Comparison Made To Texas City

BREST, France—AP—Officials reported 15 dead and at least 422 injured in this port today from the explosion and fire that wrecked the ammonium nitrate-laden Norwegian freighter Ocean Liberty yesterday.

Four of the injured died this morning, the French Ministry of Marine said. Badly injured and hospitalized at nearby Landerneau were 46 others, five of whom doctors termed critical. In addition, Ponchalet Hospital reported it had treated 376 for cuts and bruises inflicted by flying debris.

(Ammonium nitrate is a synthetic product relatively recently developed. It is made by the introduction of ammonium gas into nitric acid, and now is used principally as a fertilizer.)

Hundreds more were severely shaken when the nitrate went off with a shattering blast that smashed in building fronts along the sea front, set off an explosion in the city's gas system, fired a gasoline storage tank and demolished lines of communication.

The 50 listed as badly injured all were hospitalized at nearby Landerneau.

In addition, officials at Ponchalet Hospital reported they had treated 376 persons for minor cuts and bruises inflicted by flying debris.

Most of the dead were described as dock workers or seamen, the fatalities, however, included one unidentified woman about 30 years old.

The crew of the Ocean Liberty had been taken off before the vessel's cargo exploded, but her captain was reported fatally injured when struck by a flying piece of metal while standing on shore.

Fires started by the blast still were burning today. Much of Brest had been destroyed by aerial bombardments during the war and many of the buildings in the business district consisted of pre-fabricated one story wooden structures that went up like matchboxes.

(Paris newspapers estimated the death toll as high as 23.)

The explosion occurred as the American-built Liberty ship was being towed out to the roadstead after an unsuccessful five-hour battle to extinguish a fire discovered in her hold as she lay alongside.

Protests Against Livestock Rules Are Made to City

Two additional protests against the proposed livestock ordinance that would regulate the keeping of hogs, cows, horses, and chickens inside the city limits, were registered this morning to the City Commission by two persons raising chickens, one of them owning a cow.

The Commission also listened to representatives of the U. S. Public Health Service and CAA.

First to register a complaint this week with the Commission was Mrs. Jack Irwin, 420 N. Warren St. Mrs. Irwin told the Commission that she believed there was less dirt with chickens around than there was without them. She cited the example of chickens eating watermelon rinds and other foods thrown out thereby preventing the gathering of flies. She added that she always kept her place absolutely clean by frequent spraying with DDT and lime coatings on the floor.

Mrs. Irwin said she was not raising the chickens for sale, but for private use as food and for the eggs. She reported that she now has about 25 or 30 chickens on her 50 by 187 foot lot.

W. C. Posey, 301 S. Barnes St., registered his protest on grounds that he needs his chickens and cow to help make his living. He asserted he lived on an 8 acre plot with the nearest residence about one-half mile away. Posey told the Commission that he has never had a complaint from any neighbors or from other persons concerning his chickens or the cow, and that he is careful with refuse and makes every attempt to keep the place clean.

Mayor C. A. Huff asked each protestant if he or she would object to a livestock ordinance that would exclude the prohibition of chickens and cows, but would permit only hogs, horses and other livestock. Mrs. Irwin said she would be in favor of a livestock ordinance that would exclude chickens and cows. Posey answered he would be in favor of an ordinance that would permit chickens and cows to remain. He further told the Commission that whatever they did he would try to bear with it as long as he could and would not be at odds with any of them over the passage.

Mayor Huff told them that the Commission has had at least 30 registered complaints from other residents against the keeping of livestock in the city limits, but the Commission has not yet fully decided what they will do in writing up the ordinance nor when or how it will be passed. The Commission last week was undecided whether or not to pass it as a Commission or bring it up to a vote by the people.

The U. S. Public Health Service representative informed the Commission that the government was removing the rat proofing equipment from the city as it has already overstayed its time here. He told the Commission the rat proofing program to date had been successful and emphasized the need in carrying it on until the city is 100 percent free of the plague and disease carrying rodents.

Rewriting the contract with the Pampa Municipal Airport and the City, a representative of the CAA told the Commission he would meet with City Attorney Bob Gordon on this afternoon to aid in rewriting the contract to be as satisfactory as possible between the two, and the people using the airport.

The Commission this afternoon was meeting in the Board of Equalization in further study of equalizing taxes both for the city and the Pampa Independent School District.

Two Hanged for Kansas Murder

LANSING, Kans.—(AP)—Two former carnival workers were hanged today at the Kansas State Prison at 12:01 a. m.

The two men, Cecil Tate, 23, of Jacksonville, Texas, and George Gammon, 21, were executed for the slaying of W. W. McClellan, 60-year-old grain elevator operator, and his son, Arnold, 36, at Calista, Kans., May 12, during a robbery which netted only $4.50.

The two men were calm throughout the entire waiting period, they walked slowly up the 13 steps to the gallows after telling Warden Robert Hudspeth they had no last statements to make.

Neither man struggled after the drop.

The men died with none of their relatives present.

Tate's wife, Iris, had visited him Saturday in his cell after she had brought their three-week-old baby here from Jacksonville.

Funeral arrangements have not been made. Coroner Hanson said Mrs. Tate asked him Sunday how much it would cost to have her husband's body taken to Jacksonville, but a decision was made.

Kaiser Says Note to FDR Brought Him Ship Contract

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Henry J. Kaiser testified today that he sent a brief note to the late President Roosevelt and got a wartime contract to build small aircraft carriers after Top Navy officials previously had rejected his offer.

The wartime industrialist told the Senate War Investigating Committee of the details after saying "I'm proud" when asked whether he went to the White House in connection with contracts he secured to build cargo-carrying airplanes.

The committee is seeking facts regarding some $40,000,000 worth of airplane contracts awarded to Kaiser and Howard Hughes, aircraft designer and film producer.

Senator Ferguson (R-Mich.) questioned Kaiser on this.

On the "baby flattops"—small aircraft carriers—Kaiser told this story: He talked with the late Marvin McIntyre, secretary of the late President Roosevelt, about building the aircraft carriers.

McIntyre was "very available" and when the Navy rejected Kaiser's plans "by a vote of sixteen to nothing," he consulted McIntyre.

