, a half game behind Cooper. The Browns ripped the Washington Senators 1-0 in a night game in St. Louis.

With most of the crowd of 13,000 walking toward the exits, the Giants, apparently hopelessly beaten, trailing 8-1 in the last of the eighth, suddenly shelled starter Kirby Higbee. Edson Bahr, Hank Behrman and Art Herring for eight hits and two walks, good for eight runs to take a 9-8 advantage. Cooper's first home run with one on gave the Giants the one-run margin.

Pittsburgh fought back with two in the top of the ninth to go ahead 10-9, but the Giants came storming back with four in their half. Cooper's second circuit cut with two aboard giving him five runs batted in for the day.

The Tigers were soundly trounced by the Philadelphia Athletics in Detroit 11-3 and the Boston Red Sox defeated the Indians in a battle of home runs in Cleveland 7-5. The Browns ripped the Washington Senators 1-0 in a night game in St. Louis.

SPORTS SHOTS

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
Associated Press Sports Editor
DALLAS—(AP)—This is a discourse in favor of the left-hander—the most maligned man in sports.

They are the butt of jokes and angry outbursts; they are told quite often that they are screwballs. "Cunny thumbs," old John King, the colorful player and umpire of two decades ago, called them. John ranted about the southpaws because he couldn't hit them, blamed them for keeping him out of the big leagues. He intimated that in World War 1 all the casualties were right-handers.

Somewhat plaintively Allan E. Mitchell, secretary of the Texas Association of Left-handed Golfers, writes us seeking to give the portersiders their dues.

"They usually get undesired publicity (and puns)—and are the forgotten men of golf," he says sadly.

This is preliminary to announcing that the Seventh Annual State Left-handers Tournament will be held at Seguin July 9-13. Defending champion is Herb Reid, Jr., of Lockhart. There will be 16 players in a flight, assuring shooters of 75 to 125 a proper place to play.

Allan enclosed a membership card and said: "I do hope you play golf and left-handed!" The answer is that we do not play left-handed (and our score indicates we don't play with either hand but just kick the ball). However, our sympathy is with the left-handers and we are proud to consider ourself a member of this organization.

We played golf once against a left-hander. We don't even remember his name, but it was at Santa Anna, Texas, and that guy wore himself out just sitting around waiting for us to find our ball in the mountains, brush country and lakes. His score was 33 for nine holes; ours, with a little fibbing, was 62. Of course, that was before we got to be a good golfer. Now, we could make it in 60.

But we bore no animosity toward that southpaw. It was a pleasure to watch him work.

John King will blanch when he reads this.

The State Left-handers Association is compiling a list of names of all southpaw divot diggers in Texas. So far it has 419 names and more are expected.

It's a publicity move in order to insure a large membership to guarantee larger attendance and financial aid so that the National Left-handed Tournament may be brought to Texas in 1948 or 1949.

Our suggestion is that the tournament be held at Lubbock. It's near that city that John King makes his domicile. Maybe John would feel more kindly toward the portersiders if he could associate with them and come to know them better.

It is much easier to understand correctly when one speaks frankly. —Andrei A. Gromyko, Soviet delegate to the UN Security Council.

HARRY WALKER'S HITTING TOPS BOTH MAJOR LOOPS
NEW YORK (AP)—Harry Walker, whose batting failures with St. Louis hastened his sale to the Philadelphia Phillies, tops both major leagues in hitting with a .383 average, 21 points better than his nearest competitor in the National League and 27 points higher than Joe DiMaggio of New York and Lou Doudreau of Cleveland, who are tied for the American League lead at .356.

Walker regained first place by belting the ball at a 500 clip during the past week while Johnny Mize skidded into a tie for third place. Walker was followed by Enos Slaughter, St. Louis, .352 and Mize, Bert Haas of Cincinnati, each with .338. Johnny Hopp of Boston Johnny Hopp of Boston rounds out the first five with .333, in figures including Sunday's games.

DiMaggio and Doudreau displaced George McQuinn of the New York Yankees who lost 19 points while falling to fourth place. Neither DiMaggio nor Doudreau were being pressed by outside competition as runners-up. Slaughter's Washington was 17 points back at .339. McQuinn at .335 and George Kill of Detroit and Pat Mullin of Detroit, tied at .329 filled the other first five positions.

WE, THE WOMEN

Men Spent Eighty Million Dollars on Toiletries in 1946

BY RUTH MILLETT
NEA Staff Writer
Last year American men spent $80,000,000 for toiletries to make themselves look and smell good.

