Source Says Eisenhower To Run Again

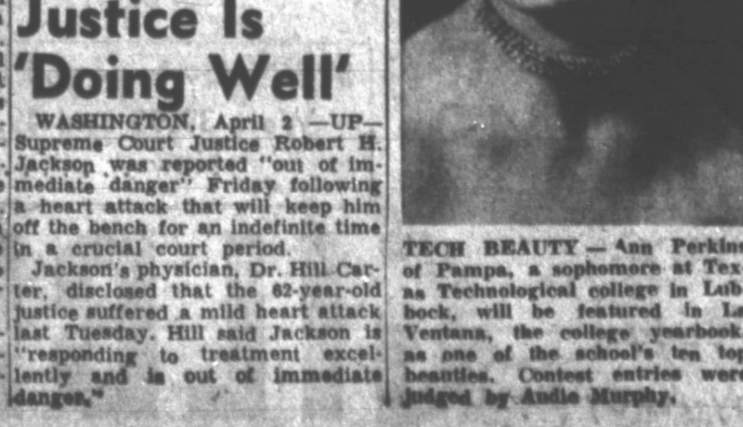

WASHINGTON, April 2 -UP-Rep. Leo E. Allen (R-Ill.), chairman of one of the most powerful committees in Congress, predicted Friday that President Eisenhower would be a candidate again in 1956 and will be re-elected. Allen who frequently sits in on Mr. Eisenhower's conferences with legislative leaders, shrugged off reports the President is disinclined to take on another four years in the White House after he completes his present term. "He will be a candidate again," the Illinois Republican said in an interview. "He may be a bit reluctant, but if he is, he'll be drafted. He'll be re-elected too, because the American people are solid on what has been done, and on the legislative program he has recommended."

Justice Is 'Doing Well'

WASHINGTON, April 2 -UP-Supreme Court Justice Robert H. Jackson was reported "out of immediate danger" Friday following a heart attack that will keep him off the bench for an indefinite time in a crucial court period. Jackson's physician, Dr. Hill Carter, disclosed that the 62-year-old justice suffered a mild heart attack last Tuesday. Hill said Jackson is "responding to treatment excellently and is out of immediate danger."

Ex-Circus Hand Plunges To Death

GALVESTON, April 2 -UP-A 55-year-old retired circus employee plunged to his death from a window on the fifth floor of the United States Bank building after first shouting to pedestrians below to clear the sidewalk. Joseph Francis Shannessy, who had been in Galveston at least since last summer, died instantly in the five-story plunge Thursday. An elevator operator in the bank building said he got on her express car and asked to be let off on the fifth floor. Told the elevator did not stop below the 10th floor, he rode to 10, then descended to the fifth floor on another elevator. If it comes from a hardware store we have it, Lewis Hardware.

House Is Cool To State Bill Package

WASHINGTON, April 2 -UP- House leaders gave a frigid reception to the Senate-passed Alaska Hawaii statehood bill Friday, and its future was very much in doubt. House Republican leader Charles A. Halleck (Ind.) charged that the Senate "played fast and loose" in using Alaska statehood to the House-approved Hawaii bill. Halleck, personally opposed to the combined bill, said Hawaiian partisans who voted to include Alaska "may bear the blame for sabotaging" Hawaii's chances. Another House leader, commenting on the Senate vote, said "they know we'll kill it over here."

Ike Signs Bill Creating Air Academy

WASHINGTON, April 2 -UP-The U.S. Air Force at long last to have its own academy like the Army's West Point and the Navy's Annapolis - probably will select a construction site within a month, authorities said Friday. President Eisenhower signed a bill authorizing $128 million for the project at a White House ceremony Thursday. The action climaxed a five-year campaign which Mr. Eisenhower supported from the start. Selection of a western site for the new academy to train junior officers seemed likely. But the field still is described officially as wide open. All but three states are in with bids, many of them with multiple choices. Air Secretary Harold E. Talbot will name civilian members of a five-man site selection board soon, probably Monday. Gen. Carl Spaatz, first Air Force chief of staff, will head the board. Lt. Gen. Hubert R. Harmon, Talbot's special assistant for academy matters, will be the other Air Force member.