"At the time I had seen the President only once," Kaiser went on. "I went into see Mac."

McIntyre told him, Kaiser said, that Kaiser would "write a little letter" about four paragraphs that McIntyre would "lay it on the chief's desk."

Kaiser said the next day he received a call from Admiral Emory S. Land, then directing ship construction.

"Admiral Land said 'what the hell have you been doing?'" Kaiser continued.

Kaiser said the letter to President Roosevelt caused Top Navy officials to "reverse" themselves.

"I got an order for one hundred air carriers," he said. "All hell broke loose. They did not want aircraft carriers. They wanted destroyers. I told them I could not build destroyers. Finally they cancelled orders for fifty."

Kaiser said the Navy did not want to call his ships "aircraft carriers" and at first "wanted to give them to the British" but finally "turned the heat of hell on us to produce more of them."

"The Navy reversed itself," he continued. "It was wonderful. Admiral King came in and said he wanted to help."

Admiral Ernest King was chief of naval operations and commander in chief of the Navy at the time.

Garrett's torture with the defendant, Kaiser protested there has been a "smear campaign" against him.

"I have never in my entire history had such a smear campaign directed against me," the West Coast industrialist told a Senate War Investigating Subcommittee as it prepared to hear his story of his $18,000,000 wartime cargo plane contract.

Before Kaiser was permitted to testify, Senators Ferguson (R-Mich.) and Pepper (D-Fla.) clashed sharply.

Insanity Plea Is Entered in Murder Trial

NEW BRAUNFELS—(AP)—Defense attorneys for Dr. Lloyd L. Ross, charged with the murder of four persons killed in an ambush May 25, will rely on an insanity plea when the trial is resumed Sept. 5, they indicated yesterday in winning a delay.

The trial opened here in 22nd District Court before Judge J. R. Fuchs.

He granted postponement when defense attorneys said they needed more time to get statements and witnesses to prove its claim the handsome, 42-year-old San Antonio doctor "was and is insane."

The four persons killed that sunny Sunday morning on their way to church were Willard H. York, 39, San Antonio investment broker; his wife Gertrude, 43; a son John, 9; and York's mother, Mrs. Mary York, 67.

All had been former patients upon whom Ross had operated at one time or another. He and York had been friends for 10 years.

But recently there had been financial difficulties between the two. Dr. Ross, Harvard-trained, a native of Ohio, a Texan for 12 years, in March charged York was indebted to him in stocks, securities and bonds for over $80,000.

York took out bankruptcy after an investigation by the Securities and Exchange Commission which revealed irregularities in his operation.

The 49-year-old Comal County courtroom was packed to its 500-person capacity when Dr. Ross, his face expressionless, walked in with his lawyers and sat down yesterday. Probably half the audience was composed of women.

Dr. Ross was his wife, dressed in simple white. Both objected when a photographer asked them to pose seated together. His sister, Rena, Ross, also was present.

Absent, however, was 13-year-old See MURDER TRIAL, Page 8

Truman Returns To Washington After Funeral

GRANDVIEW, Mo.—(AP)—President Truman departed at 9:53 a. m. (CST) from Grandview Airport for the Capital, where a White House spokesman said a "flood" of legislation awaited his approval.

The President paid a final one-hour visit to the Truman cottage in Grandview, where funeral rites were held yesterday for his mother, Mrs. Martha Ellen Truman, 94, to say farewell to his sister, Miss Mary Jane Truman.

Then he motored to Grandview Airport and took off in the presidential plane, the Sacred Cow.

Accompanying him on the return visit was the Ambassador of Mexico Espinosa de los Monteros, who had come to Grandview to convey the condolences of President Aleman, Presidential Secretary Charles G. Ross said the President will be faced with a "flood of all the bills passed in the final days of Congress—probably more than 150."

He said they were "main routine legislation," however.

Mrs. Truman, who said her son could "do anything just a little better than anyone else," was buried yesterday in Forest Hill Cemetery at Kansas City, beside the unmarked grave of the President's father, John A. Truman.

Budget Experts Say Spending to Match Estimate

WASHINGTON, AP—Administration budget experts said today that despite congressional cuts, federal spending this fiscal year will run fairly close to the $37,500,000,000 estimate outlined by President Truman last January.

It may even exceed that figure when all the items are totaled up next June 30, these analysts told a reporter on the stipulation that they not be named.

They said the main reason for this is that Congress voted a number of appropriations—chiefly for foreign aid—which were not figured in when Mr. Truman drafted his budget estimates.

Chairman Taber (R-NY) of the House Appropriations Committee—speaking of the Republican minority drive—came up with his third set of figures in three days last night. And Rep. Gore (D-Tenn), self-described "watchdog" of GOP promises in the House to trim the budget by $6,000,000,000. He added with his party's third compilation.

Taber contended in a radio speech that total savings to the treasury "as a result of the operations of the first session of the 80th Congress amounted to $4,437,000,000. He added that in addition the lawmakers rescinded $2,684,000,000 in previous appropriations.

Gore's statistics, issued in the form of a statement, credited the Republicans with "total genuine reductions" of $1,267,061,000.

Emphasizing that they have no desire to get caught in the middle of that argument, the men who keep track of such things for the administration said their rough guesses on the amount of the congressional See BUDGET, Page 8

Newton Refused Further Clemency By Pardons Board

AUSTIN—(AP)—Dr. W. R. Newton of Cameron has apparently lost his last-ditch appeal for further clemency in his assault to murder conviction.

By a vote of two to one, the State Board of Pardons and Paroles yesterday refused to extend his 30-day emergency reprieve for 60 days.

Convicted of assault to murder on the late Dr. Roy Hunt of Littlefield, Dr. Newton's case was finally affirmed by the Court of Criminal Appeals. Then Gov. Beauford H. Jester granted him a 30-day emergency reprieve July 1 on the ground that if the doctor went immediately to the penitentiary the lives of some of his patients would be jeopardized.

After that, Dr. Newton asked the Board for a full pardon, and his plea was rejected by a two to one vote.