But they are bashful and sheepish about buying their millions of dollars worth of "beauty aids." So much so that retailers were recently given this advice:

"Location of a men's toiletries department is important. It should have privacy and be away from the women's counter. Clerks should be male, and the packaging should have as masculine a look as possible."

While men are ready and willing to spend their money making themselves more attractive to women, they don't want to be caught at it. They prefer to go on with the pretense of masculine carelessness and indifference.

GIVE THEM TIME
But women went through the same stage themselves before they bolstered enough courage to take their beautifying tricks matter-of-factly. It wasn't so many years ago that women were careful to apply their make-up only in private and try to make it look natural enough to fool men.

So give men a little more time, and they won't care where they buy their toiletries or who stands behind the counter selling them.

Miss Dorothy Poe Becomes Bride of Leon Osborne in Evening Ceremony

WHITE DEER—(Special)—Baskets of pink and white gladioli and white tapers in tall candelabra against a background of palms formed the setting for the double ring ceremony which united in marriage Miss Dorothy Marie Poe, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Franklin J. Poe, and Leon Osborne, son of Mrs. J. N. Osborne, all of White Deer, Saturday evening at six o'clock in the First Baptist Church, Pampa.

The vows were read by the pastor, Rev. E. Douglas Carver, who performed the marriage ceremony for the bride's parents while he was pastor at White Deer.

For the nuptial music Mrs. Carver played "Because" and "Always." Miss Emilene Rapstine, bridesmaid, wore a blue dress with white accessories and a corsage of white roses.

Edward Dittberner served as best man. The bride was attired in a white street dress with white accessories and carried a bouquet of red roses on a white Bible.

Her mother wore a black dress with black and white accessories, while the bridegroom's mother wore a white and green print dress with white accessories. Their corsages were of white carnations.

After the ceremony, a reception was held at the home of the bride and bridegroom in White Deer. Miss Rapstine served the wedding cake and Mrs. C. O. Trantam presided at the punch bowl.

Attending the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. Poe, Mrs. J. N. Osborne, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Osborn, Leland Osborne, Mr. and Mrs. Truman Reid, Mrs. Edward Dittberner, Miss Lea Mae Bednorz, and Bill Lewis.

Mr. Osborne attended White Deer High School in 1937 and 1938, served in the Army during the war, was employed until recently as a welder at one of the plants near Kingman, and is now working on the farm with Mr. Poe. They are now at home in White Deer.

Commencement and Picnic Close Central Baptist Bible School

The Central Baptist Church was packed Sunday evening for the commencement program of the Vacation Bible School. Each department gave a demonstration of the work they had done during the past two weeks. Six children from the Junior and Intermediate departments made professions of faith.

On Friday, last day of the school, 260 were present for the all-day picnic held at the Morrison Ranch.

There was a total enrollment of 350 for the school with a daily average of 254. On Saturday 28 girls and boys who had brought in the most new members were given a free airplane ride.

A mission offering was taken each day and the money will be used to purchase religious film for use in the Central Baptist Church and in other mission Bible schools of the city.

All those in charge extend their thanks to everyone helping with the Vacation Bible School, especially the following firms: Texas Printing Co., J. B. Daniels Motor Co., H. B. Patterson, Martin Sign Co., and Pampa Police Dept.

Are you on a party line?

If you have a party-line telephone, here's a suggestion...

Party-line service is best when everyone on the line is thoughtful and courteous. You can get the most value from your party line by doing these simple things:

1. Keep your calls short and space them as much as possible. That will give the other fellow a chance to call, or be called.

2. Hang up quietly if the line is in use when you try to call. Wait awhile before calling again.

3. See that everyone in the family does his or her part at observing party-line telephone courtesy.

Leaves From a Correspondent's Life Note Book

By HAL BOYLE
LONG BEACH, Calif.—(AP)—Roy Beebe and his mysterious little black box are a Southern California phenomenon.

On one day recently motor cars from 28 states parked near his home. Thousands of ailing young and elderly people visit him each week because they believe his black box gives off a strange but health-giving "cosmic ray."

On the other hand Beebe, who holds no license to practice medicine, says that the black box merely is the source of a new "static breaker" he has invented, and denies he has cured anybody of anything.

"It would be foolish for me to tell you that the cosmic has a ray, or that it doesn't have a ray," he said. "If anybody says he got well here—I didn't do it."