$908 For Each Vehicle County Autos Cost $8.6 Million Yearly

(Special to The News) NEW YORK, April 2 - How much does it cost residents of Gray County to own and operate their passenger cars? An estimate, based on figures produced by the American Automobile Association, shows that it is about $566 a year in fixed expenses and 3.5 cents for every mile driven. Applying this national average to the local scene, where the latest registration figures show 9,503 passenger cars in use, we get $5,360,000 as the annual cost in Gray County. Per car, the cost is $908. This assumes that local drivers travel 9,700 miles a year, which is the national average. There is little variation in this respect between urban and rural residents. The fixed cost, equal to $1.85 a day, covers depreciation, license fees and insurance - fire, theft, property damage and liability ($15,000 and $50,000). This expense plus up-daily, even if your car isn't used. As to the 3.5 cents per mile figure, it covers gas, oil, maintenance and tires. If you are a 10,000-mile-a-year driver, your operating costs total $350 and your fixed charges $566. The total, $916, is equal to nearly 9.2 cents a mile. The 3,000-mile-a-year driver fares worse on a mileage rate. It costs him 14.4 cents a mile since night.

Adlai Plans Politics Talk

CHARLOTTE, N. C., April 2 -UP-Adlai E. Stevenson, Democratic party standard bearer, will deliver a "major political speech" Friday night in a campaign to defeat a Republican congressman in this Democratic state. A spokesman said Stevenson planned a speech about "the economic situation" but still was working on his speech and all that may be changed by 7:30 p.m. on Friday night.

Sears Said To 'Favor' McCarthy

WASHINGTON, April 2 -UP-Boston attorney Samuel P. Sears, who has publicly praised Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy, came under fire Friday within hours after he was picked to run the investigation of the already explosive feud between Sen. Charles E. Potter (R-Mich.) a member of the Senate investigating subcommittee that selected Sears as special counsel for the inquiry, said he would ask Sears point-blank if he can conduct an impartial investigation. "I have no reason to doubt that he can," Potter said. Potter said he would put the question to Sears Monday when the attorney returns from Boston to start setting the delayed investigation into motion. Televised public hearings are scheduled to begin the following week. Sears' selection drew immediate criticism and added more fuel to the already explosive feud between McCarthy (R-Wis.) and the Army that has rocked the Republican party. He was unanimously named to the counsel's job by the subcommittee Thursday after a 16-day search for an independent attorney to take on the task. McCarthy, regular subcommittee chairman who has stepped aside for the inquiry, did not vote. It was learned that Sears had sought the job, once rejected by the president of the American Bar Association, as well as the job seeking him. Made Statements to Subcommittee Sears told a news conference here that he had never taken a stand "publicly or privately" on McCarthy or "McCarthyism." It was learned he made similar statements privately to the subcommittee. But dispatches from Boston quoted him as quarreling with three anti-McCarthy Harvard professors two years ago and saying at that time McCarthy "has done a great job and he will continue to do so as he drives the pinks and (See McCarthy, Page 2)

Jet Victim Identified

BEAVER CITY, O., April 2 -UP-The pilot of a new jet plane, which crashed an exploded near Beaver City, some 50 miles beyond a scheduled stop at Albuquerque, N.M., was presumed dead Friday. The Air Force and Oklahoma highway patrol identified the pilot as Lt. Bobby G. Carter of Pittsburgh, Pa. There was no explanation why Carter failed to stop at Albuquerque on his ferry flight Thursday from Los Angeles to Grandview, Mo. in the new F-86 Sabrejet. A spokesman at the Amarillo, Tex., Air Force Base, which sent a medical and security party to the crash scene, said he "appeared to have been off course."

Everyone Can't Be Right In McCarthy - Army Dispute

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — The issue which the U. S. Senate has to resolve in the case of McCarthy, Carr, Cohn & Schine vs. Stevens, Adams, U. S. Army et al. are a lot easier to state than to judge.

"Somebody Lied!" as Bert Williams, the old-time minstrel used to sing. And what's more, if all parties concerned stick to their present stories when placed under oath, somebody is going to perjure himself.

Here are the main points of controversy: (Excerpt from an unsigned memo in the McCarthy committee files dated Nov. 6, 1953, on meeting between Army Secretary Robert T. Stevens, Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy and their aides in the Pentagon.)

"Mr. Stevens asked that we hold up our public hearings on the Army. He suggested that we get after Navy, Air Force and Defense Departments instead." (Reply by Secretary Stevens on March 12, 1954.)

"Immediately on learning of this I issued a statement that the charge was absolutely untrue. Anyone who knows me would realize that such a charge was fantastic." (Memorandum from Roy Cohn chief counsel, to Senator McCarthy, Dec. 9, 1953.)