Yesterday, Dr. Newton came before the Board again. He said the life of his mother-in-law, Mrs. S. Turner Nichols of Clarendon, would be endangered if he went to prison.

She is a patient at his hospital in Cameron. He told the Board that she was near death Saturday and Sunday nights from coronary occlusion. Dr. Newton also said he still has 15 surgical cases pending.

Chairman Amer Lewis, of the Board, moved that a 60-day extension of reprieve be recommended by the Board, but members R. A. (Smoot) Schmid and Walter Strong said they did not think there should be further clemency.

Board members and Dr. Newton agreed that the effect of the decision was that he would have to report to the penitentiary before midnight Wednesday.

Phillips Petroleum 'Brings In' Wildcat

BARTLESVILLE, Okla.—(AP)—A new oil development in Ector County, Tex., is reported by the Phillips Petroleum Co.

The company announced that its 75 percent interest wildcat, the No. 1 McIntire, had indicated a new pool or a large extension to Fullerton zone production in the Andador and Goldsmith pools.

The well flowed at the rate of 650 barrels daily on one and one-half hour drill stem test with 2,500,000 cubic feet of gas per day at 6,125-6,200 feet.

It is located midway between the Andador and Goldsmith pools and is two miles from the closest producers.

Testimony Heard Relative to Acts At Prison Camp

NEW YORK—(AP)—A witness at the court-martial of Chief Signelman Harold E. Hirschberg, 29, accused of mistreating American war prisoners in the Philippines, testified today that an Army private tortured to death by the Japanese was caught stealing sugar from his fellow prisoners' rations shortly before his death.

Marine Warrant Officer Louis E. Duncan, 31, of Baltimore, at present attached to the second Marine Division at Camp Lejeune, N. C., who was a prisoner with the defendant at Camp Murphy on Luzon, was the first witness of the day.

Duncan testified that a storekeeper reported to him that he had caught Army Private George Garrett of Waco, Texas, stealing sugar from the men's rations.

He said he reported the theft to the sergeant and Garrett was beaten badly by Japanese guards with clubs.

No attempt was made to link the beating with the subsequent fatal beating and torture of Garrett.

Garrett's torture was described yesterday by a witness. One of the specifications against Hirschberg accuses him of informing the Japanese guards of an escape attempt by Garrett.

A witness related an incident which he said took place in June, 1944, at Camp Murphy. He said that he was assigned to the sick bay at the time and that on one occasion when he and several other men were present, See PRISON CAMP, Page 8

Lions Convention Is in Second Day

SAN FRANCISCO—(AP)—The International Lions Convention turned its attention today to studying means of promoting world peace.

The organization, which has announced a world expansion program and has sent consultants to the major international conferences on peace since the end of the war, devoted one forum to a discussion of the United Nations.

Among the more than 16,000 convention delegates are representatives of every state, Hawaii, Canada and 17 Latin American countries. Important speeches are being translated into Spanish for more than 800 delegates from Central and South America.

Thousands lined downtown streets yesterday as the Lions paraded in 15 colorful divisions. The opening day's ceremonies ended with a Texas night party and a States night dance last night.

British Hang Three Jewish Extremists

JERUSALEM—AP—The British hanged three Jews today in defiance of a Jewish underground threat to retaliate with the execution of two British hostages and "bathe the Holy Land with blood."

A British military announcement said Meir Nakar, Yaacoub Weiss and Absalom Habib were put to death between 4 and 5 a. m. in Acre Prison on Palestine's north coast for their part in the May 4 break there, in which 251 prisoners were freed and 16 persons were killed.

U. S. Proposal On Balkans Gains Support of U.N.

LAKE SUCCESS—(AP)—A majority of the delegates of the United Nations Security Council swung their support today to an American proposal for an 11-nation commission to stand guard over the Balkans.

As the council headed toward an imminent showdown between Russia and the United States over the Balkan problem, delegate after delegate announced support of the American plan.

But Russia continued the silence she maintained throughout yesterday's session.

U. S. Deputy Delegate Herschel W. Johnson opened the first of two council sessions today by insisting that the proposed commission should be composed of eleven members.

With the possibility that a vote may soon be near on the entire American plan, the question uppermost in delegates' hands was: Will Russia veto or abstain from voting on a U. S. proposal to establish a "watchdog" commission over the strife-torn borders of the Balkans?

The way for a vote on the American proposal appeared to have been cleared yesterday when the council tentatively accepted a series of minor amendments to the U. S. proposal.

The only question remaining before the council began voting on the proposed commission. The U. S. has suggested an 11-man commission, representative of all the nations of the Security Council. The French have suggested that the commission be composed of only the six non-permanent members on the council.

Although Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko remained silent throughout yesterday's debate, the Russian delegate was expected to make a major speech today, giving the Russian position and revealing what course he would take in the voting.

As one official of the Big Five said: "The chips are now down and Mr. Gromyko holds the spot of calling the play."

New improvements include a concrete extension to the concrete roadway, five shop buildings, erosion control, a recreation structure and athletic fields.

Texas Production Of Oil Increases

TULSA, Okla.—(AP)—The Oil and Gas Journal reported today crude oil production in the United States averaged 5,094,115 barrels daily during the week ended July 26, an increase of 35,695 barrels over the previous week's output.

Texas accounted for much of the week's gain with an increase of 31,000 barrels to 2,555,250.

Sharp gains were recorded also by Louisiana, which was up 7,600 barrels to 429,450; California, up 3,600 to 921,600; and Wyoming, 3,220 to 117,290. Eastern area increased 2,900 to 65,700. Mississippi gained 1,750 to 96,610. Kansas was up 1,650 to 296,400, and Illinois gained 1,100 to 182,600. Michigan's production declined 14,950 barrels to 42,610, and Oklahoma dropped 3,350 to 384,750.

Dodgers' Stylish Southpaw Wallops Chicubs Sixth Game

Undefeated Since '42, Cowboys Will Be Better in '47

By The Associated Press
Sports Writer
Joe Hatters, the stylish southpaw of the Brooklyn Dodgers, who has beaten Chicago six times without a setback this season, needs only three more triumphs over the Cubs to tie the record for most victories over a club in one year.