But some people are hard to convince. For the last seven or eight years from 2,000 to 4,000 a day have come to his small cottage here seeking relief from their ailments. Neighbors complained bitterly and Beebe has started a new establishment on a 25-acre plot just outside the city limits.

The day he opened his "Cosmic Research Laboratories" some ten thousand visitors jammed in.

I went out to see his place. I found Beebe, a keen-eyed man of 63 wearing whipcord trousers and boots, putting about the new plaster building, nucleus of a $100,000 center. He is an agricultural chemist and has grown eight-pound onions and five-pound tomatoes by mineralizing the soil.

"This laboratory is to teach chemistry as applied to the soil," he said. "And if anybody calls it a health resort—I'll whip 'em. I've got 2,000 signed up for the advanced courses. We believe in planting according to the planets. We don't go into astrology any deeper than that."

Wires are strung all around the area, and many people who come here believe a "cosmic ray" flowing from these wires cures them of their ills.

One gray-haired woman nearby sat silently holding a coil of the wire to her bent head.

"My static breaker is only 10 percent perfect," Beebe said. "I got 99 percent to go. It clarifies the air like a thunderstorm. You take an old radio that clicks and sputters from static. Bring it out here and it's clear as a bell."

I asked him about a score of jugs of water brought by visitors. A wire had been stuck into each jug.

"It clears the algae from the water," he said. He doesn't charge visitors, and puts on three free night shows a week to entertain them.

"Costs noboddy a penny but me," he said.

I walked over to an outdoor arbor under which a group of old men were playing checkers. A number of illness-marked women sat there holding coils of wire in their hands. Other wires led to parked cars in which sat old women too feeble to move.

I asked one plump middle-aged woman what led her here.

"I live in Washington State," she said. "A neighbor of mine was given only four months to live by his doctor. He came here and after two weeks coughed up his cancer. I've been troubled by gallstones myself."

"How does this static business work?" I asked. She pointed at my foot on the ground.

"Does it feel anything?" she asked.

"Yes, it feels cool," I said. A breeze was blowing.

"No," she said. "It's warm. But everybody can't feel it. My gallstones are better. I can tell by the pain in my side. That means they're going away. I'm living in a rented trailer now but I'll have to stay here three or four years to get clear well."

Curious, I picked up one of the wires expecting a slight shock. I felt—nothing.

Gracie Reports

By GRACIE ALLEN

Honestly, there are times when I don't see how rich people find the strength to meet their problems. This occurred to me when I read about a wealthy retired businessman in St. Paul, who works as a taxi driver because he doesn't meet enough interesting folks in his safe-deposit vault.

And that's just one of the many dreadful things our millionaires have to face!

They have to drive around in big limousines so shiny that the glare must ruin their eyes. And they risk wounding themselves with the shears everytime they clip a coupon from a bond.

Since money is said to be the root of all this woe, I think it's only fair that the rest of us should make a sacrifice and take some of the awful stuff off rich people's hands. If any unhappy tycoon would like me to do my share he can find me standing outside the nearest store holding a hat sale.

Oil Boom Jumps Population of Odessa From 9,573 in 1940 to Estimated 35,000

By The Associated Press

Editor's note: This is one of a series of stories based on a recent Associated Press survey of growth of Texas population which indicated Texas cities have grown 45 percent since the last official 1940 census. A short series of stories will reveal how individual towns and cities have grown and what has happened to them as a result. The estimates of the growth were based on city directories, chamber of commerce surveys, utility outlets, etc.)

The amazing growth of West Texas is exemplified by booming Odessa, which, in seven short years has grown 266 percent.

Odessa has zoomed from a 1940 town of 9,573 to a city of an estimated 35,000—a jump of 25,427. The major cause—oil.

M. J. Benefield, chamber of commerce manager, said: "We're figuring on an increase of slightly more than 3,000 a year, which should give Odessa a population of 45,000 by 1950."

The estimate of today's 35,000 was based on last year's city directory, which listed 32,700, plus an estimated growth of about 2,300 during 1946 and up to date in 1947.

The boom has caused business to soar, and prices to zoom. Bank deposits are four times greater than they were in 1942. Building permits to date this year are nearly $2,000,000 and business, industrial and residential structures are blossoming like mushrooms.

Housing is so hard to find, and is so expensive, that white collar workers of moderate salaries find it almost impossible to obtain a place to live. A $200,000 bond issue was voted to construct housing for teachers, so the town could obtain an adequate teaching staff.

Hotel and office space is badly needed.

