"But never have a few childish words done more to lift a man's spirits and chase away loneliness. Life just doesn't hold many richer moments. To me, that one call was worth the price of a year's telephone service.

Years ago, people thought of long distance only for emergencies. Today, low station-to-station and night and Sunday rates make long distance service practical for any kind of out-of-town message. ## Working Man Hit

The more government tries to "do something for the working man" the more the working man takes it in the neck. Just exactly what a "working man" is has never been defined, legally, but in general it is supposed to be someone employed for wages or salary who is not in that sense his own boss. One of the latest blows at all those who fall into this category is concerned with what is laughingly called unemployment insurance. The longer this particular deal goes on, the more it becomes apparent that the one who is really injured is the working man.

Now things have reached a state, under a recent ruling of the San Francisco Superior Court, wherein an emplayer may say anything he likes about an employe he has discharged without fear of slander or libel.

If the California courts uphold this, you can be reasonably sure it soon will be "the law" in Texas and all the other states

As you may or may not know, when someone files a claim for unemployment insurance the employer must, within 10 days, submit "any facts then known which may affect the eligibility of the claimant for benefits." The law also holds that it is a misdemeanor "on the part of any employing unit or any officer or agent of an emplaying unit or any individual to connive or conspire to aid such an individual to obtain unemployment insurance to which such individual is not entitled by the wilful withholding of information or by the wilful failure to report any relevant information.

In other words, the employer, whether he wants to or not, must supply a report and is not permitted under the law to withhold information that might affect the one seeking the unemployment insurance. But often this information is of such a nature that the employer would be subject to a libel or slander suit if he attempted or dared to say anything in public - information that might not be provable in a court concerning the applicant's morals, for instance. Under the court ruling, such reports must be made and the working man has no recourse in law to protect his name other than a vaque protection which the court called "appeal procedure."

Obviously if the law says that an employer must report information concerning the person seeking unemplayment insurance, he must be protected from libel or slander action for it would be patently unfair to require the employer to make such a report then force him into the position of libeling or slandering a former employe. But in providing this protection for the employer the "working man" gets it in the neck, for the employer may now say anything he wants and with little chance that he can ever be called to account for what he says.

Free Debate

The defenders of democracy naturally focus on free discussion as a prime element in our system. To be able to say what you think and feel is one of the highest privileges of liberty. It is also an absolute necessity.

Obviously, in a system where the ultimate power resides in the people, a premium is put on their having the information needed to make wise decisions. Free debate on the merits of issues and policies is vital to the process of informing the public.

You cannot hedge this freedom about with any major restriction and still have it. There is no way -- in law -to guarantee that you shall have no bad discussion, but only good discussion.

To preserve the opportunity for honest and sincere discussion, the barriers must be kept low.

We must accord men the privilege of being wrong, accidentally or deliberately. We must allow a flood of propaganda, of epithets and exaggerations.

We draw the line only at libel and slander, and language deliberately calculated to incite men to riot.

Our history shows we have always had a good mixing of bad discussion with good. It is to be expected.

The only real restraint we can exercise is the moral force of a public opinion that may finally discredit men who falsify issues or malign (without libeling) indi-

Lately, however, in our country and others, the danger has grown that bod discussion may become dominant. "Free discussion" is interpreted by too many men as the competition of propaganda.

In the words of a French commentator, when pushed to its extreme democratic debate can become a mere rivalry of lies.

The democratic oir today is more heavily laden than ever before with the strident shouting of men to whom facts are incidental and sometimes annoying encumbrances. Many politicians deal from fixed positions, and warp all information to fit their rigid outlook.

As we have seen, we cannot legislate bad discussion away. We can rely only on the power of the people, the people who must decide the great issues.