The record of nine is held by Ed Reubach of the 1908 Cubs whose victims, strangely enough were the Dodgers.

Hatters pitched a three-hit 4-0 shutout over his "cousins" yesterday to extend the Dodgers' winning streak to 10 straight, not counting the protested 3-2 "victory" over the St. Louis Cardinals July 20. It is the longest winning streak of the season in the National League.

The win enabled the Dodgers to maintain their seven game lead over the runner-up St. Louis Cardinals who staged one of their customary fast finishes to nip the Boston Braves 8-7. The Braves dropped the nine games behind the Dodgers and one percentage point behind the third place New York Giants who lost to Cincinnati, 5-0.

In the only two American League games, the New York Yankees increased their first place margin over the idle Boston Red Sox to 10 games by defeating the Detroit Tigers 5-1 and the Philadelphia Athletics won over the Chicago White Sox 5-3.

Two Cardinals catchers, Del Rice and Joe Garagiola, sparked the Redbirds' win over the Braves. Rice's three-run homer off Left-Hander Warren Spahn tied the score in the eighth. Garagiola's pinch hit single sent Enos Slaughter home with the decisive marker in the ninth.

Johnny Vander Meer, beaten in his last five appearances, headed the Giants their third shutout of the season and also halted the Giants' homer hitting streak which had gone through 15 straight games, one short of the National League record.

Rookie Vic Raschi, young importation from Portland of the Pacific Coast League, held the Tigers to six hits in besting Hal Newhouser.

Hank Majeski smashed a two-run homer in the last of the ninth to win for the A's over the White Sox.

The Philadelphia Phils and Pittsburgh Pirates in the National League, and Boston, St. Louis, Cleveland and Washington in the American were not scheduled.

There will be 20 letters, nine of them starters from last season. Five of the players—Al Johnson, J. C. (Bullet) Cook, Red Cleveland, Jack Ellison and Moe Healy—were on both of Hardin-Simmons' unbeaten teams in 1942 and 1946. In 1942—or rather on Jan. 1, 1943—Hardin-Simmons lost a game, meeting defeat at the hands of Second Air Force in the Sun Bowl at El Paso. But they don't count this on the record. That was a service outfit. No college eleven has taken the Cowboys in law in the two years. In 1943, 1944 and 1945 Hardin-Simmons was out of football because of the war.

Woodson has quite a record with the Cowboys and at Arkansas State College, where he was coach before coming to Hardin-Simmons. At Arkansas State his team won the conference championship four or five years; at Hardin-Simmons he has two championships and one tie for the title in the Border Conference—that's six championships and one tie in eight seasons.

Hardin-Simmons will play a 10-game schedule including inter-sectional hits with San Jose at San Jose, Calif., and Mississippi State at State College, Miss. Trinity University of Houston of the Lone Star Conference are scheduled in addition to six Border Conference foes.

Paris in Protest Over Twin Loss to Gainesville Owls

By The Associated Press
Gainesville's Owls won two ball games last night, the second by a lower score than it actually made.

After beating Paris, 7-2, in the first game of a doubleheader the Owls were given the nightcap for forfeit, 9-0. They were ahead at that time, 12-2.

The situation came up when Umpire Freddy Arceaux ordered Paris outfielder Harry Schmell off the field. When he wouldn't go, Arceaux gave Gainesville the game by forfeit.

Schmell had protested a called third strike after one man was out in the top of the eighth inning.

Other big league games went off smoothly, with Texarkana beating Wichita Falls, 4-2; Waco defeating Greenville, 8-6; and Austin defeating Sherman-Deussen, 8-1.

Gainesville had an easy time winning the opener from Paris, using Bill Black's two-run homer in the third to go ahead. In the nightcap the Owls staged an eight-run spree in the second inning to take a wide margin.

Three singles in the eighth inning gave Waco its two-run advantage over Greenville. Milan Vucelich's three-run homer in the seventh sparked a five-run outburst by the Major.

Vernon Washington's three-run homer in the first inning gave Texarkana a lead it never yielded.

Don Kennedy made his debut as an Austin Pioneer pitcher and held Sherman-Deussen in check with six hits. The wins lone run came in the ninth on two singles and a walk.

Manager Honored by Loboos; Luckless Oilers Blasted 22-9

LAMESA—(AP)—Lamesa honored manager George Sturdivant with a special "night" at the local ball park last night, and the popular Lobo skipper responded appropriately by smashing out four hits—two of them home runs—in as many times at bat to drive across seven runs in pacing his club to a 22-9 conquest of Pampa's Oilers.

Pampa BombarDED Lobo Hurler Chris Haskins for 14 safeties, but to no avail as the Lamesans opened up a 20-hit barrage on four Oiler pitchers to score in every inning. Ben Gregory and Bob Bailey connected for circuit blows for the Oilers, while L. B. Palmer had one roundtripper for Lamesa, which tightened its grip on third place in the WT-NM standings.

Red' Bale Is Named New Rice Owl Coach
HOUSTON—(AP)—Melbert (Red) Bale, Head Coach at Robert E. Lee High School, will be assistant football coach of the Rice Owls this fall.

Bale was an All Southwest Conference guard on Rice's first championship team in 1934. He will fill the vacancy on the Rice Staff caused by the resignation of Harry Stiteler, who has joined the Texas A. and M. coaching staff.

SWIMMING MEET
SAN ANTONIO—(AP)—Two Army corporals were favored today to pace the 100-meter free style event of the First Annual AAF Swimming and Diving championship here.

They are Dave Title of the Air Transport Command, Washington, D. C., and Dick Twining, Air Material Command, San Antonio.

National Junior Golf Play Gets Under Way
PEORIA, Ill.—(AP)—Goldson's top teen-agers, strong from 26 states, today teed off at Mt. Hawley's Country Club in a 36-hole qualifying scrap which launched the Second Annual National Junior Championship of Commerce tournament.

After the medal play elimination turns the field to 64, the youthful swingers will hook up in four days of match play starting tomorrow and ending with a 36-hole title showdown Saturday.

The population of New Zealand is 1,641,000 of which 57 percent is urban; 67 percent is in the north island.