To offset the housing needs, new apartments and hundreds of low cost homes are being rushed to completion. The city has purchased emergency trailer units from the Abilene Army Camp to house veterans.

A rough estimate on the town's annual income, made by the advertising department of the Odessa American, puts the figure at between $18,000,000 and $20,000,000.

The growth is attributed to deep oil discovered in the early 1940's which made Odessa a toll and supply center for the Permian Basin fields, and to increased agriculture.

SEATTLE—(AP)—Northern Airlines reported one of its cargo planes delivered a full load—two and one-half tons—of potato chips to Fairbanks, Alaska.

The cargo compartment was so filled with the chips Pilot Russell Schwartz and his co-pilot had to enter the cockpit through a small forward loading hatch.

WASHINGTON—(AP)—A request by the Port City Broadcasting Company, a partnership, at Port Arthur, Texas, for the dismissal of its application for a new standard broadcast station was granted by the Federal Communications Commission.

Coggan Radio Sales, a partnership composed of Benjamin F. Coggan, Jr., and Howard E. Dennis, of Henderson, Texas, asked permission meanwhile to assign a construction permit for a new standard broadcast station to the Henderson Broadcast Corporation.

SAN FRANCISCO—(AP)—The loudspeaker at the Rotary International convention asked Lyle Brown to report at the secretary's office. Two showed up.

So the secretary asked, "Which one of you is with the telephone company?"

Simultaneously the two Lyle Browns said, "I am."

So they shook hands—Lyle Brown, San Francisco district manager of Pacific Telephone and Telegraph, with Lyle Brown, Sedalia, Mo. district manager of Southwestern Bell Telephone Company.

The annual buying power of the area, estimated after checkups with major industries furnishing the bulk of the payroll, plus labor union figures and University of Texas Business Bureau reports, was set at $55,000,000.

Chamber of Commerce President John R. Sadler and Mayor H. L. Crow, as well as utility executives, estimate the 1950 population will be 70,000 with a metropolitan total of 90,000.

Industrial Expansion Booms Port Arthur's Population 40 Percent

By The Associated Press

Industrial expansion has boomed Port Arthur's population about 40 percent since the last official census in 1940—from 46,140 to 65,000, the Port Arthur News says.

These figures were based on water service installations, Texas State Employment Service estimates, and a Chamber of Commerce estimate.

The growth is attributed to new oil refineries, establishment of a large chemical plant, and other industries in suburbs plus the construction of a multi-million dollar nylon salt plant across the Neches River in Orange County.

There was no "reconversion period" in the Port Arthur area, the paper said.

The city boasts bigger and better payrolls, and a real estate boom that still goes on and on.

Prices are high because of the boom, and business remains good. There is a housing shortage, but no co-ordinated plan has been adopted to help solve it.

The narrow city limits of the city has forced most residential development into outlying areas, where population is steadily increasing. Water and sewer extensions and fire protection facilities are not keeping pace with outside growth, the paper said.

Chamber of Commerce President John R. Sadler and Mayor H. L. Crow, as well as utility executives, estimate the 1950 population will be 70,000 with a metropolitan total of 90,000.

CONGRESSIONAL HUMOR

In a footnote to a recent article by Sen. Alexander Wiley in the New York Times Magazine, the editors explain that one of the Wisconsin senator's pet ideas is to dress up the Congressional Record in a snappier format and have it sold to the public.

Mr. Wiley's article, we assume, is a sort of trial balloon. Titled "Congress Has Its Fun," it consists of trifles culled from House and Senate debate and now available only to the Record's limited readership.

But it is possible that the senator's samples have kicked his pet idea in the head. Maybe today's Americans, nourished on the one-line gag, aren't geared to the tempo of frock-coated congressional wisecracks. At any rate, it's hard to imagine the New Yorker's editors feeling perturbed after reading them, or to predict a sudden public clamor for the Congressional Record.

The senator seems to have some doubts himself. He starts out with a provocative bit of promotion: "Clever repartee, witty punning, funny yarns—these are grist for the congressional humor mill." But a half dozen lines later he loses heart: "To be sure, some of them (the jokes) may appear comparatively flat in print." (Senator, you ain't kidding.)

"Congress Has Its Fun" contains such mirthful moments as the time when Representative A starts out, "Does the gentleman think—" and Representative B interrupts him to remark, "Occasionally." (End of joke.)

But the real show-stopper should be included here in toto, complete with names. It happened in the Senate when Mr. Barkley had been discussing the Green Pepper amendment to a labor bill. Take it a way, Senator Wiley.