"John Adams Army counsel" said today that following up the idea about investigating the Air Force, he had gotten information for us about an Air Force base where there were a large number of homosexuals. He said he would trade up that information if we would tell him what the next Army project was that we would investigate." (Reply by John G. Adams on March 13, 1954.)

"The charges made against me are untrue. The chronological statement released by the Army on Thursday (March 11) speaks for itself." (Senator McCarthy, in March 13 press-conference statement declaring that Mr. Adams had used the blackmail him into calling off his investigations of the Army.)

"No investigation by me will ever be ended by threats of blackmail." (Reply by Mr. Adams in March 12 statement.)

"The charge of blackmail released in the memoranda released this afternoon is fantastic and false. If there ever had been any basis for such a charge, it is inconceivable that no complaints were ever made to the Secretary of the Army. And none was."

Pamelle Tisdal, Dudley Coleman Vows Exchanged In Double-Ring Ceremony

SHAMROCK — (Special) — In a recent double ring ceremony Miss Pamelle Tisdal became the bride of Dudley Coleman. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. Stuart Tisdal and granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. George L. Stanley of Shamrock. Mr. and Mrs. Wood Coleman of Dozier community are the parents of the bridegroom. Rev. Frank Beauchamp read the couple's vows in the sanctuary of the First Baptist Church, Cathedral towers in floor candelabra lit the altar formed by an arch entwined with fern tied with bows of white mulling and satin ribbon. Tall baskets of stepdragons and carnations in shades of pink flanked the satin knots of sandragons and carnations tapered arranged in pairs with white satin bows lit the bridal aisle.

A prelude played by organist, Mrs. Cabot Brannon, were "Liebestraum" by Liszt, "I Love Thee," Greig, "Calm Is The Night," by Bohm, and "Traumerlei," by Schuman. Traditional wedding marches were used.

Mrs. Lyle Homes was accompanied by Mrs. Brannon as she sang, "Always," by Berlin, and "Because" by de Hardelet. As a benediction at the end of the ceremony she sang "The Lord's Prayer," by Melot.

The candles were lit by April Tisdal, sister of the bride, and Karara Castleberry. They wore net bodices over the boned bodices of their french blue net and taffeta bouffant dresses. Tiny nosegays of carnations were worn as wristlets. Cherym Tisdal, sister of the bride and Aleta Coleman, cousin of the bridegroom, were bridesmaids. They wore identical dresses of french blue net over taffeta fashioned with strapless bodices attached to bouffant net skirts.

They carried colonial bouquets of carnations in shades of pink. All of bride's attendants wore Juliet cap headdresses fashioned of blue satin tubing caught at the center of the crown with ribbon streamers and carnations.

Flower girls Sarah Coleman, cousin of the bridegroom and JoNelle Breeding wore floor-length dresses of pink and orchid net with petal-ed bertha collars. They carried blue mulline baskets filled with past petals.

As maid of honor, Molly Kay Mayfield wore a waltz-length dress of powder blue tulle over taffeta. The decollete neckline extended to form cap sleeves just off the shoulder. Self-covered buttons extended down the front of the bodice to the full skirt.

Ushers were Lawrence Whiteley, a student from Texas Tech, and Mario Coleman of McLean, cousin of the bridegroom.

Cpl. Douglas Coleman, twin brother of the bridegroom, acted as best man.

Given in marriage by her father the bride chose a chapel length gown of Alencon lace over oriental taffeta. A fitted jacket with full-length sleeves which ended in petal points at the wrists featured a rolled collar which formed a v-neckline at the front closing. Small scrolls of pearls decorated the bodice, collar and sleeve points. The gathered skirt was worn over a hoop. A tiers of white carnations held her fingertip veil of imported bridal illusion. Her colonial bouquet was white carnations in a frill of white net with a cascade of streamers and wired french-ed carnations.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Tisdal chose a chapeau and navy suit with navy accessories. Her corsage was a Maroon daisy.

For her son's wedding, Mrs. Coleman wore a dress of navy sheer with white accessories and a corsage of white carnations. The bride's grandmothers, Mrs. S. L. Coleman of Wellington and Mrs. Mamie Lockwood of Amarillo also had corsages of carnations.

Immediately following the wedding a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents. The wedding party and the parents of the couple were in the receiving line. Miss April Tisdal was at the guest register.

The bride's table was covered with lace. A floral arrangement in shades of pink and orchid with blue satin tubing centered the silver appointed table. A small bride and groom topped the triple tiered wedding cake. Miss Nancy Carter and Miss Elizabeth Wilson, both students of Texas Tech, were at the serving table. Misses Caroline Sanderson, Nancy Baker, Linda Skidmore and Connie Lewis assisted with the serving. Also in the reception house-party were Mrs. Gerald Mayfield, Mrs. Marshall Adams and Mrs. Albert Ryan.