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
DALLAS—(AP)—Joss Neely, coach of the Rice Owls, should be a very contented man. He enjoys great confidence from his colleagues in the Southwest Conference. By majority choice they are picking his team to win the championship.

Now, when Joss finds this out, I am sure he will be greatly relieved. He will have the title handed to him and will only have to sit on the bench and enjoy the games this fall.

Coach Barnhill, whose Arkansas team last season surprised by tying for the conference title and battling Louisiana State to a deadlock in the Cotton Bowl, thinks Rice and Texas are a little better fortified than the others.

Coach Blair Cherry of Texas, pointing out that his team will be changing its style of play and that several outstanding men, such as center Dick Harris and fullback Bobby Lane, will be playing in new positions (tackle and quarterback under the T), says: "Since the evidence shows that the team is in our line, it has been necessary to re-arrange in order to get better personnel into our lineup. After making so many changes, naturally there are many questions, and we are in hopes many of these questions will be solved and by October and November we will have a representative team."

Woodruff thinks the Round-Robin schedule of the Southwest Conference is the worst in the nation, such as in lost a game or so either in the conference or to outside opposition.

Bob says he is in a rather peculiar position in comparing the Southwest with any other conference since he never has seen a Southwest Conference team play. Woodruff came to Baylor last winter after coaching in the Southeast Conference.

Norton believes A. and M. will be stronger in passing since Jimmie Cashion is back and he is a much better flinger than anything the Aggies have had the past few seasons. "On the basis of spring training we will get far better blocking and tackling than we had last year when we had practically none," he says.

Norton may be happy to know that Neely had this observation about the Aggies: "I believe that the University of Texas A. and M. will give all of us plenty of opposition, and it would not surprise me to see A. and M. up at the top."

Houston won't lose its Texas League lead for at least two more days.

The Buffs insured the top spot until after their current series with Fort Worth by handing the Cats a 6-4 licking last night. The victory boosted their margin to three games.

While the two top teams were staging a crucial series for the lead, Dallas slipped into third place ahead of Shreveport's slipping Sports. The Rebels downed San Antonio, 7-4, while Oklahoma City edged Shreveport, 3-2.

Tulsa crept within 14 percentage points of fourth place by taking its fifth straight game—this one a 7-6 affair over Beaumont.

Houston staged another of its late drives, coming from behind a 2-0 Fort Worth lead in the fifth inning. The Buffs tied the score in the fifth, scored three runs in the sixth and added another in the seventh.

Joe Tepsic's home run in the seventh whittled Houston's margin. A ladies' night crowd of 12,230 watched Buff Stan Benjamin run Clarence Podielan's no-hit game in the fifth with a clean single. Two other Cat hurriers saw service before the tilt was over. Roman Brun

THE STORY: Mark East calls at Hope House but Jewel has there. He also goes to see Miss Libby, personnel manager at Blackman's. Miss Libby admits Ruth Miller was hired without reference.

"DON'T look like that. I'm not going to sue," Mark leaned across Miss Libby's immaculate desk. "So she lied about never having worked before, she didn't make friends, and she went to pieces when I rate customer accused her of snort changing. . . . Girls like you major in psychology or something, don't you?"

"Yes," Miss Libby admitted. "And I'm supposed to be good."

"Well, be good now. What do you make of all this?"

"Trouble in the past. Maybe a brush with the law. On the verge of being found out and couldn't face it. Heck, Mr. East—sorry, excuse it, but I feel awful. But what can we do? It's too late."

"Maybe it isn't. Have you got the Smith girls handy?"

"They're outside now, trying not to look terrified. Come in," she called.

Mark and Jewel filed in and lined themselves against the wall. "You're not going to be shot," Miss Libby said kindly. "This is Mr. East. Did Benz tell you what he's here for?"

"Yes'm," Mark said. "Then answer his questions, that's all." She tossed the next move to Mark with open relief and relaxed on the end of her spine.

"This is going to be easy," Mark said. "I hope you don't mind if I call you Moke and Poke. Now, did you girls know Ruth Miller very well?"

They answered simultaneously, affirmatively and negatively, and burst into tears. "They're right. Scandal would be very bad. But suicide doesn't necessarily mean disgrace. It could mean something sad, like heartbreak. Do you suppose that was Ruth's trouble?"

Mark nodded. "They're right. Scandal would be very bad. But suicide doesn't necessarily mean disgrace. It could mean something sad, like heartbreak. Do you suppose that was Ruth's trouble?"

"NO, sir!" Moke was positive. "Maybe we didn't know her so very well, but we know it wasn't anything like that. You notice a thing like that. It shows. . . . But I've been thinking about something. When she moved to the House she sort of changed. She moved on the Saturday and on Monday she died. But I don't know."

"Sure you know, Moke. Go on."

"Well, I don't think she ate all the meals, and that's funny because the meals are good. She said it was because she was sick, but she looked like she was in a trance or something. That was on the Sunday."

"Never looked like that in the store?"

"No, sir. . . . I wish we'd paid her more attention now." Moke's eyes filled again, but Mark went on as if he didn't see.

"Tell me about the Sunday. You, the other one, Poke. It's your turn now."

"We saw her on Sunday morning," Poke said. "We didn't see her on Saturday because we had a date. We had her for our table for breakfast, but she wouldn't eat. And Sunday was the tea day. The big tea, with bought refreshments and sewing for the party."

Poke covered the tea from start to finish; Mrs. Marshall-Gill, the costumes and the masks that made everybody look the same, the milk, and the simulated pearls, pink, and Ruth in a corner by herself.

Moke concurred soberly, bobbing her head. "Yeah, yeah, that's right. That's the way it was. And then she spilled tea on her new suit she'd saved up for. A sudden look of surprise crossed her face. "That's funny."

"Funny?" Mark turned from Moke to Poke to Miss Libby. They were frowning at each other with complete understanding. "Funny" he repeated.

"Yeah," Moke said. "When you save up for a new suit and get it, you don't jump out of a window."

He addressed himself to Miss Libby. "That is the kind of reasoning that drives a man crazy and cracks a case."

In Hollywood

By ERSKINE JOHNSON

NEA Staff Correspondent

(Johnson on KPDN Monday through Friday, 2 p. m.)