Mr. Tobey: "Has the senator been reading seed catalogs lately? He spoke about green peppers."
Mr. Barkley: "I have not. I have been so busy lately that I have not been able to do any garden planning. Therefore, I have not been interested . . . in red or green peppers."

Mr. Tobey: "The senator has some hot stuff now."
Mr. Barkley: "I rejoice in hot stuff."
Mr. Pepper: "Mr. President, will the senator yield?"
Mr. Barkley: "I yield."
Mr. Pepper: "Should not the senator say to the senator from New Hampshire, 'Tobey sure?'"

Mr. Barkley: "I am not interested in whether it is 'Red Pepper' or 'Tobeyasco,' both of which I enjoy."
Mr. Wiley says that even "tame jokes" relieve congressional tensions and dissolve them in gales of laughter. Such jokes, we feel, will also tend to give the average radio comedian a new stature.

Having digested "Congress Has Its Fun" we can only say that we care not who makes the nation's laws if only the making of the nation's jokes can be entrusted to capable characters like Fred Allen and Bob Hope.

CONFIDENT—Private industrial and economic experts do not seem to share the jitters of many government statisticians over the prospect of a fairly acute recession in the early fall. Crystal-gazers associated with the National Association of Manufacturers and the U. S. Chamber of Commerce appear more confident on continued good times than they did only a few months ago.

They concede that there may be a decline affecting soft consumer goods for the reason that production in these lines is increasing steadily. There may be a fall in prices as a result of volume output, and cutbacks in the present high level of employment.

In the shoe and textile industries, for instance, there have already been small but preliminary layoffs of workers. However, they regard these shakings as symptomatic of the normal readjustment.

EMPLOYED—There are still approximately 58,000,000 people employed, or only 2,000,000 less than the vague political goal set by F.D.R. and Henry A. Wallace in the 1944 campaign. It is doubtful if this figure will drop to less than 55,000,000 in any autumn decline.

Moreover, the prospective unemployed will not consist entirely of bonafide members of the labor pool. There will be many women and elderly people who returned to work during the war and would like to continue in the industry. Many ex-G.I.'s who have not yet found themselves.

Thousands more will be the June crop of high school and college students who pour out of classrooms without any specialized experience for store, shop or the professions.

BACKLOG—Offsetting any downward development however, will be a big backlog of demand for durable goods such as automobiles, refrigerators, oil and gas burners, radios, household furniture, home repairs etc.—wants which had to be deferred during and since the war, and which the manufacturers are still unable to fill.

It is expected that next autumn or spring will see enough of these goods appearing on the market, and the economic activity which they will stimulate, to counteract any stagnation in the lighter goods.

It is also believed that the construction industry, due partly to a drop in costs resulting from greater output of building materials and increased productivity on the part of the building trades groups, will soon take up slack in other lines.

LABOR—The prospect of labor peace provides another optimistic and constructive factor. With the exception of John L. Lewis's threatened coal strike on June 30, management and the unions have adjusted differences over wages, hours, working conditions etc.

The two-year truce in the basic steel industry, proclaimed by C.I.O. President Philip Murray, seems to assure a minimum of work stoppages in all industry.

So does the Hartley-Taft Labor Bill, provided President Truman signs it or it is passed over a possible veto.

EXPORT—Another factor contributing to this new burst of optimism is the export trade. Even on a restrictive, business-like, anti-sell basis, it has begun to show signs of a considerable recovery, and foreign commerce should continue to improve as European and South American nations become more stable through American aid.

France, England, the Low Countries, Italy, Spain and the Latin American countries are starting to ship us stuff with a dollar value of several billions annually. From Europe we are taking rare liquors, perfumes, women's apparel, lace to pay almost twenty-five percent even and other food specialties.

Even Germany is exporting enough of the occupation costs.

South America is sending us coffee, fruits, novelty articles etc. Expenditures by American tourists, business men and students during the coming season will provide them with needed dollars to support a tit-for-tat trade.

Moreover, the U. S. will continue to advance loans and credits that will enable foreign purchasers to buy our goods—especially durables such as trucks, locomotives, machinery, machine tools and coal.

The money may not be paid back for years, if ever, but it happens as a consequence of post World-War I lending and foreign bond flotations, the financial assistance will be a temporary shot in the arm for American business and industry.

VOTERS—Democratic politicians at Washington, have been encouraged by the discovery that Truman voters have turned out in far larger numbers than the Republican rank and file in recent local and Congressional primaries. In their opinion, it is the surest sign that President Truman stands an excellent chance of reelection against any man the Republicans name.