They can enforce a better balance between good and bad discussion when they are sufficiently stirred to communicate their views to their representatives, and to cast into discard those public men who practice the rivalry

Why We Need The Bricker Amendment

I want to continue to quote Frank E. Holman's arguments as to why we must adopt an amendment to safeguard our domestic laws. Here is the Continuation of

"Silly Shibboleth"

"It is inteersting to note that Mr. Owen J. Roberts, one of the prominent members of the New York Committee organized for preserving the present omnipotence of the treaty power, said at Ottawa on April 30, 1942, 'we must decide whether we are to stand on the silly shibboleth of national sovereignty', explaining that we must yield our sovereignty to some higher authority-call it what you

"Our forefathers fought a revolution for what Mr. Roberts calls the 'silly shibboleth of national sovereignty', Mr. John W. Davis and former Attorney General Mitchell admitted in a signed report to the New York State Bar Association, as did Mr. Dulles before the Senate Judiciary Bar Association, as did Mr. Dulles before the Senate Judiciary Committee, that the proposed United Nations Covenant on Human Rights contained concepts contrary to American Law and American Rights, but merely disposed of the danger involved in such international proposals by saying that the Administration can be trusted to protect the American people against such a covenant or treaty.

"2. Thus, you come to the second proposition that since treaties have been and are now being drawn which admittedly (even by such authorities as Messrs. Dulles, Davis and Mitchell) endanger American rights, the American people prefer to rely on the protection of a constitutional amendment rather than upon the promises of the men in power.

"3. The third argument is that, omnipotent power in one man or where. No further proof is heeded of the omnipotent power now claimed than to read Mr. Dulles' own statement as to what treaties may do with respect to our Laws, our Constitution, and our Bill of

Ways And Means

"In splie of the soundness of our arguments, the pressure of the new school of internationalists upon both political parties was such as to defeat any amend-ment at this time. Even the socalled George Amendment which would have provided 'half a loaf', with the chance of being strengthened in the House, was defeated after Senator Homer Ferguson of Michigan made an Administration plea against it.

"It recalls how the Administra-Status of forces treaty which subjects your sons, who are defendment policy all over again.

"The time has arrived for all lovers of America to organize. Effective organization is required on magazine articles - radio and television programs.

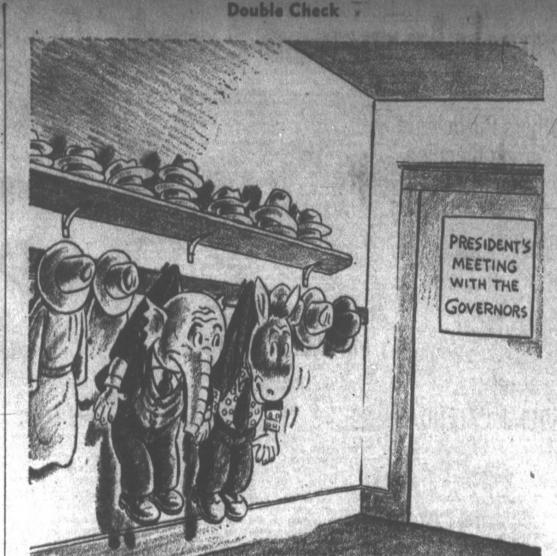

To win the great constitutional fight for an adequate amendment, the fight must be carried to the grass roots political level. Remember, there is no one presently in the Congress of the United States, either Senator of Congressman, or in the high offices of government, who can remain there beyond his present term if only a small per cent of the voters band together in each community and vote in the next primaries and conventions and in the next elections only for those candidates who were willing to commit themselves unqualified-

Charter Threat "Always keep in mind that the United Nations Charter comes up automatically in 1955 for amendment, Mr. Dulles said at the annual meeting of the American Bar Association in Boston last August that 'strengthening' amendments would be proposed to the Charter This of course could easily be done by treaty and put us into a world government without the American people having any choice in the

Hardaway's Grandslammer Leads Oilers Past Pioneers, 11-7

Lemons Sparkles In Relief Role

By BUCK FRANCIS Pampa News Sports Editor

A timely grandslam homerun plus some fine relief pitching by Jim Lemons paved the way for a 11-7 Pampa Otler victory over the Clovis Pioneers yesterday at Oiler Park.