HOLLYWOOD — Ham without eggs— Hot dogs without mustard— Laurel without Hardy— Bergen without McCarthy— The ham still has the eggs, the hot dogs have the mustard and Laurel still has Hardy. But there's no Charlie McCarthy today on Edgar Bergen's knee.

Charlie is home gnashing his teeth and making dirty cracks and Bergen is at RKO playing an undertaker with a Swedish accent in the film version of the Broadway hit "I Remember Mama."

It's Bergen's first professional appearance without Charlie in 28 years.

"It's going to be rank," said Charlie. "and I don't mean J. Arthur."

"It's going to give me a chance to brush up on my timing," said Bergen. "It's a challenge to do something different for a change."

"The title of the picture is 'I Remember Mama,'" said Charlie. "but after they see Bergen on the screen without me they'll be saying, 'I Remember RKO.'"

NO PUTTY NOSE

Maybe people won't even recognize Bergen in the film. He's wearing a Hitler mustache and thick glasses. What little hair there is on Bergen's head has been curled up on the sides, and he's talking on a higher voice with that Swedish accent.

"Maybe," we said to Charlie. "he'll turn out to be a great actor."

"Well," said Charlie. "maybe so—but I haven't locked the door and I've left the light burning. I think he'll be back."

BERGMAN CLEANING UP

Orchestra leader Mark Warnow goes into a Hollywood hospital late this month for a serious operation. . . . Ingrid Bergman is set to make a million bucks for her one-third interest in "Arch of Triumph."

Several weeks ago John Payne and Gloria de Haven had a big argument and John walked out of the house for a couple of days. Their marriage was on thin ice. But now that Gloria is back from a S. F. personal appearance, things seem to have changed. That old love light is back in their eyes.

There will be a popcorn shortage in the fall we hear, because of the flood-damaged crops in mid-western states. Now if someone would only cut down the supply of corn on the screen, everybody could be happy.

WALL STREET STOCKS

NEW YORK, July 28—(AP)—Buyers were faithful to assorted oils and special stocks today while late selling forced the majority of market leaders into the losing ranks.

Frequent slowdowns developed after moderately fast advances were slightly halted until the final hour when more urgent offerings put a number of favorites at bottom for the day. There was a smattering of new highs for the year. Minus signs ranging from fractions to 2 points or so, predominated at the close.

Transfers for the full proceeds were around 1,100,000 shares.

In the casual section were U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, Youngstown Sheet, General Motors, Chrysler, U. S. Galt, Goodrich, Goodyear, International Harvester, Western Union, A. C. Smelting, Air Reduction, American Can, Du Pont, Allied Chemical, Union Carbide, Santa Fe, Central Southern Pacific, Great Northern Railway, Baltimore & Ohio, Chesapeake & Ohio, American Woodmen, St. Cola, Consolidated Vultee (on an omitted quarterly), Publicker and Schenley.

NEW NEWSPAPER PLANT—Shown above is the new building housing the Clovis News-Journal, Clovis, N. M. The newspaper has a new high-speed Goss press, capable of printing 48 pages at once. It is the largest press in the Southwest, between Fort Worth and Phoenix, Ariz. The News-Journal is one of six Holles newspapers, as is The Pampa Daily News.

THE NATIONAL GUARD
A committee composed of representatives of the local service organizations and one from the Chamber of Commerce is now engaged in finding some qualified person to serve as commander of a National Guard unit proposed for Pampa. When this is done, work can get under way on the actual forming of such unit.

This was the information out of a meeting here this past week of business leaders and representatives from the organizations mentioned. During the course of this meeting it was reported there was little interest being shown in the formation of a Guard unit here. It was further revealed that that is the situation in all parts of Texas—indifference, a feeling that such unit is unimportant.

The fact that some $35,000 would be brought into the community annually is one of the less important aspects of the question. The real importance of the National Guard is far greater than that.

For instance, the Guard in peacetime acts as a body of state militia. It is the sort of organization that can be called into service where order is of first essence. In case of local catastrophe—such as that which befell Glazier and Higgins this spring—or when trouble of serious proportions arises among the populace, the Guard can often cause untold damage to go undone.

But there is still an item of importance. It is quite true that the armed forces of the U. S. are steadily being whittled down—both in size and in fighting calibre. We are a far way from where we stood when the war came to an end in 1945. But some of the other leading nations of the world—nations that might have to be reckoned with—still have large standing armies.

Therefore, the National Guard, as it was in 1941, would be the first line of defense, along with the small Army, until a citizen army could be raised—as it must always be raised in a democratic country. The 300,000 members of the National Guard actually formed the nucleus for the 11-million-man army that finally came into being.

It would be a mistake for us to discount the need for the National Guard. And it is a mistake for the people of this community to fail to get a unit of that militia through default or through positive rejection of it. It is a volunteer organization, and the least those who do not want to be a part of it can do, is to encourage its development here.

news behind the news

WASHINGTON
By RAY TUCKER
GIANTS—President Roosevelt's grandiose plan for smashing several key industrial monopolies by expanding war-built rivals threaten to crack up in consequence of post-war policies pursued by conservative officials in the State Department, the military establishment and the War Assets Administration.
While Attorney General Tom Clark institutes or threatens anti-trust action against such firms as the Aluminum Company of America and the United States Steel, Cabinet colleagues quietly build them up into greater giants than they were in pre-war days.
Two groups which F.D.R.'s plans started to build into competitive positions—the Kaiser and Reynolds interests—now complain that government policies are aiding the old monopolies.

PRICES—With steel prices increasing because of the recent coal contract, and with aluminum costs holding firm despite post-war production capacity, the matter concerns millions of consumers.
It is asserted that prices of both steel and aluminum could be lowered if the government had carried out Mr. Roosevelt's plans for decentralizing industry and creating keener competition.