Executive Director Gael Sullivan "points with pride" to the respective turnouts in the primaries in the Third Congressional District in the State of Washington, where a special election to fill a House vacancy will be held on June 7. Approximately 15,000 more Democrats showed up at the polls than did Republicans, although this has been normally a G.O.P. sector.

POT-SHOTTED—Earle Venable, secretary of the Republican Congressional Committee, dares to contradict Mr. Sullivan. His research, he says, belies his opposite's conclusion.

G.O.P. voters, according to Mr. Venable, deliberately entered the Democratic primary for the purpose of making trouble. They pot-shot former Representative Charles R. Savage, who ran as a Henry Wallace man, against State Auditor Smith Troy, who supported the Administration's domestic and foreign policies. The canny Republican, according to the Venable viewpoint, figured that it would be easier to defeat Mr. Savage than Mr. Smith.

The outcome, only two days away, will decide which is the smarter politician.

BEAR MOUNTAIN, N. Y.—(AP)—Susie, a raccoon, is an outcast from the trailside museums where she was an attraction for two years.

She was freed yesterday in a struggle eight miles away after museum attendants discovered she had slipped into a snake pit and had killed nine blacksnakes.

On Coveting
If people would obey the last Commandment "Thou shalt not covet" we would have a mighty little trouble in this world.

There seems to be a great deal of confusion as to what the word "covet" really means. In fact, it has, like many words, several different meanings.

Of course the Commandment "Thou shalt not covet" does not end with the word "covet". It is a little more specific. It continues by saying, "Thou shalt not covet thy neighbor's house, thou shalt not covet thy neighbor's wife nor his manservant nor his maid-servant nor his ox nor his ass nor anything that is thy neighbor's."

The Exodus use of the word "covet" comes from the Greek word "chamao" meaning to desire, in Deuteronomy it comes from the Greek word "Avah" meaning to desire for oneself. In fact, there are many Greek or Aramaic words meaning the wish to have more. But when that is read into His use of the word covetousness it certainly means dishonest gain because it associates covetousness with evil thoughts, adulterousness, fornications, murders, thefts, wickedness, deceit, an evil eye, pride, foolishness. "All that," he says, "comes out of the heart of man." They are not God's products.

He expresses certainly the same meaning in Luke when he said, "Take heed and beware of covetousness for a man's life comes not in the things which he possesses." Webster gives a couple of definitions which are more or less contradictory. "The desire for the possession of." It quotes St. Paul, "Covet earnestly the best gifts." The second definition of covet is "to long inordinately for (something that is another's)."