For travel the bride wore a suit of beige with rhinestone highlights. Her brown blouse had rhinestone trim on the velvet collar. Turquoise gloves matched the small hat which was banded with rhinestones.

The bride is a freshman student in Texas Technological College in Lubbock. She enrolled there following her graduation from Shamrock High School at mid-term. She is a past Worthy Adviser of the Order of Rainbow for Girls and was very active in all student affairs while in Shamrock.

The bridegroom is a graduate of Sannorwood High School and attended Texas A&M before transferring to Texas Tech. He is a senior student and upon graduation will receive his commission as 2nd Lt. in the U. S. Army. Keep your shower cap as fresh as you do your hair by washing it in a solution of baking soda and water. Use three tablespoons of the soda to one quart of water. This will prevent the formation of a dank, sour odor.

MATURE PARENT

By MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE

During her semiannual visit to her son's home, Ann's grandmother was horrified to find a book on sex-information for "the growing girl."

She marched downstairs and accused her daughter-in-law of filling Ann's head with "dirty." Modern parents who give children such books to read would not have to seek their sorrows, said Grandma.

When Ann's mother protested that she and her child had read the book together, Grandma said that decent parents should blush to admit such a thing. And she thanked her stars that in her day, mothers and fathers did not discuss a subject with children that didn't concern them.

She said many other things, but as we have all heard them, there's no point in repeating them.

The point that concerns us is that in Ann's grandmother's day, you could afford to deny children all kinds of things that we are compelled to give most of them now.

You could dispense with nursery schools because your big family gave a child all the companionship he could use.

You didn't need a pediatrician because the neighbor who raised ten children could reassure you about the baby's rash.

You didn't have to send Johnny to summer camp for swimming lessons, nature study and crafts because he had a swimming hole, was crafty at everything from chopping wood to harnessing the horse, and absorbed nature through his pores every time he put his foot outside the house.

If he asked a sex question, you could afford to duck the answer by blushing, because he'd get it without your help, straight from life. He would see the mare foal and he would hang over the railing of the pigsty as the sow suckled her new litter. He would discover that to calve and "come in" with the fresh milk he drank, Dolly, the cow, would have to visit farmer Brown's bull.

Soon or later, you knew that the sex information conveyed to him by his own observations of these matings and births would be related to himself and to other human beings.

But most Johnnies don't live like that any more. He wears sweaters, not of wool, but of synthetic fibers. He milks no cows; takes no wheat to the mill to grind, but gets his milk and bread from factories neatly packaged.

And just as we process his food for him artificially, we have to process his sex information artificially, too. We may have to give children books to explain the facts of life, but because life itself no longer has much chance to explain them.

If Ann's grandmother would try to understand this, she would temper her indignation.

Come to Church

The Weekly Message Of Inspiration

The Rev. A. A. Bruns, Pastor
Zion Lutheran Church
Pampa, Texas

The earth is full of the glory of God. The tree-covered hills, the floating clouds, the rolling plains, the waving fields, the glory of star-light, and the splendor of noonday, all glorify God. Why should not man, the crown and jewel of His Creation? There was a time when men lived for that very thing. This golden age in the Garden of Eden was lost when man ruined himself with sin. The song of praise died on his lips. He now glories in his selfish skill, wisdom and power, and caters to his sinful appetites. As a result his coveted joys are short-lived, worm-eaten, unsatisfying, and transient as all history demonstrates. This, however, need not be. There is hope for all. What man could not do, God did. He saved him from this hopeless condition. He sacrificed His only Son when He did it, but He did it. Fallen man may rise again through faith in his Savior, Jesus. Ceasing to live unto sin he becomes alive unto God. Then the chief purpose of his life is again to glorify the gracious God Who in His infinite mercy saved him from a living death for a deathless life in Christ. That is radiant living.

One of Texas Five Most Consistent Newspapers

We believe that one truth is always consistent with another truth. We endeavor to be consistent with truths expressed in such great words as the Golden Rule, the Ten Commandments and the Declaration of Independence.

What goes on in the mind of a native-born American Communist? What is responsible for the direction his thinking takes? These and kindred questions have been the subject of endless discussion. A significant contribution to that discussion has been made by Judge Frank Picard, of the U. S. District Court, Detroit. The occasion was his sentencing of six Michigan Communist leaders who had been convicted of conspiracy against the government.