PARTIALITY—The government's partiality toward Alcoa, the Mellon firm, which was a running target for Roosevelt trust busters in pre-war days, has caused special wonderment on Capitol Hill and inside the Department of Justice. Every post-war policy apparently increases the size and profits of this corporation.
On V-J Day, for instance, the Army-Navy Munitions Boards which is supposed to stockpile short and strategic material, against another crisis, had a supply of 400,000,000 pounds of aluminum pie. The surplus has now been depleted to about 47,000,000 pounds, largely due to sales to Alcoa for resale for industrial reconversion and expansion.

ADVANTAGE—The Reynolds Company, an independent which had hoped to expand on the basis of war-time operations, has protested these transactions give the Mellon interests an advantage. Reynolds asserts that Alcoa has used these government stocks to flood the industrial market in an attempt to kill competition from Reynolds and Henry J. Kaiser, who also entered this field during the war in a big way.
Reynolds makes the further charge that Alcoa, in its contracts for sale, requires independent purchasers to agree to buy all future supplies from it. As a consequence, Reynolds has had to close down its plant at Longview, Wash., throwing 800 people out of work and disillusioning civic groups which had counted on this development for post-war growth. It may soon have to shut down another unit at Lister Hill, Ala., a community named after

Summing Up--No. 1. by Peter Edson

(This is the first of a series of dispatches reviewing the accomplishments of Congress during this session.)
WASHINGTON—(NEA) — With Congress going home, now is the time to sit back and add up the score. Since the Republicans took over Congress on Jan. 1, there has been a new legislative crisis or two every day. But the concern has been over each separate piece in the jigsaw puzzle. After seven months, it's possible to get an idea of what the whole picture is going to look like.

Today's picture is even more confused than it was in wartime. Then everyone worked for a common goal, winning the war. The daily crisis was more of a less bi-partisan in character. Today party politics dominates everything, but there's a difference: it is Conservative vs. Liberal as much as it is Republican vs. Democrat.
The New Deal and most of the New Dealers are gone. The dreamers and planners of Roosevelt's day have been replaced as advisors by those more of a less hard-boiled, practical, realistic men of business. There is no spirit of social uplift around Washington these days—no chance for anyone to accuse the government of "coddling" law.

It is no exaggeration to say that in the past seven months the United States has been through one of its periodic revolutions.
REPUBLICANISM
It may be too early to pin any labels on the revolution of 1947. It is rampant Republicanism. But it gets too much support from conservative Democrats to make it a strictly one-party affair. It is compounded of isolationism, of economic nationalism, of violent anti-communism.
Economically, the aims of this new revolution have been to reduce government controls and government interference with private business to a minimum. That makes it definitely anti-capitalistic. It glorifies the American free enterprise system. It is selfish. It is definitely inflationary, condoning high prices.

It is a definite swing to the right. This runs counter not only to the world trend of today but also to the historic drift of American history, which has been gradually towards the left—increasing the power of the people, giving them more benefits.
The speed of this change has been curbed sharply by Democratic President Harry S. Truman.

There may be some question whether the man in the White House or the men in Congress have the correct feel of the public pulse. Both claim they have. But Gallup polls on such important issues as universal military training and retention of high taxes—which the Congress rejected—indicate that a majority of the people may be "out of step" with the majorities of Congress.

VOTERS MAY BE AHEAD OF CONGRESS
The reception given Henry Wallace on his western tour has awakened in some politicians a realization that a large number of the people may be way ahead of Congress on foreign policy, on a desire for greater co-operation with the United Nations, a desire for peace.
American voters will line up to be counted on all these issues in the 1948 elections. If the trend of recent events in Washington is approved, the conservative Republicans and Democrats can count on being returned to control Congress and the Republican can count on electing a president and vice president for the first time in 20 years.

If the electorate disapprove, it will be Harry Truman and a more liberal Congress, possibly complicated by Henry Wallace and a third party ticket. If the latter develops, the Conservatives can still win, and Wallace will turn out to be their biggest help.
What a Conservative sweep in 1948 would lead to, no one can accurately forecast. For the voters, the important thing is to know what the shift towards conservatism in the last seven months has meant.

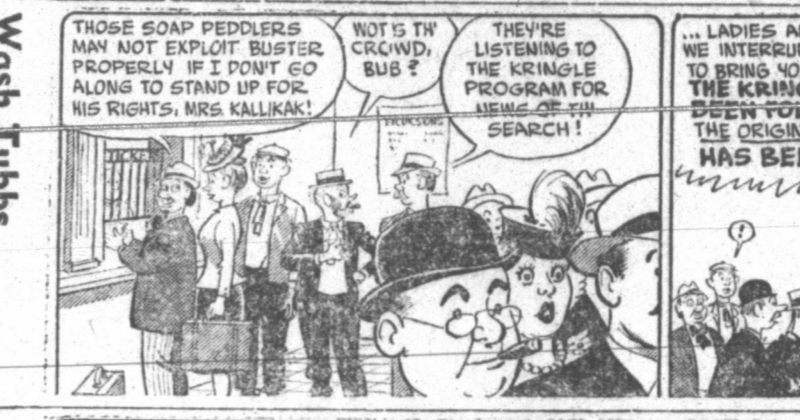

An attempt to appraise in detail what has been happening in the fields of social welfare, domestic economic policy, foreign policy and military policy will be made in succeeding dispatches.

Buyer's Market Returns In Some Retail Lines
AUSTIN—(AP)—A buyer's market is apparently returning in some lines of retail sales.
June sales in Texas retail stores dropped 13 percent below those of May—a greater decrease than was seasonally expected, the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research reported today.
"Consumers are beginning to experience again the privilege of shopping around, comparing prices and quality," the bureau report stated.
"Merchants reported the public is increasingly price conscious as result of price increases and the wider assortment of goods available."
"Most informed sources agreed that moderately priced merchandise of good quality should meet a good demand through the balance of the year, however."
Sales declines were described as prevalent "all down the line," in both durable and non-durable goods. Apparel sales were down 11 percent from May to June; automotive dealers sales took a 10 percent cut; department sales slid 21 percent; and food stores, furniture and household dealers reported a 13 percent decrease. Jewelry sales fell 12 percent, and

Pickets on Duty at Sweetwater Plant
SWEETWATER—(AP)—Pickets were on duty yesterday at the U. S. Gypsum Co. plant where a strike has been in progress since Thursday.
Joe Wheeler, chairman of the Sweetwater local of United Cement, Lime and Gypsum International Union, said the strike was called after negotiations failed to produce a contract to replace one that expired May 7.
The union asked a 20 cent an hour increase. Wheeler said as well as a 40-hour week. The company offered a 12 cent increase on a 40-hour basis, but Wheeler said the pay would be less under this proposal than under the old contract.