The win was the third in five starts for the Ollers and moved them into a 3-way tie for second place in the West Texas-New Mexico

The Ollers and Pioneers will wind up their current series tonight with Viber: Clark scheduled to take the mound for the Oilers. Manager Grover Seitz was undecided on his choice for tonight's tilt. Seitz may call on his ace, Red Dial, to face the Oilers.

Clark won his first outing this season and will be making his second start tonight. The fast balling righthander downed Borger in the season's opener, 6-5.

Game time tonight is 8:25.

In yesterday's Oiler-Pioneer series opener, Hardaway pickled an Oscar Reguera pitch in the fifth inning to drive it out of the park with the bases full of Oilers to provide the difference of the final outcome. The score was deadlocked at 7-7 when Hardaway came through with his grandslammer, the second straight game in which an Oiler has connected for a 4-run hardaway cannel to the fifth to take a 7-3 lead. Hank Parkiwicz singled with one arun rally in the fifth and concluded the scoring for the day. The Ollers got their first three Ollers came to bat in the fifth runs in the third inning that put trailing 7.3 but the Ollers quickly then into a temporary 3.1 lead.

Kari Heron, all singled with Hardaway scoring on Tierney's safety and Lewis crossing on Heron's rap. The rally died momentarily when Dick Hutzler grounded out but Jake Henson came through with a pinch-hit ground single to left field to score Tierney and Heron and the game was deadlocked, 7-7.

Henson's blow finished Reguera and brought on Sam Fowlkes, General Caddington, pharadou and Eddie Daniels worked Fowlkes for free passes to first Lemons came on at this point to relieve starter Jonas Gaines who had been lifted for a pinch-hitter and finished the game in a blazing style. The rookie righthander allowed only one hit and no runs in the four innings he worked.

Gaines Gets Win

The win, however, went to Gaines. He might have gotten by without a run scored against him with a tighter defense. The first Pioneer run was unearned. Rightfielder Whitey Krueger misplayed Lynn Boyd's Texas Leaguer into a triple and then made a bad throw-in to allow Boyd to score.

In the fourth, Clovis broke loose with a 5-run rally. But the rally would have been avoided except for a wind-blown double by Pete

Amazing New Tire Developed at Indianapolis Now Available for Your Car

WORLD'S FIRST All-Nylon Tubeless Firestone

TESTED AND PROVED AT THE "500" SPEEDWAY FOR USE ON TODAY'S HIGH-SPEED SUPER HIGHWAYS

Runs safely up to 15 m.p.h.

faster than ordinary tires

A combination of race-tire engineering and nylon construction makes the Firestone

"500" the safest high-speed tire ever developed. In hundreds of tests at the Speedway, this tire was proven safe at speeds for in excess of normal highway driving speeds, giving the motorist up to 15 mph safety margin over ordinary tires.

Special Safti-Liner

Protects Against Punctures

Safer from flats because the air-tight butyl

Safti-Liner that's banded to the inside of the tire clings to nails to prevent air loss.

Since there's no tube to pierce or explode,

you get extra blowout protection too.

Withstands continuous highspeed running many hours longer

summer road temperatures

of driving, the "500" can be driven continu-

The new Firestone "500" is a brute for punishment. With a nylon cord body, a full 91% stronger than ordinary tires, it defies road shocks. Unlike other tires which develop "body fatigue" after a few hours ously without growing weak or "tired."

New Tread Increases Skid Protection

The outer ribs remain open to provide a suction-cup action on slippery pavement, while the inner ribs mesh together to create a positive biting action for sure-footed traction on starts, stops, and turns.

Endures up to 40° higher

The "500" was subjected to thousands of miles of high-speed driving over blistering desert roads where the mercury reached 120° in the shade. Under these torturous driving conditions, ordinary tires frequently "pop" like toy balloons, but the Firestone "500" was proved blowout-safe at these higher road temperatures.

Race-Tire Construction Increases Mileage

An entirely new cold rubber tread compound developed under a new chemical formula makes possible a tread of race tire toughness, providing much longer mileage. Stronger cord body permits more retread miles too.