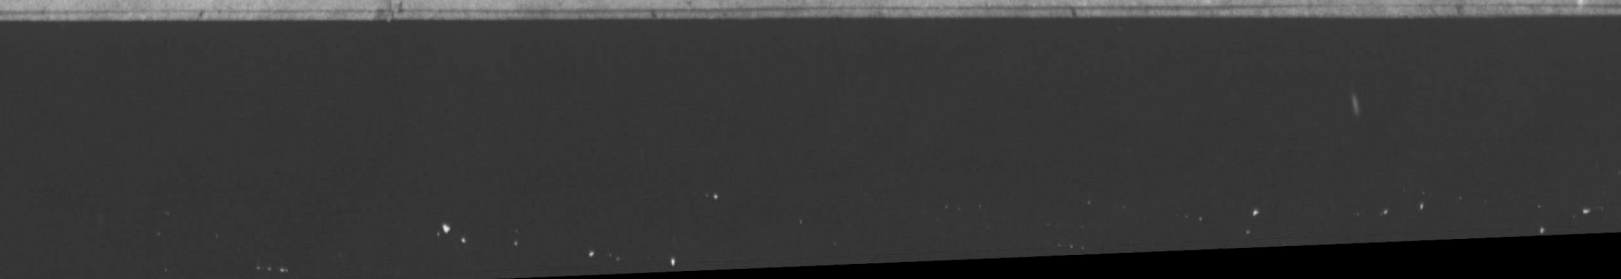

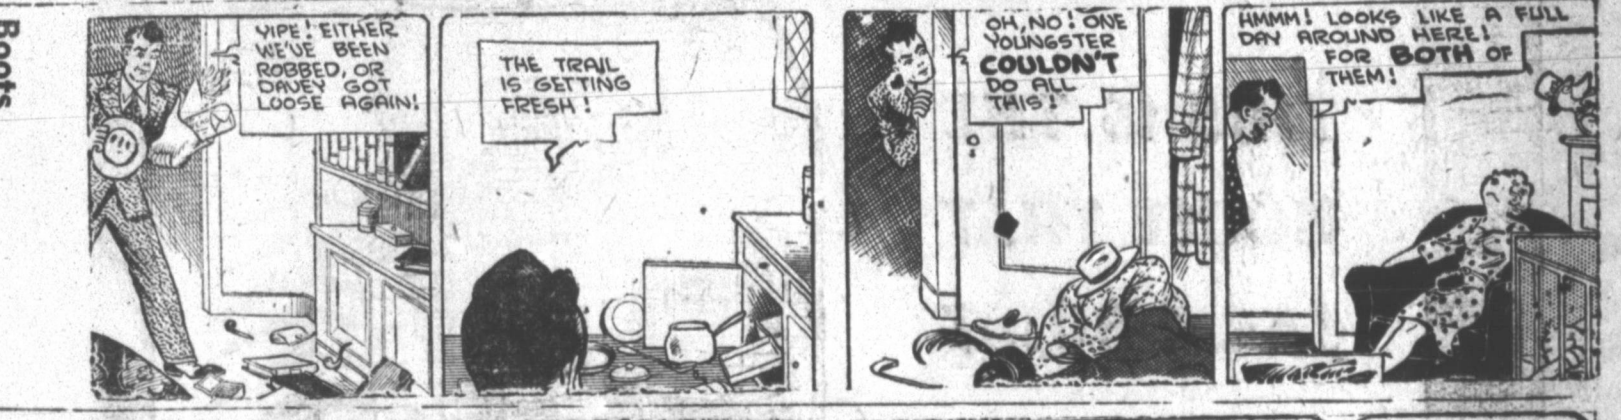

Certainly as used in the Commandments in Exodus and Deuteronomy and as Jesus used the word, the meaning is to desire to get something without giving equal value for it in an involuntary way.

And covet does not necessarily mean that one wants to get something in the coming season, it means he is coveting something if he wants to get something to give it away to someone else.

It is this coveting, the right to draft voters, the right to make special privilege laws, the right to tax people without their consent, that leads to a despotic tyrannical government with one depression after another, with one strike after another, with one war after another and a lower moral and material standard of living.

Coveting the right to make others pay for one's idea of education is one of the most warlike forms of coveting. It is the incubator that causes these other forms of coveting to grow.

Truly coveting is our primary sin. It is growing on the American people.

MILITARY TRAINING

By Upton Close

One of the knottiest questions being discussed today is how to keep up adequate military defenses in time of peace—and still retire the public debt.

Will universal military training meet the requirements of an adequate defense? Is it the best way could we go in for such a program without educating or "disciplining" ourselves into a totalitarian form of government?

The President's advisory committee, unanimously urging that every male youth be given six months of military training soon after he turns 18, estimates the cost at something less than $2,000,000,000 annually.

Congress has been hoping to save about this amount to apply against the public debt. It is an important sum and must be spent where we will get the greatest returns.

If Soviet Russia is going to cut loose on us some night, any night after 1951, with an atomic "Pearl Harbor"—as the President's committee has warned—then admittedly we must do something. If we believe such an attack is in store for us we should take the Soviet machine apart now, while we have superior weapons.

Truman's advisory committee either do not believe their own prediction or are not willing to follow the logic it dictates by recommending an attack to prevent an attack.

Feasibility
If we are simply going to build a defensive army in this age of aerial and atomic weapons, we might do well to listen to an Air Corps colonel with whom I discussed this subject about two weeks ago. This colonel insists that we build and maintain the best air force in the world "to prevent or break up an aerial attack on our major cities. Such an attack, if it comes, will be launched without warning and will come via the air, probably using atomic weapons."

I pointed out the possibility that all nations, in the next war, may be afraid to use atomic weapons, in which case we will be back where we were in 1944—needing enormous land armies.

"In that case," the Air Corps strategist reasoned, "we will have time to build a big land army."

He did not believe we would get much for our money spent on a universal military training program such as is proposed.

I think much opposition to the Truman committee proposal is from people who fear it would regiment us into a military dictatorship. They point out that the Marxists have been able to infiltrate almost every branch of our government, and that if we send our young men to a military training camp the Marxists will be there with their "Bibles," indoctrinating the inductees.