Private Spending

Business activity has dropped somewhat from the extremely high levels of recent years. One way to stimulate industry lies in reducing the taxes individuals pay, and thus leaving them more money to buy the products that keep our farms and factories going.

Right To Work

Mississippi is the 15th state to guarantee a citizen's right to work without joining any organization. Governor White signed such a law on February 24th.

BETTER JOBS

By R. C. HOILES

"Barriers Growing America"

I want to finish quoting the speech made by John T. Brown, president of the J. I. Case Co., before the annual Congress of American Industry.

Mr. Brown, I believe, omits one of the primary barriers to a growing America. Undoubtedly, the reason we have these barriers that make better jobs more difficult to get is that we have been miseducated.

From here on I am quoting from Brown's speech: "The size and scope of government is a difficult subject to discuss in just a few minutes. Our Federal Government has grown so large that the statistics and figures describing it can scarcely be understood."

"In spite of the sincere efforts of many able men to arrest the growth of government little or no progress has been made. It is a job that we must get along with. Not only must further growth of government power be stopped but we must undertake a program of reduction if we are to realize the most from our opportunities in this country."

Shortly thereafter, the Judge made this extremely important statement — and what makes it extremely important is that the Communists always cry that they are being persecuted, Hitler-fashion, for their honest convictions. Judge Picard told them: "You really think you are martyrs. But you're not going to jail for your belief. Nor for any books. You can read them all. You're going to jail because you want to force those beliefs on others by force and violence. So you're not martyrs — you're noisies — and Russian goats at that."

International Whirligig... Crop Support Reductions May Spell Political Suicide For Ike

WASHINGTON — President Eisenhower recently amazed a small group of White House dinner guests by telling them that if 1954 growing weather is friendly, and devotedly, those surpluses will increase more time and more acreage. This food thought to the hangover approach the exhaustion stage, for a farmer cannot obtain a government loan or purchase unless his surplus is stored in accordance with Commodity Credit Corporation requirements. The annual warehouse bill for farm surpluses is about $170,000,000 or approximately $500,000 a day. We pay that much to hoard the stuff we cannot eat or sell abroad.

FARM PROBLEM SOLUTION — All these considerations, together with the refusal of a politically minded Congress to cut acreage for major crops, convince Ike and Benson that there is only one solution to the farm problem, to wit: The farmer must become reconditioned to a 30 percent drop in prices and in his income. He hopes to regain a free market at home and overseas. Market will become merely permanent ward of Uncle Sam. Neither Ike nor Fara, as "art-time farmers, believe that Edwin Markham's men with the hoe or their tractor-combine-reaper successors relish that prospect.

Butter Price Reduction — To force a reduction in butter prices, which suggests similar treatment of other subsidized crops, economic and political, for Ike and Fara. But they regard it as a sound and practical solution in their general attempt to reorganize the nation's economic system on a more solid basis.

UNCLE SAM'S VAST HOARD — Eisenhower has been shocked by Benson's report that at the end of this year — Jan. 3, 1955 — Uncle Sam will own more than $8 billion only instance of such a phenomenon. In other cases this power has been used to promote a political ideology socialistic and totalitarian in nature. The old European custom of using the labor unions as a political force in establishing the all powerful state should not be adopted in this country. No group of people have more to lose if individual liberty disappears than the American workman. We as employers have a major responsibility in dealing with this particular barrier.

"Again I would like to say, none of these barriers are insuperable. There is no reason to be discouraged; there is every reason to be determined. An intelligent and courageous attack on these barriers will bring results. "In closing, I believe we can all heed a bit of advice given some years ago by Phillips Brooks: "Do not pray for easy lives, pray to be stronger men."

Fair Enough... New York Waterfront Strike Is Legal Outrage Against U. S.

By WESTBROOK PEGLER (Copyright, 1954, King Features Syndicate, Inc.) NEW YORK — The so-called strike of Joe Ryan longshoremen, which has absolutely choked the greatest harbor in the world since March 5, is a perfectly legal New Deal outrage against the peace of the City of New York and the economy of the United States. It is consistent with the Fascist philosophy of the late Franklin D. Roosevelt and the late Sen. Bob Wagner and their criminal accomplices in the dissolution of this Republic and the conversion of its ruins into a crude replica of the racket states of Mussolini and Hitler.