Harbor Blast

side a dock waiting to discharge her cargo.
The blast rocked the entire city, many of whose residents had fled to the hills in response to warnings.

(Reports from Pampa. Eng. 120 miles from Brest, said a fairly sharp earth tremor was felt there yesterday which shook doors and windows, and the British Press Association speculated that the Brest explosion might have been responsible.

The disaster recalled the destruction of Texas City, last April 16 by a blast aboard the French freighter Grandcamp, also loaded with ammonium nitrate. The last published tally showed 470 killed and 302 missing there.

Brest, which had a pre-war population of about 80,000, was bombed to rubble during the war.
The ship, which came from the United States, was bound for Antwerp when she was advised of a dock workers strike and put in here instead.

Julius Koch, minister of public works, said the United States and France might confer on new ways to transport ammonium nitrate, recalling the similarity of this explosion to the one at Texas City.

Kaiser

ly over the procedure to be followed.
Kaiser had prepared a statement on his contract but Ferguson announced immediately after Kaiser was sworn as a witness that he wanted to ask some questions.

Kaiser brought with him what he called a "supplementary statement," in addition to a longer one he had previously sent the committee and given reporters.
"I am in the position of being seriously damaged by the evidence that was presented yesterday," Kaiser said. "I worked until 2 or 3 o'clock this morning preparing a supplement."

Former government officials testified yesterday about the $40,000,000 in contracts awarded Kaiser and Howard Hughes, movie producer and industrialist originally associated with Kaiser in the plane-building project. They said the contracts were awarded despite the opinion of technical experts that the Kaiser-Hughes planes were "fantastic."

Arrangements Made For Visiting Band

Orland Butler, chairman of the hospitality committee in charge of making arrangements for the Hardin-Simmons University Cowboy Band during their stay here for the third annual Top o' Texas Rodeo and Horse Show, announced this morning that arrangements are near completion for their visit.

Other members of the hospitality committee are the Rev. Douglas Carter, Hugo Owen, Alex Schneider, Ray Robins, Jack Graham, and Frank Wilson.

Truman

in the kitchen of her terrace home in Grandview and others filled the dining room and parlor, while the Rev. W. E. Bowman, a near neighbor, read a simple, 20-minute funeral service. There was no eulogy because, he said, "she would not have wanted a eulogy."

Only 37 persons, kin of the Trumans with few exceptions, were present as the final words of comfort were spoken—"The Lord is my Shepherd," and "The days of our years are three score years and ten."

Martha Truman's years, far beyond that span, had seen civil warfare on the Missouri-Kansas border when she was ten years old.

The modest interment would have suited her too, friends said, because there were no "fuss and feathers." Sixteen cars, including the black Hearse bearing the flower laden casket, made up the funeral cortege. The graveside ceremonies were brief, three or four minutes in all.

Murder Trial

Ann York, the only member of the York family to escape death that morning. She was wounded but escaped. She is expected to be a star witness for the state later.

The state, headed by Judge Fuchs, ruled in the state's favor, but during the afternoon session, this point was one which helped give the defense its first round victory.
Fred Blundell, heading the attorneys for Dr. Ross, said the statements were important, and a delay was necessary to obtain them in a proper manner.

The guard said that Hirschberg had been spying on the guards and reporting to the Japanese command. Lieut. Yoshi Koshi, Duncan related.

"Pasay Joe told him if he ever did anything like that again he would kill him no matter what happened to him (Pasay Joe)," Duncan testified.

Duncan said the guard kept Hirschberg backed up against the wall for about 30 minutes, shouting at him repeatedly, "you spy."

School Boy Poses as Howard Hughes, Jr.

CHICAGO (AP)—A High School youth who posed as "Howard Hughes, Jr." and ran up a $168 hotel and automobile bill before his true identity was discovered, told police "I just wanted a big time."

Policeman Herbert Killacky, juvenile officer, who identified the youth as Glen Cordes, 15, said the boy's father, Gilbert Cordes, a carpenter, paid the bills for the 16-year-old youth.

Killacky said they included rental of a $40 a day penthouse suite in a Michigan Avenue hotel; steak dinners and champagne for young Cordes and two friends and rental of a limousine. He said the youth had told the hotel manager Howard Hughes, millionaire airplane builder and movie producer, would arrive at the hotel Monday night from California.

Louisiana's Oil Allowable Raised

BATON ROUGE (AP)—The trend of Louisiana's oil production is still upward.
The allowable production for August was set yesterday at 468,359 barrels a day.
The July allowable production was 463,486 and for last August 429,000.

Budget

savings run in the neighborhood of $1,000,000,000.
In citing prospective outlays that tend to offset this figure the budget, at people point first to the $400,000,000 Greek-Turkish aid program—a situation which did not develop until after the original budget was submitted but which nevertheless will count as a budget expenditure.
Another factor is Britain's virtual certainty of using $500,000,000 more of her loan than had been budgeted for this year.

But other offsets which they said Congress voted as additions to budgeted expenditures include $150,000,000 for stockpiling strategic and critical materials, $64,000,000 to combat foot-and-mouth disease in cattle and $35,500,000 for veterans programs.

There were smaller "extras" as well, including such items as about $2,500,000,000 or more, officials said.

A scheduled mid-August budget revision may jump that figure by $2,500,000,000 or more, officials said.
Such a development would indicate a budget surplus of between $4,000,000,000 and $5,000,000,000 on June 30, 1948.

Houston Oil Company Reports Net Profit

NEW YORK (AP)—Houston Oil Co., of Texas and subsidiaries reported for six months ended June 30 net profit of $1,081,123, or $1.74 a common share, compared with $1,425,411, or 85 cents a common share, in the same period last year.
The report said 1946 share earnings are after dividend requirements on preferred which was retired March 1, 1946.