Marxists on Advisory Committee
Certainly the Marxists do not object to such a program. They only fear that our military machine will be turned against the Soviets. They very well know that a nation trained to take orders cannot also be a nation of order-givers. Their aim throughout the New Deal administration has been to "discipline" the public.

If and when such a feat is accomplished the disciplined public will cease to be the original, highly individualistic, progressive, vigorous America we know today.

In this respect it may be significant that at least four of the President's advisory committee of nine have been identified with the left wing. Rosenman was one of the staunchest New Dealers behind Roosevelt, writing some of the president's most inflammatory class-hated speeches. Dr. Karl T. Compton was among the Los Angeles atomic scientists who got encouragement by the discovery that Truman voters have turned out in far larger numbers than the Republican rank and file in recent local and Congressional primaries. In their opinion, it is the surest sign that President Truman stands an excellent chance of reelection against any man the Republicans name.

Indians Hope Partitioning Will Be Trial Separation

By CHARLES A. GRUMICH
AP Foreign Affairs Analyst
Indians attending United Nations sessions at Lake Success are hopeful that the partitioning of their homeland will be only a trial separation and that a reconciliation of the Hindu and Moslem communities will be effected once they have said goodbye to the British.

These feelings seem more wishful than hopeful, however, at this early stage in settling the future of the sub-continent's four hundred millions.

They are expressed by members or sympathizers of the Hindu-dominated All-India Congress Party, who have kept Indian representation in the U. N. all to themselves and away from the Moslem League. The League yesterday (Monday), at a session in New Delhi disturbed by a riot enacted by non-League Moslems, voted to set up the separate dominions of Pakistan, and the Congress Party is expected to vote for establishment of its dominion of Hindustan on Saturday.

Thus, the principles for partitioning India will be settled. The details of livelihood on both sides of the lines are something else to be worked out.

The best the British could get out of the whole deal would be a choice by both dominions to remain in the British Commonwealth instead of proclaiming themselves independent, which either or both may do.

Indian politicians of all stripes appear to be working toward one common objective: to keep India free of the British "raj," from finding itself again a prey to exploitation from the outside.

But the division of the sub-continent only multiplies this task and the rival leaders in the two major dominions may find it difficult to keep outsiders from playing one against the other.

The first major internal reform already undertaken by Indians in the interim government at New Delhi is a step toward abolition of untouchability in the Hindu caste system.

Many Hindu leaders, including Jawaharlal Nehru, who stands on the very top rung of the caste system as a Kashmiri Brahmin, refuse to recognize untouchability, and Mohandas K. Gandhi lives among the untouchables. There is a practical political angle to raising the lot of the so-called scheduled castes, however, and the leaders are doubtless mindful of the many easy conversions to Christianity from the lowest ranks who were outcast from the Hindu fold.

Two Divorces Are Granted in Court

District Judge Lewis M. Goodrich late yesterday handed down a judgment in the divorce granted Friday in 31st District Court to Marie Bettin against William C. Bettin. The couple were married in July, 1928, and separated in February, 1946. The divorce was granted on charges of cruelty by the plaintiff.

The court also granted a divorce to Letitia Northrup from her husband, Sidney Northrup, on grounds of cruelty yesterday afternoon. The couple were married in January, 1936, and separated in April, 1947.

No indictments were returned yesterday afternoon as the June term Grand Jury wound up its first day of investigations. The jury went into its second day of business this morning.

The Tiber River is 253 miles long and its deepest point is only 20 feet.

He's Taken the Mortgage Out of Her Budget

Home is more than a house and lot to these people. It represents an investment... security... the right neighborhood... good schools and transportation. It is the foundation of family happiness. So, he has taken the mortgage out of her budget, with Southwestern Life Insurance. He will pay the mortgage if he lives; Southwestern Life Insurance will pay it if he doesn't.

More than that: his Southwestern Life Insurance will give his wife a monthly income, enabling her to live in the future as she now lives—comfortably.

What about your home? It's the place where you want your wife to live—that home of yours... the neighborhood where you want your youngsters to grow up. But could they continue to live there, if you were taken out of the picture? You and your wife both signed the mortgage on your home, and the mortgagee will look to her for completion of the payments when you're gone. Have you made it possible for her to meet those payments in full?

Southwestern Life Insurance offers a certain, easy method of solving that problem. Through it, you can leave your family a debt-free home, and take the mortgage out of their budget. You can pay for it on convenient terms, monthly, quarterly or annually. Without obligation, ask for an analysis of your family's home protection needs today. The low cost of the plan will please you.