Although Joe Ryan, the president-emeritus of the old longshoremen's association, has been repudiated by the American Federation of Labor and his union has been thrown out of that corrupt congress of master-racketeers, the public officials plead for "moderation" when the AF of L are no cleaner than Ryan's. Ryan is no worse crook today than he was during all the years when he enjoyed the brutal cooperation of those old peers of his who deny him the name of Communist.

When the AF of L and the Eisenhower-Dewey administration found themselves outmaneuvered by Ryan's highly competent old-line election thieves they rolled their eyes, wrung their grimy hands and called on the United States and the public officials to give such relief, if any, as the grotesque law of "labor relations" may permit them to give.

This humiliating affront to the people of the City and State of New York and of the United States and the several sovereignties is a plain, dramatic reminder that if we must have Fascism, then state Fascism were infinitely preferable to Fascism operated under private charters issued by the government.

In the Dominican Republic and Spain, Trujillo and Franco, being outright, unblushing Fascists, have the honesty to lay it down that their responsible plunderers shall not have the power to prey upon the nation in the name of "labor." They do not have to go so far as to say in plain words what they would do to anyone who, like Ryan or George Meany or Dave Beck, presidents of the AF of L, and the Teamsters, should try to run a private filibuster against the people and the nation. Under extreme circumstances they probably would take them out and shoot them.

No honest person can argue that this reproof would be excessive when the questionable loss in productivity that has weighed against the great benefit to the overwhelming majority of the people. Better individuals are lost every day in this country by the mishaps of traffic nevertheless, by too often the picket-line. There is not one member of the executive council of the AF of L today nor has there been a member in the last 20 years who had the merest shadow of a "mandate" from the voters.

Meany is an old dignitary of the Plumbers' Union, one of the most predatory rackets in our economy and a major factor in the great shortage of homes or even habitable huts for millions of our people. It is a well known association with this gang of high-binders, blackmailers and unrepentant leg-breakers that the Eisenhower-Dewey machine puts itself in the position of a patron of a criminal cabal in fronting for the AF of L's rump union of longshoremen against Ryan.

Meany was one of those goons of typical, tough-guy AF of L moldality who went calling on his old friend and professional colleague, Joe Fay, at Sing Sing. Dewey thought so ill of Fay's reign as arbiter of vast public works and the labor relations thereof that his Republican lieutenant-governor out of office for coming away from that cell with dust on his knees and set Fay to Dannemora Prison. Yet Meany, as president of the AF of L was caught re-handled in the same gang of pilgrims to the throne of corruption and now the Eisenhower-Dewey gang nevertheless tries to steal back election for Meany's longshoremen which was stolen first by Ryan.

The exquisite details of this foul affront to morals and orderly government need not be mastered by the layman. The more the poor bewildered citizen, workman or taxpayer burdens his mind with such trifles the more the professionals of politics and union racketeers will devil him with details. John L. Lewis showed us the plan when he was muddying the issues day after day in his fight with the Truman administration. Truman lost track of the case in 24 hours and it is doubtful that his ambulance-chasers in the Department of Justice were able to stay on the sled much longer.

So the citizen's course should be to skip the details and keep in mind the one central, damned fact that whoever wins among these rogues forces, the public and the cause of popular government must lose. Labor is not represented at all and is losing day by day not only on the waterfront but in wide-

The Nation's Press

THE PISTOL IN THE L... (The Wall Street Journal) When is it legal to violate the law? That question may seem an absurdity. Yet for years labor unions have been legally flouting the clear intent of the Taft-Hartley law's provision on secondary boycotts. This has been possible because the legislators' intent — clearer than their language: They left lots of loopholes.

Now, as Mr. Galpin notes elsewhere on this page, something may be done about this anomaly. In actions this week, the House Labor Committee, while it voted to loosen the restriction in a couple of ways, voted to tighten it a number of other ways — on balance, a substantial strengthening. A loophole-plugging measure has been introduced in the Senate. And the National Labor Relations Board is reviewing its previous rather peculiar interpretation of one of the biggest loopholes.

Meany is an old dignitary of the Plumbers' Union, one of the most predatory rackets in our economy and a major factor in the great shortage of homes or even habitable huts for millions of our people. No Room To Kick... Squawking Japanese Should Remember December 7, 1941

By HENRY McLEMORE
I am mad at the Japanese. I am mad for this reason: Our atomic dust injured the Japanese merchant sailors...

Congress makes war but the citizens have to fight it. How many senators and how many congressmen can you name who died in World War II or in Korea? Not many, and the ones who got back made their service the big torch song in their campaign for election.
